Farmer Kills Youth Seeking Help for Car

A 71-year-old Freedom township resident shot and killed an 18-year-old Chelsea youth seeking help for his stalled car in the early hours of Friday, Aug. 25.

Michael Gene Rossbach, of 720 Main St., died at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, at 3:15 a.m. approximately one hour after a bolt from a German-made rifle tore through his carbone, severing an artery.

The youth and Marjorie Ann Rossbach, of 720 N. Main St., were in a 1971 Oldsmobile which became stuck in the muddy sand on W. Ellsworth Rd. near Lima Center, about seven miles from Chelsea.

South School Will Have 5 New Teachers

Five new faces will head classes at South Elementary school this year. Miss Suzanne DeVries will teach first grade. She received her BA degree from Hope College, Holland.

Minor Accidents Reported in Area Over Past Week

The Chelsea Community Fair resulted in an upswing of minor accidents. Thomas Forner, of 1153 Pierce St., was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance when he ran into John Hube, of 520 Garfield, Thursday, Aug. 24, at 1 p.m., on Old US-12 near Old Manchester Rd.

Chelsea Represented at Olympic Games

While you're home in front of your TV set watching the Olympics, the Chelseans will be having out-of-town seats and getting a first-hand view of the spectacle. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Grossman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weber, Mr. and Mrs. John Kusch, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Greger, have all left for the summer Olympics.

CEA Asks For Mediator In Negotiations

Negotiations between the Chelsea Education Association and the Board of Education, represented by their administrators, have reached a deadlock. At the present time there are no issues that have yet been tentatively agreed upon, although a number of negotiation sessions have been held.

The Education Association has requested the services of a mediator from the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, and William Johnson has been assigned to the case. Johnson has scheduled a mediation session for Thursday, Aug. 31, at 10:30 a.m.

In the way of background information, people should remember that Chelsea has had a history of labor unrest among its teachers in the past few years. In 1969-70, negotiations between the teachers and Board went through the process of mediation and fact finding, subsequently ending in a 12-day strike. In 1970-71, negotiations were concluded only when George Roumell, a state fact finder, stepped into the situation and made recommendations which were accepted.

Of the last three years only the 1971-72 negotiations have been concluded on a friendly and voluntary basis by both groups.

Three New Teachers Join North School

North Elementary school will welcome three new teachers when the school doors open Wednesday, Sept. 6.

Miss Susan Pulsipher will be a helping teacher for all grades. She too is a first-year teacher. Miss Pulsipher was previously employed by the Hawthorne Center in Plymouth. She received a special education degree from Eastern Michigan University, and is presently residing in Ann Arbor.

2 New Teachers Will Be Joining High School Staff

Chelsea High school will have two new teachers this fall, replacing Mrs. Elaine Klatt and Mrs. Kathy Hanke.

"LIBERTY BELL": The freshmen class of 1976 appropriately designed and constructed a float to celebrate the bi-centennial of the United States.

THE GOLDEN YEARS: This float, entered in the Chelsea Community Fair parade by the Chelsea United Methodist Home, took first-place honors in the adult division.

Fat Stock Sale Results

Bids at the 1972 Chelsea Community Fair livestock auction were a bit like the stock market—up, down, and holding steady. The bid for the grand champion steer held steady from last year's bid of $1.15, but the reserve champion bid was down to 67 cents from last year's 75 cents per pound.

Cheryl Trinkle's grand champion steer, at 1,025 pounds, went to Wolverine Bar for $1.15 per pound. The reserve grand champion, at 950 pounds, owned by Larry Hopkins, went to Schumm's at 67 cents per pound.

Other owners of steers, the steers' weights, the buyers, and the price per pound, are as follows: Karen Trinkle, 915 pounds, Carl Musolf, 76 cents; Duane Trinkle, 945 pounds, Carl Musolf, 55 cents; Darroll Trinkle, 865 pounds, Earl Heller, 55 cents; David Trinkle, 980 pounds, Chelsea State Bank, 56 cents; Don Trinkle, 885 pounds,

Fair Receipts, Attendance Hit Record Highs

The sun shines on the silent, deserted fields surrounding the Chelsea Fairgrounds, reminding viewers that the Chelsea Community Fair is over for another year.

Unofficial reports have placed this year's attendance at 18,000, topping 1971's 17,000 figures. Friday and Saturday were the biggest days at the gate.

Early figures estimate that the fair kitchen took in $9,270, the parking took in about $6,064.25, and the steer raffle approximately $790. Figures are incomplete at this time, and the figures from the rides and concessions are not yet available.

Big events of the fair were the tractor pulls Thursday and Friday nights, the parade Saturday afternoon, and the livestock auction Thursday evening.

The livestock auction brought in a total of $19,436.09, plus $30 for two ducks auctioned by Laurie Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heller. Steers brought in $18,533.80; sheep, $1,447.49; and hogs, $1,454.80.

Gordon McCalla's grand champion barrow brought in a total of $280.80, and Scott Hosler's reserve grand champion brought in $223.25. Tim Grau's grand champion sheep brought in $220.50, and Steve Grau's reserve champion paid $162.75. Cheryl Trinkle's grand champion steer paid $1,178.75, and Larry Hopkins' reserve champion brought in $636.50.

The sun shone bright Saturday, Aug. 26, as the village residents and people from all around gathered on Main St. to watch the parade. Winners in the youth division was the freshman class of 1976, with "Liberty Bell." Second place went to the class of 1975 (sophomore), for "Snoopy," and third place went to the senior class of 1973 for "Vote." Fourth place went to the junior class of 1974 with "Cleopatra."

Winner in the adult division was the Chelsea Methodist Home place was awarded to Head Start with a "Garden Scene." Second for the covered wagon, and third went to Right to Life committee. Fourth place went to Polly's Market, whose float contained a band.

Judges for the parade were Catherine Drob of Chelsea, a author and editorial vice-president of Ed-Ventures, Inc. Also judging was William Hainstock of Manchester, a Manchester fireman and inspector for Double A products.

The third judge for the event, "Chuck" Moler of Dexter, another fireman, was on his way to the parade when his Model T car broke down, and he missed the parade.

The long-awaited drawing for the children's bicycles, one donated by Ingall's Amusement Co. and the other by the Fair Board, came Saturday night. Glen Passow won the boy's bicycle, and Cheryl Cantrell took the girl's bike.

The quarters of beef were won by Jay Hopkins, J. J. Wellnitz, Garland DeVoe, and Norman Wacker. Laurie Heller was the winner of the rabbits donated by N. H. Miles.

Main St. Resurfacing Underway

If work goes as planned, you won't have to keep swerving your car to avoid hitting the manhole covers protruding here and there in Main St.

Chelsea Village Administrator Frederick Weber reports that the Michigan State Highway Department is financing the work, which has been contracted to Ann Arbor Construction Co.

The work will include resurfacing the street and capping it to make it "100 percent better." The work crews began work Wednesday, Aug. 30, and will have it finished by the end of this week. The men will be starting at the railroad tracks and working south.

Social Service Board Hears Annual Report

The 16th annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chelsea Social Service was held in the office of the organization in the Municipal Building Monday evening, Aug. 28.

Present were Louis Burghardt, president; Mrs. Leroy Hoffman, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Riehmiller, secretary; Harold Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Miller, and Mrs. Louis Ramo, director.

The report of the treasurer indicated that expenditures have remained almost identical from year to year, nearly equalling the amount of the Community Chest allotment.

The report of Mrs. Ramo, director, showed that the organization has serviced 545 units over the 16-year period, with 26 new this last year. An even 100 different persons or families were serviced this year, with a total of 50 assisted at Christmas.

Twenty-one of these were referred to the Salvation Army after ascertainment of need was made.

Total interviews for the year numbered 183, with 151 of these directly with clients, and 32 with persons coming to the agency in behalf of clients.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

With the start of most colleges only two weeks away, the Congress has taken action on a bill which I jointly introduced, to clear up the confusion surrounding one of the most popular forms of student aid. The guaranteed student loan program traditionally supplies more than $1 billion per year to assist students through college. Private banks, savings and loans, etc., loan the money to the students and delay collection of the loans until the student has graduated. The federal government guarantees the loans and in cases where there is financial need subsidizes the interest payments. This program has been the major source for bringing more private money into the education of our students.

When the Congress approved new higher education legislation earlier this summer, a clerical error resulted in the misdrafting of several key sentences in the student loan section of the bill. This error was not discovered until the bill had actually been signed into law. It resulted in new and extremely complicated regulations for receiving student loans—including a requirement for very detailed financial information from the family of each student, great discretion on the part of financial aid officers at each college (resulting in different rulings depending on the school which you were attending), and serious questions on the part of banks as to what their obligations were. As a result, many banks had stopped giving student loans. The confusion led to doubt that many students would receive funds in time to attend the Fall Semester of this year.

I therefore sponsored legislation which we put through on an "emergency" basis which would re-instate the old rules governing student loans until the Congress next year could straighten out the matter. This legislation assures that loans will be available for students this fall under the old provisions which assume that students with family incomes below $15,000 are automatically in financial need and qualify for government subsidization. Students with family incomes above $15,000 are automatically disqualified for the special governmental subsidy, but may still be eligible for a guaranteed student rate at a discounted cost.

The limits on the total loans a student may take out will continue to remain the same. Undergraduates may borrow up to $2,500 for school per year but the entire amount for their loans cannot exceed $7,500. Graduate students may borrow up to $10,000 for their graduate and undergraduate study.

Hopefully, Congress can work to re-instate the necessary changes in the loan program so that the reforms envisaged by the Higher Education Amendments of 1972 can be realized.

Chelsea village maps, dated July, 1970, with a scale of 1 in. equals 200 ft., coming 42"x74", may be bought at a cost of $3.90 each. Dexter village map, 36"x50", dated July, 1970, with the same scale, may be obtained at a cost of $2.80 each.

Manchester village map, 36"x51", and the same date and scale as the Chelsea and Dexter maps, may be bought for $3 each. Ann Arbor city maps run 42"x74", and the complete set contains six maps. Milan, with two maps, may be obtained at $2.70 each. Saline has two maps; each selling for $3.90, and Ypsilanti has two maps selling for $6.25 each.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb got a holt of a series of articles in the paper about the economy and ever since he's been throwing figgers and statics around like he was the bull of Wall Street. Zeke was quoting some feller Saturday night at the country store when he said all you need to make a million in this country of free enterprise is a piddling $50,000 to invest. Zeke didn't go into how to get that little nestegg, but Bug Hookum said the best way is to pick yore parents careful.

Zeke must've spent some time on these articles, cause he was talking stuff none of the fellers have ever heard come out of his head afore. Economically speaking, declared Zeke, they ain't no way this country can ever hope to be solvent. The way I catch that, if you ain't solvent you're worst than broke. And what Zeke was saying is that we are digging bigger holes to fill up big holes and staggering along like a drunk trying to drink hisself sober.

Housing Helped

Tucked away among the more glamorous legislative issues awaiting action when lawmakers return for their September session is a very significant, but not very sexy, item.

The bill, which has been shadowed from publicity by such items as the governor's transportation package and no-fault insurance, would allow the Michigan State Housing Development Authority to increase its bonding limit from $300 million to $800 million.

The measure passed the House and is awaiting Senate action. It is being backed strongly by the governor's office.

It is more attractive to the lawmakers because the increase can be made with absolutely no cost to the general fund of the state. The authority has become a financially self-sufficient unit which needs no tax dollars to support itself.

The authority program serves people with incomes which range from around the $3,000 per year mark up to around $9,000 per year.

It helps people in these income brackets purchase housing which might otherwise be out of their income range.

In the 28 months since it sold its first notes, the authority has made loans for construction or rehabilitation of roughly 8,500 homes in more than 100 communities. Roughly 2,000 of these homes already are occupied and an additional 1,000 should be by the end of summer.

Its investment in housing development totaled $120 million through 1971 and is slated to be over $300 million by the end of 1972 if approval is given for the raise in its bonding ceiling.

It repays the bonds it floats and the repayment by the people buying the houses of mortgages.

The authority, as a public agency, can float tax-free bonds and thus borrow money more cheaply than private agencies. If then can loan it out for more favorable rates to lower income groups, making the loan available to them when a commercial loan would be prohibitively high.

The authority surprised quite a few people recently when it actually repaid to the state $191,000 that had been appropriated by the legislature to help it until it became financially independent.

Rare is the day the state gets any of its appropriated money back from anyone, but the authority did it without any obligation to do so.

"Although the authority has no legal obligation to reimburse the state general fund for its staff salaries, the payment reflects a commitment to economy, in government and efficient use of public resources," Director William Rosenberg said at the time.

The action brought favorable responses from such influential legislators as Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar of Benton Harbor.

The favorable reaction should help speed the way for the increase in bonding authority the rest of the way through the legislative process, thus opening up opportunities to own their own homes to many more lower income persons.

It Could Be Worse

Michigan residents traveling to other states on their vacations this year are finding out that while taxes may be high here, they could be worse. In fact, they are worse in a lot of states.

For example, there's the sales tax. The tax is levied in 45 of the 50 states as well as in the District of Columbia.

Some states are lower than Michigan's 4 cents, which falls about in the middle of the rates. For instance, Indiana and Oklahoma are at the bottom of the scale with 2 cent taxes.

The "header" is Connecticut, which pays a price for having no state income tax by paying a 7 cent sales tax. It just raised its rate a half cent this year.

Connecticut also leads the states in cigarette tax. It levies a whopping 21 cents per pack on cigarettes. New Jersey isn't far behind with a 19 cent tax and New York has just raised its to 15 cents.

At the other end of the scale is North Carolina, with a 2 cent per pack tax and Virginia with a 2.5 cent levy.

The lowest gasoline tax on the other hand is in Texas, where you pay 5 cents for every gallon purchased. Mississippi had a 5 cent rate until Aug. 13, when it raised its price to 7 cents per gallon.

Connecticut is the highest again in this category with a 19 cent per gallon tax. Maui County, Hawaii, is also at the 10 cent mark.

Michigan's 6.5 cent rate, which would be raised to 8.5 cents under Gov. William G. Milliken's transportation package, doesn't look so high after all in comparison. Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia raised their to 9 cents this year while Idaho went to 8.5 cents. Mississippi will go to 9 cents next year.

Book Published By Dexter Firm Discussed On Detroit Radio Show

The growing housing crisis in America's urban areas was discussed by Ann Arbor author Stephen Burghardt on the J. P. McCarthy "Focus" radio show on Friday, Aug. 25.

The book is considered by many to be the most authoritative and definitive to date on the problems of housing in America's large cities. It was released earlier this month by The New Press, which has recently moved its editorial offices to Dexter after being founded in Grass Lake.

The "Focus" show is the popular interview series hosted on WJR by McCarthy.

"Stop laughing...I didn't get to the funny part yet..."

A minute of laughter... a long distance call. That's all it takes to turn somebody's whole day around. Now anyone can lower the cost of loving (or laughing!) anywhere within Michigan simply by dialing direct, long distance instead of going through the operator.

You save 40% weekdays after five, and weekends from 5 p.m. Friday till 5 p.m. Sunday. Dial direct any other time, save 20%.

And if you do talk long distance within Michigan for just one minute, you pay for one minute, not three.

Know someone in another town who could use a good laugh? Don't hesitate to call... often.

You can lower the cost of loving by 40%

Margarine is one of the products for which the U. S. Government has published a standard of iden- tity, and this standard requires that margarine must contain at least 80 percent fat. Diet mar- garines contain only half this amount of fat and must be labeled "imitation" margarines.

TODAY'S THOUGHT By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Sensational changes in and for labor have been seen since 1894 when Congress made Labor Day a legal holiday . . . Per- haps the most significant development of all is now in the offing . . . A few firms and labor unions have dipped their feet in unknown waters to try to determine the depth and current of a four-day working week idea.

The test so far is non-conclusive. Perhaps it can be proved that the working man can work less — and live better. Perhaps it can be proved more and better production is possible in a four- day week. Perhaps it can be proved more leisure time can bring better day by day living. Time will tell.

There can certainly be no 'perhaps' about one fact . . . There can be no prosperity for either labor or management unless there is prosperity for both; Neither can make it alone . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-4141.

Chelsea Social Service Goal Is Emergency Aid for Needy

Chelsea Social Service was founded 16 years ago by a committee of the Women's Club that used to donate articles and assistance to needy persons. Mrs. Louis Ramp has been its first and only director.

She says, "We started out with a desk in the corner of the Council Room, and my clothing depot was in a converted elevator shaft on the third floor."

At the present time, the Chelsea Social Service occupies a room on the second floor of the Municipal Building, 104 E. Middle St. The office is operated on a part-time basis, and is open every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon throughout the year from 2-5 p.m. Phone number is 475-4581. No appointment is necessary.

The agency offers counseling, referrals, material assistance, medical benefits, transportation, fuel, and clothing.

The clothing depot is maintained in the office, and contains new and used clothing. If possible, the purchase of needed articles is done with agency funds.

Any resident of the Chelsea school district, which comprises most of Lyndon, Dexter, Sylvan, and Lima townships and part of Sharon, Freedom, and Waterloo townships, is welcome to apply for the agency's services.

Assistance is restricted to area residents. Due to the limited budget, assistance cannot be given on a continuing basis, like public welfare agencies, but every effort is made to meet emergency needs.

Limited counseling is available, particularly with problems of budgeting and household problems.

Appropriate referrals are made if a client's needs are beyond what is available in the office. The recognition of problems and proper referrals when indicated is a major function of the office.

Christmas and the months preceding it are by far the busiest season for the agency. Since the distribution of gifts to the needy is generally channeled through this office, referrals of persons needing Christmas assistance are accepted for a number of months preceding the Christmas season.

Together with referrals from the Salvation Army, these names comprise a list of Chelseaites who will receive Christmas gifts.

A "Christmas store," where there is no charge made, is set up in the Sylvan Township Hall. There, toys purchased from the proceeds of the Pig Bowl, a football contest between the Ann Arbor Police Department and the Washtenaw County law enforcement agencies, are distributed together with more toys and other gifts provided by churches, clubs, and from other community sources, to lucky children on the lists.

At the same time, generous food boxes filled with staples given by the schools, churches, and from other local sources, are also distributed. A purchase order for perishables is included in each box, provided by funds from Chelsea Social Service.

4-H Delegates Attend National Citizenship Meet

Art Sias of Chelsea was one of the nine Washtenaw county 4-H'ers who returned Saturday, Aug. 28 from a week-long stay at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md., where they participated in the 1972 National Citizenship Short Course.

Others traveling by chartered bus were Jean Lindemann, Dexter; Jack Staskiewicz, Emmet; Hopp, Martha Brauer, Ypsilanti; Linda Judkins, Colleen McClatchey, Ann Arbor; Lois Kemmer, Manchester; and Mary Alice Gimbach, Saline.

Financial support was given by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis club and various county 4-H organizations.

Topics relating to the individual's concept and responsibility of citizenship were covered in assemblies and opportunity sessions, with a wide variety of resource people available.

Goals of the Citizenship Short Course are to develop a better understanding and appreciation of American heritage, to realize a new relationship and responsibility of the individual to self and others, and to better understand the federal government and their relation to it.

Other purposes are to gain leadership training, to realize the potential which these teen-agers have as effective participants in a democratic system of government, and to gain an insight into the aspects of international citizenship.

Washtenaw county participants all were involved in the County Citizenship Short Course held last March, which emphasized similar goals, only on a more specialized level.

H. Koenns Attend NAAB Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Koenns of 2010 Hayes Rd., attended the 26th annual meeting of the National Association of Animal Breeders (NAAB), Aug. 21 - 23, in Arlington Heights, Ill., as representatives of MABC.

The event attracted "near record" attendance of more than 500 livestock leaders from 37 states, Canada, and several other foreign countries, according to convention chairman Melvin L. Kenley. All have interests in artificial insemination.

NAAB president W. Lewis Campbell of Frederick, Md., noting that the organization was entering its second quarter century with a solid record of success in improving the nation's dairy cattle, predicted, "at least equally impressive progress" in beef cattle improvement.

He said, "Further and faster progress is assured by the massive young sire sampling programs, including beef and dairy bulls, now being conducted by member organizations."

Over 12 million dairy cows and 3 million beef cows were bred artificially, reported retiring NAAB executive secretary Harry A. Herman, Columbia, Mo. "The total of 8.6 million head represents a new high for the industry, which dates back to 1938," he said.

Brighton Hospital Director Discusses Alcohol Problems

"Among those between the ages of 25 and 55, one out of eight is an alcoholic," Dr. Hardee Bethea told Washtenaw Alcohol Safety Action Program staff last week in the third of nine programs featuring the state's leading figures in alcohol safety and alcoholism. Dr. Bethea is Medical Director of Brighton Hospital for Alcoholics in Brighton. "Some 250,000 Michigan residents are suffering from this illness, which should really be called sedativism, not alcoholism," Bethea explained. "An alcoholic gets the same effect from any other of the soporifics, or sedatives—barbiturates, tranquilizers, ether, chloroform, paralydhyde, and alcohol. He drinks alcohol because this is the substance socially acceptable for him, and the only one available legally without a prescription." Bethea spurned the psychological explanation of alcoholism which focuses on a person's childhood experiences. Rather, he favors an explanation which rests in part on an "x" or unknown physiological factor, and partly on a higher "psycho-motor activity level" for alcoholics. "There is always a certain percentage of the population which will react abnormally to any given substance," Bethea asserted. "It is only natural that alcohol or the sedatives should be no exception." This abnormal reaction, Bethea explains as resulting from a higher anxiety level. Alcohol initially brings the alcoholic down into more normal and psychologically comfortable ranges of stress and anxiety. The guy who works in a factory all week, is not pre-occupied with drinking, and then agrees to go out and get drunk with his buddies on the week-end, is probably not an alcoholic, according to Bethea. He can be compared to a cud-chewing cow—low key and not very productive. The alcoholic, Bethea likens to a highly productive, but prone to seeking sedative relief from painful anxiety levels. Another infrequently heard analysis of the effect of alcohol on the drinker presented by Bethea was that of a longer lived anxiety producing effect which is masked by the initial sedative effect. When the depressing or relaxing effect is gone, the drinker is left at a higher anxiety level than is normal for him. For the

Michigan Leads in Beans

Nearly all navy (pea) beans grown in the United States are produced in Michigan. Visualize 6.3 million bean bags—hundred pound bags, that is. Our 11,000 growers, mostly in the Saginaw Valley-Thumb area, grossed $32 million in 1970. Cannors prefer Michigan navy beans because they don't mush up during processing. But the state produces other dry beans, too—kidney, pinto, cranberry, yelloweye and black turtle—all good and nourishing.

Lima Planners Explain Needs At Neighborhood Gatherings

Lima township, which formed a planning commission in April, 1970, and began facing planning problems posed by outside interests, has evolved a method of reaching its citizens to explain its goals and ideas.

The township's planning commission has set up a series of neighborhood meetings, which bring the citizens and the planners together to explain the commission's planning efforts, and to hopefully stimulate support for its work.

Allen Dine, the township's planning assistant and a graduate student at the University of Michigan, explains, "The credit for the idea goes to Mrs. Virginia Denham, secretary of the planning commission."

The planners used the neighborhood approach, and divided the township into six subdivisions, each subdivision containing six sections of the township.

The planners then find a person interested or involved in planning efforts for the township, and ask them to host a coffee gathering. Invitations are sent out a week in advance, to a sample of people in the township.

The citizens are informed that the planners will have graphics from the Johnson, Johnson & Roy land use study on hand, and let the people know that the planners will be discussing their particular part of the township and its future.

So far, the commission has hosted four meetings. "The turnout has been 15-22 people, which about what we were counting on," said Dines.

The format of the evening is based on Mrs. Denham's role as speaker, telling about township planning, what the planning commission is doing, why the township needs planning, the basic concepts in J&R, and the reasons behind the study. She explains why the commission has no set plan as yet, and concludes with a few words about the proposed Mill Creek Metropark, and how it fits in with the over-all picture of the township.

The gathering is opened up to questions and discussions. The planners have found that good discussion is stimulated by the in-

EARTH'S WOBBLE!

At it rotates, Earth wobbles on its axis. This deviation, known as Chandler's Wobble, reaches its peak every seventh year, and some scientists believe earthquakes are more numerous in those years. The next peak year will be 1978.

Environmental Assistance Offered In Rural Program

Cost-sharing payments are now being made to farmers for carrying out soil, water, woodland, wild life and pollution abatement practices under the Rural Environmental Assistance Program, according to Raymond Girbach, chairman of the Washtenaw County ASC Committee.

This Federal program has been in effect since 1936 following the great dust storms of the 1930's. Many of these practices have eliminated the run-off of million of tons of top soil, greatly reducing the pollution of the nation's waterways. Girbach pointed out that this has benefited wildlife, increased hunting, fishing and other recreational purposes for all the people.

Pollution problems associated with agriculture, like those in industry and municipalities, can affect everyone and sometimes be so expensive to solve that an individual citizen cannot afford to undertake the task alone. Cost-sharing by the government is only a small part of the over-all cost to the farmer.

Washtenaw County has funds available for the establishment of permanent vegetative covers. A soil test is required and assistance must be requested before the practice is started. This practice must be completed by Sept. 15, 1972. Full details are available at the Washtenaw County ASCS Office.

Former Dexter Barber Nabs Gunman While on Duty at Iowa Bingo Game

Steve Leslie, former Dexter barber, had a hair-raising experience out in Iowa recently. According to a newspaper clipping brought to The Dexter Leader office this week, Leslie, and Joseph Gaines were serving as private security guards at a bingo game held at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Rock Island, Ia., recently when just after the bingo game they observed a man near a restroom—they followed him as he moved to another room, and police said they seized a .25-caliber automatic pistol.

Pastor of the church, the Rev. Fr. Henic Ciesielski, told authorities that all the church doors had been locked after the bingo game concluded. The intruder, a 28-year-old Rock Island resident, was detained at gunpoint in the church building by the pair of security guards, who are on duty regularly at the church during the weekly Wednesday night bingo programs.
