

Potatoes Are Their Big Business

Three million pounds of potatoes... think of all the baked, boiled, au gratin, scalloped, and french fried potatoes that would make, not to mention potato salad for summer picnics.

Put the Sunny Crest label on the 300,000 ten-pound bags that would make, and you have Carl Schoonover's yield for 1970, his top year in the potato business. Schoonover, who lives on Farnsworth Rd., near Stockbridge, has been selected as a Farm Manager of the Year by Tel-Farm, the bookkeeping company that services his operation. A quick look around the property confirms Tel-Farm's decision.

On 625 acres the Schoonovers pasture 65 head of cattle and raise corn, soybeans, and alfalfa hay. But most important by far of these 625 acres are the 160 devoted to potatoes, the Schoonovers' principal cash crop.

It's an efficient, mechanized, seed-to-supermarket operation, for the Schoonovers not only raise potatoes but also package and sell them directly to the grocer, and that is in part where their success lies.

The yearly drama will begin in about 10 days when this year's crop is planted, and by the first week in July the Schoonovers hope to start digging the first potatoes and getting them on the market. "We always get our potatoes out a week or so before anyone else in the state," Schoonover notes. He's not really sure why, but it always comes out that way. At the very latest, the potatoes are on the market by July 10, and in those seasons, other producers won't have theirs out until nearly August.

Digging season is also processing, grading, and shipping: season: the Schoonovers have mechanized their farm so that all operations go on at once. The normal team of Mr. and Mrs. Schoonover and their two sons is augmented by 10 hired workers, and two hectic months ensue. Mr. Schoonover takes charge of the digging, Mrs. Schoonover of the packaging, and the 250-500 bushels per acre is efficiently prepared for the market.

The operation is mechanized from the very beginning. With a mechanical digger, Schoonover reports, three people can dig 200 bushels of potatoes in 30-45 minutes. The potatoes are then washed and dried, and the smaller ones are mechanically sorted out, to be packaged separately in five-pound amounts.

After the smaller or broken samples are manually picked out, the potatoes are ready to enter the Schoonovers' prized piece of equipment, the packager. Purchased just last year, the machine can package more than 1,000 bags of potatoes in an hour. At peak performance once last season, it packaged more than 2,500 bags in a two-hour span.

Three workers tend the packing machine, and the bags then move on to the sewing machine, the final preparation step. Now wrapped in their Sunny Crest bags, the potatoes are ready to be shipped by the Schoonovers—in their own semi-trucks—to supermarket outlets in Livonia and Jackson.

The Schoonovers hire men and women alike, city kids and farm kids. Last summer two of their 10 hands were Mark Puhmann and Steve Foster of Chelsea.

Carl Schoonover has been in potatoes all his life, he reports, from the time he was old enough to drive a horse and mark the rows by hand. He grew up in Utica, north of Detroit, and farmed near Rochester and Birmingham when those areas were still rural. In 1954, the Schoonovers bought their present farm.

It took two years to plant the first potato. "Without irrigation, you couldn't do a thing," Schoonover says, so the family started tapping the springs and ponds on the property, and now they have an irrigation system that will pump 12 to 13 thousand gallons a minute, which can add up to a million gallons a day.

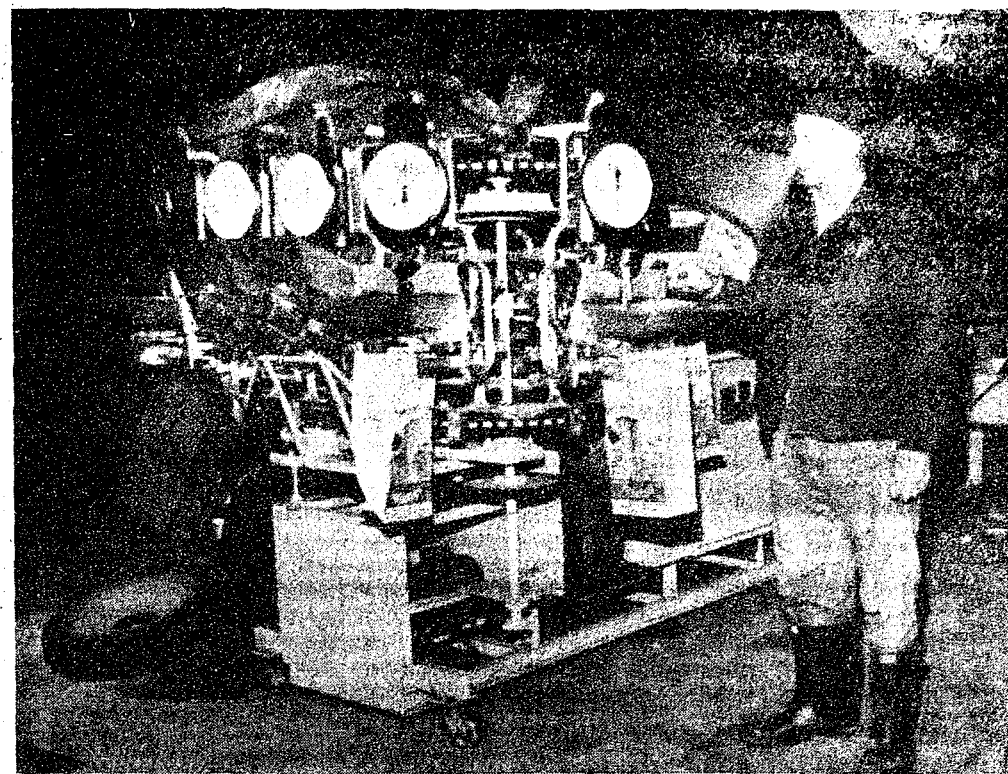

In 1956 the Schoonovers planted their first five acres of potatoes, and a year or two later they became involved in the complete sorting, packaging, and delivering operation.

Being able to sell their potatoes directly to the stores is what has kept them in business, the Schoonovers comment. They have a favorite joke which just about sums up the lot of the farmer these days. "They was a farmer who inherited a million dollars," Schoonover tells you. When his friends asked him what he was going to do with it, he said he was just going to keep on farming till he used it up."

The Schoonovers have had to do more than plan and harvest crops to keep the farm going. Until three years ago, both Mr. and Mrs. Schoonover worked on the outside during the winters. It was the only way they could afford to buy the machinery, Mrs. Schoonover says.

And machinery has been their key. By packaging and delivering himself, Schoonover bypasses the three or four cuts which middlemen would normally take out of the price of the potatoes. And machines are dependable, Mrs. Schoonover adds, thinking back to a season when hired pickers suddenly failed to show up, leaving thousands of pounds of potatoes exposed to the sun. (Continued on page six)

1,000 BAGS OF POTATOES are packaged each hour by this packaging machine. Testing its scales is Carl Schoonover, 15557 Farnsworth Rd., Stockbridge, one of this year's Tel-Farm Farm Managers of the Year. On 625 acres of land—160 of them devoted to potatoes—Schoonover raises corn, soybeans, alfalfa hay, and nearly three million pounds of potatoes a year.

Funds Sought For Chelsea Scholarships

The Chelsea Scholarship Committee has recently sent letters to previous and potential donors requesting contributions this year.

Funds are especially needed, the letter suggests, due to the skyrocketing cost of attending college. "We anticipate," the letter reads, "that next school year attending community college will cost closer to $2,000, the four-year state university will probably cost close to $3,000, and some of our excellent small, private liberal arts colleges will be forced to collect about $4,000 from each undergraduate student." All three figures, school officials explain, include expenses for living away from home as well as tuition.

The letter adds that in the past couple years more than 60 percent of Chelsea graduates have gone on to advanced training and education—colleges, universities, business institutes, nursing schools, technical and trade schools, apprenticeships and on-the-job training programs.

Those wishing to donate to the scholarship fund are to send their contributions to the principal's office, Chelsea High school.

In the past two years, seventeen $300 scholarships have been awarded. Recipients include Bar-

Fun Night Set Friday Evening At High School

Friday night, March 24, will be a Fun Night at Chelsea High school, featuring games, trampolines, volleyball, and other activities. All proceeds will go to the Chelsea Scholarship Fund.

The Fun Night is being sponsored jointly by the Scholarship Committee and the National Honor Society, and both NHS members and adults will be on hand for the event.

Popular Band Coming Here for Saturday Dance

The Kiwanis Club and the Chelsea High school Key Club, in conjunction with Ann Arbor Productions are sponsoring a dance featuring the Plain Brown Wrapper. The dance is scheduled for Saturday, March 25 at 8 p.m. at the Fairgrounds in the Fair Service Building. Admission is 75 cents and the dance is open to all Chelsea students and their guests.

Community Chest Allots Excess Funds

In their March meeting, members of the Community Chest Board of Directors voted to allocate $1,500 excess funds from the 1970-71 budget year to eight community agencies. The funds will be allocated as follows: American Red Cross, $710; Chelsea Recreation Council, $240; Boy Scouts, $120; Spaulding for Children, $100; Michigan United Fund, $90; Chelsea schools band program, $90; Child and Family Service, $90; and Washtenaw Association for the Retarded, $60.

With the exception of Spaulding for Children, all the recipients are member agencies of the Community Chest. The funds allocated amount to 60 percent of what each agency had requested for the 1970-71 year but had not received. Check will be available to the various agencies within a few weeks.

In other business, the board re-appointed James Liebeck, 17332 Old US-12, as Chelsea's representative to the Michigan United Fund budget committee. Liebeck is also a member of the Michigan United Fund's board of directors.

Community Chest board meetings are generally held the third Wednesday of every month at 7:30 in the Village Council Room and are open to the public.

Kiwanis Club Observes 48th Year in Chelsea

Celebrating the 48th birthday of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, club members and their wives, along with guests from other clubs, met Monday night to honor Legion of Honor members and members with perfect attendance and to enjoy entertainment by the U. of M. "Friars" and remarks by charter member M. W. McClure.

McClure's remarks dealt with the changes over the years in Kiwanis of Chelsea. Honored along with the McClures was Mrs. Paul (Ruth) Niehaus, widow of the former charter member, "Tom"

Niehaus. Mrs. Niehaus still plays the piano at all meetings.

Perfect attendance pins were presented to 15 members, headed by Thomas Smith with 25 years perfect attendance, and Anton Nielsen and James Daniels with 25 each. Other members who kept up their perfect attendance streaks were Luther Kusterer, Walter Leonard, Wallace Wood, Jack Fowler, Don Turner, Jack Dettling, Walter Zeeb, Clarence Pendley, George Palmer, Charles Cox, Louis Burghardt, and Sam Johnson.

The evening's entertainment was a medley of new and old songs presented by the "Friars," eight college men from Ann Arbor who are part of the U. of M. Glee Club. Guests present included Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Sheridan Springer of Division 10, Harry Layher, Gordon Lou, M. F. Carrington, and Hal Newman, officers of the parent club in Jackson, and officers and wives from the Dexter, Pinckney, and Ann Arbor Eastern clubs.

New Chelsea Resident Observes 98th Birthday

Mrs. Annie Rohrer, a new Chelsea resident, celebrated her 98th birthday Sunday at a party given by her granddaughter, Mrs. Ralph McCalla.

Mrs. Rohrer lives with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Rohrer, at 533 N. Main St. She came to Chelsea from Flint on Feb. 27 and previously had lived in Ontario, Canada. Several guests from Ontario came for the March 19 birthday party.

Mrs. Rohrer, who has four grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren, turned 98 on March 20. She received a letter from President Nixon congratulating her on her birthday.

Nude Couple Flee from Police In Routine Check

A Chelsea youth may perhaps be arrested soon for fleeing a police officer, resulting from an incident occurring Friday night.

The police had stopped for a routine check of couples parking off Dexter-Chelsea Rd. in Lima township. When the police approached, the youth sped away and was trailed by the officers. The car veered into a field and the driver jumped out and ran naked through the field, leaving the nude girl, the car, his identification and clothes behind. Chelsea police and the Washtenaw Sheriff's Department were contacted, but the youth was not caught.

Beach School Bands Score In Festivals

In band festivals last week-end the Beach school 8th grade band brought home straight first division ratings, while the 7th graders were rated second division in performance and first division in sight-reading.

Band Director Ron Harris indicated he was highly pleased with the performance of the two bands, especially since they were competing in the junior high class, in which most of the bands include 9th graders.

The 8th graders participated in a Class C Festival at Ypsilanti Lincoln, while the 7th graders traveled to Harper Woods for the Class D Festival.

91st Birthday

Mrs. Lydia Zahn celebrated her 91st birthday Sunday at a dinner given by Mrs. Irma Grau. A special guest at the party was R. W. Heller of Lewiston, Ida., who arrived Saturday morning in time to spend some time with Mrs. Grau and Mrs. Zahn. A number of callers also stopped by to wish Mrs. Zahn a happy birthday.

Swing Choir From Indiana Singing Here

The Swing Choir from New Prairie High School in New Carlisle-Rolling Prairie, Ind., will present a concert Saturday, March 25, at 8 p.m. at St. Paul church. The choir consists of 20 senior high youth whose repertoire includes such songs as "Shadow of Your Smile," "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," "Feeling Groovy," and "Hi Neighbor."

The group will be week-end guests of the Senior High Youth Fellowship at the church. Besides the Saturday night appearance, they will participate in the Sunday morning worship service, singing "God So Loves the World" with the Chancel Choir and accompanied by the Interpretive Choir. They will be special guests of the Sunday afternoon choral program to be presented by the Chelsea High school choir and the St. Paul choirs.

Director of the Swing Choir, Mrs. Joseph Dickie, is a long-time friend of Toby Butcher, staff assistant at St. Paul church. They met and worked together in New York and have continued their friendship in the mid-west. They anticipate an exciting week-end for their respective youth groups. The Saturday evening concert is open to the public.

Track Season Is Underway

Track season is getting underway already, with the indoor Eastern Michigan University relays scheduled for tomorrow in Ypsilanti. Approximately 55 to 60 schools from Michigan and Ohio will compete in the events, mainly relays but including some individual field events.

According to Coach Bert Kruse, there are 28 boys going out for track this year, and 15 of them will participate in the EMU event.

Martin Miller Dies Saturday At Hospital

Martin E. Miller, 80, of 525 Mc-Kinley St., died Saturday, March 18 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been in poor health for several years. He had owned and operated the Miller Funeral Home in Chelsea, now the Burghardt Funeral Home, from 1942 to 1952.

Born June 7, 1891 in Collins Center, N. Y., he was a son of Charles and Kate Barrows Miller. Mr. Miller was married to Wyola Wiseman on Sept. 16, 1911. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1961. She preceded him in death on Aug. 5, 1969.

Mr. Miller came to Chelsea from Gross Point Park, where he had also been a funeral director. Since 1952 he had been employed by the Engineer's Office of the City of Ann Arbor and by several construction firms as a cost analyst and inspector. He retired in 1960.

Mr. Miller was a member of Olive Lodge No. 156, F&M, and the Royal Arch Masos, the Odd Fellows, Chelsea Senior Citizens, Zion Lutheran church of Rogers Corners, and Olive Chapter No. 108, Order of Eastern Star. He was also a 40-year member of Michigan Funeral Directors Association, District 2, and was an Honorary Member of the Hamburg Fire Department.

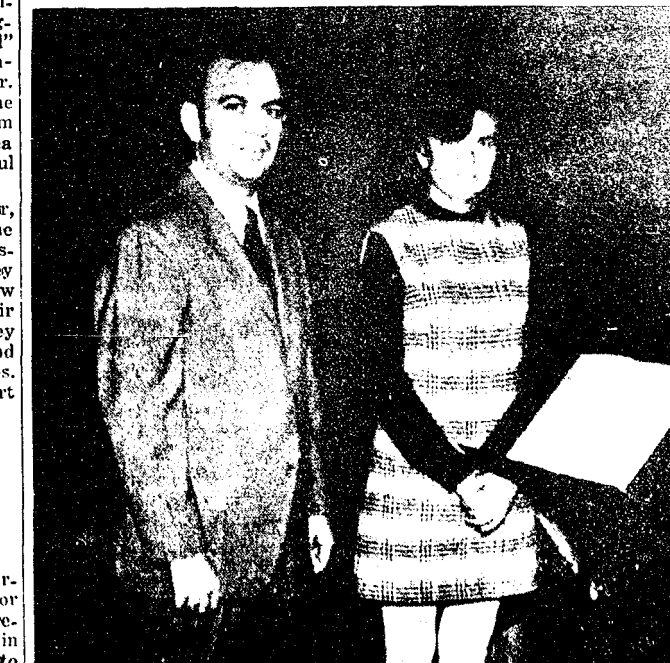

Survivors include a son, Walter Miller of Birmingham; two daughters, Mrs. Donald (Martha) Roebert of Mt. Clemens and Mrs. Darwin (Marion) Bush of Farmington, five grandchildren, Robert Miller of Royal Oak, David Bush of Holt, Brian Bush of Westland, Kyle Bush of Farmington and Mrs. David (Kathy) Kramber of Minnesota; as well as six great-grandchildren.

Masonic memorial services were conducted by Olive Lodge No. 156, F&M, at the Burghardt Funeral Home at 8 p.m. on Sunday, March 19. Funeral Services were held at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, March 21 at the funeral home with the Rev. John R. Morris officiating. Burial followed in Acacia Park Cemetery, Birmingham. The family suggests that those desiring to do so may make contributions in Mr. Miller's memory to the Michigan Heart Association or to the Zion Lutheran church.

A SPECIAL PALM SUNDAY CONCERT will be performed this Sunday at St. Paul United Church of Christ. The Chelsea High school choir under the direction of DiAnn L'Roy will perform "Jesus, Meine Freude" by J. S. Bach, while the St. Paul Chancel Choir, directed by Bruce W. Galbraith, will perform John Stainer's "The Crucifixion." The performance will be at 3 p.m. There will be a free-will offering.

48th BIRTHDAY of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club was celebrated at last Monday night's meeting. Honored guests included M. W. McClure (left), the only surviving charter member of the Chelsea Kiwanis club and the featured speaker at the meeting, and Alfred Gross (right) of Dexter, the only surviving charter member of the Dexter club, sponsored by Chelsea in 1937. In 35 years, Gross has maintained a 100 percent perfect attendance record. In the center is George Staffan, current club president.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

American society has benefited tremendously as a result of our efforts to provide veterans with an opportunity for education. A large number of men who presently serve as members of Congress and in top levels of the Administration, universities, and the private sector received their education through the GI bill at the end of the Second World War. I am one of those veterans who was enabled to complete my college work as a result of my GI benefits and I fully understand how important those benefits have been to me personally and I am convinced that I have been able to contribute more to my country and to be a more effective member of Congress as a result of the training that I received.

I was therefore disappointed when the House of Representatives last week failed to make significant improvements in the GI bill for our Vietnam veterans. Although the war itself has been tremendously unpopular, the men who have fought in it deserve the same kind of consideration and appreciation from their government which was given to those before them. Yet, today's Vietnam veteran is facing an extremely difficult and somewhat hostile economy — almost 400,000 Vietnam veterans are now unemployed; thousands are discharged from the military without job skills to find employment in the private sector; many others lack the necessary resources to upgrade their skills.

We do provide "GI benefits" for Vietnam veterans at the present time, but they are far from adequate. The bill which we considered last week increased those benefits — but failed to make two significant improvements recommended in my bill H.R. 10044 which would have gone a long way toward providing our veterans with full educational opportunities. First, the House failed to approve benefits for veterans who are enrolling in full-time high school last night in order to upgrade their skills while they are working during the day to support themselves and their families. In short, we are penalizing the men who are trying hardest to improve themselves. Second, the House failed to accept my proposal which would provide direct payment to colleges, universities and other schools for the tuition and fees of a veteran. The World War II GI bill was successful because it paid the fees of the schools as well as a subsistence allowance to the veteran. The present legislation makes the entire payment to the veteran — but it is so small that he cannot afford to pay the tuition and fees of many of the larger, high quality schools in the nation today unless he has large financial resources of his own. Because of this, we severely limit the choice of schools for a veteran and make it difficult for those who have no money of their own.

This legislation came to the House under a parliamentary situation where no improving amendments were allowed. I introduced the bill because it was an improvement over present provisions, but I very strongly feel that the further improvements I have proposed should also be accepted. I am therefore leading an effort by Members of the House to encourage the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee to include these improvements in the final bill.

Our veterans have sacrificed a lot for us. It is high time we did something for them in return.

JA Fund Drive Goes Over Goal

Edward J. Hart, personnel manager, Intro-Division, Chrysler Corp., St. Louis, Mo., has raised a total of $10,095 for the recently completed 1972 Junior Achievement Fund Drive in the Ann Arbor area. This total is 115 percent of the quota set for the region.

Hart, a resident of Ann Arbor, raised the money as Division 21 chairman for the drive, which officially began Feb. 1.

The grand total of monies contributed in the 1972 drive was $471,856, or 101.4 percent of quota. The goal set for the six-week drive was $465,000. The figures were announced at the Final Fund Drive Report Meeting held March 14 at the Detroit Hilton Hotel.

Among those present at the victory luncheon were General Chairman Eugene Caffero, Chrysler vice-president, and J. A. President Lawrence Canini, vice-president and general manager of WJBK-TV, who thanked the fund raisers for their efforts in the drive. Also on hand was Detroit Lions quarterback, Greg Landry, who literally massed autographed footballs to 15 door-prize winners.

The Final Report Meeting was attended by over 400 businessmen and women who participated in the fund-raising activities. The money raised by Hart in the Ann Arbor area will be used to operate and expand the Ann Arbor Business Center at 3345 Washtenaw. This center runs JA programs four nights a week for 99 teenagers from surrounding municipalities, including Dexter and Chelsea.

A non-profit organization offering youth a non-profit education in American free enterprise, Junior Achievement is a business-funded program of national scope. It has been in existence in Southeastern Michigan since 1949, with thousands of young people going through the program annually.

There is a current enrollment of 8,000 students between the ages of 15 and 23 in the six-county area.

High Food Bill

According to USDA figures, an 18-year-old whose family is on a moderate-cost food budget has run up an $8,500 food bill. Food costs reach a peak of $11 a week for a child at age 12 to 15, and $13.50 for a boy at age 15 to 20, Helen Fairman, extension home economist explains. The figures include meals only; not snack items like candy, ice cream cones and soft drinks.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Inmates Bused

Amid continuing controversy over the busing of pupils to schools, 70 unusual pupils are being bused on a daily basis in Jackson and with no ballyhoo.

The 70 are all inmates from the trusty division of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. They are all attending advanced vocational courses at Jackson Community College. The courses are held from 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. — a time when the college's classrooms would normally be closed down.

Courses range from business to electronics to electrical welding, and the program will be expanded. The classes make use of outside lecturers. On one occasion the welding class took a field trip.

The inmates in the program have between six and 38 months left in their sentences and have to meet academic pre-requisites.

Special provisions have been made for the inmates to sleep late on the morning after the night classes, and their classroom time is treated as a regular work assignment by prison officials.

The dean of vocational and technical education at Jackson Community College, Harold Matthews, says he thinks the program is a success.

"I'm very pleased with the attitudes of the trusties," he says. "And I'm amazed at their thirst for knowledge. They are making the program work."

"In most cases, we find that student enthusiasm is high at the beginning of the semester but tends to flatten out as time goes on. These men, however, remain highly enthused."

"It may be that they are just used to get away from the prison for a while."

The Jackson program isn't the only one underway in the Corrections Department, but it's the most ambitious. At Camp Pontiac, some 30 men are taking courses at Northwestern Oakland County Vocational Center and Oakton High school. At Camp Piquette, some 45 men are being transported three nights a week to Traverse City High school for instruction.

Women Advance

The drive for women for an equal footing took another step recently. It came with the appointment by Michigan Republicans of a special assistant to Chairman William McLaughlin to work for women's rights.

Viola Toensing, 30, who insists on the "Ms." designation in front of her name, took the job in the firm belief women can do more than type or take shorthand in political campaigns.

McLaughlin said the appointment itself shows that women are making progress in their efforts to obtain equal status.

"The fact that this position has been created in itself shows that we are concerned about the status of women in the party," he said. "Just a couple of years ago no one would have thought about creating this post."

McLaughlin knows first-hand what women can do as administrators as he worked as state vice chairman when Billy Peterson was state chairman.

"While the creation of the position showed strides are being made, it brought out some old customs as well."

"One of the news stories about her appointment started out referring to 'An attractive Dearborn housewife' and at another point referred to her as a '30-year-old brunette.'"

"If that doesn't seem unusual to you, try to remember when, if ever, you saw a story about a male politician standing out 'A handsome Dearborn husband.' Or a story referring to a male politician as a '30-year-old brunet.'"

"The old attitudes and customs die hard, but if Ms. Toensing has her way, they'll go the way of the belief women shouldn't even be allowed to vote."

ecology. The word comes from ecology and sabotage, and it means to sabotage in the name of ecology. For instance, to keep water clean they will plug up sewer lines that dump in the water. They know this is damaging property, but they figure the cause is greater than the law. They say what's wrong is the "system" that makes their ecology necessary.

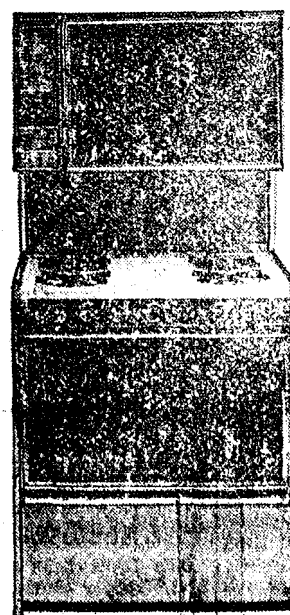

Clem Webster said he had saw where someone called the National Welfare Rights Organization wants "welfare not warfare," but they say they have declared war on them that has wealth and power but won't give it to em. I reckon that takes care of the old line about "them as has, gets."

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

James Daniels and John Fletcher, Jr., braved the cold water of Cay-nough Lake on Tuesday for their first swim of the season. Although the temperature of the atmosphere was about 80 degrees, the boys reported a few "shivers" as they made several attempts at testing the temperature of the water. It is said that the boys got the idea when they saw a picture of two bathing beauties who were swimming at Belle Isle.

PINKING SHEARS were presented as this year's Faber awards to top winners in each category at last Saturday's 4-H Spring Achievement. Preliminary judging was Friday night, with the grand fashion revue Saturday evening. Faber

Precinct Delegates to County Conventions Near Deadline

Anyone desiring to run for precinct delegate to the Democratic or Republican county convention is reminded that Friday, March 24, is the deadline for filing for the May 16 election.

Nominating petitions are available from the County Clerk's office in the Washtenaw County Building, Main and Huron St., Ann Arbor. Petitions must be signed by at least 15 and not more than 20 registered voters and are to be returned to the clerk's office by 4 p.m. Friday.

Delegates may run either uncommitted or committed to a particular presidential candidate. After they are elected, precinct delegates will meet at the county conventions to elect those who go on to the state conventions, where delegates to the national conventions are in turn chosen. Delegates to the national conventions are to be selected in proportion to the results of the presidential preference primary, held at the same time as the precinct delegate election.

At stake in Sylvan township are, in the first precinct, three Democratic, four Republican, and one American Independent party delegate, and in the second precinct, four Democratic, four Republican, and one American Independent. In the past, Chelsea has often not met the quota and has had to go partially unrepresented in county and later the state conventions.

Voters will be asked to choose not only the precinct delegates but also the presidential candidates they prefer. Candidates who have filed to run include two Republicans, President Nixon and Rep. Paul McCloskey, and seven Democrats, Senators Hubert Humphrey, George McGovern, Henry Jackson, Vance Hartke, and Edmund Muskie; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, and Gov. George Wallace. It is also expected that there will be some constitutional proposals, such as whether or not to legalize lotteries, on the ballot.

The deadline for voters to register for the May 16 balloting is Friday, April 14.

Wouldn't it be great if we could grow flowers and plants like those in the seed catalog pictures?

TOP WINNERS in the Young Miss category at this year's 4-H Spring Achievement were front row, Kitty Wallace, Ann Arbor; Nancy Egeler, Manchester; Heather Nordlinger, Ann Arbor; and Kim Bakker, Whitmore Lake. Second row: Marie Fischmann, Whitmore Lake; Kim Rotunno, Saline; Nancy Patterson, Saline; Diane Harwood, Ypsilanti; Holly Hoffmeyer, Chelsea; and Michelle Kelsey, Ann Arbor. The young miss category includes girls from 9-12 years old.

Down the Rabbit Hole Gift Shop, Gallery Opening Soon

Starting March 29, area residents who go Down the Rabbit Hole will discover a varied world of hand-made items.

Down the Rabbit Hole, opening soon in the basement at 105 S. Main St., is described by proprietors Ned and Beverly Barker as part way between a gift shop and a gallery. Items for sale are all made by hand and sold on consignment for the artist. "Right now it would be presumptuous to call it a gallery," says Ned Barker, "but we hope to be constantly improving the quality of our stock."

On display are candles, jewelry, wall hangings, ribbon flowers, knitted slippers, belts, clothes, and other miscellaneous items. At present, Barker reports, they are handling items from 20 different artists, mainly from the Pontiac-suburban Detroit area. They plan to have items from 20 more by the time the shop opens, and hope to begin exhibiting more works of Chelsea-area artists and craftsmen.

Prices will be determined jointly by the artists and by the shop. In gift shops, Barker explains, generally about half of the selling price goes to the craftsman, while in galleries the figure is closer to 70-75 percent. Money taken in by Down the Rabbit Hole will be split, approximately two-thirds going to the artist, one-third to the shop.

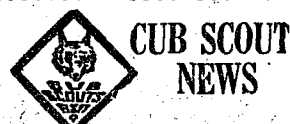

Ned and Beverly Barker now live in Pontiac and hope to move to Chelsea once the shop is established. For the past couple of years, Ned worked in a Pontiac hospital, Beverly in the Post office. Last fall they pooled their savings and took off on a 10,000 mile trip around the country, and it was on the road, talking with people, that they came up with the idea of opening a shop or gallery to sell hand-made items.

With the eventual hope of finishing school at the U. of M., Ned and Beverly concentrated on the greater Ann Arbor area as a site for their shop, and it was Chelsea that they liked the best. Fortunately, Wallace Wood was renting out space beneath his office, and the Barkers grabbed it.

(The big problem now, Ned says, is getting the shop to look like a shop. The walls were already paneled; display tables are being built and it is hoped that eventually the floor will be carpeted.)

"Down the Rabbit Hole" is the title of the first chapter in Alice in Wonderland, one of the Barkers' favorite books. Formally opening March 29, the shop will be open Tuesdays-Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., later expanding to six days a week once the Barkers have settled in Chelsea.

DEN 1, PACK 415—Den 1, Pack 415 met Thursday, March 16 at the home of our den mother, Mrs. George Atkinson. Everyone was present. We all decided what our hobbies are. We started an Easter project. Michael Bice brought treats. Billy Freeman, scribe.

Anchor Inn Will Be Rebuilt at Portage Lake

Robert Welch, owner of the Anchor Inn, reported this week he plans to rebuild the Anchor Inn, which burned down a week ago (Friday night). According to Welch, he planned to begin work on the new building early next week, or at least within the next two weeks.

CHOCOLATE CHERRY REFRIGERATOR SHEET CAKE

(Makes 10-12 servings)

1 package Duncan Hines Deep Chocolate Deluxe Cake Mix

1 package cherry gelatin (4 serving size)

Topping

1 envelope whipped topping mix

(2-2 1/2 cup yield)

1 package chocolate instant pudding mix (4 serving size)

1 1/2 cups cold milk

Preheat oven to 350°.

Disolve gelatin in 3/4 cup boiling water. Add 1/2 cup cold water; set aside at room temperature.

Mix and bake cake as directed in a 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Cool cake 20-25 minutes. Poke deep holes through top of warm cake (still in pan) with meat fork or toothpick; space holes about one inch apart. With a cup, slowly pour gelatin mixture into holes. Refrigerate cake while preparing topping.

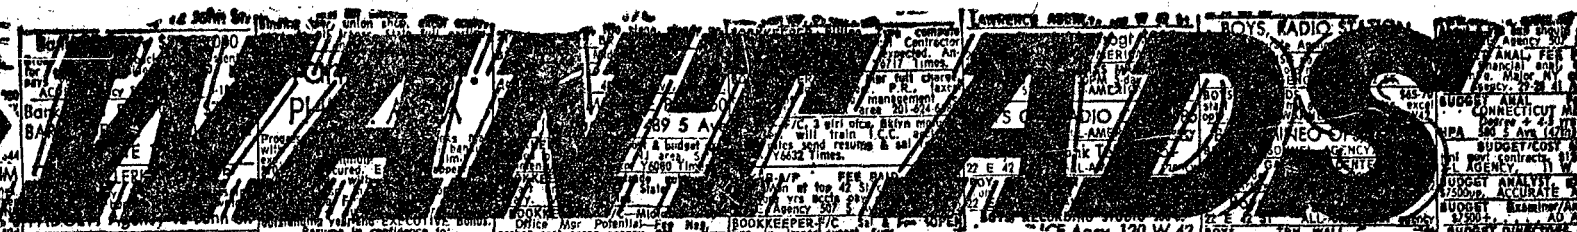

TOPPING: In a chilling, deep bowl, blend and whip topping mix, instant pudding, and cold milk until stiff (3-5 min.). Immediately frost cake. If desired, garnish with maraschino cherries.

Cake must be stored in refrigerator and served chilled. Frosted cake may be frozen for storage.

Marlene S. Zeeb, Donald Henry Wed March 11 at Chelsea Church

Mrs. Donald F. Henry

Before the altar of the Chelsea Congregational church, March 11, Miss Marlene Suzanne Zeeb and Donald F. Henry exchanged marriage vows. Officiating at the evening wedding was the bridegroom's aunt, the Rev. Jenny Lester of Nashville, Tenn., and the interim pastor, the Rev. Paul Gebhardt.

Parents of the couple are the Donald Zeeb of Joy Rd., in Webster township, and Mr. and Mrs. William Henry of near Stockbridge.

The bride's floor-length gown with its full gathered skirt was enhanced by a pearl trimmed headpiece and veil. Her bouquet of daisies completed the ensemble.

Gowns in shades of dark green and yellowgreen were chosen for the attendants. They wore matching fabric-flower headpieces and carried arrangements of daisies similar to that of the bride.

Shirley Tucker of Ann Arbor was the maid of honor. The bride's three sisters, Mrs. Robert Girbach of Saline and Martha and Marlene Zeeb of Webster township, attended her along with Rosemary Trowbridge of South Lyon.

James Henry was his brother's best man. Ushering duties were attended to by Tom Detting of Chelsea, Dick Akin of St. Johns, Robert Girbach of Saline, brother-in-law of the bride, and Daniel White of Stockbridge.

Guests were greeted in the Chelsea Fair Service Center before the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Tennessee. They are making their home in Ann Arbor at present.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Washburn Community College and is employed by the Huron Valley National Bank. The new Mrs. Henry is a graduate of Ann Arbor High (now Pioneer) and Washburn Community College and is employed by Lyndon Color Labs in Dexter.

Young Travelogue Lecturer Will Show Films on Ethiopia

JOE ADAIR

A glimpse of Ethiopia will be offered to area residents at this Saturday's travelogue, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and held in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Speaking on "Ethiopia—Fabled Kingdom" will be Joe Adair, a former Peace Corps volunteer in that country.

Adair is a native of Iowa, but he has, to date, made his home in 40 countries. Although one of the youngest travelogue lecturers in America, he has lived in and traveled through Iceland, Japan, Kuwait, India, East Africa, Thailand, Mindanao, the Gaspé Peninsula, and other spots, in addition to his two years in Ethiopia. On one trip he bicycled 2,600 miles through Europe.

He holds a master's degree in sociology and economics, holds a pilot's license and flies his own plane.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

A Peace Corps volunteer was assigned to a backward country a few years ago. Her job was to educate people to wear shoes or sandals so they would not get worms. . . . To cut down on their chipping of cacao leaves because it dulled their initiative. . . . To be sanitary in order to eliminate disease. . . . To learn better nutrition. . . . To respect other people's property so that there would be no need for vicious dogs, adobe walls with broken glass encrusted on top to thwart thefts. . . .

She is now back in the States and associated with a large University. She complains that students go barefoot everywhere but to class. . . . They smoke pot. . . . They throw garbage out of windows. . . . They eat mostly hamburgers, pizzas and French fries. . . . They steal university property and from each other without any real need. . . . In her complaint she asks how can we tell other people in other countries — "Do what I tell you, not what I do?" . . .

She has a point. But — her indictment of ALL college youth is an exaggeration of a partial truth. In fact, it is a twisted truth that has lost its temper. . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Dana Corp.
Reports High
Sales in '70

Sales and earnings for Dana Corp. for the first six months of its 1972 fiscal year were announced today by John E. Martin, chairman.

Sales totaled $396,000,000 for the period while earnings were $21,100,000 or $1.52 per share.

Martin attributed the record sales level to heavy schedules from customers in all segments of Dana's markets worldwide. He noted that although profit margins had increased in the proportion that such volumes would usually dictate due to government restraints.

An increase in the annual dividend on Dana common stock to $1.30 per year was also announced today by the Dana board of directors. The increase was limited to 4 percent because of current government guidelines and will commence with the June, 1972 dividend.

The quarterly dividend of 32 1/2 cents per share will be payable June 15, 1972 to stockholders of record May 31, 1972.

The directors also announced a quarterly dividend of 93 1/2 cents per share on the cumulative preference stock 3 1/2 percent series A, payable July 14, 1972, to stockholders of record June 30, 1972.

One index of the success of the Schoonover farm is perhaps that their two sons, after completing two-year courses at Michigan State's Institute of Agricultural Technology, have both chosen to remain on the farm. Also living on the farm is a daughter, Carol, who works at the Chelsea Medical Clinic. Schoonover is one of 20 Tel-Farm Farm Managers of the year. He will receive his award this afternoon at 5:50 at Michigan State University as part of Farmers' Week activities.

DEATHS

Charles H. Bycraft

Had Operated Bait
Business for Past 22 Years

Charles H. Bycraft, 421 McKinley St., died March 16 at the Chelsea Community Hospital. He was born Dec. 28, 1891 in Ann Arbor, the son of Edward and Mary Sweet Bycraft. On Oct. 25, 1942, he married Hazel Norcman at St. Mary church. She survives. He had worked for Palmer Motor Sales and the Federal Screw Works and for the past 22 years had operated a bait business.

Surviving in addition to his widow are three sons: Charles, Jr., of Mission, Kans.; Robert of Jackson, and Bruce of Chelsea; three daughters, Mrs. Donald (June) Jones of Coldwater, Mrs. Charles (Rita) Urbany of Jackson, and Mrs. James (Patricia) Pine of Pinckney; 35 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a son, Louis, on Nov. 1, 1967, and by a grandson, James McKelvie, on March 7, 1970. He was a member of St. Mary Catholic church, the K. of C., and the Senior Citizens of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Monday, March 20, at 11 a.m. at St. Mary Catholic church, with the Rev. Fr. Francis Wahowiak officiating. Burial followed in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The rosary was recited Sunday night at 7 p.m. at the St. Mary's Funeral Home.

Amos Curtis

Sharon Township Farmer
Dies at Area Rest Home

Amos Curtis, 81, of Sharon township, died Thursday, March 16, at the Cedar Knoll Rest Home. He was born July 7, 1890 in Grass Lake, the son of David and Lorena Myers Curtis, and on March 26, 1913, he was married to Minnie Belle O'Neil in Jackson. She survives. He was a farmer in Sharon township and a member of the Hill and Valley Farm Bureau.

Surviving in addition to his widow, are six sons: Charles of Chelsea, Norman of Manchester, Alton of Grass Lake, Robert of Wilkington, O. William of Jackson, and David of Sharon township; two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Margaret) Wahl of Grass Lake and Mrs. Mary Brautigam of Jackson; 20 grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; three brothers, Ray of Hammond, Lynn of Jackson and Clifford of Dexter; three sisters, Mrs. Inez Lemm of Jackson, Mrs. Nina Iricson of Illinois, and Mrs. Eunice Evans of Florida.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Clarence, of Dexter, and two sisters, Mrs. Blanche Strahle and Mrs. Florence Trolz, both of Grass Lake.

Funeral services were held March 20 at the Jenter Funeral Home, Manchester, with the Rev. William Ensmen of the North Sharon Community church officiating. Burial followed in Sharon Center.

CHECKING OVER THE ACCOUNTS are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schoonover and their daughter, Carol (right). Carol, who works at the Chelsea Medical Center, is the only one of five family members not occupied full-time on the farm. The Schoonovers run a complete potato operation, raising, packaging, and delivering almost three million pounds of potatoes each year to supermarkets in Jackson and Livonia. This year, their efforts brought Schoonover a Farm Manager of the Year award from Tel-Farm, their bookkeeping service. There are also two sons working full-time on the farm.

Student-Teacher Conference
Day May Open Channels

"Try it, you'll like it," Chelsea High school teachers and students are saying, describing the upcoming Student-Teacher Conference Day, March 29.

Conference Day is designed to augment the traditional idea of parent-teacher conferences. Those conferences, many students and faculty members believe, were a dismal failure.

As Conference Day planners have said: "These days have been negative; parents expect to hear what their child has done wrong, and teachers, due to limited time, request to see only those parents whose children have problems."

"The students dislike them," they say, "because many, as young adults, prefer to begin to take the responsibility for themselves, and they resent their parents coming to check on them when within a few years, they will be legal adults."

The student walk-out last December, they go on, dramatically illustrates the lack of communication which has developed at the high school.

To meet this problem, then, a group of teachers and students have come up with the idea of the Student-Teacher Conference Day, hoping to open up channels of communication which many claim are shut.

The afternoon will begin with the close of school at 11 a.m. A brown bag lunch will then take place with pop being furnished at cost for the students and teachers. From 1 p.m. until the end of the day, a student or group of students may have conferences with individual teachers.

There will be a master sheet in the office for students to request appointments with teachers and vice-versa. Also at 1 p.m., group discussions on topics determined by the student body will take place for interested students, teachers, and administrators.

Parent-teacher conferences are still encouraged, and parents may request a conference at any time. The main thrust of Conference Day, however, is to encourage communication between students and teachers.

A daughter, Sarah Katherine, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald T. Erskine, 210 Washington.

A son, Brian Walter, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Hartika, 353 Lowery.

A son, David Michael, Friday, March 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Sumner G. Oesterle, 664 Chandler St.

A daughter, Karen Noel, March 15 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Howard. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bohenna, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard, all of Chelsea.

A daughter, Sheri Sue, March 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Stephens.

School Board Briefs

All members were present, also Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, several representatives of the agricultural advisory council, Mrs. Dorothy Conlin and Joseph Rossi.

Negotiations for the teachers master contract will begin April 11, 1972.

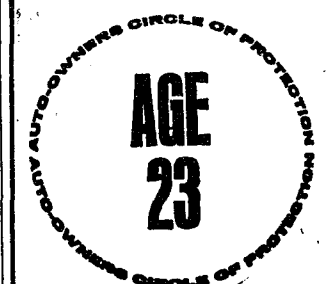

A list of teachers eligible for and recommended for tenure was presented to the board with final action to be taken at the April 3 meeting.

There was a motion by Irwin, supported by Haselschwardt, to adopt a resolution to hold a special millage election on May 8, in the large group instruction room of the Beach Middle school with the polls to be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Result: ayes—Irwin, Haselschwardt, Koenn, Storey, Straub, Schafer, Smith.

The next meeting will be a special meeting on March 27 at 8 p.m. in the administration building. The meeting was called upon a request from the agricultural advisory council.

Winnebagos Join in YMCA Pinewood Derby

On Sunday, March 19, the YMCA Pinewood Derby was held in Ann Arbor. The Chelsea based "Winnebago" tribe was well represented. Tobin Boyd, "Thunderfoot," won first prize for car design in the Class B, boys eight years and older category. Kirk Hawks, "Eagleclaw," took fourth place in the racing contest for Class A, boys 5-7. More than 110 boys had cars entered in the Pinewood Derby.

Cancer Crusade for Chelsea Starts with April 8 Tag Day

An April 8 tag day sale will be the kick off event for the Chelsea cancer crusade, according to this year's chairman, Mrs. Richard (Loydell) Keezer. Senior High youth from the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational church will be on the streets selling tags, and area residents are urged to donate whatever they can. In charge of the sale are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robbins, sponsors of the senior high group.

This year is the first in a very long time that Chelsea has had a full-fledged cancer crusade, Mrs. Keezer reports. In the past, there have only been mailers sent out as part of the greater Washenaw county drive.

In addition to the tag day sale, there will be a luncheon at the Congregational church on April 22 and a "bar-buck" contest continuing throughout April.

The luncheon, featuring chili and sandwiches, will be open to the public and is being organized by Mrs. Roy Greenleaf and Mrs. Menle Leach.

The "bar-buck" contest Mrs. Keezer describes as an effort to get each bar patron to contribute a dollar. Collections will be made in all local bars, and the bar taking in the most will receive a plaque.

Also, there will be the traditional mailers, scheduled to be sent out from ANN Arbor on April 3 and already addressed by Mrs. Keezer, Mrs. David Monroe, Mrs. Dempsey Adkins, Mrs. Merle Leach, Mrs. Roy Greenleaf and Miss Betty Adkins.

Last year more than $400 was collected for the cancer crusade from Chelsea, and Mrs. Keezer hopes that with the expanded drive, this year's intake will be much greater.

Funds from the cancer crusade are contributed both to cancer research at the University of Michigan and used for support of individual cancer patients in Washenaw county. New this year, the cancer society has also been supporting the free pap smears available to area women at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a program which, Mrs. Keezer notes, has received a very big response from Chelsea residents.

The state cancer kick off was March 21 in Lansing, while the county drive is set to begin April 5 with a fashion show at the Sorosis sorority house in Ann Arbor. As the house can accommodate a limited number of people, invitations are being sent by mail.

SEWING PATTERN TIP

Many home sewers with a less-than-perfect figure face a dilemma over pattern sizes, says Helen Fairman. It's usually best to buy a pattern according to your bust measurement, since it's much easier to alter hip and waistline dimensions. One way to increase or decrease waist and hip measurements is to add (or subtract) one-quarter of the room you need to each of the side seams on front and back.

Camping, Hospital Signs To Aid Freeway Travelers

Lansing—Some of the "GAS, FOOD, LODGING" signs you see on Michigan freeways also will carry the words "HOSPITAL" and/or "CAMPING."

The State Highway Commission has authorized signs advising motorists of hospitals and campgrounds located near freeway interchanges — if the facilities offer certain services.

The information will appear on the familiar blue and white signs erected along the nation's freeway systems to designate motorist service facilities.

Gas, food, lodging and camping signs will be shown only in advance of rural freeway exits. Hospital signs will appear in both rural and urban areas.

The Department of State Highways estimates that about 100 interchanges will need additional signing for hospital and camping facilities.

Following are the minimum services that must be offered before the Department will place motorist service signs on the freeways:

GAS—A service station must be located within one mile of the next interchange.

It must be in continuous operation for at least 16 hours a day, seven days a week. Besides vehicle services, including fuel, oil, lubrication and tire repair, it must provide public rest rooms and telephone.

FOOD—A restaurant with a seating capacity for at least 24 persons must be situated within three miles of the interchange. It must provide a telephone and public rest rooms. There is no requirement on the hours or days the restaurant must be opened for business.

LODGING—Public lodging with a minimum of eight units, each with private bath, must be located within three miles of the interchange. Its facilities must include a public telephone.

HOSPITAL—A state-licensed hospital must be located within five miles of the interchange. It must have a physician on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week and must provide continuous service with emergency care. The hospital must be located on the road intersection with the freeway or will have directional signing from the crossroad.

CAMPING—Modern, state-licensed camping facilities, publicly or privately owned, must be found within five miles of the interchange. The campground must contain at least 50 campsites. Its facilities must include electricity, showers, flush toilets and a public telephone. It must be located on the road intersection with the freeway or have directional signing from the crossroad.

Ask the GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: Governor, with your busy schedule in Lansing, do you ever get the chance to get out around the state and visit with citizens?

Answer: Yes, and I try to get out as often as I can. One of the best ways to really understand many of the problems and concerns that come to my attention is to seek information on a person-to-person level. In the past year, I've traveled more than 130,000 miles — averaging about 6,000 miles a month by car and nearly as many by air. My trips take me from one end of this state to the other. When you stop to think that the distance from Ironwood in the Upper Peninsula to Detroit is greater than the distance from Detroit to New York City, or that Ironwood is as far west as St. Louis, and Port Huron is as far east as Greenville, South Carolina, you have an idea of the distance I travel around the state.

power is considered. Most Michigan utilities have been moving toward nuclear power and away from fossil fuel as the principal energy generation source. However, serious environmental and safety questions about nuclear plants have slowed their construction and operation in the state. My Special Commission on Energy, made up of utility executives and representatives of environmental and energy-consuming groups, will recommend a comprehensive state energy policy. It will investigate the investment needed to produce energy for the State's expected development, the impact of meeting these energy requirements on the environment and on land use patterns, alternatives to additional growth, which might require less energy, and the adequacy of present state regulatory controls over the energy industry.

Question: I read that Michigan has about 47,000 state employees. Why so many?

Answer: I think that one of the best indications of where Michigan stands insofar as governmental size and control are concerned is the number of public state employees for thousand people. According to 1971 data, Michigan ranks 47th among the 50 states in the ratio of the number of public employees to state population.

Estimated Tax Due April 17

Detroit—If your total estimated income and self-employment tax for 1972 exceeds your income tax withholding by $100 or more, you should file a declaration of estimated tax. Thomas A. Cardoza, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan, said today.

Complete instructions on how to file may be found on Form 1040-ES, which was sent to everyone who filed a declaration last year and others who, according to IRS records, probably are required to make a declaration.

Cardoza said vouchers and pre-addressed envelopes were included in the tax return package for the taxpayers' convenience.

Estimates for 1972 are due by April 17, the same date that 1971 Federal income tax returns are due.

A copy of the 1040-ES Form is available at local IRS offices for those who need them but did not receive copies in the mail. Cardoza said now is the time to start working on your income tax return. This will help you avoid the last minute rush if you run into something you are not sure about and need more information. Taxpayers who fill out their tax returns early avoid the risk of making costly errors because of haste and carelessness. Cardoza said returns filed in April are much more likely to result in errors than those filed earlier.

Sales Tax Deductions For Federal Returns Listed in IRS Tables

Detroit—The amount Michigan taxpayers can deduct for sales tax on federal tax returns appears in tables printed in the 1040 tax instruction. Thomas A. Cardoza, district director of internal revenue for Michigan, said the tables show the sales tax deduction by family size and income.

The table is based on consumer spending patterns and shows the average sales tax paid by Michigan residents, the sale of automobiles, boats, trailers, and airplanes is not included in the table. Taxpayers who bought these items in 1971 may add deductible sales taxes paid on them to the amount shown in the table.

The sales tax on automobiles, boats, trailers, and airplanes is not included in the table. Taxpayers who bought these items in 1971 may add deductible sales taxes paid on them to the amount shown in the table.

Soft lights, sweet music . . . could be trouble-some for you. Oh, yes! Many Arians will discover: Hate is as blind as love.

Good teamwork seems to be in the plan, scheme and design of things. Also, you might look over papers that concern a member of the opposite sex.

Over reaction to overtures coming from a flirtatious co-worker or routine associate is indicated. The point? Stay in bounds!

Excellent planetary patterns crisscross your chart. Few, very few, members of your sign will blunder during the present cosmic cycle. Hold it Leol! Take nobody into your confidence; absolutely nobody. Present stellar patterns indicate a possible betrayal.

Behind the scene activity, concerning your job, project or mission might not be for your betterment. So, prepare to become involved in intrigues and affairs of secret order.

It's time to placate, curb the tendency to "top" a superior or someone in authority. Guard your words, during social activities, also.

There's changeable emotions heading your way. According to your chart, being perseverer and keeping your "cool" will bring material gains.

It's time that you realize, someone nearby doesn't care much about what you are thinking. In other words, try to keep your opinions to yourself during this cosmic cycle.

You are going to be confronted with new methods and devices. Stellar patterns advise that you do not stray from past successful methods of action.

Don't be pressured into making a promise that you cannot possibly fulfill. As it now stands, you will not satisfy an important obligation.

An important message by phone, mail or through a third party, will reach many members of your sign. Others of your sign will be blessed with a sharply honed "sixth sense."

Sensible Drinking Guide Rules Given for Those Who Drive

How can a drinker keep his alcohol intake within responsible limits for driving?

Studies of alcohol-related crashes show that a little drinking before driving is not unsafe, but beyond a certain point, drinking greatly increases the likelihood of a crash.

A study by Indiana University of thousands of crashes at Grand Rapids showed that drivers whose blood-alcohol concentrations (BAC) were below .05 percent crashed no more often than drivers who had not been drinking at all. Above .05, crash involvement increased sharply.

At .10 BAC (Michigan's level for presumed guilt of drunken driving after March 29), drivers in the Grand Rapids study were six times more likely to crash than were sober drivers.

Is there any simple way to keep track of your drinking in order to stay within reasonable limits for driving?

According to the Washtenaw Alcohol Safety Action Program, most drivers who are well-rested and not ill or taking mind-dulling medications can use the following guideline:

If you weigh 150 pounds, stick to two drinks in the first hour of drinking and one drink each following hour. "One drink" equals a one-ounce shot of hard liquor, a four-ounce glass of wine, or a 12-ounce bottle of beer. Most Martinis contain the equivalent of three "drinks" by this standard.

For those who weigh much more or less than 150, the guideline needs adjustment. For example, if you weigh 100 pounds, the limit should be one and one-half drinks during the first hour of drinking and one drink every two hours following. If you weigh 200 pounds, your limit should be three drinks in the first hour of drinking, two drinks in the second hour, and one drink each following hour.

For those interested in a personal "Drink-Drive Calculator," these may be obtained from any local A.A.A. office or from the Washtenaw Council on Alcoholism, 2390 S. Huron Parkway, Ann Arbor (telephone 971-7900).

Grapefruit Is Versatile Food

Fresh grapefruit is surprisingly versatile, says Helen Fairman, home economist. For a light dessert, try a spoonful of honey, brown sugar, maple syrup or warm mince-meat topping on broiled grapefruit halves. Or, add a bit of sharp French dressing and serve as a salad.

For a fancy dessert, flute the grapefruit half and top with lime or lemon sherbet. Or, go glamorous. Sprinkle coconut on the half; lay sections of mandarin orange on top; pour a teaspoon of undiluted orange juice concentrate and a tablespoon of sour cream on top.

Some more unusual combinations include grapefruit and avocado or cucumbers; or top with bacon chips, small broiled sausages, marinated shrimp or a fluffy meringue.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

One much-discussed piece of legislation which I recently introduced in the Senate at Lansing is Senate Bill 1250, which would create a teachers' standards and license commission within the Department of Education.

The commission would be composed of five members—two teachers, one school administrator and two lay members.

Its function would include the licensing of teachers, the renewal of licenses, the hearing on complaints against teachers, and various prescribed activities to maintain high professional standards in the teaching profession.

To be licensed, beginning two years after the effective date of the act, teachers would need a bachelor's degree, a period of internship, and a satisfactory score on an examination prescribed by the commission.

The commission would be self-supporting from license fees, and renewal fees required every three years of from $10 to $25 as determined by the commission.

Certificates of exception could be granted to permit persons of special or unique abilities to teach. The commission could make reciprocal licensing agreements with other states.

Teachers' licenses could be revoked for any misrepresentation in obtaining the license, for a morals conviction or any felony conviction, psychological unsuitability, or failure to maintain professional behavior standards, as prescribed by the commission.

Any interested person could file a complaint against a teacher and intervene in the subsequent hearing. Either party could appeal a decision of the commission to the courts.

I think it is extremely important that lay members be included on this commission. No small part of the crisis education faces today is a crisis in public relations. We need to restore public confidence in our schools and in our teachers if we are to have any hope of support for the revenue needs of education.

I also believe it is extremely important that the commission be empowered to grant "certificates of exemption" to permit individuals who have highly specialized experience and knowledge to teach in our public schools without the formal requirements made for the professional teacher.

At present, former president Lyndon Johnson could not be invited to teach a high school government class in Michigan if he were in retirement here. None of our successful and celebrated Michigan authors could be invited to teach a class in creative writing.

This measure will become law this year. I am extremely hopeful that the end product will be in the best interests of those who teach, those who pay the cost of education—and, most importantly, those who enter the classrooms to learn.

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mon. thru Sat.

66th ANNIVERSARY: Tomorrow afternoon, March 24, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Myers of 412 Wilkinson will have been married 66 years. The anniversary will be celebrated by family and friends Sunday afternoon, March 26. The Myerses have lived in the Chelsea area since 1915, and at their present address since 1920. They have nine children, 27 grandchildren, and 54 great-grandchildren. The oldest living member of their family is Mrs. Myers' great-aunt, who is 106 years old.

ENGAGED: Sept. 2 is the date set for the wedding of Miss, Nola Wackenhut, 11730 Waters Rd., and Guy Freysinger, 1220 Fletcher Rd. Miss Wackenhut, a senior at Chelsea High school, is the daughter of Lorenz and Sonja Wackenhut. Her fiancé is the son of George Freysinger of Chelsea and Jean Freysinger of Manchester. A 1969 graduate of Chelsea High school, he is now attending Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie.

HAYNES-QUIGLEY: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haynes, 2680 Wagner Rd., Ann Arbor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Griffith, to Jerry Quigley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Quigley, 1808 Brown Dr., Chelsea. The bride-elect is a graduate of Pioneer High school in Ann Arbor and is employed by Webbers Inn. Her fiancé graduated from Chelsea High school in 1968 and works at the main post office in Ann Arbor. The wedding date is set for July 8.

Farm Bureau Women Invited To Attend Spring District Meeting

Farm Bureau Women of Washtenaw, Oakland, Wayne, Livingston and Monroe counties are invited to attend the District III spring meeting to be held Tuesday, April 4 at Trinity Methodist church on Bull Run Rd., near Fowlerville, with the ladies of Livingston county hosting the meeting.

Al Almy of the Farm Bureau office will be the morning speaker whose subject is "The Importance of Getting Active in Politics."

Each of the county chairmen has been asked to bring a hobby exhibit to be on display throughout the day. There will be an election of District III officers for the next two years before the luncheon. The luncheon is $1.75 and reservations should be made through the county chairmen or directly to Mrs. Mary Peckens, 2844 Chase Lake Road, Howell 48843 or phone (517) 546-2947 by March 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert O'Beirne will share their hobby with the women in the afternoon. The topic "Michigan Wild Flowers and their Effect on the Environment" evolved from a combination of their interests in photography, natural history and a love of the land. They enjoy working outdoors, capturing the beauty of the flowers, birds, and insects then sharing their enthusiasm with others, hoping to interest them in providing needed protection. The O'Beirnes have owned and operated general farms in Clinton and Ingham counties for more than 25 years; at the same time Professor O'Beirne has been a member of the Department of Economics at MSU since 1940. At present they are living in Williamston and concentrating their "farming" efforts to flower and vegetable gardening and fruit production on a suburban lot. Many week-ends are spent searching for the generally unappreciated and unphotographed subjects.

Mrs. Andrew Jackson, who was one of the five delegates from Michigan Farm Bureau Women to the Associated Country Women of the World Triennial in Oslo, Norway, will give a brief summary of the Triennial and present slides of Norway at the meeting. The Associated Country Women of the World expresses concern for the status of rural women with emphasis on better nutrition for the family and better standards of homemaking. Farm Bureau women are one of the four member organizations of ACWW in the United States. World-wide there are 275 organizations in 66 countries.

MORE ROBINS

Eddie Lynd Harook, 2½ years old, spotted two robins on the lawn at her home, 220 E. North St. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harook.

Club and Social Activities

KINDER KLUB

Kinder Klub met March 14 at the home of Betty Eder. Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Barbara Parker of Dexter on Youth For Understanding. With her were two German students, one from Japan, one from Denmark and one from Uruguay, all students at Dexter High school and living with people in Dexter.

The next meeting will be April 11 at the home of Carol Marshall.

SARAH CIRCLE

On March 15 Sarah Circle of the First Methodist church met with Virginia Johnson as hostess and Kathleen Bernath assisting.

After reports from the Sunshine chairman, Dorothy Hadley, and from Alice Schmunk of the World Day of Prayer, business was discussed and plans were made for the WSOB breakfast on April 12 in the social center.

For the program Sybil Johnson gave a very informative and comprehensive discussion of the meaning and purpose of the Lay Witness Mission, held March 10-12, stressing the theme "sharing" and a suggested subtitle, "workshop in contagious Christianity." Many questions were answered regarding the mission.

The next meeting will be April 19, with Rena Welworth and Donna Palmer as hostesses, at 227 Harrison St.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Twenty-eight members and two guests attended a birthday pot-luck dinner at the Korner House Thursday, March 16. The birthdays celebrated were: Mrs. Marie Shaver, Mrs. Ruth Zeeb, Mrs. Gladys Breitenwischer, Mrs. Thelma E. Semann, Merta Dreyer, and Leotta Dolk. The birthday table was decorated in the St. Patrick's Day theme surrounding the birthday cake. The committee for the dinner consisted of Gladys Klump, Velma Dorr and Leona Evans. The March business meeting will be Tuesday, March 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Korner House.

RUTH CIRCLE

Ruth Circle of the United Methodist church met March 15 at the Chippewa Memorial Building at the Methodist Home. Mrs. Cora Belton and Mrs. Reese Buxton served as hostesses for the dessert luncheon.

Mrs. Calvin Summers conducted the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Douglas Hoppe. Mrs. Beulah Ammette joined as a new member. Mrs. Helen Pearson gave out leaflets for the special service at the Methodist church this week. The project of the Least Coin was explained to new members.

Mrs. Roy Kalmbach, sunshine chairman, gave a report on the sick members. For the program, Mrs. Guy Barton gave a talk on "Soul Thoughts." She also spoke on how we witness in our lives as circle members.

The next meeting is to be held April 19 with Mrs. Mae Packard and Mrs. Gail Gilson as hostesses, and Mrs. Stanley Bond as program chairman.

VFW AUXILIARY

The business meeting of VFW Auxiliary No. 4076 was held Monday, March 20, in the Rebekah hall with nine members present. Mary Kniss and Lucy Platt, who had attended the sixth district meeting in Howell on Sunday, March 19, gave reports. An award was given to the membership chairman, Mary Kniss, from National for having 100 percent paid up membership by Dec. 31. $20 was voted out for sponsoring a party at the Ann Arbor VA hospital.

The March social meeting will be March 27 in the Rebekah Hall. Committee for the meeting will include Lucy Platt, chairman, and Muriel Juergens, Joan Platt, and Helen Harvey, assistants. The next business meeting will be April 10, with election of officers and district delegates and alternate delegates.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

Mr. Gagsbatter is a graduate of Central Michigan and is currently a graduate of Central Michigan and is currently a graduate student at the University of Missouri. A June 23 wedding is planned.

4-H Clubs

TERRIFIC TAILORS

The following girls in Terrific Tailors won blue ribbons at the Spring Achievement last week-end: Cheryl Bareis, Laura DeRonge, Tammy Downer, Vicki Downer, Sue Heller, Sue Heydlauff, Anzie Merkel, Diane Luick, Nancy Oliver, Gail Wackenhut, Janet Wackenhut, Denise Wirtz, and Karen Schram.

Diane Luick was chosen to model in the Saturday fashion show, and Janet Wackenhut was picked as an alternate to the 4-H fashion show to be held in May at Greenfield Village.

Red ribbons were awarded to Mary Beth McGinn, Beth Bush, and Alice Juergens.

This Saturday, the group will attend the Melody on Ice Show in Ann Arbor. They are to meet at 1 p.m. at the main entrance to the Michigan Ice Rink, Ann Arbor. There will be no April meeting.

GARFIELD GANG

The Garfield Gang met at the Bortons Wednesday, March 15. Our new president is Tracy Oat. We got ready for Spring Achievement and the fashion show. On Sunday we went to Spring Achievement. Just about everyone in our club won blue ribbons. Sue Stiffan and Mary Lynn Noah were chosen to go to the county show.

Katie Donkin, reporter.

Phoebe Circle Meets At Methodist Home

Phoebe Circle of the United Methodist church met March 15 at 12:30 p.m. at the Methodist Home for a pot-luck dinner. Fourteen members and six guests were present. Mrs. Stanford was hostess. Mrs. Robert Harris, chairman, opened the meeting with the Affirmation of Faith and Psalm 8 from the English version of the Bible. Devotions were by Mrs. Erma Van Vallenhey, who opened by reading an article, "Born in the East," by Van Dyke. The lesson was taken from a Response magazine article, "Religion and Politics" interlarded with examples taken from the Bible, and concluded with the Prayer of Assi.

Correspondence was read, and thank you's accepted for flowers and cards. Mrs. Pearl Engebrecht was enrolled as a member, bringing the total membership to 24. Mrs. Jane Schaffner brought the group up to date on plans for the Lay Mission Festival. Treasurer's report was accepted, and cards were sent to Mrs. Artz, who is 95 years old, and to Mrs. Lord.

Contributions will be accepted every other month for Heart & Hand House. Mrs. Dora Roderick and Mrs. Elsie Palmer, volunteers for the "House by the Side of the Road," are asking for donations of clothing.

The next meeting will be April 19 at the home of Mrs. Robert Harris. The program will be given by Mrs. Lyman Adams and Mrs. Ray Hill, and Mrs. Hepler will do the devotions.

AGR. ENTREPRENEURS

The Agricultural Entrepreneurs Farm Bureau met at the Lima Community Hall on March 16 with the Border Line group as guests.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Keith Bradbury, with the Pledge to the Flag and the Farm Bureau Creed.

Members were reminded to vote April 10 and to attend the card party at Keith Bradbury's on April 22. Also, the Art Linkletter film on drugs will be shown March 23 at Wylie school in Dexter at 7:30.

The meeting was adjourned, and Ray Schairer, discussion leader, introduced Charles Cameron, who showed slides on his trip to Russia, which he made with a group observing the schools there. There will be no April meeting.

how to accumulate large sums of money

People from all earning levels have found they can accumulate large sums of money at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. You too can accumulate $10,000, $20,000, $40,000 or more for retirement, for security, for education, for a home or any other important personal goal.

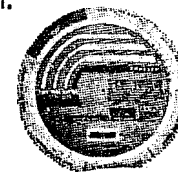

It's really quite simple.

Pick a sum that you can take comfortably from your first paycheck each month—$10.00, $20.00 or more. Make your deposit to your Passbook Savings Account when you cash your paycheck at any of our offices.

Your deposits plus our 4½% daily interest compounded quarterly go to work for you. For example: if you deposit $20 monthly for 30 years, you will accumulate $15,198.00; $50 will add up to $37,996.00.

You can leave the money in your account as a reserve and receive a monthly interest check for as long as you live, and your children thereafter for as long as they live. The $15,198.00 will pay you $56 a month and the $37,996.00 will pay you $141.

Army Recruiter, WAC Member To Visit School

An army recruiter and a representative from the Women's Army Corps will be at Chelsea High school (Thursday, March 30), to talk with interested students. They will be showing slides from Hawaii at a discussion meeting scheduled for 12:40 p.m., 5th hour, that day. School officials add that this is probably the only time during the year that a Women's Army representative will be at the high school.

Additionally, Friday, March 24 at 7 p.m. will be an open house in Ann Arbor for anyone interested in the Women's Army Corps and the Army Nurse Corps. Films will be shown and parents are welcome. The open house will be held at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 212 S. Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor.

St. Louis School Notes

Friday, March 17 was St. Patrick's Day and a big day for Mrs. Robbins, who arrived in the U.S. from Ireland on that day in 1948. All the boys wore some green, and there was a special lunch with Irish stew. Sister Eda baked a cake trimmed in green for Mrs. Robbins, and Father Berto and the band played in her honor.

In the afternoon there was a party in the classroom, and Mrs. Frybach presented Mrs. Robbins with a corsage. Father Fortunato, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Perez and the little boys presented her with a plant, and Miss Lenox and Tom Wall prepared cake, cookies, and green punch to be served in the classroom. Irish records were played, and Joseph Vitale and Mrs. Robbins did an Irish dance.

It was a perfect day, but the school knows that all is not well in Ireland. Father Berto led prayers for the people in Ireland.

Also Friday the Rev. Stobert came out for a talk session with the boys.

There was also a special luncheon on Sunday to celebrate the feast of St. Joseph. Gerald Grohert was a special guest, along with a group of youth from the Congregational church. Two basketball teams came out, one from Ann Arbor and the other from Dexter, and Judge Conlin of Ann Arbor refereed a game. Afterwards the kids from the church served cookies and hot chocolate to the boys.

On Monday Mrs. Nancy Oswald and a group of boys from Chelsea came out for a basketball game against the St. Louis Roosters. Mrs. Oswald coached the Chelsea team while Fr. Umberto coached the Roosters, with Duke Weiss as assistant coach. Mrs. Oswald is a special education teacher.

Tuesday morning the boys and staff at the school, all enjoyed the "Brotherhood Break" at 10 a.m.

Also Friday the Rev. Stobert came out for a talk session with the boys.

Student-Teacher Conference Day Seeks Answers to Problems Causing Unrest

A student council is a delicate thing. Just to stay alive, it must maintain some kind of balance between what some students would criticize as doing nothing or "bowing to administration pressure" and what administrators or board members might term "going too far."

Last December's sit-in at the high school and the support given to it by a majority of council members made "student council" a hot issue. Since then, council representatives have been asked to report to the Board of Education—in an effort towards communication with students, some would say; in an effort to meddle in student affairs, others would argue.

There has been no open flare-up since the sit-in, but there still exist a number of unresolved issues revolving around communication, student representation, student-faculty-administration-board relations, and the student council.

Those are some of the issues which will be discussed in next week's Student-Teacher Conference Day at the high school.

In a recent issue of the Chelsea Education Association Reporter, high school counselor and student council advisor George Bergman discussed his feelings about the council. His listing of the activities of past councils is perhaps instructive, for those wondering "just what they've been up to" the last few years.

Throughout the past years student councils have established fun nights, donkey basketball games, canned goods drives for the Chelsea Social Service, nickel carnivals, and work nights.

Just looking at the last two school years, the 1970-71 student council, considered by Bergman to be one of the most effective, organized rock band events, ran a door-to-door canned goods drive, ran a survey on student interests, organized a campaign to send Christmas cards to the school's Korean orphan, worked towards abolishing the existing dress code, organized a nickel carnival, and updated the constitution.

The 1971-72 council so far has dropped the Korean orphan project, planned the canned goods drive, planned and implemented "town hall" type open all-school meetings, carried on a debate about feeding athletes after home games, bought a bulldog, discussed the proposed Chelsea Teen Center, and participated in the December sit-in.

When writing of the council and of students in general, Bergman emphasizes the idea of relevancy.

"During the last few years," he writes, "students have become more vocal and emphatic world-wide in demanding to know more and to say more about what happens in schools, how it happens and how relevant practically everything and everyone is."

"In effect, this 'revolution' is threatening the People's Republic of China, the universities and colleges of Europe, and the schools throughout America, including Chelsea."

The last two councils, Bergman adds, have been especially concerned with relevancy.

Other key words in the Bergman report include "alienation" and "involvement." The students feel alienated, he notes, especially towards the principal's office. "Whether negative feelings were registered in the council's ranks or the entire student body, they seemed to focus largely on what's the use to talk about anything with the principal..." "Involvement" Bergman feels is significant as a key to the council's likely success. He writes of "involvement of most members in the council's deliberations, and activities" and of "involvement of the council in much of the school's life processes." (And that involvement in Chelsea High school affairs, not only of the council but of the students individually, is one of the things Wednesday's Conference Day is all about.)

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Well, you did it, Miss L'Roy, you really did it. You convinced me. My favorite streetwalker gave me two tickets for the "Guys & Dolls" production so I thought I'd just come down and see what was going on. I've seen theatrical presentations of many different types in many parts of the world. I don't consider myself a critic, however, I do know when I am enjoying myself.

By golly you really did it. I really enjoyed myself. Oh, at times there were some blaring weak spots but much of the time I had to remind myself I was actually seeing a high school production. The scenery and stage work was absolutely superb. The timing and delivery of all the little mistakes that were going on about the stage were very well done and indeed almost professional. The choreography was cute and overdone just enough. Indeed dancing talent varied just enough that it actually reminded me of my old days when I used to walk in and catch the "Gayety" in downtown Detroit. I felt that "Sky" showed maturity and stage presence well beyond the high school years.

"Adelaide, Oh Sweet Adelaide" I love you. Yes, Miss L'Roy you did it, and Kristie thanks again for the tickets, see you next year. William Hawks, M.D.

DEER CAUSES PANIC
Camden, S. C.—Kershaw county Memorial Hospital workers were near panic when a 150-pound deer leaped through a plate glass window, then out, and smashed a plate glass window into the cafeteria before one of the workers felled it with a pick.

Chelsea's 4th, 7th Graders Above Average in State Test

Results have recently been released of state-wide tests administered during the 1969-70 and 1970-71 school years to 4th and 7th graders throughout Michigan.

The data indicates that Chelsea students did better than average, 31 percent of the students performed in the top 30 percent state-wide, 20 percent ranking in the bottom 30 percent, and the remaining 49 percent performing within the middle 40 percent range.

The main finding of the testing, organized by the Michigan Educational Assessment Program, was that school districts where most students are from well-off families do better than those of poor families, a finding which has been backed up by many national studies.

During the first year, 1969-70, the testing forms included a section in which students were directed to divulge personal information regarding the socio-economic status of their families and were to render judgments which school officials believe, the fourth graders especially were not in the best and most reliable position to make.

On the basis of those questions, several millions of dollars were distributed during the 1970-71 school year to districts with low achievement scores and low economic ratings.

When it came time for the 1970-71 tests, a number of school districts, including Chelsea's, decided not to administer the socio-economic status section, and that part was consequently deleted by the program. Instead, school principals were asked to supply similar data.

The 1969-70 and 1970-71 results showed no statistically significant performance differences between North and South school students. The following composite average percentile scores were achieved by Chelsea students: 4th graders, 1969-70: vocabulary, 64th percentile; reading, 66; English expression, 66; math, 59; basic skills, 65; 4th graders, 1970-71: vocabulary, 71; reading, 74; English expression, 67; math, 51; basic skills, 64. 7th graders, 1969-70: vocabulary, 78; reading, 88; English, 68; math, 64; basic skills, 76. 7th graders, 1970-71: vocabulary, 61; reading, 78; English, 69; math, 74; basic skills, 76.
