Concerts Slated By Junior High Music Groups

Choral Christmas Program Tonight

The vocal music department of each Middle school will be presenting a choral program tonight (Thursday, Dec. 9) at 7:30 p.m. in the Beach school cafeteria. The program will be presented by the 7th and 8th Grade Choir and 6th Grade Music Classes. The 6th grade will illustrate Christmas customs and traditions through the singing of carols. The 7th and 8th grade choir will sing "The Twelve Days of Christmas" and the custom of singing about the town carolling will be shown vocally in the "Was-I Song."

Other customs and carols will be included on the program. Cindy Hawley and Louise Patrick, who are completing student teaching assignments in Chelsea, will direct and accompany the actual program. Mrs. Yelsik has prepared special props in conjunction with the songs.

The 7th and 8th grade choir will sing its section of the concert with an old French carol, "Ding Dong Merrily on High." The popular Leroy Anderson songs, "leigh Ride" and "The Syncopated Clock" will be among the highlights of the program.

This choir boasts 94 members, and is the largest in several years. Ann L'Roy directs the group, which is accompanied by Louise Patrick. Also assisting the choir are Cindy Hawley and Tom Hart.

Fair Board Approves New By-Laws

New by-laws were adopted, last year's slate of officers was re-elected to three-year terms under the new by-laws, and four new board members were selected at the annual meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair held Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Re-elected by approximately 77 members present were President Allen Broesamle, vice-president Joe Merkel, secretary Ed Keer and treasurer John Well.

Under the new by-laws, adopted before the election of officers, the office of executive vice-president was created. The nominating committee, however, did not present.

Polly's Buys Stop & Shop Supermarket

Polly's Food Service, Inc., of Jackson, has purchased the Stop & Shop supermarket located at 14901 Old US-12 in Chelsea.

Polly took over the operation of the market from former owner Joe Rucker on Monday, Dec. 6.

According to William Schneider of Polly Markets, the Polly Food Service chain now owns seven markets including the Chelsea store. Polly is wholly owned by F. A. Kennedy, and corporate offices are located at the new Polly Market, 1821 Spring Arbor Rd., Jackson.

According to Schneider, Polly's will be able to offer Chelsea residents "lower grocery prices than they've ever had before without sacrificing high quality."

No changes in store personnel or store hours will be made at this time Schneider added.

Rucker has also closed the Stop & Shop store located in Plymouth and sold the building.

Orthodontist Joins Staff at Medical Clinic

Dr. Michael Riolo, an orthodontist, has begun a part-time practice at the Chelsea Medical Clinic, Inc. Dr. Riolo is the first orthodontist—a specialist in the straightening and aligning of teeth—to practice in Chelsea.

Dr. Riolo is a 1967 graduate of the University of Michigan Dental School, and received his specialized training and certification in orthodontics at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Following his graduation from Georgetown in 1970, he returned to Ann Arbor, and is currently employed at the U. of M.'s Center for Human Growth and Development. He is also a consultant in orthodontics to Mott Children's Hospital in Flint.

Dr. Riolo is originally from Grand Rapids. He graduated from Grand Haven High School, and completed his undergraduate studies at Michigan State University. He is married and the father of two children, ages 9 and 10.

"WAS I A GOOD BOY?" Talking over the serious subject of pre-Christmas behavior with Santa Claus seems to be a guy back a bit. Here Gary Cole has a rather intense conversation with Santa, as his older brother Mark (extreme left) and Tommy Vandervoort watch. Santa will listen to more Christmas requests this Saturday as he walks along Main St. between 1 and 3 p.m.

CHS Debaters Sweep Honors In State League

Chelsea's debaters made a clean sweep in their State League this season, winning first place in both the Novice and Varsity divisions as the league season ended Thursday, Dec. 2.

Pat Ball was voted best novice debater in the league, and won the first-place speaker trophy. Neil Bollinger won the second-place trophy, Betsy Belser won the third-place trophy, and Donna Clark placed sixth. Sixteen debaters were competing for the trophies.

Varsity debaters also took first place in the varsity division of the State League with a perfect 12-0 record. Chelsea has never finished higher than third before in this league.

Mike Hergert was awarded first-place speaker trophy for his season's performance as best debater in the league. Dan Gaunt won the second-place trophy and Carol Faibrother, a novice debater this year, placed third. Chick Lane and Janice Schramm, both varsity debaters, also competed in the state league.

Schools competing in the league with Chelsea are Saline, Ann Arbor, Green Hills, Howell and Dexter.

Chelsea's Novice debaters also topped their division of the ABC league which ended Monday, Dec. 6. The JV finished third in their division of the league.

On Saturday, Dec. 4, three novice debaters and one varsity debater competed in the Kalamazoo Invitational Tournament in the Varsity division, compiling a 6-2 record for the day, "an excellent showing," coach William Coelius said.

Debating affirmative were two novice debaters, Jeff Sprague and Carol Faibrother. Dan Gaunt, a regular member of the varsity, and Donna Clark the third novice, debated negative. Gaunt was ranked the number one varsity debater in the entire tournament.

On Monday, Dec. 13, the debaters will participate in the final WCTM league debate.

Wrestlers Pin Tecumseh in Opening Meet

With today's tough match against Saline apparently in the backs of their minds, Chelsea's wrestlers scored a 43 to 19 defeat in their season opener against Tecumseh, Thursday, Dec. 2.

According to Coach Richard Bareis, the Chelsea wrestlers showed they are definitely rounding into shape and are wrestling well for so early in the season.

Two of Chelsea's three losses were suffered by freshmen, and Coach Bareis indicated that each of the two turned in good performances, both through their actions on the mat and by making their weights.

Bob Sawyer wrestled at 98 pounds, and although he was pinned, he made a real effort to become the varsity 98-pound wrestler, Bareis said.

Daryl Wert wrestled in the 155-pound class, and faced Tecumseh's Mike Tilton. Daryl went into the third period with a 0-0 score, but lost, 3-0, in what Coach Bareis said was a good match.

Junior Mark Montange, collected an easy fall victory at 135 of the first period. Dale Poertner, a sophomore, kept things even by wrestling to a draw in the 112-lb. class.

At 119, sophomore Keith Kargel pinned his opponent at 2:46 of the second period. Junior Tim Hass wrestled at 126 pounds, and was pinned.

In what Coach Bareis described as the best match of the evening, Senior Captain Larry Jones, wrestling at 132 pounds defeated a strong opponent through a fall at 4:56 of the third period.

Tim Lancaster, wrestling in the 138-pound class pinned his opponent at 2:09 of the second period. Senior Tom McKernan, returning to action after missing most of last season due to injuries, pinned his opponent in the 145-pound class, at 3:14 of the second period.

Doug McDonald gained a 2-0 decision win with a reversal late in the third period.

Senior Jon Schenk, wrestling in the 185-pound class, replaced Randy Seitz who sustained a rib injury in practice.

Student Council Gathers Food for Needy Families

Chelsea High school student council plans to hold its annual drive for canned goods Sunday, Dec. 12.

The 40-member council, and the student body, expect to hold a house-to-house canvass Sunday afternoon to collect goods for needy families in the Chelsea area.

According to Pat Ball, student council treasurer, the council also expects to place collection boxes in some of the local stores and also in school classrooms.

Mrs. Chandler Rogers is now patient at Chelsea Community Hospital. Mrs. Rogers suffered a fall while on a vacation trip.

Bulldogs Nip Stockbridge for Second Win

Tough Saline Hornets Coming Friday For First Home Game of Season

Chelsea defeated Stockbridge, 71 to 61, despite an early lead by Stockbridge, in their second game of the season played Tuesday night in Stockbridge.

Stockbridge led, 21 to 15, at the end of the first quarter. Jeff Daniels scored seven of Chelsea's first 15 points.

In the second quarter, Chelsea outscored Stockbridge, 21 to 19. Todd Sprague and Wayne Welton each had six points to lead the way for Chelsea. By half-time, Chelsea had narrowed the gap to four points, as Stockbridge took a 40 to 46 lead into the locker room with them.

Chelsea took over in the third quarter, outscoring Stockbridge, 17 to 12 with Ron Sweeney scoring 10 of Chelsea's 12 points. And Chelsea led, 53 to 52, going into the final quarter.

By outscoring Stockbridge, 18 to 13, in the last quarter, Chelsea pulled ahead. Ron Sweeney and Wayne Welton each scored six points for the Bulldogs.

Jeff Schmidt led Chelsea's rebounders with 12 and Ron Sweeney followed with eight.

Outstanding defensive players were Chick Lane who guarded Jesse Campbell most of the night, holding him to 21 points for the night. Wayne Welton had seven steals for Chelsea.

Chelsea will meet Saline here, Friday night in what Coach Chuck Kelly anticipates will be a tough game. "They have a 6'8" center, too," Kelly said.

Chelsea's JV squeaked by Stockbridge, 45 to 44, in the JV game preceding the varsity action Tuesday night.

Stockbridge scored 40 points in the final quarter of the game to inch within winning range, but Chelsea held on to win.

Top scorer for the JV's was Jeff Sprague with 13. He was followed by Rick Miller with 11. Tim Treado with 6, Marv Guster and Larry Gartick each with four.

Chelsea's leading rebounder was Rick Miller with 19. Tim Treado had seven and Marv Guster six.

Both the JV and the Varsity Bulldogs now have 2-0 records. JV action begins at 6:30 Friday, with varsity ball at approximately 8 p.m.

Santa's Returning For Another Visit

That Merry Old Elf, Saint Nicholas, made his first pre-Christmas visit to Chelsea last Saturday, and talked to more than 480 Chelsea small fry about Christmas wishes and other things.

Santa rode into town on a big red fire engine, and held court at the post office from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday in the first of his two three-hour visits to the village.

Although it was, according to one of Santa's local helpers, a very large crowd, there should be plenty of candy left for his second visit from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 11.

Instead of riding into town on a fire engine, Santa will probably sneak into town and appear on Main St. before anyone even knows he's here. This week, he'll walk up and down Chelsea's main streets, handing out candy and talking with everyone he meets.

Nearly 25 children delivered letters to Santa in person last Saturday, but those who didn't will be able to mail them—without postage—in the special mail box which sends mail directly to the North Pole, this Saturday.

This will be Santa's last visit to Chelsea before Dec. 25, Santa's hipsters, the Chelsea Jayces, say: "Don't miss him."

Cagers Win Season Opener At Dexter

The Chelsea Bulldogs traveled to Dexter Friday night, opening their 1971-72 basketball season. After a slow start, the Bulldogs pulled away to a convincing 72-50 win over the neighboring Dreadnaughts.

The opening quarter found the Bulldogs making typical first game mistakes. The Dreadnaughts, who had opened their season on Tuesday, quickly took advantage of the mistakes to race to a 10 to 4 lead.

But the Bulldogs found themselves, and rallied to tie the score, 13-13, at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter saw a dramatic change. Chelsea quickly

"I LIKE YOUR BEARD..." Christine Burg focuses her attention on Santa's beard after shyly telling him about the things she wants for Christmas. Linda Vandervoort (center) listens as she waits her turn. Santa will have more candy when he returns for his last visit before Christmas this Saturday, Dec. 11.

"AND I WANT..." Mary Geer bundled up and waited until it was her turn to tell Santa all about her Christmas wishes. Mary, and all 480 children who talked with St. Nick, received a stocking filled with candy. Santa will be in town again this Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m., but will meet people on Main St. rather than at the Post Office.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The 1971 White House Conference on Aging was held in Washington last week. It is the second such conference in the last 10 years, the first having been called by President Eisenhower and convened in Washington in early January, 1961.

This conference raised important and far reaching questions at a time when millions of older Americans are experiencing the feeling that society has failed them. The goals are obvious. We must do more at providing our Senior Citizens with better income, better housing, far more adequate transportation, and much more needs to be done to maximize employment opportunities.

As the 1971 conference got underway, there were 20 million Americans over 65, which is one in every 10 persons in the nation. This number grows at the rate of 900 a day or over 300,000 a year. It is a sad commentary in the wealthiest nation in the world our older citizens have the feeling that society has placed them in an inferior position, that they have been promised more by society than what has been delivered. One thing that comes through to me as a result of my trips throughout the district is that senior citizens do not want to be put on the shelf. They want an opportunity to live in dignity and to share and contribute to the abundance and growth of our nation.

I have had this in mind in a series of legislative steps that I have taken over the years; for instance, I have repeatedly introduced bills to end the earnings limitation. In my view, there are few single steps that the Congress could take that would be more meaningful to the elderly. At this moment, I am preparing a bill which would authorize a $5,000 exemption for these persons. Additionally, I am a strong supporter of H.R. 1 which contains Social Security Welfare Reform amendments and has been passed by the House of Representatives. In addition to making major reforms in the Social Security program, such as full benefits for widows at age 65, cost of living adjustments, and new special minimum benefits, this bill would establish for the first time a new federal income floor for the elderly.

I am pleased to note that probably by the time this report reaches you, the House Appropriations Committee will very likely have acted favorably on a proposal which I made last spring to fund some 21 nutrition projects under Title Four of the Older Americans Act. These programs have been on a demonstration basis only, but as a result of the effort of my colleagues in both the House and Senate who share my view that we can make no better investment than in programs that assure our people have a proper diet, we succeeded in an expansion of this effort and a broadening of these activities.

Additionally, I have sought a recognition of the fact that an overwhelming majority of the millions of older Americans who are now unemployed do in fact possess extraordinary skills that can be easily and quickly adapted by both public and private non-profit groups in communities across the nation. I have long felt that Congress ought to assess the possibility of a federal program in co-operation with local agencies which would put these older Americans into the many available para-professional jobs.

In the space that I have here, I cannot touch on all the critical changes that ought to be made as we confront the problem of the aged. It has been too easy for too many of us to literally forget this segment of our society. It is my hope that the White House Conference on Aging, just concluded, where no subject was taboo, can address itself to the simple fact that we as a society have not done enough and get on with the task of setting immediate and long-range goals that can be met. It would be a pity for the White House Conference on Aging to become a political battleground and anything less than the constructive instrument that is so urgently needed.

Contributions Encouraged
While politicians in Washington have been arguing whether to tap income taxpayers for $1 a head to finance presidential campaigns, the Michigan legislature has quietly taken steps to encourage Michiganders to contribute voluntarily to campaigns.

A new state law allows any resident to take a deduction on his state income tax for deductions to political campaigns of up to $50. The law goes into effect Jan. 1, meaning it will be a factor for next year's campaigns.

Michigan is the sixth state to enact such a statute, which was sponsored by Sen. William S. Ballenger, R-Ovid.

"In an age of ever-increasing and excruciating campaign expenses, this new law will encourage thousands of people and hundreds of organizations in Michigan to give, or to give more," Ballenger says. "This will take vast pressure off the hundreds of non-wealthy citizens in Michigan who run for office, and will give a lot of good men a better chance to play what present laws have been helping to make a rich man's game."

Ballenger sees the best insurance against letting candidates become "owned" by a few big contributors as being "to get so many people to participate in the giving that no candidate would feel dependent on special interest groups."

"It would be a really healthy development if the Michigan voter can be persuaded to leave his public servants less dependent on the financial fat cats, be they individuals or organizations."

Polarization Continues
Despite recent legal advances in the field of equal opportunity for all races, Michigan is still a state in which the races are separated by their residences.

A recently completed study by Michigan State University professor Daniel H. Kruger, shows the black population in Michigan's major cities is increasing while white population is migrating to the suburbs.

Opponents to the drive for a one-house legislature for Michigan have been doing more work recently as they started to see some progress on the part of the one-house advocates.

They recently stretched quite a bit to come up with yet another argument against the concept.

It seems in the country of Chile, President Salvador Allende has been pushing the idea of a one-house legislature for his nation. Allende is the first Communist to be freely elected president of any country. The unsaid conclusion to the anti-one-house argument was that a one-house legislature is another "Communist plot."

This totally ignores the fact that the only American State with a one-house legislature is Nebraska—which certainly is not a hotbed of radicalism. The state, in fact, gave Richard Nixon a bigger percentage of its vote in both 1960 and 1968 than any other state.

Perhaps it should be hoped those advancing this argument never learn that the father of Communism—Karl Marx—also was very much in favor of a public school system. We might have a campaign to abolish public schools.

"I REMEMBER"

FROM JEAN P. WHITLEY, ALVIN, TEX.: It was a bit chilly this morning, so I just turned on the heat for a few minutes to take the chill off the room, poured my coffee and sat down to let the wheels in my head turn back the pages of time.

In the days when I was a child, I'd have to get out of bed, teeth chattering and thinking I'd freeze to death for sure before I'd get the fire going. I always had to build the fire in the kitchen stove first. Then into the dining room, to light the fireplace. After I got that fire going, I'd rush back to make sure the fire in the kitchen stove was burning well, turn the damper just so, and put on the coffee pot. Then I'd put on heavier pieces of wood on the fire so that Dad and the boys would have plenty of hot water to wash and shave.

After that, the ashes had to be taken care of. Then I'd hurry and get my clothes on and go out into the big screened porch where all the basins and towels were kept. There was an old potbellied stove on the porch that I also had to build a fire in.

That's how I remember spending my early mornings as a child. It is such a joy to think back where you have been and what you have done, and then to look around and see all the changes that have been made in our way of life.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Ever since the courts decided ranchers had to run ads for cow-pens instead of cowboys, the wim-pens-folks, bless em, has been holding for equal everything. Saturday night at the country store, the fellers, that was well out of sight and sound of their old ladies, discussed how far we can go in this direction.

Bug Hookum allowed that when girls started calling themselves female brothers that put the stopper in the equality jug for him. He had saw by the paper where girls in colleges are now living in them fraternity houses with the boys, and they say they like being female brothers cause they ain't around chattering wimmen all the time. Bug was of a mind that ain't equality, that's deserting under fire.

Serious, Bug said, wimmen that try to be men is set on being more unequal than they was as wimmen, cause the gals got the upper hand now ever way you turn. Ever time they ask fer somepun, men fall over themselves gitting it fer em, and Bug allowed that included new laws and changes in old ones. Bug said he had saw where men was getting in the act and suing to be airplane stewardesses, which will make the men that ride airplanes all the more in favor of wimmen.

Clem Webster said the equal ity stoppin' place was somewhere short of this piece he saw about "destroying the motherhood myth." He said this bunch of wimmen is trying to do away with the idea that wimmen ought to have young uns. If they don't, who's going to. Clem wanted to know, allowing that was one job wimmen couldn't turn over to the men.

Talking about babies, Zeke GKrub reported where this woman sued her druggist for $250,000 cause he give her tran-quillizers instead of birth control pills and she had her eighth young-gun. Zeke said the court ruled that the druggist had to pay the woman $12,000 on account of the mixup, but that was to much punishment to fit the crime. After seven younguns, Zeke figured she needed all the tranquillizing she could git, and one more youngun underfoot don't make $12,000 difference.

General speaking, broke in Ed Doolittle, wimmen ain't the only ones got crazy laws. Ed had saw where they is a bill in Congress to license hitchhikers. Ed said he saw trouble giving em a license test, not to mention telling the bums from the hitchhikers. Prilly soon they'll want to license relaxing, which Ed said is cutting dangerous cloth to loafing, which is the natural born right of ever American. If they git hobos and road bums, Ed said, they ain't nobody safe.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Gitting back to equality, Zeke said boys has outsmarted their selves about as much as girls. Zeke said his preacher told him that his boy got a GI haircut. The boy turned in the driveway without giving a signal and the feller in the car behind called him a crazy woman driver.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

ALMOST READY: The new ice skating rink at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds, all 200 by 85 feet of it, will be flooded as soon as the ground is frosted enough to permit installation of the plastic liner, according to Owen Loasby of the Chelsea District Hockey Association. Construction work on the rink, done by CDHA supporters, was completed this past week-end. Now all that remains is for Mother Nature to do her part. Hopefully, Loasby said, the rink will be flooded within the next two to three weeks.

Registrations Still Sought for Hockey Teams

Owen Loasby of the Chelsea District Hockey Association announced this week that there are 11 team vacancies in all age groups.

"Many who indicated a willingness to join have not responded," Loasby said. "Our program was dedicated on their participation."

While registration is still open for boys between 8 and 18, Loasby noted that registration will be closed soon because of uniform and equipment requirements. Since the uniforms must be ordered at least two to three weeks before the opening of the season, the deadline is imminent.

Anyone wishing to register should contact Mrs. Larry Oswald, room 204 of Chelsea High school, or Owen Loasby at Gateway Sports Centre.

To register, a boy must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, have a copy of his birth certificate in hand, and be prepared to pay the $15 fee at the time of registration.

Despite Loasby's disappointment because all those who initially said they wanted to play hockey have not registered thus far, he is enthusiastic about the way several aspects of the CDHA are taking shape.

Construction of the skating rink was completed this last week-end. When the solid frost is in the ground, the liner will be installed and the rink flooded. Loasby anticipates that they will be able to flood the rink some time within the next two weeks.

Although the coaches and referees list is not yet complete, nine men are lined up to fill coaching and refereeing slots.

Coaching will be Phil Boham, Terry Finch, Don Henry, Rodney Houle, Larry Oswald, and Jim Settle. No team assignments have been made yet, Loasby said.

Referees will be Steve Gilbreath, Jack Gilbreath, Jerry Ringe, and Todd Sprague.

Jerry Ringe, a registered referee with the Amateur Hockey Association of the U. S. and the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association, will also assist with coaching. He currently plays hockey for the Jackson Apollo team.

Stone Blue Jay Stolen

A stone bluejay — part of a bird bath decoration — valued at $24, was stolen from the yard of William Bauer, 522 Lane St., sometime between 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5 and 3 p.m. Monday, Dec. 6. The statue was approximately 16 inches high. Chelsea Police are investigating.

In the city of Detroit, the proportion of black families under $5,000 annual income was more than three times that of white families in 1970.

Frosh Cagers Storm Past Dexter, 50-35

The freshman basketball team opened its 1971-72 season last Thursday night with a 50-35 win over Dexter at Dexter.

Chelsea led all the way, and at one time enjoyed as much as a 20-point lead.

Leading scorers for Chelsea were Perry Johnson with 12 points, Gary Wonders with 11 and Paul Wood with 10.

Paul Wood was Chelsea's leading rebounder with 23, and close behind were Perry Johnson and Glenn Akter.

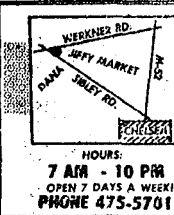

According to coach Jim Tallman, Wood played an outstanding game at center for the Bulldogs. "Paul is a very smart ballplayer," Tallman said. "Because of his ability to concentrate on his game, he makes very few mistakes."

The freshmen take on Saline in their first home game tonight at 7 p.m.

For a party-starter punch, combine ½ cup lemon juice, one-third cup lime juice, ¾ cup sugar, 1½ cups chilled club soda, and 1 cup chopped ice in electric blender or large shaker. Blend thoroughly. Pour into chilled glasses. Garnish with slices of lime and Maraschino cherries. Makes 6 servings, ½ cup each.

Daily, over 100 million people eat in restaurants, spending over $27 billion annually. This makes the restaurant business the largest, single U.S. retail group. Commercial restaurants now number 359,000.

Eighty-two percent of the black population in Michigan lives in the central cities.

THANK YOU

I was proud to represent my school and town in the Queen of Queens Contest. There are so many people I wish to extend my thanks to, but I couldn't begin to name them all. A few though I would like to give recognition to. First I would like to thank Vicki Kuhl for all her time and help. She got the whole thing started at school and canisters in the stores. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Heller and their sons, and Walter Brynn for all they did to get flyers out and to take time to distribute them; Walter Leonard for printing the picture in The Standard. My two sisters Mary and Gayle for their help in the Junior High. But most of all, my parents for always being there to help. This was an experience I will never forget. And my thanks to everyone for their "penny vote"

Generation Gap U.S.A.

"I suppose this means I've flunked."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Christmas, the cheerful time of the year will soon be here.
Gay greetings, sharing of good food, gift giving and cordial smiles will, as always, bring joy and good feelings. As usual, indecision and problems face people in gift choosing. The problem is worsened by the increasing competition for the giver's dollar.

In gift giving, and most of it is generous indeed, a sad situation exists. The church, the embodiment of the Man whose birthday we celebrate, is rarely included in proportionate gift giving plans. Churches of all denominations are way down on the list, if indeed they are there at all, as recipients for Christmas gifts.
... Yet, as most church minded people will confirm, all churches need gifts of talent, time and money far more urgently than most individuals.

The money spent by people on people entails a gift problem.
The pittance given to God shows a spiritual problem. Don't you think we should face the spiritual problem along with the gift problem at Christmas? ... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Kitchen Arrangement Can Add To Efficiency in Home Work Area

The shape of your kitchen affects your efficiency. According to Michigan State University home management specialist Lucile Ketchum work centers forming the points of a triangle are the ideal kitchen work arrangement. She emphasizes that kitchen arranged so traffic and other activities are not inside the angle means fewer interruptions for homemakers.

The usual patterns for work center arrangements are U- and L-shaped, and a "two-wall" kitchen," she explains. The U-shaped kitchen is arranged on two adjoining walls. And the angle shouldn't be too wide—about 11 feet is good. Usually the sink is in the center of the U.

And if it happens that it's on the outside wall, there's usually a window above. The opening of the U leaves room for other activities, like children's play or dining.

The L-shaped kitchen places the food preparation area on two adjoining walls, so it goes around corner. However, you can still have a triangular arrangement of food centers.

A long narrow room almost requires a two-wall kitchen arrangement, particularly if the room is less than nine feet wide. By arranging the food mixing, sink, and range centers across from each other, two on one wall, one on the other wall, you can still have a triangular arrangement.

Just be careful to avoid two-wall kitchen that has a major traffic pattern directly through it, another part of the house. A two-wall kitchen shouldn't be a hallway.

Whatever the shape of the room, the kitchen can still have the work triangle arrangement.

For optimum efficiency, the lengths of all three sides of the triangle should total no less than 13 feet. But if the three sides total more than 23 feet, you'll find that you're wasting time and energy walking from work area to work area, past space that you could probably do without.

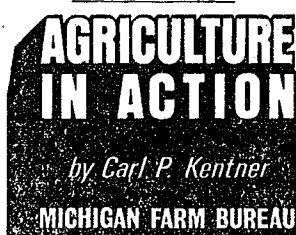

"In any kitchen layout where cabinets and appliances are arranged across from each other, be sure to allow a minimum of four feet between counters, so you can move around, and open drawers and doors. Five feet is really preferable," Miss Ketchum cautions.

Not all kitchens fall into the U-, L- or two-wall categories. If the kitchen is a large room used for a number of activities, perhaps adding an island or peninsula could create a smaller work triangle, and save steps.

"When the kitchen is quite narrow, resign yourself to the fact that you'll be more efficient working alone. Another person trying to help will just be in the way," Miss Ketchum points out.

If you're planning to build or remodel a kitchen, consider the other activities, besides meal preparation, you might like there, she suggests. You might include space for children to play, a dining table, a desk and even laundry equipment. If you include these activities in your kitchen, you'll be more efficient if you keep them out of the food preparation area—the mix, sink, and range triangle.

★ Family Farm Doomed?

Is the family farm doomed by the supposed take-over of the nation's agriculture by big corporations?

The big election campaign season hasn't even gotten into gear. But political winds are starting to blow strong on the subject. We can expect to hear a great deal more about the doomed family farm from candidates during next year's campaign, just as we did during the Senate Committee hearing on the approval of the new Secretary of Agriculture.

Perhaps now is the time to look at a survey taken in 1968 under the direction of the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

The survey shows that there are about 13,300 farming corporations in the U.S. which account for 1 percent of all the commercial farms and about 7 percent of the nation's farmland.

Another fact disclosed by the survey is that nearly two-thirds of these farming corporations are family owned and controlled. In fact, family corporations own 66 percent of all the incorporated farming units and produce 59 percent of the commodities sold by corporate farms.

In many cases a family farm unit is incorporated so the farm may be passed on to heirs without going through the dismal process of selling out and starting over. A corporation assures continuity and allows all members of a family to be stockholders. It also may create a higher interest in the operations and help retain young people in agriculture.

One of the main reasons huge, diversified outside corporations are not too interested in farming is their responsibility of investing stockholders' money at the highest possible rate of profit. At the present time, they find rough going in agriculture due to the price-cost squeeze. There is a long list of corporations which have now retired from farming because the profit ledgers showed negative returns.

Chelsea's Oldest House Built In 1841 By Pioneer N. Pierce

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story was suggested by Paul Hoffman and prepared with the assistance of Nathan Pierce and Paul Pierce, grandsons of Hiram Pierce, great-grandson of Nathan Pierce.

By Lee Edgren
The old frame house has stood for 140 years now. Built for Nathan Pierce in 1831 by a builder named Garleck, the house, at 14300 Old US-12, is the oldest in Chelsea.

It's hard to imagine what it must have been like at the time Nathan Pierce came here as a pioneer settler. The population of the state had not yet reached 36,000. In fact, there really was no state of Michigan at all, just a wilderness territory dotted here and there with primitive settlements.

The war over the Michigan-Ohio boundary had not yet been fought, the first road between Detroit and Chicago had not been built. The rich veins of iron ore in the Upper Peninsula had not yet been discovered.

But in 1832, Nathan Pierce brought his family by steamer from Massachusetts to Detroit, and from there overland to the tiny settlement which was to be called Pierceville before it was finally called Chelsea.

Nathan Pierce claimed 400 acres of rich farm land on what is now the southeast side of the village. The land grant giving him title to the land was signed in 1833 by President Andrew Jackson.

Nathan Pierce was the first supervisor of Sylvan township, and was elected to the state legislature in 1846—when the capital of the state was still located in Detroit.

Legend has it that Pierce was the man who moved that the capital be located in Lansing, a change finally accomplished in 1849.

When Nathan Pierce first went to take his seat in the legislature he went on foot, wearing new hand-made boots. "Before he got to Detroit," an old Pierce family diary relates, "The boots hurt his feet and he pulled them off, and he is said to have walked into the city barefooted."

It is not surprising that his boots proved to be a little snug. Pierce was a big man, standing over six feet tall, and his feet were proportionally large.

One of Nathan Pierce's grandsons wrote, "A sobriquet often applied to our grandfather Nathan was 'Old Boots,' doubtless because of the generous size of his feet."

Nathan Pierce lived on his 400-acre farm only 42 years, moving to Marengo in 1844. He left the farm with two of his seven children, Hiram and Mowry. In 1842, Hiram paid his father $1,400 for half the farm. He bought the other half from his brother in 1856.

Both Nathan and Hiram Pierce were meticulous diary keepers. Their diaries are filled with personal anecdotes, descriptions of the weather and other day-to-day happenings which provide valuable insight into the life which early settlers lived. Nathan Pierce's diary also served as a sort of account book. One entry made in 1850 notes:

THE PIERCE FARM HOUSE, 14300 Old US-12, is, at 140 years, the oldest house in Chelsea. Built in 1831 for Nathan Pierce, the house stood alone for many years on the 400 acre land-grant farm deeded to Nathan Pierce in 1833 by President Andrew Jackson.

"I arrived at Lansing and put up at the Lansing House at $5 a week and stayed there two weeks. I then moved to the Seymour house and boarded with Mr. Pointer 10 weeks and two days at $3 per week. 'I paid Dickey for being carried to the capital, $2. I also paid my expenses while going, $1. I paid $5 for stationery to use while a member, I paid for a trunk which I purchased, $4. I paid for medicine while sick, $1.50'"

His diary also records the fact that year he paid 50 cents for a pair of hand-made shoes, and $1 for hand-made boots.

The keenness with which Pierce observed his surroundings is shown by this entry concerning the winter of 1855:

"Winter commenced Saturday, Dec. 22. The snow fell all day and the three following days were unusually cold, and we did not have any warm weather until after the 22nd of March. The snow fell in December about one foot deep and continued to increase to some foot and a half in depth and the same snow lay all winter."

"I did not observe the water to melt and run from the caves of our buildings not once in three months. Steady cold weather every day and the snow much piled up . . ."

"I have been in this state and territory since June, 1831, and have never seen such a winter before in this state. . ."

The Pierce home was often used as a stopping place for travelers passing both by stage and on foot. One traveler staying at the farm died of cholera, and officials of the Vermont cemetery, fearing the spread of the deadly disease, refused to bury the body.

Nathan Pierce resolved the problem of what to do with the corpse by saying "He died in my house, and he shall be buried on my land."

The traveler's death was the occasion of the founding of the Pierce family cemetery.

Many years later Alma Pierce, a granddaughter of Nathan, recalled that the second person to be buried in the cemetery was a little girl who fell from a wagon. She had been on her way west with her family. Nathan Pierce himself died in 1862 and was buried in that same cemetery.

Hiram Pierce worked the family farm until his death. He and his wife, the former Catherine Cassidy, had 12 children, 11 of whom lived to adulthood. One of the sons, John R., was killed shortly after the turn of the century when the team pulling the wagon in which he was riding bolted. Pierce was thrown from the wagon into one of the new telephone poles on S. Main St.

After the deaths of Hiram and Catherine Pierce, Alma and Mary Pierce and their brother Max took over the farm. But in 1916 Max had the urge to move west, and the two sisters left the farm and moved into town. The farm was worked from 1916 to approximately 1944 by Harry Prudden, a grandson of Hiram Pierce, the son of Adial and Annette Pierce Prudden.

Max Pierce simply disappeared. He was last heard from in 1918, and was living at the time in Spokane, Washington.

Mary Pierce died in the late 1920's, but Alma Pierce retained the farm until shortly before her death Jan. 19, 1950 at the age of 93.

After Harry Prudden and his wife moved from the farm it was worked by Robert Lantis, then by Kenneth Exelby, and finally stood empty in 1949 while negotiations for its sale were pending. It was the first time in its 118 year history that the house was not inhabited.

In 1948 Alma Pierce donated two acres of the Pierce family farm to Chelsea for use as a park. Two more areas of the farm were purchased by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and incorporated into the four acre Pierce Park on South Main St.

The farm finally left the possession of the Pierce family in Dec. 1949. Alma Pierce had tried to sell the farm as a whole, but buyers were reluctant to purchase the large parcel of land which over the years had grown to 422 acres.

The farm was divided into two parcels, 80 acres north of Old US-12, and 340 acres south. The north parcel of land, including the farm house and buildings, was sold to Alvin H. Pommerening. The 340-acre parcel was sold to Earl Whitney and Don Turner, local mason contractors.

The farm was broken into lots for residential and business development.

The Pierce house is now owned by Mrs. Emerson Lesser, but descendants of Nathan and Hiram Pierce still living in the area keep the Pierce family legend alive.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Happiness ...

Someone has said that happiness is a running stream; it can't not be a stagnant pool. Think about this for a moment and you will realize that one cannot find happiness by the side of the road.
Happiness must be found in the mainstream of life. We cannot capture a single moment and hold on to it forever. Today must fade with the setting of the sun, knowing surely that tomorrow will come.
Look for happiness to come your way tomorrow in the shape of opportunity. You will find it only if you realize that happiness is not a discovery and not a point in time. Happiness is a by product of successful living.
Happiness is a duty done, a good deed, being loved, it is justice, freedom, and knowing the will of God.

KINDERGARTEN—

Rooms 1, 2, 3, 6
Teachers: Mrs. Bowers
Mrs. Michelson,
Mrs. Van Blaricum

December starts off with a bang. Soon all the children will be able to zip their coats and put on their boots.
Thanksgiving passed quickly.
Indians, Pilgrims, feasts, and tepees have vanished, for December brings snow and thoughts of Christmas.

Tom Hodgson, Conservation Nationalist, came in to show us a collection of stuffed animals that we find in the area (they didn't watch when they crossed the road). We all had fun touching and hearing about them. We appreciate his giving his time.
We enjoyed the cultural activities, such as the string quartet from Ann Arbor and the play at the high school.

The morning kindergarten children were delighted to sing last Friday at the Methodist Home.
Dec. 17 is the date for our Christmas walk to the Public Library where we will listen to stories.
Our Christmas parties will be on Wednesday, Dec. 22. On Thursday, Dec. 23 the children will gather their things to take home.
Happy Christmas to all and to all a good night!

FIRST GRADE—

Room 4
Teacher: Mrs. Stewart

We've had a very exciting month in room 4. Besides our reading, arithmetic and printing we had a visit from two Indians from the high school who told us about what Indians wore and ate. They even danced for us!

We heard some ladies from Ann Arbor play string instruments for us. It was fun hearing a little three-year-old girl play the violin.

The day before Thanksgiving vacation we had a feast in our room and wore Pilgrim costumes that we made ourselves. Some of our mothers came and watched.
It was fun!

We are learning how to add and subtract. It's fun and easy too!

December is here and we'll be getting ready for Christmas. December birthdays are: 6th, Scott

Dault; 12th, Dee Dee Hammel; 14th, Tim Grenleaf; 16th, Randy Larson.

Room 5

Teacher: Mrs. Thodeson
Reporters: all the children

We wrote a letter to Amanda Kelin who moved to Asectney, Vt.
At our Thanksgiving feast, Mrs.
Thodeson took some pictures of us in our Pilgrim hats. We sent Amanda three pictures and some pictures that we drew.

Now we are doing some hard work. We are learning about vowel sounds and listening for the short a and the short e sounds.

We had fun in Mrs. Wahl's class making animals with clay.
When they are dry we will paint them.

We have had several birthday parties lately. Susan Bareis brought a birthday treat on Dec.
2. Susan Messner and Rosemarie Roy will have December birthdays too. Happy birthday girls!

Room 2

Teacher: Mrs. Thornton
Reporters: Lisa Beeman,
Randy Krichbaum
Rodney Robeson, Kristin Thomas

We went to see "The Clown."
It was a really good program.
We've had the opportunity to hear a string quartet. A little four-year-old girl played for us, too.
In music class we heard about Indians. Two high school boys came and talked to us. They taught us two Indian words.

Our Thanksgiving feast was delicious. We want to thank our parents for coming to see us and our Pilgrim costumes. We all had a nice vacation and our class is getting ready for Christmas.

We like learning our sounds.
Mrs. Z was fun to practice. We are learning to write to 60. We will be going to the library for books this week.

Have a Happy Holiday!

Meat cooked at low to moderate temperature provides maximum tenderness and juiciness. In addition, because of less shrinkage, their's more meat to serve. Also, the center of the meat cut is fully cooked without becoming overdone.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor,

As we all know, President Nixon has asked the citizens of this country to aid him in his fight against inflation. A small group of students at Chelsea High School have decided to ignore his plea while publishing the 1972 Chelsea High School Yearbook.

The proposed price of the 1972 Annual is $7.00, while last year's price was $5.00. This represents an increase of 40 percent. By using figures which the Yearbook staff has provided for us, we have determined that their production costs have gone up only 15.5 percent. This difference of 24.5 percent is attempted to be justified because of a debt other yearbook staffs have incurred over the last two years. We feel this increase is wrong for two reasons: first, because it is a violation of President Nixon's Phase II, and second, because it is an attempt to pay off a long term debt over a short period of time, thereby putting too heavy a financial burden on this year's students.

Because the yearbook staff has created these problems we have filed a formal complaint with the Internal Revenue Service in hopes that it will force a rollback of the price increase. If our complaint is not acted upon, it is our hope that the citizens of this community will make known to the yearbook staff their objections to the 40 percent price increase.

Sincerely,
Chick Lane
Dan Gaunt
Mike Hergert

Competition in Chicago consisted of judging eight classes of beef, sheep, and swine and giving four sets of oral reasons for their find-winner.

Michigan's team scored exceptionally well in the beef cattle other contestants by placing 31st in that area.

The team has been coached over

About Your Social Security

Question: I am approaching 65 and getting ready to file a claim for Social Security benefits. How ever, since I was born in Kentucky and they didn't record births there when I was born, I have no birth certificate. How can I prove my age for Social Security?

Answer: If you have no birth or baptismal certificate recorded before you were 5 years old, you likely have several other documents in your possession or easily available that you can use for Social Security. However, you may need to supply two or more of them, depending on how old other things you can submit include insurance policies, children's birth certificates, your marriage certificate, delayed birth certificate, school records and census records. The people at the Social Security Office will help you get what you need when you file your claim, so do not delay filing just because you don't have a birth certificate.

Question: I get social security payments as a widow. I do not work, but I own a small apartment building. Does my rental income count toward the $1,680 a year that I can earn before social security payments are reduced?

Answer: No. Only wages and self-employment income count as earnings for social security purposes. Rental income will not affect your cash benefits unless you are a real estate dealer.

Question: I am a laborer in heavy construction. Since I work for different contractors throughout the year, I request a statement of my earnings from social security every few years. The last statement I got did not agree with my own records. How can I get this corrected?

Answer: Get in touch with any social security office promptly so cleared up. You should bring along with you any wage receipts, work records, or any other record
you have of your earnings.

Question: My brother, who is 36 and has a family of four, was hurt in an accident almost a year ago and isn't working. He applied for social security disability benefits, and just last week they told him that he wasn't disabled enough to get benefits. I feel he is. Is there anything more he can do?

Answer: Yes. The social security office has already explained to your brother that he can request a reconsideration. But he must make this request within 6 months of the date that the initial decision was made. A reconsideration is a complete review of his case. If your brother then disagrees with the reconsideration decision, he can request a hearing before a hearing examiner of the After this, your brother can take his case to an Appeals Council, and, finally, he can seek review by a Federal court.

All of these steps are explained in detail in a leaflet—"Right to Question the Decision Made on Your Claim." It is available from any social security office.

Check Stored Grain Regularly For Possible Heat

Check stored grain regularly, even when dried correctly, advises Bill Ames, Washtenaw County Extension Agricultural Agent.

Ames and Dr. Robert Maddex, Michigan State University agricultural engineer, make these suggestions:

1. Open top door and smell grain.
2. Probe and check moisture.
3. Turn on aeration system, snail exhaust air and check grain temperature.
4. Check around bin walls to see if grain feels more moist than in center of bin.

If there are indications that grain is out of condition, says
Ames, take action immediately.
Either aerate the grain, dry it more or move it to another bin.
Use aeration systems to chill the grain mass to near 40 degrees, Ames adds. Check with thermometer hung in the exhaust air stream.

About 100 hours of fan operation are needed to assure the grain temperature 20 degrees at an airflow rate of 1-10 CFM (cubic feet per minute per bushel).

We're always a little suspicious of those who hasten to assure us that they want nothing from us.

the Ann Arbor planning firm of Johnson, Johnson & Roy.

The first two phases will include a preliminary study of the township, and the presentation of three alternative land use concepts based on existing resources and projected growth.

Land-use concepts both including and excluding the proposed Mill Creek Park would be prepared.

According to Virginia Denham, a member of the township planning commission (which favored accepting the grant) and an ardent opponent of Mill Creek Park, acceptance of the grant will speed the development of the much needed plan by approximately three years, without affecting the township's position on the park.

Cagers Win Season Opener At Dexter

opened up a 10-point lead as Wayne Welton and Todd Sprague hit for 14 quick points. Chelsea outscored Dexter, 26 to 15, in the quarter to take a 39-23 half-time lead.

In the second half, the Bulldogs gradually opened up the lead, which mounted to 26 points at one time.

With the game belonging to Chelsea both teams substituted liberally to allow all players to gain needed experience for the games to come.

The game was a typical early season game with many fouls and turnovers by both teams, according to Coach Chuck Kelly. Chelsea out-rebounded the smaller Dexter team, 40 to 27, but turned over the ball 16 times without getting a shot.

Leading scorers for Dexter were Al Hosier and Frank Gucker with 11 each. Chelsea had seven ball players with eight or more points.

Todd Sprague led the way with 12, followed by Ron Sweeney with 11, Wayne Welton and Jeff Schmidt with 10 each, Tim Van Slambrouck with nine and Jeff Daniels and John Mann with eight each.

Jeff Schmidt led Chelsea's rebounders with 11, while Jeff Daniels collected eight.

Leading Chelsea's aggressive defense were Wayne Welton and Chick Lane.

The Bulldog JV's downed the Dreadnaught's JV team 62 to 45 in their season opener preceding Friday's varsity game.

Chelsea trailed by one point at the end of the first quarter, but picked up 13 points in the second period to make the half-time score 29 to 20.

Chelsea's leading scorer was Jeff Sprague with 20 points. Following were Tim Treado with 12, Marvin Guster with 10 and Ron Kiel with 10.

Ron Kiel was the leading rebounder for Chelsea, coming up with 22. Tim Treado had 18, Marvin Guster 16, and Larry Garlick 14.

According to Coach Paul Terpstra, the JV's made "typical first game mistakes," but did a fine job of rebounding and hustling.

Both JV's and varsity met Stockbridge Tuesday night. The Bulldogs will open their home season Friday against Saline. JV games start at 6:30 p.m., and varsity games follow at approximately 8 p.m.

Paul F. Pielemeier, 49-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Pielemeier of Sylvan township was killed Thursday evening when his car collided with a car driven by Thomas P. Lloyd of Albion on US-12 near the Manchester Rd. intersection. Pielemeier was a freshman at the University of Michigan School of Music, and was returning to his home on Chelsea-Manchester Rd. when the accident occurred.

According to reports coming to village officials, motorists are showing very little regard for stop signs which have been placed at most intersections in the village.

Extra Saturday Hours Slated By Post Office

There will be a few alterations in the post office's window and delivery service this month, according to Chelsea Postmaster Richard Schaubles.

According to Schaubles, normal window service will be maintained on weekdays (Monday through Friday), and normal opening and closing hours will not be expanded unless necessary.

On Saturday, Dec. 11, stamp, parcel post and combination windows will be open for at least 8 1/2 hours.

On Saturday, Dec. 18, there will be normal half-day window service unless the volume of business should warrant expanding the hours.

There will, of course, be no window service or delivery either on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, or on New Year's Day, Jan. 1.

Schaubles said that the co-operation of customers in mailing early will play a major role in speeding parcels and cards to their destinations.

L. F. Schneider Resigns from Police Department

Patrolman L. F. Schneider, a Chelsea police officer for the past three years, has resigned from the Chelsea police force. His resignation, given to the Chelsea Village Council at their regular meeting Tuesday night, will be effective Dec. 20.

According to Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck, Schneider resigned to take a more attractive position. "He was extremely popular and an excellent police officer," Meranuck said. "He will be missed."

No replacement has yet been named, although the Village Council did authorize the hiring of a patrolman at Tuesday's meeting.

Registration Lapse Notices Going in Mail

Every December, Village Clerk Richard Harvey sends postcards to all Chelsea voters whose registration as a qualified voter has lapsed.

This year, 257 of Chelsea's 853 registered voters—some 30 percent—will be receiving postcards in the mail.

Voter registrations are suspended by state law if a voter has not voted, continued registration, re-registered, or recorded a change of address within two years.

Registrations may be continued within 30 days after receiving one of the postcards by returning the form attached to it, or by going to the village clerk's office.

Harvey said that all 257 cards will be mailed this week.

Last year, Harvey estimates, the village mailed approximately 183 notices. This year's number of suspensions is "definitely higher than usual," Harvey said.

Too much flattery is like too much sugar. Both are artificial.

Try-Outs Set For Musical 'Guys & Dolls'

Editor's Note: From time to time, Chelsea High school students will be writing for The Chelsea Standard about school activities and about topics of general social interest. It is hoped that their articles will not only serve as a valuable learning experience for the students, but will also add depth and interest to The Standard's coverage.

By Sue Dirlam

Chelsea High School Senior "Guys and Dolls," this year's choice for the high school musical, promises to be the biggest and best musical ever.

The cast should have plenty of experience, which makes director DiAnn L'Roy very optimistic about the outcome of the production. A few of the returning stars expected to participate in the play are Jeanne Haselschwardt, Ed Koengeter, Dave Hess and Keith Pfeiffer.

The play, which is described as "a musical fable of Broadway," takes place in New York in the 1920's. The plot centers around a group of typical Broadway characters.

These characters are: Sarah Brown, a Salvation Army nurse and head of the Save-a-Soul Mission; Miss Adelaide, a night club singer and leader of the Hotbox girls; Nathan Detroit, operator of "The Oldest Established Floating Craps Game in New York"; and Sky Masterson, a big time gambler.

All of the men are gamblers and the story centers around their girls and their troubles. There are two main love stories — both very funny.

Firemen Called When Furnace Motor Burns

Chelsea firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Bill Weber, 210 Shoreview Dr., Crooked Lake, at 10:40 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 30 after a furnace motor in the house had burned out.

Although there was no fire, there was a great deal of smoke, which the fire department cleared with a smoke fan.

There was little smoke damage, according to Chelsea Fire Chief James K. Gaken.

The hardest job we know is that of trying to be impartial.

The first involves Nathan Detroit and Miss Adelaide. They have been engaged for 14 years, but their marriage has been continuously postponed due to Nathan's gambling desires.

The other romance concerns Sky Masterson and Sarah Brown. There are many complications but eventually true love finds a way and everything works out.

There are 36 parts in all. Besides the leads, girls are needed for the Hotbox girls, who are night club dancers and boys are needed to portray gamblers.

This year a new technique in scenery will be used for the first time at Chelsea High school. It is called "drop" scenery and it will simply drop down from the ceiling and then be pulled back up again.

Tryouts will be held Dec. 13, 14 and 15 after school. Also, for those who wish to come after school Dec. 10, there will be practice tryouts, to learn the songs and answer any questions you may have. Everyone is invited to try out and no experience is necessary.

MASTER MARKETS

1101 M-52
CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

A MESSAGE FROM F. A. KENNEDY, Pres. Polly's Food Service

We look forward to serving the food shoppers of the Chelsea area. Effective immediately and during the next few weeks we will be busy converting the former Stop and Shop to the type supermarket that has become a Polly tradition for over 38 years. We hope you will bear with us as we make some changes and innovations in products and services we will offer you. The buying power of our company will also enable us to bring you the most famous names in foods at the lowest possible prices. Our meat program has always featured the finest meats and especially USDA Choice Grade beef for complete customer satisfaction. The freshest, finest produce available will be offered to you for your approval. We anticipate few personnel changes so the many people you have come to associate with this market will continue to serve you. In addition, our advertising will be appearing on Thursdays in your local paper, although all prices and coupons will be effective Wednesday morning each week to conform to all other Polly's.

Thank You
F. A. Kennedy

Top Quality Veal Calves Require Careful Attention to Feed, Housing

Keys to raising profitable veal calves are milk, medication and management.

Donald Hillman, Michigan State University dairy specialist, offers this advice:

Top quality veal calves can be produced with either whole milk or high quality milk replacer especially formulated for veal production.

About 10 pounds of whole milk required to produce a pound of veal. Calves will gain an average 1.8 to 2.2 pounds per day from 0 pounds to market weight when properly fed and managed.

Calves should get colostrum for a first 48 hours. Colostrum contains antibodies, vitamins and minerals that help prevent diseases and get the calf started right.

Milk replacers must contain high quality milk products, about 1 percent protein and 20 percent fat animal fat with lecithin as an emulsifier. Replacers containing cereal products are unsatisfactory. About 1.3 pounds of milk replacer powder will be required to produce one pound of veal. Growth rate and feed conversion will depend on the calf's health and the quality of the milk replacer.

Feed replacers according to the manufacturers' recommendations. Mixing water should normally be warmed to 90 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

Grain and hay should not be fed to veal calves. They will grow more slowly on this feed, and their meat will be red colored. Buyers like the meat to be white.

Select only healthy, vigorous calves that weigh 85 pounds or more at birth. Male calves from the larger breeds are preferred.

Best housing is insulated and thermostatically controlled. It should have forced ventilation. Calves should have fresh air, but not drafts.

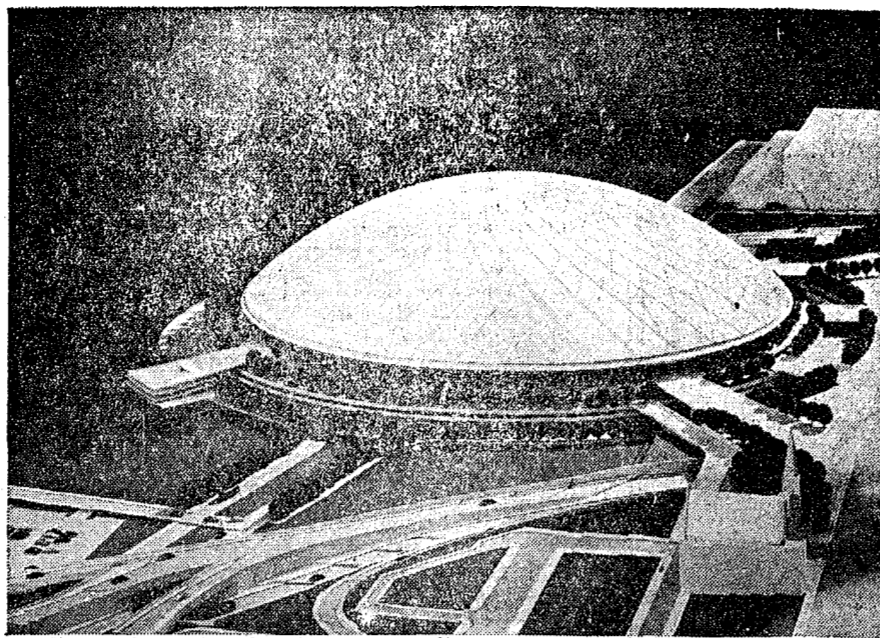

Individual stalls (2 feet wide by 4 feet long) are preferred, but group pens will work if kept dry and clean.

Periodically, all calves should be taken out of the pens, and the pens should be thoroughly combination detergent-disinfectant in high pressure sprayers to clean the walls, ceilings and equipment. Let building dry out before putting calves back in pens.

Thoroughly clean and disinfect all pails, nipples, and milking equipment after each feeding. Rinse equipment with iodophor or chlorine disinfectant after cleaning and allowing to air dry.

To figure profits from veal calves, calculate price of deacon calves, feed cost, performance rate, death losses, medical costs, labor and housing costs, and market value of the calf. Here's an example:

Starting weight, 100 pounds; Calf cost, $40; Feed cost, $34.32; Vet & medical cost, $2; Other costs, $3; Total cost, $79.32; Final weight, 220 pounds; Price per pound, $40; Calf value, $88; Return, $8.68.

Computer Men Asked To Survey New York Courts

Washington—Computers may be the answer to the chaos now prevailing in many of the nation's courtrooms.

The magazine Petroleum Today reports that Calvin Anderson and Charles Pearson, computer experts from a New York-based oil company, were asked by Mayor John Lindsay's office to help in clearing up the huge backlog of cases jamming the city's courts. After considerable study, they submitted a 70-page report that is now under consideration.

Why oil company computer men? As a spokesman for the Business Equipment Manufacturers Association put it: "I can't think of any sector that buys as many computers and makes as effective use of them as the petroleum industry."

Increasing efficiency through computers and other innovations, says the magazine, has helped oil companies to keep petroleum prices reasonable during a period of general inflation. The article points out that the retail price of gasoline, before taxes, has risen only 12 percent while the average price of all consumer goods increased 32 percent.

Life would be a lot simpler without so many organizers and a few more workers.

Red Cross Offers Voices from Home For Servicemen

"Voices from Home," the Red Cross's annual Christmas project for servicemen overseas, continues through Dec. 15.

This program, which is free, provides an opportunity for families and loved-ones to record 15-minute tapes to be sent to servicemen out of the country for the holidays and also to students in foreign lands for Christmas.

Persons interested in taking advantage of this opportunity may contact the Red Cross office at 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, by calling 971-5300, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. and making an appointment.

The secretary in charge will offer some suggestions that will prepare a family to make full use of the 15 minutes allotted; things to mention, who to bring, since children are encouraged to take part; and some of the things the Red Cross has found that men away from home want to hear.

Anyone may make the arrangements, but the time is growing short, so please hurry to make yours a "voice from home" this Christmas.

Basketball, Magic, Hawaiian dancers and a special Christmas program were highlights at the St. Louis School during the past week.

On Monday, Nov. 29, the boys scrimmaged with the Dexter Junior High school basketball team and split one-one with the Dexter five. They played basketball against St. Francis of Ann Arbor at the school Thursday, Dec. 2, and then had punch and cookies with their opponents after the game.

On Saturday, Dec. 4, Mr. Parsons, a magician from Toronto, Can., pulled rabbits out of his hat while putting on a complete magic show for the boys and staff. His appearance was sponsored by Bill Rosebush of Detroit.

On Saturday evening, members of the Beach Middle school's Girls Service club, accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Susan Harding, presented a special Christmas program at the school which featured a skit about "Frosty the Snowman."

The girls sang Christmas carols with the boys, and served refreshments, and while they were there, Santa Claus made a special appearance and passed out candy.

On Sunday, Dec. 5, the boys and staff were treated to a special performance of Hawaiian dancing and folk songs by Wainani and her Hapahole Maidens, a Hawaiian dance group from Troy.

The group, which learned about the St. Louis school from the Don Guanella school in Philadelphia, Pa. (St. Louis' sister school), will later do a benefit show for the St. Louis school in Detroit, and they're planning a return visit to the school sometime in the spring.

The boys are now working on their Christmas play which will be presented Dec. 19.

Tests, Special Program Set At High School

Two tests and a special program are on Chelsea High school's agenda for the second and third weeks in December.

Chelsea will serve as a regional test center for the ACT tests to be administered to pre-registered students Saturday, Dec. 11. Students are urged to be at the high school by 8 a.m., high school counselor George Bergman said.

Differential Aptitude tests (DAT), which cover verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy, mechanical reasoning, space relations, and language usage, will be given to all sophomores Wednesday, Dec. 15.

The DAT battery is given to students first when they're in 8th grade and again in their sophomore year.

On Tuesday, Dec. 14, Dr. Raymond Jones, head of the Paper Science and Engineering Department at Western Michigan University will present a special program for advanced math, chemistry and physics students during third, fifth and sixth hours.

All other students with interest in the field may attend the program if special permission is obtained from their classroom teacher, Bergman said.

Western Michigan is one of only five or six centers in the nation with a department specializing in paper science.

Skate Exchange Program Started

Ice-skating time is just around the corner, and as Mother Nature would have it, the kids just keep growing and growing and growing (and in the process outgrowing their present skates).

With this in mind the Chelsea High Baseball Clinic Fund members are establishing a skate exchange program. Through this Skate Exchange, used ice skates may be bought, sold, or traded.

The exchange program is being handled at the home of Mrs. Philip Hume, 65 Hickory Dr., in Lane-wood Subdivision. Donations of outgrown skates will also be accepted and very much appreciated.

The skate exchange will be open for use any day, or evening through the skating season. If you desire additional information, please call Mrs. Hume at 475-2361.

Cub Scouts Open Christmas Tree Sale

Last Saturday, Cub Scouts and fathers from Packs 415, 435, 445, and 455 began their annual Christmas tree sale. This year the trees are being sold at two locations: at the rear of the parking lot between Merkel's Furniture Store and the Library, and at the Union 76 Service Station of Jim Kalish on S. Main St. Trees may also be purchased at the residence of Tobias Peterson, 705 S. Main St.

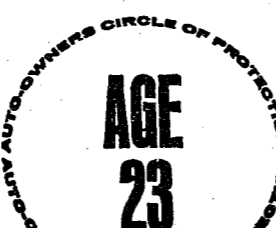

The annual Christmas tree sale is the sole fund raising effort of area Cub Scouts, and furnishes the necessary money to support this activity.

Selling locations will be open and staffed at the following hours: Monday through Friday, 5 to 9 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Selling began Dec. 4 and will continue through the afternoon of Dec. 24.

Nine hardy souls from the four Cub Scout Packs contributed their time and energy on Saturday, Nov. 27 to pick up the trees in Clare, and bring them to Chelsea.

Dairy chocolate milk is a glamorous refresher when served in frosted glasses with a whipped cream garnish. To frost glasses; dip rims of chilled glasses into unbeaten egg white, then into confectioner's sugar.
