Chest Board Sets $27,000 Campaign Goal

Chelsea Community Chest board members have announced a $27,000 goal for the 1972 campaign, to be held this October.

This goal is a new high in the history of the Community Chest. Totals of the previous three years were $24,225, $24,850, and $25,007.

If this goal is reached, contributions to the member agencies will be as follows: Salvation Army, $1,000; Chelsea Social Services, $2,000; Catholic Social Services, $1,000; Girl Scouts, $2,500; Boy Scouts, $3,500; Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children, $350; Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, $300; Child and Family Service, $500; Chelsea Band, $400; Chelsea Recreation Council, $6,000; American Red Cross, $4,000; and the Michigan United Fund, $4,487.

The Chelsea Band will lose $500, and the United Fund will lose $37 from last year's totals to these agencies.

Division chairman for this year's campaign were named. They are as follows: Conrad Hafner, industrial division; Paul Frisinger, commercial division; Mrs. Timothy (Pat) Whitesall, general campaign chairman; Jeanene Riemen-schneider, residential division; Barbara Wenk, schools division; Mar-ketta Satterthwaite, rural division; and Peter Flintoff, professional division.

Community Chest Funds Distributed

The Chelsea Community Chest has distributed checks for the amounts pledged to member agencies from funds collected during the past year in the 1971-72 campaign. The distribution of checks was one item on the agenda at the regular board meeting held Wednesday, Aug. 16.

Checks were distributed to the following agencies: the Salvation Army, $1,000; Chelsea Social Services, $2,000; Catholic Social Services, $1,000; Girl Scouts, $2,500; Boy Scouts, $3,500; Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children, $350; Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, $300; Child and Family Service, $500; Chelsea Band, $400; Chelsea Recreation Council, $6,000; American Red Cross, $4,000; and the Michigan United Fund, $4,487.

Total of the checks was $26,007, which was last year's campaign goal. Board members add that this does not mean that anyone should stop paying on a current pledge, as it needs contributions so that the annual income will meet annual expenses.

The board also announced that each agency received extra funds during the year when a surplus was determined in the treasury from previous collections. The Red Cross also received an additional $500 to aid flood victims.

The board approved a special (Continued on page eight)

Baseball Field Has New Infield Lights

Chelsea Recreation Council which has worked to provide better recreation opportunities for the community, has completed another project under the joint agreement between the Village Council and the Chelsea School Board.

The local baseball field is now sporting new infield lights similar to the lights placed at the football field a few years ago by the Kiwanis Club. As funds become available in the future, the outfield lights will be replaced, giving Chelsea a softball diamond second to none.

The Chelsea Recreation Council wishes to express its appreciation to the individuals and groups for their donations of equipment and labor free of charge: Earl Heller of Heller Electric, and his crew, for ordering and helping to install the lights, the men at the village light & water department who donated their time after regular working hours to install the lights, and finally to the Michigan Electric Co., which donated their equipment to help with the project.

St. Mary School Leased for Use By Kindergartners

One hundred seventy-five Chelsea kindergartners will have a school all to themselves this fall as a result of the Board of Education's decision to lease four classrooms, the office, and the gymnasium of St. Mary's school.

The students will also have use of the playground.

The board approved the action Monday, Aug. 7, at a cost of $6,500 for a one-year period.

The school will be equipped with four teachers and all the kindergarten apparatus now contained in the North and South Elementary schools. The office staff is undetermined at this time.

"Children who would attend North school will meet at the school and be bused to school so they won't have to cross the railroad tracks," said school Business Manager Fred Mills. "The children who would normally attend South school will walk to the St. Mary's building."

St. Mary's parish will use the school building for religious instruction after school hours and on week-ends.

As an extra attraction for the Chelsea Community Fair, Hattie Brown will sing and play the guitar Saturday, Aug. 26, at 9 p.m.

Pair of Armed Robbers Hit Shell Station

The Chelsea Shell service station, 1630 M-52, was again the victim of an armed robbery on Saturday, Aug. 12, at 4:55 a.m.

Patrolman Robert Browning arrived at the station at 5:05 a.m. and was met by Robert Elliott and Dean Schoenberg, attendants, and Charles Emerich of the Sylvan Hotel, who found them.

The attendants stated that at approximately 4:50 a.m. two suspects, both Negro males, 18-22 years old, with medium Afro haircuts and clean shaven, came off eastbound I-94, drove into Schumm's, and then drove behind the station, where they got themselves a cup of coffee.

The suspects, one 5'9" and wearing a green knit shirt and brown pants and the other 6' and wearing a red knit shirt and brown pants, were driving a 1961 or 1962 dark green four-door Cadillac.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The House of Representatives has just approved major environmental legislation to protect the coastal areas of the nation. Michigan with over 2,200 miles of shoreline is vitally concerned with the effort to protect and preserve this great national resource.

Over 65 percent of the people of this nation live within the coastal zones. The coastal areas have become vital areas of recreation and enjoyment. At the same time, they are important to the economic well being of the nation as hundreds of industries have sprung up along the shores providing jobs.

There is an inherent conflict between the interests of the economic development and of environmental preservation of these areas. We have, at long last, come to realize that this conflict must be planned and overall management. The Coastal Zone Management Bill creates such a planning system.

There are presently a myriad of overlapping local state and federal laws regulating development in coastal areas. Frequently those laws are in conflict with one another. There has been almost no over-all co-ordination so that a decision to create a park and recreation area in one community may not be destroyed by a decision in a neighboring community to allow an industrial development which would seriously pollute the water in the recreation area nearby.

This legislation authorizes $145 million over the next three years and brings all the planning under the oversight of the Department of the Interior. The primary planning role would be undertaken by the states with coordination between the states and technical assistance from the federal government.

I was particularly pleased that this legislation contains a recommendation which I made more than 18 months ago—the establishment of protected estuary sanctuaries for scientific research and wildlife preservation. If we are to plan intelligently for the overall use of our coastal areas, it is essential that we have full scientific understanding of the effect any changes will have on the overall environment.

Michigan was uniquely blessed with great water resources. It has, however, seen what happens when over-all planning is not enforced. Lake Erie is almost dead. Lake Michigan is dying. Lake Huron is in trouble. Few states in the union have as much to gain as Michigan from the intelligent management of our water and coastal areas. This bill is a major step in that direction.

Radio WKAR Celebrating 50th Year

East Lansing—Michigan's first educational radio station, celebrated its golden anniversary Aug. 18.

WKAR, Michigan State University's radio station, received its license on that date in 1922, becoming only the fourth radio station in the state.

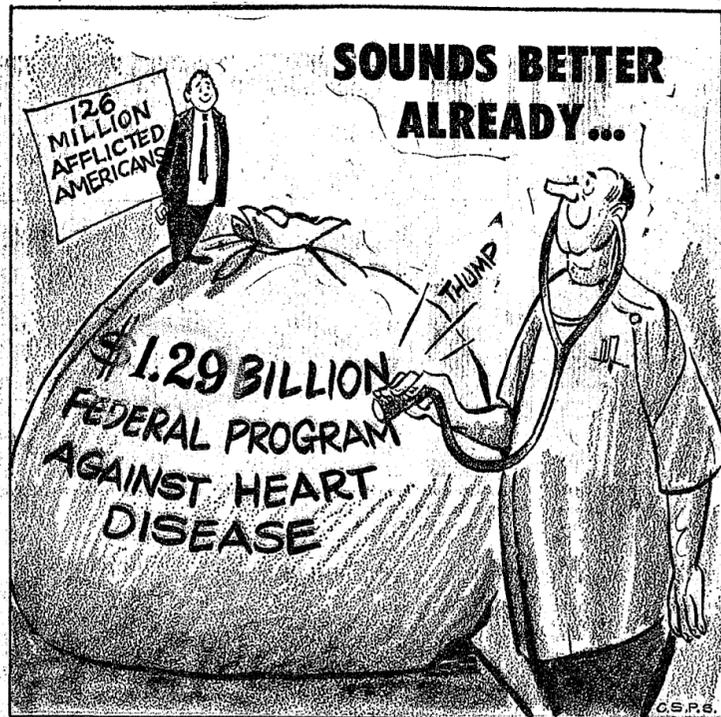

The station evolved from an un-station, 8YG, which broadcast the official, unregulated student-run first play by play of a college sports event in January of 1922—a basketball game between Michigan Agricultural College (now MSU) and Mt. Pleasant Normal School (now Central Michigan University).

Today, WKAR-AM and FM can be heard by more than seven million of the state's population. The AM schedule includes 80 percent news, education, agriculture and public affairs and 20 percent music. WKAR-FM devotes 70 percent of its air time to fine arts programming, 12 percent to light entertainment, and 18 percent to news and public affairs.

Poisonous Spider Peril Exaggerated

East Lansing—Rumors of poisonous spiders in Michigan, like the reports of Mark Twain's death, have been greatly exaggerated. According to Michigan State University entomologist Dr. Richard J. Sauer, the only known harmful spider in the state is the Northern Widow. If extremely provoked, the female of this nocturnal species may inflict a painful bite that is rarely, if ever, fatal. The bite of the male is harmless.

GOLD HISTORY
The amount of gold hoarded by ancient civilizations probably totaled not much more than the output of the Witwatersrand district of South Africa in a single year.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Issues Abound
The participatory democracy concept is having one of its brightest moments in Michigan this year.

Michigan voters, in addition to all the usual offices they vote for, have petitioned for four different proposals onto the November ballot for a final decision by the electorate. Each one is an attempt to do something the Legislature could not reach agreement or an attempt to override the Legislature.

The four proposal vote becomes even more fascinating when it is known that less than one-third of the states even allow their citizenry access to the ballot through the petition route.

Most recent arrivals to the ballot are two proposals contained in a joint petition drive launched by Gov. William G. Milliken and the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

The first of these would virtually wipe out the property tax as a means of financing schools. The second would allow the legislature to levy a graduated state income tax rather than the flat rate tax it now levies on personal income.

The joint petition drive was launched following the failure of efforts to achieve some sort of legislative agreement on property tax relief. Milliken has been working since 1969 to find some sort of program which both Republicans and Democrats could buy but to no avail. He finally decided to go over the legislature to the people to see if they would approve his program.

The Governor calls the proposal for property tax relief "the single most important state-wide issue for Michigan voters and taxpayers in November—a means of assuring quality and equality in the education of our children."

Probably the most controversial item is abortion law reform which also was put on the ballot through the petition route.

The proposal would give Michigan one of the most liberal abortion laws in the country. It would permit a woman to have an abortion for any reason during the first 20 weeks of her pregnancy. Current Michigan law allows an abortion only to save the life of the mother.

The abortion petition drive also began as the result of legislative inaction and stalemate. An abortion liberalization bill passed the Senate in early 1971, but never got anywhere in the House, due mainly to the fervent opposition of House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit.

When it became obvious the House would never approve an abortion bill, the petition drive was launched.

The final item petitioned onto the ballot by the people deals with time (DST). It is the latest step in a series of actions which have been taken in Michigan on a sometimes controversial issue.

Michigan, along with three other states, originally exempted itself from the uniform time law passed by Congress which calls for observance of DST unless the state specifically exempts itself. The exemption, originally voted by the legislature, was upheld in a 1968 state-wide vote by a margin of less than 500 votes.

Backers of DST soon went the petition route again and were able to put together the signatures needed to put the issue on the ballot once more.

In addition to the four petition proposals, one proposal from the legislature will be on the ballot. That calls for a $266 million bonding program to finance a combination bonus-educational aid program for Michigan's Vietnam Era veterans.

The veteran's proposal was put on the ballot by the legislature when a sudden agreement was reached in late 1971 between the state and the veterans.

Along with the issues which made the ballot were three which made a try but couldn't get the signatures they needed.

The most far-reaching of these would have given Michigan a one-current two-house setup.

The drive was launched in 1971 and appeared for a while as if it might really take off, especially when the legislature dawdled through the summer of 1971 without accomplishing much on the budget. But it never was able to develop the money or the organization it needed, due in part to the fact no pressure group working with the current legislature wanted to be identified with a drive which would cut a lot of legislators' out of jobs.

A proposal to legalize possession of marijuana died on the vine, too. Backers of the drive made a late start and also lacked the organization and money needed to collect the 200,000 or 300,000 signatures needed to put a proposal on the ballot.

The final issue not on the ballot was a drive to give the people, rather than a state commission, the power to set legislative salaries. People behind the drive felt Michigan legislators are overpaid for the work they turn in.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR...

Sometime it looks like the framework of America is coming unglued and they ain't nothing we can do to put it together again. That was the feeling I got, Mister Editor, after listening to the fellows at the country store Saturday night. I am convinced that what this country needs is somebody to figger out what this country needs, cause we can't come up with the answers the way we're going.

For instance, Ed Doolittle reported where the federal government is studying how to provide national health insurance that would cost ever family $1,000 a year. This plan would give the family the same benefits they can get now from private companies for $400 a year. Ed said a feller that can see the benefits in that probable can see why, after 200 years as a public service, the post office now is supposed to be a profit-making outfit.

There don't seem to be no solid ground anymore, went on Ed. He said laws that has been on the books in this country for 100 year sudden ain't fit to use. Ed said he was full agreed with the senator that said most of the rulings handed down by the courts in this country is "perfecting the wolf from Little Red Riding Hood." The idea of right and wrong ain't changing, declared Ed, but the courts is. The rights of the criminals now is give more guarantees than the rights of the victims, was Ed's words.

Bug Hookum recalled the discussion the other week about airplanes hijacking, and he said it had been on his mind. He said he first figured the remedy was to have everybody go naked on the planes, but, like Ed said, that would be taking away everybody's right to wear clothes. Bug said the best deal would be to have two hijackers on the same plane wanting to go to different places, then they could shoot one another.

jest in overtime, like he saw in this magazine piece. The preacher said he ain't accusing nobody of shoddy work, but he said this feller in his church had a new house, and he was putting the cat in the basement at night and letting her out of the attic in the morning.

Personal, Mister Editor, I find it hard to find hope, but it's still there. I see where this college student took a shower for 169 hours to set a new record, so I know there's at least one clean youngun left. And this feller in Illinois that runs a railroad with 20 miles of track gives me hope. He says he ain't as long as the Santa Fe, but he's jest as wide.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

New Yearbook Of Agriculture Has Answers

Whether you're one of the estimated 80 million people who garden as a hobby in the United States, or whether you're one of the environmentally concerned persons who has discovered gardening as a way of improving and enhancing your own personal environment, you'll welcome the recent release of Landscaping for Living, the 1972 Yearbook of Agriculture.

Just in time for fall planting, this 416-page hardbound book can give you tips on how to garden better and how to improve your surroundings with plants. How-to-do-it chapters cover shrubs, perennials, annuals, lawns, vegetables, fruits, herbs, plant propagation, greenhouses, fertilizing, mulching, and composting. Other chapters deal with container gardening, landscaping limited areas, ground covers, minimum care plantings.

Are you worried about visual pollution? Want to know how to use plants as climate changers? Interested in urban landscaping? Like to rent a garden? The new book can answer all of your questions. It will also tell you about "plants in action" — plants helping raise the spirits of inner city residents, teaching youth about the environment, aiding the handicapped, and providing new vistas for senior citizens.

Copies of Landscaping for Living, the 1972 Yearbook of Agriculture, are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402 for $3.50 each.

Armed Robbery

The men asked to see the attendants' stereo tapes, and as they began to show them, both men pulled two snub-nosed blue steel revolvers and announced a hold-up. The attendants told the suspects that they had no money, but when threatened with the guns, went to the back room where the till was hidden to start the day shift.

The attendants report that one of the suspects tied them up and the other one cleaned out the till. The men took $100 from the till, the attendants said, and $3 from Schoenberg and $19 from Elliott, $11 of his own and $8 belonging to the station.

The two reported that they were tied from 5 to 10 minutes before being discovered. The suspects reportedly used rags so as to leave no prints.

Michigan Peaches Are Scarce

Don't hold out for home-grown peaches this year, cautions a Michigan State University consumer marketing information agent.

"Southern peaches have arrived in Michigan markets," reports Miss Ada Shinabarger, "and prices are especially attractive at many supermarkets."

"Since 80 percent of Michigan's peach crop was a victim of the weather, peach lovers should probably act now."

"When selecting peaches, look for plump, smooth skinned fruit. The color underneath should be creamy white or yellow, blushed with red. Most southern varieties have much less blush than many of the Michigan varieties.

Kiwanis Club Travel Series Announced

Chelsea Kiwanis club has announced its program for its 12th series of "Travel and Adventure" films.

Each of the films will be shown at 8 p.m. at the Chelsea High school auditorium. All proceeds from the series are used to expand the community-area projects of the Kiwanis club.

Leading off the series will be Thayer Soule, who will present "I Love Mexico" on Saturday, Oct. 21. Soule will take the viewers to Mexico City and other parts of the country, and reveal the variety of the land—the seascapes, tropical jungles, mountains, and deserts.

Robert Brouwer will present "Rio Colorado" Saturday, Nov. 18. This film will trace the river from its source, and glimpse the sights and sounds that surround it.

"Norwegian Panoramas," by Joe Adair, on Saturday, Jan. 13, will feature the fragrant fjords of springtime Norway, just the antidote for the mid-winter blues.

Romantic Spain, with its strange mixture of the old and the new will be the subject of Walter S. Dodson's "Serenade to Spain," Saturday, Feb. 17.

Viewers will travel by boat and bicycle with Stan Midgley Saturday, March 17, in "British Columbia Chucklelog."

James Metcalf will round out the series with "Washington, D. C.," on Saturday, April 14. Metcalf and viewers will tour the most influential city in the U. S., a city where government is the prime business. He investigates the sights that have made Washington the shrine of America's heritage.

Some of the projects that will be aided by the proceeds of the series are Boy Scouts, Interlochen scholarships, Boys' State sponsor, Emergency Aid, Student citizenship program, Athletic field lighting, Kids Halloween party, Farmers' Night, Octogenarian program, Kids' Day at the Chelsea Community Fair, and co-sponsor of the 4th of July fireworks display.

Tickets may be purchased from any Kiwanian or at Chelsea Drug, Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea State Bank, Foster's Men's Wear, Gambles, Heller Electric, Heydlauff's Appliances, Kuster's Grocery, Merkel Bros., Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Palmer Motor Sales, Village Motor Sales, Wallace Wood Insurance, and Western Auto Store.

The program was arranged through Ralph Windoes Travelogues, Inc., of Grand Rapids. For further information, phone 475-5341.

Light Wine Sales Up
 Lansing—Sale of light wines in Michigan totaled 5,240,262 gallons during the first six months of this year, up 11.6 percent compared to the same period last year, Michigan Commerce Department's Liquor Control Commission reports. Light wines are table and dessert wines that have an alcoholic content of less than 16 percent.

County Library Open House Scheduled Today, Aug. 24

The Washtenaw County Library will soon join with a growing number of other libraries over the United States which provide special services for those with visual handicaps or those whose physical impairments prevent their management of reading materials.

Persons who have lost the use of their arms or hands through accidents, strokes, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, or other crippling diseases are not forgotten in today's libraries.

Four Dexter residents have already inquired about the new service, says Mrs. Katherine McKillen, librarian of the Dexter District Library. She adds that although the new materials will be available only at the Washtenaw County Library, the Dexter Library will be happy to assist patrons in any way possible.

The designation of the Washtenaw County Library as the sub-regional agency for the Michigan State Library will become official today, Aug. 24, when an Open House will be held at the County Library from 1 to 4 p.m. with a program at 3.

The Michigan State Library was a pioneer in service to the blind and handicapped when it began providing this service in 1928. It was not until 1931 that Congress passed the Pratt-Smoot Act which authorized the Library of Congress to establish such a service, and to set up regional centers in each of the then 48 states. Until 1968, the emphasis was on the blind, but in that year the law was amended to include anyone unable to read ordinary printed materials because of physical or visual limitations. This latest action also authorized the establishment of subregionals to place these materials plus the machines on which to play them within easy reach of the persons desiring to use them.

Approximately 172 blind and physically handicapped persons in Washtenaw and Livingston counties are receiving reading materials from the Michigan State Library. It is not presently known just how many eligible persons in the two-county area would make use of the service were it more convenient, but at least 25 new patrons have been added within the past few weeks. The subregional hopes to double the present number of users by next year.

In preparation for the beginning of the special service, Mrs. Ruth Marshall, Community Services Librarian, has been busy for several weeks. Efforts have been made to contact social workers, school officials, church groups, service organizations, hospital volunteers and others who have been urged to put eligible persons in direct contact with the library. A special section of the library has been set aside for those who visit the library. Over 900 titles of talk-in books and about 500 titles in the large print collection have been assembled.

A talking book is simply a recording which has been made to be played on a simply designed machine which can be easily manipulated. The machines and records are available free of charge. Even the mailing is free so there is no expense to the reader. A catalog of available titles is used to assist the reader in making his selections and with the new subregional library, needed help is as close as the telephone.

ice is necessary, Lawrence B. Daventport, library director, points out that this is not as obstructive as it may seem on the surface. The visiting librarian, a member of the family, a member of the medical profession or a teacher may assist the patron and certify their need for the service.

All patrons and interested persons are invited and urged to attend the Open House on Aug. 24, at the Washtenaw County Library located at 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor.

Proctor - Sweet Vows Spoken in Jackson Church

Calvary Methodist church in Jackson was the setting for the marriage of Mrs. Jeanette Proctor and Michael Sweet Saturday, Aug. 19. The Rev. Wilbur Silvernail officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Delphine Erickson of Chelsea. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sweet of Stockbridge.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her son, David Proctor. Dave Sweet, brother of the bridegroom, seated guests.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the couple's home on S. Main St. Mrs. Stanley Hoard, sister of the bridegroom, cut the cake, and Mrs. Dave Sweet, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served the punch.

Miller Reunion Draws 92 Relatives

Ninety-two kissing cousins signed the register for the 47th annual Miller reunion, held Sunday, Aug. 20 at Karel Hall, 4-H Building, in Charlotte.

Those attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Mao Packard and Miss Nadine Packard, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Boyer and four children, Mrs. Jack Collins and children, Mrs. Roy Greenleaf and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. Guest and daughter, Fremont Boyer and children from Baldwin, and hosts Mr. and Mrs. John Chaplin and family, formerly of Chelsea.

Approximately 30 family members attended breakfast as well as dinner, making it an all-day affair for some.

After dinner, a lengthy and interesting program was performed. Members voted to hold the 48th reunion at the same place on the third Sunday in June.

Mrs. Packard resigned as secretary after seven years, and Mrs. Susan Thompson (Chaplin) accepted the job.

Two of the remaining Miller family were present from Hillman, leaving home at 5:30 a.m. to be present for the affair.

Baseball and reminiscing followed dinner. Most of the relatives attending from Chelsea are fourth and fifth generations of the founders, David and Laura Miller of Caton county, in 1926.

W. Gochanours Enjoy Circle Trip Around Lake Superior

Highlights of the trip were many, including the Centennial at Baldwin, where their grandchildren, Christine and Matthew Boyer, marched in the parade as playing members of "Alley Cats" band of the Baldwin schools. One of the main features of the day was a sky jump by three parachutists, two of whom landed within a marked spot on the main street of Baldwin. The third parachutist landed about a block away, due to air currents he said. Another feature of the day was the band concert by the "Super Cats" of the Baldwin schools. These two bands have been participating in concerts and parades all summer long in various communities surrounding the Baldwin area.

After spending the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Fremont Boyer and family, the Gochanours left, going to the Soo and crossing over into Canada early Tuesday morning to begin their trip around Lake Superior, stopping at many points of interest along the way.

Of special interest was the "goose" at Wawa, weighing 4,000 lbs. and standing 30 ft. high. It was built to commemorate the opening of Highway 17 in 1960. Wawa is an Ojibwa Indian name meaning "Wild Goose."

White River, Canada, known as the coldest spot in Canada where the temperature at one time registered 72 degrees below zero, was also visited by the Gochanours. Many beautiful waterfalls were observed along the way as were many other beautiful and picturesque spots.

Another highlight of the trip Amethyst mine five miles off Highway 17. The trip back to the mine was an experience in itself, driving on a narrow, winding, ever-climbing dirt road until reaching the mine, and where sightseers were allowed to pick up all the amethyst they wished for a nominal fee.

The region, now known as Thunder Bay, was once the cities of Port Williams and Port Arthur. They amalgamated Jan. 1, 1970 and have a population of 111,492.

Some rain was encountered on the trip as well as some rather cold weather.

The trip was concluded by a visit to Grand Marais and another short visit with the Boyers at Baldwin.

This trip was especially interesting to Mrs. Gochanour, having previously taken the trip with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vicary, in August of 1961. Many changes having taken place. In '61 one had to make a reservation for a place to stay or one was just out of luck. Now there are many motels and camping facilities, restaurants, and gas stations. But when one sees a sign "Last chance for gas for 55 miles" one best take heed.

The Gochanours also found that the U.S. dollar is worth 87 cents in Canada. One is only allowed to take $20 worth of food into Canada. Above that a duty is charged. A U. S. citizen is allowed to purchase goods to the value of $100 per person, duty free, if remaining in Canada for a period of 48 hours or more. If remaining less than 48 hours purchases of only $10 is allowed.

Thought For Food

Have you tried consommé on the rocks? For a cooling first course, mix equal parts of consommé and apple juice and serve over ice cubes. The melting cubes will dilute to the desired potency. For another summer starter, chill cans of consommé thoroughly and serve jellied in bowls.

A constant summer diet of cold meals can dull a family's interest in dining. It's best to intersperse cold meals with hot ones. Although cold meat platters zoom in popularity when the sun is high and hot, an active family can yearn for a hot roast, stew or casserole dish. A good well-balanced diet, including meat, is just as important in the summer as any other season.

Stolen Pick-Up Truck Found in Allen Park

A 1966 Chevrolet pick-up belonging to Gary Ferry of 9700 Bee-man Rd., Grass Lake, was stolen some time between 6:45 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 9.

Ferry, who works at Central Fibre Products Co., stated that he left his pick-up parked on N. Main St. across from the Floyd Bridge Chevrolet agency.

His wife passed the area at 9:45 a.m. and noticed that the vehicle was not on the street. Her father told her that he had seen the vehicle at 3 p.m. in Mason, and was sure that it was the same vehicle because it was damaged on both sides and has a cracked windshield. The owner kept a key under the floor mat.

Police put out a LEIN reporting that someone had unlawfully driven away a motor vehicle, and at 6:15 the Allen Park Police Department contacted the Chelsea Police Department to report that they had recovered the vehicle, and that it was in their parking lot, ready for the owner. They believe that a Camp Waterloo escapee had taken the vehicle. Prints were found in the vehicle, and were forwarded to Lansing.

Char Powers Describes Life On Greek Tobacco Farm

Editor's Note: Our fourth letter from Charlene Powers is dated Aug. 10, and is postmarked Messolongi, Greece.

It's hard to imagine taking a shower under a hose—but it happens every day in Greece. My third host family in Messolongi doesn't have any indoor plumbing—like most homes in the village. Needless to say, the water is cold and you don't last for very long.

My family has a small tobacco farm of 15 acres. Harvesting tobacco lasts about two months, with the entire family working night and day.

My two host sisters would rise at 2 a.m. every morning to go to the fields and pick the green tobacco leaves. As soon as the sun rises, they raced to get the baskets full of produce home under the shade. We'd spend the rest of the day stringing the leaves on a five-foot string to be hung out to dry.

Most farmers arranged a plastic cover to put their tobacco under—when the leaves are dried in the shade it's of a better quality. Prices are good for their efforts. Market price is .35 drachmas per kilo—about $1.05 for two pounds of produce.

I visited the extension office in Messolongi. It's easy to notice the change from American offices. No one has a secretary, which means that the men all do their own paperwork. And typewriters are scarce. Most graphs, memos, etc., are all written out in longhand, which makes any progress very slow.

And to clip papers together, Greeks use straight pins instead of paper clips. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., but the Greeks work six days a week with only Sunday off. We've eaten dinner out every night for three weeks now. Meals are very reasonable here. A fish dinner with salad, bread, and a bottle of wine for two people will only cost a couple of dollars. And in the summer, all the restaurants serve meals outside; under the stars. Greeks never eat until 10 p.m. Tomorrow I go to Lamia for two weeks. The bus ride from here is five hours long—it's not really that far, but the roads are only gravel and it's very mountainous. Weather here has been hot—in the 100 plus degrees, but no humidity, so it's bearable, especially with the Greek habit of naps every afternoon!

Salvation Army Provides Many Services in Community

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles describing the functions and services to Chelsea by Community Chest member agencies.

The Salvation Army does more than march through town with its band. Located at 9 S. Park, Ypsilanti, the organization has a Red Shield store located at 105 E. Ann, Ann Arbor.

The Salvation Army offers many services to Chelsea citizens. It offers youth activities for recreation and character building. For the transient family or individual, the Salvation Army offers meals, clothing, and lodging.

The organization is active in family service activities. It provides food, clothing, and furniture, as well as caseworkers to aid families with their internal and external problems.

The Salvation Army sponsors League of Mercy, whose individuals visit shut-ins or the ill. It also works with senior citizens through the Chelsea Social Services.

At Easter, the Salvation Army also works with senior citizens through the Chelsea Social Services. At Christmas, it provides clothing to individuals for 40 families in Chelsea. The organization also provides other services for teens and up-

Radarange

made only by Amana.

Why spend hours cooking for the family and cleaning up afterwards? You shouldn't have to... not after spending a day in an office. And now there's no need to.

The Amana Radarange microwave oven lets you cook everything in a fraction of the normal time. Meals that used to take an hour take 15 minutes in the Radarange oven. You'll cut most cooking times by 75%, and defrost frozen foods in minutes.

But cooking is only half the battle. You have to clean up, and the Radarange oven makes that easy too. There's no heat to bake on cooking juices, so the oven wipes clean with a damp cloth. And you cook on paper or glass—right on your dinnerware, if you like. No more pots and pans to scrub.

Tomorrow, on your lunch hour, drop by for a free—and enlightening—demonstration of the Radarange microwave oven.

If it doesn't say Amana, it's not a Radarange.

This will be demonstrated at the Chelsea Fair by an Amana representative.

"Of some 200 companies that jumped into the Modular Housing Field in the last few years, dozens have already dropped out.

"Many producers discovered that the cost savings promised by assembly-line manufacture were now smaller than anticipated. Such savings are often offset by the high cost of transporting the finished product and the financing of unsold inventory."

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by Carl P. Kentner

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Inconsistency

While the Secretary of Agriculture is proudly proclaiming that American farm exports reached a new record high in the past year, the Administration announced action to restrict the export of U. S. cattle hides.

The recent action of restricting exports of cattle hides will seriously reduce farmers' income opportunities and is not in accord with the nation's efforts to increase exports, according to William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest farm organization.

The intention of the government in restricting hide exports is to force down the price of hides available to domestic tanners and shoe manufacturers. Such action is not expected to have much impact on the retail price of shoes since hide price is an exceedingly small factor in the over-all cost of a pair of shoes.

The importance of farm exports to the nation's balance of payments is seen in the fact that an increase in our farm exports for the fiscal year ended June 30 partially offset a large U. S. trade deficit in non-farm products.

Farm exports for the fiscal year were $2 billion larger than agricultural imports. This favorable farm trade balance is the highest in five years. The accomplishment in farm trade held the nation's over-all balance of trade to a $5.1 billion deficit, the largest in history.

Government officials have also expressed concern over beef prices and have rightly pointed out that one reason for higher meat prices is rising consumer demand to increase production. But how do export controls on hides encourage farmers to produce more cattle?

While export controls have been initiated in an effort to reduce shoe prices, it is farmers' income opportunity which will decline, not shoe prices.

'73 Wheat Allotment Notices Mailed to County Producers

Notices of 1973 wheat allotments and an official explanation of the 1973 Wheat Set-Aside Program were mailed Friday, Aug. 18, to producers in Washtenaw county, according to Raymond Girbach, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

All participants will set aside an acreage equal to 86 percent of their farm domestic allotment, will earn wheat certificate payments based on their domestic allotment, and will be eligible for loans on wheat grown on participating farms.

An additional set-aside option also is offered, Girbach said. Contingent upon their 1972 wheat acreage, producers may set aside an additional acreage up to 150 percent of their domestic wheat allotment in return for a payment of 88 cents a bushel times established yield times acres of additional set-aside.

Don Turner Visits Valdez, Rebuilt After '64 Earthquake

Editor's Note: This is our fifth letter from Don Turner in Alaska. It reads as follows:

Dear Readers:
In my last article I included fishing with Jack and Dorothy Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pettibone of Dexter, at the stream north of Palmer, Alaska, in the heart of the Matanuska Valley.

I have been trying some things recommended by the Fowlers, including the ferry trip from Whittier to Valdez. This is a very pleasant trip aboard the MV Bartlett, which takes your car or camper to Valdez, affording a scenic drive back over the Richardson Highway to the Glenn Highway at Glennallen.

Forty-eight miles south of Anchorage, Alaska, on the Anchorage Seaward Highway, is the place of debarkation for the trip. It is called "Portage," and by placing your camper on a freight car of the Alaska RR, you are introduced to a 35-minute train ride to Whittier, going through two tunnels and coming onto some beautiful scenery.

There is a deserted U. S. Army camp that dates back to World War II. Here you board the MV Bartlett for the seven-hour scenic ride to Valdez, Ala., stopping at the Bird rookery on the cliffs of mountains, then on to Columbia Glacier, one of the prettiest and most active glaciers that comes to salt water in Alaska's coastal area.

The ferry stops and sounds the whistle, which usually dislodges huge blocks of ice that drop into the bay with a tremendous splash, to the delight of all aboard.

The MV Bartlett is part of the Alaska Marine Highway System, serving towns and ports above the southeast Alaska Marine Highway, but is a much smaller ship.

The scenery is much the same as seen in Southeast Alaska, and I would recommend it to anyone coming to Alaska and not having time to return on the southeast Alaskan ferries.

Many people enjoy the scenery and activities aboard the MV Bartlett. Our group included some people from Japan, who posed for pictures for me and spoke very good English.

Valdez, Alaska, is known as the "Switzerland of America." It is located on the arm of Prince William Sound, and gets its name from a Spanish explorer, Captain Fedalga. Fedalga explored these parts of the hemisphere the same time that Captain Cook left his mark on the Cook Inlet of Alaska, the end of which is now the site of Anchorage.

Captain Fedalga named the port "Puerto de Valdez," from which it was shortened when the townsite was established in Valdez in 1898.

In reference to this area, read Rex Bloche's novel, "The Iron Wall," which depicts it as the site of the first attempt to build a railroad to the copper country of Alaska.

Valdez was hit hard during the 1964 earthquake when a 32-foot tidal wave hit, destroying the old town with 32 lives lost. Today a new town site is established four miles from the old site, with all modern facilities. On the old town site today stands part of the 800 miles of pipe, the Alaska Pipe-Line upon which so much controversy has centered. Builders hope to build a pipe line from Alaska's east slope at Prudheul Bay in the Arctic to Valdez.

It is estimated that 10,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil can be produced on the north slope of Alaska's Arctic and sent to Valdez by pipe-line. I predict that even when the ecology people have their say, the pipe-line will still be built. It will have a tremendous effect upon Alaska's economy for some time to come.

I recommend this trip from Whittier to Valdez to anyone coming to Alaska, as it is well worth the price of $32 charged for the cruise.

From Valdez, I traveled the Richardson Highway to Glenn Highway at Glennallen, where I again headed for McKinley Park over Highway 3. After three days of rain in Mt. McKinley, I gave up. You see, I wanted to do more wildlife photography in the park, which I did, but the light was not good enough and I ran out of time, so I ran 11 miles up to Fairbanks and took a river cruise on the Discovery II, a new stern wheeler river boat owned and operated by a good friend of mine, Captain Jim Brinkley.

I wrote about Captain Brinkley on my first trip to Alaska, when he operated a smaller stern wheeler. But with the great demand for his services by the many tourists coming here today, he built the new ship, Discovery II.

The cruise from Fairbanks on the Chena River to the Tana River and back takes a total of four hours, and I recommend this to all who have time for an afternoon cruise.

Captain Brinkley's Discovery takes you to many interesting places along the river, including an Indian village with fish wheels, where salmon are caught for winter food by the natives, who dry it over racks. Captain Brinkley is continuing boat service to many out-of-the-way places on the river chain, which ends at the Yukon River, flowing to the Bering Sea. Captain Brinkley's father serviced this area by stern wheeler at the turn of the century, and this is a modern-day service to let the tourists see a little of the ways of the past.

FISH WHEEL ALONG THE TANANA RIVER: Turner viewed this wheel from aboard Discovery II, another part of native life seen on the river cruise. Turner reports that the fish wheel is a primitive device constructed by the natives to catch salmon on the river. He reports that the Tanana River looks like a huge cement mixer, due to the glacier's deposit in its waters. But the salmon here enroute to their spawning areas.

FOR THE PIPE LINE: These four-foot pipes, 100 feet long and 3/4 inch thick were made in one of Japan's large steel mills and shipped over to Valdez. Turner says that more than 400 miles of pipe are stored there, awaiting the decision to be made regarding the feasibility of building 800 miles of pipe line from Alaska's north slope to the port of Valdez.

BAND CAMP BOUND: Among the colorful crowd of young musicians who boarded Dexter bus Sunday noon for the Smith-Walbridge

Camp at Syracuse, Ind., were Sue Stahmen, left, and Jean Brooks. Both these young ladies are DHS sophomores this fall.

I must be running along to more adventure. Will be sending back more of my adventures in traveling in the great land of Alaska.
Don Turner.

TURNER ENJOYS THE VIEW: This picture was taken while Turner was aboard the ferry MV Bartlett, which traveled from Whittier to Valdez, and described by Turner as "a very scenic cruise."

DRIED FISH: This method of preparing fish for the winter was glimpsed by Turner at an Indian village, one of the stops on the Discovery II's river cruise. The Indians are of the Pascan tribe.

HOW TO WARD OFF STARVATION: An Indian woman lectured on the techniques of preparing soup from moose leg, to ward off starvation during the long absence of the trapper from his wife and family. The cruise sported many other demonstrations, as Discovery II made its way through the waters of the Tanana River.

Dexter - Chelsea Rd. Receives Sealcoat Job

County Road Commission crews were busy Friday, Aug. 18 to Monday, Aug. 21, seal-coating the Dexter-Chelsea Rd., from the village of Dexter to Freer Rd.

The area was wedged up last year with a coat of asphalt to improve the "rideability" and wear of the road. The seal-coating, which is a different type of asphalt imbedded with gravel, will protect the road further.

A crew was also at work Tuesday on Huron River Dr., off Mast Rd., seal-coating that area. The coating will extend from the village to Maple Rd.

Our Savior Lutheran Church Plans Outdoor Worship, Family Picnic

The 10:30 a.m. worship service of Our Savior Lutheran church will be held outdoors at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindow, 600 S. Freer Rd., Sunday, Aug. 27.

A pot-luck picnic will follow the service at 12:00 noon. After the picnic, games and activities will be provided for all present.

In case of inclement weather, the service and picnic will be held at the church, 1515 S. Main St.

Antique Bottles Stolen from Triangle Sales

Forty-five Jim Beam liquor bottles of regal china, considered collectors' items, were taken from Triangle Sales on 20416 Old US-12 sometime between 11:55 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 13 and 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 14.

All the bottles were decorative, and valued at $15-$20 each. The approximate value of the theft was $787.

Patrolman Bruce Sibert responded to the call at 4:45 p.m. He was met by Douglas Liebeck, owner, who showed him how entry to the building was gained through the window on the east side of the building. The screen was removed and the window was forced up, breaking the latch. The screen was later replaced and the window closed.

Exit was made through a garage door located on the middle west side of the building. The suspect then fled through the rear fence gate.

The bottles were taken from some shelves located on the east wall of the office area. A cardboard box was put in front of the east side window in an effort to prevent detection.

John Wilson, an employee, had discovered that the bottles were gone when he came to work in the morning, but assumed that the owner had taken them.

Liebeck arrived about noon, noticed that the bottles were gone, but assumed that a relative had taken them. At 4:30 p.m. he discovered that persons unknown had taken the bottles, and a search revealed that the window to the office had been forced. Liebeck was in the building the previous night and not noticed that the bottles were gone.

Neither 75 similar bottles nor anything else in the store was taken or disturbed. The case is still open.
