Three Candidates Seek School Board Postions

Election Scheduled Monday In Beach Junior High School

School Board elections, a citizen's chance to try to effect changes in the local educational system, are upon us.

Although there is no millage issue this year there are two positions to fill on the board.

Gerald J. Straub is seeking election to the four-year vacant term which will expire in 1975, while Donald Baldwin and Robert Schafer are competing for the one-year term expiring in 1972.

Straub is presently president of Superior Equipment Co. of Ypsilanti and has been active in civic affairs in both Chelsea and Ypsilanti.

He has been a frequent visitor at Board of Education meetings as he is secretary of the Agricultural Advisory Committee for the Chelsea Public Schools and was chairman of the Citizens for Quality Education.

He has served as co-leader of the Webster 4-H Farmers 4-H club, and is a member of the Wolverine Farm Bureau Group.

Professionally, he is active in Body and Equipment Association, and is vice-chairman of the Greenwood Distributor's Council.

Straub is married, and resides at 6969 Madden Rd. He and his wife, Carol, have three children, Martin, Stephen and Ellen.

Donald E. Baldwin, 1023 Freer Rd. is a candidate for the one-year term vacant on the Board of Education.

His past contributions to the community include his service as president of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce in 1964, president of the Chelsea Community Chest in 1963, treasurer of the Chest, 1959 through 1961, member of the Kiwanis Club Board of Directors, 1962, Chelsea Village president, 1966 through 1968, and a member of the Village Council, 1962 and 1963.

He is also a worshipful master in the Masons and is currently Committee Chairman for Cub Scout Pack 455.

Baldwin was recipient of the Jaycees Distinguished Service Award in 1960, and has belonged to the American Society of Personnel Administrators, Ann Arbor Manufacturers Association, National Association of Cost Accountants, Washtenaw County Com-

B. Wengren Preparing for Olympic Trials

Bonnie Wengren accompanied the Wolverine Track Club to Terre Haute, Ind., this past week-end to compete in the Indiana Relays.

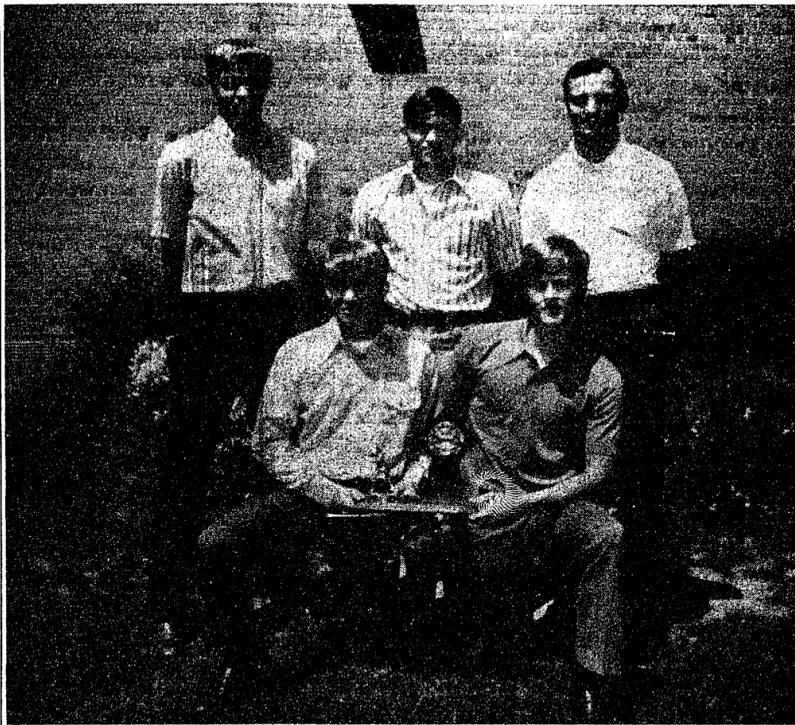

She ran the lead-off 220 yards in the 880 sprint medley in :25.7, which was the fastest time tallied by her club this year, and is a second faster than she has ever run that distance before.

Bonnie's coach, John Bauer, claims that she is now within "shooting distance" for the big meets which will be coming up this year, and next summer in preparation for the next Olympic meets.

National United States Women's and Girls Championships will be held in July in Bakersfield, Calif. Girls championships will be July 6-7, while the women's events will be July 8-10.

Bonnie is improving very rapidly. Bauer commented, and it appeared that she has completely recovered from the injuries that have plagued her all spring.

BULLDOG BASEBALL STARS display the trophy they carried home from Northville Monday evening, following their sound defeat of Dexter, 10-0, for the District Championship.

Ron Sweeney, Joe Aspiranti and Coach Carl Genske. Brier received honorable mention by the Southeastern coaches for his ability as a catcher, while Welton was named to the first team as a pitcher.

Baseball Team Wins District Championship

Clobber Dexter, 10-0, in Finals at Northville on Home-Run Power

Bulldog ballplayers traveled to Northville this past week, and came home with the District Baseball Championship.

Meeting Northville Saturday morning, Chelsea defeated their opponents, 10-5, in nine innings.

According to Coach Carl Genske, the Bulldogs trailed, 5-2, going into the seventh inning, when they finally came to life.

Ron Sweeney was first on base with a walk, followed by Welton, who also walked. A double by Mike Nadeau, scoring Sweeney, and Welton, and a single by Dave Lukasiak tied the ballgame up for the day, and the game went into overtime.

The teams held even until the ninth inning, when Chelsea went wild. Joe Aspiranti got on base on a walk. After a fielder's choice by Mike Nadeau, Dave Lukasiak walked, John Mann walked, and Tim Van Slambrouck walked, forcing Nadeau home.

Pitcher for the nine-inning game was Wayne Welton, who went all the way, Coach Genske claimed. Hitting stars for the afternoon included Randy Brier, who clinched the game with his spectacular grand slam, and Dave Lukasiak, who was 2 for 4 for the morning.

Advancing to the District Finals, Chelsea met Dexter Monday evening at Northville, and defeated the Dreadnaughts, 10-0. Coach Genske commented: "Well, there's not much to say about this ballgame, except we beat them 10-0 with home runs!"

Ron Sweeney pitched what his coach termed a "brilliant game," allowing only two hits, and striking out six. The hits were both tallied by Jim Aseltine of Dexter, one of the better ballplayers in the area, Genske said.

Todd Sprague walked in the first inning, and came home when Wayne Welton homered for two runs.

Chelsea scored two more runs in the second inning on three hits, and one walk. In the third inning the team scored five times on a triple by Welton, a walk and stolen base by Joe Aspiranti, a single by Mike Nadeau belted home by Welton and Aspiranti. Tim Van Slambrouck then singled, and Randy Brier hit a three-run homer to bring the number of Bulldog runs to nine.

Final run came in the fourth inning when Joe Aspiranti hit a solo home run.

Hitting stars for the afternoon were Randy Brier, who was 2 for 5, including a home run, and tallying 4 RBIs; Todd Sprague, who was 2 for 2; Wayne Welton, who was 2 for 3 including a triple, and a home run, and 2 RBIs; Tim Van Slambrouck, 2 for 2; and Joe Aspiranti, who tallied a home run also.

Chelsea will go back to Northville Saturday, to compete for the Regional Championship. The Bulldogs play Flat Rock at 10 a.m., and the winner of that game will play the winner of the Marysville-Detroit Lutheran West game at 3:30 that afternoon.

Season record for Chelsea is now 15-5.

Mrs. Wesley Ellenwood, her son, Terry, and Brenda McGuire, all of Chelsea, and Linda Edwards, of Lansing, attended the graduation ceremonies of Gary Ellenwood Sunday afternoon, June 6, at Northwestern Michigan College, Traverse City.

Raylene Buckingham received a scholarship from the Alexandra School of Cosmetology to attend that institute.

Frank Reed is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, room 454, bed 1.

Recreation Commission's Plans Outlined for Council

Long range objectives of the Chelsea Recreation Commission were presented to Village Council members Tuesday evening, June 1 by members of the commission's Planning Committee.

The council took action on the first of the seven proposals, which called for the rebuilding of the infield at the high school ball-field, for the summer softball league.

Other future plans of the commission include making some improvements on the little league field at South school. Presently, the commission plans to grade that area, and pack the infield with the infield dirt from the high school field which was replaced.

A third proposal calls for a basic engineering survey of the elementary school sites, to have a "plot plan" drawn for areas on which to develop little league, and T-ball diamonds.

Development of all-weather asphalt, or hardtop areas at the elementary schools was a further consideration. These areas would be used for volleyball, rope skipping, basketball, and other similar activities.

The Planning Committee would also like to plan for the building of additional tennis courts in the village, although, they have not selected a site for the courts at this time.

In conjunction with the school board's proposal to develop an athletic area at Beach school, the Recreation Commission would like to add facilities for a softball field at that school, thus removing all softball from the high school field, which would be reserved for hardball use only.

A final proposal called for the lighting of the proposed Beach School athletic field, for the purposes of evening softball leagues. That would give the community two lighted fields for baseball and softball.

According to Chelsea schools Business Manager Fred Mills, the next step which the Commission's Planning Committee would like to take would be to develop the all-weather asphalt areas at the elementary schools in the fall. He claimed that at present there are limited facilities for play at the schools in the event that there has been a heavy rain. There are no hard areas which would allow the children to play games without sinking into mud.

When asked about winter sport facilities, he explained that the Planning Committee had no proposals at present to extend present winter sport facilities in this area. They are still investigating the possibility of winter ice skating areas, though, he claimed.

advice on the subject. The new infield will be completely covered and packed down with "flume dirt," a special combination of clay and sand, which is used to cover the infields of all the ball parks in Ann Arbor. This is the first of many recreational improvements which the Recreation Commission hopes to effect within the next few years.

Washington Report
by Congressman
MARVIN L. ESCH

When Congress passed the Gulf of Tonkin resolution seven years ago (which has since been repealed), it marked the beginning of the latest struggle between the legislative and executive branches of government over the way this nation becomes embroiled in an undeclared war, a point, incidentally, on which the Constitution is ambiguous. (The failure of our country to devise a national means to prevent situations like Vietnam has turned the undeclared war into a Presidential War. Presidents have followed the inclination to ignore Congress, marching the Nation into grave national commitments.)

The new committee would be designated by Congress as the panel authorized to consult with the President and his national security advisers in situations where congressional powers are involved and where congressional ratification of military actions is required. This joint committee must transmit its reports pursuant to the provisions of the bill to the appropriate committees of both Houses, which would be responsible for drafting and reporting to the House and Senate legislation to ratify or change the President's actions. No similarly organized procedure now exists.

I intend to do everything within my power to persuade my fellow members of Congress to fill this vacuum. In my opinion this legislation would be of immense value and the American people would feel they have, through the Congress, had a voice in the vital decisions of war and peace.

On the surface, such a policy has expanded Presidential powers. In reality it has actually done the man who occupies the White House oval office more harm than good. In fact, no single event in modern history has done more to undermine the office of President.

Congress should foresee its passive role in foreign affairs and start to function as an equal partner with the President in determining military policies. The idea of a creative partnership that neither jeopardizes national security nor ties the hands of the President is a procedure that should be welcomed by every public official, and every citizen of this land.

Wool Program Referendum Set June 7-18

I have joined in introducing a bill that asserts the Constitutional role of Congress. It establishes the machinery whereby the President can keep Congress informed either prior to or within 24 hours after he takes military action.

The Secretary of Agriculture has called a national referendum of sheep producers for the period of June 7-18. The purpose is to confirm for the secretary whether or not sheep producers want to continue their promotion program for another four years, through 1974, as it is conducted by the American Sheep Producers Council. This program for lamb and wool throughout the nation is given approval if a "yes" vote is cast by more than two-thirds of the individual producers owning more than two-thirds of the sheep represented in the referendum by those voting.

ZPG Support Grows
The idea that the world must stop the increase in its population and achieve a state of Zero Population Growth (ZPG) is looking more and more like an idea whose time is arriving.

Where it once was talked about only in a few circles, the concept is picking up more and more backers in places where something can be done about it.

Among the newer advocates of ZPG are the members of Gov. William G. Milliken's Advisory Council on Environmental Quality. The council, in fact, recently told Milliken he ought to put together a team of experts and give them the responsibility of drawing up a program through which ZPG could be achieved in Michigan.

As man learns more about disease and what can be done to combat it; and as the wide open spaces become more and more congested, actively working to control births becomes the only way left to prevent overcrowding, the council said.

"Most animal populations utilize migration and high death rates to serve as population controls," it said. "Human populations are no longer utilizing either of these two mechanisms. Population can only be obtained through the regulation of the number of births per family unit in human society."

And it said the goal of ZPG must be adopted as soon as possible since it could be 70 years before ZPG became a reality after it was adopted as a goal. That's because it wouldn't occur until the number of deaths equal the number of births in a given year, and that won't happen until today's babies reach old age.

"We will have Zero Population Growth," said one scientist recently. "It's just a matter of using man's intellect to achieve it or leaving it to the traditional population controls: war, starvation, disease, pestilence. We must take our choice."

Two changes must be made in man's thinking if ZPG can become a reality by using our brains, say the council.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
The fellers at the country store got to looking for good news Saturday night, and they come up with a pretty good report. They studied the May postage hike up one side and down the other, and they couldn't find much to be happy about, special fer you fellers in the newspaper business.

Clem Webster said he couldn't see how papers make a go of sending folks news by mail. With the paper rate going up 20 percent in May, and more of a 142 percent increase over five years to come, Clem said papers soon will come out ahead paying people not to subscribe by mail.

But Zeke Grubb was able to look to see one candle in the dark. He said now that the postal service is a private outfit, maybe they could help the papers out by paying for some of the advertising they've been getting free all these years, special since they got competition now in parcel delivery. And if the papers have to cut back, Zeke said, they allus can leave out all them ads about savings bonds and Government services that run free.

And good news was heard about the Army, where they was plans to spend $24 million on paid newspaper ads to get people to join up. Bug Hookum, that served stateside in the first world war, said he had saw some powerful good Army news. He said by the papers where 500 civilians showed up to apply for jobs on KP at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, when that Army post decided soldiers shouldn't have to work in the kitchen.

The best news Ed Doolittle could come up with was the trouble all them countries in Europe is having with the dollar. He was of the mind that getting them folks scared of the Yankee dollar was the best thing that could happen to our giveaway program that has been going full blast since 1945. Fer all these years them people have been crying fer our dollars, and we've been flooding their market with em, Ed allowed, and now he was calling for a Bring Home the Dollar policy that will set all them folks' mind at ease that is sudden terrified over spending our money.

Turning to good news clost to home, Bug allowed he was happy that today in this country we've got a headache remedy fer eber kind of headache invented so far, but he was worried about getting his male headache pills mixed up with his old lady's pills that fix headaches caused by wimmen's special emotions.

Final, Zeke was glad Paris police won't let folks use field glasses to watch a play with naked actors, but he wondered why its agin the law to watch clost up but not far away.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

NEW GEAR CUTTING MACHINE: Dana's unique new hobbing machine is the first of its kind in the country. Made in Western Germany, the machine is designed to use solid carbide gear cutting tools. Dana officials claim it will enable them to produce gears six times faster than their present facilities.

Dana Installs New High-Speed German Built Hobbing Machine

A West German-made hobbing machine, the first of its kind in the nation, has arrived at the Chelsea Dana Corp. plant on Sibley Rd. The machine, a Pfauter RA200 hobbing machine, is designed to use solid carbide gear cutting tools, and will enable Dana to produce gears six times faster than their present facilities.

Designed through the co-operation of the Dana Research and Development team, the Chelsea plant's manufacturing and engineering staff, and the H. Pfauter product engineering staff, the machine is sold in this country through the Fellows Gear Shaper Co., of Vermont.

According to Dana officials, the machine is unique in that it has hydrostatic bearings, and direct current (DC) motor, giving an infinite number of variable speed ranges to produce more accurate and higher quality gears.

For example, the new machine will cut 800 to 1200 rpm, using a solid carbide hob, cutting two gears in 1.16. Present hobbing machines used by the company cut at 200 rpm, use high speed steel hobs, and cut the same two gears in 5.20.

At present the company expects to run tests on the new machine for the next six months to a year before they use it in production. A difficulty with the new product is that carbide hobs are not readily available in the United States, as they are too expensive to be practicable. A carbide hob may cost as much as $2,000, while a high speed steel hob will cost only $250. Dana hopes to be able to produce better hobs at a lower cost with this product, and it the machine proves effective, they plan to move more of the same machines into the Chelsea plant, and throughout the corporation.

Ken Kuzon, personnel director at Dana, indicated that the Chelsea plant was selected for the testing of this machine as it had the best qualified personnel, with knowledge of gear cutting, and tools, and expertise in the actual process of cutting gears. The Dana staff will have to monitor each step in the development of the new equipment, he added.

Airline Traffic Down At Michigan Airports

Lansing—The number of airline passengers in and out of Michigan airports declined by 8.6 percent during the first quarter of 1971 compared to the same period last year.

The Michigan Commerce Department's Aeronautics Commission reports that 2,005,693 passengers arrived and departed from 22 Michigan airports served by airlines during the first three months of this year compared to 2,193,254 during the same three-month period in 1970.

Four airports—Phelps-Collins at Alpena, Ross Field at Benton Harbor, Kent County Airport at Grand Rapids, and Reynolds Airport at Jackson—had increases while the other 18 airports recorded losses.

The Aeronautics Commission said the decline in passenger arrivals and departures was due to economic conditions through the U.S. and to lack of adequate schedules at some Michigan airports.

3 Wounded In Pinckney Family Hassle

What began as a harmless-sounding call to handle a car fire ended Friday afternoon with three people wounded: a Hudson Mills Park Ranger, a Washtenaw County Deputy Sheriff and a woman who now stands accused of assault with a deadly weapon and attempt to commit murder.

At 5:30 p.m., Friday, June 4, Richard D. Foster, of Chelsea, Hudson Mills Park Ranger, and Jim Holmes, Pinckney Recreation Area Park Ranger, went to 8738 Glenwood, Pinckney, to investigate what was reported to be a car fire.

They arrived on the scene and found Vivian Marie Ballinger of that address standing in the driveway with a knife in each hand. As the officers approached, she yelled obscenities and is quoted as having said "I'll kill you if you try to get me."

As Ranger Foster tried to talk her into putting the knives down she refused and threatened further, stating that she was going to burn down the house and burn the car.

At this point the accused lit some paper and attempted to set fire to the automobile gas tank.

The rangers continued trying to talk her into putting the knives down at which point they said she threw one knife at Jim Holmes. Ranger Foster stepped in to deflect the throw and in so doing was stabbed in the back left shoulder area by the Ballinger woman.

Chief Park Ranger Don Stewart arrived and helped remove Foster from further danger. He radioed for assistance from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and police from Pinckney, Chelsea and three units from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department responded. Upon arrival all of the officers tried to talk her into surrendering the knife to which she reportedly replied "I'll kill all of you" and used more obscene language.

Next the officers approached from the side and rear in an attempt to subdue the accused. In so doing Sheriff's Deputy John Steigerwald received a deep stab wound in the right leg. During the scuffle the woman made a pass with the knife and accidentally stabbed herself in the right leg.

The wounded officers and the accused were taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital. Mrs. Ballinger was treated and released to the County Jail. Ranger Foster and Deputy Steigerwald were treated and released in fair condition.

The Ballinger woman was accused of assault with a deadly weapon and attempt to commit murder. She was arraigned the night of June 4 and held on $25,000 bond. On Monday, June 7 she was also arraigned and ordered to stand for examination in Circuit Court in Ann Arbor on Friday, June 11.

Officers report the woman's husband was in the house during this time where he had retreated when she threatened him with the knives before the officers arrived. It was reported the episode stemmed from the serving of divorce papers on the accused that morning leading the Ballinger woman to threaten her husband and threaten to burn the house and car.

When a hurricane, flood, earthquake, fire or other catastrophe strikes, the Salvation Army is often first on the scene. It maintains a constant standby network of services, ready to mobilize food, bedding and furniture from nearby communities, states or territories. It performs tasks such as writing letters or telegrams for victims and reuniting children with parents, and serving hot meals, sometimes around the clock.

Careful Choice Urged on Acres Set Aside for Farm Programs

Washtenaw county farmers enrolled in the feed grain or wheat programs are being reminded that the acreage set aside under each program should be as productive as the acreage normally used to produce the crop.

Raymond Gibbach, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, also advised farmers that their set-aside land must be acreage that was either in non-conserving crops planted for harvest last year or was used as diverted acreage under the farm programs last year.

He suggested that producers who have any doubt about whether their proposed set-aside acreage will meet the qualifications should check with the county ASCS office as soon as possible.

Gibbach pointed out that at the time producers come into the county office to certify their set-aside acreage, they must specify precisely where the set-aside acreage is located. Final dates for certification are: June 15 for wheat and July 1 for corn.

After a producer has certified, if a mistake is found in his set-aside acreage he could lose some or all of his farm program payment.

"A farmer who is not quite sure whether his set-aside meets all requirements would be well advised to check with the county ASCS office ahead of time. Also, he can request measurement service, which, if followed, will give him a guarantee that he has enough set-aside acreage. Measurement service is offered by the county ASCS office at cost," Gibbach said.

Producers in the voluntary feed grain and wheat programs for 1971 set aside a percentage of their land to conserving uses, and

Permanent Press Treatment May Soon Be Available for Home Seamstresses

A new patented process for permanent press apparel may eventually be available to the home sewer, according to Bernetta Kahabka, clothing and textiles specialist for the co-operative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

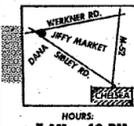

With this process, the finished garment is treated only after it is cut, sewn, pressed and ready to wear. All components such as zippers, pockets, thread and trimmings are treated at the same time, taking on the permanent press characteristics of the fabric, she says.

The system uses a vapor treatment applied to finished garments in a gas chamber, the specialist explains. A vapor of formaldehyde and sulfur dioxide gases permeates cellulosic fibers for about 20 minutes.

The process is said to give a permanent press characteristic to 100 percent cotton without reducing its abrasion resistance, and is applicable to both knits and weaves.

It is predicted that the equipment for this do-it-yourself durable press process will be installed in neighborhood stores to service the vast, flourishing home sewing market.

Using Woodlot as Pasture May Be Wasteful Practice

Do you really have to graze that woodlot? How much food do your animals get from it? Probably they are using up more energy than they are taking in as woodlot forage quality is very low. They may even be eating plants that are harmful to them.

Yet look what's happening to your woodland resource

There are no young trees coming in. Even the older trees may be dead or dying because they cannot get water through the hard, compacted ground. If your woodlot is sloping, the amount of water running off to your fields is greatly increased because the water cannot seep back into the woodland ground which has been beaten down by hooves.

The woodlot has become a desert for wildlife because there is no cover.

Why waste a resource? What could be a productive woodlot giving you timber and wildlife crops has become a wasteland producing very little of anything.

Instead of pasturing the woodlot, perhaps it might be better management to fence the woodlot and work on improving your other pasture and hayland so it is producing more and better forage.

Help is available to you. The U. S. Soil Conservation Service, working with the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District can furnish technical help for pasture land and woodland improvement. The ASCS office can cost-share on fencing to protect wildlife lands and woodlands.

For further information write or call the Soil Conservation Service, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, 48103. Telephone number 761-6721. 6721.

Cook one pound fresh green beans until just tender; drain well. In small saucepan cook 2 tablespoons each chopped onion and green pepper in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add onion mixture to beans. Season with 1/2 teaspoon marjoram, dash of basil, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cover; cook 3 to 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

SOFTEN 1/2 pint vanilla ice cream in refrigerator for about 1 hour

Stir in 1/2 teaspoon brandy or sherry flavoring. Spoon on rhubarb wedges; dust lightly with cinnamon or nutmeg. Makes 1 cup sauce.

BATTING CHAMPS

TODAY'S THOUGHT By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Longfellow wrote, "In this world a man must either be a hammer or an anvil." His words exaggerate a point worth thinking about. When hammering is needed, the right kind of hammer should be used. For example -

You don't use a sledge hammer to drive in carpet tacks. Nor do you use a claw hammer when a pile driver is needed. You use the right weight hammer to mold sheet metal. It must be remembered a hammer can destroy things as easily as it can mold things. This is especially true in religion. It has been tried time and again, but one simply can not pound religion into anyone. A Carpenter who once lived in Nazareth hammered home this truth. His hammer was meekness, gentleness, compassion and love. It was a light hammer but it carried tremendous impact.

In more recent years, Everett Dirksen hammered home a somewhat similar thought when he said, "I never knew a person who didn't become tractable if you didn't threaten him with a meat axe." BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Band Students Win Variety of Special Honors

Local band students earned quite a number of honors this past week as several have been selected to participate in the Interlochen All-State Band, and the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Honors Band.

Chosen for the Interlochen All-State High School Band are Kathryn Schafer, who plays French horn in the Chelsea Band, Karlene Kargel, clarinet, and Robert Wojcicki, cornet. Selected for the Intermediate Band were Pat Knickerbocker, flute, and Kathy Fairbanks, clarinet.

Kathryn Schafer was awarded the Kiwanis Interlochen Award scholarship to attend the All-State camp.

Selected to perform with the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Honors Band were Jeff Parsons, trumpet, Karlene Kargel, clarinet, and Sue Rasmussen, flute. This organization performed May 22 at Interlochen as a part of the Youth Arts Festival celebration during Michigan Week.

Students performing in the above "honor" bands were chosen on the basis of their performance at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival, Chelsea band director Warren Mayer stated.

Olympic Runner From Chelsea?

According to her coach, with Bonnie's progress within the past few weeks so marked, they are hoping that she will be able to train hard this coming year in hopes of qualifying for the Olympic trials to be held next spring. He added that now is the time to start the work towards the sports world's classic event, as top athletes must often train very hard and long to be really good.

Financing for Bonnie's transportation to all the big meets, he commented, is another problem. "Chelsea has never had an athlete ever that came close to participating in the Olympics," he said, and thought that it would be a shame to have to forego the opportunity for a deserving athlete for economic reasons.

He claimed that he was working on ways to raise the necessary funds, though, as he has a great deal of faith in Bonnie Wengren.

Littering Can Be Expensive Pastime

Littering is getting to be a pretty serious social offense these days. Forrest J. Piercy, 40, of Tipton, was ticketed on that charge May 28, as he was riding in the car of Carthus Armstrong. Armstrong was arrested by Chelsea Patrolman Browning on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol. Piercy had been tossing beer cans out the window during Browning's pursuit of the vehicle, and was subsequently ticketed.

(Appearing in Court Monday, June 7, Piercy pled guilty to the charge, and was fined $100 fine and costs.

Firemen Called For Grass Fires, Burning Truck

Chelsea firefighters were called out Friday, June 4, shortly after noon to land owned by the county along Old US-12, just east of Pierce Rd. The grass fire caused no damage and was quickly extinguished.

Friday afternoon, at 5:10 p.m. a call to assist at a massive grass fire along the Penn Central tracks on Garvey Rd. was received. Firemen from Ann Arbor, and Dexter were also called to assist in that fire, which Fire Chief Jim Gaken claimed "burned also from one end of our territory to the other."

An accident on I-94 near the M-52 overpass involving two semi trucks sent firemen scurrying to the scene. One of the vehicles had slid on the wet pavement, hitting the other, and breaking open its fuel tank. Washnaw County Sheriff's Department called the firemen to the scene to wash the fuel off the road as it was quite slippery in the falling rain.

The Washnaw County Road Commission had to be summoned to spread sand over the area before the road could be used for heavy traffic once again. Chief Gaken reported that there was some damage caused to the trucks in the incident, although there were no injuries.

TRYING ON NEW UNIFORMS which the teen volunteers at the Chelsea Methodist Home this summer will be wearing are Peggy Kraai, left, and Stephanie Aldrich, two of the young people who will be assisting in the program. Orientation for prospective Home volunteers is to be June 10, today, at 2 p.m., and 4 p.m. Mrs. Lynn Blecha will instruct the youthful recruits in the M-1 lounge. All who are interested in serving on the program this summer are urged to attend.

Young Woman Killed in Car Cycle Crash

A young woman from Plymouth was killed Friday, June 4, when she was run over by a car after being thrown from a motorcycle on North Territorial Rd. at the Mast Rd. intersection in Webster township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Sharon Chaps, 25, was a passenger on the back of a motorcycle driven by Michael D. Clark, 21, of Westland. Clark told deputies he was going east on North Territorial when a car driven north on Mast by James R. Nichols, 26, of Ann Arbor, went through a stop sign.

Clark told deputies he applied his brakes and the motorcycle skidded about 40 feet and tipped over. The Nichols car struck the motorcycle. Miss Chaps was thrown to the roadway and the car ran over her, deputies said. The accident occurred at 4 p.m.

Clark was treated for injuries at University Hospital and Nichols was released pending further investigation by police.

Miss Chaps was the 20th traffic fatality for the county.

Jaycees Seeking Items for Annual Rummage Sale

Chelsea Jaycees remind local citizens that their annual Rummage Sale is once again coming up, and they ask residents to help by contributing rummage. Residents are urged to keep an eye peeled for useful but no longer needed items as they clean out their garages, attics, closets, and basements, with the advent of warm weather.

This year's sale will be held June 26 at the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

Pick-up may be arranged by calling Jaycees Glenn Weir, 475-7509; Dan Eder, 475-2663; or Mitchell Zink, 475-7912. Deadline for pick-up is June 24.

Jaycees remind that a rummage sale is a good solution to the problem of what to do with those articles that are no longer needed, but which may be useful to others. They hope all local citizens will assist them in their annual project to raise funds for their community projects.

New peach products being developed include puree and clear peach concentrate, refrigerated peach slices, partially pasteurized peaches and instant peach flakes.

Truck Driver Loses Leg in Mill Accident

A truck driver for a feed supply truck was badly injured Tuesday evening, June 1 at the Honegger's Co. plant, 11800 Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

Robert Carreras, of Park Forest, Ill., a truck driver for Jack Gray Transportation Co., was delivering a load of corn, glutin, and meal to the mill when the accident occurred.

The employee who was assisting with the unloading of the truck left for a few minutes to bring a needed tool, and upon returning found that Carreras apparently had accidentally severed his left leg in the augers at the mill.

Chelsea Police and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department were called to the scene. Chelsea police officers Schneider and McDougall were first to arrive, and administered first aid to the victim until the Superior ambulance arrived to take him to the University of Michigan Hospital.

Officials at the local Honegger plant declined to comment on the accident.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

I have just introduced a new bill to provide state aid to schools for the 1971-72 year—a realistic measure designed to make the most effective and equitable distribution of forseeable revenue.

Traditionally, school-aid bills originate in the State House of Representatives. But as of this late date in the current session, no House action has been taken. And further delay will cause serious difficulties for school districts that must prepare their budgets and negotiate contracts with their teachers.

The estimated price-tag of my bill is $1,032.6 million—$5 million above the amount proposed in Governor Milliken's budget but far below the estimated $1,240 million requested by the State Department of Education. I would certainly like to do more for our schools this year, but I believe this is the largest proposal that can be called reasonable in light of the current fiscal crisis. I see little sentiment, in the Legislature, for increasing taxes beyond the level needed to fund the Governor's budget.

Under my bill, the formula by which state aid is distributed would be increased on a flat-rate $24 per pupil basis. This means that a school district showing no increase in the amount of property valuation behind each pupil would receive a $24 hike in state aid.

However, most districts will show such an increase. In general, my plan will provide $12 per pupil increases for "average" school districts—those in the $15,000 to $20,000 SEV per pupil range that are experiencing normal increases in both valuation and enrollment.

Poorer districts will receive larger increases; and wealthier districts, lesser increases. A few of the wealthiest districts may receive slight cuts in state aid, but the modified "grandfather" clause I have proposed should enable such districts to maintain their programs without crippling cutbacks.

One major difference between my bill and the Governor's budget proposal is my allocation of $15.6 million for vocational edu-

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN

Michigan Farm Bureau

June Is Millage Month for Schools

If voters continue to vote no, June could be the month that will trigger the end of the property taxes that finance public schools.

June is millage election month, with most elections taking place on the 14th. And if school districts throughout Michigan suffer defeats as they have in recent years, action to reform property taxation will receive a big boost.

People generally agree that schools need money, but as voters, they are saying the method is wrong. Property taxes can no longer bear the burden.

Governor Milliken, in his recommendation for complete elimination of property taxes for school operation, has accurately reflected the mood of the property taxpayer. His request to the legislature would put this issue on a special election ballot in November, 1971. The proposal would eliminate property taxes as a base for school operating funds, but would permit up to six mills by vote of the people for special programs. It would also cut the six millage limit in the Constitution from the present 50 mills down to 30 mills.

The new base for school operating funds replacing property taxes would come from the state income tax. It provides a sound method of equitable taxation, paid by all citizens instead of just property owners.

A source close to the issue in Lansing said that if the legislature adopts a resolution to put the property tax issue on the ballot in the fall, perhaps voters would ease up and pass operational millage proposals, knowing it could well be the last year it would be necessary.

Of all the issues confronting society that seem helplessly beyond the grasp of the local citizenry, it is comforting to know that on this issue our governmental representatives will be attentively listening to the voter.

It will be an interesting twist for tax watchers to witness the predicted defeat of the dreaded rise in property taxes at the polls in a negative vote that eventually will bring positive yes results in total tax reform.

Help Available to Farmers In Fight Against Pollution

One of the critical problems of pollution is developing effective tools to stop it. For farmers and ranchers part of the answer is coming from the new Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP), according to Raymond Girbach farm ASOS program official.

REAP pays 50 percent or more of the cost of practices that will achieve permanent conservation and environmental benefits. Practices which provide only temporary benefits are financed under special circumstances and at a reduced level of cost-sharing. The REAP goal is to provide public benefits through conservation and pollution-abatement practices carried out on farmlands.

The cost-sharing program, Girbach said, gives impetus not only to soil, water, and woodland conservation, but also recreational, wildlife, and open space benefits.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program is run by farmers through elected county ASOS committees. Farmers have been practicing soil and water conservation for years and are seasonal to meet the challenges of pollution that face all citizens, commented Girbach, who is chairman of the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Enduring practices, such as water retaining and retarding measures on farms, permanent grass cover, waterways, buffer strips, and tree plantings, are important REAP practices.

REAP is an outgrowth of the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) of previous years. It recognizes that farmland is a source of agricultural pollution affecting the public as well as the individual farmer, and that good conservation and pollution-abatement practices on farmland can be a factor in improving environmental conditions for all.

Planners Seek Opinions on Proposed Park

Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission voted at their June 3 meeting to schedule a hearing June 30 to give all local governmental units a chance to express their views on the proposed 4,000-acre Mill Creek Metropolitan Park in Lima township.

The Planning Commission acted in response to a request from a committee of the Board of Commissioners, which asked the commission to inform all units of the park plans, and to seek their opinions, establishing whether or not the Board of Commissioners should endorse the plans submitted by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, who are proposing the park.

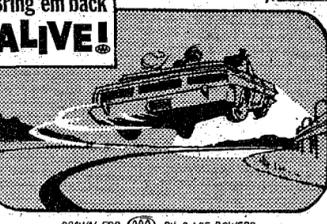

At the June 30 meeting, there will be presentations from Huron Clinton officials, Mill Creek Research Council, and the County Planning Department.

The meeting will then be open for discussion. The commission will seek written opinions from all local governmental units within a few weeks following the hearing.

Planning Director Thomas J. Fegan, said a recommendation on the advisability of the park may come from the Planning Commission after the opinions are received.

In 1970 the Gross National Product (GNP) increased from $931 billion to about $979 billion.

From Mrs. Julia Loggins, Temple, Tex.: I like to think back to the good old days during the 30's when I lived on a farm with my parents, brothers and sisters in Central Mississippi.

"We were poor people, but hard working, honest and truthful. We always helped our neighbors, far and near. We rose early, did lots of chores around the home before we went into the fields—and in between found time to get our education and serve as loyal church workers."

We planted fifty acres in cotton, some amount in corn, as well as several patches of cane, sweet potatoes, peanuts and a large vegetable garden.

We milked five cows, twice daily, fed many chickens and hogs and were never hungry. It was hard for our parents to buy clothes, schoolbooks and supplies, but there always seemed to be a way.

Heartworm Disease Found in Michigan Dogs

East Lansing — Heartworm, a common canine disease in warm climates, is becoming more common in dogs in Michigan and other northern states.

Although the disease was virtually unknown in Michigan 15 years ago, Michigan State University veterinarians now treat one or two cases a week at the MSU animal clinic.

Dogs afflicted with advanced heartworms are short of breath, cough and may collapse.

Potentially fatal, the disease can be prevented through medication. Once contracted, successful treatment depends on the general physical condition of the dog.

Michigan has a larger variety of commercial tree species than any other state, and its forest product industries contribute almost one billion dollars annually to the Michigan economy.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:
I have this "boys" problem. I like a lot of boys but I like one very much. He acts like he likes me, but I'm not for sure. We have dated before but not much. I care a lot about him but also other boys. I mean, I don't want to be tied down to just one guy, but I also want to be sure I have a date every week-end. What can I do?

OUT REPLY: Your can't always have your cake and eat it too. You are wise to not want to be tied down to one boy, but you should realize there is no way you can be certain to have a date every week-end. If you were a boy, you could continue asking girls until you found a date for every week-end. You cannot do that. But, if you are reasonably popular, as you seem to be, you will get plenty of dates as long as you are not "tied down" to one boy. Going steady will guarantee that you always have someone available—but it also means other boys will soon forget your telephone number.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

Baseball Team Names Welton 'Most Valuable'

Baseball awards were presented Wednesday evening at a spring picnic at the home of Ralph Brier, North Lake.

Coach Carl Genske presented the Bulldog players with their athletic letters earned this past season.

Most Valuable Player award was presented to pitcher Wayne Welton, while Joe Aspiranti was named the Most Improved player. Captains for the coming year will be Wayne Welton, and Randy Brier.

Welton, a junior, was also the only third-year letter winner on the team. Second-year letter winners include Dave Heydlauff, senior, and juniors Randy Brier, Dave Lukasiak, Todd Sprague, and Ron Sweeney. First-year awards were presented to juniors Joe Aspiranti, Steve Flint, Mike Rossbach, and Tim VanSlambrouck, and sophomores Jeff Daniels, and John Mann.

Coach Genske cited the assistance and efforts of Phil Baréis, the junior varsity baseball coach. He also extended a special tribute to the custodians at the school who worked very hard all season to keep the ball field in good playing condition.

The season is not yet over for the Chelsea team, as they won the District Championship Monday evening, defeating Dexter, 10-0, for the title. They now must play Flat Rock Saturday morning at Northville, to qualify for the Regional finals to be held Saturday afternoon in Northville.

Social Security Office Teleservice Can Take Claims

Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of the Social Security office in Ann Arbor, has announced that effective immediately the hours that the office is open for business are Monday through Friday, 8:45 a.m. until 4:45 p.m.

The office had previously remained open two additional hours on Mondays, until 6:45 p.m. Kehoe explained that with the adaptation of Teleservice, by which any Social Security claim may be filed over the telephone, the expense of the evening hours is no longer necessary.

People who work full time are invited to telephone the office at their convenience for an application by telephone. If a Claims Representative is not immediately available, the applicant will receive a return call as soon as possible. Kehoe suggested that for better service the public should avoid Monday to contact the office, as that is the day for heaviest in-office business and the longest delays.

For a claims application, or any other information about Social Security or Medicare, the telephone number of the Ann Arbor office, located at 220 E. Huron St., is 769-7100.

Over 85 percent of the water in the U.S. is hard enough to require treatment. The best way is with an automatic softener that conditions the water before it enters the piping system. In the modern unit, the water flows through a tank containing a chemical that removes minerals such as iron and calcium. As the chemical is saturated, it's automatically regenerated. The unit requires almost no maintenance.

Control Measures for Destructive Nematodes Listed in Bulletin

East Lansing—What may be a hundredth of an inch long and cost U. S. crop and horticultural growers more than $1 billion each year?

Nematodes.

These normally invisible animals cost Michigan farmers millions of dollars in crop losses annually, often leaving farmers unaware of the cause, according to Dr. Charles Laughlin, Michigan State University nematologist.

"Much Michigan farm land has been mislabeled 'exhausted' or 'tired soil', but nematodes were actually the cause of crop losses," says Laughlin.

A bulletin written by Laughlin, "Nematodes and Their Control," is now available from county Co-operative Extension Service offices and from: MSU Bulletin Office, P. O. Box 231, East Lansing 48823. (Single copies are free.)

The bulletin explains nematode feeding habits, injury symptoms, diagnosis of nematode diseases, how to determine nematode presence and recommended control.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor

At the Chelsea School Board meeting Monday, June 7, I submitted the following:

"As a Chelsea School District taxpayer, I hope the Chelsea School District as a governmental unit will be represented at the hearing June 30 and voice opposition to the proposed 4,000 acre Mill Creek Metropolitan Park which will lie entirely within the school district.

Our school district at present includes the bulk of the non-taxable state lands comprising the Waterloo and Pinckney Recreation Areas. We can ill afford now or in the future another 4,000 acres removed from the assessment base."

I encourage every concerned citizen and taxpayer of the Chelsea School District to request the School Board to submit a written opinion opposing the proposal to the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission.

Robert N. Schafner

To the Editor

As a pastor in the area, I would like to commend pastors Frank Frinkle of Immanuel Bible church and James Stacy of Chelsea Baptist for their excellent stand against the replacement of the traditional baccalaureate service at Chelsea High school.

I am dismayed that certain men within the Chelsea Ministerial Association could possibly feel that a program of rock music would be more important than a message from God's Word. These are the days when God's men need to stand for God and be leaders of men. The graduating seniors of Chelsea High school stand at a crucial crossroad in their lives. If ever there is a need to hear a message from the Bible and receive direction from God, it is now. I cannot understand how men who claim to be called of God to preach the gospel and be leaders of God's people, can possibly by their action place more importance on rock music than a message from God's inspired Word.

I count it a privilege to be the pastor of some of the 1971 graduating class who know that purpose in life comes only with living for Christ. I hope that the members of the 1972 class who know the Lord personally as Saviour will stand up and replace the rock festival with a message from the Bible next year. I hope that the recent letters to the editor will make the students of Chelsea High school aware that there are still churches and men of God who stand for the truth of God's Word and the divinity of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Sincerely, Pastor William D. Enslin, North Sharon Bible church.

WHY A WILL?

The difference between making a will and leaving no will is obvious. When a will is made, the most important consideration is the intent of the maker. The court bears this in mind throughout probate proceedings. When no will is made, the court acts in the traditional notion that after death every person desires his property to go to his closest relatives.

The University of Michigan awarded 9,346 academic degrees during 1969-70, and has more than 260,000 alumni throughout the world, 103,000 of them in Michigan.

Mrs. Leo LaFontaine Flies to California for Mothers Day Visit

Mrs. Leo K. (Hollie) LaFontaine has returned to her home on South after flying to California to surprise her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cole, Rosemead, Calif., for Mothers Day while awaiting admission to the University of Michigan Hospital.

Mrs. LaFontaine enjoyed visiting her mother, relatives and friends in California even under very unpleasant health problems, hoping her stay in the hospital won't be for an indefinite period of time, as Mr. LaFontaine of the LaFontaine Construction is remodeling their home. Mrs. LaFontaine's favorite hobby being her garden and flowers this time of the year.

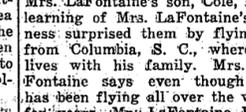

Then Sunday, June 6, Mr. and Mrs. LaFontaine's son, Cole, after learning of Mrs. LaFontaine's illness surprised them by flying in from Columbia, S. C., where he lives with his family. Mrs. LaFontaine says even though she has been flying all over the world for years, Mr. LaFontaine being a retired military man on diplomatic services and served as a career counselor for young men for his last ten years of service, that new 747 luxury liner is a beautiful airplane to ride and you are shown every courtesy while traveling ill.

ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDING at the school was completed nearly three years ago, and is an example of the school's transition from the former NYA camp-style buildings to a modern campus.

This facility houses the business offices of the administrative staff, and features a dental clinic and hospital, as well as visiting facilities, and a reception office.

New School Ready at Cassidy Lake

Cassidy Lake Technical School is richer by one more building, according to school superintendent L. C. Utess. The new building, which has just recently been completed, will house the school's complete academic, vocational and counseling programs.

Containing a total of 28,500 square feet, the all brick building was designed by Lansing architects Laitala, Nuechterlein & Fowler, and was constructed at a cost of $930,000. Although in the past the men at the school have assisted in the construction of some of the school's buildings, this new facility was contracted by the O'Neal Construction Co., of Ann Arbor.

Cassidy Lake's program includes academic studies for grades 9 through 12, remedial education, counseling, and vocational training, including classes in auto services, welding, heating and cooling, appliance repair, and introduction to the "World of Work."

All of these services will be accommodated in the new school facility. Included in the building is a large library, study hall, and large auditorium, which will seat 76 persons. Counseling offices, and the principal's office, in addition to the regular academic classrooms, and vocational training centers are also featured.

Solid vocational training, and help in job placement from the probation and parole departments is one of the contributing factors for Cassidy Lake's rehabilitation rate, which is 65 to 70 percent, one of the highest in the nation.

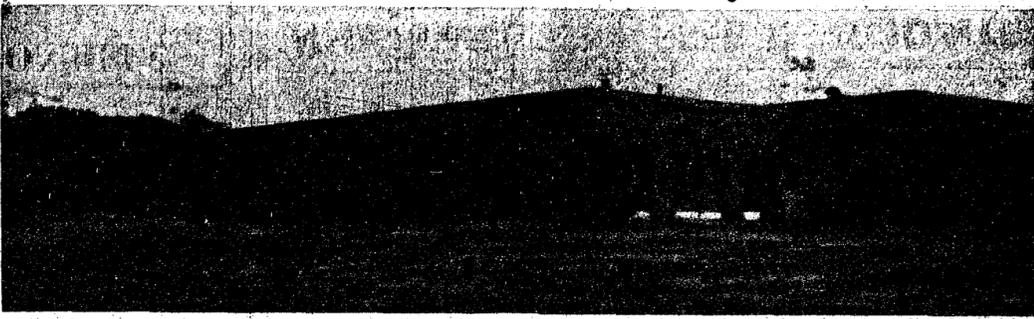

Highlight of the vocational training center is the auto maintenance room, which the men will learn all the basics of automotive servicing. School officials hope that the boys will eventually be able to put their newly-acquired skills to work by servicing state vehicles.

Heating and cooling will be taught in a room outfitted with air conditioning and heating equipment. The school is being assisted on the program by the Lennox Co., of Marshalltown, Ia.

Large appliances, such as washers and dryers, will be used to help the men learn the basics of appliance repair. The school is hopeful that this skill, and the other skills taught at the school will prove to be immediately needed, and will provide them with good jobs in the "outside world."

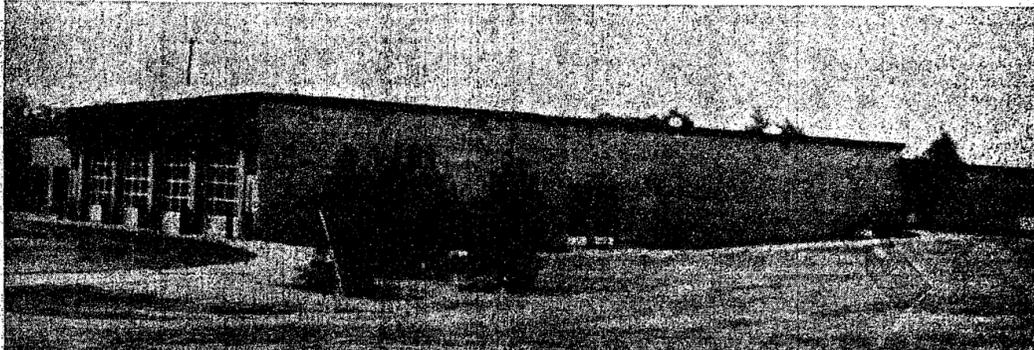

Among the smaller features of the building is the use, almost exclusively, of "Lexon" a new vandal-proof glass developed by the General Electric Co. which will not splinter, but appears clear. Also, the school is equipped with special door knobs, name plates, and other features so that blind, and other handicapped persons may be accommodated at the facility.

All the furniture at the school is long and low. The one-floor structure is equipped with special ramps, door plates, and door fixtures so that handicapped persons may be accommodated in the facility.

NEWLY-COMPLETED SCHOOL BUILDING at the Cassidy Lake Technical School will house all academic and vocational learning, as well as counseling and remedial education services.

School officials hope to hold their first classes in the new structure by the end of next week.

SEEN FROM THE OTHER SIDE, the new classroom building is long and low. The one-floor structure is equipped with special ramps, door plates, and door fixtures so that handicapped persons may be accommodated in the facility.

At present, there are only limited facilities for crafts at the school.
