Chest Fund Officials Hope To Make Goal

The closing date for the Chest Fund United Fund campaign is rapidly approaching. The pledge tally edges slowly toward the top. The goal has not yet been reached.

Pat Whitesall and her husband, Capt. Whitesall, are reluctant to the book until the magic figure of $27,000 is reached. Citizens have pledged $25,858, out 96 percent of the goal.

Hoffmeyer, publicity man for the Community Chest, retains some hope that the goal will be met. "We can't see several contributions that haven't come in yet," Hoffmeyer says. The yearly Michigan Telephone Co.'s yearly contribution is one such dependable source.

limit, so that activity has understandably slackened. The commercial segment of the community offered their share, with $2,622 worth of pledges, as did the residential area with a contribution of $2,085.

Organizations pitched in $450 for their part. Even the rural area, which is notoriously difficult to solicit, has topped its goal. However, its share, a $533 gift, is only about one-fourth of the goal set in last year's campaign.

Of the three areas that haven't made their expected level of contribution, two are very near. Those solicited in the schools are just under their hoped-for tally. Industry is laboring toward their goal, a sizable chunk of the total collection. They are shooting for $18,497 and have already (Continued on page seven)

Thanksgiving Service Slated Wednesday

Chelsea's Community Thanksgiving Service, an ecumenical gathering that has been part of the holiday for years, will be held in the First United Methodist church on Park St., Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Clergy from almost every area church will join in leading the mixture of congregations in hymns, prayer, and scripture readings. A male choir comprised of members of a variety of churches will harmonize in the spirit of the event.

Members of the Kiwanis Club will usher and collect an offering which will go toward Key 73 scripture distribution and aid to the needy.

Participating congregations are: First United Methodist, St. Barnabas Episcopal, First Assembly of God, St. Mary Catholic, and Congregational.

The entire community is invited.

Dimes Fund Activities Will Start Friday

This is the first time I've ever done anything like this," says Audra Bongo, this year's chairman of the March of Dimes, but she knows the cause is a good one.

Through various means, the March will be collecting money for life-saving research in child diseases. Muscular dystrophy and birth defects have been the target of concern for many years, but Mrs. Bongo says that the funds are now being stretched to cover other areas of suffering. Veneral disease is now included in the attack.

Fact Finding Goes into One More Session

In the most recent fact finding session, the Chelsea School District presented its views on the salary situation, the remaining issue to be clarified for the benefit of the fact finder.

This Friday session followed the Nov. 7 meeting, in which the Chelsea Education Association (CEA) explained its stand on the question of salary. The CEA has requested yet another session so they may reply to the school board's presentation.

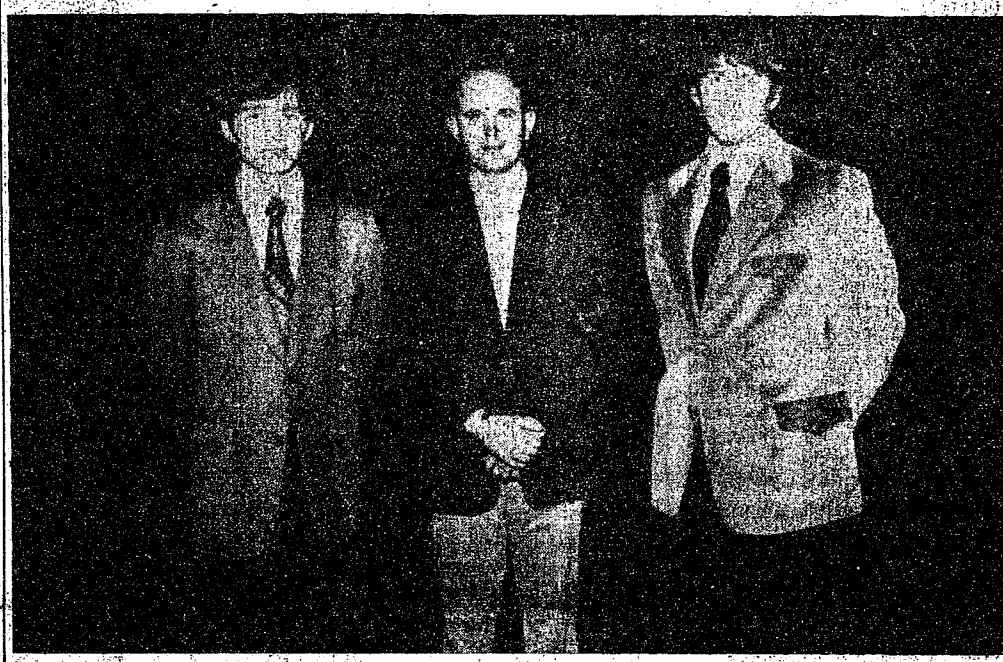

Charles Cameron, chief negotiator for the board said, yesterday, that he did not expect his side to ask for another session in response to the CEA's final words.

The two sides are agreed on one issue, at least. They both feel the fact finder, John Coyle, is doing an excellent job of exploring all the facts and figures thoroughly. Cameron says he "will reserve judgment on the fairness of the procedure, however, until after the decision is made."

What may be the last fact finding session will be the Wednesday before Thanksgiving at 9:30 a.m.

Special Awards Presented at Annual Fall Sports Banquet

It was the first snowy night of the season, but the warmth of good sportsmanship did much to ward off the cold at the annual Fall Sports Banquet Monday night.

Athletes from the 8th through 12th grades gathered in the cafeteria for a hearty meal before adjourning to the auditorium to be honored.

A great deal of interest was focused on the recipients of the football laurels. Bruce Guster was cited as the most valuable running back. Jeff Schmidt received his due as the most valuable lineman.

John Tandy was the most improved lineman, while Kevin Armstrong had a similar distinction as a back.

Dave Tucker and John Tandy, having been elected by their teammates, were acknowledged as next year's co-captains. At the same time, all-league team members were announced. All-league offense players are Jeff Schmidt, tackle; Dan Houle, guard. Second team members are Tim Lancaster, half-back and Dave Tucker, a junior tackle.

Members of the defense are, first team, Jeff Marshall, defensive back; Mike Merkel, linebacker, and Jeff Van Riper, end.

Jeff Marshall was the only varsity player to receive a third-year award. All other members of the varsity squad received either first or second-year awards with their varsity letter.

Three freshmen, Rex Miles, Dennis Bauer, and Randy Guenther were recipients of JV awards. Their sophomore teammates received the same.

Ron Kiel and Jack Hackworth were recognized as being second-year JV lettermen.

Members of the freshman team were given mementos for their effort this season. They are: Jim Boyer, Mark Burnett, John Collins, Mark Dalton, John Elliott, Bryce Flinn, Greg Guenther, Don Harmon, Nick Keiser, Kevin Kelly, Jim Marshall, Dave Murphy, Don Oesterle, Dave Pletcher, Eric Prinz, Andy Quackenbush, Tim Reed, Mark Ricklemann, Dave Schaible, Joel Sprague, Chris Steele, Dave Stoll, John Storey, Don Sullivan, Kelly Webb, and Doug Welshans.

Although lesser in number, the cross country team members were no less proud of the recognition they earned. They had run a long, hard road to come up fourth in the league, with a 8-5 standing.

Jim Storey was dubbed the most valuable runner, while Doug Schrotenboer was the most improved.

Varsity lettermen in track are: Jim Storey, Doug Schrotenboer, Jeff Sprague, Mark Heydlauff, and Craig Coltre, all juniors. A freshman, Dave Frame, also earned a varsity letter. Sophomore Robin Boyer was the only two-year award winner in cross country.

Junior Varsity lettermen in track were John Schaefer and Brad Smith.

It was not a totally masculine evening. The cheerleaders were given various awards for their long hours of activity and enthusiasm. As a rule the freshman cheer-

Band-O-Rama Slated Tonight At High School

Band-O-Rama is tonight, and the band will be playing, the majorettes twirling, the flags flying, and Neil Bollinger announcing.

Under the direction of Warren Mayer and Ronald Harris, the Chelsea High School Marching Band will go through its fall football repertoire. Student directors from the University of Michigan Ray McLaughlin and Mike French will also be on hand.

The flags will be surled by Heather Brooks, the head flag carrier, Debbie Clark, Ruth Freeman, Michelle Maistre, Kathy Reilly, Becky Tirth, Carol Warywoda, Margaret Lancaster and Jane Ewald.

The program will be a recap of the half-time highlights. The tunes include: "Confidence," "Shenandoah," "Sugar Blues," "Solid Soul," "Make Me Smile," "Marching Mountain Dew," "Tommy," "Get it on," and "St Spangled Banner."

It should be a hot time in the old gym at 7:30 tonight.

Bulldogs Down Manchester In Mud Bowl

The rain was persistent and pelting, and cleats would not hold. Nevertheless, displaying great spirit in these small conditions, the varsity Bulldogs slid through a field of mud to a 7-6 victory over neighboring Manchester's Flying Dutchmen.

This mud bowl marked the end of a successful varsity season, in which Chelsea won seven, and lost only two, to become third-place holders in the Southeastern Conference. Such a record is more than respectable for a club that lost 17 starters to graduation last spring.

In this final game, all the scoring took place in the first quarter while a playing field was still discernable. Manchester made the mark first with a short run. The kick for extra point was wide.

Much of Manchester's momentum in this effort came from a roughing the kicker penalty against Chelsea which put wind in the Flying Dutchmen's sails for 15 yards.

But the fickle winds of fate were soon blowing in Manchester's face. Chelsea's very long and perfectly executed punt return swept the blue and gold 85 yards.

Bruce Guster started the scoring squall by catching the punt. He pitched it off to Tim Lancaster, who cut left behind a trustworthy offensive blocking force. Lancaster was off to the goal line.

Sophomore Ishard Picklesimer booted the all-important extra point.

In the remaining three quarters, the teams had to forego good football for a game of slip and slide. At best they held their ground, and waited for the breaks.

It seemed that Manchester was going to be blessed with the break of the game. With six minutes left to play, the Dutchmen discovered the ball had slipped into their hands on Chelsea's 13 as a result of a Chelsea fumble.

Chelsea's day was saved by the perseverance of Jeff Schmidt and Dan Houle who forced losses for Manchester. Jeff Marshall also came through in the pinch adassion batting down a fourth down pass. Together they preserved the Chelsea lead.

When the whistle blew, two soggy teams muddled beyond recognition sloshed off the field. Such was the unflinching exit of 22 retiring Bulldogs.

Basketball Preview Set For Saturday

A bit of healthy in-fighting will initiate the basketball season this Saturday night. Basketball boosters will have the opportunity to watch Chelsea's three squads compete, starting at 6 p.m.

The freshmen cagers will be the first to scrimmage. The JV and varsity squads will follow. Varsity Coach Chuck Kelly explains that this event is needed to give players experience in front of an audience before they open their official season, Nov. 28.

Practice began last week for many of the basketball players, although the football players just joined the group this week. "We don't have much time to get ready," the coach says.

The scrimmage will not only offer valuable experience. If all goes well, the teams will bring in enough with entrance fees to buy film so that their season's development can be recorded.

New basketball rules will be explained at the scrimmage.

Waterloo Village Church Prepares For Centennial

Waterloo Village United church is in the planning stages of their centennial celebration, commemorating the founding of their church. The original church, as it stands today, was built with subscriptions from friends and neighbors of all faiths of the community—not just the members of the church.

On Sunday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. the Waterloo Village church will conduct a "Community Sing" to begin the celebration. The public is invited to share an evening of fellowship with special music and request singing.

On Dec. 10, 1872 the first subscriptions were taken for the building of the Village Church. For the re-enactment of this eventful day on Sunday, Dec. 10, Dr. Gorton Riethmiller will be the (Continued on page seven) has been more than two weeks since Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hartmann of Cavanaugh Lake Rd., have seen or heard from their daughter. They are going through the worst moments of their lives.

Their 13-year-old 8th grader was last seen by Alan Conklin, 1, as he was approaching school. He noticed the student walking away from the school, but did not become concerned until several of her schoolmates came to his office a few moments later. They stated that Elaine was upset about something (their stories have varied), and was going to run away.

Mrs. Hartmann cannot imagine what could have made her daughter leave. "If she has done something wrong, we want her home," she says. "We don't care what she has done, we want her home."

After this long period of absence, concern is growing. Foul play may be involved. Chief George Meranuck says, "Usually nowadays call their parents a few days after they have left. They don't always want to come home, but at least they make some contact. This is unusual. We have no word at all."

Mrs. Hartmann thinks it more unusual, since she says they are always able to talk to each other.

The police point out that anyone harboring the girl, or withholding information about her whereabouts is subject to prosecution, unless they reveal their knowledge at this time.

Elaine Hartmann is five feet, inches tall, with brown hair and blue eyes. "She has very pretty MISSING: Elaine Hartmann has been missing since Nov. 1. The police are beginning to suspect foul play, while her parents keep hoping for word of her whereabouts.

Novice Debaters Score Well

Chelsea High school novice debaters took part in another Saturday all-state tournament in Ypsilanti this week-end, and brought home a fourth-place team trophy.

In a field of teams representing schools, they were one of six teams to chalk up a 7-1 record, and their speaker points then determined their fourth-place finish.

Jim Storey and Jim Powers comprised the affirmative set, while Keith Cockerline and Dale Koch were negative speakers. Dale Koch's performance in the second negative speaker position earned a first-place speaker trophy.

A member of the other novice team from Chelsea, David Klemmer, also received an individual speaker trophy as a first negative speaker.

He won fourth place in that category.

His team also did a good job. If they had won one more round, they would have taken home the first-place team trophy because they racked up the greatest number of individual speaker points. However, their round was 6-2. Members of this team were Brian (Continued on page six)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I have ceased to be amazed at the wonders of science. Evertime I get the idea that everything that could be done has been thought of, someone comes along to show me they ain't no end to the marvels of this world. What came up at the country store Saturday night shore put the stopper in the jug of wonders, for this season at least.

Zeke Grubb told the fellers he had saw by the papers where they now got a drug to stop cussing. It's a fact, Mister Editor, Zeke had this clipping that showed where doctors have found people suffering the cussing disease, and they have come up with a drug to cure it. Zeke said the ailment is called cillies de la tourette, and that sounded to me like Zeke had caught it. He reported they is new cases popping up all over the country, and that shore ain't news.

General speaking, the fellers wasn't buying much of Zeke's report. Bug Hookum said cussing may be hereditary and it may replace baseball as the national past time, but it ain't no disease. If it was, Bug went on, ever mule skinner that ever come down the pike was borned with a cronic case of it and it is more common than the common cold.

But Zeke said they was a drug that was working to stop folks from cussing, and tests had showed that young girls that had to quit school because they couldn't stop cussing now was able to go back after treatment. This didn't satisfy the fellers. Clem Webster broke in to say he wasn't surprised that science had come up with a finding like that, cause they figured out a long time back that "licker drinkin'" was a disease. Clem said he is looking for somebody to come out and say taking poison is a disease to.

Actual, went on Clem, we can come up with big sounding excuses for anything we do, from robbing a bank to eating to much. The way the courts and the research scientists figure it today, said Clem, they ain't no good guys and bad guys, jest some that had happier childhoods than others.

Turning to other issues, Ed Doolittle said he final had saw a benefit from gitting old. He reported where old folks catch fewer colds than the younguns, and he said the reason was we have already run into most of the cold germs and worked up a defense agin em. Ed was of the mind that so many things speak to the mind when you git old we can use all the help we can get in the germ department. Ed said he would settle for a head cold ever now, and then if he could git his teeth back, but the report on colds did cause him to thank the Lord for small favors.

I wonder if the cussing disease is more likely to jump on young folks?

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

About Your Social Security

Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of the Social Security office in Ann Arbor, is reminding all people over 65 that an important deadline will fall on Dec. 31. That is the last day that persons enrolled for the voluntary Part B of Medicare or the Doctor Bill Insurance may file for reimbursement for expenses for 1971 and the last three months of 1970. He encourages all persons over 65 to review all their bills and explanations of Medicare benefits for 1971, and contact the Social Security office for claim forms and assistance with outstanding 1971 doctors' and other Part B charges still not reimbursed by Medicare.

Kehoe further stated that it is not wise to wait until the end of the year to submit 1972 charges—nor for that matter, to make a practice of "bunching" them and sending them on an annual basis. This creates too big a backlog with the Medicare carrier and causes delay in payment. He encourages seniors to submit claims once they have a total of 50 or more bills in the calendar year (this meeting the annual deductible), and then submit them as they occur from then on.

He further reminded those over 65 that if they do not have $50 in Part B expenses in any one calendar year, all expenses in the last three months of the year may be carried over toward the next year's deductible.

For further information or assistance, telephone or visit the district office in Ann Arbor, located in the City Center Building, 220 E. Huron St., Telephone 769-7100.

District Court Proceedings

George Gieski's pre-trial hearing was adjourned until Nov. 16. He is charged with driving under the influence of liquor.

David McKinney, Ann Arbor, pled guilty to having improper registration plates. The case was dismissed with $50 costs.

E. Spadefer, Spackbridge, pled guilty to driving with an oversized load. He was fined $21 and costs.

Promises, Promises

Politicians often lament the fact that most people don't really trust them very far.

Why, they ask, won't people listen to them more trustingly and put more stock in what they say? The answer is that past performance doesn't encourage that sort of reaction.

The most often cited examples are campaign promises, which are made and broken by the carload. Many politicians, instead of attempting to present their views on a series of issues to the electorate for an up or down vote, try to out-do each other in pandering to the current emotions of the crowd.

The hottest issue in this year's election was busing, a question which is in the federal courts, and will be decided there no matter what the politicians say and do. Left virtually unaddressed were such areas as the environment, which legislators have a great deal of control.

There are other reasons for this distrust.

Let's take a look at some promises made in 1971 by the Michigan Legislature and see what happened to them this year.

In 1971 the legislature raised the state income tax by 50 percent and put in a clause, a "promise," that the increase would expire Aug. 1, 1972, unless the legislature put on the November ballot a proposal for property tax relief.

The legislature did not put on the ballot any such proposal. It arrived there through the petition efforts of Gov. Milliken and the Michigan Education Association.

Does that mean the tax increase expired, since this was the promise your pay check will tell you. The legislature made? No, as lawmakers decided they could not cut any expenses, so they made the tax increase permanent.

Another promise the legislature made in 1971 was that payments to recipients of aid to dependent children (ADC) would rise to $2.72 this coming Jan. 1. But this year the legislature changed that, saying if the welfare caseload goes up, the payment goes down.

Whether you approve of what happened or not, the fact is the legislature did not live up to a defined policy.

An agreement more obscure to the average voter but just as vital was made in 1971 when the legislature drew up a plan to help cities who help themselves by basing revenue sharing payments partly on population and partly on local tax effort.

It was decided this year that the formula would be too expensive, and it was cut back with the result that cities expecting a hefty increase in state money did not get it.

In each case it can be argued that the legislature had to take the action to keep a balanced budget. That is true. But if that is the case, then why make all those promises in 1971? Surely they knew back then they couldn't roll back a tax increase while increasing spending.

These sorts of things are why politicians in general and the legislature in particular aren't looked upon with trust by the people of the state.

"Bottleneck Removed"

Michigan Highway officials are removing a bottleneck which annoyed many a traveler from points north and east of Lansing. A nine-mile section of Interstate 69 from Olivet to Charlotte is being opened, ending the necessity for more than 8,500 vehicles a day to travel a narrow, winding section of US-27 between those two points.

Brighton Man Arraigned in Traffic Death

A 30-year-old Brighton man was arraigned in Livingston county District Court Thursday in connection with the hit-and-run death of a Pinckney man Sunday, Nov. 5. Alan J. Bozyak, of 3000 Grover Rd., Brighton, stood mute to a charge of failing to stop to render aid to the injured at the scene of a personal injury accident. He demanded examination and was released on personal bond.

State Police detectives from the Brighton Post said Bozyak's arrest was based on evidence at the scene of the accident and also on a tip.

The victim was Michael J. Kramp, 29, of 147 Marion St., Pinckney, who was hitchhiking a ride home along Old US-23, two miles northeast of Brighton when he was struck by the car. He died instantly, officers said.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to thank Pastor Warner Siebert and Carlton's friends and neighbors who were so kind and comforting to us after his death. A very special thank-you goes to Drs. Charles Krause and B. C. Payne for the excellent care and thoughtfulness they showed Carlton for so many years and to those special friends and neighbors who were so helpful and kind to Carlton these past few years since his father's death. We know he appreciated all of you more than our words could ever say.
The family of Carlton Hailey.

THANK YOU!
Thank you so much for the cards, visits and flowers that I received while in the hospital and since I came home. A special thanks to the blood bank. All is gratefully appreciated.

Reckless Driving
Ticket Issued After Hitting Parked Car
A ticket for reckless driving is small reprimand compared to what Richard Pichea might have received. He was lucky to walk away in the condition he did. As he was driving south on N. Main St., at 11:25 the night of Nov. 8, Pichea slammed into a parked car which in turn hit a second parked vehicle. The impact completely demolished Pichea's car. The 19-year-old, of 1344 Sugar Leaf Lake Rd., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he remained several days. No bones were broken, but he required many stitches.

Planners Study Recent Area Growth

Don Pennington, senior planner on the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission, addressed the Chelsea Area Regional Planning Committee (CARPC) at the Nov. 2 meeting, giving a talk entitled "Dynamics of Growth and Development and Its Relationship to the Chelsea Region." In addition to the committee members, 16 area citizens were present. For their benefit, chairman Gorton Rietmiller explained that during the previous meetings, committee members had described planning activities and related problems in surrounding townships and the village. Pennington began his presentation with a description of the multi-scale approach to regional growth, using material from the Transportation and Land Use Study, comprised of research in Detroit, Washtenaw County and Chelsea. A Washtenaw county land use map and zoning maps were used as reference in the explanation of development in the townships.

Pennington mentioned the fact that all townships in the county have some type of zoning ordinance, and then proceed to elaborate the historical changes in land use. Utilizing township maps from Lyndon, Dexter, Sylvan and Lima, he outlined the areas which have incurred the greatest impact in these changing times. He illustrated his point with the following examples: highway interchanges, strip development of houses, and the resulting conflicts with agricultural land use, and lot sizes for single family homes in rural residential and agricultural areas. Pennington summarized the types of development that exist at present, emphasizing the phenomenal growth around interchanges and lakes. His talk ended with a slide show highlighting points of interest throughout the county. L. D. Guinan announced that there will be a planning meeting at Lyndon Township Hall, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m. All people are welcome to attend. The next CARPC meeting will be Dec. 7, 7:30 p.m. at Sylvan Township Hall.

Debaters . . .

Smith and Steve Bennett on the affirmative side, and Dave Klemmer and Gregg Haller on the negative side. In the ABC League, Chelsea is in second place in the varsity competition, vying with Jackson Parkside, whose 11-1 record has inched out Chelsea's 10-2. Parkside's one loss was to Chelsea. The rivals will meet again Dec. 5. The ABC JV's did much better at the second meet, following the first 0-4 fiasco, with a nice 4-0 turn-around. After Monday's meet the JV's are harboring a 5-7 record which places them in a four-way tie for third place. Today Chelsea High is hosting the high-powered WCTM debaters at home.

Club and Social Activities

MODERN MOTHERS

Modern Mothers' Child Study Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Peter Flinthoft with Mrs. Vernon Otto as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clara Noble, a social worker from Jackson, told the Spaulding story of adoption with a slide presentation.

Guests were Mrs. Kenneth Tillman, Mr. Charles Waller, Mrs. Thomas Katt, and Mrs. Michael Pheaney.

A Christmas party will be held at the next meeting, Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Dunlap.

CHILD STUDY CLUB

The Nov. 14 meeting was held at St. Paul United Church of Christ in the fellowship hall because of the many members and 36 guests present.

Mrs. Basil Greenleaf explained directions for an original Christmas decoration—tree-shaped and made of pine cones, seed pods, weeds, nuts, etc. Each tree is an individual creation and may be hung on a wall or door.

Club members were given tickets to sell for the Holiday Homes Christmas House Tour which will be held Dec. 17 from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Shirley Chapman, Mrs. Gail Finch and Mrs. Noelle Moore.

light in an impressive $17,830. Many questions surround the annual's disappointing showing this year. Only 50 percent of goal has come in.

William Hawks, whom Peter Hoff asked to cover the doc in the community, points out some contributions are still being. "A check for $100 just came my desk yesterday," he Tuesday.

though he noticed that he was only a response of about cent to his requests for contributions, he can offer no explanation. "Some people chose to give because they have own personal preference for their cause."

he says that others said they didn't afford to give. "Perhaps could have used strong arm tactics," says Hawks, but he believes that those who want to give and the others don't.

VFW Auxiliary Presents Flags

The VFW Auxiliary meeting was held Monday, Nov. 13, with nine members present.

The charter was draped in memory of Mary A. Burg, who died recently.

Wilma Parker was initiated into membership.

Americanism chairman Eulalee Packard reported American flags were presented to the kindergarten classrooms on Oct. 23. Eight flags were given to the North Elementary school, and one to Boy Scout troop 465.

Those attending the Sixth District meeting in Erie, Oct. 22 were Geraldine Klink, Mary Kniss, Eulalee Packard, and Fremont Boyer, all of whom represented the post. Reports were given by Mary Kniss and Eulalee Packard of the proceedings.

Two dollars was voted out for the New Year's Eve party at the National home. Ten dollars was voted out for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family of the area. Two dollars was voted out for Christmas Seals at the National home, which helps to maintain the home.

The following were appointed to organize the Nov. 27 social meeting: Lucy Platt, Jeanene White, Inez Bulson and Joan Platt. The social and business meeting will be combined on Dec. 11.

St. Paul

Sponsoring Study Courses

"Don't be a dum dum! Sign up!" suggest the publicity sheets. "For all youth! For all adults! You don't know everything yet!"

All this enthusiastic encouragement comes from the St. Paul Church of Christ Newsletter which is promoting their varied selection of four to eight week courses, which will be given at the church starting Sunday.

For a tuition fee of $1 per family, individuals may expand their understanding of Roman Catholicism, church music or the drug scene.

In the mini-course called "Understanding Roman Catholicism," Sister Anne Karen Heath, O.P., will not only share the meaning of her life as a nun, but bring a new perspective on the Church since Vatican II.

Sister Heath is currently Director of Religious Education at St. John Center, Ypsilanti. She has taught elementary, junior high, and adult classes in religious education, and received a Master of Science degree from Indiana University. She is a certified trainer in the Indiana Plan: Participation Training for Adult Education.

Choir members may be especially interested in the course on making singing, and appreciating church music taught by Miss Truoke Amelgh. She will be discussing hymns, the organ, and music in general.

The course entitled "Where are we in the drug scene?" taught by Matt Lampe, a drug counselor for the Washtenaw County Mental Clinic, will begin Sunday evening after the Christmas holidays. It will be directed at parents and the youth both. The billing urges, "Get involved in this one for your own good!"

Area Riders Earn Ribbons At Two Shows

Stoney Ridge Farm riders did very well competing at two shows in the Bloomfield Hills area. Four riders performing at Centaur Farms in West Bloomfield won two Intermediate Hunter classes and placed in two hunter classes. Joy Gillett on Talk About Take Off, placed in five Pony classes. Kim Alder on Bacardi won four first places in Equitation and placed in a Hunter class.

The following week-end, seven riders competed at Haverhill Farm in Walled Lake and accounted for 23 ribbons. Andrea Behrman placed on Chesapeake Bay in an Equitation class. Maggie Kaufman on Captain Kidd, placed in two classes. Joy Gillett on Talk About Take Off, received two ribbons. Michael Behrman, on Silent Majority, had two placings. Sue Gates consistently placed Evermore Ruler in seven classes, both Equitation and Hunter. Jerry Smith, on Way Ahead, won a blue ribbon in a Green Hunter class and placed in another. Kim Alder, on Bacardi, won four blue ribbons in Equitation and Hunter classes and placed in three others.

On Sunday, Nov. 12, Stoney Ridge Farm riders spent the day learning and observing at a clinic conducted by Miss Christine Jones, former United States Olympic team member. Miss Jones had an Intermediate and Advanced group, each riding once in the morning and once in the afternoon, schooling on the flat and over fences. By the end of the day, after strenuous endeavor, both horses and riders showed tremendous improvement.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 12 noon, Stoney Ridge Farm is hosting a Jump Team Competition, with both junior and adult teams competing from three through schools.

Free Diabetes Tests Offered At Hospital

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be available again this year at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, Nov. 13 through Nov. 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. as part of the search for the more than 10,000 "unknown" diabetics in Michigan during the observance of Diabetes Week.

Last year's mass screening program resulted in the discovery of 465 new diabetics, 222 potential diabetics, and 57 persons with "low blood sugar" of the 31,334 persons tested. Of the 336 persons tested last year at St. Joe's, two new diabetics were discovered, although there were no potential diabetics or persons with low blood sugar.

Persons wishing to participate in the hospital's program may report to the second-floor laboratory. In addition to this annual testing program, St. Joseph Hospital also conducts weekly class sessions for diabetics. The program, co-ordinated by Patient Care Instructor Melba VanWagoner, consists of hour-long classes Monday through Friday. Both inpatients and outpatients may attend the 1:30 p.m. presentations.

March of Dimes ...

The first money-raising activity will be tomorrow, when Pat Guenther, a plastics dealer, and her assistant set up a display in the Senior Citizen's Korner House.

During the afternoon, from 2 until 9 last night, interested individuals may see the display. If they wish to buy, they will be helping a worthy cause. The March of Dimes receives all proceeds over $100.

Mrs. Bongo says that a peanut sale and a walkathon, perhaps pitting Chelsea against those proven walkers from Dexter, are yet to come. The drive will also be enlisting the help of area Boy Scouts in this worthy cause.

DEATHS

Mrs. Benjamin Bradley
Dies at Chelsea Hospital
Following Extended Illness

Mrs. Benjamin (Lillian) Bradley of 10501 Hadley Rd. Gregory, died Nov. 11, at the Chelsea Community Hospital, after an extended illness.

She was born Dec. 11, 1893, in Ypsilanti. Her parents were Herbert and Ida Sherman Day. A graduate of Ypsilanti High School and Eastern Michigan University School of Music, Mrs. Bradley taught music in the Ypsilanti area for 23 years. She married in 1914. Her husband preceded her in death in 1957.

She was a member of St. Luke's. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Sherman of Kent Wash., and Mrs. Winifred Wyatt of Gregory; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Martha Jackson of Ypsilanti.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m., at St. Luke's Episcopal church with the Rev. Sidney Rood officiating. Burial followed in Highland Cemetery, Ypsilanti. Arrangements were by Staffan Funeral Home.

Smoke Watchers Graduating First Michigan Class

Smoke Watchers, an organization training people to be permanent non-smokers, would like to have you share in their joy of success. It is graduation time for a number of their members and you are invited.

This is the first graduation in the state of Michigan and it is to be honored by the presence of Nickolas Costa, Smoke Watchers International co-founder and president. Costa will be here from the home office in New York City to give the graduation address and present each graduate with his graduation pin. He will also answer any question anyone may have regarding the organization.

Many people have kicked the smoking habit by just stopping. However, for a great many more the Smoke Watchers method is an answer to repeated failures. The combined effort of "group dynamics" gives them the needed lift and incentive. No method of quitting smoking is easy, yet no method is easier than Smoke Watchers.

Three groups are being conducted in the Ann Arbor area and each group welcomes persons who have the need and will to try. Each group offers fun, friendship, sincere understanding and the guarantee needed to reach victory. The graduation exercises are scheduled Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. in the Ann Arbor YM-YWCA. "You can't afford to smoke, but you can afford to quit." Phone Smoke Watchers, 761-5606, for further information.

Trip Down Colorado River To Be Seen in Travel Film

Looking for something to do Saturday night? Why not trace the Colorado River from its source, a bubbling geyser on the Continental Divide? On the way, pass Colorado's mining towns and patterned farmlands guarded by picturesque formations.

That need not satisfy you. Continue through Utah, where the waterway forms spectacular gorges and arches, and fills the oarsman's dream, Lake Powell. From there, take to the air and follow the pontoon rafts from above the immense Grand Canyon.

For a change of pace, descend on horseback into the idyllic paradise of the Havasu tribe. Before coming home, visit the jet-set oasis resort, Lake Havasu City, Ariz., home of the London Bridge.

That should be enough to keep you occupied for one lazy Saturday night. You can do it all by attending the second program of this year's Kiwanis Club Travel and Adventure Series. The trip entitled "Rio Colorado," begins at 8 p.m. at Chelsea High School auditorium.

The guide on this sojourn will be Robert Brouwer, a resident of Grand Rapids, who has been in the electrical contracting business for several years. Many years ago, he embarked on the hobby of photography, with which he entertained family and friends. After his slides had won acclaim in national contests, encouragement from friends and experts prompted him to produce a finished slide program. His first such production em-played one screen and one projector but he soon advanced to two screens and two projectors. Now, he has developed a revolutionary and unique presentation in which he uses three screens and four projectors. He also incorporated hi-fidelity stereophonic equipment for music and sound effects recorded on the spot. These varied effects are woven together with Brouwer's electrical training and experience.

Brouwer has been commissioned by interested groups and the national tourist agency of Holland to produce a similar travelogue on the Netherlands, which is an unprecedented arrangement in the travelogue field.

Girl Scout Troop Visiting Methodist Home Residents

Members of Girl Scout Cadette Troop 98 have volunteered to make visits to the Methodist Home, calling on some of the residents who normally have few visitors. "It all started out as a service project," says Mrs. Poquette, troop leader. "We soon discovered, however, that it was an experience of love."

The project was set up on Ded-nedays immediately after school. Five or six girls arrived to make acquaintances with their appointed new friends. "The girls were so worried about what they could talk about that first day. No one had expected such instant friendships!" said Mrs. Poquette. "One girl told me that it was just like talking to my own grandmother."

The scouts and the residents are sharing their experiences, needlework and other craft know-how. Letters are sent back and forth. Some scouts are baking cookies to take along for treats, and others are making plans to have their new friend come to their house for the holidays.

Residents of the Home have challenged the scouts to a game of shuffle-board. The event is to be held Wednesday, Nov. 15, after

"The Place To Go for Brands You Know"

SAFE TOYS FOR TOTS: These considerate Junior Achievers are concerned about their product quality, as well as its ability to "sell." They chose to market unpainted pine blocks which are relatively chewable since they have no toxic paint on them. Proudly displaying their finished and packaged project, from left, are: Tom Hinz, Mark Seyfried, Ann Kalishek, Louis Risner, Alice Juergens, Pat Leonard, Lois Lovely, Debbie Riethmiller, Lynn Olson, Al Parker, Cindy Miller, Teri Lutovski, Tom Krajewski, advisor and Labor Relations Supervisor at Chrysler Proving Grounds, and Matt Stapish, president. Leonard Nawrocki, advisor and Chrysler Proving Grounds Personnel Manager, stands on the far left. Other members of the group not present for the photo include Cheryl French, Curt Umstead and Kit Green.

Two Junior Achievement Groups Getting into Production

Just in time to capitalize on the Christmas market, two groups of ambitious Chelsea high schoolers have jumped into the business world. They are this year's crop of Junior Achievement participants, sponsored by the Power of alabaster table lighters. The other group decided to cash in on the toy trade by making simple geometric shapes of white pine. They chose not to paint the blocks because of the hazard to tots who like to take as well as touch their playthings. The first order of business for these entrepreneurs is to raise capital for their enterprise by selling stock. The shares go at the reasonable price of about $1. Members of the budding corporations are limited to one share for themselves. This keeps them from temptation. The Junior Achievement program does not intentionally encourage big time wheeling and dealing, or trust building. Advisor Tom Krajewski, who with Len Nawrocki advises the Chrysler group, explains, "The program is not meant to make kids rich. It teaches them the functions of capital and stock in the business world. They get experience in running the company, in keeping the books, in producing and distributing their product." The sponsor companies do not give money, but valuable time and experienced advice to the beginners. The youths decide themselves what price they will charge. The Chrysler group made a comparative study of children's blocks before deciding on their $2.75 tag. They will not be undersold.

Equipment Division of the Dana Corp. and Chrysler Corp. at the Chelsea Proving Grounds. Dana Corp. advisors Margaret Tobin, Levi Ludtke, and Jack Barnes, are leading 15 young industrialists in the manufacturing

The finished product will be marketed in local shops or at street fairs as the holiday time comes closer.

After Christmas, the groups will have the option of starting production of a completely different item, or staying with their original line.

Partners in the production of alabaster table lighters are: Beth Tobin, Doug Egeier, John Phinny, Richard Clark, Karen Tobin, Mark Stapish, Bob Herrst, Nelson Bollinger, Brenda Shadoan, Lou Ann Hankerd, Brenda Lovely, George Shirilla, Mike Kaminski, Dave Frame, and Joel Bower.

Runaway Girl Giving Police, Parents Fits

Police Chief George Meranuck shakes his head and says, "I just don't understand it. We have more trouble with the girls than the boys around here."

His exasperation was triggered by another in a long list of reported runaways. This latest has extraordinary events connected with it.

The first complaint on this 14-year-old girl came into the police station Friday evening. The complainant explained that her daughter had apparently run away, taking the family automobile.

With the aid of Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, the missing car and missing girl were tracked down in Ypsilanti. At the time of the arrest, a 13-year-old girl was driving the stolen vehicle.

The next day, the child seems to have been nipped by the traveling bug again. Her mother discovered that she was gone when an employee of Chelsea Drug Store called on a hunch. The drug store had cashed a check on the woman's account a few moments earlier, when it was brought in by a young girl.

Their suspicion was aroused when a young boy brought a similar check in to be cashed a few moments later. They refused to cash the check, and immediately called the woman.

The woman then discovered that both her daughter and a book of 25 checks had disappeared. The police were notified.

About this same time, a young girl was hitch-hiking on Old US-12. She was picked up by an area resident who has said he was on his way home. When the man stopped the car to relieve himself a short time later, the child slipped behind the wheel and took off.

The man identified a photograph of the missing 14-year-old as the child who had stolen his car. The car, a 1966 Buick LeSabre has since been recovered, but the child is still at large.

Police investigation has uncovered several facts. Three young teen-agers, two of whom tried to cash the forged checks at the drug store, have stated that the missing girl asked them to cash checks for her, and proceeded to write out the checks to them. They tried without success to have one cashed at the Pump & Pantry.

One of the juveniles refused to try to cash the check, and crumpled hers up and threw it away. 15 of the checks were discovered on an Ypsilanti street, leaving seven unaccounted for.

When found, the girl will face charges of running away, car theft, and falsifying and uttering. That's a handful to come home to.

Three Area Students In Largest Class At Kalamazoo College

Three area students are part of the freshmen class at Kalamazoo College, made up of more than 400 students from 25 states and eight foreign countries. This is the largest class in the school's 139-year history.

Karen Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Schafer of 1575 Pierce Rd., is the only girl in the local group. The boys are Michael Hergert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hergert of 4998 South Lake Rd., Grass Lake, and Michael Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomson of Three Mile Rd., Grose Pointe (former Chelsea residents).

As freshmen, these young people will be completely "on campus," beginning their individualized and independent study programs which will constitute an entire quarter of "off-campus" work by their senior year.

In their sophomore year, they will participate in the first off-campus program, Career-Service.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

FIRST GRADE—
Room 4
Teacher: Miss De Vries
Reporters: Pam Stephens and Tammy Sabo

Miss De Vries' first grade has learned to add. Before Halloween they carved six pumpkins and counted 2,354 seeds. In gym they did chin-ups. Their teacher let them run 10 meters. November birthdays are: Susie Oesterle, Devin Feldkamp, and Miss De Vries.

Room 1
Teacher: Mrs. Schiller
Reporters: Dawn Fowler and Gloria Pearson

Mrs. Schiller's first grade students have been working very hard on their reading work. They've also been working with missing addends. They had cookies and cider for the parents at Open House. They have been experimenting with several foods that are good. They voted on Nov. 7th and Nixon won. They have a fruit calendar and are going to make Indian and Pilgrim Hats. November birthdays are: Greg Markle and Mary Heilner.

Room 3
Teacher: Mrs. Thodeson
Reporters: Teresa Hoffman and Cathy Roy

Mrs. Thodeson's students have decorated their Science table with pumpkins, gourds, and squash. They have made lions with their footprints which turned out rather well.

Mrs. Beaudin has been around with Duso and the puppets, which the children have really enjoyed. They learn how to read and many other things from Duso.

They had a spell-down, and there was a tie, because they ran out of words. The score was 4 to 4.

Mr. Wehrwein has been keeping them busy with tumbling on the mats, stepping on a board and catching the bean bag.

Craig Blough brought chocolate chip cookies on his birthday. Edward Esch has a birthday on Nov. 22.

Room 2
Teacher: Mrs. Thornton
Reporters: Carol Watson and Tami MacDonald

Mrs. Thornton's room has been very busy. Mr. Wehrwein has been helping them too. They have been running, doing sit-ups, and bent arm hang. The winners for running are Chris Dean and Craig Leach. Kevi Wahr did 10 pushups. For the farthest in ball throwing and bent arm hang, Ricky Boham and Tanya Matloff won.

On their Own Thing in art, they made an oak leaf man and wrote a poem. Mrs. Thornton's class also made some scribble drawings, painted shapes and a turkey patch. Mrs. Wahl made some puff pictures with them. They stick paper towels in them to make them stick out.

This first grade room has been learning new words. They used animals and put Z in front of them. In other words they had a fun Z day.

In math they have been learning subtraction and addition. It is a lot of fun to them.

Mrs. Thornton and children would like to thank the room mothers for helping and letting them have a very fun day.

SECOND GRADE—
Room 8
Teacher: Miss Danborn
Reporters: Sarah Habelschwardt and Denise Geddes

Miss Danborn's room has had four fall birthdays: Kim Allen, Lynette Mepans, Steven Cattell, and Kristin Thomas. The children are getting excited about Thanksgiving.

They are athletes when it comes to tug-of-war. They have won five game out of even, and are proud of it.

They plan to have more fun during the year.

Room 5
Teacher: Mrs. Lopez
Reporters: David Dyson and Carmen Scriber

Mrs. Lopez's room did some stained glass type, crayon pictures in art. They cut yellow, orange and green leaves out of construction paper to decorate the room. They enjoy the Reading Center and have added a Math Center.

They wrote stories about their pet's special tricks. They are trying to make Indian corn seeds grow, which is Todd Anderson's project. They have a new game called Small and Tell, which is lots of fun.

John Greene, Cammie Coppernoll and Stanley Guigas had October birthdays. Mrs. Coppernoll and Mrs. Carpenter, the room mothers, planned a nice treat for these children at Halloween. The candies apples with faces were a special treat.

Room 10
Teacher: Miss Smolenski
Reporters: Dan McGill and Mike Wood

The class walked to the McKune Library for the first time. November birthdays are: Mike Stahl, Dave Weber, and Shawn Ball. They find going to basketball interesting. They all like going on trips with their families.

FOURTH GRADE—
Room 16
Teacher: Mrs. Meadows
Reporters: Paul Anderson, Patty Schaefer, Billy Salyer, Beth Bush, and Lori Davis

In our fourth grade class we have 29 children. We are anxious to welcome a new student, Glen Miller, to arrive. We have talked about showing him around our one wants to help him. Welcome school and our classroom. Every-

FIFTH GRADE—
Room 22
Teacher: Mr. Bullock
Reporter: Howard Flintoft

We are studying planets and the solar system. Paul Hoffmeyer has donated his guinea pig, Geraldine to our class. Different people take her home each week-end. Our trip to The Chelsea Standard was very interesting and fun.

Room 24
Teacher: Mrs. Najice
Pat Marzec and Dan Peterson demonstrated Newton's law of action and reaction for us with a straw, some string and a balloon.

Of course, we had a mock election on Nov. 7. We stood in line nearly as long as our parents did, while our classmates carefully marked their ballots in the privacy of a voting booth.

Our literary interest right now is in the story of Miguel. We can easily identify with him, because he is in such a hurry to grow up, too.

HELPING TEACHER—
Teacher: Mrs. Beaudin
Reporter: Sabrina Woodward

If the parents of children are wondering who Duso is, he is the puppet, Dolphin, who comes to visit them once a week. He has many friends such as Lefty, the Octopus; Soupy Turtle; Spike the Swordfish; and Clarissa Clam. The group is called the under water problem solvers. They are concerned with developing understanding of self and others.

Volunteers are needed to help with the tutoring program.

ART—
Teacher: Mrs. Wahl
Reporters: Gloria Pearson and Dawn Fowler

Fourth graders made clay figures and painted them. Second and third grades made puff pictures. Some second graders made tissue collages. Fifth graders made faces over milk bottles.

Note to parents: Have your child bring these items: boxes, paper rollers, aluminum pie tins, popsize sticks, cottage cheese, cartons, plastic milk containers, frozen juice cans, odd bits of yarn, and small scraps of bright material and broken pottery to use for mosaic.

NASA Publishes Booklet on Apollo Moon Mission

A chapter in history comes to a close Dec. 7 with the blastoff of Apollo 17.

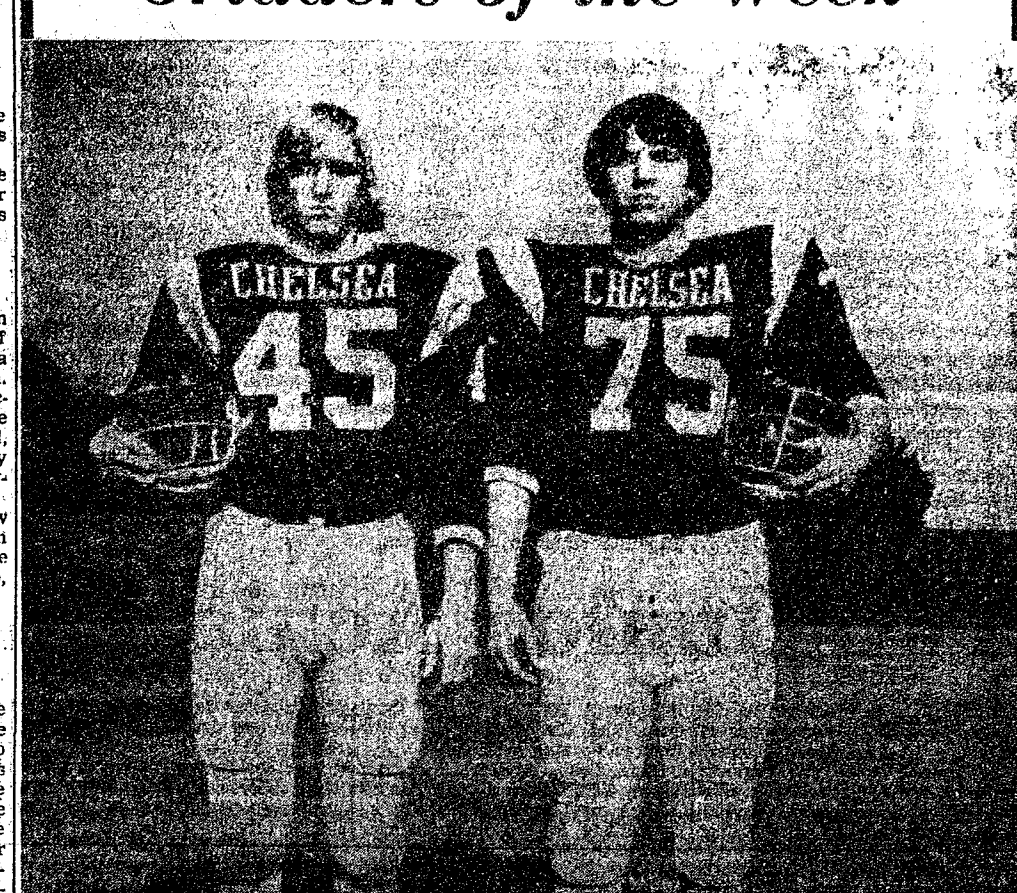

NASA has published a fully illustrated 100-page booklet on this last Apollo mission, titled "On the Moon With Apollo 17." It's designed as a guide for the television viewer and follows the mission from takeoff to splashdown. It will also make an excellent memento off his occasion.

The book is on sale by the U.S. Government Printing Office and may be ordered by sending a check or money order for $1 to the Superintendent of Documents, Box 1821, Washington, D. C. 20013. Checks for money orders should be made payable to the Superintendent of Documents.

Orders received by Nov. 30 will be mailed before the launch.

Because of efficiencies in farm operation, Michigan's vast crop production is achieved on the smallest number of acres since 1880.

Gridders of the Week

BOB ELLIOTT (45) has had his share of bad luck when it comes to football injuries, but that hasn't blunted his taste for the game. Last year it was a hip pointer injury that benched him. This season, he started with a broken wrist, and played anyway, until a shoulder injury put him out for good. Bob, a senior, has begun to think about the future. One thing he knows for sure is that it will be "strange" having all his friends going their separate ways after graduation. His own way is a little less certain. He is thinking about going to technical school to learn the ins and outs of refrigerators, or he may take to the road as a truck driver. He already has experience in the latter, having driven a milk pick up route for his father on week-ends. You can often find him around a pool table, chalk and cue in hand.

BILL HARRISON (75) watched his senior year football season close just as he was getting off crutches. A case of torn ligaments severely cramped his style for much of the season. He hopes he will be completely healed by spring, when he may try his hand at field events. He's also got his eyes and ears out for a job, and if he finds one, the track may be by-passed. Another track interest will remain however. Although not a racer himself, Bill is drawn to the excitement of car racing. He made the trip to the Indianapolis 500 this past summer. Bill's post-graduation plans include working for a year before he furthers his education.

Heidi Sprague Featured in EMU Student Recital

Heidi Sprague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sprague of Clear Lake Rd., will be star in a joint student recital this week-end.

The free concert will be held in Pease Auditorium on the Eastern Michigan University campus in Ypsilanti, at 8 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 19.

Heidi on flute, and William Sneddon of Ypsilanti, on bassoon, will play works by Hindemith, Toulenc, Tifton, Varese, and Vivaldi. A special number on the concert program will be a trio-sonata by Loclell featuring the harpsichord, oboe, flute and bassoon.

Heidi, a third-year music and French major is also a member of the EMU Band and Orchestra.

The average adult requires two pounds of oxygen per day. One acre producing 100 bushels of corn creates sufficient oxygen for 12 people per year. This comes from the industry called Agriculture. Can any other industry make such claims for cleansing the environment?

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON REVISED ZONING PLAN AND ORDINANCE

Notice is hereby given that there shall be a public meeting held by the Lyndon Township Planning Commission on December 7, 1972, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the Lyndon Township Hall on North Territorial Road east of Highway M-52 in Lyndon Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, for the purpose of hearing all persons interested in the revised official district zoning map, plan and ordinance. A copy of the zoning ordinance, map and plan is available for inspection at the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission Office, Room 306, Washtenaw County Building, Main and Huron Streets, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and at the home of Duane Noah, Lyndon Township Planning Commission Co-chairman, 8825 Werkner Road, R.F.D. Chelsea, Michigan, and at the home of Doris Fuhrmann, 5005 Roepke Road, R.F.D. Chelsea, Michigan, by appointment.

Family of Five Children Evicted From Apartment

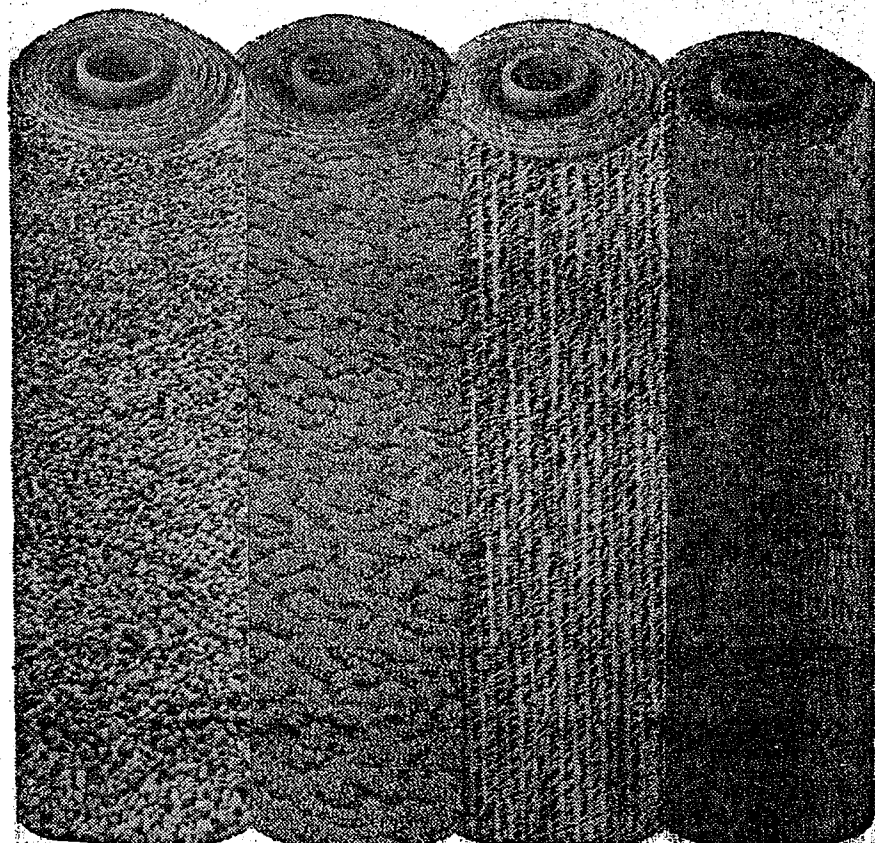

A family which lives on Aid to Dependent Children was evicted from their Chelsea apartment Friday. The mother and her five children were forced to leave because the landlord had other plans for the building.

The Social Services Department of the Washtenaw County Council of Churches has taken up the cause, and is looking for new housing for the family, according to the director of social services for the Council of Churches. The alternative, if housing isn't found, is for the children to be placed under foster care.

Twenty-seven percent of Michigan's citizens derive some part of their income from agriculture.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING CONDITIONS kept wise drivers at home, and forced others into slippery situations Tuesday and Wednesday. The first snowfall of the season quickly blotted out the memory of a mild fall when we awoke Tuesday and found our cars nearly buried under a three-inch blanket of wet snow.

Pinckney Village Without Anyone On Police Force

In a police department of two, a couple of resignations can leave a community defenseless. That is what happened in Pinckney last week.

After asking for his one patrolman's resignation, the chief, himself, Richard W. Benedict turned in his own resignation on Thursday. Benedict, 33, who has been with the department since July 1971, is the fifth department head in three years.

The single full-time officer, Robert Hood, who had been with the force since February of this year, was given the ultimatum, resign or be fired, because of allegedly unsatisfactory work.

While the village is looking for a new police department, the Livingston County Sheriff's Department is keeping their eye on the village.

Chelsea Hospital Accredited By National Joint Commission

Chelsea Community Hospital has recently been awarded a two-year accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

The accreditation is the result of a survey conducted last August. The Joint Commission sent a physician, thoroughly trained in all phases of hospital work, to evaluate Chelsea's facilities, staff, and administration. The investigator judged that Chelsea is well-built, well-staffed, and well-run according to Commission standards.

Nevertheless, a set of recommendations to further improve patient care at the hospital came with notification of accreditation.

The honor is given on the condition that the hospital conduct an interim survey of its own in a year, to insure that the hospital maintains its high level of service.

Accreditation is voluntary. The hospital administration requested that the commission survey its facilities so that it might be considered for accreditation. The value of the certificate is to guarantee patients quality service, as well as to assure the staff that their facilities and organization are providing the best possible health care.

The accreditation program began in 1918 when the American College of Surgeons first began formulating standards for hospitals. It became increasingly apparent that one medical organization alone could not handle the expanding program, nor provide the necessary administrative staff. As a result, the surgeons joined with the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, and the American Hospital Association to form the JCAH in 1952.

St. Louis School Notes

Last Thursday, Mrs. Judy Fryback and B. J. Ludwig, chief engineer at Chrysler Proving Grounds, welcomed the entire school to the Proving Grounds. Mr. Silkock was the guide who took the delighted boys to see roads and ovals where cars are tested. They even got to see some cars being checked for performance. Back in the heavy equipment area they saw Bill Robbins, a heavy duty mechanic and old friend of the boys.

Mr. Harball came back at the school with the boys to show a film on safety devices and the crash program. The boys recognized Bob Robbins in the film.

Birthday boys this week are: Paul Gradowski of Bay City, and Kevin Ross of Detroit.

St. Louis School albums have now arrived, and are on sale to help gather funds for a badly needed bus.

Saturday, the boys will attend the ice show in Detroit.

This week they played in the snow and rode with Father Germano on the snowmobile.
