

Mill Creek Park Plans Approved By Planning Commission

The controversial Mill Creek Park came one step closer to reality last Wednesday when the County Planning Commission voted 8 to 2 to approve plans for the park set forth by Iuron Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA).

The Planning Commission also recommend a similar endorsement from the County Board of Commissioners. The only members of the Planning Commission voting against the park were Carl Mast of Dexter township and Jay L. Bradbury of Lima township.

The recommendation will be forwarded to the Board of Commissioners which is expected to make its recommendation for or against the park sometime this month.

No recommendations by local units of government are binding on the independent HCMA which has the power to establish the park despite any opposition to it.

HCMA, however, has a record of abiding by the decisions of local governments.

If the park is established it will eventually contain a 600-acre lake, two golf courses, nature trails and a variety of other recreational facilities.

Last Wednesday's vote came after eight months of heated controversy about the park which would if established be operational by 1985 or 1990.

During the past eight months studies of park have been made by the Planning Commission, numerous local government units and citizens committees. Leader in the opposition to the park has been the Mill Creek Research Council (MCRC).

MCRC has opposed the park primarily because it would take more than 4,000 acres of prime farm land from agricultural use and would also displace more than 200 people who live within the proposed park boundaries.

MCRC has argued that there is a greater need for smaller parks nearer the urban centers. Mill Creek Park is designed to service.

The Planning Commission recommendation favoring the park came shortly after the release of an engineering study by Ernest Brater of the University of Michigan stating that the damming of Mill Creek to create an artificial lake would have no ill effects on the water table or the flow of the creek.

Bradbury, in stating his opposition to the park said that he still felt there would be unfavorable consequences both up and downstream from the dam. He said that while he did not have the information of expertise to refute the report he did not believe it would be possible to create the impoundment without damage to the environment.

"Maybe I'm from Missouri," Bradbury added, "But you'll still have to show it to me."

Another opponent of the park, Robert Wirtz 1418 Guenther Rd., spoke during the hour-long debate that preceded the vote. Wirtz, who said he presently works the land that may eventually become a lake said, "I've lived there 10 years and for five of those years I've been fighting to keep my land. I for one don't feel like I have to put up with this."

Wirtz also echoed the sentiments of many of those in the area who are opposed to the park when he said that he felt as though he had no voice on the matter.

One of the most vocal park supporters at the meeting was Douglas J. Fulton a member of the County Recreation Advisory Committee which has given its unanimous support to the park.

Fulton said that the agricultural issue was simply a red herring. Fulton maintained with the aid of U.S. Agriculture Department statistic, that much of the farm production available today is lost to humans.

Fulton said that in 1968, 18 million tons of protein from crops was lost to man because it was used to produce beef. He said 10 pounds of grain protein is needed to produce one pound of livestock protein resulting in a 90 percent loss in protein available for human consumption.

Genevieve Gillett, founder of the Michigan Parks Association, said the issue of parks was not one of recreation as much as "re-creation," adding that the opposition to the Mill Creek Park is similar to the opposition to the now existing Stoney Creek Metropolitan Park. However, she said, the people who opposed the park today are quite satisfied with the frequent users of the park.

"This (Mill Creek) area left all to its own is urbanizing with a creeping paralysis. A park is one of the best things that could happen to this land," Miss Gillett said.

Marilyn Thayer, planning commission member who made the motion to endorse the park, added "If I could get a written guarantee that this land would remain in perpetuity just as it is now it would entirely change my feelings on the park. But I don't think anyone can give such a guarantee."

Before the vote was taken, Bradbury suggested that if the commission did endorse the park it investigate the possibility of allowing the residents who would have to leave their homes a lifetime lease.

"A good many of the people there are on the older side. If they could be given a lifetime lease it would help community feelings considerably," he said.

Executive director of HCMA, David Laidlaw, said a few such arrangements were made in developing the Stoney Creek Park. But, he added, that these homes were on land bordering the edge of the park which was not needed immediately for development.

Thomas Fegan, county planning director, also noted that his staff's report suggested at least seven of the older homes in the park boundaries be preserved as historic sites. He said it was possible more structures might be included.

Commission member David R. Byrd also suggested that perhaps some of the farms could remain in operation within the park. He said this would give city residents a chance to visit the park and see how a farm actually is run.

Byrd added that the Mill Creek Park is just "a drop in the bucket" towards obtaining all the park land needed for the future. He said the objections to the park could be relayed to HCMA to be used as critiques in developing the park land for usage.

Shopping Center Zoning Denied By Sylvan Township

Sylvan Township Board denied a request by the LaFontaine Construction Corp., for the rezoning of 70 acres of land at the corner of I-94 and M-52 for development of a shopping center, at its Tuesday night meeting.

The board's refusal, which came on a 3 to 2 vote, climaxes a long series of hearings and recommendations on the rezoning issue.

In June, the Sylvan Township Planning Board tentatively approved the zoning change from A-1 (agricultural) to B-1 (commercial) use, and it looked at that time like LaFontaine would have a green light on the development of the shopping complex, which with a proposed shopping area of 352,000 square feet—would be only slightly smaller than Arborland.

An Aug. 4, however, the Washtenaw Planning Commission issued a recommendation against the zoning change, citing the forseen lack of a population adequate to support the center and inadequate access to the site, as primary reasons for its opposition.

According to the Planning Commission studies, a population of 100,000 or more would be necessary to provide a large enough market to make the center financially viable. Yet, they found that growth figures for the area show a potential population of 40,000 by 1975, the year the center would open.

The Planning Commission also was concerned about the limited access to the site, available only on M-52 which has a sharp hill along the LaFontaine property frontage.

The Sylvan Township Board vote came after heated discussion on the matter. The board was deadlocked with members Fred Pearsall and Reuben Lesser voting for the zoning change and George Merkel and Dan Murphy voting against. The decisive negative vote was cast by Sylvan township supervisor Maurice Hoffman.

According to Township Clerk Dan

Murphy, the matter could possibly come up again, after the new zoning law and land use plan, now being drafted by the township, are adopted. Murphy also said that the board would probably be willing to reconsider the matter if some solution to the traffic dilemma could be found.

Leo LaFontaine, president of LaFontaine Construction Corp., said that he is not giving up on the shopping center at all, at this time. "I can't say what we'll do right now," LaFontaine added, "but we are investigating the possibilities."

Phys. Ed., Art Teachers Join Grade Faculty

Two new teachers have been added to the Chelsea school district's staff to inaugurate the elementary level physical education and art programs approved by the Chelsea Board of Education at its Aug. 23 meeting.

Mrs. Barbara J. Wahl, a 1968 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, will teach art at both North and South schools this year. She has taught art previously in the Lincoln Consolidated schools, and the Ann Arbor public schools.

William Wehrwein, a 1971 graduate of Michigan State University, will be teaching physical education at North and South schools. Mrs. Mary Harrell has been hired to teach music at North school two days per week. She is a 1970 graduate of the University of Michigan in music education, and also attended Miami University in Oxford, O. She taught music in the Ypsilanti public schools last year.

Two Youths Hurt Seriously In Accidents

Two Chelsea youths were seriously injured in two separate accidents during the long Labor Day week-end.

John R. White, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland White, 222 Washington, sustained severe injuries when his motorcycle and another driven by Dennis Carpenter, collided at approximately noon, Saturday, Sept. 4.

White and Carpenter had been riding trail bikes in the Waterloo Recreation Area when the accident occurred. White was thrown from his cycle.

He was treated at the Chelsea Medical Center and then taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's emergency room where he was treated for a punctured lung and broken ribs, and released. Carpenter was not injured.

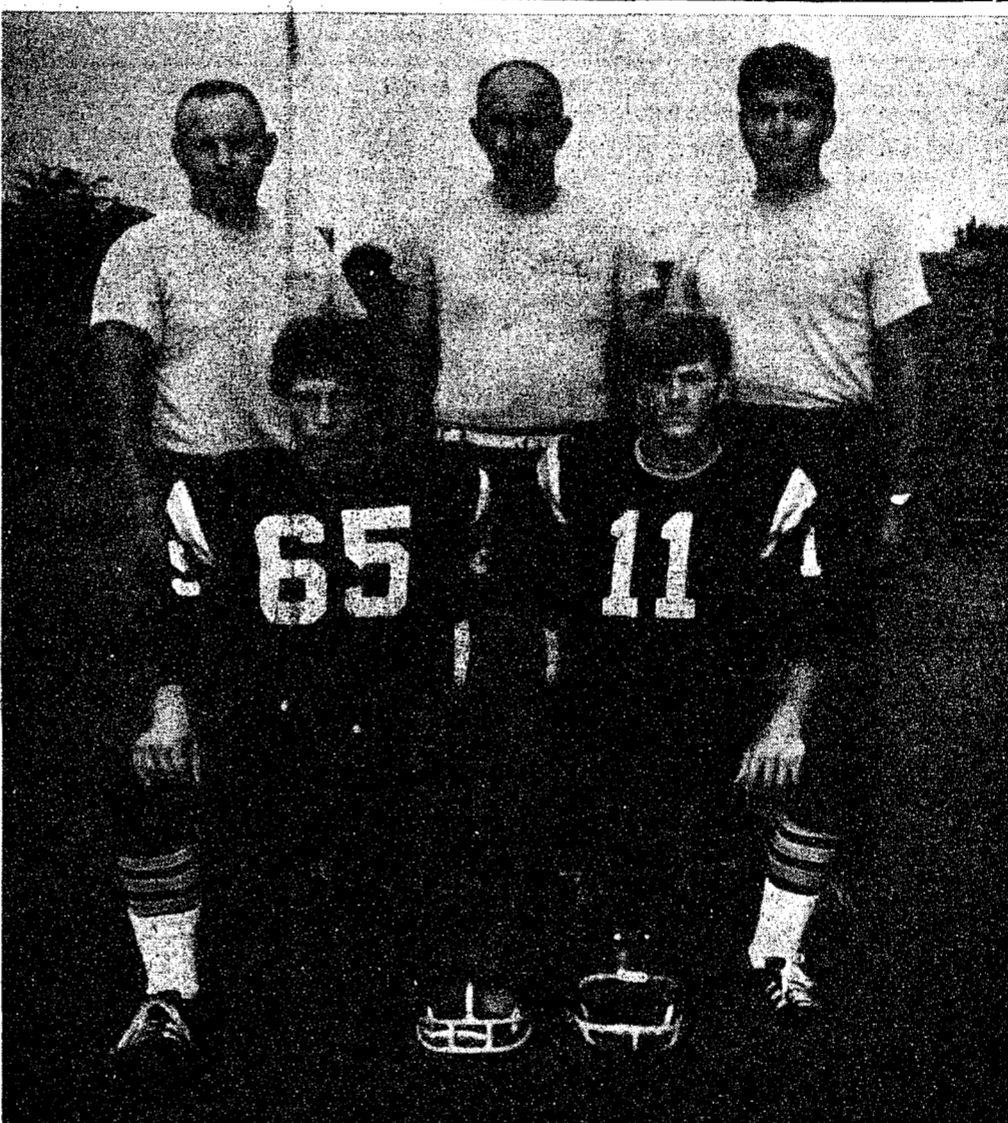

Early Sunday morning, however, White was rushed to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for emergency surgery on his liver. He is now in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Donald Conklin, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Conklin, 889 McKinley Rd., sustained multiple injuries Sunday, Sept. 5, when the car he was driving went out of control on Riker Rd., near the Inverness Golf Course.

Conklin apparently lost control of his 1971 Opel on a curve, at approximately 5 p.m. The car skidded off the road and crashed into a tree, pinning Conklin inside.

After he was freed from the car, he was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor with a broken leg, nose and facial lacerations.

Donald, a junior at Chelsea High school and a member of the football team, will be confined to the hospital for three months while his leg is in traction.

Last Chance for Band Uniforms

Members of the Chelsea High school band will have their last chance to pick up band uniforms this year Tuesday, Sept. 14 between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. in the uniform room at the high school.

Two New Doctors Join Chelsea Medical Clinic Staff

Recent additions to the growing staff of the Chelsea Medical Center are Dr. Dennis Burke, 41, a general practitioner, and Dr. William Hawks, 37, an ophthalmologist and the first specialist on the CMC staff.

Dr. Burke came to the Medical Center from Saline where he had a private practice since his graduation from the University of Michigan Medical school in 1962.

He interned at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn in 1961, and was team physician for the University of Michigan from 1962 until 1967.

Dr. Burke was the director of the Eastern Michigan University Health Center from 1967 to 1969, and was also concurrently director of the sports medical program there.

In 1970 he served as chief of admissions at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Burke considers Minneapolis, Minn., his home town, although his family moved to Ann Arbor during his adolescence. He attended University High school in Ann Arbor, graduating in 1946. He was a U.S. Army corpsman during the Korean conflict, and did his undergraduate work at both Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan.

He and his wife, Mary, and their three children currently live in Saline, but are looking for a home in Chelsea.

Dr. William Hawks worked with the Chelsea Medical Clinic on a part-time basis for approximately one year before becoming a full-time member of the staff this summer.

DR. WILLIAM HAWKS

An engineer turned ophthalmologist, Dr. Hawks has had a varied career in both fields.

He received a bachelor of science degree in engineering physics from Wayne State University in January, 1958, and worked as a missile systems engineer for four years following his graduation.

He was employed by Chrysler Corporation's Army Ballistics Missile Agency (ABMA) in Alabama following his graduation from Wayne as a specialist in inertia guidance systems on the first Explorer rockets sent to photograph the moon.

He worked in Italy and Turkey for two years as a systems engineer for the Jupiter missile system.

Following his return to the states, he attended University of Michigan Medical school from 1963 to 1967, completing a three-year residency program in ophthalmology between 1968 and 1971. He interned at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and is now a member of its staff.

Dr. Hawks has been the race track doctor at Michigan International Speedway for the last three years.

He grew up in the northwest corner lower peninsula, moving with his parents to Royal Oak where he attended high school.

Council Okays Electric System Improvement

The Chelsea Village Council took another step toward the conversion of Chelsea's electrical system from 2,400 to 4,160 volts Tuesday night by accepting the low bid of Michigan Electric, Inc., for the conversion of the system, and the erection of a new electrical sub-station.

Michigan Electric's bid of $143,063 will cover the cost of erecting the electrical sub-station purchased from Westinghouse earlier this year for $27,000, as well as the repair of existing lines and the installation of new power lines.

Work on the new sub-station, to be located on Garfield next to the Consumer's Power sub-station, is expected to begin within the next four to six weeks, according to Village Administrator Fritz Weber. The new system is expected to be fully operational sometime this winter.

The conversion of the system will provide better electrical service to Chelsea residents, relieve overloading conditions in extremely hot and cold weather, as well as greatly increase the number of electrical loops in Chelsea which allow power to be supplied from alternate directions in the event of a power failure.

Preliminary work on the conversion of the system began in January, 1970, and final engineering studies were authorized early this spring.

14-Year-Old Flees Police in Stolen Auto

A 14-year-old Chelsea youth led police from five agencies on a wild pre-dawn chase Thursday morning after stealing a car from the parking lot of a local apartment house.

The boy, described by Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck as "a chronic offender", stole a 1969 Fiat convertible belonging to Randy Brace, 533 N. Main, at approximately 1:22 a.m. Thursday.

Brace, who heard the car being started, immediately alerted police who began a search for the car.

The car was next seen speeding on W. Stadium Blvd. in Ann Arbor by an Ann Arbor police patrol. A chase began which led to US-23 where the car headed south.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies joined the chase at that point, and alerted officers from the Michigan State Police, the Monroe County Sheriff's Department and the villages of Milan and Dundee.

The youth was finally apprehended about 4 a.m. Thursday by Sheriff's Sgt. Eugene Ali and Deputy Gerald Alexander on US-23 near Willis Rd. in York township.

During the chase, the youth attained speeds of up to 120 mph, according to police officials. Deputy Alexander fired a single shot at the car during the chase after repeated attempts by the officers to wave the car over failed.

Finally Sgt. Ali forced the car to the side of the road, and the two officers then approached with drawn guns. When the Chelsea boy refused to get out of the locked car, Deputy Alexander smashed a window of the vehicle with his revolver.

The door was then opened and the youth dragged out. Officers said he continued to resist arrest, and a struggle ensued.

The boy is currently being held in the County Juvenile Detention home.

Chelsea police will petition juvenile court for a hearing on the theft charge, and Ann Arbor police will request a hearing from the court on charges of fleeing a police officer.

Congregational Pastor Leaving Chelsea Oct. 31

The Rev. Daniel Kelin, pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church, will be preaching his last sermon here Oct. 31.

Kelin, who came to Chelsea four years ago from DeWitt, has announced that he will be accepting the pastorate of the Ascutney, Vermont Union church this November, and hopefully will also work on his Doctorate in Ministry at Andover-Newton Theological School.

While Kelin regrets leaving Chelsea, he is excited about the challenge a new church will offer. He has changed pastorates about every four years thus far in his career, and intends to continue doing so. "It's the only way to fly," he joked.

Kelin, his wife and four children have resided at 211 E. Middle St. No successor to his post has been announced.

Local Officers Enter State Pistol Shoot

Five law enforcement officers from Chelsea will be competing in the Governor's Match pistol shooting competition—the largest bullseye target shooting match in the state—held in Jackson today.

Deputy Robert Acillo and seven other members of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will be competing in the Class C division of the match.

Four members of the Chelsea Police Department, Sgt. David McCormick and Patrolmen L. F. Schneider, Leonard McDougall and David Peebles will be entered in the Class E. Division of the competition.

The match, which draws more than 300 law enforcement officers from throughout the state, features both team and individual competition. The competition is divided into five classes, A through E, so that the officers are competing against men from departments of relatively equal size.

The match is held at the Jackson City Police Department's shooting range, and is usually run by members from an out-of-state law enforcement agency, enabling all Michigan law enforcement officers to participate. The match begins at 8 a.m., with individual competition lasting through the morning. Team competition begins at 1 p.m.

MAIN STREET, 1912: A collection of old Chelsea photographs—like this one taken from a 1912 post card—is being prepared for exhibit during the opening of the new Ann Arbor Federal Savings branch in Chelsea. The lighted, free-standing display will be donated to the village by Ann Arbor Federal, and will be available to schools and organizations following the initial display. Residents are asked to loan their old photographs of Chelsea to the Association so that they may be copied and possibly included in the exhibit. Photos should be given to the librarian in charge at the McKune Memorial Library, or mailed to Hazel Proctor, director of public relations, Ann Arbor Federal Savings, Main Office, Ann Arbor. Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

Congress regularly passes increased Social Security Benefits and makes other adjustments so that the golden years can be truly meaningful for our Senior Citizens. Even with such action, millions of our elderly Americans continue to live on the borderline of poverty. A great majority are employable in constructive jobs and desire the psychological and financial reward that come from holding such positions.

It is high time that Congress recognized that a piecemeal approach to the problems of our Senior Citizens is no longer acceptable. We must find new methods which will no longer say to them you must be dependent on your children on private charity and on public welfare. This is the time to move in new directions and create a national employment policy for the elderly so that those who are able and still desire to use their skills and talents can do so.

Recent statistics indicate that of the 40 million Americans 55 and over there are several million who are capable of full-time or part-time employment opportunities. Previous studies also point to several employment possibilities that are available in most communities where an elderly person in need of additional income could provide a needed service.

Some of these openings are available with public and private non-profit groups and include positions as teacher aides, hospital aides, recreation workers, and jobs in centers and in nursing homes. This type of job does not require a long and sustained period of training, but in most cases it is possible for on the job training.

The fact remains that an overwhelming majority of the millions of older Americans seeking such positions would bring to them the necessary background and skills that would enable them to quickly adjust and provide these necessary community services.

The need for such paraprofessional workers in a wide variety of community jobs has long been evident. Congress should immediately assess the possibility of some type of Federal program in co-operation with the local community agencies to provide such community service jobs. By creating this kind of partnership, I believe both the elderly and the communities across the nation would profit.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I saw this piece in the papers where this doctor at the University of California Medical School had studied suicides in cities where there was newspaper strikes, and when I got to the country store Saturday night I found out all the fellers had read the same report. The good doctor and his work got a look up one side and down the other.

Natural, Ed Doolittle bring clippings of the study that showed reading newspapers may be hazardous to your health. Suicides fell off 22 percent in Baltimore when the big papers didn't come out, in Detroit 28 percent fewer folks than average done themselves in, and in Seattle the rate dropped 43 percent.

Ed reported the doctor figured the papers may not be the country's leading cause of do-it-yourself death, but reading em must be about as dangerous a habit as smoking. What happens, the doctor said, is that all the news about crimes and violence and crooked government is bad for the value system. When you values go down, you're thinking on your own troubles and you're "potential fer self destructive behavior" goes up, Ed allowed.

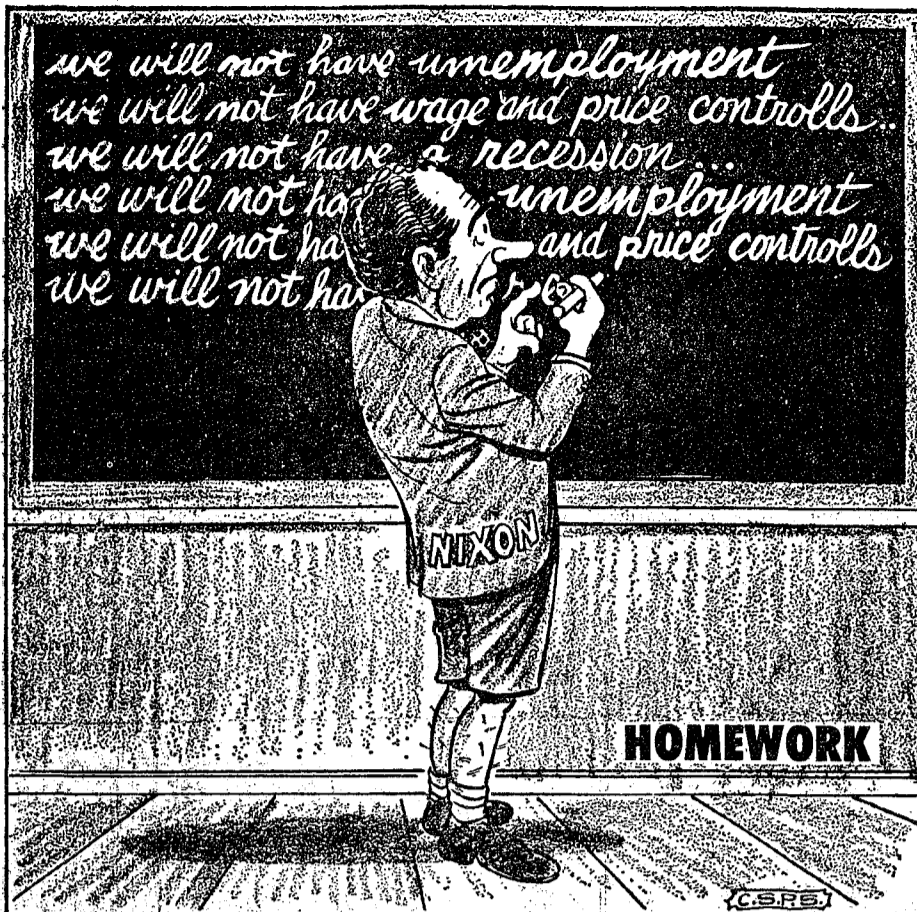

But Ed said he wanted it clear understood that he wasn't buying any of the doctor's ideas. First off, he said, the reason the feller found suicides went down when they wasn't no papers probable was because he couldn't find out about the suicides without the papers. Furthermore, went on Ed, blaming suicides on the papers is a backhanded way of saying that ignorance is bliss. It may be, but who wants it, was Ed's words.

Clem Webster was agreed with Ed, which was good news as our sessions go at the store. Clem said the reason we got newspapers is cause we'd rather know than not know. And Clem said he holds to the old line that the papers don't make the news, they just report it. If the papers weighed everything they print agin how happy it would make the reader, they'd be a heap of folks standing in line to give the editors a hand with their suicides, was Clem's words.

Zeke Trubb recollected back when they was this made up story on the radio about a invasion from Mars, and how people was throwing themselves off buildings to get away from the monsters from outer space. Zeke said the play actors told everybody it wasn't real, but the point is that people believe what they want to overtime. They is a heap of good news in the papers, went on Zeke, but folks rather skip on over to the killings and robbins.

Mister Editor, the fellers was general agreed that news is like the weather, it happens. The reporter may call it the threat of more rain or the promise of some rain, but it keeps on happening. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

HOME ON THE RANGE?
Forebearers of the camel roamed the North American plains 53 million years ago. Some of these proto-camels traveled west to Asia and Africa to become today two-humped Bactrians and one-humped dromedaries. Others went south to the Andes and evolved into llamas.

One House Gains

Nearly everyone dismissed the proposal as impossible last winter when state Rep. Joe Swallow of Alpena announced he was starting a drive to change Michigan from a two house to a one house legislature.

After all, only one state in the nation has a single house setup and that state—Nebraska—initiated its system back in 1945. There have been no followers.

Swallow also has to contend with the fact that many groups which might be favorably disposed to the change can't really do much for him. They have to deal with the current legislature and can't afford to offend lawmakers. Since Swallow's proposal would throw at least 72 lawmakers out of work by cutting the number of legislators to 76, it isn't very popular with most of his colleagues.

But the drive has begun picking up some steam and some observers are taking second and third looks at it.

Biggest shot in the arm by far came when the state Jaycees voted to back the drive at its state convention. The move means that a state-wide organization which has proven its ability to circulate petitions is now actively in the one house corner.

The Jaycees were instrumental in the petition drive which produced the constitutional convention 10 years ago. Rep. Jim Brown (R-East Lansing) was the first to join Swallow in supporting the unicameral concept. Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne (R-Manistee) was second. Swallow's resolution asking for a referendum on the unicameral legislature was introduced with the sponsorship of 19 representatives so the drive is picking up steam. Many lawmakers are privately worried that if the proposal does make it on the 1972 ballot a disgruntled public will approve it as a means of "getting even" with the lawmakers by insuring that at least 72 of them have to go job hunting.

State Sen. Basil Brown of Detroit voiced the fear on the floor of the Senate recently when he was complaining about the inaction of the legislature on the state budget for the current fiscal year. "We couldn't be doing Joe Swallow a bigger favor if we wanted to" he said. "Both houses of this two house legislature are sitting around doing nothing. The voters may decide that if two houses do nothing one house can do nothing just as easily."

The drive of course still has a long way to go and is far from being successful. The point is that it isn't dead yet and that in itself is a strong indication the idea is hitting a responsive note with a lot of voters.

Branches Shrinking

The legislature inadvertently helped provide for the eventual end of the branch offices which for years have sold license plates for the Secretary of State's office. It approved the use of checks to pay for license plates earlier this year.

Result of this action will be that the party which holds the Secretary of State's office—that has meant the Democrats for years—is going to lose more than $100,000 a year in donations.

Prior to this year, license plates had to be purchased by cash. Thus everyone had to go in person to a branch office to purchase his or her motor vehicle license plates.

Now that checks can be used, the Secretary of State's office has instituted a plan allowing license plate buyers to mail the check directly to the Secretary of State. The prepared applications for all persons who currently own motor vehicles will be mailed out shortly and the deadline for returning this will be Dec. 31.

Secretary of State Richard Austin says the mail plan will probably result in an annual reduction of 15 percent in the sales volume of branch offices. Since the branch managers are paid a commission on each plate sold, that means eventually the position of branch manager will be financially unprofitable.

Metal Road

The Highway department has been carrying on a steady campaign recently against the use of metal studded tires in Michigan.

The tires, department researchers say, do millions of dollars of damage to state roads each year while not providing much additional traction for drivers who use them. It had been assumed that one state highway—M-185—would have been immune from the damage. The highway is eight miles long and runs around Mackinac Island which bans all motor vehicles.

But the department now says that even that highway is being damaged by metal. The metal is on the shoes of the horses on the island. The horses' shoes were "shod with rubber horseshoes" but now use shoes with metal studs to that used with metal studded tires.

County GOP Ox Roast Slated Sunday

Washtenaw County Republicans will be holding their annual Ox Roast Sunday, Sept. 12 at Delhi Park.

Over 2,000 GOP supporters, including Senator Robert Griffin and Representative Marvyn Esch, and most of the state representatives from the area, are expected to turn out for the gala event.

The Ox Roast will get under way at 12 p.m., and will feature a prime rib dinner, booths, games, activities for children, and of course, informal political discussion.

Tickets may be purchased before the event at reduced prices. They may be picked up at or ordered from, Republican Party Headquarters, 2255 S. Industrial Highway, Ann Arbor. Tickets may also be purchased at the park.

Thursday Sept. 14 1967—The bulldogs open their football season at home this Friday when they meet Stockbridge at 7:30 p.m. In a tight game last year at Stockbridge the Panthers edged the Bulldogs 6 to 0. Co-captains for the year are Mike Lehmann and Larry Gaken. Head Coach Phil Bareis said that the team is in excellent condition but that it lacks depth.

Varsity Cheerleaders this year are: Lois Bolton, Terri Boyer, Debbie Weiss, Denise Houle, Nancy Parker and Becky Alber. JV cheerleaders are: Chris Taylor, Martha Ewald, Jacquie Bailey, Pam Arnett, Gina Funderburgh, and Eileen Bristle.

Faced with objections from about 20 concerned citizens, the Chelsea Board of Education has reversed its decision to charge a $5 towel fee for physical education students. The board had attempted to impose the fee (which would have been used for clean towels to be issued after each physical education class) to end problems with dirty towels and stolen towels occurring each year.

Students will still bring their towels from home. Linda Merkel and Bob Peterson represented the 40 members of the Chelsea Teen Democratic Club at the bi-annual convention of Teen Democrats. The convention was held in Detroit at the Hotel Ponchartraine, Sept. 8-10.

A stray sunflower that sprang up from last year's seeds has produced approximately 100 blooms and buds. The sunflower, which is over seven feet tall, is owned by A. J. Sexton. He'll be able to harvest lots of sunflower seeds this year.

Employees of Chelsea Products, Inc., who are members of UAW Local 437, went on strike Friday afternoon because of a dispute involving the company's discharge of a worker. Picketing began after 96 of the union's 104 members voted in favor of the strike.

The Chelsea Marching Band will play at the annual Band Day in Ann Arbor, Oct. 5, during halftime festivities at the U-M-University of Georgia football game. The Chelsea band will be part of the "world's largest band," made up of some 12,000 musicians from more than 190 Michigan high schools. Sharon Smyser, Virginia Miller, Ruth Prentice, Barbara Hoffman, Jon Harris, Byron Pearson and Donna Walz were chosen as "right guides" for the event during the last week. The right guides establish the alignment of the rank with which they're marching.

Seven Chelsea hunters will be among the 150 hunters from across the state chosen by lot to participate in the second annual bear hunt sponsored by the MUCO in the Deadstream area of Missaukee county this year. On hand for the hunt will be: Frederick Belser, James Park, Roland Spaulding, Claude Isham, Wilfred Lane, and Bob Walz.

Four members of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club plan to attend the 1947 convention of the Michigan Kiwanis to be held Sept. 14-19 in Lansing. Planning to attend the meeting are: the Rev. W. H. Skentelbury, president of the club; Dr. P. Sharrard, Paul F. Niehaus, and H. T. Moore, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Chelsea club, respectively.

A new Michigan law effective this year provides that all boys and girls in our state must attend school until their 16th birthday.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday Sept. 9 1937—

Central Fibre Products Co. has just completed improvements to four sections of the building known as the saw-tooth. A complete new roof was placed on the sections and new glass was installed in the windows. This improvement provides 4,000 additional feet of floor space and gives the company a total area of 12,000 square feet. Two twisting machines were moved from Detroit to the local plant last week.

The last of a series of summer band concerts presented by the Chelsea high school band will be played at the intersection of Main and Middle Sts., at 8 p.m. Saturday. Following the custom established in previous programs, the concert will consist of a variety of compositions. The element of novelty will be introduced through the use of "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "Old MacDonald Had a Farm."

The American Legion Auxiliary met Tuesday evening in Kolb's hall for the first meeting of the year, which was also their annual meeting. A report on the district meeting held July 11 was given by Mrs. Julius Eisele. Mrs. Paul Maroney reported on the state convention held in Detroit in August. (Continued on page three)

The chief result of arguments is disturbance of the disputants.

There will be some new faces among the teaching staff at Chelsea High school this fall. Joining the faculty this year are:

Miss Teresa Aeschliman, a 1970 graduate of Michigan State University. Miss Aeschliman taught this past year at Traverse City, and will teach home economics during the first semester while Mrs. Reddeman is recuperating from surgery.

Mrs. Susan (Hines) Craig, a graduate of Chelsea High school and Eastern Michigan University, will start her teaching career this fall. She will teach English and art.

Miss Laurie Hartman has taught for the past two years at Flint Northern High school. A 1968 graduate of Central Michigan University, Miss Hartman will teach art.

Mrs. Martha (Buhr) Hahn is re-joining the OHS faculty this year. A graduate of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Hahn taught English at CHS during the 1967-68 school year, leaving to accompany her husband on his tour of Army duty. She will again teach English.

Mrs. Terry Kamler, a 1971 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, will teach art and French. Mark Ruhlig, a graduate of Dexter High school and Michigan State University, will start his teaching career this year. A teacher of agriculture, Ruhlig has been working since July 1 with the summer agriculture activities.

Thieves Busy Last Week

Thieves were at work in the area during the past week with reports of the theft of two English saddles worth $480 being stolen from the home of Daniel McCarthy, 2845 Scio-Church Rd. in Lodi township. The property was removed from the basement of the home but no forced entry evidence could be found, according to Sheriff's deputies.

A motor valued at $250 was stolen from a boat at a dock on Base Lake in Webster township. The motor was owned by Frederick Ream of Detroit.

Thieves kicked in a window to gain entry to Elmer's Place, a store at North Lake in Dexter township, and fled with $42 in cash.

New Doctors...

Although he and his wife, Beverly, and their two children have only recently moved to Chelsea, he says he now considers it his home town. Excited about his association with the CMG he said, "this is a wonderful group, I'm really happy to be in practice here."

Old Photographs Wanted To Be Included in Display

Mrs. Edwin Eaton and Mrs. Frederick Wagner are spearheading a drive for the collection of old photographs of Chelsea which will be made into a permanent display for the village. The display, which will be free-standing, lighted and portable, is being created by and will be donated to the village by Ann Arbor Federal Savings.

"We invite everyone who has any early photographs of the village, its former citizens, early businesses, school pictures, street scenes, etc., to submit them for possible inclusion in our display," said Mrs. Wagner. "The more pictures we have to select from, the more comprehensive our collection."

Each photo will be copied by Sam Sturgis, Ann Arbor photographer who specializes in copying old photographs. Sturgis urges persons to submit even the dimmest photos and those that may have turned brown.

By copying and enlarging an old photo he is often able to brighten and bring out details that seem lost.

All photos will be handled with the greatest of care, and returned to the owner within two weeks of submission.

Anyone submitting a photo is asked to identify the persons, places, and time of the photo, if possible.

Photos should be given to Mrs. Kathleen Bernath, or the librarian in charge, at the McKune Memorial Library, 221 S. Main, or sent to Mrs. Hazel Proctor, director of public relations, Ann Arbor Federal Savings, Main Office, Ann Arbor.

The finished display will be in the custody of the McKune Memorial Library, but will be made available for loan to schools and organizations after the initial display during the opening of the new Chelsea office of Ann Arbor Federal Savings. Booklets of the photographs will also be available during the Chelsea Branch opening later this year.

Area Historical Society Plans Sept. 16 Meet

The Dexter Area Historical Society will meet Thursday Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph School on Dover St.

The Constitution and by-laws will be read for approval by the society and officers nominated by a committee will also be approved to fill the offices for this club year only. A short discussion of future events will also be given.

A special tribute will be paid to some descendants of early pioneer families and a documentary film released through the Historical Society of Michigan will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

Any person interested in the history of the townships of Dexter, Lima, Scio, or Webster or the Village of Dexter and the preservation of its historical sites and objects is most welcome to join the society. Dues are as follows: student $1.50; individual $5; family $5; business or professional $10; patron $25 or more.

The following members were elected to office for the coming year: Mrs. S. W. Schenk, president; Mrs. E. W. Eaton, first vice-president; Mrs. John Hummel, second vice-president; Mrs. James Park, secretary; Mrs. Merle Barr, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Maroney, historian; Mrs. Clare Rowe, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Elmer Schiller, chaplain. Installation of officers will take place Oct. 5.

The newly organized Kiwanis club of Dexter has issued invitations for their charter night celebration. The banquet will be held Sept. 21.

New rules governing the issuance of driver's licenses will be formulated during the month by representatives of the state's law enforcement agencies. New mental and physical examinations will be worked out.

Washtenaw 4-H Livestock Judging Team Wins State

Dan Baldus and Mark Engle of Dexter were members of the senior 4-H livestock judging team from the county named best overall team over 14 other competitors at the Michigan State Fair last Tuesday.

Other members of the team coached by Bill Lutz of Saline are Mary Alice Girbach and Ken Feldkamp also of Saline. Assisting Lutz were Gary Girbach, Nancy Dumble and Martha Zeob.

The Washtenaw county team will represent the state in national competition at the Chicago Livestock Exposition in late November.

In the junior division, Washtenaw county's team comprised of Sharon Dumble, Bob Baldus, Steve Baldus, and Karen Baldus placed third.

Sharon Dumble was named the top individual in the beef judging division. Senior team member Mary Alice Girbach placed fifth in individual judging.

If your home is brick, stucco or concrete, or has asbestos shingle siding, give it the protection and beauty of Dutch Boy NALCRETE. This new and different finish has a tough film that keeps water out, yet "breathes" to prevent peeling or blistering. Rain cleans it off, refreshes the handsome colors. So easy to apply, too—with brush, roller or by spray.

Horse Census

Counts 171,005 In Michigan

East Lansing—There are a lot of horses and their relatives in Michigan — 1,005 horses, ponies, mules and donkeys to be exact. And Washtenaw county claims 6,066 of them. Oakland 9,517 and Jackson 4,850. Oakland is the only county in Michigan with more horses than Washtenaw.

Those are totals revealed in the county-by-county equine census taken during August by more than 11,000 4-H club members and leaders throughout the state.

The survey was undertaken by the Michigan Co-Operative Extension Service at the request of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the wake of an outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) in Texas. The disease causes sleeping sickness in horses and other equine species. It can infect man, although the attack does not usually have serious consequences.

"Knowing the number of equine in the state was necessary to insure that enough vaccine would be available in case an outbreak of VEE should occur here," said Jake Wanhoff assistant to the state extension director. "We decided the best way to undertake the survey was to mobilize our 4-H members under extension field staff supervision. They did a fine job."

Wanhoff pointed out that the survey was more accurate than any previous attempt. Most experts figured the current horse population at about 100,000.

"In the past equine counts included only those animals on farms," he said. "Animals counted in this census took in those on farms as well as those on premises classified as rural, non-farm, riding stables, zoos, parks, race tracks, and other locations."

According to veterinarians at Michigan State University there are still no confirmed cases of VEE in horses outside of Texas. Recent casualty figures there showed 1,480 horses dead and another 1,800 sick.

"About 20 states have begun vaccinating their horses," said Dr. Oscar Swanson extension specialist in veterinary medicine at Michigan State University.

"Most recently vaccination has begun in Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina, and North Carolina. Once a horse is vaccinated it is under quarantine for 14 days and may not be moved to another area during that time."

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I haven't had so much fun since I cleaned the oven!"

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

How often do you express a doubt? How often do you have doubts about your abilities or doubts about other people? It is healthy and wise to have doubts at times about certain things, but when doubts become chronic and cloud simple reasoning, then doubting has deteriorated to a sickness of skepticism.

We see men of poise and serenity; we see them with all the trappings of faith and dignity and we doubt whether these men ever have a doubt about anything. They seem so sure of themselves. But they too have doubts at times.

To doubt is only human. This was true from the days of the Psalmists to and through the days of Thomas and is true today. When we find ourselves gripped with uncertainty, we are bound to have doubts. But promiscuous doubting should not be.

Doubts torment us only because we have too little faith. This is true whether it applies to people, science, religion or anything else. Obviously then, the best way to reduce doubts is to increase faith. Sounds simple? It is... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Plea for Additional Vocational Education Urged by Professional

Public schools in the United States have concentrated too strongly on the 45 percent of the students who will eventually graduate from college, and not enough on those who must market their high school educations count in the job market.

This was the sentiment of Dr. Jack Michie, state vocational education director, speaking at Michigan State University.

"We should never allow a young person to leave school without the skills he needs to go to work if he chooses," he told 200 vocational agriculture teachers at MSU's Kellogg Center.

Hard work is probably a good thing for mankind but there are many who want very little of it.

She is survived by three sons, Raymond and Eldon C., both of Dexter, and Leonard B. of Pinkney; two daughters, Mrs. Stephen (Viola) Slane of Chelsea, and Mrs. Kenneth (Inez) Anselvy of Whitmore Lake; 29 grandchildren and 59 great-grandchildren.

Two children, Mrs. Carl Davison and Donald L. Jones, preceded her in death.

Cerebral Vocabulary Needs Interpretation

"Three terms to look for on a package are 'whole grain,' 'restored and enriched,'" says Ada Shinnabarger, Michigan State University food information agent.

"When the package promises 'whole grain,' it tells you that the cereal contains all the nutrients of the whole, unprocessed grain, Miss Shinnabarger explains.

"If the cereal is 'restored,' it means the nutrients lost in the processing have been put back in their original proportions.

"When cereal is 'enriched,' more vitamins and minerals than were originally present have been added to the product, Miss Shinnabarger explains.

It's up to the fault-finder to propose a remedy for the ills he discovers.

Bus Transportation Policy, Rules Told

Fred Mills, business manager for the Chelsea schools, reminds parents and students in the Chelsea School District of the "Pupil Transportation Policy" adopted by the school board last year.

The policy, which governs bus etiquette and safety rules, states:

"The transportation of pupils is a matter which involves many factors, but the safety of all pupils is more important than any other factor."

"Drivers of our buses have attended safety meetings in the state and are fully informed about safe procedures and regulations in connection with bus transportation. They are extremely anxious to avoid accidents and to make the service satisfactory for all concerned. The drivers have an important part to play in the program, but equally important is that of the pupils riding on the buses."

"Each pupil should be interested in the safety of himself and of the other members of the group, and the complete co-operation of all is necessary. The following list of items is given so that all may understand the problems and the procedures to be followed in the buses:

"Pupils must obey bus drivers promptly as they are in full charge of buses while in transit, transfer, loading or unloading. Students who do not respond to the bus driver's requests will lose their rights to ride the bus."

"Pupils should stay off the roadway at all times while waiting for buses."

"Pupils should cross in front of a bus when crossing a highway, not in back of a bus."

"They should wait until the bus has come to a stop before attempting to enter or leave the bus."

"They should keep their hands and heads inside the bus at all times."

"There should be no moving around or changing of seats on buses."

"There should be no loud talking, but conversation or singing in normal tones is permissible."

"Any student causing trouble by teasing, pulling hair, scuffling, or using unfit language will be warned, and on a second offense, suspended from riding."

"Throwing articles of any kind in a bus is more dangerous than anything else, and it will not be tolerated."

"Any damage to a bus should be reported to the driver at once."

"Any student disfiguring or mutilating a bus will be required to pay for the damage, and will be denied further use of buses."

"Pupils should keep buses clean, sanitary and orderly."

"Pupils may have to walk as far as one-half to one mile to bus stops if necessary."

"Students will not be allowed to eat on the buses."

"Pupils are expected to co-operate with monitors."

"Complete quiet must be observed in the bus when approaching a railroad crossing."

"Any student living in the Chelsea School District is entitled to transportation without charge to and from school if: 1) He lives outside the village limits and he is physically unable to walk to school. 2) If traffic and road conditions have been declared unusually hazardous."

"Stations and bus routes have been established by the superintendent of schools and the bus manager with reference to road conditions, student convenience, safety and economy of operation. Stations and routes are subject to change as conditions warrant, due notice being given."

"Drivers have authority to dis-charge from the bus only at home or at school any student or students who do not co-operate and behave as ladies and gentlemen."

"In the event that buses do not run because of snow, ice, etc., the announcement will be made over radio stations WJR, WOL, and WPAG."

Most Major League Players Have Amateur Experience

Detroit — An aspiring baseball player can reach the major leagues without any experience in organized amateur leagues, but the statistics are not in his favor.

That is the inescapable conclusion to be drawn from a recent poll of the baseball backgrounds of the Tigers, all but one of whom participated in at least one amateur program.

The survey showed that 21 of the Detroit players played baseball in high school, while 16 got early starts toward a professional career in Little League programs, and an equal number played American Legion baseball.

Six of the Tigers were collegiate stars; seven participated in Babe Ruth League, four in Pony League and one in Connie Mack League programs.

The only Tiger without experience in an amateur league is Third Baseman Aurelio Rodriguez, a Mexican who played on the sandlots of his hometown, Cananea, before signing a professional contract.

Jim Northrup and Joe Niekro have the widest amateur backgrounds among the Tigers. They played in Little League, Pony and Babe Ruth Leagues in addition to the American Legion, high school and college baseball.

The poll also revealed that two Tigers from Texas—Pitcher Bill Gilebreth and First Baseman Norm Cash—were stars on the diamond in college even though they did not play baseball in high school.

In addition to the Texans and Rodriguez, Mike Kilkenny was not a prep baseball player. The Canadian southpaw did, however, have the benefit of participating in the extensive amateur programs north of the border.

Tigers with experience in various amateur baseball programs:

Little League — Ed Brinkman, Gates Brown, Ike Brown, Les Cain, Dean Chance, Joe Coleman, Bill Deney, Bill Freehan, Bill Gilebreth, Willie Horton, Dalton Jones, Dick McAuliffe, Joe Niekro, Jim Northrup, Jim Price and Fred Scherman.

—ony League — Gilebreth, Niekro, Northrup and Mickey Stanley.

Colt League — Gilebreth and Stanley.
High School — Brinkman, G. Brown, I. Brown, Cain, Chance, Coleman, Deney, Freehan, Cesar Gutierrez, Horton, Jones, Kaline, Lolich, McAuliffe, Niekro, Northrup, Price, Scherman, Stanley, Tony Taylor and Tom Timmerman.
College — Norm Cash, Gilebreth, Freehan, Niekro, Northrup and Timmerman.

VINTAGE YEAR FOR PLYMOUTH DUSTER

ONE OF OUR BEST YEARS.

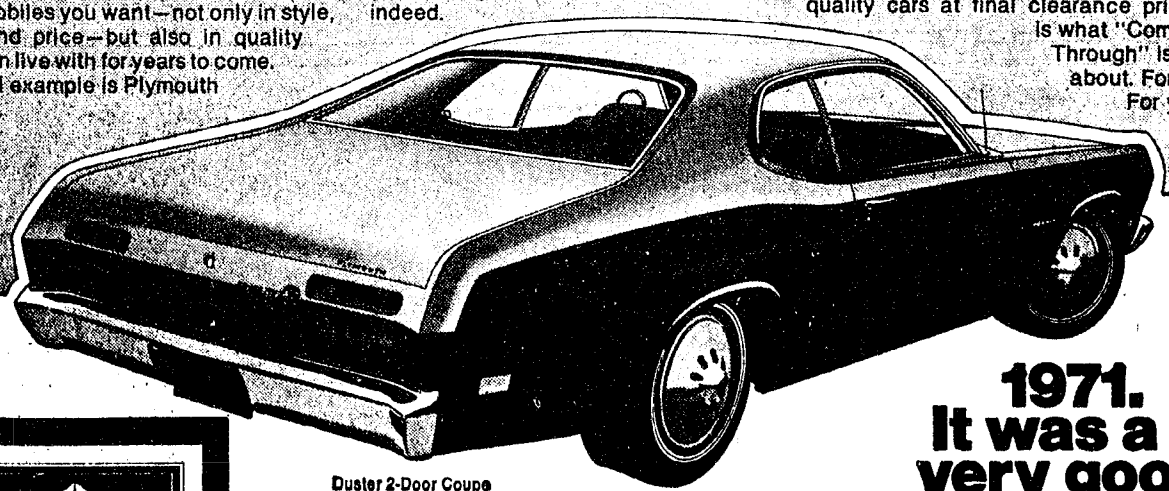

It takes something special to come up with a Vintage Year. But that's what '71 has been for Chrysler-Plymouth. Everything—from drawing board to final assembly—has come together in great fashion. We like to think our slogan "Coming Through" had a lot to do with it, because it's more than a phrase. It's a pledge, a dedication to one purpose: To come through for you with the kind of automobiles you want—not only in style, size and price—but also in quality you can live with for years to come. A good example is Plymouth Duster.

ECONOMY CAN BE BEAUTIFUL, TOO.

Plymouth Duster is a rare breed of economy car. Rare, because in this day of rising interest in little cars, Duster comes through small enough for easy handling and good gas mileage, big enough for families with baggage. Now add Duster's high resale value (a leader in its class, along with other Plymouth compacts), and you have a rare breed of economy car indeed.

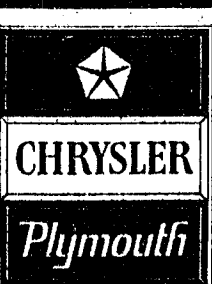

NOW, A GREAT SELECTION COMING THROUGH FINAL CLEARANCE PRICED.

While some years are good car years, '71 has been a Vintage Year for Chrysler-Plymouth. Quality shines and shows in every line. A drive in a Plymouth Duster or Satellite, Plymouth Fury, Barracuda or Chrysler, will prove how our '71 models have come through. Check our great selection. We think you'll agree: quality cars at final clearance prices is what "Coming Through" is all about. For us, For you.

County Support Loan Rates Announced for '71 Crop Corn

Basic county support loan and purchase rates for 1971 crop corn have been announced. Here in Washtenaw county the rate is $1.10 per bushel.

There are no changes from the 1970 loan and purchase rates. However for the 1971 crop loan rates will be made available on a county "where stored" basis instead of "where produced" as for prior years' crops. This action is intended to encourage the flow of corn into the principal consuming areas.

The county loan rates are based on a national average loan level of $1.08 per bushel (No. 2 basis) announced Dec. 8, 1970. County rates vary throughout the nation because of historic difference in locations and prices.

Variations in local corn prices are caused by such factors as changing trends in producing and utilization, transportation, and others. A review of these factors and of local operations of the support program is made each year prior to establishing the county loan rates.

Premiums and discounts for 1971 crop corn will be unchanged from those in effect for the past several years.

Participants in the 1971 voluntary feed grain program are eligible for loans and set-aside payments for corn. The 1971 preliminary payment is 32 cents per bushel.

As stated on Jan. 7 in Commodity Credit corporation's 1971-

72 sales policy announcement, the unrestricted use corn sales price for October 1971 basis in-store interior positions No. 2 with 15d through 15.5 percent moisture will be the market price but not less than the 1971 county loan rate where stored plus 21 1/2 cents per bushel plus transit value if any. For corn in-store port positions the unrestricted use price will be the market price but not less than the following fixed prices: Duluth Superior $1.35 1/2; East Coast $1.47 1/2; Gulf $1.46 1/2. Carrying charges in addition to those included in the foregoing markups and prices will be added commencing in February 1972 and ending July 1972 at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per month.

Teen-Ager Sought As Suspect in Scio Home Burglaries

A teenage boy seen fleeing from a Scio township house is being sought by sheriff's deputies as a suspect in the burglary of three homes in the area.

Officers said the home of Randall Ziesner, 4261 Ann Arbor Rd., Hilda Kurtz, 4861 Ann Arbor Rd., and Sam Johnson, 4269 Ann Arbor Rd., were entered by someone who broke glass in doors and reached inside to unlock the doors. A resident of the area saw a youth running from the Johnson house.

All three houses were ransacked, but losses were confined to five silver dollars taken from the Kurtz home, according to deputies.

Ram Sale Day Slated at MSU

The annual Ram Sale Day sponsored by the Michigan Sheep Breeder's Association in co-operation with the Animal Husbandry Department at Michigan State University will be held at the MSU Beef Cattle Barn in East Lansing on Wednesday, Sept. 15. Purebred sheep breeders will assemble more than 100 top quality rams and offer them for sale.

All rams will be inspected, weighed and priced and penned by breeders. This procedure makes it possible for buyers to look at large selections of rams from some of the best flocks in the state with a minimum of time and travel. It is becoming an increasingly popular place for flock owners to select a ram.

The offering will include yearling and two-year-old rams from the more common breeds as well as a few outstanding ram lambs that have met rigid weight requirements. The rams will be for sale from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The use of a good ram is one of the first steps toward increased income from a flock. The cost of a good ram is a very small item per lamb when spread over a two-year period. It is easily paid for by an increase of as little as one or two pounds in weight of lambs sold.

Any class listed in the brochure which does not appear on the time schedule of courses is a spring semester class and times will be published for those courses at the end of the current semester.

Save the brochure which outlines the course you are interested in and watch for further times and dates.

If all homes were the same there'd be only one kind of electric heating system.

Homes are as different as the people who live in them — so just one type of electric heating system won't do. These are the more widely used kinds.

1. CENTRAL WARM AIR FURNACE Very compact. In it are electric heat coils through which air is propelled by the blower. For the best job yet of air cleansing, install an electrostatic filter.
2. HOT WATER HEAT Hot water from an electric boiler circulates to shielded radiators that look like baseboard. The boiler is small enough to hang on a wall or suspend from floor joists.
3. BASEBOARD UNITS These are installed along outside walls to provide a curtain of warm air between room occupants and the walls and windows. Temperature in each room is thermostatically controlled, independent of any other room.
4. HEATING CABLE Electrically insulated wire makes a grid across a ceiling; is fastened in place before finish plaster is applied. The entire ceiling becomes a radiator. Paint or decorate it as usual.
5. RADIANT PANELS Like the sun, they transmit heat by radiation. Panels are mounted on walls or ceiling. Heat radiates from such large areas that surface temperature of the panels need not be high.

With such variety, there are few heating problems which cannot be solved with electric heat. An Edison-approved electric heat dealer will survey your home; recommend the proper equipment; quote on installation; estimate your annual operating cost. No obligation, of course.

Child's Wardrobe Requires Study of Garment's Purpose

"Whether expensive or inexpensive it's possible to find good buys in children's clothes. The trick is to choose the quality you want in relation to the purpose the garment will serve," says Mrs. Helen Fairman, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service.

Mrs. Fairman says that the price of garments is affected by fashion, the type of store where you shop, special fabric finishes, and brand names. Some brand names cost more but are worth the extra cost in guaranteed performance.

The price range for staple clothes such as underwear, play-clothes, and jeans is narrower than for clothes considered "fashion goods" she added.

She suggests that children's personalities influence clothing selection in the same way that adult selection are affected by personality. What other children are wearing is important also.

"Clothes that children dislike don't get much wear and so they are a poor investment," the home economist pointed out.

A few mix and match separates in a child's wardrobe extend service. A few well-styled garments rather than many less satisfactory can perform better.

Size is another consideration. Because brands vary in size, the home economist stresses the need to try clothes on the child and be sure size, cut and style are right. Clothes that are too large, look clumsy, or bulky and, by the time the child grows into them, they may be faded and worn.

"Look for clothing design that adjusts itself more easily to growth," Mrs. Fairman advises. Features that allow some growth include such things as undefined waistlines, raglan or kimono sleeve long tails on shirts and blouses and tight cuffs or bands stretch or knit fabrics two-piece garments and deep hems on cuffs.

Fashion Notes

Pants suits are smart when the jacket and pants are made of the same material. The jackets should cover the hips.

Very full pants suits of materials such as satin or chiffon are for evening wear.

Many girls are buying pants which harmonize with mini-garments that they own. They wear the mini-dresses over the pants and have an up-to-date costume.

For And About Teenagers

HE SAYS HE LIKES
ME BECAUSE I KNOW
HOW IMPORTANT HIS FREEDOM IS...

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

"I have a problem. I've known this man for several months. I love him very much but I don't know if he loves me. Once (after a big argument) he said he loved me. I've never told him how I feel. He says he likes me a lot, and that I'm good for him. He says if I left him he would be hurt, but he wouldn't try to stop me. We aren't going steady or engaged but neither of us dates anyone else. He says he knows how important my freedom is. And he likes me because I know how important his freedom is. He says he might find another girl and leave me, but we would still be friends. I think he loves me and is afraid to admit it. I don't want to lose him, but not knowing where I stand is breaking my heart. Should I stay with him or find someone else?"

OUR REPLY: You should know where you stand. He likes you a lot. One of the reasons he likes you is that you have so far posed no threat to his "freedom." It's a pretty safe bet that, should you become too serious and begin to talk about taking his freedom away from him, he will lose no time finding that other girl.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

DIET & DISEASE

San Diego, Calif. — R. D. McCracken, anthropologist at the University of California, has reported that starch-heavy diets often give man degenerative diseases. He said that man is basically a meat-and-fruit animal and the eating of too many carbohydrates brings on diseases when they are converted into sugars which upset delicate body processes.

Seniors Given Handbook on College Life

Chelsea's St. Paul United Church of Christ has presented each of its graduating high school seniors with a copy of the 26th annual edition of the Going-to-College Handbook.

The handbook's vocational theme this year centers around ecology, with discussions by Russell E. Train, chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality; U. S. Senator Clifford P. Case; Edward C. Logelin, midwest vice-president of U. S. Steel, and others.

Another article in the handbook by Donald A. Crosby, associate professor of philosophy at Colorado State University, challenges the belief that violence gets results in a way that other tactics cannot. His opinion is that violence is largely counter-productive, and he offers a series of alternatives on "a roughly incremental scale" from voting to civil disobedience.

Other topics discussed in the handbook this year are women's liberation, dormitory living trends, college size and student development, faculty-student communications, choosing a major, and holding on to significant beliefs.

Med Schools Replacing Old Hippocratic Oath

Dr. Michael Papo, director of the Chelsea Medical Center, welcomes the change many medical school graduating classes are making from the traditional Hippocratic Oath to the Prayer of Maimonides—and not only because he is a direct descendant of the 11th century Spanish philosopher-physician Moses ben Maimon, originator of the prayer.

The taking of an oath at the time of their graduation from medical school has been common among doctors for centuries. And the oath most commonly taken has been that of Hippocrates, 5th century Greek physician who is credited with founding the bases of modern medical practice.

A portion of the Hippocratic oath states: "I will neither give a deadly drug to anybody if asked for it, nor will I make a suggestion to this effect. Similarly I will not give to a woman an abortive remedy. In purity and holiness I will guard my life and my art."

While the majority of medical schools still use the Hippocratic oath either in its original or modified forms, the search for relevance and a more modern view of medical obligation in the 20th century has led a few medical schools away from Hippocratic oath.

Dr. Papo feels that the prayer of Maimonides provides both an anchor in tradition and a modern, humanistic statement of responsibility for today's doctors. general than the Hippocratic oath says, in part:

"The prayer, which is more... May the love for my art actuate me at all times. May (nothing) make me forgetful of my lofty aim of doing good to Thy children."

"May I never see in the patient anything but a fellow creature in pain."

"Grant me strength, time and opportunity always to correct what I have acquired, always to extend its domain; for knowledge is immense and the spirit of man can extend indefinitely to enrich itself daily with new requirements."

"Oh, God, Thou has appointed me to watch over the life and death of Thy creatures; here am I ready for my vocation and now I turn unto my calling."
