

Dave Pastors Held at Gun Point By Pair of Hoodlums

"I was out in the barn, looking after the cattle, when a man stuck a shotgun in my back and walked me back into the house," recalls Dave Pastor of 13660 Jerusalem Rd.

Instead of finishing the evening chores, the farmer, his wife and mother spent a "terrific" three hours, Monday evening, tied and taped to chairs while two masked men carted pillowcases filled with their belongings out of the house. "We could hear them hauling things out," says Pastor.

A suspect, Robert Duane Huffman, was apprehended in Ann Arbor later Monday night, in connection with the Pastors' ordeal. He was arraigned in 14th District Court here in Chelsea Wednesday morning at 9:30. He stood mute to the charge of armed robbery.

The nightmare for the Pastor family began Monday evening about 7:30, according to Dave Pastor. Two men, with all but their eyes and noses covered with ski masks, held the three family members at gun point while binding them to chairs. The chairs in turn were tied to door handles.

Pastor says the gunmen did not handle them brutally, but they did threaten to hurt them if they talked to one another. Thus, even while tied right next to each other, little was said during the terrifying three hours. "I'd never been in a thing like that," said Pastor. "You do what they say."

The bandits ransacked the house while waiting for the Pastor's son, manager of an Ann Arbor jewelry store, to come home. Upon his arrival, the young Dave Pastor was greeted with the barrels of two shotguns. He too was taped and tied to a chair in his second-floor room.

The thieves demanded the keys to Edwards Jewelry Co. store, 215 S. Main St., Ann Arbor, and information about the alarm system. They also took the keys to the young man's car.

One gunman left in Pastor's car while the other remained with the family for what seemed to the Pastors like hours. He finally left, they say, when a car drove up to the house. They heard the car drive away.

Once alone, the senior Pastor was able to work himself free. After freeing the other members of the family, he attempted to call help. The telephone wire had been jerked from the wall.

His automobile had also been left inoperable, so he mounted his tractor and traveled down the road to Leonard Kitchen's house for help.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department records show the call came at 11:27 p.m. The deputies dispatched a car to the farm while alerting the Ann Arbor police to a possible robbery at the jewelry store.

Ann Arbor police proceeded to the scene, said a sheriff deputy, and found a man inside the locked store. The officers, Patrolmen Dale Williams and Steve Foster are reported to have said later, "He was cool. He didn't seem nervous at all while telling his story."

The suspect maintained he was an Edwards employee, a tale that was belied when Charles Carpenter, assistant manager of the store, was called to the scene. "I don't believe I've met you," he is reported saying.

Police reports show that a jacket and a .38 caliber revolver were found on the counter of the store. Nearby sat a suitcase containing a large amount of cash. Police allegedly found a slip of paper with the combination of the store's safe written on it, in the man's pocket. Finally, Pastor's keys and his car, with boxes of electrical equipment inside, were found at the store.

The man, who failed to produce identification and refused to give his name, was booked on a preliminary charge of breaking and entering. He was held on that charge Tuesday, in Ann Arbor.

Sheriff's deputies found a picture of the man in their files which identified him as Robert Duane Huffman, of Indiana. He has been in the county jail before.

At the arraignment, Wednesday, Huffman gave his address as Anderson, Ind., where he lives with his wife and one child. Until his arrest, he was employed by his father as a real estate manager.

Huffman said he could not afford an attorney, so the court will appoint a public defender. His preliminary examination date is set for Feb. 7, in Chelsea at 10 a.m. He remains in jail on a bond of $50,000.

When asked about his experience, the senior Pastor said, "It was terrible." They are still trying to determine how much is missing from their home.

The other man or men involved in the robbery remain at large.

Hockey Teams Have To Buy Ice Time

The unseasonably warm weather this month has been nothing but a curse to Chelsea hockey fans. The rink, which was so painstakingly prepared three weeks ago, has since melted away, leaving Chelsea skaters high and dry.

In spite of inadequate local facilities, the Chelsea District Hockey Association (CDHA) is playing anyway, by buying time at Ann Arbor and Jackson rinks with artificial ice.

The first contest was Sunday when Chelsea's Ann Arbor Federal Savings Midgets played against the Milan Rockets at the Fuller Rink in Ann Arbor. The Midgets stood the test, blanking Milan, 2-0, with fine shut-out goaling by Mike Doran.

Brian Durham netted the first goal, unassisted at the 16-minute mark, stickhandling through a maze of Rockets. The second tally came at 17:30, also in the first period, with assists from Holger Neubauer and John Hertlein on a shot by Derek Anderson.

Although that was the end of the scoring, the players continued to play exciting, wide open hockey.

Milan's Pee-Wees will face Mayers Maroons of the CDHA next Sunday morning at 10, again on Fuller ice.

Chelsea will host these teams at the fairgrounds as soon as the ice is playable. In the meantime, the CDHA will try to obtain ice time for practices. In view of the need to buy ice time, "Hockey Helper" donations are needed more than ever. Contributions may be sent to the CDHA at 1603 S. Main St.

Dental Health Week Slated for 2nd, 3rd Graders

All second and third grade students in the Chelsea School District will receive dental health instructions and materials during Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 4-10. They have also been able to participate in a county-wide "dental health" poster contest.

Children's Dental Health Week is an effort by the local dental society to focus public attention on the importance of preventing dental disease through proper dental home care.

Varsity Debaters Squeezed Out in District Meet

The Chelsea High debate team wrapped up its season, Thursday, Jan. 18, when it attended the district competition. The four varsity debaters attending managed a 3-3 record, just short of the 4-2 score needed to take them to the regionals.

Coach William Coelius was satisfied with the year's showing, especially since he had only three seniors on the circuit. He has high hopes for next year when the majority of the student speakers will be returning with a year's experience under their belts.

Mobil Station Broken Into Early Monday

Thieves absconded with $565.76 from Glenn's Mobil station early Monday morning. Glenn Helm, owner of the station, discovered the burglary at 5:50 a.m., and immediately reported it to the police.

Patrolman McDougall, conducted the investigation which revealed that the robbers had gained entry to the station on M-52 at I-94, by punching out the door handle and lock of the side door with a crow bar. The bar was used on a Pepsi machine and a cigarette machine on the premises, but no money was taken from them.

Once inside the building, the individuals forced their way into the office through a heavy mesh screen door. There they took three Chelsea State Bank money bags which contained the receipts of the previous night's business.

They ripped into one bag right in the shop, discarding it on the floor. Another was found outside, near tire tracks in the snow.

McDougall has taken fingerprints, pry bar impressions, and photographs of the scene of the crime. Police have several suspects.

Another Supporter of Wildlife Federation

Lorenz W. Wenk, like Mrs. Leon Chapman, has been an active supporter of the National Wildlife Federation for years. "I've been getting letters of appreciation for at least eight years," he says.

Wenk subscribes to the federation magazine for himself, and sends copies of Ranger Rick to his grandchildren.

Saline Hornets Down Varsity Cagers, 84-57

Chelsea cagers were overshadowed by one opponent in particular Friday night. Saline's towering Dave Ziegler loped off the court after the 84-57 victory with 33 points and 23 rebounds behind him.

It was Ziegler and Scott Skinner who led Saline to their early lead. Jeff Daniels and John Mann accounted for 8 of Chelsea's 12 points, which was only half of Saline's tally.

The Bulldogs tussled with that 24-12 gap in the second quarter, cutting it down by a point by out-scoring Saline, 21-20. That left Chelsea trailing 44-33.

A tenacious Bulldog defense held Saline to three baskets in the period but could do little against Saline's consistency at the free throw line. The Hornets made 14 out of 18 tries from the line. Meanwhile, Rick Miller pitched in 10 for Chelsea, while Bruce Guster tossed in his usual six.

The possibility of a Chelsea victory drifted out of sight in the third quarter. Once again Saline hit 20 points while Chelsea's scoring remained in the teens at 15. Treado's three baskets were a nice effort, but hardly competition for Skinner and Ziegler who succeeded with four and three buckets, respectively.

The final horn cut short a sorry scene for Chelsea, who had been mercilessly outscored in the final period, 20-9.

Juniors Tim Treado and Rick Miller led the Bulldogs in the rebounding and scoring departments. Treado collected 13 rebounds and 12 points, while Miller handled 13 rebounds and 15 points. Dave Ziegler dominated the game physically and statistically.

Home Burglarized On W. Middle St., Tape Player Stolen

Jane Chene, of W. Middle St., returned from work Friday to discover that someone had broken into her house and stolen an eight-track tape player worth $154.

An examination of her back door revealed that the thief had broken through the screen door, and broken an 8-by-12-inch glass pane in the door, in order to reach the lock. Evidence shows that the criminal exited through the same door.

The tape player, with its dark walnut finish and two speakers, had been only recently acquired.

V. Satterthwaite Retires From Road Commission Job

Vernon Satterthwaite of 14675 Jerusalem Rd., an assistant foreman at the Chelsea district yard of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, retired Jan. 31.

Satterthwaite joins his brother, Leroy Satterthwaite, and Oliver Walker, both of Chelsea, who retired in December of 1972. Vernon Satterthwaite was hired by the Road Commission on April 23, 1933, and has worked more than 39 years in various positions. He assumed the duties of assistant foreman six years ago.

He has been employed in the Chelsea district through his years of employment with the Commission and has assisted in many ways in keeping the roads and bridges in the best possible condition.

He has participated in keeping the roads clear in many winter storms of ice and snow and tells of many experiences fighting these storms. Although much of his time and work was spent in maintaining the existing roads, he also participated in the construction of many miles of new roads in the county system.

Satterthwaite plans to keep busy after retirement working in his wood shop, gardening, farming and fishing.

Amateur Radio Net Conducts Test Exercise

Bill Wade, John Palmer and Bill Altenbernd participated in an Amateur Radio Emergency Corps (AREC) drill last week-end, along with other AREC members throughout the country. The "ham" operators were testing their "preparedness and co-ordination" in the face of a simulated emergency.

Under the leadership of Terry Babenko, K8RUR, an emergency co-ordinator of the American Radio Relay League, Washtenaw county's emergency plan was tested. The plan has been devised to provide the area with an emergency communications facility in the event of a disaster.

Local AREC members volunteer their time and radio stations to the end that Washtenaw county will never find itself without a means of communication.

Explained Bill Wade, "The test was to see if a message thrown into the amateur 'net' could get from point of origin to its destination." Wade's task was to originate a message to his relatives in the Upper Peninsula saying he had not been hurt in the "disaster."

This year's test, as in previous years, emphasized co-operation with Red Cross chapters and civil defense agencies throughout the nation. Mobility and versatility of the station units taking part was demonstrated. A number of mobile and portable short-range radio stations were set up at strategic points around Saline in order to provide local communication. Higher-powered long-range fixed stations supplied contact with distant points.

A control station located at Ann Arbor's Red Cross Headquarters, directed all operations, with an alternate control at an undisclosed location ready to take over if necessary. The local network was tied in with the National Traffic System, a division of the Amateur Radio Public Service Corps, for swift communication with points outside the local area.

The Simulated Emergency Test was one of the hundreds of similar tests conducted all over the nation by units of the Amateur Radio Public Service Corps during the week-end of Jan. 28. Success was judged by the speed and reliability of communication, under simulated emergency conditions, with other parts of the city, state and nation.

As a part of the test, participating amateurs originated messages addressed to their Section Emergency Co-ordinators. Civil defense directors sent messages to civil defense officials at the state and federal level, and Red Cross chapter executive officers reported by radio to their area and national offices through amateur radio's National Traffic System, a network web of amateur stations that directs messages anywhere in the country.

25 Fire Extinguishers Stolen Over Weekend From School Buses

Chelsea school bus supervisor Ralph Brier was once again reporting the theft of fire extinguishers, Monday morning. This time more than the usual two or three were missing. 25 extinguishers, valued at $26 each, were taken some time during the week-end. Brier reports that some action will be taken to mark the new extinguishers, in hopes of discouraging future thefts.

Youth Center Open House Set for Sunday

"Equinox," Chelsea's youth center, will officially open its doors Sunday, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. The entire village is invited to come and see the new face on the old Methodist parsonage at 140 Park St.

Chelsea youths have been busy throughout the week, readying the house for activity. Under the direction of teen counselor, Mary Jan O'Hare, the house has been cleaned, and partially carpeted and furnished. Guests may munch on refreshments while surveying the handiwork.

The center still lacks many essentials like tableware, lamp shades, a broom and a mop, but

Mary Jan says the teens and their parents have been very good about bringing in articles for the house. "We haven't had any response from the rest of the community," she says with some disappointment.

After the grand opening, Equinox will be open every day after school until 10:30 p.m. Friday it will stay open until 12:30 a.m., but only those who are not affected by the curfew (aged 16 and over) can remain until that hour. The same holds for Saturday when the center is open from 11 a.m. until 12:30 a.m. Sunday the hours are from 1 p.m. until 10:30.

Mary Jan, who is employed by the Office of Economic Opportunity, says, "The center is growing. It's going very well." Mary Jan is always at the center when it is open. The Equinox phone number is 475-1580.

School Music Groups Begin Competition

Chelsea musicians, under the batons of Warren Mayer and Ronald Harris, will be going in several directions during the next month. Beach Middle school students are the first to take off, Saturday, Feb. 3, when they attend the District Solo and Ensemble Festival at Ford Community College, Dearborn.

Approximately 60 students will pile into buses at 6:45 a.m. Saturday. They will perform in as many as two events before judges during a day which stretches from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The judges will give them constructive criticism and a rating.

Attendance at the festival, which includes all schools in a district between here and Detroit, is purely voluntary. Students will perform solos and ensemble selections.

The following Saturday, Feb. 10, the high school musicians will have a similar experience at the High School District Solo and Ensemble Festival. Again, solo and ensemble arrangements will be played.

The bands will have their festivals in March. The high schools will compete March 3, while Beach Middle School Band goes the following week.

In preparation for these trips, the bands will give Chelsea residents a chance to see their polished performance. The high school band will put on a concert Feb. 26. The junior high's evening will be March 1.

The band boosters are always in need of more volunteers to accompany the children on their many trips. Those interested in chaperoning may call Mrs. Max Hepburn at 475-8971.

Wrestlers Pin Novi, 43-15 In Big Win

Chelsea wrestlers, while honing their skills for tonight's important match against highly rated Dexter, tackled Novi a week ago and brought them down hard. The one-sided contest fell in Chelsea's lap, 43-15.

Chelsea entered the competition with spirit, sending out Dale Schoenberg who won by a fall at 1.51 of the first period. Chris Steele's loss at 107 pounds was quickly followed by Sam Trachet's turn-around victory. He won by a fall, clocked at 4:48.

At 119 pounds, Mark Montagne needed all of 52 seconds to take his opponent down. Dale Poertner followed, wrestling well, and took a 13-6 decision over Novi's best wrestler.

Mike Agopian's consistent improvement was exposed once again when he scored a fall victory after four minutes. At 138 pounds, Doug Reed was caught in a pin after 3:52 minutes of play.

Tim Lancaster ran up an amazing score in the 145 division. He won 20-2. Darryl West, at 155, scored a 4-2 win. This chain was broken when Greg McClain was pinned by his 167-pound opponent.

Ken Keiser's fall victory at 185 pounds was followed by Steve Worden's 7-0 decision in the heavyweight category.

Chelsea's JV scored wins with Carmer Slocum, 10-2; Dave Keiser, 7-4; Mark Pennington, by a fall; Tim Reed, 53; Eric Prinz, 11-0; and Dennis Bauer, 6-2. Losing Chelsea matmen were Dave Clouse, Bob Sawyer, and Kermit Sharp.

Bridges Chevrolet Still Leads Men's Recreation Basketball

Chelsea Recreation Basketball rivalries were revived Tuesday night when Huron Valley made things hot for Heydlauff's. Heydlauff's never gave up the lead, winning 77-70. The highest scoring of the year was registered during this game with Paul Terpstra putting in 30 points for Heydlauff's, while Don Peck deposited 29 for the bank. The other double figure scorers for Heydlauff's were Phil Bareis with 14 and Jon Schafner with 10 points. For the bank, Ken Harvey scored 14 and Don Waite made 10.

Chelsea Lumber Co. arrived with only six players, but what they lacked in numbers they made up for in accuracy. Five of them scored in double figures, chalking up their first win of the season. They defeated Chelsea Drug, 65-54. High scorers for the winners were Craig Houle, with 17 points, Bill Harvey, Archie Bradbury, Drike McCalla, and Jim Knott each with 12 points. The drug store had even scoring from 10 of its players with Don Kent being the high-point man with 9 points.

The final game was a hard-fought battle. Bridges Chevrolet, the only undefeated team, employed Gary White's long shots which netted 20 points, to truncate Chelsea A & W soundly. Yet A & W came as close as any team has to giving Bridges' boys a run for

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

None of the fellers at the country store Saturday night had heard whatever happened to Gordon Rule, but they give him a unanimous vote of confidence anyway. Clem yond the call of duty when he said Rule had showed bravery beyond the call of duty when he said President Nixon made a mistake.

It's a sad state of affairs, went on Clem, when a man can't speak his mind in this country without having the full weight of the White House fall on his head. But that's the way things are, and they're getting worse, he said. Anybody that disagrees with the Administration, from television commentators to the top and boom of the federal payroll peck order, is going to feel the lash of the Presidential whip, was Clem's words.

Ed Doolittle said he wasn't full agreed with Clem. Ed said the President is elected to run the job, and he has got to do things his way. Furthermore, Ed allowed, he's got to have people around him that will do what he says. If the President listened to ever column writer and half-baked expert in the country, declared Ed, the Government would be like the cowboy that jumped on his horse and rode off in all directions. But Ed said he was worried about the way the President is trying to do his job and Congress' job to. As for Rule, Ed said he broke the Pentagon rule about keeping opinions in the family, and he is to be commended for saying a feller that run a company doing millions of dollars worth of business with the Government ain't got no business heading the federal budget.

Another matter that come up for discussion was the Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution. The fellers was wondering if it had got approved by enuff states to get ratified. Zeke said the amendment will make men and women equal in the eyes of the law, and he figured the men are looking at it like Brer Rabbit did about getting tossed in the briar patch. Wimmen is in for more rights than they want, was Zeke's words.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm turning the country over to the wimmen. They can't do no worse.

My old lady was going through some stuff in the attic last week, and she came across a 1953 newspaper. I was halfway through it before I noticed the date. It reported the same crime, rising prices, wars, Congress giveaways we got in 1973.

I noted a item about men hunting for the Abomable Snowman, and I see another American expedition is set for a Snowman hunt this year. Let the wimme go this time. Besides, it's probable a Snowman anyhow.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Controls Anticipated

Despite new legislation approved last year by the legislature to control snowmobiling, state officials fear they may have to do more in the future to keep the rapidly growing sport under control.

The new law still leaves snowmobiles largely unrestricted. In fact, an amendment added by the legislature in December removed some restraints: allowing snowmobiles on highway right-of-way in the southern part of the state.

Since snowmobiles are used almost exclusively in rural areas, much of the responsibility for policing them falls with the Department of Natural Resources. The Department's responsibilities in the area grew even more recently when Gov. William G. Milliken gave it complete control over environmental matters in Michigan.

The biggest complaint against snowmobiles has consistently concerned the havoc they are capable of inflicting on the environment, both land and air, when they are used improperly.

Officials now talk about the possible need someday for speed limits and for the restriction of the number of snowmobiles which may be on any given trail at the same time.

"We see the time coming when we will have to confine snowmobiles to trails rather than allow them to travel anywhere in the forest," said a recent report presented to the Natural Resources Commission. "This is similar to the history of our campgrounds. We now restrict their use."

Michigan now has 1,136 miles of snowmobile trails, with about 85 percent of the mileage built on old logging and county roads in the state's 31 forests. There are 300,000 snowmobiles registered in the state—about $300 for every mile. A DNR survey estimated more than 21,000 snowmobiles used state forest trails during the last 21 days of December.

Thus far, all the Natural Resources Commission has done is pass a motion urging snowmobilers to stay away from sensitive game areas and stop polluting the landscape. It also directed the DNR staff to design trails which avoid game areas and to confer about ways to build speed limitations into new machines.

"It looks as if conflict over use of land is coming into focus," says commission member Carl T. Johnson of Cadillac. "If we have these problems with 300,000 registered snowmobiles now, what will they be if we have millions of them five years from now? Snowmobilers pollute with noise, smoke, trash and cans, and they trespass on private lands."

But Commissioner Charles Younglove of Detroit says snowmobiling "is one of the most valuable forms of recreation in Michigan. We need more recreation that brings families together."

The problem for the DNR and the legislature is to find an answer to the situation that will preserve the environment and keep snowmobilers happy. That may not be possible.

Lobbying Controls
One subject guaranteed to surface in Lansing every year or so is the need for new controls on lobbyists who work at the state legislature.

But lobbying control is a lot like the weather—everybody talks about it but nobody does anything.

One consistent advocate of lobbying reform has been Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. Again this year Kelley has made some proposals to clamp down on lobbyists. Whether his proposals will get any further than his previous ones is probably doubtful. But they deserve public attention.

Committee on Status of Women Begins Operating

The Washtenaw County Committee on the Status of Women, established last year by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners, was introduced to the community last Sunday. Its purpose is to enable women to contribute more to society.

The committee has been set up to:

—Stimulate and encourage throughout the county the study and review of the status of women in this county.

—Strengthen home life by directing attention to critical problems confronting women as wives, mothers, homemakers and workers.

—Recommend methods of overcoming discrimination against women in public and private employment and civil and political rights.

—Promote more effective methods for enabling women to develop their skills, continue their education, and to be retrained.

—In addition, the committee will make surveys and appoint advisory committees in the fields of education, social services, labor laws, health, family relations, and volunteer services. The committee will also secure appropriate recognition of women's accomplishments and contributions to this county.

10 Area Riders Bring Home 41 Ribbons

The busy winter horse show schedule continues as 10 riders from Stoney Ridge Farm brought 41 ribbons back from the Haverhill Farms horse show in Walled Lake last Sunday.

Shelly Spencer, riding Alley Oop, won a first in the Warm Up, in addition to placing in four other Equitation and Hunter classes. Maureen Foley, riding Ma Belle Angeline, won two firsts in Hunter classes. She also rode Evermore Ruler to three placings.

Andrea Behrman, on Chesapeake Bay, won a first in Equitation and a second place in Junior Working Hunter. Wende Bowie, riding Mr. Fantasy, placed in six Adult Equitation and Hunter classes.

Lynne Dermody, on Tudor Line, placed him in three classes. Patti Wallace, showing Irish Coffee, won three first places in Equitation and Hunter classes, and placed him in four other classes.

Scott Alder, riding Tom Terrific, won one Hunter class and placed in four others. Kelly Alder, on War Dance, placed in two Hunter classes. Kim Alder, on Bacardi, won a first place in Equitation and placed in five other classes.

Last Sunday, Stoney Ridge Farm had an Inter-Schooling show, solely for their own students. The first of February they are sending four teams of four riders each to Lakewood stables in West Bloomfield to an Olympic type competition. Following that, will be a Hunter-Jumper show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. Then Stoney Ridge Riders are going to take a two-week break.

Representatives of EMU, Olivet Will Visit CHS

Representatives from two colleges will be visiting Chelsea High next week to give uncertain seniors a last-minute opportunity to hear about college life. This winter visit also gives eager juniors a chance to start interviewing. Counselor George Bergman says that occasionally an especially interested sophomore comes to these sessions.

A representative from Olivet College, which has been represented at the high school before this year, comes Tuesday, Feb. 6, during third hour, or about 10 a.m.

The following day, during second hour, a representative from Eastern Michigan University will speak to interested students.

Saturday Hours Offered By IRS To Help on Taxes

Ann Arbor—Taxpayers who work or can't get to IRS offices during regular business hours may obtain help from the IRS on Saturdays from now until April 16, Thomas A. Cardoza, District Director of Internal Revenue for Michigan said today.

IRS employees will be on duty from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Ann Arbor office to help taxpayers fill out income tax returns. The phone number for income tax assistance in the Ann Arbor area is 971-0370.

Taxpayers who have questions or problems with filling out their returns should call or visit their IRS office for help. Cardoza said that many taxpayers who need an answer to a question may find it more convenient to call the IRS on the phone instead of making a trip to the office.

Trailed taxpayer assistants will answer questions and help fill out their returns, Cardoza said.

Cager of the Week

TIM TREADO (40), a 6'3" forward for the Bulldogs, is a mystery movie fan as well as an athlete. He has played football and plans to ski with the high school ski club this winter. Tim was employed at the Pump & Pantry until his participation in basketball caused a conflict. He will be looking for a job again, after the cage season has passed. Tim finds basketball takes up most of his free time at the moment. The middle child in a family of seven, Tim has lived in Chelsea since 1964. He is the son of Mrs. Howard Treado, Jr. and the late Mr. Treado.

Grocer Gets Smaller Share of Income

Does tightening the grocery budget top your list on New Year's resolutions? Keeping a close watch on food prices may not be as crucial as it appears, according to Michigan State University Consumer Marketing Specialist Maryann Beckman.

The average American family spent only 58 cents a week more at the grocery store in 1971 than the previous year, the specialist reports.

Grocery bills are higher each year, yet the proportion of a household's income going for food is smaller than it was 10 years ago—about three percent less of the family's after-tax income.

JV Wrestlers Win 3 Tournay Championships

Eleven Chelsea JV wrestlers took part in the Dexter JV tournament last Saturday, a contest that would have been staged at home if not for the strike. Chelsea claimed three championships, two seconds, two thirds and one fourth place finish.

Chelsea's first champion came at the 105-pound mark when Dave Clouse produced three straight wins. The second championship came with even greater style. Eric Pinzing and Tim Reed both won three matches and ended by facing each other in the finals of the 145-pound weight class. Tim defeated Eric by a close 4-2 score.

Chelsea's third golden boy was 155-pound Dennis Bauer. He won two matches before facing a South Lyon rival who had defeated him earlier in the season. Dennis, undaunted, came out on top, 6-5.

Kermit Sharp, wrestling as a heavyweight, claimed a second-place medal after losing in the finals on a decision. Coach Richard Bareis commented that although Kermit wrestled a much heavier wrestler, he put his opponent on his back in the third period and just missed a pin.

In the 119-pound division, Carmer Slocum and Bob Sawyer suffered early set backs, but fought their way up through consolation bouts. They faced each other for the third place title. Carmer topped Bob in a close match. Both men did well.

At 126, Dave Keiser scored a pin before losing. He rebounded in consolation matches to take a third-place medal.

Mark Pennington, another who lost his first match but made a comeback, won two competitions before being eliminated.

Coach Bareis expressed satisfaction with the results of the tournament. "With freshmen Clouse, Reed, Pinzing, and Bauer winning big, and the fine efforts exhibited by the upper classmen, we can expect fine things in the future," he said.

at the grocery store, such as health and beauty aids, housewares and other general merchandise.

The remainder is divided among coffee and tea, condiments such as catsup and pickle relish, soft drinks and other foods, the proportion of each ranging from 3 cents (for rice) to 55 cents (for coffee and tea).

Non-food items including soaps, household cleaning products such as brooms and ammonia, tobacco products and records often make up as much as 20 percent of the total grocery store tab, the specialist says.

Rep. Hal Ziegler Given Heavy Committee Load

State Representative H. W. Ziegler (R-Jackson) has received one of the heaviest committee work loads in the Michigan House of Representatives for the 1973-74 legislative session.

Ziegler was re-named to the committee on Election, Judiciary and Urban Affairs and was given an additional assignment to the Corporations and Finance Committee.

Committee assignments were announced by House Republican Leader Clifford H. Smart and House Speaker William Ryan.

Ziegler will serve again for the next two years as Republican vice-chairman of the Elections Committee which handles election procedures. The Judiciary Committee handles the largest number of bills of any House Committee and is primarily composed of lawyers. Ziegler is an attorney.

"Needless to say, I am pleased with my committee assignments. I have certainly enjoyed my work as vice-chairman of the Elections Committee and am pleased that the leadership has re-appointed me to this position."

Ziegler was one of the first members appointed to the Urban Affairs Committee when it was established during the 1969-70 legislature. He was recently elected to his fourth term in the Michigan House of Representatives representing the 23rd Legislative District.

New Legion Post Formed At Pinckney

A new American Legion post, No. 419, has been started in Pinckney, says George D. Johnson, state commander of the American Legion and organizer of the new post.

Post No. 419 was begun with 27 members, and has 43 more prospective members. Area servicemen who served honorably on active duty in the armed forces during World War I, World War II, the Korean and Vietnam wars, may become members of the organization.

The Rev. Henry L. Reinwald was elected as the post's first commander. The organization's next meeting will be Feb. 13 in Pinckney at the Dairy Dip, S. Howell and Main Sts.

5 of 10 Michigan Cars Less Than 3 Years Old

Lansing—Nearly seven out of 10 cars in Michigan are five years old or less and 27 percent of these are not more than three years old.

A vehicle survey turned out by the Michigan Department of State of Michigan's four million passenger vehicles revealed that most of the vehicles on the roads today are of fairly recent vintage.

The report, issued by Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, revealed that nearly 40,000 vehicles still in use are older cars from 1946-1959 models. Only 71 previous to 1946 models were still listed roadworthy.

The picture was nearly the same for commercial vehicles with 65 percent 1967-72 models and 25 percent less than three years old. Nearly 623,000 commercial vehicles were listed in the Department of State files.

Three Children Overcome By Fumes in Car

Three young children were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early the morning of Jan. 28 after the Dexter Fire Department answered a resuscitator call.

The children were riding in the rear of their parents' car, driving along Dexter-Pinckney Rd., at approximately 2:15 a.m. A fire Department spokesman says that the children apparently became delirious from exhaust fumes and two of them blacked out.

The parents stopped the vehicle and began knocking at doors along the way to seek aid. David Daniels, 5721 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., called the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, which in turn contacted the Dexter Fire Department.

Fontana ambulance took the children to the hospital where they were admitted for observation. The name of the family is not known, although they are not believed to be from this area.

Mormons Start Mission Work In Local Area

Two young Mormon missionaries, under direction of Donald Pierson of Jerusalem Rd., arrived this week to establish a branch of the Church of the Latter Day Saints here in Chelsea. Elder Charles Castleberry, of Harrisburg, Ore., and Elder James Wilson of Driggs, Ida., are the first missionaries to take up residency in Chelsea.

Their mission work will take them door to door in hopes of involving residents in a Family Home Evening program. The practice of planning a family night home together once a week has been observed in the Mormon church since 1913.

Elder Castleberry cites the low divorce rate and the high level of education among Mormon church members as results of the close family relationship fostered by the church. He suggests that the practice of family home evenings can combat the "dreadful" American statistic: American fathers spend less than five minutes a week with each child in their family.

The missionaries will also be urging Chelsea citizens to attend Sunday school at the Jackson ward on Sunday mornings. They will be holding sacrament meetings Sunday evenings here in Chelsea, but the time and place have yet to be confirmed.

Castleberry and Wilson are among thousands of young Mormon men who spend two years as missionaries of their church.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Marketing Information Specialist

Quality Michigan potatoes were mentioned recently as a bargain for smart shoppers. Another good buy is Michigan navy beans. Like Michigan potatoes, Michigan navy beans are an extender for the limited budget and a basic for hearty appetites. They, too, may be prepared in a multitude of ways and served as either a main or side dish.

Ninety-nine percent of all the navy (pea) beans harvested in the United States comes from Michigan. Production is centered in the Saginaw Valley-Thumb area on 590,000 acres of rich, fertile soil. Michigan navy beans are shipped around the globe to Africa, South America, the United Kingdom, Australia, Europe and Asia.

Nutritionists say Michigan navy beans are super-rich in calcium, iron, phosphorus and the B vitamins. They're high in protein and low in fat content. In other words, they help build strong teeth, bones, red blood, body energy and muscle.

When cooking dried navy beans, do not add salt until beans are nearly tender. According to food experts, condiments and acids, such as tomatoes, tend to prolong cooking time.

STEVE SHEPHERD, a senior at Chelsea High, hauled in a big one, last Thursday, while fishing in the Waterloo Recreation Area. The 16-pound, 8-ounce northern pike didn't come easy. After the battle, the 100-lb. test line broke just as Steve was pulling his prize through the hole in the ice. He reached down and grabbed his prize just in time. The 41-inch long fish may be the largest pike caught in southern Michigan. Steve's not telling which lake housed his catch. He's not the kind to divulge trade secrets. The king fisherman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Shepherd of 133340 Trist Rd.

Snowmobile Safety Awards Given to 22

During January, the Inverness Snowmobile Club held a successful pot-luck supper and awards ceremony. Twenty-two Snowmobile Safety Certificates were awarded to youngsters, between the ages of 12 and 16, for successful completion of the snowmobile safety course. The course is approved by the Department of Natural Resources. Along with the certificate, each youngster was given a DNR Safety Patch.

The children earned the certificate by attending hours of classroom instruction on the Michigan snowmobile law, safety in snowmobiling, first aid, trouble shooting, minor repair and the major components of the machine. The course was conducted by Tom Hinderleider and Merritt Honbaum.

Also during the meeting, the members discussed House Bill 1155 which has been recently signed by Governor Milliken. The members were interested in the safety aspects of the bill.

The club voted to send two delegates to the legislative Safari, Feb. 10, at Whiskey Creek. This safari is sponsored by Michigan International Snowmobile Association for state senators and representatives and their families in order to better acquaint them with snowmobiles and snowmobilers.

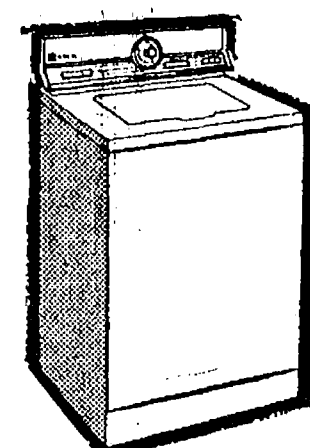

Plans were finalized for the club's snowmobile safari to Kalkaska Feb. 17-18, the emphasis again being placed on safety and equipment. Another safari to Lewiston is being planned for March 17-18.

President Ralph Brier discussed the possibility of sponsoring a "Cystic Fibrosis 50-mile Snowmobile run for life" in the Chelsea area. With drivers paying a minimum of 20 cents a mile over the 50 miles of course, a contribution could be given to benefit 100 damaged children. The idea will come up again at the Feb. 3 meeting. It was tabled for lack of snow.

Four Area Churches Begin School of Religion Classes

An effort of four rural churches in the Freedom township area has yielded a four week program called "School of Religion." This is one of several Key 73 events which have been spreading a missionary message through the community.

The "school" will be held every Tuesday, throughout February. It offers four separate lessons: "A study in the Gospel of Luke," taught by Pastor Roman Reineck; "A Study in the Book of Acts (Mission Methods: St. Paul's or Ours)," taught by Pastor Daniel Mattson; "The Holy Spirit in the Life of the Believer," taught by Pastor Dennis Falk; "My Christian Heritage," taught by Pastor John Morris; and "Youth and Christ: Getting Acquainted," taught by a layman, Earl Klager.

All sessions will be held at the Bethel United Church of Christ, on Bethel Church Rd.

The courses are being offered without a fee. Participants are asked to choose one class, and attend it throughout the month. The sessions will last approximately one hour with time for fellowship and discussion.

The courses will be given again at a later date, allowing those who are attracted to two topics to have their cake and eat it too. The purpose of the School of Religion is to involve people in studies of the word of God. The means of understanding the ways scriptures will be studied as a of Christ as a key for all of life. The classes are open to all adults and young people of high school age. Although all classes are open to everyone, the Youth and Christ course is especially designed for the younger participants.

Congregations sponsoring this four-week school are: Bethel United Church of Christ, Schneider and Bethel Church Rds.; St. John's Lutheran church, Bridgewater; St. Thomas Lutheran church, West Ellsworth Rd.; and Zion Lutheran church on the corner of Fletcher and Waters Rds.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME: Self-assured and friendly Robert Rilloraza has acclimated himself to everything about America, except the weather. In his native Philippines, temperatures rarely dip below 67 degrees. He has taken refuge in the warmth of the Steinaway family, which took him in Dec. 4, after his first Youth for Understanding home in Iowa proved less than satisfactory. Here, Robert is seated at the Steinaway table with his new YFU parents, Ann, on his left, and Art on his right. Behind, from left stand his "brothers," Kirk, Kris and Mark.

JV Cagers Win One But Lose Twice

Chelsea's JV basketball squad has been on a see-saw for the last three games: a loss, a win, a loss. They travel to Lincoln, tomorrow, and o Brighton the next night in an attempt to go on he high side again.

The first game of the series was played Jan. 19, against mighty Milan. Chelsea lost by 12 after starting the game with a lead. They let it slip away, and then rallied, tying the contest at 35-35. Milan was nosing ahead by the end of the third quarter, 46-35, and remained there through the final bell. The game ended with a 59-47 defeat for the Bulldogs.

Paul Wood and Dave Alber were tied for high scorer. They both made 13 points. Jack Hackworth supported their effort with 10 of his own. Paul Wood was also active as a rebounder, and led that department.

The following evening, Chelsea's JV's sunk the Flying Dutchmen, 69-49. With their excellent defense on display, especially in the flashy third quarter, Chelsea had the game all the way.

Paul Wood was again the leading rebounder while trailing Dave Alber by two points in the high scorer category. Alber made 19 points. Cary Wonders put in 12. The Manchester win put Chelsea's season at 5-6. The hopes of balancing the wins and losses diminished when Saline squeaked by to a 65-62 victory, last Friday night.

The closely fought contest on Chelsea's home court featured fine marksmanship from both sides. Chelsea made 51 percent of its attempts from the floor, while splitting the net 75 percent from the foul line.

Saline was less accurate from the floor, making 42 percent. The Hornets' sting came during those quiet moments around the key hole. From that vantage point, they made 92 percent of their shots.

Dave Alber led Chelsea's charge by scoring 27 blue and gold points. Jack Hackworth was next in line with 12. Paul Wood shot for 11. He was also on the ball 17 times as it came off the backboard. Dave Alber followed with 12.

The JV's face a week-end of competition. They enter battle tomorrow with a 5-7 season record.

Two Chelsea Students Named to Honor Lists

Janet Boylan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boylan, of 245 Park St., has been placed on the Dean's List at Western Michigan University. She received the honor for maintaining a grade point average above 3.5. Her average is 3.61.

A junior at Western, Janet is majoring in business administration. She graduated from Chelsea High in 1970.

Another Dean's List student is Bruce Clark at Lake Superior State College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Clark, 13334 Noah Rd. He graduated from Chelsea High school with the class of 1971. He maintains a 3.71 average at the Sault Ste. Marie campus.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1973

Philippine Exchange Student Likes Chelsea...Except Snow

"I've never heard of teachers striking. In my country, it's the students who go on strike." Those are the words of Robert Rilloraza, Chelsea's new exchange student from the Philippines.

Robert, for one, is amazed by all the holidays. "Although I've been here since Dec. 4, I haven't been at school much." The ice days, Christmas vacation and the strike kept him at home with his Chelsea family, the Art Steinaways.

Chelsea's erratic school schedule has been only one of several hitches in Robert's visit to America. He left Manila Aug. 26, with 760 other Philippines on their way to the U. S. as Youth for Understanding (YFU) students. They touched down in Detroit 24 hours later. Robert was then told he was to fly on to Chicago; Dubuque, Ia., was his destination.

Robert was impressed with the states from the first, "the people are great," but he was less than satisfied with his first YFU home. "My Iowa father was 60, and my mother was 60-plus." Even though he was happy at school, busy trying out for basketball, Robert decided to ask for a transfer.

The request brought him back to Detroit, YFU headquarters, and then to Dexter where he was housed with Mrs. Barbara Parker, a YFU representative. After a month, a home was found with the Steinaways.

The detours and delays have not daunted the self-assured traveler. He has started making a new group of American friends here.

While here, Robert has watched the distressing political events in his country. He shakes his head and says, "My country is in a mess." While unsympathetic to the attack on the wife of Philippine President Marcos, Robert was not surprised by it. "The people are discontented with what he has done."

"Marcos campaigned on the idea of 'cleaning up the country' but now he spends his time on socials, parties, name it," says Robert. "The only thing he did in 1972 was build a free hospital."

Robert points out that in all the years of Philippine democracy, Marcos was the only president to be elected to a second term. Now it appears there will not be any more elections, at least for the time being. "He's ruthless, there no doubt of it," concludes the youth.

Robert's mother, Josephina, a father, Jose Conrado Prospero, have not been effected by the martial law that has descended on the land, but if it lasts, it may restrict their plans. Robert's older brother, Raphael, hopes to come to America with the business firm, but under the present rules, according to Robert, travel is prohibited.

"Raffy was going to come to America this year, but then I got the chance to go, so he stayed." There is a Philippine superstition that it is bad luck to have two family members go away at the same time.

"I'm not superstitious, but my parents are," says Robert. The tranquility of Chelsea life offers a sharp contrast to the bustle of downtown Manila, Robert's life-long home. There 3 1/2 million people huddle together in the sweltering heat.

"You never see fat people there," says Robert, "because they sweat it all off. I've never seen so many fat people as I have here in America. I think it is because of the weather."

The weather has made an impression on the boy from the tropics. "The first time I saw snow, I thought it was beautiful, but after a week, I got sick of it. Even now I sleep with three sweaters on," he says. "If it gets colder, I don't think I can handle it."

The food in the U. S. offers another new experience for Robert. "Philippino and American food each have different tastes. I'd say the American is a little flat. Philippino food is very spicy," he says. He's enthusiastic about American meat, however. "It's fantastic. We don't have good meat at home because of the weather again. The cows can't get fat. They sweat it off."

But the Philippine markets do abound with fresh fruit and vegetables of all description, and "fish so fresh that the shrimp are still jumping."

The Michigan countryside has little in common with the wilds of the Philippines. The farm lands are inhabited with natives who still eat with their hands and coconut bowls, according to Robert. The jungles seethe with tribal wars. "The government has tried to offer them civilization, but they don't want it," says Robert.

To visit the jungles, one must drive seven hours from the city and then attack the tangle with a rover or heavy Jeep.

"If the Philippines were a person, Manila would be the heart," says Robert. His family lives in the heart of the heart. Their home is apparently like many American homes, except it is only a block from the hectic commerce along Quezon Blvd. Within walking distance are theaters, markets, banks, and schools. That is a convenience for Robert since he cannot drive in the Philippines until the age of 21.

Robert would be in his final year at a Catholic boys school, had he stayed at home. There are no public schools in the country, and none of the schools are co-educational. Yet most of Robert's contemporaries remain in school until they are 21. "In America you can get any old job, maybe at a gas station, when you are young, but in the Philippines, you can never get a job until you are 21. So if you don't go to school, you have to sit at home."

Robert finds American youngsters much more independent than his schoolmates at home. "At the age of 18, we are almost always at home. We stay with our parents until we are 21. But here, kids split at 14 and 15!"

Robert does not necessarily envy that independence. "I think we should listen to our parents because they are there for our welfare, even if they do make mistakes," he says. He misses his family very much.

Robert exercises a kind of independence at home by living a life very much his own. While still a student, he became a licensed jockey.

It started several years ago when a horse, belonging to a friend, suddenly died. Robert "operated" on the animal, and discovered that the heart had exploded.

That experience sparked an interest in veterinary medicine, but he found he was too young at 16 to be admitted to any program. So he applied for jockey training instead.

He was accepted as an exercise boy which meant he was up riding from 4-9 a.m. every morning before school. Robert still helps with the exercising, but his big days are on week-ends when he rides in Manila's horse races. "You eat a lot of mud and get dirty, but it's fun." That and basketball are Robert's favorite sports.

Robert hasn't lost his desire to become a "vet." He hopes to go to the University of Iowa at Ames for his degree, but again, the political situation may influence his plans.

Robert's near-perfect English was first drilled into him by American Jesuit priests, when he was very young. One guesses that the hip phrases he uses now were picked up later. His family speaks a mix of English and Tagalog, the national tongue, at home.

Robert's father is one of 15 stockbrokers in the islands. The stocks he deals with sound familiar. They are the fruit of American investment since the war. Robert still can't believe he is in America. "Sometimes I wake up and think I'm in my bed at home." Perhaps, when June comes, and he has endured another 24-hour trip home, he'll think it was all a dream.

New Regulations Cover Bacon Packaging

New bacon packaging regulations will allow you to see what you're buying, reports Michigan State University Consumer Marketing Specialist Maryann Beckman.

Effective Feb. 19, the new law requires windowed bacon packages to expose at least 70 percent of the length of a representative strip of bacon. The window must also be at least 1 1/2 inches wide.

Consumer complaints about being unable to judge the quality of bacon before buying prompted the regulation, Mrs. Beckman says.

New Credit Card Plan Put in Effect

Palmer Ford has joined a Ford Motor Co. program that offers the first national credit card plan for dealership service customers. The plan makes credit card purchases at participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealerships available to anyone who holds any of five major cards—Master Charge, BankAmericard, American Express, Diners Club and Carte Blanche.

George Palmer, president of Palmer Ford, said under the program his dealership will honor all five credit cards for all parts and service transactions. "Credit card shopping has become a way of life with today's fast-moving consumers," Palmer stated. "About 40 percent of all U.S. families hold one or more of these five cards. Many people have come to expect this convenience from retailers—especially women who now are frequent service customers at our dealership."

The credit plan announcement falls under a continuing service improvement program launched last fall by Ford and its dealers. Its goal and theme, "No Unhappy Owners."

Lisa Wing, Vincent P. Stahl, Jr., Wed Saturday in Detroit Church

A wedding party, dressed in Victorian costumes, participated in the ceremony uniting Lisa Margaret Wing and Vincent Paul Stahl, Jr., at St. Suzanne Catholic church in Detroit, Friday.

The couple, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wing of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stahl of Pinckney, were pronounced man and wife by the Rev. Fr. Frederick at a 5:30 p.m. service. The vows were complemented by two songs, "Never my Love," and "Somewhere," sung by Mrs. Mary Harkless.

Both the bride and the bridegroom came down the aisle with their parents.

The bride wore a long white Victorian gown with a stand-up collar and a bustle back decorated with ruffles. Lace trimmed the bodice, long mutton sleeves and the headpiece securing a long veil. White rose buds were her flowers.

The bridesmaid, costumed in shades of rose and blue, wore a similar Victorian design. The junior bridesmaid, Tracy Wing, sister of the bride, wore a plaid dress in the same shades of rose and blue.

The bridesmaids were Linda Schmitz, Colleen Roa, and Lynn Anderson. The latter two are cousins of the bride. Sueane Schmitz was maid of honor.

Best man Richard Stahl was joined by groomsmen Jerry Picklesimer, Brad McGibney, Wayne Stahl and Bill Stahl, brothers of the bridegroom.

Mitch and Gavin Wing, brothers of the bride, helped usher guests to their seats.

Mrs. Wing, in a long-sleeved chiton dress with blue accessories, and Mrs. Stahl, Sr., in a brown flowered dress, both wore roses.

The reception was at Mercy College ballroom.

Following a honeymoon in Europe, the newly-wed couple will settle at 9437 Lakeview Dr., Pinckney. They both work at Patterson Lake Products.

If you think eggs taste different for mankind, report Marketing division officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say one reason for the flavor change is the difference in the hen's environment and diet. Laying flocks do not have access to feeds which cause strong flavors, and eggs are gathered frequently so their porous shells do not absorb odors from the environment.

Air Force Academy Information Offered High School Students

High school students interested in attending the Air Force Academy should prepare in advance for the entrance competition, said Capt. James Love of Whitmore Lake.

Capt. Love advises students to contact him for information about Academy preparation and admission. He will help students plan their high school courses and extracurricular activities so that they can improve their chances to qualify on the entrance exams.

Mathematics and English are vitally important to provide a background for the college testing programs. The Academy requires that candidates take either the College Board Admissions Testing Program (ATP) or the American College Testing Program (ACT).

A student will find it helpful to take the ATP or ACT during his junior year in high school. By determining his strong and weak points, he can undoubtedly score higher when he takes the tests again during his senior year.

Capt. Love is available to talk with high school students, their parents and school counselors. He may be contacted at 8680 Scully Rd., Whitmore Lake 48189, phone 426-4307.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larresjine Tripp Marketing Information Specialist

Fresh Michigan eggs are one of the best food buys for consumers. Be certain several dozen are included on your shopping list every week. Eggs are definitely a great protein buy and supplies are plentiful, according to marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Nutritionists say the plain hardcooked egg can't be overemphasized as a good snack food. Children should be encouraged to eat an egg or two between meals instead of sweets to increase their daily intake of iron, vitamins A and B2. At about 60 cents a dozen, one egg costs only five cents. No other snack food with the same nutritional value can be purchased so cheaply.

To use eggs frequently, hardcook a dozen at a time and place in a bowl in the refrigerator. Then you'll have them on hand for sandwiches, salads, and other dishes.

Omelets make delightful late night suppers or impromptu lunch-dishes. A plain omelet may be seasoned by adding your favorite herbs. For a mushroom omelet, saute Michigan mushrooms in butter or margarine and fold into egg mixture. Or, serve a last-minute dessert by adding preserves and brandy to the egg mixture.

Michigan cheeses, green or red bell peppers and tomatoes are other variations you may use.

The rule of thumb for cooking eggs is to prepare them over low or moderate heat. Remember, eggs are delicate. When cooked over high heat, they lose their flavor and are difficult to digest.

Girl Scout Hikers Club Plans Year's Activities

Local junior and senior high school Girl Scouts interested in hiking attended a meeting Saturday, Jan. 13, at Bethlehem United Church of Christ, 423 S. Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. At the meeting, the scouts planned the 1973 schedule of hiking trips to be taken by Huron Valley Hikers Club, an interest group of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Since 1964, hiking Girl Scouts have gone on 10 or 11 trips in year, ranging from day hikes at Camp Linden in Livingston county to two-week back-packing trips in Vermont, Colorado, Maine or northern Michigan.

The entire program is planned and carried out by the 30 to 40 members, with adults providing only transportation and assistance, notes advisor Mrs. Bernard Schmid of 372 S. Maple Rd., Ann Arbor. Other adults involved are advisor, Chuck Taylor of 2924 Evergreen, Flat Rock, and Miss Pat Collier of Redwood St., Ypsilanti.

At the Jan. 13 meeting girls showed slides of last year's trips, which included a week-end at Ousabache Park near Bluffton, Ind.; at the northern Bruce Trail near Tobermory, Ontario; as well as a Shakedown Hike at Tar Hollow State Park, south of Columbus, O. The Shakedown Hike is required for new back-packers planning to take the summer two-week trip.

Last year's two-week trip took the Girl Scouts to the northern Long Trail in the Green Mountains of Vermont. During this hike the group was completely self-sustained for a period of more than five days.

Cost for the two-week trip was $36 to cover food, camp fees and gas and oil for transporting cars, Mrs. Schmid reports. For shorter trips, girls organize into small groups to provide their own food, and thus pay only transportation and camp fees. The Hikers Club has no dues.

Girls wishing further information may call Mrs. Schmid in Ann Arbor at 665-8773, or Mr. Taylor in Flat Rock at 782-2291.

Not All Widows Will Receive Hike In Social Security

Most — but not all — widows will receive an increase in their Social Security checks due on Saturday, Feb. 3, according to Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of the Social Security office in Ann Arbor. When the law providing for increases to widows was enacted last fall, early press releases left the impression that all widows would receive 100 percent of the amount their husbands had received or would be receiving if alive. However, Kehoe said, whether you receive an increase, and the amount of the increase, is determined by two factors: (1) your age at the time you began receiving widow's benefits, and (2) your husband's age at the time he started receiving benefits (if he had been drawing prior to his death).

The only widows who will receive 100 percent of their husband's amount will be in those cases where neither she nor he drew anything prior to age 65. If either the widow or her husband had drawn checks prior to age 65, the increase will be less, and in some cases none at all.

Social Security Administration figures estimate that only about 38 percent of the ladies receiving a widow's benefits will get the full 100 percent of their husband's amount. 51 percent of widows will receive some increase, and about 11 percent of the widows will receive no increase at all. Kehoe pointed out that this last 11 percent are receiving minimum benefits of about $84.50 per month and are already receiving 100 percent.

All women who are widows but receive Social Security checks on their own work records should contact a Social Security office to see if they would be due an increase under the new law. Even if these ladies were once advised that their own benefit was higher than a widow's payment, the reverse may now be true under the new law. There is no automatic way to identify these women, Kehoe stated, so they should contact a Social Security office to file an application.

Tips on Milk House Drains

Milk house drains should be big and not always underfoot.

Too many dairymen are installing small, six-inch or seven-inch bell seal basement drains in new milk houses and milking parlors. (These are not permitted in milk handling facilities, and they are so small that they clog easily.)

"Drains should be large — 9 inches by 12 inches or more — and they should be deep water seal types," reports James Boyd, Michigan State University agricultural engineer. "If they are located near a wall or a corner, the wash water can be cornered rather than washing back and forth over the drain."

Floors should slope at least one-fourth inch per foot to the drain, says Boyd. One-half inch per foot will eliminate puddling.

"Do not locate drains under the bulk tank or under the outlet valve of the bulk tank," reminds Boyd.

Int he milking pit, locate the drains on the sides under the curbs, he says. This means that the pit floor is sloping to the cow platform. Advantage: the drain is not in the center, so the milker doesn't have to walk in water.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts Feb. 9

Starting Feb. 9, 6,509 Girl Scouts in Washtenaw, Livingston, western, Wayne and northern Monroe counties will be knocking o doors seeking to sell 250,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies. The announcement came from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council today.

This year for the first time the Scouts will offer larger boxes, containing double or nearly double the number of cookies as in previous years.

The price for the larger boxes has also doubled, going from 50 cents to $1. All previous flavors will again be offered in order of their popularity, most popular Mints, Savannahs, Chocolate and Vanilla Cremes, Fudge Creme and Scot-Teas. The Girl Scout cookies are made by Burry Biscuit Co., a division of the Quaker Oats Co., of Chicago, Ill.

Troop profits from the sale of the larger boxes will triple, going from 5 cents in past years to 15 cents per box this year. The portion of profit going to the Council will double to 38 cents per box.

Cookie money is vital to the operation of both the troops and the Council, according to Council President Mrs. James A. Kennedy. Troops use the money to finance service projects, such as purchasing specialized equipment for hospitalized children or elderly patients, or for providing camping equipment for their troop use.

Council cookie funds go to pay for camp scholarships, for the purchase of equipment and reference materials used by troop leaders, and for improving the Council's three camps, Camp Linden in Livingston county, Camp Hilltop in Ann Arbor and Camp Crawford near Ypsilanti.

The Junior, Cadette and Senior Scouts (Brownies) do not take part in the cookie sale) will take orders for cookies from Feb. 9 to Feb. 25, and will deliver cookies March 27 to April 9.

Chairman of the 1973 cookie sale is Mrs. Jack Hagopian of Plymouth, serving her fourth year in this volunteer position. Assisting her will be 23 area chairmen, four of which are in the area: Mrs. Emmett Ulrich of Dexter; Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite of Chelsea; Mrs. James Kensler of Manchester; and Mrs. Thelma Elm of Pinckney.

Prospective parents with a family history of certain hereditary diseases can learn their chances of having healthy children through genetic counseling. Many March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers offer counseling or referral to genetic services.

St. Louis School Notes

St. Louis' school boys and staff have a busy week in store. This Saturday they will take a tour of the FBI building in Detroit, an outing arranged by Mr. Balogh, father of one of the boys. They will also be visiting the Grass Lake post office some time during the week.

While industrial noise — and the serious hearing losses it can cause among workers — is currently receiving wide attention the problem is not new. Hearing specialists point out that almost 100 years ago the medical profession started to take notice of hearing impairments suffered by boilermakers who worked in excessively noisy environments.

Eggs are not only an inexpensive versatile food but one of the most nearly perfect protein foods for mankind, report Marketing Division officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Burglars Take $5,000 Loot at Lake Home

Burglars who broke into a Dexter township home fled with almost $5,000 worth of property including three television sets and eight guns, sheriff's deputies reported Monday.

Entry to the James Nicewander residence at 8890 Base Lake Dr. was gained by cutting a screen on a door and then breaking glass in a second door, deputies said.

The house is located north of Dexter near the Livingston County line and close to the Dexter-Webster township line.

The prowlers methodically looted rooms in the house, carrying out the three television sets worth a total of $1,175. Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The public schools' attempt to keep pace with the technological revolution of industry is proceeding remarkably well. Industries, in order to increase profits, must increase production. Increasing production requires assembly-line efficiency. Efficiency entails a reverence for minute divisions of labor. The outcome is a product which is competitive.

Industry has been progressively successful in perfecting its hardware; but the progress has not been without considerable cost to human dignity. The daily routine of performing the same operation over and over for 30 years has dulled the creativity, resourcefulness, and self-respect of all men engaged in such labor. The status of industrial products has exceeded that of man to the degree that man is a pawn subject to whatever manipulations offer a promise of higher profits.

A logical extension of the phenomenon of division of labor has just been vigorously debated between Chelsea's Board of Education and the Chelsea Education Association. The Board wanted to divide the teachers' labor by eight instead of seven. The Board, in turn, was also dividing the child's labor by eight instead of seven. Unfortunately, both sides have missed the essence of the malady. The issue is not whether to divide the school day into seven or eight equal segments so that the teachers earn their pay, teach a certain number of minutes per day, and generally fulfill the public's expectations. The issue has to do with how current scheduling practices affect children. If the role of the school is to reflect the biases of larger society, then Chelsea's negotiating teams have performed admirably. If the school is to be a model of unity, however, then the needs of teachers, administrators, and school board members must submit to a philosophy of education that recognizes as its first priority the needs of children.

To the Editor:

With the advent of the New Year, the citizens of Washtenaw county will be represented by a Board of Commissioners that they chose in the elections of 1972. This board is dominated, for the first time in history, by representatives of the Democratic party. Their first handling of important matters compel every resident of this county to be alerted to the changes which they propose.

At the organizational meeting on Jan. 2, the Democratic faction presented a complete organizational change for County Administration and adjusted the 1973 budget to support these changes. The long standing professional employees of employment: 1) County Administrator, 2) The Three Man Board of Auditors, 3) Budget Officer, 4) Administrative Assistant (Personnel Officer).

In return, they propose to create an Administrative Organization headed by a 1) Controller, supported by an 2) Executive Secretary, and an 3) Assistant Controller, and such other personnel as they deem necessary.

This, according to leading legal authority, is unconstitutional under the state law for a county government of our type without the vote of the people. However, they forged ahead with their leadership stating that it is legal in-so-far as they are concerned. This is one small example of the early unawareness and reticentness they (the Democratic Majority) seem to adhere to.

In revising the over-all budget for 1973, the dominant faction has proposed to delete a sizeable amount from the total. In so doing, they have eliminated 11 existing positions and cut the operating budgets of several departments to the point that services will be slowed and less efficient. This action causes concern and discontent within the County Building, which already has resulted in serious morale problems throughout the system.

In addition to this, they have proposed to hire a full-time Corporate Counsel for the Board at $23,000 annually, as well as assistants and office personnel to back up this position. In my opinion, this operation will cost close to $100,000 annually, if implemented. Previously this work has been a part of the county prosecutor's office, and that office has never requested relief from this assignment.

The same proposed budget proposes to remove, effective July 1, $140,000 from the Sheriff Department for road patrol. This is a drastic step against all rural townships. It also would seem only logical that if the townships do not have security, that the safety of the cities would be endangered. The dominant faction claims new legislation will enable the townships to use "road monies" for patrol and that they will be explaining this in detail later in the year.

As the Commissioner from your area, I pledge to continue to be alert and to vote for the needs and protection of our people. You will continue to be actively represented, and reports such as this will continue. Your comments and support are welcomed and needed.

Jay L. Bradbury,
County Commissioner.

To the Honorable Teachers Association of Chelsea Public Schools:

What I would like to know is how many of your teachers had their arm twisted to take up the teaching profession? Also how many of the male teachers took up his profession to prevent being drafted? If the working conditions in Chelsea are so bad I would suggest you leave Chelsea and find another place where you can find peace in the sky.

Dear Editor,

Two years ago I wrote a letter to The Standard explaining that I was going to be refusing induction into the army because of my strong beliefs against all war and especially against the murderous war in Vietnam. At that time my family and I were surprised and grateful for the many people (some vets and families of vets) who expressed support and agreement in one way or another.

On Feb. 6, I am going to be tried for this "crime" and I want to invite anyone who is interested to join us in court at 9:30 a.m., Rm. 737, Federal Building, Detroit. Because court times are sometimes changed at the last minute, it might be a good idea to confirm the time if you would like to attend.

Rather than having a lawyer present a complicated technical defense, I will be defending myself and calling a few friends as witnesses in the hope that in this way we will be able to speak about the real issues of the trial directly and simply.

In a way it seems strange to be going on trial a week after the War has been declared over, but I guess the continued prosecution of war resisters points out the phoniness of this "peace." Of course, we can all rejoice that the bombing of Vietnam has ended at last (and with it the 300 deaths per day) and that POW's will be released, but how can we call it "peace" when the government says it may continue bombing Cambodia and Laos, and when we have over 1,000 military bases and tens of thousands of troops all over the world, and when young men are still required to register for the draft?

That is not what the word "peace" used to mean.

One thing that I want to make clear is that my refusal to go into the army is not a personal criticism of others who have made other choices. I don't doubt the sincerity of the many good people who feel that the best way of bringing peace is to support the government's foreign policy, but I do strongly disagree with that opinion.

Although I am sure I will be feeling a lot of fear on trial day, it should not be a day to feel sadness but rather a day to feel hope that by speaking as clearly and simply as possible in court, some small impact may be made on jury members and others.

4-H Offering Toastmasters Youth Program

Area 4-H'ers are invited to participate in the Toastmasters Youth Leadership Program.

The program, which is offered through 4-H, is designed to "Develop the latent talents of promising young people, helping them to become participants instead of detached dreamers or delinquents."

The program, which is a modification of Toastmasters International's adult program, aims at teaching its participants how to think for themselves, to analyze the ideas of others, to express their ideas through effective public speaking, to organize and conduct group meetings, and to lead others.

Membership in classes is limited to 25 persons, led by a group coordinator and two assistant coordinators. However, meetings will largely be conducted by the participants themselves.

Area sessions will be held Feb. 10 and 11 at a weekend retreat at Camp McGregor in Jackson county, and Feb. 15, 22, March 1 and 8 at Ann Arbor City Hall. Leaders for the program will be Toastmasters Gene Dietz and Dale Davis and 4-H leader Mrs. Mavis Green.

There is no cost for tuition or materials. However, there is a charge of $2 for lodging and food on the week-end retreat. This should be paid to the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service by Friday, Feb. 9.

Interested persons may contact Joani DeGrand or Duncan Sanford at 663-7511, ext. 227.

HEARING ESSENTIAL

While people are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of having normal hearing ability, the need to hear is as old as mankind. The earliest men were dependent upon their hearing ability for survival — and today man is dependent upon that ability in order to live a normal life, advises hearing specialists.

What is not what the word "peace" used to mean.

1920 BASKETBALL TEAM: 1920 was the year that Woodrow Wilson and Warren G. Harding were elected president and vice-president of the United States. 1920 was also the year the Chelsea High school boys' basketball team compiled a seven-win one-loss record, which one writer attributed to the fact that "they have showed considerable improvement since playing on a larger and better floor." Shown here are the eight members of the team, and their coach. Front row (left to right) L. Unfavorable weather during the normal harvest season for corn and soybeans caused thousands of policyholders to report probable losses to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, according to Earl Wilson, service director for this area.

When the weather cleared in January for a few days, many farmers were able to complete harvesting by virtually staying in the fields around the clock.

Wilson stated that policyholders who had reported a probable loss earlier should again notify the local FCIC office and report the production when harvest of an insured crop is completed. If a loss occurred, the policyholder will then be contacted by an adjuster. If the production exceeds the policy guarantee, the 1972 records can be clear and the corporation can then concentrate on those cases which need further attention.

Wilson also emphasized that Feb. 1, is the final date for notification of loss to 1972 corn and soybean crops for policyholders who have not yet given notice to the corporation. The Federal Crop Insurance Corp. is an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture. Protection is provided against all natural causes of loss on farm crops.

The county office, located at Route 5, W. Chicago Rd., Coldwater 49036, branches the following counties: Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Clinton, Eaton, Hillsdale, Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lenawee, Livingston Monroe St. Joseph and Washtenaw.
