

Proposed Mill Creek Park Hit Hard Before Legislators

HCMA got raked over the coals from many different angles," said Allen Dines upon his return, Tuesday, from the Mill Creek Park hearing in Lansing. Opponents of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority's proposed project in Lima township had a heyday.

Allen Dines, administrative assistant for planning and recreation in the township, reports that the hearing, sponsored by Senator Gil Bursley and Representative Hal Ziegler, was very well attended. The meeting room on the fourth floor of the capital building was soon filled to overflowing, so the assembly moved into the House Chambers. There, the speeches could be piped into the offices of all state representatives.

The large number of Lima residents, who had made the trip, were joined by nearly 10 state representatives, mostly from the Detroit area. Senator Bursley was the only senator present. Senator Coleman Young, who has expressed interest in the issue but already had an appointment, sent an aide.

David O. Laidlaw, director of HCMA, opened the hearing with reasons for wanting the Mill Creek Park and a description of its goals. Dines characterized the statement as "typically vague" in its suggestion that problems could be solved at a later date. "They could have given the same presentation a year ago," he says.

Then came the onslaught. Of the following speakers, only Bob Polens, assistant director of the Washtenaw County Planning Commission, supported the park proposal. Polens said that the planning commission had conducted an extensive examination of the project and had decided it would do no harm to the county as long as certain conditions, such as the construction of adequate highways, the preservation of historic sites and water quality, were met. Polens also expressed the commission's concern about the relocation of area residents.

Dines noted that one of Polens' arguments in favor of the park, namely, that it would be used by many people, including residents of the Toledo and Jackson area, did not impress many of the representatives present. Said Dines, "Detroit residents aren't thrilled to hear their money is going to someone else's use."

Dines reports that the commission seems satisfied with its evaluation of the situation, even though more information concerning the project's impact has been made available since the county made its decision.

Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) at one time agreed with the county, but made news, Tuesday, by changing its stand.

James Trainor, SEMCOG director, read a long statement which withdrew SEMCOG's support of the project after considering many of the arguments brought up by Lima residents in the past year. This is a reversal of SEMCOG's August 1972 recommendation for immediate funding of the park project.

The Department of Agriculture also opted against the park at the hearing. Dale Ball, director, lamented the loss of stable farm land. He cited figures that suggest Michigan cannot afford to reduce its area of farming land. The projected population for 1990 will need all of Michigan's present farm area for adequate food production, according to Ball.

Ball also stressed the Lima farm area is not in jeopardy of becoming suburbanized if the park does not "save" it. The suggestion that the park would protect the land from residential development is an argument used by park promoters.

Ball also expressed concern about the effects of drainage in the surrounding farm lands, if the park materializes. He summarized the Department's stance by suggesting more "appropriate land" could be found closer to the urban center.

The department's arguments were echoed by representatives from the Michigan State Farm Bureau, and the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau. Margaret Sias, Lima township resident, dubbed the Mill Creek project "the misplaced park."

Keith Boylan from the Chelsea Village Council was on hand to state the village's opposition to the plan. Boylan pointed out that the Village does not have adequate solid waste disposal facilities to handle a sudden influx of population and development. Nor does the village have plans to construct those facilities by the time the park "arrives," said Boylan.

Dave Czmanske, executive director of the Huron River Watershed Council, and Jerome K. Fulton, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner, both voiced resistance to the park. Czmanske suggested that a further study of the water quality in the area be completed before the park plan is allotted funds.

Czmanske's reservations and suggestion were seconded by representatives of the local Sierra Club, the Michigan Conservation Clubs, the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club and the Tri-county Sportsman Club.

The threat to water quality and the loss of farm land are two of the main concerns of the township according to Ed Coy, Lima township supervisor. He spoke of the Johnson, Johnson & Roy impact statement which predicted disastrous effects on the area if the park is authorized. "Essentially, the whole concept of Mill Creek Park is incompatible with the social and aesthetic character of the area for which it is proposed. To this date HCMA has made no attempt to address itself to these issues or to in any way modify the park design," said Coy.

Those at the hearing who were not opposed to the Mill Creek Park in particular, had a bone to pick with HCMA in general. Jon Aaronson from the Environmental Law Society, for example, urged that legislators take another look at HCMA enabling legislation. Aaronson said the law, passed in 1939, has been very worthwhile over the years, but that the social patterns and needs (Continued on page eight)

Teachers Still Seek Additions To Contract

The teachers contract remained in limbo this week. It was neither damned nor saved, and the teachers continued to work without it.

Negotiators from the CEA and the Chelsea Board of Education met, yesterday (Wednesday), in an attempt to rectify that situation by examining what was agreed upon Jan. 24. There is a difference of opinion as to what the tentative agreement consisted of.

The CEA is seeking advice from a Michigan Education Association attorney. The teachers are not sure what their options are, but they are convinced that the final draft is not the agreement that sent them back to work. They maintain that two crucial items, the 1973-74 calendar and the salary index, were omitted.

The calendar was the main topic at the Wednesday meeting since that was the only issue the board's negotiators were instructed to discuss. The teachers say that the tentative agreement had stipulated that they would have a say in deciding the calendar for next year's term.

The board maintains the contrary. In fact, it drew up and ratified a calendar at the school board meeting, Monday night.

The board's instructions excluded the OEA's other concern, the salary index which has been part of contracts since 1969, from the agenda.

The meeting was the first between the negotiators since the tentative agreement was drawn up Jan. 24. One was set for Feb. 14, only two days after the CEA membership chose not to take a ratification vote, but it was postponed when the CEA chief negotiator, Leonard Solomon, became ill.

There was a note of weariness in Coach Chuck Kelly's voice when he spoke of Friday night's battle with South Lyon. It was the same old story. "We outscored them from the field," he said, "but we've done that in six out of the last seven games we've played. And we've lost six out of those seven."

After another of those closely fought contests which have characterized Chelsea's cager season, the Bulldogs took the short end. South Lyon won, 62-57.

The first period concluded with a 13-13 deadlock, but South Lyon had edged out of that superstitious tie to a 29-28 lead by the half. "Our shot percentage was not very good," said Kelly, as he reviewed Chelsea's 11 completions out of 41 tries in the first half. South Lyon made 13 out of 29 in the same period of time.

"THIRD PLACE IS NOT FOR US" must have been the consensus among these Chelsea varsity grapplers before they stepped onto the mat at the league tournament Saturday. Dual competition had left them on the third rung, below undefeated Dexter on top, and South Lyon. Then they ramrodded their way to the tournament championship with 11 of their 12 men placing in the finals. That victory added enough points to tie Chelsea, South Lyon and Dexter for league championship. The champion squad consisted of, from left in front: Dale Schoenberg, 4th place; Darryl West and Tim Lancaster, each of whom took first place in his weight class; Dale Poertner, 4th; and John Beeman, 3rd. In the back, Sam Trachet, 3rd; Dennis Bauer, 2nd; Mike Agopian, 2nd; Steve Worden, 2nd; Don Bollinger, 3rd; and Ken Keiser. Not pictured is Mark Montange, another first-place winner.

Wrestlers Win Tournament To Share Title

"They did a bang-up job," was the reaction of a very pleased coach, Richard Bareis, after his varsity wrestlers wrapped up the league championship, Saturday, at the league tournament. They share the title with Dexter and South Lyon.

At the conclusion of dual competition a week ago, Dexter was undefeated. Their 7-0 record was worth 14 points in the league tally. South Lyon had accumulated 12 points, which was ample for the second-place position. Chelsea landed in third with 10 league points.

But the league tournament Saturday at Novi, was definitely Chelsea's. The Bulldogs' 10 1/2 points were not in the least threatened by South Lyon's 90 or Dexter's 80, 11 out of Chelsea's 12 participants placed in the finals.

First place in the tournament earned Chelsea 14 points, which hiked their point collection to 24 in over-all competition. South Lyon took another 12 points in second place, which left them with 24. Dexter's 10 points for third place added to their original 14 points to make another tying total. Thus each of the three teams were eligible for the league trophy.

The face-offs Saturday produced three league champions among the Bulldogs. Captains Mark Montange (112) and Tim Lancaster (128) lived up to expectations and took the top honors in their weight classes. They had been seeded first before stepping onto the mat.

Darryl West, a sophomore, was the other champ from Chelsea. He flattened all opponents in the 145-pound class.

Second-place Chelsea grapplers were Mike Agopian at 132, Dennis Bauer at 115, and Steve Worden in the heavyweight category. "Special credit goes to Dennis," says the coach. "He's a freshman who started varsity wrestling only two matches before the league tournament."

Another three from Chelsea earned third-place standing at the end of the meet. They were Sam Trachet, 105; John Beeman, 119; and Don Bollinger, 167.

Dale Schoenberg at 98 pounds, and Dale Poertner at 136 brought home fourth-place league honors.

Other schools participating in the league tournament were Dundee with 68 1/2 points; Milan, 29; Novi, 28; Saline, 19 1/2; and Lincoln, 8.

Chelsea grapplers are off to Districts at Dexter this coming Saturday. Most wrestlers will have a chance to wrestle twice. The exception are those who will grapple in the cattail matches which (Continued on page eight)

Cub Scout Mike Ward Earns District's 'Good Turn' Award

Cub Scout Pack 445 had many worthy cubs to honor at the Blue-Gold Banquet Saturday night, but it was Mike Ward, a member of Den 8, who earned the greatest recognition. He was presented with the Iroquois District Good Turn Award for saving his mother's life, Aug. 29.

When his mother was crushed under her horse in a riding accident, it was eight-year-old Mike who had the presence of mind to call his father on the phone and explain what had happened. Thanks to the boy's quick action, Mrs. Robert Ward was rushed to the hospital in time for surgeons to counteract the extensive kidney damage. Nine pints of blood and four hours of surgery later, she emerged as one of the 10 percent who survive those kind of internal injuries.

When the Iroquois District Committee read the statement by the chief surgeon of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital which said that the boy was responsible for saving Mrs. Ward's life, they decided Mike was indeed deserving of the award. He was the first in the district to so deserving in the award's three-year history.

Dave Bowbeer, area scout executive, explains that the district established the award to recognize outstanding deeds. The national Boy Scout organization has similar awards, but it takes nearly a year for applications to be processed. Bowbeer said the district believed recognition should come sooner.

"We called it the Good Turn Award because it's a general title to include all kinds of unusual and outstanding acts, both lifesaving deeds and others," said Bowbeer.

The second boy to receive the award will be honored this weekend. He was involved in an unsuccessful attempt to save his father's life when the man was struck down with a heart attack. The boy tried both artificial respiration and heart massage.

Mike and his family moved to Chelsea from Ann Arbor a year and a half ago. He is a fourth grader at North school. In addition to the Good Turn Award, he received a Bear Badge and an Gold Arrow at the awards night.

Drug Film Scheduled

Our Savior Lutheran church, 1515 S. Main St., Chelsea, is sponsoring a special showing of the movie "Art Linkletter Talks with Children" Saturday, Feb. 24, at the church. The movie, which concerns drug use and abuse, will begin at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

ALL-STAR BAND MEMBERS: Among the 222 high school musicians who have been named to the Lansing Conservatory of Music's Greater Michigan All-Star Bands are three Chelsea music-makers, from left, Pat Spencer, Bill Schafer and Duane Luick. They will travel to Sparta this week-end to practice and then perform with the 111-piece Class AA, A, B Band. The concert is Sunday in Sparta High school gymnasium at 3 p.m.

Chosen for All-Stars Band

Bill Schafer, Patricia Spencer and Duane Luick are among 222 high school musicians who have been named to the Lansing Conservatory of Music's 1973 twelfth annual Greater Michigan All-Stars Bands. They will join the other top musicians, coming from all over Michigan, to begin rehearsals at Sparta High school, Sparta, on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 24-25.

Seventy-five high schools will be represented. These students were selected from 5,392 originally considered for membership.

They will present a concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 25, in the Sparta High school gymnasium. The concert is open free to the public. Doors will open at 3.

Bill, on trombone, Patricia on clarinet and Duane on trumpet will participate in Class AA, A, B Band under Professor John Paynter, conductor of the Northwestern University Bands. It will be a 111-piece band made up of selected musicians from Michigan's Class AA, A, B high schools. Professor H. Robert Reynolds, conductor of the University of Wisconsin, will conduct the other 111-piece band (Continued on page three)

Sen. Bursley Will Address Local Planners

Senator Gil Bursley will be in Chelsea March 1, as a result of an invitation from Gordon Riethmiller, chairman of the Chelsea Area Regional Planning Committee, asked the senator to come before the group to speak on the Governor's Commission Report on Land Use.

The senator's talk will not only help to clarify the report, which affects planning in the area, but it will also allow residents to get acquainted with "their man in Lansing." The public is encouraged to attend.

The meeting will commence at 7:30 p.m., in Sylvan Town Hall. CARPC members hope a sizeable audience materializes to show Sen. Bursley appreciation of his visit.

Independent Party Selects Nominees

The Independent Party caucus selected a slate of seven nominees for the ballot in village elections this year. Loren Keizer will be running unopposed for the clerk's position as will Judson Goltra for the assessor's slot.

Nominees for the two-year trustees are Sam Johnson, Hal Pennington and Dr. Richard Borton.

Jean Eaton and James Sehardein will appear on the ballot as library trustees candidates.

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER, according to the Iroquois District of the Boy Scouts of America. Why should a boy who has performed an unusual and praise-worthy act have to wait a year before he is given his due credit? To avoid the long wait, the district established the Good Turn Award three years ago. Saturday at the Pack 445 Blue & Gold Banquet, Mike Ward, a Chelsea fourth grader, was the first scout to receive it. The cub, who also received a gold Arrow and his Bear Badge at the banquet, was instrumental in saving his mother's life last August when she suffered severe kidney injuries in a riding accident. Mike is shown here with his proud and grateful parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward and their dalmatian, Debbie. Mrs. Ward's horse, not shown, is still part of the family. "He's a stinker," says Mike.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

You never can tell what you're libel to run into at our sessions at the country store. For instance, Ed Doolittle opened the discussion Saturday night by reporting where this economist column writer had said what is wrong with this country is "occupational obsolescence, complicated by technological surplusage." I copied it from the clipping Ed brought, and I still ain't sure I got it down right.

Mister Editor, Ed saved a heap of questions by saying he had studied that condition up one side and down the other and the best he could figure is that it means the hurrier we go the behinder we get. We are making machines that speed up production and cut down on the number of people needed for the job, which is another way of saying we got to much technology for our own good.

Actual, the fellows still didn't know what to make of Ed's report. Clem Webster said as he was given to understand Ed's translation of what the economist said, he was disgraced. Clem said it's true that technology has caused some problems, but so has wim-men, and where would we be without both of em. What would farmers and ranchers do in this country if it weren't for all the technology that helps them do 20 times the work they could 50 year ago?

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Clem that it ain't the technology that is causing all the surplusage of trouble, it's how we use it. Cleaning up the water and air is a job that technology has got to have a big hand in, Zeke allowed, but first folks has got to make up their minds they want to stop messing up and start cleaning up. Zeke had saw where half the water treating plants in the cities is turning out water that ain't fit to drink because ever time they are fixed for removing one kind of industrial waste technology invents a new batch.

General speaking, broke in Clem, this country has a habit of using the wrong tool for the job. Clem said he had saw where we spend $1.40 a person to support the United Nations, and more than a $300 for every man, woman and child in America is used for national defense. If we could git these turned around, we might relive some return on our investments, was Clem's words. Clem said it ain't no wonder technology takes some crazy turns in this country.

The fellows put the stopper in the technology jug when Bug Hookum allowed we wasn't by ourselves. He recalled where Russia had a robot digging up moon soil to take home last month, and he figured they could of spent the technology a heap better trying to git the soil they got to grow wheat so they wouldn't buy up ours and raise the price of flour.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Livestock Banquet Set For Saturday

The annual Washtenaw County Livestock Banquet will be held Saturday, March 3, at Chelsea High school, with a swiss steak dinner, being served at 7:30 p.m.

The featured program will be presented by "Captain Stubby," who's real name is Tom Fouts. He will appear through the courtesy of Ralph McCalla Mobile Feeds and Allied Mills, makers of Wayne Livestock Feeds. Below is a run-down on "Captain Stubby."

"Captain Stubby is known to the livestock producers in the mid-west because of his radio programs, "Stubby and the Buccaneers," in the late '30's on WLW; from the "Captain Stubby Says" column that appears in the nation's oldest farm paper, "The Prairie Farmer"; numerous personal appearances at the Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin State Fairs; and the Don McNeill's Breakfast Club, just to mention a few. Paul Harvey, ABC News, has said "Captain Stubby is good, clean fun. Not since Will Rogers has our country enjoyed such a delightful court jester."

Captain Stubby was born on a farm in Carroll County, Ind. He got his name because his first performances were given from a piano bench and someone was continually hoisting him up on the bench. He now lives with his family on a 450-acre farm where he raises corn, soybean, and cattle. Success has never spoiled Captain Stubby. "He is the same whether he is talking to the president of a large corporation or hanging over the fence talking to a farmer about this year's crops. Perhaps this is why . . . the success."

Agricultural business is supporting the banquet and a drawing will be held at the end of the program for many items of merchandise.

The price of the tickets is up from last year, to $3.50 per ticket. They are available from: Herb Dibble, 663-0946, Ralph McCalla, 475-8153, John Brooks, 475-8214 or they may be obtained from the Cooperative Extension Service office.

Police Report Two Arrests During Week

Chelsea police officers were responsible for two arrests this week. The first was made on Valentine's Day, on a warrant issued by the Ann Arbor Police Department.

Patrolmen stopped Larry Douglas Adams at 10 o'clock Wednesday night because the 1968 Chevrolet van he was driving had only one functioning headlight.

A routine check with LIEN revealed that Adams was wanted by the Ann Arbor police for failing to appear in court. He had been summoned for an alleged traffic violation.

Adams was not ticketed for the faulty headlight because it was a borrowed car, police said. His bond was set at $35.

The second arrest occurred Saturday night when Patrolmen Roger Grayes and Robert Browning were called to intervene in an argument. They arrived at the scene of the disturbance, in the parking area behind Seitz's Tavern, about 7, Saturday night. Four individuals were involved. Three left peacefully when the police arrived.

The fourth, Rickey Eyskine, 19, of 111 W. Middle St., became more and more disorderly, according to police, until they were forced to put him under arrest.

Anniversary of Parish Hall To Be Observed Sunday

The congregation of Zion Lutheran church will celebrate the 24th anniversary of the completion of its parish hall Sunday. The festivities will include the annual Family Fun Nite and pot-luck dinner.

All church families, and those considering Zion as a new church home are invited. They are to bring table service, one hot dish and one cold dish to share.

The task isn't hopeless. There are still many more Michiganers who consider themselves Democrats than Republicans, and the labor forces in Michigan can still turn out quite a few votes on gubernatorial race in Michigan

Since 1960.

The task of trying to put things back together the way they were in the 1950's and early 1960's now goes to Morley Winograd, the new party chairman from Troy. Winograd saw close-up the effect busing had on party fortunes as chairman of Oakland county last year. Republicans had a field day in large part because of this issue.

They even captured a Congressional seat which had been all but conceded to the Democrats.

The task for Democrats is no easier because of the fact Republican Gov. William G. Milliken is expected to seek another term in 1974.

Milliken's standing in the polls has remained high through the past year, when he wasn't running for office. His support won't be hurt by the tax reduction proposal he presented to the legislature.

The Democrats also won't have the benefit of a popular figure like Sen. Philip A. Hart was in the 1970 election when he wallowed Lenore Romney by a 2-1 margin. Hart's coalition then almost carried State Sen. Sander Levin to victory over Milliken.

But Milliken will likely be alone atop the ticket in 1974 and that will help him.

What Winograd must do is figure out a way to get the old line labor forces, many of whom deserted the party in 1972, back into the party. He must do so without alienating the more liberal forces who stayed with the party last year and are suspicious of any moves which appear too conservative. The selection of Winograd's showed some of the party problems. He was handpicked by the United Auto Workers as their candidate, and the UAW is still by far the single most powerful force in the party. Yet he needed two ballots at the state convention and could only muster a few votes more than the 50 percent needed before his opponents moved to make it unanimous in the interests of party unity.

Winograd was booed by the party's youth caucus the night before his election and will have to convince that segment that he can work with them and is interested in them.

The task isn't hopeless. There are still many more Michiganers who consider themselves Democrats than Republicans, and the labor forces in Michigan can still turn out quite a few votes on

Real Estate Staff Completes Special Training Program

Gary Lillie, Don Slazinski, Bob Parker, and Ed Coy, the sales staff of the new Chelsea branch of Real Estate One, Weed Realty, Inc., have recently completed the one week Real Estate One Training Institute program in Detroit. This course of study, required of all Real Estate One salesmen, was held at the Holiday Inn on Ten Mile Rd. in Detroit from Jan. 15-19.

The study plan for the week included 33 smaller, separate "courses" which covered such topics as: Planning for Success, Real Estate Financing, Appraising, and Real Estate Law. There were also optional evening workshops covering the salesman's self-image and presentations of himself, and live demonstrations of various telephone techniques. These courses and workshops were conducted by a number of Real Estate One instructors who have had special experience in the areas they covered.

World Day of Prayer Set Friday, March 2 in Chelsea

The Chelsea unit of Church Women United will celebrate World Day of Prayer, the international celebration of faith and unity among Christian women, in Friday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m. Women in 188 countries will be praying around the theme "Alert in our Time."

The Chelsea group will gather at St. Barnabas Episcopal church. The pastor of the church, the Rev. C. Walton Fitch, will interpret what "Alert in our Time" means to the individual. A coffee hour will follow.

The small group of women who first initiated World Day of Prayer in 1987 firmly believed that the mission work for which they were responsible needed their support in prayer as much as in giving. This small group was praying for the world—today the movement has become international and Christian women are praying with other Christians throughout the whole world.

World Day of Prayer is truly ecumenical as well as international. It is the most widely observed celebration sponsored by Church Women United—the movement through which Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women manifest their unity through fellowship, study, and co-operative action.

World Day of Prayer observances are planned by an international committee, with liaison officers from each national committee. The worship services are prepared each year by women from different parts of the world. The 1973 service was written by women of New Zealand, and is adapted by each country for its own use.

The women of New Zealand explain the theme "Alert in our Time" through their expression of these concerns: "Because of our

Nevertheless, it appeared by the third quarter that Chelsea was on the ball. They had stepped ahead, leaving the Lions eight points to the rear, when Jeff Schmidt was fouled by the fourth foul. The period ended with Chelsea ahead, but only by one. The score stood at 45-44.

South Lyon's big scorers, revamped their approach, and compounded Chelsea's disadvantage; the loss of Schmidt. Ed Segars, Tony Kern, and Tom Hansen blew new breath into South Lyon's drive and out-scored Chelsea, 18-12, in the final quarter.

South Lyon's showing at the charity stripe made up the difference since the Bulldogs made one more basket than the Lions did. South Lyon dunked 16 out of 27 pitches from the free throw line while Chelsea made nine out of 15 chances.

Chelsea's leading scorer, John Mann, made 11 points while Jeff Schmidt, in less than three periods of play equaled Ron Kie's 10. Tim Treado made his presence known by grabbing 21 rebounds. Milan comes to Chelsea's gym Friday night. At present, they lead the cager league, so the competition for the Bulldogs will be stiff.

JV Cagers Defeated 60-57 By S. Lyon

Chelsea JVs slipped up on the hardwoods, Friday night, letting South Lyon pound ahead, 60-57. The Bulldogs' late rally fell short by three.

South Lyon started with a lead, 18-10, which it kept through two periods of equal scoring. Both teams pitched for 13 in the second and for 17 in the third. In the final quarter, Chelsea made 17 points to South Lyon's 12, but it was not enough of a margin.

Paul Wood was busy scoring, rebounding and stealing the ball away from the Little Lions. He added 15 points to the score while racking up 10 rebounds and eight eight steals.

Dave Alber, who snatched eight rebounds, amassed 18 points during the game. He was the leading scorer. Jack Hackworth was another high scorer with 17. Chelsea carries a 7-10 record to its confrontation with Milan, tomorrow. The game will be at home.

All-Stars Band . . .

of selected musicians from the Class C, D schools.

The All-Stars concert will feature three soloists. Barry Tuckwell from London, England, internationally known french horn soloist, will be one. Two high school winners of the All-Star Soloist competition will be featured. They are Dan Root, trumpet, Big Rapids, and Colleen Moore, flute, Sparta.

From 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday, just prior to the concert, the All-Stars and their band directors will be attending clinics presented by the guest soloist and five other clinicians. These six clinics will be going on simultaneously in Sparta High school and are open to musicians and to the public.

Clinicians will discuss the problems and remedies in mastering their particular musical instrument. The five other guest clinicians are: Byron Autrey, professor of cornet, Michigan State University; David Catron, professor of tuba, Michigan State University; Dr. Russell Friedewald, flute, Michigan State University; Professor of clarinet, Western Michigan University.

Robert Stiles and Plyn Penneck, Sparta Area Schools instrumental music directors, are local chairmen for the entire event.

This annual event is organized and sponsored by the Lansing Conservatory of Music, Inc., to recognize the many services given to their schools and communities by the high school bands and to honor these outstanding musicians.

James Liebeck Named to UWM Budget Committee

James P. Liebeck has been named to the Budget Committee of the Chelsea Community Chest. He is secretary of the Sylvan Township Planning Commission, treasurer of the Chelsea Area Regional Planning Committee and secretary of the Chelsea Industrial Development Committee.

William C. Crick, of Flint, committee chairman, said that Liebeck would be assigned to a panel at UWM's annual budget conference April 17-18, at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State University.

Each panel will review the budget presentations of two or more UWM member agencies and then make recommendations for the funding of the agencies during 1974.

UWM received its funds from 150 local United Way campaigns; conducted throughout Michigan. The Washtenaw United Fund is providing $159,600 for UWM's 28 agency services during 1973.

Liebeck, who is retired and lives at 17332 West Old US-12, has been chairman of finances and a

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Contentment seems to be a scarce commodity these days. Society seems discontented with many aspects of today's ways and manner of living. Faults in people and systems are seen; sometimes magnified, in the endless search for changes, improvements. The 'green pastures' yearned for seem far away, inaccessible. Much of this discontent is understandable and in some cases justified. Justified or not, a sad truth is evident.

The reassuring words — "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want; He makes me lie down in green pastures" seem to be too often ignored. Too often forgotten in the chase of imagined rainbows. Actually the most beautiful green pastures CAN be close by. THEY CAN be felt and seen when man finds contentment in an enjoyable relationship with God; the Maker of ALL green pastures . . . School Board Briefs

President William Storey headed a meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday night with Straub, and Hopkins present. Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Attorney Filtoft and several guests also attended the meeting.

With the committee reports, several future meeting dates were given. A meeting with the architects is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 20. The Curriculum Committee will meet Feb. 22, and the Labor Relations Committee will meet March 1.

The board adopted a policy regarding the recording, safekeeping, and dissemination of board minutes.

In a drawing, Robert Thornton was selected as the board's choice to sit as a citizen representative on the Ad Hoc Committee. The CEA will also choose a citizen member to help determine the number of periods in the high school day next year. From the names of the remaining CEA and Board nominees, the third citizen representative will be drawn. The board's nominees are John Tandy, Lawrence Dietle, and Lloyd Gray.

The board approved a motion to implement, within 30 days, the Federal Highway Safety Standard No. 17. Chelsea already abides by most of the guidelines set down in the government standard but three new policies will be initiated by the board's action. Bus drivers will be required to conduct a written inspection of their vehicle every day. In addition, a planned program of maintenance will be started. A limit of the number of children in each bus will also be set.

The board adopted a resolution commending the wrestling team and coaches for winning the Southeastern Conference League meet and tying for the conference championship.

The appointment of Citizen Advisory Committees to study the building needs of the district was discussed. The board has been meeting with representatives of Manson, Jackson & Kane Architects to discuss the short- and long-range building requirements of the district. Citizen advisory committees are to be appointed to study the needs and to advise the board on future building needs. Any person who is interested in being considered for appointment to these committees is urged to submit their name by calling 475-1377.

The board adopted a calendar of 180 school days for the 1973-74 school year with school starting on Sept. 5, 1973, and ending on June 5, 1974.

Ann Arbor Federal Makes Application for Dexter Branch Office

Ann Arbor Federal Savings has made application to the Federal Home Loan Bank for a branch office to be opened in Dexter, according to Hazel Proctor, vice-president and public relations director.

No exact location has been determined at this time, but it is expected to be located in the downtown area.

U-M Rep. Will Discuss Engineering Careers

As it does every year, Chelsea High school has arranged for a representative to speak at the school about career possibilities in engineering. This year, the School of Engineering at the University of Michigan will be represented.

The slide presentation and 20-minute talk will take place in Mr. Kelly's chemistry and physics classes, but other students, not in those classes, may also attend. The representatives will be at the high school next Thursday, March 1.

FREEDOM TOWNSHIP BOARD OF REVIEW

Notice is hereby given to all persons liable to assessment for taxes in the

TOWNSHIP OF FREEDOM

County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan

That the Assessment Roll of said Township as prepared by the undersigned will be reviewed by the Board at

Area Railroad Crossings To Be Checked

The Department of Commerce has designated March 1 the date for a long-awaited inspection of the railroad crossing at Freer Rd. It is long-awaited only because Fritz Weber, Village administrator, received word nearly a year ago that he would be notified of the date any day.

Purpose of the inspection, which will take place at 10:30 a.m. in the presence of village, county, state and railroad representatives, is to re-evaluate the need for gates at the crossing.

Weber recalls that approximately five years ago a complaint about the safety of the crossing raised the question of gates. At that time, the county, which would have to pay one-fourth of the cost of the gates, as would the village, suggested that pruning the brush around the crossing would make it more visible and less dangerous. That suggestion was acted upon, and gates were never installed.

Weber speculates that the inspection may be a routine check to see if the underbrush is still sufficiently cut away from the area.

The same day, at 1:30 p.m., the group will inspect another crossing at Hoppe Rd. which is considered dangerous by several citizens. At both inspections traffic counts and the accident history of the site will be taken into consideration.

This crossing, which, like the Freer Rd. one, does not have gates, is used daily by school buses. It became infamous a few years ago when a young girl was killed there.

If, as a result of the inspection, the Department of Commerce deems gates necessary, the Penn Central Railroad will assume half the cost, while the county and the village split the balance.

Lake Management Problems, Needs Will Be Studied

Persons interested in lake management are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m., March 1, at the Washtenaw County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw Ave.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss possible increased co-ordination and co-operation on a county-wide basis for lake management. Representatives of the County Planning Commission and the Sheriff's Department (Marine Patrol) have been invited to attend. Officials representing the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, as well as representatives of some Federal agencies, have also been invited. Further questions should be directed to the Washtenaw County Drain Commission at 663-7611.

VALENTINES ARE FOR ALL AGES: Women of Chelsea Methodist Home and the girls of Girl Scout Troop 689 became better acquainted with the exchange of old-fashioned valentines last week. The scouts are planning a party with the ladies, and they plan to strike up a correspondence with some of the residents. Here they are pictured meeting their new friends.

Nelson-Prinzing Engagement Told

The engagement of Marjo Nelson, of North Muskegon, to Paul E. Prinzing of 421 Chandler St., has been announced by the bride-to-be's father. She is the daughter of John F. Nelson of North Muskegon and the late Mrs. Nelson. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Prinzing. He is completing his senior year at Western Michigan University, and majoring in Elementary Education. Marjo graduated from Western Michigan last year and now works as a Head Start teacher at Craig School in Muskegon. April 21 is the date set for the wedding, which is to be held in Kanley Memorial Chapel on the WMU campus.

Club and Social Activities

SENIOR CITIZENS

Twenty-four members of the Chelsea Senior Citizens gathered at the Komer House for the February Birthday party. The birthday girl, Mrs. Ruth West, and Norman Elsmann were acknowledged with a table decorated with valentines, candles and a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Gladys Klumpp. The evening was spent in playing cards. The committee for the evening was Gladys Klumpp, Katharine Kusterer, and Anna Laban.

CAMERA CLUB

Chelsea Camera Club met Tuesday to "travel" with Kathleen Chapman to Spain. Her color slides and films showed the landscape of the southern European country and a boat ride across the Mediterranean to Algiers. One of her most moving sequences pictured the excitement of a bull fight. She served refreshments at the conclusion of her show. The Reid Englebrechts will take charge of the program at the next meeting.

TROOP 145—

A band of Indians has moved into the Congregational church. They are holding a Pow-Wow today, Thursday, at 4 p.m. Brownie Girl Scouts, Troop 145, is hosting a "Parents Tea" to demonstrate their knowledge of Indian lore. The girls have been working hard for the past six weeks, studying the American Indians. One group, under the direction of studying the American Indians, clothing according to the styles worn in various regions. They will stage a dress revue during the program.

Other scouts have prepared a display of Indian homes and shelters. They have been assisted by Mrs. Julie Pax. Mrs. Elaine Haydock, assistant leader for the troop, has worked with the third group. This part of the troop has prepared a puppet show to portray Indian customs. The girls made their own puppet characters. Mrs. Toby Peterson and Mrs. Larry Koch have helped the troop fashion Indian drums and beaded necklaces to use during the program. "Even the refreshments follow the Indian theme," says Brownie leader Pat Stirling. "We are serving fried bread."

TROOP 689—

Residents of the Methodist Home have adopted Girl Scout Troop 689. The women and scouts have become better acquainted over the Valentine holiday by planning a party together. The Scouts made old-fashioned valentines to share with their new friends. Several girls are planning to correspond with selected women of the Home. Mrs. Carol Hoffman is the leader for Troop 689.

TROOP 689—

Girl Scout Troop 689 went to the Methodist Home to sell Girl Scout cookies. Then we went back to Mrs. Hoffman's house and collected dues and had treats. Then we closed with the taps. Larie Flinn, scribe.

Musical Cast Preparing for Big Production

The cast and crew of this year's musical "Oliver!" are busily preparing "the best play ever," according to Judi Blaess, publicity chairman. As the remaining rehearsal time dwindles, the actors, of all ages, are polishing their performances. The technical crew is dealing with lighting, props, scenery, costumes, and many other tiny details.

Committee chairmen for the production are: Jeff Daniels, and Ed Dreiman, set construction; Barbara Hardy, set design; Donna Stofor, props; Craig Johnson and Dennis Huehl, lighting; Jeanne Thornton and Pam Norris, make-up.

Maggie Lancaster and Betsy Beller will take care of ticket sales and ushering, while Barb Boylan is responsible for the programs. Judi Blaess, head of publicity, is keeping everyone abreast of the progress.

Ticket sales begin March 2. Tickets may be ordered by mail by designating the night, March 21, 23, or 24, and enclosing $2 for each seat to be reserved. Include the number of tickets desired with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The order should be sent to "Oliver!", Chelsea High School, Washington St.

Says Judi Blaess, "Since so many people have been working so hard to present a fantastic musical this year, we hope everyone will reserve seats to let us share it with you."

Letters to the Editor

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 I must take exception to your letter which appeared in the Feb. issue of The Chelsea Standard. You implied that the defense of the U. S. was at stake stemming from our involvement in S.E. Asia.

I fail to see how the defense of the U. S. could be concerned over a civil war in a small country half a world away. I also must object to your use of punctuation. Why do you put quotation marks around conscientious objector and not around coward?

DEATHS

Mrs. Philip Seitz

Dies Sunday at Nursing Home After Long Illness

Mrs. Philip (Wilhelmina C. "Mina") Seitz, 86, formerly of 687 S. Lima Center Rd. Lima township, died Sunday, Feb. 18, at Ranck's Green Meadows Nursing Home in Stockbridge where she had been a patient for several years.

Mrs. Seitz was born Feb. 17, 1887, in Waterloo township, Jackson county, a daughter of Henry and Alwina Schultz Moeckel. She was married to Philip Seitz Dec. 8, 1909. He preceded her in death on Oct. 19, 1958. They had farmed at the Lima Center Rd. address for many years.

She was a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ and the Mission Club.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Norman (Lorena) Stierle and Miss Irene Seitz, both of Ann Arbor; two grandsons, Ernest Hinderer and Gary Seitz, both of Chelsea; two great-grandsons, Michael Hinderer and Randy Seitz; two sisters, Mrs. Alfred (Rose) Lindauer of Chelsea and Mrs. Roy (Charlotte) Losey of Bradenton, Fla.; and several nieces and nephews. A son, William Henry Seitz, preceded his mother in death on Aug. 20, 1956.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Feb. 21, at 2 p.m., at the Burghardt Funeral Home with the Rev. John Morris officiating. Burial followed in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Lewis P. Vogel

Native of Germany Dies Friday at Age 93

Mrs. Lewis P. Vogel, of 154 E. Middle St., died Friday, Feb. 16, at the Chelsea Community Hospital. She was the widow of Lewis P. Vogel, Chelsea businessman and pharmacist who died Nov. 27, 1954. Mrs. Vogel was 93.

Born in Lyck, Germany, Sept. 25, 1879, Mrs. Vogel was a daughter of George and Johanna Tsarek Schoenith. She came to the United States at the age of 10.

Mrs. Vogel was first married to the Rev. Jacob Graber, who died in 1907. She married Lewis P. Vogel on June 11, 1917. She was a member of First Congregational United Church of Christ.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Mallick and Miss Erma Graber, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Ralph (Betty) Oesterle of Chelsea; one son, Lewis. Philip Vogel, Jr., of Livonia; 17 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren. Another son, Paul Graber, preceded his mother in death in 1957.

Also surviving are three stepsons, Gen. Herbert Vogel of Washington, D. C., Clarence Vogel of Chelsea, Karl Vogel of Huntington, W. Va., and two step-daughters, Lt. Col. Florence Vogel of Chelsea and Mrs. Ruth Dunstone of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday, Feb. 19, at the Burghardt Funeral Home with the Rev. Carl Schwarm officiating. Burial followed in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Park Promoters Hit Hard...

of the 1970's require another set of considerations.

Others in favor of changing the laws that guide HCMA's activities were those who came armed with complaints about the authority's conduct in other areas. Charlene Knight of the UAW's Conservation and Recreation Department, listed problems they have had with the group. Reyer Van Zander of a citizens group in Macomb and Wayne counties echoed the dissatisfaction with HCMA's procedures.

Coy, too, argued against HCMA's procedures. "Public input" was non-existent in the park's planning, according to Coy. He pointed out that Tuesday's hearing was the first opportunity for any public statement at the state level, even though the funding request has been at the Department of Natural Resources since August 1972.

Dave Bacon, of Lima's Mill Creek Research Council, spoke of that group's frustration during the year. The group has sent petitions and written letters, but they could find no public forum for their opposition to the park.

Several speakers suggested that public participation should be an essential aspect of park planning in the future. Dines reports that Senator Young may introduce legislation that would make HCMA more responsive to the public.

Dines is not sure what happens next. He hopes that the legislators were impressed by the arguments against the project, enough so that they will pressure the DNR to think carefully before funding the project.

"Since the DNR is being reorganized into the Department of the Environment as of April 1," says Dines, "it is a fairly sensitive time for them. I would think they would want to be very sure before backing this project."

One alternative for the department, says Dines, is to drop the hot potato by tossing it back to HCMA with instructions to iron out the problems before final consideration of funding is given. "Dines is rooting for that alternative."

Edwin Coy Receives Real Estate License

Edwin Coy of 8825 Trinkle Rd. has recently received his real estate license. He is now an official member of the new Chelsea branch of Real Estate One, Weed Realty, Inc., Associate, located at 1186 M-52 in Chelsea. Ed received his official acceptance from the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors on Tuesday, Feb. 13.

Coy, born in Chelsea in 1938, has been a life-long resident of this area. He now lives with his wife, Fran, and their two sons, John, 10 and Todd, 6 on their Trinkle Rd. farm. Ed has been involved with many community organizations including the Dexter Jaycees, the Dexter Methodist church, and the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau. He now holds the position of Lima Township Supervisor.

Drop-Off Box Being Removed

There's not much time left to fill the convenient Good Will Drop off box at Polly's with your unwanted treasures because as of March 2, the box will be gone.

The Jackson office of the Good Will Industries has sadly announced that economic pressures make it impossible for them to keep up their donation stations in Chelsea and in Manchester, at Visco Market, on Austin Rd.

"We hate to withdraw the boxes," says W. J. Walsh of the Jackson office, "but the overhead makes it necessary." He explains that it comes down to the simple economics of being unable to afford the gas needed to send a truck out to the area several times a month. "Rising costs puts the crunch on us all," he says. Walsh hopes that the removal of the box won't bring about an "out-of-sight, out-of-mind" reaction in the community. He hopes that those with things to give will remember to drop them off in Ann Arbor or Jackson when they are going that way.

In time, the boxes may be reinstated in the convenient rural sites, but Walsh can make no predictions at this time.

Rh Blood disease, which may occur when the mother is Rh negative and the baby inherits the father's Rh positive blood factor, can be prevented with use of the Rh vaccine, the March of Dimes reports.

Youth Admits Theft of Tape Recorder

One of the twin incidents which occurred at the First Congregational church last December has been solved. The other, a breaking and entering in which nothing was stolen, remains a mystery.

Through a series of coincidences, the Chelsea Police Department was led to know the whereabouts of the tape recorder, the only item reported missing after an unidentified youth was seen in the church office, Dec. 3.

The culprit, a 15-year-old boy, has admitted to taking the recorder, and has returned it. He denies breaking into the church Dec. 2, however.

Police had speculated at the time of the crime, that the same individual was involved in both incidents because they occurred within 24 hours of each other one week-end.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

SPELLING BEE--

The fifth grade Spelling Bee was held Feb. 13. The winner was Julie Botsford, and the runner-up was Steven Kvarnberg.

FIRST GRADE--

Teacher: Miss DeVries
Reporters: Tami MacDonald and Vickie Smith
Miss DeVries' class went to the museum where they saw dinosaur bones and dinosaur skeletons. They saw tyrannosaurus Rex, agilis monster and dinosaur footprints. When they came back they had their Valentine party. They had lots of treats.

Room 3

Teacher: Mrs. Thodeson
Reporters: Dawn Fowler and Denise Geddes
The class had a Valentine party. They made mailboxes for their valentines.

The Lions and Tigers are reading in a new book. The story they liked best is "The Lion and the Man." They made a book about Abraham Lincoln.

Jody Klink brought in a three-in-one doll. It turns into a Little Red Riding Hood, the Grandmother and the Wolf. The class likes the Wolf best. Joylene Guenther brought in two little frogs. Richie Cattell has moved to their new house with a pink door.

The class is going to the museum in Ann Arbor on the 22nd of February.

They are talking about three addends.

Teacher: Mrs. Thornton

Reporters: Sabrina Woodward and Sarah Haselschwardt
Mrs. Thornton's class went to the museum where they touched a dinosaur fossil and saw lots of big dinosaurs. They also saw a geological time chart and some wild life mammals. They saw an Iguanadon, the only living thing in the museum. On the way home they saw a Brink's van put money in the bank. Thank you, Mrs. Heller for going with us.

In Math we're learning geometry. The children decorated for Valentine's Day and made mail boxes too.

SECOND GRADE--

Teacher: Miss Danforth
Reporters: Tammy Sabo and Carol Watson
February birthdays are: Tracy Borton, Cyndi Bowen and Russell Harris.

In English they have been learning how to make correct sentences. In gym they've been climbing ropes. The class is learning about maps. In math they have been practicing on ones and tens and adding three numbers using parentheses.

Room 8

Teacher: Mrs. Hamilton
Reporters: Pam Stephens and Venita Suott
Mrs. Hamilton's class has been busy with Valentine's Day. They made hearts and put valentine poems on them. In art they made some hearts. Her class also has a Valentine tree. If they get their math all right, they get to make hearts to put on the tree.

This class has learned how to write personal letters. They can send the letter to anyone they want. Some of them sent their letters to Randy Simon, who was in the hospital to have his tonsils out. The children discovered that February is a famous month, because it has the birthdays of three famous men. They had a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Hamilton, and it wasn't even her birthday. Her birthday is in the summer.

Room 5

Teacher: Mrs. Lopez
Reporters: Denise Geddes and Gloria Pearson
The children made valentine folders. They enjoyed their valentine party. They have made a bulletin board about the presidents. The children wrote stories about terrible dragons, and they drew them.

Cub Scouts

DEN 13, PACK 435
On Thursday, Feb. 15, our den met at Mrs. Steinaway's. We started our meeting by welcoming back Jeff Fouty who had dropped out of Cub Scouts for a short time. Then we had our treats that were brought in by David Huntington. We made a secret code. After that we wrote get-well cards to Mrs. Boyd who is in the hospital. We closed by saying the Cub Scout den yell.

Ronnie Lorenzen, scribe.

DEN 1, PACK 415--

Cub Scouts of Den 1, Pack 415, met Feb. 15. We did not have a meeting Feb. 8 because of bad weather. We finished our craft that we were working on, and wrote an invitation to our Blue and Gold Banquet for our families. Todd Sprague brought treats. We ended our meeting singing. Herbie Pearson, scribe.

DEN 8--

Den 8--9 has a new member today. His name is Bill Blough. The Blue and Gold Banquet was Feb. 17. Den 8.9 members are making their moccasins.

Mike Ward, scribe.

too. They are making clay dragons like those in their stories. For science the children are studying the planets. They are learning about the moon and have special moon pictures made by the astronauts.

Room 10

Teacher: Mrs. Grinnell
Reporters: Dan McGill and Dana Wright
The class made valentine cards for the room and had a Valentine party. On the blackboard they made valentine people.

Tim Greenleaf and Vaughn Mills are making an army picture. The children are learning to add two place numbers. They are talking about Abraham Lincoln.

THIRD GRADE--

Room 15
Teacher: Mr. Dykstra
Reporters: Howie Flintoft, Danny Desmyther
Mr. Dykstra's class had a valentine party. They have some mobiles hanging in their classroom. They put in some carpet by their reading corner. The class is studying about their teeth. They brush after every meal and get points for it.

Room 7
Teacher: Mrs. Schmidt
Reporters: Teresa Hoffman and Bobby Aldrich
In math Mrs. Schmidt's class is studying fractions. In social studies they are looking at sugar cane and sugar beets. They had their valentine's party Feb. 14.

MUSIC--

The fourth and fifth graders are going to work on a spring program. They are learning about instruments and reading music. They are doing well.

savings VERSUS THE stock market

How does the undramatic savings deposit really compare to the widely discussed more glamorous stock market?

What about the usual advice to discipline yourself first by building a savings account, and then, after that duty is completed, you can venture into more profitable, worthwhile investments?

A look at long-term trends in the stock market should cause this bit of locker-room lore to be discarded.

Over most of the past half decade, the unheralded savings account actually outperformed the stock market. The asset value of the savings remained at $10,000 while the asset value of stocks fluctuated widely. The savings account paid a better return on capital than the companies on the Dow Jones Averages.

The chart here shows the asset value of $10,000 placed in the market at each of the Dow Jones averages and in a savings account at the beginning of January 1966. In early 1966, the stock market investments looked good. Industrials climbed to a peak of 995.15 on February 9. Then the market faltered and the redemption value represented by the blue chip stocks in the Dow averages fell to around $8,000, or a 20% capital loss by fall.

The market recovered from time to time, but on only three occasions did the value of the stock equal or exceed the initial $10,000 investment. There were many long, dry periods when the value of the original stock investment was far under the $10,000 savings account.

Long term plans for retirement or college education would have suffered greatly if the funds were needed during these dry periods.

Unless you are an investment specialist, know just when to buy and sell, or are just plain lucky your best investment is a savings account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. It pays a sure, safe return and each account is insured to $20,000 with the FSLIC.

A folder that goes into this in greater detail is available at any AAFS office.

Bridges Still Undeclared in Men's Recreation Basketball

Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet remains on top of the Chelsea Recreation Basketball chart. They downed Heydlauff's 55-45 Tuesday night, hitting a 7-0 record. Bridges established a nine-point lead in the first half and kept it as both teams appeared slightly off their stride in the second half. High scorers were Paul Terpstra with 22 points for Heydlauff's, and Gary White, with 15, and Tom Steele with 12 for Bridges.

Huron Valley National Bank climbed into second place in the standings, a seat they share with Heydlauff's, by dousing Chelsea Drug Store, 63-34. Some fine passing gave the Bank ample opportunity to score, especially in the fourth quarter when the Drug Store was overwhelmed 22-8 in scoring.

The Drug Store's best man was Matt Murphy with eight points, while the Bank had three men in double figures, Ken Harvey, 20; Paul Hayes, 12; and John Potter, 10.

In the last game of the evening, Chelsea Lumber Co. emerged from the basement by defeating Chelsea A & W, 53-47. It was a close contest all the way, with only two points separating the teams at the end of the third quarter. Craig Houle, who scored 10 points in the fourth quarter to open the gap, made 20 points in the game. Teammate Drile McCall had 14 points. High scorers for Chelsea A & W were Jack Davidson, with 16, and Dick Miller, with 12.

Next week Chelsea Lumber meets Huron Valley National Bank, Heydlauff's meets Chelsea A & W, and Bridges faces the Drug Store.

THE KLONDIKE KLUB: These members of Boy Scout Troop 465 earned their 1973 Klondike Patch for participating in the annual winter event Feb. 7. Despite the rainy weather that left the sled hill a mud pile, the boys pulled their sled through to a third-place showing. There was one of 35 competing. The outing to Crooked Lake was the first this young troop had experienced. The smiling scouts, kneeling in front, from left, are Bruce Rabbitt, Allen Parker and Chip Stafford. In the second row, are Jim Smith, Scott Stafford, Jeff Rabbitt and Kris Steinaway. In the back row, standing Art Steinaway, Kirt Steinaway (partly hidden), Brad Smith, and Bob Stafford. Not pictured are Scoutmaster Lloyd Hafner and Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Hafner.

Dana Junior Achievers Will Display at Westland Mall

One of Chelsea's two Junior Achievement companies will be among 61 such companies setting up shop at Westland Mall this coming week-end, Feb. 23 and 24. Young business people displaying and selling their wares include those meeting in centers in Ann Arbor, Downriver, Howell, N. Woodward, Plymouth, Redford, Schaefer, Telegraph, Wayne, and Ypsilanti.

Members of the group from Chelsea sponsored by Dana Corp. will transport examples of their lighters and pen sets to display and sell. One of the group's advisors, Margaret Tobin, reports that the group has manufactured cigarette lighters from alabaster and beer and pop cans, as well as pen sets out of alabaster.

The Chrysler Proving Grounds group, which started the year by making block sets, is in the process of switching to a new product, according to Tom Krajewski, an advisor.

They recently weathered an economic crisis by selling washer solvent, says Krajewski, and though they have begun work on the new product, the line will not be ready for display this week-end. The group is making mod belts out of seat belt material and buckles.

Other products range from lighters made by Jalow Co. in Howell; pottery items from Plymouth; waste baskets from Redford; hot plates from Schaefer; decoupage plaques from Telegraph; broom holders from Wayne; and beer can lighters from Ypsilanti.

The Product of the Year—an umbrella holder selling for $3—will be sold by the winning company, Calco, meeting in Plymouth.

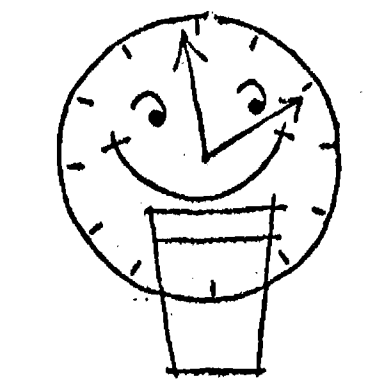

An unusual service will be offered by the Sparkplugs Co., of Ann Arbor. They will sell monogrammed glasses at $1 per glass.

At 4 p.m., Saturday, the Westland Mall Merchants Association will award trophies to the company with the best merchandising display, and to the company with the highest volume of sales.

Junior Achievement is a national organization that offers high school youth a learn-by-doing education in business economics. Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan operates 26 business centers four nights a week in the six-county area of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Livingston and Washtenaw.

High School Bands Plan First Concert

Chelsea High school band will perform in its first formal concert of the season, this coming Monday night, at 7:30. Many of the selections heard at that time, in Chelsea High School auditorium, will be played again in the competitive High School Band Festival coming up, March 3.

Both the Symphony Band, under Warren Mayer's baton, and the concert band, directed by Ronald Harris, will be performing that evening. Portions of the program will be led by the two student teachers, Bruce Bower and David Donaldson. These University of Michigan students became acquainted with the band members while preparing them for the Solo and Ensemble Festival this month.

The Concert Band will get off to a rousing start with "650 East Concert March," by Oldham and Hale. "Hebrides Suite" by Clare Grundman, will follow just before the "Nordic Overture" by Eric Osterling. Selections from "Fiddler on the Roof" will close that portion of the program.

The Symphony Band's program is in part composed of the third suite by Robert Jager, and "Chorale for Symphonic Band." These selections will be conducted by David Donaldson and Bruce Bower, respectively.

"La Banda di Dretore," "Chant and Jubilo," and "Michel LeGrand in Concert" will round out the last half of the evening.

Joan Yocum Is Member Of EMU Dance Cast

The annual spring concert by the Eastern Michigan University Dance Theatre will be presented Feb. 24-27, in Quirk Auditorium. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. nightly with an additional matinee at 2 p.m. Feb. 25.

Joan Yocum is a member of the company comprising 40 students and several faculty members, which will perform six dances choreographed by EMU faculty members, two student works.

Joan, a sophomore dance major will participate in one dance. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Yocum, 627 Flanders St.
