

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

EAR MISTER EDITOR: I reckon ever newspaper in the world gets tired of trying to explain that it don't make the news, just reports it. But folks never understand cause they don't want to understand, especial them that don't like what they see in the papers. I was thinking about this the other day when I saw where the woman had called a big daily paper to ask if there was going to be a eclipse of the sun.

we git sick. This way, this feller explains, doctors would have far greater interest in our health. That makes as much sense as what we do now. We bet the insurance company good money we're going to git sick, and they bet we won't, and fer shore they win more than we do. But ever now and then we can have it both ways. I see where all the folks that built bomb shelters 10 years ago during the hot days over Cuba now is using their shelters for wine cellars, guest rooms and places for the old man to git away from the old lady and the younguns for a couple hours. These folks was betting we was going to git blown up. We didn't and I can shore they're as happy as I am here while you're as happy as the rest of us to find they couldn't collect the bet. But now they get a bonus. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Adopted Home Needed for Older Children

The adoption scene in the United States has changed considerably in the past two or three years. There are no longer any healthy infants of any race readily available for adoption. There are three reasons for this phenomenon: (1) Single mothers are not releasing their children for adoption as they once did. Social mores are undergoing a change, and for the most part, single mothers are accepted in our everchanging society. (2) Liberalized abortion laws are reducing the number of illegitimate births. (3) Birth control methods are reducing the number of illegitimate pregnancies. To make the adoption scene even more complex, it seems as if more couples than ever before are wanting to adopt. Couples who have their hearts set on adopting an infant are usually very disappointed when they come to realize that no infants are available to them. There are however, many older children of all races who are waiting for homes of their own. Certainly these children deserve a home as much, if not more, than an infant. The children available for adoption today are usually in the age range of 6 to 11 years. Many of these children have physical handicaps, but are slow in school. For these reasons, it is somewhat harder to find adoptive homes for them, but when a home is found, both the family and the child are better off for having found one another. Adoption agency requirements have been changed in order to meet the challenge of placing older children in homes of their own. Couples no longer have to own their own home, or have a large bank account. There are no longer any requirements concerning age, religion, marital status, or number of children already in the family. Persons who feel that they would like to learn more about the adoption of older children, should feel free to call Gretchen Hanink, the Adoption Homefinder for Washtenaw County at 769-8700. The Department of Social Services, Miss Hanink is also interested in speaking to groups about the changing adoption scene. Adoption information meetings are held the second Monday evening of each month. Since the location of the meeting changes each month, it's a good idea to call Miss Hanink to find out the exact location. In October, the meeting will be at the Ypsilanti Senior Citizen's Recreation Center, Oct. 9. Bobby is just one of the older children in Michigan who is waiting for a home of his own. He is eight years old, with blond hair and blue eyes. He is very outgoing, friendly, and affectionate and gets along well with children and adults. He has recently been placed in a Type A special education class, after being in a Type B class. He is curious about everything and loves to talk. He loves to play outdoors and he is curious about everything he sees. A patient and loving family would be great for Bobby, especially if they were not too concerned about children doing well in school. For the right family, Bobby would make a loving and charming addition. He is just one example of the kind of children waiting for homes.

and told the commission the court needs at least another $6,000. Hart said Henderson would be paid from court funds again, but that he didn't yet know how much. Hart also said he still thinks the court needs $57,000 and that the commission should be thinking in terms of $65,000 for 1974. Even harder to figure than an equitable salary for the court, however, is an equitable salary for members of the legislature. State Chamber of Commerce President Harry Hall had much sympathy for this year while testifying before the commission. Hall said he didn't think any salaries should be raised this year to set an example for voters in the fight against inflation. So far as the legislature is concerned, he said, "if you're talking about performance, some legislators are grossly underpaid and some are overpaid at any price."

Federal Food Assistance Is Available

Red Cross is heavily involved in a national campaign to identify and enroll elderly and disabled individuals who may be eligible for Federal Food Assistance. Mrs. Malcolm Blakely of Dexter, is Red Cross volunteer recruitment chairman for Washtenaw county, while Mrs. John Ayers is in charge of the program in the Dexter area. Project FIND was devised by Dr. Arthur Flemming, chairman of the White House Conference on Aging. The program began when Social Security checks were withheld in August by more than 27 million individuals throughout the country. Each person received an explanatory brochure and a post-card which they could return should they need assistance. Approximately 15 cards were returned by local residents. Volunteers will telephone or visit those individuals who are interested in learning more about their possible eligibility for Food Assistance. The Red Cross role is to interpret, not to make final decisions about an applicant's eligibility. Anyone in the Dexter area who is interested in being contacted should either mail their card to Project FIND or they may phone Red Cross at 971-5300.

MORE RECREATIONAL RESOURCES NEEDED

Michigan's recreational resources will have to be widely expanded by the middle of the 1990's, according to a Michigan State University study. Factors such as the adoption of the four-day work week by many firms and the division of the school year into four 45-day sessions will mean more year-around use of recreational resources, according to researchers working on MSU's "Project 80 & 5."

Thursday, Sept. 26, 1968—The Golden Jubilee of scouting in Washtenaw and Livingston counties will be in the spotlight during a huge camporee planned for the week-end of Sept. 27, 28, 29 at Hudson Mills Metro Park near Dexter. The Portage Trails Council of the Boy Scouts of America will sponsor the camporee. The Michigan Senate Committee on Abortion Law Reform will hold the first of a series of hearings on Monday, Oct. 7, according to Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor), committee chairman. Russell Maurer of 224 Jefferson St. has been adding trombone music to the Central Michigan University's 130-man Chippewa Marching Band as it practiced and performed at the first of nine fall performances last Friday. Chelsea Rebekah Lodge No. 130 made plans to observe a half century of fraternal friendship at their regular meeting Sept. 17, at the hall. With only one charter member still on the books and 50 years good standing as a lodge, Noble Grand Mrs. Donovan C. S. Sweeney appointed Mrs. Richard Keezer, Nadine Packard, Mrs. Ropald Beyer, and vice-grand Conovah Pickell on the committee. 14 Years Ago... Thursday, Sept. 25, 1958—Alfred Kuhl has been re-elected chairman of District I of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and three other Chelsea men were elected to act on committees. They are Herman Koenn who is on the state nominating committee; Jay L. Bradbury on the state resolution committee; and James Bradbury, Jr. and Herman Koenn on the district nomination committee. Last Friday night Chelsea High opened their 1958 football season with a 19-0 victory over arch-rival Dexter. This game marked the last time the two neighboring schools will face each other in the season's curtain-raiser. Next year both Dexter and Chelsea will be members of a new athletic league and will be opening their seasons with non-league rivals. Harry Policht, 1 1/2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Liza Policht, was badly bitten on the head and face Tuesday noon, when the family dog, a boxer, turned on the child who had disturbed him while he was eating. The dog is customarily kept tied some distance from the house. White letters on a bright blue background are clearly legible on the newly-installed outdoor bulletin on the grounds of the Congregational church. The legend on the bulletin for its unveiling Sunday stated: "Dedicated this day in memory of Arnold W. Lehmann who first dreamed of this structure." The Rev. Richard Cockrell, vicar of Saint Barnabas Episcopal church has resigned his position here to accept a new position as of Oct. 15. 24 Years Ago... Thursday, Sept. 30, 1948—Gil Dodds, holder of the world's record for the indoor mile, and for the past three years student coach at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., will speak Saturday, Oct. 16, 8 p.m. in the Copeland auditorium of the Dexter High school, under the sponsorship of the Dexter-Chelsea Youth for Christ. A huge balloon, presumably headed toward Detroit, passed over the Gottleib Bollinger farm about 8:20 Sunday morning. Members of the family, investigating their dogs' barking, sighted the silver-colored airship flying low over the tree-tops. No signs of passenger or crew could be seen from the ground. A service consecrating the newly remodeled and redecorated dining room and kitchen of the Congregational church opened the Family Night program held in the dining room of the church Thursday evening. The Rev. W. H. Skentelbury, pastor of the church, was in charge of the consecration service which included a prayer and hymns by the congregation. 34 Years Ago... Thursday, Sept. 29, 1938—Under the direction of Roy Wallis, vocational agriculture instructor, the Chelsea Community Fair will be held on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15, at the public school auditorium. Plans for the fair are nearing completion and Wallis and officers of the project promise a one held and better event than the one held last year. The Child Study Club was the guest of the Young Mother's Child Study Club to hear their speaker, Dr. William G. Robinson on Monday evening at the high school auditorium. His topic was "Recognition as a Community Responsibility." Mrs. P. G. Schaeble represented the club. The Western Washtenaw Farmer's Club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Musbach, where a pot-luck supper with covers for 40, was served at 7 o'clock. Mesdames W. R. Daniels, F. D. Mumby, Walter Harper, and J. L. Fletcher were the committees in charge.

When Johnny Taylor said "No more wrinkles in my shirts... his wife bought a Gas dryer. The kind with a permanent press cycle. But what Johnny and his wife discovered was that the permanent press cycle on their new Gas dryer saves them Gas and money, too. You see, it operates without Gas during the last 10 minutes (just fresh fluffing air, to make sure the wrinkles won't set). Saving Mrs. Taylor a lot of ironing. With so many permanent press items in use today, you should consider replacing your old dryer with a modern Gas dryer with the permanent press cycle. You can see them at Gas appliance dealers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms. But, whether your dryer is old or new, here is how you can increase its operating efficiency: 1. Follow manufacturer's instructions on proper operation. 2. Keep the dryer's lint filter clean. 3. Avoid over-drying your clothing. 4. Keep the dryer's flue clear of lint accumulations. pumped up the score two points higher with an extra point run. Almost immediately Chelsea was back puffing at Dexter's door. John Wagner blew it right down with a two-yard run, but Dexter was finally able to stop the extra-point attempt, leaving the score at a breath-taking 38-0 at the end of the first half.

As the second half opened, Perry Johnson was once again blasting down the field, returning Dexter's kick-off 65 yards to Dexter's 10-yard line. On the second play, Randy Johnson snatched up three yards on a quarterback sneak, boosting the score to 44-0. Steve Kincer tore through adding two extra points to the score.

Chelsea was put on the defensive for the rest of the third quarter as Dexter mounted its best drive of the night.

The game was called after a little more than two minutes in the fourth quarter due to a Dexter injury. A doctor said the boy should not be moved, and that it would take 15-20 minutes to get an ambulance.

It happened that the injury was not as serious as first feared. It has been reported that the player suffered a dislocation of the knee.

Defensively Chelsea was led by Doug Reed who brought down nine Dexter men. Greg McClain tripped up eight, while Rodger Stewart wrapped himself around seven.

Tod Orbring and Dave Proctor each had six Dexter falls to their credit. Greg McClain and Randy Musbach each recovered a fumble.

Perry Johnson won honors with his impressive, 160-yard total offense, with Doug Reed behind him with a respectable 120-yard credit. Randy Guenther covered 34 yards, and Dave Keiser charged ahead 19 yards in two carries. Curt Winans' three carries brought him 49 yards. Steve Kincer blustered into the Dexter line for 15 yards.

The offensive line was responsible for the large holes in Dexter's defense which facilitated the best offensive showing by Chelsea in over a year. Impressive hole openers were Ron Kiel, Jack Hackworth, Dave Proctor, and Tod Orbring. Dennis Bauer, Steve Figg, Paul Wood, and Mark Pennington, also tore holes in the Dexter offense.

STEVE BERGMAN (85) in his six years on the gridiron played linebacker until his speed in his sophomore year qualified him for the middle position he now efficiently holds. Bergman has not only trod the turf, but stalked the stage in various school musicals. He was Lt. Morgan in last spring's Chelsea High production "Guys and Dolls." He has his eye on the role of Bill Seitz in "Oliver," the musical planned for this year. Wally Grossman employs Bergman's talent as a mechanic on the week-ends, but it is Michigan Trenching Co. that will have Bergman's time after graduation. Bergman has lived in Chelsea all his life, and although he will be doing some traveling with his future job, he plans to keep Chelsea as his home.

TACKLE MARK GRAMBAU (79) brings them down on the tennis courts as well as on the football field, and during his sophomore year he was even seen as pitcher and outfielder on the baseball team. More recently he has concerned himself with earning money for the senior trip. As a member of the Senior Trip Club he will be selling magazines. He has kept his interest in architecture alive with four years of mechanical drawing, and hopes to go farther toward that goal in college next year. Olivet College has been knocking at his door because of his fine performance in football but he hasn't made up his mind where he'll go next year.

Car Stolen, Stripped, Abandoned

The Chelsea Police Force, after two weeks of relative quiet, is back in the thick of things due to a flurry of crime that occurred over the weekend.

Alan T. Machnik of 1231 Machnik Dr. was the first bearer of bad tidings. He walked into the police station Friday afternoon with the bizarre details of the theft of his car the night before.

After allowing an acquaintance to borrow his car, a 1966 blue Volkswagen sedan, Machnik last saw his car in front of his house before going, with a friend to Ann Arbor. When he returned at about 3 a.m. the car was gone.

The next day in school he picked up a few tips from classmates and later followed the rumors to the remains of his car in the woods around Duffy Lake in Lyndon township.

The engine, the radio, and the front seat were missing along with four rim adapters that Machnik had installed so that Chevrolet rims could be used on the car.

The automobile's body was riddled with holes from a 22 calibre weapon, and all the window glass had been smashed and kicked in. The trunk lid had been removed with a cutting torch.

The boy carries no insurance that will cover the loss. The complainant and the police are now checking out several suspects.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor, Please call the following to the attention of your readers.

There is a little girl in our town who was exposed to polio germs. She was saved from that crippling disease because she had received her polio shots. Everyone in Chelsea probably has relatives who have benefited from polio vaccine.

Anyone living or working in Chelsea has a chance of receiving blood free-of-charge from the blood bank, when emergencies arise.

People in Chelsea may need the services of Alcoholics Anonymous or of other agencies which specialize in counselling those who have mental or emotional needs beyond their own control.

Your local United Fund (Community Chest) helps support research on polio, cancer, heart disease, kidney disease, and more. It supports the blood bank program, and the mental health agencies.

When a worker for the United Fund contacts you, please receive him or her as someone who is doing the community a service, and treat them as such. They represent 11 local agencies and 56 state and national agencies that need your help. You need them, too. Thank you. James F. Hoffmeyer.

Review of 1972 Negotiations Between CEA, School Board

The chief negotiator for the CEA requested to be placed on the agenda for the board of education meeting Feb. 21. This request was made after the board appointed the administrators as the negotiating team for the board.

The request was granted by the board and the CEA chief negotiator presented "a series of proposals and cons related to the Board of Education's new approach to negotiations."

Among the cons was the following statement: "With the exception of Charles Cameron, none of the administrators has been negotiator before. We saw the results of the same situation two years ago."

It was agreed by both parties to begin negotiations without formal proposals. At any time the teacher negotiators felt that this procedure was not effective, the negotiating teams would revert to the proposal-counter proposal method of negotiating. The teacher negotiators decided after the May 25 meeting which was the sixth session of informal negotiations, to revert to the proposal-counter proposal method.

A letter to the teachers from the CEA negotiating team dated June 2, (one week before school ended) stated that "your Building Representative has in his possession one copy of the CEA's proposed contract year." This same letter contains the following statement: "At least in the hands of a fact finder, if this is the road we must travel, they will get due consideration."

Four negotiation sessions were held between the letter of June 2 and July 25.

A letter from the CEA negotiating team to the teachers, dated July 25, included an update of the progress of negotiations. The following statement is included in that letter: "For those of you on the staff in 1969-70, this whole sequence may sound familiar. 'It is the Team's feeling that the staff should prepare for the possible problems which may arise as a result of the present situation.'"

Two negotiation sessions were held between the letters of July 25 and Aug. 25.

Included in another letter dated Aug. 25, from the CEA Executive Council and Negotiators to the teachers, again to update the progress in negotiations, are the following statements: "Obviously there is no contract and things do not look bright at this time. Your Executive Board urges you to take needed precautions in the event that more drastic action is necessary. In the meantime your negotiators will work tirelessly to achieve a fair and equitable contract. 'Save your money and get your finances in order!'"

The board negotiators also met with a "Crisis Team" composed of three Michigan Education Association members Aug. 29. In the minutes of the CEA General Meeting dated Sept. 5, are the following statements: "He (the chief negotiator) told of the meeting with the MEA Crisis Team before Aug. 31. Their (Crisis Team) feeling about negotiations was that we would have a contract on Aug. 31. This did not result from meetings that whole day, however."

Also from the minutes of the same meeting are the following:

Driver Fails In Trial Run On Railroad

Chief Meranuck's schedule was spiced by a call from a conscientious citizen last week. The caller notified the chief that an automobile, which had been driving down the railroad tracks, was stuck not far from Garvey Rd.

The chief investigated and found 31-year-old James Keckle and his female companion stranded on the tracks. The car's front tires were on the rails, but the back tires were off, making it apparently impossible to move the car.

Chief Meranuck was able to contact Jackson's dispatcher in time to stop the passenger train which was on its way. When asked if he cared that his car could have been demolished, Keckle replied, "It's just junk anyway."

The chief called a wrecker to remove the automobile so that the train could proceed, but Keckle managed to move the car off before the wrecker arrived. The train sped by moments later.

When asked the reason for trying to drive down the tracks, Keckle explained, "I used to do it as a kid, and I wanted to show her," pointing to his companion. Times have changed.

Future Homemakers Elect New Officers

Chelsea Chapter of Future Homemakers of America called an organizational meeting Sept. 12.

Beth Dettling, the outgoing president, directed the meeting until they elected the new officers, president Darlene Robbins; vice-president, Anne Williams; secretary, Linda Gaken; and treasurer Beth Hoover.

The group will meet again soon to firm up plans for their Oct. 2 fun night and pizza party.

Herman Koenn Named to 4-H Bonanza Post

Herman Koenn, Chelsea, has been appointed by top officials of Ford Motor Co., the Michigan Farm Bureau, and Michigan State University to serve as Washtenaw county agricultural chairman of the 4-H Bonanza.

Bonanza is an auction-exhibition involving Michigan agriculture, industry, and education in joint support of expanded opportunities for Michigan youth.

Koenn's affiliation with the event was announced officially Sept. 14 by the triumvirate chairman of Bonanza: Benson Ford, vice-president, Ford Motor Co.; Elton Smith, president, Michigan Farm Bureau; and Dr. Clifton Wharton, president, Michigan State University.

As county agricultural chairman, Koenn will be responsible for motivating and involving key individuals in agriculture within Washtenaw county and organizing county-wide support for Bonanza.

Sponsored by the Michigan 4-H Foundation, in co-operation with Michigan State University and the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service, Bonanza will be held on the campus of MSU on Oct. 14. A county industrial chairman will be named in the near future.

Executive Council Recommendations

1. Make a strike vote.
2. Give the power to determine a strike date to the E. C. (Executive Council).

3. Strike later, not at the beginning. Rationale: Uncertainty might bring about a settlement before fact finding.

The action on these recommendations resulted in the decision to request fact finding.

At least 11 negotiating sessions were held before the CEA requested a mediator. This request was granted and the mediator met with the negotiation teams all day Aug. 31. Concessions were made by the day with the expectation that agreement would be reached. At 6 p.m. the mediator decided that a settlement would not be reached.

In a letter dated Sept. 6, the Teacher Negotiation Team was informed that the board's offer of Aug. 31, is open for acceptance on or before Sept. 13, 12 noon.
