JC Barbecue, Color Tours Slated Sunday

There should be lots of finger food this Sunday when Chelsea's 12th annual Barbecue and Color Tour is held at the intersection of Old US-12 and 52.

Rowe, chairman of the event, says that construction of the new 75-foot concrete pit will begin early Saturday and that it will be ready for use by Sunday morning. Jiffy's veteran cooks, Jim Gaken, Boering, and Hank Ortring will be in charge.

1,250 chickens, this year from Rowe, will be in good hands. Ortring has been cooking for the Jaycees ever since they started this tradition, and the other pros have at least 12 years of cooking experience between them.

In course, they have quality ribs to work with. The Jaycees stipulate that their chickens weigh between 16-20 ounces.

The barbecue site will be roped off this year, to assure an orderly flow of traffic. There will be chairs and tables set up for people to eat their dinners at the site. However, the Jaycees anticipate that many participants, especially out-of-towners, will want to take their food with them for the color tour.

Maps and poster routes for color tours through Pinckney Recreation Area will be available with each ticket. Tickets will be available until the colors are over. Rowe points out that the peak is still ahead.

Again this year, members of the Chelsea sponsored Cub and Girl Scout troops will fold boxes used for serving the dinners. After the boxes are assembled, members of the Jaycee Auxiliary will add dinner rolls, potato chips, cole slaw, and table service that go along with the chicken.

The event will end at approximately 3 p.m. as the Jaycees begin to clean up their site.

The barbecue is the local Jaycees' largest money-making event, and supports many of the community service projects that the chapter conducts.

In the event that they have any chickens left-over, the Jaycees will donate them to St. Louis school, as they have in the past.

Girl Scouts Plan Exchange Of Uniforms

The annual Girl Scout Uniform Exchange is planned under the direction of Mrs. Carol Hoffman and Mrs. Pat Stirling. The sale is conducted with the idea that each girl in scouting will be able to have a uniform at minimum costs.

Those who no longer need Brownie, Junior or Cadette uniforms and handbooks are urged to bring their articles to the Sylvan Town Hall on Friday, Oct. 6 from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Please put what you have in plastic bags and label it as to size, contents and your asking price; include a self-addressed stamped envelope so that your money may be returned.

Parents of Girl Scouts who are interested in purchasing a gently used uniform may call at the Sylvan Town Hall the following day. They will be picked up there Oct. 9-30.

Enrollment Totals Soar at Local Schools

Mark Twain once said, "Soap and education are not as sudden as massacre, but they are as deadly in the long run."

If that is true, Chelsea residents better stop bawling to make up for the growing number of children in their schools. The Chelsea school system is accommodating more young minds than ever this year with an official enrollment of 2,612 students. This figure represents an increase of 164 students over last year.

The high school alone has grown 42 students larger with a new total of 812. South school's enrollment is up 66 students, giving it a total of 550. There are 671 noses at Beach Middle school which includes 24 new ones.

North school alone has less students this year than it did last year. 406 children are comfortably there this year. Last year, 445 pairs of little feet thundered through the halls.

A new statistic which explains North school's loss of pupils is that of the Kindergarten Center, which houses 173 beginning scholars.

Fred Mills, business manager for the school district, explains that the increased number of students in Chelsea public schools is only partially explained by the influx of students who had attended St. Mary's, the parochial school which closed its doors last spring and is now leasing its facilities to the school system for the Kindergarten Center. "Our larger totals have something to do with absorption, but we've grown with new students, too."

Battle of Leaves Will Start Monday

Superintendent Frederick C. Petsch of Chelsea's Department of Public Works has announced that their force will start the battle with fall leaves Oct. 9.

Citizens are to rake their leaves into piles on the lawn extension. They will be picked up there Oct. 9-30.

McFadden started learning his craft on the job "way back before the war, at Krogers." At first he was working in groceries, but switched to the meat department because "it looked easier."

The skill he acquired not only kept him in jobs all these years, but kept him safe. Butchering is a dangerous business, and it is only the very skillful who come away with all their fingers.

"All butchers have scars," says McFadden, but he has never cut himself seriously.

After the war, McFadden tried his hand at manufacturing at the Kaiser-Frazer plant, but even then he held a part-time meat cutting job. Soon he was back to his trade full time.

He was doing the meat at A. B. Dexter's store until its closing 18 years ago. Since then he's been behind Schneider's meat counter.

Last Saturday was his last day. McFadden didn't feel completely ready to retire but his failing eye-sight gave him little choice. Now that the time has SKILLED CRAFTSMAN: Grover McFadden, Thursday, Sept. 30. He has retired after 18 years at brandished his butcher knife for the last time Saturday at Schneider's grocery store.

Grover McFadden Retiring From Meat Cutting Business

Over the years, Grover McFadden has ground out 65 tons of hamburger. He won't even speculate on the number of steaks his knife has carved out, but he knows it's a lot. He's the man to ask if you think there's more to the butcher business than meets the eye.

It's a dying art, he says. There was a time it took skill as well as strength. "It's still hard work," he admits. But now those lethal, but romantic looking, butcher knives are being replaced by equally lethal, but not so romantic looking, electric saws.

"There's not much hand cutting any more," he says. But McFadden acknowledges the necessity of progress. "There's so much meat coming through these days that you can't keep up without machines."

The strength is still required, however. Butchers must carry 400 pound sides of beef to their chopping blocks where they hack and carve them into edible portions.

School District Faces Unfair Labor Charge

Public Hearing Set for Oct. 17 On Charges Filed by CEA

Chelsea Public School District will face charges of unfair labor practices at a public hearing Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 10 a.m. at the Municipal Building, because they have employed, according to the Chelsea Education Association, coercive methods in their negotiations with the teachers.

The CEA bases its claim that the Chelsea School Board has violated the Michigan Employment Relations Act on two specific incidents which occurred during negotiations. The Board distributed materials outlining what appeared to be their final proposals relative to the issues which were still unagreed upon by the teachers and the board. The charge reads "This action was initiated and carried out without the benefit of request or permission from the CEA. Shortly thereafter, the CEA felt further pressure was being applied when the board adopted a resolution that if the CEA did not accept their last proposal by Sept. 13 everything would be withdrawn. That resolution was then made public in The Chelsea Standard."

The CEA is requesting that an order directing the Chelsea Board of Education to "cease and desist from engaging in any activities relative to the collective negotiation process which represent attempts to interfere and/or coerce their public employees in the exercising of their legal, guaranteed rights."

They want the board to admit their wrong doing with "appropriate notices of its violation of the Michigan Employment Relations Act." The CEA wants assurances that the board will not repeat its alleged violation.

Finally, the CEA feels the board should pay for damages and expenses that arose from the violation.

Bulldog Grid Team Loses To Saline, 14-3

Saline's swarming Hornets smartly protected their nest Friday night, and gave the Bulldogs their first sting of the season, a 14-3 defeat.

At the onset, the Bulldogs looked as if they meant business. Chelsea rambled with the opening kick from their 35-yard line to Saline's 40. There Chelsea had to punt, but when the Hornets fumbled on the kick reception, Bruce Guster snatched it up, leaving Chelsea on Saline's 12.

Three plays later, with a fourth down on the four, the Bulldogs settled for a 22-yard field goal by Bill Harrison.

During the rest of the quarter Saline did some buzzing and banging. Chelsea recovered three more Saline fumbles and kept the Hornets' obviously strong scoring machine in check.

Although the Bulldogs' fierce defenders, Jeff Schmidt, Steve Bergman, Mark Grambau, Mike Merkel, Dave Tucker, Tim Lancaster, Dan Houle, Jeff Marshall, Bob Elliott, and Bruce Guster kept giving the ball back to the offense, Chelsea was unable to muster any threatening attack.

The half closed with a precarious 3-0 lead for Chelsea.

With a respectable first half behind them, Chelsea booted off the third quarter. The kick by Harrison was returned only to Saline's 18-yard line.

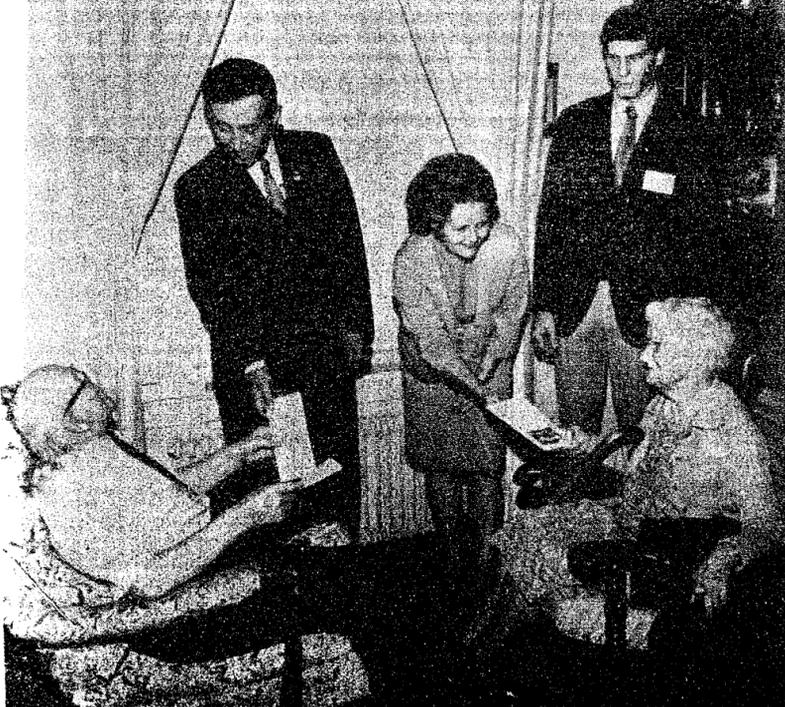

Then the game-deciding play broke loose. Saline's capable half-back, George Dannifel ran a simple dive, found a hole between guard and tackle, hurdled a linebacker, and charged clear for 88 yards and a score. Saline successfully kicked the extra point leaving Chelsea four points behind.

The Bulldogs came right back with the kickoff and recorded a first down. But again the offense ran out of steam and had to punt.

John Houle punted to the 50-yard line where the ball hit a Saline player. Another Saline player fielded the free ball and made a beeline toward the goal. A host of Chelsea players tried to stop him, but the runner kept his feet to Chelsea's eight-yard line.

From there the Saline team wedged into the end zone. The game ended with that score, 14-3.

Tomorrow the Bulldogs will show if that sting has been festering when they meet Lincoln at home again.

Senator Griffin's Wife Hits Campaign Trail with Recipes

Perky Marge Griffin, wife of U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin, made the rounds of Chelsea Monday afternoon stopping at Chelsea State Bank, the Chelsea Medical Center, and Chelsea Methodist Home.

She was shaking at lot of hands, as candidates' wives are put to do in an election year. More unusually, she was leaving cookbooks in her wake. She has recently published "Marge Griffin's Family Cookbook."

It has often been said that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, but in the case of the Senator and his wife, the reverse was true.

During the early years of their marriage, Marge was teaching school while Bob Griffin was completing law studies. Since he returned home first, he became the family cook, and a very good one, Marge points out.

Now, Marge Griffin has compiled several of her husband's recipes, and added a few of her own and other's from family members.

The result is "Marge Griffin's Family Cookbook," assisted by U.S. Senator Bob Griffin, a 31-page volume which she is currently introducing to residents in Michigan.

The handy booklet contains favorite recipes of three generations of Griffins, plus several family photographs taken both in Washington and in Traverse City.

With apologies, Marge notes that her "experience at the stove was limited. Fortunately, Bob took on the task of teaching me to cook using family recipes such as his brother Jerry's sukki-yaki, and many of his mother's southern style dishes."

She has also included recipes for some of Bob's 55 ways with hamburger, dishes he perfected during their "budget conscious years" and recipes using delicious Michigan cherries principally grown in the Traverse City

DRUG PROBLEM HERE?

Medicine Cabinets Raided By Children

"I've read of 'mixed fruit' parties, where kids raid their parents' medicine cabinets and bring a bag of mixed pills to pass around," said Alan Conklin, principal of Beach Middle school. "But I've always had a hard time imagining kids doing that."

Unfortunately, the possibility of children actually doing that in Chelsea was brought home to the principal last Friday when a case of drug abuse surfaced at a school.

The incident began the night before when a group of young girls gathered at one of their homes, and began trying out an assortment of pills collected from a family medicine cabinet. One of the girls, a 12-year-old who was babysitting at the time, took six during the evening but felt no effects. She asked for two more the next day at school, and then fell sick.

Three other girls, two 13-year-olds, and a 15-year-old who was the pill dispenser, were also trying pills at school that morning. One took five valium and "a green pill," another took five, the third four.

The girls had no clear idea of the nature of the medication they were taking. They all fell ill and went to the counselor.

A fifth student was involved, a 15-year-old boy, the brother of one of the girls. He brought 15-20 valium tablets to school Friday which he had taken from his father's prescription bottle. He confessed taking two himself, along with some speed, and shared three of them with a girl.

When the students began to feel sick, the boy gave the pills to another boy who was later picked up as truant. The second boy denies having the drugs, and no drugs were found on him.

When this came to the attention of the counselors, and the principal, their first concern was for the students' health. Three students were taken to the Medical Center, but they recovered without treatment.

When their physical well-being was assured, Conklin's next responsibility was for the entire student body's safety so he called in the police to verify his own conclusion that no drugs had been bought or sold. There was no evidence of trafficking in illegal drugs. The students had only shared prescription drugs taken from family medicine cabinets.

Although no criminal offense was committed, both Chief George Meranuck and Conklin are deeply concerned about the implications of the incident.

Conklin says, "It is just as serious because of the health hazards to abuse prescription drugs, as it is to buy drugs on the streets."

They were both appalled to find that these young people were willing to swallow "yellow, green, big and little" pills without knowing what they could be taking.

They are reluctant to suggest that parents with children "old enough to know better" are being negligent leaving medicines in the cabinets, and yet they do suggest that renewed caution be exercised by individuals of all ages when there are drugs in the house.

"In spite of the concern Conklin feels about the students' willingness to take the drugs, he is encouraged that they came to the counselors as soon as they began to feel ill."

"Our first concern is for their well-being. I shudder to think what could happen if there comes a time when our students are

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Well, I had aimed to get a little work done around the place during the first cool days, but I never got around to it. Fact is, I ain't as excited about work as folks are in Japan. Zeke Grubb was telling about how work crazy they are during the session at the country store Saturday night.

According to this piece Zeke read, companies in Japan have to force workers to take vacations. It got so bad about everybody wanting to work all the time, reported Zeke, till the companies have took to making folks pay fines for working during their vacation times. And Zeke said a lot of em actual pay to work, cause they rather be on the job than trying to figure what to do with all their spare time.

The fellows at the store was doubting that Zeke read the piece right. Clem Webster said he could believe it, cause them folks in Japan must be working night and day to make all the stuff we're buying from em. Besides, went on Clem, with so many people on so little land, workers probably got more room to relax and move around in the factory than at home. Clem said he could name fellows that look forward to going to work to get away from the old lady and the younguns.

Actual, allowed Ed Doolittle, working ain't all that strange, even in this day of everything on the automatic. Ed had saw where 3,000 teenage boys and girls worked this past summer in the Youth Conservation Corps, and all of em enjoyed the new experience. The experts called the "work ethic." One official of the federal finding outfit said the younguns wanted to show there is still a place for simple toil in a complicated society.

General speaking, Zeke said, working is its own reward. Zeke was of the mind that after 40 a feller still has a lot of steam to get things done, but it takes a lot more to get the boiler going. Opportunities is like they allus was, went on Zeke, most of em come disguised as hard work.

The fellers got to talking about jobs and economy, and they was agreed things will keep humming as least through the November election. In other words, spoke-up Ed, we'll keep wearing last year's clothing, driving this year's car and spending next year's income. As for politicking, Ed was in favor of using the Indian system where the chief was allowed to speak as long as he could stand on one foot. What we need through October, declared Ed, is more one-foot political speeches.

Fer sure, Mister Editor, politics ain't all that's going on. I see by the papers where some schools is offering night courses for wimmin on how to understand football. I figger a heap of our football TV widders has decided if they can't lick em they'll join em.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Letters to the Editor

Hunting season is upon us, so guard your dog against dog nappers. These people that come and steal dogs that belong to others and use them for hunting, must not have a conscience. They could go to an animal shelter and buy a dog to hunt with, but instead they steal a dog that belongs to some child or a dog that is just a pet.

We live on a private island off Strawberry Lake Rd., and in the last week we have lost two dogs. They have just disappeared. I wonder if the person that took these dogs thought first: 1) Does that dog belong to a child? 2) Is that dog a hunter? 3) Is it a house dog and needs care?

Apparently they don't have a heart. The one we lost is a blonde part cocker spaniel and is about 8 years old. She does not hunt and she is a house dog and loves to just stay close to home. She is not in the best of health and it will kill her to run her through the fields. The dog grew up with our boys and the one who will miss her most has just left for Germany for a year with the Army. What do you tell your kids when they look for the dog. Ours was left out at 6:45 a.m. and disappeared before 7:15 a.m.

What kind of a person would do a thing like this—apparently a heartless, thoughtless, selfish person. I hope he reads this and returns these dogs to the place where he picked them up. It is a shame you can't even leave a dog out to run for a few minutes.

If someone tries to sell you a dog for hunting first try and find out where he got the dog from? It probably doesn't even belong to him.

Use the coals, not fire, to cook meat on an outdoor grill. Broiling at low to moderate temperatures makes for juicier and more tender meat. It also means more tender to serve and enjoy since high temperatures increase cooking losses.

System Continues

Not many people will admit they like it, but it's doubtful much will be done about the way Michigan picks the men and women who govern its three largest universities and the State Department of Education.

Members of the various boards are elected to eight-year terms, with two positions open every two years. They are nominated at party conventions and picked in the general election.

About the only thing that can safely be said about the whole group of them is that few voters have any idea whom they are voting for.

Invariably, the party which carries the presidential vote, or the majority of the upper portion of the ticket in non-presidential years, sweeps its candidates onto the respective boards.

It's really hard to blame the voter very much for the situation. This year, for example, there are 31 candidates running for the eight positions open. The most popular board is the state board of education, which has a total of 10 candidates vying for its two spots.

It is nearly impossible for the average voter to make an intelligent choice between 31 candidates for just about anything, especially when very little is written about the candidates and they have no funds to use to make themselves known.

The result, is that the voter usually just votes down the line for the candidates of the same party he likes for president or governor or senator, depending on what offices are being contested.

Different, probably better systems are used in most states. The boards are filled by appointment by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, just as the governing boards for Michigan's other public institutions of higher education are filled.

Gov. William G. Milliken suggested back in 1969, when he first unveiled his education reform plan, that the State Board of Education be abolished altogether and that the governor appoint the state superintendent of public instruction. He later modified this to have the governor appoint the board. That plan fell to partisan fighting.

Odds for change in the near future appear very dim, since many people just don't worry much how the boards are filled. All the conscientious voter can do is get that list of 31 names and start to learn what he can about each candidate; an unlikely task.

Snowmobile Race, Show Set at Saline

Washtenaw county's first exclusive snowmobile show and drag race will be held Oct. 21 and 22 at the Farm Council Grounds, four miles north of US-12 near Saline, the Saline Jaycees announced today. The show will run from 11 a.m. till 6 p.m. both days with races starting at 2 p.m. The $1 admission for persons over 12 years of age includes the show and the races.

Said Paul Horn, show chairman, "We are presently planning for about 24 different dealers and makes of machines. This will be one of the biggest shows in the area. With the growth of the importance of the snowmobile in Michigan, we feel that we are doing the public a service by helping them compare the different makes with each other."

The race will be a non-sanctioned drag race with a $5 entry fee per machine. Each class's entry fee will be divided between first through third place on a 50-30-20 basis. Dave Carlton, race chairman said, "We decided to have a non-sanctioned race so that the hobbyist and non-professional driver could enter. It will give him a chance to see what he can do without paying for memberships that he may not use more than once. Anyone over 16 who wants to pay his $5 and race may do so. There will also be a Powder Puff Derby for the girls."

Any dealer in Washtenaw county or company representative not having a dealership in the county wishing to exhibit at the show should contact Paul Horn at 307 N. Ann Arbor, Saline 48176 (429-5244). Any driver or owner wishing information on racing should contact Mike Brewer at 140 Harper, Saline 48176 (429-4406). Anyone not pre-registered may sign up on race day between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. There is plenty of free parking and refreshments will be available on the grounds.

Insurance Checked

The Michigan Consumers Council has been looking into those life insurance premiums you pay for life insurance policies taken out on installment loans you're paying off.

Statement payment, little is done

by them by the consumer. To correct the situation, the council has presented a series of recommendations for the Michigan Insurance Bureau to stop excessive premiums and inadequate coverage.

While credit life insurance benefits both the consumer and the creditor, Morrison points out the consumer ends up picking up the entire tab.

"It's to the consumer's advantage, since, in theory he's assured that the debt will be paid if he is incapable of doing so; and it's to the creditor's advantage, since he is assured that he will collect in the event of death or disability," he says.

"Captive market conditions usually found in the credit life insurance field have led to higher than necessary premiums, says Morrison. In 1970, he says, a total of $99 million in premiums was paid in Michigan on such policies, while only $24.5 million in benefits was paid out.

That means an average of 37 percent of the premiums were kept by the insurance companies involved, while during that year the seven largest writers of group life insurance in the country paid back an average of 85 percent of their premiums.

Another problem the council found is that some companies will sell a policy and then, if a large claim is made or death in the offering, will cancel and refund on premium payment.

In some health insurance cases, the policy may state that the holder must be permanently disabled before it will pay. Since most disabled conditions are not permanent the consumer then cannot collect, even if he is disabled for the length of the loan.

Stallment payment, little is done

by them by the consumer. To correct the situation, the council has presented a series of recommendations for the Michigan Insurance Bureau to stop excessive premiums and inadequate coverage.

Community Chest's campaign chairman Rolly Spaulding, a district vice-chairman Richard Boss list the goal at a record $23,850 to be raised Oct. 13, to Nov. 6.

Parents of the 2,297 officially enrolled students in the Chelsea school system should be preparing for the annual four-day week-end created by the Michigan Educational Association meeting Thursday and Friday.

Some Chelsea bicycle riders need to brush up on the regulations, according to Police Chief George Meranuck. No one may ride a bicycle in the business area of Main St. Although signs are posted in this area, the police have been receiving complaints.

Thirty girls from Chelsea, Jackson, and Manchester met Sunday afternoon for a few hours of track competition. The meet was the last full meet held outdoors for the season. Winners in the 50 yard hurdles were Kathy Kirkpatrick, Jackson, Diane Eggleston, Jackson, and Caryl Thornton, Chelsea.

Winners of the 50-yard dash, 15 and under, are Peggy Kraai, Chelsea; Janet Sibley, Chelsea, and Vicki Praeter, Chelsea; Jean Wenk of Chelsea won the 100-yard dash with a time of 12.09.

Chelsea Kiwanis-sponsored Boy Scout Troop No. 425 was picked as the top troop in the Portage Trails Council Jamboree Camporee competitive judging last week-end.

The talking crow at North Lake is no more. The bird walked into the road one day last week and was run down by an automobile. Residents of the lake first noticed the tame crow shortly after school opened in September and surmised that youngsters who spent the summer at the lake had trained it and then released it. The crow made daily visits to the homes in the lake area and fared well with hand-outs.

According to police department records, approximately 25 purses and billfolds were rifled and stolen at Chelsea High school during the Chelsea-Dundee football game and the dance which followed Friday evening.

Benjamin R. Bower and his wife, Mary Lou, are completing arrangements to open a studio of art and design on the second floor of the Cavanaugh Lake Store. According to present plans, the Bowers will hold open house at the studio early in November and will have the studio open to the public each Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

Approximately 275 "teens" attended the "Back to School Hop" at St. Mary's gymnasium Saturday evening. The affair was sponsored by St. Mary school association. The Skee Brothers, who are known for their recordings, played several of their familiar hits.

Chelsea area industries are showing some improvements in the general employment situation in recent weeks but those serving the automobile industry as their principal customer outlet, feel that the upswing is still much less than would be normal for this time of year.

Lima Center Galilean Baptist Mission is observing its fifth anniversary with a special rally day and homecoming services Sunday, the pastor Walter Winebrenner announced.

Thursday, Oct. 6, 1938—
It sounds a bit strange to go to school in a theatre but that is what women of the community will be doing when The Chelsea Standard's Free Motion Picture Cooking School comes to town next week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13, 14 and 15. There will be lessons in measuring, mixing and blending the ingredients of many recipes; in the preparation of salads and desserts, as well as jaunting and preparing healthful meals for children.

Chelsea, with one Huron League victory under its belt, took the field last Friday against a much heavier and more experienced Clinton High school team, but defeated them the hard way to the tune of 6-0. Chelsea scored their lone touchdown in the second quarter when, on third down, the boys faked a punt with Bahnmiller passing to Strieter who ran 50 yards for the lone tally under line blocking from the Chelsea team.

Larger and more legible license plates are to be made for the year of 1940, according to Lyon D. Case, Secretary of State, who has approved the new design.

Second grade started with an attendance of 33, 19 girls and 14 boys, six of the group being new members.

CHS Student Has Bracelet With Name of Released POW

BECKY CLEMANS holds the bracelet inscribed with Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles' name and date of capture. She has worn the bracelet, which she ordered from VIVA which works to bring home prisoners of war, for several months. She was amazed last week to see a photograph of Lt. Charles in The Ann Arbor News as being one of the three POWs released by Hanoi—the same Lt. Charles whose name was inscribed on the bracelet she is holding and has been wearing.

Four months ago, Becky Clemans, a sophomore at Chelsea High expressed her concern about the Vietnam war by buying a bracelet. She wrote to Voice in a Vital America (VIVA), an organization dedicated to the release of American prisoners of war. They attempt to keep the plight of the POW's alive in the minds of those at home.

Becky believes that the $2.50 she sent to them in California will go to good use in their fund which will be used if the prisoners are ransomed. In return, she received as all contributors do, a metallic bracelet inscribed with the name of a POW and his date of capture. Becky's reads "Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles, 12-30-71."

Since Becky has written to the Charles family and shared some of their concern, she was especially happy to learn that "her" POW was one of the three released prisoners who returned to the states late Thursday.

At the same time, she was sobered by a strange coincidence. Several weeks ago, Becky had written for another bracelet, believing that she had enough concern for two POW's. The second bracelet finally arrived just as Charles was released.

Although one of her POW's is safe, she still has another, Col. Patrick Fallon, who has been missing since July 4, 1969, to worry about. And she will probably write away for another. She knows there are still many POW's over there.

Dexter Walk Project Route Is Laid Out

Is anyone interested in "going out on a limb" for mankind? For those who would like to, the Dexter Jaycees and Kiwanis groups have laid out an 18-mile route for the forthcoming "Walk for Mankind" set for Saturday, Oct. 21. An expected enrollment of 400 walkers is being planned for.

Beginning at the park in downtown Dexter at 8:30 a.m. (registration starts at 7:30 a.m.), walkers will proceed down Baker Rd. to Jackson Rd., Jackson to Zeeb Rd., Zeeb north to Miller Rd., Miller to Maple Rd., at the edge of Ann Arbor, and Maple to Huron River Dr., which will take them back into Dexter along the scenic route.

Comfort, rest, and refreshment stations are being planned for each mile along the circuitous route. At these points, walkers will have their official cards verified for having walked each previous mile. Also, volunteers from local civic groups will have water, candy, bars, sandwiches, soft drinks and the like on hand for free distribution to the walkers. And, tired hikers wishing to drop out at any mile mark along the way will find a ride back to Dexter, the rides also provided by volunteer drivers.

Already several groups in Dexter have indicated a willingness to "man" a check point along the walk route. The Jaycees and Firemen's Association will provide personnel at two points, and the Eagles' Club on Jackson Rd., is providing the "Mile 3" check point which is on their property. Any group in Dexter wishing to participate in the "Walk for Mankind" by giving several persons at check-points, refreshments, and available transportation for tired walkers, should contact Doug Hartman at 426-8802.

Proceeds, derived from walkers collecting cash-per-mile-walked from their several sponsors, will help support "Project Concern" and local community and youth projects. "Project Concern" has medical programs in Appalachia, New Mexico, Texas, Mexico, Hong Kong, and Vietnam.

The idea of walking to raise money originated in England, where walks for charities have been held for years. The first "Project Concern Walk for Mankind" took place on Sept. 6, 1969, in Santa Rosa, Calif.

Last year, "Project Concern" held more than 200 different walks, both domestically and abroad. These walks raised more than $1,500,000 for the ongoing medical and dental and educational programs which "Project Concern" has established.

Washtenaw Population Passes 250,000

Based on the population estimates of the County Planning Commission, the population of Washtenaw county has just passed the quarter-million mark.

On April 1, 1970, the U. S. Census Bureau counted 234,103 persons residing in the county. Based on growth trends and building permit activity, it is estimated that in the intervening two years the county's population has increased by some 16,800 persons, bringing the total to 250,900.

Washtenaw county has experienced a rapid growth in population since 1930. Between 1900 and 1910, the county's population decreased by 6.4 percent. The largest jump in population occurred between 1940 and 1950 when it increased 67 percent due greatly to the college students being counted for the first time.

If college students had not been included in the 1950 total, the increase would have been approximately 42 percent.

The last two decades have had a slower growth rate than this peak rate (28 percent during the 1950's, and 36 percent during the 1960's).

Contributing factors to the county's population growth, natural increase and migration, have been equally important since 1960. During this period, each accounted for approximately half of the 61,663 or 36 percent increase.

With birth rates continuing to fall, the relative influence of migration will become increasingly important.

The fastest growing units in the county during the 1960 and 1970 decades were the cities, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline and Milan. Within this group, Saline's rate was the greatest at 106 percent, followed by Ann Arbor, with a 48 percent increase.

Townships as a group, showed a growth rate of 24 percent, the leader being Superior with an increase of 1,962 people.

Army Offers Enlistment Unit Choice

The Department of the Army has announced that the 25th Infantry Division, based in Hawaii, is now part of the "Special Unit of Choice" enlistment option.

Sgt. Landrem, local Army recruiter, explained that under this option, the enlistee may specify the 25th Infantry Division and then choose a military occupational specialty (MOS) from those available in the unit before he enlists.

"If a young man wants to see Hawaii," said Sgt. Landrem, "this option is perfect. The unit is based at Schofield Barracks which is very near Honolulu and the beaches at Waikiki. It's a chance to serve our nation and at the same time see a fascinating part of the country."

The 25th Infantry Division, known as "Tropic Lightning" is rapidly instituting changes as part of the Modern Volunteer Army program. These changes are for more information about the 25th Infantry Division "Special Unit of Choice" Enlistment Option, call Sgt. Dallas Landrem, at 665-3731 or visit any local Army recruiting station.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor:
I rather doubt that this letter will ever see print as I realize that criticism of oneself is hard to take, but I am so incensed that I can no longer keep silent. I thought that I had seen every conceivable spelling, type setting, and faulty information error, but once again The Chelsea Standard has produced a fine display of sloppy work—this time it is in the form of yellow journalism and propaganda. I refer to the splendid example on page 14 of the Sept. 28 issue entitled, "Review of 1972 Negotiations Between CEA, School Board." Again the School Board comes out looking like "Goody Two-Shoes" and smelling like a rose whereas the CEA appears rife with Communistic, money-grubbing, ungrateful long-hairs who suck the life-blood from innocent Chelsea taxpayers.

There are a few significant things which you forgot to mention:

1. The informal negotiations were proposed originally by Mr. Cameron in February and were agreed to by the teachers in an attempt to get a contract harmoniously. Three months of no progress seems adequate to me to ensure that there was not going to be any progress at all.

2. Any union of any type anywhere and in any profession would be remiss in its obligations to its membership if it did not remind them of a potential strike situation if there is no contract. Can you possibly believe that the UAW, the AFL, the Teamsters or any other union could do otherwise in the same situation? Such a repetition of strike statements indicates a gross lack of knowledge on negotiation procedure by you, Mr. Editor, and a rather blatant attempt to discredit the teachers and frighten the citizens of Chelsea.

3. Mr. Cameron's "no-gotting" attitude was also carefully omitted in your article. Certainly this would make the Board's position look poor in the eyes of your readers.

4. The Board's proposal, which did lose by a narrow vote margin of the teachers, falls decidedly below the President's Cost of Living Council's recommendation of 5 percent, but this fact was also omitted.

5. The Teachers' actions of applying for mediation and fact-finding indicate a willingness to do everything possible to avoid a strike and reach an amicable settlement. The reference to application for fact-finding has been treated as an insidious play when fact-finders enjoy a high reputation state-wide for trying to find settlements fair and equitable to both sides.

6. The 73 percent vote of the CEA membership is not at all unrepresentative when one also considers the voter percentage in other unions. The vote taken was not an example of minority rule as all those who are members can vote if they care enough to do so.

You may, by now, be wondering what my qualifications for criticism are. I recently retired from the Chelsea school system to begin my family. I taught in Chelsea three years, served on the CEA Executive Board two of those three years, and served as the secretary for that organization for the 1971-1972 school year. I taught because I loved my work and loved teenagers: scoring for the Chelsea Varsity Baseball team for three years, sponsoring the Latin Club for three years, Future Teachers, one year, the Language Club, one year and chaired the committee which brought about the Student-Conference Day in an attempt to open up communication after the student strike of last year.

My husband and I have a vested interest in this community as we live, work, pay property taxes, and intend to raise our family here and educate them in the Chelsea Public Schools.

I strongly resent your attempts to discredit the teachers and insult the intelligence of Chelsea taxpayers with your yellow journalism. Please reconsider your biased attitudes, Mr. Editor.

Angrily,
Mrs. Jay (Kathy) Hanke.

Editor's Note: Welcome to the journalistic field, Mrs. Hanke. The only "yellow journalism" we plead guilty to is the fact that the signature line to the article didn't appear. As you may or may not have deduced, this was authored by the president of the Board of Education. The Editor.

Sharon Church Finalizing Building Plans

North Sharon Bible church, 17999 Washburne Rd., Grass Lake, is announcing with some excitement, the final stages of their building program.

The church voted to challenge the congregation to show their desire to build by giving over and above the regular offerings, and the response has reportedly been overwhelming.

Estimated cost of the total program is $135,000.

The final step in financing the new church is the issuing of trust bonds, to be sold in denominations of $50, $100, $250, $500, and $1,000.

The bonds offer 7 percent guaranteed interest.

Anyone desiring more information about the North Sharon Bible church's program may call the 475-2012, 428-3592 or 475-6290.

Washtenaw County Farms Decreasing

Washtenaw county may be accurately called farm country according to recent statistics published by the U. S. Department of Commerce, the Bureau of the Census, and Census of Agriculture.

Approximately 57.2 percent of the land area in the county, or 260,283 acres, were devoted to farmland in 1969. Of that area, 48 percent was devoted to harvest crops with nine percent in grazing or pasture land.

The number of farms in Washtenaw county decreased from 1,854 in 1964, to 1,699 in 1969, a reduction of 155 farms or eight percent. The average size of farms in the county decreased slightly from 160 acres in 1964 to 153 acres in 1969, a reduction of 4 percent.

There are only four farms with a land mass over 1,000 acres.

Field corn in 1969 was the chief crop with 3,058,604 bushels harvested, a yield of 82 bushels per acre. Other grains also play an important role within Washtenaw's agricultural framework. Wheat followed corn in production with 569,895 bushels produced on 15,489 acres in 1969. These figures represent a substantial decrease from totals of 836,505 bushels produced on 23,388 acres in 1964.

Soybean production was 287,359 bushels in 1969, an increase of 51 percent over 1964 production. A total of 89,833 tons of hay, excluding sorghum hay, was produced in 1969, a decrease of 15,110 tons from 1964.

Additional $20 million to the state's treasury during this fiscal year, and $80 million during the course of a full year of operation.

Question: Why are property taxes so high in Michigan?
Answer: This is not a problem confined to Michigan. The Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations released a study recently saying the problem of escalating property taxes is "a national scandal." The report said that some six million elderly householders paid an average of 8.1 percent of their earnings for property taxes in 1970.

In 1972, one out of three homeowners paid more than 6 percent of their income in property taxes. This compared with a 1953 figure of 2.2 percent of income of the "typical family" being devoted to property taxes.

Question: I read that Michigan ended up with a surplus of money this year. Why wasn't it spent on natural resources or one of the other state services?
Answer: Thanks largely to prudent management and an improving economy, Michigan is in a much stronger financial position today than it was a year ago. Preliminary figures from the Department of Administration indicate that we ended the last fiscal year with a general fund surplus of $30.8 million. However, we still must maintain controls on spending.

Some of the surplus results from delays in building and in other deferred payments that will have to be made in the current fiscal year. Furthermore, we know that we will have to have some supplemental appropriations to cover health and other services for the current year.

Act Now Against Winter Pests

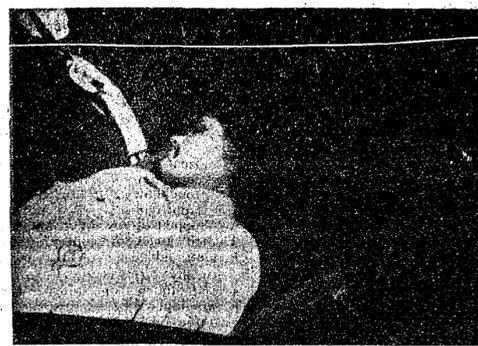

Act now to keep such pests as crickets, wood cockroaches and springtails out of your home this winter, advises Bill Ames, Washtenaw County extension agent.

Caulk tightly around the building foundation, windows and eaves, the agent suggests.

If possible, dry out the basement and under porches. Control plumbing and the areas under porches. Control plumbing leaks, and install insulation to correct condensation problems. If necessary, use fans or dehumidifiers to dry closets and bathrooms.

Outdoors, make sure shrubs and flowers are far enough away from the foundation to allow sunlight and wind next to the building.

For more pest control information, ask for a copy of Extension Bulletin E-652, "Casual Home-Inhabiting Pests" at your county Cooperative Extension office.

IN SHOCK and bleeding from the mouth read the tag on Pat Schnaidt, Chelsea High volunteer, as she was whisked away from the 'disaster area' in an emergency vehicle during the Civil Defense Disaster Test, staged Sept. 27 throughout Washtenaw county.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL: Pat Schnaidt was stoically playing a corpse by the time she arrived in the emergency suite at Chelsea Medical Center. Nurse Billie Schneider fills out the forms that will accompany the "unidentified body" to the morgue. Pat volunteered to play the casualty but she admits that her trip to the morgue was "weird."

IN THE EMERGENCY SUITE Billie Schneider admits Joan Popovich who is "suffering" from serious burns, supposedly received when the school boilers blew up. The burns were actually the result of the Red-Cross make-up specialists who prepared the "victims" for the Disaster Test.

New Books Available at County Library

New books are constantly being added to the collection of the Dexter District Library. New arrivals during September cover a range from science fiction to drama to a wide range of new children's books and adult fiction and non-fiction. Here is just a sampling of books for readers of all ages and interests:

ADULT FICTION—
Nicholas Freeling, "Aupres de ma Blonde"; Richard Hooker, "MASH"; Peter Townsend, "Out of Focus"; Sue Kaufman, "Diary of a Mad Housewife"; Joy Adamson, "Pippa's Challenge"; Dorothy Sayers, "Lord Peter"; Ruth Gordon, "Adam's Rib" (the screenplay of the MGM comedy).

ADULT NON-FICTION—
John Behee, "Fielding Yost's Legacy to the University of Michigan"; Dr. Thomas Harris, "I'm OK You're OK"; Nicolas Darvas, "The Darvas System for Over-the-counter Profits"; Ross Terrill, "800,000,000: The Real China"; Christian Bernard, "One Life."

Marge Griffin . . .

area, the Griffins' home base. Modestly explaining that she had reservations about compiling the booklet, Marge notes, "Its publication should carry no implication that the author considers herself a great cook, which is far from the truth."

She points out that the booklet was somewhat difficult to compile because the Senator "is a very imaginative cook who rarely uses a recipe. His direction—a little of this, and a pinch of that—are not exactly helpful in putting down the necessary proportions and ingredients for a cookbook."

In true family spirit, the Griffin's daughter Jill, 11, gives her recipe for baker's clay (used to create table decorations), and son Jim explains how he makes candles. Sons Paul and Rick also make recipe contributions — Paul's for Hawaiian Chicken Wings, and Rick's for Holiday Fudge.

Several old Danish recipes, handed down from Marge's Danish parents, may be hard to pronounce, but should please any cook looking for new taste treats to serve.

Marge Griffin will be personally distributing copies of her cookbook, but free copies are also available by writing: Marge Griffin's Family Cookbook, P.O. Box 72, Detroit 48231.

Dexter Township Zoning Explained

Earl Doletzky, chairman of the Dexter Township Zoning Board, and Tom Ehman, a member of the board, met with residents of Portage, North, and Half Moon lakes Sept. 26 to discuss the proposed township zoning ordinance.

The proposed zoning ordinance has been the focus of a petition drive by residents of the lake areas.

"Mr. Doletzky and I met with these people to explain that a lot of this stuff is not being considered, to explain their resources concerning the ordinance, and to explain what our present stand is on non-conforming structures and uses," says Ehman.

The petitions have been directed at a 180 consecutive day occupancy clause and a clause concerning rebuilding of non-conforming structures if over 50 percent of the structures are destroyed.

Ehman says that a misunderstanding has arisen due to the "problem of laymen not understanding the terms of the ordinance." He also says that the clause concerning rebuilding of structures was received by the Zoning Board June 6 and rejected.

However, Doug Smith, an organizer of the petition drive, says the board "has not changed the critical clause to permit rebuilding, identical to what was lost if the loss was over 50 percent." He says that in such cases, it was explained that a permit to rebuild would be left to the discretion of an appeals board.

Doletzky and Ehman stress that the proposed zoning ordinance is "still in the talking, and discussion, and re-evaluating stage."

"It is conceivable that sometime in late November the proposed ordinance will be available for inspection; that sometime during December, it will be ready for public hearings; that sometime in February the Township Board will have it back from the Washtenaw County Area Planning Commission for consideration," says Ehman.

He adds that assuming all goes smoothly, the earliest the ordinance would take effect would be April 1.

At least one public hearing before adoption of the ordinance is required by law, but Ehman anticipates that at least two hearings will be held.

Basil Basinger Injured in Farm Tractor Mishap

Basil Basinger of Island Lake Rd., broke an arm and lost part of one finger when the tractor he was driving tipped over, pinning him underneath.

The Dexter Fire Department was called to the scene on Island Lake Rd. near Dexter Township Rd., Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 3 p.m. The firemen used porta-power to lift the tractor and relieve pressure on Basinger.

Further information on his condition was unavailable.

Civil Defense Units Simulate Disaster

What would happen if a school's boilers exploded and in the resulting fire, hundreds of children were hurt?

Using this hypothesis, area hospitals, along with all county police, fire and emergency units, demonstrated Sept. 27, that there is more to Civil Defense than sitting and waiting for disaster to strike.

Chelsea Medical Center and its volunteers proved its ableness in handling crisis situations as it participated with several hundred people in the county in the Civil Defense Disaster Test. It admitted 13 "casualties," ranging from one dead on arrival to relatively minor cases of cuts and abrasion.

Chelsea High school volunteers, who played the casualties, left school around 10 a.m. Wednesday to go to the Ann Arbor Red Cross Center to acquire their burns and cuts. They were given realistic make-up jobs and lunch before laying down in a field where the disaster was to "occur."

Pat Schnaidt stoically volunteered for the "dead on arrival" case. The doctors first diagnosed her as in shock with some bleeding from the mouth. By the time she was sped to Chelsea's emergency suite, she was officially dead. Her next destination was the morgue where she was to be identified. "It was sort of weird," admits Pat.

Elaine Musolf "suffered" a cut knee, while Debbie Bergman was assigned a broken clavicle. Ann Merkel, Debra Conklin, Arlene Newcomb, and Michele Maitre received various cuts and bruises. The Red Cross inflicted supposed burns on Ann Treado's face and neck.

Marsh McGibney was admitted with a fictitious over-dose of drugs. Pat Schnaidt wonders, "How did that get in there?"

Rodney Salyer had a bruised knee and made himself useful carrying stretchers.

The casualties were rushed from the scene of the disaster in Sheriff's cars and emergency vehicles to the Medical Center where Drs. James Botsford, Gerald Blanchard, and Marshall Shearer received them and directed them to the right area of the center for treatment.

Nurses Barbara Cooper, Barbara Weir, Mrs. Bert Cobb, and Mrs. Lou Trinkle administered to the patients' needs with the aid of volunteers. Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Russell Gardner, Mrs. Harold Owings, and Mrs. William Aldrich.

The office was manned during the crisis by Pat Trinkle and Billie Schneider. The Chelsea Medical Center was in touch with the other hospitals throughout the two-hour drill by means of shortwave communications handled by Mr. and Mrs. William Wade.

At the end of the test, all the casualties were miraculously returned to perfect health. All those involved were gratified to know that a disaster could be dealt with so effectively.

Drivers Continue Killing More Deer Than Hunters

The most efficient hunters in our area seem to be the drivers. According to Chief George Meranuck, "More deer are killed on our highways than in the field."

The first kill of the season occurred on M-52 south of I-94. Luckily, the driver was not injured.

"Pretty soon we'll be getting these reports one a day," says the Chief.

The Veterans Administration estimates 63,000 wives, widows, and children of veterans will receive educational assistance allowance checks ranging up to $175 monthly this fiscal year.

Pioneer Day Set at Waterloo Farm Museum

It's beginning to look a lot like autumn. And to the members of the Waterloo Farm Museum, autumn means one particular thing—Pioneer Day.

If you have never attended a Pioneer Day at the Farm Museum and Dewey School, you have a real treat in store. For those of you keep coming back each year, this is one day you won't want to miss.

Once again the old brick farmhouse and one room school are being re-opened for this special day in October and the members are busy doing all the odd jobs around the place that every home requires to get ready for "company" after a busy summer. Please be our "company" and see the demonstrations of pioneer crafts. There will be fresh molasses cookies made right in the bake house and you may munch these while you watch our blacksmith working at his forge. For those of you interested in old muzzle loaders, these will be demonstrated during the afternoon. Of course, we will have spinning, weaving, churning, corn husking, quilting, chair caning and rushing, and soap making just as we usually do.

The Waterloo Band under Will Parks' direction will play during the afternoon and antique cars will be exhibited. Anyone who ever attended a one-room school will want to stop by Dewey School for a moment of nostalgia and sit on the recitation bench and "remember when."

All-in all it will be quite a day so plan to be with us on Sunday, Oct. 8, from 1 to 5 p.m., at 9988 Waterloo-Munith Rd.

MCGOVERN AND DEFENSE

A promising new treatment for acute heart attacks, intravenous infusion of sodium nitroprusside, was announced recently by a research team at the Washington, D. C., Veterans Administration hospital.

A POWERFUL PACK of future gridiron heroes battled it out on Chelsea High school field Monday night to determine who is the best passer, punter, kicker of them all, at least in each age group. Winners in this 12th annual Pass, Punt & Kick contest, sponsored locally by Palmer Ford with the assistance of the Jaycees, will sally forth to meet competition on the zone level. Pictured in the front row from the right are 8-year-old champ Mike Bareis, second placer Steve Grau, third placer Tom Vandervoort, 9-year-old champ Vincent Yost, 9-year-old second-place winner Billie Freeman, and third-place winner Mark Baiier. In the back row stands Jaycee past president Dave Rowe, 10-year-old champ John Dunn, second-place winner Steve Kvarnberg, third-place winner in the 10-year-olds, Bradley Knickerbocker, and Jaycee Eddie Greenleaf.

Careless Drivers Raise Havoc at Service Station

Careless drivers repeatedly crowned the Checker gas station this week which might suggest to the management that they either change their name or the game. They will never win his way!

First, someone backed in to their large sign, leaving a big dent. Then Pearl Newman, of Ann Arbor, misjudged the distance to the pump and plowed right into it, knocking it out of commission.

As if that wasn't enough, the next day another driver backed in to their large light pole, leaving it cockeyed.

One attendant exclaimed, "It's getting dangerous around here!"

Junior Varsity Gridders Trim Saline, 14-0

Chelsea's JV's are rumbling along a statistical rut of shut-out games. In the last two weeks that has been a proud place to be. It was Saline who received the latest trouncing Thursday, 14-0.

Saline accepted the opening kick-off only to find themselves on a fourth down with a yard to go on their own 44-yard line. They never made that yard. Instead, six plays later, Chelsea was home after a 20-yard sweep to the touchdown by Perry Johnson.

Johnson carried again for three yards and the extra points. After kicking off, Chelsea bottled up Saline's effort, forcing a punt. Chelsea received the punt mid-field, faked a reverse, and sent Doug Reed off for 80 yards and a touchdown.

The extra point attempt was foiled but, nevertheless, Chelsea was sitting pretty with a 14-0 score after four minutes of play.

The remainder of the game was a well matched contest. Saline mounted some impressive drives, as did Chelsea, but neither ball club was able to pound it home. Doug Reed forged ahead for 200 yards, leading the offense. Perry Johnson did his share by racking up 83 yards.

Roger Steward was the leading defender, bringing down 12 men. Dennis Bauer's and Doug Reed's crushing tackles brought them eight victims each. Dave Keiser stopped seven Saline men.

Curt Winans and Randy Guenther each snatched a Saline pass out of the air.

Tonight will see the JV's battling with Lincoln on Lincoln's home turf.

Frosh Grid Team Defeats Saline, 28-6

The Chelsea freshmen tuned their week on a high note by trouncing Saline, 28-6, Wednesday night.

Chelsea took the opening kick-off and drummed down the field for a touchdown. The drive, which took approximately five minutes, was topped off by Dave Murphy's 13-yard touchdown play. Mark Burnett added the extra points.

Murphy efficiently set up the second touchdown which Kevin Kelly played through by sneaking over the final yard for a score of 14-0.

Saline had not bowed out, however. They came up with their own rendition, a 50-yard scoring dash to arrange the score, 15-6, at the end of the first period.

Chelsea opened the second quarter with another long drive. The play crescendoed with a six-yard scoring run by Joel Sprague. Later, Dave Pletcher blocked a Hornet punt, putting Chelsea back on the move again. The threat went off key with a fumble on Saline's 4, leaving the score 20-6 at the half.

After forcing a Saline punt in the third quarter, Chelsea pounced on the ball on their own 16-yard line. With Mark Burnett, Dave Murphy, and Joel Sprague carrying in harmony with a key pass from Kevin Kelly to Jim Boyer, the Bulldogs moved to the Saline four.

A jarring tackle separated Murphy from the ball but an alert Dave Pletcher fell on it in the end-zone for a TD. Jim Boyer concluded the scoring by catching an extra two-point pass.

The win represents the ball club's improvement over their last performance. The backs received strong blocking from Doug Welshans, Greg Guenther, John Storey, Don Oesterle, and Don Sullivan.

A swarming, hard hitting attack was led by defenders Dave Pletcher, John Elliott, and Greg Guenther.

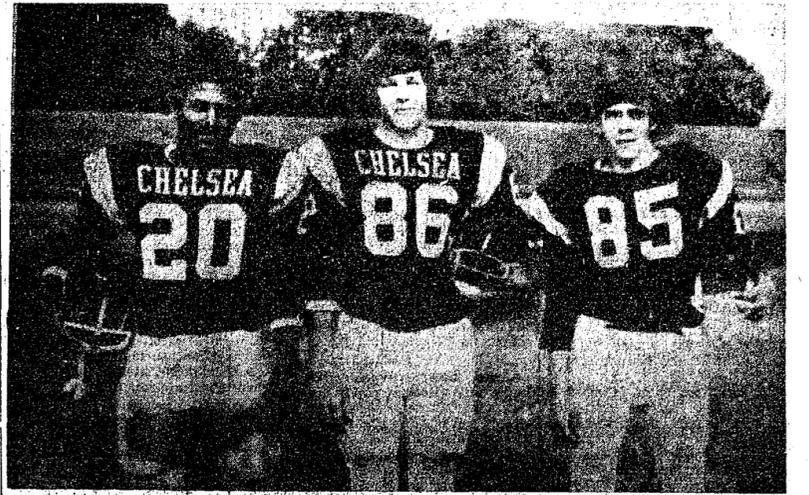

Don Harmon's powerful kick-offs helped keep Saline struggling deep in their own territory for most of the night.

With a 1-1 record, the freshmen faced Lincoln Wednesday, and will tackle Michigan Center, Oct. 8 at home at 7 p.m.

Gridders of the Week

BRUCE GUSTER has really been charging this fall, making a name for himself in every game Chelsea has played. In the opener he was the leading rusher with 97 yards. The following week he out-did himself with 102 yards and three touchdowns to his credit. After graduation, Bruce plans to do some more charging on his own time. He and his two buddies pictured above will take off on motorcycles to see the world—or the States, at least. In the meantime Bruce will be fishing and hunting on the week-ends and playing basketball for Chelsea in the winter. Springtime will find him making long jumps until he takes that big leap after graduation.

CHRIS PHINNEY (85) tried out for football for the first time this fall largely because, he says, "Bruce Guster talked me into it." He has no regrets. Of course, he is no new-comer to Chelsea High's sport scene. He was busy with basketball his freshman and sophomore years and track caught his interest sophomore year, too. Last year he was a good sport earning money at Polly's. Now that harvest time is here, he will be hard at work on the week-ends with his two brothers bringing in the corn crop on the family farm. After graduation, the first adventure on tap is the motorcycle trip with Bruce Guster and Jeff Van Riper, but eventually, Chris hopes to become a pilot.

JEFF VAN RIPER has been playing with essentially the same ball club since 7th grade. He admits they have gotten to know each other very well but he says "It's still a lot of fun." Jeff is the oldest boy in a pack of seven who have to do their share on the family dairy. Even though he doesn't particularly like milking cows, he will put that experience to work, he thinks, when he and

Four Young Girls Reported Missing Over Week-end

There were four young Chelsea girls reported as missing over the week-end. They have since been located, but only one, a habitual run away at 14, has agreed to return to her home.

The other three, two of which are sisters, aged 13 and 14, refused to go back with their parents, even when they were told that they would have to be placed in the Juvenile Home if they did not

The other girl, the oldest at 16, had been in a foster home. She chose to go to the Juvenile Home over both her real and foster homes.

Chief George Meranuck was railroaded into issuing two tickets to the Penn-Central this week.

Sunday night the train blocked traffic for 13 minutes which is eight minutes too long according to the law.

Tuesday night Man Street was snarled for 40 minutes while the train remained stationary in the heart of town.

Such an offense has called for a $200 fine in the past. The court date is Oct. 16.

Regardless of what foreign policy the nation adopts there will be those to who will assert that it's entirely wrong.

Horse Lives to Ripe Old Age of 34 Years

It had become a landmark, laid to rest in a peaceful spot in the woods. He was the horse, Boy, who had now owned by William and Barbara Frame. But now he is

His long life was the death wish of Clarence Stapish, the owner of Boy and the farm. He asked his daughters, Clara and Mrs. Margaret O'Dell, to allow his two favorite horses, Tinker and Boy, long full lives.

Tinker, an ex-circus horse, died about a year and a half ago at 32, after beginning to show her age. Although the old mare was not what she used to be, Boy stayed spry. Says Barbara Frame, "Last summer he looked better than he had in years. His coat was real shiny."

Boy had also retained his good disposition. "You could stand behind him for hours, and he'd never kick. I never had to worry about the kids around him. He was a great horse."

It was a sad day for the Stapish women, and even for veterinarian W. C. Lane, when they finally had to put Boy to sleep, after he suffered what appeared to be a heart attack Saturday.

NEW MINISTER: David Rushlow has recently joined the congregation at the Church of Christ on Old US-12. He is pictured here with a special set of followers, wife Sharon, daughter, Michelle, and son, David.

Church of Christ Greet New Pastor

After several months without a full-time minister, the Church of Christ ushered David A. Rushlow into their pulpit Sunday, to fill the gap left by Lionel Berger's departure.
Rushlow, who first heard of the opening through friends, most recently served in the Church of Christ in Waterford for a year. Before that he was with the East Side Central congregation in Detroit, also for a year.
Rushlow first saw Chelsea two years ago while working in Belleville. "I notice a change," says Rushlow, but his impressions are still very positive. It's a pleasure for him to be in the country "after what you have to put up with in the city."
The minister, his wife, and two children, David, seven, and eight-year-old Michelle, who have joined the children at South school, moved into the house next to the church Saturday. "They should call Old US-12 Church Rd.," says Rushlow. "There are so many churches out there."
Although he has just arrived, the new minister is brimming with plans. He will take advantage of the visit of the 70-member chorus from Freed Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn., to organize a gospel week. The chorus is expected the week before Thanksgiving, and it will be at that time that Rushlow, with the help of a preacher from Milan and their Wonderland Gospel Quartet, will hold revival meetings each night.
In the meantime, Rushlow expects to launch an active personal work program. He will initiate a free visual Bible course, which teaches the Bible by means of film strips shown in the home.
Rushlow says the course has been used successfully elsewhere, but it has not been tried before in Chelsea. The church will train its own people to take the films into homes of interested individuals.
Rushlow would also like to broadcast a weekly church program over an area station.
The minister was brought up in what he calls a very strict Catholic family in Wyandotte. His first contact with the Church of Christ was through young Sharon, who was also living in Wyandotte. After they married, David began studying the Bible.
Within the year, "I concluded that the Church of Christ was right for me." Not long after he

Low Slung Cars Create Problem in No-Passing Zones

Those sleek low-profile automobiles are what's behind a new survey of no-passing zones on two-lane state highways.
Conducted by the Department of State Highways, it has to do with the distance motorists can see ahead and over hills with what traffic engineers describe as "normal horizontal sight distance."
The sporty low-profile autos put drivers' eyesight levels down to an average 42 inches above pavement, reducing horizontal sight.
Usually, the only way to provide them with the same sight-distance in a no-passing zone is to lengthen the zones.
Four three-man crews have begun a state-wide survey of all no-passing zones on the state highway system. Driving slow-moving vehicles equipped with flashing lights to warn motorists, they began in the western Upper Peninsula. Completion is anticipated in mid-1973.
Another new aide to motorists was the installation this year on state highways and many county roads of yellow pennant-shaped "no-passing" zone signs on the left-hand side of two-lane highways. They are in addition to black-and-white rectangular signs on the right-hand side of the highway and will have to be moved if the no-passing zones are lengthened.
Federal standards set by the Federal Highway Administration and adopted by all states this year, no-passing zones on two-lane highways will continue to be delineated with a solid yellow line on the driver's side.

Enter our Dress-A-Doll Contest
Dress-A-Doll makes you a part of warmer Christmases for little girls who desperately need cheer and love. You show you care when you enter our Dress-A-Doll Contest. So simple. We provide the 16" doll, and you design and sew an outfit for it. There are six costume categories with six $10 prizes and one grand prize of $50. Costumes will be judged and dolls displayed in our lobby in December. At Christmas time each doll becomes a gift to some needy child in the community. And you made it happen. Pick up your black or white doll and rules at any AAFS office starting October 2. It must be returned by November 17. Won't you warm a little girl's heart this Christmas? Yours will be warmer, too.

GOOD OLD GOLDEN RULE DAYS: Mrs. E. L. Clark, whose husband was superintendent at schools at the time, taught these second graders the three R's in 1928. The class, which is sitting in front of its classroom in the oldest part of Chelsea school, graduated in 1936. The playground to the left was soon to be covered by the "new" gymnasium. One romance bloomed and lasted. Della Eschelbach was to become Mrs. Frederick Strieter. Pictured left to right are: Donald Wallace, Charles Hulce, Vincent Ives, Geraldine Goldie, Tom Kinsey, Eva Swarthout, Katherine Oestermiller, Arthur Brown, Wilhelmina Gottschling, Willis Laney, Harold Grove. Middle row: Lowell Scripser, Paul Pielemeier, Jane Belsler, Jean Dancer, Wilbur Combs, Lawrence Tish, Thelma Faber, Ray Oesterle, Harold McDonald, Lorinda Beutler. Lower row: Philip Novess, Betty Ryan, Betty Contant, Dudley Foster, Della Eschelbach, Jessie Fredette, Frederick Strieter, Maxwell Bearbower, George Prinzing, Orpha Scripser, Margaret Williams. Missing are Helen Barry, Estel Seitz and Emma Jane Alexander. In last week's issue an error occurred in listing those in the second row.

Dental Auxiliary Sponsors Annual Fall Fashion Show
 Washtenaw County Club will be the scene of the annual Fall Fashion Show sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Washtenaw District Dental Society to be held Thursday, Oct. 12 at 1 p.m. Theme for the afternoon will be "Fall Fashions '72," with models ranging in age from the very young miss up through the teen-ager, the young marrieds and the "over 35" set.
 Clothes on display will be from Jacobson's who will also provide hair styling and makeup. Music will be by King's Keyboard, with commentary by Lucy (Mrs. John) Dobson. Models will be members of the Auxiliary and their daughters. In charge of the afternoon's festivities are Mrs. Robert Beneteau, chairman, and Mrs. Lyle Andress, assistant chairman. Coffee and selections from a fabulous dessert table will be available prior to the show.
 Proceeds from the Fashion Show are the only means of support for the Washtenaw Children's Dental Clinic, a joint project of the County Dental Society and the Women's Auxiliary, which for years has served the dental needs of disadvantaged elementary youngsters in Washtenaw county. Founded in 1952 by the two groups, the Clinic, located in Mack school, is staffed by volunteer members of the Dental Society and the Washtenaw District Dental Hygienists Association. While these two organizations provide the manpower with which to operate the Clinic, the Auxiliary provides the funds which purchase equipment and supplies as well as pay the one salaried dental assistant.
 Tickets are available from any Auxiliary member, from Mrs. James Avery, ticket chairman (662-6856), or at the door. Models will be: Mrs. Grant Bowbeer, Mrs. L. Carl De Jongh, Mrs. Robert Meyers, Mrs. H. Dean Millard, Mrs. Bruce Mohr, Mrs. Walter Niemann, Mrs. James Reese, Mrs. Francis Williams, Miss Julie Andress, Miss Susan Beneteau, and Miss Dee Doerr.

St. Louis School Notes
 St. Louis school hosted 200 parents of past and present students, and friends Sunday, Oct. 1, at a pot-luck dinner.
 Those gathered were brought to order by Society of Friends president Ruth Brown. Also presiding was president-elect Wesley Marvicsin. Secretary Mrs. Carol Millett was also present.
 Father Louis Franzi, director of the school, introduced the fathers, sisters, and staff.
 After new committee members were selected, the problem of getting a new bus became the topic of discussion. It was said that the old one is running on a wing and a prayer.
 Birthday boys this week were Raymond Wells and Jerry Brown. The boys also celebrated teacher Carol Lennox's birthday with treats and games.
 The boys will attend the Navy-Michigan game Saturday in Ann Arbor.
 Despite the short routes and quick cures, there's no easy to anything that is worth much.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT BUSING

Are you aware that over 60% of the children in the Chelsea Public Schools are bused into classes each day! Perhaps you are also aware that the School Board is making a big effort to convince the public that the teachers in our district are planning to go out on strike. Let's look at the facts.

- 1) The President of the Board of Education, William Storey, stated in The Chelsea Standard on September 21 that the Board was willing to engage in negotiations with teachers at any time. The Association, feeling that this was a change in attitude, contacted Mr. Storey to arrange a meeting with the Board. The Association was informed that the Board was not interested in meeting with the teachers, but rather we should contact their negotiations representative. Mr. Storey also indicated that there was room for flexibility. The Board's representative informed the Association that he had received no instructions other than what he had previously received.
- 2) Last week in The Chelsea Standard you were led to believe that your teachers were anxious for a strike. Obviously the strike is the ultimate recourse that labor has in a contract dispute. That the Association would discuss the possibility of such an action is easily understood by anyone familiar with negotiating procedures. However, the State of Michigan provides an alternate means of settling disputes — fact finding. Furthermore, the Association is on record as having voted to proceed to fact finding rather than striking. The Association demonstrated by this action its hope that the current impasse can be settled through fact finding rather than having to resort to a strike.
- 3) The Education Association proposed a number of changes in the present contract. When we went to mediation in order to attempt to achieve a settlement 90% of these requests were dropped, leaving the following as a minimum settlement base.

- a. We requested that the Board agree to provide all the materials necessary such as proper rooms, seats, and student materials for each child in every class. The Board turned this down.
- b. The Association offered two final salary proposals through the state mediator. First we requested a base salary of $8,250 using the present index increase for experience and asked that education beyond these minimum degrees be compensated. The second proposal offered the same base as that of the Board of Education — $8,100 — and an expansion of the present index to reward those who have served the district for a longer period of time. Both proposals were turned down by the Board. The Association also requested full family medical coverage, which was turned down by the Board.
- c. We asked that teachers be given the right to place an answer to any reprimand in their personnel file. This the Board was willing to grant.
- d. We requested that a tenure teacher on maternity leave be allowed to return within a reasonable amount of time to the same or similar teaching position. This the Board denied.
- e. We requested a general leave which would allow a teacher to take a leave without pay from the school district for a year and return to the same job which was left. This the Board denied.
- 4) In light of the fact that the school district is not in financial difficulty and also the majority of requests carry little or no cost to the district, the question becomes why is the Board of Education of Chelsea refusing to meet these requests? Is it possible that the Board is using this as a means to keep the community's attention off of the poor situation existing in the elementary schools? Two years ago the fact finder, Mr. George Roumell, indicated to our Board that they must plan ahead. And yet if the Board was indeed planning ahead, would the following be the case?

Housing problems that exist at North Elementary and the Kindergarten Center are overwhelming and disastrous from an educational point of view. The all-purpose room at North School is exactly what that room is to the fullest extent of its definition. The room is used for gym, lunch-room, art classes, band classes, string instrument class, rainy day recreation room, etc.

While all of this is going on a remedial reading teacher is trying to work with problem readers in a little alcove directly off the all-purpose room. The hubbub of the main room makes it practically impossible to reach the students. At the same time in the school lobby, which is at the other end of the all-purpose room, a speech teacher might be found trying to help children with speech problems. In the meantime the Special Teacher, who works with children having emotional and learning disabilities, is drifting around trying to find an alcove or corner of the all-purpose room where she can do her work with some privacy.

Any of the parents with children in kindergarten who have seen the rooms at the Kindergarten Center know what crowded conditions exist there. The rooms there do not meet any suggested standards of room size set up by educational specialists.

The Association asks you is this advance planning? We are aware that the Board has been meeting with architects but for what purpose? Hasn't it been evident to the Board for at least two years that St. Mary's was virtually on the verge of closing? If so, was the non-levying of millage last year a wise act? Who is now paying the bill? The answer — your children.

Sincerely,
Chelsea Education Association

Chelsea School District Annual Financial Statement

Receipts and Disbursements - 1971-72

Board of Education July 17, 1972
Chelsea School District
Chelsea, Michigan

We have examined the statements of financial condition of the various funds of the Chelsea School District at June 30, 1972, the related statements of revenue, expenditure and equity and source and application of funds for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

Our procedures in the examination of the financial information presented on Page 19 relative to Federal Grants—Title I programs were designed to satisfy ourselves that the recorded expenditures were made in accordance with the regulations of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare relating to allowable expenditures under the Act.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of the Chelsea School District at June 30, 1972, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Iceman, Johnson & Hoffman
Certified Public Accountants

The Chelsea School District ended the 1971-72 school year with a net cash balance of $52,137 in the General Fund. The financial condition of the Chelsea School District is sound and compares favorably with the condition as of June 30, 1971. The financial condition allows the district to operate through the summer months without borrowing until October to meet current cash needs. The financial condition of the district allows it to move into the 1972-73 fiscal year with assurance of meeting its financial obligations.

Drink-Drive Prescriptions Offered By Safety Action Group

151 visitors to the Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 22-26, left with personal drink-drive prescriptions. The prescriptions were available at the Washtenaw Alcohol Safety Action Program information booth, located in the merchant's tent.

The Alcohol Safety Action Program (ASAP) is a federally-funded demonstration project with the goal of reducing alcohol-related crashes and injuries in the county. The fair booth at Chelsea, as well as similar displays at Manchester and Saline, was designed to increase residents' awareness of the project and of the danger of driving while impaired by alcohol.

During the fair's busy evening hours ASAP project staff used a large drink-drive calculator from the Automobile Club of Michigan to figure out how much each inquirer could drink and still stay below reasonable limits for safe driving.

The limit for a driver who wishes to keep his blood-alcohol level below .05 on the police breathalyzer varied according to the weight of the drinker and the length of the drinking period. A risk chart at the display booth showed that .05 is the highest level a person can have without moving into the high risk category for driving. Over this level the chance of being involved in an accident compared with a sober driver goes up dramatically. At .07 (the level of presumed impairment from alcohol, according to Michigan law), the risk of accident is twice as great. At .10 (the level legally presumed intoxicated when driving) the risk is 5 times greater; and at .15 percent blood alcohol concentration, the risk has multiplied to 25 times greater.

Staff workers at the booth were employees of the County Health Department, of the University of Michigan's Highway Safety Research Institute and of the Washtenaw Council on Alcoholism. All workers reported favorably on their experience at Chelsea and other fairs. Many fair-goers had questions about the ASAP project which includes special road patrols and new sentencing procedures for drunk drivers.

Both light and heavy drinkers were surprised to learn what the state laws meant in terms of drinks for them. Non-drinkers who stopped discovered that the project held interest for them, too.

Safer roads and more informed young people were two goals they could agree with.

Chelsea residents who did not get their "prescriptions" at the fair may call 971-7900 or write to the Washtenaw Council on Alcoholism (2390 S. Huron Parkway, Ann Arbor 48104) and request that one be sent to them. Inquirers should include their weight and usual drink. Prescriptions will tell how many such drinks can be taken within one, two, three and four hour drinking periods and yet remain below the .05 breathalyzer reading compatible with responsible driving.

District Extension Groups Hold Fall Rally at Dexter

188 persons attended the Washtenaw County Extension Fall Rally held at St. Andrew's United Church of Christ hall the past week.

Mrs. Helen Fairman welcomed the guests and after the dinner, a film strip from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources on "Sharing the Land" was shown.

Installation of officers for the coming year and the new council members was held. The new officers are: county chairman, Mrs. John Hazlett of Milan; vice-chairman, Mrs. Frank Cianciolo of Ann Arbor; county secretary, Mrs. Lucille Uphaus of Manchester; treasurer, Mrs. Edwin Hicks. New council members installed included Mrs. Sam Barlow of South Lyon, Miss Florence Haas of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Bruce Badgar of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Leroy Feldkamp of Dexter.

Special recognition was given to out-going members Mrs. Helge Johansen of Ypsilanti for serving six years; Mrs. James Girbach of Saline, four years; Mrs. Charles Fuhrmann of Chelsea, four years; Mrs. Melvin Carter, Ann Arbor, two years.

The meeting was concluded by a comic skit, titled "Old Time School Days," presented by District I.

The Veterans Administration urges veterans to check the type of pay-off plans selected on their GI insurance policies for their next of kin to make sure the plans don't need updating.

'73 Plymouth Satellite

Don't buy a Torino, Chevelle, Cutlass or Le Mans until you've compared it to our '73 Plymouth Satellite.

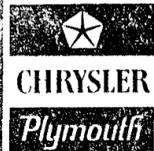

'73 Plymouth Satellite is built to be seen.

What's that makes the big difference between all the other mid-size cars and our new '73 Plymouth Satellite? It's the new Super-Plus™. Or the standard electronic ignition? Or the new Super-Quiet™ soundproofing treatment in the Super-Plus™? The torsion-bar suspension? Unibody construction? Special Protection against rust and corrosion? Actually, it's all these things and more. Because this Satellite is built to look better, last longer and run smoother than any Satellite before.

Not heard.

And the big difference is extra care in engineering. So come on in. Compare our new Satellite to all the other mid-size cars. See for yourself what a big difference extra care can make.

Catholic Social Service Helps Needy or Those with Problems

In 1971 alone, 112 Chelsea families felt the helping hand of the Catholic Social Service, another of the Community Chest agencies which your united Fund donation fosters.

Those needy families may have turned to the Catholic Social Service because they had heard of their many programs, or because of the advice of their doctor, clergyman or school counselor. In any case, they would not have been turned away, or put off on a waiting list.

Catholic Social Service maintains no waiting list which speaks for the agency's awareness that problems can't wait. The agency also prides itself on serving needs that are not met elsewhere. They say, "If welfare can't help you, come to us."

The staff of 17 trained counselors in the Ann Arbor office mans a broad range of programs with the help of approximately a dozen U. of M. graduate students in social work, another dozen undergraduates from Eastern Michigan University's social work department, and many volunteers.

The stated goal of the agency is to preserve family life through counseling. An individual with marriage or child rearing problems may see a CSS counselor by merely making an appointment. Most clients receive ongoing service.

There is even a consulting psychiatrist available through the agency once a week. His help along with the other counseling may be covered by Blue Cross in many cases when the client is a Blue Cross policy holder.

The agency has also organized several foster care programs, each speaking to a particular need. There are temporary foster homes for run-aways, and others for children with drug problems. There is also the regular foster care, aid to unwed parents, and adoption programs which the agency has operated for some time.

Counseling with a Catholic Social Service worker may be obtained right here in Chelsea one day a week at the Medical Center. Mrs. Mary Otto, who has been the counselor in Chelsea has recently been replaced by Miss Nancy Jones. Appointments with her may be made by calling the Ann Arbor office, 682-4534.

When the aid is not covered by Blue Cross, the agency charges a sliding scale fee, based on an individual's ability to pay. 65 percent of those who have received help have not had to pay.

Catholic Social Service gets its name because it receives the largest amount of its support from the Catholic Church. For that reason it is considered a sectarian organization. However, 80 percent of those it aids are protestant, as is at least half of the staff.

Fashion Notes

Time was when every young woman, who was properly brought up, knew how to embroider. Linens, collars and cuffs, etc. This art is revived many of the new garments are being hand embroidered. Imported blouses and dresses are in the shops but the cost is much less if one does the fancy work, oneself.

Shirts for pants and skirts are colorful this season. Printed ones of cotton and others of silk are being featured. Some have tiny patch pockets and others feature padded shoulders. Sleeves may be long or short.

They are also preparing for a visit to the Chelsea Methodist Home.

The Kool Kats are replacing old troop flag numbers with new ones. The Nature Wanderers are making a caper chart for troop meeting duties.

TROOP 169—Scribe Kim O'Quinn reports that Brownie troop 169 made first aid kits at their meeting at the Congregational church Monday.

Daniel Murphy from the drug-store donated supplies for the kits. The girls learned how to use them.

Fall Hunter Trials Held Sunday at Stoney Ridge

The annual Fall Hunter Trials were held at Stoney Ridge Farm on Sunday, Sept. 24. More than 80 horses from all over Michigan competed in the 17 events.

One of the highlights of the show was the Foxchaser class which was led by Peter Ver Plank, the new huntsman at the Waterloo Hunt Club in Grass Lake. This was a simulated fox hunt with Ver Plank leading in a line over fences, a quiet check and then a brisk full gallop over the hills.

The show ended with hunt teams jumping three abreast over the brush fence—a very exciting sight.

Chelsea riders who placed were Katie Donkin on Bittersweet, winning a 5th in Junior Hunter Hack, 13 and under, a 6th in Equitation over Fences, 12 and under, and a 6th in Junior Hunter, 13 and under. Bittersweet also received a 6th in Pairs of Hunters, ridden by Penny Bartlett.

Scott Alder, riding Alley Oop, placed 4th in Junior Hunter, 13 and under, and 6th in Hunt Teams.

Kim Alder, riding Skyline, won a 1st in Equitation over Fences, 14-17, a 6th in Junior Hunter, 14-17, and a 4th in Hunt Teams.

Accidents Happen In Rural Driving

Let the peaceful scenery of the rural countryside relax your defensive driving skill and you might become a dead man.

More than two out of every three deaths in 1970 occurred in places classified as rural. In urban areas, 30 percent of the victims were pedestrians and in RURAL areas 89 percent of the victims were occupants of motor vehicles. Fifty-four percent of all deaths occurred in night accidents.

The 1970 Michigan Traffic Accident Digest reports total motor vehicle deaths numbered upwards to 2,177 persons; 662 urban as compared to 1,515 rural deaths. Seventy percent of all traffic deaths occurred in RURAL areas.

Fatalities in 1970 increased in 36 counties, decreased in 44 counties, while three counties reported no changes from 1969. Ironically, highly congested Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties of the Detroit area decreased in fatalities, while in the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula the 10 most southwestern counties increased in traffic deaths.

In Michigan all traffic accidents in 1970 totaled 548,545, with 2,814 dead, and 186,569 injured.

Rural areas claimed 102,783 of these accidents as well as the aforementioned astronomical death toll. A further breakdown of the rural area shows that on county roads and in towns of less than 2,500 population over half the rural accidents are recorded; 37,799 of them. Our rural U. S. trunklines had 14,466 accidents; Interstate highways, 7,862 accidents. On Michigan highways there were 22,656 accidents.

Are you next? A 1971 mid-year traffic safety report says fatalities number 822, 10 percent above the same time last year.

What causes accidents as indicated by this state police report is: speeding, too slow, failure to yield right-of-way, wrong way, drove left of center, improper passing, turn signal or overtaking, disregarded control, followed too closely. These violations, with the exception of two, number in the thousands. These are drivers that we drive among everyday. These drivers are us.

Be defensive, don't wind up dead right.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer

Open House Event Will Honor Breitenwischers 50th Anniversary

Some time ago, a 24-year-old Wilbert Breitenwischer wed Gladys Leach in her home at 404 Under St., under a wooden arch by his father. 50 years later the arch is still standing, now at the end of the Breitenwischer's garden fence, and the Breitenwischers are observing a very special anniversary.

Their children, Mrs. Glen Britton Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer of Corpus Christi, Tex., will celebrate the anniversary with an open house honoring their parents, Oct. 8, at St. Paul's Church of Christ.

An immediate family will attend a dinner at Schumann's Restaurant with three members of the wedding party, Mrs. Elmer Schairer of Ann Arbor, Miss Flora Niederstein of S. Main St., and Mr. Warren Wheelock of Waynesville. Mrs. Breitenwischer's sisters, Mrs. Ruth Visscher, and the others, formed an arch during the wedding ceremony, will not be able to attend because she lives in Florida.

The pianist who played at the wedding, Mrs. Oscar Lindauer, will be at the dinner, however. Breitenwischer retired from the employ of the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners July 1, 1963, after serving as a truck driver for 20 years. New U.P. Medical School Being Studied East Lansing—Michigan State University, supported by nearly $400,000 in state and federal funds, will soon begin a study of the feasibility of starting a completely community based medical school in the Upper Peninsula.

The unconventional approach envisioned would allow students to receive their medical education within communities throughout the U.P. M.D. degrees would be granted by MSU.

Most of their academic instruction would come from self-instructional packets augmented by more formal teaching from faculty members of two-year and four-year colleges and universities in the area. Clinical training would come primarily from health professional practitioners in the various communities.

Mrs. A. Steinaway Named to Girl Scout Public Relations Committee

A Chelsea resident has been named to the Public Relations Committee of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, it was announced today.

Mrs. Arthur Steinaway of 2751 McKinley Rd., will work with a 10-member committee which will recommend public relations goals for the Council. The organization administers the Girl Scout program for 12,500 Scouts in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe counties.

According to committee chairman Wendell R. Lyons of Ann Arbor, each committee member represents a particular geographic area. In representing Chelsea, Mrs. Steinaway brings knowledge of a number of other civic organizations there. She is a founding committee member of the Home Meals Service of Chelsea, a member of the Washtenaw County Board for the March of Dimes, chairman of the Department of Education of the Methodist church, secretary of the Community Chest, and for the past four years she has been a den mother for the Cub Scouts. She is also past state president of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Girl Scouts have always tried hard to be sensitive and responsive to the needs of the communities they serve," Lyons commented today. "With Mrs. Steinaway's help, we hope our Public Relations Committee can guide the Council in doing this even more effectively in the future."

The annual sale of fruit cakes and candy bars by members of the Chelsea Band and the Band Boosters, will begin in the next few days and continue throughout the month, ending Oct. 27.

This year, organizers of the sale plan to place only one group order for fruitcakes. Thus both Thanksgiving and Christmas fruitcakes should be ordered at once. Her captains are: 6th grade, Mrs. John Eibler, Mrs. James Kalishet, Mrs. Ron Beyer, and Mrs. Donald Thompson; 7th grade, Mrs. Roger Schrottenberg, Mrs. Leonard Mötzing and Mrs. Robert Tucker; 8th grade, Mrs. Fred Klink, Mrs. John Check, and Mrs. Tom Morrison; high school, Mrs. Gerald Giffin, Mrs. Philip Hume, Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Stan Weit, Mrs. Dan Ewald, Mrs. James Lorenz, and Mrs. William Freeman.

To order fruitcakes in the one- and two-pound bars or the two-, three- or five-pound tins, phone Mrs. Tom Morrison at 475-8876 or Mrs. Robert Tucker at 475-1207. Proceeds from the sale are used to help defray expenses for band uniform and band camp.

Melvin Buss Awarded Student Life Scholarship

A Chelsea High School graduate has been awarded a prestigious Student Life Scholarship at Oakland University for the 1972-73 academic year.

He is Melvin Buss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buss, 119 Clardale Ct. He maintained a 3.8 grade point average and graduated 7th in a class of 175.

The Student Life Scholarships are a new award at OU this year and they are based on academic record and on contributions to student life. The students live in the residences and help provide leadership for special academic and social programs to be held this year in the fall. Only 200 of Oakland's 1,800 freshmen and transfers received the awards.

Buss is a cum laude graduate of his high school, winner of an industrial arts award, winner of an honorary scholarship from Michigan under the competitive scholarship program, a member of the society of outstanding high school students, winner of the honorary award of merit, and he is cited in "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Elections are often won and lost on the silliest of things.

Two CHS Seniors Named Scholarship Semi-Finalists

"People started congratulating me, and I didn't know what for," says National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist Carol Fairbrother.

The other Chelsea semi-finalist, Steve Worden, learned late one night after a football game. A friend of his mother's had called with the good news.

Even though these capable seniors had to learn of their achievement through the grapevine, they now have fairly definite word on the prospect of future honors. They both are certain of becoming National Merit finalists. Steve says, "Most all semi-finalists become finalists." "All we have to do is fill out a lot of forms," says Carol.

Out of the 14,922 semi-finalists, only a select 3,000 receive scholarships, so it is only prudent that Carol and Steve are taking the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Test in Stockbridge, Nov. 11.

With or without a scholarship tucked under his arm, Steve will take off for Michigan State University or Butler University in the fall. He hopes to major in some form of biology, perhaps zoology because of his fondness for animals.

Carol has her sights set tentatively on U. of M. where she wants to work for a degree in engineering. She has laid substantial foundation for that career with a hobby of building projects.

For a latin class, Carol and a friend engineered 25 pounds of clay into a coliseum with a circumference of 64 inches. Later they constructed a five-foot square castle out of 120 pounds of plaster.

At school, Carol says "math and science are what I 'do,'" but I like foreign languages too. She will be debating again this year when the team has its first meet Oct. 14. She will also be selling magazines with the Senior Trip Club.

The two will learn in April whether or not they have won a scholarship. In the meantime, Steve, a tackle and a returning letterman will be directing his energies at his opponents on the football field. After the season is over, he and his saxophone will return to the Chelsea High band. He will continue, as he has for six years, to be an active member of Boy Scout Troop No. 476.

Chelsea is one of 276 Michigan high schools to have semi-finalists in their ranks.

Chelsea also can be proud of Ron Adams, one of 600 Michigan seniors to receive a letter of commendation from the National Merit Committee. Ron, with Carol and Steve, was among 1,161,081 students competing for the honors.

Rock Throwing Vandalism Cause Destruction at Lutheran Church

Two separate rock throwing incidents shattered property and peace of mind during the last week.

Our Savior Lutheran church lost two stained glass windows, and one back window worth $100 to vandals who apparently stood in the parking lot Friday night launching rocks at the building.

Sgt. David McCormick received another similar complaint not long after hearing of the first. The site of this crime was a house on Adams St.

The juvenile who was responsible for the latter incident has since confessed, but the church vandals remain unknown.

Character building is almost like the weather, everyone talks about it, but very few do anything about it.

Girl Scouting in Chelsea is underway with nine troops this year, four Brownie (2nd and 3rd grades), four Junior (4, 5 and 6th) and one troop on the Cadette (7 and 8th grade) level. "Registration is still going on and we expect to have more than 200 girls this year," according to Mrs. Sandy Schunk, troop services director. "We hope to emphasize to the girls this year that they are part of a community—with resources and problems that they can become involved in."

Those who may have previously missed an opportunity to be a Girl Scout may call Mrs. Schunk, 475-8175, for information. "Some troops are also in need of adult members. You may know of someone new to the community—who would be interested in Girl Scouting," Mrs. Schunk also says. Chelsea Girl Scouts are planning a Father-Daughter workbee to repair and waterproof their tents. The workbee will be held Saturday, Oct. 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Klobuchar from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. A hot-dog roast is planned for the noon break.

Funds providing the working materials were earned through the Girl Scout booth at the Chelsea Community Fair. Fair booth profits also furnished enough funds to purchase canvas bags to store each of the tents in.

Mrs. Sandy Schunk, troop services director, adds that the Girl Scouts appreciate the community's fine support during the fair.
