Winter Concert Slated Sunday By CHS Choirs

The Choirs of Chelsea High School will present a winter concert Sunday, Dec. 10 at 4 p.m., in the High School auditorium. The Girls Glee Club will open the program with a mixture of the new and traditional selections, including "Rainy Days and Mondays" and "Jingle Bell Rock."

The concert is open to the public with no admission charge and director, DiAnn L'Roy invited everyone to the program to spend an enjoyable hour with new and old music.

Bloodmobile Sign-Up Drive Going Well

The Jaycee Bloodmobile sign-up drive is going "pretty well," according to my optimistic goals," said Norman Colby, "and very well by other standards."

These were the reflections of the blood drive chairman, as he viewed the 106 names that had been placed on posters around town the last two weeks. Several Jaycees were out Saturday, personally campaigning to add more names to the lists. As Colby, David Rowe, and Neil Ernst canvassed Main St., they collected the signatures of 40 more individuals who are willing to devote a little of their time and blood to the cause, Saturday, Dec. 7.

All those who have signed up to come to the Red Cross Bloodmobile, which will be parked in front of the Fair Grounds Service Building, will be donating their pint by appointment. This will eliminate waiting lines. The Jaycees have arranged for (Continued on page eight)

Congregational Church Finds Burglary

The Congregational church of Chelsea was victimized by an apparently persistent burglar last week. Chief George Meranuck received a complaint Saturday morning that the church had been broken into. At the scene, the investigation revealed that the culprit had gained entrance to the church building by breaking a window, and pressing down on the crash bar. Marks, apparently from a screwdriver, were found on the door of the church office. The attempt to break into that area had failed, however. Nothing was reported missing from the building. The next day, however, someone was more successful. Patrolman (Continued on page six)

Christmas Club Payments Hit Total of $92,230

Chelsea State Bank has its finger on the pulse of the Christmas spirit, since the lifeblood of giving is stored behind its walls. The diagnosis, based on the accounts of the Christmas Club members, is that Christmas is alive and well. The 452 participants in the giving program have saved a total of $92,230 to spend on Christmas.

REV. FR. FRANCIS WAHOWIAK

Rev. Fr. Wahowiak Leaves St. Mary's

After a five year association with Rev. Fr. Francis B. Wahowiak said goodbye to the flock at St. Mary's Catholic church in Chelsea. He left Tuesday to become pastor of St. Mary's Parish in Charlotte.

Chelsea gathered Sunday, Dec. 3, to wish him success in his new position. The farewell reception was held at St. Mary's School Hall. The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis is St. Mary's new pastor, coming to Chelsea from St. Joseph's parish in Gaines. He took over his duties yesterday (Wednesday).

INSTANT HEIGHT: Marvin Guster adds several inches to his 5'11" with a perfect jump shot. While his Dexter opponent is stretched out, Marvin has extension to spare. Dexter had some similar tricks of its own; however, Although Dexter men were shorter than Chelsea's cagers, they managed to take the victory home. Bruce Guster and Ron Kiel (center) are busy with the back-up work.

Six Chelsea Homes Included On 'Holiday Homes' Tour

Getting ready for Christmas can be an exhausting and mind-boggling experience, or so it seems to the six area hostesses who are having to ready their homes for an especially early holiday deadline, Dec. 17.

It is on that Sunday, between 6 and 9 p.m., that participants in the "Holiday Homes" tour will be able to admire the handiwork. At this time, designated areas of each of the six homes will be on view, featuring highly individual and unique expressions of Christmas.

Chelsea Child Study Club is sponsoring this event and the proceeds will benefit the Chelsea Recreation Council. Ticket brochures are available at the Chelsea Hardware Store or from any club member.

Hospitality torches will light the way, and bid you welcome to each of these homes. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Daniels will have additional lighting at the entrance to their contemporary home at 665 Washington St., plus an unusual door decoration fashioned of evergreens and old kitchen utensils of wood and tin. Rough-sawn cedar covers the exterior of this multi-level residence of post-and-beam construction. Inside, the emphasis is on comfort amidst a thoughtful collection of heirlooms and antiques.

A myriad of Christmas delights will be shown: a framed saddle cover from Jerusalem, a hand made crewel advent calendar, a pine cone kissing ball, a large pine cone and nut wreath built on an antique picture frame, and a number of hand-crafted Christmas arrangements. The eight-foot tree is covered with clear Italian lights and numerous hand-made ornaments. Many arrangements of pinecones, nuts, and other natural materials bear witness to Mrs. Daniels' particular pleasure and talent.

Christmas traditions are expressed in many unique ways. Gilded boots, once belonging to the younger Danielises, Jeff, Jodi and John, replace stockings and Santa has long ago learned to place his treasures in the antique infant's cradle. Dr. and Mrs. Gene T. Miller are enjoying their second Christmas at 422 Madison St. Mrs. Miller's vast collection of American Primitives lends a warm, cozy background for the many nostalgic Christmas displays in this older home.

The foyer area is highlighted by a paper mache nativity scene atop a New England left-top commode. Miniature wooden ornaments from Germany decorate a large tree branch; cricket band. A large cone the fireplace, over a scene of santas, shepherds, and sheep, wreath dominates the area above. A pair of blown glass lanterns hang at the mantle, alongside three felt stockings placed in expectation by the Miller children, Karen, Scott and Craig.

Logs from the antique wood-box keep the cheery fire going. Ceramic carolers and snowmen were hand done by Mrs. Miller who divides her loyalties two ways — ceramics and antiques. The pine Christmas tree will be covered with multi-colored lights and numerous hand-made and antique ornaments.

STOCKINGS ARE READY FOR SANTA in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gene T. Miller, 422 Madison St. Antique santas, shepherds and sheep are just a few of the items to be seen by Holiday Homes participants Sunday, Dec. 17.

Make Quick Win Over E. Jackson

Chelsea's JV wrestling squad was very disappointed to find that East Jackson could field only four wrestlers when they met a week ago, Nov. 30. Those four were quickly taken down. In a very impressive showing, John Tandy pinned his opponent in 1.49 minutes, wrestling at 138 pounds. Freshman Dennis Bauer pinned his 145-pound opponent early in the second period. Eric Prinzing ran up a 15-0 score before pinning his East Jackson mate. The clock recorded 5.50 minutes in that 155-pound bout. Don Harmon then came from behind and took down his rival in 3.39 minutes.

Undergoes Surgery

Sgt. David McCormick of the Chelsea Police Department underwent surgery last week for a kidney ailment. He is now recovering and expects to return to his home by the end of the week.

Grass Lake Youth Murdered in His Home By Prison Parolee

It began with an offer of assistance and ended with Howard R. Stoker, Jr., dead in his parents' home.

Grass Lake grieves. "It's too horrible to be true," "It couldn't happen here," "We're numb," "Disbelief is understandable. The community has lost one of its finest sons to a violence bred elsewhere."

Others have lost sons, and reluctantly but the loss suffered by the Howard Stoker family is neither framed by the philosophies of war, nor explained by the follies of youth. The only "wrong" Howard committed was to offer help to a couple whose car was stuck in a ditch outside his home.

Howard, who was at home with his mother, brother, sister, and another girl, a family friend, Friday night, reportedly went out into the snowy evening to help a couple whose car was stuck outside their Mr. Hope Rd. home.

According to police, they were called at 9:35 p.m., after Howard's offer to help was refused. The police received another call, five minutes later, which reported that the man in the car had a gun. Shortly thereafter, a third call came through, saying that Howard had been shot.

The police said that the woman from the car came up the drive to the Stoker home to say that her companion had a gun, and was going to shoot somebody. The woman ran into the house, and Howard ushered everyone into the basement.

The police said that the gunman somehow forced the door, shot Howard in the face with a handgun, and fled on foot. He was tracked by a State Police dog to a place under a barbed wire fence, a mile and a half south of the Stoker home. He was captured at 10:50 according to police reports in the Sackfield Hill area.

Held in Jackson County Jail on a charge of murder is James Leroy Jones, 42, of 1410 Atkinson, Detroit, a parolee from Southern Michigan Prison. State troopers Barry A. Trombly, William Connors and Richard Harms put Jones under arrest.

The Stoker family discovered Howard laying face down in the foyer when they ran upstairs after hearing the gun shot. The youth was pronounced dead at the scene by a coroner. The family members were taken to the homes of relatives and placed under sedation.

Howard Stoker, Sr., who drives trucks for the Chelsea Milling Co., was on the job in New York at the time of the tragedy. Although several attempts were made to reach him, he did not learn of his son's death until he arrived home Saturday afternoon.

The police will not identify Jones' female companion, and the Stokers know nothing about her. They say that all the particulars surrounding the case are confidential. They have yet to be notified of the trial date.

Young Howard was to have celebrated his 18th birthday Saturday, and a surprise party had been planned in his honor. The three-year letterman on the Grass Lake football team was well-liked, not only by his contemporaries, but by the adults in the community.

A group of unidentified Grass Lake citizens, gathered at the Ramble Inn to discuss the tragedy, told a Jackson Citizen Patriot reporter, "There wasn't a better kid in town. If we'd been there ahead of the police, they never would have gotten whoever shot him."

"It's getting to the point where we're going to have to go back to the old days and start wearing guns on our hips," another reportedly said.

Howard had earned distinction as a griddier. He was to be named to the first-string All-State team by the Detroit Free Press Sunday. He was also a member of the All Conference team of Lenawee.

A tri-captain of the Grass Lake gridders, Howard was considering attending one of several colleges who had expressed interest in his football prowess. He also had an interest in farming, which he had nurtured while working for framers in the area.

The Stoker family has lived in their country home for five years. They have owned the expanse of land, which commands a view of the rolling hills in the area, for 14 years. Their trailer perched on it before the house was completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stoker formerly lived in Chelsea, next to the telephone office, and for a while on Lincoln St. Mr. Stoker has been with the Chelsea Milling Co. since 1954.

They buried their son Tuesday morning. The family requests that memorial contributions go to the Grass Lake Warriors Athletic Club. Jones was paroled from Southern Michigan Prison last Oct. 26, after serving a term for attempted larceny from a building. He had begun his sentence Jan. 14.

The Stokers have lost their son, Grass Lake has lost a fine citizen and the entire area has lost a bit of its innocence. The violence elsewhere, in Viet Nam, in Detroit, even in Ann Arbor, has come horribly closer to home.

Cagers Hand Stockbridge 69-55 Defeat

With the memory of Friday's defeat spurring them on, the Bulldogs got down to business immediately Tuesday night. Against Bulldog determination, Stockbridge didn't have a chance. They were defeated 65-59.

Chelsea plunked in nine points before Stockbridge had split the net once. By the end of the quarter, Chelsea had compiled a 22-13 advantage.

The quarter belonged to John Mann who began the game with seven points. Jeff Schmidt, Jeff Daniels and Bruce Guster each contributed four more.

Stockbridge rallied somewhat in the second period, out-scoring Chelsea 17-8, but Chelsea maintained a 38-30 lead when half-time commenced.

Jeff Daniels and Dave Tucker were the stars of the second quarter, leading the Bulldogs with scoring and rebounding. Determined not to let Stockbridge get a foothold, Chelsea opened up the lead to a comfortable 18-point margin at the end of the third quarter. Jeff Schmidt, Schoenberg, the lightest on the squad at 98 pounds, received a forfeit. Nick Keiser, 105 pounds and a freshman, lost his match wound up his match with a pin 4-0.

Mark Montagne, captain, won his confrontation hands down, 20-1. Returning letterman John Beeman wound up his match with a pin at one minute. The 126-pounder, Mike Agopian, lost 4-8.

Dale Poertner (132) won by default, while Doug Reed, six pounds heavier, won 9-6. Senior Tim Lancaster, who weighs in at 145 pinned his opponent in 59 seconds. Ken Keiser, 155 pounds, lost 2-11.

Darryl West won the 167-pound battle, 9-6. Greg McClain, at 185, claimed a victory, 14-12. Steve Worden, wrestling in the heavy-weight division, lost 4-9.

While veterans Montagne, Beeman, Poertner, Lancaster, and West carried much of the scoring load, the newcomers Doug Reed and Greg McClain, both sophomores, performed excellently.

Coach Richard Bareis agreed that inexperience was evident, but he said, "Even in defeat, Mike (Continued on page six) continued to dominate the back boards.

Stockbridge made a valiant comeback in the fourth quarter, while Chelsea cooled off. The Bulldogs were responsible for only 18 percent of the period's shooting. Their lead was cut to a skimpy three points when John Mann responded to the pressure, sinking two key free throws. Jeff Schmidt was also instrumental in saving Bulldog face when he cashed in a basket and a free throw to give the Bulldogs the victory.

Jeff Daniels did an outstanding job rebounding. He collected 21 caroms. Jeff Schmidt and Ron Kiel each gathered 14 rebounds. Bruce Guster did well combating the Stockbridge attack, while guard John Mann led the team in scoring with 17 points.

A strong point in the Panther pack was Pete Mikelonis, who led his offense with 20 points. He was successful with five baskets, and 10 out of 10 from the charity line. The Panthers' biggest asset was Chuck Vizthum, who added 44 points to Mikelonis' effort.

The Bulldogs have little time to rest, and less time to ready themselves for a challenge from Saline's Hornets Friday evening, at Saline.

Oliver Tryouts Are Scheduled

Miss DiAnn L'Roy, director of this year's musical, "Oliver," is busy preparing for a very big job—picking students to portray the many cockney scoundrels in the play.

Tryouts are to be held on Monday, Dec. 11, from 3:30 to 10 p.m.; Tuesday, Dec. 12, from 3:30 to 7 p.m.; and on Wednesday, Dec. 13, if needed.

To aid the "first-timers" and the nervous, there will be two pre-tryout rehearsals, one on Tuesday, Dec. 5, from 3:30 to 5:30, and again on Thursday, Dec. 7, from 7 to 9 p.m. During pre-tryout rehearsals, Miss L'Roy will answer any questions a potential actor or actress may have, and she will help everyone learn the songs, and the accent of England.

Scripts may be obtained for elementary students by contacting Miss L'Roy. Beach school students may check them out at their school library, and high school students may check them out from Miss L'Roy during first hour.

Judi Blaess says, "If you can walk and talk, you should try-out. There are many parts available for unchanged male voices and for persons from the 5th grade on up. C'mon and tryout and make this the best musical ever!"

THIS YOUNG PUPPY that looks as though it will resemble a Dalmatian is also looking for a home. You may see him at the "puppy ward" in the shelter. The Humane Society is open from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. through Saturday, Sunday, 1 p.m.-5 p.m., or phone 662-5585.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle, that speaks with more command since the Republicans done so good in the election, came to the meeting at the country store Saturday night with a report where the United States will expand its not growing opium program. Ed told the fellows he had saw where another country in the Middle East is trying to make its citizens quit raising the stuff.

When Turkey said it was going to force folks to stop growing opium, Ed said, good old Uncle Sam helped out by paying the farmers for the loss of their cash crop. That was a good deal all around. Uncle Sam figured, since the money we paid out was less than it would cost to deal with the dope after it got over here. It made the farmers happy, cause they didn't get much for their crop anyway. The money is made by the middlemen.

The idea is, catching on over there, Ed reported, and now more of them countries is agreeing for us to pay their folks for not growing the drug. Ed said the wonder to him is that the countries that don't raise opium ain't started so we can pay em to stop. The idea is bound to spread to other kind of things, Ed allowed.

Per instant, Kodak pritty soon will offer to pay companies in Japan not to make cameras, and all the carmakers in Detroit will be paying the rest of the world to go in the not making cars business. The American textile industry can pay countries not to sell their textiles over here, then we can buy back all our cotton for less than it cost us here and we can come out way ahead.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, the not growing opium plan is just the soil bank on a international scale. Farmers in this country has been paid not to raise anything they already is enuff of, and then they've got price supports on the rest. Clem said he saw by the papers where the Department of Agriculture now has come up with paying farmers for letting folks hunt and fish on their land. Farmers and ranchers that has been letting their friends hunt on their places free now can get the USDA to dig ponds, stock the ponds with fish and pay em for letting these same folks use the land and water.

Zeke Grugg said he reckoned all folks that had been paid by the USDA to turn their farms into golf courses now will fence em and apply for pay to let rabbit hunters in, and stock a few fish in the water traps for golfing fishermen. Pritty soon, Zeke figured the USDA will be coming out with a new plan to fill in the ponds and pay farmers to raise wheat to sell the Russians. Then we'll pay em to go into the not hunting business cause all the animals will be a endangered species.

Mister Editor, it seems to me Uncle Sam's pocketbook is the most endangered species around. Yours truly, Uncle Les.

Doctor Need Worsens

It is increasingly difficult for someone who does not have a family doctor to find one. Formal documentation for this statement is hardly necessary; most people know it to be the case from their own experience.

What is being done to improve the situation? A number of things, but nothing which seems terribly productive at this point.

Michigan medical educators have failed thus far to realize that the country is in dire need of doctors who will work with the public and that it is their business to produce such doctors.

This is the attitude of Dr. Robert Vitu, a Saginaw physician who is president of the Michigan Academy of Family Practice.

This organization is made up of 1,200 doctors who "specialize" in what used to be called general practice but is now known as family medicine. The Academy is pursuing a campaign with the blessings of the Michigan State Medical Society that would result in more family doctors for the Michigan public. But it continues to be rough going.

Various forms of snobbery, prestige, tradition and inertia seem to be involved on the part of medical educators. These are the people who decide which applying students shall be accepted for training and what they shall be taught.

The record does not indicate they are interested in training doctors to work with families or people who need a general practitioner. Medical schools at a University of Michigan, Wayne State and Michigan State all seem more interested in turning out specialists and researchers than doctors who will set up practice in communities and care for people there.

Students are discouraged in most instances when they indicate their desire to work in family practice. They are told: "You'll get over it." They are encouraged to pick a specialty.

University of Michigan medical school appears to be the most dogmatic in ignoring the needs of the public for family practitioners, and Wayne State's doctors seem to be trying almost as hard. MSU, which started out with announcements that they would be much concerned with service to Michigan's public, does not make the same claims loudly any longer, though there are some programs which provide medical service for out-state areas.

The Academy for General Practice is urging that Michigan medical schools set up Family Practice Departments so that students interested in this field can get information, training and a feeling that their selection is just as important as some of the dramatic specialties. Dr. Vitu reports that his group has not made much progress with the medical schools toward this goal. He suggests no one opposes the goal openly, but that deans and others in control simply circumvent the idea so that no progress results.

Dr. Vitu reports that he has letters from numerous students who would like to know more about family practice, but that some have been discouraged. Programs about family practice held for medical students are well and enthusiastically attended, he says, but he adds that there are too few places students can get more information.

Osteopathic physicians fill the public need to some extent. Graduates of osteopathic schools are much more inclined to set up practice in communities. And since the legislators are increasingly aware of the situation, they are inclined to supply funds for enthusiasm.

The outlook is bleak that there will be immediate change seems to be the feeling of Dr. Vitu. But he and the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians are working to bring about improvement which will let a young doctor feel just as proud when he says he is specializing in neurosurgery for example as it does seem that medical educators themselves will have to educate about the needs of Michigan people if the changes are to come about.

"Gas Prices Checked"

Anyone who travels in northern Michigan knows gasoline prices there are higher than in the southern part of the state.

The situation existed for years and no one has done much to change it. Gasoline companies say the higher costs reflect increased transportation costs and other increased costs. But state officials this year have been saying they think there's another reason: price-fixing by the oil companies.

Both Gov. Milliken and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley have been looking into the situation and contemplating action.

A study Milliken received from the Michigan Consumers Council earlier this year shows a maximum differential of 10.3 cents per gallon between the north and south, an average difference of 6 cents per gallon.

A thing like price fixing can be difficult to prove, especially when a whole battery of high priced lawyers can be brought into action to try to disprove the charge. But if the governor and attorney general gather the evidence they are looking for, there may be a lawsuit in the future of some major oil companies.

Mrs. Little Hurt, whose home was at 101 S. Main St., but who has been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard at their home on North St., died after sustaining a fractured skull in a fall down the steps there late Wednesday afternoon. She was alone at the time of the accident, and it is believed she slipped on the sidewalk at the head of the steps.

After months of weekly practice periods, the final rehearsals are being completed for the presentation of Handel's "Messiah," which is to be presented jointly by the Chelsea Civic Chorus and the Chelsea High School Chorus, under the direction of Bertram Gable, at the Methodist church, Thursday, Dec. 16, beginning at 8:15.

The Chelsea business district is taking on a holiday appearance which is reminiscent of the days before the war. Each day more and more Christmas decorations are being put up in store windows.

Francis E. Gail, who formerly owned a gift and greeting card shop in Detroit, is now located in Chelsea, and is opening a shop here, Saturday, in the Palmer building at 112 E. Middle St. She has named it the Tiny Town Shop, and plans to specialize in infants and children's wear.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Dec. 8, 1938—

More than 175 people attended the annual football banquet honoring the squad that brought the Huron League championship to Chelsea this year. The toastmaster, Jim Daniels, was introduced by superintendent A. C. Johnson. The girls trio consisting of Eunice, Hart, Janis Dancer, and Joan Walworth, with Margaret Harper at the piano, presented two selections. Dave Strieter, captain of the squad, gave a short talk. He introduced Paul "Kelly" Schneider, captain-elect of the 1939 team who also gave a short talk. Varsity and reserve letters were then presented by Coach Charles Cameron.

E. J. Claire of Chelsea was re-elected president of the Dutch Belted Cattle Association of America, Inc., at their annual meeting held on Dec. 1, in Chicago.

In the Elementary news: We have two new pupils in our class. Their names are Jo Ann and John Rudy, and they came from Gregory.

In the second grade: Charles Wheeler of Dexter has joined our number. We hope he likes the way we do things. Mary K. Palmer comes to school each morning. We are so glad to have her back with us.

The fourth grade: Last Friday we had our first radio program. Our station is called FGA, meaning Fourth Grade Amateurs. Loren M. was the announcer. Murray M. tapped dance and Helen V. Paul S., and Bob D. each played the piano.

In the sixth grade: Norman Aberle took the coconuts we had in our room home for the Christmas vacation so they would not emerge so early. Ruth Ann Schenk brought a terrarium. In it there are five kinds of moss, worts, hepaticae, lichen, and several small wood plants.

Kalamazoo started the nation's commercial celery industry almost 100 years ago. Today, Michigan ranks third nationally in the production of celery.

Old 1915 Business Directory Lists Many Familiar Names

Some of us remember what it was like in Michigan in 1915; others must rely on imagination. Yet anyone who wishes to conjure up the face of the past can find inspiration in the pages of an old R. L. Polk Michigan State Gazetteer and Business Directory.

This storehouse of facts and figures concerning every aspect of Michigan, which is still printed today, is a handy reference book for any number of topics.

Want to know how many insurance companies there were in 1915, or how many newspapers in Chelsea? Or what the population of Gregory was, or where to buy shoes? It's all there, surrounded by quaint advertisements and photographs.

A glance at the 1915 edition, for example, gives one an idea about the assets of every region, township, village, and flag station in the state. Even discontinued post offices are given their due, as such was Verne "A" discontinued post office and flag station of the G. T. Ry. System in Saginaw county, 12 miles south of Saginaw. Has rural free mail delivery and from Burt. Watson James, General Store."

How many people remember Nebraska, "A small place six miles east of Saline, its mailing point, in Washtenaw county. And, of course, there was York, in York township, Washtenaw county, 12 miles south of Ann Arbor, the county seat, and three west of Milan, its shipping station and nearest banking point. Telephone connection. Has rural delivery from Milan."

These places didn't even have population counts. Scio was noted then as "in Washtenaw county. Post office discontinued. Has rural delivery from Dexter."

Waterloo, however, had made a place for itself by 1915. It boasted 100 residents, who had to go nine miles to Chelsea for banking and shipping. L. L. Gorton was the postmaster. George Archenbronn produced cider and ran the saw mills, while C. A. Barber was the livestock buyer. He must have done business with Walter Vicary and Emory Runciman who were listed as stock breeders.

The 1915 Gazetteer lists other pillars of the Waterloo community as: Daly & Vicary, fruit evaporators; Lynn L. Gorton, general store; Orville Gorton, real estate; Victor Moeckel, electrician; Jacob Realey, cider manufacturer; George Rentschler, fruit evaporator; and Jacob Rummel, flour mill and saw mill.

Gregory was just a bit bigger, with 250 citizens, but that additional population was enough to support a Baptist church, a bank, and telephone connections. James S. Stackable was the postmaster back then, while Carl C. Bollinger, Fred A. Howlett, Martin E. Kuhn, and Howard Marshall ran general stores.

According to the Gazetteer, the other Gregory businessmen in 1915 were: Delbert Brearley, automobile supplies; Charles Burden, automobile garage; E. T. Bush, saw mill; Ed Daniels, auctioneer; Samuel Denton, grocer; Oliver Hammond, railroad express and telephone agent; Harry Jacobs, proprietor of the Hotel Gregory; Thomas H. Howlett, hardware; Elda A. Kuhn, grain elevator and insurance; Mary Kunn, milliner; C. C. Lane, veterinary surgeon; Lawrence N. McClear, electric supplies and power house; William H. Marsh, lumber and coal; John Moore, fruit grower; James Walder, livestock; Bert Wetherbee, drayman; W. J. Wright, physician; and V. Young, meat market.

At this time, Grass Lake was a teeming little community of 800, which was incorporated in 1871. It was described as "surrounded by a very fertile and well-settled section of the country, and depending chiefly for its support upon the surrounding agricultural interests. Has a Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, and Methodist churches, a creamery, a townhall, seating 400, a bank and a weekly newspaper, the News."

Pinckney, with a population of 500, was not much different, when it came to churches and banks. It had four churches, Catholic, Congregational, Methodist, and Episcopal, and a bank, a weekly newspaper, the Dispatch, and a grades public school. The later was an emment larger Grass Lake couldn't boast.

In 1915, Dexter and Saline were the same size, both supporting a population of 1,000. Dexter's blurb reads: "It derives its name from S. W. Dexter, of Boston, Mass., who located a settlement here about 1823; it was incorporated as a village in 1855. Has a fire department, churches of the Baptist, Lutheran, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, and Methodist denominations, excellent educational advantages, electric light and gas, an opera house seating 600, Masonic Temple, a bank and a weekly newspaper, The Dexter Leader."

In comparison, Saline's summary sounds a bit busier: "It has Baptist, German Evangelical, Lutheran, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches, and an opera house, fire department, two banks, three flour mills, hay rack factory, grain elevator, etc. A weekly newspaper, The Observer, is published."

"Saline is a heavy shipper, of live stock, and sends out more than all the other towns on the line running from Ypsilanti to Hillsdale, which includes some seven cities. The shipments from here will average from six to 10 cars a week, and often run as high as 20. Hogs and cattle figure largely in the output, but the largest shipments are invariably sheep. The stockyards are complete and filled most of the time."

While not the shipping hub that Saline was, Chelsea did have "advantages." It had a municipal electric light plant and a water works system, as well as the usual assortment of churches. Baptist, Catholic, Christian Science, Congregational, Lutheran and Methodist denominations were represented.

Chelsea had two newspapers in 1915, according to the Gazetteer, The Chelsea Standard and The Tribune, plus two banks, a screw machine products factory and "excellent educational advantages."

The summary continues, "The country tributary to Chelsea is very fertile, and is one of the best wheat raising districts in the state. The principle shipments are cereals, wool, fruit, berries, and livestock."

A perusal of the names of businessmen in 1915 uncovers many familiar names and some unfamiliar occupations: Jacob F. Abber, plumber; John H. Abber, gardener; A. E. Winans, American Express Co. agent; Harry H. Avery, dentist; Ford Axtell, publisher of The Chelsea Tribune; William Bacon, Holmes Lumber, Grain and Coal Co.; Milton J. Baxter, tailor; George W. Beckwith, insurance.

George BeGole, cashier at Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank; notary and insurance; John B. Beissel, cooper; Frederick H. Belser, hardware and furniture; Sumner G. Bush, physician; William M. Campbell, contractor; William Gaspar, baker; E. H. Chandler, drayage; J. T. Woods, Chelsea Business Men's Association secretary; A. B. Clark, president of Chelsea Elevator Co.

John G. Wagner, proprietor of Chelsea House, which offered "steam, heat, electric light, ground floor sample rooms for commercial men, livery in connection, rate $2 per day, telephone 75."

Frank H. Hendry, librarian; M. J. Dunkel, president Chelsea Screw Co.; O. T. Hoover, publisher of The Chelsea Standard; F. C. Mapes, proprietor of the Chelsea Steam Laundry; Elvira Clark-Vesel, florist; John B. Colic, hardware; John A. Conlan, livery; John S. Cummings, produce.

Dancer Brothers (Ernest R. and Herman J.), men's furnishings; E. W. Daniels, auctioneer; Davidson & Bauer, contractors; Blanche C. Davis, art goods; James Dann, express; Byron Defendorf, physician; H. Ernest Defendorf, veterinary surgeon; Adam Eppler, meats; John Faber, agent for DJ&C Ry; Adam G. Faist, autos and vehicles; J. F. Waltrous, president of Farmers and Merchants Bank.

John Farrell, Ed Keusch, and George J. Millsap, grocers; William Foor, agent for MCRR; Eugene Foster, well borer; Louis T. Freeman, and Chauncey Freeman, grocers and drugs; Harlie J. Fulford, osteopath; Benjamin H. Glenn, cider mill.

James S. Gorman, lawyer; Charles Grant, nurseryman; Andros Gulde, physician; Mary H. Haab, milliner; William H. Hammond, bill poster; Hindelang & Fahrner, hardware; Harmon S. Holmes, fruit evaporator; Homer & Walker, hardware and furniture; Kathryn H. Hooker, milliner; Charles G. Kaercher, wagonmaker; John Kalmbach, lawyer; Walter F. Kanteleher, jeweler.

John J. Kelly, express; H. S. Holmes, president of the Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank; C. H. Kempf, vice-president of the bank; Fred C. Klinger, meat Samuel Mapes, undertaker, Clarence W. Maroney, lumber and builder; James A. Moroney, contractor; Charles A. Martin, livery; Luther Maze, veterinary surgeon.

J. S. Allen, manager for the Michigan State Telephone Co.; Miller Sisters, (Mary, Margaret, and Anna), millinery; Michael J. Noyes, surveyor; Barnhard Oker, shoes; C. W. Saunders, superintendent of the Old People's Home; George W. Palmer, physician; Leigh G. Palmer, garage and cigars; J. George Webster, tailor; A. E. Winans & Sons, jewelers; Herbert D. Witherell, attorney; John T. Woods, physician.

Hyman Rosenthal, junk; Paul G. Schable, cashier at the Farmers and Merchants Bank; W. P. Schenk and J. W. Schenk, general store; Charles Schmid, shoes; Henry Schmidt, physician; Oscar D. Schneider, grocer; Herbert R. Schoenhals, ice; George M. Seitz, confectioner; Ernest E. Shaver, photographer.

Milo A. Shaver, harnessmaker; Frank and George Staffan, undertakers; Augustus L. Steger, dentist; Charles Steinbach, harnessmaker; G. R. Libby, Tower's Wayne County Creamery Co., manager; Lewis P. Vogel, grocer; and wallpaper; Emanuel W. Walker, flour, saw and cider mills; John F. Walt-

Thomas W. Watkins, baker; Edward J. Weber, wines, liquor, and cigars; J. George Webster, tailor; A. E. Winans & Sons, jewelers; Herbert D. Witherell, attorney; John T. Woods, physician.

These merchants and craftsmen worked in a world wedged between Jackson, with its 34,000 residents, and Ann Arbor. The University town held 19,000 people when school was not in session, but blossomed in population to 24,000 during the terms. It was said to have "everything that goes to make a place habitable, comfortable, convenient and attractive."

The description continues, "The city of Ann Arbor is, of course, most widely known as the seat of Michigan's great State University. It is, besides, a charming residence city with a cultured class of citizens and some of the most handsome homes to be found in the state."

Such were the good old days.

CARD OF THANKS
It is impossible to express my feeling of gratitude to all of the people who were so kind during my stay in the hospital. Thank you for the flowers, gifts, cards, calls, and especially the prayers which were answered. Thank you to everyone who helped my family with babysitting, food, and so many thoughtful kindnesses.
May I especially thank the Rev.
Clive Dickens for all the time he spent visiting me and also his spiritual guidance. Mrs. Don Proctor.

MSU FOUNDATION IS ESTABLISHED
East Lansing—The Michigan State University Foundation — a major step toward attracting more private financial support to MSU—has been created by the university's Board of Trustees.

The new foundation will provide MSU's "overall development with significantly more flexibility," says Leslie W. Scott, vice-president for development.

Although legally a separate entity, the foundation will serve MSU as its sole beneficiary. It will be able to accept such assets as land and trust funds, manage them, and turn them over to MSU.

Parents Urged To Check All Christmas Toys for Safety

With the Christmas shopping season at hand, the American Red Cross today urged parents and other purchasers of toys for children to exercise care in their selection.

"It is estimated that 700,000 children are injured by unsafe toys every year in this country," said Thomas L. Mollett, Washtenaw county director of Red Cross Safety Services. "Another 500,000 children are hurt while using swings and 200,000 from slides."

While most injuries are not fatal and many not serious, this is no consolation to the parents of children who are killed or seriously injured by defective or misused toys, he added.

"Extreme care should be used in choosing toys for Christmas," Mollett warned. "Although most toys are considered safe, there are many with features below minimum safety standards which make them potentially dangerous."

"One of the most important considerations in choosing a toy is to carefully inspect its construction," he continued. "The toys you choose for your children should be durable enough to stand rough treatment."

He cautioned that toys should be examined for wood that may splinter, metal with sharp edges, or plastic that may shatter. A toy should be made so that a child can't pull off a wheel or break it open to leave exposed sharp edges or small parts that may be swallowed.

Electrical toys can be dangerous and must be kept in good repair, he said.

Electrical toys should be used under supervision and always carry the UL (Underwriters Laboratories) test label. "An electrical train or race set should have a circuit breaker on the transformer, and a child should be taught the correct way to plug and unplug an electric toy," Mollett said.

Play stoves, irons, and metal moulding and wood burning devices get hot and should be handled with care, he went on.

"Even soft stuffed animals and dolls may have button eyes that may be pulled off and swallowed.
Wire used to form an ear on an animal may poke through the fabric and inflict scratches, and a poorly made doll can come apart at the seams and expose the stuffing, which youngsters might put in their mouths."

Mollett urged parents to take the time when they shop to ex-

Men's Basketball League Needs 3 More Teams

The Chelsea Recreation Council is attempting to form a men's basketball league. So far, enough men for three teams have contacted Recreation Director Ken Larson.

Three more teams are required to set up league competition. Although Larson has received requests from out-of-town teams, the Recreation Council would prefer to fill the league with Chelsea men.

IV Cagers Win Over Dexter, 45-29

At Friday night's game against Dexter, Chelsea cagers stole the show, 45-29. Not only did Chelsea outshoot the Little Dreadnaughts, the Bulldogs out rebounded them, 39-16. Chelsea whisked the ball out of Dexter's control 17 times, with the help of seven snatches by Dave Alber. Chelsea maintained their lead throughout the game, having commanded a 14-9 margin by the end of the first quarter. Chelsea's avid defense refused to let Dexter have a crack at the basket. They kept the Dreadnaughts to a mere two points in the third period.

Leading scorers for the Bulldogs were Dave Alber with 14 points, and Doug Schrotenboer and Gary Wonders with nine.

Doug Schrotenboer was also a leading rebounder having grabbed nine Dexter caroms off the backboard. Paul Wood was there to take away eight rebounds.

them, 61-59. Dexter suppassed Chelsea in snatching the rebounds which, in the words of one Chelsea player, meant "they wanted the ball more than we did."

Chelsea cagers were out to prove they wanted that ball Tuesday when they hosted Stockbridge's Panthers in the Chelsea gym.

Dexter took the first quarter, 13 to 10. Friday, with the help of three baskets and three free throws by Mike Scott of Dexter, Chelsea began to move in the second quarter so that by the half, the score had evened out at 30 each.

Chelsea's more consistent shooting in the second period was characterized by Dave Tucker and Bruce Guster, who each had a basket and two successful free throws to their credit. But the glory was shared. Eight players scored for Chelsea during that quarter. Mike Scott and Ron Klump led Dexter's forwards, putting in six points each.

Chelsea pulled ahead in the third period. Marvin Guster pitched in five of Chelsea's 20 points. Scott continued to be a boon to Dexter's offense, slitting the net for seven of Dexter's 16 points.

It was 50-45 at the beginning of the slow fourth quarter, Chelsea's favor. In the last five minutes of the game, Dexter pulled off the win by hitting seven of their 10 free throw chances. Chelsea muffed five of their eight free shots. That gave Dexter the game by two points.

Bruce Guster is proving to be an offensive powerhouse on the court as well as on the gridiron. He was leading scorer for Chelsea, having put in 12 points. That achievement was overshadowed, however, by the record of Dexter's Mike Scott. He was responsible for 22 of Dexter's points.

HIGH LIFE: Rick Miller leaves the ground in an attempt to snatch a rebound from the clutches of his Dexter opponents. Tim Treado (40) has zoned in on the lower altitudes. Ron Kiel and Jeff Sprague (10) are waiting for the ball to come their way.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN

Indians and Pilgrims joined together for a feast in kindergarten this year. Of course the children were the Indians and Pilgrims.

The children didn't know they were such good cooks. Each one brought an apple which was cut up and made into applesauce. The next day we made cornbread. These along with our milk made up our feast. We wish to thank the mothers who gave their time and help during these activities. Snow has everyone thinking about Christmas and of course Santa. We will be visiting the Methodist Home with the morning class to entertain with our singing. Both classes will be walking to the library for a Christmas story and to see what the Chelsea Library has to offer. We encourage families to use the library.

We are still working on those buckles, boots, zippers and ties. We hope everyone will have learned all off these, soon.

Parents will be called upon for help with preparations for Christmas and all through the year. We appreciate those people who volunteer their time during a busy season. We hope you are not afraid to call us and volunteer to help. The kindergarten children and teachers wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

ELEMENTARY MUSIC—

Teacher: Mrs. Dye
Grades 1 and 2 at North school are preparing a Christmas music program with the 3rd grades. Mrs. Peebles class will sing "Alleluia"; Mrs. White's class will sing "Ten Little Angels"; Mrs. Stein's class will sing "I Have Made a Christmas List." The second grades will sing "The Friendly Beasts."

FIRST GRADE—

Our first grade birthdays are: Tracy Evisizer, Ronnie Marshall and Carol Stirling.

Dear Santa Claus:

We have been thinking about you a lot lately. Yesterday all of us made Santa Claus mobiles out of construction paper.

Say hello to Mrs. Santa Claus for us. Could you bring her in your sleigh this year?

We like to help in school and we try to do our work. We help our moms and dads at home.

We are not always good but we're o.k.

We like your toys so don't forget to fill our stockings.

Love,

Mrs. White's First Grade

Dear Santa:

Merry Christmas. How are you and Mrs. Claus? Hope your elves, reindeer, and sleigh are ready for the big trip. Is your bag getting filled with toys? We hope you have lots of snow at the North Pole.

We are North school first graders in Mrs. Peebles room. We are learning to read and trying to be good. We are making surprise gifts for our parents. We want to invite you to visit us at school, in your home time.

Love,
Mrs. Peebles and her First Graders

Dear Santa:
How are you and Mrs. Santa? Has it been a cold winter? We have worked hard this year. We have helped our Mother and Dad cook, clean the yard and mow the lawn, fix the car, knit, butcher, rabbits, help on the farm, feed the dog and cat, and pick up our toys. We have even tried to be good.

If you stop at our house on Christmas eve, and we really want you to, we will have cookies, chocolate milk or ice cream for you and carrots for the reindeer.

Love,
Mrs. Stein's First Graders

School Board Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday, Dec. 4, President Storey, Hopkins, Schafer, Koehn, Straub, Hasel-schwardt, and Superintendent Cameron, Assistant Principal Lapanoski, and attorney Peter Flintoff were present.

President Storey swore in E. J. Hopkins as a new board member to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Carolyn Smith.

Motion by Schafer, supported by Koehn, to approve minutes of Nov. 20, as amended. All ayes.

Schafer gave the report from the Finance Committee.

Physical Plant and Transportation Committee had not met. Straub scheduled a meeting for Dec. 1.

President Storey appointed Hopkins as Chairman of the Public Relations and Policy Committee, and various other committees.

Various topics were discussed, including the physical education program, the Washtenaw County Skill Center, snow days, and safety of the old junior high school site.

Motion by Schafer, supported by Straub, that the physical plant committee shall draft a bid resolution for sale of the old junior high site. All ayes.

A discussion was held in relation to a teacher grievance. Motion by Straub, supported by Koehn, that the grievance is hereby denied for the reasons set forth in the notification and in the deposition attached hereto. All ayes.

President Storey scheduled a special board meeting for 8 p.m. Dec. 11, in the Board Room.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:55.

Junior High Cagers

Win Two from Dexter

With Marc Feeney leading the scorers, Chelsea 7th grade cagers triumphed over Dexter, 38-24. Marc contributed 11 points to the cause of victory, while Chris Smyth added nine. John Daniels was responsible for six points for the Bulldogs.

The 8th graders followed suit, dealing a defeating hand to Dexter's 8th graders, 34-30. Randy Sweeney, John Toon, and Don Morrison each garnered eight points, while Anthony Houle made six.

room wallpaper. The dining table holds a miniature tree hung with a collection of antique jewelry.

At this point in the tour, refreshments will be served, compliments of the club members.

By way of contrast, the third house described here is new and brick. Nevertheless, Mr. and Mrs. Basil R. Greenleaf, 1260 Freer Rd., and their children, Timothy and Tyline, have created a familiar, traditional atmosphere in their contemporary ranch style home, by the use of many arrangements of natural materials.

The endearing charm of candles and evergreens prevades the living room area; the cozy family room has a brick fireplace, a wood-burning stove, and a copper boiler is placed on the hearth.

Three large foil angels against a background of barn siding were done by Mrs. Greenleaf, as were all the arrangements of pine cones, nuts and dried materials used throughout. The Christmas tree in the family room area is covered with hand-made ornaments and tiny white lights. Christmas is a total family experience for the Greenleafs, from the selection and cutting of the tree, to baking cookies, wrapping gifts and collecting the cans, nuts and dried flora for the Christmas creations.

Three more exciting homes will be presented next week.

Stockbridge Downs JV Cagers, 49-39

The Chelsea JV's continued to provide an excellent pre-varsity game show Tuesday night, even though they bowed to the Panthers, 49-39.

Paul Wood and Dave Alber did the most to bring the team along in scoring. Wood zoned in on the basket for 14 points, while Alber succeeded with a total of 11 points.

Wood was also active as a rebounder, snatching 16 Panther caroms. Jack Hackworth grabbed seven for Chelsea, and Doug Schrotenboer whisked away six.

The Bulldogs accuracy was wanting, however. Poor shooting was most prevalent in the first quarter, when Chelsea made only two points. Stockbridge piled in 12. The scoring proportion was nearly the same in the second period.

Bullpups began making headway in the third, when they outscored the Panthers, 12-11. By the fourth quarter Chelsea had fallen into form, racking up 18 of the 24 points made in that period. Nevertheless, it was not enough of a comeback, and the Panthers took home the victory.

Student Council Canned Foods Drive Set Sunday

It's time to see if your supply of canned foods is complete. Don't you have at least one or two cans to spare?

The Chelsea High School Student Council will be going door to door asking that question this Sunday, Dec. 10, so you'd better be ready. Between noon and 2 p.m., students will be collecting canned foods for the Chelsea Social Services to distribute to the community's needy families.

Consumer Booklet Tells All About Holiday Poultry

It's time to talk turkey, the traditional holiday fare.

Must reading for anyone cooking a Thanksgiving dinner is a booklet from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, "Poultry in Family Meals," available for 20 cents from "Consumer Product Information," Washington, D. C. 20407.

In the how-to-buy section of the booklet, Agricultural Research Service specialists recommend turkeys marked "fryer-roaster, young hen" or "tom" for roasting and advise the consumer to look for the official USDA inspection and grade marks on the poultry. A table shows the number of servings per pound from the various forms of turkey as well as from a pound of chicken, duckling and goose.

Turkey like other poultry items is very perishable and needs care in storage, cooking and handling of leftovers. Detailed instructions are given for thawing frozen poultry in the refrigerator, in cold water or at room temperature. A frozen 24-pound turkey needs four days to thaw in a refrigerator before cooking for about seven hours.

To help take the guess work out of when the turkey is done, a table shows approximate roasting times for various sizes and forms of turkey and also lists the internal temperature that a meat thermometer will show when the turkey is thoroughly cooked.

The booklet recommends stuffing poultry just before roasting. If made in advance, the stuffing should be refrigerated.

Consumers will find this booklet a handy reference all year around with shopping tips and recipes for all types of poultry.

"Poultry in Family Meals" is one of approximately 200 low-cost publications listed in the Fall 1972 edition of the Consumer Product Information Index, published by the General Services Administration. The index is available free from Consumer Product Information, Washington, D. C. 20407.

Pre-Cooked Foods Will Increase In Popularity

Your grocery cart and dinner table are destined for change during the coming decade, according to Michigan State University Consumer Marketing Specialist Maryann Beckman.

Food specialists predict that nearly 80 percent of the foods you serve in 1980 will be partially or completely prepared outside your home, Mrs. Beckman says. More groceries will be pre-cooked, frozen or instantized, and you'll buy more baked goods and take-out foods such as pizzas, chicken and hamburgers than you do today.

Snacks, sweets and soft drinks will be fortified with essential nutrients. Other foods will contain protein and carbohydrate supplements as well as the usual added vitamins and minerals.

You will also buy foods labeled "textured" vegetable protein. Wholesome synthetics such as pineapple-like chunks in cake mixes, bacon-like crumbs for salad toppings, and synthetic meats will be made of soybean and other vegetable fibers.

Cooking time will be cut to a matter of seconds by increased use of micro-wave ovens. Some major food companies already print microwave oven directions on packages, Mrs. Beckman points out.

Love corn on the cob? You'll find plenty in Michigan because we ranked third in the U. S. in 1970 with a 90 million pound sweet corn crop, valued at $2.8 million. Believe it or not (and it's pretty hard to believe) but Wayne county is Michigan's largest sweet corn producing county.

Katherine Smith, Donald Milliken Exchange Vows Saturday Evening

Katherine Johanna Smith became the bride of Donald Edwin Milliken, II, Saturday, at an evening service in Our Savior Lutheran church, before 260 guests.

The marriage ceremony was conducted by the Rev. William Keller, pastor of the church. Music was provided by Mrs. Jerry Heller, who sang the Lord's Prayer, and Mrs. William Keller, the organist, who played "Jesus Joy of Man's Desire."

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Andrew F. Ford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Bassham of Romulus, and Donald Edwin Milliken, I, of Ann Arbor.

The bride wore an ivory satin, empire style gown, and carried an arrangement of white poinsettias and roses.

She was attended by Miss Tina Orbring, maid of honor, and bridesmaids: Mrs. Cory Adams of Detroit; Mrs. Douglas Schoenberg of Chelsea; and Mrs. Pat Milliken, also of Chelsea. The latter is the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

The maid of honor wore a red velvet skirt and white blouse. She carried a red poinsettia encircled with holly and straw flowers. The bridesmaids were dressed in similar outfits, except their skirts were green. They carried white poinsettias surrounded by holly and straw flowers.

The sister of the bride wore a gold and silver floor-length gown. Her counterpart on the bridegroom's side of the church, Mrs. D. E. Milliken, I, wore a two-tone orchid colored full-length gown.

Two young nieces of the bride, Nancy and Susan Ford, wore flower girls, wearing red velvet floor-length dresses, and carrying baskets of greens and holly. Christopher Ford, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Pat Milliken, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Roger Burkowski, cousin of the bride, Mike Austin, and Larry Milliken, brother of the bridegroom.

The wedding guests and the guests went to the Chelsea Community Fair Service Building for a reception after the service. There, Mrs. Roger Burkowski of Novi, supervised the guest book.

Past Noble Grands Entertain 7 Guests

Past Noble Grand Club of the Rebekah Lodge met at the Rebekah Hall on Nov. 28, for a combined pot-luck dinner and business meeting.

Guests included seven PNGs from Harmony Lodge in Dexter, and Mrs. Francis Aulth from Stockbridge. After a bountiful supper, a regular meeting was held, led by Mrs. Loydell Keizer. A prayer was said by the president. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and accepted.

A reply from the Ypsilanti State Hospital, pertaining to the club's desire to remember 12 ladies there at Christmas time, was announced. Mrs. Lucille Alstaetter will chairman the project, while Mrs. Elsie Hinz is in charge of supplies.

Mrs. Phyllis Harook, junior member of the club, remained at home as she is recuperating from a stay in the hospital.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marion Pickell. Gifts costing $2 will be exchanged at that time. Members were reminded to bring odds and ends of Christmas wrappings and shears.

A cake was served and the November birthdays were remembered with a chorus of "Happy Birthday to You."

The club played "stump" for the night's entertainment. Mrs. Utley from Dexter and Mrs. Nina Lehmann of Chelsea won the four prizes.

Members were reminded to bring items to add to the gift box, which will be packed at the December meeting.

Said premises are situated

Gridders of the Week

KEVIN ARMSTRONG (32) is a newcomer to the Chelsea line; this year, he newness did not prevent him from making his mark. He was awarded the Most Improved Back Award at the annual Fall Sports Banquet last week. He came to Chelsea this summer because of his father's transfer from Niles to a Wolverine Pipeline job in the area. This is the first move that the family, consisting of one girl and three boys, has made that Kevin can remember. It's not easy to sever ties all at once, so Kevin still makes it back to see old friends on week-ends. His career on the Chelsea squad began when Coach Phil Bareis called Kevin to make sure he'd be at football camp, even before the Armstrong family had moved. Although Chelsea High is much smaller than the A-league school he was used to, Kevin says football is just as good here. A dishwasher at Weber's on week-ends, Kevin plans to go to trade school and into plumbing after graduation. He is a junior now.

DOUG HILLMAN (24) had mixed emotions when the football season came to a close. He was sad to see it end, but he won't miss going to practices on the cold fall evenings. He plans to fill the empty afternoon hours with relaxation and job hunting. Doug has a skill, carpentry, but it is difficult to find a part-time job in that line. He says he'll work at almost anything to get that jingle of extra cash in his pocket. His summers are full with building houses, the art he learned as an apprentice to Dale Koch for two years. It will be his career after graduation. Doug is ready to get out of school. "Classes are classes," he says, but he knows he will miss it. Doug, who was born in Santa Monica, Calif., came to Whitmore Lake when he was still a baby. He has been in Chelsea almost as long as he can remember.

Changes Made in Proposed Township Zoning Ordinance
Dexter Township Zoning Board held the second and last of its scheduled public hearings on the proposed zoning ordinance for Dexter township Monday, Dec. 4.

Eari Doletzky, chairman of the zoning board, began the meeting by announcing that several changes in the ordinance and zoning map had been made since the Nov. 27 public hearing.

Among the changes are alterations in the proposed rezoning of parcels. However, these changes were discussed and acted upon by the board as individual cases and not all were accepted.

Properties belonging to Roy Oesterle and William Fayne were rezoned agricultural.

Not receiving a change in the proposed rezoning were Joseph and Betty Aspiranti, owners of the E & R Drive-in, and Joseph Swarthout. Properties belonging to John Ledwidge were rezoned from commercial to rural residential, and from C-2 to C-1. A third parcel was not rezoned.

One change was made in section 11.03 F of the ordinance concerning non-conforming buildings and structures. A paragraph was added providing for appeal to the zoning board to extend time limits in the section and certain other parts of the ordinance.

The action was the result of a suggestion by Jack Radcliffe, Portage and Base Lakes Association limit on rebuilding. Radcliffe had proposed a waiver procedure at last week's hearing.

A second suggestion by Radcliffe, to clarify a property owner's "guarantee" to rebuild, was rejected by the board as presented in a letter to the board following the Nov. 27 meeting.

Radcliffe, at Monday's hearing again emphasized the need for changing the wording of section 11.03 B. "It is a matter of legal wisdom as opposed to legality. Why must we keep an ambiguity in a statute when it is so easy to clarify?"

Thomas Ehman, secretary of the zoning board, said that Radcliffe's suggestion, as presented in his letter "eliminated sit pan approval." "We're not worrying about the one or two percent of the cases where the building burns down. We're talking about people who want to tear down and completely rebuild," said Ehman.

Radcliffe proposed deletion of part of clause B, reading: "but only if the following conditions are met." This would leave what Radcliffe considers to be a guarantee of the absolute right to rebuild.

The clause would then read: "Nothing in this ordinance shall prevent the reconstruction or replacement of a series of structures by Edid Blyton which everyone is enjoying."

THE OLD AND THE NEW: All over Michigan, new symbol signs are gradually replacing traditional word signs under a nationwide highway safety signing program. Here, sign technicians H. R. Warren (left) and Tom Janeczek of the Department of State Highways take down a school crossing sign and replace it with the new yellow and black symbol sign conveying the same cautionary message.

Quarterly Motor Vehicle Fund Collections Being Distributed

Lansing— Third quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections are now being distributed to Michigan counties, cities and villages, the State Highway Commission reports.

John P. Woodford, deputy director-chief engineer of the Department of State Highways, said net receipts of the Highway Fund during July, August and September of 1972 amounted to $85,984, 252, an increase of $4,522,846 or 5.5 percent compared to the same period of 1971.

Washtenaw county's share was $4,928,408, while Chelsea received $10,833, and Dexter received $5,519. Milan's benefits were worth $12,408, which was just a bit more than Saline's $12,022.

The larger communities in the area received a bigger piece of the pie. Ann Arbor will take in $288,196 from the program, while Ypsilanti gets $68,032.

All State gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. After deduction of collection costs by the Department of State, Susan Weily's Gas range knows when to lower the heat.

Even if Susan forgets.

Susan's been married only a few months, but thanks to the modern features on her new Gas range, every meal has been a success. The Burner-with-a-Brain gives her precisely controlled temperatures... eliminating the worry of boil-overs and scorched food. And since the Burner-with-a-Brain knows when to adjust itself, Susan saves Gas and money, too.

Susan's Gas range also has a handy "Keep-Warm" oven. It keeps food at just the right temperature—without overcooking—so it's great for entertaining. And Susan's oven even cleans itself while it cooks.

So, if you're thinking of replacing your

- present range, visit your Gas appliance dealer or a Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom and see the new, efficient Gas ranges that operate for only one-third the cost of electric stoves. But, whether you're replacing your range or not, here are some tips to help you save fuel:
1. Cover saucepans for faster cooking.
 2. Use the Burner-with-a-Brain as often as possible.
 3. Preheat oven only as long as indicated in instruction booklet.
 4. Use the lowest heat required for the job.

St. Louis School Notes

Last Friday, St. Louis school cagers plowed through the snow in their not-so-trusty bus in order to meet Dexter 8th graders at Wythe gym for a basketball scrimmage. They returned to Chelsea a victory richer.

Wednesday they had another chance on the basketball court when they played 8th graders from St. Francis school in Ann Arbor.

Saturday's blanket of snow allowed the boys plenty of rides on the snowmobile. That evening Father Germano showed a movie and served pop corn.

Sunday, the boys learned more about the scouting life when Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burgess, their son, Mrs. George Atkinson, Mrs. David Bowber and son, and Mrs. Richard Seyfried came for the scout meeting. Cub scouts from Chelsea also added to the fun. Christmas carols and party games kept everyone busy. The leaders served hot chocolate and Christmas cookies.

St. Mary's Altar Society arrived at the school Monday night for

Federal Crop Insurance Claims Due By Dec. 10

Abnormal weather conditions during the summer, and continued rains for the past several weeks will undoubtedly result in a high number of crop and soybean claims being paid in the midwest by the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., according to Earl Wilson, service center director for this area.

Wilson stated that many policyholders have already notified the corporation of losses, and that other policyholders who feel that a loss is probable should notify their county office in writing by Dec. 10.

The county office located at Rural Route 5, W. Chicago Rd., Coldwater, serves the following counties: Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Clinton, Eaton, Hillsdale, Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Leelanau, Livingston, Monroe, St. Joseph and Washtenaw.

Federal Crop Insurance Corp. is an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture which offers crop insurance on farm crops. Coverage is provided against all unavoidable causes of loss resulting from adverse weather, insects, and diseases which arise during the growing and harvesting seasons.

THE HORSE'S COMEBACK
East Lansing—The horse craze is making an impact on youth, including students at Michigan State University. MSU Professor Harold Henneman has compiled and distributed a list of horse lodging places for students who arrived in the fall with horses in tow. Student horsewomen at MSU outnumber horsemen by about 2:1.

WINNERS RETURN. Members of Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary brought home several shiny honors from state and district meetings recently. The trophies were awarded for the highest percentage of members present and for the greatest number of miles traveled. The district meeting was held in Hartland, where the Chelsea women displayed an exhibit concerning the Home Meals Project. The chapter also won second place for their Mini-

About Your Social Security

Question: I am single, in my late thirties and as a result of an accident, I have been severely disabled since I was 10. I have never worked under Social Security. My father who was my sole support died recently. Can I collect monthly Social Security benefits as his dependent?

Answer: Since you were disabled before 22 and have been unable to work since that time, you might be eligible to get monthly survivors benefits. Call any Social Security office as soon as possible. If your mother is living, she should also check at the Social Security office. She may be eligible for payments; too.

Question: I lost an arm while serving in Vietnam, but it has not kept me from working full time. I receive disability payments from the Veterans Administration. Can I also collect social security disability benefits?

Answer: No. You cannot receive social security disability benefits unless your impairment makes it impossible for you to engage in any substantial gainful work.

Question: After I started to get disability benefits from Social Security, I became eligible for payments under a plan with my old employer. What will happen to my Social Security benefits?

Answer: Disability benefits from your employer will not affect your benefits from Social Security, but benefits you may receive from workman's compensation could affect your Social Security and should be reported.

Question: Does a disabled worker have to meet an age requirement to receive Social Security monthly disability benefits?

Answer: There is no minimum age, but a minimum work period under Social Security is required to be eligible for disability benefits. If a person became disabled before 24, he needs credit for 1 1/2 years of work during the three years just before his disability began. If his disability starts between 24 and 31, he needs work credits for half the time under 21 and before he became disabled. If a worker becomes disabled after 31, he needs credit for at least five years of work in the 10 years before the start of the disability.

JC Auxiliary Earns Top Award at State Board Meet

When the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Walter (Sandy) Brown, a discussion was held on the events of the Fall State Board meeting in Traverse City.

President Judy Eubanks announced the Chelsea Auxiliary had won a travel certificate for population dimension 1, and the over-all grand winner trophy for the highest percentage of members present.

The auxiliary will assist the Jaycees with the Blood Drive on Dec. 18, at the Fair Building. They will also prepare a meal for the Jaycees. This meeting will be with wives and guests invited. A new member, Linda Ellenwood, will chair a new project, an afternoon with Santa for all Jaycee families.

The football team finished with a 6-2-1 record. Hope's best in more than a decade. The Flying Dutchmen led the Michigan Inter-collegiate Athletic Association in both total offense and defense while posting a 3-1-1 record.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

My name is Sgt. Norman Green. I am from Chelsea and my parents still live there. I am now stationed in Fort Bragg, N. C., where I have been for the last 3 1/2 years. I am a veteran of Vietnam.

My letter is in regard to the bill that was defeated on election day this year. The bill I'm talking about is the one to give Vietnam veterans a bonus. I don't know how Chelsea felt about this, but my comments are for all of Michigan. But your paper is my home-town paper and I figured I could get you to print this for me.

I don't know what the people who voted against the bonus were thinking about. I feel they are worried about their taxes going up. I really feel sorry for these people. Some of my friends served in Vietnam as I did. Some also died over there for not only themselves but for the people who voted against this bill. I realize that it would cost the state a lot of money to pay all the bonuses but I feel this is just a little price to pay for a man who risked his life for his country. I feel that the families of the men who died over there should receive it first, then start giving it to people like me if there is enough money to spare. I would be willing to give my bonus up to a family of a man who died in Vietnam if this is the only way the people in Michigan will pass the bill.

I'm not trying to say that everybody turned down the bill. I know some people were for it. I think that if the people who voted against it would look back into their minds and think what it would mean to at least give these men something from the people that he risked his life for. I would like to see a petition started through the state to get a special vote again on this issue to see if it couldn't be passed finally.

You can write me at my home address.

Family Planning Medical Service, Inc. The service's planners have responded positively thus far, and we are anticipating a real first in—a privately operated clinic which, by incorporating consumer power at the policy making level, recognizes that health care is a basic right and a public good.

The Co-ordinating Committee for Representation of Women in Health Planning is open to all women in Washtenaw county, as individuals and as delegates from health groups, civic or church organizations. Because events have pushed us to act quickly, the growing group has had to take action while at the same time reaching out for new participants. Our next meeting is a very important one, as we must finalize a proposal for the composition of the Family Planning Medical Service Board.

All concerned women are invited to work on this proposal at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at St. Andrew's church, 306 N. Division, Ann Arbor (lower entrance on Division St.). Everyone who is new to the work will be brought up to date by a review at the beginning of the meeting. So please attend—we must have a good cross-section of women in the community! Health care for people—not for profit!

Cager of the Week

BILL TITE (30) is a senior cager who has been seen on the court since 7th grade. He is also a high jumper and hurdler during the track season, and a horseback rider all year 'round. Bill has trained his three-year-old horse himself. Although he rides jump seat, he has yet to chase the fox in a hunt. His interest in horses, and animals in general has naturally led him toward a career in veterinary medicine which he hopes to pursue when he enters Michigan State University in the fall. This versatile athlete is also a singer. His bass tones are an addition to both the Madrigal Singers and the High School Chorus. Bill likes the added responsibility that comes with being a senior basketball player. "Last year, you could always think that the first string would take care of it. Now, we have to," he says. Bill has lived in Chelsea ever since his first grade year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tite, and has a little sister, Julie.

Student Council Plans Series of Special Assemblies for the Year

Chelsea High students had an opportunity to witness some extra-sensory perception at work this morning, as they attended the first Student Council assembly of the year.

Tom Boylan, student council president, said that Duane Fisher, who is blind, first came to the council's attention when he sent some pamphlets to the school to advertise his talents. He gave his demonstration this morning at 10. Fisher's appearance is only the first of several assemblies planned by Boylan and his council. They are attempting to hire a hypnotist to give the next demonstration.

Movies and a concert by a Northern Michigan jazz band are also in the works.

These assemblies are paid for by collecting a small admission charge at the door.

Olivet College Rep Will Visit Seniors

College bound students at Chelsea High will have another opportunity to talk to college representatives Monday, Dec. 8. Loyal See from Olivet College will be at the high school on that day at 10 a.m. to talk to all interested students and parents.

Jaycettes Back Move To Keep Michigan's Meat Standards

The Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary has adopted a project called "DOGS" or "Don't Outlaw Good Standards." As concerned consumers, the Jaycee wives are supporting the maintenance of Michigan Meat Standards.

These standards, which govern the ingredients in ground meat and sausage products, are higher than those stipulated in the Federal Wholesome Meat Act, but this stringency may not last.

A legal suit has been brought against the Michigan government, which, if successful, will force the state to lower its standards so they conform to the national requirements.

Auxiliary members fear that this would allow meat packers to include animal ears, eyes, tongues, lips, udders, intestines, snouts, and bladders in their hot dog, hamburger, sausage, and lunch meat products.

Although these animal parts are already used in packaged meats in other states, Michigan has succeeded in keeping their packaged meats relatively "pure" because of its strict standards.

The Federal Government has no minimum protein content in packaged meat, while Michigan standards require that there be at least 12 percent protein in state processed products, according to Judy Eubanks, chairman of "DOGS".

The Federal Government has no minimum standard for the amount of cereal or soy which may be used to beef up packaged meat. Michigan, in contrast, has set limits to the amount of these products allowable in meat packaged within its borders.

Mrs. Eubanks continues, "While the Federal Government allows by-products from cattle, sheep, swine, and goats, Michigan approves of skeletal meat only." This means only meat off the bones may be used.

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary is initiating a petition drive to show their concern that Michigan is being forced to lower its standards. They will forward their petitions on to the national legislature. They believe it is the national law that should be changed, not Michigan's.

The petitions are being placed in Schneider's Grocery, Jiffy Market, and Polly's Supermarket for the convenience of concerned meat consumers. Those signing the petition must be over 18 years of age.

Judy Eubanks has numerous petitions that she would like to have passed around places of business, or clubs. She may be reached at 475-2382.

Faculty Cage Contest Slated Saturday

In hopes of tasting sweet revenge, the Chelsea High school faculty is luring a sporting group from Beach school into its gym for the annual faculty basketball competition, Saturday.

That night at 7:30, the Beach school teachers will stride into the gym, two years of victory behind them. The high school faculty is betting that hubris will be their opponent's downfall.

Proceeds from this suspenseful event will go to the athletic department, benefiting both schools. But the spoils of victory can go to only one.

Playing for the high school's glory will be Phil Bareis, Ted Leonard, Bill Bainton, John Schaffner, Ken Larson, Mark Ruhlig, Dennis Andierese, Chuck Kelly, Warren Mayer, and two student teachers, Larry Day and Brian Howard.

Among those attempting to down the high school for the third time are Randy Johnson, Burt Kruse, Lennie Solomon, Charlie Waller, Joe Beard, Pat Clarke, Ron Harris and Tom Neumeier. Referees in this important contest will be Pat Wade and Dick Lapanowski.

Adults will be charged $1 and kids 50 cents at the door.

Olive Chapter Installation Slated Tuesday Evening
