

Beach School Students Enjoy Outdoor Classroom Experience

Beach school 6th graders participated in an experimental learning situation this past week at the Mill Lake outdoor Center in the Waterloo Recreation Area. Divided into two groups, the students participated in a two and one-half day camp-out at the facility, guided by teachers, and counseling staff, which included several student teachers from EMU.

Goals of the program were to develop a rapport between students and teachers, and vice versa. It was hoped that the students would also gain a good feeling of belonging in a group, would meet new students and teachers, and could co-operate toward common goals. The second major goal of the program was to develop the ability to take abstract ideas and find real-life situations in which to apply them. It was hoped that the experiment would make the students more "environmentally literate citizens," also, enabling them to recognize environmental problems and take thoughtful steps toward solving them.

Teachers hoped that the students would also become aware that "learning" or growing takes place anywhere, in or out of a schoolroom, and that the woods offer many opportunities to grow. With the above goals in mind, Donald Young, who was the camp director, indicated that it was the general opinion that the "experiment" was a great success. He indicated that the so-called "trouble makers" relaxed and became more open and co-operative in the more informal situation which the camp-out provide.

Learning took place also! Young commented that one of the advantages of the program was the informality, coupled with the 90-minute periods into which the "activity periods," or classes as they'd be called in the schoolroom, were broken.

Among the many things which the students studied was the history of the area. The group was taken to a cemetery on the grounds, containing graves of the early settlers. They were shown how the history of the area is recorded on the tombstones of a forgotten old cemetery.

For their "science class," the students collected insect samples and studied about them; they used other collected outdoor items to serve as models in sketching classes as a part of the art curriculum at the novel, "Thoreau school."

Much study of Indian lore took place at the camp-out. Each evening, for example, the group performed an Indian related activity. The first night they played a game called "War of the Tribes," often called "Capture the Flag." They learned how this game was part of an Indian ritual which would last for two to three days until the members of the tribes involved nearly dropped from exhaustion. They also learned that the Indians considered the game an alternative to war.

The second evening, the members of each tribe into which the students had been divided was required to act out a skit which would relate to the other aspect of their particular tribe's culture. To do this, the various "tribes" had to learn much about the Indians which they represented. All of the tribes which were used once lived within Washtenaw county.

Young claimed that the seemingly "unstructured" camp, was in reality far from that. Much thought and preparation went into the project, and real work was involved also! He cited mothers of some of the students who came to the camp each day to assist with the preparation and the serving of the meals.

Teachers and school officials who were not regular members of the camp's staff, also came out to assist at night as cabin counselors. Included in this group were James Thompson, Alan Conklin, Bert Kruse, James Hoffmeyer, and Mrs. Sue Harding. Melvin Leach, a parent of one of the students, also assisted in the evenings. Camp staff who taught the classes and supervised the activities of the students are Mrs. Barbara Brown, Miss Kathy Jacobson, Ed Lauson, Mrs. Carol Steiner, and Mrs. Beverly Yelsik.

Young reported that he was very pleased with the experiment and that the reaction of both the teachers and the students who were involved had been enthusiastic and favorable. He claimed that they all hoped that the program would be duplicated next year, and ultimately become an integral part of each Chelsea student's education.

Baccalaureate Being Replaced

For the first time in Chelsea High school's history, there will be a gala celebration for graduating seniors, replacing traditional baccalaureate. Planned and presented by several Chelsea High school students and area musicians, the program is backed by the Chelsea Ministerial Association.

Students voted to forego the traditional baccalaureate ceremonies this year, and this celebration was chosen as an alternative.

Purpose of the celebration is to touch on areas of interest to graduating seniors. Music and a few selected thoughts will center on the theme of love. Such songs as "Jesus Christ, Superstar," and "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," will be performed.

All seniors are invited to attend this event which will require informal dress only. Juniors will be given a special welcome at the activities. Although the program is geared to the student's interests and level, parents and the public are invited to attend.

"New Baccalaureate" will be held May 24, at 8 p.m. in St. Paul United Church of Christ. Refreshments and music will be in the recreation hall.

Road Rallye Set for Sunday

Third annual Chelsea Road Rallye will be held Sunday, May 23. Proceeds from this annual event help finance summer debate institutes.

Registration for the Rallye will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the high school parking lot. First car out of the lot will be at 1 p.m. Trophies for first, second and third places will be awarded.

Track Team Qualifies 8 Men For State Meet

Place Second to Lumen Christi in Class B Regional at Michigan Center

For the second week in succession, the Chelsea track team took runner-up honors behind Jackson Lumen Christi. This time, the meet was for the Class B Regional V title, Saturday, at Michigan Center High school.

Lumen Christi totaled 50 points, followed by Chelsea with 40%. Dexter took third with 28 points, while Coldwater was fourth with 25, Albion fifth with 20, and the rest of the remaining 15 teams gathering the bottom points.

It was a case of Lumen Christi's having a little more depth that was the deciding factor, according to Coach Bert Kruse. Lumen Christi placed first and second in the pole vault events, and first and fourth in the two-mile run.

Coach Kruse stated that with few exceptions, the Chelsea team placed close to expectations, but they did not have the depth needed to pull the meet off.

Chelsea was able to qualify eight individuals who will take part in next week's state meet, which will also be held at Michigan Center. They qualified in seven different events. Those finishing in the top three places throughout the state in regional competition qualify for the state meet.

Qualifiers this year are Dave Buxton, who won the mile event in 4:38.6, Kim Aronson, who won the 440 in 1:16.8, the mile relay team of Lary Gorton, Dan Hoover, George Cameron, and Kim Aronson, who won in the time of 3:38.8.

Second places were gathered by Randy Seitz in the shot put, at 47' 6", Jeff Hughes in the 220-yard dash, in the time of :23.3, and the 880-yard relay team of Lary Gorton, Mark Collins, Kim Aronson, and Jeff Hughes. Also qualifying was Mark Collins, who had 21' 5 1/2" effort in the long jump.

Other placers were Tim Lancaster, fourth in the pole vault with 11' 4", Lary Gorton, fourth in the 440-yard dash in :52.4, Mitchell Heard, fourth in the 180-yard low hurdles in 21.4, and fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles at :15.8, and Roger Fitch, who jumped 5' 8" in the high jump, to gain a two-way tie for fifth.

Chelsea's baseball team avenged an earlier defeat by Ypsilanti Lincoln Tuesday evening, as they defeated the Railsplitters, 13-3.

Lincoln threatened early in the game, as they scored two runs in the first inning.

Chelsea came back in the bottom of the first to make one run, bringing the score to 2-1.

After Lincoln scored their third run in the third inning, Chelsea came to life, scoring three runs from three hits in the bottom of the third to go ahead, 4-3. The runs came on a single by Todd Sprague, a double by Wayne Welton, a fielder's choice, and a single by Joe Aspiranti.

In the fourth inning, on the benefit of only three hits, Chelsea scored five runs, widening the margin between themselves and Lincoln to 9-3.

The Bulldogs finished up the scoring in the sixth inning, when they scored four runs on a single by Sprague, (his third straight single for the day), Ron Sweeney's second double of the afternoon, a walk to Wayne Welton, a single by Dave Lukasiak, an error and a fielder's choice.

Chelsea boys had a good day, as Todd Sprague was three for three. Following Tuesday's game, league standings were as follows:

Michigan Week Activities Set For Every Day

Visiting Mayor from Howell Envis Chelsea's Low Village Tax Rate

Michigan Week came to town Saturday morning with a gala clean-up campaign undertaken by local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts. All spruced up, Chelsea was ready Monday morning to greet visiting mayor of Howell, Richard Slayton, and his party, who came to spend the day in town. Slayton, who replaced Chelsea Village President A. E. Fulks, for the day, was participating in the state-wide "mayor's exchange program" as a part of "Our Government Day."

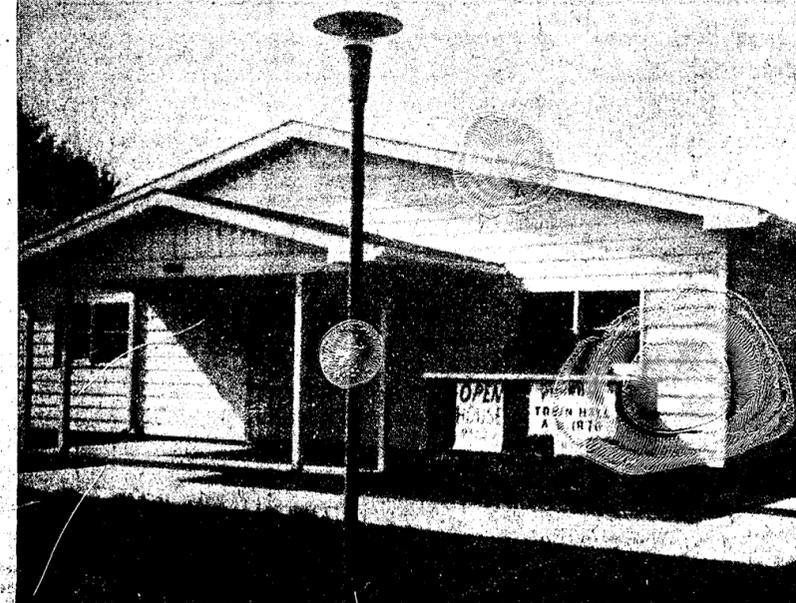

A parade at 10 a.m. greeted the visiting mayor, who had breakfasted earlier with Chelsea Village President A. E. Fulks, at Korner House, as guests of the Senior Citizens. The Chelsea High school band and the police and fire departments accompanied by village officials, and Laurie Lancaster, Chelsea Fair Queen, 1970, escorted the mayor into town to formally begin his busy day.

Mayor Slayton inspected village facilities, which he thought were very fine. He admired the new police station and was particularly impressed by the revenue which the village creates for its use by the operation of the Electric & Water Dept. He was taken through the water treatment plant, and viewed the fire station and other village facilities.

Although Howell's population is slightly larger than Chelsea's, 5,222, their valuation is approximately the same. Chelsea is evaluated at $26,000,000, and Howell at $27,000,000. Yet, Mayor Slayton claimed that Chelsea's annual budget is $1,000,000 less than Howell's. The Howell millage is set at 19 mills, while the Chelsea village budget is only 6 mills. Mayor Slayton claimed that one of the major factors affecting the discrepancy was the presence of industry in Chelsea, and the operation of the village Electric & Water Dept.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED: Recently completed Freedom Township Hall will be the scene of a gala open house Saturday evening, May 22. The fête will celebrate the near completion of the hall, which has been in construction since last May. A recent addition to the building is the brick "building marker" in front, which was constructed from the used bricks from the old hall. Set into the brickwork is the former cornerstone of the town hall, which was originally constructed in 1878. Underneath the original cornerstone is the newer version, which reads, simply: "1970." A bulletin board is also included in the unusual "marker." (See related story on page three.)

VISITING DIGNITARIES from Howell were cordially welcomed to Chelsea Monday morning in honor of "Our Government Day," celebrating Michigan Week. Saluted by the band, and escorted into town by police and fire officials were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Slayton, mayor of Howell, and his wife. Pictured above, front row, from left, are Laurie Lancaster, Chelsea Fair Queen, 1970, and Mayor and Mrs. Slayton. In the second row, same order, is Mrs. Richard Borton, wife of the councilman, Mrs. Eldon Gorton, wife of councilman, and

Mrs. Thomas Dmoch, wife of councilman Thomas Dmoch, chairman of "Our Government Day," who is next to Mrs. Dmoch. Mrs. William Scofield, wife of visiting member of the Howell delegation, and Mrs. Bernard Schultheis, also of Howell, complete the row. In the third row are Councilman Richard Borton, Councilman Eldon Gorton, William Scofield, vice-president of the Howell Chamber of Commerce, and Bernard Schultheis, Howell councilman.

Smoother Pay Hikes

Irritation and chargin about pay increase for legislators would be reduced if a proposal by Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, becomes law. Taxpayers were irritated earlier this year and legislators were chagrined when a $2,000 per year pay increase was permitted to become law at the same time the same legislators were looking for ways to cutback the payroll and reduce expenses so the state would not sink so far in the red financially.

Raises were approved by the State Officers Compensation Commission, which is required by law to meet shortly after the November election in even numbered years. It works out the pay scale for the next two years for legislators, the Governor and the Supreme Court justices.

Complainants felt the raises should have been proposed and either accepted or rejected before the election, rather than just after, so that the people could have made them part of the election campaign.

Sen. Richardson introduced legislation which would require the commission to make its recommendations by April 15 of election years. The legislature would then have until Nov. 1 to either accept or reject the raises.

Richardson feels his proposal would eliminate the present concern that the electorate is somehow given a "fast shuffle" through the device of a late determination and almost impossible effort to reject raises.

Those legislators seeking rejection would be answerable to their constituents for the new proposed salary level prior to the election," he says. "This could restore a great deal of confidence by Who's Responsible?

The many pitfalls which lie in the path of prospective home buyers would be covered over quite a bit by legislation being pushed by a suburban Detroit legislator.

State Rep. Joseph Forbes, D-Oak Park, introduced a bill which would require that prospective home buyers be told what's wrong with the house, what is cost to operate the house and what kind of a profit the home seller will make.

Anyone who bought a home and then found the law governing the sale had been violated could either cancel the sale or seek court damages within 18 months of the sale.

Under the Forbes bill, persons selling a house would be required to disclose all housing code violations in the house and information on taxes, heating, insurance and other costs.

The real estate dealer would have to disclose the amount paid for the property by the present owner, any repairs which have been made, and the length of time the present owner has held the house. Also, where a dealer is involved, the house would have to be covered by a warranty in compliance with all applicable codes.

"It must be recognized that an individual seller may not be financially able to bring a home into compliance," Forbes says. "However, a real estate dealer should be able to do so."

A real threat for harassing a seller could develop if the bill became law. A buyer could threaten court action for real or imaginary failure to comply. Deficiencies the seller did not know about could develop after a sale to haunt him.

Forbes feels Michigan "badly needs" this legislation

"Facts have shown that home buyers commonly do not know all the facts," he says. "If they don't ask, they aren't told. If they do ask, in many instances they are only told half-truths at best."

"Once they sign the purchase papers, they are stuck."

"They have practically no real recourse under the law. Unfortunately, it is the low income family, who can least afford to be bilked, who is hurt the worst."

Forbes says some speculators make an "enormous" profit selling homes to low income families.

"An average profit of 100 percent was indicated by a recent study in Detroit," he says. "This inflated price is borne by the low income families, or in the case of welfare recipients, by the State Department of Social Services and the taxpayers of Michigan."

Extra Police Patrols Slated For Holiday

Michigan State Police will operate special traffic patrols for the four-day Memorial Day weekend beginning Friday, May 28, Col. John Plants, department director, reported.

The patrols will be in effect from noon that Friday until midnight, Monday, May 31.

Plants noted that Michigan's traffic death toll so far this year is showing a reduction of about 12 percent compared with the same period in 1970.

"If the weather is good, there will be hundreds of thousands of cars on the roads during the holiday period. Courtesy and caution by motorists can help minimize the chances for accidents," Plants added.

The director noted that 24 persons were killed in Michigan accidents during the 54-hour holiday period last year. The period this year will be 78 hours in duration. Maximum State Police patrol coverage will be provided from 3 to at least 9 p.m. each day. Special attention will be devoted to highway sections having bad accident experience.

The department's motor vehicle inspection program will be suspended during the period and check lane personnel will be used on patrol activity. In addition, weather permitting, State Police aircraft will assist car patrols in traffic enforcement.

DEAR MISTERS EDITOR:

(Do you recollect the report a few years back where this cotton mill in North Carolina give 200, 000 dippers to this African country, and the men over there used em fer head turbans? The way things is getting turned around, Mister Editor, switching ends with them dippers wouldn't git a line in the papers now.

(Not to long back, the wimmen set at home and welcomed their men back from hunting and fishing, cause what the men bring home was what the family had to eat. Now I see by the paper where a bunch of wimmen is calling theirselves Friends of Animals, and they want to do away with hunting complete. That is, they want to stop men from hunting animals and start hunting wimmen more.

(Before everthing got switched around, wimmen that wanted the men to pay some mind to em could think of a lot better things to do than carry signs around on a stick inviting the men to prove their manhood. And while one bunch of wimmen is trying to stop hunting, more of em is trying to git laws passed to make three-year marriage contracts legal. It looks like the wimmen want the men around the house, but not fer long.

A salesman stopped by the country store Saturday night, and he got into a discussion, the fellows were having about how old is old enuff to vote. The salesman, that looked to be about 40 year old, said he was for raising the voting age to 40. Furthermore, he said, the worst mistake ever made in trying to run a Government by the people and fer the people was when the men give wimmen the right to vote.

Mister Editor, I won't get that far cause I know if we got the wimmen really riled they could vote men plum out of the country. But it does look like wimmen has got this disease of turning everthing around and looking at it from the back side. And I think we ought to worry when the wimmen that interduced a bill making marrying a three-year contract said they knewed the idee would go over with the 18-year-old voters.

(Actual, it ain't the short-term marrying that's switched around, it's the undersanding of what marriage is in the first place. Maybe I'm wrong, but I allus had the idee that gitting married is a serious business, and that picking a mate was a fer cry from buying a car that you can turn in as soon as the next model comes out.

But general speaking, Mister Editor, the more some things gits turned around, the more they wind up like they was. Per-instant, I take all this stuff about free love and "commune" living with a big grain of salt. All these folks is trying to do is git the family idee catching on again. The old fashon family, pa, ma and the younguns, may come back in style if we keep switching around.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Pfeifle Acquainted With New Angle In Traffic Hazards

Jack Pfeifle of 405 Washington St., was treated to a shattering experience, by one of the lovely trees that grace that street. As Pfeifle was traveling down Washington St., on his way home Monday afternoon, a large limb from one of the trees fell on his vehicle, a 1970 Oldsmobile. The limb shattered the windshield of the car, and caused minor bruises to Pfeifle, who was a bit shaken up.
Chelsea Police were notified, and the Village Department of Public works contacted to remove the limb.
Police officials who examined the limb commented that it was seemingly a solid limb, in good condition—with the exception of just "a little bit" of decay at the base.

St. Louis School Qualifies 11 Boys for Special Olympics

Boys from St. Louis school went into Ann Arbor Saturday to compete in the trials held at Huron High school for the Special Olympics, which will be held in June at Adzian.
In the track, field, and swimming events, St. Louis boys took 11 first places, nine second places, and 11 third places. In the softball throw, and the standing broad jump, the boys took first in all events.
Thirty-six boys and girls will compete from across the state, in the finals to be held in June. A total of 11 boys from St. Louis school qualified for this honor.
Mrs. Meredith Montgomery and Mrs. Don Canham of Ann Arbor came to the school Sunday evening to host a party for the boys. The party was a "present" to Mrs. Montgomery's godson who lives in Santa Fe, N.M., in honor of his birthday. Mrs. Montgomery's godson had made the favors for the party, which included a pinata. Games and a cake and ice cream were featured at the affair.
As a gift, the ladies brought new softball, football, and basketball equipment, which they donated to the school.
St. Louis school performed a concert for the patients at the Chelsea Medical Clinic Wednesday. They paid a visit to Ed Beissel, a patient at the Center, who is a special friend of the school's.
This coming week-end, all priests and two nuns at the school will travel to the Don Guanella school in Philadelphia, where they will help celebrate the 10th anniversary of the founding of the school.
All the boys at the school will be going home for the week-end.

Freedom Dedicates New Township Hall

Dedication ceremonies for the new Freedom Township Hall, located at 11508 Pleasant Lake Rd., will be held Saturday, May 22.
Commencing with an open house at 7:30, the evening's dedication program will get underway at 8 p.m. John Miller, Freedom township supervisor, will give the opening address. He will be followed by a song, sung by one of the local 4-H groups.
Mrs. Elmer Dettling will give a short history of Freedom township, while Mrs. Louis Vogel will present a history of the old township hall, and briefly outline how the new hall was built.
Recognition of special guests and township officers will follow, after which Miller will give the dedication of the hall.
Closing of the program will be the singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," led by a 4-H group.
A social hour and a dance, scheduled to get underway no later than 10 p.m. will follow. Luke Schable's band will play for the revelers.
New Freedom Township Hall was first used for the January elections. Groundbreaking began a year ago in May, Miller stated, that all the finishing touches on the hall have not yet been completed he claims. The township recently acquired new chairs and tables for the hall.
Decision was made in July 1969 to build the new hall, as the old hall was almost 100 years old.

Thalner, past president, and to Mrs. Walter Brown, incoming president.
Mrs. Updegraff was then presented with a silver candy dish from the Auxiliary in appreciation for the support given this past year, along with a past-president's charm.
"Exhausted, Hen" certificates and plates were presented to Mrs. Art (Anne) Steinaway and Mrs. Joe (Dolly) Verway.
Highlight of the annual Chelsea Jaycee installation night was the awarding of JCI Senatorship No. 12911 to past president Art Steinaway. This award is in recognition of his work during his long membership with the Chelsea Jaycees and is the highest honor that can be received by a Jaycee. His Senatorship is the 12,611th given out in the world since the beginning of the Jaycee organization 51 years ago.
Steinaway joined the Chelsea Jaycees in 1968, and worked as a member until he was elected to the board of directors in 1968-69. In 1967-68, he was again elected to the board as internal director, and at mid-year appointed to the post of internal vice-president to fill a vacancy. In 1968-69 he was named the "Outstanding Local Jaycee" for his work in the Chapter, and in 1969-70 he served the local chapter as external vice-president. He was named one of the five outstanding Jaycees of the state. This past year he served his chapter as local president, and led the Chelsea organization to its second consecutive "Giessenbier Memorial award."

PATTI YOUNG

Three CHS Girls Awarded U-M Regents Scholarships

Another "first" has been tallied by the ladies at Chelsea High school, to advance the cause of the Women's Liberation movement. Three Senior girls at Chelsea High school have been selected to receive the coveted University of Michigan Regents-Alumni Scholarships. According to George Bergman, Counselor at Chelsea High school, this is the first time ever that Chelsea has had three winners of the Regents' prize. This year's winners are Patti Young, Susan Stock, and Susan Rasmussen. Miss Young, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Young, 418 McKinley St., is an active member of the National Honor Society. She had worked with the athletic director for the past few years, assisting with ticket sales for athletic events. She was manager of the senior concessions stand during football season, and has done typing of papers and tests for some of the teachers. She is a tutor at the junior high school, and has been a youth representative on the Chelsea Nature Center Committee for several years. A Bible school teacher, she has been very active in the high school band and ensembles. In junior high school she was a winner in the science fair and exhibited at the Ann Arbor fair. She was also central treasurer while in junior high school.

Patti has been vice-president of the Senior Trip Club this past year. Her plans for the future include attending the University of Michigan, where she hopes to study medical technology. Susan Stock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stock of 4000 Mushback Rd. She has been involved in debate, choir and the symphony band during her high school career. A member of the French Club for three years, she is also a member of the National Honor Society. Miss Stock is a member of the Liberal Religious Youth (LRY) at the Unitarian Universalist church of Ann Arbor, and is a Sunday school teacher. She had been a member of the cast of "The Music Man" and "Carousel," and is a member of the Madrigal Singers at the high school. Susan Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Rasmussen, of 48 Chestnut Dr., came to Chelsea in her junior year. Originally from Seattle, Wash., she lived in New Orleans, La., for 5 1/2 years prior to her move to Chelsea. A member of the choir, she is also first chair flute and piccolo in the Symphony Band. She is a member of the State Honors Band, and has been in the orchestra for both "Carousel" and "South Pacific." Miss Rasmussen is a member of the National Honor Society, and is a tutor at South school.

Memorial Day Observance Plans Being Organized

Baseball Team Wins Twice

Chelsea baseball players played five games in succession, Tuesday through Thursday, of last week, sandwiching in a loss between two wins. Chelsea met Novi Tuesday afternoon, and defeated them, 6-2. Coach Carl Genske reported. The Bulldogs started the scoring in the second inning, when they scored their first run on a single, an error, a sacrifice and another error. Two more runs for Chelsea were racked up in the third inning. Wayne Welton reached first on an error to start the action. He stole second, and was singled home by Dave Lukasak. Dave then went to second on a wild pitch, scoring when Jeff Daniels singled. The Bulldogs picked up two more runs in the fourth inning, without the aid of a hit, when they scored on three errors, a walk, and a sacrifice. Chelsea finished out their scoring without a hit, when they scored a run in the sixth inning on two walks and another error. Novi scored their only two runs in the seventh inning, when Chelsea had a "mental lapse" and allowed the team two runs from one hit and two errors. Ron Sweeney pitched a perfect game for 4 innings. Coach Genske stated, and altogether he gave up only three "scratch" singles, two of which never got out of the infield. He struck out six, walked none, and pitched what his coach termed "a real strong ball game."

Baseball Team Challenging for League Title

Chelsea played Novi Wednesday afternoon, and meets South Lyon today, Thursday, at South Lyon. If the Bulldogs emerge victorious from both contests, they will have to win only one of their next two games to capture the conference title. Chelsea is scheduled to play Sagine Tuesday at the home field, and Dundee, at Dundee, on Thursday of next week. According to Coach Carl Genske, by a week from today, it should be all over for the conference race. Chelsea's third run scored in the third inning. Randy Brier reached first on an error. Sprague sacrificed to move Brier to second, and he came home when Sweeney grounded out at first. Milan came back and tied the game up in the bottom of the third, when Chelsea made three errors. They scored two runs on one hit. Although Milan loaded the bases twice in the two innings remaining in the game they failed to score, so the game moved into the eighth inning, when Chelsea pulled out in front. Winning runs were scored when Randy Brier went to first on a single, stole second, and was sacrificed to third. He came home on a single by Ron Sweeney, who went to second on a wild pitch. He came home when Steve Flint singled. When the Milan outfielder let the ball go by him, Steve went to third, to score on a single by Dave Lukasak.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT
 Flowers and wreaths deck our cemeteries on Memorial Day as we honor our servicemen who gave their lives for their country. It is a day of memories that churn the depth of our sorrows and sadness. On Memorial Day we look back with tenderness — and tears: The men we honor would be the first to tell us to look ahead — even as we look back. They would be the first to tell us the past is gone, the future lies ahead. They would be the first to tell us to concern ourselves with the future — while remembering the past. They would be the first to tell us that though they were denied a tomorrow, we should face our tomorrows with confidence and hope, without forgetting the circumstances and conditions that caused a no tomorrow for them. They would be the first to tell us to serve our country and each other — with honor — not for honor... And, they would be the first to tell us there is honor in serving a cause that is "right"... no honor in serving a cause of "might." We should be especially mindful of the distinction on Memorial Day... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Medical Clinic Joins in Training Program for Students

Chelsea Medical Clinic will participate this summer in a unique project which will bring three medical students here for an introduction to medical care in Chelsea.

Forty-one medical students will spend their summer vacation time observing and assisting in hospital and doctor's offices, in a project co-ordinated by the Michigan State Medical Society. Judging the project are the Michigan Hospital Association and the Student American Medical Association at the three medical schools.

Interested students volunteered for the program and are being matched now with the hospitals and clinics which wish to participate.

"One of the purposes of the project is to expose the medical students to some of the smaller communities with the hope they may decide to select a smaller Michigan city later when they establish their practice," points out Ross V. Taylor, M.D., Jackson, chairman of the MSMS Board of Directors.

The Chelsea Medical Clinic orientation schedule will be developed by Michael Papo, M.D. Medical direction will also be provided by Dr. Papo.

Most of the participating students will be sophomores, going to all corners of Michigan from their medical schools at the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, and Michigan State University. Among the other communities in which the future doctors will serve are Northport, Grosse Pointe Farms, Ironwood, and Petoskey.

This 10-week program will give students a first-hand look at hospital operations and the many supportive departments not usually studied by medical students so early in their training. The students will rotate through the various departments of the hospitals, pediatrics, surgery, emergency room service, and obstetrics. Most of them will spend some time in doctor's offices, also, often with family physicians.

"The students spend only a limited amount of time with patients in their first two years of college, and this project is planned to help them learn more about medicine in general before they must make up their minds about what and where to practice," stresses Doctor Taylor.

cort, personal shopping, and most recently at the information desk at the hospital. For several years she drove the Red Cross station wagon to take patients on off-station trips. She also worked two nights a week as a Red Cross volunteer in the nursing service.

A resident of Chelsea for the past 25 years, Mrs. Carty is a member of the VFW Auxiliary, the Eagles, and DAVA of Ann Arbor. The spunky 74-year-old lady has a son, Roy James of Ohio, who made the army his career, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Goldwell, of Phoenix, Ariz., who is also active in volunteer work.

Harold Barr, administrator of Veteran's Hospital, made the presentation of a gold medal to Mrs. Carty for her service over these past years.

Eighth Grade Science Classes Tour Waterloo Area in Field Trips

Eighth grade science classes participated in half-day field trips on May 12 and 14. The trip was through portions of the Waterloo Recreation Area. Tom Hodgson, park naturalist, conducted the tour. Purpose of the trip was to illustrate land management for many purposes, said Mrs. Alice Steinbach, one of the junior high science teachers. Examples of game management, wilderness campgrounds, picnic sites and nature trails were all shown at the Waterloo Area. Mrs. Steinbach claimed that the trip was a part of an environmental unit currently being studied in 8th grade science. Teachers involved in the tour were Mrs. Liang, Mr. Clark, and Mrs. Steinbach. Parents who assisted by chaperoning the trips were Mrs. Branch, Mrs. Rablitt, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Koch, Mrs. Schroen, and Mr. Sweeney. It takes more than $267 million to operate the University of Michigan in the 1970-71 fiscal year.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

All 8th grade science classes were treated to a three-hour field trip through the Waterloo Recreation Area this past week. Each class was scheduled for a different time, but each class was given the opportunity to participate. The tour was directed by Tom Hodgson, naturalist at the Waterloo Area. Hodgson showed the students the upland game management area, waterfowl game management, Murder Mountain, and other parts of the recreation area. Sixth graders from the Beach school attended an overnight camp-out this past week also. Breaking up into two groups, one group camped at the Mill Lake Outdoor Center from Monday through Wednesday, while the second group participated Wednesday through Friday. Among the various activities which the 6th graders participated in was a visit to Cedar Lake bog, and hikes through trails. Courses in first aid were administered, and in their free time the students played baseball and other sports. They divided into "tribes" for lectures on Indian lore. At the end of the camping session each tribe had to put on a skit demonstrating what their tribe stood for. Sixth graders reported that they truly enjoyed themselves on the excursion, which was dubbed "an experiment." Steve Bennett, Beach School Reporter.

Boy Scouts Win National Honor For Good Camping

Boy Scouts of Troop 420 participated in the annual Iroquois District Spring Camporee at Bruin Lake May 14 through 16. Saturday morning, May 15, the boys met in Chelsea, and under the direction of Louis Schneider they participated in the clean-up program by sweeping and cleaning village streets for Michigan Week. Returning to camp at 1 p.m., they continued their regular patrol activities and planted trees at the Scout Camp. For their efforts at camp, the troop won top honors, the Presidential Ribbon, for excellence in camping. Four U.S. data processing firms have located plants in Jamaica. Work has included keypunching vehicle registrations for the State of Florida and rent control information for New York City's Housing and Development Administration.

Letters to the Editor

4 May 1971
Dong Ha, RVN APO 98477

To the Editor:
In reading the 22 April 1971 edition of The Chelsea Standard, I was disturbed with one of the columns. In the "School Board Briefs" I could not believe that policy was adopted not to award a Chelsea School District diploma based upon the results of the GED Test.

Webster defines education as "the process of training and developing the knowledge, skill, mind, character, etc., especially by formal schooling; teaching; training." The GED test program is an opportunity for an individual who did not finish his education to apply his talents and knowledge to gain the equivalent of a high school diploma. From my experiences in CONUS and the Republic of Vietnam in a period of two years, I have seen many an individual gain a new chance at higher education because of the GED Test program. I have also seen many who could find employment with the GED equivalent, that probably would not because of a lack of a diploma.

The American ideal of getting as much education to better one's self position in life is tarnished by the actions of the Chelsea School Board.

Besides curtailing an individual's progression for improvement, the actions taken by the school board has also put a curtailment on the chances of an individual to use the GI Bill to go on to higher education or vocational training. If an individual cannot get a diploma, for his GED scores, then he is stopped from going to a junior college or university on the GI Bill. The school board should look at the figures, how many individuals are going to college on the GI Bill, and how many preceded them? The answer is quite simple: quite a few have taken advantage of this opportunity!

My views or recommendations are very simple. The Chelsea School Board should amend or veto their proposal for the betterment of the individual as educators and possible parents of individuals, who someday, could use this program.

To The Editor:
I would like to thank you for the wonderful article in last week's paper concerning the Association for Children with Social and Learning Difficulties.

I think it is important to mention that our organization does not limit its services to children in the regular classroom having difficulties but also to children in special classes, private schools, and those who are not in any educational program because appropriate facilities are not available. Thank you, Mrs. James Schnaidt.

Palmer Ford-Drag Club had a chemical demonstration sponsored by Wynn's Friction Proofing Co., at their May 12 meeting. Mel Anderson, the Wynn's demonstrator was assisted by the Ann Arbor demonstrator, Mr. Bonner. The demonstration showed the effectiveness of the Wynn product. Now, a Chrysler priced $112* less than a Chrysler.

Royal.

Every inch a Chrysler. Yet with Royal, the deal starts $112 less than Newport, previously our lowest-priced series.

The Royal is just as big as our most luxurious New Yorker. And bigger than its competition — Buick LeSabre and Olds Delta 88. Outside and In.

Royal's 360 V-8 delivers more power, too. Power for freeway cruising without strain. Power for safe passing. All on regular gas.

Royal also gives you a better suspension system: torsion bars instead of coil springs. The ride is firmer. More controlled. On a trip to the supermarket, you might not notice the difference. On a quick expressway lane change or a tight turn, you surely will.

Outside of Chrysler products, only two American cars have torsion bars — Cadillac Eldorado and Oldsmobile Toronado. Another difference: Royal's body is welded into a single solid Unibody. It's the strongest way to build a car. And there are no body bolts to work free and rattle. Buick and Olds use the old body-bolted-to-frame technique.

A Chrysler priced to introduce you to Chrysler.

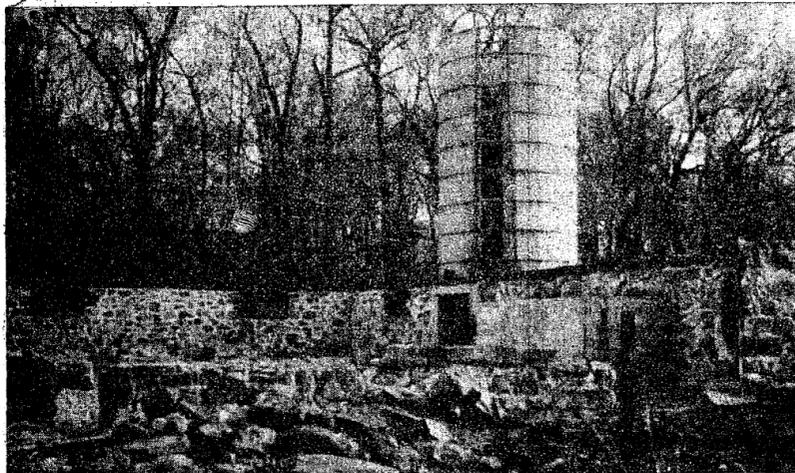

Yet for all this extra value, Royal is priced just about the same as LeSabre and Delta 88. Royal. With everything you expect of a Chrysler. At a price you don't.

VACANT HOUSE BURNS: Rubble and a partially crumbling chimney is all that is left of the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bareis on Trinkle Rd. The house, which has been abandoned for some time, and the property is now owned by Detroit Edison. Firemen report that the blaze was definitely a "set" fire — although no investigation has been ordered.

VANDALS destroyed the barn on the former Arthur Bareis farm several weeks ago. Dexter Firemen extinguished this blaze. The farm buildings are very isolated from the main road, and from other buildings in the area, and the fires had a chance to get a good start before firemen could be summoned.

COTTAGE DESTROYED: This frame cottage on Guinan Dr. by Sugar Loaf Lake was destroyed by fire Friday evening, May 14. The blaze was caused by a Ben Franklin stove located in the cottage, although firemen are not certain whether it was caused by sparks from the stove, or overheating. The building was in the process of being purchased by Mrs. Genevieve DeSmither of Guinan Dr. at the time of the fire.

Houses, Grass, Vehicle Fires Are Reported

Grass fires, two fires in vehicles on the expressway, and the gutting of two houses in the area kept Chelsea firemen busy over the past week-end.

Friday night, May 14, at 11:22 p.m. a building owned by Ed Fleming of 82 Ohio St., in Ypsilanti, was destroyed by fire. The frame cottage, which is located on Guinan Dr., near Sugar Loaf Lake, was being purchased by Mrs. Genevieve DeSmither, also of Guinan Dr.

Terry Roskowski, a friend of Mrs. DeSmither's son, was living in the cottage at the time of the fire. He was the only one home when the flames broke out.

Firemen believe that the blaze was caused by a Franklin stove in the cottage, although they are not sure whether the stove overheated, or whether flying sparks ignited the blaze.

Later that night, at 3:26 Saturday morning, the firemen were called to the abandoned farm house on the former Oscar Bareis farm on Trinkle Rd., which is now owned by Detroit Edison.

The barn on the farm had been burned a few weeks ago.

Fire Chief Jim Gaken indicated that the fire had been a "set" fire, although since it had such a head start by the time the fire-fighters arrived on the scene, there would be very little chance to determine where it originated. The building was totally destroyed.

The house and farm buildings are very isolated from any surrounding buildings.

No investigation of the incident has been ordered as Detroit Edison, which owns the property, has not asked for one.

Firemen reported that by 5:36 that morning, the house had been reduced to rubble, and was determined "safe to leave."

Saturday afternoon, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department put in a fire call to assist at the scene of a stranded motorist. The gasoline tank of a station wagon had dropped out of the vehicle, and deputies wanted the firemen to wash away any gasoline which may have leaked on the highway. Any gasoline which had leaked had evaporated by the time the firemen arrived on the scene.

Sunday, at 8:40 p.m. firemen were called to the dump located behind the former Chelsea Manufacturing plant on Hayes St. It was a minor blaze, and no damage was reported.

Grass fire which occurred on property owned by Harrs on Seymour Rd., summoned firemen Monday afternoon. No damage was reported.

Tuesday morning at 1:06 a.m. a semi-tractor burning on I-94 at the M-52 overpass brought firemen. The tractor belonged to the Brada-Miller Freight Systems of Kokomo, Ind., and was carrying a load of steel. It is thought that the blaze started when the truck's fuel line broke.

Cab of the truck was completely destroyed by fire, Chief Gaken said.

Michigan has more fresh water coastline than any other state.

Tag Day officials, who supervised the efforts of the National Honor Society reported that one of the nicest aspects of the activity was the pleasure which the students expressed over their reception by members of the community. They were quite pleased with the generosity, and interest which the citizens of Chelsea expressed towards their honor students.

Michigan Citizens who were in town this past week for the annual celebration of Michigan Week found the town a bit cleaner thanks to the efforts of many Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts who participated Saturday morning in a massive clean-up campaign.

The boys, members of Boy Scout Troops, 476, 425, 420, and Cub Scout Packs 415 and 455, under the leadership of Michigan Week chairman, Louis Schneider, picked up trash and litter from the village's streets and alleys.

Village dump truck was loaned to the anti-litterbugs, and the eager boys filled one and one-half dump truck loads full of trash.

Lunch, which was served at Veterans Park, at the end of the spree, was provided by local industries. A total of 160 hot dogs were provided by A & W Root Beer, while 240 bottles of Pepsi-Cola were contributed by the Ann Arbor plant of the Pepsi Bottling Co. Chelsea Milling provided cookies for dessert.

All of the scouts who assisted were participating in a week-end camporee at the Bruin Lake Scout Reservation. The boys took a morning off from their busy schedule for the week-end, which included planting seedlings, to clean up their home town.

Nowhere else is there a massive citizen effort for the progress of a state comparable to the annual Michigan Week. How do you take part? Write the Greater Michigan Foundation, 809 Center St., Lansing, 48905.

Scholarship Fund Helped By Tag Day

Members of the Chelsea Scholarship Committee reported recently that they were quite pleased with the success of their Tag Day, which was held in conjunction with the National Honor Society of Chelsea High school.

Those wishing to contribute to the Scholarship Fund, but who were unable to do so on Tag Day, may mail their contribution to the Scholarship Fund, in care of the Chelsea High School.

Tag Day officials, who supervised the efforts of the National Honor Society reported that one of the nicest aspects of the activity was the pleasure which the students expressed over their reception by members of the community. They were quite pleased with the generosity, and interest which the citizens of Chelsea expressed towards their honor students.
