Connie Salyer Chosen Homecoming Queen

The excitement and activity of Homecoming week was capped Friday night when Chelsea fans witnessed the crowning of Queen Connie Salyer. After a congratulatory kiss from her father, Harold, a sparkling crown was placed on her blond head, and she was given a big bouquet of red roses. She wiped a happy tear away as the band played "Something" by the Beatles and members of her court were presented with one rose each. Days of interclass competition led up to the crowning moment. Wednesday night, the preliminary powder puff football matches occasioned scuffles between sophomores and juniors, and freshmen and seniors. The seniors proved their indisputable superiority when they overpowered the sophomores, 12-0, after the pep rally Thursday night. The enthusiastic freshmen won the hall decoration contest with their arrangement, "Rack 'em up, stack 'em up, send them to the moon!" They had constructed a large rocket and planets. The football player-stars looked down from above it all. "It was the junior class that won Pep Week, however, with their accumulation of the most pep points during the week. Their large banner across Main St. contributed to that total."

Friends of Library Order New Furniture

Friends of the Library scored a huge success with their spring membership drive. They achieved goals "beyond their expectations." A total of $1,382 was received in membership donations. Landscaping around the McKune Memorial Library has been completed under the direction of Mrs. Robert Daniels and Kenneth Runciman. New furniture for the club meeting room, including two wing chairs, a table desk, an end table, pedestal table, club chair and two table lamps, has been ordered. The new furnishings will cost $855. At the next meeting, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m., Mrs. Florence Beier (D), candidate for the State Legislature from the 23rd district, and her opponent, Hal Ziegler (R), will speak. Former members of the Friends and other interested persons whose dues for 1972 have not been paid may still do so by mailing their dues to the Friends of the Library, McKune Memorial Library. There are two student members this year, Kimberly Boyd, age 6, and Tobin Boyd, age 8. Life members are Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure, and Leonard Fortune. Individual membership holders are: J. B. Armstrong, Miss Dorothy Beach, Mrs. Robert Butler, Dr. Jerome B. Casey, Mrs. Lowell Davison, Mrs. Paul Elsie, Dwight Gadbey, Mrs. Dwight Gadbey, Harold Jones, Mrs. Waldo Kuster, Mrs. Charles Meserv, Mrs. Inez Millemann, Mrs. K. R. McMannis, Mrs. C. C. ## First in Travelogue Series Will Be Shown Saturday Night

The "travel bug" will be set abuzz Saturday, Oct. 21, when citizens gather for the annual Kiwanis-sponsored Travel and Adventures Series. The first in the series is called "I Love Mexico," which is Thayer Soule's story of a land which "gives the North American traveler more for his time and money than any country in the world. Old beyond calculation, new beyond belief, colorful beyond description, it fills each day with bright rewards." Soule's presentation is not the run-of-the-mill Mexican travelogue. It has no bullfights, no fiesta, and no dancing. His is the record of a leisurely journey in which he finds new angles for the best of the famous sights, and discovers new sights, too. ## Bulldogs Shut Out By Novi's Powerhouse Chelsea suffered a setback at the hands of Novi's powerhouse, Friday, Oct. 13, in a Homecoming game fraught with penalties and disappointment. Novi racked up 35 points in the first three quarters, while Chelsea was never able to score. Novi also collected enough penalties to put them back 100 yards. Chelsea lost ground once on a 15-yard penalty. In the first quarter, Novi made a touchdown and the extra point kick early in the game. Chelsea might have rallied, but a fumble on their own 30 after receiving the kickoff brought them down. Another spark of hope flared when Mike Merkell intercepted a Novi pass in the second quarter but it was not enough to keep Novi from rolling home two more times before half-time, and twice in the next quarter. Rick Miller was leading rusher for Chelsea with his gain of 89 yards. Steve Bergman was close behind with a total of 85. Dave Tucker covered 78 yards rushing. Four Chelsea fumbles did irreparable damage to their drives, especially in the face of Novi's Steve Lukkar and the swivel-hip power running of Jim VanWagner.

JV's Avenge 1971 Loss To Novi, 36-14

Chelsea JV's tasted sweet revenge as Novi's field Thursday, Oct. 12, when they defeated the team that had overturned their winning streak a year ago. Theirs was a 36-14 victory. The first quarter saw a touchdown by Chelsea and some fine passing by Novi. Doug Reed started it all when he returned the Novi kick-off to mid-field. Five plays later he was over for a touchdown. The conversion fell short. Novi came back, driving to Chelsea's 20-yard line, but there Chelsea's defense started to stiffen. Novi took to the air, completing five out of eight for 48 yards, but that wasn't enough. The aerial war backfired when John Wagner picked off one of Novi's passes and returned it six (Continued on page three)

Debate Teams Participate in First Meet

The heat of reasoned argument filled the halls of Southfield-Lathrup High school Saturday as Chelsea High debaters, and teams from all over the state disagreed in the debate season's first tournament. Chelsea's varsity team, JV team, and three novice teams faced opposition from all classes of high schools in the state. The varsity pair came away with a 1-3 score, while the two JV duos each won and lost one set. Eight of the novice debaters each won two rounds and lost two. A third novice team was unable to score. The Chelsea delegation was comprised of 26 debaters from a class of 29, the largest in its history. Membership in the class-club has steadily increased since its beginning with four members in 1967. Last year 21 debaters, many of whom have graduated, took a novice championship, and sent a varsity team to the state finals. "This is a building year," says coach and teacher William Coelius. He is optimistic. "We weren't highly impressive, but we didn't get wiped off the field. We'll do better." The team attended the tournament primarily to get their tongues and minds limbered up for the league competitions which will (Continued on page three)

Three Nabbed For Shoplifting

There are laws, and law enforcement officials, but are there laws governing the occurrence of crime? This question was raised this week when again a coincidence of crimes took place, two unrelated shoplifting offenses on the same day, Thursday, Oct. 12. Eve Policht witnessed one of the crimes in the Card and Gift Shop on Main St. After seeing a 10-year-old boy surreptitiously placing a scented candle and an egg-shaped container of panty hose in his bag, she called the police and kept the boy from leaving. The police verified that the boy had store merchandise in his bag. The second attempt at simple larceny was witnessed by the head (Continued on page eight)

Fall Is Sauerkraut Making Time for Satterthwaites

While sociologists say the family as an institution is soon to disintegrate in America, and criminologists lament that it already has, it is reassuring to see families in the Chelsea area staying firmly together, and enjoying it. The Satterthwaite clan, whose sense of family and heritage is not a heavy but an enjoyable legacy, get together every year about this time to mix up a potent batch of old-fashioned sauerkraut. "We don't need a recipe, we just do it like we've always seen it done," they say. Vernor and Edna Orbring Satterthwaite, the head and hosts of the family gatherings, provide the cabbages—135 beauties this year—out of their own garden. Third cousin Earl Fletcher is adamant that for good sauerkraut you need good cabbage, and "Vernor's are the best in this area." Vernor doesn't deny this, but humbly explains that all you need is good rich earth, which he apparently has on his farm on Jerusalem Rd., and plenty of dusting to keep the worms away. The senior Satterthwaites keep putting out more cabbage each year as their gatherings grow larger. This year 25 jolly kraut-makers from four generations congregated, the largest group they've had yet. Not only is the clan growing, but the good news of good times is getting around to the corners of the clan in Pinckney and Grass Lake. Beside the three Satterthwaite sons Darrell, Ronald, and Jerry and their families, cousins, aunts and friends arrived. Aunt Olga Nuhaus, senior member in the group, cousin Molly Janowski, Earl Fletcher and George Hassan of Pinckney were among the merry makers. Vernor and Edna can remember doing the same thing with their families when they were kids, so when they started getting the family together in the fall 10 years ago, they didn't change the techniques a bit. They still use sturdy old washboard-like cabbage cutters that have been in the family for years. The best of the lot is an oak hand-made cutting board made by Edna Satterthwaite's "old aunt Cary's father, Mr. Strieter." It's at least 100 years old, but its three cutting knives do a better job than the newer factory-made boards they have. These boards are placed across large metal washtubs left over from the wringer-washer days. Once the cabbage heads are stripped of their outer leaves, they are rubbed back and fourth over the boards and blades so that the grated slaw falls into the tubs. Graters must take care not to sever the core in with the cabbage because it will make the batch too sour. "We like it sour," says Markeita Satterthwaite, "but not rotten!" Everyone pitches, in even the children, but they are well supervised to assure no cut fingers get into the kraut. Healthy fingers, however, are more than welcome, and it seems the 40 crocks the grated cabbage gets into hungry mouths as in the waiting earthen crocks. In the 40 crocks, the grated cabbage is mixed with a magic amount of coarse salt. The Satterthwaite women proved themselves to be typical good cooks, unable to say how much salt is added. They add the "right" amount, but only their taste buds, and their experienced hands can measure it. The salt and cabbage are pressed down into the crocks with potato mashers or hands until some moisture comes. The clan learned the hard way years ago that "if you pound it down too hard, the sauerkraut will be soggy." The salted cabbage is then let to "work" in the crocks again for a magic amount of time. It takes the experienced kraut-maker to know when it's done. The fermentation process takes two to four weeks. "The house really smells for that month," they admit. The sauerkraut is then ready to be canned. Last year about 200 cans, or 56 gallons were shared among the families. Without a bit of prejudice they agree "It doesn't taste anything like the soggy kind you buy." (Continued on page three)

Unfair Labor Hearing Drags On Tuesday

It was 10:20 Tuesday when the small cluster of 12 spectators and individuals involved were finally called to order in the Council Room of the Municipal Building. Four hours later the hearing of unfair labor practice charges against the Chelsea School District finally dragged to an indecisive close. The two sides, the Chelsea Education Association (CEA), and the Chelsea School Board and its representatives appear no closer to resolving their differences, but at least one ponderous step is behind them. It will be at least six weeks before a ruling on the charges is handed down. As Miss DiAnn L'Roy said, "I knew we'd hurry to wait. The wheels of justice are not known to turn quickly." Bert Wicking, the trial examiner for the State Employment Relations Committee, conducted the hearing. His decision, based on the evidence and testimony aired Tuesday will be submitted to the three-member Public Relations Committee, who will automatically adopt it unless a contending party appeals within 20 days. His decision will be in the form of a recommended order in light of a violation of the Michigan Public Relations Act, or a conclusion that no violation has occurred. Wicking opened the proceedings by giving both sides the opportunity to make an initial statement. Richard Gray, attorney for the CEA, took that opportunity to reiterate the CEA's stand that the Board and its representatives had failed to bargain in good faith, had attempted to undermine the authority of the Association in the negotiations, and had injected a "take-it-or-leave-it" attitude in to the bargaining process. When David Crocker, attorney for the school district, chose not to make opening remarks, Leonard Solomon, a teacher at Chelsea for 11 years, and chief negotiator for CEA, was called to the stand. A flurry of activity followed while a chair was located and the stand created. Solomon's testimony primarily concerned negotiations leading up to the incidents that precipitated the charges. He explained that the CEA and the Board had initiated informal negotiations in the spring of '72, anticipating that agreement on a new contract could be easily reached. Solomon said that by summer the CEA opted for the advisory method, a more formal bargaining process in which proposals are put on the table, because it felt only the Board's concerns had been considered. The formal method brought about even less progress. ## Open House Slated Nov. 6 At High School Chelsea High school is issuing an invitation to all parents to come back to school, if only for the night of their Open House, Monday, Nov. 6. At 7:15 p.m. all parents are to meet in the auditorium to hear an introduction to the evening's activities given by the school principal Charles Lane. At 7:30 the parents will begin going to their child's round of classes, following a schedule which their child brought home to them the Thursday before. In each of the 10-minute classes, the teacher will explain what is taught in that class, what the grading system is, and what his general feelings about the course are. The purpose is to give parents an idea of what their child is learning. They may also meet their child's teacher and set up a conference, if they wish to talk to the teacher more extensively. Refreshments and an art display from the art class will be in the cafeteria for weary "class-goers." There they can relax during study period or after classes are through.

Open House Set Next Tuesday at Grade Schools

In recognition of National Education Week, parents of North and South school children, and those who have offspring in the new Kindergarten Center will have an opportunity to meet their child's teacher and see the school room, Tuesday, Oct. 24. That evening at 7 o'clock the schools will open their doors, welcoming parents to their Open House until 8:30. Teachers will be in their classrooms ready to greet parents and answer any questions they might have.

STRIKE UP THE BAND: In a pre-game show Chelsea High School Marching Band and the Girls Choir, led by Miss DiAnn L'Roy entertained a Homecoming crowd with "Save the Children."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

EAR MISTER EDITOR:

The session at the country store Saturday night turned out to be one of them battle of statistics. The gits into ever now and then. Doolittle came in with his usual batch of clippings, and Zeke Trubb showed up with a handful of mail from the Department of Agriculture. Between them, they did the rest of us everything we ever wanted to know about everything.

For instant, Zeke said one USDA pamphlet told how the Farmer's Home Administration is doing in the golf course business. It seems this outfit has lent out $85 million since 1962 to build golf courses on farmland. A lot of folks is playing golf, the pamphlet said, but the golf courses ain't paying off the loans. Of 550 courses, 130 is behind in their payments. Zeke said the Farmer's Home Administration is doing a fine job in helping folks buy homes, but it better leave the golfing to Health, Education and Welfare, 'cause they're used to losing propositions.

Ed broke in to report where the census folks say they is 50 million Americans of driving age that can't drive a car, and Ed allowed that to his mind most of that '50 million was behind the steering wheel anyway. He had saw another place where all the 1973 cars got new safety bumpers on 'em, which told him the safety experts has give up on preventing accidents and decided to try to cut down on the damage.

Furthermore, Mister Editor, even Bug Hookum got in a word about the general condition. He said he hadn't heard the feller that runs the store declare his politics, but he had saw he had a sign up in the restroom that reads "Flush Twice, it's a Long Way to Washington." About the same time, Bug went on, he saw by the papers where Uncle Sam has give $10 million credit in military aid to Chile, and he started to give an idea what the sign means. Chile, said Bug, is run by all communists, which has took over all American holdings in that country.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, you can tell a heap about the way we live by studying the signs. Clem said he saw a sign out in front of a church the last time he was in town. It said "children's dog show in church basement Friday."

Church women's flea market Saturday. Clem said he reckoned the wimmen was having a clearance sale for m'Friday's business. General speaking, Mister Editor, the session was educating. Zeke said the best part of his USDA pamphlets this fall was the fillers. One item told how George Washington could broad jump 23 foot. Since George's time, declared Zeke, we've had Presidents that could sidestep twice that far from a standing start. For onct, the fellers was full agreed.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Problems - Problems
Taxes and abortions are two of the most controversial subjects state governments in most parts of the country have dealt with in recent years. What to do about spiraling property taxes have vexed many people; and whether to permit abortions has been argued heatedly by even more.

Michigan voters have a unique opportunity Nov. 7 to help set the national tone for the discussion of both issues in coming years. The voters will decide on proposals which deal with both questions.

The manner in which the proposals were placed before voters says something about how the legislature is handling modern problems. Both had to be petitioned onto the ballot after political wrangling made legislative action impossible.

More emotional of the two, by far, is the abortion proposal. It is being bitterly opposed by several groups spearheaded by the Roman Catholic Church, which opposes all abortion as a matter of religious principle.

The ballot proposal would allow any woman to have an abortion if she wanted it during the first 20 weeks of pregnancy.

Backers say that whether one favors the idea of abortion personally, it is immoral for the state to enforce the viewpoint of one group—the anti-abortion faction—on the entire state. They point out the fact that thousands of illegal abortions are performed in Michigan every year, sometimes in wretched conditions, and that many women die or are permanently injured because they have been forced to see an illegal abortionist.

The ballot proposal, they say, merely makes available to the poorer segment of the population a medical treatment the more wealthy can go elsewhere for already.

der and that the removal of a fetus is the killing of a human being. Opponents claim abortion is murder. They say approval of the proposal would be the legalizing of murder.

Polls indicate a sizeable majority of Michigan residents favor the liberalization proposal and will adopt it, but no one will know for sure until election day.

Since present abortion laws have been called unconstitutional by Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman, the legality issue may have already been established. But voter reaction at the next election will express the feeling of those who go to the ballot box.

Property tax changes were petitioned onto the ballot by Gov. William G. Milliken and the Michigan Education Association. It would remove the use of local property taxes for the financing of schools costs.

The governor proposed that the drop in property tax money be made up from an increase in the state income tax and levying of a value added tax on businesses. But that is something the legislature will decide if the proposal passes.

One sure thing is that people around the country will be watching Michigan on both issues. In both cases the vote will be the largest test yet of public sentiment on the issue involved.

And Michigan, with its cross section of interests which closely mirrors the nation, is seen as a reliable barometer of feeling on both subjects.

How High Is Tax?
With controversy now brewing about Michigan's gasoline tax and whether a tiny fraction of it should be used to help fund mass transit programs, it seems a good time to compare the state's present gas tax with other states.

Gov. William G. Milliken proposes that the tax be raised from 7 cents to 8 cents. Of the increased money, he would allocate 1.5 cents to accelerated highway construction plans and one-half cent to mass transit. The current 7 cents would still go entirely for highways.

If Michigan raises its tax to 9 cents, it still won't have the highest gas tax in the country. That distinction belongs to Connecticut, which charges 10 cents for every gallon of gasoline sold in that state.

Eight states already charge 9 cents per gallon gas tax. They represent a broad section of the country, too, including New Hampshire, Washington, Maryland and Kentucky.

Mississippi raised its rate to 9 cents effective next July 1. Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia raised theirs to 9 cents this year.

Twelve states have their tax at 8 cents right now and three others pay 8.5 cents.

Hawaii is all alone at the lowest tax rate of 5 cents and is only one of seven states which haven't raised its gas tax since 1961. It may not help your pocketbook much to know it, but Michigan certainly isn't alone in its need for more tax money.

Thursday, Oct. 16, 1958—Four generations of the Barr family were present for an observance of the 97th birthday of William Barr of Saline, Sunday, Oct. 5, at the home of his grandson, Merle Barr, Jr., 206 Congdon St.

Chelsea firemen responded to a call at 2 p.m. Friday to the Wilbert Koengeter property at 11811 Waters Rd., where a fire of undetermined origin destroyed a barn and farm tools stored inside. A quantity of oats stored in the building was removed during the fire.

A hunting trip to Long Lac, Ontario, 1,200 miles north of Detroit, proved highly successful again this year for Walter Mohrlock, who returned with a 1,300-lb. moose and 250-lb. black bear he shot in the backwoods of frontier country. He and Mrs. Mohrlock returned Wednesday last week with the game and displayed it briefly for hunters and school children to view.

Mrs. Cloteal Frayer and Mrs. Laura Miller and children, seven-year-old Paula Sue, and nine-year-old Pamela were treated for various cuts and bruises at the office

24 Years Ago...

Thursday, Oct. 21, 1948—Henry Schumacher, who has been a blacksmith in Chelsea for the past 65 years and still works at it, making door knockers for friends and for people who have shown him kindness, will celebrate his 80th birthday next Monday, Oct. 25.

Clean-up work at Pierce Memorial park on S. Main St. is to be continued this afternoon beginning at 1 p.m., and volunteers are asked to be on hand for as many hours as they can spare for the work.

The heavy frost Monday morning blackened garden crops and abruptly ended an unusually mild fall. Only last week, Julius Heran reported that three pear trees on the old Fuller farm at Half Moon Lake were in blossom, and for several weeks there have been reports of spring shrubs blossoming for the second time this year.

A special meeting of the Village Council was called for Wednesday evening last week for the purpose of discussing a building code and zoning ordinance for Chelsea.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Oct. 20, 1938—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pierce were pleasantly surprised Monday evening when 50 relatives and friends gathered at their home in Lima township in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

With the village literally buried in leaves, authorities wish to remind residents that it is unlawful to burn leaves on the surfaced streets, as the heat causes the serious damage to the blacktop surfacing.

Miss Eva L. Kishlar, a former teacher in the Chelsea public schools died Wednesday, Oct. 12, at her home in Ypsilanti. She was 80 years of age and retired 16 years ago.

A meeting of the Child Study Club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. B. I. Plankell. The program opened with solos by Barbara Schenk, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," and "I Haven't Changed a Thing." She played her own accompaniment.

A real improvement has been made by the village authorities to the street adjacent to the public school athletic field. The street has been widened so that diagonal parking is possible on the north as well as the south side of the road, thus providing parking space for many more cars near the entrance to the field.

Rose Ann, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hankard fell from a second story window Sunday morning at their home on Harrison St. She suffered bruises on the face and body and her lip was badly lacerated, but fortunately no bones were broken. She received treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Gridders of the Week

CHUCK FOYLE (12), a junior this year who became a quarterback when he played JV ball, is mainly a music man. He keeps his talent in play in four different bands, two each of rock and country. One of these is informally called "My Three Sons" and is composed of Chuck on lead guitar, and his two brothers, Rick on bass and Skip on the drums. Although football practices and games cut into rehearsal and performance time, Chuck thinks it's worth it. "I'll be able to play later, but now is the only chance to play football." Basketball is also an interest of Chuck's, but he admits music is his main love.

JOHN HOULE (11) is a well-rounded sports enthusiast who keeps busy in all seasons. A quarterback in the fall, he plays basketball in the winter, and guards the baseball infield in the spring. He likes both water and snow skiing, which lures him up to Brighton during the cold months. He has joined the Chelsea ski club this year because of that interest. John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Houle, has an older brother and three sisters. Although there is plenty of time to plan this junior's future, he thinks he will go to Albion College when he graduates. There he wants to pursue his interest in commercial art. John, who will continue to take the art courses at Chelsea in the meantime, enjoys sketching and landscape drawing.

yards for a touchdown, jacking the score up to 12-0. Doug Reed was again the ball carrier for two extra points.

Before the half was played out,
Reed racked up eight more points for Chelsea, leaving the score 22-0 at half-time.

In the third quarter, Chelsea was again rambling home, this time with a pass from Reed to Dave Keiser who then covered 49 yards for his touchdown. Superb team work was evident for the next score. Randy Guenther passed to Paul Wood who in turn lateralled to Doug Reed. Again Reed was over the line. Terry Ellenwood did an outstanding job blocking on the flea flicker which made Reed's score possible. Steve Kincer was the carrier for two extra points, spiraling the score up to 36-0.

Randy Guenther went 65 yards for a touchdown on a fake punt in the fourth quarter, only to have it called back for the second time in two weeks.

Novi rallied for two touchdowns in the last minutes of the game, with the help of two beautiful long passes. But there was not enough time to catch up.

Doug Reed was not only a leader offensively. He was surpassed in defense only by Dennis Bauer's 16 tackles. Steve Figg and Rodger Stewart each brought down 11 opponents. John Wagner, Curt Winans, and Ron Keil each downed eight Novi players. Tom Ball also helped keep the Novi team stymied with seven tackles.

CIGARETTE TAXES

Washington—The Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Jesse L. Steinfeld, has suggested that the government could reduce smoking hazards by imposing a graduated cigarette tax based on tar and nicotine content.

Deadline Near For Aptitude, Scholarship Tests

All college bound juniors must be on their toes lest they miss their last chance, Monday, Oct. 23, to sign up in the main office for the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude and National Merit Scholarship Test.

A registration fee of $2.50 covers the cost of the test and the student bulletin which contains sample test questions and answers. The booklet will give the student a good idea of what kind of questions to expect in the verbal and mathematics sections of the test.
The test will be administered at the high school Tuesday morning.

Sauerkraut Time

The feeling among these kraut experts is that you can't possibly eat sauerkraut without home-made spatzel, or nifflies, as their dialect dubs these German noodles. Once again there is no family recipe, only family know-how passed along by watching.

A holiday time more German family traditions are revived.
There is the traditional "Sint-brat" to be baked, and the New Year's pork to be served. What better accompaniment on the winter night of the new year than sauerkraut made together on a lovely fall afternoon.

Last Saturday the family was not thinking much about winter.
Instead, they were enjoying the fall day, listening to the football game on the radio, and getting a great kick out of each other's jokes.

As if to bless the mixed generations, the garden bore a treat, a bunch of fresh strawberries, that had survived the frost. This taste of summer was savored while the grandchildren gathered nuts to dry for cakes and cookies. It was a very special blending of seasons, a time of remembering to remember.

Southampton, England—Britain has launched the first fiberglass warship. The $5.2 million mine-sweeper, the Wilton, will save on maintenance costs because her hull will not rust as does the steel used in conventional craft.

Debate Teams Participate in First Meet

start the end of the month. Chelsea debaters compete in three leagues: a state league, WCTM League, which is a high-powered varsity league including schools across lower Michigan, and the ABC league which is a novice league in Jackson.

The proposition debated by all participating teams this year is:
"Resolved: that governmental financial support for all public elementary and secondary schools in the United States should be provided exclusively by the federal government." Those arguing the affirmative must give reasons for changing the status quo. Debaters on the negative side need only defend the system as it stands.

Last year's topic concerning the jury system was stated so that the affirmative side, which opens debate, could attack any aspect of that general topic, leaving the opposition scrambling for a rebuttal they could not have prepared for.

This year's topic is full of restrictive words, explains Coelius,
"so the burden is on the affirmative side to establish their case."

The class prepares for meets by doing their own research on the topic, and by studying debate materials supplied by professional research companies. They also study debate technique in class.

This year's varsity couple is Carl Fairbrother and Betsy Bel-ser. JV crew members are Polly
Van Slambrouk, Barb Bollinger, Neil Bollinger, Jeff Sprague, Jennifer Lane, and Michelle McClear.

Debating for the first time last week-end were: Jim Storey, Steve Bennett, Dave Klemmer, Dale Koch,
Jim Powers, Brian Smith, Keith
Cockerline, Greg Haller, Lorie
Schiller, Francis Grohner, Marlene Raney, Sue Osinski, Amy Enderle, Tom Boylan, Paul Wood, Mark Pennington, Kathy Rybka, and Merry Hoffmeyer.

One team at each level will travel to Ann Arbor's Huron High for another state tournament this Saturday.

Remember that all of one's education doesn't come out of books.

Travel Film on Mexico Set Saturday

Mexico more than 30 years ago.
In producing seven major films there, he has seen it from the top of Popocatepetl to the dense jungles of Yucatan. He speaks Spanish fluently and has great admiration and affection for the Mexican people.

Thayer Soule's background led him naturally into the travelogue business. From an artist father came an early appreciation of color and composition; from a world-traveling mother, a zest for far-away places. His home is Rochester, N.Y., the Kodak City.
He decided on his career at the age of seven. Before he was 10 he had a Brownie camera, and took his first movies while still in high school.

By freshman year in college he was earning pocket money with his programs. After graduation from Harvard University in 1939, he became production assistant to one of the first and the "old pro" in the travelogue field, Burton Holmes. Their association continued for 20 years.

In World War II, as a Marine Corps reserve officer, Thayer Soule was ordered to active duty the day after Pearl Harbor. He landed at Guadalcanal as officer in charge of the Marines' first photographic unit, and later won the Bronze Star at Iwo Jima.

His journeys have taken him more than a million miles through more than 70 countries.

This program is only the first of six featuring nationally known adventurers and explorers who are artists in the travelogue field.
Other features will focus on Norway, Spain, British Columbia, the Colorado River, and Washington, D.C.

The show will start at 8 p.m. at Chelsea High school.

Conlin 1st choice of Washtenaw County voters

Patrick J. Conlin received more votes than any other candidate in the August primary election for the Circuit Court. Here are some reasons why:

He's a man of ideas and integrity who speaks out on the issues

Accountability "I'm always ready to discuss, with anyone, the positions I take as judge. The way I see it, a judge is simply one human being who must make decisions affecting other human beings."

Expansion of Public Defender's Office "The county Defender's Office must be expanded to meet the needs of the growing number of defendants who prove they can't afford a private attorney. The county court system would have ample funds for this."

Administrative Reorganization "We've outgrown the administrative structure, resulting in crowded dockets, unreasonable delays, lengthy adjournments—and the court records system is outdated. We need a computerized record keeping system, and a professional Court Administrator. The court system would have funds to finance these reforms without additional cost to taxpayers."

Fair and Firm Handling of Each Case "A judge must treat each case on its merits. Defendants' rights are vitally important, yet rights and duties of prosecution and police are no less important. Accountability is the key. If a judge has not maintained a humane attitude—or if he has bent over backward to favor either side—he should expect to be publicly challenged."

He's a man of ability and judicial experience

- A lifetime Washtenaw County resident and U-M law school graduate
- A trial lawyer 1961-68, with more trial experience than any other candidate for Circuit Court
- 14th District Judge since 1969—youngest person ever elected judge in Washtenaw County

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURKHARDT

For a Veteran's Day thought we suggest you read the Preamble To The American Legion Constitution . . .

"For God and country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America; To maintain law and order; To foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; To preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the great years; To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; To combat the autocracy of both the classes and masses; To make right the master of might; To promote peace and good will on earth; To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; To consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness"

It is a marvelous, meaningful document. It explains what Americanism is all about. . . BURKHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-4141.

Three Nabbed for Shoplifting...

clerk at Dancer's department store, who watched three young girls leave the store with a sweater they had not paid for.

When Chief Meranuck was called he found the girls sitting on a curb. One of the girls had the stolen sweater, identified by the clerk, in her lap. Two of the 16-year-olds were arrested for possession of stolen property.

The parents of the girls were notified.

The "bad luck" of the would-be criminals, and the strange coincidence might have been better understood had it all happened the next day, Friday, Oct. 13.

Plug-in circuit panels, modules and transistors let your serviceman fix what's wrong without replacing what's still right.

Instant Automatic Fine Tuning—"remembers" the precise setting for every station signal and keeps it locked in for a perfectly-tuned, precise picture... on every channel, every time—automatically!

Automatic Chroma Circuit—reduces variations in color intensity—and gives more uniform color from station to station.

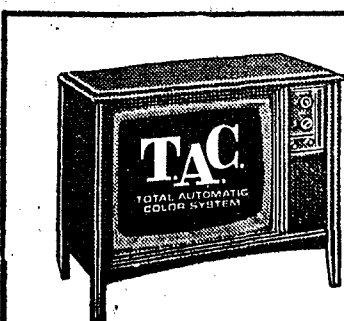

Automatic Tint Control—brings in natural flesh tones. No green people. No purple people. You'll always see "people" people on a Magnavox... from scene to scene, channel to channel!

Brilliant 25" diagonal Matrix Picture Tube—Has a black, opaque substance surrounding each color dot—thereby reducing light reflection... for far better picture contrast and far more brightness.

Frosh Grid Team Gets By Mich. Center

The Freshman football team squared their record at 2-2 Wednesday, Oct. 11, by inching past Michigan Center, 18-14.

Michigan Center initiated the scoring in the first period with a short run. They missed in their effort for extra points, but retained their lead throughout the period.

Kevin Kelly's eight-yard run tied the score at the start of the second period. The extra point kick fell wide. The two teams seemed tied in a stalemate until Jim Boyer recovered a Cardinal fumble with a minute left in the half.

Jim Marshall, who was playing with a newly healed arm proved it was sound with an on-target pass to Joel Sprague. The receiver scampered 48 yards, in the last play of the half. His touchdown, however, was nullified by a penalty.

Chelsea was the first to draw blood in the second half. After the Bulldogs drove from their 44 to Michigan Center's two-yard line, Mark Burnett carried the ball across the final two yards to score. When the extra point attempt failed, Chelsea was left with a 12-6 lead.

That lead was increased six points when Joel Sprague sprinted 57 yards on a reverse in the fourth quarter.

Michigan Center tried to surmount that lead by taking to the air but good pass defense led by interceptors, Kevin Kelly and Mark Dalton, brought those hopes back down to earth.

The Cardinals tallied their final points after some intercepting of their own. Snatching a Jim Marshall pass on the 10-yard line, they picked up their score to 14.

Joel Sprague led the winners with 100 yards running. Leading defenders were Dave Fletcher, John Elliott, and John Storey.

The team had a chance to tip the tables in their favor yesterday at Tecumseh, and they will travel to South Lyon, Oct. 25. Their final contest of the season is at home with St. Thomas, Nov. 1.

Mrs. Sweeny Enjoys Visit in Her Home Town

Lulu Sweeny writes that she enjoyed seeing all her friends, and attending Rebekah Lodge, and Senior Citizens meetings while visiting Chelsea this summer. She also attended some picnics and the Chelsea Fair. She particularly mentioned the lovely kitchen at the fairgrounds. She says, "It must be pleasant to work in such a wonderful place." She concludes, "I will always love my home town, Chelsea."

Cross Country Runners Whip Dundee, 19-42

The Chelsea three-milers were back pounding their own turf Thursday, Oct. 12, and with near record breaking times they defeated Dundee, 19-42.

Jim Storey was again Chelsea's star as he came home first only two seconds off the course record. Jeff Sprague, snapped up second place for Chelsea less than a minute later with his best time on the difficult Inverness course, 18:34.

In third place for Chelsea was Doug Schrotenboer with another personal best time on Inverness hills, 18:48.

A couple of Dundee runners sneaked in but sixth through 10th place holders were Chelsea men. Robin Boyer led the pack with a time of 19:28. Dave Frame was next, and then came Dan Heydlauff who was whipping around Inverness in the best time of his life, 19:51.

Mark Heydlauff was ninth with 20:06, and Craig Coltre was a strong 10th place winner.

Today the runners' race South Lyon, their last league competition.

Golf Team 9th in State Regional Meet

In preparation for the State Regionals, Chelsea High linksmen played several matches this fall with area schools.

In the preliminary rounds Chelsea tied Tecumseh, won one, and lost one with Saline, and defeated Dexter. In the eight-team Pinckney Invitational, Chelsea finished fourth. Pinckney won that tournament.

In a field of 23 teams, the Bulldogs placed ninth at the State Regional meet, Oct. 13. Coach Pat Wade said, "They made a good effort."

Methodist Home Administrator Attends National Conference on Aged

V. O. Johnson, administrator at the Chelsea Methodist Home attended the American Association of Homes for the Aging 11th annual meeting and conference Oct. 15-18 in Kansas City, Mo.

Approximately 1,000 specialists in the care and housing of older persons participated.

At the four-day conference, national authorities focused on improved services for the nation's elderly. Institutes for administrators of non-profit homes, retirement homes and housing projects for the elderly were scheduled. A program for chaplains was also presented.

George W. Romney, Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C., topped the list of speakers. Others included Dr. John R. Kernode of Burlington, N. C.

Chairman of the Board, American Martin, U. S. Commissioner on Aging, and Mrs. Marie Callender, Special Assistant for Nursing Home Affairs, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, both of Washington, D.C.

The American Association of Homes for the Aging is the national organization of non-profit health care facilities for the elderly. Eugene T. Hackler, Olathe, Kan., attorney, is president of AAHA.

TO SHIFT HOSPITALS

Washington—Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Elliot L. Richardson, says the government hopes to transfer eight Public Health Service Hospitals to local control by June 30, 1973. It assumes they will be converted to community use.

Cross Country Team Downs Grass Lake

Those long hours of running are paying off for Chelsea's cross country team. They ran home Tuesday with their fourth consecutive win, a 22-37 race over Grass Lake.

Jim Storey was the first man home for Chelsea. His time of 17 minutes and 20 seconds gave him second place. Jeff Sprague recorded his best time of the year in third place, at 17:56. In fourth, Doug Schrotenboer also lodged a best time at 18:03.

In sixth and seventh place, respectively, were Robin Boyer and Dan Heydlauff. Dan, who has been running for only four weeks, came through with his best finish and his best time at 18:39.

Dave Frame was ninth, and Mark Heydlauff was 10th, with his best time of the season. Craig Coltre also had a best personal time in 12th place.

Brad Smith and John Schafer were 14th and 15th for Chelsea, runners with a 5-4 record for the season.

The win credits Chelsea a season. "So far so good," says coach Pat Clarke. The team still has two meets ahead of them. Today they host South Lyon, and next Tuesday they hope to overtake Michigan Center in their last race of the season.

SKYLAB CREW

Centennial Farm Owners Asked For Information

Secretary of State Richard Austin is asking all farmers living on farms which have been owned by the same family for at least 100 years to contact him.

Austin's office is in the process of putting together a listing of all "centennial farms" in the state, which are believed to number around 3,000.

All the farms will be listed in a directory which will include the name of the owners, the present address and the year each farm originally was purchased by the family.

Austin said the farm owners will be listed in the directory if they notify him by the end of the year.

Their new Gas water heater keeps ahead of the Joneses.

Even at bath time.

The Joneses will have plenty of hot water now that they've replaced their old water heater with a new efficient Gas water heater. They can take baths or showers whenever they choose. And the many other household hot water needs are taken care of, too. What's more, their new Gas water heater is most economical. (Gas heats water faster, at about one-third the cost of electricity.)

The Joneses were interested in suggestions to conserve hot water, too. Here are a few we recommended:

1. Fix leaky hot water faucets promptly.
2. Operate your washer with capacity loads only, or make use of its water-level control.

3. If you use a higher water-heater setting on washday, be sure to lower it when the washing is completed.
4. Use your dishwasher only when it is fully loaded.
5. Drain a pail of water from the water heater once a month to keep sediment from collecting in the tank.

When your water heater needs replacing, see the Gas water heaters on display at Gas appliance dealers, plumbers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms, and keep up with the Joneses.

Meanwhile, start making a habit of not wasting hot water in your home.

Char Powers Finds Greek Metro Area Like New York

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of letters from Chelsea resident Char Powers, who is currently touring Greece.

Thessaloniki is the "northern capital" of Greece—a big metropolitan city. It's so cosmopolitan that if you weren't sure of your location, you would think you were in New York.

There's a hundred and one things to do in Thessaloniki once you are there. The only problem is avoiding the traffic jams. Big cities in Greece are noted for their four major times for traffic.

Rush hours are 8 a.m. for people going to work, 1:30 p.m. for returning lunch crowds, 6 p.m. for some people returning to work, or for evening entertainment after afternoon naps, and the final jam occurs at 11 p.m. when the town empties out to the suburbs for sleep. White jacketed policemen whistle loudly and quickly wave their arms to guide traffic through intersections.

The buses also add to confusion. Since few village Greeks own cars, they rely on the bus system for transportation. Inter-city buses stop on every other block, so you don't wait more than a minute for the bus to stop. Inter-city riding is cheap, too, only 2½ drachms or about eight cents.

The big difference in riding is you get on in the back, get a ticket from a man in a booth, and walk up to stand in front where you get off. People are packed in like sardines once on board, and you can bring anything you can carry, ranging from a trunk to a live chicken.

Thessaloniki still has some ruins of World War II. The "wall" built around the prison hospital still stands. It came to life when it was shown to me by Edward Howell, a Scotsman who was an airplane pilot for England during the war. He was wounded and captured in Crete by the Germans, and shipped to the prison hospital in Thessaloniki. He has since written a book called "Escape to Live" which explains his internment there and his miraculous escape over this mammoth, glass-spiked wall.

Thessaloniki sponsors each September the International Fair where many countries, including the USA, exhibit national products and displays focusing on progress and living conditions. They were hard to understand, even the American exhibit, since it was all in Greek. I got a bigger surprise when asking the "American Information Girl" some questions. She didn't speak English!

The International Fair also has a space needle restaurant. An elevator, holding seven people, goes up four floors and lets you off in a revolving restaurant. It's a great way to see the entire fair from the air.

Shopping in Greece? It's a bargain place. There is the copper market, similar to our American antique markets, where items are brought in from the rural villages. It is really a lot of fun bargaining with the shopkeepers, even though I know I'm being "taken" because I'm an American.

You always end your exhausting day of sightseeing with gastronomy on the waterfront. Thessaloniki has miles of paved waterfront just for walking.

Looks like this will be the last letter home. I have just checked my calendar, and I only have a few more days now. It doesn't seem possible that I have been here for five months. I guess that means I've gone native, since nothing seems foreign to me now. It's been great seeing the other side of life, and it makes me really appreciate the States. (Like right now it is only 45 degrees outside and inside; Greek village homes have no heat.) I hope I can share my experiences with you all.

Kalispera, Char.

Airman David McGibney Completes Air Force Course on Radar

Seniors Given Copy of College Handbook

The "word" from Ann Lander is that students should use their campus days as "a training period for caring, serving, loving and relating to others in a way that will enrich the lives of those around you."

In order to spread that word, the St. Paul Department of Christian Education has presented 21 high school seniors with a copy of "Going to College Handbook," a collection of similar words of advice from a variety of widely-known public figures. 21 students composing the Handbook's college board and professors also add their reflections to the book.

Designed for students in and looking forward to college, the Handbook provides answers to many questions about preparation and making the most of a "once-in-a-lifetime opportunity." It provides specific information on entrance scores of colleges and hundreds of scholarships and fellowships for graduates and undergraduates.

In a series of NCOP (National Campus Opinion Poll) reports, the Handbook shows students opinion to be 50 percent "uncertain" as to the effect of co-ed dormitories on their campuses. On the extent to which parents should share in making a student's college choice, 84 percent say "some," 14 percent say "none." As to whether colleges in this country are "really educating their students," NCOP responses show: Yes, 38.8 percent; No, 28.6 percent; Uncertain, 32.6 percent.

Chairwoman for the St. Paul UCC Helen Lancaster, Department Educational Enterprise, believes, "The high school seniors will benefit from this publication."

SPONSORING HORSE SHOW

An Ann Arbor riding school has been invited by Greenfield Village in Dearborn to stage a horse show on the outdoor historical museum grounds Sunday, Oct. 22.

Majestic Farm will sponsor the all-jumping show from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Schools competing in the show in addition to Majestic Farm are Stoney Ridge Farm of Chelsea, Whitehall Farms of Birmingham and Haverhill Farm, Walled Lake.

College Night Set At Chelsea High

Chelsea High school is hosting an extensive College and Careers Night Monday Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. Those attending will have an opportunity to speak with representatives from more than 31 institutions. Not only colleges, but technical and nursing schools, and the armed services will be represented as career considerations.

Tom Butts of the University of Michigan Financial Aids office will also be there to explain the many ways of financing advanced training and education.

All students from Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Manchester, Milan, St. Thomas, and Whitmore Lake high schools, and their parents are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity.

For those who want a general orientation to thinking of the future, there will be a variety of qualified individuals in the library speaking on employment trends and training programs.

Staff members and representatives from the many institutions will be situated throughout the school, with some related programs located in cluster groups to conserve space. Maps of the various buildings and meeting rooms, and printed programs will be available to help direct participants to the points of their interest. Cheerleaders, members of the National Honor Society and some members of the Student Council will also be on hand to guide newcomers to Chelsea.

There will be three half-hour sessions to allow individuals to speak with more than one representative. The schedule allows 10 minutes passage time between each session.

The following are the institutions represented and their location: Adrian College, auditorium; Albion College, auditorium; Alexandra School of Cosmetology, room 219; Alma College, auditorium; Ann Arbor Practice Nurse Education Center, gym-west; Central Michigan University, room 26; Cleary (business) College, room 24.

DEN 13, PACK 435—

First of all, the boys saluted the flag. After that we played games, and planted some corn seeds in plastic egg cartons. We talked about the safety of crossing the street, and made some safety flares to use in case we get lost on field trips.

Some of Judge Sandy Elden's most courageous decisions have come back to his doorstep.

Recently, vandals defaced Judge Sandy Elden's home. The nature of the defacement—stenciled designs of the marijuana leaf painted on his house, sidewalks and driveway—is proof enough that this destruction of private property is in protest to Judge Elden's recent decision concerning Ann Arbor's marijuana ordinance. He declared the bizarre and highly permissive ordinance unconstitutional...because it was in direct conflict with state statutes.

His decision took courage.

Sandy Elden has been threatened before...and he knows full well the volatile nature of radical factions in our society. Yet he made his decision confidently...and he stands by it...even in the face of unreasonable pressure.

You can keep Judge Elden's brand of courage...and his ability to chart a strong course for justice...working for you. Join in supporting Judge Sandy Elden for Circuit Court.

Elect Judge Sandy Elden to the Circuit Court on November 7.

Judge Elden faces tough decisions...by making them. —

Glenna Sue Kraai, Kerry Kargel Wed Saturday at Methodist Church

Miss Glenna Sue Kraai and Kerry A. Kargel exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Oct. 7, in Chelsea United Methodist church. The Rev. Clive Dickins and the Rev. Francis Wahowiak performed the 3 p.m. ceremony. Mrs. Patrick McCrless, organist, and the Rev. Clive Dickins, soloist, provided appropriate music.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kraai of 787 Glazier Rd., Chelsea, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kargel of Willow Springs Mo.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soe fashioned with fine rosepoint lace on the bodice, mandarin collar and bishop sleeves. From an empire waist the skirt skirt accented by rosepoint lace appliques and velvet ribbon and bow trim, had a detachable chapel-length train of rosepoint on peau de soe. For her veil, the bride wore a double illusion in floor-length with rosepoint lace borders from a caplet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses accented with melon colored roses and baby's breath.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Greg Phillips as matron of honor; Misses Peggy Kraai and Becky Kraai, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids; Karsten Kargel as best man; Kenneth Kargel and Kent Kargel as ushers; all brothers of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore princess styled floor-length gowns in shades of melon, avocado, and yellow. The stand-up collars and short puffed sleeves were trimmed with lace daisy medallions. They wore matching caplet caps and carried lantern candle-holders, containing votive candles with fall colored flowers.

A reception for approximately 200 guests was held at Chelsea Rod and Gun Club where Mr. and Mrs. Tom Todgson presided as Master and Mistress of Ceremonies. Karlene and Konnie Kargel, sisters of the bridegroom, served punch, while Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reinhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mulder arranged gifts. Miss Judy Howard was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Earl Bigelow and Mrs. Jake Kraai, grandmothers of the bride cut the cake and poured coffee.

The newlyweds will make their home at 204 South St., Chelsea. The bride is employed by R. A. Steger, CPA, and the bridegroom by Washtenaw County Road Commission.

The honor attendant's headpiece was a picture hat. She held a nosegay of wild flowers, roses and baby's breath.

Appearing in similar bridesmaids ensembles were: Cherie Nagy, Mrs. Robert King and Madalyn Kolton, all of Lincoln Park; Mrs. Anthony Thibault, of Dearborn; Mrs. Lenard Marnino, of Detroit; and Suzanna Kozma, the bridegroom's sister. They carried arrangements of wild flowers and baby's breath.

Serving as flower girl and ring bearer were Christy Doecker of Three Oaks, and Robert Bryant of Farmington.

Patrick Keller of Lincoln Park, assisted as best man. Ushers were Dave Buerkle, also of Lincoln Park; James Frenseley of Taylor; Robert B. Lancaster of Mt. Pleasant; Kirk Fair of Southgate; Lenard Kozma, the bridegroom's brother; and Mr. Zorka.

Following the nuptials, the newlyweds were feted at a reception in the church social hall. They are residing in Detroit.

The bride is a junior at Eastern Michigan University. Her husband is a graduate of Central Michigan University.

Children Will Collect Funds For UNICEF

Halloween, the time for spooky and good spirits, is the time for the UNICEF Drive to raise funds for the United Nations' Children's Fund. This drive, sponsored yearly by the Church Women United, collects donations for the UN agency which is devoted solely to the welfare of children in developing countries.

Children of Chelsea are given the privilege of helping to make a better future for other children by going door-to-door with UNICEF canisters.

Those wishing to participate in the annual canvass for UNICEF on Oct. 29, from 2-3 p.m. may obtain the UNICEF canisters from the various Chelsea churches.

Following the canvass on Oct. 29, the canisters will be returned to the First United Methodist church basement Social Center. Treats prepared by Mrs. William Rooke will be waiting there for the collectors.

Area UNICEF chairman is Mrs. Ronald Borders. Mrs. Robert Riemenschneider is in charge of canister distribution. Mrs. Duane Landwehr and Mrs. Norman O'Connor will be on hand at the Methodist church to accept contributions brought in by the children.

Bloodmobile Reminds Us of Many Red Cross Services

Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles describing the functions and services to the Chelsea community by the member agencies of the Community Chest.

Tomorrow the big American Red Cross Bloodmobile parked across the street from the Congregational church, will remind area residents not only of the opportunity to give the gift of life, but of the Red Cross' continuing contribution to the community.

Last year 112 Chelsea residents turned out to give 93 pints of blood. While this is a substantial amount, it is sobering to realize that in 1971 alone, 188 pints were released to Chelsea residents in their hour of need. One individual required 24 pints. Another 20. Without the generosity of donors, these individuals would not have lived.

The contribution itself takes a short 10 minutes, but a visit to the clinic requires approximately an hour, since the donors must go through several stages. His temperature is taken as a method of determining the state of his health. Another stop is the Medical History Station where a registered nurse checks hemoglobin, measures blood pressure, and asks questions regarding the health of the donor. Refreshments await the volunteers after they have given.

Although the Red Cross needs and wants contributions, they cannot accept everyone's contribution. An affirmative answer to any of the following can disqualify a giver.

1. Given blood within the last eight weeks.
2. History of hepatitis, or jaundice, or close contact with someone who has the disease within the last six months.
3. History of malaria, or an immigrant from a country in the malaria area.
4. Pregnancy within the last six months.
5. History of heart attacks.
6. Any malignancy except minimal skin cancer.
7. History of fainting spells.
8. Prolonged bleeding from any source.
9. Teeth extractions within two days, or oral surgery within two weeks.
10. Any vaccination within two weeks.
11. Too many red blood cells.
12. Diabetic on medication.
13. Any antibiotics within two months.
14. An active cold.
15. Weight less than 110 pounds.
16. In Vietnam within the last three years.
17. Under 18 or over 65 years of age.
18. Injection of penicillin within a month.

The Bloodmobile workers ask that donors eat lightly of fatty foods before giving. Questions about the Blood Bank can be answered by the county Red Cross representative, Pauline McKenna, 971-5300, or Mrs. William Rademacher, Chelsea's 1972 Blood Bank chairman.

Although tomorrow is the only time local residents can give to the Blood Bank right here at home, they are encouraged to give to the bank at any other location throughout the year. The donation may be credited to the Chelsea community account. The Bloodmobile travels all over the county, but it can always be located with a call to the County Red Cross office, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

That office also provides other services to the Chelsea community. The Red Cross gives free demonstrations and talks at the high school, to future babysitters, and to any interested group, on safety first aid, and mother-baby care. Local residents may also take advantage of swimming lessons in Ann Arbor.

The Red Cross helped 36 Chelsea families during the year, as a part of their service to military families. For example, the Red Cross counseled families about health benefits to wives of servicemen overseas. They also arranged for emergency leave, and even for emergency travel money when a death or a family problem required it. The Red Cross can intervene when communications between families and military personnel break down to determine if everyone is safe and well. It is also a Red Cross job to notify military personnel of deaths in the family.

There is also a motor service operated by the county chapter of the Red Cross that has aided Chelsea residents. It has provided emergency transportation to hospitals and clinics. At times this has included taking Chelsea residents to doctor appointments in Ann Arbor.

Of course, Red Cross' long arm of assistance reaches far beyond Chelsea. With the help of a $900 gift from Chelsea's Community Chest, the American Red Cross brought relief to flood victims in Pennsylvania, South Dakota, and Florida last July.

When the United Fund neighborhood canvasser comes to your door this month, remember that the Red Cross is only one of 12 worthy member agencies supported in Chelsea by your donation to their cause.
