Bulldog Cagers Lose To Dexter in Tourney

Chelsea's Bulldog cage team closed out their most successful season in years last Thursday, losing to Dexter, 63-48, in the District tournament semi-finals. It was what Coach Chuck Kelly termed a "very frustrating night" for the losers, as they just couldn't find the basket.

Chelsea opened the scoring on a jump shot by Jeff Hughes. Howie Treado quickly added a basket and Mike Kinashuk added a basket to give Chelsea a 6-2 lead. Then both teams went cold, according to the coach. Neither team scored for the next four minutes. As the quarter came to a close, Chelsea still led, 10-9.

The second quarter was much like the first. Chelsea pulled away to four and five-point leads, but each time Dexter came right back. By the end of the first half, Chelsea still held a 24-23 lead.

In the second quarter was like the first, the second half was an entirely different story. Dexter came out determined to take the play away from Chelsea, and the Dreadnaughts quickly gained the lead they were never to surrender. Howie Treado was the only Bulldog to score consistently as he scored eight of Chelsea's 10 points in the "dry" third quarter. Meanwhile, Kinashuk was counting seven points for Dexter.

At the start of the fourth quarter, Dexter led, 42-34. The Dreadnaughts continued to gain momentum as Chelsea fought to gain some kind of scoring punch. But with Ron Sweeny in "four trouble," and the usual "hot shooting" Chelsea guards, "cold," the Bulldogs could not gain any ground.

The hustling Chelsea defense kept the team in the game by forcing Dexter into 26 turnovers. But the Bulldogs still couldn't score consistently, as they shot a very poor 19 out of 82 for 23 percent. Dexter also led in rebounding during this time, 55-33.

Chelsea finishes the season with a 10-7 record, which is their best in several years. Dexter continued on to the District finals, meeting South Lyon on Saturday night.

Looking ahead to next year, Coach Kelly reminded Chelsea's fans that the first game in the 1971-72 basketball season next fall will pit Chelsea once again with Dexter. Perhaps some adjustments could be made at that time!

'South Pacific' Rehearsals All Business

With one week left before the curtain opens on the Chelsea High school production of "South Pacific," the pace of rehearsals has stepped up, and adrenalin is running high among the cast and crew!

The next few rehearsals are crucial to the success of the play, stage officials report, and the efforts of this next week, will be to work out the rough spots in the play's technicalities.

As the high school stage is small, there is barely enough room for the cast members and the necessary props. Cast members may be kept out of the wings, but the props must stay, and the struggle persists to work around them.

Changing scenes is causing headaches also. In order that a proper time sequence is maintained, and that the mood of the play is not broken, the scenes must be changed quickly and quietly. This problem is made more difficult by the fact that some of the sets are large and heavy. As curtains can't be moved and sets mustn't be bumped, the task is quite difficult. Props are assigned one to a person, and it is that person's responsibility to see that the prop is on the stage at the "prop-er" time. Practice at efficient set changing is making the job easier, but there will be some qualms that will remain on opening night.

Time between scenes, and off-stage hours have been spent leisurely by cast members these past few weeks. They have been sent to a spare room to be out of the way, where students have caught up on homework or played cards. This week, however, costumes have been used in practice, complicating matters tremendously. Many of the cast members have four or five costumes, and only practice can help them acquire the speed and efficiency needed to change costumes between scenes.

(Make-up problems loom also for the mammoth production. As the climate of the islands in the South Pacific is hot and muggy, and frequently the script calls for the sailors, seabees, marines

All-Conference Team Includes J. Wojcicki

Members of the Southeastern Conference All-league team have been announced, Chelsea sports officials claim. Jim Wojcicki, Chelsea's senior co-captain, was among the five SEC cagers to be named to the first string team.

Also named to the first team were Greg Ianni, of Dexter; Doug Woolard of Milan; Ken Wright, Ypsilanti-Lincoln; and Bill Basch, Dundee.

Named to the second team were Ron Sweeny, Chelsea; and Mike Kinashuk, Dexter; Pete Slesky, Saline; Gordon Wenzel, Dundee; Al Napier, Ypsilanti-Lincoln; and Glenn Wiseman, South Lyon.

Howie Treado, Chelsea's co-captain, received honorable mention, along with Denny Williams, and Steve Van Winkle, of Milan; Vern Porter of Ypsilanti-Lincoln; Don DeSmith, Dundee; Jim McIntosh, of South Lyon; and Tom Boyer, and Bob Vivian, both of Novi.

ELAINE BURNETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Burnett, 109 Grant St., works at Palmer Ford in the afternoons, and Saturdays, as a part of the Chelsea High school Co-Op program. Working about 25 hours a week, Elaine does bookkeeping, filing, and typing. She attends school each morning, and takes one class related to business education, and problems encountered on the job.

Also employed at Palmer Ford is Rita Spees, a 1970 Chelsea High graduate. Rita worked for Palmer on the Co-Op program last year, and continued working there following graduation. She works part-time, as she is also attending EMU. Rita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Spees.

School Co-Op Program Gives Student On-the-Job Training

A special form of "on-the-job" training is becoming increasingly popular at Chelsea High school. The program, which is called "Co-Op," is a course of activities in office occupations, whereby seniors may take a business education course at the high school in the morning, and work afterwards at a local business place.

Thomas Morrison, business education teacher at Chelsea High school, is the teacher who supervises the program, which allows qualifying seniors to gain a year's working experience prior to graduation, earn some money, and also receive high school credit.

Co-Op students must have an academic average of C plus, or a B minus, to qualify, and they must have a saleable skill, such as typing, filing, or bookkeeping knowledge. Also, they must be "good" students, in that they must have a good record regarding school rules, disciplinary problems, and so on. Since the students are dismissed from school early to get to their jobs, they must be punctual, and regular students.

A Co-Op student works a minimum of 15 hours at a local business place. Most, however, work more hours than that. The employer receives no money from the high school to employ a Co-Op student, so the qualifying student must be, as Morrison claims, "A money-making project."

The employer and the business education teacher work together to grade a student for his or her performance on the job. Grades are based on the student's punctuality, personality, appearance, job attitude, and ability. Morrison says that most Co-Op students score high marks on this scale.

The number of students on the program depends upon the availability of jobs, Morrison claims. In the past, the program has had as many as 17 boys and girls working with the Co-Op, while lay-offs, and poor economic conditions have caused that number to drop to six later in the year. Boys as well as girls may apply for the program, Morrison stated. Bank bookkeeping positions are particularly attractive to the young men, he said.

This year's program numbers 16 girls, Elaine Burnett, who works at Palmer's Ford; Raylene Buckingham, Harper Pontiac; MaryLu McClean, Chelsea State Bank; Virginia Ball, Genovese's, Inc.; Martha Ewald, G. & A. Sales; Holly Powers, Spaulding Home for Children; Tonya Clemans, Information Instruments; Carol Wier, Chelsea High school treasurer; Annette Ersten, American Research Fields Co.; Jill Kipfmiller, North American Rockwell; Becky Smith, Dr. Fisher; Barbara Blecha, Chelsea Medical Clinic; Karen Kolem, Chelsea Medi-

Many Protest Sharp Increase In Assessments

Township Boards of Review Find Angry Taxpayers Wanting Changes

Angry property owners in the surrounding townships filed into township halls this past week to protest sharp increases in their property tax assessments.

Township supervisors indicated that most people who came to protest the higher assessments, complained not that the value of their property had increased, but rather that their tax rates were so high. The supervisors had no control over the tax rate.

Sylvan township reported that more than 200 people came to the township hall on Monday and Tuesday to meet with the Board of Review. (Maurice Hoffman, supervisor, indicated that the board reconvened Wednesday morning to meet those persons who had appeared at the hall, but who had not had a chance to interview with the board. Hoffman stated that Wednesday should see the end of the board's scheduled interviews.

Sylvan assessments went up by 49 percent in the field of agriculture, while residential assessments climbed by 39 percent. Commercial assessments were hiked by 11 percent.

Some adjustments were made by the board, Hoffman stated, and it was expected that more would be made following the interviews, when the committee would examine properties in question.

George Bauer, supervisor of Lyndon township, indicated that his township's Board of Review was able to complete its activities in one day. Lyndon assessments increased 35 percent in agriculture, 20 percent residential, and 45 percent in the commercial area. Bauer indicated that few, if any adjustments were made at Tuesday's session.

John Tandy, Dexter township supervisor indicated that about 50 people appeared at his township's Board of Review which met Monday and Tuesday. Tandy said that of those who appeared, the people who filed justifiable complaints were able to have their assessments adjusted accordingly, while others are being reviewed.

Tandy indicated he received a large number of written complaints, protesting the increased assessments in Dexter township. Over-all, he said, the township's assessments were raised by 28 percent, with slight variance between residential, commercial, and agriculture.

Lima township met Monday and Tuesday also, and Ed Coy, township supervisor, indicated close to 50 persons appeared to appeal. Agricultural assessments rose by 34 percent in Lima, while residential assessments climbed by 29 percent. Commercial assessments were higher by from 9 to 11 percent. Coy said that some adjustments were made at the time of the interview, while some people will have to appeal their assessments to the Michigan State Tax Commission.

Any property owner who was not satisfied with the results of his appearance before the Board of Review, may appeal his assessment to the Michigan State Tax Commission. He must have proof, however, that he did appear before the board, and that he signed a protest. For those who did not meet with the Board of Review, and who are unhappy about their assessments, the various supervisors indicated that there is no legal recourse at this time.

Tax rates, however, and the tax laws, by which such problems as the County Equalization policy exist, can be changed they urged, and this is a possible place where angry citizens may vent their fury at present.

Also, school millage rates, directly influence the property tax rate, officials were quick to point out, and the increased assessments will have little effect if the millages are reduced. Ed Coy, supervisor of Lima township, indicated that many of the people with whom he spoke on Monday and Tuesday were angry about what they considered the "wasteful spending" of the schools, and the ever rising cost of school financing. Others were unhappy about alleged wage increases which state officials recently voted themselves.

Coy said that many people spoke of withholding taxes as a possible protest measure, adding that it wasn't the first time he'd heard such threats.

CLOTHING PROJECT: Sorting through clothing which has already been gathered in the basement of the Congregational church, are, from left, Mrs. Henry Harat, representative of the OEO in Chelsea; Mrs. James Hoffmeyer, Mrs. Jack Merkel, Mrs. Harold Widmayer, Mrs. Dennis Guinan, and Mrs. Mary Kniss. Many items have already been donated, the women noted, which will mean much mending in the coming weeks—and a "big haul" to take into Ann Arbor when it is all ready. Additional clothing may be brought to the basement of the Congregational church on Tuesday, March 16, at 9 a.m.

Used Clothing Is Collected For Needy Persons in County

First of many periodic clothing drives to assist the House By the Side of the Road in Ann Arbor, will be held in Chelsea on Tuesday, March 16. Clothes may be brought to the basement of the Congregational church on that day, where they will be collected, and stored before being distributed.

This program is sponsored by the Church Women United in Chelsea, who will sort, and label according to size, mend, and when necessary, wash and iron the items prior to giving them to the "House." Chelsea's needy will have first chance at the clothes, CWU claims, as clients of Mrs. Henry Harat, representative of the Office of Economic Opportunity, will be allowed to select needed clothes before they are taken to Ann Arbor.

House by the Side of the Road is a used clothing center which distributes clothes to the needy of Washtenaw county.

OWU officials claim that representatives from each church in Chelsea are being sought to serve on one of the various committees. Those interested are urged to call Mr. Jack (Mary Ann) Merkel, 475-2739. Persons wishing to donate clothing, who are unable to get them to the Congregational church on Tuesday, are also asked to contact Mrs. Merkel.

CHS Forensics Team Selected

Following final rounds of competition held last Wednesday, March 3, the Chelsea High school Forensics team for this year has been decided, Coach William Coelius announced this week.

More than 150 students competed for the maximum 36 positions on the team. Chelsea's team numbers 32 this year. Winners, in the 10 categories, who will represent Chelsea in those categories at the District meet held in Ypsilanti on March 24, included Bob Stoffer, and Dwight Bolanowski in the "humorous reading" category.

Sharon Heydlauff and Betty McNutt will compete in the "serious reading," arena, while Ron Sweeny, and Tina Orthing will present "children's literature."

In the area of "declamation," Pat Ball and Bill Schafer will compete, while in extemporaneous speaking, Chick Lane and Dan Gaunt will compete in the men's division and Cindy Sawyer, and Sue Stock will represent the ladies. Patrick Pluck, and Bob Mepter will compete in the men's division of the "oration" category, while Denise Slusser, and Sue Blass will compete in the women's division.

Under the category of radio newscasting, John Bennett and Mike Hergert will represent the team.

Two groups of multiple readings have also been admitted to the team. First group, a six-member group reading a selection from "Inherit the Wind," is comprised of Tom Hubert, Ed Koenig, Glen Musolf, Larry Jones, Jon Schenk, and Ric Foytik.

The second group, reading a piece entitled, "Freedom Is A Trumpet," is composed of Lynn Houle, Jane Mann, Jane Hasel, Jim Wojcicki, Laurie Lancaster, and Joan Schmidt.

According to Coach Coelius, students were allowed to compete in one category only. Each person was to select and prepare a piece that was appropriate to his category. Final contests in each category were judged by a panel of three teachers, who made the final team selection.

PLANNING FUTURE CURRENT EVENTS Group meetings are the busy members of the group's planning committee at the Chelsea Methodist Home. They include, from left, Mrs. Erma Van Valkenburg, of Chelsea, a former school teacher in the Plymouth schools, Miss Adeline Ballamy, a former teacher in Bay City, the Rev. Ralph Harper, retired minister, and the chairman of the group, and the Rev. G. P. Spitzer. Missing in the photo are planning committee members Miss Lucille Gamble, and Miss Bernice Shannon, who is the organizer of the Home's library. Up-coming topics include pollution, and the war in Indochina.

Current Events Discussion Group at Methodist Home

Who says old people live in the past? No one at the Chelsea Methodist Home. A group of spry, interested (and interesting) residents of the Home, and the adjoining Chelsea Village Apartments, meet weekly to discuss—of all topics—current events.

The Current Events Study Group is a long established tradition at the Home, and is presently being chaired by the Rev. Ralph Harper, resident of the Chelsea Village apartments. The group meets every Monday morning for close to an hour to discuss any of the many important issues of current interest in our society. Topics in the past have included such issues as the race problem, the war on poverty, and other national and world problems. Last week's topic was about Israel, and featured a film borrowed from the Washtenaw County film library, while next week's topic is to be on South America.

Any current social trend is also studied, and a recent meeting featured a discussion on "witchcraft." Members of the group do their homework before each meeting also. The Rev. Harper has residents read different books, or look up different aspects of a particular issue, so that a knowledgeable, and varied discussion can take place during the program. He also finds films, and when available, speakers to assist with the group's and nurses to appear in rather skimpy outfits, a lot of flesh must be changed overnight, from "fish belly white," to suntanned! Rigid make-up schedules are being made, and they will be followed to the minute, officials claim!

To add to the confusion, some cast members must have their hair colored and styled. There are not many blond polynesians, and the make-up crew is working for "realism."

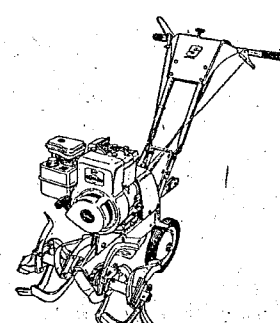

Final co-ordination will take place when the lighting crew and the orchestra make their appearance. When it comes time to "put it all together" students in the cast and crew are confident that all will eventually go smoothly and the touching story of Nellie Forbush's romance with the gallant French planter, Emile de Becque will unfold for local audiences.

Tickets are going quickly for the three 8 p.m. performances. To obtain tickets, one may send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Tickets," Chelsea High School, or call the high school. All seats are reserved, and the number of available seats is rapidly decreasing.

TIM LANCASTER, left, is a sophomore at Chelsea High school. Although he has wrestled for two years for Chelsea, this is his first year on the varsity team. Tim recently took a first place championship in the 138-pound class in the District wrestling tournament, which was held Saturday, Feb. 20. This permitted him the experience of wrestling in the Regional meet. His record for the season was about 10-5-2, he claims. He is active in other sports activities, as he plays football, and is a member of the track team, competing in the pole vaulting events. Tim belongs to the ski club, and enjoys such other sports as golf, water-skiing, and hockey. He is a member of the choir and Youth Fellowship at St. Paul United Church of Christ. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lancaster, 607 Washington St., and lives at home with his parents, and one sister, Laurie. Two other brothers, Mark, and Paul, attend college and live away from home.

BILL KUSHMAUL, wrestles at 145. His year's record is 11-9-2. A senior at Chelsea High school, he is president of the FFA, and president of Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H club. Although he does not presently live on a farm, his parents farmed until he was 12, and Bill has always been interested in farming. He plans to follow a farm-oriented career, and will go to MSU next fall to take a short course on elevated feed supply. Bill enjoys fishing and hunting, as hobbies, and does a lot of it in his spare time. He lives at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kushmaul, 1451 Guenther Rd. He has one sister, Mrs. Richard (Grace) McCalla, who is married and lives on Waters Rd.

Wrestling Team Closes Highly Successful Season

Chelsea's wrestling season ended on a high note Saturday, as sophomore Mark Montange, finished second in the State Finals at Sturgis. Mark came through with three big wins before losing in the finals to senior Tom Roof of Ovid-Elsie. He started out by defeating McCaffie of Muskegon Catholic Central, 4-2. He then defeated second seeded Rudy Newton of Montrose, 6-0, to move into the semi-finals.

In the semi-finals, Mark wrestled what his coach termed an "outstanding" match against Kirk Trombly, of Anchor Bay, and defeated him, 6-0.

Saturday's effort brought Mark's total year record to 33-3.

Chelsea's other wrestlers participating in the finals did not fare so well. Coach Bareis indicated, as both Jim Wencel and Gary Montange lost their first matches and also lost in consolation. The coach pointed out, however, that both wrestlers distinguished themselves, as both were considered among the top 16 wrestlers in the state in their weight class.

The wrestling season ended with what Bareis termed a "satisfactory over-all performance." At the beginning of the season, Bareis said, this was considered a rebuilding year. Yet, all the wrestlers came through in fine style, posting a 10-3 dual meet record. The growth of this young team was indicated by their ability to come up with a district championship at the end of the year.

A great deal was achieved this season, Bareis claimed, beyond the gaining of a good season record. Chelsea High school will be issuing varsity awards to 20 wrestlers of which all but four will be returning to the team. Fourteen others wrestlers will be receiving junior varsity awards, as well.

Heavy Snow Closes Schools Monday

A late winter (not really early spring) snow storm which started early Sunday, and continued through to Monday morning,

March 7 and 8, closed Chelsea schools once more this season.

This brings to six the number of school closings that Chelsea has had this winter, the highest figure in recent years, school officials claim. Last year, school closed only once due to poor road conditions.

Fred Mills, business manager, claims that the high number of snow days does not stem from driver laziness, adding that the superintendent of the bus drivers calls each time the roads are considered impassable. Monday morning Mills claimed the superintendent called him after his vehicle was stuck for a half an hour, and the decision to close school was made.

State aid is not cut off when schools close due to weather conditions, Mills claimed. That comes under the "Act of God clause," and, as Mills put it, "Neither the schools nor the state can do much about that." Hence, nobody worries on a snow day—not even a business manager.

Junior Achievers Company Reports Financial Troubles

Chelsea's Junior Achievement program, like many small companies in these economically troubled times, is floundering in the financial straits.

Junior Achievers are out pounding the streets trying to sell their wares to keep their company solvent, but as consumers continue to hold onto their pennies, they have found it increasingly more difficult to make a sale.

Their year will come to a close shortly and the JA youngsters must balance their books. Anyone interested in purchasing a JA product is encouraged to call Phil Boham at Dana Corp., or contact the high school for information. Watch for a JA salesman on your block.

Look back now and then—it is possible to learn some useful lessons from past errors.

Compare Cash Crop Expected Earnings Then Allocate Land

Uncertainties plague Michigan farmers who are trying to decide how to allocate their available 1971 cash crop acreage among corn, soybeans and field beans, notes Leyton Nelson, Michigan State University crops specialist. "Unpredictable prices, the corn leaf blight situation, and weather conditions that could affect field bean production make it difficult for farmers to decide how much of each cash crop to plant," explains Nelson.

He compares the three crops this way:
—Soybeans: price protection available (forward contracting and futures trading); good varieties available; seed supply adequate. —Corn: leaf blight unpredictable; price protection available; short supply of "N" seed.

—Field beans: price not known; bacterial blight continues a threat; seed supply may be limited; hazard factor greater than corn.

Nelson suggests that each farmer list the highest and lowest expected yields for each crop, list estimated highest and lowest expected prices, and list expenses. Then, considering the possible net returns and hazards involved with each crop, he should make his cash crop acreage decisions.

Bands Score in District Festivals

Three of the four Chelsea bands attended the District 12 Band Festival this past Saturday at three different schools. The fourth band, the eighth grade band, will perform this coming Saturday, March 13, at Harper Woods.

The Symphony Band, under the direction of Warren Mayer performed at Lincoln High school, and received a rating of II. Judges were complimentary of this organization, although the four judges rated the band I, II, II in performance, and I in sight reading. The band played a march by John P. Sousa entitled "Freelance March," an "Overture to 11 Re-Pastors" by Mozart, and "Movement I," of the Washington Symphony for the band.

Concert Band, under the direction of Stuart Glazier performed at Ida High school, receiving a rating of I. This is the first time the concert band has earned a "I" rating in festival, which was extremely rewarding since on one of the pieces, Glazier's band performed was the "Chelsea Concert March," which was written by him. The judges rated the band I, I, and I, in performance, and II in sight reading. Other pieces played included "Festivo" by Nellybel, and "Two Moods," by Grundmann.

Warren Mayer directed the Seventh Grade Band at their performance at Bishop Borgess High school in Detroit Saturday afternoon to receive a rating of I. Among the comments offered by the judges following this band's performance was surprise at their size! The judges felt that it was impressive that a school the size of Chelsea could offer musical opportunity to so many young people. The judges rated the group I, I, I, in performance and II in sight reading.

Mayer expressed appreciation to the parents who chaperoned the groups, and to Don Pierson, and Gary Wright, who offered their trucks to help haul the larger instruments to the festival.

Chaperones included Ed Lahaun, Mrs. Robert Robbins, Ray Parsons, Mrs. Howard Schenk, Mrs. Richard Jennings, and Mrs. Melvin Buss, for the Symphony Band. Concert band chaperones were Claude Arnette, Mrs. C. H. Buck, Mrs. George Prinzing, Mrs. Laura Garlick, and Mrs. Earl Hübbl, while Mrs. Tom Morrison, Mrs. Duane Crouch, Mrs. Cecil Clouse, and Mrs. Richard Seyfried chaperoned the seventh graders.

Mayer reminded eighth grade band members, and chaperones that the buses for Harper Woods will leave at 12:15 sharp.

THANK YOU

I would like to say thank you to all my friends and neighbors for the visits, flowers, and cards, while I was in the hospital and medical center. Sincere thanks to Rev. Siebert for his calls and prayers. Also to the Chelsea Blood Bank. All were greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Adolph Duerr.

THANK YOU

I want to thank everyone who sent cards, and gifts while I was in Mercy Hospital in Jackson for two weeks, and during my convalescence at home.

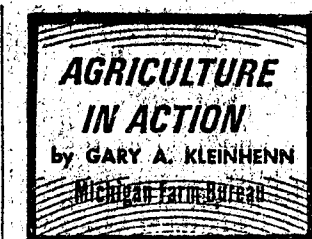

Virginia Maurer.

THANK YOU

I want to thank all my friends and relatives for the cards, flowers, and gifts, while I was in the hospital, and to all who brought food to me since my return home. Thanks to the Rev. Dickens for his call at the hospital.

Thelma Franklin.

Language may be a vehicle of thought, but in some cases it is just an empty wagon.

★ America and Me

Michigan eighth graders wrote a book. They are the creators of "America and Me" on what 13- and 14-year-olds think about the nation. More than 3,500 took part in an "essay" contest with the theme, "What Can I Do For My Country?"

The outstanding characteristic of the 40 page booklet is the honesty youth brings to the reader. The excerpts printed are uniquely the product of youth. They are fresh, revealing, some disturbing, while others please. They're all youth! And as told in the preface, "Whether these young viewpoints are right or wrong is incidental. They exist."

Here's an interesting few. On protest: "If you don't like the way things are run, don't just mouth off to your friends; write a letter to your senator or representative telling him how you feel."

On pollution: "Erie Lake used to be a beautiful lake, but look at it now. It's totaled." and "I wonder, will there be litter bugs in Heaven too?"

On inflation: "Inflation's when you've got to use a whole pack of gum to make one decent bubble."

Of all the entries, this eighth grader took the blue ribbon.

"I could fight a war, fly an airplane, I could be a congressman, pass new laws, or be a governor, but now I can be concerned. I could be a great surgeon, do heart transplants, or discover a new drug; but now I can fight heroin. I could be a professor, teach at a university, or do scientific research; but now I can stay in school. I could be an evangelist and preach the Gospel, but now I can pray for my country."

Twice, George Washington Freedom Foundation Medals have been awarded to Farm Bureau Insurance Group for its statewide community relations program, now in its third year.

The Michigan Farm Bureau affiliate company expects more than 200 Michigan schools will be taking part again this year.

A copy of "America and Me" is available on request.

Detroit Edison Rate Increase OK'd By PSC

Lansing—The Public Service Commission (PSC) of the Michigan Department of Commerce recently approved a $19 million rate increase for the Detroit Edison Co.

The Commission authorized Detroit Edison to put the 3.9 percent rate increase into effect Jan. 1. The utility serves 1.5 million customers in 13 Southeastern Michigan counties.

It is the second rate increase the PSC has approved for Detroit Edison this year. Last April, the Commission approved a 1.4 percent increase amounting to $8.5 million.

The April rate increase—the first in 21 years—was based on revenue and costs for the year 1968.

Detroit Edison, saying it had experienced "unprecedented increases" in the cost of labor, fuel, interest rates, and other expenses since 1968, asked for a second rate increase on June 4.

PSC chairman Willis F. Ward said that under the new rate schedule, Detroit Edison customers will be paying only one percent more for electricity than they paid in 1959. The PSC ordered the utility to reduce rates four times between 1959 and 1967.

The PSC chairman said the "dramatic increase" in Detroit Edison's costs between 1968 and 1970 was a major factor in the Commission's decision to give it a second rate increase in less than a year.

Another key factor, he said, was the cost of the utility's construction program to meet anticipated electric energy needs in Southeastern Michigan.

"Detroit Edison will be spending more than $1 million a day during the next two years to expand its production and transmission facilities," Ward said. "We hope the new facilities will result in a reduction in the cost of electricity for Detroit Edison's customers when they are completed in 1974."

CENSUS & YEAR 2000

The Census Bureau has released figures showing a sharp downward revision in its estimate of what the U.S. population would be by the year 2000. The 1967 figures projected population would be between 283 million and 361 million. The decline in birth rates in the late 1960's brought about the revision.

James Smith, Detroit, pled guilty to being a minor in possession of intoxicants, and to having no operator's license on his person. He was fined $50 fine and costs for the first charge, and $25 fine and costs for the second.

James J. Varney, Ypsilanti, pled guilty to being drunk and disorderly. He will be sentenced April 21.

Terry A. Schuler, Clinton, was found guilty of being a minor in possession of alcohol. He was fined $35 fine and costs.

Big Mac Claims Safest Record For Michigan's Rural Highways

St. Ignace—The Mackinac Bridge part of Interstate 75 Freeway is probably the safest five miles of rural highway in Michigan.

That's the conclusion of Prentiss W. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

"With fingers figuratively crossed, we can point to the fact that there has never been a motor vehicle fatality on the bridge in the more than 13 years it has been open to traffic," Brown said.

"In that time there have been close to 100 million vehicle miles driven over the bridge."

Brown said all-night lighting of the bridge, its median strip and continuous patrols all contribute to the good safety record.

An average of one of every 300,000 vehicles crossing the bridge is involved in a collision. Most are rear-end collisions, the result of a driver gawking at the bridge or the Straits of Mackinac scenery.

Collisions at the fare plaza occur a bit more frequently, one several times.

in every 260,000 vehicles. Bad brakes, reaching for money and just plain poor judgment are the most frequent causes.

An average of one of every 22,000 bridge crossing vehicles tugs out of gas. The Authority accommodates a record 96 of these unlucky motorists in 1959.

Mackinac Bridge patrolmen also assist with flat tires. A total of 910 tires were changed in the 13 years of bridge operation, one flat for every 19,671 vehicles.

One plane flew under the bridge in 1970. It was accurately identified for federal authorities. One made a forced landing close enough to the bridge to barely miss having to pay a crossing fare.

No bridge-crossing incident so shakes up the patrolmen as a hews from ash-faced parents who, upon paying their fares, suddenly realize they have left one of their brood at a filling station or restaurant on the other side of the bridge. That has happened several times.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Longfellow wrote, "In this world a man must either be a hammer or an anvil." His words exaggerate a point worth thinking about. When hammering is needed, the right kind of hammer should be used. For example—

You don't use a sledge hammer to drive in carpet tacks. Nor do you use a claw hammer when a pile driver is needed. You use the right weight hammer to mold sheet metal. It must be remembered a hammer can destroy things as easily as it can mold things. This is especially true in religion. It has been tried time and again, but one simply can not pound religion into anyone. A Carpenter who once lived in Nazareth hammered home this truth. His hammer was meekness, gentleness, compassion and love. It was a light hammer but it carried tremendous impact.

In more recent years, Everett Dirksen hammered home a somewhat similar thought when he said, "I never knew a person who didn't become tractable if you didn't threaten him with a meat ax." BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

First Quarter Results!

America's No.1 selling compact.

Latest news! Paced by Duster, the Plymouth Valiant car outsold all other compacts in October-December 1970, to rank as the Number One compact in the industry.

We introduced Duster to be the best transportation bargain in America. And what's happened? A runaway success.

In the last three months of 1970, Duster led the Valiant line of cars to first place in sales among all compact cars.

It figures. Duster is the small-enough-but-big-enough car. Duster is strong in all the things you want a small car for. Low price. Good gas economy. Easy upkeep. Easy parking. Easy handling. Good in stop-and-go driving.

But most compacts give you this. The difference is: Duster is a very big small car.

More room, better ride. Duster seats five people comfortably. Repeat: five people, not four. Comfortably, not cramped. The trunk is family-sized—55.9 cu. ft. of storage space. More than some cars costing a lot more than Duster.

On the highway Duster acts like a bigger car. You get the unique smoothness and stability of its torsion-bar ride. You get the solid security of its sturdy unibody construction.

More choices.

You can equip your Duster with our standard or optional Six—both proven in billions of miles for their combination of performance and good gas mileage. Or you can order a V-8. In which case you get larger brakes and tires. And this should tell you something about the extra care that goes into Duster's design.

In all, there are more than 50 options, ranging from a stereo cassette tape player to a vinyl roof. Why so many? That's the whole point about Duster: You can have your economy without giving up the nice things you really want in a car.

Record sales mean bigger resale value.

Traditionally, Plymouth small cars, like Duster, have been leaders in their field in resale value. Which is another reason why, to date, we've put almost a quarter of a million people into Duster. As we said, it's a very big small car.

If Duster is so much more car in so many ways, is it unfair to compare it with other compacts? No, not when you see the price.

See your Plymouth Dealer. He'll show you that sales success boils down to one thing—offering you more car for your money.

Case for Repealing Draft Law Discussed for Kiwanis

Frederick W. Lord, speaker for the National Council to Repeal the Draft, addressed Chelsea Kiwanis at their meeting Monday evening, March 8. Guests of the Kiwanis club were four members of the Chelsea Police Department, and 12 members of the Chelsea Auxiliary Police.

The Rev. Olive Dickens introduced Lord, who spoke on "The Case for Draft Repeal Now."

A member of the Peace and Education Section of the American Friends Service Committee, New England Regional Office, he was founding member in 1967 of the Berkshire Action Committee for Peace, and co-chairman in 1968 of the McCarthy campaign in Berkshire county.

A graduate of Dartmouth, with a BA degree, he received his MBA from Harvard Business School. He served as an ensign in the United States Navy Supply Corps, with sea duty in the Pacific. He worked for some time in New York City, on Wall St.

Lord is presently a director of the Berkshire Theatre Festival in Stockbridge, Mass., and a trustee of the Charles Playhouse in Boston. He lives with his wife, and three children, in Berkshire county, Mass.

Following the Kiwanis meeting, he then spoke to a gathering at the Congregational church. Topic for that lecture was "Conscription in A Free Society."

Overseas telephone service has been started to Svalbard, a Norwegian island in the Arctic sea.

DRAFT REPEAL DISCUSSION: The Rev. Olive Dickens (left) introduced Frederick W. Lord at Monday evening's Kiwanis meeting. Lord spoke on the topic, "The Case for Draft Repeal Now." Chelsea's Police Department, and Auxiliary Police were guests at the meeting. Lord fielded questions from the floor following his talk.

Sixth Grade Hot Line

Mrs. Koch's classes

This six weeks we have been doing our spelling differently. We have to get a partner to study with and to give each other our test. The way we get our words is whenever you get a word spelled wrong on a story or theme Mrs. Koch takes that word and adds it to your list.

Last week we had a spelling bee for all sixth graders. First the teachers gave you 50 words. Then the ones that missed the least went on to a spelling with top 50 sixth graders. Then the top 10 from there will have a spelling down with the top 10 from each of the three grades.

—Becky Kraai

In reading we've been doing some interesting things. The class was split into groups. Some of the groups read "mini-books." Other groups did skills booklets. Another group learned the difference between Caldecott and Newbery Awards. Then they read a book that was given one of these awards. The group worked with fun and you really learned something from it.

—Sandy Norton.

We have been studying a lot of different things in English the past six weeks. For instance, we have been writing a lot of stories. All of us like to write creative or funny stories. We just finished one where Mrs. Koch gave us a topic sentence and we had to write the rest of the story. The topic sentence was, "This morning I looked in the mirror and saw that I had turned into..." We had a lot of funny stories on that one.

We have also been studying sentence patterns. We are having a test on them Thursday. We also were studying pronouns and the three ways they can be used. The three ways are as subjects, after words like than and as, and as objects.

—Kim Brown.

In geography we are talking about China and Japan. We did contracts on China and Japan. These contracts had map work, study questions, a graph, a crossword puzzle, and a chart. We worked on our contracts in groups of 4 or 5. We also had projects to do. Some of the boys and girls did maps. Some made a Chinese food and brought it into the class for us to try. We also could do many other things. Mrs. Liang, the Special Education teacher, talked to us about China. Mrs. Liang was born and raised in China. She showed us slides and many articles from China. Her talk helped us understand more about China.

—Steve Smyth.

DEN 7, PACK 445—

Den 7, Pack 445 met March 5, at Mrs. Carl Reimenschneider's house. The boys spent most of the afternoon making Indian drums. Afterward the den decided to make an Indian club.

Jeff Parnell, scribe.

DEN 15, PACK 441—

Den 15, Pack 445, met Tuesday night, March 9, at the home of Mrs. Marentette. The opening was led by David Eisele.

The birthdays of three boys were celebrated, David Eisele, Gary Kelemen, and Joey Marentette.

The boys worked on their Indian shields, and drums.

Treats were furnished by David Eisele.

Gary Kelemen, scribe.

DEN 5, PACK 415—

Den 5, Pack 415, met Tuesday, March 9, at the home of Mrs. Richard Seyfried. The boys opened their meeting with a song. They started working on their Indian costumes, and practiced their Indian dance.

Elections were held with Randy Ellis as new denner, Kenny Aldrich, as assistant, and Eric Case, scribe.

They played the game, "Glove and Stocking in a Bag." Meeting closed with the Living Circle.

Treats were furnished by David Seyfried.

Eric Case, scribe.

DEN 8, PACK 445—

Den 8, Pack 445, met Thursday, March 4, at the house of Mrs. Pichlik. The boys are still working on Indian projects. They made tom-toms at this meeting.

Also each boy picked an Indian name such as Crazy Horse, Two Arrows, and Flying Eagle.

The boys learned how to play the tom-toms, and how to do an Indian dance.

"Red Buffalo," Eric Pichlik, scribe.

Chelsea Troops Mark Girl Scout Week

Approximately 162 local Girl Scouts have been celebrating the birthday of Girl Scouting this past week. Sunday, March 7, was official Girl Scout Sunday. Flowers were donated to the Methodist church and the Congregational church for their altars in appreciation for the use of the churches by the Scouts. Girl Scouts attended church on that day in full dress uniform.

Fathers will escort their daughters to the "Father-Daughter Night," which will be held Thursday evening, March 18, at 7 p.m. at Beach school cafeteria. This is a function which normally occurs during Girl Scout Week, but it was delayed this year to permit the troops to secure Lauri Moyle as a speaker. Lauri will show slides of her visit to the Swiss Chalet, a Girl Scout House in Switzerland. This is one of four such homes supported by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Girl Scouts come from all over the world to meet at this retreat home.

Also featured at the "Father-Daughter Night," will be each troop, who will entertain the fathers with songs, and a skit. Miss Jane Mann, former Miss Chelsea, and herself a Girl Scout for many years, will act as "Mistress of Ceremonies."

First Girl Scout troop in the United States was formed 59 years ago, March 12, 1912, by a woman named Juliette (Daisy) Gordon Low. She helped to set up the standards and values which girls in Girl Scouting now hold. These standards can best be seen in some of the window displays that are currently adorning many of the downtown windows.

In "Dancer's Department Store, Junior Troop 58, has shown some of their interests in their selection of requirements for their troop badge, which is called "Winter Fun." They made up the requirements for this badge, and designed the badge's insignia. This insignia they then transferred to melmac plates which they gave their parents for Christmas. In November the girls decorated ornaments, and they made wall plaques from popsicle sticks and alphabets. The wall plaques told the laws of Scouting. The girls made ceramic snowmen and painted them in February.

Patty Ann Shoppe carries a poster entitled "Eco-Action 70" which shows 12 badges. Also displayed is an Indian teepee, which was made to meet a requirement for the Indian lore badge, and an item for the art and round badge. Among the service projects the girls have made recently is a gift for their mothers, a key holder, wall plaque for fathers, doggie stockings for the Lane Animal Hospital, comic books, for the children at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and a box for soldiers in Vietnam.

Brownie Troop 145 has a display in the window of the Chelsea Hardware, showing the "3-B's" Brownies Scouts try to live each day. (With the use of tiny dolls, these Brownies depicted "Be Ready Helpers," all over the world, "Be a Discoverer," by making beds, and cleaning rooms, and "Be a Discoverer," by showing a bird's nest with a plastic bird looking on. Several pictures show ways in which the girls can "Be Ready Helpers."

In Heydlauff's window, Brownie Troop 84 has made two posters. One of the posters depicts fun trips the girls have taken to the Ice Follies, a museum, and to the police department. The other poster shows decorations the girls made for Christmas.

Foster's Men's Wear window is now displaying handicraft of Brownie Troop 247, a sit-upon, candle holder, hiking bandana, and a bank. The banks were used for each girl to save money to buy her own jack knife. A poster showing the Brownie "3-B's" is also on display.

Boys from St. Louis School 'Invade' Dearborn Heights

Boys from St. Louis school were guests of St. Albert the Great church in Dearborn Heights, Sunday afternoon, March 7. They took part in a band recital for the members of the church, conducted by the Rev. Fr. Umberto.

Special guest that day was Joe Vitale, who accompanied the boys on the drums.

A basketball game followed the performance, with the Cardinals, the team of the youth group of the church. St. Albert's Cardinals took the lead at the beginning of the game, for a short time only. St. Louis Roosters took the lead, and another victory, with a score of 46-28.

With the basketball season almost over for the boys, with the exception of a trip to the Don Guanella school in Philadelphia, and a return visit from them, the Roosters have eight wins, and two losses.

Both programs on Sunday were sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cosgro, who attended St. Albert, and have a son, Patrick, attending St. Louis.

Following the game, refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs.

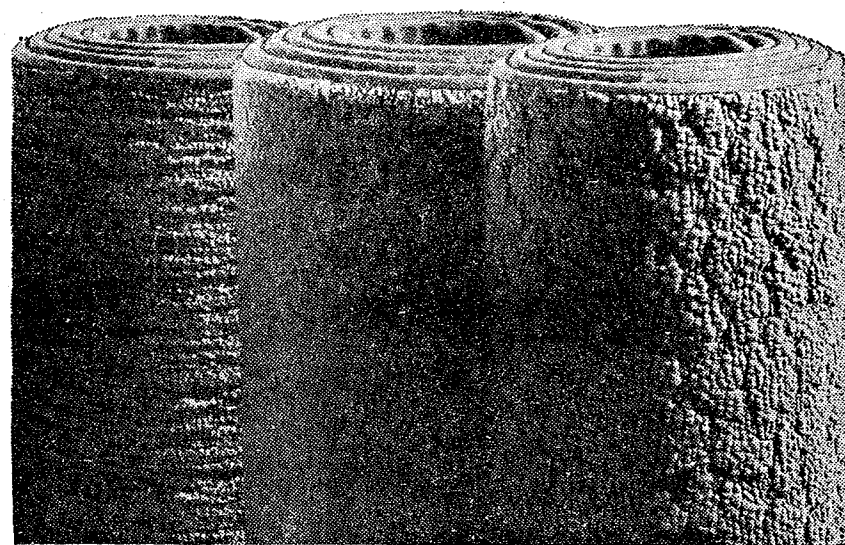

Al Blair of Bloomfield Hills, who also have a son of the school, brought a box of homemade cookies for the boys.

Many of the boys' parents, and friends, from the Detroit area, attended the reception, as well as the Monsignor Weier, and the priests, and the Irish nuns, the Maistr sisters, all of St. Albert's church. Of course, the fathers, and sisters, and friends of St. Louis, also attended the event.

Cheerleaders from St. Alberts were graciously divided to give the Roosters half the Cardinal cheering squad, for which the victorious Roosters were very grateful.

This was the first time the boys had visited St. Albert, but they look forward to more fun times with the church. It was worth even the trip through the storm which the boys had to make coming home.

Dried fruits should be stored in tightly covered containers at room temperature; not above 70 degrees. In warm, humid weather, refrigerate.

new REGULATIONS ALLOW more favorable HOME MORTGAGES

Newest regulations have broadened lending policies permitting us to offer more favorable home mortgage terms. Interest rates have apparently passed their peak and we feel that now is a good time to go ahead with plans to build or purchase a home. Housing costs, including labor and materials are increasing at a rate of about 8 percent a year.

A HOME IS ONE OF THE BEST BUYS. The mortgage interest rate is much lower than the cost of borrowing money to buy a car or a color TV set. Bargains are available today, particularly in the existing home market and builders are trying to satisfy the demand for basic values with new models that are long on square footage and short on frills.

WE HAVE MORTGAGE MONEY AVAILABLE. More than any other financial institution in the area, because the primary investment of our monies goes into home loans. We offer conventional, HUD (FHA) and VA mortgages. We're interested in helping you to buy or build now under the most favorable mortgage terms available.

Janice Rudd, Archie Speer Wed Saturday at Methodist Church

Miss Janice Rudd and Archie Speer were united in marriage by the Rev. Clive Dickens Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28, at the First United Methodist church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudd, 140 Van Buren, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Speer of Pollard, Ark.

The bride chose an A-line gown in traditional ivory, with chapel-length train. Her headpiece was a bonnet fashioned of Chantilly lace. It matched her gown.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Paul (Judy) Tudor of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride. She wore an A-line floor-length gown of light blue crepe with pearl trim.

Bridesmaids, Linda Hale, Linda Van Riper, Karen Lehmann, and Linda Perlongo, wore lavender gowns similar to the matron of honor's.

DeWayne Speer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, while Paul Tudor, brother-in-law of the bride, was head usher. Robert Rudd, Jr., brother of the bride, Mike Weeks, and Danny Thorne, friends of the bridegroom, assisted.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club for approximately 200 guests.

Mrs. Roma Salyer, Chelsea, and Mrs. Ellen Grimmer, of Shelby, O., aunts of the bride, poured punch and coffee, while Miss Wanda Salyer, cousin of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Miss Beth Wenk, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The new Mrs. Speer is a 1968 graduate of Chelsea High school. She attended Preston's School of Cosmetology, and is presently employed at the Village Beauty Salon. The bridegroom attended Pig-gott High school in Piggett, Ark., before enlisting in the Army in February of 1966. He is presently employed at Industrial Plastics.

Pre-nuptial showers were given by Mrs. Roma, and Wanda Salyer, Mrs. Gerald Wenk, Mrs. A. J. Hale, and daughter, Dianna, Karen Lehman, and Linda Van Riper.

Leach - Hoffman Vows Spoken in Leslie Church

A candlelight ceremony at the United Methodist Church in Leslie on Feb. 27, united Linda Sue Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Leach, of Leslie, and Roy Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman of Grass Lake. The Rev. Arthur Jackson officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor-length princess style white velvet gown, with lace applique on the bodice, and a lace edged chapel train. A velvet headpiece, which she carried herself, held her veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley, and red roses.

Miss Noreen Waldron, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Bowers, Sally Sanford, and Gail Kalis. They wore gowns with green bodice, and yellow crepe skirts. They carried velvet muffs.

Russell Hoffman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Grooms-men included Bill Snyder, John Lape, and Bob Leach, brother of the bride.

Flower girl was Patricia Hoffman, niece of the bridegroom, while Jeff Hoffman, the bridegroom's brother, was ring bearer.

Guests were seated by Claude Leach and Dick Pierce, cousins of the bride, Jerry Whitaker, cousin of the bridegroom, and Dean Copernoll.

The couple will reside in Allen-dale.

The bride, a graduate of Leslie High school, is a junior at Grand Valley State College. The bridegroom graduated from Grass Lake High school.

SOBERING AWARD

Peter the Great tried to encourage sobriety among 18th century Russians by insisting that men jailed for drunkenness had to wear a "medal for hard drinking" around their necks all the time they were incarcerated. The medal weighed 18 pounds.

Goat's milk contains about 3 to 7 percent butterfat, about the same as cow's milk.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

"If my hair looks good I can go meet the queen, and feel I look all right," remarked a lovely little English girl in her precise accent. She made the highest testimonial for well-groomed hair an English girl could have made: To depend on her hairdo to recommend her to the queen. She likes a "blown" look, she says, except for really special occasions when a "pretty piled-up curly do" is her choice. A professional can please you too, whichever way you choose to look for your particular "queenly" occasion. May we try our luck at making you feel your hair looks good enough for your own highest triumph?

President Unable To Accept Invitation

An article which appeared in the Jan. 14 issue of The Standard, has been brought to the attention of President Nixon. The article was a story, found on page six, dealing with the five birthdays within the Ed Lantis family. The birthday boys were Ed Lantis, who was 42, John Lantis, 17, and Jeff Lantis, 7, and Lantis' nephew, John Hafner, and his son, Randy Hafner. They were all born Jan. 9, the birthday of The President.

Following the story's appearance, Mrs. John Hafner clipped the article and sent to the President along with an invitation to join in next year's celebration. She received the following reply Tuesday, March 9, from one of the President's aids:

For a Holland-easy sauce, combine 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of celery soup, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Heat over a low heat just until thickened, stirring constantly. Do not boil. Makes one and two-thirds cups sauce.

Here's a quick and easy dessert that would please a sultan. Top slices of date nut loaf with canned sliced apricots. Garnish with sour cream; sprinkle with nutmeg. A cheese topper for boiled meat is easily made by blending 1 part crumbled blue cheese, 2 parts softened butter, dash of Worcestershire sauce, and lemon juice. Spread on lamb chops, steaks or hamburgers the last minute or two of broiling.

A pat of butter on top of cream soup just before serving looks luscious and adds flavor.

Medical Center Volunteers Review First Year's Activities

First annual meeting of the Chelsea Medical Center volunteers was held in the hospital dining room Monday, March 1, with Mrs. Lawton Steger, president, presiding.

Mrs. Steger opened the meeting by requesting the annual reports of the year's growth and activities from the individual board members.

Board members are Mrs. Dorothy Miller, hospital chairman; Mrs. John B. Dunn, vice-president; Mrs. William Rademacher, secretary; Mrs. N. C. Thomas, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Heydluff, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Daniels, flowers; and Mrs. Patrick Turcot, cart. Present board members were requested, and agreed to serve one additional year in their present capacities.

Mrs. William Tite, who directs the volunteers' daily activities, gave a thank you for the outstanding job the volunteers have done this past year. It was reported that 1,643 registered hours were donated by the Medcenter volunteers. Many additional hours were also donated by this group.

The program the volunteers participate in is mostly centered around arts, and crafts, bingo, music, religious devotions, birthday flowers, hospital cart, holiday decorating, and movies. Mrs. Dwight Barstow and Mrs. John Keusch were especially active in these affairs.

Mrs. Paul Schaible has started editing a newspaper which is published every two weeks for and about the hospital guests. This is to increase new patient communication. Her assistant is Mrs. Jerold Beaumont. Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Brown aid with typing and printing.

The new business discussion was centered on the proposed idea of starting a 14-16-year-old candy striper junior volunteer group. This group would be particularly active in the summer. Anyone in the community interested is asked to contact Mrs. Lawton Steger, 475-4981, or Mrs. Dorothy Miller, 475-8020, for further information.

Mrs. Miller highlighted the business meeting by modeling a bright red jacket the volunteers will wear in this coming second year of service.

Eddie Sutkin, on behalf of the hospital administration, expressed additional gratitude to the volunteers for a first year's job will done.

Meeting was adjourned with coffee, refreshments, and an hour of comparing notes of the past year's experiences.

DEATHS

William A. Yocum Chelsea Woman's Father Dies in Indiana at 100

William A. Yocum, father of Mrs. Herbert A. Paul, who celebrated his 100th birthday on Feb. 23, died suddenly, March 5. He was familiar to readers of The Standard, as for many years, despite of his age, he led a very active life, and would walk five miles on his birthday to phone his daughter.

He was born Feb. 23, 1871, in Westphalia, Ind., the son of John and Caroline Drieman Yocum. He lived in Indiana all of his life, visiting Chelsea on several occasions.

He married Emma Pielemeier, who preceded him in death a number of years ago.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Herbert A. (Elsie) Paul, Chelsea, and one sister, Mrs. Carrie Carrico, and one brother, Dr. Harry Yocum, both of Freelandville, Ind. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Mrs. Richard (Ruth) Nott of Jackson, and Arthur Paul, of Chelsea, and twelve great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, March 8, in Freelandville, Ind., where he was buried. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paul traveled to Freelandville to attend the services.

Mrs. Percy Morgan Former Detroit Resident Dies at Methodist Home

Mrs. Martha V. Morgan, Chelsea Methodist Home, died March 7, at the home. She was 88 years old.

Born Dec. 9, 1882, at Fournier, Ont., she was the daughter of Francis and Roseanne Ennell LaLond. She married S. Percy Morgan Aug. 4, 1915. He preceded her in death Aug. 7, 1962.

She came to the Chelsea Methodist Home, Nov. 20, 1962 from Detroit.

Mrs. Morgan is survived by one niece, Mrs. Ben (Irene) Sawyer, of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, March 10, at the Chelsea Methodist Home, with the Rev. Richard Clemans officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery. Arrangements were by Staffan Funeral Home.

KENSINGTON PARK

The first contract for construction of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford started on Aug. 9, 1946, with the building of a dam across the Huron River to help enlarge the then 60-acre Kent Lake to 1,200 acres. Known then as the "Kent Lake Park Project," the site, in 1947, was renamed "Kensington Metropolitan Park" after the notorious town of Kensington. The park opened in 1948.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN: James Thompson (left), Jerry Carpenter, Ron Joseph, and Jim Collinsworth, spent four hours of Saturday, March 6, picking up the litter that lined the I-94 exit ramps, and the M-52 entry into Chelsea. The clean-up Chelsea campaign is a self-styled drive on the part of the young men to stir up some clean-up action in the town. They challenge any group of four people to gather more trash from along the roadways than they did in the same time. Thompson is a counselor at Beach Middle school, while Jerry Carpenter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zephyr Carpenter, 117 North St. Jim Collinsworth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Collinsworth, of 19900 Old US-12, and Ron Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Joseph, 532 McKinley St. Deadline of the Clean-Up Chelsea Campaign contest is March 31.

Beach School Boys Start Area Clean-Up Campaign

Three Chelsea youths, and a school counselor braved Saturday's rain to clean up Chelsea on a campaign which the boys themselves drew up. The youths, students at Beach school, are Jerry Carpenter, Jim Collinsworth, and Ron Joseph. They were joined by school counselor, James Thompson, Saturday, March 6, to pick up the litter that lined the exit ramps of I-94, at M-52.

From Mrs. Larry Oakley, Veedersburg, Ind.: I am not really an old timer, but I came from a very poor family and I know what it's like to be an old timer.

I lived in but one house that had electricity before I left home.

I did my homework by kerosene lamps at night and I got up at 4 a.m. to cook breakfast on an old wood stove. I remember in wintertime I'd heat my milk to make biscuits so I wouldn't have to stick my hand in the icy flour.

I missed school many times to help mother scrub clothes on the washboard and while we were washing we'd have a big iron kettle of beans cooking on the stove.

Some people call these times the good old days. Teenagers today don't know the first thing about milking cows or slopping hogs. As I stated, I'm not really an old timer, but I am thankful that I don't have to re-live my teenage days.

Teenagers of today should wake up and be thankful!

The boys decided the mess which was revealed when the winter snow melted, gave the town a "bad image," and decided to clean it up.

Working four hours in the rain, the group collected 17 bags of litter each weighing from 30-40 pounds. They challenge any other group of four people, working four hours to better their efforts!

Chelsea's Jaycees donated the large bags, which the boys used to collect the litter, and Jaycees officials claim that the bags may be obtained for other groups wishing to better the boys' record, either by contacting Jaycees president Art Steinaway, or James Thompson at the Middle school.

Groups going out should wear gloves, Thompson claimed, as the broken glass, and the rusty cans are dangerous to the hands.

Any group of four people, a family, Scout troop patrol, or just four friends is welcome to try to beat the 17-bags record set by these four. Results, measured in Jaycees bags-fulls may be telephoned to Thompson at Beach school. Deadline is March 31. Winners will be announced in the following issue of The Chelsea Standard.

Commenting on the day's activities, Thompson said the boys felt that a just punishment for litterbugs would be to make the offenders not only pick up their own litter, but be forced to fill their car with other roadside junk, and take it to the dump.

Incidentally, the boys planned to take the returnable bottles collected with the junk and turn them in for the refund. The proceeds will go to charity.

Junior Youth Fellowship Group Becoming Active Participants

Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational church is catching up with the Senior high group, according to pastor, the Rev. Daniel Keln. The older youth group has spent many afternoons and evenings in the last year, at St. Louis school, playing basketball, bringing visits by such notables as Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny—and in general having a good time.

Now the Junior High group is getting into the act. A few members went along on one of the trips to the school, and enjoyed it so much that they are going to do a project out there on their own. They spent the afternoon of March 7 at St. Louis, having a good time with the boys.

The two fellowship groups have also done things together. They made a Sunday evening trip to Ypsilanti State Hospital, where March 7 at St. Louis, having a they hosted a two-hour party for one of the wards. Gifts were brought, and distributed, and the party featured food and games.

The groups are presently planning a visit to Mott's Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor at Easter time to brighten up the lives of these young ones.

Both groups, along with the Junior group, will participate in the Lenten services of the church this season. They are not just assisting at these services, each group will take charge on one service.

Asks the Rev. Keln, "About out kids—they are not all bad, are they?"

Lewis Purchases Science Book Publishing Firm

Edward E. Lewis of Chelsea is the new owner of the scientific book publishing firm he organized as a Gelman Instrument Co. subsidiary five years ago.

The company's principal assets and its name were purchased by a corporation which Lewis organized. The Standard learned in an interview, Lewis, T. K. Vandergift of Ann Arbor and Virgil Langworthy of Lansing constitute the board of directors.

Ann Arbor Science Publishers, Inc., specializes in pollution control and biochemistry books, and will pursue those fields vigorously, Lewis said.

Lewis lives with his wife Jean and their three sons, Steve, Jon and Brian at 324 E. Middle St.

Hockey Players Trying To Form Chelsea Team

Interest is forming an organized hockey team in Chelsea has been shown recently, following the recent games which a group of Chelsea youths played with Dexter.

Prime movers behind the team's organization are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Oswald. Mrs. Oswald is special education teacher at Chelsea High school. Her husband is coach of the team. The Oswalds felt that other young players in Chelsea should have a chance to learn, and participate in, this exciting sport.

Owen Loasby, of Gateway Sports Centre, Inc., was approached and has shown some interest in supporting a local hockey team. Loasby is an avid hockey fan. He is meeting with the Ann Arbor Hockey Association, to find out details concerning entry, and sponsorship of a local team in this league. He is also helping with investigations to find suitable practice locations, and recruitment of potential new team members.

Any boy, aged 8 to 18 years interested in playing hockey for Chelsea is urged to contact Loasby at the Gateway Sports Centre.

A year ago the Detroit Pistons reeked among the tailenders when it came to defense in the National Basketball Association. This year they're among the top five, giving up only 108 points per game, a drop of eight from 1969-70.

Total of 101 Votes Cast in Village Election

All candidates on the ballot at the recent Village election, held Monday, March 8, were elected! With a total of 101 votes cast.

Thomas Smith received 88 votes for re-election to the position of village assessor. Richard Harvey, incumbent village clerk, received 90 votes, while trustee candidates Borton and Gorton each received 90 votes, also. Arden Musbach, a candidate for the third trustee position open, won 98 votes.

For re-election to the library board, Catherine Wagner received 93 votes, while Robert Merkel tallied 91.

One write-in vote for Fred Barkley for the position of trustee was also reported.

The County Board of Canvassers met Tuesday afternoon to approve the election results, and officials were notified Wednesday morning of their decision. Village officials will take office on Thursday, March 11 (today).

The poor, although close to average turn-out, was partly attributed to the weather conditions, which closed many back roads in the area, and caused the Chelsea schools to be closed.

Missing W-2's Delay Federal Tax Refunds

Detroit—1,821 taxpayers in Michigan will receive their refunds later than expected this year because they neglected to attach necessary W-2 wage and tax statements to their 1970 federal income tax returns, Thomas A. Cardoza, IRS District Director, said today.

A copy of each W-2 form given to an employee must be filed with his federal income tax return. If a W-2 is lost, employees should request a duplicate from the employer.

Taxpayers with more than one job must file a Form W-2 from each employer with the return, Cardoza cautioned.

When returns are received in IRS offices without W-2's to verify all withheld taxes claimed, a letter is sent to the taxpayer requesting the missing document. Meanwhile, processing is delayed until the W-2, or an acceptable explanation of why it cannot be furnished, is received.

Other major reasons for delays of refund checks are: failure of taxpayers to include their Social Security numbers, failure to sign the tax return, mistakes in arithmetic and illegible information on returns.

So far this year, the IRS Service Center in Cincinnati has processed 247,370 refunds for Michigan taxpayers totaling $76,554,457.

THE LANSING REPORT
FROM
GIL BURSLEY

Agriculture in Michigan is a $2.8 billion industry. It joins with automobiles, and tourism as our biggest industries. Its magnitude is emphasized by the fact that it takes an investment of $76,582 behind each employee on Michigan farms.

This is said to be about three times as much as per worker in industry. The answer, of course, is that Michigan farms are becoming fewer but larger. The great degree of mechanization needed to operate Michigan farms today is the primary reason for the high cost of operation.

Sixty years ago, Michigan reached a peak in the number of farms—206,960. Today that figure has diminished to only 85,000 farms. But the average size has increased from 92 acres in 1910 to 163 acres today.

To put it another way, today Michigan farms cover 13 million acres or a decrease of 6 million acres from the peak year of 1900. Last year, the value of all farm land and buildings in Michigan was just slightly less than $4 billion.

But, due to the encroachment of increased population and greater urbanization, some of Michigan's best farmland in the lower part of the state is being taken over by industry, business, and housing developments.

On a national basis, land resources are being eaten up for other than agricultural uses at the rate of 3,000 acres a day—or one million acres a year.

In a recent speech, H. Dale Ball, Michigan Department of Agriculture Director, said that by the year 2000 all the land from New York to Kansas City will be one megalopolis.

Already in Michigan, such a megalopolis is beginning to develop between Detroit and Muskegon and between Detroit and Bay City-Saginaw.

In this growing urbanization, one of the problems farmers face is combating the encroachment of expanding cities. Many farmers in the path of the oncoming cities would like to stay right where they are.

Unfortunately, however, as the cities move in, the value of farm property rises sharply—and taxes become almost confiscatory.

Director Ball noted that one farmer's taxes rose from $350 to more than $2,000 in less than three years. The legislature will be asked this year to provide a tax incentive to keep farmers from having to sell their best lands for urban development.

Friday, March 19—Fishwiches, tartar sauce, golden fries, cabbage salad, Jell-O whip, and milk.

If such legislation is passed, provision will have to be made to insure that the farmer actually utilizes the land, or at least keeps it in condition for farming rather than keeping it for further speculation.

Director Ball suggested establishing a "green belt" around cities to insure adequate supplies of foodstuffs for the urban population and to provide sufficient plants to change carbon dioxide back to oxygen, help recharge ground water supplies and for aesthetic values.

This is just one of many problems the legislature may be called upon to face before the present session ends late next fall.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Brotherhood
Many who claim to believe in the "brotherhood of man" seem to speak from the safety of a turtle shell. It is 'easy to speak out for what is "right" when one has no personal interest involved, when the accomplishment of what is "right" brings no personal inconvenience.

One cannot practice brotherhood merely through lip service. Action, not words, gets something done. To practice brotherhood, we must give something to our fellow man—a smile, a helping hand, patience and understanding, these are but a beginning.

If you think you believe in the brotherhood of man, you need not shout it to the world. By what you are, by what you do, the world will clearly know where you stand.

When a man thinks he knows it all, he should turn over and sleep on his other side.

Kerry Kargel Scores in Junior College Tourney

Kerry Kargel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kargel, 14400 Island Lake Rd., Chelsea, placed sixth in the 158-pound category at the National Junior College Wrestling Tournament held Thursday through Saturday, March 4 to 6, at Worthington, Minn.

Kargel, a 1969 graduate of Chelsea high school, attends Grand Rapids Junior College in Grand Rapids. He plans to transfer to Grand Valley State College next fall for his junior year.

A member of the wrestling team at Chelsea, he was Michigan State Wrestling Champion in 1969, wrestling at 145 pounds.

KERRY KARGEL

Light Beams May Be Used To Drill for Oil

Washington — Petroleum engineers are trying to determine whether it would be possible to drill for oil by using light beams—laser light beams, that is.

Petroleum Today, the quarterly magazine of the American Petroleum Institute, points out that laser beams, so powerful that they can cut diamonds, could tear into the earth and reach oil-bearing formations in a fraction of the time required by conventional rotary drills.

Already, petroleum engineers are using lasers for measuring such things as the flow of petroleum products through pipelines; the height of waves at offshore drilling areas; and the size of ice floes off the oil fields on Alaska's North Slope.

On shore, pipeline engineers are using long-range laser surveying instruments to lay pipe especially in difficult areas such as bays and river crossings.

Serious damages to fine furniture may require a professional finisher to repair scratches and dents or cover large blemishes and stains. Some scratches may be easily repaired. Use a coloring crayon that closely matches the color of the wood finish. Simply rub into the scratch, wipe away excess wax and polish the entire surface.

David V. Buszka With Oceanographic Development Squadron

Patuxent River, Md. — Navy Petty Officer Third Class David V. Buszka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Buszka of 2255 Morrison Rd., Dexter Mich., is now serving with Oceanographic Development Squadron Eight at Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md.

The largest American flag is owned by the J. L. Hudson Detroit. It is displayed each Flag Day, June 14.

Cagers Close Out One Of Their Best Years

March 4, a highly successful basketball season came to an end for the Chelsea Bulldogs. It was a season in which they fought for the league title right up to the last game of the regular schedule. Even though the Bulldogs lost their last two games with league champion, Dexter, they finished with their best season in several years at 10-7.

Chelsea opened the season with an astounding 70-47 win over the always tough team from Dundee. They then lost to Stockbridge, 80-55, although it proved to be Stockbridge's toughest game of the season. After winning at Novi, Chelsea then lost squeakers to Miland and Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Christmas break gave the Bulldogs new life, as they returned to roll to victories over South Lyon, Saline, and Dexter, before bowing to Dundee. Again Chelsea put together three wins in succession, by defeating Novi, Manchester, and Miland, before losing to Lincoln. Chelsea bounced back once more, to down South Lyon and Saline, before losing their last two games to Dexter.

The season had many high points, according to Coach Chuck Kelly. They opened their season by pounding Dundee, 70-47, and even though they lost to Stockbridge, the Chelsea team pushed their opponents to the limit.

Best moments came when Chelsea overcame the surprised Dexter team mid-way through the season, 62-58.

Three games later, Kelly commented, the Bulldogs reached their peak, as they outthrust Miland to a nerve racking 92-81 double overtime win.

The league race tightened and with only one game to play, Chelsea, Lincoln, Miland, and Dexter, all had a chance at a share of the title. With the title at stake, however, Dexter outfought the Bulldogs to win, 62-60, on a basket in the last few seconds of the final game of the season.

With the 1970-71 basketball season at an end, the Bulldogs must find replacements for their four seniors. The job will not be an easy one. It will be difficult to replace Howie Treado, Coach Kelly commented, as he was the leading rebounder, and the third leading scorer on the team. He was also the "team leader." In the game against Miland, he tallied 19 points, 21 rebounds, and several steals to lead the Bulldogs to their double overtime win.

"Who will be able to replace Chelsea's other co-captain, Jim Wojcicki?" the Coach moans. "Will Chelsea ever find anyone who can shoot so well from so far out?" Jim, who sacrificed his own scoring for team play, was again selected to the all-league team in scoring, and in free throw shooting. He and Howie Treado were the only players to play in all 68 quarters of the 17 games.

George Cameron will be surely missed also. No one gave more effort and time to the team than George did, Kelly claimed. On numerous occasions, he came off the bench to supply the spark that Chelsea needed to get rolling.

Jim Hercules, the smallest forward in the league, is the other senior who must be replaced. He was, according to his coach, "probably the best defensive player in Chelsea's pressing defense." He broke up both games with Saline with steals which led Chelsea to victories.

Although Chelsea loses four seniors, they will have several talented underclassmen ready to take over when next season comes around. Ron Sweeney is back for yet another year, after being second in rebounding, and scoring for this year's team.

Wayne Welton and Todd Sprague, two fine junior guards, will return to give the Bulldogs the outside punch they need. Jeff Hughes, Tom Lixey and Chick Lane will give the Bulldogs strength up front. Jeff Daniels and Jeff Schmidt, two sparkling sophomores, will also return to fight for starting positions on the team.

With competition from some of the members of this year's junior varsity team, Chelsea should continue their winning ways next year, Kelly claimed, and he is already looking forward to the 1971-72 roundball season.

FAMILY POT LUCK

The simplest combination of salad greens becomes a glamorous gal when dressed with a tangy blend of buttermilk and Roquefort cheese. Stir 1 cup buttermilk into 1 cup mayonnaise until smooth and thoroughly blended. Fold in 3 ounces Roquefort cheese, crumbled. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.

Give your beef patties the kid-glove treatment—pat but don't spank. And don't overcook. Remove only the bacon strips you plan to cook for breakfast, then pop the package right back in the refrigerator. Plastic or rubber spatulas are great for separating bacon slices.

Excellent with a meat entree is Zucchini Medley. In a frying pan, cook thin-sliced zucchini in very small amount water until tender crisp. Drain. Add tomato slices and a little Parmesan; season with butter or margarine, dried basil and salt.

The fast pace of living has much to do with the high cost.

Beach School Club Sponsoring National Wildlife Week Contest

National Wildlife Week is March 22-27. Beach School Conservation Club is sponsoring several projects to celebrate the event. They are sponsoring a "National Wildlife Week Contest," which would capitalize on students' talents in several fields to express themselves to this concern.

The contest features three divisions, essay, poster, and photography. Theme for all three divisions is "Wildlife—Who Needs It?" Included in this week's issue of The Standard is an essay under that title. It is designed to stimulate thought about the issue, and give students a stepping stone for their contest entries.

For the essay division, the theme of the paper must relate to the theme of the essay. It should be written in ink, or typed on standard theme or typing paper.

Second category is posters. They also should be related to "Wildlife—Who Needs It?" and must be constructed on 12 by 18 inch construction paper.

Photography of wildlife must be mounted on standard size construction paper, and may be either black and white or colored photos. Students must indicate where and when the photo was taken, and what type of camera was used.

All entries must be the original work of the student, and the student's name and grade level must be written on each entry. Deadline for entries is March 19, at 3:30 p.m., when they must be turned in to room C-1 at Beach school. Winners in each division will be announced at the National Wildlife Week assembly which will be held March 26.

'Wildlife - Who Needs It?'

"Wildlife—Who Needs It?" There has probably never been a more important time in man's history to ask and answer this question. National Wildlife Week, 1971 is using this question to provoke answers to help clean up the country and make it worth living in. In our technological society where progress is measured in terms of war capabilities, scientific discoveries, new gadgets, and Gross National Product, a growing undecurrent of feeling is taking place—a feeling that the quality of our lives has been deteriorating because we have been measuring the wrong things as marks of progress.

We are beginning to learn that in the process of becoming the richest country in the world, we have been leading the world toward environmental disaster—smothered in poisoned air, bathed in putrid water, and blanketed with concrete and plastic.

Measuring and improving our environmental quality is becoming a goal of more and more people as they realize where our present measurement values are leading us.

In terms of what we are used to measuring, wildlife would seem to be completely out of place. Where could wildlife fit into the standard pictures of progress—represented by concrete, cars, jet-ports, shopping centers, freeways, housing developments, pipelines, electrical power systems, and industrial developments? The fact is they don't fit in the way we have been doing things.

How can wildlife survive in the by-products of such "progress"—filthy air and water, persistent chemicals in almost everything, and fewer trees and other plants where they count the most? The answer is, they don't survive.

But so what? Why worry about wildlife when what we need is progress? When there's a choice to make, what's more important—wildlife or people? Who really needs wildlife? Listen carefully when people try to justify more pollution or more land wrecking. You'll hear these questions. You've probably heard them plenty of times before.

Lost in all the rationalization concerning wildlife is the plain and simple fact that people have the same basic needs as wildlife. As we have ignored wildlife needs, we have also failed to provide for our own. As wildlife suffers, so does man. It just happens faster to other creatures.

We must wake up to this foolishness. We must recognize that by keeping air and water clean and by planning land developments to provide space and natural foods for wildlife, we are providing the ingredients for our own health and survival.

Wildlife is such a simple early warning system of deteriorating environment that we cannot afford to ignore it. We all need wildlife if only for its sensitivity to pollution, poisons, and false progress.

The claim that the only alternative is wildlife or people has been exposed as an apology for more pollution and environmental destruction. We can, we must have both. Wildlife—who needs it? We All Do.

Wrestling Team Co-Captain

GARY MONTANGE, left, is Chelsea's co-captain of the wrestling team this year. The senior grappler has wrestled only since last season—and managed to advance to State competition which was held this past week-end in Sturgis. The 132 pounder had a 17-10-2 record going into the state meet. Gary placed first in the district competition, and took a third place in the regional meet. Gary is an outdoorsman, and loves all kinds of outdoor sports, hunting, fishing, horseback riding, and swimming. Recently he has added snowmobiling to his list of favored activities. Although he is presently undecided about which college he would like to attend, he is aiming for the smaller school. His ambition is to follow a career in conservation. He is a member of St. Mary Catholic church. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Montange, 1964 Ivey Rd. He has a brother, Ronald, who is married and lives in Ann Arbor, and a sister, Kathy, also in Ann Arbor. A younger brother, Mark, lives at home, and is also a member of the wrestling team. Mark accompanied Gary to the state meet this week-end, where he placed second.

4-H Clubs

FREER ACRES

Freer Acres 4-H club met this week at the home of Mrs. Robert Daniels, leader. This week's meeting was a combination business and work meeting.

At the business part of the meeting, it was announced that the Mothers Fashion Show will be held March 22, at 7 p.m. at the First Methodist church.

It was also announced that everyone should try to attend the meeting March 16, for that will be the final checking of garments and evaluation sheets.

After the business meeting Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Gerry Giffin, Mrs. Gloria Greenleaf, and Mrs. Robert Daniels, checked the girls' garments and helped them with problems.

Diane Robbins, scribe.

TERRIFIC TAILORS

March 6 meeting of the Terrific Tailors 4-H club was held at the home of Angie Merkel. Old business included a discussion about the grooming and modeling clinic that was held for the benefit of 4-Hers Feb. 20 at the Pittsfield Grange Hall.

More details were given about the Spring Achievement Dress Revue, and members were instructed as to what times to be on hand for judging and modeling. A request was made to have some parental help at the revue to supervise eating, dressing, and keeping order. Leader, Mrs. Koch gave a summary of what things each girl would be judged on. It was announced that the May 1 meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Koch.

The club will hold a style show of its own for other members, and their mothers on March 20, at Lima Community Hall, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. All garments must be finished by this date.

There was brief discussion centered on organizing a money-making project.

After the meeting, a model, Mrs. Robert Tefft, demonstrated modeling, and offered advice to members.

Next meeting will be April 3 at the home of Denise Wirtz, Janet Wackenhut.

MSU Commencement Slated March 14

Pollution Photo
Contest Set
By Gun Club

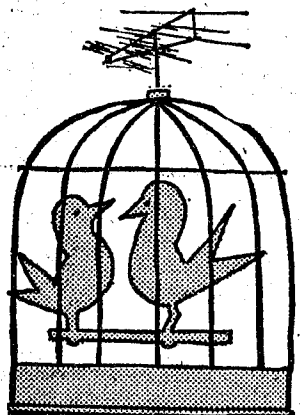

District II of the Michigan United Conservation Club is sponsoring a "Pollution Photography Contest." The contest, which is open to entries in three age categories, pre-school and elementary, junior high school, and high school, will feature any kind of photograph that deals with the topic of pollution. Photos of pollution control efforts, wildlife, endangered, or not, or ecology violations will all be considered. There is also no size or color restriction to the contest.

Chelsea Rod & Gun Club will sponsor the local contest, whose winning photos will then be forwarded to the Tri-County Sportsman's League, and ultimately, if chosen, to the Division II finals. Deadline for the contest has not been announced, but the Chelsea entries must be in about one week prior to the District II finals.

George Padgham, of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club, can answer any questions applicants may have concerning the contest. He lives at 6999 Lingane Rd., and may be reached at 475-8812.

Local children are urged to take camera in hand, and start combing the hills of the region in search of the "perfect" pollution photo. Deadline time is not far off, so students should act quickly. Cash awards will be given to the winners, contest officials claim.
