March of Dimes Campaign Is Now Underway

March of Dimes for 1972 is underway this week with committees and volunteers working for the success of this year's drive to fight birth defects.

General chairman for the Chelsea March of Dimes campaign is Mrs. Richard Loring.

Final plans for the march were coordinated at the kick-off dinner Wednesday at the Moose Lodge in Ann Arbor. Main speaker for the evening was Robert Loring, assistant director of pediatric and communicable diseases at University Medical Center. Dr. Loring spoke on current progress in the medical field.

The mission of the National Foundation-March of Dimes is to lead, direct and unify the fight to prevent birth defects and their consequences. To achieve this objective, the National Foundation supports programs of research, medical services, professional and public health education and community service.

Locally, the Chelsea chapter augments community resources. Last year, in the fight against tubercula (German measles), clinics in the county school systems were set up to vaccinate elementary school children. In addition, the Chelsea chapter financially aids a birth defect clinic at Motis Children's Hospital, supplies three $500 scholarships to high school students pursuing a health-related education and finances a patient service program which services old and new patients with aids such as crutches and corrective equipment.

For the past seven years, the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary has served as general chairman for the Chelsea campaign and other community groups have also aided the march.

This year, area Boy Scouts, under the direction of James Brannan, prepared mailers which go to each home in the community asking for contributions. Other mail communications such as informational letters and special gift letters are also distributed.

Another important aspect of the campaign, the Mother's March, is scheduled for Jan. 21-31 in rural areas and Jan. 27-31 in the community. This is a door-to-door canvassing project by March volunteers.

Other major sources of collection are coin cards and canisters placed throughout the community. These will remain in the businesses for a month and then will be collected Feb. 1 by March volunteers.

The final major event for the drive is the fashion show Feb. 5. The campaign will be wrapped up on March 4 with thank you letters and final reports.

Local committee chairmen and officers are: treasurer, Mrs. Richard Cail; publicity, Mrs. Mitchell Zink; Mother's March and Christmas cards, Mrs. David Rowe; canisters and coin collectors, Mrs. Douglas Robeson; business letters, Mrs. Robert Updegraff; residential and special letters, Mrs. Arthur Steinway.

The local chapter has also announced that films and filmstrips and speakers are available throughout the year. Speakers' bureau chairman Carolyn Bonnell may be contacted at 662-7788 or county chairman Betty Henry at 971-9770 for more information.

JC's Seeking Service Award Nominations

Teacher Slips, On Wet Floor, Breaks Ankle

Even teachers will go to great lengths to keep from going to school, and Mrs. Beverly Peebles of 123 Van Buren St. chose a painful exit from her duties Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Peebles, a teacher at North school, was entering the school when she slipped on the wet floor inside, fell and fractured her leg above the ankle. She was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

March of Dimes Township Drive Slated Jan. 21-31

The 1972 March of Dimes campaign in area townships is scheduled for January 21-31 this year with Mrs. Robert F. Rau named 1972 Washtenaw county township chairman.

Mrs. Rau said most campaigning on the township level will be done through the Mother's March, a door-to-door campaign, and by canisters in township businesses.

Other township chairman are: Lyndon township, Mrs. E. J. Hopkins; Sylvan township, Mrs. Donna Blough; Lima township, Mrs. Bernard Herrist; Dexter township, Mrs. Walter Mosley.

Grass Lake Woman Dies In Auto Crash

A Grass Lake woman died last Thursday morning when her car left the road, hit a tree and burned.

The victim was identified by Sheriff's Traffic Safety Sgt. Thomas Kelley as Janet E. Williams, 36. Sgt. Kelley said Miss Williams was alone in her car driving west on Old US-42 near Hayes Rd., about six miles southwest of Chelsea when the accident occurred at approximately 4:45 a.m.

Sheriff's deputies Robert Conklin and Curtis Morton said Miss Williams was about two miles from the Jackson county line when the vehicle apparently went off the road and struck a tree about 10 feet from the edge of the road.

Volunteer firemen and police from Chelsea assisted sheriff's deputies in removing Miss Williams' body from the wreckage. Firemen extinguished the fire which burned out the interior of the 1970-model vehicle.

Firemen said the fire may have been caused by a short circuit in the car wiring that could have been triggered by the crash.

Sgt. Kelley said it was uncertain if Miss Williams died from injuries received in the crash or from smoke inhalation and burns from the fire which followed. He said she may have been knocked unconscious by the crash or was unable to open a door to escape the blaze.

St. Louis School Library Opened in Monday Ceremony

St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys resumed activities after the holidays with a special luncheon Monday and a dedication of the school library.

The luncheon was in honor of the birthdays of staff members Mrs. Robbins and Kern Stanley, a Jackson student. The school band led by Father Umberto, played selections and Father Joseph Vitale presented Mrs. Robbins with a gift on behalf of the staff and students.

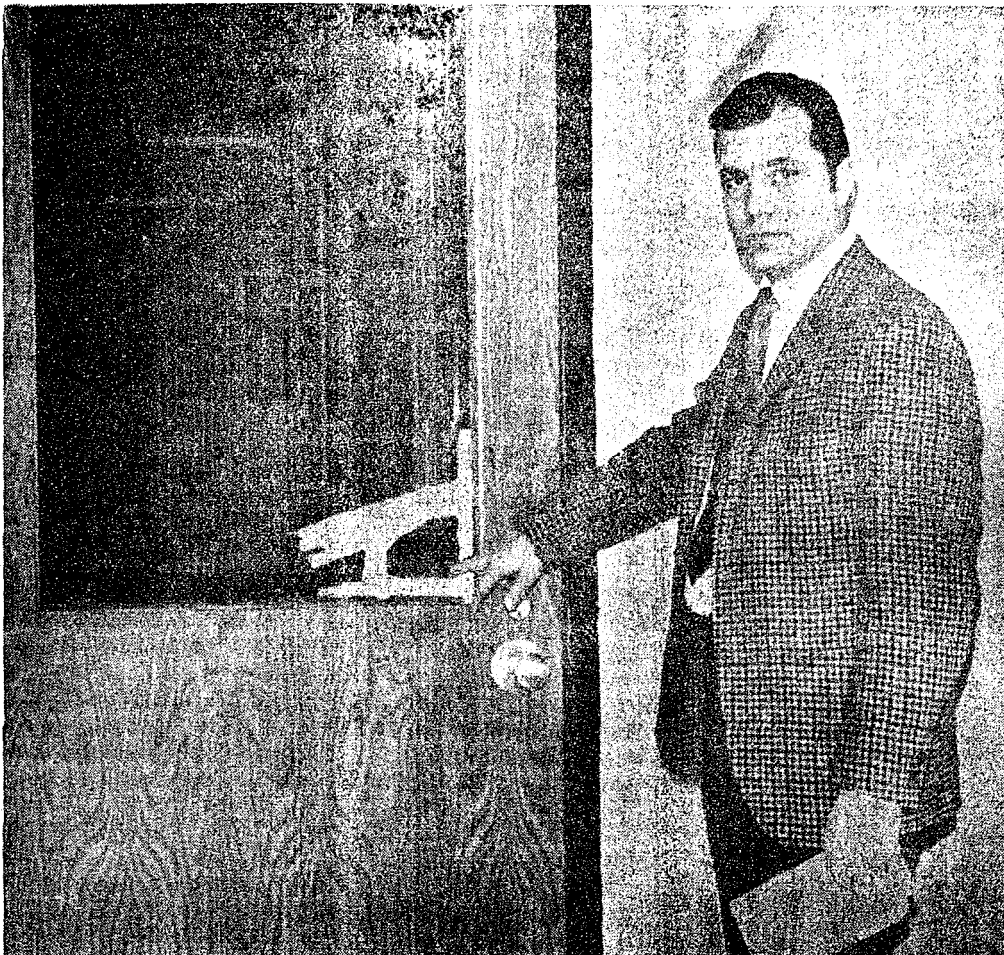

The school library was officially opened at the afternoon ceremony. Mrs. Judy Fryback cut the ribbon and speeches were made by Mrs. Fryback, Father Umberto and Father Fortunato. Father Lewis presented the library with a plant and Father Germano offered an original painting. The school band performed at the ceremony and refreshments followed.

Staff and students also honored Mrs. Robbins on her 10th anniversary with the school.

Blaze Destroys Slocum Barn

Chelsea volunteer firemen extinguished a barn fire Dec. 29 at the residence of Carmel Slocum of 325 Glazier Rd., Cavanaugh Lake.

The blaze occurred about noon and destroyed the building on the Slocum property. A fuel tank and trailer next to the barn were not damaged and there were no injuries. The cause of the fire is still unknown.

School Board Briefs

Present at the Jan. 3 meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education were Trustees Schaefer, Straub, Haselschwardt, Koenn and Smith, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principals Lane and Conklin, Assistant Principal Lapinowski, and three guests, Karen Schaefer, Bob Schaefer and Mrs. Betty O'Neill. Trustee Straub was appointed acting chairman in the absence of president Storey.

Two committee reports were given. Members discussed the board newsletter to be mailed early this month to parents of children in the Chelsea school district. A report was also heard on policies, with a motion by Trustee Schaefer, supported by Trustee Haselschwardt, to adopt the following:

1. Meetings of the board shall be public, and the public is invited to attend these meetings. No final action shall be taken at any executive session of the board.

Any citizen of the district wishing to address the board must contact either the board president or the superintendent prior to preparation of the agenda (no later than the Wednesday preceding any regularly scheduled meeting). He should present a written summary of his topic to the president or superintendent and state at this time if he feels the matter should be discussed at an executive session.

The president will place this matter on the agenda. At the meeting the citizen shall identify himself and present the topic as briefly as the subject permits. The president may rule on the time allotted to this discussion, and the entire board may determine the appropriateness of this ruling.

If the event to be discussed is urgent and has arisen after the agenda has been prepared, the citizen may be allotted time under the "new business" portion of the agenda. Unless the board members elect differently, discussion of new business shall not exceed five minutes for any subject.

2. All school board policies that have been officially adopted and published apply to all students attending Chelsea schools, regardless of age.

3. An administrator continues to have the right to search a student's person or locker, regardless of the age of the student, when he is convinced that the student's safety and - or welfare or the safety and - or welfare of the student body is in possible jeopardy. This right is tempered by the constitutional safeguards delineated by the judiciary.

4. Political activities in the school should contribute and become an integral part of a sound educational program. The school should encourage students, as they reach the age of majority, to register and vote. Students who reach voting age before their senior year should be encouraged to take U.S. Government in the 11th grade.

5. A student, upon reaching age of majority and wishing to assume full responsibility for his report card, attendance and other school-related procedures and activities, must notify the principal in writing.

6. The Board of Education reaffirms the prohibition of smoking or the use of alcohol or drugs on school property or at school functions regardless of the age of the student.

All policies were adopted unanimously by the board.

The Student Council is being requested to make a presentation at the Feb. 7 meeting of the Board of Education to discuss the organization, structure and goals of the council.

Assistant Principal Lapinowski answered questions concerning the athletic budget.

Business Manager Mills was directed to employ lunch room supervision for the high school and Beach school to alleviate some of the problems which have been occurring at the lunch hour.

Superintendent Cameron reported on the Youth Kidney Disease Detection Program. With parental permission, free urine analysis of Michigan children in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades will be made to detect urinary tract abnormalities that could lead to kidney damage. The program is conducted by the Kidney Foundation of Michigan with a grant from the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan and the Detroit Free Press charities.

Motion made by Trustee Schaefer, supported by Trustee Koenn, to participate in the program was unanimously passed.

Business Manager Mills reported on the break-in at Beach school Dec. 31. No estimate has been made on the damage.

The business manager also reported that there is no change in regard to retroactivity during Phase I of the wage-price freeze.

Schaeffer, a Chelsea High School junior, financed his ambition to fly through earnings as an Ann Arbor News carrier. He plans to pursue a career in aeronautical engineering.

Chelsea Schools Closed Wednesday By Snow

A two-inch snowfall, combined with a strong wind, forced closing of Chelsea schools for Wednesday. Although the snow was not so deep, Washtenaw County Road Commission advised school officials that a layer of slippery ice under the snow was making rural gravel roads treacherous.

Burglars Enter Beach School New Year's Eve

Beach Junior High school was the scene of a burglary Friday night which resulted in over $400 damage to school property and a reported loss of $157.94.

Sgt. David McCormick of the Chelsea Police Department said the thieves entered the building by breaking a window in the gymnasium. He said the window is located in an alcove hidden from view of the main drive to the school. The burglars then crossed the hallway, broke another window and entered the library, and obtained a master key from the secretary's office, giving them access to other rooms in the building.

Sgt. McCormick said several additional windows were broken and offices ransacked. He said most of the stolen money was taken from a locked filing cabinet in the school office storeroom. Local police are continuing their investigation into the incident.

Weinberg Dairy Bought By Hickory Ridge Farm Dairy

After over 50 years of service to the Chelsea community, Jay Weinberg, owner of Weinberg Dairy, is retiring.

The owners of Hickory Ridge Farm Dairy announced this week their purchase of Weinberg Dairy, who has been distributing Hickory Ridge products for the past four and one-half years.

Hickory Ridge Farm Dairy is a producer, processor and distributor of dairy products and operates in Livingston county. It is a father-son partnership business owned by Norman Topping, his son, Gordon Topping and his grandson, Gary Topping.

The newly-purchased Weinberg Dairy has been a well-known concern in the area. Jay Weinberg's father started the business in 1917 when Jay was 10 years old. Milk then was delivered by horse and wagon, until the Weinbergs modernized and bought a Model "T" for deliveries in 1919. Jay said his father bought his first actual milk truck in 1924.

Jay purchased the business from his father in 1941, and a new building to house the business was built in 1947.

Jay said his retirement plans are indefinite, but probably include some traveling and "taking it easy for a while."

CHURCH DEDICATION PLANNED: Members of Our Savior Lutheran church will formally dedicate this new church building Sunday. Located at 1515 S. Richard L. Schlecht, president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will be the guest speaker at the afternoon service.

The public is invited to attend these services.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Talk of revising the present federal tax structure will gain momentum in the months ahead. One proposal almost certain to emerge is that the United States, following the lead of some European countries, adopt a "value added tax." This is a subject that I am presently doing extensive legislative research in and I will have more to report to you on that when Congress reconvenes.

France and Germany have such a tax now. The idea very likely will attract the backing of more and more economists and others as it comes under greater discussion. Basically the value added tax is a charge paid each time a product changes hands in its process of manufacture, development, and

While this tax ranges up to 15 percent in West Germany, there is little likelihood that it would be that steep here. Preliminary estimates put it around three percent in the United States, and marketing consequently it has earned the label "transactions" tax in some quarters.

Why the sudden interest in this proposal? First, there is no question that the present tax delivery system is far from flawless (any interest that can be generated in seeking improvements is a healthy sign). Second, the income tax burden on many individuals (particularly those living on fixed incomes such as our senior citizens) makes revision economically desirable. Clearly an alternative must be developed for heavy reliance on the property tax for financing the nation's school systems. The prospect then, of the 10 or 12 billion dollars a value added tax would yield, makes for an enticing idea, particularly if the revenue promised took care of that portion of our national school bill that is now paid by local property taxes.

A strong case, offering sensible and practical solutions to urgent domestic problems, can be made for the value added concept, but this is not to say that it is without faults. For instance, there are administrative problems in dealing with all the many specific units involved in the process of production, distribution and marketing. Also, manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and suppliers would be encumbered with a large degree of paper work. In the case of the retailer, there would be the additional responsibility of keeping track of both purchases and sales. However, despite these problems, the value added tax merits serious consideration at all levels of government as we attempt to move forward and seek solutions to these recurring problems.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Well, we started off a new year Saturday, and the fellows took note of the day. They was full of spirit that the older we get the faster the years come and go. Zeke Grubb said if you thought of time as a box to fill, he never gets around to filling the bottom of one year's box till the lid on another one pops up ready for him.

The discussion at the country store worked all around what was, and will be and final got hung up on what the fellows hope for but know won't be. The hope was no hopeless till Zeke allowed he might as well make some new year resolutions, cause he'd come as close to following them as he would seeing come to pass the peace and understanding in the world the fellows was wishing for.

Actual, said Zeke, making resolutions at least shows a fellow has still got ambition. Resolving is like aiming, and when you quit aiming you quit going anywhere. Zeke's words, first off, Zeke said he was going to pick at least one resolution he would have some chance of keeping, like in 1972 he is going to keep right on laughing every time he gets tickled, and he's going to laugh once a week wither he's tickled or not.

Ed Doolittle said with this being an election year, the Democrats and Republicans is going to be trying so hard to out talk the other till it ain't going to be hard to find at least one laugh a week. Ed said he was going to come out strong for a National Quiet Week this year, where we wouldn't observe nothing, wouldn't promise nothing and won't promise nothing. With all the politicians on the loose, though, Ed said he may have to settle for a Quiet Day.

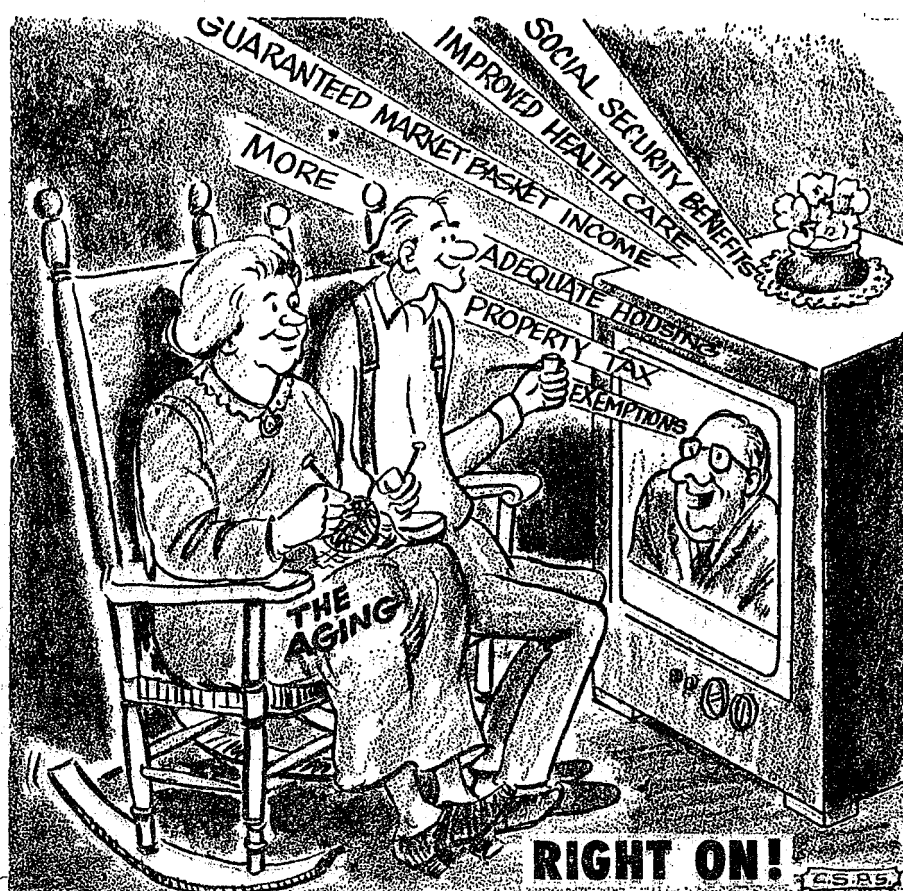

Furthermore, allowed Ed, he was promising not to sit as worked up over politics this year as he usual does. Man has been on this old ball three million years. Ed said, and in all that time they ain't learnt to run it, and they ain't much changed the Democrats or Republicans is going to come up with the answer between now and November. They all will say they got it figured out, went on Ed, and that just shows that politics is like a rocking chair. It gives you someone to do, but it don't get you nowhere.

Personal, Mister Editor, I was agreed with Olm Webster that we can get our weekly laugh when our old ladies come home from church and tell us what all the other women was wearing, and we can get a real side buster when they buy their spring hats. Like the feller said, wimmen may not add up to much, but they shore can distract.

As for time, Ben Hookum said he had studied the situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind they ain't no use to try to find it, jest lay down and let it find you.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Challenge Possible

Michigan Democrats may face a challenge to their delegation from the party's reform wing when they arrive at Miami Beach for the national convention next July. The potential challenge results from Michigan's election laws which schedule primary elections in August. Among the positions filled in primary elections is the position of precinct delegate.

Precinct delegates, in turn, attend county and district conventions which choose delegates to the state convention. Then the state convention picks the delegates to the national convention.

In the wake of the 1968 campaign, a Democratic reform commission recommended the national committee agreed to a rule that the selection process for delegates to the national convention begin in the same year in which the convention is held. The purpose is to make sure any late blooming candidates or late blooming issues are recognized in the delegate selection process.

The Democrats are hoping the effort they put forth to change the law they were able to get every Democrat in both houses to vote for it will prove their good intentions and secure credentials to the convention for them.

With the convention apparently under the firm control of national chairman Larry O'Brien, that hope would appear to be well founded. But it probably won't come about without a few fire works.

Registration Pushed
State Democrats are launching a voter registration drive next year designed to get more Democrats to the polls.

By latest Democratic estimates there are more than 2 million Michigan residents eligible to vote, but still unregistered. And the Democratic figure that 7 of every 10 eligible voters in the state are Democrats, so that any registration drive should benefit them.

To help the odds more, they will conduct the drive on a selective basis, aiming to register only Democrats as much as possible.

Using the rule of thumb that

Manufacturers are concerned with your being satisfied with their products, and it is to their best interest and yours that you use them correctly. And the best way to find out about a product is to read the instruction booklet or tags. Also, remember to send out all the warranty cards for products that you received.

Since Oklahoma's first profitable oil well flowed in 1897, drillers have found oil or gas in all but five of the state's 77 counties.

Ask the Governor

Question: I understand your education reform proposal calls for raising the quality of education in poorer districts. Will this mean lowering quality in others?

Answer: No. Under my proposal, no school district will get less money per student than it is now getting; it will not be a Robin-Hood approach of taking from the rich and giving to the poor.

My revenue-sharing proposal for local school districts will provide a foundation educational ratio of 47 professionals per 1,000 students or a ratio of one professional for each 21 students. This ratio would represent an immediate improvement for 60 percent of the students in this state. The remaining 40 percent of the students will have their educational opportunities improved slightly or maintained at present high levels. Furthermore, although my proposal would eliminate the property tax on individuals as a source of regular school operating costs, it would provide that up to six mills could be voted by the people for enrichment of local education programs.

Question: There has been conflict in Michigan. Is a new Capitol in Michigan, a new Capitol going to be built soon?

Answer: No. There will be no program on the proposed new State Capitol building in the present fiscal year. No money has been appropriated to continue architectural planning. Contracts between the State and the architects have been suspended. The committee appointed to consider the design of the new Capitol is not meeting.

In the meanwhile, work continues on extensive renovations of the old Capitol. While in theory the Legislature could at any future time reactivate the new Capitol project, it appears unlikely that it will do so in the near future, particularly during these times of budget austerity.

Question: In recent weeks, the Reserve Mining Company of Silver Bay, Minn., has been criticized for dumping waste taconite tailings, totaling 67,000 tons daily into Lake Superior. What steps has Michigan taken to prevent the continuation of that policy and to preserve the beauty and purity of the Lake?

Answer: Lake Superior must be protected from the massive environmental damage which the other Great Lakes have suffered in the past. For that reason, I recently wrote President Nixon and William Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, supporting the EPA's strong and responsible position favoring on-land disposal. Mining companies in Upper Michigan have already gone to the expense of implementing on-land disposal systems, and I believe that a similar solution is necessary in the case of Reserve Mining. Furthermore, I have urged the EPA to take whatever early action may be necessary to compel the company to adopt an acceptable on-land disposal plan. I firmly believe that the very future of our national commitment to a clean environment is at stake in this situation and that the Federal government must take positive action now to protect Lake Superior.

Question: I notice you're still refusing your $5,000 pay raise. If you don't want it, why don't you give it to charity? There's

Consumers Power Authorized To Increase Electric Service Rates

Leasing—Consumers Power Co. has received approval to increase its electric rates by $10,559,400 annually.

The 3.2 percent rate increase, which is less than half the $28.5 million requested by Consumers Power, will be spread among the utility's nearly 1.1 million electric customers in 61 Lower Peninsula counties.

The Michigan Commerce Department's Public Service Commission, which authorized the increase in rates, said Consumers Power's average residential customer will pay approximately 32 cents per month more for electricity under the new rates. Minimum bill customers will pay nine cents per month.

One-third of the U. S. population lived on farms back in 1910, but over the years this number has decreased to 15.2 percent in 1950, to 8.7 percent in 1960, and to 6.1 percent in 1970. It's expected that by 1980 this figure will reach as low as 4 percent. On the average, 650,000 people leave the farms each year looking for jobs in the city.

Extension Service Offers Booklet on Tourism Benefits

"Tourism and Your Community" is a new bulletin published by the Co-operative Extension Service of Michigan State University. Authored by Robert W. McIntosh, extension specialist in MSU's School of Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management, it is the latest publication in Extension's Recreation and Tourism series.

The author says that tourism helps a community become more attractive and prosperous—more attractive, because it must be appealing and satisfy visitors; more prosperous, because these visitors spend money. He also believes that prospects are very favorable for further growth of tourism in Michigan and that those communities which most completely prepare for tourists will benefit most.

"Tourism and Your Community" covers such topics as: benefits to the community, tourist dollar distribution, tracing tourist dollars, planning for tourism, environmental controls, tourist hospitality, and getting community support.

Single copies of bulletin E-729 may be obtained free of charge at your local county extension office, or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, P.O. Box 21, East Lansing 48823.

U.S. Continues To Lead World In Number, Usage of Phones

Americans have more telephones and use them more often than anyone else in the world, according to figures released today by Michigan Bell.

The United States, with 120.2 million phones in service as of Jan. 1, 1971, had five times as many phones as second-place Japan, which reported 26.2 million. The United Kingdom was third with 15 million.

Details on the telephone service around the globe are reported in the latest edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by AT&T's Long Lines department, the Bell System unit for interstate and international services.

Because a full year is needed to compile the data, the figures in the 26-page booklet reflect developments to Jan. 1, 1971.

There were 779 local and long distance calls for each man, woman and child in the United States in 1970. Canada, whose supremacy as the most talkative nation went unbroken from 1951 through 1967, ranked second with 739 conversations per person. Sweden was third and Iceland fourth.

There were 58.35 telephones per hundred Americans, but in Washington, D. C., the phones outnumbered the residents. The nation's capital could double as the world's telephone capital with 116.9 telephones for every hundred residents.

Southfield (Michigan) closely followed Washington, D. C., where the phones outnumbered residents. There were 113.4 telephones for every hundred Southfield residents, making this the second highest city in the nation for telephone development.

The only other city above the hundred mark was Skokie, Ill., which had 100.1 telephones for every hundred residents. All other cities fell below this mark.

In the world rankings, Sweden placed second with 55.67 phones per hundred, and Switzerland was third with 48.26.

The number of telephones in the world climbed to 272.7 million, an increase from the previous year of 17.6 million—4.9 million of which were added in the U.S.

(The Bell System announced recently it expected to reach a "major milestone during the last week in December, 1971, when somewhere in this country the 100-millionth Bell telephone would be installed.)

The world's annual telephone increase of 6.9 percent is consistent with the rapid growth pattern set during the past decade.

The rate of overseas calling increased markedly. In 1970, there were more than 26 million calls between the USA and nations abroad, over seven times the number completed in 1960. The number of overseas calls, AT&T estimates, will reach 33 million this year, an increase of 27 percent over 1970.

Telephone circuits from the United States to the rest of the world were expanded by more than 500 percent in the past 10 years. Telephone users in all 50 states now have access to over 97 percent of the world's telephones.

Did you know that without the use of chemical fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides, food prices would rise 50 to 75 percent? One pound of ground beef, now costing between 58 to 89 cents would cost $1.39. Ham slices would rise to $1.79 per pound, bread would go from 25 cents a loaf to 42, and a pound of Cheddar cheese, now costing 79 cents, would cost $1.50.

R. Newell Named Business Manager of Liquor Control Comm.

Lansing—State Commerce Director Richard E. Whitmer has named Richard H. Newell as business manager of the Michigan Commerce Department's Liquor Control Commission.

Newell, 61, has been the Commission's inventory manager since July 1970. His new appointment is effective immediately, Whitmer said. Newell, a 1941 graduate of Western Michigan University, succeeds the late George J. Burke, Jr., of Howell, who died in October after holding the position for 17 years.

Before he joined the Liquor Control Commission, Newell was Corporate Materials Manager for the Weatherhead Co. in Cleveland. Previously he was manager of production and inventory control for Control Data Corp., Rochester, and director of materials management for Diamond-Reo Trucks, White Motor Co., Lansing. After graduating from college, Newell was coach at Cassopolis High school.

A well balanced life includes work, recreation, meditation and study, say the experts on such things.

New Highway Marking Signs Will Be Used in Michigan

Lansing—One picture is worth a thousand words, the saying goes. It is primarily for this reason that picture—or symbol—signs soon will be replacing many of the traditional traffic signs on Michigan highways.

The Federal Highway Administration has authorized a change-over to international symbols for many traffic signs, as well as modifications in pavement lane markings. But with approximately half a million traffic signs on the state highway system, it will take several years before full implementation is completed.

The new symbol signs and pavement marking changes also will apply to county roads and city streets.

While the international system of traffic signing prescribes symbols or pictures for dozens of different kinds of messages—from "deer crossing" with a picture of a deer, to "hill" with a picture of a truck angled on a hill—Michigan will begin implementation on a limited basis with just seven different types of signs.

The first symbol type signs to be used in Michigan are:

YIELD—Same inverted triangular shape, but a change in color to red lettering and red border on a white background, instead of black on yellow.

DO NOT ENTER—A red bull's eye circle with white lettering and a white bar through the center on a rectangular panel to replace the traditional black on white legend.

MERGING TRAFFIC—A black vertical arrow on yellow background, with a leg entering the middle of the arrow from the direction of merging traffic, on a diamond shaped panel. An additional rectangular panel below the diamond panel will display one word, MERGE.

SCHOOL and SCHOOL CROSSING—Both signs are black on yellow, pentagon shaped, with silhouettes of a boy and girl walking. They are identical except for cross-walk. The school warning sign is posted well in advance of the school site as a preliminary warning.

PEDESTRIAN CROSSING—A silhouette of an adult walking, black on yellow, diamond shaped.

NO PASSING ZONE—A yellow pennant shaped sign, posted on the left side of the highway to complement the traditional "Do Not Pass" sign on the right side of the highway.

Under the new system, colors have an important significance with red indicating a stop or prohibition—such as STOP, YIELD, DO NOT ENTER, WRONG WAY, etc.

Yellow will indicate a general warning; green will indicate permitted movements and directional guidance; blue will indicate motorist services; and brown will indicate public recreation and scenic guidance.

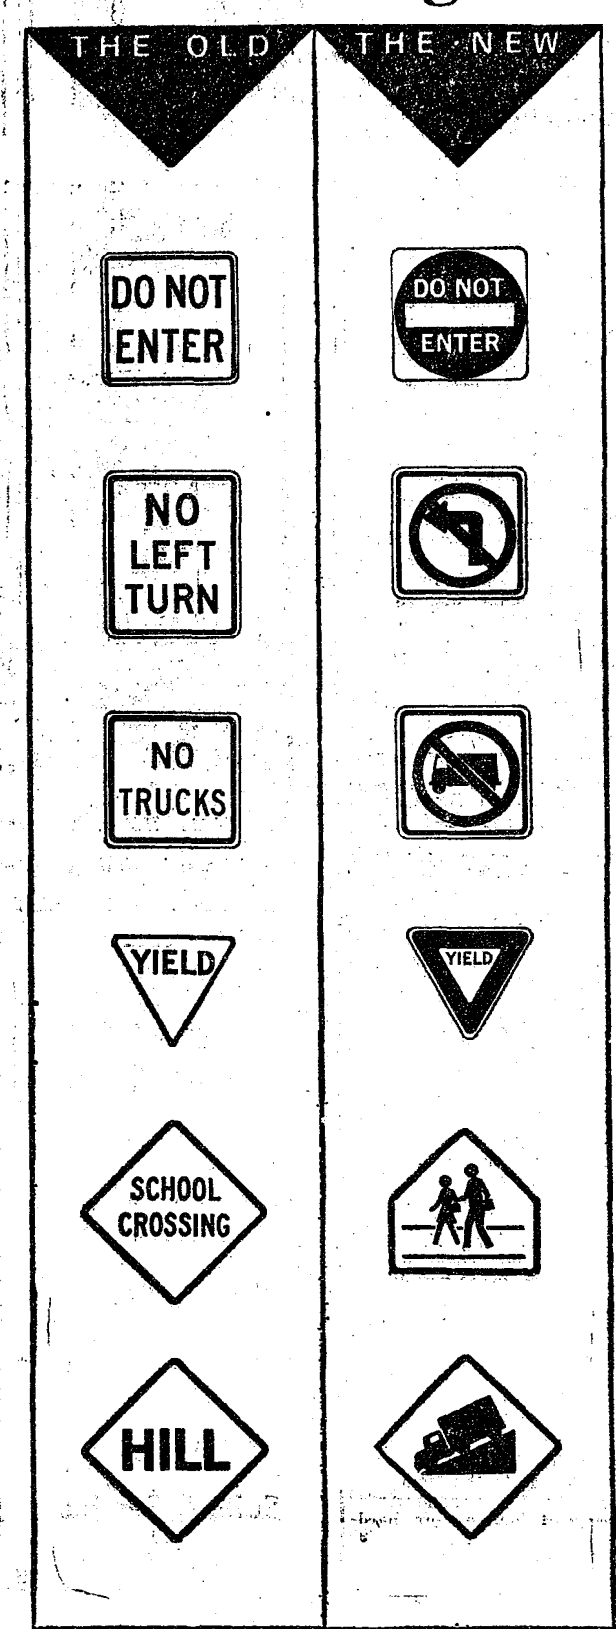

In addition, orange will be reserved as the color for signs, barricades and other devices relating to highway construction or maintenance projects.

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said it probably will take several years for a complete change-over to the new signs.

"This is not a crash program," he said. "As our existing signs wear out, they will be replaced with symbol signs under our regular maintenance program."

Of more immediate concern to Michigan motorists, Stafseth said, is the new system of pavement markings. Yellow will be used much more than in the past.

In conforming to the new basic concept, yellow lines will separate

NEW SIGNS COMING: The Michigan Department of State Highways soon will begin gradual replacement of traditional traffic signs with new international symbol signs. This is a representative sampling of the old and the new.

traffic flowing in opposite directions. The center line of two-way, two-lane roadways will be broken yellow instead of white. No passing zones will remain the same with a solid yellow line in addition to the broken yellow.

Broken white lines will continue to separate lanes flowing in the same direction—such as on freeways. Solid white lines will continue to be used for marking the edge of the roadway.

Two-way left-turn lanes in the center of multi-lane highways will be marked by a broken yellow line inside a solid yellow line.

Generally, broken lines (white or yellow) are permissive in character, and solid lines are restrictive. Stafseth said the new pavement markings will be used in the 1972 pavement marking program starting next spring.

The new pavement markings have already been used on the newly opened reconstructed M-17 in Ypsilanti; and on M-99 northward for five miles from Eaton Rapids.

Michigan Ranks 23rd In Personal Income Tax

Lansing—Michigan ranked 23rd among the states in state and local taxes per $1,000 of personal income during the year ending in mid-1970, the Michigan Department of Commerce reports.

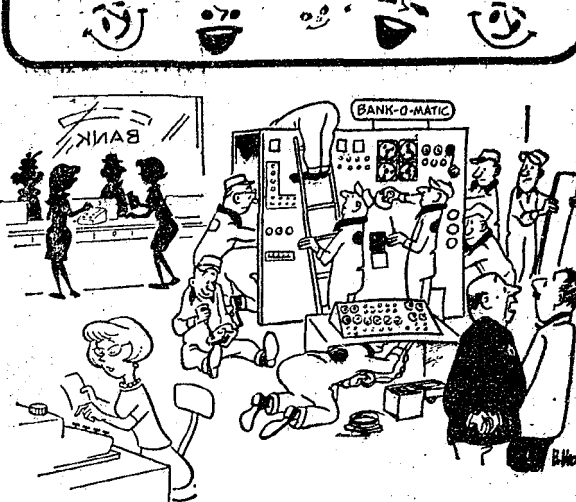

In state and local taxes, Michigan collected $115.47 per $1,000 of income, according to a federal report on governmental finances in 1969-70. The average for all states was $116.58.

Michigan ranked 22nd in property taxes per $1,000 of personal income—$46.56. The average for all states was $45.74.

In general expenditures of all funds—federal, state and local—Michigan was 4th. The state's fiscal year 1970 expenditures per $1,000 of personal income amounted to $171.67 while the national average was $176.40.

The distance to the moon was once measured in miles, but now its usually in dollars.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

You have probably thrown out last year's calendar by now. For all of us a new calendar is now in use. When you think of it, a single year is really a short period of time. Too short in fact to clutter it up with tangling, depressing memories of shortcomings of ourselves or others. All of us should realize human hopes and dreams can be quickly passed by.

We hope your new year with new hopes, new dreams will see fulfillment. Above all, we hope you find it in your heart to be of service to God by being of service to your fellow man; to thoroughly enjoy the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God.

Don't you agree that if these hopes come true, all other hopes are of secondary importance? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

School Districts Find Trouble in Getting Insurance

Senator Gilbert F. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor) has learned through a survey of 336 Michigan school districts that fully one-tenth of the districts are having difficulty obtaining the needed insurance coverage for school buildings.

Bursley, assistant majority leader of the Senate and chairman of the Senate Education Committee, initiated the survey as part of a study for the evaluation of a proposal that the state establish a public school fire insurance fund.

"I think it is clear that a serious problem exists," Bursley said. "I am extremely hopeful that our private insurance companies, once they are aware of this problem, will take the initiative and work to solve it without the establishment of a new governmental agency."

"The problem, however, must be solved. We simply cannot have one out of 10 schools in this state experiencing difficulties in obtaining insurance coverage."

"I am also disturbed by the fact that a very sizable portion of our school districts do not obtain their insurance coverage through a competitive bidding procedure."

"Here again, I believe a review of the situation by the industry is a better solution than legislative action," Senator Bursley said.

The number of welfare cases in Michigan increased 235 percent between 1960 and 1971.

Alcoholic liquor sales totaled 15, 951,050 gallons last year compared to 14,896,070 the previous year, an increase of 54,980 gallons. In a per capita basis, consumption totaled 1.68 gallons compared to 1.71 gallons the previous year.

Ziegler's Market in Dexter Closes After Nearly 100 Years

Dexter — Ziegler's Market closed Dec. 31, the last day of the old year, after nearly 100 years at the same location on Main St. in downtown Dexter.

Delbert Holtz, the current proprietor of the market and operator for the past 25 years, decided late in December to close, because "it is too expensive to stay in business to meet the high standards the State Department of Agriculture's Animal Health Department has requested."

Holtz was quoted as saying that it would cost too much to stay in business if he were to improve his facilities according to state requirements.

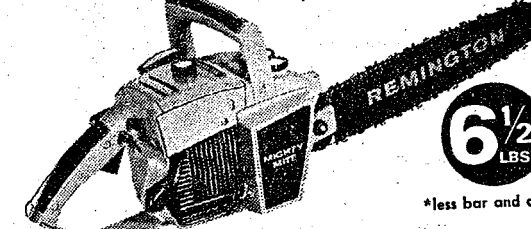

The market over the years was known for its variety of sausages and high quality of meat. Holtz and Max Ziegler co-owned the store for about 15 years until Holtz bought out Ziegler and became sole owner about 10 years ago. Neil Ernst was also a former owner.

Up to four years ago store had its own slaughtering facilities on Island Lake Rd. half-mile west of town, cause the state ordered removing of these facilities necessary for Holtz to close them.

The business was located in a three-story building owned by Ziegler who plans to sell the structure.

...The American Family's Partner

THE $200 billion dollar

Savings & Loan business

At year-end 1971, assets of the savings and loan business nationwide passed the $200 billion mark. Only eight years ago, in 1963, we proudly noted reaching $100 billion. It's a Great American Success Story, the S & L story. And a stirring one, because a partnership between the American people and the S & L business brought it about.

Consider the way Americans save. One of the two purposes of a savings and loan association is to encourage people to save. The result last year—in spite of a rising cost of living—was NEW savings to the tune of $76 billion deposited in S & L's across the country. A new "boom" record.

Another new high was set in the amount of earnings paid to savers. Savings and loan associations paid out an unprecedented total of $8.5 billion in interest-earnings in 1971. That's additional income which Americans had available to spend on a thousand-and-one things, like new cars, travel, higher education for their children, comfortable retirements.

MORTGAGE LOANS OUTSTANDING ON ONE-TO-FOUR FAMILY NONFARM HOMES BY TYPE OF LENDER

Consider the housing industry, a basic industry in our economy. In 1971, the housing industry has led the nation out of the economic doldrums.

And at Ann Arbor Federal Savings...

...you have the biggest and strongest savings and loan association serving Washtenaw families. Assets of AAFS passed $163 million in 1971. Savings deposits rose to $143 million, and with this great growth we were able to provide over $55 million in new mortgage loans, primarily on single family homes in this community. Area residents received up to 6% interest (effective annual rate 6.13%) on their AAFS savings dollars. These greater earnings savings and loan associations tower over all other lenders in the amount of credit extended to home buyers. At year-end 1971, $174.5 billion of mortgage credit was held by associations. In the financing of one-to-four-family homes, S & L's are the dominant source of credit accounting for over 50% of the nation's total. In fact, over 85% of savings and loan resources are advanced to home buyers. No other type of financial institution comes close to allocating this proportion of its total resources to home financing.

ASSETS OF SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS PERCENTAGE DISTRIBUTION

This partnership of American families with S & L's has made America a nation of home owners.

In the process, it stimulates business, provides jobs and helps build a strong America. For every billion dollars pumped into the housing industry last year, probably four billion dollars of new activity was created. From checks to home builders and Realtors... to wages of construction workers and suppliers... to furniture, carpet and appliance sales, and department store receipts.

The Safety Value

Editor's Note: Answers your questions about every day traffic-related problems. Write Michigan Traffic Safety Information Council, c/o Michigan State Safety Council, Department of State Police, East Lansing 48824. "The Safety Value" will try to answer all inquiries. However, not all will be printed.

Question: Motorcycles are often hard to see from inside a car or truck. Why not a law to require them to have their lights on at all times? K.R.N., Niles.

Answer: There is a bill in the legislature now which would require this—if it passes. It is HB 5615 and has been referred to the Committee on Public Safety. Your opinion—in one way or another—could be addressed to the chairman of the committee, State Representative James Tierney, or to your own district representative, in care of State Capitol, Lansing 48933.

Since all motorcycles are not used at night and therefore might not have headlights, maybe bright orange jackets such as worn by hunters might help visibility—with or without a law. How about that?

Question: We noted that new triangular "No Putting" signs are going to be put up on highways. Where can we get information on all the signs they use? There must be hundreds.

Answer: Anyhow there are hundreds of street and highway situations that need some kind of permanent guide or control to assist a motorist in his travels—if he obeys them.

You can normally get such information from the Department of State Highways, Traffic and Safety Division, State Highways Building, Lansing 48904, or the free booklet, "What Every Driver Must Know," from the Department of State, Treasury Building, Lansing 48839.

However, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads has recently released some new changes in designs that have been in effect since 1961. These are to be made effective in all states during 1972. New styles of pavement markings will be included. It will be some time before these will all be operative. Meanwhile, we will have to live with what we now have. Keep this in mind when you look at any "helpful driving hints" literature during the next few months.

Consumers Power Granted Increase In Gas Rates

Lansing—Consumers Power Co. has been granted a $6.5 million interim increase in its gas rates, most of it to cover federally approved hikes in the wholesale price it pays for natural gas.

The 2.3 percent rate increase will be spread among the utility's 860,000 gas customers in 37 Lower Peninsula counties.

The monthly bill for the average Consumers Power residential gas customer will go up about 45 cents under the new rate schedule, the Michigan Commerce Department's Public Service Commission (PSC) said.

The rate order will remain in effect until the PSC makes a final decision on Consumers Power's application for a $31.7 million increase in its gas rates.

Commissioner Lenton G. Sculthorpe of Marshall said Consumers Power's wholesale gas costs were increased by $6.1 million annually by Federal Power Commission (FPC) approval of higher pipeline rates.

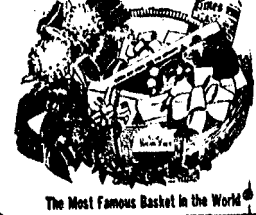

The increase approved by the PSC is designed to cover the increased cost to Consumers Power to comply with provisions of the federal Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act and to meet higher costs for labor, taxes, financing, and the wholesale price it pays for natural gas.

Question: Why don't they have uniform traffic laws all over the country? It would sure simplify driving!

Answer: Good question! Probably because the states got started at different times with different conditions. Once started it is harder to change.

There is a model Uniform Vehicle Code for States and a Model Traffic Ordinance for Cities developed by a national committee of experts. State compliance is recommended by the National Highway Safety Administration of the U. S. Department of Transportation.

A committee of experts, funded by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, recently turned out a re-write of the state's vehicle code for a joint committee of the state legislature. This is in close conformity to the recommended national code. The study is now in custody of the Public Safety Committee of the Michigan House of Representatives. It is hoped that there will be action on this important document in 1972.

Michigan also has a Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships and Villages which hooks up with our present state code and any future state code. It can be "adopted by reference" that is, in whole, without fighting over every period and comma, by the governing body of any incorporated Michigan village or city. The Department of State Police, Safety & Traffic Division, Frondor Concourse, Lansing 48912, can furnish a copy.

NUTTY?
Woodpeckers hoard acorns by drilling holes in trees and stuffing them with the nuts. As many as 30,000 acorns have been found in one riddled tree.

A food and marketing expert recently predicted that in the next 5 to 10 years less and less meat will be purchased in fresh form. Purchasing of pre-frozen, and perhaps even dehydrated, meats may become the order of the day at both the retail and institutional market levels.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

I am 12½ years old and want to wear pants to school and shorts (not short-shorts). My mother will not let me. She said I could wear a pant suit received for my birthday, but only as a set. I want to wear the pants with just a blouse, as many of the girls do.

OUR REPLY: Forget what the other girls do and believe that, in this matter, mother knows best. Wear the set. As you grow older you will discover that what others do is not always right, nor always best. Some of your friends, who are careless in their dress, probably have parents who do not care, or pay little attention to what their children wear to school. Your mother's decision is not made simply because she is "bossy," but because she wants you to be neat and well-groomed. She is not concerned about what others do. You are her main interest, and for this you should be glad.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay the less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office... he helps everybody with their return... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you year 'round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

Laura Clemans, David McGibney Speak Vows at St. Mary Church

Miss Laura Jane Clemans and David Philip McGibney exchanged wedding vows Thursday at St. Mary Catholic church in Chelsea. The Rev. Richard Clemans, the bride's father, and the Rev. Fr. Francis Wahowiak officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clemans of 801 W. Middle, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip McGibney, III, of 511 W. Middle.

Nuptial music was provided by Mary Jane Detting and Theresa Doll who performed a duet of "Ave Maria."

The bride appeared in a gown of lace and white satin styled with an empire bodice. A shoulder-length veil complemented the gown, and the bride's bouquet of white roses was enlaced with holly sprigs.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Ralph Reincke, of East Lansing, performed the duties of matron of honor. She wore a Christmas-green brocade gown trimmed in silver, and carried a hand bouquet of green and white baby's mums accented with sprigs of holly and tied with silver streamers.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and the bridegroom is a graduate of Central Michigan University and is serving in the U.S. Air Force.

Legion Auxiliary Hears Report on Christmas Gift Shop

The monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday at Sylvan Town Hall with seven members present.

A report was given on the gift shop held at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor in December. Each unit is asked to furnish a number of gifts, which are delivered to the hospital in advance of the gift shop so they may be sorted and arranged. On a designated date each veteran in the hospital is taken to the shop and may select gifts for his family for Christmas. They are then wrapped and mailed so they will receive them in time for Christmas.

This year 103 members of the Auxiliary worked a total of 556 hours. There were 1,122 gifts from the 32 units making up the 2nd and 17th districts. The amount spent on the gifts totaled $3,251.50. In mailing the gifts, $30.89 was spent on postage. In all, 319 veterans took part in the program. Thirty veterans received gifts from the shop that would otherwise had no Christmas and 66 needy veterans and families were also taken care of for Christmas. The funds that buy these gifts are from the Popple Sale in May. The next meeting will be Feb. 1 at the Sylvan Town Hall at 8 p.m.

Aliens Must Report Addresses in January

Thomas M. Pederson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the Attorney General within the near future.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the United States on Jan. 1 each year must report their addresses by the end of that month. Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement:

- (1) Accredited Diplomats, and
- (2) Persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms with which to make the report may be obtained from any Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office during the month of January.

Pederson said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.

It is estimated that 50 percent of the American population starts the day with a totally inadequate breakfast. By skipping or skimping on this important meal, individuals can miss 25 to 33 percent of their daily allowances of a variety of nutrients.

ENGAGED: Miss Rebecca Barkley and Thomas Taylor are engaged and planning a May, 1972, wedding as announced by Mr. and Mrs. John Barkley of 520 McKinley St. The future bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Earl Stoker of Chelsea and the late James Taylor. Miss Barkley is a 1971 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Chelsea Community Hospital. Taylor is a 1969 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Palmer Motor Sales.

Young Children's Imagination Needs Encouragement

Children often express their feelings through a creative, active imagination, says Mrs. Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist from Washtenaw County.

Parents encourage creativity by channeling it into imaginative play or the arts, she says.

In play, children can assume a make-believe role. Often, they are very creative in adopting a role which suits either their needs or the setting.

In art, a child should be able to express himself freely without the limitation of prescribed lines and pictures. A blank piece of paper, crayons or paint can be his most satisfying tools.

When a child shows his latest creation, praise him. Compliment him on whatever strikes you about his creation—such as "I like your colors"—and display the masterpiece proudly. You might ask him to tell you about the picture. But avoid asking "What is it?" It might not be anything specific.

Many adults seem to lose the spark of spontaneous creativity and imagination that children have in abundance. By rewarding a child's creativity with your interest, you can add fuel to the priceless spark, Helen Fairman emphasizes.

In the active world of teen-agers adequate diets often are forgotten. Six out of ten teenage girls and four out of ten teenage boys have poor diets because of their eating habits. Among the reasons for these improper diets are: skipping breakfast, eating nutritionally poor snacks, believing that eating makes one fat, and considering outside activities more important than eating.

The Question of School-Financing Reform

(Second in a series)

How Does Michigan's System Compare with Other States?

Like Michigan, all other states except Hawaii support their public schools by combining financial aid distributed from the state level with property taxes levied within local school districts.

All such states have "rich" school districts and "poor" school districts in terms of state-equalized valuation or "SEV" — the amount of property available to be taxed for the education of each pupil.

Very recently, the National Educational Finance Project ranked the 50 states according to the degree of "equity" (or equality of combined state-local funding) found in their distribution systems.

Hawaii, which funds schools entirely from the state level and is in effect one single school district, ranked first with the highest score possible.

Michigan was ranked 41st. Only nine other states were believed to have school-financing systems less equitable than ours!

In making the study that led to this ranking, the various systems by which states distribute funds to local districts and determine the amount due each district were divided into four general categories:

1. The states of Utah and Wisconsin utilize what is variously called the "equated SEV" or "guaranteed tax yield" system. (This was the basis of the so-called "Spencer-Ryan Plan" proposed here in 1970, and of the revised form of this plan presently being proposed by Representative Roy Spencer of Attica).

This system, which will later be discussed in detail, strives for equity—not in terms of dollar dollars per pupil, but in terms of equal per-pupil returns to school districts making equal self-taxing efforts.

State aid is distributed to the districts in such a way that any given "local effort" tax level brings the same amount of money per pupil in all school districts, rich or poor.

For example, suppose all districts in Michigan were to be "equated" at $30,000 SEV per pupil?

A $25,000 district could levy 20 mills of property tax, raise $100 per pupil locally and receive $500 in state aid.

A $25,000 district could levy 20 mills of property tax, raise $500 per pupil locally and receive $100 from the state.

Both would have exactly the same $600 to spend in educating each pupil.

The State of Utah, which utilizes this system most completely, was ranked second only to Hawaii for equity by the National Educational Finance Project.

However, the State of Wisconsin also bases its distribution of state aid on this system and was ranked 20th.

2. The states of Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Massachusetts and Iowa use a variation of this plan that is called the "percentage equalizing" or "state aid ratio" system.

They compute the state aid due each school district by comparing the SEV of the district with the state average and then allocating state funds in inverse proportion to the taping ability of the district.

Of these states, Rhode Island was ranked 3rd behind Hawaii and Utah. But Massachusetts was ranked 33rd; and Iowa, 38th.

3. Delaware, North Carolina, New Mexico, South Carolina, Arizona, Arkansas and Connecticut use the "flat grant" system, distributing state aid on the basis of a certain amount per pupil and making no allowance for the SEV of the district.

This would appear to be the most inequitable method of all, since rich and poor districts receive the same basic funding; and the State of Connecticut had the poorest equity rating of any state.

But Delaware and North Carolina, using the same principle, were ranked 9th and 10th, respectively.

4. All other states have a distribution system similar to Michigan's—guaranteeing each district a certain amount of state aid or "gross allowance" per pupil, when a given degree of local self-taxing effort or "deductible millage" is levied.

Using this system, the states of Wyoming and Alaska were ranked 4th and 5th; yet the states of South Dakota and New Hampshire were ranked 48th and 49th.

In summarizing its exhaustive study, the National Educational Finance Project concluded that no state school aid system seen today (except for the total state funding method in Hawaii) is, in itself, any real guarantee of equity among school districts.

The study reached three general conclusions:

a. The larger the percentage of school financing that comes from the state level, rather than the local level, the higher the equity ranking the state is likely to have.

b. It appears that a large number and variety of special and "categorical" grants from the state level usually detracts from financial equalization.

c. It also appears that a large number of local school district in a state is a factor retarding the development of financial equalization. In brief, all states except Hawaii and possibly Utah currently face the same school-financing crisis and need for reform as Michigan. The single-district concept seen in Hawaii has little public support here, and legislation modeled on the Utah system is one of the proposals that has been before the legislature.

As other states struggle with this problem, a continuing exchange of information will beyond doubt be helpful. But the unique nature of each state's school government make-up will probably make it impossible for any jointly-evolved program to serve as model legislation for all.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

There appears to be strong feeling in some quarters that Charles Lane is the big, bad villain responsible for the latest situation at the high school. It has been implied that the youngsters who engaged in the sit-down strike were the innocent victims of a dictatorial administration. After all, they were merely following the fashion of the times. Odd as it may seem, however, I feel that blame in such a fiasco as we have experienced should be shared equally by those accountable. I wonder if the kids who came up with the idea of having this particular Rock Group back again weren't attempting a little duplicity. Of course, to be fair, I'll give them the benefit of a doubt and assume that their memory may have been as short as Mr. Lane's. But, does this excuse their lack of investigation into the group's background before issuing a contract? A good source of information would have been the sheriff's department.

Mr. James Shardein suggests that children need "to exercise their own best judgment to face things in the outside world as adults," and therefore, should have been allowed to select their own band for their dance. Now, I won't argue with this fine statement providing Mr. Shardein is willing to foot the bill in case the experience gets a little expensive as had occurred a couple of years ago. But, let's be realistic. Every one knows who gets it in the neck if problems come up. Mr. Lane is in the unenviable position of being, "damned if he does and damned if he doesn't."

(Then, there are the three student leaders or representatives as they prefer. They complained of being singled out for special punishment. It's nice to be popular but it behooves every would-be leader to be aware that he will either be the hero of the hour or a scapegoat, depending on the outcome.

Fairness will not allow me to overlook the parents who were so quick to react. Immaturity is expected in the young. They learn through example that there are times when one must roll with the punches. "Human Rights" is an explosive term and the implied denial of which can generate fury in the most rational individual. I feel these parents missed a golden opportunity to demonstrate self control and maturity. Two hundred dollars was a cheap price to pay for the lesson.

Virginia L. Albrecht.
