Grass Fires Keep Firemen Jumping

Grass fires in the past two weeks have kept Chelsea firemen hopping. Fire Chief Jim Gaken says. Total calls for this year have been 52, he said, which thus far is only slightly higher than last year's total at the end of April, so the fires have not necessarily increased—they're only happening all at once.

Thursday, April 15, at 10 a.m., the fire department was called to put out a grass fire at the area south of town, just behind the Laundromat on S. M-52.

The following day, at 1:39 a.m., the firemen were summoned to extinguish the fire of a small storage shed on property owned by G. E. Steinhauer of Wayne in Lyndon township, near Sugar Loaf Lake.

At 2:53 p.m. grass burning on the land owned by Warren Porath on Worker Rd. was a fire, and the department was called.

Grasslands along the railroad tracks on Garvey Rd., at Notten Rd. caught fire, and traveled onto property owned by L. Sanderson. Firemen were called to the scene at 6:40 p.m.

April 18, the only call was for grass along the railroad tracks. That came in at 4:45 p.m.

Three fire calls came in Mon-

Baseball Team Loses, 3-2, to South Lyon

Chelsea's baseball team dropped a second game in 3-2, Tuesday afternoon, April 27, to South Lyon. Chilly temperatures did not force the cancellation of the game, although they may have contributed to the poor performance of the Bulldogs players. Each team had three errors, of which two of Chelsea's contributed to the winning runs.

South Lyon scored first in the first inning on a single and a triple. They added a second run in the third inning on a double and a single.

Chelsea came back in the bottom half of the third inning to score on a single, a strike-out, and three straight singles.

South Lyon brought home the winning run in the fifth inning, as they scored on two consecutive throwing errors on the part of the Bulldogs.

Chelsea made the score 3-2 in the sixth inning, when Todd Sprague got on base on a walk, and went to second and the third on a sacrifice by Ralph Stewart. On the throw to third, South Lyon had an error, which allowed Sprague to score.

In the seventh inning Chelsea threatened with runners on second walked, at Welton doubled. They were unable to score, however, and third bases as Ron Sweeney walked, and Welton doubled. They were unable to score, however, and the game was lost.

Coach Carl Genske claimed that all the damage to the Chelsea team was done by the first four South Lyon batters, as they each had two hits to bring to eight the South Lyon hits. Chelsea had

2 Businesses Broken into This Week-end

Break-ins occurred at Harper Pontiac, and Palmer Ford this past week-end, Chelsea police report.

Saturday evening, April 24, between the time of 10:30 and 10:45 p.m. an unknown person broke the door to Harper Pontiac. Officer McDougall had checked the door at 10:30 p.m. and all was fine. At 10:45 police received a call from a citizen alerting them to the fact that the door was open.

Summer Oesterle, owner of Harper Pontiac, was called. He checked and found that nothing was missing. The door was secured, and police are still investigating.

Later that evening, or in the early morning hours of Sunday, April 25, the door on the side of Palmer's Ford was forced, allowing an unknown thief to enter, where he took the keys to a 1969 LTD, with a black top, and lime body, and one dealer plate. He then drove off with the vehicle.

The stolen vehicle has not been located, and Chelsea police are still investigating the incident.

Golf Team Now Boasts 6-2-1 Record

Jim Wojcik of Chelsea and Jim Asquith of Stockbridge shared medalist honors with a score of 38. Other Chelsea scorers were Mike Powers, 41; Mark Policht, 43; Jack McClellan, 47; and Dave Powers, 47.

Thursday, April 22, Chelsea took two big wins in a league double dual at Saline. Chelsea carded a 167, while Dundee and Saline tied one another with scores of 169.

Jim Wojcik and Davis of Saline were medalists with a score of 38. Mark Policht shot score of 38. Mark Policht shot McClellan, 44.

Chelsea won a JV match from Saline, 194 to 196, and defeated South Lyon's JV team, 188 to 234.

Varsity golfers travel to Hanover-Horton, April 28 for a non league match, and on Thursday, April 29, they go into league play at Novi against the Novi team and Lincoln.

Frank Reed is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Room 448, bed 2. He was taken in Monday morning, April 26.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNER: Steve Bennett, only entry from Chelsea this year, and the first son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, of Beeman Chelsea student ever to place in the competition. Rd. took top honors in the Junior Division of the Topic of his project was: "A Collection of Bird Ann Arbor Regional Science Fair, which was held Lore," which featured wings from birds he found this past week-end in Ann Arbor. Steve was the in his area which had been killed by cars.

Steve Bennett's Exhibit Tops Science Fair Junior Division

Steve Bennett, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, 8215 Beeman Rd., became the first Chelsea junior high school student ever to win an award at the Ann Arbor Regional Science Fair, held Friday and Saturday, April 23-24 at the University of Michigan.

Bennett, who was the only entry from Chelsea this year, won first place in the Models and Collections Division of the Junior Fair, with his collection of bird wings and nests.

Bennett, who lives on a 17-acre parcel of wooded land, began his study more than a year ago. Originally started as a science project for his seventh grade science teacher, James Hoffmeyer, he continued his research for another year, before entering it in the Regional Fair.

Topic of his prize-winning collection was "A Collection of Bird Lore." Steve collected and identified the wings, and emptied nests of birds found on his father's property. The bird wings were taken from animals he and his father found along highways bordering their property which had been killed by cars. Among the birds which he was able to identify were mourning doves, indigo buntings, and Baltimore Orioles.

Steve was able to identify 50 birds on his property, and he diligently reported on the life-styles and habits of each bird.

Mrs. Alice Steinbach, who is presently Steve's science teacher, claimed that Steve was the only entry from Chelsea this year, and one of only a handful who have participated in the Ann Arbor Fair over the past few years. Five or six years ago, she said, more students entered as science fairs at the Junior High school were more popular, and were required, but in recent years they are no longer required, and interest has dwindled.

She said that Steve has done almost all of the work for this project on his own, and asked help from her only on occasion.

James Hoffmeyer, who has taught science at Beach school for 11 years, claimed that Steve's project showed promise a year ago, and that he encouraged him to continue working on it, adding that most exhibits which win top prizes at the Ann Arbor Fair have been the object of a year's study.

Until last year, science projects at the junior high school were required, he claimed. With the ruling of the Supreme Court that the school must provide all supplies for any required project, he added, the department felt that the over-all cost would be prohibitive, and science projects were no longer a requirement.

For his efforts, Steve received a cash prize of $20, a gold medal, and a set of Lincoln Library books. First-prize winners in the Senior Division receive larger cash prizes, and an expense paid trip to the International Science Fair, which will be held next month in Kansas City.

Steve announced, however, following his recent triumph, that he has already picked a subject for next year's fair, and has started working on it. His topic: fossils. To that end, he and his family are going camping this week-end where they plan to hunt for fossils!

The Ann Arbor Regional Science Fair, which comprises entries from four to five counties, is sponsored annually by the Ann Arbor Exchange Club, the University of Michigan, and The Ann Arbor News. It is supported by contributions from area business and industrial firms.

Track Team Claims Title in Eagle Relays

Chelsea High school's track team pulled off a big win this past Saturday, winning the Class B section of the Eagle Relays held at Jackson Parkside High school. Eleven teams took part in the event, which was held in what Coach Bert Kruse termed "a long way from being ideal weather-wise."

Strong winds, and chilly temperatures hampered the performances of most of the athletes present. In spite of the cold, however, Bulldog trackmen, were able to roll up 48 points, to out-distance their closet rival, Sturgis, who had 44 points. Lansing Catholic Central was third with 31 points, followed by Jackson Lumen Christi, 30, and Dexter, with 25½.

Mark Collins placed fourth in the long jump, jumping 20'2½".

Prior to the Parkside meet, the team ran a dual meet against Milan, defeating them, 88-30, to extend their dual meet record to 4-0, and league record to 3-0.

Rubbish Pick-Up Slated

Annual Spring Rubbish Pick-Up by the Chelsea Village crews will begin Monday morning, May 3, and continue through Tuesday, May 4, it was announced this week. It is asked that villagers place all items to be picked up at their curbs for pick-up, adding that "anything you can carry to the curb, we will pick up."

This is a great chance for local residents to clean out those dusty attics, and wipe the cobwebs from the corners of their basements. Pick-up crews will be on the scene promptly at 7 a.m., so residents are asked to have their trash at their curbs early.

Concert Slated By Sumpter Choral Group

Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 4 p.m. a concert of sacred music featuring classical religious, gospel songs and negro spirituals will be presented by the Sumpter Community Chorus at the First Methodist church, 128 Park St.

According to the Rev. Clive Dickens, pastor of the church, the Sumpter Chorus has presented many concerts for church and civic organizations in southeastern Michigan. Focusing their ministry mainly on Wayne and Washtenaw counties, the chorus has given concerts in Ohio and Indiana as well.

Sumpter Chorus is comprised of an inter-racial fellowship of non-professional singers, representing several religious denominations and communities. According to the Rev. Dickens, the group's "love for music and belief that 'Christ can break down the barriers that separate us,'" provides the motivation for this ministry of song. Individual members are Baptists, Methodists, Seventh-Day Adventists, and others from the communities of Belleville, Ypsilanti, Willow, Milan, Carleton, Lulu, and Chelsea.

It is hoped that the public will feel free to attend this concert, to hear this unique singing group. Although there is no admission charge, there will be a free-will offering, which will be shared by the chorus and the Organ Repair Fund of the church. Refreshments will follow the program.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

We live in an age of grave new challenges. One of them is the battle to save the environment. As a nation we annually discharge 200,000,000 tons of smoke, manufacture 76 billion disposable containers, and tens of millions of raw sewage and wastes. Little wonder that opinion polls demonstrate so clearly that ecology is at the top of the list of issues on the minds of the general public.

America is the only nation to land men on the moon, yet less than one-third of our people are served by an adequate sewage treatment plant. Moreover, states such as Michigan, which have shown leadership in terms of municipal waste standards and construction facilities, now find that there are not funds available to continue the job and to maintain their progress. This gap has allowed the vagaries of the municipal bond market to dictate the extent of a community's pollution.

In my opinion, it is essential that this trend be reversed. Under a bill I am pushing, a new arm of the Federal government, to be known as the Environmental Financing Authority, would be created for the specific purpose of financing obligations issued by state and local public bodies to finance the non-federal share of the cost of waste treatment projects. I believe an excellent case may be made for increased activity and an upgrading of the federal function so that new waste treatment facilities can be constructed where necessary, and that other basic water and sewer projects can continue.

Another matter of concern in the ecology battle is the problem of phosphates, and how they contribute to pollution. The housewife is fully cognizant of the fact, that, at least in part, the detergent she uses with such a high phosphorous content, is contributing to the algae scum in the nearby lake in which her children used to swim. I strongly favor a federal law banning all detergents that contain phosphates and other agents that cause pollution, and have introduced such a bill. Additionally this legislation, if it is passed, would set national standards on all detergent ingredients, effective June 30, 1973.

While several state legislatures have moved in this direction, I believe it to be a problem of national concern that demands federal legislation. Furthermore, the United States has taken action in the international arena to preserve the oceans and rivers of the world; now it is high time we moved similarly to save the waters within our national boundaries.

By 1976, it has been reliably estimated that wastes from packaging will amount to 661 pounds for every American every year. In my view, we must have a national policy for recycling wastes so that we turn the countless bottles, cans, and jars into new and valuable resources.

A fourth suggestion that has been made and is extremely worthwhile is the one for annual earth weeks. It is at this time that each community across the land could closely observe its own environmental record.

Space does not permit outlining the myriad other difficulties we face. These are, however, a few of the essential steps we can take to preserve the livability of our environment and make certain America does not become a polluted, ravaged wasteland.

Vandals Damage Windshields on 13 School Busses

Vandals damaged the windshields of 13 Chelsea school busses sometime over the week-end of April 17-18. The windshields were pierced with what appeared to be either a BB shot, or a strong slingshot "ping." The incident was reported to the Chelsea Police Monday morning, April 17.

Business Manager Fred Mills stated that the windshields were repaired this past week at a cost of $800 to the school. It is not known at this time who did the damage.

Track Team Wins Relays

Next dual meet for the Bulldogs will be Thursday, April 29, at 4 p.m. against Lincoln.

On Saturday, the team will travel to Albion to take part in the Albion relays. Chelsea will be entered in the Section IV classification which is based upon a school's enrollment numbers. More Waiting Ahead

Despite all the talk about abolition of the property tax for schools spurred by Gov. William G. Milliken's recent education reform message, Michigan homeowners will find it prudent to not start budgeting their property tax money for other purposes too soon.

For hard-pressed property owners who must bear the burden of soaring millage rates, the Governor's speech seemed like a light at the end of the tunnel. Indeed it might be exactly that. But even Milliken was quick to urge school officials and taxpayers not to take their eye off the place where the ball is still located—the property tax.

The Governor said in districts with millage votes scheduled: "I strongly urge that those millage votes go on and that they not be considered to be affected by the proposals which I'm now making."

Quickest possible time that the proposals could take effect if they are adopted is Jan. 1 of next year. Most realistically early date is July 1 of next year.

The Governor's proposals depend on a state-wide vote in November on his proposal to discard the use of the property tax to finance part of the day to day operations of schools. If the Legislature calls for that vote to be taken and the proposal passes, it still would not go into effect for practical purposes until the start of the next school year.

It is also possible—perhaps even probable—that a compromise will be reached between Milliken and the Legislature where the constitutional amendment put before the people establishes a limit of 12 mills or somewhere in that vicinity rather than wiping out the use of the property tax entirely.

More than a few legislators get nervous about the idea of completely discarding the property tax. There are two main reasons for this.

The first is a fear that a dependable tax source like the property tax is needed to make sure the schools get a certain amount of money no matter what the economic conditions. Advocates of this view say a sharp downturn in the economy which cuts down on income tax revenues could bankrupt schools if they depend solely on the income tax for their support.

The second is a fear of what the voters might do to lawmakers who more than double the state income tax in two years. The rate is now 2.6 percent and a raise to at least 3.6 percent is needed just to keep the state operating.

The additional 2.3 percent rate Milliken says will be needed to make up revenues from individual property taxes would push the total income tax in Michigan to 5.9 percent.

"At some point the people are just going to get fed up and refuse to pay," says one worried lawmaker. "I don't know what that point is and I don't think anybody does. But when you start doubling the income tax, you'd better be sure of what you're doing."

(These fears are just part of the reason there's going to be a lot of talking and a lot of bargaining in Lansing before the legislature and the Governor can come up with a program they feel they can present to the public.)

Injuries Add Up

On the job accidents, more than 50,000 Michigan residents lost the job for varying periods of time last year, according to the Michigan Department of Labor.

The department says most of the accidents could have been avoided through the use of safe work procedures and by correcting unsafe conditions.

But, the department also admits there are a few accidents that just weren't foreseeable.

For example: —there was the automobile mechanic who suffered severe burns on his hands when he accidentally discharged a teargas gun which had been concealed in the car he was repairing.

—and there was the store clerk who suffered a severed wrist artery when a customer knocked over a lamp display on him.

—and then there was the unfortunate saleslady who was minding her own business behind the counter in a jewelry store. She suffered head and back injuries when a car crashed through the front of the store and hit her.

Older people who move permanently from one State to another tend to move from States in the North and East to States in the South and West, according to a social security study.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

With cars filling up the world twice as fast as people, it ain't no wonder planners are working on ways to cut back on both. I saw this piece in the paper where they say about 6,000 youngsters born in this country every day, but that Detroit turns out 12,000 cars a day.

This matter of the car explosion come up at the country store Saturday night during a discussion that started out on vacation season. Ed Doolittle commented that people hibernate just like animals, and with spring busting out all over folks are out scrambling for places to go and sights to see. Ed said it looked to him like everybody was tired of being wherever they are.

What got him to thinking about folks stirring all over the country, Ed said, was this piece he had saw about ways to cut down on travel that clogs the roads and causes all the cars to clog the air. The best way to reduce travel, according to this article, Ed reported, was to travel without moving.

Ed said serious study is being given to "pseudo travel," which he said means traveling without going anywhere. Folks do a lot of this now Ed went on, like when they watch television or use the telephone. (What would we have, said Ed, if we had to deliver ever message or see ever ball game in person that we can take care of without getting out of our easy chair.)

The feller said that Ed was on to somepin big, but that it wasn't all that new a dee. Folks have been pseudo traveling ever since the first mail order catalog come out, and writing a letter is a kind of travel allowed Zeke Grubb. As for traveling around for pleasure, Zeke said he is of the mind that seeing new places and faces is overrated. If instant, he said, a family on vacation sets in a car all day and lives in motel at night. They ain't that much difference in cars, he said, and once you're inside a Howard Johnson, you can be anywhere in the world.

Furthermore, Zeke said, youngsters on a trip usual is just interested in stopping where they are a swimming pool, and when you see one pool you seen em all. Serious, Zeke said he was agreed with the feller that said too much energy is used up in this world just moving human freight from one place to another.

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, I think a heap of this travel is taking care of itself. I see where airlines is having a tough time because of a drop in business, and a passenger train soon is going to be as handy as a stagecoach. Buses is the cheapest way to move people, I hear, and they are doing such a business they've took to putting hostesses on em like airplanes.

Now, if we can keep the Government out of the bus business, we might have somepin.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Counterfeit is mostly thought of in terms of money. But it is a fact of life that we willingly accept many things in life as counterfeit. And they are pleasantly welcomed.

The millions spent for cosmetics, for example, show a form of counterfeiting which most of us, for the most part, find pleasing. We accept a form of counterfeiting in jewelry, clothing and other items. When we know we have substitutes for the genuine, no harm is done.

It is tragic however when love is counterfeited. Many persons, by the very nature of things, have mistakenly picked a lemon in a counterfeit garden of love. That too is a fact of life. Even emotion can be counterfeited. It is difficult to detect because only the person who displays the emotion knows for sure whether the emotion is genuine or counterfeit. A conscience is the only guide.

This brings us to the one thing in life that can never be counterfeited. CONSCIENCE! Conscience is strictly a personal possession for which there is no substitute. One can not counterfeit a conscience and it is useless to try . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

CHS Trip Club Members Enjoy Visit to Caribbean

Forty members of the Chelsea High School Senior Trip Club left Saturday morning, April 10, at 7 a.m. from the high school for a week's spree in the Caribbean area. A total of 40 students, two chaperones, and two "adult" accompaniment, also teachers at the high school, departed for the sunny south on a Delta-747 jet plane.

First two days of the trip were spent in Miami, where the students shopped, and visited the beach. A few sunburns were reported, and one girl had to see a doctor for too much sun, but all were well by the time of the cruise.

According to chaperone, Mrs. Larry Oswald, the cruise was the best part of the trip for all. Among the many features of the luxury liner were six meals a day, unlimited use of swimming pools, sunning decks, night clubs, and other live entertainment on board. There was never a lack for something to do.

The group then spent two days in Nassau. One group of 13 eager souls tried to bicycle around the island, finding out after the first 30 miles that the entire distance was 72 miles! Taking a short cut back, the group pedaled a total of 50 miles.

Another small group of 12 students rented a glass-bottom boat to go skindiving for an afternoon. They went to a coral reef and collected coral and star fish.

Last day of the cruise was spent at Grand Bahama Island. Most of the students went to Freeport to shop at the International Bazaar, where each street represents a different country and items native to each country may be purchased.

Crandon Park in Miami was the last stop for the Chelsea group before their return to the north. The group played football on the beach, visited a zoo, collected shells, or caught up on sleep. Dale Robbins and Rick Smith climbed a palm tree and treated the group to the taste of fresh, although a bit unripe, coconut.

Trip Club members arrived home at 2:30 a.m., Sunday, April 18, a quieter, and sleepier set than set out!

Chaperones on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Oswald, Lynn Williams, and Barbara Wenk, teachers at the high school, accompanied the trip club on the cruise.

Compliments on the behavior of the students have come to the attention of The Standard. Not only have the chaperones complimented the students, and their parents, for their children's behavior, but a letter was sent from the representative of the Travel Center in Ann Arbor, who made the arrangements for the Chelsea group, and accompanied them on the trip. The letter reads:

Dear Mr. Lane,
It was pleasure this past week to be on the trip to Nassau with senior students of your school and my reason for writing to you is to bring to your attention the conduct of these fine young men and young women.

Throughout the trip there were no behavior problems and each student conducted himself in such a way that would have made each and every parent proud of their child. The hotel in Miami was an unfortunate choice for a high school group in that it was almost exclusively occupied by elderly persons. These bright young people, however, brought a cheerful atmosphere into the hotel that the guests must have sincerely enjoyed since many of them commented to me and to the management and staff of the hotel that they were sorry to see them leave, and had enjoyed having them there.

The routine aboard ship gave many of them a look at certain social graces that perhaps they had not heretofore encountered, but were able to meet with sophistication. One young man remarked to me that had I told him that each night on board it was requested that one dress for dinner, he would have been loath to sign up for the cruise, but being on board, and seeing the social amenities that were observed he truly took pleasure in dressing for dinner, and being served in the continental manner, yet fully realized that until he had actually experienced this he would not have thought it would have been an enjoyable part of the trip.

I feel sure that each student benefited from the experience he had, and for my part I cannot praise highly enough their conduct and good manners, their courtesy and thoughtfulness — their overall manner from the time we left Detroit until their return.

Mr. Lane, I would just like to add that Chelsea High and the parents of the fine young people can be justly proud of them.

Mrs. Barbara E. Miller.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Ah, Spring

Spring—that wonderful time of the year. Forests and woodlands have come alive again. Small seeds, planted so tenderly in the window box or in the backyard are growing into a profusion of things.

This is a wonderful time of year. This is a time of year to see and to appreciate the wonders of the world which God created.

This is a time to turn momentarily away from the clamor and din of the everyday world. A time, if you will, for silent meditation.

Where now, so soon after the Easter observance, do you stand with your God? What sort of a commitment do you have to the needs of your family, your friends, others—to yourself?

Surrounded by a world coming alive with beauty, how is the view from where you live, from within yourself?

Have you some gift the world needs, as yet ungiven? Spring is a time of new growth. It is a time to grow.

After astronauts Shepard and Mitchell rejoined the spacecraft, they vacuumed the lunar dust from their clothes with a hose leading out to the vacuum of space and the loose particles were sucked out into empty void.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Last week was Earth Week. The Student Council sold Environmental flag stickers, while the Conservation Club sold Environmental pins.

MORE AGAINST SMOKING

A study of childbirth in both the state of Washington and the country of Great Britain show that pregnant women who smoke run a significantly greater risk of losing their babies, either in birth, or shortly afterward, than do non-smoking mothers, says the Michigan Heart Association, a Michigan United Fund agency.

During all lunch hours on Friday, April 23, the Boys' Cooking Club held a bake sale.

Beach school magazine crew has begun work on their publication. Soon it will be time for 8th graders to choose their high school classes.

Happiness adds up to different things for every person.

LIFELINES:

BUT WHOM SAY YE THAT I AM?

(Luke 9:20)

Jesus Christ is the topic of many conversations. His name is used in reverence, reference and ridicule. Scarcely will you find a person who doesn't know about Him but the important thing is, what DO you know Him as?

He is referred to as Bethlehem's Babe, the carpenter's son, the great Example, the miracle Worker, the crucified One, even the Son of God.

The apostle Peter gave the right answer, "The Christ of God" or the Anointed One, the Messiah.

Jesus said, "I am come to seek and to save that which was lost", and that includes every person ever born. You may recognize Him as the historical Jesus but He wants you to know Him as your Lord and Saviour. Invite Him into your life now. Someday soon as you stand in judgment, you must answer the question "Whom say YE that I am?"

St. Louis School Boys Present Annual Spring Concert Sunday

St. Louis school presented its annual Spring Concert Sunday afternoon, April 25, in the school auditorium.

The program, which was primarily under the direction of the Rev. Fr. Umberto Mellare, featured several songs by all the boys at the school, followed by a performance of the band. Joe Vitale, a professional musician in Detroit, and father of one of the boys at the school, accompanied the boys on the drums.

Three piano performances were also featured by individual piano students Rex Lawrence, David Queen, and John Beiber. The three are students of John Cook of Chelsea, who is retiring from the school this spring at the age of 82.

A skit, entitled "Hansel and Gretel," featured a new twist on the age-old story, in which the heroes are rescued by a band of mice who call themselves the "Mickey Mouse Club."

The Choral Group completed the performance, singing three of their five songs in Italian.

Door prizes were given away to lucky ticket holders at the conclusion of the performance. Mrs. Donald Passow, of Chelsea, mother of a son at the school, received first prize, which was a painting by the Rev. Fr. Germano. Mrs.

Grover Queen, mother of a son at the school, also, received second prize in the drawing, which was also a painting. Third prize, of $50 cash, was given to Mrs. Stevenson, of Detroit.

Thursday (today), the boys are visiting the Kellogg factory in Battle Creek. They plan to eat lunch in a bird sanctuary.

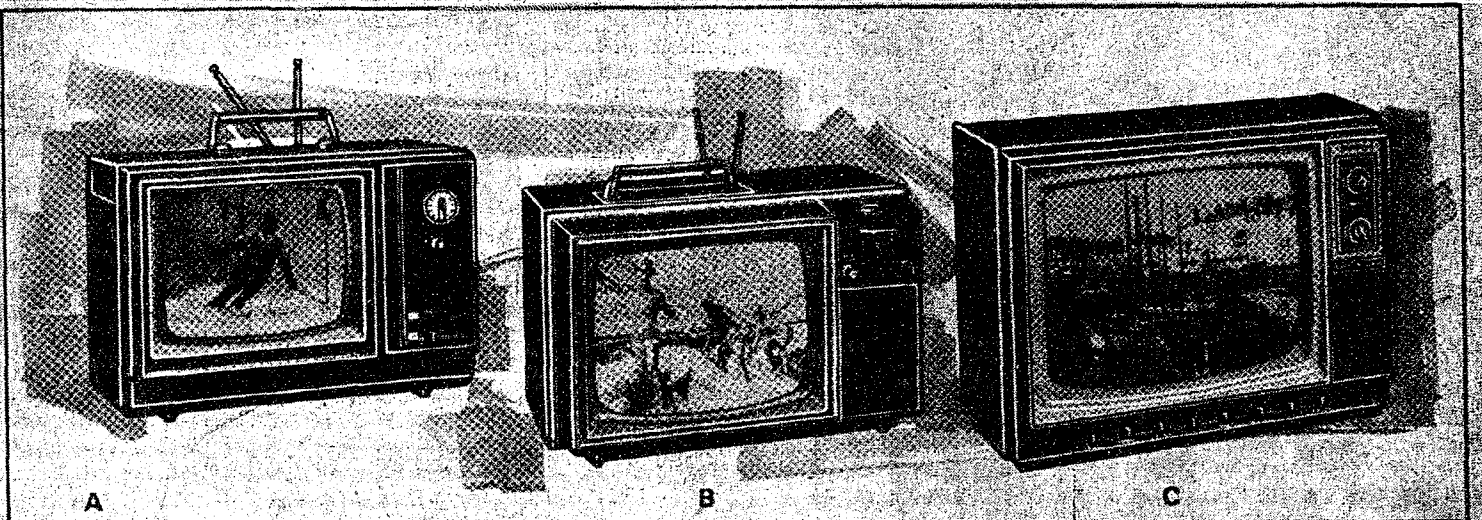

They will be going home for the week-end this week, to visit parents.
