

Election Tuesday Seeks Funds for Mental Retardation Center

Editor's Note: By 1980 there will be estimated 200 severely retarded, moderately retarded and multiply handicapped children living in Washtenaw County. Currently there are about 150. Of the 150, about 130 are served in three programs now operating at peak capacity. On Nov. 30, Washtenaw County voters will decide the fate of a proposed mental Retardation Service Center, a 7 million complex which would bring three programs into one central location on Ann Arbor's near west side. This article Chelsea Standard Reporter Ed Blegen examines the existing programs and the alternative provided by a proposed center.

Chris is a blond haired, blue eyed, five-year-old boy. Only the lightly puffy, somewhat slanted eyes and the slurred, halting speech give the momentary observer any indication that Chris is a mongoloid child—one who will, by standard intelligence measures, always remain a child. On that late October Thursday, Chris, obviously pleased with himself, was sitting on the kitchen floor stirring together dry ingredients for an apple dessert.

Chris was in school, and the mixing was an intrinsic part of his education. In all three programs for the retarded and handicapped children discussed here, even the most trivial activities are great learning opportunities.

Everything that Chris does while in school is used to teach him as much mastery over himself and his world as his innate capabilities will allow.

The goal is not dissimilar to that of any classroom for "normal" children. But often the innate abilities of children like Chris go beyond the services that are now presently offered them.

Three programs for moderate and severely retarded and multiply handicapped children ranging in age from infancy to 25 now operate in Washtenaw county. Fifteen years ago there were none.

The oldest program, the Sullivan school program for moderately retarded youngsters (IQ between 60 and 69) was initiated some 14 years ago by parents of retarded children.

Now administered by the Washtenaw County Intermediate School District, the program is unquestionably the best equip-ed, best housed of the three programs, yet the inadequacies at Sullivan school are astonishing.

The school, a "discarded" elementary school building, was never designed to meet the special needs of the trainable retarded children it now houses. Remodeling has not compensated for that lack.

There are 81 children in the Sullivan school program. Three of Sullivan's six classrooms are in portable units, a fact that effectively bars non-ambulatory children from the program.

With 81 children, six classrooms, and little more than 7,600 square feet of space, Sullivan school is decidedly overcrowded. Classrooms double as the gym and the vocational education center.

If two programs — speech therapy and testing; for instance — are scheduled for the same hour, speech therapy, a regular part of each child's training, is relegated to the hall, the boiler room, or even the kitchen.

Attempts to provide vocational education at Sullivan are extremely limited by the facilities available. The power tools and other "shop" equipment are housed in one corner of a classroom serving several other purposes. And all other vocational training — in areas as diverse as cafeteria work and building maintenance — must also be given in equally inadequate locations.

The Sullivan school program does, however, have laundry facilities (a vital necessity when toilet control is not always firmly established); its own unshared space, and a number of classrooms which may be used for different purposes. Sullivan school has the added advantage of being housed in a building owned by the WCISD so that permanent alterations — like the playground equipment that has been installed — are at least possible.

Neither the Day Training Program for severely retarded children (IQ between 0 and 30) nor the Title VI Program (the name is taken from the section of the Elementary Education Act which provides funding for such programs) for multiply handicapped children can claim those advantages.

The Day Training Program, housed at Ann Arbor Zion Lutheran church, and the Title VI program is housed in the nearby West Side Methodist church.

Directors of both programs are extremely grateful to the churches for the space they have since space that met even their most minimal requirements was extremely difficult to find. But the inadequacies, similar in both church-housed programs, are overwhelming.

The wheelchair child is common in both programs, yet neither building has rest rooms with doors wide enough to accommodate a wheelchair.

Neither church has a covered entrance way, a definite problem during inclement weather. The stairs in the West Side Methodist church are so steep that even temporary wheelchair ramps cannot be installed.

Neither church has laundry facilities. Neither has any special equipment needed for physical therapy and according to the program directors, physical therapy should be one of the most vital parts of both the Day Training and the Title VI programs.

Another constant problem faced by both Title VI and Day Training is the one posed by shared space. All the church classroom equipment must be carefully put away every Monday morning and the program equipment taken out. On Friday afternoon, the reverse process: Program materials are packed away in the least possible space, and the church equipment restored to the classrooms for week-end use.

Both Title VI and Day Training have their own unique spatial problems, too. Day Training really has only one large room officially sanctioned for its use. Zion Lutheran has graciously closed its eyes to the use of one other large room for special work — such as the limited physical therapy—which must occur on a one-to-one basis. The church also co-operated in making the large storage closet into which the program is "packed" every Friday, a somewhat habitable, and often used, third classroom.

The separate classrooms are very much needed, Doris Keller, director of the Day Training program noted, since retarded children are easily distracted.

Title VI does have four or five small rooms in the basement section of the West Side Methodist church, but the basement itself is shared with a private co-operative nursery school attended by normal children.

There are waiting lists for both Day Training and Title VI. Neither can accommodate certain children who would benefit from their programs because of the nature of the facilities in which the programs are housed.

"We find that the space dictates the kind of program we can offer instead of it being the other way around," Mrs. Keller noted.

And Title VI director Linda Morgenstein said, "We often don't even screen children into our program because it's terribly unfair to tell the parents that, yes, this is where your child belongs, but we have no room to take him."

The physical limitations of the programs are only half the story. While it is obvious that a child who needs extensive physical therapy to gain control over his own body will suffer because the only equipment available is a mat on which he may roll and crawl, the damage that is done because he is isolated in one specific program is less obvious.

As Charles Foster, the man who would become director of the center if it is approved, said, "A child in the Day Training program might be able to benefit from one or more aspects of the Sullivan school program, but now there is no way for a child in one program to take him."

Community Chest Fund Reaches Goal

Chelsea residents once again sent their Community Chest over the top. Contributions and pledges to the 1972 campaign now total $26,062.20, approximately 2 percent more than the $26,007 goal—and money and pledges are still coming in.

James Hoffmeyer, campaign chairman, had high praise for the community effort that pushed the drive over the top. He had, at times during the campaign, been pessimistic about the community's ability to meet the goal.

The wage-price freeze, the gun legislation controversy, and the layoffs anticipated in some industries could have prevented people from giving as generously as they did, Hoffmeyer said.

Three of the chest's seven divisions received contributions in excess of their individual goals. Leading the three was the commercial division, headed by Richard Harvey, which reached 129 percent of its goal with contributions totaling $2,347.

Contributions in the residential division, headed by Pat Whitesall, totaled $2,383.75—121 percent of the residential goal.

The industrial division, headed by Conrad Hafner, was responsible for more than two thirds of the total goal this year. The division reported contributions totaling $17,629.90, slightly more than 100 percent of the $17,531 division goal.

The organizations division, chaired by Ann Schaffner, received contributions of $415—98 percent of the division goal. Some $1,208 was collected by the schools division, headed by Sheri Plank. The $1,208 represented 84 percent of the division goal.

Contributions through the rural division, headed by Anne Steinaway, totaled $863.55—73 percent of the goal. Contributions through the professional division, headed by Hal Pennington, totaled $1,015—62 percent of the division goal.

In releasing the percentages for the divisions, Hoffmeyer cautioned against drawing false conclusions from them. A lot of the divisions overlap—people belong to more than one, Hoffmeyer said, but contribute only through one division, so the totals are not necessarily reflective of the effort expended by the division workers.

"The money all goes to the same place," Hoffmeyer said.

For the first time this year, the rural division was divided into districts, and district co-ordinators appointed. The system, set up by division chairman Anne Steinaway, should facilitate rural canvassing in the future.

Basketball Coach Greets Six Lettermen

As the opening day of the 1971-72 basketball season approaches, Coach Chuck Kelly has high hopes for the team this year.

Kelly has six returning lettermen—four seniors and two juniors and a reserve squad of seven men.

Returning seniors this year are Ron Sweeney, Todd Sprague, Chick Lane and Wayne Welton. Jeff Schmidt and Jeff Daniels, juniors, are also back for another year.

Juniors Dan Bertke, Steve Flint, Tim Van Slambrouck, Bruce Guster, Bill Tite and John Mann, will also play varsity ball this winter, as will sophomore Dave Tucker.

Chelsea had a 10-7 record last year, and tied for third place in the league. Coach Kelly, starting his second season at Chelsea said, "I think we can at least duplicate that this winter, and I hope we can go all the way."

Kelly said there are other strong teams in the conference this year and that Ypsilanti, Lincoln, Saline, Milan and South Lyon will probably give Chelsea its stiffest competition. Although he hasn't decided on a starting line-up yet, Kelly did say that the strongest contenders are, of course, the returning lettermen.

The one pre-season scrimmage allowed by conference rules will be held in Tecumseh this Saturday, Nov. 27 and that, says Kelly, should be an indication of things to come.

The basketball season opens Friday, Dec. 3 with an away game in Dexter. Following another away game in Stockbridge, the Bulldogs five will open in Chelsea against Saline on Dec. 10.

Thanksgiving Eve Services Set Wednesday

Community Thanksgiving eve services will be held tonight, Wednesday, Nov. 24, at Zion Lutheran church, 3050 S. Fletcher Rd., at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. John Morris, pastor of Zion Lutheran, will deliver the sermon. The Rev. Thode Thodeson, pastor of First Assembly of God church will conduct the opening part of the service, and Fr. Francis Wahowiak of St. Mary's Catholic church will read the scriptures.

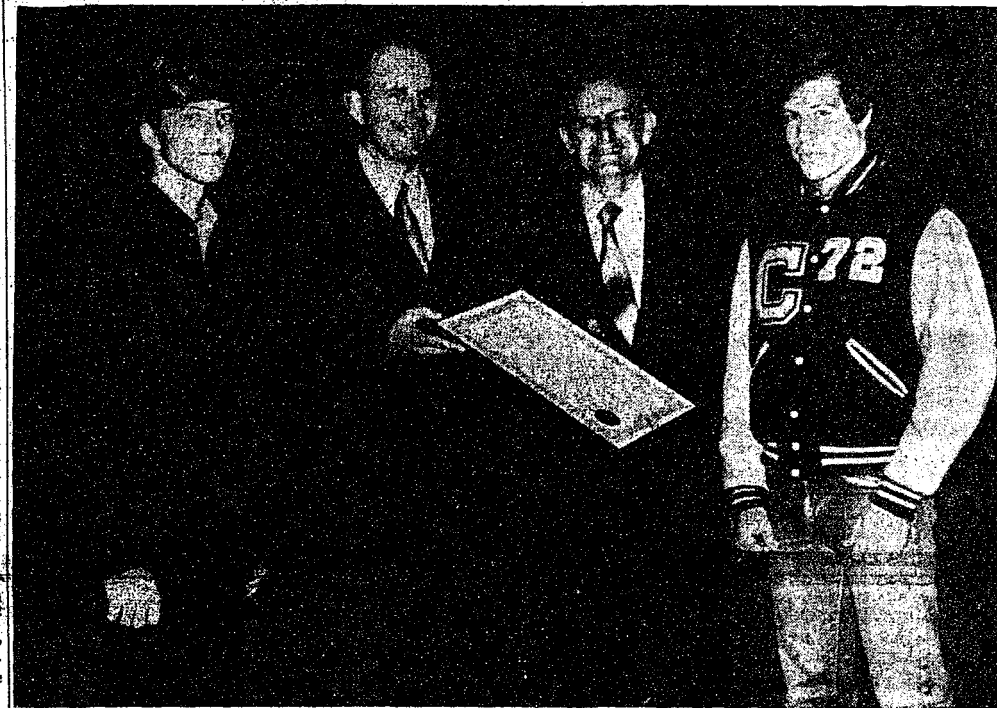

The Revs. David Kelis, of St. John United Church of Christ, Clive Dickens of the First United Methodist church, and Warner Siebert of St. Paul United Church of Christ will join the Zion Lutheran church senior choir for the evening service.

Other churches participating in the service, arranged by the Chelsea Ministerial Association are the First Congregational United Church of Christ, St. Barnabas Episcopal church, and St. John United Church of Christ.

Zion Lutheran choirs will each sing one anthem during the service. The senior choir will sing "The Heavens Are Telling," by Haydn, and the junior choir will sing "O Come and Sing Unto the Lord," a Danish folksong arranged by R. Leaf.

Members of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will usher, and nursery care during the service will be provided by Zion Lutheran Lutheran League members.

The collection taken during the service will be divided between Spaulding for Children, and Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

Mrs. D. White Dies Sunday in Gun Accident

A former Chelsea man shot and killed his wife in the 10th deer hunting accident of the state's 1971 deer hunting season.

Mrs. Roberta White, of Stockbridge, was killed Sunday, when her husband's deer rifle accidentally discharged.

Police said F. Delbert White, 60, had stopped the White's camper truck on Old US-27 near Harrison, to walk the family dog.

He remembered, they said, that he had forgotten to unload the rifle and was taking it from its case when it fired.

The shot struck Mrs. White in the back. She died shortly thereafter from the wound.

Concert Choir Will Present Musical Play

Chelsea High school's Concert Choir will present their first dramatic production, The Clown, a musical play for children, Thursday, Dec. 2.

The choir will present three performances of Robert Jones' work, two matinees for school children, and a community performance at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for all three performances are now being sold.

Leading the cast will be Ed Koenig as Mumbles, the clown, and Karen Johnson as the ballerina. Other cast members are Mark Wright as Dr. Tutto, Dale Heydlauff as Gino, the still-walker, Denise Bycraft, Marijo Bott, Doug Hillman, Pete Stahl, Carol Warywoda, Judi Blaess, Sue Beaumont, Pat Knickerbocker, JoAnne Harvey, Debbie Bergman, Jeanne Thornton, Connie Salyer, Marie Houle and John Coley as the various circus performers.

On Saturday, Dec. 5 at 4 p.m. the four choirs will present their annual winter concert. Admission will be complimentary.

The Girls Glee Club will start the program with a combination of Christmas music and popular songs. Some of the selections are (Continued on page six)

Senate Resolution Praises Bulldogs

As the annual Fall Sports Award Banquet was being held in Chelsea Monday night, members of the Michigan Senate met in Lansing.

During their Monday evening session, they passed Senate concurrent resolution No. 190, introduced by Senator Gilbert Bursley, entitled, "A Concurrent Resolution of Tribute to Chelsea High School Football Team of 1971."

In notifying The Chelsea Standard of the unanimous passage of this resolution, Senator Bursley said that he would travel to Chelsea to present copies to team members and coaches, sometime in the near future.

The resolution, which will also be passed by the House reads:

"Whereas, there can hardly be a more competitive and intricate sport than football, requiring a very high degree of physical conditioning and mental discipline, victory in football is not easily won. There is always the chance that one of 11 men on a team has missed his cue which can only spell disaster for what might otherwise have been a well executed play; and

"Whereas, to demonstrate a very high level of proficiency in play after play and game after game is not that common an occurrence on the gridiron. But the Wolverine state can proudly claim at least one such team—the Bulldogs of Chelsea High school. Winding up their 1971 grid season without suffering a single defeat, the Chelsea team has gained an enviable reputation in Michigan Class B high school football circles. This is not hard to understand when one considers that for the fourth year in a row, the Chelsea 11 has captured the South-eastern Conference title; and

"Whereas, co-captained by Wayne Welton and Tom McKernan, the Chelsea High gridders showed unusual poise and balance in their recent campaign. Week after week they were successful in meeting new challenges thrust upon them, and in every respect they deserve (Continued on page six)

Fall Sports Awards Given At Banquet

The annual sports awards banquet—this year a pot-luck serving more than 350 people—was held Monday night at the high school.

Always special, this year's banquet took on added significance since the Varsity Bulldogs captured not only their fourth consecutive conference title but also a share of the top spot in state-wide class B rankings this fall.

In addition to the usual honors and awards, and the naming of next season's varsity captains, a citation signed by Governor William Milliken and Rep. Thomas Sharpe, and a resolution passed by the Chelsea Board of Education were read.

The team awards probably surprised on one. Tom McKernan, senior co-captain, received the most valuable lineman award. Wayne Welton, senior co-captain, was voted most valuable back. Ed Koenig was named most improved lineman, and Tim Lancaster, most improved back.

Tri-captains, selected by their teammates for 1972 are Jeff Daniels, John Mann and Tim Lancaster. The Chelsea Board of Education resolution, read by Board President William Storey said:

"Whereas, the members of the football team of Chelsea High school through self-sacrificing efforts and in response to the guidance of their coaches have emerged victoriously at the close of the season, undefeated in a nine-game schedule.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Board of Education of the Chelsea School District, on behalf of its people, does hereby wholeheartedly congratulate the football team and coaches for winning the 1971 League Championship and for their number one rating in the state for Class "B" schools."

Letters were awarded to all varsity players. Randy Seitz received a third-year varsity award; Second-year letter winners were Wayne Welton, Ralph Stewart, Mark Collins, Joe Aspranti, Tom Kixey, Jeff Hughes, Keith Pfeifle, Bob Wojcik, Tom McKernan, Ed Koenig, Jeff Schmidt, Dennis Landwehr, Steve Knickerbocker and Dave Lukasiak.

Also receiving varsity awards were trainer Dave Leach, and managers Doug Hansen, Don Morrison, John Daniels, Steve Pennington and Mike Bareis.

JV players, coached by Jon Schaffner and Paul Terpstra, also named players for special honors.

Steve Shanz was named most improved; Dale Poertner, most valuable offensive and defensive back; Howard Haselschwardt and Mike Murphy tied for most valuable offensive line-man, and Rick Miller was named most valuable defensive line-man.

All JV players received JV letters. Jeff Marshall received special mention as the only second year JV player.

The Freshman team, coached by Bill Bainton, named Rick Sweeney most improved player. Best defensive (Continued on page six)

OVER THE TOP: The Chelsea Community Chest campaign netted $26,062.20 this year, part of a percentage point above the $26,007 goal set last spring. Although the campaign was imperiled by the wage-price freeze, threatened layoffs, and the gun legislation controversy, Chelsea residents dug deep in their pockets to send the Chest over the top in spite of them. Here Community Chest Board Chairman Gary Albrecht and Campaign Chairman James Hoffmeyer finish filling in the red feather thermometer reflecting the good news.

ALL STATE HONORS: Two of Chelsea's Number One ranked Bulldogs were named to honor teams this past week. Co-captain Tom McKernan (left) was named to The Detroit News' Detroit-Metro-West team as a starting defensive linebacker. Steve Knickerbocker was named to the Associated Press Class B all-state team as a kicking specialist.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Recently I joined in introducing a bill that would amend the Walsh-Healey Act of 1936 and the Contract Work Hours Standards Act of 1962. This bill would permit laborers to work a four-day, 40-hour week, a concept which is in its infancy stage but one that has already been adopted by 500 companies and conversions by other firms are running around 30 a month.

As the present law is written, Federal Government contract work requires time-and-a-half pay after eight hours of work per day. The measure I have proposed seeks to allow workers to not in a 10-hour day, 40-hour week. There would be no overtime provision for hours worked in excess of eight in a single day, thereby avoiding increased costs of a longer workday.

Certainly there are precedents for such a legislative proposal. Over the years labor has sought and won significant changes that have led to reductions in work schedules that have in the past run as high as 16 hours a day. Today there is a trend towards the shorter four-day week and it has been heralded by the Nobel Prize winning economist, Paul Samuelson, as "a momentous social invention".

At first glance, it would appear that the only advantages from such a restructuring of the work week would lie in the fact that laborers would have more time for their leisure and other family activities. However, there are significant benefits to management as well. For instance, major problems that we face today such as heavy absenteeism, high turnover, and heavy overtime expenses are paramount issues for which solutions must be found if we are to increase productivity. Despite deficiencies in the "4-40 Plan" (three, 10-hour shifts do not fit well into 24 hours), I believe the proposal is worthy of a searching examination and a serious exploration of the pros and cons.

During periods of high unemployment such as what we are facing today, I believe we can all quickly grasp the compelling arguments for the four day week. Many firms dealing with the Federal Government are fighting to show a profit and are hard-pressed because of the overtime provisions I outlined earlier. As they feel this pinch, it inevitably means that they in the end turn to layoffs. However, the bill I have proposed would go a long way toward permitting industry to operate at a profit. This means that workers could stay on the job, additional jobs could be created, and new challenges could be forged. Additionally, I would like to point out that the idea of a federal law to develop added leisure time has already caught on as a result of the MONDAY HOLIDAY ACT that Congress recently wrote which gives the nation's 85 million workers an opportunity to have more leisure time, via the four-day week concept. Further, it is an opportunity for management to test productivity.

This bill has been sent to the Education and Labor Committee of the House, on which I sit. It is my intent to push for hearings at the earliest possible time. I believe that this kind of legislation can benefit labor and management alike. As President J.W. Abel of the U.S. Steel workers recently put it, "a shorter work week makes sense in the 1970's."

The whole thing started back in 1836 with what has become known as the "Toledo War"—a difference of opinion between Michigan and Ohio over where the boundary between the two states should be. A "final line" was drawn only after the two states threatened war over the disputed piece of land and President Andrew Jackson sent a peace mission to head off the battle. In return for giving up the piece of land being disputed, Michigan received what is now known as the Upper Peninsula.

The boundary was laid out by a captain named Talcott in 1836. The current dispute involves establishing exactly where the north cape of Maumee Bay in Lake Erie was situated when the final boundary was drawn. The cape has since eroded and the question is whether it should be the determination for the boundary between the states on the Lake Erie shore and if so, where it was exactly when the line was drawn.

Ohio claims the boundary between the states reaches out into Lake Erie at a 45 degree angle northeasterly to the Ontario border. Michigan claims it goes straight east from the Michigan-Ohio border.

The Supreme Court appointed a retired federal judge, Albert B. Maris of Philadelphia, as a special master in the dispute. Maris just finished more than four years of taking testimony in America can be so rich in life and so poor on paper.

Solution Approaches

One of the oldest legal hassles ever seen in this country is about to be ended by the U.S. Supreme Court and Michigan may be the sorry loser.

The dispute is 135 years old. Involved is 200 square miles of water and bottomlands of Lake Erie between Michigan and Ohio. Normally, the area wouldn't attract that much attention, but geologists say it is rich in oil and gas deposits.

The whole thing started back in 1836 with what has become known as the "Toledo War"—a difference of opinion between Michigan and Ohio over where the boundary between the two states should be.

A "final line" was drawn only after the two states threatened war over the disputed piece of land and President Andrew Jackson sent a peace mission to head off the battle. In return for giving up the piece of land being disputed, Michigan received what is now known as the Upper Peninsula.

The boundary was laid out by a captain named Talcott in 1836. The current dispute involves establishing exactly where the north cape of Maumee Bay in Lake Erie was situated when the final boundary was drawn. The cape has since eroded and the question is whether it should be the determination for the boundary between the states on the Lake Erie shore and if so, where it was exactly when the line was drawn.

Ohio claims the boundary between the states reaches out into Lake Erie at a 45 degree angle northeasterly to the Ontario border. Michigan claims it goes straight east from the Michigan-Ohio border.

Child Care Urged

State Public Health Director Maurice Seizen thinks the state ought to put together a coordinated child health policy.

"In Michigan — as elsewhere around the nation — there are literally hundreds of public and private agencies which involve themselves with the health, education and welfare of our children," he says. "Yet because there is no single expressed policy underlying all of them we give only inconsistent attention to the wide range of severe, and often tragic, problems from which our children suffer."

A concerted effort, he thinks, "can successfully combat the complex social, environmental and physical factors which continue to hamper progress in child health."

Reizen points out that in 1969, the last year for which complete data is available, 3,356 babies under one year of age died in Michigan, alone — more than the total number of persons killed in traffic accidents during the year.

The state may be no worse than the national average in this area. "When we recognize them not as numbers, but as our children, this fact is surely intolerable," Reizen says.

"In all of our planning, programming, and decision-making, regardless of who or what it is explicitly aimed at, we would do well to always keep in mind the one ultimate question — 'Is it good for children?'" he says. "If it is not, whatever it is — from eating fish to breathing impure air — chances are that it is not really good for society, nor for us as individuals either."

"A clear child health policy would help oblige us to keep this question always foremost in our minds."

Chelsea High school principal Charles Lane was in Ypsilanti Tuesday for a freshman-principal conference with Chelsea students enrolled at Eastern Michigan College. Principal Lane said this was the first time such a conference was scheduled at Eastern.

He talked with Chelsea students Betty Pierce, George Staffan, Richard Stark, John Howe, Jerry Stusser and James Baxter. Mrs. Paul G. Schaible, Christian Education chairman of the national Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has returned from St. Louis, Mo., where she attended the fourth quadrennial meeting of the guild. Mrs. Schaible was one of six national chairmen to give reports to the assembly of 700 women who attended the meeting.

The Chelsea Bulldogs will open their season against Milan tomorrow night. The team should be in pretty good condition as they have four lettermen, Frank Frederick, team captain, Loren Koezer, Georges Mayer and Odie Richardson, returning. Seven other juniors and seniors will also play with the Bulldogs varsity this season.

Kiwanis Farmer's Night was observed Monday at the high school with a wide representation of area farmers present. The speaker, Richard K. Welch, spoke of the new Workman's Compensation requirement for farm employers. The Key Club, a high school level Kiwanis sponsored organization, served the dinner, under the direction of Key Club president Ben Bower. Mothers of Key Club members decorated the tables with old hand tools used by farmers during a by-gone era.

The 126-member Chelsea High school marching band, directed by Bruce Galbraith and Henry Tinkham, was featured at the Thanks-giving day Detroit Lions-Los Angeles Rams game in Detroit. For this spectacular conclusion to its fall marching schedule the band presented a solo five-minute show before the game. The band reappeared for the half-time show, joining three other high school bands from Michigan.

Next Wednesday evening, the Senior and Junior high school bands will present their first annual Band Follies show in the high school gym. The Band Follies will be strictly a variety type of program featuring local student and adult talent. Emcee for the show will be Paul F. "Jerry" Niehaus. Among those participating in the program are the Pajot sisters, Carol Cameron, the Romine sisters, Ruth Prentice, Patricia Gubachy David Kephart, Linda Leggett, the Hoffman sisters, Kephart Trio, and many others.

Chelsea High school principal Charles Lane was in Ypsilanti Tuesday for a freshman-principal conference with Chelsea students enrolled at Eastern Michigan College. Principal Lane said this was the first time such a conference was scheduled at Eastern.

He talked with Chelsea students Betty Pierce, George Staffan, Richard Stark, John Howe, Jerry Stusser and James Baxter. Mrs. Paul G. Schaible, Christian Education chairman of the national Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has returned from St. Louis, Mo., where she attended the fourth quadrennial meeting of the guild. Mrs. Schaible was one of six national chairmen to give reports to the assembly of 700 women who attended the meeting.

Gorton Riethmiller, formerly Director of Pupil Personnel at Highland Park school system, has recently assumed his new duties as administrative assistant. Riethmiller is a 1924 graduate of Chelsea high school.

The body of Staff Sergeant Earl C. Hafley, returned to the United States with the first war dead brought back from the European area, was buried with full military honors Tuesday. A private service was held prior to the public graveside service. The Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiated at both services, and the local VFW and American Legion Posts participated in Hafley's military burial. Sergeant Hafley was one of five sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hafley who served in the armed forces during World War II. He was killed in action in Germany, Dec. 6, 1944.

Stop throwing money out the window.

Fix cracks and openings around your windows and doors and save Gas and money, too.

Those cracks and openings may look small, but when you add them up it's like leaving your window open all winter. A little weatherstripping or caulking, which you can probably do yourself, will take care of that problem and save you Gas and money, too.

This is just one of many Gas and money-saving ideas you'll find in Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's free booklet, "The Great Escape." By checking and correcting the ways heat escapes from your home, you can make Gas (already one of today's big bargains) an even bigger bargain. Fill out the coupon, and learn more ways to foil the great escape—and save Gas and money, too. Or pick up a copy of "The Great Escape" at any of our offices. It's free.

DAN HOULE (62), a junior guard, is playing his third year of football, his first year of varsity ball, this year. He's thinking about the possibility of forming an intramural hockey club this winter and will probably go out for baseball next spring, he said. During the summer he works full time at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, a job that shrinks to part-time during the school year. He plans to go to college following his graduation from high school, and is thinking about a conservation or physical education career. He's an ice skater, hunter and camper when time allows. Dan has five brothers and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houle, 315 Taylor Lane.

MIKE MERKEL (60), a 145-lb. junior guard, is playing football for the third year this fall. He was a wrestler during his freshman year, and plans to wrestle again this fall, having missed his sophomore year season due to the demands of a part-time job. He's working this year at the Chelsea Medical Center. A member of Junior Achievement, Mike is an avid hunter and also enjoys fishing, snowmobiling and motorcycleing. Mike plans to attend Michigan State University and will probably be a science major. The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Merkel, 142 Van Buren St., he has six sisters.

DAN SCHULZE (64), a 150-lb. junior guard, has been playing football since his 7th grade days, and is playing his first year of varsity ball this year. An FFA member, Dan spends much of his time working on the Archie Bradbury dairy farm, a job he has held for the past three years. He's also active in the young people group of the Chelsea Baptist church, and is a reader, hunter and camper. He's undecided about what he will do following his graduation next year, but is thinking about mechanics. He has two brothers and one sister, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schulze, 20086 Brown Dr.

Moratorium Placed On Garnishments During Holiday Season

Judge Patrick Conlin of 14th District Court has declared a moratorium on garnishments from Nov. 29 to Jan. 3 in the 14th District court's jurisdiction. This means that no paychecks will be ordered withheld by the court during the Christmas season.

Election Seeks Funds for Mental Retardation Center

gram to directly participate in part of another program."

Both Mrs. Keller and Sullivan school director Barbara Sturm questioned the assignment of children to programs on the basis of IQ tests. "Just because a child has an IQ of 25 he doesn't necessarily belong in our program," Mrs. Keller said, adding that the capabilities needed to acquire basic life skills are not always determined by intelligence.

Mrs. Morgenstein, who administers the year-old Title VII program, feels another effect of isolation. "We have no models," Mrs. Morgenstein said, "we have children that have so many different sorts of difficulties that we can't possibly maintain a staff expert in dealing with all of them. Many of our children don't see people who could really help them."

The three program directors and Foster see the building of a center specifically designed to serve mentally retarded and multiply handicapped children as the only way out of the dilemma.

According to Foster the building of the proposed center is the only way to avoid a serious crisis in the county's programs for retarded and handicapped children.

The proposal before the voters next Tuesday, calls for the construction of a $2.7 million complex on a 20-acre site next to the Intermediate School District's regional center on Ann Arbor's near west side.

The bond issue asks voters to approve a .19 mill levy for 12 years. Property owners would pay 19 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation if the proposal is approved. The homeowner with property assessed at $12,500 would have an additional tax of $2.37½ for a 12-year period. The proposed center, in the planning stage since 1967, would bring the three programs discussed above under a common roof, and would allow the sharing of human and material resources.

Included in the complex would be an infant department, a nursery-primary department, common areas for the intermediate and secondary departments, a gym and pool, office and conference rooms, observation facilities, an assessment center, and an administrative area.

There would be an extensive vocational training department for secondary children. The vocational center would be equipped with areas designed for training in homemaking, kitchen and cafeteria work, maintenance work and workshop skills.

Enrollment in the center, planned to serve 200 children up to age 25, would be approximately 150 children if it were to open for the 1973 school year.

Although the equipment and space needed to implement the proposed programs have been pinpointed, the center itself has not yet been designed.

If the complex is approved by voters, Foster would work with architects and other specialists in planning the specific shape of the center.

The bonding issue has the support of a number of organizations in the county, including the Chelsea Board of Education and the Chelsea Education Association political action committee.

A thrifty, family-sized scalloped dish may be easily made by combining a cream sauce and any left-over vegetables that are not enough to serve by themselves. Top with buttered bread crumbs and bake until bubbling and brown.

Tires should be checked for proper inflation pressure when they are cool, before starting out on a trip. Pressure can increase several pounds when tires are hot from driving.

Our Thanksgiving Wish...

May we have peace, but with honor and with liberty; may we never seek war; yet, may we never surrender the American way of life; may we never give up the right as Americans to think, talk, and worship, each according to his own way; yet may we be always united, a nation indivisible, in the common defense; may we enjoy the richness of our land, yet be willing to endure the hardships of free men determined to keep a democratic country.

Concert Choir Will Present Musical Play

"Georgy Girl," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Silver Bells."

The Festival Choir will follow the Girls Glee Club. The choir, one of a select few chosen to perform during the International Festival of the Americas this spring, will perform two numbers, "Billy Boy," and "Alleluia."

The Madrigal Singers will close out the first half of the program with the traditional, "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen."

The second half of the program will feature the Concert Choir singing selections from the new sensational rock opera, Jesus Christ Superstar. The choir will also perform two selections from The Messiah by G.F. Handel, "For Unto Us A Child Is Born," and the "Amen Chorus."

Following the concert, the Festival Choir is sponsoring a sauerkraut supper in the high school cafeteria. Serving will begin at 5:30. Polish sausage, sauerkraut and traditional trimmings will be featured on the menu.

Proceeds from the supper will help the choir with their festival expenses. Tickets are available from any choir member or at the high school.

Varsity Grid Team Defeats Faculty, 41-14

If it hadn't been for the eight points scored by the faculty cheerleaders in the last three minutes of the game, the Faculty Firebrands would have suffered a 41 to 6 defeat.

Thanks to the ladies, the defeat suffered by the faculty in the "Super Bowl" contest between the faculty and the varsity Bulldogs played Thursday night was 41 to 14.

Needless to say, the Bulldogs retain their number one ranking. Even before the lights at Nicholas Field were turned on, the faculty found itself in plenty of trouble.

Seems the guy who knew the plays—quarterback Greg Harrison—was out of town and couldn't get back in time to play. All rumors that it was cowardice are absolutely false. "He was in Muskogon on business," baseball coach Carl Genske said.

Bill Bainton filled in at the quarterback slot, but felt at a disadvantage. "I really didn't know the plays that well," Bainton said, "we were pretty disorganized in the first quarter."

Genske also denies that age was a factor in the faculty's defeat. "They're good," he said, speaking of the Bulldogs. "They're fast, and I think they had more depth."

In what may or may not have been a bow to women's liberation, the seven faculty cheerleaders were sent in to play the last three minutes of the game.

The men abandoned the field when the faculty was on its own 35-yard line.

The cheerleaders took the field, quarterback Marti Hahn pitched out to Nancy Corcoran, and eureka, Nancy went 65 yards for the faculty's second TD.

On the extra point attempt Cindy Bareis got a bad snap from center but managed to recover the ball and toss a short pass to Nancy Gilbreath who ran around right end for the two-point conversion.

The touch football benefit raised some $260 for the first Chelsea Baseball Clinic.

The clinic will be held in Ft. Lauderdale during spring break. But it won't be much of a vacation for the 18 varsity players or the coaches, Genske said.

"They'll be on the field from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.," he continued, adding that most of the coaching will be done by current and former pro-baseball players.

The players and their supporters now raised approximately $850 of the $3,000 needed for the trip.

Village Council Congratulates Football Team

The Chelsea Village Council unanimously passed a resolution congratulating the coaches and players of the 1971 Chelsea High school varsity football team for their outstanding season at their Nov. 22 meeting.

The fact that such a resolution had been passed was omitted from the Council Proceedings given to The Chelsea Standard.

The resolution will be printed in the next issue of the paper.

THE MOST: Four players on the outstanding Chelsea High school Varsity football team were singled out for special honors by their team mates prior to the annual sports award banquet held Monday night. The honored four (left to right) are:

Ed Koengeter, most improved lineman, Tom McKernan, most valuable lineman, Wayne Welton, most valuable back, and Tim Lancaster, most improved back.

TRI-CAPTAINS of the 1972 Bulldogs Varsity were announced during the Fall Sports Award Banquet held Monday night at Chelsea High school. The three young men selected to head the varsity are John Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mann, Jeff Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daniels, and Tim Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lancaster.

Townships May Form Their Own 'Protective Association'

Last Wednesday night approximately 70 people, representing eight area townships and the villages of Chelsea and Manchester, gathered in Freedom Township Hall to discuss the possibility of forming a township level organization capable of fighting any proposals, like that of the Mill Creek Park, which are opposed in the township structure, but not at the county level.

All townships in the county were invited to participate in forming what might be conceived of as a sort of township level NATO.

Those townships sending representatives, according to secretary Betty Koch, were Lima, Sharon, Freedom, Lodi, Bridgewater, Saline, York, Manchester and the village of Chelsea.

Active in the organization of the meeting, and the conducting of it, were representatives of the Mill Creek Research Council. Also instrumental in the organization of the meeting was Robert Heller who was appointed chairman of a committee formed to pursue organizational possibilities.

According to Mrs. Koch, all those attending the meeting were very much in favor of forming an organization of townships which "Would band together to fight such projects as this (Mill Creek) or anything else that they felt would be necessary to protect our rights."

A committee of five, chaired by Robert Heller, was decided upon. The committee, will be appointed by Heller with the help of Mrs. Virginia Denham, an organizer of the MCRC, and a member of the Lima Township Zoning Board and the Huron River Watershed Council.

The committee will recommend a structure for the organization, and present it to each of the townships for approval.

According to Heller, the committee is now being organized. While no further meetings have yet been set, Heller said that he hopes another meeting will be called sometime in December.

Community Chest board, board chairman Gary Albrecht presented James Hoffmeyer, Pat Whitesall and Conrad Hafner with gift certificates for a dinner with their spouses as a sign of the board's special appreciation for their outstanding contribution to the success of the campaign.

Firemen Extinguish Two Small Blazes During Past Week

Chelsea firemen extinguished two small fires this past week. On Tuesday, Nov. 16, 10 members of the fire department were called to a farm owned by William Terns, 18321 Lehman Rd.

A motor on a gas pump had arced and set fire to a corner of a small building.

Fire Chief James Gaken said the fire, which Terns had nearly extinguished by the time the department arrived, caused minor damage to the building.

On Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 2:41 p.m., firemen extinguished a small grass fire behind the Chelsea Medical Clinic.

JV Basketball Team Has 15 Seeking Positions

Chelsea's JV basketball team boasts 15 players this year, and they're working hard on basketball fundamentals in order to be ready for the season's opener against Dexter in Dexter, Friday, Dec. 3.

Coached by Paul Terpstra, the 15 will face a pre-season scrimmage at Tecumseh this Saturday at 12 p.m.

On the JV team are: Brian Arnett, Larry Doll, Larry Garlick, John Houle, Ron Kiel, Dave Lauchon, Jeff Marshall, Rick Miller, Doug Schrotenboer, Jeff Sprague, Jim Storey, John Tandy and Tim Treado.

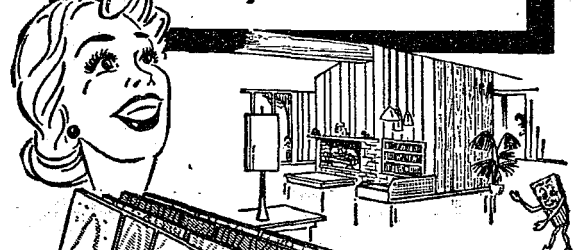

Coach Terpstra said that he has not yet selected a starting five from the team, now working on shooting, dribbling, rebounding, as well as on basic good physical condition.

The reason truth makes such slow progress in the world may be because it's in competition with pretense.

Thanksgiving Time...

The special day of Thanksgiving is a time when we should slow down and give thanks for the many blessings we are more or less aware of all year long but for which we too seldom take the time to be truly thankful.

High among the many things I have to be thankful for is the friendship, loyalty and co-operation that exists among all of us working together here at Spaulding Chevrolet.

This is the spirit of comradeship that makes a rather hectic business enjoyable and it is in appreciation of this spirit that I make the following

Coupons for Kidney Machines Must Be Submitted By Dec. 13

Members of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary presented 6,200 coupons to the Michigan Kidney Foundation at their monthly meeting last Tuesday night.

The local Jaycee Auxiliary has been an active participant in a state-wide drive to collect Betty Crocker coupons which may be used to purchase kidney machines.

Three years ago, when the drive started, the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary hoped to purchase one machine. Now, as the drive is closing, the Auxiliaries are hoping to collect enough coupons to purchase a 35th machine.

The coupons were presented to David St. Clair, associate director of the Michigan Kidney Foundation, and guest speaker at the Tuesday night meeting.

St. Clair congratulated Chelsea residents on their outstanding total contribution of 58,000 coupons during the last three years.

The state-wide drive will end Dec. 13. Even outdated coupons are of use to the Auxiliaries. Local coupons may be sent to Mrs. Arthur Steinaway, 2751 McKinley Rd.

Other guests at the meeting, held at the Steinaway home, were Mrs. Thomas Slater, Mrs. Gerald Bell and Mrs. Toby Bundy.

Area chairman for the March of Dimes, conducted locally by the Auxiliary, will be Mrs. Richard Cail, treasurer; Mrs. Mitchell Zink, publicity chairman; Mrs. David Rowe, Mothers March and Christ, mas card chairman and Mrs. Doug Robeson, canisters and dime board chairman.

Mrs. Mike Eubanks accepted the co-ordinatorship of Speak Up for the new District 29. She will co-ordinate district and local efforts. Joanne Rowe announced that 14 Jaycees assisted during the Gobbler Patrol.

Auxiliary members are collecting clothing and craft items for

He was selected for his soldierly appearance, knowledge and performance of duties and military courtesy.

Spec. 4 Foster is a special action clerk in Headquarters Company of the troops.

His wife, Christine, is with him in Germany.

There's a vast and fundamental difference between promise and performance.

The Adrian Girls' Training school. The auxiliary needs everything from bread wrappers to girls' coats. Contacts for donations are Mrs. Steinaway and Mrs. Walter Brown.

The Auxiliary is also collecting clothing (from infant to adult size) for the Fort Custer State Home in Battle Creek, Mrs. Steinaway and Mrs. Brown should also be contacted for donations to this project.

Winner of the October Girl of the Month Award was Mrs. Richard Call. Ninety Day Wonder winner was Mrs. Arthur Steinaway. Awards were presented by Mrs. Robert Updegraff.

The Auxiliary also approved several new projects. Included are a Husband's Night, with Sue Call as chairman, hostessing a state-wide president's meeting, Joanne Rowe, chairman; the investigation of Lunch with Santa, Joanne Rowe chairman, the visiting of shut-ins with Judy Eubanks, chairman; and the Organ Donor Program, Diane Loring, chairman.

Mrs. Robert Updegraff will collect paper-backed books for the Southern Michigan Prison Jaycees.

The meeting adjourned with a brief presentation on the International night held in Windsor, and with the presentation of a scrap book to immediate past president, Mrs. Robert Updegraff.

The lesson, "Generation in Crisis," was presented by Mrs. Luther Schaible and Mrs. John Koepfle.

Plans were made for the Christmas party which will be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Luther Schaible on Dec. 11.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Wenk with Mrs. John Morris as co-hostess.

Roll call topic for January will be "If you had money, leisure time, and no worries, what would you do, or where would you go?" The lesson will be presented by Mrs. Ray Manzel and Mrs. Earl Huehl.

Varsity Debate Team Fourth in Tough Tourney

Chelsea's varsity debaters wound up in a fourway tie for fourth place at the varsity debate tournament held at Edsel Ford High school in Dearborn, Saturday, Nov. 20.

Twenty-two schools participated in the tournament which saw Chelsea lose to Ann Arbor Huron High school and Wayne Memorial High school, overall tournament winner, for a 6-2 record.

Chelsea's novice debaters won a fourth place trophy Saturday, Nov. 13 for their participation in the Ypsilanti Novice Tournament held at Ypsilanti High school. More than 50 schools were entered in the event.

Jeff Sprague and Donna Clark both won speaker's trophies. Donna's second of the season, and Betsy Belser received honorable mention.

The novice debaters are now in first place in the ABC league's novice division, while the junior varsity debaters have slipped to third.

Monday, Nov. 22, the debate team participated in the second of three state league meets. Both the varsity and novice debaters remain unbeaten in this league.

On Tuesday, the debaters wrapped up the final round in the 1-24 league, a practice league which features ranking by opponents rather than judged decisions.

On Dec. 13, the final debate in the WCMC varsity league will be held. Chelsea High school now has a 6-3 record, and its one debate out of first place. Battle Creek Lakeview leads the league with a 6-2 record.

mas party which will be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Luther Schaible on Dec. 11.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Wenk with Mrs. John Morris as co-hostess.

Roll call topic for January will be "If you had money, leisure time, and no worries, what would you do, or where would you go?" The lesson will be presented by Mrs. Ray Manzel and Mrs. Earl Huehl.

"IT'S JUST A SYMBOL": The cross means different things to different people. There's one standing across the road from the large new hill-top home of Herbert C. Pearson. But Pearson, one of the few blacks living in the Chelsea area, refuses to accept the threat. "It doesn't mean anything to me," Pearson said, "It's just a symbol."

New Supervisor Named For Three Area Metro Parks

William D. Necker, former administrative assistant at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, will become supervisor of Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks, northwest of Ann Arbor, effective Jan. 1.

This was announced today by James J. Pompo, deputy director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which has nine parks serving the citizens of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Necker joined the Authority in January of 1967 and was first assigned to Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, where he was on the grounds maintenance crew. He was promoted to administrative assistant at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford in November of 1967. In his new post, Necker will succeed Brenton W. Schultz, Sr., who will retire Dec. 31.

Prior to joining the HCMA, Necker was superintendent of parks and forestry for the City of Ypsilanti and was a forestry inspector for the parks and recreation. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Park Management from MSU.

The Authority's nine parks include Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville, Willow Metropolitan Park near New Boston, and Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks near Dexter.

Necker is married and presently resides in Highland township, Oakland county. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Necker of Washington.

Does This Belong to Someone in Chelsea?

The cross stands well back from the east side of the road on top of a grassy hummock. It's well constructed, and was given a coat of white paint before being raised.

It's hard to see from the road, despite its height. North-bound driver would have to look closely to see it. A south-bound driver probably wouldn't see it at all.

But looking down from their hill-top home on the west side of the road, the Herbert C. Pearson family has a perfect view of the cross.

It's probably no coincidence—the Pearsons are black.

Herbert Pearson started working in Chelsea about 10 years ago, commuting from Detroit. He and his wife, Alberta, moved to Chelsea seven years ago, bought an old home on North St., razed it, and built the first of their two Chelsea houses.

Not all Chelsea residents have been friendly, but the Pearsons say they have not encountered any overt hostility before.

They noticed the cross about six weeks ago, three weeks before they moved in.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pearson say they don't pay much attention to it.

"We don't have any problem here," Pearson said. "People have a right to do whatever they want on their own property. If that's how they get their kicks, it's all right with me."

They have heard all the rumors though. One person told Mrs. Pearson that the cross definitely looked like the work of the Klu Klux Klan. And at least one of the Pearson's five children has heard rumors that someone would burn the family out if they did move into the house.

But Mrs. Pearson said, "That's kids stuff. We're not going to pay any attention to that."

Ignoring the cross seems to be Pearson family policy, despite the fact that it is continually visible from their large, living room picture window.

But the Pearsons' friends can't ignore it, and they continually ask the obvious question—"Why has the cross been allowed to stand for so long?"

There is, it seems, no good answer.

range.

Just think of it. You'll never have to get down on your hands and knees to scrape and scrub the dirty, greasy insides of your oven again. Because today's modern Gas ranges have self-cleaning ovens.

Forget about baked-on splatters. And rock-salt spills. With a self-cleaning oven all you have to do is turn a knob and the messiest job in your home (oven cleaning) takes care of itself. Giving you time to take care of the more pleasant things in your life.

But a self-cleaning oven is just one good feature in today's modern Gas range.

With Gas you have the advantage of smokeless closed door broiling. Infinite heat control. And best of all, total economy. Because a modern Gas range uses less Gas to do the same job. And a Gas range costs about one-fourth as much to operate as an electric one.

So before the holidays, stop by your dealer or any Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom, and buy a new Gas range with a full range of features.

A new Gas range will save you Gas and money too. And remember—oven cleaning is no job for a lady.

BULOVA...for a memorable Christmas

We have a choice collection of modestly priced Bulova watches, beautifully timed for Christmas.

Illustrated: Two brand new 17 jewel models. Each, $55. Others from $35.

WINANS JEWELRY

St. Mary's Catholic church in Manchester was the setting for the Nov. 19 wedding of Renee Marie Kirk and James Owens Marks performed by the Rev. Fr. Raymond Schlunkert.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a princess line gown of candlelight ivory crepe. Cluny lace trimmed the bell sleeves, the front of the dress from the neckline to the hem, and the back of the dress to the chapel train.

The jewel necklace was accented by a diamond lavaliere belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. John P. Cook of Chelsea. A Juliet cap secured her silk illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of bridal roses and baby mums.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Allan Jaworski of Ann Arbor, and James E. Kappel of Taylor. Seating the guests were, Gerald A. De- waters of Kalamazoo, and Ran- dolf Helms of Riverdale, Ill.

Mrs. Jaworski, matron of honor, wore a gown with a lilac crepe bodice and deep purple panne vel- vet skirt. The dress featured leg of mutton sleeves. Mrs. Jaworski carried a bouquet of pink minia- ture carnations and white mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kirk chose a plum panne velvet dress. She wore a rose cymbidium orchid corsage.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. Kirk of Manchester and Mrs. Isabelle Pepe and the late Robert S. Marks of Lake Worth, Fla.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Marks will honeymoon in West Palm Beach, Fla., and will return to their home at 13236 Schleweis Rd., Manchester.

Phoebe Circle Sending Contributions for Needy Children in West Virginia

Mrs. Ben Donaldson and Miss Ha So Sun were hostesses to the Phoebe Circle of the United Methodist church Wednesday, Nov. 17 in the Educational Center. Re- freshments were served at 4 p.m. to 15 members and two guests. Guests were Mrs. Donald Dancer and Mrs. Schwitter.

Mrs. Donaldson, chairman, pre- sided at the business meeting. She announced that Mrs. Mary Wood was a patient at Chelsea Medical Center. She asked that Mrs. Wood be remembered with cards.

A "thank you" note was read from the "Heart and Hand House" in Philippi, W. Va., for the quilts and blankets sent them recently. Other notes were received from Mrs. Merrell's daughter and Mrs. Tom Smith.

A contribution of $17 was sent to the "Heart and Hand House" to be used toward buying Christ- mas gifts for needy children.

Mrs. Raymond Schairer used the November Response Magazine for her program about the "As- sembly of the World Federation of Women" which took place this past August in Denver, Colo. She told about its origin, purpose and work. Theme of the organization is "To Know Christ and to Make Him Known." Its symbol is "The Tree of Life." Mrs. Schairer closed with a prayer.

Mrs. James Hoffmeyer will en- tertain the circle on Dec. 15 at 1 p.m. Mrs. George Stanford will be co-hostess.

Joseph Dreyers Will Be Observing 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Dreyer, 322 Jackson St., will observe their 60th wedding anniversary, Sunday, Nov. 28.

Currently, Mr. and Mrs. Drey- er are both patients at Chelsea Community Hospital. Mr. Dreyer has been there since late October, and Mrs. Dreyer is recovering from eye surgery performed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last week.

The Dreyers hope to have their immediate family with them this Sunday.

Debra Paul, Leslie Kopka Wed Saturday at St. Mary Church

St. Mary Catholic church was the setting for the afternoon wed- ding of Debra Paul and Leslie Kopka performed Saturday, Nov. 20 by the Rev. Fr. Francis Wa- howiak.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paul, 151 Van Buren St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kopka, 15440 Van Tyle Rd., Man- chester.

For her wedding, Debra chose a white taffeta, empire waisted A-line gown trimmed with lace and featuring long lace sleeves. She wore a matching veil and long train, and carried a cascade bou- quet of white roses accented by stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Mary Lou Paul, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an empire waisted, A-line, floor length gown of willow green chiffon over taffeta. She carried a wicker basket filled with bronze and yellow daisy pompoms ac- cented with orange roses and ivy streamers.

Bridesmaid Karen Kopka, a sis- ter of the bridegroom, wore a similarly styled gown in antique gold, and carried a bouquet iden- tical to that of the maid of honor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Paul chose a beige dress and gold accessories. She wore a corsage of bronze and yellow daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Kopka wore an aqua dress and silver accessories. Her cor- sage was of white daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Organ music for the wedding was played by Miss Ann Merkel. Best man was Elwin Randall of Manchester, and ushers were Ar- thur Paul, Jr., a brother of the bride, Mark Diefenderfer, of Man- chester, a cousin of the bride- groom, and Gale Steinaway, of Manchester.

A reception following the cere- mony was held at the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club. Assisting at the reception were Miss Pat Guest, a cousin of the bride, Miss Jackie Nott and Miss Pam Nott, of Jackson, cousins of the bride, Miss Betty McNutt and Mrs. Thomas Dorner.

Following a week-long wedding trip to northern Michigan, the new Mr. and Mrs. Kopka will make their home at 2028 Pauline, Apt. 1 B, in Ann Arbor.

When leaving for their home- moon, the bride wore an off-white dress trimmed with leopard fur and brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at University Microfilms in Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Manchester High school, and is attending Washtenaw Community College. He is employed by the Huron Valley National Bank.

Older Adult Groups Hold Joint Meeting At St. Paul Church

Twenty-six members of the Older Adult Group of the Methodist church responded to the invitation of the XYZS of St. Paul United Church of Christ to be guests at a pot-luck noon dinner at St. Paul's church Friday, Nov. 19. They expressed appreciation for the invitation and for the enter- tainment provided.

Following the dinner served at tables decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season, a program of appropriate readings was given by Mrs. Herbert Paul and Miss Dorothea Pielemeier. This was followed by a men's vocal trio including Wilbert Breitenwis- her, Ernest Guenther and Reid Engelbrecht; group singing with Mrs. Paul at the piano; and sev- eral games.

The Methodist group's next meet- ing will be the Christmas party scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 18.

Elaine Bristle Is Bride of Lt. R. Falcone

Miss Elaine Carol Bristle be- came the bride of 2nd Lieutenant Ronald Lee Falcone in an eve- ning ceremony performed Tuesday, Nov. 16 in St. Andrew's Catholic church, Steelton, Pa., by the Rev. Fr. Salvatore Zangari.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bristle, 19020 Old US-12. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tranquillo Fal- cone, 301 S. Fourth St., Steelton, Pa.

For her wedding the bride wore an empire waisted, white satin gown accented with white lace and pink ribbon. Her shoulder- length veil was held by a white satin headpiece.

Maid of honor Eileen Bristle, sister of the bride, wore a baby blue chiffon gown with an empire waist trimmed on the bodice with navy lace. She carried a bouquet of blue-tinted carnations and wore a blue beaded veil.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bristle chose a turquoise A-line dress accented at the neck- line with rhinestones. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Falcone wore a plum color- ed dress trimmed with white. She also had an orchid corsage.

Carl Falcone, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Seat- ing guests were Russell Weber and Charles Kihm of Middletown, Pa.

A reception was held at the home of Charles DeMarco, grand father of the bridegroom, follow- ing the wedding. Miss Mary Fal- cone, a sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book.

The bride wore a rose colored empire dress and matching coat as the newlyweds left for a week long wedding trip.

They will make their home in Sacramento, Calif., where Lt. Fal- cone is stationed.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Chelsea High school, and a graduate of McConnell Air Line School in Minneapolis, Minn. She was employed by American Flyers until her marriage.

The bridegroom graduated from Pennsylvania State University in June, 1971, and from Air Force officers training school in Novem- ber.

MONEY PREFERENCE

Silver dollars have long been popular in the American West, but other parts of the Nation also show preference for one coin over another. Nickels remain the most favored coins in Baltimore, while quarters are most sought after in the State of New York.

A light rain or drizzle, especially after a dry spell, will produce a thin, greasy film which makes a road a prime skidding surface.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Angela Nichole, Nov. 9, to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Detling.

A daughter, Lisa Lynn, Nov. 11, to Mr. and Mrs. James M. Trapp, Grass Lake.

A daughter, Ann Elizabeth, Sept. 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Winans, Ann Arbor. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Winans.

A daughter, Melissa Ann, Nov. 15, to Mr. and Mrs. James W. Jones, Grass Lake.

A son, Jeffrey Christian, Nov. 12, to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Paterson.

A daughter, Leah Marie, Nov. 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Steinhelfer.

A son, Daniel James, Nov. 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Luck.

A daughter, Carrie Michele, Nov. 22, to Mr. and Mrs. Kim Clark, Peraluma, Calif. Mrs. Clark is the former Deborah Winans of Chelsea. Carrie's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Winans.

Gets Jail Sentence

For Not Paying Fine

Mary Marshall, 20, of Clinton, who pled guilty to being a disorderly person Nov. 5 following a late October disturbance was arrested again Tuesday, Nov. 16 for failing to pay the $35 fine resulting from her conviction.

Unable to pay fine and costs amounting to $45, Mrs. Marshall was sentenced to seven days in the Washtenaw County Jail.

Fire Damages Car
Parked on Street
Friday Night

Chelsea police investigated a fire in a 1968 Pontiac belonging to Robert Allan Dickson, 623 Fland-ers St., Saturday, Nov. 20.

Dickson told Patrolman L. F. Schneider that he had parked the car at approximately 12 p.m. the night before, and that a passer-by had awakened him at 8 a.m. to tell him the car was on fire. The front seat and the headliner were completely destroyed in the fire, which Dickson extinguished himself, and there was extensive water damage to the floor of the car. The total damage was estimated at $300.

There was no evidence of arson in the blaze which may have been caused by a cigarette.

Sleep, exercise, food and recreation make the best prescription anyone can give in the fight against disease.
