Baseball Team Pulls Out to 2-Game Lead

The high-flying Bulldog baseballers dug in this past week and are now firmly entrenched atop the SEC standings.

The much-touted encounter between first-place Chelsea and second-place Milan last Wednesday, May 3 did indeed prove to be anticlimactic. Th Bulldogs came away with the victory, 18-8, but it is doubtful if anyone really won the game.

"It was one of those games where we couldn't put anything together. Nobody really won," mused coach Carl Genske about the game. Of course, he'll take the win, even though the game was plagued with missed fly balls, errors and generally sloppy play. Perhaps the squad was too ready; over-anxious to prove their worth to the rest of the league.

The Bulldogs picked up seven runs in the second inning and six in the sixth on only six hits for the entire game. Chelsea was given 14 free passes on walks to account for the high number of runs on such few hits. Wayne Welton lined a three-run homer in the third to increase what was already a nearly insurmountable lead.

Ron Sweeney went all the way for the Bulldogs and gave up nine hits.

Pitching miscues, home runs and heads-up base running combined to lift Chelsea over Dexter, 8-3, in Friday's game.

Chelsea led all the way, jumping out to an early lead in the third on a solo home run by Tim VanSlambrouck and then hiding their time until the fifth.

Dexter pitchers fell apart in the fifth, walking three batters to load the bases and then hitting Mike Nadeau to force across one run. Another run scored on a wild pitch before Jeff Daniels unloaded a home run to clear the bases. Randy Brier singled and stole second, scoring on Todd Sprague's single to complete the scoring in the inning.

A walk and a hit in the seventh produced the final run of the day for the Bulldogs.

Randy Brier collected three hits at the plate including a double. Dave Lukasiak started the game and went two innings before being relieved by Wayne Welton. He gave up only one hit and collected five strikeouts but was lifted because he has been suffering from a sore arm. Genske had planned to pull him early in the game even if he wasn't in any trouble because he didn't want to overwork his arm.

"We just wanted to limber up the arm and keep it loose," explained Genske. "I have great hopes that Dave can help us in the non-conference games that are coming up."

Welton finished the game and received the win, striking out five while walking only two and allowing two hits.

Energetic Grandmother Still Going Strong, Enjoying Life

Quality home-cooked food and a hospitable atmosphere have established the Chelsea Restaurant, 119 S. Main St., as a much frequented and informal meeting place for Chelsea residents.

"I figure that we make about 40 pots of coffee per day, and that figures out to be about 125,000 cups of coffee per year," states Mrs. Ella Mae McMillan, owner of the 14-year-old establishment.

Mrs. McMillan and her daughter, Mrs. Noel Laraway, both of 189 Orchard St., have operated the restaurant for the past eight years, since the death of Mrs. McMillan's husband, John. Mrs. McMillan had closed the restaurant for two weeks, and did not plan to re-open it. "I didn't want to re-open, but some of the area businessmen called and urged me to keep the place going. It was the only restaurant in town. My daughter, Noel, suggested that we try it and if it didn't work out we could close it. Well, we've never thought about closing up since."

The restaurant is a sociable cross-section of Chelsea. People are always coming in to visit. A feature of the restaurant is the "Round Table," a big table located at the rear of the restaurant. "There's always a pot of coffee on for the men who come and gather to visit and gossip (and settle the world's problems)."

Mrs. McMillan keeps a busy schedule. "I'm here about 8:30 in the morning, making pies. All food served in the restaurant is home-cooked."

The fame of the restaurant's home cooking has been spread by word of mouth. "People come here from all over," asserts Mrs. McMillan. "There's two couples from Ann Arbor who come here every week for a dinner. We serve a lot of salesmen and other townspeople."

The Laraway family is active in the restaurant. Mrs. McMillan's two granddaughters, Pam Laraway and Sue Osinski, are waitresses at the restaurant. Pam has worked there four years, Sue has been there three years. The head waitress, Mrs. Hugo (Ruth) Luenser of 11640 Jerusalem Rd. has been with the restaurant for about nine years. She was the former Ruth Barth. Other employees include Ola Voelm, Sadie Huntley, Dorothy Shriver, Kay Ellenwood, and John Stinehelfer.

Mrs. McMillan certainly does not fit the stereotyped image of a grandmother knitting in her rocking chair. An active and petite woman with brown-gray hair and sparkling blue eyes, she doesn't look her age. Mrs. McMillan has never been ill since she took over the restaurant. She attributes her health and young looks to hard work, no smoking or drinking, and lots of good home cooking.

She has taken only a couple of vacations since taking over the restaurant, and these were week-long trips back to the Upper Peninsula and Ironwood. "I like the scenery up there," she says.

Sue and Pam, her granddaughters, are trying to talk her into going with them to Springfield, Ill., for the Memorial Day holiday. "If we just shorten Granny's skirts a bit she'll fit right in," the girls agree.

Mrs. McMillan was born in Ironwood, April 11, 1900. She and her husband, John, also from Ironwood, were married Dec. 12, 1922 in Ironwood. Mr. McMillan worked as a cook in the various lumber camps located throughout the Upper Peninsula, and Mrs. McMillan worked for a while for her brother-in-law at "Old Cal's" Restaurant in Ironwood.

When the McMillans moved to the Ann Arbor area, Mr. McMillan was the cook for the cafeteria at King Seely Corp. in Ann Arbor. Mrs. McMillan operated the King-Seely Scio Plant cafeteria. They moved to Chelsea and opened the restaurant, then located at 935 S. Main.

now the site of Frisinger's Real Estate. They moved to the present address about 14 years ago.

Besides Mrs. Laraway, Mrs. McMillan had one other daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Osinski, now deceased. Other grandchildren include Patti and John Laraway, Sandy Hutteman, Kim Burkes, Jack Osinski, Bill Osinski, and Wendy Osinski.

Mrs. McMillan's most memorable occasions at the restaurant have been when the Round Table members surprised her with roses. "Sometimes they just have the flowers sitting on the table when I come in—for Christmas, my birthday, or some other occasion."

A busy and cheery woman, Mrs. McMillan sums up her feelings about the restaurant:

"I like it here because there are so many different kinds of people always around. It's fun. I guess I'm crazy enough not to quit." And no one in Chelsea would want her to quit either.

ACTIVITY CENTER DEDICATION: The Catherine B. Crippen Memorial Building, which houses a community activity center, is situated at the heart of the seven building Chelsea Village Apartment Complex at the Chelsea Methodist Home. Dwight E. Loder, Bishop of the Michigan Area of the United Methodist Church, will dedicate the complex Sunday, May 14, at 3 p.m.

Dedication Slated Sunday for New Methodist Home Facility

Dwight E. Loder, Bishop of the Michigan Area of the United Methodist Church, will dedicate the newly constructed Chelsea Village Apartment Complex Sunday afternoon, May 14 at 3 p.m. Services will be held in the Home Chapel and will be conducted by Charles Allmand of Ann Arbor, president of the Board of Trustees of the Retirement Homes of the Detroit Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. The public is invited.

The Catherine B. Crippen Memorial Building, a community activities center, is at the heart of the seven-building 24-apartment complex. The Chelsea Village Apartments are the realization of need for establishing a new type of service that would provide independent living accommodations for younger retirees who wished to continue to live independently but have services available from the Home like Chelsea. This was visualized and recognized in late 1966 by the trustees and administrators.

Between 1966-1971 this project was developed in three phases under the leadership of the Rev. John Mulder, the late Mrs. Catherine Crippen, and the Rev. Samuel Stout former board presidents. The Chelsea Agency Committee under the chairmanship of the late Paul Durham and the Property Committee, composed of Warren Poole, Andrew Butt, Homer Haggarty, and Al Roberts had a vital part in working with the administrator, the Rev. John Fall, and Edward H. Terry in carrying out the details of planning.

It all begins to happen Thursday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The 1972 Band-O-Rama will be under way. The Concert Band, Symphony Band, Stage Band, Soloists and small groups will present an evening of fun and music.

The program will begin with the Concert Band performing, among other things, that exciting Spanish March "Amparito Roco."

Phase II of Lima Land Use Plan Ready

Phase II of the controversial Mill Creek Park project will begin Thursday (tonight), May 11 when consultants Johnson, Johnson & Roy present their land use and impact study to the combined commissions.

The impartial study, financed largely by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA), will not make any recommendations concerning the proposed park but will present their findings on what the land is best suited for and, in their opinion, how the land will develop, both without the park and in the event that the park is built.

In a meeting held May 3, the Washtenaw County Planning Commission (WCPC) agreed to table their review, which was to be submitted to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) on May 8, until May 31. This extension will allow them to consider the Johnson, Johnson & Roy study before they submit their review and comments.

The study will play a major role in the WCPC's review to SEMCOG as well as SEMCOG's review to the HCMA. It may also become an integral part of the proposed zoning ordinance being advocated in Lima township to insure that the land remains agricultural.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Chelsea Fairgrounds and is open to the public.

Sylvie Toinard, a former Youth for Understanding Exchange student from Lyon, France, will be arriving at the home of her former host family, the Thomas Stocks, on Friday, May 12. Calls and visits from friends will be welcomed.

They also have a couple of "pop" tunes ready.

Highlights in the symphony band portion of the concert will be a clarinet solo entitled "Solo de Concoors" performed by clarinetist Karlene Kargel who has earned several honors this past year, the latest being accepted for the Michigan Youth Arts Festival Honors Orchestra which will perform in Midland on May 27.

There's a good possibility a guest artist may "drop in" also.

Other numbers by the Symphoniac Band will include an Irish jig, "The Rakes of Mallow," and selections from "Fiddler on the Roof."

The Stage Band will top off the program by performing a selection of the current hits of the day.

A percussion ensemble and a trombone quintet and rhythm will also perform.

There is no admission for the evening's performance.

Operational Millage OK'd For Schools

A good turnout of 1,177 Chelsea voters went to the polls Monday to approve the renewal of 10.98 mills for two years operational expenses. Three other proposals calling for two one-mill increases were defeated by rather large margins.

Superintendent of Schools Charles Cameron said that he was "pleased with the electorate for approving the 10.98 mill renewal" and "somewhat disappointed" that the other three proposals failed.

The first proposal, calling for the 10.98 mill renewal, passed by a 699 to 461 margin with 17 spoiled ballots.

The second proposal called for one mill for capital outlay for the next two years and was defeated, 399 to 751, with 27 spoiled ballots.

The third proposal requested one mill for the building and site fund for the next three years and was defeated by the widest margin: 339 yes votes to 816 no votes, with 22 spoiled ballots.

The fourth proposal, which was an extension of the third proposal, asking for authority to levy the one mill increase of proposition III to the building and site fund, was likewise defeated, 467 to 688, with 22 spoiled ballots.

all crime statistics, those are most depressing deal juvenile offenders. Almost percent of all individuals arrested or serious crime last year were under. During the past decade, arrests of juveniles have peaked almost 100 percent.

Perhaps the worst aspect of juvenile crime is the fact that once down the wrong path, very juveniles are able to rescue lives. Instead, they become into a pattern of crime which dominate them all the rest of lives. FBI statistics show 72 percent of all persons arrested under the age of 21 will be arrested again within five years. These depressing statistics led Congress last week to approve legislation which I introduced over year ago to create a National Institute for Juvenile Justice. This institute will concentrate research the effort to lower juvenile crime and rehabilitate those who have been arrested.

Perhaps the most important aspect of the new institute will be an emphasis on training those who deal with juvenile offenders. In no one area is special assistance and expertise more important. Yet only 15 percent of officers assigned to special juvenile units have had any special training to allow them to function effectively in their assignments. One-half of all juvenile judges have no college degree and almost one-fifth have no college education at all.

There are no uniform standards, and little or no special training available for the potentially most important figure in the juvenile justice system—the probation officer whose responsibility it is to help a juvenile reestablish himself in a community and become a constructive part of it.

Children are our nation's most important national resource. The Institute for Juvenile Justice will be a major step in helping the most troubled portion of that resource.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

MR. MISTER EDITOR:

Did you see them recent stories of the Philippines where scientists has gone in the woods over to study this tribe that was not living like the cave man? Ed little come to the country store yesterday night with a handful of things on the subject, and he allowed what was pretty good was one scientist said that tribe learn the civilized world a map about living.

For instant, Ed said, we got a world where a feller can get rich doing do-it-yourself divorce kits and where we got enuff bombs to blast the world open like a stepped catapole. The Tassaday tribe ain't got no weapons or divorce, Ed reported, and they ain't even got a word in their language for anger. Whoever said that ignorance is bliss said a mouthful, was Ed's words.

The feller's was general agreed with Ed, Mister Editor, that civilized man is about to outsmart himself for a fare thee well. Bug Hookum said it looks to him like learning is getting out of hand. If a little education is a dangerous thing, allowed Bug, to much education is worst. When we get to the place where experts say religion is bad for children, like this report he had saw, Ed said we has got too smart for our own good.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, the education pendulum might be swinging the other way. Clem said he had saw we got a surplus of teachers now that can't get jobs at $500 a month, and we got companies crying for pipefitters that could start at $900 a month. Furthermore, Clem said, we got to have practical sense to figure out problems like he saw this college kid. They is 9,000 students at the college and they drive 7,000 cars. In the hole town they ain't but 3,500 parking places. The best remedy the educated town manager could come up with was that half the students would have to live in town and the other half would have to live in town.

General speaking, allowed Ed, they is enuff good solid ignorance left in the country to keep us out of danger for a while yet. Ed had saw where younguns under six now watch 65 percent of their time watching television, and Ed was of a mind they ain't no risk of getting over-smart staring at the TV. Another example, Ed said, is that the stores in this country had got us convinced that we was getting all them trading stamp gifts flat free from nobody knowed where, but now they has got us jest as convinced that if they quit giving stamps they can reduce their prices. Somewhere in there is a lesson, was Ed's words.

Personal, Mister Editor, I know we can't crawl back in a cave, but I agree with Ed that when a college offers a course in robbing banks in order to "establish a level of mutual self-respect between robber and robbed" we has gone overboard. Maybe it's time to set up a new course called "Right and Wrong."

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Thought For Food

Celery seed gives a pleasing aroma to an easy sour cream dressing for leafy greens and vegetable salads. Combine ½ cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon dried chives, ¼ teaspoon celery seed, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon coarse ground black pepper in a small bowl and mix well. Blend in 1 tablespoon vinegar. Serve with molded vegetable salads, cucumbers, tomatoes, tossed mixed greens.

U.S. consumers spend more than $100 billion on food annually—twice as much as they spend on clothing and accessories.

If Mom ruled the world...

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Farmers Aroused

Farmers in Michigan as well as the rest of the country have been flexing some new political muscles in recent months.

It started when unrest over low prices caused the resignation of scholarly Clifford Hardin as Secretary of Agriculture and the naming of Purdue professor Earl Butz as his successor.

Butz wasn't trusted by many farmers when he took office and some farm groups lobbied extensively against his confirmation. But he was confirmed, and has since been a very outspoken advocate for the plight of the farmer.

The most recent furor was over food prices. Butz, instead of laying back, came out swinging when consumers started complaining about what they paid for food.

It isn't farmers' fault the food prices are going up, he said over and over. In the past 20 years the prices paid farmers for food products has gone up 6 percent while the price for them at the checkout counter rose 43 percent.

During that period, the nation's wage rates rose an average of 6 percent each year.

In fact, he said, he hoped farm prices rose even higher, since the farmer still wasn't getting his fair share of American prosperity.

Butz isn't the only one speaking out. Several movements are going on at the state level as well.

The Michigan Senate passed a bill to permit farmers to form unions for negotiating prices of their products—something that has not been done.

One of the problems farmers have always faced, they only get what the processor or elevator they sell their products to will pay. Farmers are by nature independent, so it's hard to organize them into a group.

The National Farmers Organization, headed by Oren Lee Staley, has tried for years to sell collective bargaining to farmers, but hasn't sold enough of them to make it stick.

The Senate bill, however, would allow farmers who grow more than 50 percent of a particular crop to form bargaining associations. The association then would bargain with handlers and processors on such items as prices, terms of sale and quality specifications.

If no agreement were reached, the two would submit their best offers to an arbitration board which would pick one of the two offers as the most equitable.

The bill's main sponsor is Sen. Charles O. Zoller, a wealthy fruit farmer from Benton Harbor, who said the bill is designed to save the family farm.

"Right now they're caught," he says. "They're dealing with a perishable commodity which they must sell. And they have to accept the price that's being offered because they have no bargaining power."

Farm wives have been working too. While the men have been busy talking and legislating, their ladies, perhaps inspired by women's lib movement, have swung into action.

A group of Michigan farm wives organized themselves into the "Women for Survival of Agriculture in Michigan." They are headed by Mrs. Connie Canfield of DeCatur and they are serious.

Among the things they have done to call attention to the plight of the farmer is visit the Capitol and present their case to Gov. William G. Milliken.

"The farmer's costs are set," Mrs. Canfield told Milliken. "But the farmer is powerless to determine what he will receive for his produce. The need for marketing and bargaining legislation is urgent."

They picketed fruit receiving stations for low prices and launched publicity campaigns to help their cause.

"The Michigan farmer needs a voice that can be heard and our group plans to be that voice," Mrs. Canfield says.

When Congressman James O'Hara made some comments in December which the group felt were uncomplimentary to farmers, he found a letter on his desk from one of its members.

"We will leave no stone unturned in our effort to give the public an honest version of the lives and work of the farmer," she vowed.

Many Billboards Will Fall Under New State Law

Lansing—Michigan's new billboard control law was the basis for an agreement with the Federal Highway Administration, averting a threatened loss of $19.6 million in highway construction aid, the State Highway Commission reports.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe had warned Michigan officials that 10 percent of the state's federal highway aid—approximately $19.6 million, annually—would be withheld if the state did not have an adequate billboard control law by March 31.

The new law applies to signs and billboards along Michigan's 7,000 miles of interstate, freeway and primary highways. It regulates and controls the size, lighting and spacing of signs and also grants authority to cities, villages and townships to provide for more restrictive regulations.

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth estimated that 15,500 billboards are subject to removal under provisions of the new law.

May's the month in most areas for planting started tuberous begonias in shaded northern windless locations that get filtered sunshine. Try placing these gorgeous plants in clay pots fitted into iron rings on porch or patio columns; plunged in the soil in the shade of vines, or hung on the shady side of fences and railings. Begonias need proper drainage, so porous clay pots are a must.

It appeared last week that one position on the Chelsea School Board might go begging. Only one petition, that of incumbent Donald Irwin, had been received by Charles Lancaster, Board of Education secretary. There are two vacancies on the Board. The six petitions were received from Gary A. Albrecht, L.D. Guinan, Edward E. Lewis, Keith L. Boylan, Floyd E. Walz, and Robert James Updegraff.

Joseph Czaplak bagged 10 red foxes on his farm about five miles west of Chelsea, on Rank Rd., during the past week. The Czaplaks have suffered considerable damage from foxes during the last few years, 52 turkeys having been killed by foxes several years ago. It was thought that the fox population on the farm had been wiped out last year when five were killed. The first indication that they were back was when a duck disappeared mysteriously last week, a search of the farm resulted in the discovery and shooting of the first two of the ten foxes killed this past week.

Seniors will leave on their trip to Niagara Falls, Wednesday, May 19. The school bus will transport the class and sponsor to Detroit, leaving school at 10:30 a.m. They will board the S.S. Gen. Beach Wins His Battle Against Electric Power Line

"We've only won the first round," replied retired Army General Dwight D. Beach, concerning a three-man commission's findings that there is no necessity for the acquisition of his land for the proposed Detroit Edison Co. transmission line.

"Of course, I'm happy for myself, but I'm disappointed that they didn't find no necessity for the entire route."

On April 26 the court-appointed commissioners found necessity for parcels 3 through 19 and 29 through 46. Nine properties (parcels 20 through 28) were exempted Thursday, May 4 by the commission, including the Beach property. These parcels are generally located in the Freedom-Lima township area where the proposed Mill Creek Park is to be situated. It is believed that the proposed park was the determining factor in the no necessity finding.

The commissioners' decision must now be confirmed by Probate Court Judge Rodney E. Hutchinson. He cannot reverse the commission's findings; however, he can set them aside and order a re-examination of the entire project. The judge will announce his decision in the near future.

It is expected that Edison will appeal the commission's decision where no necessity was found. This is the first time that a commission has found necessity for certain parcels in a proposed land condemnation project while finding no necessity for others in the route. It is expected that several of the property owners whose property the commission found necessary will likewise appeal the decision.

Approximately one-third to one-half of the property along the corridor has already been sold to the Edison Co., and construction of foundations has already begun.

When plans for the project were begun, Edison did not consult with the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) or the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) and therefore routed the corridor right through the proposed Mill Creek Park site.

The route was amended to jog around the park site at a cost of $1 million which will be paid by the HCMA, and ultimately the taxpayers.

It is believed no necessity was found in the nine exempted parcels because they are in a fringe area around the park land. However, the commission does not have to publicly explain the reasons for their decisions so the specific explanation for the no necessity rulings is unknown.

General Beach and others have begun a class-action suit against Edison to stop the project which is still pending.

He believes this Monroe-Majestic Transmission Line Corridor project is an example of poor planning on the part of the Edison Co. He points out that this will be the third power line constructed in this area since 1968. The Zeob Rd. line, a line running from Chelsea towards Manchester and this new line will all run parallel to each other in part. The General believes that two-thirds of the money and trouble could have been avoided had only one line been constructed. He stated that he is emphatically opposed to the 765-kilovolt line that is scheduled to be constructed in the 1980's which, if completed, will be the most powerful transmission line ever built in Michigan.

The controversy and legal battles have only begun. Though his own land is temporarily saved, pending the judge's decision, General Beach and others are determined to fight Edison to the end, with the goal of stopping the project altogether.

ter plan, developed the detail working drawings, and supervised construction was carried out under the Home Administration of V. O. Johnson.

Phase I consisted of two buildings, eight units, constructed in 1969 by Frederick Belser, general contractor, of Chelsea. Phase II consisted of four buildings, 16 units, constructed in 1970 by Minion Brothers Construction of Ypsilanti. Phase III, the Catherine B. Crippen Memorial Building, was constructed in 1971 by Minion Construction to complete the complex.

Landscaping is by Versile E. Fraleigh, landscape architect of Ann Arbor. Finances for the construction was from benefits, gifts, and memorials to the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

All apartments in the Village are filled and there are a number on the waiting list for these accommodations. Inquiries about the facility may be directed to the Home Administrator, V. O. Johnson, in Chelsea.

JV Baseball Team 4-1 for Past Week

Chelsea Junior Varsity baseball team increased their record to 7-2 over the past two weeks with four victories against only one defeat.

Solid pitching by Todd Orbring and consistent hitting proved to be too much for the Stockbridge freshmen as they went down to Chelsea, 14-6. Bill Clark collected three hits and Paul Wood two to provide the punch for the victors. Mark Pennington and Mark Heydlauff rapped out hits to increase the winning margin.

Howard Haselschwardt allowed only four hits and three walks in seven innings to put down the Adrian freshmen, 7-4. He struck out 10 batters as Chelsea batsmen again had a good day at the plate with eight hits. Dave Tucker picked up three hits, John Houle, two, and Perry Johnson, Dave Laulion and Mike Nadeau one each.

In another one-sided affair, Perry Johnson pitched near-perfect ball in defeating Stockbridge junior varsity, 9-2. Johnson gave up only four hits and struck out 16 at the plate.

Chelsea took a quick 7-1 lead behind the fine pitching of Howard Haselschwardt, but had to hang on to win a 7-6 squeaker against Dundee. Perry Johnson came in in relief in the seventh to put out the fire after Dundee rallied and threatened to take the lead.

Dave Tucker and Haselschwardt led the Bulldogs hitting with three and two hits, respectively. Mike Murphy, Ron Clark, Johnson, and Jeff Sprague rounded out the Chelsea attack with one hit each.

Chelsea lost a pitcher's duel to Dexter by a score of 2-1. Perry Johnson gave up only two hits while striking out 10 and walking four batters, but lost the game with Dave Tucker collecting the dogs.

Dave Tucker is leading the Chelsea squad at the plate with 10 hits in 22 times at the plate. Perry Johnson trails slightly with nine hits in 22 appearances.

Pitching honors for the year go to Howard Haselschwardt who is boasting a perfect 4-0 season. In 23 and two-thirds innings thus far he has given up only eight earned runs, walked 17 and recorded 29 strike-outs.

"What the kids need today is something to do."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

by LOUIS BURKHARDT

Many artists, writers, poets, politicians, heads of nations and other prominent people have proudly and publicly shown affection to his or her mother. Millions of other people also show pride, concern, love and affection for her—and especially on Mother's Day. Exceptions are rare.

Adventures and misadventures of childhood are only half remembered. But mother's love, concern, discipline, decisions, example, hopes and prayers are forever rememberable. Her enduring love is timeless, even when her children face condemnation—justified or not. Her own memories center on good things, especially memories of the smiling and sometimes crying children that once filled her life.

Would it not be nice on Mother's Day to say, "Gee, Mother, you're wonderful"? If she is no longer with you, would it not be nice to bring a measure of happiness to some one else's mother as a tribute to your own? . . . BURKHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-4141.

Sgt. Leonard Risner
is Aircraft Mechanic
at Okinawa Base

Air Force Sgt. Leonard D. Risner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Risner of 18451 North Territorial Rd., has been honored for helping his unit earn recognition as the "Best of King" in the Strategic Air Command for 1971.

Risner, a 1969 graduate of Chelsea High School, is an aircraft mechanic with the 376th Field Maintenance Squadron at Kadena Air Base, Okinawa.

Risner, who entered the Air Force in June 1970, recently earned the rank of sergeant. He married the former Roxanna Thatcher of Jackson in October, 1970. They reside in Okinawa.

Sgt. Clifford Hoffman
Completes Air Force
Non-Com School

Wrightstown, N. J.—Staff Sergeant Clifford W. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoffman, 6014 Trist Rd., Grass Lake, Mich., has graduated from the U. S. Air Force Noncommissioned Officer Leadership School at McGuire AFB, N.J.

Sergeant Hoffman, who was trained in military management and supervision, is a veterinary technician with the U.S. Air Force Dispensary at McGuire.

A 1964 graduate of Grass Lake High School, he received his associates degree in 1966 from Jackson (Mich.) Community College. The sergeant's wife is the former Christine Hopkins from England.

The "darkness" you sometimes see around the bones of cooked poultry is harmless. This is an indication of a very young, tender bird whose bones have not yet matured and are very soft and porous. The pigments from the marrow seeped through to discolor the meat next to the bone.

Scholarships Granted 134 in 18th District

Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R., Ann Arbor) announced today that 267 high school seniors from the 18th Senatorial District have qualified for honorary awards or financial assistance in the state-wide scholarship competition.

The 18th Senatorial District includes all of Washtenaw county and part of Lenawee county.

Some 133 young people from this area achieved honorary awards in the competition, while another 107 will receive an estimated $56,830 in scholarship awards to assist with their education at state-supported colleges and universities. Still another 27, who will be attending private colleges, will share $20,080 in tuition grant awards.

Senator Bursley, who sponsored the legislation through which the scholarship program was initiated some years back, explained that financial awards are based on a needs criteria while honorary awards are based solely on scores in the state-wide competition.

He expects to see that all winners of honorary or financial awards are notified by mid-April.

"During the past eight years, more than 53,000 students have received about $84 million through the State Scholarship and Tuition Grant Programs," Bursley said.

"I think this is impressive testimony to the commitment of the Michigan legislature to the concept of providing educational opportunity for needy and deserving students."

"Without this assistance many of these young people would have been unable to continue their education beyond the high school level."

New Zealand's flightless chicken-size kiwis are unique in that the nostrils are at the tips of their beaks. No other bird is so constructed.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: Now that there is a "coalition" petition drive for education reform, what has happened to your petition drive for property tax relief and education reform?

Answer: On March 13, I announced that I would revise my petition drive in order to insert language that would respond to the recent state Supreme Court ruling and assure constitutional limits on the taxing power of local units of government. I also said at that time I would use the occasion for a final effort at getting legislative agreement on a property tax ballot proposal, or at forging a coalition petition drive effort among various interested parties.

On March 23, the Michigan Education Association took the initiative on what I am confident will be a successful coalition campaign for property tax relief and education reform. I am a part of this coalition effort because it represents a major breakthrough toward my objective of achieving not only property tax relief but also assuring quality and equity in the education of every child in Michigan. It also includes the constitutional limits I sought on the taxing power of local units of government.

Question: Is there any place in State Government that a Vietnam veteran can go for help on financial matters?

Answer: As a matter of fact, Michigan has probably the most extensive and comprehensive program in the nation for assisting veterans of all wars. The Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund, since its creation in 1945, has assisted nearly one million persons who are either veterans or members of veterans' families. The Veterans' Trust Fund was created as a means for Michigan citizens to fulfill their obligations to returning servicemen and has helped veterans of World War II, the Korean Conflict and Vietnam. It offers a number of significant programs including financial need grants, education loans, counseling facilities and death benefits for deceased veterans' families. Additional information can be obtained by writing: Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund, 122 S. Grand Avenue, Lansing, Michigan 48933.

Question: I am nine years old and I have a dog named Tobin. He is black and brown and white and is very nice. Do you have pets and do you like animals?

Answer: Our family—including Bill, Jr., Elaine, and my wife—has always had a fondness for pets. We have pets both at our home in Traverse City and at our residence in Lansing.

In Traverse City we provide room, board and love for a Highland Terrier named Scamp and two Siamese cats—Katushka, a female, and Puer, a male. Our residence in Lansing provides a home for another Highland Terrier named MacDougal and a Siamese cat named Cyri, and a Tiger cat who was brought home from college one week-end by Elaine. He is named, appropriately, Tiger.

Question: I understand there is a "wilderness bill" now pending in the legislature and that you have supported it. Why is this legislation needed?

Answer: House Bill 4881, the "Wilderness Bill" would implement, in part, a recommendation of my Special Commission on Land Use, which reported to me in January. The Commission stressed the need for preserving "unique areas" including historical sites, wildlife areas, sand dunes, estuaries and wilderness areas.

The bill would permit the state's Natural Resources Commission to designate wilderness and natural areas within existing state lands, and to acquire additional land for preservation as wilderness. This action by the state would prevent the potential exploitation of these unique areas for commercial development, mineral exploration, or other disruption of vegetation and wildlife, and would provide the opportunity for people to enjoy them in their natural state. The bill, if passed, will be an important step toward achievement of our land use objectives as they relate to unique areas.

Entertainer Will Sing in Ann Arbor

Former night club entertainer, Joey Stevens, now known by his original name of Dave Boyer, will be appearing in concert at Ann Arbor Pioneer High school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on May 13. The concert is being sponsored by Huron Valley Youth for Christ.

Boyer came from a talented, musical family. His father was a minister, and the entire family sang and played instruments. At the age of 18, Boyer was offered a featured singing spot on the Paul Whiteman show. From this beginning, he rose to fame in the entertainment world under the name of Joey Stevens. His act was featured at the 500 Club in Atlantic City where he came to know many of the show business greats.

The death of his father caused him to take a look at his life filled with jazz, booze, applause and girls, but meaningless nevertheless. Now Dave Boyer, using his own name once again, tells of how Christ filled the emptiness of his life that no amount of applause or fame could touch.

You won't want to miss Dave Boyer, 7:30 p.m., Saturday, May 13, at Pioneer High School. Admission is free.

May Has Some Tourist Activity For Everyone in Michigan

Lansing—May is for mushrooms, maple syrup, Michigan Week, the Fort Michilimackinac Pageant, and much more, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. May is the month when spring begins to blossom and winter's gray fades away.

As for things to do and see, you name it, Michigan has it. In May, from the Cross Country May Day Ski Tour at Calumet on the 1st, to the Iris Society Show in Kalamazoo on the 27th. In between there are art, antique and automobile shows, boat races, festivals and fairs. There are special events such as: the Sports Fishing Safari at South Haven May 5 and 6, the Father Marquette Pilgrimage, May 18 at Ludington and the Midwest Fencing Tournaments in Battle Creek May 19-21.

Highlighting the month's activities are the 14th National Mushroom Festival, Holland's 43rd Tulip Time Festival, Michigan Week, the Highland Festival and Games and the Fort Michilimackinac Pageant.

The National Mushroom Festival will be held May 12-14 at Boyne City, heart of Michigan morel country. Every year, mushroom lovers by the hundreds invade the Boyne City area to search for these elusive delicacies. All hunters must register, beginners and sharp-eyed pros alike. The day of the hunt, they are led to an undisclosed morel area by a conservation officer. At the sound of the gun, hunters begin their 90-minute quest. Cash prizes are awarded for the most picked, the largest single morel and the oddest shaped. Boy Scouts will be on hand to assist beginners in identifying the choice morsels from the poisonous varieties.

Holland's Tulip Time Festival is about as close as you can come to old Amsterdam without crossing the sea. This year's festival is scheduled for May 17-20. Daily attractions include the Klompen Dancers performing Dutch folk dances, the Tulip Time Market where visitors may watch a glass blower, wooden shoe maker, candlemaker and others perform their art, and of course, there are acres and acres of tulips in bloom.

Michigan Week '72 will be celebrated from May 20-27 with special activities and events being held in cities and communities throughout the State.

In four short years the Highland Festival and Games has become one of the country's most colorful ethnic celebrations. This year, it has been selected by Discover America Travel Organizations as one of the nation's top 20 travel events for the month of May. Festival Days are May 26, 27 and 28.

Junior High Track Wins Over Tecumseh

Chelsea Junior High Bulldogs wrapped up a perfect 7-0 track season with a 78-49 victory over Tecumseh Wednesday, May 3.

The Junior High team seems to get better each week with versatile Dan Hagen taking first-place honors in three events and Gary Marriott, saving his best put of the year for the final dual meet, taking the shot put with a 41'11" heave. Dave Murphy took firsts in two events, and Chelsea also swept the pole vault on their way to the top-sided victory.

Tecumseh must have thought Hagen was everywhere at once. He limbered up for his dash events by stopping off at the long jump pit long enough to walk off with first place with a jump of 17'7/8, and then proceeded to win the 60-yd. dash in a time of :7.35 and the 220 with :27.8.

Gary Marriott and Matt Heydlauff finished third behind Hagen in the running events with times in the 60-yd. dash and the 220 of :7.5 and :30.4, respectively. Howard Salyer finished third in the long jump with a leap of 16'6" before winning the 100-yd. low hurdles in a time of :12.9. He also took second in the 60-yd. highs with a time of :10.1 behind teammate Anthony Houle who took the first-place spot with a time of :10 flat.

Dave Murphy broke his own record in the 75-yd. dash in his first of two victories for the afternoon. His time of :8.5 was good enough to break the existing school record and win the event as he lead Brian Wissner across the line by .5 seconds. Murphy picked up his second win of the day in the 100-yd. dash with a time of :11.2.

The Chelsea sweep of the pole vault was paced by John Collins with a 7'3" effort. Matt Heydlauff and Mark Burnett shared the second and third-place points with identical vaults.

Randy Sweeney rounded out the Bulldogs' points in the field events with a jump of 5' for a second-place finish in the high jump.

In the longer running events, Roger Howard won the 440-yd. run with a time of :58.6 with Mark Heard finishing third in :1:04.5.

Dave Frame, who had broken his own school record the previous two weeks in the 880-yd. run, backed off a little this week and finished second with a time of :2:25.2. Bill Shoemaker took a second in the mile with a time of 5:43.2, leading two teammates across the line who, although they did not place, posted their best times of the season; Eric Prinzing, 5:51 and Bill Rademacher, 5:58.

To wrap up the scoring for the day, the undefeated 880-yd. relay team of Mark Houle, Mark Smith, Brian Wissner, and Dennis Baueur kept their record unblemished for the season with a winning time of 1:49.9.

The squad will have one more outing this year in the Tecumseh Relays Friday, May 12 where they will compete against 12 Junior High teams in the area.

From Mrs. Harry Tilt, Compton, Calif.: I remember when I was a little girl living in South Dakota in the 1920's. There were two of us at home, my brother and I.

We slept on straw mattresses. On winter nights, we'd heat bricks in the cookstove oven and wrap them in newspapers, then a towel, and put them in our beds to keep our feet warm.

On the first of every month, when Dad would get his pay check, he'd go in and pay our grocery bill, and our grocer would give him a sack of candy. This would be the only candy that we would see for ages. Our one big treat was store-bought bread, which was very seldom. But if mother would forget to set bread, or if we would run out of bread, then we would buy a loaf.

I remember many mornings when it was 40 degrees below zero. We'd have to put scarves over our faces up to our eyes, and then put a stocking cap on over it. Then we would walk a mile to school over snow drifts.

So many memories can fill our hearts today.

Chelsea Couples Enjoy European Vacation Trips

Two Chelsea area couples joined the ranks of the jet-set as they flew to Europe for vacations in balmy climates.

Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Muck, 507 Maywood, traveled to the Spanish island of Mallorca in the Mediterranean Sea for an eight-day vacation. The couple stayed in the beautiful old capital city of Palma and took side trips to Port of Soler and other places of interest on the island as well as a trip to Barcelona on the mainland to visit relatives.

Though the weather was not very hot, it was perfect for bullfights which the Mucks saw in the small Palma ring. In spite of their reservations about the bullfight, the Mucks thoroughly enjoyed their first trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Spaulding, 14210 Eisenbeiser Dr., flew to Italy, spending six days touring Rome, Florence, Capri, and Naples.

First Softball Practice Held By Women

The South Elementary school ball field came to life Monday, May 8, at 6:30 p.m. as a hardy, enthusiastic group of softballers began their spring practices for this year's new women's softball league. The league is under the co-ordination of the Chelsea Recreation Council.

Organizer Dee Dee Ringe was very pleased with the first turnout, despite the rainy weather conditions. "It's still not too late to get in on the fun," Dee Dee states. "Great plans are in the making if we can generate enough interest."

Next practices are scheduled for Monday, May 15, and Thursday, May 18. They will start at 6:30 p.m. at the South Elementary school.

For more information call Dee Dee Ringe at 475-2865.

Families will eat five snacks a day instead of three meals by 1980, and 70 percent of the meals will be eaten away from home. Home-makers will rely on freeze drying, radiation cooking, computer shopping-menu planning, and edible packages to make at-home meal preparation more convenient.

There's a difference between mayonnaise and salad dressing. Mayonnaise is a stable emulsion of oil droplets in water. It doesn't separate because it is stabilized with egg yolk. Salad dressing contains less oil and a cooked starch paste which substitutes for part of the egg.

Camp Grounds Opening Delayed By Budget Cuts

Park manager Glenn Kraai reports that the opening of Waterloo Recreation Area campgrounds at Sugar Loaf and Green Lake will be delayed until May 27.

Sugar Loaf normally opens in mid-May and Green Lake is normally open the year round; however, Department of Natural Resources budget cut has forced the delay of openings and curtailed the re-hiring of seasonal rangers normally assigned to the operation of these two units.

The openings on these dates will still be with very limited staffs, so the public is asked to bear with possible inconveniences. Maintenance and other services will be somewhat limited. Lifeguard services will be week-end only at the Portage Lake beach until July 1.

Postponed openings are on a state-wide basis and will effect other parks so it is suggested that people planning to camp elsewhere should call ahead to insure that the facility is operating.

It is hoped that all units will be operating normally by July 1.

Lee Dickelman Elected to CMU Program Board

New Courses To Be Offered Next Fall

Recently the Chelsea Board of Education approved the recommendation of the teacher-administrator Curriculum Committee to add a physical science class at the high school and to initiate a stringed instrument program at the elementary level.

The goal of the stringed instrument program would be to create a beginning string class in the 5th grade at both North and South schools with an ultimate projection toward an orchestral program at both the middle and high school.

The content would be that of a beginning instrumental program. Following an introduction of all string instruments, and a testing program for all 5th graders, those students scoring well on the test and/or with a high interest would acquire an instrument through one of the three standard procedures: a) buy a new instrument, b) buy a used instrument, c) rent with option to buy.

An anticipated class size in the first year would be from 9 to 14 students at each elementary school. Possible performances given would be winter school assembly and a spring public concert.

The first year a student teacher, Barry Fate, under the supervision of the present instrumental teachers, will be available Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons to begin the program. Fate is a 21-year-old senior at the U. of M. majoring in Music Education. He is well qualified in strings and comes to Chelsea highly recommended.

The second year the program would add the 6th grade class at Beach school, making an opening for a half-time string teacher. The student teacher starting this program would be available at this time. The rest of this teaching day would include other music classes, and academic classes.

The U. of M. School of Music, Music Education Department is pleased with this project. It also has the backing of the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association. This program is another step in meeting the needs of all students to help provide a complete program of music education for the young people of Chelsea.

The addition of the physical science class makes the offerings in science better balanced both from the standpoint of subject matter and student involvement. Now

Kindergarten Registration Set for May 18

South Elementary school will have registration for all pupils in the Chelsea School District who will enter school for the first time in September, 1972, on Thursday, May 18. Rural parents will meet from 8:30 to approximately 10 a.m., and town parents from 1:30 to approximately 3 p.m. in the all-purpose room.

There will be a short period for comments from the administrative staff, kindergarten teachers, speech correctionist and the school nurse. Since these future kindergarten children have been allowed to visit school this spring, no activities have been planned for them at this meeting. Please do not bring the children.

Before school opens in September, or on opening day, a statement will be needed from your doctor verifying that children entering kindergarten have been immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, smallpox, polio, measles, rubella, and have had a TB test. These forms will be available at registration.

Parents who find it difficult to attend this meeting are urged to call before May 18 or some day as soon as possible after that date. The school will register these children by phone, 475-2913. All kindergarteners must be registered prior to school opening in order to be placed in a classroom by opening day in September. (Please do not call to register your child on May 18, as this will be a busy day at school.)

If your child will be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1972, be sure to attend this meeting on May 18. Bring your child's birth certificate, which the school must see at this meeting or not later than opening day of school. The state is demanding this.

Teachers Plan In-Service on Drug Problems

On Wednesday, May 17, all Chelsea school children will be dismissed at 1:15 p.m. so that teachers may attend an in-service workshop on drug education.

The afternoon session will begin with a 50-minute multi-media presentation on Drug Attitudes produced by the Governor's Office on Drug Abuse. This will be followed by small group discussions led by pairs of teacher or administrator leaders, and resource people from Drug Help of the Community Mental Health Center in Ann Arbor. These group sessions will attempt to make teachers examine their own drug attitudes.

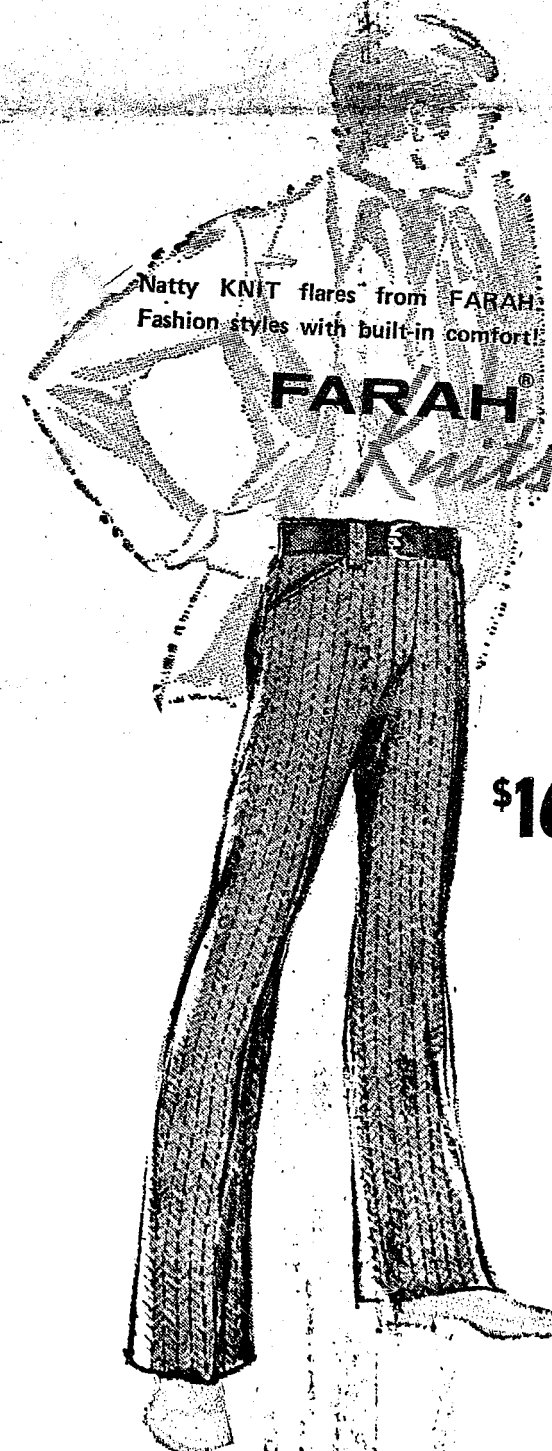

Ruth Schelkun, a psychologist and drug education consultant from the Community Mental Health Center, will conclude the program with a short talk to draw together and summarize the ideas of the afternoon.

"The Place To Go for Brands You Know"

The Wage-Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

My lease will not expire June 1. Can my landlord raise my rent before that date?

No. Rentals under lease contracts increased until the lease expires or comes up for renewal.

When I renewed my six-month lease last November, my landlord increased my rent because of the ten percent rule in effect before December 29. Does my landlord have to roll back the increase?

No. Where because of the rent rules in effect before Dec. 29, a landlord raised rent on a lease longer than a month, he does not have to roll back the increase.

Where can I get forms to report wage and salary increases to the Pay Board?

Forms PB-1 and PB-2 may be picked up at the local Service Compliance Centers of the Internal Revenue Service. Instructions for filling out these forms are contained within the forms.

How does a consumer use a retailer's base price to determine if there has been a price increase?

You should compare the current price of an item with the price, i.e., the amount charged during the freeze period. If there has been an increase, you want to ask the manager to explain to you why the price of the product has increased. You should be satisfied from his explanation that the increase is permitted, because increases are permitted to reflect manufacturing and other costs. However, if you are not satisfied with his explanation, call your local Internal Revenue Service office.

I'm a small retailer doing less than $100,000 worth of business a year. I have a sign on the wall of my store telling customers that base price information is available. Isn't that enough to satisfy the posting requirement?

A. No. The base prices of your top 40 items or those products which accounted for 50 percent of your total dollar sales volume during the last fiscal year must be posted prominently in your store. (Retailers with sales of $100,000 or more a year must post these prices in each department and must post the base prices for food and food-related products.) The important thing to remember is that the base price list must be easily accessible to the customer and must not require him to ask a store employee for access to the information.

In addition to the above, all retailers must prominently display, on each floor of their establishments, at least one sign (minimum size 22" x 28") announcing the availability of base price information for all items that are not posted or required to be posted. Base Price Information Request Forms must be available in at least one location on each selling floor of the establishment and the retailer must respond in writing to such written requests within 48 hours after the request is received.

Q. Can a retailer post his base prices in book form?

A. Yes, as long as the book is prominently displayed.

Q. What constitutes a "department" as far as retail posting regulations are concerned?

A. A department is the organizational unit customarily treated by the seller as a department.

The American meat industry supplies about 202,000,000 people with a constant selection of nutritious meats. This supply is produced by about 2,200,000 cattlemen, about 1,000,000 hog producers and about 200,000 sheep producers.

your week ahead

BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period May 14 - May 21, 1972

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
 If you can't get the whole - settle for half. It seems as though you want more than permitted by your associates. Incidentally, your spirits will dip; no cause or effect will be involved.

TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20
 There's overtures coming your way from someone who has secret designs. Depending on your marital status, of course, it's soft lights and sweet music for Taurus.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20
 Apparently, you are going to seize the opportunity to express yourself. Many members of your sign will air a grievance, during this cosmic cycle.

MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22
 According to your chart, you will be looked upon as being someone who holds most of the answers. In other words, it's no big thing - but you will be sought out by someone who needs help.

LEO July 23 - Aug. 22
 Leo, this happens to be one of those periods when you will have a certain way with people - your own way! According to stellar patterns, you'll soar above petty annoyances.

VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22
 See to it that a member of the opposite sex doesn't interfere with your daily routine. One other thing, it's important: A relative, friend or associate will put upcoming rumors in proper perspective.

LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
 Grit your teeth, Libra! After a string of losers, the law of probability is bound to be on your side. So, you'll face a few dark, but, not disastrous hours.

SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
 Many members of your sign will recruit allies and enlist the aid of friends. Which is another way of saying: Your projects, task or mission might lag during the present cosmic cycle - seek help.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21
 Beware! Lies, a hoax, affairs of secret order, intrigues and confusion have crept into a group to which you belong. Postpone activities that involve a crowd.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19
 Problems concerning your job, task or mission are indicated. The point? An associate's remark about your performance might upset you. So, paint your feelings with iodine and keep going.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
 Take care, some members of your sign will be trading off their tomorrows for today. Also, it's possible that a trip down memory lane will occur - with thoughts of an old flame.

PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
 During this cosmic cycle, once you have made up your mind - anybody can change. In other words, stand by your convictions - you are in for misguidance that comes from an associate.

Track Team Has Troubles Saturday in Cardinal Relays

Chelsea High school track team traveled to the Invitational Cardinal Relays Saturday, May 6 to compete in section I against other large enrollment Class B schools in the area.
 As last year's runners-up, this year's showing must have been rather disappointing for the team. They were able to enter only six of 12 relay events, winning three for a total of 16 points. However, this did not come close to Mason's winning total of 28 or Jackson Lumen Christi's 27 1/2. Chelsea's final standing in the meet has not yet been officially compiled.

The shot put relay team of Randy Seitz, Ishmael Picklesimer and Marty Cashdollar won first-place honors with a combined distance of 132'4".

The high jump team of Roger Fitch, 6', Bill Tite, 5'10", and Rick Sweeney, 5'9", won the event with a combined 17'4".

A new meet record of 6:02.8 was set in the intermediate relay. This event is determined by the combined times of four races, two 880-yd. runs and two 440's. Jeff Marshall ran the first 220 and Dave Busan ran the second. Lee Peterson and Marty Cashdollar ran the two 400-yd. legs.

The 880-yd. relay team of Carl Gauss, Craig Coltre, Dale Posner, and Ishmael Picklesimer added the final points to the Chelsea total with a fourth-place finish.

Shirley Burgoyne Announces Candidacy for Circuit Judgeship

Shirley Burgoyne announced today that she will seek election as one of the two judges on the Circuit Court for Washtenaw county to be selected at the November general election.

In her announcement Mrs. Burgoyne stated "I would like to see improvement in the relationship between the courts, society and the individuals involved and to work towards specific changes in the administration of our courts to reduce delay and increase efficiency. Mrs. Burgoyne is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School. She is a member of the Michigan Bar Association, Washtenaw County Bar Association, American Bar Association, American Trial Lawyers Association, American Judicature Society, Children's Charter of the Courts of Michigan, and an associate member of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges.

Mrs. Burgoyne has been engaged in both civil and criminal cases at both trial and appellate level. She currently represents the Michigan Co-ordinating Committee for Abortion Reform in defending a case in the Michigan Court of Appeals in which the plaintiffs are attempting to keep the abortion issue off the ballot next November.

In addition to being engaged in the full time practice of law, Mrs. Burgoyne, who lives at 746 Greenhills Dr., Ann Arbor, with her three children, is the coach of the Greenhills School Debate Team, a member of the Michigan Women's Commission, member of the Michigan Speech Coaches Association, member of the Michigan Council for the Study of Abortion, president of the Ann Arbor Republican Women's Club, member of the American Association of University Women, and member of the First Presbyterian church in Ann Arbor.

Kiwanis Club Officers Trade With Sturgis

Monday night was exchange night for local Kiwanians with a delegation from Sturgis headed by President Ray Carpenter attending the meeting. A six-man delegation from Chelsea reciprocated the visit Wednesday night at the Sturgis chapter.

Those who traveled to Sturgis are: George Staffan, president; Louis Burghardt, first vice-president; Charles Cox, second vice-president; Jack Fowler, secretary; Wallace Wood, chairman of public and business affairs; and Don Turner who presented a travelogue to the assembly entitled: "Fishing in Alaska."

Featured speaker for the Monday night meeting in Chelsea was Dale Fast, formerly of the Michigan Milk Producers and now employed as executive director of the St. Joseph County Soil Conservation and Planning Department.

His presentation, "A View from the Other Side of the Fence," dealt mainly with available farm subsidies in relation to subsidies other agencies are eligible to receive. He pointed out that milk and low cost food programs in the schools are both supported by farmers and also that America has never had a food shortage. In fact, there is currently at least a 4 percent food surplus in the United States.

He mentioned that a Khrushchev political promise in the 1960's was an "egg a day" for every citizen which seems almost laughable to Americans who are able to buy any food commodities they wish. He maintained that Americans don't realize how good they have it and tend to take food production and farmers for granted. Should the surplus condition in the U.S. be reversed and food become even slightly less plentiful, market prices would soar.

Farming has become a big business in the United States. The day is long since past when a man could farm 40 acres and make a comfortable living. The trend is towards huge farms run by managers and owned by absentee landlords. The small farmer must often hold another full-time job and yet he is not eligible for relief programs that are regularly offered other working bodies. Striking unionists are eligible for food stamps and other relief programs which means, of course, that consumers are indirectly subsidizing their strikes, yet farmers have no such programs on which to fall back.

Fast did not advocate the allocation of more money, but rather, changes in priorities and channeling of funds precisely because farming has become big business in the U.S.

He pointed out as an example that the price of ingredients for corn flakes has risen only slightly per pound over the last several years but market prices of the finished product have risen drastically because of huge profits made by the middleman who packages and distributes the product. A similar circumstance affects cattlemen who make little profit on their herds in this age of soaring costs, yet meat prices are higher than ever. The rising prices, according to Fast, reflect the sharp ly increased labor costs in processing and packaging.

In his opinion, the plastic packaging of meat and the extravagant packaging of other food stuffs is ridiculous as it only adds to the cost and is quickly discarded by the consumer.

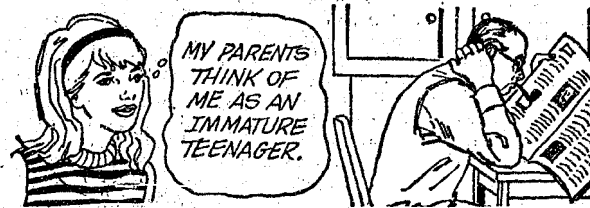

He believes a reordering must take place to insure the farmer's place in the American economy. A shift is needed to return a higher percentage of the profits to the farmer who produces the product to begin with rather than to middlemen who raise prices with their handling and distribution.

As a sideline to his main theme, Fast advocated establishing caloric food content controls on all food products so that the consumer would know exactly what the nutritional value is of the food he purchases.

He recounted a humorous anecdote of a university which conducted a study of nutritional values, feeding one group of rats the contents of a certain product and the other test group the boxes. You'll never guess which group received the greater nutritional value from its diet.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER:

My parents are my biggest problem. There are four children counting myself, and I've got the most responsibilities since I'm the oldest. My mother works me at home so much that sometimes I can't get my homework done. My parents think of me as an immature and unreliable teenager. I've tried so hard, but they don't show interest. I want our family life to be a happy one. It's got me so nervous I can't study in school and I have no self-confidence in myself. They don't like any of my boyfriends and they won't let me date at my present age of 15. I would like some advice to show my parents that I'm not an unreliable teenager.

OUR REPLY: One of the main signs of maturity is the ability to meet problems logically and to compromise. We feel that you should sit down with your parents and have a serious discussion. You should be allowed time to do your schoolwork. Your mother may need your help, but she should realize after you have worked out this first difficulty you can go on to discuss the other differences at a later date. If you approach the situation this way, you'll find that your parents will respect you more and you'll respect them more. Good luck!

ize that you have obligations to fulfill at school, such as completing assignments. If you use this as your first discussion, your parents should respond and realize that you are really growing up.

For quick salads, look to lettuce wedges, slices tomatoes or canned fruit with cottage cheese.

USDA Proposes New Regulations For Bacon Packing

Consumers will be able to see the full width of a slice of bacon under a proposed regulation of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The proposal will require windowed packages of sliced bacon to show the full width and at least 70 percent of the length of a representative strip of bacon.

"This proposed change has come about in response to repeated consumer complaints about bacon packages with windows which show only a small, non-representative section of each slice," Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng, announced. "We have worked together with Mrs. Virginia Knauer, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, as we drafted this regulation which will, we believe, improve bacon packaging," Lyng said.

If the proposal is adopted, bacon packagers would have six months to exhaust their stocks of present packages and to adjust their packaging processes before required to meet the new requirements.

Copies of the proposal, which were published in the Federal Register on April 21, are available from the Meat and Poultry Inspection Administrative Management Staff, APHIS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Comments should be sent in duplicate by June 20 to the Hearing Clerk, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250. Anyone wishing to present their comments orally should contact the Standards and Services Division, APHIS, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250, so that arrangements may be made for presentation of their views before the deadline. Oven Roasting Bags Handy But Need Care

Oven roasting bags and wraps can be a convenience if homemakers take precautions to avoid soot-terring and possible grease fires, says Helen Fairman of Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service.

When meat juices start to boil under a layer of floating fat, they are likely to bubble through the fat with some force, she explains. This causes the little "explosions" that splatter your oven walls. When meat is encased in a roasting bag or film, these explosions might be strong enough to burst the covering.

Roasting bags can be made as safe and handy as they promise, provided you carefully follow instructions on the wrapper, Helen Fairman says. And follow these steps, too:

- Put a ready-prepared seasoning mix, or a tablespoon of flour, inside the bag and shake until the bag is coated. This ensures even boiling of the juices.
- Use a pan large enough to contain the entire bag and, deep enough to hold all liquid that might be released during cooking.
- Make six half-inch slits in the top of the bag to allow steam to escape. Use string to close the bag rather than twist ties because the metal wire in the ties may tear the roasting bag.
- If a fire occurs in the oven, turn off the heat and keep the oven door closed. This deprives the fire of oxygen.

For an attractive and easy platter garnish for a spring ham, drain canned pineapple, peaches or pears, arrange on a baking sheet and heat in the oven while the ham is waiting to be carved. Sprinkle with spices, or brush fruit with melted jelly, if desired, or spoon a bit of jelly into the center of peach or pear halves.

Cream cheese originated in America. Neufchatel, its French texture but may contain less butter fat. Cheddar cheese is named for the village of Cheddar in England where it originated.

Tornado Safety Precautions

The sight of an oncoming tornado can be a terrifying experience, however, there are a few simple precautions that may help an individual weather its tremendously destructive force.

Elwyn Beach, director of Chelsea's Zone 6 Civil Defense team, defines a "twister" as a rapidly spinning funnel-shaped cloud which extends from the base of a thundercloud down to the earth. They are most likely to occur from noon to midnight, passing quickly over an area from the southwest to the northeast.

During tornado weather Beach advises people to stay tuned to their local radio or television stations for current tornado sightings in the area. A "Tornado Watch" indicates the possibility of a storm and tornado in a particular area whereas a "Tornado Warning" means a twister has been sighted and people should take shelter.

Of course, the first rule of thumb in any crisis situation is to remain calm. The person who keeps a cool head during a tornado will best be able to protect himself against its deadly winds.

If a person is at home when a tornado is reported it is advisable to open a few windows on the northeast side to equalize the tremendous pressure against the house, take shelter in a corner of the cellar or lie under a heavy table, desk, or bed, or else, stay against the inside walls in the center of the house.

If a person is caught away from home he should immediately seek shelter in a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building.

If an individual is caught outside in an open area he should travel at a right angle to the path of the funnel or lie flat in a ditch and protect his head.

One final bit of advice offered by Beach is that one should not stay in his car, trailer, or mobile home during a tornado. They are too easily picked up and destroyed. Nor should one seek shelter in buildings with wide span roofs which might easily collapse.

Track Team Squeaks Past S. Lyon, Dominate Triangular

Chelsea High school track men won another squeaker Thursday, May 4, this time over South Lyon, 62-61, for their second one-point margin victory of the season. On April 20 the Bulldogs defeated Lincoln by an identical score.

South Lyon swept the high hurdles and Chelsea the shot put and the relay events to keep the meet even down to the wire.

Randy Seitz led the way in the shot put with a heave of 48'10½" with Ishmael Picklesimer second with a 41'5½" effort and Marty Casdollar taking third to complete the sweep.

In other field events, Bill Tite won the high jump with 5'10" and Tim Lancaster the pole vault with a vault of 12'4". Dan Hoover finished second behind Lancaster in the pole vault, posting an 11'8" height and Craig Coltre took a third in the long jump with an 18'5½" effort.

Jeff Marshall and Jeff VanRiper ran one-two in the 880-yd. run with times of 2:12.6 and 2:17.5, respectively. Dave Buxton won the mile in a time of 4:44.9 and Lee Ferguson finished third in the 100-yd. run.

The winning margin for the Bulldogs came as they dominated the relays. The team of Karl Gauss, Casdollar, Ferguson and Dan Bertke won the 880-yd. relay in a time of 1:37.5 while Hoover, VanRiper, Buxton, and Marshall won the mile relay in 3:43.6. The 440-yd. relay team of Casdollar, Gauss, Ferguson and Lancaster completed the sweep in 4:48.5.

Chelsea is now 5-1 in conference standings.

Chelsea High school track team had no trouble with Jackson North West or Pinckney in a non-league triangular encounter Tuesday, May 9. The Bulldogs again swept the shot put and the relays to coast to an 80-point total to Jackson's 48 and Pinckney's 28.

Randy Seitz, Ishmael Picklesimer, and Marty Casdollar finished 1-2-3 in the shot put with Seitz's 45'7¾" taking top honors.

Sopomore Craig Coltre had a field day, winning three events, which included double victories in the two hurdle events. A consistent performer in the hurdles all season, he won the 120-yd. highs with a time of 1:16.9 and the 160-yd. lows in 2:18. His third victory came in the long jump with an effort of 18'3¾". Teammate Lee Ferguson finished third in the event.

Chelsea nearly swept the pole vault, taking first, second, and fourth. Tim Lancaster set the pace with his first-place height of 11'6" with Dan Hoover claiming second and Don Pierson taking the fourth place points which are awarded in triangular meets.

Roger Eitch took a first-place in the high jump with a leap of 5'10" with Bill Tite finishing third.

Chelsea took two seconds in the shorter dashes with Casdollar placing in the 100 with a time of 10.6 and Karl Gauss in the 220 with 24.1.

Dan Hoover and Lee Ferguson ran 1-2 in the 440 with Hoover's time of 56.1 enough for first-place points. Jeff Marshall claimed second in the 880-yd. run with a time of 2:12.2.

It must be monotonous by now, but Dave Buxton again won the mile run with a time of 4:49.5. Casdollar, Gauss, Ferguson, and Lancaster won the 440-yd. relay in a time of 4:47. Dan Hoover replaced Lancaster in this winning team to take the 880 relay with a time of 1:39.1. The mile relay team of Dan Bertke, Coltre, Jeff VanRiper and Buxton won with a time of 3:46 to complete the Bulldog sweep of the relays.

Chelsea trackmen will next compete in the regional meet to be held at Michigan Center on Saturday, May 13, followed by a make-up meet with Dexter, Monday, May 15.
