tients and staff, calendar of events, and each week a special "focus" on one staff member. Pictured here is Mrs. Lee Bassett, a patient at the hospital, giving the two reporters her latest news.

Volunteers Publish News For Chelsea Medical Center

For the past year and a half, there has been a new newspaper in Chelsea. It's called "The Stethoscope" and is published every other week by two volunteers at the Chelsea Medical Center.

The paper concentrates on news of the patients at the hospital — bingo and euchre winners, birthdays, special visitors, unusual flower arrangements, arts and crafts; they call it "patient patter." There is a calendar of events—movies, sing-alongs, bingo games, devotions, crafts—and each issue a special focus on a staff member. There is also news of staff members and of volunteers, sometimes a game or riddle, and special messages during seasons such as Lent or Advent.

The paper is a two-woman production. Since its beginning it has been put out by Mrs. Paul Schaible and Mrs. Jerrold Beaumont, with xeroxing contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown. The paper is then distributed free to all patients and staff.

Mrs. Schaible lists two basic proposes of the paper: to keep people alert to what is going on, and simply to give patients something to read, a place to see their names in print.

"The Stethoscope" was born a year and a half ago on the urging of Mrs. Dorothy Miller, head volunteer at the hospital. Mrs. Schaible came with writing experience, before coming to Chelsea, she had put out a company news letter for Prudential Life Insurance Co. Mrs. Beaumont came from the hospital volunteer route. Experienced as a choir leader at St. Barnabas church, she was involved with sing-alongs at the hospital.

The two pooled their energies and began a monthly newspaper.

er. But the paper got too big, and the news too stale, so within a couple months, "The Stethoscope" had gone on its present bi-weekly schedule.

One problem the paper has run up against has been the absence of both Mrs. Beaumont and Mrs. Schaible during the summers. Last summer there was no paper. This summer, Mrs. Schaible hopes to alleviate the situation by training some candy-strippers. Girl Scout summer volunteers, to do the job from June through August.

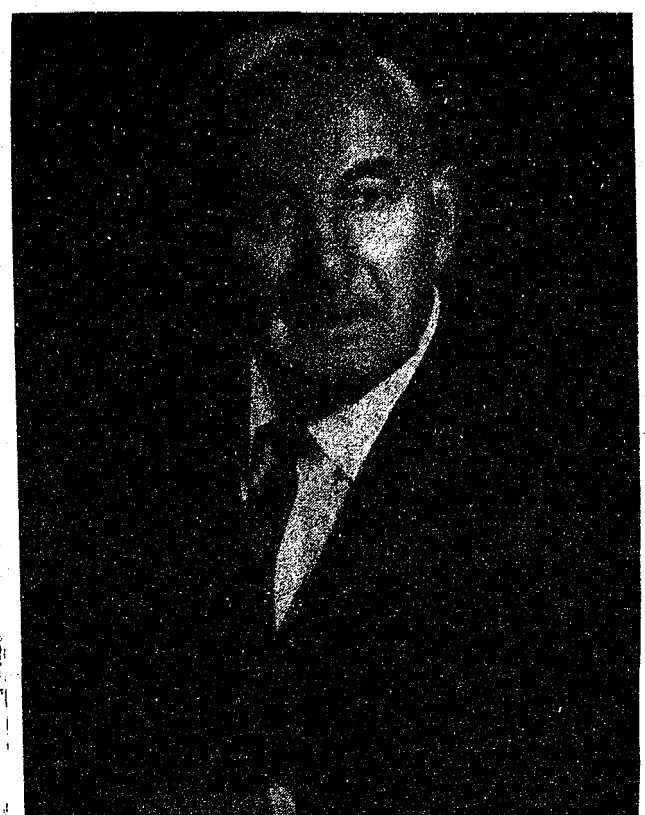

It's a new paper, but every week there's more news. "We're not hitting everybody," Mrs. Schaible says, "but we're plugging along."

Hockey Teams Will Close Out Season Sunday

The Chelsea District Hockey Association is winding up its season with a full slate of games in Ann Arbor this week-end, commencing tonight at Vet's Park, face-off at 7 p.m. with Gateway and Chelsea Lumber in action against Whit's.

Saturday the following games are scheduled: 8 a.m. Ann Arbor Federal Savings vs. Ypsi Moving & Storage; 10 a.m., Chelsea Medical Clinic vs. Diehl Wreckers; 12 noon, Gateway and Chelsea Lumber vs. S. E. Kiwanis. All three games will be at Buhr Park.

Sunday there will be two games at Vet's Park, an 8 a.m. match between Chelsea Medical Clinic and Auto Parts and a 9 a.m. scrimmage between Ann Arbor Federal Savings and Raycon, while at Buhr Park Gateway and Chelsea Lumber will meet Ann Arbor Bank at 11 a.m.

In recent games the Chelsea Clinic-Pee Wees went down by a narrow 3-2 margin against Bimbo's in regulation time but came back strong in an overtime period and defeated Bimbo's, 4-3, on a hat trick by Mike Hastings and a goal by his brother, Greg. The defense played sound hockey in the last two periods.

Rodger Stewart scored with an assist from his brother, Rick, in an overtime period for Gateway and Chelsea Lumber against Western Kiwanis, but Chelsea lost the regular game, 4-0. Neither team scrimmaged between Ann Arbor

Honor Society Assembly Set For Friday

It will be a traditional candle-light ceremony at the High school tomorrow afternoon, as approximately 40 new members will be initiated into the Charles S. Cameron chapter of the National Honor Society.

The ceremony will be held sometime during the last two periods of the school day. Classes will be dismissed for an all-school assembly, and parents of most of the new initiates have already received written invitations.

Featured in the program will be a speech by General Dwight D. Eisenhower and short talks by National Honor Society officers, Marty Straub, Dan Schuelke, Marsha Johnson, and Chick Lane. Following the program, there will be a reception for parents and initiates in the school library.

NHS members are chosen from juniors and seniors who have a "B" average and display characteristics of leadership, service, and good character. Final selections are reviewed by an advisory group including faculty members, administrators, and the NHS student executive council.

According to counselor George Bergman, this year there has been a certain amount of confusion surrounding the "B" average requirement. Previously, when the school operated on a 4-point system, a "B" average simply meant a 3.0 grade-point. Now, however, school accounting has switched to an 11-point system, in which plus and minus grades are taken into account.

"B" grades receive 8 points, while "B-minus" grades receive seven. There is therefore disagreement over whether a "B" average means a straight 8.0 grade-point or 7.5, the dividing line between "B" and "B-minus." A number of students are currently petitioning the advisory committee to be considered, so the final list of initiates may be delayed until the very last minute.

Bulldogs Lose To Pinckney In District Play

Play-Offs Pit Dexter-Hartland, Pinckney vs. Brighton on Thursday

Bulldog cagers ended up the basketball season with a heart-breaking 68-67 defeat by Pinckney in Tuesday night's district tournament.

Chelsea jumped to an early lead, which they maintained throughout the first half. Ron Sweeny led Chelsea scorers, accounting for 23 of 36 Bulldog points. Todd Sprague and Jeff Daniels added 5 each. For Pinckney, Steve Latimer scored 11 points and Terry Trumble 8 in the first half of play.

With Chelsea leading, 36-28, at the beginning of the third frame, the teams began to play evenly. Ron Sweeny and Todd Sprague led the Bulldogs with five points each, Steve Latimer and Dennis Douglas adding five apiece for Pinckney.

In the final period, Chelsea went cold, sinking only 6 of 16 shots and losing what had been a 51-44 lead at the start of the stanza. Pinckney sunk 10 of 15, out-scoring Chelsea 24 to 16 in the last quarter. In the final second of the game, Steve Latimer sunk a turn-around jump shot from 16 feet.

The loss takes the Bulldogs out of tournament competition which continues Thursday night with Dexter playing Hartland at 7 p.m. and Pinckney meeting Brighton at 8:30. Winners of each game will meet in the finals Saturday. All games are at Chelsea High school.

Ron Sweeny Named To All League Team

Bulldog cager Ron Sweeny was recently chosen unanimously for the Southeastern Conference All-League team. Jeff Schmitt was named to the second team, and Todd Sprague received honorable mention.

The All-League team, selected by vote of the coaches of the various teams, consists of Dave Ziegler of Saline, Jim McIntosh of South Lyon, Ken Wright and Mike Massey of Lincoln, and Jim VanWagner of Novi, in addition to Sweeny. Ziegler, Sweeny, McIntosh, and Wright were all unanimous choices, and the coaches couldn't decide between Massey and VanWagner for the fifth slot. Named to the second team were, along with Schmitt, Pete Slepisky of Saline, Stan Joplin and Joe Hamish of Milan, and Dick Boldt of Dundee.

Twelve players gained honorable mention status: Mike Scott and Frank Guoker of Dexter, Ron Craig and Mark Schultz of Dundee, Ron Kuzma of Milan, Kevin Hessee and Bob Pisha of Nona, Mike Muir and Ed Segars of South Lyon, Emil Barbour of Lincoln, and Bob Wallace of Saline.

CHAMPS AGAIN: For 12 years in succession, Chelsea's Future Farmers of America have come in first in district parliamentary procedure contests. This year's winners are (left to right): Dan Gaunt, team vice-chairman; Neil Bollinger, FFA secretary, holding the certificate won as District champions; Ted Hinderer, team member, holding the parliamentary procedure District trophy; Mark Ruhlig, FFA advisor; and Marty Straub, team chairman. Not pictured are team members Larry Hopkins and Mike Hergert. Chelsea's teams have won district championships in 21 out of the past 22 years and have won the last three out of four regional championships.

FFA Parliamentary Procedure Team Wins Regional Contest

Six Chelsea Future Farmers of America carried off a victory in the parliamentary procedure competition of the regional FFA skills contest, held last week. Winning team consisted of Dan Gaunt, team vice-president; Neil Bollinger, secretary; and Ted Hinderer, Larry Hopkins, and Mike Hergert.

The contest consisted of each team's demonstrating its ability in parliamentary procedure. Each team put on a demonstration meeting and performed a variety of procedures such as opening and closing the meeting, recognizing motions, tabling motions and objection.

Defeated by the Chelsea FFA team were Sand Creek, Saline, and North Adams.

They will compete again at the state FFA convention, coming up later this month in East Lansing.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

No single issue is of such vital importance to the future of mankind as the quality of our environment. We have come to realize that the resources of the earth are not infinite. There is just so much water, just so much land and just so many mineral and energy resources. If we abuse them, or use them up, they cannot be replaced.

This realization has led to broad concern about the environment and new efforts throughout the government and in the private sector to plan in a rational way future development. The problem of planning a proper balance between resource development and environmental protection begins with the assembly of complete information on the resources which are available. National plans cannot be made unless all alternatives are fully understood.

Through a program authorized by my Science and Astronautics Committee, the United States will soon be taking a major step in assuring that full information is available to those who must plan for the future of our environment. During the next few months, the United States will orbit an Earth Resources Technology Satellite (ERTS). This satellite is designed to collect and transmit extensive data about our earth resources.

The potentials of this new satellite are incredible. It can provide us with information about the distribution, temperature, and quality of our water resources (including underground water supplies). It can provide precise data on the land—including land use, geologic features, soil structures, soil type, and location of mineral resources. It can indicate the vegetation coverage of the earth, including such important information as the presence of plant diseases, the density of vegetation and its ability to support animal life, and seasonal changes in vegetation for use in fire control. It can provide an exact replica of our transportation patterns for use in planning future transportation networks. The Task Force on Population and Ecology, of which I am Chairman, has recently held hearings which emphasized ERTS potentials in land use planning. The ERTS system is highly technical. Not many of us will be able to understand its transmissions to the earth. Not many of us will be able to read the photographs and computer printouts. But when those transmissions are interpreted by the experts and made available to our national planners, all of us will benefit tremendously from the improvements in the quality of life that will result from prudent land use and control of our environment.

The Wage Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze announced Aug. 15 by President Nixon.

What is the new deadline for businessmen to have available lists of ceiling prices for their products and services they sell?
A. The original deadline of Nov. 1 has been extended until the Wage and Price Commission approves its post-freeze pricing policies and any requirements for ceiling price lists, which may prove to be different from those currently in effect.

However, present requirements on providing ceiling price information continue in effect. Each seller either must have ceiling price lists available or provide, on request, ceiling price information to customers by mail within 48 hours. In the latter case, sellers also must post large signs on each selling floor to announce the availability of ceiling price information.

Q. How does the freeze affect the price of cuts of meat?

A. The ceiling price for individual cuts can be no higher than during the base period. Meat cutters who priced and sold on a carcass basis during the base period may continue to sell on a carcass basis during the freeze. Sales may be made at the highest price at which a substantial volume of actual transactions was made during the base period.

Q. Because I had many vacancies in my hotel I rented rooms before the freeze began at a monthly rate which was considerably less than the daily rate. Now as the monthly tenants voluntarily move out, I would like to return those rooms to rental on a daily basis. May I do this?

A. Yes, as long as rooms are truly rented on a daily basis. If a new monthly tenant would occupy the same room, the monthly rent charged in the base period would continue to apply, and a monthly tenant may not be evicted in order to make room available for rent on a daily basis.

Q. Can businesses change their operating practices during the freeze?

A. Yes, so long as the change in these practices does not result in a circumvention of the intent of the wage-price freeze. The business must be able to document that ceiling prices based on the changed practices are comparable to ceiling prices charged for similar products and services during the base period. For instance, if a firm decides to change from selling only a finished product to selling raw materials and the service of processing raw materials, the firm must sell raw materials to anyone, not just to those buying its processing service.

Tax Use Varies

Though state governments are crying out for extra money all over the country, a few still refrain from collecting both sales tax and an income tax; but all collect one or the other.

Five states — Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire and Oregon — still manage to get along without a sales tax.

Seven states — Connecticut, Florida, Nevada, South Dakota, Texas, Washington and Wyoming — exist without an individual income tax.

The only taxes collected in all 50 states, in fact, are the cigarette tax and the gasoline taxes. The highest sales tax is levied in Connecticut, which charges 6.5 cents for every dollar's worth of merchandise bought in the state. Pennsylvania is right behind with a 6 percent sales tax.

The lowest sales tax collected is 2 percent in Indiana and Oklahoma.

There's a much wider variation on income taxes, with Michigan one of only six states levying a flat rate the same on all incomes. Four states charge a flat percentage of the federal tax liability, but since the federal tax is graduated, such state taxes are, too.

The lowest income tax rate charged is .5 percent which is on the low end of a graduated scale in both Ohio and Oklahoma. On the other end of the scale, Delaware has a graduated income tax which goes all the way up to 13 percent.

Virginia has the oldest income tax by far. That state first took a chunk of this taxpayer's paycheck in 1843. The second income tax was levied by our newest state, Hawaii, in 1901 — better than 50 years before statehood.

The sales tax, on the other hand, is a more recent innovation. The first state to levy it was Mississippi in 1890. It didn't take the other states long to adopt the idea, however. In 1933, a total of 12 other states followed suit as they tried to stay solvent during the depression.

Preaching Practiced
Dr. Charles L. San Clemente, a professor of microbiology and public health at Michigan State University, believes in practicing what he preaches.

Dr. San Clemente is the editor of the first text in the nation to be printed 100 percent on recycled paper. The 320-page paperback is entitled "Environmental Quality: Now or Never."

The book is a collection of essays on the environment by experts from all over the country and Dr. San Clemente felt one way to get the message on ecology across would be to use recycled paper for the book.

That Lonesome Road
People wanting to look down the most lonesome road in Michigan will have to drive to the Upper Peninsula to get the job done.

The State Highway Department says the least traveled public road in the state is M-48 between Cozetteville and M-134 in Chippewa county. Traffic there for an entire day averages 200 vehicles.

That isn't counting M-185 on Mackinac Island, of course, since no motor vehicles are allowed on it.

The busiest spot in the state, on the other hand, is the freeway interchange of US-10 and I-94 in Detroit, where an average of 179,000 vehicles run every day. It takes more than two years for that total to pass over M-48 at the rate of 200 a day.

Smoking Still Bad
It's a problem! State Health Director Maurice S. Reizen says that despite the fact everybody knows smoking is bad, it's still one of the major health hazards in Michigan.

Among results of smoking is an increased risk of dying from both chronic bronchitis and emphysema as well as cancer of the lung and of the larynx. It is also directly associated with the higher death rate of smokers from coronary artery disease, other heart disease, circulatory disease, hypertension, peptic ulcers and cancer of the bladder.

He sees the continued use of cigarettes as a psychological thing as much as a physical thing. "Like many addicts, the tobacco addict often deludes himself into believing his dependency is merely habit rather than genuine addiction," he says. "Some even insist they could easily give up smoking if they ever wanted to. They fail to realize that the very reason they don't want to give it up is because they don't want to admit to themselves that they are really hooked."

Even Ed Doolittle, that goes the extra miles for Republicans Administrations, has fell out with Nixon over his ideas on aid to North Vietnam if they'll let us give it to em. Ed brings this matter up at the country store Saturday night, and he said he was again Nixon's Asia Marshall Plan. The fellows was agreed that pouring money into North Vietnam to build what we tore up ain't going to make us no friends there or nowhere.

Since 1946, declared Ed, we have given other countries $133 billion that we know we ain't ever going to get back. Ed said he was convinced that all the money does was put us deeper in the hole. Right now, Ed went on, we're selling Israel jet planes on credit and charging them lower interest than the Government has to pay on money to build the planes. And all the time our dollars is so weak till Japan is taking pay in shrimp instead of money, while we have to pay three times more for shrimp than we would if we'd keep some for ourselves.

While things keep coming and going, Mister Editor, I see by the new law on campaign spending that a vote in this country now has been priced at 10 cents. The way the candidates scramble for em in election years you'd think they're worth at least a dollar, but other years they ain't worth a plug nickel.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Is it March that comes in like a lamb and goes out like a lion, or the other way around? They is so many things blasting and roaring around here, Mister Editor, till I don't think anybody can tell what's coming and going. Fer shore China has come from nowhere to all you can read about in the papers in a powerful short time.

You just never know how to look at TV, fer instance. They ain't nothing exciting to me about watching folks slide down a hill of snow in Japan, but it seemed downright unAmerican not to watch them Olympics after all the trouble everybody went to to show em here. I felt the same way about all the pictures and stories about President Nixon in China. A fellow felt obligated to look after we hauled a hole television set on over there just to send the pictures back.

(And as fer going and coming, it looks like the Vietnam business ain't going out like a lamb after all. The Democrats is keeping the issue roaring, and they has fell out amongst themselves till we got as many ways of dealing with Vietnam as we got candidates. Personal, I am full disoriented with that fellow on the President's staff that said if you ain't fer Nixon's position you're a traitor to your country. Furthermore, I think if Nixon had a plan to end the war when he was running in 1968, and he still ain't come out with it, he ain't doing the country no favors.

Since 1946, declared Ed, we have given other countries $133 billion that we know we ain't ever going to get back. Ed said he was convinced that all the money does was put us deeper in the hole. Right now, Ed went on, we're selling Israel jet planes on credit and charging them lower interest than the Government has to pay on money to build the planes. Greetings from Richard Nixon best wishes that health and happiness, may always be yours." At the top of the card was the presidential seal.

Spaulding still doesn't know how the president found out about his birthday. "But it'll come out soon," he says.

Spaulding's entire lifetime has been spent in the Chelsea area. He is still living in the house where he was born, on Waltrous Rd., which has been in his family for more than 100 years. He remembers walking a mile each way to the old stone one-room schoolhouse for elementary school and later riding his horse to the big high school in Chelsea.

Some of his fondest memories are of the football games played right after lunch at the high school. Teams would choose up sides out in back of the school, and you'd be picked when you were half-way down the street on the way back from lunch. There were no regular sports teams or extracurricular activities back when Spaulding was in high school.

Chelsea's changed a lot too. Spaulding remembers only about four or five stores from his childhood, especially Del Wooster's dry goods store.

After high school, Spaulding went into farming. He still lives on the old farmstead but now confines himself to raising flowers and vegetables, and his livestock has been reduced to as many as 10 cats, kept healthy on a regular diet of dog food.

The old family home is a big house, now modernized. But the kitchen is still heated with a wood burning stove, and upstairs are many traces of the generation of Spaulding's parents, such as dolls with china faces and a number of spinning wheels.

Spaulding has been living alone in the house since 1959, when his sister, Bertha, died. She had come to live with him after retiring from teaching in Grand Rapids. During the day, however, the house is also occupied by the staff of Spaulding for Children, and a couple times each year big parties are held for children placed by Spaulding.

Load Restrictions Placed on Roads During Thaws

Due to spring thaws, the Washtenaw County Road Commission has announced that starting this morning, Thursday, March 2, truck weight restrictions will be in effect.

According to the regulations, maximum allowable gross axle loadings are as follows: 9 ft. between axles, 13,500 pounds on concrete roads, 11,700 on black-top and gravel; 3 1/2 to 9 feet between axles, 9,750 on concrete and 8,450 on black-top and gravel. With less than 3 1/2 feet between axles, the combined weight can not exceed 13,500 pounds on concrete, 11,700 pounds on black-top and gravel roads.

Maximum load on any wheel shall not exceed 6,225 pounds per inch of tire width on concrete and 450 pounds on black-top and gravel.

The Road Commissioners put the special restrictions into effect when springtime thaws require reduced loadings to protect highways and roads from damage.

Farm Labor Law Guide Available Free from MSU

Answers to your questions about how Michigan labor laws affect agriculture may be found in a pamphlet available free from Michigan State University's Center for Rural Manpower and Public Affairs.

Entitled "The Law and Michigan Agricultural Labor," the pamphlet may be obtained by writing to Dr. Allen E. Shapley, Center for Rural Manpower and Public Affairs, Department of Agricultural Economics, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824.

The pamphlet briefly explains such laws as the Motor Carrier Safety Law, State and Federal Minimum Wage, Workmen's Compensation, and Social Security laws. It also explains who is affected and what the requirements are for each of eight laws, and lists where additional, more complete information may be obtained.

AGR. ENTREPRENEURS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trinkle were hosts to members of the Agricultural Entrepreneurs at their home Thursday, Feb. 17, with 10 families answering roll call.

Charles Trinkle, vice-president, called the meeting to order with a pledge to the flag and Farm Bureau Creed recited. The minutes were read and approved. A discussion was held on zoning and use. A card party will be held April 22, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bradbury. The next Farm Bureau meeting will be Thursday, March 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wing with Charles Cameron speaking on his trip to Russia.

Glacier National Park is much larger than the state of Rhode Island.

Hockey Teams Will Close Out Season Sunday

scored during the first half of the game although the pressure was on both goals. Dan White had a good game, his best of the season. Unfortunately this game was followed by a 12-1 rout by White's, with the lone tally by Martyn Loasby.

Chelsea's "big guys" of the Ann Arbor Federal Savings had a crowd pleaser against Boone & Darr. Another hat trick was on tap as Vic Prewitt pumped three shots past the Boone & Darr goaltender in a tough 3-4 loss.

Student from India Discusses Life in His Native Country

Featured at Monday's Kiwanis Club meeting was a talk on life and conditions in India, given by an Indian student currently studying at the University of Michigan. Also, plans were discussed for the Kiwanis bowling tournament, coming up May 6-7 near Kalamazoo. This year the Chelsea chapter hopes to send three teams.

The meeting was held in the Masonic Hall, with dinner served by the Eastern Star. Next week's meeting will also be held there.

If you insist on being an object lesson to your children, make sure it is an example rather than a warning.

Wrestlers of the Week

MATMEN OF THE WEEK are Carmer Slocum, left, and David Hess. Carmer, a sophomore, wrestles at 185. Next year, he will attend college and possibly go into a medical field. David and a brother, John, live at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hess, 58 Chestnut Dr.

Dexter Township Home Looted Last Wednesday

A Dexter township home was looted of $980 in personal property last Wednesday according to County Sheriff's deputies.

Sheriff's men said entry to the home of Diane Hendershot of 9653 Portage Lake Ave., was gained by kicking in a door. A television set, two record cases, two speakers and a tape deck were stolen.

Beginning Golf Class Will Start Monday At Beach School Gym

Starting March 6 the Chelsea Recreation Council is offering beginning golf class, to be held Monday nights at 7:30 at the Beach school gymnasium.

Participants are to bring one golf club—any kind—and to be sure to wear shoes which will not slip.

Classes will meet for about 12 weeks and will be held outside as soon as the weather warms up.

THE LANSING REPORT

GIL BURSLEY

Last week the Senate approved a Presidential Primary bill calling for a May 9 election. It also provides for simultaneous election of party precinct delegates. I expect the House to have acted with a week or so.

Also approved in the Senate was a bill introduced (SB 602) calling for a general revision of the General Corporation Act. An end result would be simplified paper work for the small business man. Our present law dates from 1931 and has been amended so many hundreds of times it's hardly recognizable.

The Senate Education Committee, of which I am chairman, reported out three bills and is now set up to meet every Thursday morning at 9:30 in the State Department of Education Board Room in the Michigan National Tower. (This is across the street from the Capitol where I have simply been unable to find a large enough committee room available on a regular basis. There will be ample room here for citizen visitors, either for presenting testimony or for merely observing.

It would be my plan to have Education Committee hearings on a State School-Aid bill for the 1972-73 year in another couple weeks. We would hope to clear it through the Senate by the end of March. Next year's bill cannot embrace all the changes that are called for in Governor Milliken's property tax-income tax constitutional proposal which requires a vote of the people next November as a first step. Our legislative direction, however, will be towards greater equal financial support for all Michigan children.

I think we can expect court decisions in the next few weeks confirming my expectation that the local property tax will be ruled out as the basis for supporting school operations.

Last week I had the pleasure to visit briefly with over 100 school children and their teachers from the Woodruff school in Ypsilanti and the Angell school in Ann Arbor. I certainly encourage and welcome school classes at the State Capitol.

★ Fire, Friend Or Foe ...

Fire can be a friend or enemy and plays no favorites. In 1970 destructive fires took a toll of an estimated 12,200 lives and $2.6 billion in property in the United States. Fire fatalities rose by 10 over the previous year, according to the National Fire Protection Association.

Building fires were the big consumer of dollars with losses of $2.2 billion. Dwelling fires were responsible for over half of the human lives lost and approximately one-fourth of the victims of home fires were children.

Each day, on the average, the cost of fires in residential property is 18 lives lost, 11,738 homes and apartments damaged or destroyed and over $2 million lost.

Reports indicate the nation is making small but significant progress in lowering the fire loss problem. With a continually increasing population, the number of fire deaths per thousand persons has decreased slightly in a majority of states. However, with the inflation spiral, the cost of fire per capita continues to climb, rising from over $8 per person in 1960 to almost $13 last year.

What can be done about this fire problem? Each of us must start our personal fire prevention program in our homes and on our farms. A good beginning is inspection of our buildings. According to a NFPA study, the principal causes of building fires are: (1) defective or misused electrical wiring and equipment; (2) defective or overheated heating and cooking equipment; and (3) careless use of smoking materials. Together, these three causes accounted for 39 percent of all building fires last year.

Second, we should plan what to do in case of fire. Every member of the family should know at least two ways to get out of a room or building. This training should include even the youngest children. All exits should be kept clear. Fire department phone numbers should be posted at each phone. In two-story buildings, a rope ladder or similar device should be kept on hand, and an alarm system should be set up.

Most fires are caused by carelessness—don't let your friendly fire become a foe by your carelessness.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

The tree that never had to fight ... For sun and sky and air and light ... That stood out in the open plain, And always got its share of rain, Never became a forest king, But lived and died a scrubby thing ... The man who never had to toil, Who never had to win his share ... Of sun and sky and light and air, Never became a manly man, But lived and died as he began ... Good timber does not grow in ease; The stronger wind, the tougher trees; The farther sky, the greater length; The more the storm the greater strength, By sun and cold, by rain and snows, In tree or man good timber grows ... (Anonymous) ...

The poem tells a story. When you see people being goaded to reach goals set FOR them, not BY them; when you see people determined to do the thinking for others in a sometimes peculiar concept of helpfulness or welfare — would it not be proper to remember the story this poem tells? ... The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office ... he helps everybody with their return ... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other gnat), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you year-round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

ANTIQUE DOLL: Mrs. Frederick Wagner, president of the McKune Memorial Library Board, examines a mysterious doll found by carpenters when McKune House was being remodeled into a library. The workmen first spotted the eyes of the doll, shining up at them, Mrs. Wagner reports, and they had no idea what they were digging into.

As the house had been both a family residence and an inn, no one is quite sure where the doll came from. The doll and other items from the McKune home were on display last Sunday at the celebration of the library's 40th anniversary. Mrs. Wagner is a niece of Mrs. E. J. McKune, who willed the home to the village as a library.

Faculty Team Preparing for Benefit Game

Friday, March 10, Chelsea teachers will show what they can do on the basketball court in the annual faculty basketball game, set for 7:30 p.m. The match pits senior high faculty against junior high, with proceeds to be split between Chelsea high school wrestling and the junior high uniform fund.

An added attraction this year will be the first annual women's game, to be played just before the men's.

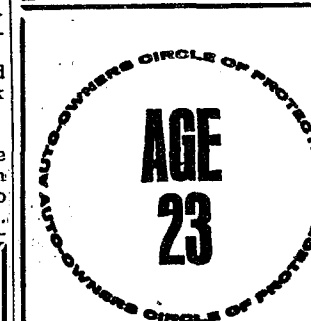

The games, begun four years ago, were dominated in their first two years by the seniors, but last year, as a junior high team member put it, "we whopped the big boys" by a score of 54-50. So the junior high is out to extend—and the senior high to break—a one-game winning streak.

The junior high women's squad is composed by Diane L'Roy, Cindy Bradbury, Terry Rifkin, Alice Rawson, Carol Steiner, Lois Pankaj, Jane Cummings, Mary Ann Paulin, and Cheryl Turner. Their opponents from the senior high are Helen Bareis, Barb Wenke, Nancy Oswald, Kathy Hanke, Marty Hahn, Cathy Moore, Jan Newhouse, Terry Schreiner, and Nancy Corcoran.

The junior high men's team includes Randy Johnson, Bert Kruse, Charles Waller, Ed Laughton, Joe Beard, Richard Bareis, Pat Clark, Len Solomon, Jim Hoffmeyer, and Warren Mayer. Opposing them will be Dana Coon, Phil Bareis, Carl Genske, Paul Tempstra, Bill Baimon, John Schafner, Jim Tallman, Dennis Andriese, Sam Vogel, and Mark Rukhig.

Tickets will be sold at the door and are available in advance from teachers and coaches.

Bulldog Cagers Down Milan in Season Finale

The Chelsea Bulldogs traveled to Milan for the season's finale last Friday night and came home happy 70-56 winners, ending the regular season play with a 11-5 record, their best in several years.

The Bulldogs got off to a slow start as the Milan Big Reds jumped off to an 8-3 lead before Tim Van Slambrouck and Bill Tite came off the bench to each hit a basket and got the Bulldogs rolling. Ron Sweeney then added a basket and two free throws to give Chelsea a 13-11 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Chelsea quickly opened up a 10-point lead in the second quarter as Todd Sprague, Jeff Schmidt, and Ron Sweeney combined for 16 points. But, with two missed shots and three consecutive errors by the Bulldogs, Milan quickly cut Chelsea's lead to 33-30 at the end of the first half.

The Bulldogs regained their poise during half-time, came back out and quickly pulled away to a comfortable lead. During the drive, Wayne Welton hit for four long baskets, while continuing to lead the defensive efforts.

The Bulldogs entered the final quarter leading, 52-40, but they continued to pull away to build up an 18-point lead with four minutes to go. Ron Sweeney again led the drive as the hit for seven points while Jeff Daniels added five more.

The Bulldogs played one of their better games of the season as Wayne Welton, Jeff Daniels, and Jeff Schmidt played very well defensively. Daniels and Schmidt each picked off five Milan passes. Sweeney, Sprague, and Welton led the Bulldog attack as they scored 23, 14, and 12, respectively.

Seek Historical Data For Lima Township

Information of a historical nature related to trails, roads, cemeteries, houses, other buildings, businesses, schools, churches and of course, Lima township's residents is being collected as part of the township study now being done as part of the pre-planning process. It is important to gather such information now so that anything of significant historical meaning is not inadvertently lost as land use in the township changes.

Response to questionnaires mailed to some residents has been most interesting, helpful, and appreciated. Others have been called by phone or otherwise interviewed. Information of a historical nature will be welcomed from anyone.

Were there any happenings in Lima township of any historical significance beyond township boundaries? Are there any buildings or land marks that ought be preserved?

Lima Center was first called Mill Creek and travel to Dexter followed an old trail across the present rectangularly fenced fields before roads were built on section lines. Is it still possible to find its route?

Lima Center is said to have had three taverns. Are any of them still standing? One stood at the corner of Steinbach and Jackson Rd. Was this one of the three? Another old tavern was the Steinbach house just west of Lima Center, rebuilt after a fire in the 1920's. Where was the other?

What was Jerusalem like before 1900? Lima Center? Who built some of the barns and houses? Where did the bricks in the brick houses come from? Was Jackson Rd., or any other road in the township ever a plank or toll road?

All sorts of questions occur and any information will be welcomed.

To add information on the Chelsea portion of Lima township, area residents are urged to call Mrs. Robert Daniels. For information on Jerusalem, Mrs. Earl Stone, or Mrs. Harold Sba.

It is hoped that whatever information, pictures, maps, etc., collected will be assembled and preserved.

1972 Highway Maps Now Available

Lansing — The 1972 Official Highway Map of Michigan is ready for free distribution, the State Highway Commission has announced.

One of the most informative state highway maps in the nation, Michigan's 1972 map provides routing for more than 1,450 miles of freeway, all 9,251 miles of state highways, and most major county roads.

Enlarged panels on the reverse side show the major road systems for Detroit and vicinity, Battle Creek, Bay City, Flint, (for the first time), Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Midland, Muskegon, Port Huron, Saginaw and St. Joseph-Benton Harbor.

Theme of this year's map focuses on the scenic and recreational appeal of Michigan's lakes and shoreline. A panel on the reverse side of the map includes 18 color photos, representing Michigan's lakes, rivers and streams—and all four seasons of the year.

Under each photo is a single line of descriptive verse, composed by Joseph Cherwinski, editor of "Peninsula Poets," the quarterly publication of the Poetry Society of Michigan.

Cherwinski composed the verse to fit the photos. Put together, the lines form an 18-line poem, "The Shores of Michigan."

Popular features on the 1972 map include pictures of the state flag, state bird, state fish, state flower, state tree and state stone; fare and toll information at bridges; a mileage table providing distances between most Michigan cities; listing of location and phone numbers of State Police posts as well as District Offices of the Department of State Highways; and a listing of state parks with their types of recreational and camping accommodations.

The Highway Commission authorized printing of two million 1972 maps, the same amount as last year. The maps were printed by Michigan Lithographing Co. of Grand Rapids on its bid of $112,800. That figures out to 5.64 cents a map, up slightly from last year's cost of 5.29 cents a map.

Free maps are now available at all Highway District Offices throughout the state, Highway Department Travel Information Centers, Chambers of Commerce in most cities and from area and regional tourist associations.

Mrs. Jack L. Risner

Candis Ann Daniels, Jack Risner Speak Vows at Methodist Church

Tall white tapers and white satin bows graced the windows of the First Methodist church last Sunday evening and set the scene for the candlelight ceremony as Miss Candis Ann Daniels and Jack L. Risner exchanged wedding vows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Daniels, Glazier Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Ott Risner, Park St., are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Clive H. Dickens officiated at the double-ring ceremony witnessed by 200 guests. Soloist for the occasion was Beverly N. Slater who sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "O Perfect Love." John Daniels served as soloist for his cousin's wedding.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a Bianchi gown of white doilest satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace, featuring a wide lace panel down the front. The high neck, Empire bodice and bishop sleeves repeated the re-embroidered Alencon lace and the A-line skirt fell from a wide doilest cummerbund to an attached chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a camelot headpiece of doilest satin. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. James W. Mann of Manchester attended the bride as matron of honor. Her A-line gown of antique gold lutesong was fashioned with an Empire waistline and a bib of white lace which also covered the small standup collar. The bishop sleeves were gathered into a wide lace-trimmed cuff. She carried a hand spray of woven Abbey roses and baby's breath.

Miss Jodi K. Daniels and Miss Susan K. Palmer, cousins of the bride, wore gowns identical to the matron of honor. They carried hand sprays of woven Abbey roses.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Thomas M. Steele of Chelsea. Groomsman were Larry Fletcher of Jackson, a cousin of the bridegroom, Dennis White of Ann Arbor and James Boham of Dexter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Daniels chose a ball gown of aqua silk worsted with bodice and sleeves beaded in gold, silver and crystal. She carried a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Risner was gowned in a long dress of coral organza styled with an Empire waist, sheer bishop sleeves and a bodice trimmed with floral medallion lace edging. She carried a white orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Camps Inn in Ann Arbor.

The couple will be at home at 159 Park St., Chelsea, following a two-week Florida honeymoon.

Still leading the field, however, was beef — still consumed at 1970's record-breaking rate of 113.7 pounds. Veal and lamb consumption decreased slightly in 1971.

Easter Seal Funds Help Handicapped

It's Easter seal time again, and Chelsea residents should either have received or soon be receiving Easter seal mailings.

Donations from the Easter seal campaign go for services to handicapped people in the local community. According to Betty Winkie, a public health nurse and president of the Washtenaw county chapter of the Easter Seal Society, programs for 1972 will be run entirely by volunteers. Consequently, more than 90 percent of contributions will be used to pay for direct services to individuals.

During 1971, the local chapter helped with employment for the handicapped, purchased a kidney machine, obtained an audio-meter for hearing testing of children, provided camping for retarded children, sent local handicapped children to participate in the Olympics for the Handicapped, and continued to operate its loan depository for wheelchairs, walkers, and other rehabilitation equipment.

This year the Easter Seal Society is emphasizing increased services to crippled adults.

New Numbering System Planned For I-94 Exits

Lansing — Replacement of existing exit-numbering signs on Interstate 94 in Michigan will begin soon, the Department of State Highways has announced.

The new two-foot signs, with white numbers on green background, will replace blue arrows atop existing signs giving advance exit directions.

Signs reading "Exit," now posted immediately in front of freeway "Off" ramps, will also be posted with exit numbers. The signs are being changed to conform with the new Manual for Uniform Traffic Control Devices, approved for use in all states by the U. S. Department of Transportation. It calls for standardized numbering signs on all interstate freeways by 1974. Numbers of exits are to be based on mileage from point of origin of a freeway in a state.

Exits on Michigan's other interstate freeways are not yet numbered.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: I am writing this letter on a train going from Marseille to Paris. I'm leaving for the States tomorrow morning and thought I would send one final letter on my travels here in Europe.

I went to Budapest, Hungary, on a week-end tour offered by the Hungarian Tourist Office in Vienna. Form such a short trip it's hard to get a good picture, but here goes: The city of Budapest itself is quite old and dirty. By just looking at the city, one could become depressed, but the people are so friendly. I don't know how much of this friendliness comes from the fact that the Hungarians probably knew that we came from somewhere in the West.

I was in London for three days. It was good to be able to understand everything everyone was saying for a change. American tourists have to be very careful when crossing the streets in London. The British drive on the left and it takes a while to remember that.

I visited Amsterdam for two days and learned one peculiar thing about the Dutch. They never use curtains or draperies, although they have them. At night, while walking along the street, one can glance into every home and apartment and see whether the people are watching TV, eating, or what-ever.

When visiting Berlin, one is reminded that not all is perfect in the world. There is a flame burning in West Berlin which will be extinguished only when the two Germanys are reunited. I doubt that the flame will be put out for a long time, if at all.

On the lighter side, I would have to say that Venice is like no other city in the world. With no cars, just small streets and canals, it's a pedestrian's paradise, and it's so quiet with no horns blowing.

During my travels I did not attempt to meet the local people to a great extent for two reasons. First, outside of the French area, I did not speak their language and secondly, I just did not have enough time to do so.

In conclusion: There's no place like home!

Tom Thomson.

Dear Sir: "Peaceful Coexistence." These words seem to be the key to the conferences between President Nixon and the leaders of Red China.

As long ago as 1964, the American Bar Association published a book entitled "Peaceful Coexistence"

Methodist Home Village Has New Community Center

Residents of the Chelsea Methodist Home Village now have a new, cheery community center, the Catherine D. Crippen building.

a Communist Blueprint for Victory."

This book was compiled and published under the auspices of the American Bar Association Standing Committee on Education Against Communism. The book was quite widely distributed and created such a furor among some of the liberal elements of the Bar Association that it was replaced in 1966 by a publication entitled "peace or peaceful coexistence?"

The page facing the title page of the latter publication carried this quote, "Free men fight communism because Communists—as a matter of doctrine, policy, and action — have sought to divert, subvert, and destroy what free men aim to build," by Dean Rusk, November 1965.

Anyone reading the book "Peaceful Coexistence, a Communist Blueprint for Victory" must conclude that peaceful coexistence is indeed a Communist blueprint for victory.

We now see happening in President Nixon's visit to Red China a striking victory for Communism, just exactly as planned by the Communists and just exactly as was and is and ever shall be well known to all persons informed in these matters.

ing, recently completed and now open for use. The center was first used for a village Christmas party two months ago. Mrs. Inez Millman of the Methodist Home describes how "one day we moved in the furniture, the next day a Christmas tree, and a couple days later we were already having a party."

Since then, the building has been used for pot-luck suppers, small group meetings, and popcorn parties. More small parties and community meetings are planned.

The building is a pleasant one, with one main room, a fireplace on one side and windows and doors on the other three, with a small kitchen, storage room, and what is to become a craft room. Depending on the suggestions of village residents, the craft room will perhaps house a loom, lapidary work, or other equipment residents show an interest in.

There is a complete stereo system, and a piano will be moved in soon.

Mrs. Millman hopes that the 24 units of the village will have joint get-togethers in the Crippen building about once every other month. The building is open from 9 to 5 daily and will be formally dedicated sometime this spring.

One Injured in Disturbance at Cassidy Lake

An investigation into disturbances occurring last week-end is currently under way at the Cassidy Lake Technical School. The main concern is a fight which broke out Sunday night between an inmate and a guard. After the fight, a group of 75 to 80 inmates met with prison officials and presented a list of grievances. Supt. Willie Cason reports that he talked with the inmates for three hours and that their main complaint was mistreatment. Monday morning most of the inmates failed to report to work and classes, which Cason attributed to their being tired from the previous night's discussions. At 10 a.m. he woke them and from then on the school was back to normal. Tuesday morning, inmates reported for work and class as usual. The Sunday night fight, which resulted in the hospitalization of the inmate, was started by what Cason labeled a "routine" shake-down of the living quarters of the inmate, who had been under suspicion for misconduct. It is expected that results of the investigation will be announced later this week.

Cancer Fund Drive Planned for April

In 1972 Chelsea will have its first full-fledged cancer crusade, according to Chelsea crusade chairman, Mrs. Richard (Loydell) Keezer. Mrs. Keezer, recently appointed by Jack L. Shipman, Washtenaw County Cancer Crusade chairman for 1972, is planning a variety of programs including a luncheon in a local church, a cancer tag sale, and a "bar buck" campaign contest. Previously, she reported, Chelsea only had a mailing drive. This year's events are scheduled for this month of April.

Blaze Guts Home Near Manchester

Manchester firemen battled blazes for four hours Sunday morning, finally bringing under control a fire at 9900 Chelsea-Manchester Rd. The house is owned by James Vista of Manchester and is currently occupied by John Shade. Damage totaled at least $8,000, according to Manchester Fire Chief James Kensler. The kitchen was completely destroyed; two upstairs rooms, which were in the process of being remodeled into a second apartment, were gutted; and one entire side of the house was burned out. Kensler said the fire broke out at approximately 8 a.m. Sunday in the kitchen of the apartment. Shade had left the house to buy a newspaper, and, according to Kensler, had apparently left a stove burner on. When he returned, the house was ablaze. The house is located across the road from the Michigan Livestock Exchange, where Shade is employed.
