Reduced Price School Lunches To Be Available

School children unable to pay the full price for school lunches will be eligible for free or reduced price lunches this year, according to Charles Cameron, superintendent of the Chelsea School District.

The Chelsea Board of Education unanimously approved state guidelines for the free and reduced price lunches based on family size and income, at its special Monday meeting.

Under the guidelines, children in a family of four would be eligible for free school lunches if the family income was $3,940 or less a year. The scale covers families of all sizes, and is printed in its entirety elsewhere in this paper.

Families falling in the income scales, or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches. Application forms will be sent home in a letter to parents, and will be available at all school principals' offices. Information on the completed forms will be confidential, and will be used only to determine a child's eligibility for the program. Children participating in the program will not be identified.

Preparations for the 1972 Chelsea Community Chest campaign, which opens Oct. 10, are now getting underway. The Community Chest board has announced a goal of $26,007 for this year's two-week drive, an increase of approximately 4.6 percent over last year's goal of $24,850.

The Community Chest helps support 47 organizations and programs including the Michigan United Fund, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Red Cross, Chelsea Social Service, the Recreation Commission, the Blood bank program, the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children, the Salvation Army, Huron Valley Child Guidance, Catholic Social Service, the High School band, and the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Campaign chairman this year is James E. Hoffmeyer who succeeds Gary Albrecht, chairman of the Community Chest Board as head of the drive. Last year's school employee division chairman, Hoffmeyer is now in his second year on the Community Chest Board.

Hoffmeyer has lived in Chelsea for 12 years and teaches junior high school science at Beach Middle school. He has a BA degree from Albion College, a master's degree in secondary education from the University of Michigan and a master's degree in general science from Oregon State University.

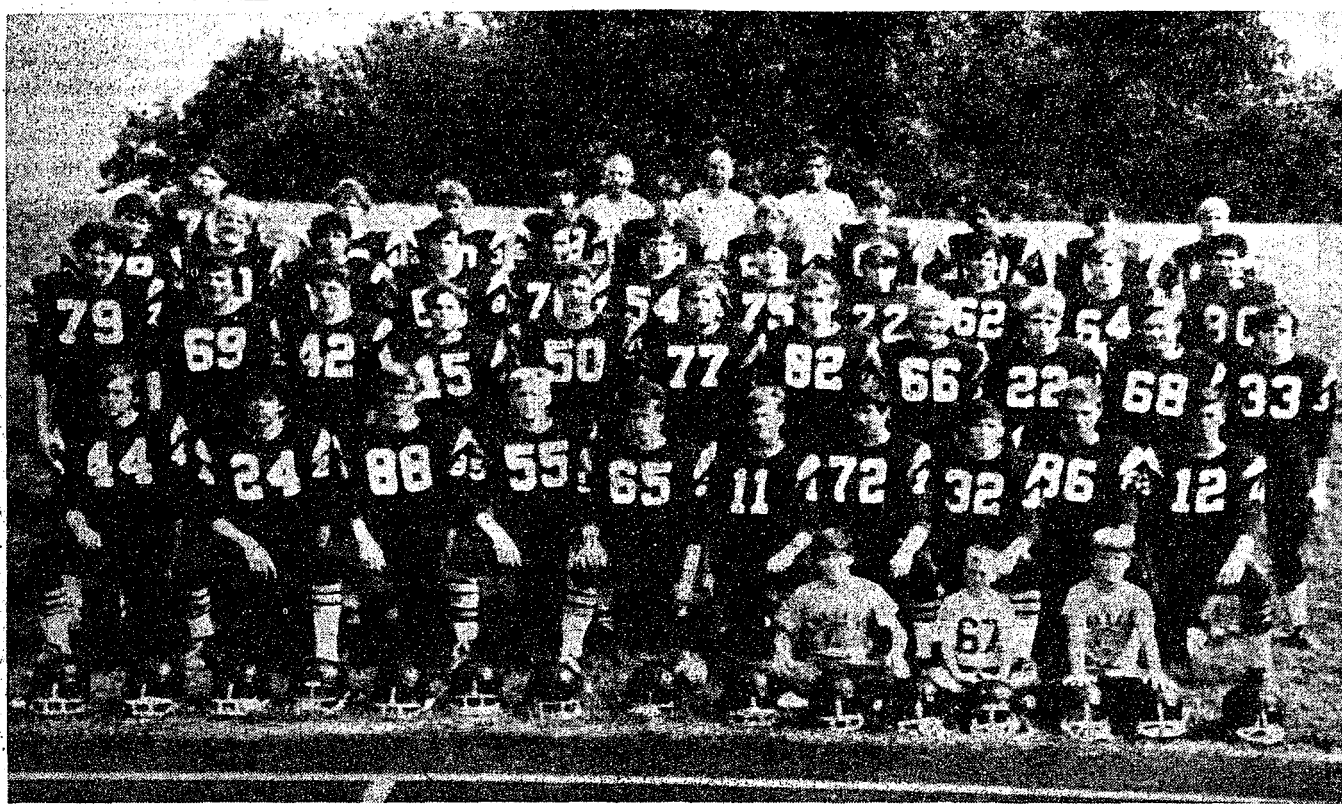

Following his graduation from Albion, he served in the U. S. Army, and taught in the Detroit public schools for one semester before coming to Chelsea.

He is an active member of many educational organizations, and has held offices both in the Chelsea Education Association and the Michigan Education Association. He is a member of the governing board of the Michigan Education Home Association (MEHA), a member of the Methodist church board, and the Methodist choir.

He and his wife, the former Caralee Stevens, have three children: Merry, a freshman at Chelsea High school, Holly, a sixth grader, and Paul, a fourth grader at South school. The Hoffmeyers make their home at 146 Orchard.

One of Hoffmeyer's primary goals as campaign chairman is the expansion of the payroll deduction plan of contributing to the Community Chest. Currently, only a limited number of Chelsea industries are making this means of contributing to the chest available to their employees. "We appreciate the co-operation of those in-

Old Photos of Chelsea Still Being Discovered

Chelsea residents have been searching dusty attics, old trunks, and family photo albums in response to a request for old photographs of early Chelsea places and faces made by Ann Arbor Federal Savings.

Ann Arbor Federal is preparing a large display of photographs from Chelsea's by-gone days for the grand opening of their Chelsea branch office later this year. The display, which will be donated to the village following the grand opening, will be kept by the McKune Memorial Library, and will be available for use by schools and organizations in the area.

The response to the request for old photos—which are being copied by Ann Arbor photographer Sam Sturgis and then returned to their owners—has been quite good so far, according to both Mrs. Catherine Bernath of the McKune Memorial Library and Mrs. Hazel Proctor, director of public relations for Ann Arbor Federal.

Included among the photographs received thus far are a team picture of the 1910 Chelsea High school football players, a picture of Chelsea's first Catholic church, pictures of several prominent businessmen, as well as a number of pictures of old places around Cavanaugh Lake.

Photographs, which can either be given to the library in exchange for the McKune Memorial Library in Chelsea, or mailed to Mrs. Hazel Proctor, Ann Arbor Federal Savings, 401 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor, will still be accepted for several more weeks. They will be returned unmarked to their owners within two weeks after they are received.

According to Mrs. Proctor, any old photograph which you might have, even one that seems dim or brown, could be a valuable part of the display.

School Board Briefs

Varsity Grid Team Meets Stockbridge

The four-way scrimmage between the Chelsea, Brighton, Michigan Center and Tecumseh high school varsity teams held last Friday in Michigan Center was, according to Chelsea's head coach Phil Bareis, "a typical first contact scrimmage."

The scrimmage showed that Chelsea has both good potential and a long way to go, the coach added.

Some of that distance is being covered in this week's practice sessions preparatory to the opening game against Stockbridge to be played here Friday at 7:30 p.m. "We're working on fundamentals," the coach said, "blocking, tackling and running with the ball."

While Coach Bareis—who has a number of returning lettermen competing for starting spots—has "an idea" of the starting line-up for Friday's game, he's not going to say exactly who will and who will not start.

"Things may change a bit during this week's practices," Bareis said.

The non-league game against Stockbridge comes only one week before the big game with Chelsea's traditional rivals, the Dexter Dreadnaughts.

Dexter coach Al Ritt has eight lettermen returning this year, and several good prospects among former JV players moving up to the varsity, he reports. "We've got a pretty tough team this year," Ritt said, adding that although the team is physically smaller than many he's coached in recent years, "they'll hit anything."

Dexter plays Pinckney, another of their most ardent rivals, this Friday night.

Boys Without Fathers To Be Hosted By JCs

On Saturday, Sept. 25, the Chelsea Jaycees will sponsor a day of fishing, picnicking and "rapping" for boys between 9 and 16 who come from a family with an absent father.

The rap and fishing session will be held at Elmer's Place on the east side of North Lake. Chuck Fredley, proprietor of the store, will donate the use of fishing boats and bait for the day. A picnic lunch and refreshments will be furnished by the Jaycees.

The day-long outing will allow the boys to talk with Jaycees about any special problems they might have because of the absent father situation. Jaycees will then be able to discover what help they, or other concerned adults, can give to the boys on a one-to-one basis.

Jaycee President Dave Rowe said that if there is a need for it, the Jaycees may attempt to initiate a program similar to the Big Brother program in Chelsea.

Anyone knowing of a boy who might benefit from the program may call 475-8065 or 475-7912. The boy's parent will be contacted by the Jaycees, and the boy personally invited to participate.

School Board OK's Reduction In Tax Levy

Higher Equalized Valuation Permits 2.5 Mills Reduction from Last Year

The Chelsea Board of Education voted unanimously to reduce the total tax levy of the Chelsea School District for the 1971-72 school year by 2.5 mills at a special meeting held Monday night.

The one-mill reduction in operational millage and the 1.5 mill reduction in the millage for school debt retirement funds were made possible primarily because of the increased property valuation of the school district.

The higher state equalized valuation means that one mill represents approximately $65,000 this year, while it was equal to approximately $53,000 during the 1970-71 school year.

The board had delayed action on the 1971 school levy until it knew approximately what funds would be made available to the district through the new state aid to school act, a focal point of disagreement between the Michigan house and senate throughout the summer.

By waiting until a compromise bill was finally passed by the legislature on Thursday, Sept. 9, the Chelsea board was able to both improve the school program for Chelsea School District students, and also cut the financial burden of school district taxpayers, despite the fact that Chelsea's state aid will be cut by about $71,900 this year.

The board's action came a mere two days before the Sept. 15 deadline for state certification of the school district's tax levy. The board has not yet taken any action on the 1971-72 school budget. But the total tentative budget prepared by the school district's administrators, including state aid for the Cassidy Lake Technical school, is $2,094,103. The 1970-71 budget, also including the aid for the Cassidy Lake school, was $2,021,164.

In deciding to reduce the extra voted operational millage from 10.98 mills to 9.98 mills, the 1956 debt retirement fund from 2.5 mills to 1.75 mills and the 1965 debt retirement fund from 3.0 mills to 2.25 mills, the board had to thread its way through the maze of financial provisions in the new state school aid bill.

State aid to a given school district is figured by multiplying the gross allowance per pupil (in Chelsea's case $539.50 in 1970 and $559.50 in 1971) by the number of students in the district, and then subtracting what is known as the deductible factor which, for Chelsea, is 14 mills times the state equalized valuation. This is known as the membership state aid formula.

Due to the increase in state equalized valuation, Chelsea's deductible factor is greater this year than it was last. So, in spite of the increase in the gross allowance per pupil, the actual state aid per pupil (membership state aid) is approximately $29.25 less than it was during the 1970-71 school year—a total of approximately $71,900.

There is, however, a clause in the bill—the "grandfather clause"—which provides that a school district will not receive less state aid in any given school year than it received in the preceding school year. The state holds a $10 million "grandfather clause" fund.

Since this $10 million is not sufficient to pay every district entitled to additional funds under the grandfather clause 100 percent of its claim, school boards are forced to estimate what percentage the state will pay under the clause.

The Chelsea Board of Education estimated that the state would probably pay the district 50 percent of its grandfather clause claim this year, $50,000.

Another factor important to the computing of state aid is the mandate of the legislature that a contingency fund of 1/4 of one mill of a district's state equalized valuation or 20 percent of the membership state aid, whichever ever is less, will be retained until the actual revenue of the state for the fiscal year is known.

The state will retain 1/4 of one mill of Chelsea's state equalized valuation—some $40,000—until it is found that the state's estimated income and actual income for the fiscal year are roughly the same. At that time, all or part of the contingency fund may, upon the recommendation of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the concurrence of both houses of the legislature, be paid to the school district.

The Chelsea Board of Education again estimated that the state would return 50 percent of the contingency funds withheld to the district, or approximately $24,000. Since the state's income cannot be of students in the district, and then subtracting what is known as the deductible factor which, for Chelsea, is 14 mills times the state equalized valuation. This is known as the membership state aid formula.

Due to the increase in state equalized valuation, Chelsea's deductible factor is greater this year than it was last. PRESS BOX PAINTERS: Members of the Chelsea High school senior class are busy fixing up the press box before the opening of the 1971 football season. The press box is getting a thorough cleaning, and a new coat of blue and gold paint. At work are Dave Lukasiak, Bob Wojcik (both on the scaffold), Marty Cashdollar, Ann McKernan (on the ladder), Gréla Graham, Laurel Prinzing, and Jackie Schiller. Also working on the project, but not included in the photo, are Todd Sprague, Dana Check, Dan Schuelke, Cindy Reynolds, Vickie Kuhl, Dwight Bolanowski and Tom McKernan. The press box, donated by the CHS class of 1966 and the Chelsea Jaycees, was first used during the 1967 homecoming game.

BEST IN THE STATE: Sgt. David McCormick and Patrolman Lenard McDougall of the Chelsea Police Department earned the right to call themselves the best in the state at the Governor's Match pistol shooting contest held last Thursday. The two officers defeated teams from approximately 12 other police departments having seven members or less, to establish their claim to the Class B title—and trophy. Together McCormick and McDougall scored 508 of a possible 600 points, edging the Brighton Police Department team by six points. To keep the trophy, which goes from winning team to winning team, a department must be tops in its class three years in succession. Officers test their mettle in three divisions of competition. During slow fire competition the men have five minutes to fire 10 shots. In time fire, they must fire five shots in 20 seconds. Rapid fire competition, by far the hardest, requires that five shots be fired in 10 seconds. This means that competitors have two seconds to aim, cock and fire each shot. More than 550 law enforcement officers from throughout the state participated in the match held at Jackson.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

There has been a growing realization that a national population census every decade no longer is satisfactory for the purposes for which it was devised. While much of the information that is derived from the decennial census is valid, actual head-count is not. For instance, in Washtenaw county, in spite of our efforts in working with community leaders and with the University administration, it appears with a good degree of certainty that there was an undercount of between five and ten thousand at the University of Michigan, since the census was conducted during a semester break. As a result, the city of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw county as well will be short changed on needed revenues. This situation would not be as grim if a mid-decade census were held.

The idea of a census every five years is not new. I first proposed the concept in 1967 and subsequently in that year it was in fact approved by the House of Representatives by better than a two-to-one vote. However, the same bill later died in the Senate. Since that time it has become clear that all levels of government and every segment of society would benefit greatly from a census conducted every five years. For a time it appeared that the present administration was moving in this direction, but suddenly during recent hearings by the Sub-Committee on Census and Statistics in the House Dr. George H. Brown, director of the Bureau of the Census seemed to reverse the trend when he announced that this administration "does not recommend a mid-decade census." Surprisingly, Dr. Brown's own testimony did not seem to lead to that conclusion. Moreover, last November Secretary Stars indicated that the administration was ready to give his endorsement to the plan for a five year census.

It may very well be that the added cost involved precipitated the decision not to go ahead, but a census in 1975 need not be as extensive as the one taken last year and the cost could be spread out over a period of several years. In view of the fact that millions of people move from place to place so quickly in today's modern and mobile society, the case for a mid-decade census still can be forcibly made. I have written to the chairman of the House Subcommittee on Census and Statistics asking that action be started immediately and have urged the Administration to support the mid decade census concept. As we increase the amount of funds which are dispensed through revenue sharing, we must have statistics which are equitable and reflect the population changes that have occurred in given areas. 1975 may seem far away to some, but it is none too early to start to get the creaky Congressional machinery geared up toward change.

Tax Reform's Torturous Trail

This October marks two years since Gov. William G. Milliken first proposed that Michigan drastically alter the way it finances operation of its public school systems.

When he presented his first education reform message to the legislature, he proposed eliminating use of local property taxes to pay for school operating taxes. As improvement he suggested imposing a state-wide tax of 16 mills and using some other tax method to replace money lost by lowering the average property tax.

Much water has gone under the legislative and educational dam since then. The Governor's proposal now evolves to outright abolition of the property tax in any form to pay the basic cost of educating the state's public school students.

Immunable hours of legislative debate and negotiations have been devoted to the subject. But the net result has been absolutely zero, except that the average millage levy in the state continues to rise—going from 24 to 26 mills in just two years.

After a final, intensive effort in the legislature this year, Milliken threw in the towel on hopes of putting together a package that would find favor with two-thirds of the members of each chamber. Instead, he will take his drive directly "to the people" through a petition drive designed to put his proposal on the ballot in November, 1972.

Now that the legislative dust has settled from the most recent hassle, it seems an appropriate time to review just what happened over the past two years—who did what and why.

Milliken included property tax reform in his original education reform package because he concluded that true educational reform is impossible without an overhaul of the horse and buggy method now used to finance public schools.

When it was first imposed in this country, the country was basically rural. The people with money owned property. As a result, the property tax was a regressive tax. With increasing urbanization, however, the amount of property one owned came less and less to signify his wealth in relation to others.

At the same time, cost of school operations rose—skyrocketing in recent years—and placed a burden on the property tax that it just couldn't satisfactorily carry.

The Governor decided that unless a 20th Century method of financing were adopted for Michigan schools, other 20th Century innovations couldn't be blended in, either.

The original proposal for a state-wide tax of 16 mills was amended down to 12 mills before it finally passed the House in 1970 as part of a package deal between Milliken and House Speaker William A. Ryan which also included parochial aid.

But election year politics killed the proposal in the Senate, and it didn't make it on the 1970 ballot. After his election, Milliken put his staff to work revising the program for another try this year.

In the spring, he surprised most people by coming out for total abolition of the property tax. He proposed replacing it with a hike in the personal income tax and imposition of a value added tax on business.

At the same time, Ryan said there would be no legislative approval of the property tax amendment without joint approval of an amendment allowing a graduated income tax in the state.

Ryan held firm to his position and his office brought forth a myriad of proposed amendments tying the two issues into one ballot proposition. Some proposals included legislative passage of an income tax graduation scale before the election, in case it were approved, and thus locking a steeply graduated scale into the Constitution.

As spring became summer, Milliken saw Ryan would not yield on the graduated income tax—an issue he is strongly committed to—and so agreed to a two-pronged amendment which merely removed the current prohibition of a graduated tax. He said it was an "honorable compromise" and urged Senate Republicans to support it after an intensive lobbying effort produced the needed votes to pass it in the House.

But Senate Republicans experienced a strong allergic reaction to the idea of tying the two proposals together and with Democrats adamant on that point, the deadline for putting it before a special state-wide election in November of this year passed with no action.

Milliken decided then that there did not exist a package which could pass muster in both the House and Senate and so announced his petition drive. Final legislative death of the proposal and announcement of the drive came ironically as the California Supreme Court was ruling the local property tax unconstitutional.

The court ruling is just another indication that the property tax is an outmoded method of financing schools, and that its abolition is a coming thing. But as backers of property tax reform have learned over the past two years, nothing can stop an idea whose time is arriving, but a legislature which is playing politics can stall a long time.

An unidentified young man between 20 and 25 years of age was killed instantly Friday night when he threw himself in front of the 11:15 westbound freight near the Michigan Central Depot here. The man had been noticed about town during the evening and appeared to be acting queerly. When Harold Oesterle found out that the man had molested his little brother, he began chasing the stranger. The man saw the freight, jumped in front of it, and held on to the rails with one hand. Oesterle attempted to pull the man from the tracks, and narrowly missed being crushed beneath the engine himself. No papers were found on the corpse which was fingerprinted by the sheriff's department and then taken to the Staffan Funeral Home in Ann Arbor.

Preliminary condemnation proceedings to obtain land needed for completion of the US-12 highway between Ann Arbor and Jackson were held last Wednesday. The two-hour hearing at the Ann Arbor Court house is expected to pave the way for the new highway which is opposed by many land-owners in the area through which the highway will pass.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that reading the papers may not cause folks to kill themselves, but what they read in the papers shore ain't no help fer their mental states. Bug reported he had saw by the papers where this Harvard professor claims the American people was slowly but surely going crazy.

The professor used a riger-marole of statistics to prove it, but it boiled down to the pace of living and the decisions we got to make: jest to keep up with one another on the road, in the voting booth and wherever we're told how and what to do with a list of rule that gits longer ever time the legislatures meet, not to mention the Congress.

In one of the magazines he reads, went on Bug, he had saw where two Government leaders had give a good example of what is sitting us off our rockers. One was a Congressman and the other was one of these fellers that figger the cost of things. Speaking the same night in different cities, one said the Russians don't want to fight us economic or military, and the other warned that the buildup of the Russian navy was going to be the end of us.

Ed Doolittle, that led the talk Saturday afore last when the fellers took up a report that suicides went down in big cities when the papers was on strike, said he could see how Americans git bum-fuzzled, specially in their Government but it was the folks in Government causing the trouble, not the reporters. Ed said it seems to him folks in this country go out of their way to keep somepup stirred up.

Fer instant, Ed said, he sees where we're going to change to the meter system of weights and measures. At his age, Ed allowed, that is a one way ticket to a nervous breakdown, but it looks like everybody wants to make the trip. Ed saw some figgers that show it cost $2.5 million to make a study in 1968 of all in favor of changing, how it will cost as much as $100 billion to retool the country on the new system and how we now are losing $10 billion a year in trade to other countries cause we don't use meters.

Best he could figger, went on Ed, we would be 10 year building up enuff trade to pay for the switchover, but nobody has figgered the wear and tear on us folks that the professor said is slowly and surely headed for the deep end. Not only that, but the fareign trade boys say converting costs go up seven per cent a year in terms of goods not sold, and if that makes any sense, everybody's crazy, was Ed's words.

Personal, Mister Editor, Ed is the sort of feller that still would be adding and dividing them Roman numbers.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

B & B Stove Manufactured By Glazier Found in Attic

The old kerosene cooking stove pictured here, found in an attic in Washington this summer, recalls the days of the Glazier Stove empire when the stove was king of Chelsea, and "Brightest and Best," the company's motto, was a slogan known around the world.

The Glazier Stove Co., begun in 1891 by Frank P. Glazier, son of the local banker, was Chelsea's first interstate manufacturing business.

The company started with a two-model line — the cooking stove, and an oil heating stove, — both sold under the brand name, B & B, short for that memorable slogan "Brightest and Best."

Glazier first built his company on the east side of Main St. between Middle St. and the railroad. After those buildings were destroyed by fire in 1894, Glazier rebuilt on the north side of the railroad between Main and East Sts.

The second group of buildings, now known as the "Tower Building," the "Welfare Building" and the "Spring Plant," were two-story brick edifices, united by a spacious lawn marked by a giant white stone G facing the railroad.

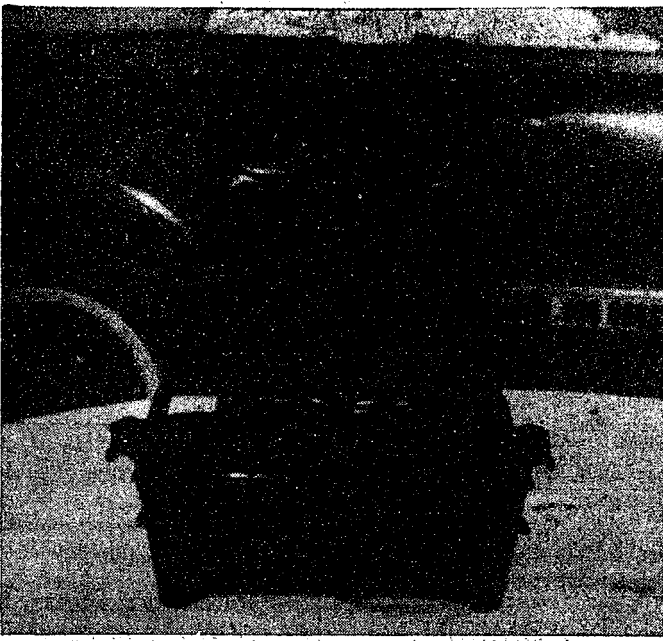

Two buildings not related to the stove company, the Methodist church and the original Chelsea State Bank building, were also built by Glazier. Their massive, cut-stone construction of grand proportions seems to typify the mind of the man behind them. The Frigid Products building, destroyed by fire in 1970, was another example of Glazier's architectural preference.

Glazier is credited, too, for the first building in the Chelsea Methodist Home complex, which he built and dedicated to the memory of his mother. His decision to donate the building was directly responsible for the location of the Home in Chelsea.

Glazier's prominence was not limited to Chelsea. Active in matters of finance on both the regional and state level, Glazier was treasurer of the State of Michigan during part of the administration of Fred N. Warner, governor of the state between 1905 and 1910.

The Glazier empire collapsed, however, in 1907. The Chelsea Stove Manufacturing Co. was formed to continue the business of the Glazier Stove Co., after reorganization. Chelsea Stove operated the plant for a while, but gradually sold the equipment and material, selling the range department to the A.B. Stove Co. of Battle Creek in 1909.

In 1910, the buildings and remaining equipment were sold to the Grant & Wood Manufacturing Co., which had operations in Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio. It was the end of the "Brightest and Best."

BRIGHTEST AND BEST: This old two-burner kerosene cooking stove, made by Glazier Stove Co. of Chelsea, sometime between 1891 and 1907, turned up in an attic in Kenwick, Wash., this past summer. The stove, which bears the legend, "Brightest and Best," has glass front doors, two wicks, and a detachable top. The photograph of the stove was brought to The Standard by Mrs. Viola Knoll, who received it from her daughter, Mrs. Beecher Risner, Jr., of Trenton, O. Mrs. Risner's husband is the brother-in-law of the stove's finder, Joe Gillispie, who came upon it during the Risners' summer visit. The Gillispies have been offered $100 for the stove, but refuse to sell.

Dry Weather Greatest Danger To Corn Crop

East Lansing—Dry weather continues to be the greatest danger to the 1971 Michigan corn crop, even though most of the state had some rain during the past week.

According to scientists at the Michigan State University Corn Blight Information Center, the general condition of Michigan's corn crop is spotty due to the moisture shortage.

In some isolated areas the drought is so bad that farmers are chopping their corn for livestock feed because there hasn't been enough moisture for the corn to mature properly. In other areas a bumper crop is expected.

Reports from individual counties throughout the state show a slow increase in amount of corn infected by corn leaf diseases. The total intensity of the infection remains slight, however, and the MSU scientists predict that these blights won't have a significant effect on corn yields this year.

On other corn problems, the Center reports that stalk rot, infections remain slight and that the amount of Michigan corn infested by European corn borers remains stable at moderate levels. The scientists continue to be optimistic, noting that three-quarters of the Michigan corn crop still has no, or very slight, blight infections.

School Tax Lowered . . .

be established until after the first of the year; the district would probably not receive any of the money withheld in the contingency fund until March.

The new state bill gave Michigan's 644 school districts $686 million—an increase of $58 million over last year—in basic state operations subsidies.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Danny Allen (the former Sandy Knoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knoll of Chelsea) and her husband visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seeley, former Chelsea residents, in Anaheim, Calif., recently. Mrs. Allen hadn't seen the Seeleys since she was seven years old. The Allens also visited Disneyland, and watched the California "500" race. While the Allens were in Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Knoll made a surprise long-distance call to their hotel.

Mrs. Mary Clark of Boyce Rd., had a brunch Tuesday, Sept. 14 honoring Mrs. Gary Klink, Mrs. Thomas Lancaster, and Mrs. Arthur Roe and her sons, Kelly and Jeff. Guests were Mrs. Leonard Hafner, Mrs. Orson Beeman, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Gaudet and daughter, Tony, Mrs. John McBlain and son, John, Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Mrs. Norman Bott, Mrs. Larry Joseph and three children, Mrs. Gay Hopkins, and Mrs. John Steigerwald and daughter, Beth.

Mrs. Viola Knoll, 218 E. North St., spent the week-end with her daughter, the former Janet Talbot, her husband, Beecher Risner, Jr., and their family. The Risners live at Trenton, O.

Mrs. George (Lorraine) Ellenwood is currently a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, room 709. Cards and visits from friends would be appreciated.

Public Announcement

Supt. Charles Cameron today announced a free and reduced price lunch policy for Chelsea School District school children unable to pay the full price.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility:

Total Family Size	Free Lunch Scale	Reduced Price Scale
1	$2040	$2200
2	2670	2900
3	3310	3595
4	3940	4280
5	4530	4920
6	5110	5550
7	5640	6125
8	6170	6700
9	6650	7225
10	7120	7740
11	7600	8260
12	8080	8780

Each additional family member: Free Lunches ($480); Reduced Price Lunches ($520).

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision. Fred A. Mills, Business Manager, whose address is High School Administration Building, has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy. The policy also provides that there will be identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Superintendent, where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

A former movie star unwittingly pointed out one of the principal problems of mankind when she quipped, "Fame may go by and—so long, I've had you." Some people hunger for fame and fortune. Then, when the hunger is satisfied, a different, more severe gnawing hunger exists; a hunger for the meaning of life, a hunger for a purpose for living. It isn't only the drug addicts, the alcoholics, the criminals, the delinquents, who in misery seek an ultimate solution to man's needs. The political doctors are well aware of this when they prescribe cures; peculiar cure-alls for the ailments of mankind.

The cure can not be found in a higher standard of living as long as the ailments of fear, envy, despair, jealousy and selfishness remain uncured. Nor can the cure be found in the hollowness of a wishful thinking society that spends more than $100,000,000.00 a year for advice and guidance from fortune tellers, astronomers, etc.

There is a cure however; easy to prescribe but hard to take. Part of this cure requires taking a stand between the will of God and the will of man. When we really mean and adhere to "Thy will be done"—the cure will come. BURGHARDT

Gridders of the Week

WAYNE WELTON (11), a 5'11", 155-lb. senior quarterback, is one of the two co-captains of the Chelsea Bulldogs this year. An all-around athlete, Wayne has played football for four years, has lettered in basketball since his sophomore year, and has played baseball since his freshman year. Baseball is Wayne's first love, he said. He has been captain of the baseball team for the last two years, and dreams of playing professional baseball sometime in the future. In addition to being an active member of the senior class, Wayne is a member of the North Lake Methodist Youth Fellowship, and was president of that group during his sophomore and junior years. He is a golfer, and also hunts occasionally. During the summer and on free Saturdays during the spring and fall he works for John Eisenbeiser. He plans on going to college, although he is not yet sure which one. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Welton, at 10261 Joslin Lake Rd. His sister, Jodi, is a junior at Chelsea High, and his brother John is in the second grade.

TOM MCKERNAN (65), a 5'8" 150-lb. senior guard is also a co-captain of the Bulldogs this year, his fourth year of football. He has also been a member of the wrestling team and the track team for four years, his track specialty being the half mile. Tom has been involved in class activities during his high school career, most recently in the senior class booth at the Chelsea Community Fair, and in the painting of the pressbox at the football field. He works on a farm during the summer. He hikes, and hunts almost exclusively with a bow and arrow, believing hunting to be a greater sport with a bow rather than a gun. He has been nominated for a position on the St. Mary Catholic church parish council this year. He would like to attend college and major in either physical or inhalation therapy. He and his twin sister, Anne, live with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKernan at 20179 McKernan Dr.

The Community Chest failed to reach its goal last year, but Hoffmeyer believes that with strong community support this year's goal can be met. "Despite the fact that Chelsea's population has increased, and many people are making higher wages than they were last year, these increases will not be enough to put the fund drive over the top," Hoffmeyer said.

"If we're going to reach our goal, Hoffmeyer added, "we'll have to give some serious thought to increasing the amount we give this year."

SPIDER POWER

Spiders provided the decor for an extravagant double wedding in Louisiana in 1870. Planter Charles Durand had his workmen release spiders in the three-mile avenue of trees leading to his manor. After the spiders had spun their gossamer arches between the trees, the workmen used bellows to blow silver and gold dust into the webs beneath which Durand's two daughters were wed.

The average student takes too long to learn too little.

Beef Not the Same Product in MichiganHamburger and ground beef are not the same product—at least not in Michigan."In this state," explains Ada Shinabarger, Michigan State University consumer information agent, "hamburger must be at least 70 percent lean beef and no more than 30 percent fat. Ground beef must be at least 80 percent lean and no more than 20 percent fat."The difference in fat content accounts for the difference in price.
Neither ground beef nor hamburger can have any fillers or other additives."Some stores go a bit farther and tell the customer which part of the beef carcass the ground beef
came from," Miss Shinabarger explains.If the ground beef is from the chuck, it might be labeled ground beef from the chuck. If it's from the round, it might be labeled ground beef with ground round also appearing on the label. Usually ground round costs the most and is leaner than ground chuck or regular ground beef, but not always.When buying ground beef or hamburger, consumers often find the interior of the product is darker than the outside. Many consumers feel they are getting old meat."Not so," says Miss Shinabarger.
"Actually, it's a sign of freshness. The meat in the inner part of the package will brighten if exposed to air for 10 or 15 minutes.
The leaner the grind, the darker
the meat will be until you permit
air to bring out the bloom."One hour's work in a factory today will buy 2.6 pounds of round steak in contrast to 1.5 pounds at 20 years ago and 1.8 pounds 30 years ago.

Rod & Gun Club. All District
29 chapters—Ann Arbor, Brighton,
Chelsea, Dexter, Hartland, Howell, Pinckney, and Stockbridge—were represented at the meeting.Chairman of the event was Phil Pettie of Howell, District 29 vice-president. U. S. Jaycee National Director for Region "J", Mike Jaeger of Monroe, was the guest speaker.Michigan Jaycee President Pat Sheridan delivered the keynoteaddress which dealt with the need to break large problems down to "human size". He noted that just one man can make a real impact on the world in which he lives.
Sheridan also answered questions concerning the Jaycees' position on the proposed unicameral legislature. He said that the or-ganization's position is to endorse the petition drive to place the unicameral issue before the voters in 1972. He added that this position is not an endorsement of unicameral legislature.
There will be a fall board meeting of the Michigan Jaycees in Cadillac this November.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Editor's Note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Detroit District office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.Q Why are there so many tax tables in the 1040 instruction book?A More tax tables were needed this year because they were intended to cover taxpayers with incomes up to $10,000. Previously, tables were only provided for incomes up to $5,000.This change will make it possible for millions of additional taxpayers to figure their tax due just by looking at the tax table rather than having to make a percentage calculation. Besides being convenient, the tables would also help reduce the number of errors in arithmetic.Q If I move before my refund comes, will it be forwarded to me?A Yes, if you have notified
your postmaster of your new address. Failure to provide a new address delayed the delivery of many refunds last year.Q When you reach 65, can't you deduct all of your medical expenses?A No, only those expenses that exceed 3 percent of adjusted gross income can be deducted if you itemize. This applies to all taxpayers, regardless of age.Note that one-half, up to $150 of the premiums paid for medical insurance may be deducted without regard to the 3 percent rule.
Medicare premiums may be included.Q I will pay some tax on my 1970 return because my tax withholding was not enough. If I increase my withholding for 1971 can I avoid filing a declaration of estimated tax?A Yes, if your withholding will leave you with a balance of tax due of less than $40 when you file your 1971 return then you will not be required to file a declaration of estimated tax. The purpose of the estimated tax system is to enable all taxpayers to pay their taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis.Q How long should I keep the records I used for my 1970
return?A Tax records must be retained as long as they are needed to administer any Federal tax law. In general they should be kept at least three years after the due date of the return. Some records, however, such as those relating to the purchase of stock or a residence should be kept longer because they will be needed for your tax return when the asset is sold or exchanged.

Q Last year, I had income
from some free-lance work I did,
as well as from my regular job.
Do I have to pay both social security and self-employment tax?A The maximum earnings subject to these taxes in 1970 is $7,800. If the wages from your regular job amounted to that much you won't have to pay any self-employment tax.Q Do I have to pay tax on the wedding gifts I received?A No, recipients of gifts are not liable for federal income or gift taxes on the gifts. However, generally speaking, income derived from the gifts is taxable to the donor.Q How does the dividend exclusion work?A The law provides that you do not have to pay tax on the first $100 in ordinary dividends.
Any dividend in excess of $100
unless the paying corporation indicated otherwise. If the stock is owned jointly by husband and wife, then $200 in ordinary dividends may be received tax free on a joint return.Q I lost the envelope that came in my tax package. Where should I send my return?A Send it to the service center for your area. The address is given in the Form 1040 instructions.Q I made a charitable contribution in December but the check wasn't cashed until January. Can I deduct this on my 1970 return?A Yes, you may take the deduction for the year the check was mailed as long as you had sufficient funds in your account to cover the check.District Court

FOUR BEAUTIFUL BLOOMS: This gold specie of the cattleyas orchid, owned by Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, 6153 Sibley Rd., has produced four magnificent blooms at the end of its first full year in Michigan. The orchid was ordered by Mrs. Gaunt's son Jim following a tour of "Acres of Orchids" last year. Gaunt was given a personally conducted tour by the president of the firm, a division of the Rod McClellan Co., of California, world's largest orchid hybridizers and also one of the largest orchid importers in the United States. The orchid was in bud when it arrived in August, 1970, and produced two blooms last year. But Mrs. Gaunt was surprised at this year's lavish display, especially since she had given the orchid no special care. "I just had it in my south window," Mrs. Gaunt said. Mrs. Gaunt and her late husband are well known as flower lovers and growers. The Gaunts began growing gladioli on their 40 acres in 1931, and Jim has carried on their business following his father's death in 1970.

He is active in the Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational church, and also works at the Lane Animal Hospital as an animal handler throughout the year. He has three brothers, Tom, Jim and David, and one sister, Carol. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Wojcicki, 716 Taylor.

DAVE LUKASIAK (88) is now playing varsity football for the second year. The senior end, who started his football career as a sophomore, will have played baseball for four years this spring. Dave is currently president of the student council, and was president of his class during his sophomore and junior years. ## CHS Band Plans Half-Time Show For Grid Opener

The 175-member Chelsea High School Band's half-time show at the opening game against Stockbridge this Friday will be "A Study in Freshman Frailties," according to Warren Mayer, High School band director.

Through its music, the band will illustrate some of the problems incoming freshmen have had through the years.

Included in the half-time selections will be the Sesame Street smash hit "Rubber Duckie," "Put Your Hand in the Hand," "Cute" by Neal Heftie, and "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

Mission Sunday Services Slated At Zion Lutheran

Zion Lutheran church Mission Sunday, set for Sept. 19, will focus on "Remembering the Forgotten American Indian" this year. Special speaker for the regular Sunday service, and an additional program at 2 p.m., will be Eugene Crawford, a member of the Sioux Nation, and the Associate Secretary of the National Indian Lutheran Board.

Crawford will speak on the history and plight of the American Indian, and will also discuss what the Church can do to help.

The American Lutheran Church has had an Indian Mission program for nearly 60 years.

The Rev. John R. Morris, pastor of Zion Lutheran, invites all those interested in the American Indian to attend either the Sunday service, or the 2 p.m. program.

Cross Country Team Meets Dexter Today

After only three days of practice, the newly organized Chelsea High school cross country team will be competing for the first time this afternoon. The eight-man team, coached by Pat Clark, will meet Dexter, in Dexter, at 4 p.m. today.

Cross country was approved by the Chelsea Board of Education as an official varsity sport only two weeks before school opened this fall. The first organizational meeting for the team was held last Friday, which left the runners little time to prepare for their first meet.

Three runners, Dave Buxton, Dan Hoover, and Jim McGuinn formed a cross-country club last year, and so have had some experience with the sport. Coach Clark said. Three other runners, Ker Buxton, Lee Ferguson, and Mike Agopian (Beach Junior High quarter-mile record holder) have all participated in track.

Two wrestlers, Jon and Howard Schenk, are also out for cross country this fall.

Coach Clark has been especially pleased with Dave Buxton, a senior miler, and senior Dan Hoover during the practices held so far. "With some work," coach Clark said, "Dan and Dave should both have a chance at regional honors this year."

The cross country team has approximately 10 meets scheduled so far, but Coach Clark is attempting to add to the competition before announcing a final schedule.

A man with an axe to grind ought to turn his own grindstone.

Break-in Attempt Discovered Sunday At G. A. Sales

Thieves smashed the glass in a small rear door of G. A. Sales, 1185 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., sometime between 10 and 11:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 12, but were unsuccessful in their attempted breaking and entering.

A car was seen driving away from the G. A. parking lot with its lights out around 11:30 Sunday. An alert witness called Chelsea police who immediately checked the premises.

Police found the damaged door, and a motorcycle battery which had been used to break the window. They began searching for the car which had been seen leaving the parking lot, checking all businesses between G. A. and the village.

The car and two suspects were discovered parked on the north side of E. Middle St. The suspects were picked up by Patrolmen L. F. Schneider and Bruce Sibert, and taken to the police station for questioning. They were later released.

Chelsea police are continuing their investigation.

Motorcycle Stolen from Home on Wilkinson St.

A 1971 Suzuki motorcycle belonging to Ronald Nix, 23, 523 Wilkinson St., was stolen on the night of Sept. 13.

Nix told police he'd left the bike locked in his yard next to his front porch around 9 p.m. Monday. He discovered the cycle was gone at approximately 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The 185 c.c. Suzuki has a green tank with a white stripe, chrome fenders, and bears license plate No. K1060.

Mrs. Donald Boham Completes Course in Practical Nursing

Being the mother of five sons, and a grandmother of three didn't stop Mrs. Donald (Audrey) Boham from wanting to be a practical nurse. So, some 20 years after graduating from high school, she returned to school—the Practical Nursing Education Center in Ann Arbor—to fulfill her ambition.

This September, after a year of full-time study, she graduated from the program, and will begin working at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Oct. 1.

Although Mrs. Boham had experience with the difficulties of running a home and working too, during her seven years as a receptionist—secretary for Dr. Joseph V. Fisher, returning to school was definitely a challenge, Mrs. Boham said.

Facing the prospect of studying after being away from it for so long was a bit frightening at first. "My kids got a real kick out of seeing Mom have to do homework, too," Mrs. Boham said. The first four months of the program, which is a part of the adult education division of the Ann Arbor public schools, are devoted to classroom education. The final eight months are spent in a hospital affiliation in which the nursing students learn through direct patient contact.

Going to school would have been an impossibility for Mrs. Boham if she had not had lots of cooperation from her husband and three sons still at home. "I couldn't have done it without their help," Mrs. Boham said.

Parents should keep a watchful eye on children when in or near the water. More than half of all pool drowning victims are youngsters under the age of 10. An unattended small child can quickly get into big trouble.

Letters to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

I hear that you say you oppose the new park. I know it's easiest not to do anything about it since it will not level your home. But it will affect tragically people you know and like, and it may not be so nice to have it that near. I think you DO care about what means so much to your friends and neighbors. So demonstrate your concern to those persons who are making the decision. And please hurry, before the decision is made. This "metro" government is depending upon apathy, this apathy we show. Government doesn't dare or care to disturb minorities who stand at the doors of their homes with a shotgun and say "Git." They understand that and seldom bother them.

Write, or better still tell your county commissioner you oppose the park. They have not yet advised the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority. And WHITE Director David O. Laidlaw, Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 600 Woodward, Detroit 48226. Demonstrate your strong feelings by floods of letters. Pray as if the outcome depends entirely upon God, and work as if it depends entirely upon you and what you do.

Your good neighbors deserve that kind of help, all you can give them.

A. VanLunen.
