C. H. Patrick Dies Sunday in Auto Mishap

Charles H. Patrick, 124 Wilkinson St., Chelsea, was found dead Sunday evening, Jan. 17, after being struck by a car, driven by David L. Luick, of 11483 Jackson Rd., Lima township, on M-52 near Clark Lake Rd., northwest of Chelsea.

Patrick was, for a still undetermined reason, lying in the middle of the road, next to his parked car. He had apparently been traveling south on M-52, and had pulled off to the side of the road, parking his car, leaving his headlights on.

Luick was traveling north on the road. He indicated that the light from the headlights impaired his ability to see Patrick's body until just before his vehicle struck the man. Patrick was dragged 50 feet by the Luick vehicle.

Chelsea Police patrolmen Peebles and McDougall were dispatched to the scene by the Sheriff's Department to assist and protect the scene of the accident until sheriff's deputies, and Sgt. Kelly, head of traffic investigation department, could arrive to investigate the accident.

An autopsy was ordered Monday morning, and the results will not be known for a week or more. It is not known if Patrick was even alive at the time of the accident, or what was the true cause of his death.

Luick and his wife, Martha, who was a passenger in the car, were returning from a christening dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weber, at the time of the accident. They had become godparents to the Webers' child that morning. Luick is a fireman with the Ann Arbor Fire Department, stationed at the E. Stadium Blvd. firehouse.

Patrick's death was the first highway fatality of the year in Washtenaw county.

Electricity Off Wednesday For Repairs

Citizens of Chelsea were once more in the dark Wednesday morning, Jan. 20 when power was shut off to most sections of the village while work crews from Consumers Power switched their temporary lines, which they had installed Monday morning, Jan. 11, back to the village's repaired equipment which was damaged during that blackout. According to Village Administrator Frederick Weber, the repair work caused Jan. 11, was contracted by the village, and then installed by Consumers Power crews. During the time the repaired equipment was being re-installed, the power was temporarily shut off.

The black-outs started at 9:30 a.m. and wasn't corrected until noon, officials say, although there was a brief return to power during that time.

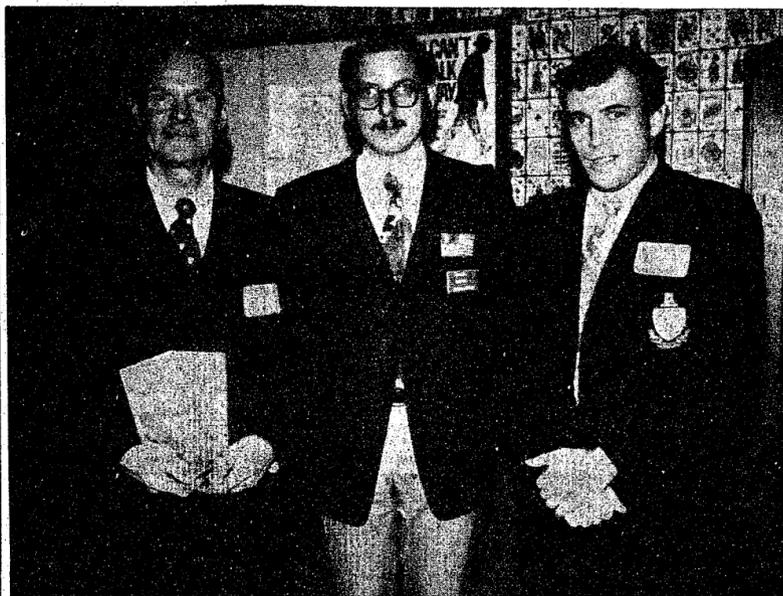

Break-ins at North, South Schools Solved

Break-ins which occurred at North and South Elementary schools Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, were reported to the Chelsea police Thursday morning, Jan. 14 by the custodians at both schools. By the following evening, however, Chelsea police officers had solved the crime, and recovered the stolen property.

Four juveniles had entered the west annex of North school, breaking a window, and ransacking teachers' desks. They took small change from teachers' desks, one transistor radio, and left some clothing, and a bone handled hunting knife behind.

At South school, they entered through the south wing, ransacking

An open house was held following the ceremonies at the home of her parents for approximately 40 guests.

Jaycees and bosses mingled and enjoyed the pre-dinner hour. A roast beef dinner was served by the Jaycees, after which a short business meeting was held. Walt Brown, chairman of Bosses Night, welcomed everyone to the affair, and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were given.

JC's Mark 16th Year Serving In Community

Jaycee Week, Jan. 17 to 24, is a time to review for the citizens of Chelsea the efforts and accomplishments of the group of young men in the community who call themselves "Jaycees." Chelsea has a right to be proud of these young men, now in their 16th year of service to the community, as they have this past year attained the honor of being cited as the number one Jaycee chapter in the state.

The Geissenbeir Memorial Award, as the best Jaycee chapter in their population division, coupled with the Bill Otis Memorial Award, for being the best Jaycee Chapter in the state of Michigan, were presented to the Chelsea group at their 45th Michigan Jaycee state convention, which was held in mid-May of 1970.

This was the first time in the local chapter's 16-year history that they had received both the awards, which are the highest that any local Jaycees chapter may win. They are the result of the local chapter's internal and external programming for the 1969-70 year.

In addition, the Jaycees were awarded the State Community

Involvement Award for their projects dealing with the village issue, teachers' strike, youth and other community projects.

The Chelsea group was also awarded nine first-place awards, and one third-place award out of the 11 project activity areas. First-place awards were won in the areas of "Chapter Growth and Management," "Ways and Means," "Community Health," "Recreation and Sports," "Individual and Spiritual Development," "Publications," "Inter-Club Relations," and "Americanism, Governmental, and Public Involvement." The third-place award was won in the area of "Internal Involvement."

As a result of their winning the top two awards in Michigan, Chelsea's Jaycees' "R & R" books, (Records and Recognition), were submitted to the National Convention, which was held in St. Louis, Mo., in late June. At the National Level, the local group competed with 49 other state winners, and won a first-place award in the area of "Americanism, Governmental and Public Involvement" and a second place in "Community Relations."

The Jaycee movement started in Chelsea on Jan. 11, 1955, through the extension efforts of the Ann Arbor Jaycees. Charter members of the new organization were Dr. J. H. Pilkington, Vince Burg, Robert Vanderkelen, Ray Guenther, George Knickerbocker, John Miller, Jack Wellnitz, William Adams, Robert Adams, Lyle Chriswell, Mike Green, Alton Guenther, John Jenkins, James Miller, Arden Musbach, Richard Hara, Henry Ombing, Arthur Paul, Charles Popovich, Jr., John Popovich, Robert Shears, Judd Small, William Storey, and Robert Tobin.

Thieves entered the building through the tool room, it is estimated, at the rear of the plant. They took close to $600 worth of tools from the room, which they then used to break into the office, and the safe. From the safe they were able to get only $25, although they totally destroyed the vault.

The thieves then entered the cafeteria where they tried to break into the pop machine, unsuccessfully, totally destroying the machine in their efforts.

Officials at Lima Co. can pinpoint the time when the thieves broke in because an acquaintance had borrowed some tools from the plant, and returning them at approximately that time, he noticed that the lock in the tool room was broken. Before he left the plant, however, he had a bottle of pop, and he noticed that the machine was still intact. It is assumed that the thieves were in the plant at the time although unnoticed by the individual.

Break-in at Lima Plant Is Reported

A break-in at the Lima Co., Inc., 11776 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., which occurred at approximately 12:30 a.m. Saturday morning, resulted in extensive damage, although very little was taken from the place.

Chelsea's wrestlers traveled to Lincoln Thursday night, Jan. 14, and came home with a romping 39-8 victory. Even with quite a few line-up changes due to various reasons, Chelsea was able to win all but three matches.

Co-captain Jim Wenzel recorded a fall victory in 26 pounds, while Larry Jones at 132 pounds, pinned his opponent.

Co-captain Gary Montagne, wrestling at 138, gained a fall victory in the second period. Jon Schenk, wrestling at 145, suffered a 1-0 decision loss, as did Bill Kushmaul at 155.

Doug McDonald, wrestling at 167, ended up with a 4-4 draw. In his first appearance of the year, Steve Wireman, wrestling at 185, came up with a second period win. Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

You recollect the papers about this feller riding his motorcycle stark naked except for his helmet. When he was stopped by police he said he was wearing the helmet cause he didn't want to break the law. When asked how come that was all he was wearing, he said he didn't know of a law that you had to wear anything else to ride a motorcycle.

ject jest snuff to keep all them high price lawyers in clover. Clem said he had saw by the papers where this feller was fined for running a electric line to a new room he added to his house, and then fined for building the room in the first place without getting a permit. We have come to a sorry pass, allowed Clem, when a man can't feed slop from his own table to his own hogs.

As technical as our laws is gitting, Mister Editor, I couldn't figger what the outcome of that case might of been. On the one hand, he might of been turned loose on account the warrant didn't have the right therefore and whereas, or cause they wasn't no room for him in jail. On the other hand, he might of been put away for air and noise pollution with the motorcycle with maniac aforesought ipso facto, centio, a pluribus unio.

A heap of the time, put in Zeke Grubb, the laws don't make as much sense as the crime they cover. For instance, he had a clipping where this congressman had serious perposed a federal tax on car speeders. The fellers ask that the tax per mile equals V squared minus 1,500 multiplied by 10 reduced to the minus fifth power, where V is in miles per hours velocity.

This matter of a million laws trying to enforce the 10 Commandments was took up Saturday night by the fellers during the session at the county store. I got started when Ed Dobbins was reported he had been reading Krushniek's memories. Ed wondered how in the hell he can shut stuff the Russians write and its fine, but when they print our stuff its stealing. Ed said he has the same trouble figgering why shirts made in Japan by Japs is bad, while the shirts made in Singapore by Americans is good. Now, Ed said, he sees the liberty is dealing with the Japs about making foods over there, but its bad for the Japs.

Here lately things have been looking up, allowed Zeke. He said he had saw where this feller was quitted of selling fake drugs. The state had held that it was as bad to sell fakes as real drugs, cause the customer didn't get the crap he paid for.

Vices Pay for State

If every Michigan smoker took the advice of the American Cancer Society and quit, one of the results would be an even worse fiscal crisis for state government than already exists. The same goes for the result if prohibition ever came back.

The taxes the state currently levies on those personal vices of smoking and drinking, now yield an average of about $10 million per month, or about $120 million per year.

The legislature's current plan, which would raise the tax on cigarettes to 14 cents per pack, and the tax on alcohol to 10 cents per gallon, would increase the state's revenue by $10 million per month, or $120 million per year.

Under the council's plan, $1.00 million of the extra money would be used to finance an instructor in health education for each intermediate school district in the state.

But it seems safe to at least conclude our schools are going to run out of money before long if they haven't already done so unless something is changed. And that would indicate we'll be hearing a lot more about the subject of education reform in the coming months in the legislature.

Education Costs Rise

The State Education Department has confirmed what everyone already was sure of—education keeps getting more expensive.

The department released statistics showing the state's school districts spent a total of $2.09 billion to educate public school students in the state last year. This was a jump of $200 million from the previous year. Total pupil enrollment added up only 41,000 to a total of 2,164,000 during that time and the number of teachers grew from 87,500 to 89,000.

The figures give another example of an area in which the financial squeeze is getting tighter. While total expenditures ran over the $2 billion mark, total revenues only got as high as $1.9 billion.

When he released the figures, Superintendent of Public Instruction John Porter cautioned against "drawing too many conclusions."

But it seems safe to at least conclude our schools are going to run out of money before long if they haven't already done so unless something is changed. And that would indicate we'll be hearing a lot more about the subject of education reform in the coming months in the legislature.

Zoning Appeal Board Upholds Merkel Claim

At the meeting held Tuesday evening, Jan. 19, the Village Council, acting as the Zoning Board of Appeals, heard a request by Merkel Bros., Inc., furniture store, that the building which they purchased in July, 1970, located between 412 and 416 Wilkinson St., be allowed to be used as a warehouse for their merchandise.

Merkels bought the warehouse from Richard Hoelzer a short time after Hoelzer discontinued use of the building as a produce warehouse. Hoelzer operated a wholesale produce business in Chelsea for many years, and had stored his produce in the building prior to 1955, when the R1 zone, for single residential dwellings, came into effect in that area.

A question was raised when Merkels declared their intention to use the building as a warehouse, concerning the zoning of the building. If a building has been vacated for six months when it has a non-conforming use permit to operate, the zoning of the building reverts to R1 zoning, opponents claimed.

The Village Council decided that the building had not been vacated for six months prior to the purchase by Merkel Brothers, Inc., and therefore the non-conforming use permit should be retained.

Village Clerk Richard Harvey indicated after the action, that Merkels will now effect some useful repairs of the building, and move in their merchandise as soon as possible.

Don Turner Will Present Films of Alaskan Travels

"North to Alaska" and "Canadian Rockies," two travelogues compiled by Chelsea's "Alaska kid," Don Turner, will be shown Saturday March 6, and April 3, at the Chelsea High school auditorium. Ticket reservations may be made at the Kiwanis Club travelogue which will be Saturday evening, Jan. 23, or by calling Wallace Wood, travelogue chairman, 475-5341, or from any Chelsea Kiwanian.

"North to Alaska" features many parts of Alaska, from the Inside Passage to the Pribilof Islands in the Bering Sea. Also featured will be the Alaska Highway, scenes of Fairbanks, Kotzebue (above the Arctic Circle), Anchorage, Katmai National Monument, and Mt. McKinley National Park, among others. Photos of fur seals on the Pribilof Islands, grizzly bears, caribou, and other wildlife native to that part of the world will also be featured.

The film, "Canadian Rockies," captures shots of famous national parks in the Canadian provinces of Alberta and British Columbia in spring, summer and autumn. This program will include scenes of Banff, Jasper, Yoho, Kootenay, as well as the National Parks. Lake Louise, the Banff Jasper Highway, Columbian Ice Field, Athabasca Glacier, Maligne Lake, Mt. Edith Cavell, and Angel Glacier are some of the many sites that the travelogue will include.

Both shows will be accompanied by music and sound effects. There will be only one presentation per night of these shows.

WET SPOT

Little rain falls on the Arctic, but its soil stays wet because drainage is poor and evaporation slow.

THE "ALASKA KID," Don Turner, will quit his rustic background and come to Chelsea Saturday evening, March 6, and April 3, bringing with him his most recent catalogue of films, "North to Alaska," and "Canadian Rockies." Turner, whose presentation is sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, is a local favorite, and quite a familiar face to Chelsea audiences. "North to Alaska" will be shown on March 6, while "Canadian Rockies" will be presented April 3. Tickets may be obtained Saturday evening, Jan. 23, at the next Kiwanis travelogue, entitled "Welsh Wonderland."

two wells, and a rifle and archery range. At Camp Newkirk, which is along the Huron River, west of Dexter, a ranger's home has been added, as well as latrine, wash facilities, and modern rest rooms for Yost Lodge during Daniel's chairmanship. This facility is mainly used for adult training, and Cub Scout camping, as well as Boy Scout camping district activities.

At Bruin Lake Camp, which is north of Chelsea, a ranger's house, started by Daniel's committee, is nearly completed.

As Council vice-president, Jim will be involved with the general management and operation of the Council, which is composed of four districts covering Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Daniel's selection for this position within the Council brings to three the number of Chelsea residents on the staff. Rolly Spaulding is now Council president, and Earl Dreiman is District chairman.

Wrestlers Win...

There were only three Junior Varsity matches. Dale Poertner pinned his opponent at 107 pounds. Steve Siebert won a decision at 114, and Bob Craft was defeated at 155.

Chelsea will wrestle against South Lyon this evening (Thursday) at Chelsea. The Bulldogs will travel to the Howell tournament on Saturday, Jan. 23, where the action will commence at 12 noon.

GIRL SCOUTS

Junior Girl Scout Troop 58 met Jan. 18. The girls started making their Girl Scout playzars.

They also discussed the father-daughter banquet, whether they wanted to have their own, or hold one with the rest of the troops. They decided to hold their banquet with the rest of the troops.

Bonnie Boyer brought treats, after which the girls went back into patrols and worked on their playzars. The meeting ended with taps and the squeeze.

Jaycee Week...

Briefly, the National Jaycees, a member, are young men's civic of which the Chelsea chapter is groups. They are neither a social club, a lodge, or a fraternity. While fellowship is encouraged among the members, it is used merely as a means towards an end, to get effective action by young men on worthy projects.

To become a Jaycee, one must be a young man between the ages of 21 and 35, and be of good character. There is no restriction concerning race, creed, color, type of business, or any other qualifications.

Purpose of the organization is leadership training through community development. "Jaycees don't build communities, Jaycees build men, and the men build communities," is a good slogan to apply.

Active participation in the Jaycees gives a young man assurance, stature, public speaking experience, and all of the many other attributes which point to a leader in business or community life.

The local Jaycees are proud of their heritage and past accomplishments. They believe in Chelsea and are on the look-out for ways to make Chelsea a better place to live. Chelsea's citizens should take this time to consider the alternatives which Chelsea Jaycees have given them to make community life in Chelsea a richer experience.

ing teachers' desks, and entering office areas. There the youthful thieves took money, and several smoking pipes found in the office.

A companion of the boys, not involved in the crime, notified Chelsea police the following morning of the names of the thieves, who were then contacted, and confessed.

The sum total of money taken from the school did not exceed $20 the police indicated. The boys are being petitioned to juvenile court.

Oleomargarine and non-dairy coffee creamers have at least one thing in common. Both are made from soybeans.

Frosh Cagers Down Lincoln For 5th Win

Chelsea's freshmen basketball team won their fifth game of the season Thursday, Jan. 14, by defeating the Lincoln Railspitters, 36-33.

The first half of the game was an evenly matched defensive battle with neither team hitting from the floor. At half-time the score was tied, 16-16.

The second half continued to find both teams cold in shooting. Tremendous team efforts from John Tandy, Jeff Sprague, and John Houle, plus a few timely points from John Tandy and Rick Miller provided the margin of victory.

Coach Tallman indicated that he was very pleased with the balanced scoring in the game. "I think now we're really starting to play as a team," he claimed. "It's always good to know that in order for an opponent to stop you, he has to stop five players from scoring instead of just one or two."

High scorer for Chelsea were Mary Guster, with nine points, Rick Miller, with seven, John Tandy with six, and John Houle with five.

The Frosh record now stands at five wins and one loss for the season.

RESERVE & EQUIPMENT

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, says the Army's reserve forces must have first class material, facilities and training programs. He added that National Guard and reserve units are being evaluated against the same criteria of readiness as are units of the active army.

Of all the cures being proposed for today's auto insurance ills, Automobile Club of Michigan feels that Michigan's proposed Motorist Protective Legislation makes the most sense. It can save you, the driver, money. And, it can prevent a disaster to Michigan's auto makers caused by car insurance becoming too expensive or unavailable at any price.

What is it?

What are the other solutions being offered around the country?

Why is car insurance costing you more each year? And, most important, what can you do now to start lowering its cost?

Start by reading the January issue of Motor News magazine.

Normally Motor News is available only to the 920,000 Michigan AAA members. Because the auto insurance problem is so important to all Michigan drivers, you can pick up a free copy of the January issue regardless of where you insure your car. Just stop in at any AAA office or write to:

Varsity Debate Team Loses in Chelsea's varsity debaters have completed their 1970-71 season, after failing to win the necessary four debates to survive District competition, Saturday, Jan. 16. The District Tournament was held at Chelsea High school Saturday morning for four other high schools. In competition were teams from Lumen Christi, Parma Western, Monroe Catholic Central, and Saline High school, in addition to the Chelsea team. Saline was unable to make it to the event Saturday morning, however, and thus forfeited all their debates.

Winners of the day, teams which will now enter the Regional competition to be held at Parma Western High school in late February, were Lumen Christi and Parma Western. They held 5-1 records for the day, while Chelsea was 2-4, and Catholic Central went 0-6.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT

NEW! Advertisers know the word has impact. Almost magic appeal. A new service or product signifies, or at least implies, new knowledge has been acquired. It is more abundant in our life time than in any previous era in history. Take for example the knowledge acquired in transmission of sight and sound in TV, computerized information instantly available, the knowledge acquired in the landing of man on the moon, etc.

Smooth and fluent phrases lead people to believe man's knowledge in many things will make all things possible. Nothing seems impossible. Yet, with all this acquisition of knowledge, perilous problems of personal, family and social nature have increased. Personal discontent and unhappiness out-matches satisfaction and happiness for many people throughout the world. . . . Why? . . . The reason was given centuries ago by Solomon when he wrote the last verse in Ecclesiastes: "For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow." The Bible is right — again . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

According to Leonard Thiel, Jr., vice-president of the corporation, total loss to the company included the $600 for tools, and $25 from the safe, as well as the damage caused to the safe, an estimated $385, and the damage to the pop machine, approximately $300.

The break-in was not discovered until Monday morning, at 7:30 a.m., when an employee came into work. It was reported to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, who are now working on the case.

Lima Co., is a corporation of which Leonard Thiel, Sr., is president, and his sons, Leonard Thiel, Jr., and James Thiel, are vice-presidents. It is a processor of abrasive grain for industrial use, and employs nine persons, in addition to the officers.

'Welsh Wonderland' Travel Film Will Be Shown Saturday

Third in a series of Kiwanis travelogues will be presented Saturday evening, Jan. 23, at the Chelsea High school auditorium. Walter S. Dodson, who was born and educated in England, and became a U.S. citizen in 1957, will present a program on "Welsh Wonderland."

WALTER DODSON

Dodson's program will feature the rugged countryside and the sleepy country villages of a land that still lives in the spirit of the past. Accents of the ancient Celtic tongue, still in use, mingle with festive traditional costumes and whimsical folklore to capture the aura of bygone years in the midst of a modern life. Featured scenes at Saturday's travelogue will be Gower Peninsula, the lush Wye Valley, and the national parks. The grassy slopes of the Brecon Beacons, and the serene beauty of the Elen Valley lakes fuse with the fun of country fairs and impromptu Saturday night concerts will complete this picture of the Wales lauded by the poet Dylan Thomas.

Dodson brought his family to the United States in 1949. Prior to that time he served with the British Army from 1939 until 1946, and traveled extensively in Europe and the Middle East. Since his emigration, he has been active in industry and civic affairs.

Junior Achievement Week Scheduled

As Jaycee week draws to a close, another "Big J" steps in to claim recognition. Jan. 24-30 has been set aside as National Junior Achievement Week, a week when communities take a good, long look at those young people around them who are learning the ropes of the business world—learning by doing. Junior Achievement is in its third year in Chelsea, according to Dana employee, Phil Boham, who is "Chelsea Business Center Manager."

Boham has been with the Chelsea JA club since its inception three years ago. He and Larry Bentley have worked with many Chelsea High school students, helping them learn the ways of forming one's own company, developing a product, manufacturing and selling that product, and paying back one's obligation to the stock holders.

When quizzed concerning the progress of this year's JA outfits, Boham indicated that dollar volume in larger metropolitan centers was greater because of greater population than in the Chelsea area; although the Chelsea kids were doing a fine job. Dollar volume for this year's group has reached the $850 level in sales, which is exceptionally good for a group in a town the size of Chelsea, Boham indicated. Activities for JA week include "Presidents Banquet," a dinner to be held at the Detroit Hilton on Jan. 26. Molly Foster and Ann-Marie Lewandowski, presidents of the Chelsea JA companies, along with Boham are planning to attend that affair to which 500 Junior Achievers have been invited to attend.

Guest of honor and keynote speaker for the banquet will be Dave Diles, sports director of WXYZ.

A highlight of the JA year is the annual Salesman of the Year award. District selection of the Best Salesman will be made at a dinner at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor on Feb. 15.

Two Chelsea girls, Sue Cobb and Ann Marie Lewandowski, placed fourth and second, respectively, in last year's contest, and according to their advisor, they have done as well this year as in the past. To the winner of the District Salesman of the Year goes a trophy, a $25 savings bond, and a chance at the Regional contest, which is held in late March or early April.

A Junior Achievement sponsored trip will also be featured to help wind up the year's activities. A week's stay in Rome, Italy, open to all JA members, their parents, or advisors, will be held April 15-22. Two Chelsea residents, Cheryl Cameron, a local Junior Achiever, and her mother, Mrs. Larry Cameron, are planning to be on board when the plane departs for Rome with its passengers.

Advisors for the Junior Achievement program in Chelsea will not attend any of the programs planned for them in Detroit. A special get-together will be held at the end of the year for those who have worked on this year's program, Boham indicated. This year's group of advisors include Larry Bentley, of Joslin Lake, a tool designer at Dana; Mrs. Janet Schulze, Chelsea, a private secretary at Dana; Ken Kuzon, Stockbridge, personnel director at Dana; Woody Griffith, Chelsea, an engineer at Chrysler; and John Van Orsdale, Tecumseh, also an engineer at Chrysler.

Cagers Slap 68-52 Loss on Saline Hornets

Chelsea's Bulldogs hosted the Saline Hornets Friday night, Jan. 15 and proved to very poor hosts, as they overwhelmed the Hornets by a 68-52 score.

Early action was not easy for the slow-starting Bulldogs, as the Hornets grabbed a 19-12 first quarter lead. The Bulldogs couldn't get untracked until George Cameron, Todd Sprague, Chick Lane, Jeff Hughes, and Jeff Schmidt came off the bench and provided the spark to get the team going.

The second quarter was a repeat of the first as the same group of players led Chelsea to a 26-25 half-time lead. Todd Sprague and George Cameron worked especially well together in outscoring the Hornets, 14-6, in the period. Once the Chelsea team got the lead, however they never gave it up.

The third quarter found the Bulldogs more aggressive, and they quickly moved away to leads of 8 and 9 points. Howie Treado and Ron Sweeney began to dominate the boards, as Jim Hercules, Wayne Welton, and Jim Wojcicki tirelessly stole the ball from the baffled Hornets for easy baskets. The period ended with lead of 42-35.

The fourth quarter proved to be Chelsea holding a seven-point lead of 42-35.

The fourth quarter proved to be disastrous for the bigger Hornets as Chelsea outscored them, 26-17, to give them a 68-52 victory.

Chelsea's fine teamwork provided the Bulldogs with good scoring opportunities and they cashed in with Jim Wojcicki hitting for 7, Jeff Schmidt for 5, and Jim Hercules for 5. The show really belonged to Todd Sprague and George Cameron, as they continuously stole the ball and provided the opportunities for their teammates. Chelsea's record now stands at 4-3 (4-2 in the league) as they get ready to travel to Dexter and Dundee on Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

HOME VOLUNTEERS: Mrs. Jay (Luella) Weinberg, who has given many hours of service at the Chelsea Methodist Home, assists Mrs. Helen Davidson (left) with some rug braiding. More than 100 Home volunteers contributed more than 1,100 hours this past year to make the residents of the Home happier.

Methodist Home Volunteers Log 1,100 Hours of Service

Volunteers at the Chelsea United Methodist Home will gather for their first anniversary meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 27. Beginning at 10 a.m., Mrs. Angelo Pannone, Volunteer Co-ordinator at the Home, will conduct the meeting at which time past experiences and future plans will be discussed. Mrs. V. O. Johnson and the Rev. R. L. Clemans will also be present at the meeting. Coffee will be served.

All who have worked at the Home and any other interested persons are invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the first floor lounge of the M Building.

During the past year, an estimated 1,100 hours of service have been given by approximately 100 volunteers. Of this number of volunteers, more than 20 were teen-agers who volunteered their time during this last summer vacation.

Outstanding service has been given by Mrs. Jay E. Weinberg, who has clocked more than 230 hours of service. She has worked primarily with the Health Care Patients.

Also attaining a fine record of service is Mrs. H. S. Kern, who has worked for 78 hours in the Home library.

These ladies, and many others, come on a regular weekly basis. Some church groups have designated a certain morning or afternoon of each week, and send their members on a rotating basis. Church groups represented at the Home are from Dexter, Chelsea, and Manchester.

Types of service rendered cover a wide range of activities. Almost any talent can be put to use to make for fuller living for the Home's residents.

Such helpful tasks as personal attention, especially to the patients in the nursing area, such as visiting, reading, writing letters, playing games, taking patients on walks or wheelchair rides, have proved to be very valuable. Group activities include reading or playing for group singing and rhythm band, recreation activities, and assisting with crafts and handiwork such as braiding rugs, making pillows, ceramic work, painting, chair caning, making decorations, and a host of miscellaneous activities such as library work and entertaining.

The Home wishes to congratulate and thank those many thoughtful helpers who have made such fine contributions during the past 12 months, and invites others to join them as it looks ahead to the future.

Mrs. Pannone may be contacted at the Home (475-8633) for further information.

The Rev. Clive Dickins officiated at the wedding attended by members of the family.

The bride wore a white velvet, semi-fitted, floor-length gown, with long, bell shaped, raglan sleeves, and a jewel neckline for the occasion, and she carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Miss Wanda Salyer, of Jefferson St., Chelsea, attended as maid of honor. She was attired in a street-length gown of yellow velvet, which also featured a jewel neckline. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Policht chose a sleeveless A-line dress in the colors red, white, and blue, which featured a matching coat. She wore a candy-striped corsage. Mrs. Frederick wore a blue A-line dress with a pearl necklace. Her corsage was white carnations.

Donald Pierson, cousin of the bridegroom, of Chelsea, was best man.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

My generation is the love generation; to iron out the world's problems. No more wars, pollution problems, starvation, right?

Then there's the "establishment," mostly known as our parents. I'm sure we all wish to be different from our parents, to be more openminded, to try to be optimistic, to try for world peace, instead of always going to war with someone in order to solve a problem.

This may be a shock to you, but you are like your parents. You read in the papers about all the violence on campus, and they're protesting against violence. They're fighting violence with violence! You're no better than your parents! I know you've all added to pollution, by just throwing a gum wrapper on the ground, or a pop can.

If we want to be better than our parents we've got to change. We can't be as narrow-minded as them, and we are not going to kill our children with the pollution they, and generations before them, have caused.

In order to unite the world with peace and love, we've got to love each other first. Remember that old phrase, "Charity begins at home?" Well, so does love.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

Going to escape the winter hazards in the sunny south? You wouldn't dream of going without a wig of two, would you? May as well leave your resort clothes in the upstairs hall closet if you do. What fun is there in the sea and sun, if you can't look gorgeous for the evening activities? Sure, you got by without a wig in years past but we got by without electric lights, automobiles and fire in older days still - but now that we know what they're all about, we won't do it again voluntarily. You'll feel almost as devout about a wig once you get used to one, that's our bet. See us for a great fit - ok?

Gas Company Replacing Rusted Mains

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is busily at work in Chelsea, replacing old lines that have become badly rusted and corroded. Spokesman for the company, Milton Fuehrer, department superintendent, indicated this week that the lines on Summit St., between Main and East Sts.; W. North St., between Main and Filmore Sts.; Orchard St., between S. Main and East Sts.; and S. Main, between Orchard and Lincoln, were at the "marginal" point, and, although there have been no leaks, the company is replacing the lines.

Fuehrer said that the crews will be at work in the Village for the next month and a half. The work will be slower than usual, he indicated, because of the heavy ground frost.

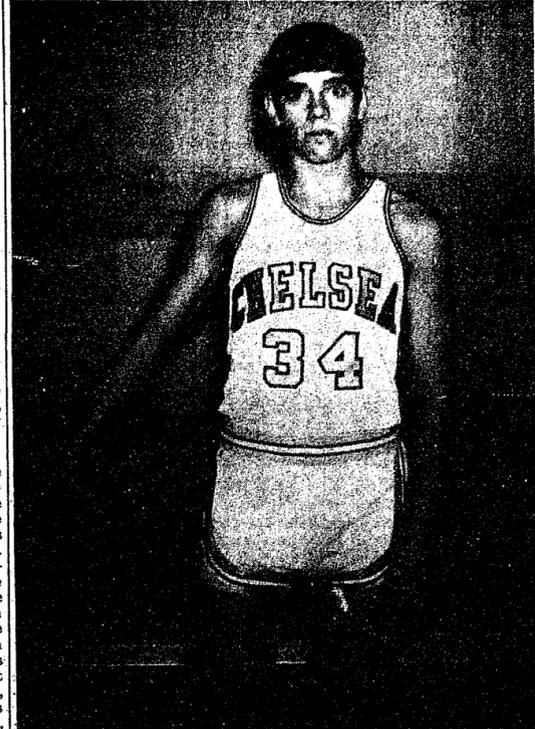

R. L. Coosaet & Son Construction Co., is contracted to do the work, although Michigan Consolidated inspectors will oversee the project. The new lines will be laid parallel to the old, and gas will be pumped through both lines. Gas service will then be transferred, house by house along the new lines. Each home will be without gas for no more than one hour, Fuehrer stated, and the company would pick a day which is not too cold, he assured. Gas company crews will then relight the pilots in the homes affected, and check to see that all gas appliances are working properly, he said.

Reseeding of lawn extensions will take place as soon as the warm weather comes, Fuehrer said.

EGYPT'S PLEDGE

Cairo—In his inaugural address, Egypt's leader, Anwar Sadat, called on his people to make "every effort and sacrifice for a battle awaiting us" in pursuit of the path traced by the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser. In his eight minute speech, Sadat did not name the members of his government, or the vice president, who, under Egypt's constitution, are appointed by the President.

Cager of the Week

TIM VAN SLAMBROUCK, a junior at Chelsea High school, is a new face to the Bulldogs athletic department. Van Slambrouck is new to Chelsea this year, moving from Glendora, Calif., just east of L.A., when Tim's father was transferred to Datamax, Ann Arbor. The Bulldog guard and forward has never played basketball on a team prior to this year, although he played varsity baseball and soccer last year in Glendora. Tim hopes to attend college following high school, with Stanford holding most interest for him at this time. He plans to follow a career in either business administration or law. He lives at home, 13938 Bramble Brae, Gregory, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Van Slambrouck, and two younger sisters, Polly and Jill.

Ike Brown played three positions for the Tigers in 1970 — second base, third base, and the outfield. Tiger Pitcher Mickey Lolich shut out the Senators on April 6, 1970, the first day of the season.
