

PRE-SCHOOLERS and their parents rush out at the signal to pick up as many eggs as possible. The exercise was probably welcome after standing in the cold, some since ten o'clock. Winners of the pre-schooler group were Debbie Thelan, first place, and Tylene Greenleaf, second place.

FIRST GRADERS swarm across the Chelsea High school Athletic Field as the Jaycees annual egg hunt begins. First grade winners of the contest were John Seyfried, first, and Jodi Loukas, second.

Gas Station Robber Found in Missouri

Another gas station robbery took place this week; this time at the Chetker Gas Station at 980 S. Main St. The robbery occurred between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. on Saturday, April 1 and is suspected of being the work of an employee at that time.

The robbery was discovered at 9 a.m. Saturday by supervisor Robert L. Reed. The suspect is Donnie Ray Thorne, 61, who came to Michigan from Missouri about two weeks ago, and was living with his uncle, James Thorne of 4665 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, at the time.

Taken from the station was $1,360.29 worth of cash. Of this, $1,275 was taken in a kiki zipper type Chelsea State Bank money bag and $2,500 in bills was taken from the desk drawer.

Chelsea police suspect Thorne because he was manager of the station since March 18 of this year and had the combination and key to the safe as well as keys to the station and pop machine. As manager, it was Thorne's job to open the station at 6 a.m. each morning. To do this the suspect used his uncle's 1969 Ford Torino to drive to work.

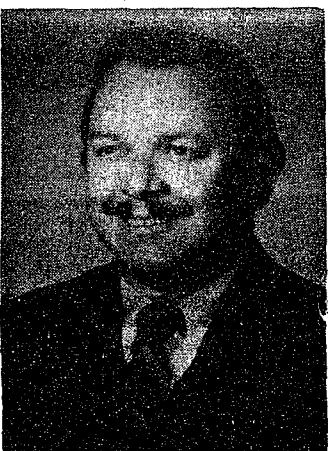

On the morning of April 1, Thorne left at 5 a.m. as usual. At 7 a.m. James Thorne stopped at the Chetker station and found it closed. He left and called the station again at 9:15 a.m. Reed answered and told him his nephew had never opened the station that morning but that the station had been robbed.

Reed arrived at the station at about 8:45 a.m. and found the station still locked, the floor safe combination cover off and money missing. On the floor by the safe he found a small cardboard paper with the combination numbers on it, given to Donnie in strict confidence. It also had the numbers to the cigarette machine safe.

Boy Scout Troop 476 will have its spring paper drive on Saturday, April 8. Papers and magazines, it is requested, should be tied into bundles. For pick-up please call one of the following numbers: Willis Heydlauff, 475-2393, Cecil Cobb, 475-7236, Summer Oesterle, 475-4341, or Verne Hiltz, 475-7716.

The fact that Thorne was the only one besides Reed to have the various combinations and keys in his possession coupled with his unexplained absence from work made him an immediate suspect. State police were notified and they contacted the Missouri State Police for any record on Donnie Thorne and to give them information regarding the missing car and the subject.

Three Fires Are Reported This Week

Chelsea has had good luck by having few fires for quite some time but the luck ran out this week with three calls within a short period.

On Monday, April 3, two fires broke out. One occurred at the home of Mrs. Lena Behnke of 531 Arthur St. at 12:01 p.m. No one was home at the time of the blaze and the fire department was called by Mrs. Waldo Steinway, Jr., who lives two doors away from Mrs. Behnke at 507 Arthur St.

The inside of the house was pretty well destroyed although the foundation and outer walls appear sound.

Cause of the fire is unknown but arson is unlikely. It started in the area of a closet and "probably had smoldered for a long time before getting enough oxygen to burst into flame," reported Fire Chief Jim Gaken. There was evidence of high heat because of falling ceiling tiles and the fact that anything plastic was melted.

A small grass fire also occurred on Monday. Firemen were called to the corner of Mayer Dr. and Madison at 3:02 p.m. This fire, it is felt, may have been caused by playing children. It was put out quickly.

On Tuesday, April 4, the William Van Riper farm on Haist Rd. called out firemen to put out a burning bunk house shortly before 2 p.m. It was a small shed with no electricity, and the cause of the fire is unknown. Though unoccupied at the time of the fire, the shed was often used for play by the Van Riper children, who had in fact been playing in the shed that morning.

Relatively high winds and a nearby propane gas tank and other sheds and a large barn made the threat somewhat greater. It took firemen about an hour to put out the blaze. When they first arrived, only 50 to 75 percent of the shed was left. Nothing was saved from the fire. It had contained some old but usable furniture. The building was not insured and no investigation will be made.

Returns from Germany

Anita Spears, wife of Sp-4 Michael Spears, arrived home Tuesday, March 4 after being in Karlsruhe, Germany for eight months. She is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Martin of Sylvan Center.

EASTER EGG HUNT WINNERS: About 300 kiddies showed up at the Jaycees annual Easter egg hunt despite cold, bad weather. Bouncing, shivering youngsters made this picture hard to take but the winners of the hunt are: Tylene Greenleaf, second place pre-schooler; Mike Lyons, first place second grader; John Seyfried, first place first grader; Debbie Thelan, first place pre-schooler; Sharon Monaghan, second place kindergarten; Wendy Wolfgang, first place kindergarten; Jodi Loukas, second place first grader; and Mike Rayne, second place second grader. Mr. Rabbit showed up to assist Glen Weir who was Jaycee project chairman.

Easter Egg Hunt Draws Large Crowd Despite Cold

Despite the weather, the Jaycees sponsored Easter Egg Hunt had a good turn out. Between 300 to 500 young people appeared for the event held Saturday, April 1.

There were two winners for each of the four age groups participating. Winners were pre-schoolers Debbie Thelan, first prize, Tylene Greenleaf, second prize; kindergarten Wendy Wolfgang, first; first graders, John Seyfried, first, Jodi Loukas, second; and second graders Mike Lyons, first, and Mike Rayne, second.

Unexpected cold and rain and snow showers, paired with a mix-up in the time the egg hunt began caused some problems. Although the hunt was scheduled for 10 a.m., Jaycee flyers announced it for 11 a.m. by mistake. The hunt was postponed until 11 so that at least, no one would come too late. About 15 or 20 cars came early.

The Jaycees planned for 300 hunters, so there were enough eggs to go around except in the pre-school meet. Many parents trying to help their children went into the egg area despite the rules. As a result, some kids whose parents didn't help found no eggs at all. Jaycee Mike Eubanks said, "Things will have to be set up differently next year," and he expects the hunt area will be roped off. Then, a child can participate in the hunt only on the basis of finding the eggs under his own power.

Mill Creek Research Council Pursues Metro Park Issue

Mill Creek Research Council held its seventh annual meeting Tuesday evening, March 28 at Lima Community Hall. The topic, of course, was the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Board of Commissioners. The meeting was presided over by Robert Wirtz, vice-chairman of the council board of directors. He read chairman Dave Bacon's report on the monthly meeting of the HOMA Board of Commissioners.

Bacon, who has been observing these monthly meetings since December, 1970, reported that HOMA had authorized the expenditure of $37,000 for land appraisals of the proposed Mill Creek park site. Because HOMA plans to use some federal funds for the part the appraisal procedures will have to follow federal guidelines.

The appraisal process involves two separate appraisals with a third appraiser working with these two figures to determine the final value. This value is then non-negotiable except in certain cases such as where a farmer is left with too small an operating base.

The Research Council, however, has been advised by several attorneys that owners are under no legal obligation to permit appraisers onto their property.

Since it began 30 years ago HOMA has operated on a 1/4 mill levy on every $1,000 worth of state equalized valuation in their five-county area. This valuation base has increased over the years until, now, they receive about $5 million income from taxes each year.

In a referendum being put before the people in August or November, HOMA will ask voters to double this amount by raising the levy by another 1/4 mill. This would mean more than just another $10 million, however, as much of this money is eligible for state and federal matching funds.

Huron-Clinton has three large metropolitan park proposals under way and anticipates also taking over Belle Isle. Without voter approval on this referendum they cannot do them all now.

The Michigan House passed the bill giving HOMA permission to hold a referendum on this additional money and now it is in the Senate. Opponents of HOMA, including Rep. Thomas Sharpe, have been trying to thwart HOMA plans by getting an amendment or another bill passed that would allow counties to hold referendums, withdrawing from HOMA. So far no success has been reported.

As board member William Van Riper stated, "We're just up against a tremendous governing body that doesn't have to answer to anybody."

If Washtenaw county had the money that goes into HOMA coffers to spend on county parks, the county system could be vastly improved. Also, Detroit is putting pressure on the Authority to drop the money to build city parks when it would be better to get people out of the city for recreation. Belle Isle, Van Riper contends, needs development and it is close enough to Detroit that transportation could be arranged for those who don't have any.

Much of the area in Washtenaw county that the Authority wants to turn into park is excellent farm land but not much good for anything else. The Mill Creek Research Council is up in arms because they want to take good class two and three ground when there are acres and acres of class four and five land from which farmers can't pay taxes.

The high cost of agriculture today, HOMA feels has also been ignored. If farmers are kicked off their land the prohibitive cost of re-establishing themselves may push some out of farming.

Mrs. Harry Denham also reported on the park proposal. She noted the increasing awareness of the need to make HOMA more responsive to input from both citizens and governmental units and agencies. As an example of this, Mrs. Denham cited the experience of the Mill Creek Research Council.

Some time back they had submitted 25 questions which are related to some of the many concerns relative to HOMA's Mill Creek Park proposal. To date, no formal reply had been received although a HOMA representative did discuss a rough draft of the answers with Mrs. Denham. Recently, the Research Council was able to borrow a copy of HOMA's answers which had been included in a packet of information

Townships All Give Okay to Higher Budgets

Lima Township

Lima township approved a budget of $79,526 Saturday, April 1 at the annual township meeting with 22 residents present. Part of this budget will go toward the funding of phases three and four of the Johnson, Johnson & Roy Land-Use and Long-Range Development Plan. The balance will go toward regular township expenses such as roads and fire protection.

One mill was also approved for township operating expenses. The hiring of an administrative aid, in the area of planning, to work with Township Supervisor Edwin Coy was also approved. This administrator would be hired under an Emergency Employment Act grant. Some interviewing for the position has already taken place but so far a decision as to who will fill the post has not been made.

Phase three of the Johnson, Johnson & Roy Land-Use Plan is merely a continuation of phase two of that plan. This phase will carry through on the analysis phase in which Johnson, Johnson & Roy made a study of the land capabilities in Lima township and recommended what alternative uses the land could be put to.

This analysis is then submitted to the working committee of the planning commission who will narrow it down to a few number of alternatives and present it to the citizens for discussion at a special meeting. There, the plan the people will support is sifted out and final selection is made by the original planning commission with William Van Riper as its chairman.

Phase four of the plan will be nothing more than the written document explaining how and why the plan is like it is.

Dexter Township

Dexter township held its annual meeting Saturday, April 1 to discuss the budget and operating expenses. Sixteen township residents were present. Operating expenses will be covered next year with a renewed levy of 1 mill.

The budget itself was approved at $57,600 with $11,000 going toward roads and about $3,000 toward an increase in police and ordinance enforcement. There were no increases in salary.

The budget was discussed prior to the actual annual meeting and then was presented for consideration and vote at the meeting. The session lasted two hours and was presided over by Supervisor John Tandy.

The next township meeting is a regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday, May 2, at the Township Hall.

McKune Library Board Elects New Officers

McKune Memorial Library Board held their March meeting Tuesday, March 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room of the library. Major business was the election of new officers and the acceptance of a proposed budget for the coming fiscal year.

Those elected as officers are: Robert Merkel, president; Mrs. Paul Schable, vice-president; Mrs. Frederick Bolser, secretary; and James Schardein, treasurer. They replaced Mrs. Frederick Wagner, president; Robert Merkel, vice-president; and Mrs. Paul Schable, secretary. Schardein was re-elected as treasurer.

Sylvan Township

Sylvan township held its annual meeting Saturday, April 1 and got a citizen turnout of 12 people. The main area of discussion was the budget for the coming fiscal year. A regular meeting was held also, on Tuesday, April 4.

At the meeting, the board settled on a levy of 1/4 mill for operating expenses. This is the same as last year. Most of this will go toward road improvements. The total budget, however, will be increased from $79,000 to $82,000.

Most of the budget increase will go toward increased printing costs which has been raised from $1,000 to $3,000. This increase is partly a result of extra printing to publish information about the adoption of a new zoning ordinance.

The supervisor's salary was also raised from $6,000 to $6,300 and it conforms with the federal wage and price control guidelines.

At the regular meeting of the Township Board the main issue was a petition presented by Leo LaFontaine, of LaFontaine Construction & Development Corp., for a zoning change.

The re-zoning would involve the property on the southeast corner of the intersection of I-94 and M-22. LaFontaine petitioned for it to be changed from A-1 zoning for agriculture to B-1 for general business. LaFontaine wants the land open to construction of business type establishments.

This re-zoning request had been made before and turned down by Washtenaw County Planning Commission, and the by the Sylvan Township Board, who has final say in the matter. At the April 4 meeting the re-zoning issue, originally turned down 3-2 was reconsidered and accepted, 3-2.

Those members voting for the re-zoning were Fred Pearsall, George Merkel, and Reuben Lesser. Those against were Daniel Murphy and Maurice Hoffman. Hoffman is township supervisor, Pearsall is treasurer, and Lesser and Merkel are trustees.

Lyndon Township

Lyndon township held its annual meeting Saturday, April 1 with a turnout of 22 people. In addition to the general budget and the levy for operating expenses, township employee raises were discussed. All the pay increase proposals were brought up at one time and all were defeated by a show of hands. It was agreed, however, to pay for any extra meetings employees had to attend.

The budget was increased by about $8,000 from $21,956.49 to $30,071. Of this increase, about $500 went to the Equalization and Property Department so that they can pay for a new system of tax billing.

Another $1,500 went for the expense of the three elections that are expected to be held this year. They plan on the presidential primaries and elections on township propositions in August, and the November general elections.

Other increases in the budget went to the Planning Commission, increased by about $250; toward payment of a new automatic voting machine, $1,125; to the Fire Department, $1,000; to the Washtenaw County Road Commission, $2,000; and to the audit, $750. The balance will go toward increases in the printing costs because of election announcements and bills.

There was a lengthy discussion about the roads as the township would like to set up a road improvement plan whereby unpaved

SURVIVAL—THEN AND NOW: Sound intriguing? This is the program the Waterloo Area Historical Society is presenting at their open meeting on Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Christian Education Building of the Stockbridge Presbyterian church. Dr. Joseph Hanna of the Philosophy Department at Michigan State University will be the speaker for the evening. In this photo Mrs. Sidney Beckwith of Stockbridge is demonstrating spinning to a class at the Mill Lake Camp recreation center. Various crafts pertaining to survival will also be shown. These are crafts that were once a way of life and very necessary to settlers of this state. Come, see, and learn of dried fruits and vegetables, natural dyes for homespun wool yarn, cornmeal mush, sauerkraut-making, spinning, and quilting. There will also be a tea-tasting table where you may sample such teas as sassafras, mint, camomile and others made from herbs and tree bark.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Behind the unimpressive statistics of the high costs of a university education and the differing needs academically and intellectually that students have, are signs that the concept of the three-year college degree is gaining wide acceptance.

Freshmen entering schools next autumn will in a great many colleges get an opportunity to follow a new three-year bachelor's degree program. The idea of "accelerated education" is being explored at the giant California state system and at the State University of New York. These shortened degree programs are being funded by the Carnegie Foundation at the SUNY's Brookport campus. 900 students will take part in an experiment that reduces the traditional 128 weeks to 96 "equivalent weeks."

Duke University in North Carolina now allows students to complete degree requirements in 36 months and the program at Duke involves two summer sessions. St. Louis University in St. Louis, Mo., is offering a shortened program in three of the university colleges as well as the allied health professions and the school of nursing. Other schools are showing an interest in the three-year program; these include Northwestern and George Washington University in the nation's capital.

In its landmark report "Less Time—More Options: Education beyond High School," the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education stated "We are convinced the years spent on the way to the BA can be reduced by one year for many and subsequently most students; time spent on the way to the PhD and to the MD can be reduced by an additional one or two years without sacrificing educational quality."

I believe there are compelling arguments for the shortened curriculum. Many times introductory college courses repeat what a student has already learned in high school. Secondly, a three-year degree program might make college more vigorous and meaningful. Third, three years of college could save families up to $4,500. Fourth, a student can enter the job market a full year ahead adding substantially to his lifetime earned income. Fifth, the three-year curriculum would greatly reduce the financial strain on the colleges themselves, admitting more students without requiring more facilities.

As a member of the House Education Committee, it strikes me that "American higher" education ought to be as diversified as possible. Students ought to have a real choice when seeking a degree. The three-year concept will be ideal for many. It ought to be encouraged if we are to make post-secondary education more adaptable to individual requirements.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was catching up on my paper reading the other night and I run across this piece about a ball player. After I got thru the article I ask the old lady what she thought about Vida Blue. She said it sounded like one of them new washing powders that don't pollute the water, and that she had found they don't clean the close as good as the old pollutive kind. The old lady has forgot more about a heap of things than I'll ever know, but I figured if she didn't know any more about the work of the Price and Wage Control Board than she does about the ball players, I might as well keep my opinions to myself. What I have decided, Mister Editor, is that price and wage control is like them college honor systems where the college got the honor and the students got the system. Control is for the working man, and prices and wages is for ball players and law makers.

This fellow Vida Blue played ball last year for $14,000. He done well good to this year he wants a raise to $18,000. I reckon his boss figured that was out of wage guidelines, so he offered him $50,000. The last I heard the Government wanted everybody to stay within five per cent raises. I ain't strong on figures, but I studied it up one side and down the other and I am of a mind that wages for Vida Blue is based on what the traffic will bear, just like they allus been.

General speaking, I can't find no fault with that. A day's pay for a day's work is the way we built this country, and if Vida Blue is worth that kind of money, more power to em in trying to get it. But he says he'll quit baseball afore he'll work for a measly $50,000, and I can't help but wonder how much change his retiring will make in the state of the nation.

What sets me to worrying, this, is where I saw by the papers that it cost us $400 million last year to run the legislative branch of the Federal Government. That's big money just to make laws, and it is an increase of $150 million in five years. They ain't no way, Mister Editor, that we can be getting a day's laws for a day's pay, with $42,500 to start in Congress. And these are the same folks that is talking about a $6,500 guaranteed income for everybody and a tax exemption for part of their own incomes.

It ain't hard to see why Congressman rather talk about smoking chimneys and dirty rivers. It's a good way to get the voters minds off how much it's costing us to get laws passed again polluted air and water. If you broke down that $400 million on a per-law base, I figure folks would decide they had rather try and get by on some old laws we ain't used yet, stead of whopping up a new batch every time the Congress sets.

I won't say pollution is a red herring, but someone stinks in wage control.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Wallace Reactions

Democratic party officials are genuinely concerned about the threat Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace poses for them in the May primary.

They agree with Wallace's prediction that he'll do better in Michigan than in any other northern state and fear that his strong showing might result in a takeover of the party at some local levels by Wallace people. As a result, they have been working hard at the precinct level to make sure organization Democrats file for precinct delegate spots.

Failure to protect themselves at the precinct level would do serious damage to the party structure, they fear, by allowing Wallace backers, who were content to work in the American Independent Party in 1968, to take over the organization in selected counties and districts.

It is ironic that this Wallace surge is one of the side results of the McGovern Commission's recommendations to open up the party. It can be safely said the party hierarchy didn't have Wallace in mind when they were talking about opening the process.

Money Sought

No matter what issues they disagree on, there's one point where this country's political parties are unanimous: they both need lots of money to operate.

Campaign costs are staggering even at the state level. Sen. Robert Griffin is expected to spend more than $1 million trying to keep his seat this year, and it's said Attorney General Frank J. Kelley is gathering almost that much to challenge him.

The experts say it can cost upwards of $50,000 just to get a petition issue onto the ballot.

Gas Station Robbery Nets $3,860 Total

Thorne was eventually picked up by the Pemiscot County Sheriff's Department in Missouri where he was also wanted for a parole violation. The Sheriff's Department recovered the car and found Thorne in possession of $1,105.

Reed, who owed Donnie a large amount of back pay, decided that the money recovered and the back pay would just about make up for his loss and decided not to prosecute. James Thorne, the uncle, also decided not to prosecute.

Investigating officer Chief George Merank felt that the case against Donnie Thorne had been a good one but the victim would have to press charges before they could take Thorne to court. The case took a lot of work, but at least, they saved the cost of picking Donnie up in Missouri.

It's no wonder former California House Speaker Unruh once called money "the mother's milk of politics."

Unfortunately for the parties, a slackening of the economy can create a serious drought in their income, especially that which comes on a purely voluntary basis.

To help alleviate the situation in this election year, the two major parties in Michigan have taken on a page from the professional fund raisers' book and joined hands in search of money.

They have formed a "political United Fund" and named it the United Political Appeal. The fund is directed by Bob Manard, director of finance for the Michigan Democratic Party, and Bill Cudlip, director of the Southeastern Michigan United Republican Fund.

Honorary co-chairmen are Gov. William G. Milliken for the Republicans and Secretary of State Richard H. Austin for the Democrats.

Milliken says a program such as the United Political Appeal allow the parties to "broaden the base of interested and involved citizens, and through their financial support, we can bring more qualified people into government."

By concentrating on getting contributions from more people, it helps "bring the party structure closer to the 'grass roots,'" he says.

Austin concurs, saying, "Enlightened interest in the common good will encourage employers to assist with voter registration in offices and promote individual contributions to help finance the soaring cost of political campaigns."

This money pinch is approached from the other direction at the same time in efforts to put ceilings on campaign spending. If you don't have to spend the money, after all, you don't have to raise it.

Republicans have taken a new approach by dividing up the state into districts for their in-house fund raising, rather than having one state finance chairman.

The theory is that a non-salaried person who has a regular job just doesn't have the time for statewide fund raising. And it's hoped that local people can shake a little more money loose from their fellow party workers than can one man operating out of Lansing.

As district winner, Mary will be eligible to participate in the Detroit News Metropolitan spelling bee. To win the contest, Mary had to spell the word "apparel." Judges in the contest were Mrs. Helen Lange, the Rev. Warner Siebert, and Supt. Charles Cameron, all of Chelsea. David Kniesley, a Chelsea Junior High school teacher, and William Coelius, an English teacher at Chelsea High, pronounced the words for the contestants. Chairman of the spelling bee was South school principal Sylvester Wojcik.

Chelsea defeated Dundee on the home field by a score of 16-9 in the opening baseball game of the season. Neither team showed especially strong pitching strength, according to Coach Richard Barese; however, pitcher Craig Houle, backed by a big 12-run fourth inning, struggled through, allowing 13 hits and seven walks.

LaVerne Hatley was described in the school "biographies" column as a "tall, dark and handsome senior whom we all like to tease a lot." It was reported that sports are the most interesting to LaVerne, his favorite color is blue, and after graduation he plans to join the Navy.

Dinner and contests were on tap at the annual Father-Son banquet held at St. Paul church. In charge of entertainment were Rev. P. H. Grabowski, Paul F. Niehaus, and Paul Barbour. Prizes in the contests were awarded to Luther Kusterer, Norman Schmidt, and Dean Guenther.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, April 7, 1938—

Honors were quite evenly divided between Democratic and Republican candidates in Sylvan township at the election on Monday, five Democrats and six Republicans being elected. Fred G. Broesamle, Republican incumbent, was re-elected supervisor with a majority of 74 votes, defeating Edwin J. Keusch, Democratic candidate.

The common council Monday appointed six members to a library board to formulate the policies of the public library. Members of the board are H. C. Schneider, Mrs. W. R. Daniels, Mrs. P. G. Schaible, Mrs. George Walworth, Mrs. A. Palmer, and Mrs. E. W. Eaton.

The ideal freshman boy at the Chelsea public school was listed as having eyes like Bill Rademacher's, hair like Carl Sander-son's, teeth like David Thomas, brains like Roy Broesamle's, a personality like Ralph Dingle's and a smile like Andy Policht's.

Cub Scout Awards Given At Pack Meet

Cub Scout Pack 415 met Tuesday, March 28. The meeting opened with a flag ceremony presented by Den 1. The pack welcomed a new member, Herbert Pearson. He was given his bob cat pin and wolf book.

Cubmaster Ahrens then presented awards. Ken Cobb was awarded his year pin, two silver arrows and a gold arrow. Brian Hughes was awarded his year pin, perfect attendance pin and bear book. Barry Hinz received a pin for perfect attendance. Ted Sine was awarded a one-year pin, a silver arrow and his bear book. Ricky Sine was awarded his citizens award. Brian Herrick was awarded his forestier badge.

Hobbies were the topic this month. All the Cub Scouts brought their own hobby to the pack meeting. There were many interesting hobbies, such as various shells, stones, marbles, and electronic parts. While the parents reviewed these different hobbies, the Cub Scouts played a very interesting and exciting game of racing turtles. John Dreiman was the fastest turtle of all.

The Webelos were awarded Mr. Cubby for one month because they had the most parents present at the pack meeting.

Cubmaster announced that the next committee meeting will be held at the home of the Webelos leader, Mr. Ratzlaff, on Kilmer Rd., on Thursday, April 6, at 8 p.m. All parents are welcome to come. The pack meeting was closed by the Webelos flag closing ceremony.

The Kahn test for syphilis was developed by Reuben Kahn, University of Michigan professor emeritus of serology.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled To Vote
SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P. A. 1954.)

Transfer of Registration, Application, Time
SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, word and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made after the Fifth Friday preceding any election or primary election (unless such Fifth Friday shall fall on a legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day.)

Transfer of Registration on Election Day
SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not recorded such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application to vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election day. The applicant for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Tougher Drinking
Driver Law Now
Being Enforced

Michigan now has a tougher drinking driver law.

Col. John R. Plants, State Police director, advises drivers that the new, lower presumptive level of 10 percent blood alcohol, effective March 30, may mean it's easier to reach the limits considered to be "driving under the influence of liquor."

"We supported the legislative amendment that has lowered the presumptive level because we believe the drinking driver is one of the most serious traffic problems we face," Plants said. "As before, the law is there to protect the motoring public from the drunk driver. We have to make every effort to get the drunk driver off the road."

Michigan's implied consent statute, enacted in 1967, presumes drivers have given their consent to a chemical test if arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor (DUI).

State-wide more than 2,200 breathalyzer operators have been trained and certified to meet breath testing standards under the law.

He also, from November, 1961 to November 1962 was management intern for the Agency for International Development, of the United States Department of State in Washington, D. C. From November, 1962 to November, 1964, he also worked for that agency in Brazil as a Foreign Reserve Officer.

He served in the army and was released in October, 1953 with an honorable discharge.

Central Michigan University's Jim Youngs kicked an 81-yard punt in 1964 against Eastern Illinois.

The meeting lasted about three hours and was presided over by Supervisor George Bauer.

It is hoped that a private firm can come in and do the reassessment. This was not taken into account in this year's budget as it is uncertain when the reassessment will take place.

The township wants the Commission to give them information on unpaved roads. On the same date they have arranged to talk about the reassessment of township property in regard to the levying of property taxes. It is felt that, right now, some property is valued too low while some is valued too high.

As a follow-up to this discussion, a meeting was set up with the County Road Commission for Saturday, May 6 at 9 a.m. at Lyndon Township Hall.

Two representatives from the Chelsea chapter, Ken Schiller and Roger Ottoman, were delegates to the convention and went to the Michigan State University campus, for Thursday and Friday meetings.

The two delegates enjoyed themselves and even had the opportunity to meet Miss Michigan of 1971, Linda Kish.

MCRC Elects

sent to the Dexter High school conservation consultant. With a few exceptions, the answers were "incomplete, disappointing and not very helpful."

In one case, MCRC had asked about the interchange at I-94, changes in traffic patterns and anticipated costs which ought to be included in final determinations on this particular site choice as compared with other alternatives. H.C. MIA stated that this would be handled through the State Highway Department. (This would be that much more expense, pointed out MCRC, which is taxpayer borne. No actual cost information was given.)

The Lima Township Land Use Study being done by Johnson, Johnson & Roy was discussed. Mrs. Deham recommended that MCRC urge them to present their findings to the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners.

Dave Ingersoll was elected as a new member on the MCRC board of directors. Leonard McCalla withdrew from the board after seven years of service as corporate secretary.

Clothing Drive Being Planned For April 18

A spring and summer clothing drive, sponsored by Church Women United, is scheduled to collect donations for the "House by the Side of the Road." The first congregational church in Chelsea will be the collection point for clothing articles on Tuesday, April 18 between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. If the time is not convenient other arrangements may be made by calling 475-2739.

Clothing donated to this should be clean and in good wearable condition. Mrs. Raymond Crabtree, manager of the "House" says that children's and infants clothing is especially needed, as are household linens (sheets and pillowcases). Cash donations are also being accepted and may be taken to the same place as clothing.

The "House by the Side of the Road" is a distribution center for clothing to the needy of the county, and is operated solely with volunteer help. It is located at the old Holy Ghost Seminary site on Washtenaw Rd., east of Arborland. The complex of buildings is presently operated by Washtenaw County.

Chelsea women, through Church Women United, donate two days a month service to this operation. Anyone interested in volunteering for duty to the project should call Mrs. Jack (Mary Ann) Merkel at 475-2739 for further information.

Kiwanians Report Flower Sale Increase

Kiwanis Club of Chelsea met Monday, April 3 at 6:15 p.m. to see pictures of the wild, wilderness and fishing in Wyoming.

Following the program, they talked more about the upcoming bowling tournament in Portage, to which they will be sending three teams, on the week-end of May 6 and 7. Selection of all team members has not been completed.

The results of the annual Kiwanis flower sale were the "biggest yet," reported Secretary Floyd Fowler. This money-making project goes mainly for youth. Flowers are supplied by Walt Zeeb, Jr., of the Chelsea Greenhouse and Kiwanis Club members sell the flowers for a commission.

All types of flowers are sold from potted plants to centerpiece to stems. This year about $3,000 worth of flowers were sold and Zeeb took back all that could not be sold.

Auto Accidents In Chelsea Hit High in March

Chelsea Chief of Police George Meranuck reports the highest record of automobile accidents ever recorded in a one-month period in the Village of Chelsea. This year there were 18 accidents in the month of March as compared to six to 10 last year.

The lowering of the drinking age to 18 has had little to do with this increase, Chief Meranuck believes, as most of the accidents have involved people above that age group.

Summer Rec Program Being Planned

The Recreation Council is starting to get this year's summer program in shape. They expect to have the same offerings as last year with many of the same instructors. However, they hope to also add some new summer classes to the schedule.

Exactly what will be added is uncertain yet as they want local citizens interested in these programs to make suggestions. One suggested addition was modern dance. Anyone who wants to make suggestions for this summer should call Ken Larson, 475-2650, or Gene Miller, 475-7113 by Monday, April 10.

Another change in the summer program schedule if enough interest is generated is to begin adult softball teams. Team members will be accepted on a first-come-first-serve basis. Umpires will also be needed for this. Before the program can be put into effect, however, the council will need to find a league director to run the program. Ken Larson is the person to contact.

Fees for the classes and programs will be the usual $5 for adults and $1 for children.

Sportsmen Join in Power Line Battle

Power line siting is arousing concern among many residents of Washtenaw and surrounding counties. The Tri-County Sportsman's League in Saline, has even drawn up a resolution urging action to protect the public from the environmental harm caused by the location of some power lines.

As an organization, Tri-County is dedicated to the wise use and protection of the environment. They feel that individual and community rights have been breached because the people have nothing to say about where power lines should go. The problem is of increasing importance, they believe, because of the greater electrical power requirements in Michigan.

More planning is necessary when deciding upon power line locations for the sake of the environment. There are no regulations requiring public hearings on power line siting, something Tri-County Sportsman's League, among others, thinks is needed. It should be the citizen's right to express himself regarding the use of his private property by a private utility.

Right now electric companies can put lines almost anywhere with no opposition as long as they don't cross state lines. To fight them it is necessary to go to court.

General Dwight Beach, of Lima township, is one citizen who refused to sell his land to Detroit Edison to make way for a power line. As a result he was taken to court to show cause why his land should not be condemned. At the same time a number of other landowners were taken to court for the same reason.

The resolution passed by the Tri-County Sportsman's League is, in part, in support of General Beach. D. Daniel Robbins, president of Tri-County said concerning their resolution, "The major problem is that people don't know how to fight it." Power companies only have to prove that a new power line is needed and that the proposed route is the best one.

Their objective, according to Tri-County, is to get state legislation requiring public hearings on this matter to be held during the planning stages of any power line siting project. One aspect of such legislation would be to require the presentation of environmental impact statements as a part of the siting plan.

There is already one bill in the state legislature aimed at this goal but many groups, including Tri-County, feel it doesn't have enough beef.

Palmer Salesmen Qualify for Ford 300-500 Club

Two Palmer Motor salesmen are among 507 in the Detroit sales district who have been named members of Ford Division's exclusive 300-500 Club, an organization of top Ford Salesmen.

John F. Popovich and Kyle Christwell are among 507 salesmen in the Detroit sales district who will receive awards at a banquet dinner Saturday, April 8 at the Raleigh House in Southfield.

Purpose of the 300-500 Club is to recognize outstanding salesmen and to highlight automotive sales positions as "valuable service to the national economy and the local community," said J. Carver Wood, Ford Division's Detroit district sales manager. Membership in the Club was gained through individual sales success during the 1971 calendar year. Wood said that 11,000 salesmen in the club sold an average of $750,000 worth of automotive merchandise in 1971 to qualify for the national honor.

MINORITY EMPLOYMENT

East Lansing—Minority employment at Michigan State University has increased 71 percent in the past five years.

Michigan Dairy Herd Size Is Increasing

Look for increasing dairy herd size in Michigan.

Two out of three Michigan dairy farms had less than 30 cows in 1964, but now less than half (43 percent) do, according to Al Shapley, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

There are about 15,000 dairy farms left in Michigan. Of these, 8,500 are Grade A milk producers. And 3,650 of the 8,500 Grade A milk producers are in the "less than 30 cow" category.

About 2,970 Michigan farms have 30 to 49 cows. This is 35 percent of the total Grade A herds, notes Shapley.

So, only 1,880 farms are in the "50 or more cows" category.

Swimming Pools Safer, Says MSU Professor

East Lansing—Swimming pools are generally safer from disease hazards than are bathing beaches, microbiologist Walter L. Mallma says.

"Swimming pool water usually comes from a drinking water source," says Prof. Mallma. "By continuously recirculating the water through filters and by continually adding a disinfectant, the pool water becomes a germ killer."

"Disease-producing microorgan-isms can be destroyed immediately after their discharge from bathers in such properly treated pool water."

Tiger Hurlers Will Receive Coveted Award

Detroit — Three Tiger hurlers have been selected to receive the coveted 1971 Joe Coleman Award for the best pitcher in the 31st annual Capuchin Charity Guild Baseball Dinner at the Raleigh House April 13.

Mickey Lolich, who was Tiger of the Year in 1971; Joe Coleman, a 20-game winner for the first time; and Fred Schermer, outstanding bullpen ace, will get the silver bowls. It will be the second time Lolich has been picked for the Capuchin salute. He also was honored in 1968.

Ernest Ashford, retired American League umpire who is a highly-regarded after-dinner speaker, will be featured at the benefit dinner which will be attended by Manager Billy Martin and the entire Tiger team.

Proceeds will help support the Capuchin Soup Kitchen.

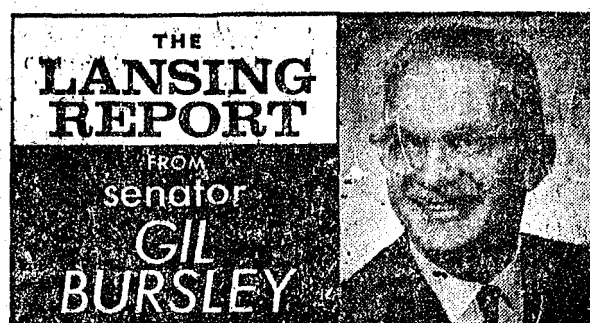

Interest Deductions Reported Incorrectly On Many Tax Returns

Detroit—Taxpayers planning to claim an interest deduction on their 1971 Federal tax return should be sure to read the instructions carefully to avoid errors, Thomas A. Cardoza, District Director of Internal Revenue for Michigan, advised.

Interest deductions should be entered with other itemized deductions on Schedule A and attached to Form 1040. The form for itemized deductions gives taxpayers space to list interest, taxes, contributions and other deductible expenses.

Interest paid on a home mortgage, a bank loan or other debt may be deducted if the taxpayer is legally responsible for the payment.

Interest paid for another person is not deductible, Cardoza said. This could occur when a parent makes a mortgage payment for his children on a home that is not in his name.

Your Michigan legislator has become far more than a lawmaker. With the increasingly complex nature of our society, and of government's responsibility to society, he must provide a problem-solving, red-tape-cutting, and information service to the citizens he serves.

Moreover, his traditional job of lawmaking has been expanded to the point where he is expected to have a working knowledge of some 3,000 bills and resolutions throughout a single term, and to pass direct judgment upon the portion of these measures that comes to his committee or to the floor for a vote.

The decisions he must make very strongly and directly affect your way of life and your standard of living—the education of your children, the social and economic well-being of your family and of generations of families to come.

What kind of man makes these decisions in Lansing today? Your average Michigan legislator today is a man in his mid-forties, with a family to support and required by law to maintain two residences. Chances are that he is a college graduate. (An average 3.6 years of higher education.) There are 27 lawyers in the legislature, and 22 former public officials, including several ex-mayors.

Edison Co. Wins Interim Rate Hike

Lansing—The Michigan Public Service Commission today granted Detroit Edison Co. a $25 million interim rate increase that will enable the utility to continue on schedule its current $1 billion construction program.

Without the increase at this time, PSC Chairman Willis F. Ward of Detroit said, Detroit Edison might be forced to curtail expansion of its facilities and thus hinder its ability to avoid blackouts and brownouts.

Today's order, which calls for the first significant change in Detroit Edison's rate schedule in many years, was signed by Ward and Commissioners Lenton G. Southworth of Marshall and William R. Hall of Okemos.

The new rate schedule imposes higher—rather than lower—percentage increases as consumption rises.

As a result of the change in the design of the rate schedule, nearly 800,000 Detroit Edison customers—those who use less than 200 kilowatt hours of energy per month—will be unaffected by the rate increase.

The Commission also directed Detroit Edison to submit a comprehensive plan describing in detail how it plans to meet the electric energy needs of its service area during the next 10 years and the steps it will take to correct or improve the environmental impact of its generating facilities.

The interim rate increase—which averages 4.6 percent—will be spread among 1.1 million large residential users and 117,000 commercial and industrial customers.

Detroit Edison, which serves 1.5 million customers in 13 Southeastern Michigan counties, had asked for a $40 million interim rate increase pending a final decision in its application for authority to increase its rates by $70.1 million annually.

The monthly bill for the average Detroit Edison residential customer—one who uses 450 kilowatt hours of energy—will increase 61 cents under the new rate schedule which went into effect Friday, March 30.

Ward said Detroit Edison has invested $785 million during the last two years to expand its production and transmission facilities and its 1972-73 construction program calls for improvements totaling $1 billion.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM
Senator
GIL

who bring a valuable knowledge of local government to their new role.

Twelve of your legislators were proprietors of businesses, including men who served in the highest administrative posts of large school districts.

Fifteen legislators are former proprietors of businesses, including several men who have built major job-creating firms, while 11 legislators, by way of balance, are former union officials. In addition, the professional expertise brought to the legislature by its members includes four journalists, three engineers, two accountants, and experience in a wide variety of other technical fields and specialties.

These men, most of whom could command far higher salaries in private employment, work a more-than-full-time schedule throughout regular sessions. And with the added demands of special sessions, interim studies, and the unavoidable necessity of responding to campaign challenges, serving in the legislature has become a year-around job.

Is it in the best interests of the State of Michigan that legislative compensation and working conditions be maintained at a level sufficient to attract men of specialized experience and proven capability to make the crucial decisions and supervise the nearly two-billion dollar business of state government?

Or should service in the legislature be made appealing only to two basic groups: those who could not possibly command a higher salary in private life and look upon legislative pay scales as a windfall; and those who are independently wealthy through private interests and may or may not be capable of divorcing themselves from those interests when determining public policy?

These are questions that only you, as a citizen and taxpayer and voter, can answer.

CONSUMERS CORNER

Floor Covering
Selecting a floor covering is no easy task. Especially when a consumer has to think about the wide variety of materials on the market and the tremendous range of prices.

New technological developments in wood coverings now offer the consumer another choice. Wood is appealing because of its natural beauty, warmth, and grain, can now have an added quality.

Woods can be impregnated with liquid plastic, such as acrylic, which is hardened throughout the pore structure of the wood by exposure to nuclear radiation.

The result is a wood-plastic composite flooring with finish permanently locked inside. This way real wood is improved by man-made durability.

This product, which is said to be easy to maintain, rarely needs refinishing.

Right now this natural wood flooring is being used in business places that have many customers walking through.

The Greeks invented locks that could be opened from the other side of the doors through the world's first keyholes.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ O Happy Day . . .

How many happy days do you have? Why can't each day be a joyous experience? What is it that stops us from enjoying life to its fullest?

Perhaps the largest stumbling block is that we are conditioned against it. We work too hard for the wrong things, and put no effort into the things that could make us happy—love, friendship, and a sense of thankfulness for all we have. As we tell us we will not be happy until we try this new product or that new improved product. People actually believe that the only way to "happiness" is through success and position.

But each day that comes to us is a new day. The day itself is not a good or bad day, rather what determines that is how we use the day. If we constantly work too hard for the wrong thing our days have few happy ones. Imagine if each day we applied a little effort to help increase love and friendships, we would all have many more happy days.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER:

My problem is that I don't want to go steady. That may sound unreasonable to you, but it doesn't sound reasonable to the boys I go out with. I tell them I don't want to go steady with them, but they don't believe me, until I go out with someone else. They get insulted, I guess, and then they drop me. There is one guy I like very much, but I can't see going steady with him. If I am asked out by someone else, I don't see why I shouldn't go and have a good time. I wouldn't mind if the guy I like went out with someone else, as long as he still took me out too. Do you think I'm right?

OUR REPLY: This is not a question of who is right, rather one of point of view. If this is the way you want to view the situation, you are 100 percent correct. Now, all you have to do is find boys with the same viewpoint that you have, and it won't be difficult. Not every teenager, as you know, just wants to go steady. There are many boys with the same attitude that you have toward going steady—they enjoy going out and having a good time without being limited to just one girl.

Observatory Dedicated

East Lansing—Michigan State University recently dedicated its new $600,000 observatory, which houses a 24-inch reflecting telescope. The telescope is mounted on caissons solidly anchored to the ground and not connected to the observatory itself, so that even slight movement of the building due to wind will not affect the accuracy of observations.

CURRENCY VALUES

East Lansing—The rising value of certain European currencies should help control inflation there and may ease unemployment in the United States, according to Prof. Mordechai Kreinin of Michigan State University, an authority on international monetary policies.

Scouts Have Extra Incentive On Scout-O-Rama Ticket Sales

The Boy Scout Scout-O-Rama, to be held Saturday, April 29 and Sunday, April 30, at Yost Field House in Ann Arbor, has something new this year. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers will all have a chance to win, in addition to regular ticket sale prizes, another secret prize. To win, the scout must stop at one of six "mystery houses" in Chelsea to sell Scout-O-Rama tickets.

The six houses are strictly secret at this time, but are spaced so there is one in each section of town. Those living at the houses will have coupons to give to the first boy who comes to their home to sell tickets. Coupons are good for one free "mystery house" prize.

The Scout-O-Rama is sponsored by the Boy Scout Portage Trails Council which is made up of four districts in the Chelsea area, the Chippewa, Potawatomi, Sauk, and Iroquois, and includes most of Washtenaw county. A committee of representatives from these districts came up with the "mystery house" sales promotion idea.

Charles Burgess, neighborhood Commissioner, or trouble-shooter and big brother to the various scout units, thinks the idea is "probably one of the greatest."

sales promotions were come up with. He feels it will give scouts an extra challenge and more incentive to sell as many tickets as possible.

One dollar admits the purchaser to the building where every scout unit in the district has a chance to display their skills and ability. A larger participation this year by scouts will mean more but smaller 10 by 10 booths. Approximately 150 displays are expected.

Most booths will be indoors but scouts have no legal limitation on the topic they choose and imaginative "action" demonstrations are encouraged. The display should encourage people to stop and ask questions.

Booths will be judged by impartial members of the Ann Arbor Breakfast Optimist Club, once during each of the three shows. Scores are averaged against a standard and awarded an appropriate ribbon to decorate their flag or trophy case. Presentations are planned for after 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 30.

Two shows will take place Saturday, April 29 from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The third show is from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Acupuncture Techniques Demonstrated at Seminar

Acupuncture, practiced by the Chinese for thousands of years, has excited wide interest in the United States since the television broadcasts from Peking during President Nixon's visit showed radical surgery and other treatment being performed routinely with no anesthetic other than fine needles inserted in various parts of the body.

Jerald Flinn, Chelsea chiropractor, just completed a three-day seminar in the study of the Chinese art and science of acupuncture held at Dearborn Inn, Dearborn, from Friday, March 17 to Sunday, March 19.

Kunzo Nagayama, M.D., director of the Kyoto Pain Control Institute of Japan, presided at the sessions. He was assisted by Harold S. Saita, D.O. of Vancouver, British Columbia, who acted as an interpreter. Saita has also been practicing acupuncture for 40 years.

Dr. Nagayama has studied and lectured widely in Europe where acupuncture is already a recognized medical discipline. Closer European contacts with the Orient in the past and translations of acupuncture literature chiefly into German and French are largely responsible for this.

Basically, acupuncture is founded on the premise that man's health is controlled by the flow of life forces through the body in a system, called the meridian system, allied to but physically separate from recognized neurological paths. This system, adherents of acupuncture believe, guides growth and reproduction of all living things. Life forces, then, can be controlled with stimulation, as with the acupuncture needle.

Dr. Flinn thought the method was "interesting with possibilities for its application" in this country. He was skeptical before he went but the demonstrations of acupuncture at work were enough to get him seriously considering attending a two week long session in St. Louis, Mo., being offered by Dr. Nagayama, where he will give lessons in the art.

Although the Michigan State Chiropractic Association sponsored the seminar as part of its continuing education program, it did not endorse acupuncture as an immediate available health care technique. Legal aspects of acupuncture applications are uncertain since its use in this country is so limited. But, it can be done with a pressure technique as well as a needle and the art has the possibility of gaining broad popularity.

Physicians attending the seminar came from as far away as Georgia and Texas, and from all fields of medicine and physical therapy.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

Rooms 1, 3, 6

Teachers: Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Michelson, Mrs. Van Blaricum

The kindergarten children have been very busy preparing for spring. We have made pussy willows, bunnies, and eggs. Kites were fun to cut and color. We saw a movie about robins, and we have been seeing more and more real ones every day. For Easter we are coloring eggs, making bunnies and counting jelly beans.

We have enjoyed having the kindergarten visitors in the room. They had fun and will be looking forward to kindergarten in the fall.

Once a week we all spend time with Mrs. Carpmann, our speech teacher, playing, listening and talking games. We've worked on animal sounds, city sounds and letter sounds.

And change in seasons will get us thinking more, so we are again discussing safety rules. We are especially concerned about the streets and dangerous areas such as construction areas. We are warned to stay away from strangers who offer candy or goodies to get us in their car.

After vacation we will be learning more about baby animals and also growing things. We will be taking more walks to see how the world is changing.

FIRST GRADE—Room 4

Teacher: Mrs. Stewart

March has gone by quickly. We are thinking Spring in Room 4 and are hoping it comes real soon. We made some Think Spring Chicks, but they haven't done any good.

Mr. Fuller came to school and talked to us about Indians. We liked the beautiful head-dresses he showed us. The Indian weapons were neat, too. He gave us a recipe for Kah-Nu-Tah, which is Indian fried bread. Some of our mothers made it. It tastes very good with jam or honey.

We made Easter bunnies out of cotton balls and paper plates. It took 40 cotton balls. They are pretty and soft.

We have been learning about interesting mammals. Did you know a dolphin is a mammal, not a fish? Did you know a dolphin father spansks his children? We enjoyed reading about them. We have a new boy in our room whose name is Mark White. We are happy to have him.

We hope everyone has a Happy Easter and remember—THINK SPRING!

Room 2

Teacher: Mrs. Thornton

Reporters: Kipp Bertke, Jody Lucas, Cheryl Patrick, David Wojcicki

April birthdays: Matthew Lorenz and Don Marshall.

We enjoyed the assembly that Mr. Fuller had for us. We learned much about the Indians. He had many real Indian articles with him.

We completed our I Want to Be unit. We read lots of books, and this is what we plan on doing: Kim Allen and Don Marshall want to be cowboys. Lisa Beeman, Corrine Fletcher, Judy Liebeck, Celeste Powell and Annette Shuey music. The Flight of the Bumblebee was almost too exciting for all of us, but we managed to make a very interesting mural.

Many children have been writing and illustrating their own stories for our room library. We also have started a unit on How to Look Your Best. All of us feel that this is going to be very interesting as well as important.

Our reading groups have interesting new names. We have the Clowns, the Detectives, The Pow Wows and the Mummies.

In science we have been studying about plants. We made our own plant books and even have planted our own marigolds. Very soon our room will really look like spring!

Room 7

Teacher: Mrs. Lopez

Reporters: Krissy Staffan, Kathy Waldyke, and Geoff Shaw

We all made shamrocks to wear on St. Patrick's Day. Dale Scripser's mother brought two puppies to show the children. Everyone thought they would like to take a puppy home.

We have studied plants in science, and each child planted marigold seeds in a milk carton containing potting soil. Some plants are up, and we are very excited about them. Each day we check to see how much the tiny plants have grown. We plan to cover these cartons with construction paper or aluminum wrap. We also have a bulletin board showing many types of plants. The children brought these pictures.

In mathematics we are learning to regroup in subtraction. We have also been learning our addition facts by using flash cards.

Connie Dault brought part of a horse's jaw showing the teeth. All the children were very interested in seeing this old, weathered relic.

Room 8

Teacher: Mrs. Nance

Reporter: Noel Borton

We made little books about March. To celebrate the first day of spring we planted seeds. Mr. Fuller gave us a program about Indians.

We listened to the story of Paddle-to-the-Sea and drew pictures of our favorite part. Our class has a special program with a new teacher, Mrs. Smith.

CIGAR CARE

Never put cigars in portable refrigerators or ice chests. Besides running the risk of getting them wet, they will pick up the odors of the foods.

Certainly Lasso® plus atrazine controls
fall panicum.

Plenty of growers last season learned that the "foxtail" they thought grew through their herbicide was really fall panicum.

And plenty of growers this season will learn that if you tank mix Lasso plus atrazine, you won't find fall panicum. Nor will you find giant foxtail, crabgrass and most other grasses...or lots of broadleaves like smartweed, pigweed, cocklebur.

Lasso plus atrazine gets 'em all in corn.

That's what you expect from your herbicide.
