

Citizens in Court To Prevent Building of High Voltage Line

Two area residents are currently fighting tooth and nail to keep Detroit Edison from condemning parts of their land to build a power line.

The two, Dwight Beach of Lima township and James Poulter of Dexter township, have filed suit to block a huge power line Edison plans to build through the area. There were no public hearings prior to Edison's decision to condemn the land, no land use statements prepared, no alternate routes discussed, they argue.

At the same time, the company has taken Poulter and Beach along with about 98 other land-owners to court for failure to sell their property. Basing its action on a 1923 law dealing with the Rural Electrification Program, Detroit Edison claims the right to condemn land for utilities and force owners to sell.

Dwight Beach is adamant in his refusal to sell: "The high voltage line will be a permanent eye-sore in what is now a beautiful countryside," he has said. "TV and radio reception would be impaired, and residents of the area would get absolutely no benefit from the line."

Moreover, he argues, the line is an example of extremely poor planning. Beach has drawn up an elaborate set of maps dramatically illustrating his point: within four years, there are scheduled to be three transmission lines within a 15-mile radius. Three sets of land-owners, then, are being penalized when, Beach feels, with proper planning one utility corridor could have been built.

Beach first found out about Edison's intentions in May of 1970, when he was told the company wanted to buy a right-of-way. Beach refused to sell, and in August of 1971 the county sheriff presented him with a "show cause" statement, ordering him to go to probate court and argue why his land should not be condemned. Twenty-nine days later, court was convened in Ann Arbor.

The present controversy centers around Edison's attempt to show the necessity for condemning 40 parcels of land in Washtenaw county for its proposed Monroe-Majestic Transmission Line Corridor. The company hopes to construct high voltage lines, towers, and poles through 80 miles of the county, crossing seven townships and affecting 120 properties. The line would be 350 feet wide, with easement of 25 feet in which nothing could be higher than 25 feet, on either side.

Forty of the landowners refused to sell and thus found themselves in court. Monday, Feb. 14, after more than four months of debate, the company finished their case and the landowners finished cross-examination of Edison witnesses. On March 2 it's the landowners' turn to present witnesses and be cross-examined by the company. Arguments are heard and the final verdict given by a team of three commissioners.

The company must prove two points of necessity: first, that a new line is needed at all, and second, that the proposed corridor is the best one.

Recently a similar hearing was held in Livingston county and Edison was defeated by a 2-1 vote of the commissioners. It was the first time a utility had been refused the right to condemn land, and the Washtenaw landowners were highly encouraged.

Beach feels the utilities are trying for the last big land grab they can get away with. Laws are getting tougher, he predicts. Eventually he hopes to see laws creating utility corridors for all utilities, rather than the current situation of utilities refusing to co-operate with each other and ending up, as they have in Washtenaw County, condemning land in three close, parallel corridors.

"If we could get them in federal court," Beach says, "Detroit Edison would have a hard time. They'd have to have had public meetings, presentations of alternate plans, impact statements, and public argument of why the line was necessary." Federal laws are only for interstate corridors, Beach explained, adding that while Detroit Edison is tied-in with companies in Ohio, Indiana, and even Canada, his attorneys have advised that getting the debate to federal court would be difficult.

The question as Beach sees it is between the large utility companies and the small landowner. Edison changed its route for the University of Michigan and for the Recreation Department, Beach asserted. But the individual landowner had no such power.

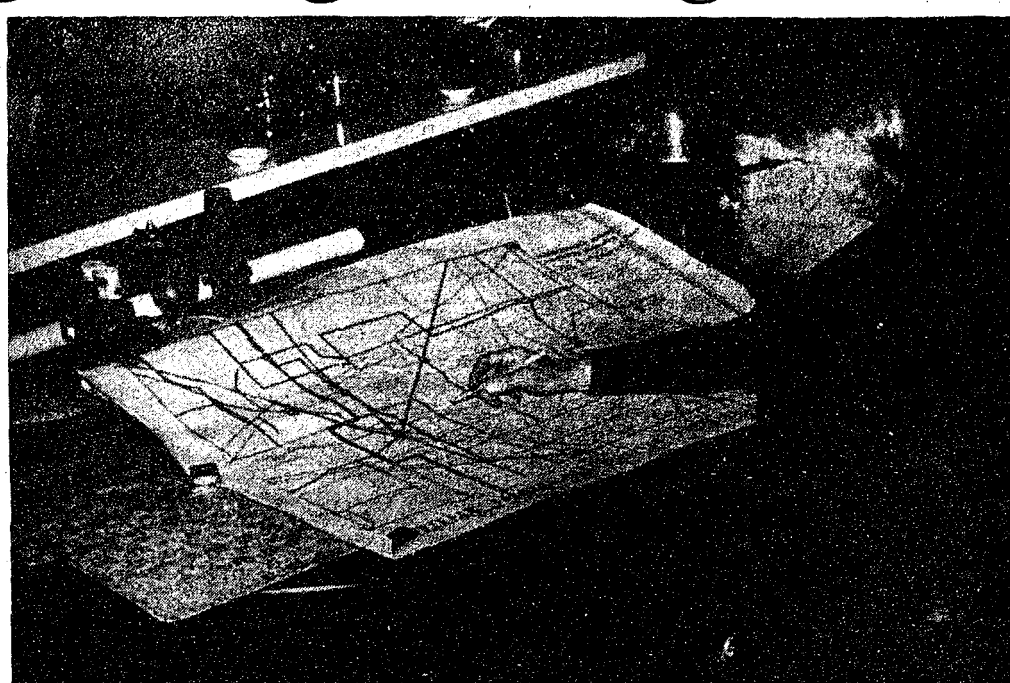

What disgusts him the most is the three parallel lines proposed to run near his farm. "Each line, with perhaps a little expansion, would do the job of all three," he has said. "This might be a little more expensive for the companies involved and would require some co-operation between them."

"The easy solution, of course, is to make the local citizen who can't afford a high powered battery of legal talent bear the cost. This is where government should step in and protect the citizen which so far it has failed miserably to do."

"One of these days this country will run out of land that big companies and big government bureaucracies can exploit. Consolidation will be forced by necessity. For the benefit of present and future generations, why not do it now?" he gives on.

Beach and Poulter also criticize Edison's secrecy in its early stages of planning the line. The route of the line, their suit contends, "was developed and kept secret until it became time to begin acquiring the necessary land and rights of ways." Edison was left free to "chop up, ribbon, and criss-crosses the county."

DWIGHT BEACH of Lima Township, a retired army general now doing battle with the Detroit Edison Co., displays an elaborate map he has drawn up to illustrate his case. Heavy lines on the map indicate the numerous oil pipe lines and electric power lines criss-crossing Washtenaw county. With so many lines, Beach sees little justification for construction of a new one.

Debate Team Finishes 2nd in State Tourney

Debate season has just ended, and for Chelsea High school it was the best. Even, according to Debate Coach William Colieus.

Last week-end the Varsity team won the championship at the regional tournament and went on to place in the finals of the state meet, both held in Ann Arbor. Finishing in the finals meant that the team was presented with a trophy and gold watches were presented to varsity debaters Dan Gaunt, Chick Lane, Mike Hergert, and Carol Fairbrother.

Varsity debaters also won championships in the two leagues they debated in and at the district meet and won first place at the Ann Arbor Invitational Tournament.

They finally lost to Marshall by a 2-1 decision in the state finals, held Saturday, Feb. 19 at the University of Michigan.

Novice debaters, according to Colieus, also had a highly successful season and placed in the state finals.

Chelsea Draws Pinckney in District Play

Drawings have been held for next week's district basketball tournament, slated for Chelsea High school. In the first match of the tournament, Chelsea is set against Pinckney for 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 29. Two days later Hartland will play Dexter at 7 p.m., March 2. At 8:30 that night the winner of the Chelsea-Pinckney game will play Brighton. Winners of the two Thursday night games will meet Saturday, March 4, at 8 p.m.

Bid for Second Cagers Lose in Place Finish

The South Lyon Lions were in town Friday night to take on the Chelsea Bulldogs in a show down for second place, and the Lions went home a winner, by a 61-46 score.

The first quarter of the game was dominated by the hometown Bulldogs as they pressed and ran to a 16-11 lead. Ron Sweeney and Todd Sprague led Chelsea in scoring the first quarter while Jeff Daniels and Wayne Welton led the defensive efforts.

In the second quarter the Lions began to show the poise that had brought them to town a winner of seven straight contests. They clipped away at the Bulldog lead and finally cut it to one point, 26-25, at half-time. Tony Kern and Jim McIntosh led the South Lyon surge, both offensively and defensively. Kern repeatedly found the open man as he directed the attack for South Lyon, and quite often the open man was the 6'6" senior, Jim McIntosh.

The Bulldogs started slowly in the third quarter and the Lions took the lead, McIntosh hitting for four of his 12 baskets. Ron Sweeney led the Bulldog scoring as he accounted for five of the Bulldog 11 points in the period. By the end of the quarter, South Lyon held a slim 29-27 lead.

FORTY YEARS OLD: McKune House, the Chelsea public library, will be celebrating its 40th birthday with an open house this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. After a frustrating few years of moving from unsuitable place to unsuitable place, the library moved into its present quarters in June, 1959. The house was willed as a library by Mrs. E. J. McKune, who lived in the Main St. home until her death in 1958. Scores of Chelsea businesses, clubs, and individuals co-operated to restore the home and make it into a library.

M. Montange Wins District Championship

Bulldog matmen went to Marshall last week-end for the district tournaments and came away with an eighth-place finish. Only one wrestler, Mark Montange at 105 pounds, won an individual championship and is now eligible for the state regionals, slated for this Saturday in Dexter.

Montange first defeated a Mason wrestler and then went on to pin a Battle Creek-Pennfield opponent to wrap up his championship. Others who won in first-round matches were Sam Trachet, Larry Jones, Tim Lancaster, Doug McDonald, Jon Schenk, Randy Seitz, and Tom McKernan.

The meet was dominated by Harper Creek, who had been rated the top Class B team in the state. Despite winning only one championship, Coach Dick Bares said his team wrestled quite well. "We were in all the matches all the way," he said. "They were close ones."

The season is now over for all but Mark Montange, who will be wrestling at Dexter this Saturday.

District Tournament Results
Harper Creek, 33; Fowlerville, 20; Okemos, 18 1/2; Charlotte, 18; Mason, 18; Michigan Center, 14 1/2; Haselet, 14 1/2; Chelsea, 13 1/2; Stockbridge, 13 1/2; Lansing Catholic Central, 13 1/2; Parma Western, 9; Battle Creek, Pennfield, 6 1/2; Hillsdale, 6; Albion, 4; Columbia Central, 2; Eaton Rapids, 1; Laman Christi, 1; Marshall, 1.

Surgery for Broken Hip

John O'Connor, 17113 Roe Rd., is undergoing surgery today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a broken hip. O'Connor, 77, slipped on the ice at his home around noon Tuesday, Feb. 22, when he was getting the paper. Doctors described it as a bad break, according to Mrs. Mary Wheeler, O'Connor's sister.

World Day of Prayer Slated Friday March 3

"All Joy Be Yours" is the theme of this year's World Day of Prayer, which comes on Friday, March 3. Chelsea's celebration will be held at the First United Methodist church on Friday evening at 7 p.m.

World Day of Prayer, considered to be the most important ecumenical occasion of the year, is generally celebrated among Christian women. This year the entire family is invited to attend the program.

The Rev. Olive H. Dickens of the First United Methodist church will be the leader of the program, and Mrs. Clare Warren will be organist. Mrs. Raymond Schaller will present Joy and Thanksgiving. The Rev. David Kleis of St. John's United Church of Christ will present the Season of Prayer assisted by the Junior high school class from the Congregational United Church of Christ under the leadership of Earl Dreiman and the Interpretative Choir, a group of high school youth of St. Paul United Church of Christ, directed by Mrs. Toby Fletcher. Mrs. John Morris of Zion Lutheran church will be the soloist.

During the offertory Mrs. James Hoffmeyer will play a violin solo. Mrs. William Hogan of St. Mary's will discuss Intercontinental Mission Abroad and Mrs. Henry Harst of OES Intercontinental Mission at Home.

A fellowship hour will follow the service. Throughout, there will be nursery service for children three and under.

World Day of Prayer is commonly celebrated by Christian women in 160 countries, including 2,300 units of Church Women United in the U.S. It has been celebrated in the United States for 35 years.

The World Day of Prayer offering goes into a fund called Intercontinental Mission, which is used for women and children in need of education and better nu-

Library Marks 40th Year of Serving Area

Sunday Open House Planned for Public To View Anniversary Displays

The house looks like a normal, well-preserved old Chelsea home, perhaps in need of a little paint. But it's no ordinary house, as inside are more than 18,000 books, 600 records, 1,300-1,400 pictures, and 82 bound volumes of The Chelsea Standard. The name above the door explains it all: McKune Memorial Library.

This week the library is celebrating its 40th anniversary with an open house Sunday, Feb. 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to view special displays and sample anniversary refreshments. Anniversaries are traditionally a time for both nostalgia and for planning ahead. Looking back over 40 years of library history, the first stop is a meeting in April 1931 of the Chelsea Child Study Club. Members were discussing what the village needed most. Their answer: a public library.

So a library committee was appointed, a store was made available to house the library, and on Feb. 28, 1932, the library was born in the Palmer store on E. Middle St. The library had on hand 122 books, 22 donated by the Child Study Club and 100 on loan from the state.

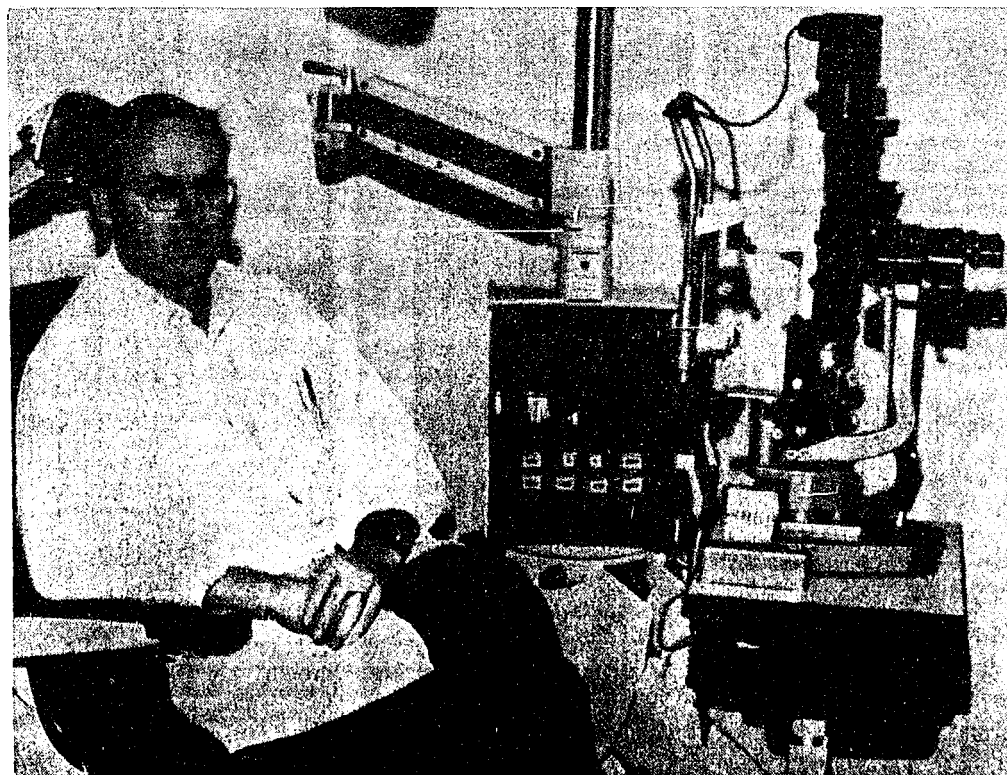

Its big problem was money, and for six years the library ran on volunteer help and frequent bake sales, until 1938, when village residents voted a one-mill levy to support it. Now on sounder financial footing, the library hired a librarian and rented new space.

It was not until June 1959 that the library moved into its present quarters, the McKune family home, willed to the city for use as a library by Mrs. E. J. McKune, who died in 1958. After Mrs. McKune's death, it took a village-wide effort to raise enough money to renovate the building and make it appropriate for a library. In the "Book of Donors" at the library, there are names of 433 individuals, businesses, and clubs which contributed money, materials, labor, or discounts. The library was pulling the village together.

Now, after 40 years, the library is annually buying an average of 500 books, reports Mrs. E. W. Eaton, who has been a library board trustee for the past 39 years. In 1971 alone, she adds, 710 volumes were purchased. Books are selected by the library board, although readers are encouraged to suggest titles. "The big thing is to get the new books when they're still new," Ms. Eaton says.

Looking back on her years with the library, Mrs. Eaton notes both constancy and change in reading patterns. Some types, like mysteries and westerns, are read (Continued on page five)

New Eye Clinic Operating

A new building has been added to the landscape at the Chelsea Medical Center. It's a complete eye clinic, designed to house both the office of an eye doctor and of an optical company.

The clinic, according to ophthalmologist William Hawks, is the most modern in Washtenaw county. There will be three rooms for eye examinations, including space for minor eye surgery. Approximately one-third of the building will be occupied by the Huron Valley Optical Co., making and repairing glasses right on the premises. In addition, an orthoptist, or specialist in muscle imbalance problems such as cross-eyes, will be working part-time at the clinic, as need arises.

Although built specifically as an eye care center, the building will also house the office of orthodontist Michael Riolo. The eye clinic is the fifth building to be constructed in the Medical Center complex, along with the general clinic, hospital, dental, and pharmacy buildings. Future plans include an administration building, an extension to the dental clinic, and a surgery building.

DEBATERS WRAP UP THEIR SEASON with a large collection of trophies. Varsity debaters ended up as league, district, and regional champions and placed in the finals in the state meet, held in Ann Arbor last Saturday. Novice debaters also collected their share of trophies. Front row, from left: Mike Hergert, Chick Lane, Dan Gaunt, Carol

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The first five years of a child's life are crucial in his intellectual and social development. It is now generally accepted by experts that over one-half of a person's ability to learn is already acquired before he enters the traditional school system in kindergarten. This fact has obvious and far-reaching implications as we study means of equalizing educational opportunity for all students. Clearly, where a child comes from a deprived home, it is important to reach him early if he is to develop to his full capacity.

At the same time, there are increasing pressures in society for mothers to leave the home and earn a living—either through necessity to supplement the family income or through choice to continue her profession.

As a result of these two separate developments, there has been an increased realization that early child care facilities in this nation are inadequate. Few facilities exist; many provide only physical watchcare with no attention to the developing needs of children; those which do provide educational programs are often inordinately expensive and out of the reach of working class families.

Because of all these problems, I have long believed that an early child care program should receive the attention of the Congress and the nation. I worked as a member of the Education and Labor Committee on Child Development legislation and supported the Child Development amendment to the OEO bill when it came to the House. That legislation was vetoes by the Administration primarily for administrative reasons. I frankly felt that the program needed for the program overreached the administrative difficulties and was deeply disappointed when the veto was applied.

Now the Committee has reported new legislation which means commensurate child care program to the extension of the Office of Economic Opportunity. This time, however, instead of working on the broad needs in the field of child development, the bill includes only an expansion of Head Start. While Head Start has been a useful program, it seems clear to me that to expand it will only result in further fragmentation of our early child programs and will further institutionalize its results of duplication, excessive administrative costs, lack of professional training and research programs and non-coordination.

I strongly fear that the Congress will, by accepting this partial answer, ignore the broad needs which exist in the field of early childhood education. I fear that acceptance of this bill will result in yet another instance where the promise of federal rhetoric will vastly exceed the practical results of the program and leave us, once again, with overpromise and underperformance.

I believe that the House should delete the additional funds for Head Start programs within this OEO legislation and should then get on to the task of approving separate legislation which can truly meet the needs of the nation and its children.

High School Students Hear From Medic Professionals

Approximately 90 high school students and more than 30 professional people gathered Thursday, Feb. 17, for an informal "rap session" on the medical profession.

Opening the meeting were Dr. George Nolan of the University of Michigan School of Medicine, Mrs.

Kathleen Johnston of the U. of M. School of Nursing, and Miss Ruth Stevens of the Mercy School of Nursing, all discussing admissions and requirements for their various schools.

After the introductory talks, students mingled freely with the physicians, nurses, and medical and pre-medical students present.

A number of students also signed up for tours of the U. of M. Medical Center in Ann Arbor. Students not present at the meeting but interested in the tours may contact Amy DeBelling, Chelsea High School, or Cheryl Trinkle, Dexter High School, for information.

A similar meeting is planned for March 16 with emphasis on dentistry, veterinary medicine, and pharmacy.

JERKEY COMING BACK

Jerkey, a favorite food of the pioneers, is making a comeback as an appetizer and snack food. Originally, it was a staple because it traveled well without refrigeration. It now scores success primarily because of its flavor and nutritive value.

CUTTING FOOD COSTS

The best way to cut down on "food" costs is to plan your shopping list carefully, and stick to it. Avoid impulse buying of luxury "on-sale" items not on your prepared list. Don't overbuy an item merely because the price is right. This is important where perishable foods are concerned. Remember that you pay for convenience. A whole chicken costs less than a cup-up bird. Sliced cheese is more expensive than chunk cheese. A prepared sandwich mix or spread costs more than when you make your own.

Words vs. Action

Politicians who wonder why voters are reluctant to believe anything they say need look no further than Lansing for some causes.

Several recent occurrences, merely the latest in an unending series of similar instances, found in any state capital, demonstrated again that the words and actions of public officials can be two different things.

Probably of most immediate concern to Mr. average taxpayer is the move to extend the income tax increase voted into effect for one year last Aug. 1. The law specifically said the 50 percent increase would expire this coming July 31, but even as it was waiting to be signed by the Governor, nobody expected it to expire.

Senate Democratic Leader Coleman Young of Detroit puts it bluntly: "Nobody in this legislature or the executive office had any idea, I am sure, that this state could exist without extension and continuation of that tax. You might say a certain amount of dishonesty."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I heard a saying the other day that I'd like to pass on to you. It is that a newspaper editor has got to have a diplomat's tact, a mule's endurance, a salesman's enthusiasm, the sun's dependability, the loyalty of a football fan, a rhino's hide, a elephant's memory, a mother's forgiveness and the patience of Job. I don't know what you think, Mister Editor, but finding all that seems like a pretty tall order.

Talking about tact, I recollect a example in a paper a good many years back. The editor said in one of his social items that "Miss Hannah Brown, a bell of 20 summers, is visiting her twin brother James, who is celebrating his thirty-second birthday with a dance tonight at the community house." I reckon you fellows got to use a lot of tact in sailing your course cause the wind blows at you from so many ways.

Sometimes, tho, you tell us more than you expected to. Not long back, I saw this report in a daily paper. "A jubilant Pakistani pilot landed his Chinese-built fighter here today and told how he had fired an American-made Sidewinder missile into an Indian MIG-21, destroying the Russian-supplied aircraft." If that ain't wrapping up world politics in a mighty few words, I wouldn't want to try. And that report I saw where a Baltimore dentist broke his patient's leg while pulling a wisdom tooth. Tells me that wisdom goes a heap dumber in this country than I thought.

Practical speaking, the newspaper folks in this country may not have all the virtues of that saying, but you do a real service in telling us what's going on and holding our politicians feet to the fire. I like what one paper said when that Congressman allowed all this reporting about secret negotiations in Washington was a stink made up by the papers. This one editor ask the Congressman if he was engaged in by even putting a termination date in the bill in the first place."

Senate Republican Leader Robert Vander Laan of Grand Rapids says any legislator who really thought the tax raise would be allowed to expire was "merely daydreaming."

"I think every member, if he knows what he's doing, would know that that particular tax, not only last year but now," he says. "If he says anything else, he doesn't know what he's talking about or he's trying to dodge the issue."

The logical question for the weary taxpayer at this point might be, "If everybody knew they'd never rescind the raise, why put an expiration date on in the first place?"

The answer is human nature. The leadership, who are forced to carry the ball on issues such as this, needed the tax increase to keep the state from going bankrupt. But they couldn't round up the votes among their colleagues afraid of what the voters would think of more taxes, without first agreeing to the expiration date.

"That way, the people who voted for it could go home and say, 'Yeah, I don't like it either, but it was necessary to balance the budget and besides, I made 'em put an expiration date on it so it wouldn't be permanent.'"

Whether the "blame," if there is any to be assigned for such actions, goes on the leadership for agreeing to the date or to the rank and file who demanded it is probably a matter of point of view. But when gimmicks are written into law, voters can't be expected to be anything but wary.

A second glaring example came in the machinations of the Reapportionment Commission.

Before the commission members threw up their hands and gave up on the idea of reaching agreement, months and months of work went by. But in all that time the four Democratic members, led skillfully by Grand Rapids attorney A. Robert Kleiner, refused to negotiate with the Republicans on anything except Democratic terms.

And Kleiner maintained with a straight face that he and his fellow Democrats never even considered what effect their plans would have on the makeup of the legislature when drawing them up. At the same time he refused to discuss the partisan political results of the drawing of districts despite the fact discussing reapportionment without politics is like discussing religion without ever mentioning God.

Kleiner made the claims despite the fact Democratic strategists held repeated meetings figuring out reapportionment plans and looking very closely at how various lawmakers would be affected.

And the final Democratic plan would give firm control of the legislature to Democrats, if adopted. It would go so far as to throw the two Senators from Grand Rapids—Kleiner's home—Republicans Robert Vander Laan and Milton Zaagman, into the same district.

Kleiner, a long-time resident of Grand Rapids, claimed he had no idea where Zaagman lived.

The reasons for the protestations in this case lie with the fact the case is going to the Supreme Court and philosophically such things as partisan politics are no reason under law to adopt or reject a plan. The feeling was if the Democrats kept protesting their innocence, it would make their case with the court stronger.

Technically, their reasons are probably valid. But it's no wonder the voter gets cynical.

who lives with the Pilemeiers, had the egg on display at the Record Shop where she works.

Helen Magdalene Hankard, valedictorian of the class of 1947 at Chelsea High school, entered St. Joseph's Convent at Adrian as a novitiate.

Mrs. Emil Regner was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a group of her friends gathered at her home for a pot-luck supper. The evening was spent playing "Pepper" with high prize going to Lyle Hude and Emerson Lesser.

Mrs. Lawrence McDonald, Mrs. James Dann, Mrs. William Hafner, Mrs. Victor Miller, Mrs. Louis Staph, and Mrs. Theresa Leach met at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer Friday evening for the first meeting of a new sewing group, the "Lucky Seven" organization.

Who following were chosen "dream girls" at Chelsea High school: Myrna Roberts, hair; Joyce Hughes, eyes; Joan Hughes, nose; Georgia Ann Salzgeber, teeth; Dorothy Thomas, features; Betty Ingram, complexion; Deloris Walker, hands, Mary K. Palmer, legs; Marilyn Johnson, personality; and Dorothy Howard, vitality. Oscar Hansen was chosen the "dream man" with the best hair, while Bobby Barlow was selected the boy with the best legs.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Palmer, daughters, Winifred and Lois, and the former's mother, Mrs. George W. Palmer, left on Thursday of last week for a motor trip to Florida. They will be gone for about a month.

The Young Mothers' Child Study club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Norman Schmidt. Mrs. Edward Hill read Edgar Guest's poem "George Washington," and Mrs. Ray Krontz, Mrs. Walter Zeeb, and Mrs. Emmett Hankard gave talks on "How and When To Punish."

Before an item is given the familiar "UL" labeling, sample products are put through a series of tough safety tests set up by UL engineers. Compromises are not made on these established standards.

HEIGHT PAYS OFF: Jim McIntosh, 6'6" senior from South Lyon, leaps to sink another, as the shorter Bulldogs Chick Lane and Ron Sweeny try to block it. McIntosh dominated the South Lyon game, totaling 28 points and 14 rebounds. Sweeny led the Bulldogs with 17 points.

BULLDOG JUNIOR BILL TITE goes up for a basket as Jeff Schmidt stands by for a possible rebound. The South Lyon Lions defeated Chelsea, 61-46, to keep up an eight-game winning streak and send the Bulldogs tumbling out of second place.

Albion Athletic Co-ordinator To Speak at Methodist Church

Montley Fraser, co-ordinator of athletic development at Albion College, will be the guest speaker at the First United Methodist church Lenten Service on Wednesday, March 1, at 7:30 p.m. Fraser will speak on "Making the Most of Your Life." The service is especially aimed at youth and will be followed by a Coke party for youth in the church social center.

Fraser began his coaching and teaching career in 1949 at Newberry High school in the Upper Peninsula, where his squads won 24 consecutive games and the state championship in 1951. In 1952 he went to Lansing Eastern High school, and in his two years there the school's gridiron squads moved from last to third and second places in the Five-A League. After receiving his master's degree from MSU in 1964, he went to Albion as head football coach for the Albion College Britons, who in 1964, 1965 and 1966 were undisputed champions of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association. In 1964 Fraser received the state and regional state college "Coach of the Year" award.

Fraser is active in the Albion First United Methodist church and the Boy Scouts.

JV Cagers Lose To South Lyon In Sloppy Game

Chelsea's junior varsity cagers went down to defeat last Friday, losing to South Lyon, 65-45. It was a top-sided affair, with the Bulldogs behind throughout the game. Only in the final frame did Chelsea outscore the Lions, 18-13, but it wasn't enough to overcome their 42-27 deficit going into the quarter.

Leading scorers for Chelsea were Jeff Sprague with 14 points, Tim Treado with 12 and Ron Kiel with 7. Top rebounders were Tim Treado with 17, Ron Kiel with 16 and Jeff Marshall with 8.

Poor shooting (16 for 82 or 20 percent) kept the Bulldogs out of the game. Their record is now 9-6.

Fair Board Turns Down Request For Teen Center

The Fair Board held their monthly meeting Tuesday, Feb. 22, and unanimously voted to turn down the request to authorize use of the old Red Schoolhouse on the fairgrounds for a teen center.

"We've already gotten into enough trouble with the skating rink," said Allen Broessme, president of the Fair Board, "and we don't want to get involved any farther with something like this." (The Fair Board meets the fourth Tuesday of each month.)

Seniors Will Take American College Test Saturday

Chelsea High school seniors who have pre-registered for the American College Test are reminded that the examination is this Saturday, Feb. 26, at 8 a.m. in the high school library. Students from neighboring communities such as Stockbridge, Manchester, Munith, and Saline will also be present for the test.

Twenty-eight seniors took the Armed Forces Vocational Aptitude test last Monday morning. Results will be available after spring break.

Only one college representative is scheduled to come to the high school in the near future. A representative of Washburn Community College will interview students and answer questions during fifth hour Monday, March 6.

CUT NON-FOOD PURCHASES

Your checkbook may not be an accurate account of the amount of "food" money you spend each week. This is particularly true if you shop in a supermarket. Studies show that non-food items—paper products and similar goods—account for almost 20 percent of the grocery bill.

Pfc. Gerald H. Kuhl Completes Army Vehicle Mechanics Course

(Ft. Ord, Calif.—Army Private First Class Gerald H. Kuhl, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armin H. Kuhl, 2826 Peckins Rd., Chelsea, Mich., recently completed an eight-week wheel vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Infantry, Ft. Ord, Calif.

During the course, he learned to perform organizational maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment. He became familiarized with the functioning of automotive wheel vehicle components, operating principles of internal combustion engines, fundamentals of fuel and electrical systems, and the use of test equipment.

Pvt. Kuhl entered the army last September. He is a 1970 graduate of Chelsea High school.

SGT. PAUL M. LEHMAN

Stockbridge Sergeant Cited as Outstanding Non-Com of Quarter

Oxford, England—U.S. Air Force Sergeant Paul M. Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Lehman of 108 N. Williams St., Stockbridge, Mich., has been named Outstanding Noncommissioned Officer at the Quarter in his unit at Upper Heyford RAF Station, England.

Sergeant Lehman, a communications specialist, was selected for his leadership, exemplary conduct and duty performance. He is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service.

The sergeant is a 1968 graduate of Stockbridge High school. His wife, Diane, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard L. Gillmore of 835 N. Main St., Gregory.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Happiness ...

Happiness comes to each of us when we realize the true values of this life, seek them out, and live by them.

How many of us worry from day to day about bills, school work, or status? How many of us stop and think about this wonderful world in which we live? How many people are really thankful for all that they have? How many people are really happy?

Happiness can come easily, if each day we would stop for a few moments, and forget our daily worries. During this time we should think about the true values of the human experience—love, family, friendships, brotherhood, sharing and caring.

If we seek these values and try to fashion our lives around them, happiness will surely come.

THANK YOU — We want to thank all our friends and relatives for the many cards and messages of congratulations that have been sent to us on our 50th wedding anniversary. It was a most happy and unforgettable day. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Koengoter.

WORD OF THANKS — Words are inadequate to express my thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness of my neighbors, friends and relatives during the illness and death of my beloved husband, Arthur H. Avery. A thank you to Dr. Fisher, the Rev. Clive Dickins and St. Paul Church Funeral Home.

Wife of Arthur Avery.

THANK YOU — I would like to thank all my neighbors, friends, and relatives for the kind deeds, visits, gifts, and cards while I was in St. Joseph Hospital and since my return home. Also the Rev. Siebert for his visit and prayer. It was all greatly appreciated. G. Alfred Lindauer.

CARD OF THANKS — We are deeply grateful for the expressions of sympathy, the gifts of food, the beautiful flowers and cards, visits and calls that we have received in our bereavement. We also wish to thank those who contributed to the St. Paul Church Memorial Fund and to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Cancer Fund. We especially wish to thank Dr. Charles F. Krause, Dr. John C. Nixon and the Rev. W. F. Siebert. Your thoughtful-ness has helped to ease our grief. Mrs. Douglas H. Weese and family.

4-H Horse Show Scheduled Feb. 26

The Washtenaw 4-H Horse Leader's Association will sponsor a clinic on dressage, hunt seat equitation and jumping on Saturday, Feb. 26, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The location will be at Classic Farms, 6500 S. Wagner Rd., Ann Arbor. Fritz Weiss will conduct the clinic.

Everyone is requested to bring a sack lunch. Coffee and hot chocolate will be available. An admission charge will be made.

Eight 4-H horse club members will take part in the horse clinic, making horses to show some of the dressage renditions.

A series of three or four workshops will be offered between now and May in Western riding, show the seat, and preparing to show which are open to all 4-H horse club members in the county, sponsored by the 4-H Horse Board.

Currently there are 47 separate horse clubs listed on the 4-H rolls in Washtenaw county which, according to the summer horse census is outnumbered only by Oakland county in the number of horses being raised for all purposes.

MAILBOX CONTENTS — An estimated one out of three letters in your mailbox is an advertisement.

CONFESION TIME — Note on the windshield of a car with a smashed fender: "There are at least 20 people watching while I write this. They think I am putting down my name, address and phone number. But I ain't."

Chelsea's fluoride program has consistently, she reports. The same people will read them all. There's been a change in general fiction, however, with plot becoming less and less important. And there has been an increase in readership of non-fiction. "It's amazing the way science books go out," Mrs. Eaton notes, attributing their popularity to such developments as space flights and new math.

"Our readers are quite consistent," Mrs. Eaton adds. "A lot of the same people will be every week, borrowing different books. There are even a couple from the rest home at Grass Lake who hire people each week to drive them down."

The McKune Library doesn't just lend out books. There are records which can be borrowed, and more than 1,000 art prints, which, Mrs. Eaton notes, the public seems virtually unaware of. In the summer there's a reading program for students and in the winter (November-March) a story hour for three- to four-year-olds, conducted every Tuesday at 10 a.m. by Mrs. Russel Bernath, librarian.

Funds, Mrs. Eaton notes, come from a variety of sources — the local tax, penal fines from the county, state aid, gifts from townships, some miscellaneous gifts . . . and an average of $70 collected each month in library fines! Of the money taken in, $400 goes back to Washtenaw county each year as dues for participation in the county library system, but this all comes back, Mrs. Eaton adds, in the form of equipment and sometimes books.

Looking to the future, Mrs. Eaton sees no major changes for the library. A children's room might be added, and a new paint job is needed on the outside of the library. There are plans to reactivate the Friends of the Library, and a meeting will probably be held in May.

At 40, the McKune Library is just entering maturity. With identity crises and growing pains out of the way, it has become a stable part of the Chelsea community.

Wrestlers of the Week

JOHN BEEMAN, left, and JON MARZEC are today's matmen of the week. Beeman, a sophomore, wrestles at 115 pounds. He's outdoors a lot, enjoying fishing, hunting, motorcycling, snowmobiling, and football. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Beeman, 18610 Waterloo Rd. He has three brothers and two sisters. Jon Marzec, 112 pounds, is a junior. He works part-time with the Reinhardt Farms and also likes to ski and to waterski. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Marzec, 1187 N. Freer Rd. He's also from a large family — seven boys and a girl.

March 1 Deadline Date for Fluoride Treatment Application

Parents who wish to register their children in Chelsea's summer fluoride program have until March 1 to send in the application cards together with a check or money order for $3.50 per child made out to Chelsea Fluoride Program. These may either be brought to the schools or mailed to Mrs. Gary Albrecht, 13589 Waterloo Rd. Extra applications are available at all the schools or from Mrs. Albrecht. All 5th and 8th graders are eligible for the fluoride treatments.

Because Chelsea's water has been fluoridated for the past five years, there are restrictions concerning pre-schoolers, kindergartners and 2nd graders. Those who have been drinking from Chelsea's water system for the past five years do not need topical fluoride applications. However, those youngsters living in the rural areas or those who have lived in Chelsea less than five years will benefit from the fluoride treatments. Also, any child may be included in the program if his dentist makes this recommendation.

The treatments consist of four visits to the clinic, which will be located in the high school cafeteria. The first visit consists of approximately 20 minutes because the teeth are professionally cleaned before the sodium fluoride is applied. The following three visits average five minutes each.

Appointment cards will be mailed in early May. The program itself will take place soon after summer vacation begins. There will be a seven-day period after appointment cards are sent in which to make any necessary appointment changes.

"I don't have to do a thing, unless I want to. I don't owe anybody anything" . . . You hear it often, but don't believe it. There is no such thing as individual isolation. All of us must depend on others every day of our lives. If we did not rely on others, we would have no clothes, no shelter, or food, or protection against elements and enemies. Every person has a point of responsibility to others. This holds true from the moment of birth to the moment of death.

If we may be permitted, here is a personal example. It does not happen often, but when it does, it grieves us to be called at a time of death to make "arrangements" — and suddenly realize no instructions were left by the deceased. It grieves us to witness the impersonalness of arrangements conducted by strangers who really want to do the best they can but have no instructions on which to act. . . . Equally important is the matter of legal responsibility by initiatory acts.

These matters can and should be handled properly — ahead of time. Most people do it. A few don't. We can and will give you counsel and guidance, with NO obligation and NO cost. You can depend on it that we consider it a sacred trust and you will feel better for having done it. . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Present: Storey, Straub, Schaffer, Irwin, Koenn, Smith, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principal Lane, Assistant Principal Japanevski. Guests: Barbara Wenk, William Coelius, and George Bergman.

The American Association of School Administrators Convention was recently held in Atlantic City, N.J. It was attended by Charles Cameron, Fred Mills, Robert Schaffer, and Donald Irwin. Discussions on negotiations, career education, and architectural firms were attended and various exhibits were visited.

George Bergman and Mrs. Dorothy Chinn, high school counselors, presented an overview of the Guidance Program at the high school. The function of the guidance department at the present time includes scheduling, planning for the future, interpersonal relations of students, individual student conferences, parent conferences, and college visitations.

William Coelius, chairman of the English Department, reported on the progress of the English program. He stressed the over-all goals of the program were to broaden the basic skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking and an awareness and enrichment of life and understanding of others. He reported that teacher and student enthusiasm still runs high.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, Betty, include twins, Jeffrey and Jennifer, and a step-son, Thomas Shanahan, all at home.

DEATHS

Mrs. George Meabon Chelsea Man's Mother Dies Monday in Pinckney

Mrs. Myra L. Meabon, 425 S. Dexter Rd., Pinckney, died suddenly at her home Monday, Feb. 21. She was 77. Born Nov. 6, 1894 in Unadilla township, she was the daughter of William and Sarah Hopkins Marshall. On June 21, 1913, she married George L. Meabon in Powlerville; he survives. Also surviving are four sons, Leon of Chelsea, and Marshall, Lafayette, Dale and Robert, all of Pinckney; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Basie of Ohio; seven grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Howard May of Gregory. Two daughters preceded her in death.

Mrs. Meabon was a member of the Ladies Aide of the Community Congregational church. Funeral services will be held today at 1 p.m. from the Swarthout-Lamb Funeral Home with the Rev. Henry Reinwald officiating. Interment will follow in Plainfield Cemetery.

Kenneth L. Guinan Dies in Detroit Hospital Following Long Illness

Kenneth L. Guinan, 50, of 632 Katherine, Dearborn, died Tuesday, Feb. 15 at Grace Hospital, Detroit, after a long illness. He was born July 25, 1921, in Detroit, the son of Leo A. Guinan and the late Isabel Guinan of 16925 Waterloo Rd. In September 1953 he was married to Margaret Nolan. He was a television technician for several years and member of Moose and Foresters.

Surviving are his widow; his father; four children, Gary, Judy, Paul, and Lori Ann; a brother, Robert, of Dearborn; and two sisters, Mrs. Jack (Florence) Hughes of Garden City and Mrs. Harold (Jane) Beusterien of Detroit. Funeral services were held at St. Sebastian's church in Dearborn. Interment was at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

'Wheels Across America' Travel Film Slated Saturday

The Chelsea Kiwanis Club is presenting Julian Gromer, a popular artist in the travelogue field, Saturday, Feb. 26, at 8 p.m. in the High school auditorium, as part of its 1971-72 Travel and Adventure Series.

Gromer will show his film, "Wheels Across America," the story of 40 college boys and their bicycle trip across the United States, 3,700 miles from the Golden Gate in San Francisco to New York City. There will be scenes of Death Valley, the plains, and, climaxing their trip, the Statue of Liberty.

Gromer, a resident of Grand Rapids, started out in the printing business. However, after buying a camera, he decided that photography was more to his taste, and he entered the infant travelogue field. Three cinema clubs have conferred honorary memberships on him, and two of his films won Grand Awards from the Photographic Society of America. He has won top honors on the internationally known "World Travel Series" four consecutive times.

He is especially well-known for a method he devised for taking time-lapse movies which show flowers growing 20,000 times faster than normal. These are usually featured in his films, along with hi-fidelity music and location-recorded sound effects.

Gromer enjoys sports and once built a racing boat that won 87 trophies for him. During World War II he served as an official Signal Corps photographer, and for the duration of the war Mrs. Gromer lectured with his films. They are both active in church work.

Full Ticket Nominated By Independents

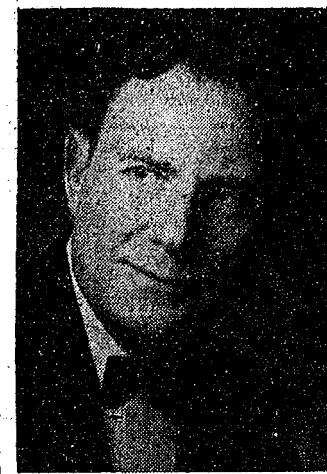

Seven incumbents and one new candidate were nominated for village offices by the Independent Party at their caucus Monday, Feb. 21. A. E. Fuls defeated Charles Ritter for the village president nomination, while Wallace Wood was nominated unopposed for treasurer. Nominated for trustees were Thomas Dmoch and Keith Boylan, incumbents, along with Don Wood. Assessor Thomas C. Smith and library board trustees Shirley Schaible and Ann Belser were re-nominated for their present offices.

Forty-seven party members voted at the caucus. In addition to nominating candidates for village offices, the party platform for the coming election was discussed and passed.

The village election will be held Monday, March 13.

Guys & Dolls Musical Tickets on Sale Friday

Chelsea High school is offering a fun night on the town, complete with gamblers, nightclub dancers, and even a revival prayer meeting. It's "Guys and Dolls" the musical being presented March 16-18. Tickets go on sale Friday, Feb. 25 at the high school.

JULIAN GROMER

90th Birthday Observed

Frank E. Abdon, 447 Railroad St., was honored at a party at his home, Sunday, celebrating his 90th birthday. The birthday will come Feb. 26. Also honored was his brother Verne Abdon of South St., for his 88th birthday, Feb. 25, and Robin Wright of Jackson Rd., a grandson, whose birthday is also Feb. 25.

Approximately 30 children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren gathered to celebrate. There were three birthday cakes, and the three guests of honor received many cards and gifts.

VARSITY DEBATE WINNERS: It was a very good year for Chelsea High school Varsity debaters (left to right) Mike Hergert, Chick Lane, Dan Gaunt, and Carol Fairbrother. They won district and regional championships and went on to place in the finals in the state meet, held last Saturday. Each of the four received a gold watch, and a trophy was presented to the school.

Cagers Lose in Bid for Second Place Finish first part of the fourth quarter until McIntosh hit for two straight baskets. The Bulldogs fought back, but they just couldn't put the ball in the hoop. While Chelsea was having trouble scoring, the Lions kept right on counting points as they pulled away to the convincing 61-46 win.

When it was all over McIntosh had dominated the game, accounting for 28 points and 14 rebounds. Ron Sweeny led the Bulldogs at task with 17 points.

The Bulldogs now must travel to Milan on Friday for the season finale with the Big Reds.

Coast Guard Given Broad New Powers Over Boats, Boatmen

By mid-April Coast Guard Auxiliary personnel will be on the area lakes doing their annual boat check, and just about every boat owner will be affected this year by ramifications of the new Federal Boating Safety Act.

"Broad sweeping powers were given the Coast Guard under the act," according to Coast Guard Capt. John W. Hummel, Deputy Chief of the Coast Guard's new boating safety office.

First, the Coast Guard can now set safety standards for the manufacturing of boats and boating accessories, and make the industry listen to them; a kind of consumer protection power.

Starting with the 1973 boat models, most likely, manufacturers must keep a list of first-time purchasers of their products, and they must also repair or replace, at their cost, any products found to be seriously faulty in Coast Guard testing.

Manufacturers will be subject to civil or criminal penalties, according to Capt. Hummel.

These safety standards will be set up with the help of the Boating Safety Advisory Council, a group made up of representatives of business, the boating public and state boating safety officials, some 21 in all.

The second part of the new act gives the Coast Guard broad powers over individual boaters, too.

Coast Guard officers making inspections now have the power to order a boat not meeting their safety standards for accessories (fire-fighting devices, flotation devices, etc.) to go to the nearest safe berth.

Failure to operate a boat in line with the yet-to-be designated rules can, under the rules being formulated, bring fines of up to $1,000 or one year in jail, or both, under the law.

The new federal act replaces all state laws, except those where stricter specific measures are needed, and approval by the Coast Guard. No state may establish laws on boating standards or rules on the boating accessory equipment that's not as tough as the Federal law, the Coast Guard reports.

Under the act, one of the biggest efforts will be in a three-phase attack on lack of safety knowledge, pointing out that less than 20 percent of the boaters in one recent survey had taken any safety instruction.

Coast Guard officials feel that almost 30 percent of last season's 1,418 boating fatalities might have been caused by lack of basic safety knowledge; nearly 25 percent of those deaths occurred while boaters were either hunting or fishing and two-thirds of the deaths involved boats of 16 feet or less.

The first phase is safety courses conducted by such groups as the Coast Guard Auxiliary and

Navy Offers Wider Choice Of Occupations

New Navy recruits who are high school graduates are now being given a wider choice of occupations in which they are guaranteed advanced training.

Qualified applicants who stay eligible through their entire recruit training can now be guaranteed training in one of 14 work categories including operations analysis, operations control, graphic specialties, precision mechanical equipment, mechanical fabrication, general mechanical specialties, aviation mechanical specialties, supply and accounting, food preparation and service, medical specialties, dental specialties, ordnance and electricity.

Until now, the choice was limited to five broad categories for school assignments in aviation, electronics, nuclear propulsion, medicine or general seamanship. Further information is available from Chief Stottmeyer, at the Navy Recruiting Station, 106 E. Washington, Ann Arbor, telephone 665-5593.

Three license setups have been suggested: a Junior permit for those 16 and under with a horsepower limit; a Standard license for Boatman certificate for more advanced seamanship courses. What the Coast Guard is aiming at is not only better boats, but better boatmen.

Police Arrest Two Over Last Week-end

Chelsea Police arrested two men last week-end, one on charges of drunkenness and disorderliness and the other on warrant from the Antrim County Sheriff's Department.

Edwin Lee Johnson, Ann Arbor, was picked up last Friday night and charged with being drunk and disorderly. His wife posted bond.

Dale Robert Pearson, 13656 Old US-12, was arrested at a local bar by Officers Peebles and Browning after they had talked with a deputy in the Antrim County Sheriff's Department in Traverse City. Pearson was taken to the Washtenaw County Jail awaiting pick-up by Antrim County authorities.

How do we get the name "sausages"? It comes from the Latin word "salsus," meaning salted or preserved meat.

Scouts Brave Cold Camp-Out

GIVE IT THE AXE: Joe Branham chops firewood for Boy Scout Troop 425 on their first camp-out of 1972. Twenty boys and two leaders spent the week-end at Bruin Lake passing cooking requirements, studying stars, tracking and stalking, map reading, and learning about the compass.

It was chilly and windy, but 20 Boy Scouts and two leaders of Boy Scout Troop 425 braved the weather in their first camp-out of 1972, held last week-end at Bruin Lake. Camp was set up Friday night in the Hill Top Cabin overlooking the lake. Scouts spent the week-end passing cooking requirements, chopping wood, studying the stars, tracking and stalking, reading maps and compasses, and taking a five-mile hike.

The hearty cold-weather campers included Mark Bucholz, Glen Risner, Steve Drech, Richard Risner, Tod Hedricks, Steve Norton, Kevin Heller, Bill Bennett, Kirk Steinaway, Leslie Sharp, James Boyer, Joe Branham, Jerry Mitten, Brad Meyers, Douglas Foreman, John Collins, Mike Foster, Jeff Sweet, Kevin Lyle, and Dennis Thompson. Scoutmasters who describe themselves as "not quite so hearty" were Jim Branham and Jerry Heller.

Cub Pack 415 Holds Blue & Gold Banquet

Ninety Cub Scouts and members of their families got together Sunday afternoon for Pack 415's annual Blue and Gold Banquet. Meeting at Chelsea High school, the cubs enjoyed a potluck dinner prepared by their mothers and a program featuring a talk on the Waterloo Recreation Area by Waterloo naturalist Tom Hodgson.

In addition, awards were presented. Jeff Klink, a new member of the pack, received his wolf hook and bobcat pin, while Michael Brainerd received his first-year pin and bear patch. Tom Gilbreath received a two-year pin and graduated into Webelos. Awards were also presented to a pair of brothers, two silver arrows to Ted Sine and the athletic and geologist awards to his brother Rick.

The program was co-ordinated by a committee headed by Mrs. Lee Herrick.

DEN 1, PACK 415— Cub Scout Den 1, Pack 415 had our regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 17, at the home of our den mother, Mrs. Alice Atkinson. We made invitations for the Blue and Gold Banquet to mail to our families and we also made table decorations for the banquet. Andy Ahrens was absent but he sent the treats. We closed the meeting with the Cub Scout Promise.

DEN 1, PACK 435— Den 18 of Pack 435 went ice fishing Feb. 3 at Mark Lesser's. We all had fun and caught lots of fish. On Feb. 10 we made Cub Scout hats. This week we made nut cups for our Blue and Gold Banquet.

Tobin Boyd, scribe.

CAMPING IN THE COLD: Bundled up and ready for a five-mile hike are scouts of Troop 425, who recently held their first camp-out of 1972. In front row are Kevin Lyle, Mark Bucholz, Steve Drech, Row two: Dennis Thompson, Rick Risner, Kevin Heller, Bill Bennett, Todd Hedricks, Jeff Sweet. Row three: Les Sharp, Kirk Steinaway, Glen Risner, Joe Branham.

ALL TIED UP IN KNOTS: Scoutmaster Jim Branham offers advice to three scouts practicing knot-tying for a merit badge. Scouts Bill Bennett, Rick Risner, and Jeff Sweet were among 20 scouts and two leaders who braved the cold in a week-end of winter camping at Bruin Lake.

Sunday School Of 4 Churches Study Together

It's time to start working together, area churches are beginning to feel. For the past couple of months, representatives from four local churches have been meeting together to consider plans for joint work in the field of Christian education, especially Sunday school.

The result of their meetings will be a series of four "Christian education experiences" sponsored by the four churches involved, St. Paul United Church of Christ, First Congregational United Church of Christ, United Methodist church, and Zion Lutheran church.

First of the "experiences" will be a program this coming Tuesday, Feb. 29, at St. Paul's. Featured will be a report by Toby Butcher, staff assistant for Christian education at St. Paul's, on game-type learning and its relevance for Christian education. There will also be an audio-visual corner to teach teachers how to best use films, movies, art, collages, and other media. Scheduled for 7-9:30 p.m., the program is especially geared to Sunday school teachers, but is also open to parents and to members of all area churches.

The Rev. Warner Siebert, pastor of St. Paul's, tables Tuesday's program: "the first of four varying experiences." Each quarter, he explains, the four churches plan to jointly present a program dealing with some aspect of Christian education. A different church will host each program.

The Rev. Siebert is excited about the coming programs. "It's the first time we've had churches of three different denominations and four different backgrounds working together," he said. "The sharing of ideas, the cross pollination, can be beneficial to all of us."

Looking to the future, he envisions programs for joint training

College Financial Assistance Program Slated at High School

It's that time of year again, when countless high school seniors and their parents find themselves in a panic: what to do about money for college. There's money available, they are told, but families often find themselves lost in the maze of personal applications, aptitude tests, and confidential financial statements which must be gathered through before financial aid can be granted.

In an effort to clear away some of the confusion and at the same time present information about the various alternatives, Chelsea High school has scheduled a College Financial Assistance Information Program for Monday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. Seniors, juniors and their parents are all urged to attend.

Some of the various financial alternatives that will be discussed include savings and loans, scholarships, grants, work-study programs, and co-operative education. A panel will be on hand including Dr. Gordon E. Richmond, secretary of the state Board of Education; Bob Salisbury, counselor in the Office of Admissions and Financial Aids, Eastern Michigan University; Patrick Gilbert, co-ordinator of occupational education, Washtenaw Intermediate School District; Miss Jean Maday, co-ordinator of scholarship and tuition grant programs, state Department of Education; and Paul Schaeble of the Chelsea State Bank. School counselors and administrators will also be present.

Chelsea High school counselor George Bergman has emphasized that juniors and their parents are especially welcome at the meeting and should begin thinking about college financing far in advance of the senior year.

Hockey Teams Back in Action With Cold Weather

It finally got cold enough for two more hockey games, but Chelsea teams still couldn't pull out a victory.

In games Tuesday night, the Pee Wee team lost, 4-2, to Hoover Ball of Ann Arbor, while the middle group lost, 10-4, in a scrimmage with Ypsilanti Moving & Storage.

Weather permitting, there will be three more hockey games played tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Barr, Sr.

Observing 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Barr, Sr., will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary this Sunday, Feb. 27, at an open-house given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Barr, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Visel, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lubie. The celebration will be at the Barr home, 205 Congdon St., from 1 to 5 p.m.

Barr came to Chelsea from Saline in 1919. The area had always been home to his family, his great-grandfather, Elsiea Congdon, having been one of the founders of Chelsea.

Mrs. Barr's great-great-grandparents, Treat and Sophrona Giddens Baldwin, came here with the Vermont settlers, and the families have known each other ever since that time.

Married in Chelsea, in 1922 by the Rev. Carnes of the Congregational church, the couple has lived at their present home most of their married life. For nearly 30 years they were foster parents to more than 30 children from the Michigan Children's Aid and the Washtenaw County Court.

Both are members of the Congregational church. Barr is a past commander and a past president of the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion; Mrs. Barr was an Auxiliary member.

Barr retired from Federal Screw Works in 1960 after 26 years with the company.

The Barrs have eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Their oldest grandson, Barry Visel, is aboard the carrier Constellation in the Bay of Tonkin.

Soil Conservation District Directors Select Officers

The February business meeting of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District Board of Directors included the organization of officers for 1972.

Stephen Bristle of Manchester was re-elected to serve his second term as chairman. Lloyd Braun, Ann Arbor, was elected vice-chairman. William Fishbeck, Ann Arbor, was installed as secretary, and Andrew Maffett, Dexter, was appointed treasurer. The position of Youth and Information Director went to William Nixon of Dexter.

Other items of business on the Soil Conservation District's agenda included: organizing the spring tree and shrub sales program, reviewing the proposed changes for the Ann Arbor Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Ordinance and the scholarship program which the District conducts each summer in sponsoring local teachers to the Higgins Lake Environmental School at Roscommon.

Today's shopping consumer has approximately 8,000 different items to choose from in a big supermarket. About 2,000 new items are added to the shelves every year.

TROOP 47—

Our Feb. 16 meeting was opened with the flag ceremony and Vanita Scott received her cooking badge.

We would like to thank Cadettes Dawn Klobuchar, Pam Marshall, and Sandy Fletcher for helping us with our Valentine party, after playing some games we had a Valentine cake, ice cream, and pop.

Mrs. Connell came and gave us forms for selling Girl Scout cookies. We will be selling cookies from Feb. 18 through March 5.

At our last meeting, Michelle Hafner received her collector's badge. Karen Liebeck was elected Shooting Stars assistant patrol leader. Green Butterflies elected Teresa Hoffman, leader; Laurie Flinn, assistant leader; Beth Wireman, treasurer; and Jeryl Herrick, scribe.

Jeryl Herrick, scribe.

TROOP 169—

Brownie Troop 169 celebrated World Thinking Day by having a visitor from Korea. So Sun wore a beautiful Korean dress and told us about Korea. We played with foreign Brownie Scout paper dolls and sang songs.

Margaret Sweet scribe.

Tiger Executive Elected To Board of Directors For Cancer Foundation

Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager of the Tigers, has been elected to the board of trustees of the Michigan Cancer Foundation. The foundation, an agency of the United Foundation, serves Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties. It is currently constructing a research center at 4821 John R. St. in Detroit which will be one of the top 10 in the country when opened in September, 1972.

Club, Social Activities

SENIOR CITIZENS

Senior Citizens held their February birthday party on Feb. 17. Twenty-five were present. Birthday guests were Jim Eismann, Mrs. Vera Heim and Erma May.

The business meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 29. All over 50 are welcome.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met Tuesday, Feb. 22, in the club room of McKune Memorial Library. Mrs. Gifford Johnson, program chairman for the evening, introduced the speaker, on the Chelsea Drug Story, Miss Barbara Wenk, a member of the Chelsea High school faculty and of a special committee on drug education, described the activities of the committee to co-ordinate drug education in the school curriculum and to involve community groups and individuals in co-operative efforts for better understanding.

Mrs. Richard Schmidt and Mrs. David Strieter were hostesses for refreshments.

The next meeting will be March 14 when the subject of the program will be fashion designs.

MODERN MOTHERS

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 22, Modern Mothers Child Study Club was given a tour through the Burghardt Funeral Home. Ten members and three guests, Mrs. Randy Johnson, Mrs. Tom Penhallegon, and Mrs. Don Kvarnberg, were present.

In the absence of Mr. Burghardt, Terry Dietzler presented a speech regarding funeral procedures. A question and answer period followed.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY FARM BUREAU

Chelsea Community Farm Bureau group held their February meeting at Sylvan Town Hall. A pot-luck supper was served at 7 p.m. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Reuben Lesser.

After the meeting cards were played with prizes being awarded to Carl Heller, Allen Brossamie, Ella Heller, Barry Sanderson, and George Bretschneff.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lesser and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hindler were hosts.

CHELSEA SUBURBANITES

Chelsea Suburbanites Club met Feb. 17 at the home of Mrs. Earl Kuhl. The club voted as their service project this year to donate to the Chelsea Social Service, and also to buy new children's books and records for the McKune Memorial Library.

The program for the evening was a craft night. Mrs. Arthur Paul showed how to make flowers out of burlap. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kuhl, and Mrs. Darrel Satterthwaite served for Mrs. James Heller who was absent due to illness.

ROGERS CORNERS EXTENSION

Rogers Corners Extension study group met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Wenk, with Mrs. Ray Manzel as co-hostess on Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. There were 15 members and two guests present, responding to the roll call topic: "The Funniest Gift I Ever Received." The lesson on "Building Memories" was given by Mrs. Thomas Johnson. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Wenk on March 21 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Loren Koenigster and Mrs. John Morris are to give the lesson on "A Taste of Soul." Roll call topic is to be "My Remedy for a Cold."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Older Adults Meet For Pot-Luck Dinner

The Methodist church Older Adult Group met Saturday, Feb. 19, for a pot-luck dinner. Twenty-seven members were present along with a guest, Mrs. Ellen Parks, from the Methodist Home. She invited the entire group to come to the Home on April 15.

Mrs. Lucile Allstaetter, the sunshine chairman, gave a report on phone calls and cards sent to people who were ill. A memorial gift was given for Mr. Holzer of Ann Arbor, who recently died.

Tim Whitesall of St. Paul United Church played the accordion. Mrs. Lyman Adams presented a cake she had made in honor of the birthdays of Carl Schlosser, Mabel Artz, Fern Weiss, Edna Perice, and Lillie Merrill. Mrs. Allstaetter was chairman for the dinner.

The next meeting will be held March 11 when the Action Group of the Methodist church will entertain the Older Adults for dinner in the social center at 12:30. New officers are Mrs. Elsa Paul, chairman, and Mrs. Winifred Coffron, reporter.

wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Faber. The celebration will be at the couple's home, 20100 Old US-12. Hostesses for the party are the couple's three daughters, Kathy Faber, Mrs. Waldo Steinaway, Jr., and Mrs. Earl Marshall.

Faber has been a resident of Chelsea all his life and was employed by Federal Sewer Works until his retirement. Mrs. Faber came to Chelsea from Ohio in 1941.

They were married Feb. 15, 1947. The Fabers celebrated the anniversary privately with their children this past Feb. 15.

The only problem with Martha Mitchell is, when she holds a conversation, she forgets to let go.

Congratulations. You just saved $5 by doing your own income tax. And all it cost you was three long, sleepless nights.

And a slight case of heartburn.

If you had gone to H & R Block, on the other hand, you could have relaxed while someone else figured out your return. Quickly and confidentially. Probably unlike any way you've ever done it before.

And, when you figure your own, you may be entitled to deductions you're not taking and taking deductions you're not entitled to. For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

your income tax that you might never have known existed.

Furthermore, if your return is audited, you will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates. H & R Block's charges start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Which is somewhat less than what you paid. Not to mention the fact that aggravation isn't tax deductible. And we are.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO HAR BLOCK'S JOB.

Mrs. Robert Roland Runyan

Marilyn J. Bauer, Robert Runyan Exchange Vows at St. Paul Church

Miss Marilyn Jayne Bauer and Robert Roland Runyan exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Feb. 19, at St. Paul United Church of Christ, with the Rev. Warner Siebert and the Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer of Williamson, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Irene Proctor and Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, of Chelsea. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Clarence Runyan of Bushnell, Ill. and the late Mr. Runyan.

Nuptial music was provided by Bruce Galbraith who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a floor-length gown of ivory satineau trimmed with bands of venise lace and pink ribbon. The dress had a high-boned neckline with lace and ribbon trim, leg-o-mutton sleeves and an a-line skirt with an attached chapeau length train. The floor-length mantilla veil of silk illusion was also trimmed with lace and pink satin ribbon. The gown was complemented by the bride's bouquet of white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Jerry Duncan of Long Grove, Ill., was matron of honor. Mrs. Charles Fredette and Miss Darlene Robbins, both of Chelsea, were bridesmaids. Each wore a red floor-length gown with a chiffon bodice and velvet skirt. The gowns were accented with sheer Bishop sleeves, a high collar and a wide butterfly bow at the neckline. They carried hand bouquets of red and white candy-striped carnations.

Flower girl was Miss Tiffany Runyan of Boulder, Colo., niece of the bridegroom. She also wore a red velvet dress and carried a basket of red and white carnations. The bridegroom's brother, Roger Runyan of Glendale Heights, Ill., was best man. Dave of West Chicago and Paul of Boulder, Colo., brothers of the bridegroom, seated the guests. Ricky Proctor, cousin of the bride, from Chelsea, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bauer chose a floor-length empire dress with a dark green velvet top and mint green chiffon skirt. The bridegroom's mother wore a plum colored floor-length velvet gown accented with white lace around the neckline and sleeves.

Following the ceremony, a buffet reception and dance was held at the Chelsea Fair Service Center. Music was provided by the Lorenz Wackenhut band of Chelsea.

After a honeymoon in Hawaii, the couple will reside at 214-D Washington Square, Elk Grove, Ill.

Thought For Food

Most people have tried all sorts of toppings for baked potatoes, but here's one that may be new! Cut a cross on the top of each potato just before serving, press up, then top with deviled ham mixed with a little cheese sauce.

Hot dogs are great, plain or on bun or with catsup, mustard and relish. But when you want to be versatile with them, slit and add a stuffing before heating. What stuffing? How about cheese, pickle relishes, sauerkraut, baked beans, chili con carne, Spanish rice or chopped onions and green pepper? Try one, or better yet, try all!

Wash and remove stains from large mushrooms and fill with a bacon-cheese mixture. Bake in the oven until heated through and use as a hot appetizer or a garnish for roast beef or steak.

By 1980 it is estimated personal consumer spending will hit eight hundred billion dollars annually. About 66 percent of the American people will have a real income over $7,500 a year and one in four families will enjoy an income of over $15,000.

Pork was originally the meat used for making sausage, but during the last 700 years all kinds of meat, alone or blended, have been used for sausage and other ready-to-serve meats.

Rebekah Lodge Sets Dates for Spring Events

Chelsea, Rebekah Lodge held their meetings the first and third Tuesdays of the month. Business conducted this month included motions to donate to the March of Dimes, have meeting dates registered on the Band Booster's calendar, and send a contribution to the Washtenaw County Medical Care Auxiliary membership drive in Ann Arbor.

Dates were set for the coming events. A social party will be held March 9 at the Hall, with Mrs. Josephine Hochrein, Donna Feldkamp, and Eulalie Packard as chairmen. A rummage sale is planned for April 1 and 2 with Mrs. Dorothy Kreyer, Lucille Altstaet, and Elsie Heinz as general chairmen.

The Lodge was assigned the entertainment for the upcoming District No. 12 14th meeting to be held at the IOOF and Rebekah Home in Jackson April 4. Mrs. Velma Wolfe, Jacque Beyer and Mary Ann Oestre will be chairmen for this assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barth, now living in Detroit, were remembered by the lodge with flowers for their being members for 50 years, joining in February 1922.

Mrs. Ida Nixon, Edith White, Lillian Sanderson and Gladys Breitenwischer were in the hospital or on the sick list to be remembered. Tom Harris, husband of Vice-Grand Helen Harris, is also hospitalized.

A donation was sent to the Michigan Assembly secretary for the camp buildings and equipment fund, for the camp operated by the IOOF and Rebekahs of Michigan at Big Star Lake, near Baldwin.

In March, the anniversary of the birth of Schuyler Colfax, founder of the Rebekah degree, will be celebrated with an appropriate program.

Members were reminded that dues are payable to the financial secretary at any time. March meetings will be March 7 and March 21.

Mrs. Evelyn Hale, Lucille Alstaet, and Dorothea Meppens were appointed to the committee to revise the policy of rehabilitation.

Yogurt Making Comeback With Diet Conscious

Yogurt is making a comeback, reports Mrs. Maryann Beckman, Michigan State University consumer information specialist. Adding fruit and fruit flavorings and consumer demand for low-calorie health foods have increased the demand for this dairy product.

"Yogurt is made from fresh, partially skimmed milk enriched with non-fat dry milk," explains Mrs. Beckman. "A scientifically controlled culture transforms the fresh milk into yogurt with its tangy, acid taste."

Weight watchers enjoy yogurt's low calorie content. It makes an excellent substitute for sour cream, which has three times the calories.

Plain yogurt has about 15 calories per ounce, and contains fewer calories than the fruit and fruit-flavored varieties. Vanilla has 20 calories per ounce; strawberry 35 calories, pineapple blueberry and raspberry, 32 calories per ounce.

Health-conscious consumers recognize yogurt as a tasty source of calcium and protein.

The demand for garments that need little or no ironing brought permanent press clothing. But grease stains are hard to remove, and some permanent press clothes require special laundry conditions.

Keep nonfat dry milk powder at 75 degrees or lower, if possible, until reconstituted. Close the package immediately after using. If milk powder is exposed to moisture in the air during storage, it may become lumpy and stale.

SCHROEN-HESS: Mr. and Mrs. William J. Stierle of Chelsea announce the engagement of Mrs. Stierle's daughter, Miss Linda Lou Stierle, to Johnny Lee Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hess of Chelsea. Miss Schroen is also the daughter of E. J. Schroen of Fincroy. Both Hess and Miss Schroen graduated from Chelsea High School. She is currently attending Washtenaw Community College, while he is studying at Eastern Michigan University. Hess is also employed by Wagon's in Ann Arbor, while the bride-elect is working as a secretary for Dr. Parviz Panahi of Ann Arbor. A May wedding is planned.

Phoebe Circle Hears Report on World's First Lenten Period

Mrs. Guy Weatherwax was hostess for the meeting of the Phoebe Circle of the United Methodist church Feb. 16. At 1 p.m. the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. Thomas Smith and Mrs. Alma Ramsey, served a dessert luncheon to the 15 members and three guests present.

Mrs. Robert Harris opened the business meeting with the Affirmation of Faith. Communications from Mrs. James Hoffmeyer and Mrs. Ben Donaldson were read. A letter from the "Heart and Hand House" in Philadelphia, Pa., was received, thanking the circle for past assistance and sending a list of the most needed articles of clothing and other ways the circle could help during the coming year. A contribution of $22 was sent to the House.

Mrs. Lena Salmonson presented the program from the Methodist Home Sanatorium Book and readings from the Book of John regarding the first Lenten period, observed as a Lenten candle in the Response Magazine on Africa. Mrs. Salmonson read excerpts of an investigation made by several members from the Women's Society Division on how several million dollars were used. All reported very worth-while work was being accomplished in many of the small countries in southern Africa.

Mrs. Thomas Smith, co-ordinator for the World Day of Prayer, brought the Circle up to date on plans and programs for that day, which is March 8. Leader of the program will be the Rev. Dickins. Mrs. Ray Schairer will have part of the program, as will the Sunday School class from the Congregational church and the choir from St. Paul United Church of Christ. Mrs. Katy Harst will talk on the social needs in Chelsea. A fellowship hour will follow.

Three guests, Mrs. Ted Balmer, Mrs. Susie Balore, and Mrs. Hugh Gaddis joined the Circle. Program booklets were distributed, dates of WSCS meetings were announced. The program for March will be given by Mrs. Emma Van Valkenburg. Mrs. Lynn Adams, Sunshine Chairman, reported that cards were mailed to Mrs. Rodrick and Mrs. Donaldson. Mrs. Neva Brudden received a card and flowers during her visit to the hospital.

St. Louis School Notes

Last Sunday the Senior Youth Fellowship from St. Paul's came to visit with their leaders, Mrs. Toby Butcher and Pat and Tim Whitehall. They brought cookies which the boys decorated. There was a basketball game, followed by a social hour with punch and cookies.

Also on Sunday the boys celebrated the 12th birthday of Terry Kroetsch with a party with cake and ice cream.

On Monday there was a special lunch for George Washington's birthday. Also, this week St. Louis school has a special guest, Fr. John Rizzi, a missionary to Brazil. This week-end the boys go home.

STRETCHING THAT MEAT

One way to stretch that meat dollar is to know meat cuts and the different names they may be packaged under. For example, Swiss steak, pot roast, and London broil are not the names of meat cuts. They are clues to the way you should cook the meat. All these meats come from the less tender parts of the animal. That means they must be cooked by moist heat, such as braising or stewing, to become juicy and tender.

FIRST DIVISION QUINTET: Five Chelsea High school students combined a flute, clarinet, oboe, French horn, and bassoon to win a first division rating for their woodwind quintet in last week's solo and ensemble festival for high school music students. Pictured above are: first row: Douglas VanGorder and Karlene Kargel; second row: Margaret Lancaster and Pat Knickerbocker. Not shown is Kathren Schafer.

SOLOISTS Karlene Kargel on the clarinet and Tom Hubert on the trombone both picked up first division awards in last Saturday's high school music festival in Dearborn. Two quartets and a woodwind quintet also won first ratings, and a number of Chelsea High school soloists and ensembles were rated second division.

FIRST DIVISION RATINGS were won in the high school Solo and Ensemble music festival by Chelsea High school's French horn quartet. Left to right: Sue Hafer, Jim Storey, Marybeth Chandler. Rounding out the quartet was Kathren Schafer, not pictured. French horns were also featured in "French Horn Tripple" a number performed last Tuesday in the high school's annual winter concert.

FOUR TROMBONISTS won a first division rating for their quartet in last Saturday's Solo and Ensemble contest. From left: Tom Hubert, Bill Schaefer, Norbert Weber, Lee Ferguson. The four competed at Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn. Tom Hubert also won a first division rating for a trombone solo.

High School Musicians Win Five Top Awards in District

Chelsea High school musicians won five first division ratings in last Saturday's district solo and ensemble festival, held at Ford Community College, Dearborn.

Two soloists received first division honors, Karlene Kargel on the clarinet and Tom Hubert on the trombone. Also winning top honors were a woodwind quintet composed of Pat Knickerbocker on flute, Karlene Kargel on clarinet, Douglas VanGorder on oboe, Kathren Schafer on French horn, and Margaret Lancaster on bassoon; a French horn quintet made up of Kathren Schafer, Sue Hafer, Marybeth Chandler, and Jim Storey; and a trombone quartet composed of Bill Schaefer, Tom Hubert, Norbert Weber, and Lee Ferguson.

First division winners are all eligible to compete in the state festival, to be held March 25 in Flint.

A large number of Chelsea students received second division awards including six soloists, Diane Klemer, flute; Evonne Leonard, flute; Kim Longworth, flute;

Lauri Schiller, piano; Duane Lufk, trumpet; and Patty Spencer, clarinet.

There were five duets winning second ratings: JoAnn LaFontaine on clarinet with Becky Collins on bassoon; Stephanie Aldrich on clarinet and Merry Heffmeyer on French horn; Debbie Clouse and Diane Robbins with a flute duet; Kim Longworth and Terri Jones, flute duet; and Bill Schaefer and Lee Ferguson, trombone duet. Second award was also won by a flute trio composed of Pam Blackwell, Carol Schroten, and Laura Schardin and by a percussion septet including David Klemmer on snare drum and tom-tom, Skip Foytik on tympani, Graig Johnson on parade drum, Marilyn King on bells, Steve Kinver on bass drum and suspended cymbal, Tim Guenther on triangle and tambourine, and Chuck Foytik on xylophone.

Third division ratings were given to four Chelsea groups: Ric Foytik and Larry Doll, tenor saxophone duet; Valerie Robertson, Kathy Kuhl, and Keith Cockerline, clarinet trio; Bill Harrison and Bob Elliott, cornet duet; and Debbie Clouse, Diane Robbins, and Diane Klemmer, flute trio.

Dan Robbins Will Head Sports Group

A meeting of the Tri-County Sportsmen's League was held Feb. 17 to elect new officers. Dan Robbins of Grass Lake was elected president, while Stan White of Ann Arbor was elected vice-president. Ronald Yahr of Ann Arbor was elected corresponding secretary and Mel Coss of Tecumseh and Leroy Rutherford of Saline were re-elected membership secretary and treasurer.

Elected as directors were Lee Draper of Ann Arbor, Bill Phil Jips of Milan, Larry Wampler of Saline and Bob O'Brien of Ypsilanti. Three directors-at-large were chosen, Fred Lewis of Saline, Bud Miller of Milan and George Beasley of Wayne.

In his acceptance speech, new president Dan Robbins emphasized the goal of the league to be more participation by the members and more community activity. He also stressed increased activity in the legislative field, adding the hope that during the year the league would become number 1 in the family of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in proposing legislation. Robbins also hopes for closer ties with such groups as the Farm Bureau and the Grange and for increased work with youth clubs.

Robbins is a vice-president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and is a deacon and high school fellowship advisor at the Chelsea Congregational church.
