Community Chest Assists Boy Scouts

Another organization benefiting from funds contributed to the Community Chest is the Boy Scouts of America, which has its local headquarters at the Portage Trails Council, 2163 W. Stadium, Ann Arbor. There are presently eight Boy Scout and Cub Scout units in Chelsea, two of which are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, three by citizen groups, and one each by the Rod and Gun Club, the American Legion and the Jaycees. All four of the local Boy Scout troops are national standard units, meaning they have registered a minimum amount of boys, they have advanced at least one rank and they camp out for a minimum of 10 days, and nights each year. Camping facilities for local groups include Bruin Lake, and Wright's Lake Boy Scout camps. Area troops have also hiked 50 miles in northern Michigan. The four Cub Scout Units are Summertime Award Units, which means they conduct summertime activities with a minimum of 50 percent of each den attending. The Boy Scouts program was designed to build character, provide entertainment and to generally help a young boy develop into a worthwhile citizen. Chelsea area scouts have proved their community concern by becoming involved in such activities as cleaning up the roadways in and out of town, cleaning up alleyways, parking cars at the fairgrounds during the Chelsea Community Fair and helping to paint buildings at the fairgrounds.

North Sharon Church Plans 'Round Up'

North Sharon Bible Church will be "rounding up all the strays" this Sunday, Sept. 10, and Western clothes are welcome at the 10 a.m. Sunday School and the 11 a.m. church service for "Round Up Sunday." Every boy and girl attending will receive a free Western hat to keep after the "Round Up Picture Taking" at North Sharon Corral. A Western shirt and blouse will be awarded to the boy and girl bringing the most guests. Other awards will be a framed picture of "Christ, Our Pilot" and a Pictorial Bible Dictionary. This year's attendance goal for "Round Up Sunday" is 216. Last year's attendance for "Round Up Sunday" was 136, although the goal was set at 116. Transportation to the church, which is located east of Grass Lake between Chelsea and Manchester at Sylvan and Washburne Rds., may be arranged by calling 475-2012. The red church bus will also be making its regular route to the Chelsea area.

John Merkel Injured Friday In Ohio Accident

John Merkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merkel of 1301 Freer Rd was injured Friday, Aug. 25 in Troy, O., on I-75 near Dayton as his car crashed into a truck that was stopped in the road. He was taken to Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton where he is hospitalized with multiple internal injuries and facial lacerations. John is presently in room 609 in Miami Valley Hospital and will stay there an undetermined length of time.

Village President, Wife Injured in Rochester Crash

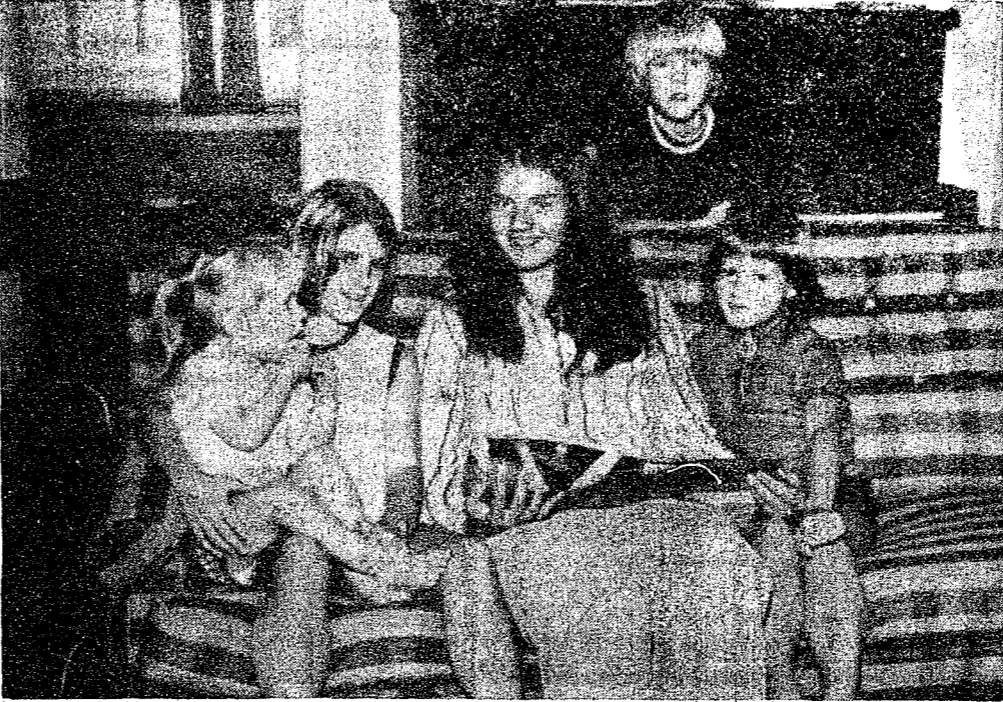

Chelsea Village President A. E. Fulks and his wife were victims of a five-car Labor Day weekend pile-up near Rochester, Friday, Sept. 1. Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck reported the accident occurred about 5 p.m. when an ambulance ran a red light, tipped over and struck the Fulks' car, setting off a chain reaction involving three other cars. Fulks reported he did not hear the ambulance's siren and did not believe it was operating at the time of the accident. There were no fatalities, but Fulks and his wife were treated at the Rochester hospital and released. Fulks suffered a dislocated shoulder, one broken rib, and some facial contusion which his wife suffered a broken rib and possible internal injuries. The patient in the ambulance apparently escaped further injury in the mishap.

Medical Center Surgical Unit Zoning OK'd

The Chelsea Medical Center was awarded a special use permit Thursday, Aug. 29, by the Chelsea Village Council, acting as the Zoning Board of Appeals. The permit was issued for the construction and operation of an ambulatory surgical unit which will be built onto the east end of the Chelsea Community Hospital. According to Dr. Michael Papo, medical director of the hospital, the new unit will be one level, covering 20,000 feet and will be designed to serve the entire county.

Action was taken by the board accepting the recommendation of the Business Administration Finance and Planning Committee to hire the architectural firm of Manson, Jackson & Kane. The levy for the 1956 debt retirement fund was set at 1.25 mills and levy for the 1965 retirement fund at 1.75 mills. Action was also taken adopting the state guidelines for free and reduced price lunches. Susan Pulsipher was placed under contract by the board for the 1972-73 school year as a helping teacher at North school. A special meeting was called for Monday, Sept. 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the board room. Youngsters Collect Money for M-D Fund Four Sugar Loaf Lake youngsters have collected a total of $38 for the Jerry Lewis Telethon for muscular dystrophy. The youngsters, Cindy, Grog and Tracy Harok and Jeanette Harris collected the money in a door-to-door campaign among neighbors.

TELL ME A STORY: Ketil Vaas, 17-year-old exchange student from Norway, reads to her new brothers and sisters, left to right: Jennifer, Kelli, Todd, and Tracey Borton. Ketil will be living with the Richard Bortons at 176 Orchard St., for a year as a participant in the Youth for Understanding program.

NEW ADDITION TO FAMILY: Gunilla Bohlin, center, shares a laugh with her new brother and sister, Vickie and Neil Koch, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koch of 12255 Scio Church Rd. Gunilla, who is from Sweden, will be a senior at Chelsea High school during her year's stay with the Kochs.

Two Scandinavian Exchange Students Enter Chelsea High

Chelsea has lost one exchange student but gained two in her place. Hanele Salkolahti of Finland returned home Thursday, Aug. 3, after spending one year with the Justice Marshalls of 1220 Trinkle Rd. On the same day Chelsea received two new visitors, Gunilla Bohlin of Sweden and Ketil Vaas of Norway. Both girls are 17 years old and will be seniors at Chelsea High school in the fall. They will stay here for one year. The girls are part of the Youth for Understanding family living experience that helps students learn the language and culture of the United States. The teen-age exchange program has headquarters in Ann Arbor. Gunilla Bohlin is living with the Robert Kochs of 12255 Scio Church Rd. The Kochs learned of the YFU program through a notice in their church bulletin, and decided to participate in the program. Gunilla comes from Ostersund, Sweden, which is located in the middle of the country. The town is approximately the size of Chelsea, she reports, but its citizens are mostly engaged in forestry or agriculture. Gunilla has one 13-year-old sister. Her father works in the forestry business, and is currently attending school full-time to advance his education. "It's very popular in Sweden for adults to go to school," says Gunilla. Her new siblings consist of Vickie, 14, and Neil, 9. She is also surrounded by dogs and kittens and did not believe it was operating at the time of the accident. There were no fatalities, but Fulks and his wife were treated at the Rochester hospital and released. Fulks suffered a dislocated shoulder, one broken rib, and some facial contusion which his wife suffered a broken rib and possible internal injuries. The patient in the ambulance apparently escaped further injury in the mishap. Although they will be placed in homes all over the country, most of them are placed in Michigan, where the YFU has its headquarters. Gunilla applied before to come to the United States, but there were too many students who wanted to come. This year she was accepted. Gunilla, like American students, goes to school from September to June. There are not many rules at her co-ed school, which has 1,000 students. She goes to school seven hours a day, five days a week. Each class hour is 40 minutes long. During the school year, she studies Swedish, math, German, French, physics, chemistry, art, physical education, and government. In Sweden, a student begins school when he or she is seven years old. The pupils attend nine years of compulsory work, and may go on to high school if they wish. 90 percent of the students go on, Gunilla reports. There are 20 course programs to choose from in the high school, each one consisting of a two- or three-year curriculum. Gunilla is in a natural science program at her school, and has two more years for completion. Gunilla's school, which has 1,000 students, houses the natural science and social studies programs. The school next door houses the technological and economics programs. Gunilla began studying English when she was 10 years old, and found it interesting because there is so much English present in the country. She also spent last summer in southern England studying English intensely. Gunilla will receive no credit for her stay in Chelsea and her attendance at high school, although she will receive a diploma from the high school. She reports, "I think I'll like school here; it can't be any worse than it is at home." Gunilla has worked selling receipts for Sunday horse races and in an insurance office. This summer her family was host to an American girl from Iowa who (Continued on page six)

CEA Asks for Fact Finder In Negotiations

Board Extends Final Offer Until Sept. 13; School Opens on Schedule

There has been no major breakthrough in negotiations between the Chelsea Board of Education and the Chelsea Education Association (CEA) concerning the 1972-73 teachers' contract have been continuing intermittently since March. The board feels that a public statement of its position should be made at this time to inform the residents of the School District on these matters. "On Aug. 31, the board made its final offer to the CEA. No response, either accepting, rejecting, or countering, the offer has been forthcoming from the CEA. The board feels that the question should be resolved by acceptance of its offer, which the board feels is fair, equitable, and competitive with surrounding school districts. "A continuance of this offer beyond a reasonable time without some definite response by the CEA will not resolve the issue in a timely manner. "Therefore, the offer of Aug. 31 is open for acceptance until Sept. 13, at 12 noon, at which time the offer will be withdrawn. School will continue, operating under the 1971-72 contract, until the matter is finally resolved. Negotiations by the board will begin anew without any reference to past offers or negotiations. No lockout or punitive action against any teacher or teachers is planned or intended. The board hopes that the issue of the 1972-73 contract will be finally resolved amicably all concerned." Chelsea Board of Education William F. Storey, president.

Mrs. Tony Bowen Injured in 2-Car Crash on Jackson

Mrs. Tony Bowen of 128 South St., was involved in a two-car accident, Friday, Sept. 1, riding as a passenger with Mrs. Gary Schwartz of Ann Arbor west along Jackson Rd., near Ann Arbor. Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Bowen were returning to Chelsea when they saw an unidentified woman attempting to make a left turn off Jackson Rd. An unidentified driver was heading east on Jackson when he spotted the car attempting to turn at the last minute and swerved to avoid it, heading straight into her Schwarz vehicle. There were no apparent injuries other than bruises and none of the persons involved required hospitalization.

Don Turner Finds Alaskan Valley of Giant Vegetables

Editor's Note: Our sixth letter from Don Turner is postmarked Palmer, Alaska, and is dated Aug. 15. It reads as follows.

Dear Readers: In my last article dated Aug. 8, I included the river boat trip on the Discovery with Captain Jim Brinkley on the Chena and Tanana Rivers. I again headed for Mt. McKinley National Park, hoping to photograph more wildlife and other things of interest. But due to adverse weather conditions, I was unable to take pictures of that area, so again I drove the new highway leading from Mt. McKinley Park to Anchorage, and was surprised to find that in the one month since my first venture over this road, the Alaska Department of Highways had completed the pavement of the 300 miles connecting Anchorage with Fairbanks. So, today it is no longer necessary to fight a rough gravel road to reach Mt. McKinley National Park. This could be of importance to anyone reading this article if they are planning a trip to Alaska. The old route of 165 miles over the DeWalt Highway, leading from Pohson on the Richardson Highway, is no longer necessary, as the new road is as smooth as any pavement in the U. S. Leaving the Mt. McKinley area, I traveled over this new highway enroute to Palmer, Alaska, in the heart of the Matanuska Valley. Palmer is approximately 36 miles from Anchorage. (Continued on page three)

AND IT'S STILL GROWING: Turner poses beside one of the cabbages grown in the Matanuska Valley. This cabbage was grown by Max Sharrad, and was three weeks from maturity. Turner reports that when full-grown it will probably reach the 60-pound class.

Washington Report By Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Just before the Congress recessed for the Republican convention we had a rare opportunity to discuss something on which we all agreed—our pride in the United States Olympic team.

In a very real sense, the Olympic Games represent the best there is in the world today. They signal the acknowledgement that through peaceful and vigorous international competition nations and peoples can become united.

The preacher said he had seen where the Vietnam war has got more American veterans than any other war in this country's history.

Prisons Change

Prior to his departure from the Department of Corrections to become the new commissioner of Michigan's new lottery, Gus Harrison developed a well deserved reputation as one of the nation's best penal officers.

Don't get the idea that the inmate committees are just sops to the inmates with no real influence, either. For example, the Warden's Committee at Jackson was instrumental in eliminating the automatic "10 p.m. lights out" rule that had prevailed for years.

is being given to men leaving institutions on parole. It asks them, in effect, to grade the institution they are leaving.

This reputation is one of the reasons he was tapped for the lottery job by Gov. William G. Milliken. Milliken wanted a man with a solid reputation to begin a rather sensitive operation.

The idea came from one of the cellblock groups. Since no decision on the proposal could be made at the block level, it was forwarded to the Warden's Committee, where other block representatives said they had similar requests.

"The results didn't mean the counselors were doing anything wrong," Harrison said, "but merely told us that we could do better. This kind of thing can point to continuing complaints in our educational programs, food services, recreational programs and other areas, and cause us to make some moves before the complaints become serious."

The first is a democratically-elected inmate representative program which has been instituted in all Michigan prison facilities. The program was tried on a pilot basis for a year at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson and the Michigan Reformatory and Michigan Training Unit at Ionia. Its success in those places led to a directive calling for the creation of such committees in all institutions.

Handle New Potatoes With Special Care

Handle new potatoes with care, cautions a Michigan State University consumer marketing specialist.

Researchers report that potatoes can withstand 30 to 80 percent more jostling a month after storage than they can at harvest time, explains Mrs. Maryann Beckman. The potatoes now in markets are freshly dug, so treat them as you would apples or eggs.

Issues which can be settled at the cellblock level are dealt with there and go no further. But recognizing that some issues are bigger than that, officials have set up a committee made up of some members from the cellblock units. This committee meets on a monthly basis with the warden.

A Veterans Administration publication reveals nearly three million veterans and servicemen have trained under the current G. I. Bill since June 1966.

When Johnny Taylor said "No more wrinkles in my shirts"...

his wife bought a Gas dryer.

The kind with a permanent press cycle. But what Johnny and his wife discovered was that the permanent press cycle on their new Gas dryer saves them Gas and money, too. You see, it operates without Gas during the last 10 minutes (just fresh fluffing air, to make sure the wrinkles won't set). Saving Mrs. Taylor a lot of ironing.

With so many permanent press items in use today, you should consider replacing your old dryer with a modern Gas dryer with the permanent press cycle. You can see them at Gas appliance dealers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

But, whether your dryer is old or new, here is how you can increase its operating efficiency:

1. Follow manufacturer's instructions on proper operation.
2. Keep the dryer's lint filter clean.
3. Avoid over-drying your clothing.
4. Keep the dryer's flue clear of lint accumulations.

age at the head of Knick and is known for its farm-dairying, and vegetable raising.

Reason for again touring was to see some of the cabbages grown in the Mananaska Valley settled as an agricultural in 1935, when the U. S. government gave homesteading to quite a number of citizens of the midwest at the time of the 1932 depression, when many of the people of the Dakotas were wiped out by dust storms.

People from North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, and Michigan came here to relocate, and, I might add, they have prospered, due to the high cost of production, their plight is the same as the farmers of the lower 48 states.

Max Sharrad, one of the large vegetable growers of the area, now retired, will still raise some of the largest cabbages and other vegetables, some of the cabbages weighing more than 60 pounds when developed. The one I posed with is just in development stage, and no doubt will be in the 60-pound class when mature.

On route to Palmer, I came upon the train wreck at Houston, Alaska, on the new route from McKinley to Anchorage. Perhaps some reading this article have read or heard of the 36-car wreck on the Alaska Railroad, when those cars, on a 96-car train, were derailed as the train crossed a tanker truck at the Houston Crossing on Highway 3. Surprisingly, no one was killed or seriously injured, although fire swept most of the wreckage.

Leaving Palmer, Alaska, on Sunday, Aug. 13, I made my way toward the Alaska Highway, stopping at Tok, Alaska, Haines, the capital city of the Yukon, and Whitehorse.

Here I furnished the program for the Whitehorse Kiwanis club Thursday noon, Aug. 17. I showed one of my Yukon fishing films. One of the Kiwanis club members, attached to the local TV station, a part of CBC, asked me to appear on their program that evening, and a tape of the program will be televised in that area some time later. So, I gave my first lecture in the Yukon, and will eventually be on CBC-TV.

My next stop was at Watson Lake, Yukon. I had to check on my friends whom I wrote about last June 29 while I was at Toobally Lake. The weather was bad, so it wasn't possible to fly in to see my friends, John McConnell and Larry Schmitz, so my friend, Jake Melnychuk, the former owner of the fishing camp at Toobally, suggested that we try a shorter flight to a lake about 20 minutes from Watson Lake. Here, at Bob Brown's Holiday Acres Fishing Camp, I witnessed some of the best arctic grayling fishing that I have found in all of my travels around the north country.

One hour from a small stream near Bob's fishing camp is the lake where the fishing camp is located, and it has large lake trout, Dollyvarden trout, and pike, besides arctic grayling. I didn't have time to try for the larger fish, so I'll have to put this quiet haven on my list of fishing spots when I next visit the Yukon. And if anyone is interested in fishing in the Watson Lake area, contact "Jake" at the Venture Hotel, and he will give you all the details on fishing in this area.

The hunting season for big game is on now, and quite a number of men from the USA are taking advantage of the excellent hunting in this area. My friend, Jake Melnychuk, introduced me to one of the prominent big game guides, and outfitter at Watson Lake, Fletcher Day. Day is a good singer of western songs as well as a good guide.

Yes, I made more friends at Watson Lake, and it was with a degree of sadness that I said so long to my friends here this morning as I headed the camper on down the Alaska Highway. I am sure now that I have fallen under the spell of the Yukon. The beauty of this harsh and rugged land, with its wild creatures and good fishing and its friendly people, seems to cast a spell on you that is hard to shake.

I am planning on more fishing and photography in West central British Columbia, so will leave that for the next article. Will keep you informed.

As ever, your northern reporter,
Don Turner.

People who hold public office sometimes forget that they are supposed to represent all of the people.

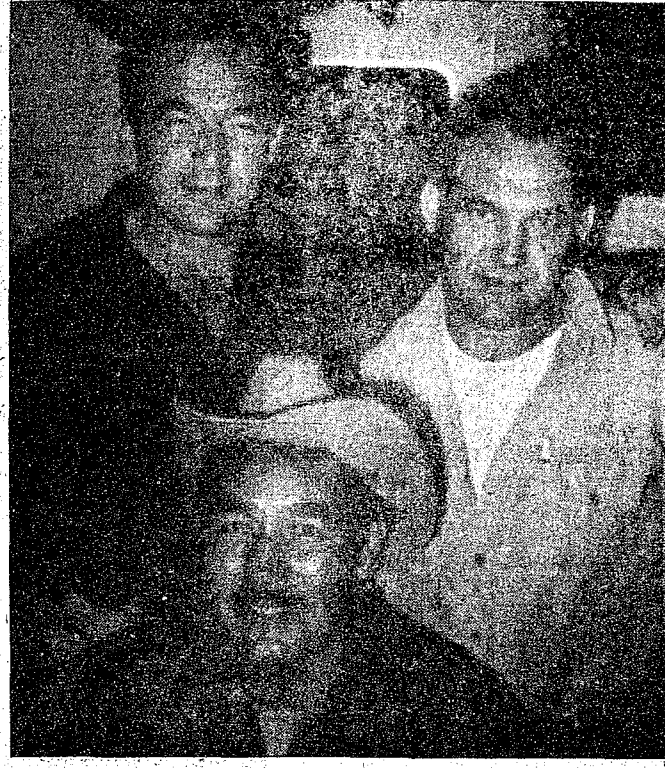

ALASKAN TRAIN WRECK: Turner took this picture of a train wreck on the Alaska Railway Line near Highway 3 north of Houston, Ala. Thirty-six cars were burned after hitting a tanker truck at the Houston crossing, but no one was killed or seriously injured. Firemen and train crews worked 12 hours to bring the blazing fire under control.

ONE HOUR'S CATCH: Bob Brown and Jake Melnychuk hold the 18 arctic grayling taken on flies in one hour at Bob Brown's Holiday Acres Fishing Camp near Watson Lake, Yukon.

BIG-GAME HUNTERS AND GUIDE: Fletcher Day, big game guide and outfitter, poses with two of his clients before starting on their 43-day hunt in the Yukon. Fletcher Day was in good voice, and sang several songs at Jake's tavern to the enjoyment of all present, reports Don Turner, our northern reporter.

had just graduated from high school. Her family spent a week in the mountains, which Gunilla loves, and traded to southern Sweden, which she says is a lot like the countryside here—flat. She doesn't understand the Michigan weather, even through the Kochs have told her that this is one summer that no one can understand. "It changes so rapidly here, you never know what it will be like. It is warmer here than it is in Sweden in the summertime. And those big flashes of lightning—we don't have them in Sweden, and they scare me."

Gunilla doesn't think that the United States is very much different from Sweden. She says, "The food's not that different—except that we don't eat so much beef." She added, "You Americans are so crazy about cars, and you have so many of them. In Sweden, we use little cars, walk a lot, use buses a lot more, and bicycles are very popular." She says that the schools in Sweden allow students to study one course that could be considered a hobby.

Sweden charges a 17 percent tax on all items, but the government uses this money for subsidies for the people. Each child under 16, each person over 65, widows, and orphans, receive $100 per month. The country also has extensive health and education benefits. "Whenever you're sick, you go to the hospital and everything is free," she says. Education is guaranteed up to the university level.

The biggest change that Gunilla has noticed has been the appearance of American women. "They're not natural like the Swedish women, especially in their make-up."

Gunilla sums up her early impressions of life in the United States, "I like it here a lot, and I don't miss home at all."

Ketil Vaas, a vivacious girl whose smiling face is surrounded by long brown hair, is living with the family of Dr. Richard Borton at 176 Orchard St.

Ketil is from Oslo, Norway, a bustling city that is the capital of the country. Her home, however, is located on one of the many islands in the fjords that surround Oslo. She travels across a bridge to get to the main part of the city.

"She reports, 'I like it here very much. I haven't been homesick at all. The food is not so different than it is in Norway, but we do not eat so many rolls with our meals. If this keeps up, I'll have to go on a diet.'"

She says that the thing that strikes her the most about the United States is "the cars. You Americans have such big cars, and so many of them. We don't have them like that in Norway."

Ketil was born in Holland. Her father is a sales representative for an upholstery manufacturing company in Holland. Her mother works in a social research institute in Oslo. She has one sister, 15 years old.

Ketil attends a co-ed high school in Oslo with 800 students. There are no severe restrictions upon the pupils. She says, "When I got a telegram saying that we could wear slacks in school, I couldn't understand why not.

In the mid-19th century, California's Imperial Valley was a waterless wasteland "not worth a dollar," according to Daniel Webster. A canal from the Colorado River brought irrigation in 1901 and the Valley's year-round harvest now brings $250 million.

County Library Now Stocking Talking Books for Handicapped Persons

Washtenaw County Library, also known as Livingston County, has been designated a Subregional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Because of its new status, talking books are recorded on discs which are available free of charge to those who qualify within the two-county area.

under a federal statute that is administered by the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped of the Library of Congress. The regional library for Michigan is the Michigan State Library in Lansing. Washtenaw County Library as a subregional system will be: (1) to provide mail as well as walk-in service to qualified persons, including fiction and non-fiction books as well as the machines on which to play them; (2) to assist patrons in the selection of titles they wish to read; (3) to register new borrowers; (4) to publicize the service so that its availability becomes known to as many eligible borrowers as possible; (5) to enlist assistance and support from volunteers, civic groups, and the news media; and (6) to initiate other activities which might enhance service in the two-county area. Several advantages will come to the blind and physically handicapped persons in the two counties as a result of added service. Reading guidance and reference help may be obtained by visiting the library or, by use of the telephone. Librarians who work with the program will be serving additional patrons who are normally greater readers than many of their sighted counterparts.

In addition to talking books, the library will continue to furnish large print books. Patrons who wish to borrow Braille books, or materials on tapes or cassettes, and magazines will be referred to the Regional Library in Lansing. The program is being developed by Mrs. Ruth L. Marshall, Community Service Librarian. Lawrence B. Davenport is director of the County Library located at 4133 Washtenaw Ave.

Deal with Legitimate Agents in Charter Plane Flights

If you are planning to go to Europe on a charter flight for which you were made an instant member of a club, or which was advertised in the mass media, the Civil Aeronautics Board warns that the flight is illegal and that you are taking the chance of losing part or all of your money. The CAB is alerting the public to deceptive and illegal practices by some charter promoters.

The agency's Bureau of Enforcement says that thousands of Americans were temporarily stranded abroad and in the U.S. last summer by unscrupulous charter promoters who failed to provide round trip tickets or who failed to provide any transportation at all. Other travelers got their flights, but found the date and place of departure changed on short notice and great inconvenience.

Usually, a passenger on a charter flight has no contract with the airline that is to carry him; the contract is with the charter promoter/who in turn, theoretically, has a contract with the airline. The CAB says it is in the passenger's own interest to deal only with legitimate chartering organizations.

your week ahead

BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: September 3 - September 10, 1972

ARIES
Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
A subtle chain of events should give you an indication of what to expect from a future social event. Also, a feud between you and a nearby associate should begin to taper.

TAURUS
Apr. 20 - May 20
This week's cosmic trends indicate thoughts of changing either your career or residence. Nonetheless, it seems as though you have problems with your routine tasks.

GEMINI
May 21 - June 20
In all probability, you'll be put to an emotional test. Jealousy and superficial friendliness seems to cast a shadow over your chart. Incidentally, someone is studying your actions.

MOONCHILD
June 21 - July 22
Changes that you have long had in mind are beginning to surface. The point? It seems as though you'll rechannel a member of the opposite sex's thinking.

LEO
July 23 - Aug. 22
According to stellar patterns, it's advisable that you do not become too ambitious. It seems as though you'll be taking every wrong direction during this cycle.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 - Sept. 22
Many members of your sign are entering a phase when their thoughts are in the shade. So, stay in bounds!

LIBRA
Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
You're not a student of the theory that you should bear a heavier load than the next person. Nevertheless, you will face increased responsibilities.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
Don't attempt coercive tactics, particularly with a member of the opposite sex. According to stellar patterns, your motives are easily read.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 - Dec. 21
A reunion of sorts is indicated for many under your sign. Other Sagittarians must guard against a chronic problem that might flare up.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 - Jan. 19
Stand by! More than likely, you'll be asked to help a friend or associate. Try to keep a loose schedule - a demand for your time and effort will come from an unexpected source.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
Grooming is in order, during the present cosmic cycle. It seems as though a good impression will be of importance, in the general scheme of things.

PISCES
Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
Provocations and distractions seem to fan throughout your chart. Try to overlook the actions of an associate; avoid taking sides in a smoldering feud.

SCHOOL FINANCING REFORM

The Equal Quality Plan

(Second in a Four-Part Series)

A proposal that would sharply reduce property taxes by virtually eliminating their use as a means of supporting the operation of our public schools will appear on the ballot this coming November.

If this proposal is approved, the 1973 legislature will have the responsibility for increasing taxes and/or imposing new taxes to finance K-12 education.

The 1973 legislature will also have the responsibility for enacting a new method of distributing state-collected funds to the individual school district.

Over the last four years, several such "reform" distribution plans have been proposed. One of the first, widely known as the "equal Quality Plan," was developed by an 8-member School Finance Task Force of the Michigan Association of Professors of Educational Administration.

Published in June of 1969, it served as the basis for one key measure (H. B. 3884 or S. B. 1079) in Governor William Milliken's 12-part education reform program of that year.

Revised again into bill form by a 13-member Legislative Committee of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and published in May of 1970, it was again introduced as S. B. 1180 and H. B. 5236 in the 1971 Legislative session.

The "Unit" Approach

The most distinct feature of the Equal Quality Plan is its use of "classroom units" and "supportive units" as a basis for funding, rather than the "per-pupil" method by which state aid has traditionally been allocated in Michigan.

Essentially, a "classroom unit" is a given number of varied types of students for which a school district is entitled to budget one professional staff member's salary.

Under the Equal Quality Plan, a classroom unit might be:

- 40 kindergarten pupils
- 23 regular pupils in grades 1-12
- 20 vocational, summer school, disadvantaged, migrant, early childhood, or continuing daily or physically handicapped education pupils
- 15 mentally handicapped pupils
- 12 homebound or court ward pupils
- 10 emotionally disturbed or vis-capped pupils
- 7 auditory handicapped pupils

In addition, districts would be credited with "supportive" units to provide such personnel as psychologists, social workers, accountants, etc. Local districts would be budgeted for one supportive unit for each 5 classroom units. Intermediate districts would be budgeted for one supportive unit for every 100 classroom and supportive units in their constituent local districts.

Other Allowances

In addition, each local district would budget certain other costs—determined as a percentage figure of its weighted professional salary allowance:

In-service training	1.5
Non-professional salaries	20
Fringe benefits & substitutes' salaries	5
TOTAL	26.5

Still other budgeted costs would be determined as a percentage of the unweighted professional salary allowance:

Non-salary costs	20
Capital outlay	2
Community & students services	4
Research and development	.5
TOTAL	26.5

Each intermediate district would similarly budget for certain costs determined as a percentage of its weighted salary allowance:

In-service training	2.5
In-service activities for local districts	5
Non-professional salaries	50
Fringe benefits & substitutes' salaries	5
TOTAL	62.5

Other intermediate district budget categories would be based upon the unweighted professional salary allowance:

Non-salary costs	20
Capital outlay	4
Research & development	5
TOTAL	29

The end result of these computations would be that an "average" local school district would receive from the state an amount equal to 153 percent of the state-determined base teacher's salary for each classroom and supportive unit, while an "average" intermediate district would receive an amount equal to 191.5 percent.

Districts with better qualified and more experienced staff would receive higher percentages; those with lesser qualified and experienced staff would receive lower percentages.

The Budgeting Process

Local school districts would be required, by July 1 of each year, to prepare their budgets for the school year beginning in September of the following year and submit them to the intermediate districts. The intermediate districts would review the budgets and forward them, along with their own budgets, to the State Department of Education by September 1.

The Department would review the budgets and submit them with recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature by October 15.

LAST YEAR, 5'4" PATEK COLLECTED 158 HITS, 49 STOLEN BASES, PARTICIPATED IN 107 DOUBLE PLAYS.

"TOO LITTLE" IN HIGH SCHOOL, HE STARRED FOR RANDOLPH AIR FORCE BASE TEAM, PRO SCOUTS LIKED HIS RECORD, NOT HIS SIZE. PIRATES GAVE HIM CHANCE WITH COLUMBUS IN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE, SIX YEARS AGO.

The Governor would then include his own recommendations in his regular budget message (presently by the end of January) and the Legislature would be required to act upon the K-12 financing budget by April 1, so that each local and intermediate district could be notified as to its tentative allocation by April 15.

The Equal Quality Plan also proposes that each local or intermediate district be permitted to levy, with voter approval, up to an optional 3 mills of property tax for "enrichment" programs, above the state-provided level, if such programs are approved by the Department of Education.

Both such optional millage and whatever millage was levied for debt service would be "equalized" by the state, so that each district would be guaranteed the same $30 per-pupil per-mill on its levy that a $30,000 SEV district currently realizes.

Transportation of all pupils regardless of residence, would be fully funded by the state, through the intermediate districts, which would either provide transportation services themselves or contract with the local districts.

Quite obviously, the Equal Quality Plan could not be adopted by the 1973 Legislature, without a certain degree of revision, as a school financing method for 1973-74. The 15-month budgeting lead-in time would require local districts to have 1973-74 budgets already prepared in the manner prescribed in the bill.

In addition to this budgeting problem, the proposal would be costly. It could not be financed with an even "trade" of old revenue sources for new, but would require larger tax increases than anyone has cared to propose publicly.

However, the principles of the Equal Quality Plan certainly deserve Legislative consideration and were, in fact, utilized to some extent in other plans that will be subsequently discussed.

The Equal Quality Plan was indisputably the pioneer proposal in the area of modern school financing reform in Michigan.

VILLAGE MOTOR SALES, INC.

1185 MANCHESTER ROAD CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

The camping family unable to find a vacant site in Michigan this summer does not know where to go, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

While state park campgrounds are expected to have more pressure than ever this summer, the spectacular growth in the number of private campgrounds is the mafor reason why most campers should have little difficulty finding space.

Auto Club is optimistic about campers finding space despite the fact that state park campsites have grown only two percent for 1972 as compared with 1971, while recreation vehicles sales have increased 11 percent.

Also for the first time this year private parks in Michigan will offer more sites than state parks.

Currently there are 255 private parks listed by Auto Club with 20,000 sites as compared with 70 state parks offering 14,814 sites.

All totaled, there are 47,000 campsites in Michigan to service units—excluding an undetermined number of ground tents. In addition to 34,814 private and state park campsites, there are 1,440 sites at national forests, 2,576 at state forests and 8,291 at city, township and county parks, often overlooked by the camping public.

Private parks are taking the pressure off state parks and have prevented state facilities from being completely overrun, Auto Club feels. It points out that while private parks have grown 25 percent in the past year, the number of sites they offer has jumped 43 percent.

Michigan's increasing number of camping families also is causing new businesses to appear. Many cities have made it illegal to store camping trailers in residential areas, unless they are kept in a garage. To accommodate the family which owns a trailer but has nowhere to keep it, storage yards are opening across the state.

These yards are usually fenced areas near a major road with a fee ranging from $5 to $15 monthly, depending on the services available and the location.

Auto Club expects more storage depots to begin opening across the state, especially in the north near popular camping areas or where major roads going to and from resort areas meet.

Hauling a travel trailer with a car doubles gas consumption, Auto Club points out. By storing a trailer 200 miles from home, a person could save up to $20 gasoline money round trip each week-end, which would more than offset the cost of a month's storage.

Also, the trip between the storage area and home could be made faster without a trailer in tow, it is pointed out.

The major concern of campers in Michigan is not if a campsite is available but where one can be found, Auto Club states. Although popular state parks almost always fill on summer week-ends there is usually space at private parks.

Campers can almost always find a vacant campsite if they follow these rules:

—If looking for a site at one of the preferred state parks over a warm week-end, arrive Friday before 3 p.m.

—Use the State Park Hot Line to locate parks with space. Phone any of these numbers for information: (517) 275-8041, daily between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.; (517) - 373-1270, Monday through Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., and (313) 863-1640, Monday through Friday between 10:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

—Have alternate campsites located on a map should first preference be filled upon arrival.

—If staying at a private park, phone ahead for advance reservations. Remember, state parks do not accept reservations and operate on a first-come, first-served basis.

—Carry guides listing state, private and other parks which will help locate them and give other pertinent information, such as facilities available.

Melons Provide Low Calorie Treats

Cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelon make a sweet summer dessert high in nutrients yet low in calories, according to Michigan State University Marketing Specialist Ada Shinabarger.

Cantaloupe is rich in the essential vitamins A and C. One-fourth of a medium-sized cantaloupe provides approximately 65 percent of the vitamin A and 50 percent of the vitamin C recommended daily, with only 30 calories.

One cup of watermelon cubes is the source of 20 percent of the vitamins A and C recommended daily, yet contains only 50 calories.

Rate Hike Approved for Detroit Edison

Lansing—The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized Detroit Edison Co. to increase its rates by $20.2 million annually effective Saturday, Sept. 2.

The 3.6 percent increase is over and above the $25 million interim rate hike approved by the Commission last March 30. Detroit Edison had requested a $70.1 million increase in revenue.

Rates for one out of five Detroit Edison residential customers—those using less than 200 kilowatt hours of energy per month—will remain unchanged. The Commission, as it did in the interim order, approved a rate schedule that exempted 300,000 small customers from any increase. Detroit Edison serves 1.6 million customers in 13 Southeastern Michigan counties.

The Commission also directed Detroit Edison to make a comprehensive analysis of its present pricing policy that will enable the Commission to do a better job of evaluating proposed rate structures in future rate cases and ordered it to file semi-annual reports on its construction program and its efforts to comply with all state and local air and water pollution regulations.

The monthly bill for the average Detroit Edison residential customer—one who uses 450 kilowatt hours of electricity—will increase 61 cents under the new rate schedule, or about two cents a day.

Nola Wackenhut, Guy Freysinger Wed at Zion Lutheran Church

Nola Anne Wackenhut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Wackenhut, 11730 Waters Rd., became the bride of Guy William Freysinger, son of Mrs. Jean Freysinger of Manchester and George Freysinger of Chelsea, in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony at the Zion Lutheran church Saturday, Sept. 2.

The bride was attired in floor-length white satin gown with sheer overlay, sheer sleeves with cuffs of satin and lace, scoop neckline with sheer overlay at neck and waistline trim. The veil was fingertip length with a bead-look pattern woven in. The entire costume was made by the bride.

Miss Judy Grau, 2710 Fletcher Rd., was maid-of-honor. She wore an empire-waisted gown of pink dotted swiss with daisy print and short puff sleeves. A bow served as her headpiece and she carried blue and pink daisies with ribbon streamers. The bridesmaids, Pharan Wackenhut, sister of the bride, and junior bridesmaid, Gail Wackenhut, sister of the bride, wore identical outfits, but in blue. The bridegroom's sister, Alena Freysinger, was flower girl, wearing a pink dress.

Ronald Bollinger, served as best man and ushers were Paul Wackenhut, brother of the bride, and Charles Montgomery of Chelsea.

The Rev. John R. Morris officiated at the ceremony while organist Jill Flintoft of Chelsea provided the music. A solo, "The Lord's Prayer," was sung by Keith Friebe and he and Miss Jean Haselshward performed a duet of "We've Only Just Begun."

The reception at the Chelsea Fairgrounds Service Center immediately following the ceremony was catered by Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr. The guest book was attended by Miss Sue Burns of Ann Arbor, a cousin of the bride. Approximately 300 guests attended the ceremony and reception.

After the reception, the newlyweds left for a two-week honeymoon in Maine wearing matching shirt and slacks outfits. On their return, they plan to reside at 16802 Waterloo Rd.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Freysinger are both graduates of Chelsea High school, the bride graduating in 1972 and the bridegroom in 1969. After high school, the bridegroom attended Lake Superior State College in Sault St. Marie, studying natural resources. He has also served three years in the army and was discharged last November.

First Aid Class Sessions Slated By Red Cross Chapter

The increasing and appalling death toll on our highways is widely recognized. But, most people are unaware that there are far more accidents occurring in the home than on the highways. There are about 4,000,000 disabling injuries resulting from these home accidents (twice the number resulting from motor-vehicle accidents). In addition there are more than 25,000 deaths annually resulting from home accidents. To help you prevent accidents and to be ready to save lives should this occur, your Red Cross sponsors First Aid Classes.

To help meet this need in this area, three different Red Cross Standard First Aid classes begin this month. They are scheduled to start on Tuesday, Sept. 19, Wednesday, Sept. 20, and Thursday, Sept. 21.

Register by calling 971-5300 before 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Guy W. Freysinger

Blood Donors Being Recruited By Red Cross

A campaign to recruit blood donors is presently being conducted by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross. In previous years, summer donations have slumped just as vacation accidents caused need for blood to skyrocket. This year, Red Cross volunteers are actively campaigning to recruit new donors and are staffing a bloodmobile to be held daily at the Chapter headquarters, 2729 Packard, Ann Arbor. Hours of the clinic are Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.

Youth volunteers from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline, Dexter, Manchester, and Chelsea are making phone calls to area residents asking if anyone in their household would donate a pint of blood. Thus far, the public has been very responsive to these young callers. Throughout the summer months, Red Cross Youth Volunteers will be stationed at various hospitals and college campuses in an effort to recruit new donors. Appointments will be made by these teenagers and in some instances transportation will be provided for donors to get to the Red Cross Chapter.

Adult volunteers, along with Red Cross Youth, will be staffing the blood clinics throughout the summer. "Volunteers have responded very enthusiastically to the blood donor recruitment campaign," says Mrs. Malcolm Blakely, vice-chairman of volunteer recruitment for the Washtenaw Chapter. "Volunteers from the communities of Saline, Dexter, Manchester, and Chelsea will help those from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti to staff the daily blood clinic. I am very pleased to see the whole county working together on such a worthwhile project."

It doesn't take a superman to stand on the corner and throw mud at someone who is trying to do something.

1912 REVISITED: Several of the students in the 1912 class of the Sylvan Center school are still residents of the Chelsea area. This composite shows the entire student body, first through 8th grade, and the teacher, Margaret Guinan, who received a salary of $33 a month and a bonus of $8 for doing the janitorial work for the nine-month term. Pictured, front row, left to right, are Robert Stadel, Lloyd Heydlauff, Roy Kalmbach, Raymond West,

Mary Eder, Nelson West, James Liebeck, Clarabell Young, Viola Young, Eva West, and Elsie Heydlauff; back row, Louis Fahrner, Ruth Burgess, Edna Stadel, Clara Fahrner, Thelma Fisk, Celia Eder, and Margaret Guinan. An errant baseball had recently been thrown through the window and the teacher had insisted that the picture be taken on that spot so that parents would realize just how unruly their children were.

Area Women Graduating in LPN Program

Webelos Day Slated Sept. 23 At Bruin Lake

Area Boy Scouts will hold their annual Webelos Day Saturday, Sept. 23, at the Bruin Lake Scout Camp from 1 to 8 p.m. All Cub Scouts 10 years old and over, and their dads, are invited to participate in the annual festivities, designed to give Cubs a preview of the thrills of Scout Camping.

Included in this year's activities are shooting on Bruin Lake's archery and rifle ranges, learning how to use a compass and an axe, knot-tying and rope-making, and other Tenderfoot skills. A giant mountain climbing tower has been added this year, and each cub will get a try on it. A self-cooked meal and campfire will end the day's activities.

The cost of the event is $1.50 per person and reservations may be made by writing or calling Portage Trails Council, BSA, 2163 W. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, 48103.

Things can always be worse. Thirty years from now speeders will crash in the sky and fall on pedestrians.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Time ...

Today is the first day of the rest of your life. It has value because you still possess its fleeting moments that give you an opportunity to decide and take action. Today is now, this moment.

Yesterday is gone forever, gone to history or oblivion. It can not be changed, altered, or relived in any way. It has left something - the value of experience.

Because of yesterday, we can accomplish so much more today. If we have brought something forward in the way of knowledge or experience, we can accomplish what must be done today, as well as plan for tomorrow.

Today has its worth and tomorrow possesses what it can be. We should use time as if it were money, as if it were limited, as indeed it is. Spend it carefully and not foolishly; once gone, today never returns again.

The reason hard work kills so few people is because there are so few people who work hard.
