

DNR Public Hearing Scheduled March 15 on Park Plans

The Department of Natural Resources has decided to measure, first hand, the winds of opinion that are whipping up waves in HCMA's placid vision of its proposed Mill Creek Park. It has scheduled a public hearing on the park in Ann Arbor, March 15. Coming in the aftermath of a less official hearing in Lansing,

Feb. 20, the Ann Arbor session will not only allow mass attendance by local citizens who will be affected by the proposed project, it may also allow Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) to recoup some of the losses it sustained in the last squall. HCMA was apparently unprepared for the storm of criticism that showered its project and procedures in February. A. Gene Gazley, director of DNR, was not at the Lansing hearing, but he was briefed on the outcome, but Sen. Gil Bursley, and Rep. Hal Ziegler, sponsors of the hearing. Shortly after speaking with them, he announced the department's decision.

Presumably, opponents of the park, such as the Department of Agriculture, conservation groups, the Huron River Watershed Council, and representatives from the Village of Chelsea and, of course, Lima township, will appear, as they did in Lansing, with statements about the alleged threat the park poses to water quality and farm land in the area.

There remains speculation about HCMA's presentation at the hearing. Some assume that the authority will have found by mid-March a battery of support to counteract the strength the opposition exhibited in February. Others say the HCMA has no defense and that the voices will remain overwhelmingly opposed.

Reportedly, DNR's decision will be influenced by the results of the hearing. If its judgment is in the HCMA's favor, the authority will have but one more hurdle to clear. It will have to wait for a statement from the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments before its application for federal funding is complete.

The hearing will be held at Pioneer High school, starting at 3 p.m.

SEMOG withdrew its support of funding at the Lansing hearing, and will not submit a new opinion until research into the park effect on the area is complete.

Planning Commission OKs Dexter Township Ordinance

Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission recommended approval of the revised proposed zoning ordinance for Dexter township at the commission's Feb. 28 meeting.

The commission, which recommended rejection of an earlier version of the proposed ordinance Jan. 3, noted that "even though there are some philosophical differences between the township officials and the commission and the staff, that the township is fully aware of any potential problems in conjunction with their zoning ordinance and have carefully evaluated both philosophies."

"Philosophical differences" concerned two areas: parcel density for mobile homes and apartments and apparent overzoning of land for residential and commercial districts.

Both the proposed original and re-submitted zoning texts require one unit per acre for mobile home and apartment construction "in keeping with the adopted zoning plan of rural character." Although the commission noted that some courts have found the low density requirement "an exclusionary practice," the township has decided to adhere to its original zoning plan. The commission, on overzoning, was "of the opinion that the actual zoning of land should be staged to correspond with the growth rate of the township." Township officials, however, pointed out that the zoning map is "an accurate reflection of existing land use patterns," and is consistent with the zoning plan.

The commission found the non-conforming use section "a valid one for their (the township's) particular circumstance," following discussions with township officials. The commission had originally suggested the creation of a separate residential district to deal directly with lake property areas. However, township officials pointed out that most of these lake areas are presently divided into extremely small lots. "Thus, even if a residential district were created with a 1/2 or 1/4 acre lot size as minimum, this would still result in many non-conforming lots of record," reports the planning commission.

The commission had also questioned references to junk yard regulations in the original proposed

Boards of Review To Hear Tax Gripes

Tax gripes are often aired, but no where as effectively as in front of the local Board of Review. These three-member panels in Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Freedom, and Dexter townships will hear appeals on tax assessments March 12 and 13.

Township boards are responsible for appointing Boards of Review to consider the cases of those taxpayers who feel they have been unfairly assessed. The board's judgment is based on the same rules and regulations used to make the original assessment, but sometimes they uncover a mistake.

Sylvan township taxpayers will find their Board of Review convened at Sylvan Township Hall from 9 to noon, and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Sitting on this panel are Harry Mertens, Victor Kohsman and Homer Nixon. They have been re-appointed for the '73-'74 term after serving during the '71-'72 period.

Lima's meets at the same time on the same days, Monday and Tuesday, at Lima Community Hall on Jackson Rd. Gathering there to review cases will be Elmer Bristle, Ellsworth Smith and Martin Merkel.

Dexter's review members will be at Dexter Township Hall on the Dexter-Pinckney Rd. They are Paul Peltco, Norwin Lesser and Robert Thornton.

Duane Noah, Charles Fuhrman, and Herbert Pearson are the board members in Lyndon township.

They, too, will be at their township hall at the same times, on the same days.

Freedom township Board of Review members, who will be at the Freedom Township Hall, are Armin Haeussler, Alton Horning, and Leonard Burnmeister. Their meeting times are identical to the others.

Concert Choir Concert Set For Sunday

The Concert Choir of Chelsea High school under the direction of DiAnn L'Roy will present a concert on Sunday, March 11, at 4 p.m. in St. Paul United Church of Christ. The choir will present three selections on the subject of the Creation.

The first selection is a contemporary number by Daniel Pinkham, "In the Beginning of Creation," featuring electronic tape accompaniment. The second setting of the Creation is by Tom Scott and in a spiritual style. Judi Blaess will be the narrator for this song.

The concert will close with a jazz-rock cantata, and will be accompanied by guitarists, Chuck Foytik and Curt Winans, bass guitar.

Cagers Put It All Together At Dexter

The Chelsea Bulldogs found their stride in the last game of the season, Friday night, at Dexter. They demolished the Dreadnaughts, 83-63, and secured sixth place in the Southeastern Conference.

Height was a help. After pumping in 18 points, the Bulldogs claimed a six-point, first quarter lead. They exploded in the second period, blowing their lead up to 42-26 by halftime.

Jeff Schmidt led the visitors to the early lead with 13 points and 11 rebounds in the first half. Tim Treado added seven points of his own and grabbed six off the backboards. Jeff Sprague pitched in six more.

Six other Bulldogs scored in the first half, indicating that all the gears were in tune. Dexter was led by Mike Scott's 12 points in the early quarters.

Chelsea's determination was not depleted by the half-time interruption. On the contrary, they came out shooting, and notched 24 more

AT BASE: Fabio Eduardo Beltrao, Chelsea's newest exchange student, left the good life in Brazil to explore what turned out to be a bleak and cold America. He found a warm retreat, by chance, when the William Miller family took him in, temporarily. Now he is settled in the Loveland Rd. farm home while he attends Chelsea High and learns American ways. He is surrounded by his patient and willing language tutors, Jeff, 13, Laurie, 10, and Colleen, who will be 12 tomorrow.

When his father is off on business, or visiting the more remote coffee plantation in Monte Azul Paulista, Fabio takes over the reins on the cattle ranch near Sao Paulo.

Brazilian Exchange Student Making New Friends Rapidly

Picture a lush land, where orange groves and coffee plantations allow the privileged youth to spend their free afternoons and evenings at "the club." Worries consist of how to keep your lady love happy.

This is the land and life Fabio Eduardo Beltrao left in January when he became a Brazilian Youth for Understanding student. He's homesick.

Fabio's father is a member of the elite minority that has tapped a tiny part of the Brazil's sprawling potential. On two separate "farms" he raises cattle, some imported from Switzerland, coffee and oranges. The oranges, which are larger, juicier, and altogether tastier, says Fabio, than those he's tried in the U. S., are exported, as is Beltrao's wealth of coffee beans.

Being the only son, Fabio will someday rule most of the estate, and he speculates that a portion of it will come into his hands in the next few years, if he wants it. His training has already begun.

When his father is off on business, or visiting the more remote coffee plantation in Monte Azul Paulista, Fabio takes over the reins on the cattle ranch near Sao Paulo.

Even with this career in his pocket, Fabio plans to attend the university and study medicine. He says he wants to become a surgeon, but when asked if he will practice, he answers with international sign language. Rubbing his middle and index fingers against his thumb, a savvy expression crosses his usually youthful-looking face. "Ah, but there is more money in the farms," he explains.

Fabio has two more years of schooling, even though he has already been at it for 12 years, before he is ready for the university. In the morning hours, starting at 7:30, a variety of teachers come around (the students remain in one classroom) bringing knowledge of art, science, Portuguese, English, and history. The students are free by early afternoon.

Then the fun begins, according to Fabio. It's off to the club where "good" parties sometimes last until 4 or 5 in the morning. The 17-year-old, who dresses mostly in tailor-made slacks and shirts (he thinks Brazilian boys are more vain than American youths), says he used to enjoy soccer and swimming, but now he doesn't have time. It seems 14-year-old Sonia is the focus of all his attentions and energies.

After leaving the life of leisure last Jan. 22, Fabio found in Detroit that the YFU office wasn't prepared for such a large group from Brazil. He was among those farmed out to temporary homes in the area.

It turned out to be a happy inconvenience, because when his permanent home in Montana (Continued on page six)

Candidates All Unopposed in Village Election

A slate of unopposed candidates, nominated by the Independent party, will be expecting a vote of confidence from Chelsea voters this Monday, March 12, in the village election.

The six nominees are bidding for the positions of clerk, assessor, three village trustees and two library trustees. All but the assessor and the library trustee jobs carry a two-year term.

Loren Keezer, who is the candidate for clerk, Judson Goltra, assessor, Harold Pennington, Richard Borton, and Sam Johnson, village trustee, and Jean Eaton and James Schardein, library trustee, are assured of election unless an extensive write-in campaign materializes.

Loren Keezer, a native of Chelsea who now lives at 211 East St. with his wife and two children, is the nominee for the clerk position. The 31-year-old assistant cashier at Chelsea State Bank attended Michigan State University and served with the Navy for four years. He is a Vietnam veteran. Loren and his family are members of the Congregational church and he has been active in the American Legion Post 31 where he has served as commander.

Judson Goltra is hoping to take over assessor responsibilities for the one-year term. Born in Detroit in 1904, he has been a millwright and carpenter most of his adult life. He has worked in three village trustees and two library trustees. All but the assessor and the library trustee jobs carry a two-year term.

Hal Pennington, formerly village president, and currently village clerk, plans to continue his community service as a two-year village trustee. Pennington, the administrator of the Chelsea Medical Clinic, his wife, Peggy, and their six children live at 409 Madison St. Chelsea has been their home for the last 14 years.

Pennington was graduated from St. John High school in Jackson and from St. Joseph College, Rensselaer, Ind., with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in history. He served in the U. S. Army for two years. A member of St. Mary church, he has served on the St. Mary School Board and was Jaycee "Man of the Year" in 1966.

Richard Borton, an incumbent trustee completing his first two-year term, is also a candidate for a trusteeship. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan Dental school, Dr. Borton has a dental practice in town. He lives at 176 Orchard St. with his wife, Diane, and their four children. A member of St. Paul's church, he has served as a youth supervisor there. He is also a member of Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, and the American Dental Association. He has worked as a fund raiser for the Boy Scouts and for Spaulding for Children.

Dr. Borton served two years in the U. S. Air Force with the rank of captain. He was born in Hudson and graduated from Ypsilanti High school.

Sam Johnson, a board member of the Chelsea Community Chest, is the third candidate for village trustee. The 35-year-old native of Detroit graduated from Ypsilanti

School Budget Near $2.5 Million Mark

The 1972-73 budget for the Chelsea School District was shown to the public and ratified by the Chelsea Board of Education, Monday night. By virtue of the late date, the ratification consists, in part at least, of post facto approval of the appropriation of $2,475,162.

The budget has been in unofficial effect throughout the year, pending the settlement of the teacher contract dispute. With the ratification by both the Board and the CEA membership, Monday night, of the 1972-73, 1973-74 contract, the pie slice for teachers' salaries was finally firmly outlined.

Teacher and administrator salaries alone account for $1,418,054. At the public hearing staged at the high school library, Monday night, the various sources of revenue were explained. $1,596,244 comes from local tax collection. To that is added $14,041 from the Intermediate School District which finances special education.

Revenue from state sources and other grants such as refunds from gas tax and conservation land grants, adds another $794,964. The federal government's part amounts to $22,000.

The total income, then, comes from these sources, plus the $47,313 balance as of July 1, 1972. The estimated cost for instruction in both the elementary and secondary schools equals $1,640,319. This figure includes the cost of paying instructors, administrators, librarians, secretaries, playground supervisors and guidance personnel.

It also includes the costs of supplies and travel to conferences. The outlay for administering the schools is another $93,710, and the cost of transporting the children to school, and to extracurricular events is $146,974.

The physical plant, its operation and maintenance, requires $287,630 and the fixed charges such as insurance for property and employees runs $93,640.

All in all, education is an expensive business.

BUILDING A BETTER WAY: Bridges Chevrolet's Recreation Basketball team has constructed a smooth and classy combination of defense and sharp shooting. With it, they have driven into first place in the Tuesday night standings. Chelsea Lumber Co., the only team to find a loose plank in the construction, gave Bridges their first defeat

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where they're holding these sessions in towns around the state how to get ready for their Social Security. I bring this up at the country store Saturday night, allowing that having to go to school to learn how to qualify for your Social Security was like training to collect your life insurance. Right away, I saw something that was a mistake.

Clem Webster wanted to know if I had been dealing with any insurance companies lately. With all the different plans and all the forms you got to fill out for the Government that is perfecting you from the insurance company, Clem allowed, they ain't no way a average feller can know what he's paying for or what he'll get. Final, Clem said, you just got to trust insurance salesman to treat you right.

Ed Doolittle was agreed with Clem that they is to much paper, work in everything for anybody to know much about anything, and Ed said Social Security ain't no exception. The rules has been changed recent, Ed went on, and he, for one, was glad to find them articles in the papers telling about the changes. It's going to take the Government and the papers working together to halfway keep us up with all the changes in the rules made with ever new budget.

Farthermore, went on Ed, old folks need all the help they can get with their memories. We is to soon old and to late smart, was Ed's words. The sad thing is allowed Ed, when a feller's young he don't care about finding out, and when he gets old he forgets what it was he was supposed to learn. Ed said all he knowed about Social Security is you pay it in whutther you like it or not, and you can't get it out till the Government says so. Among the things he don't understand about this program, Ed said, is why your income has anything to do with being eligible to get some of your own money back when you git old.

Actual Mister Editor, all the fellers is past three score and 10, and ever one of them has signed up fer ever Government benefit they could find out about. Which goes to prove, I reckon, that if you can't understand em, join em. They don't know nothing about devaluing the dollar neither, but they can talk fer two solid hours on how the move last month to make the dollar stronger by making it weaker is less like them deficits of strength we use to hear about in the federal budget. General speaking, the fellers was agreed on saying to each other folks with bad memories about everything, Clem said he saw where this company put out a "forgot kit" that was supposed to have 30 items in it that people usual fergit, but they fergot and jest put in 29.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Guest Minister Slated Sunday At St. Paul's

This Sunday morning, Dr. Duane N. Vore, executive officer of the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ, will speak from the pulpit of St. Paul United Church of Christ. He will be commenting upon the strong support and leadership which St. Paul provides the conference, its programs and staff. His sermon will be entitled "The First Rebel." Pastor Warner H. Siebert, will be singing for the service. A coffee hour, to welcome Dr. Vore, is planned following the service. Dr. Vore served as a parish minister in Virginia, California, and Michigan for more than 20 years before becoming Conference minister in 1961. He has served the United Church of Christ in local Association, State Conference and National Board responsibilities. He is a member of the board of directors and past president of the Michigan Council of Churches. He is a member of the board of directors of the World Ministries. He also serves as a member of the board of directors of the Detroit Industrial Mission and the board of trustees of Olivet College. Born in West Milton, O., Dr. Vore received his BA degree in 1940 from Elion College in North Carolina, and his BD degree from Yale Divinity school in 1944.

Battle Continues
Michigan's beleaguered hot dog has been under heavy and sustained attack in recent years from major meat packing firms located outside Michigan.

Armour, Wilson and Hormel packing companies want to stop Michigan from imposing its stricter standards on the products they manufacture outside of the state to sell here. If that happens (and a federal appeals court has sided with the meat packers) Michigan hot dogs would contain for the first time such ingredients as lips, snouts, stomachs and udders and other non-skeletal meat.

One of the claims made consistently by those attacking Michigan's standards is that the higher standards allowing only skeletal meat produce higher priced hot dogs, bologna and other meats in Michigan than are found elsewhere. The Michigan Agriculture Department, which is leading the fight to protect Michigan standards, recently punched a big hole in this claim.

Inspectors were sent by Department Director B. Dale Ball over a two-day period for shopping at 47 stores in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio and at 11 Michigan stores.

The inspectors bought identical brands. They visited stores in the same chains to insure that the prices would be comparable. The stores were located in markets that were the same size as well, to eliminate any difference that might result from visiting different sized towns.

The results were a solid vindication of the Michigan standards.

Prices in Michigan actually averaged two cents a pound cheaper for hot dogs than in the other states. The average price of the Michigan hot dogs was $7.1 cents per pound. The average price of the hot dogs in other states was $9.2 cents per pound.

Inspectors found examples where the same brand was as much as 20 cents per pound cheaper in Michigan than it was in the other states. "Some of the big national packers have made noises about how they don't really use all those undesirable animal by-products," Ball said in releasing the results of his survey. "That's a lot of baloney."

"In Harvey, Ill., you can buy hot dogs that contain beef lips, beef tripe, pork salivary glands, lymph nodes, fat, and soy protein concentrate. That's what it says right on the label. And the price is $9.5 cents per pound. That's a pretty high price for offal. To make a poor pun: Ain't it offal

Anyone who tasted Michigan hot dogs and those in other states knows that Michigan hot dogs taste much better. They are juicier and much more appetizing.

That is because they contain only skeletal meat left from the various cuts. If the meat packers have their way, they'll be shipping the lesser quality stuff found in other states into Michigan.

And if the survey taken by the Department of Agriculture is any indication, the only people who'll save money on the change will be the meat packers themselves.

Trade Promoted

The push is on to give Michigan a greater amount of business connected with international trade.

Already, it's estimated 85,000 jobs in this state are directly related to exports which total $3 billion per year. If the new efforts are successful, another 25,000 jobs will be created over the next five years.

The legislature helped in this effort last year by authorizing a European office for Michigan in Brussels, the headquarters of the European Common Market, and an Asian office in Tokyo, which has become the economic center of Asia.

The Brussels office was opened in early February and the Tokyo office opened its doors just last week.

A trade mission visited both Moscow and Warsaw in February in effort to increase Michigan trade with those and other countries behind the iron curtain.

At the present there are 16,000 companies in Michigan manufacturing one or more products. Fewer than 2,000 of them export any of the output.

Gov. William G. Milliken, who is pushing the trade expansion program very hard, says: "We want to get more Michigan products and companies into our market areas in Western and Eastern Europe, as well as in such markets as Africa, Japan, Hong Kong, Australia and, eventually China and all of Asia."

At the same time he wants to encourage foreign investment in Michigan, a move which would not only produce jobs but help reverse the dollar flow.

Sprague; dog catcher, Otto Lucht; and members of the board of directors, Ray Canine, Walter Gage, A. D. Mayer, Howard Flintoft, and M. W. McClure.

An outstanding member of 4-H from Chelsea will be featured on the radio quiz program RFD America, Saturday, March 12. The local representative, Doris Downer, will compete with three 4-H club members from other states for the title of "Junior Farm Champion of the Week."

Four captains, Mrs. Anna Dvorak, Miss Ida Keusch, Mrs. John Chaplin and Mrs. Armin Schneider are directing 40 solicitors in Chelsea's Red Cross Drive.

Dr. Paul Reichert, local veterinarian, gave a talk on the causes of diseases to farm animals at the evening school at the high school last night.

In the United States, three persons out of 100,000 live to be 100. In the Soviet republic of Azerbaijan, the rate is 63 per 100,000.

RANCH HOUSE

Take a proximity to state land, a flowing creek on the property, and lake privileges and you have something special. Add a new three-bedroom ranch with a fireplace, a beautiful brick front, and a price tag of only $22,900 and you have a chance at something really special.

BUILDER'S HOME

This beautiful home was built by the builder for his own family. The house is situated on top of a hill on 3 acres of land, creating a beautiful view. This five-bedroom home has such features as 2 1/2 baths, a fireplace, family room, and dining room, and a 20 x 40 heated swimming pool. A beautiful buy at $87,500.

A MUST TO SEE

You really must see this house to believe it. It is situated on 17 acres of rolling land with a beautiful pond and trees. Set back off from a quiet country road, this three-bedroom house would be the perfect family home. A beautiful buy at $69,900.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

Get away from everyday "humdrums"! Meet new friends. Well-established grocery store and service station. Large living quarters. Ideal for the family who wants to get away from the city and work together. In well-traveled area, $50,000.

COUNTRY STORE

Want to get away from the city life? Have you ever thought of owning a country store? We have one for you in Jackson County. The owners are retiring and selling their retail grocery with its acre of land, three gas pumps, and two-bedroom apartment. Licensed for beer and wine take-out. $64,500 with terms.

TAVERN

Beer and wine tavern in small town lying between Chelsea and Jackson. Business is increasing every year and there is a possibility of obtaining a liquor license. Large floor area provides for plenty of seating capacity and possibilities of a dance floor. Building includes a second-floor apartment. Building, land, and business for only $55,900.

COUNTRY LIVING

Two lovely parcels of land on a secluded country road. Situated in Chelsea School District. Excellent building sites. 10.03 acres with pond sites, scattered trees, and a beautiful hilltop building site. $11,000. 5.8 acre site adjoining above site. $9,500. Liberal terms to promote the kind of country living you are looking for.

10 ACRES

Just what the doctor ordered! It's rolling acreage with pond sites and trees, located between Chelsea and Manchester. Mature woods on the north-west corner of the property. This beautiful 10 acre parcel is large enough for horses. The price and terms are low enough for you. $15,000.

CONRAD HAFNER

Will Manage Dana Plant In Indiana

Conrad Hafner, formerly plant superintendent of Dana's Power Equipment Division Assembly Plant here in Chelsea, has taken over as plant manager in a Auburn, Ind., division. He became plant manager of Dana Corporation's Spicer Clutch Division, March 1.

Joining Dana in 1957, Conrad started as a draftsman at the Chelsea facility, and subsequently received various engineering and manufacturing assignments. Prior to holding the plant superintendent position, he was Superintendent of Manufacturing for three years.

Hafner and his family will move to the Auburn area in the near future.

CHARLES CLAUSON

Clauson Named Superintendent For Dana Plant

Jack Reed, plant manager of Dana Corporation's Power Equipment Division facilities in Chelsea, has announced the appointment of Charles Clauson to the position of plant superintendent of the Assembly Plant.

Chuck joined Dana in 1959, beginning as sales trainee and progressing to application engineer, sales operations manager, product control manager, sales and planning manager.

Prior to his new assignment, Chuck was OEM sales manager for Mobile Equipment Products.

Because most hearing losses appear gradually, the victims frequently are not aware of their problem until it has become acute. This unawareness can even continue until the individual is no longer able to function adequately on-the-job or is encountering serious problems in social situations, hearing experts say.

Hockey Teams In Action on Rented Ice

Chelsea District Hockey Association teams were back to it last week as the Mayer Maroons entertained a strong Jeffries-Dyer team from Ann Arbor at the fair grounds. This session was followed by a battle between D-3 Sales & Service and the Milan Pee-Wees. Neither of the home teams could cut it on their own ice.

Chelsea Lumber Co. team played a strong game in a return match against the Ann Arbor Bank at Fuller rink in which the home team took a 5-0 drubbing. Chris Bennett was in the goal position.

Greg Dorr's last-minute injury, sustained when he hit the boards, marred the game. It proved to be nothing serious at a hospital check up.

The Mayer Maroons found SE Kiwanis Pee-Wees a tough opponent in their games at Buhr Park rink. An injury, a cut under the left eye, forced goalie Jeff Powell out of the game, but he was back in the nets on Tuesday night when the Maroons took on Klinger Pontiac once again.

The Mayer Maroons opened the scoring on an unassisted goal by Steve Dresch at 1:35, and they held that lead to the half-way mark. Powell showed impressive form in the goal and made some excellent saves. The 8-1 score against the Maroons did not reflect the strong game played by the Chelsea icemen.

Penalties were the main cause of their downfall as Klinger Pontiac scored five power-play goals.

The CDHA is still seeking ice time for the teams. With generous contributions such as the one Patty Ann Shoppe gave this week, it will be possible. "Hockey Helpers" are needed.

5 Wrestlers Going to State Championships

"Bracket," said the coach about the 112-pounders.

Darryl West, a sophomore, was the other champion among the Chelsea men. Like Montagne, he pinned his adversary in the final match, and took home the 148-pound title.

Tim Lancaster was headed for the championship in the 141-pound division, when he downed the one man who had defeated him this year. That bout went into an overtime, referee decision. With that satisfaction behind him, Lancaster met his match in a grappler from Avondale. He was judged lacking, 4-2, and slipped to second place.

The other two wrestlers representing Chelsea were Steve Worden in the heavyweight and John Beeman in the 119-pound division. They each earned fourth place standings which will take them to Kalamazoo.

"They all did well," said the coach but he gave Beeman special credit for upsetting an opponent from the other district who had been seeded number one.

The combined efforts of these men put Chelsea in the second place spot, with 42½ points, behind tournament champs, Madison Heights, with 51 points. Tecumseh came in third with 39½, ahead of South Lyon in fourth at 36 and Pinckney at 34½.

Chelsea wrestlers will face a field of 16 in each weight class Friday and Saturday at WMU. The action will start at 1 p.m. Friday.

"They've done well under pressure so far," says the coach, crossing his fingers. State championships are too close for comfort.

Swisher Reappointed To Washtenaw Veterans Trust Fund Committee

Reuben Swisher of Ann Arbor, has been reappointed to the Washtenaw County Veterans Trust Fund Committee as the Disabled American Veterans representative. His term will terminate Dec. 31, 1975.

Last year the Washtenaw county committee assisted 481 veterans, widows and dependents of veterans for a total of $25,425.12.

Cager of the Week

DAVE LAHOU (20), one of several juniors on the varsity basketball squad this season, played with the JV team last year. He plays first base in the spring. Baseball is his favorite sport, but that doesn't keep him off the skis both winter and summer. Dave would like to do some flying for a hobby, an interest he inherits from his father, a professional pilot. As for his own career, Dave would like to study marine biology or marine archeology. He has already done some snorkeling in Cavanaugh Lake, just a beginning when exploring sunken ships is his goal.

points. By this time they were ahead, 66-47. Rick Miller led the attack with 14 points in the third quarter alone.

The fourth period saw synopated action from both sides. Mike Scott kept driving balls home for Dexter, 31 points for the game but it wasn't enough. Chelsea maintained its 20-point margin, reaching 83 at the close. This was high score for the Bulldogs' season.

Key men in this third league victory for the Bulldogs were Jeff Schmidt, Tim Treado, Rick Miller and Jeff Sprague. Jeff's talent was nearly the same at both ends of the court. He contributed 18 points and rebounded 16. Similarly Tim was up on the backboard for 13, and dunked in 15. Rick put in 20 points while hussling away 10 from the boards. Jeff Sprague was there for seven assists and 12 points.

Chelsea, drawing a first round bye, played last night (Wednesday) in the Class B district tournament at Brooklyn.

Spring Vacation For Schools Starts March 30

Chelsea schools will be closed for spring vacation, as planned, at the end of March. The break will begin after school Friday, March 30, and end when school begins Monday, April 9.

Some confusion has arisen over the timing of the break. Some believed the strike days would be "made up" at that time. However, two of the days missed in January were made up in February. Originally, Feb. 16 and 20 were to be vacation days, but because of the strike, that break was removed from the calendar.

The third strike day will be made up June 11, the last day of school.

WASHTENAW COUNTY LIVESTOCK COUNCIL members were the official hosts at the county banquet, at Chelsea High school, Saturday night. The 375 guests tickled their taste buds with "Michigan grown and cooked Swiss steak," served by the volunteers from the senior class. After welcoming words by Herb Diuble, president of the organization, and the dinner, Emcee Howard Heath, farm editor for WPAG radio, introduced the en-

Junior High Band Festivals Set Saturday

Following the example of the Symphony Band last week-end, 8th grade band members will rouse themselves early Saturday morning and arrive at school by 7:30 a.m. in order to compete in area band festivals.

Their busses will start filling at Beach school at 7:30, so they can leave by 7:45. The 8th graders are to play at West Junior High, Ypsilanti, at 9:30 a.m. They will be back in town by noon.

The 7th grade contingent of musicians from Chelsea will also travel to Ypsilanti for their contest. Lincoln High school is the scheduled site for their performance at 4:10 p.m. They must leave Chelsea at 2:15 p.m. Warren Mayer, music director, expects the children will be back by 6:30 p.m. at the latest.

Teen Round-up Begins Monday at Immanuel Church

A "Teen Round-Up" will begin at Immanuel Bible church on Monday. Its theme is "The Real Thing." The Rev. Paul Twigg, who has worked in Pacific Garden Mission, Chicago, and Detroit City Rescue Mission, as well as with children and teens all over the state, will be speaking on the drug and alcohol scene versus "the real thing." His message consists of finding reality and the answer to life's problems through a personal relationship with Christ.

Cakes, pies and all sorts of "goodies" will be given out daily. Every teen who brings five friends along receives a free cake.

These non-denominational meetings are free and open to all at Immanuel Bible church, 145 E. Summit St., from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, March 12-16. Phone 475-8936 for further details.

COIN HISTORY

The first United States gold coins were struck in 1795. The last appeared in 1933.

Gregory Resident Arrested Here on Weapons Charge

Jack Lynne Williamson, a 30-year-old resident of Gregory was arrested by Chelsea Police Officer David Peebles and Gerald Shaw a week ago, March 1, for carrying a concealed weapon.

The patrolmen were put on Williamson's trail when an establishment called about 2:15 a.m., Thursday, reporting that a man was in the parking lot, threatening individuals with a gun.

When the police arrived on the scene, the suspect had left, but they apprehended him a short time later on US-12 at M-52.

The policemen, with drawn guns, approached Williamson, who was sitting in his 1968 Cadillac, and searched him. The gun, an automatic pistol, made in China, was reportedly found on the car seat. According to police, Williamson said the firearm was a souvenir from Vietnam and that he never had it on his person.

Williamson was able to produce a registration form for the gun, but he did not have a permit to carry a concealed weapon. He was booked on that charge.

The case remains open pending prosecution.

Thief Opens Locked Pickup, Takes Tape Player, Assorted Tools

A thief, got away with nearly $215 worth of possessions belonging to Richard J. Deitling, March 1, by breaking into Deitling's 1969 pickup truck. The vehicle was parked in the parking lot of the Chelsea Medical Center between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The robber was able to unlock the door by opening the window vent. He then had access to a tape player, two tape cartridges and assorted tools.

The theft is under investigation.

CORRECTION

The matinee of "Oliver!" will be Thursday, March 22, at 12:30. It was incorrectly billed as starting at 1 p.m.

St. Louis School Notes

Our scouting friends came again and held another Cub Scout meeting. Otis, Titus, chairman, was there to show the boys some of his Webelos scout projects. Bob Burgess moved up from den chief to acting cubmaster, and with the help of three experienced den mothers, Aunt Alice Atkinson, Norma Seyfried and Mary Ann Burgess, he directed a productive meeting.

Bob opened the meeting by leading the boys in the pledge of allegiance. The boys were then assigned to their respective dens where they worked on learning the Cub Scout promise and made a gift. Mr. Titus taught them how to make the gift out of ceramic tile.

Bob closed the meeting with the living circle ceremony. Treats of cookies were served by the den mothers.

The next meeting will be set by Bob Burgess, acting cubmaster, after he has a meeting with his den mothers to plan the next program.

Three St. Louis school boys, Tom Mierscher of Flint, Glen Passow of Chelsea, and Billy Adrian of Detroit placed in the National Dental Hygiene Week poster contest in Ann Arbor. Tom took a first place, while Glen and Billy's art work rated a second.

March 1, the boys put on their annual Spring Talent Show for the staff of the school. Their efforts were sponsored by Mrs. Ann Wilkinson and Father Fortunato. The little boys were in charge of the refreshments, and because of National Dental Week, they decided to serve relishes and fruit in lieu of sweets.

The boys have now challenged the staff to put on a show of their own. It is scheduled for March 17, so the staff doesn't have much time to prepare. They are practicing and hoping for the best in St. Patrick's Day.

The birthday boy this week was John Martin of Saline.

Sunday, March 4, Michigan Center returned to play the boys once again in basketball. They won once again.

Exchange Student...

proved unsatisfactory, he had another American home to return to. William and Margie Miller, and their three children, Laurie, Colleen and Jeff, hit it off with Fabio right away, and were delighted when he returned to them after a cold and unfriendly time up north.

"We had all sorts of people working to get him back to us," says Mrs. Miller. "His father flew to Rio to talk to the representatives there. Fabio was ready to go home if he had to stay in Montana." The Miller's farm is at 4337 Loveland Rd.

Fabio's contact with YFU came through friendships with Americans in Brazil on the program. His own family housed a student from Florida for two months, and Sonia was sister to a Michigan student for a year. Fabio said his father offered to pay for the trip, but the decision to come was his own.

Fabio finds the pace here a little hectic. He admits that some people in Brazil are probably as busy as the Millers, but he hasn't noticed. All the housework in the Beltrao home is done by servants.

But Fabio is not set in his rich man's ways. The Miller's explained he would be expected to do chores around the house, just like their children do, to earn an allowance. This appears to be fine with Fabio.

Coming from Brazilian heat, Fabio finds the Michigan cold a bit of a shock, but he believes there is an advantage to it. "Americans are taller," he says. "Why? It must be the temperature." The slight and handsome youth has marked his height on the Miller's wall so he can measure how much he grows.

If his theory is true, Fabio may have put on an inch or two over the week-end, when Bill Miller took his son and his YFU son on an ice fishing expedition. Fabio cleverly drilled his hole next to the truck so he could keep warm, but the plan backfired. When the largest fish of the day nibbled at Fabio's line, he was asleep inside. Someone else got to pull in the prize.

He says he is at least growing outward because of Margie Miller's good cooking. Their tables in Brazil seem more laden with food, he observes, but the food is not as filling as in America. He's decided to treat the Miller's to some of his home cooking. Tomorrow night they will feast on his lasagna.

Fabio's patchy English marks him as a newcomer, but his lack of inhibition suggests he will be a master of the tongue in no time. And then he'll be off again to Sonia, his family, friends, and the good life.

Both Mrs. Edwin Eaton and James Schardein have been associated with the McKune Memorial Library in the past. If elected, they will serve three-year terms as library trustees.

The polls will open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, March 12, at Sylvan Town Hall.

School Board Briefs

Members Storey, Koenn, Straub, Hopkins, Irwin and Schafer were joined by Superintendent Camero, Business Manager Mills, Principal Lane, Conkili, Wojcik and Benedit, and Assistant Principal Lapanski at the regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday night. Attorney Peter Flintoft and several guests also attended the meeting.

Fred Mills, business manager, gave a financial report which was discussed and subsequently accepted.

Computer aided instruction, a program that the Intermediate School District is offering, was discussed for mathematics and science classes. The subject was tabled for consideration in the future.

In a drawing from names offered by both the CEA and the board, Mike Feeney became the third citizen representative on the Ad Hoc committee which is to study the desirable number of periods per day for the high school next year. Feeney's name was originally nominated by the CEA.

The Ad Hoc committee now consists of three representatives each from the CEA, the school administration, and the community. The administrators on the committee are Alan Conkili, Sylvester Wojcik and Fred Mills. The teachers are Jon Schaffner, Barbara Wenk, and Paul Terpstra. Citizen members are Robert Thornton, Mike Feeney and Joyce Siebert.

Originally, the committee was to be ready to submit their findings to the board by April 2. Even though the decision-making time has been shortened because the committee selection was delayed, a decision in the near future remains desirable. The administrators need time to plan the schedule for next year.

The board ratified the 1972-73, 1973-74 master contract with the Chelsea Education Association, a document that included the school calendar for 1973-74.

The board also signed the "Letter of Understanding," an appendix to the contract which stipulates that the middle school will continue to have a seven-period day, and that the high school schedule for next year will be decided by the Ad Hoc committee.

Several names were submitted to William Storey, board president, as prospective members on the citizen advisory committees on building requirements.

The board adopted an operating budget, which was explained to the public at a hearing at the high school, Monday night, of $2,475,162 for 1972-73.

Career Education was discussed, but no action was taken.

The second meeting in March was moved from March 19, to March 26, and this week's meeting was adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

THE CHICKEN OR THE EGG?

The egg came before the chicken. Birds evolved from reptile stock that was laying eggs millions of years before the first pre-historic bird flew.

The new look in carpets, as in apparel, will be a return to classic elegance.

ASCS Feed Grain, Wheat Program Sign-Ups Taken Through March 16

The 1973 Feed Grain and Wheat program sign-up is underway. Sign-up started Feb. 5 and will continue through March 16. The Washtenaw county ASCS office is open daily from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Carolyn Stump, county executive director, informs us that they have scheduled some extra hours to accommodate those farmers who are unable to get to the office during regular office hours.

Thursday, March 8, the office will be open until 5:30 p.m.

There have been some changes in the Feed Grain program and all farmers have been advised of these changes by the February Newsletter but to briefly review the program:

25 Percent Plan: Farmer agrees to set aside 25 percent of his feed grain base, maintain the conserving base and then will be eligible for price support loans and the Feed Grain payment. There will be no restrictions on the amount of crops he can plant. Corn rate will be 32 cents per bushel times established yield times one-half of the farm's corn base. Barley rate will be 26 cents per bushel times established yield times one-half of the farm's barley base.

Zero "O" Plan: No set-aside is required. Conserving base must be maintained and the 1973 feed grain acreage (corn, barley or sorghum) can not exceed that planted in 1972. Corn payment will be 15 cents per bushel times established yield times one-half of farm's corn base. Barley payment will be 12 cents per bushel times established yield times one-half of the farm's barley base.

WHEAT PROGRAM is as follows: In order to sign-up in the 1973 wheat program a person must go to the county office and sign the "Intention to Participate" form. No set-aside is required for the wheat program.

March 16 is the last day to file your 1973 Intention.

Chelseaites Have Reunion In Florida

The third annual meeting of the Chelsea folks near Altoona, Fla., occurred at Shockley Hills Club recently. The site is near the residences of Mrs. Clarence Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Weir, and Mr. and Mrs. Donovan C. Sweeney.

A total of 48 Chelseaites attended. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mohrlock, Mrs. Mary Kniss, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Kaercher, Mr. and Mrs. George Brands, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Gilson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Harkness Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Derrnan, Mr. and Mrs. John Herup, Mrs. Myrtle Bidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kosinski, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinner, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thomas, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Minick, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Balme, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Howes.

The Weirs, Flossie Lake and the Sweeneys acted as hosts. Wes and Rudy Howes arrived late because they got lost trying to find the spot. Mrs. Sweeney gave readings of "The Wayside Chapel," and "Minnie at the Skating Rink."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mohrlock spent a few days with the Sweeneys and Mrs. Mary Kniss visited a few days, also. The Mohrlocks left last Monday morning for their home in Chelsea.

Fireworks Confiscated By Police

Several Chelsea youths were questioned about possession of fireworks during the last week, but none were prosecuted, according to Chelsea police.

The first firecracker incident happened at the high school, Feb. 28, when a youth was seen throwing a firecracker out of a classroom window. He was questioned by police and the case was handed over to school authorities.

During the following two days, two other incidents appeared in the police files. In both, youths handed over a total of 60 packets of fireworks when confronted by police. One meeting between suspects and Patrolman Robert Brown and Roger Graves occurred after the Chelsea Lanes notified the police that a youth had ignited a firecracker in one of the bowling lane's rest rooms.

In each case, the police notified the youths of the possibility of prosecution for possessing the illegal explosives, and confiscated them.

Village Hikes Employees Salary Scale

As of March 1, Chelsea police officers began taking home pay checks that are comparable to those collected by their counterparts in other law enforcement agencies. The 16 percent salary hike was granted by the Chelsea Village Council with the intent of bringing the police salaries up to the level other village employees enjoy.

Other village employees were not forgotten, however. They were given a four percent hike.

FOR COOKING TOO

Put your family's favorite beverage to work as a dependable kitchen helper. Cook with milk and taste the difference for yourself! Cooked foods are more flavorful than ever before. Use milk when you bake... in puddings and custards... in soups, gravies, sauces, creamed vegetables. Milk makes them all taste just scrumptious... adds extra nutrition, too.

Mrs. Charles Dale Armstrong, Jr.

Judy Sanderson, C. Armstrong, Jr. Wed at Congregational Church

Judy Kay Sanderson and Charles Dale Armstrong, Jr., became man and wife at a traditional, family wedding, March 7. They are now spending a two-week honeymoon in Florida.

The Rev. Carl W. Schwarm, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the ceremony. Bruce Galbraith sang "There Is Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Chantilly lace ornamented the long, Empire style wedding dress worn by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Sanderson of 760 N. Main St. Chantilly lace touched the mandarin collar, the bishop sleeves, covered the bodice, and edged the long mantilla veil. The nylon skirt stopped with a flounce at the hemline.

The bride was attended by her sister, Trudi Sanderson, who wore a floral, Empire style gown of chiffon. Its puffed sleeves were trimmed with lace. Trudi carried a colonial bouquet of daisies and carnations. She was a symphony in yellow.

The bridesmaids, who were dressed like the maid of honor except in shades of orange, were Miss Diane Radtke of Phoenix, Ariz., Miss Brenda Armstrong, sister of the bridegroom, from Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Doreen McCalla of Chelsea.

The mother of the bride was dressed in powder blue, an empire gown with pearls and jewels at the necklines and at the waist. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. C. Dale Armstrong of 5855 Bemis Rd., Ypsilanti, also wore an empire style gown. The rose pink dress was decorated with rose bud and sequin trim at the neck and sleeves.

Miss Laura Ann Bohman of Manchester, Mo., and Matthew

Sherwood of Grass Lake, were flower girl and ringbearer.

The brother of the bridegroom, Allen Armstrong, was the best man. Roger Braun of Saline, Richard Karmatz of Washington Court House, O., Al Metty of Ann Arbor and Larry Sanderson, of Honolulu, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

The family and friends gathered at Chelsea Community Service Center after the ceremony where Mrs. Dawn Meyer and Miss Cheryl Lehmann served cake and punch.

For going away, the bride, who works as a secretary at the University of Michigan, wore a laven-dar knit dress with puff sleeves and pockets. She is a 1969 Chelsea High school graduate and a graduate of Ferris State College where she qualified for membership in Phi Gamma Nu business sorority.

The bridegroom graduated from Lincoln High school in 1967 and went on to Washtaw Community College in 1968. He is currently employed in Coolman Parking Co., of Ann Arbor.

Upon their return from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will make their home at 9203 Brookside, Whitmore Lake.

Mrs. Gene Miller is general chairman of the event. Assisting are Mrs. Arden Musbach, Mrs. Robert Merkel, Mrs. Fred Mills, and Mrs. Lynwood Neah.

Tickets are available at the Chelsea Hardware Store or from the club members.

Club and Social Activities

PAST NOBLE GRANDS

Past Noble Grand Club of Rebekah Lodge met at the home of Equahie Packard, Feb. 27. Those present spent the evening trying to identify faces in a book of pictures compiled by Mabel Bair during her year as a noble grand. Mrs. Marian Pickel read "What God Hath Promised."

Next meeting, March 22, will be "Kook's Night Out."

Prize-winners for the evening were Loydell Keezer, Velma Wolf, Edith Hoffman, Ida Nixon and Marian Pickel.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The business meeting of the Senior Citizens was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 27, with 16 members present.

The social meeting was held Thursday evening, March 1, at 7:30. The committee was Minnie Lesser and Mae Jeffrey.

The birthday meeting will be held March 13, at 6:30 p.m. Those planning that activity are Nina Mathews, Lila List and Florence Merkel.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Woman's Club of Chelsea met Tuesday, Feb. 27, in the club room of the McKune Memorial Library. 17 members and one guest, Mrs. John Schutze, was present.

The program was "Women in History," presented by Mrs. Stanton Glazier, who talked about the personality of three presidents' wives, Dolly Madison, Mary Todd Lincoln and Eleanor Roosevelt. She also had copies of favorite recipes of the famous women to give each member.

Hostesses for refreshments were Mrs. Winston Schenk and Mrs. Theodore Spano.

At the next meeting, March 13, the program will be "Women in Religion." A board meeting will follow.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

STITCH IN TIME

At the home of Mrs. Robert Robbins, our 4-H group sewed, cut and pressed from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 17. We had lunch together and then went to the Farm Council Building to see a modeling show, put on by Hadley's. After the show, the top 20 modeling girls from last year helped us all on modeling. The girls discussed the approaching 4-H dress revue with lots of excitement.

Wednesday night, March 7, we met at Mrs. Straub's to ready our invitations for our mothers' tea and had a business meeting.

TROOP 169

Brownie Troop 169 started the meeting by singing "Girls Scouts Together." We will sing that song again at our Father-Daughter Banquet. We worked on our window display for Girl Scout Week, and we received our invitations for the Father-Daughter Banquet.

TROOP 42

We worked on our window display to be placed in the Chelsea Card Shop, March 10. Our theme is International Friendship. Our troop discussed activities we'd like to do in the near future. These included camping, horseback riding, Easter Egg hunt, swimming and picnics.

Invitations were sent home to dads for the Father-Daughter Banquet to be held March 20, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school.

Mrs. Lawton Steger Re-elected To Head Hospital Volunteers

The third annual meeting of the Chelsea Community Hospital Volunteers was held at the hospital Monday. Luncheon was served at 1 p.m., followed by reports from the various committees. Mrs. Lawton Steger was unanimously re-elected president for another term.

Linda Lippert, occupational therapist, explained her role at the hospital and discussed ways in which volunteers could help in achieving goals. Alice Tite, director of patient activities, also reviewed the role of the volunteers in the hospital.

Mrs. John Keusch presented award pins to the members who had completed 40 hours or more of service. Those receiving pins this year are: Elsie Balmer, Sandy Brown, Ellen Cook, Sally Dickens, Dorothy Eismann, Mable Keizer, Catherine Kusterer, Grace Lucas, Sharon Owings, Jane Priest, Ruth Schrader and Carol Slater.

Collectively, the volunteers have served 6,304 hours since the program was started in 1970.

It was decided to start a Scholarship Fund for a deserving Candystriper Volunteer who is interested in furthering her education in either a medical or nursing school.

The drive got off to a good start by selling chances on a very colorful afghan which was made by Dorothy Miller. The afghan will be on display in the foyer of the hospital.

The volunteers are very grateful for the many donations made by local organizations. They have kept the hospital supplied with lap robes, bibs, gowns, walker aprons, arm slings, tray favors and bingo gifts.

The meeting closed with a brief talk of appreciation by Dick Hines, consulting administrator of the hospital.

DEATHS

Bishop Marshall Reed Headed Michigan Methodists From 1948 Until 1964

Bishop Marshall R. Reed, who led the Methodist Church in Michigan for 16 years, was buried Monday in Adrian. He died a week ago, March 1, at the Chelsea Methodist Home at the age of 81, after a long illness. He is survived by his widow, Mary Esther Reed, and three daughters.

Bishop Reed was the head of the church in the state from 1948 to 1964, while its membership grew from 100,000 to 283,000. He was a graduate of Albion College and Barrett Theological Institute of Evanston, Ill. He was pastor of churches in Gaines, Onaway, Detroit and Ypsilanti before becoming bishop in 1948.

Mrs. William Tibbits Oldest Resident of Methodist Home Dies March 2 at 97

Mrs. William (Mary) Tibbits of the Chelsea Methodist Home died March 2, at the age of 97. At the time of the death she was the oldest member of the Home. She was born Sept. 3, 1875, at Belmont, Ontario, a daughter of Richard and Martha Cooper Waggoner. She married William Tibbits, Sept. 1, 1897. He died July 8, 1926. She came to the Home from Ann Arbor, Sept. 10, 1968. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Vera Good of Ann Arbor, and two grandchildren. Cremation has taken place and memorial services were Tuesday, March 6, at 2:30 p.m., at the Chelsea United Methodist Home Chapel. The Rev. Richard A. Clemens officiated. Arrangements were by Staffan Funeral home.

FARM HUMOR was the satisfying main course of Captain Stubby's contribution to the Washtenaw County Livestock Council banquet, Saturday night at the Chelsea High school. He kept the guests, who nearly filled the high school gym to capacity, in stitches with such old favorites as, "You look like Helen Brown." She: "I don't look so good in blue either." Stubby exchanged pleasantries with

Symphony Band Going to State Festival

Chelsea High School Symphony Band earned entrance to April's State Band Festival by sounding off with distinction, Saturday. The musical group rated a first division mark at the area Band Festival. It had traveled to Milan for the contest.

The band was asked to play three selections, a march, a required number and a selection of its choice, in the first part of the competition. Three judges rated this "in concert" section with two first division ratings and one second division rating. The sight reading test, which followed, required that the band play two numbers they had never practiced. Chelsea's musicians were worthy of a first class rating in that area.

In addition to offering constructive criticism, the judges complimented the soloists, Kim Longworth on flute, Duane Luick on cornet, and Marilyn Lancaster on bassoon, for their fine performances.

Said Warren Mayer of the students under his direction, "They have improved steadily. They did a good job."

The high school players performed at 9:45 Saturday morning, and returned to Chelsea by noon. The state competition, which will be held in the Saginaw area, will be April 28.

Chelsea Lumber Cagers Hand Bridges First Defeat of Season

The first game of Tuesday night's schedule pitted Heydlauff's against Chelsea Drug Store in Chelsea Recreation Basketball. Heydlauff's came out on top, 50-41. Altogether 15 players from both sides scored in the game.

High scorers for Heydlauff's were Paul Terpstra, 15, Jon Schaffner, 12, and Phil Barels, 11. Dave Hutchka scored 11 points for the Drug Store, which put him in the high scorer slot on that side.

A high point of tension was reached in the next contest which saw Chelsea Lumber Co. upset unbeaten Bridges Chevrolet, 53-46. Although the score remained close throughout the game, the Lumber Company never relinquished the lead.

High scorers for the winning Chelsea Lumber Co. team were Craig Houle with 19 and Dick McCalla with 10. Dave Clark racked up 13, Jack Risner put in 12, and Tom Steele shot for 11 to lead Bridges Chevrolet.

In the third game, although out-manned, Huron Valley National tank remained in the running with Chelsea A & W until the final period, when they were outscored, 14-4. Chelsea A & W led after the first quarter but was challenged all the way.

Al Alexander and Ken Harvey each scored 14 points in the losing effort. Bob Schneider scored 11 points and Dick Miller scored 21 to lead all scorers for the night.

The final session of Recreation Basketball will be next Tuesday when top place Bridges meets Huron Valley National Bank. Then Chelsea A & W will face Chelsea Drug Store and Heydlauff's and Chelsea Lumber Co. will fight over second place.

The automobile has been credited with producing 60,000,000 tons of air pollutants annually.

Church School Teachers Will Get Instruction

Chelsea will witness an unusual ecumenical effort this Sunday evening when members of eight churches gather for a lesson in the techniques of teaching Christian education.

The Rev. Philip Reikow, Minister of Nurture of the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ, will be at the First United Methodist church to speak about what should happen in every Sunday school class. According to the Rev. Warner Siebert, Reikow has a list of 14 specific things that should occur in every class, each Sunday.

He has audio-visual aids to help explain how to make his conditions happen. The Sunday school teachers will then divide into groups, according to the age groups they teach, to discuss more specific techniques.

The Rev. Siebert stresses that this gathering is important because it will be focused on issues that concern every congregation in the community. All interested individuals, not just Christian education teachers, are invited. The registration fee is $1. Already, 60 people have registered.

Churches participating in the program are St. Paul United Church of Christ, First Congregational Church of Christ, First United Methodist church, Zion Lutheran, St. Mary Catholic church, Waterloo United Methodist and Salem Grove and North Lake United Methodist.

Girl Scout Week To Be Observed

Thank you, neighbors! That's the theme for the 1973 Girl Scout Week here, March 11-17. And 574 Girl Scout troops in Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne counties will be expressing gratitude in dozens of different ways. Their thanks goes for time, money and facilities given them by schools, communities and adult volunteers, according to Mrs. James A. Kennedy, president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Thank you projects range from painting a mural for a school library in Ypsilanti to making hand puppets for kindergarten students in Dexter. Banquets, luncheons and teas for devoted troop leaders, volunteer troop services directors and school officials are also on tap.

The nine Chelsea troops will be decorating shop windows of nine businesses in town with "Community in Action" displays. Each troop has decided on a separate theme, varying from health and safety, to the Brownie program, to the Girl Scout promise and law.

Girl Scout Week festivities will lead up to the most important event of the year, the Father-Daughter Banquet, which will be March 20.

Largest of the projects will be a Girl Scout clean-up of Curtis Park in Saline, where high school Senior Troop 229 is organizing 264 Brownies, Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts to pick up debris from the 50-acre recreation area Saturday, March 17. Troop Advisor, Mrs. James Hatfield, reports that two representatives from each of the 14 Saline troops will meet with Senior Scouts to plan the work.

"The girls wanted their hometown to know that they realize how much its United Fund, schools and churches and so many individuals have done for them. The best way to do that, they thought, was to do something nice for them in return. So they went to the city and asked what would be the biggest help. This was their suggestion," Mrs. Hatfield reports.

Other major events during Girl Scout Week include the annual meeting of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, Thursday, March 15, with dinner at 6 p.m. and business meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Clague Middle school, Ann Arbor.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

SPELLING BEE—

The school's Spelling Bee was held Tuesday, Feb. 27. The winner was Steven Kvenberg, and the runner-up was Lee Anne Owings. The winning word was "fortitude."

FIRST GRADE—

Room 4
Teacher: Miss De Vries
Reporters: Tami MacDoald and Vickie Smith
The class has been busy learning about Japan. March 3 is the Dill Festival in Japan, and they are learning about it with Mrs. Thornton.
They are learning their parts of their face and body in German. Here are some odds and ends: Feb. 28 David Settle went to the hospital to get his tonsils out; Tammy Fults had a birthday March 5; the class has a superstar snowflake board. To get a super star you have to get an excellent handwriting paper.

Room 1

Teacher: Mrs. Schiller
Reporters: Dana Wright, and Mike Wood
Mrs. Schiller's class went to the museum in Ann Arbor where they saw dinosaurs such as these: Woolly Mammoth and Tringaur Rex. The class got a chance to see a real lizard, another reptile like the dinosaur. They got a chance to feel the rough skin of a dinosaur.
Mrs. Schiller and her students wish to thank the bus driver that took them to the museum, the guides, Earl and Doug, and the two room mothers who helped.

Room 3

Teacher: Mrs. Thodeson
Reporters: Dawn Fowler and Gloria Pearson
Mrs. Thodeson's class has been talking about the number nine and putting words in alphabetical order.
The class like Duso, especially the stories, songs and the puppets which they take turns using. Now Duso is teaching them how to take care of themselves when they are alone. Kim called that self-stuff.

When these students went to the museum they liked the dinosaurs, the live Iguana and the big dead fish.

Jay Freeman and his father built a wagon. Sherry Cook and her father made a birdfeeder. The class made a snowman and a snowbird which turned to ice.

The March birthdays are Sherry Cook and Kim Smith.

Room 2
Teacher: Mrs. Thornton
Reporters: Sarah Haselschwardt and Sabrina Woodward
The class worked with alphabet macaroni. First, they wrote the letters of the alphabet on paper, then had to find the macaroni letter to match each letter of the alphabet. They wrote words, too, with the macaroni which was fun to do.

Zack Smith from the third grade came and talked to these students about dinosaurs. It was very interesting.

In health they are starting a unit about the five senses in which they will learn how important it is to take care of our eyes and ears. They will be able to use our new health books.

They are learning about contractions and compound words in reading class, and will be learning to add tens and ones in Math. In Art class they drew themselves on great big sheets of paper. Later, they painted themselves. Boy! Some of them are really big.

Did you know that March 3 was Japanese Dolls' Festival Day? Shana Burke brought her Japanese Doll to school for her classmates to see. They looked at some pictures of Japan, listened to some Japanese music, and even played a Japanese game.

Ann Arbor, Michigan, a hearing be held on the petition of Edward R. Kirk for probate of a purported will for granting of administration to executor named, or some other suitable person, and for determination of heirs.

Publication and service shall be made as provided by Statute and Court Rule. Dated: January 26, 1973.

Michigan Livestock Exchange To Honor Walton at Meeting

The 51st annual meeting of the Michigan Livestock Exchange will be held in Lansing, Saturday, March 10, at the Olds Plaza Hotel. Highlighting the day-long series of business and information sessions will be the program honoring R. H. "Ike" Walton, for 25 years the General Manager of the Michigan Livestock Exchange until his retirement last August. Former business associates of Walton will tell "The Ike Walton Story" as a part of the evening banquet activity starting at 8:30. Entertainment will be provided by The Conti Family, the exciting Michigan musical group gaining nationwide attention.

Business sessions will start at 10 a.m. with Michigan Livestock Exchange president Milton Brown of Mt. Pleasant presiding. Brown was also recently elected president of the National Cattle Feeders Association.

The afternoon business and information sessions, getting underway at 1:30, will feature the report of General Manager Harold Lein as well as speakers of interest to members attending.

A special ladies program, starting at 2 p.m., will deal with "How To Choose Art for the Home."

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Max Schoenhals, of Dallas, Tex., were in Chelsea last week for the funeral of Lura Gaddes. They are brother and sister-in-law of the deceased, and were inadvertently omitted from the obituary which appeared in The Chelsea Standard, March 1. Mrs. Blossom Unstead will celebrate her birthday, March 15, in a new home at Marlin Manor, in Jackson. Friends in Chelsea may reach her at 434 W. North St., Jackson.

New Subdivision Given Approval By Sylvan Board

Sylvan Township Board stamped the development plans for Westwind Subdivision with tentative approval, Tuesday night, at its monthly meeting. The subdivision, backed by Stefan and Weber, concerns 28 land parcels on Old US-12, next to Weber construction. Their plans must now be reviewed by county agencies such as the Health Department, the Road Commission and the Planning Commission. Their recommendations will be returned to the township at which time the board will make its final decision.

Sen. Bursley Reports, Listens To Area Residents' Problems

State Senator Gil Bursley centered his comments on two topics, school financing and Mill Creek Park, while speaking before the Chelsea Area Regional Planning Committee and 25 guests, March 1.

The controversial Governor's Commission Report on Land Use, the topic advertised as the evening's focus, was touched upon only in the question and answer session that followed Bursley's remarks.

The senator began with an issue that he was aligned himself with for some time: state education and how it should be funded. As a proponent of Proposal C, which was soundly defeated during the last general election, he reminded those present that an alternative to the property tax as a source of revenue for schools does exist. Furthermore, that method, says Bursley, has been judged "improper and biased against poor communities" by the State Supreme Court.

He is currently working on legislation that proposes a "power equalizing formula," a way for communities to tax themselves. The plan includes a reward of additional state money for those communities who choose to tax themselves sufficiently.

When he turned to the Mill Creek Park issue, Bursley's loyalties were again obvious. He recapped the recent developments, the Lansing hearing, which he helped sponsor, and the withdrawal of support by Southeastern Michigan's Council of Governments, and reported that Gene Gazley, director of DNR, will conduct another public hearing on the Mill Creek project at 3 p.m., March 15, at Ann Arbor's Pioneer High.

When the floor was opened to questions, Bursley did more listening than talking. It was his opportunity to learn about his constituents' concerns and projects. The workings of CARPC were described and the senator promised to keep the committee informed of bills relating to land use and planning.

Weldon Bohne brought up the subject of the Waterloo Recreation Area and DNR's efforts to expand that area. Bohne pointed out that the state pays very little tax to local governments, and if the area expands, the local unit of government will lose even more tax revenue. And yet the local government is responsible for providing many of the public facilities and services that are used in the park area.

John Tandy voiced another concern speaking about local governments when he spoke out against the Governor's Commission Report on Land Use. He is adverse to having the state government determine the use of land without allowing the townships to contribute to that decision.

Tandy passed along a general consensus that Dr. Taylor, who was instrumental in drawing up the report, had not done his "homework." According to Bursley, the Governor will soon be delivering a special message regarding the report. The report has allegedly been sent back for reconsideration.

Gene Thornton was speaking for the "little guy" when he raised his question. He asked Bursley what chances the individual has when confronted with the plans of large, well-financed and organized bureaus such as the state department or HCMA. Bursley suggested that the individual's hope lies in the hands of local groups like CARPC. They are close enough to the individual to see his plight. Some skepticism was raised in the face of this assertion. Many feel that CARPC is equally powerless when confronting large organizations.

Allen Dines, from Lima township, asked Bursley if DNR plans to draw up an environmental impact statement on the Mill Creek Park. Bursley responded that the director, Gazley, did not believe that the department had any responsibility to do so.

Earl Dolezky brought up the topic of tax relief for farmers. In response Bursley reiterated his disappointment that Proposal C was defeated and said that the Governor has a couple of property tax relief measures in the process of consideration.

A real estate agent and developer mentioned his dissatisfaction with slow approval of site plans. He said that excessive "red tape" ties up capital. This costs the company money, he said, and the cost is eventually passed on to the buyer.

The question and answer session was closed with a statement by Dave Bacon who laments the inequities in the present policy of tax assessment. Because land is assessed according to its potential rather than use, some farmers are being forced to sell. Regardless of zoning, the potential value near a commercial development is higher than on land with similar use but located in undeveloped areas. The high taxes make it impossible to continue farming, so farmers must sell or develop the land.

At the conclusion, Chairman Gordon Rietmiller thanked both Senator Bursley and the guests for coming.

Soil Conservation District Elects New Officers

William Fishbeck of 7994 Plymouth Rd., Ann Arbor, has been elected chairman of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District's Board of Directors.

He succeeds Stephen Bristle of Manchester who did not seek reelection to the board this year. Other officers are William Nixon of Dexter, vice-chairman; Henry Holland of Manchester, secretary; Andrew Maffett of Dexter, treasurer and Lloyd Braun of Ann Arbor, information director.

The Board of Directors of the Soil Conservation District hold their monthly business meetings the second Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. at the U.S. Soil Conservation Service Office 9 n Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor.

Lima Township Board Requests Road Improvement

Supervisor Ed Coy shared his experiences at the Michigan Township Association convention with his fellow board members at the monthly meeting, Monday night, of Lima Township Board.

The Board resolved to petition the Washtenaw Road Commission concerning the strip of Parker Rd. between Jackson Rd. and the Chelsea-Dexter Rd. The goal is to urge the commission to request that the State Highway Department reclassify the section from local to a primary road. The board wants the road, which is paved in other areas but remains dirt along that strip, to be blacktopped so that it will provide a connection between the busy east-west routes.

Allen Dines briefed the members on the latest developments in the Mill Creek Park situation, and announced the public hearing on the topic to be held in Ann Arbor's Pioneer High, March 15, at 3 p.m.

Letters from Chelsea and Dexter libraries were tabled until the budget is considered at the upcoming budget meeting. The libraries desire financial support from the township.

Shish Kebab was originally prepared by caravan travelers in the Middle East. The name literally means "meat of the sword."

By authority conferred on the Michigan Department of Natural Resources by Act 816, Public Acts of 1965, a public hearing will be held at 8:00 p.m., Thursday, March 15, 1973 in the large auditorium of the Pioneer High School, 601 W. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The purpose of the hearing is to offer all persons an opportunity to attend and offer comments (either orally or in writing) regarding the proposal of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority to acquire and develop a metro park on Mill Creek, Lima Township, Washtenaw County.

Persons unable to attend the public hearing can submit comments in writing to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Grants-in-Aid Section, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan (48926) on or before March 20, 1973.

A TRIAL SPOT-CHECK: Here staff from Highway Safety Research Institute practice for the upcoming roadside alcohol survey, March 13-April 9. They will be asking Washtenaw county drivers to step inside a research van like the one pictured for a breath test and brief interview.

Roadside Alcohol Survey Team To Work Dexter Area

During the four weeks following March 13, approximately 40 drivers will be stopped in the Dexter area and asked to participate in a Roadside Alcohol Survey.

They will be part of the third such survey conducted by the Washtenaw Alcohol Safety Action Program (ASAP).

The ASAP is a Federal demonstration project which has bolstered police patrols and modified court procedures in Washtenaw county to reduce drunken driving. In all, survey teams will use 48 roadside locations throughout the county to conduct Breathalyzer tests and short interviews of more than 1,000 randomly selected nighttime drivers.

"Names will not be asked and all information will remain confidential," assures Marion Compton of the University of Michigan Highway Safety Research Institute. The Institute is conducting this and other surveys to be used in evaluating the effectiveness of the ASAP program.

Police will be involved only to direct traffic at survey sites; they will not have access to any information given researchers.

What if you are flagged down by a policeman and asked to take part? If you agree to help, you will be invited into a comfortable research van. There you will be asked to take a Breathalyzer test to record if, and how much, you've been drinking, and to answer a short set of questions.

"If drivers are found to be intoxicated, HSRI staff will offer to drive them to their destination free of charge," explains Compton.

After the brief interview, participating drivers will be given a thank you and a pamphlet describing the ASAP program.

"Public co-operation with earlier roadside surveys was very good," says James Henderson, ASAP director, "and we hope it will be even better this year."

A recent analysis of the 1971 and 1972 Roadside Alcohol Surveys showed that males did more drinking than females, blue collar workers did more than white collar workers, and persons age 25 to 34 did more than persons of other ages.

Free speakers and films on the drunk driving program in Washtenaw county, as well as breathalyzer demonstrations may be scheduled for local groups by phoning the Washtenaw Council on Alcoholism at 971-7900.

PROUD CUBS basked in the warmth of attention Feb. 25, at Pack 415's Blue and Gold Banquet. They feasted on chicken and sang old favorites to the strains of Tom Hodgson's guitar. This satisfied looking group is, bottom row, left to right, Jeff Klink, Fitt Pearson, Todd Sprague, David Harrison, Larry Cameron, Roger Graves;

CUB SCOUT NEWS

DEN 13, PACK 435

We met Thursday, March 1, at the home of our den mother, Mrs. Arthur Steinaway.

This week we started our meeting by having our treats which were brought in by Jeff Fouty.

We played our instruments that we had made a few weeks ago while we sang "We've Got The Cub Scout Spirit."

We've been spending a lot of time on Indian lore. We are going to draw another story using Indian signs for next week.

We also discussed bringing a friend to visit who might be interested in joining the cubs.

We closed our meeting by saying the den yell.

Ronnie Lorenzen, scribe.

DEN 8-9, PACK 445

Den 8-9 of Pack 445 had their meeting today. There was so much snow in the ground, we took a toboggan ride. It was great. You would go down a hill (the faster the better) and when you got to the bottom there would be this little hill (and a lot of snow) and you would go into this snow and get covered with it.

The treats were brought by Howard Whitaker.

Mike Ward, scribe.

SPLITS THE CONTINENT

The Amazon River, winding approximately 4,000 miles to the Atlantic, almost cuts South America in half. The river's source, just below the backbone of the Andes in southern Peru, is only 97.5 miles from the Pacific.

Cub Scout Pack 415 Holds Blue and Gold Banquet Feb. 25

Cub Scouts, together with their parents, shared the annual Blue and Gold Banquet Sunday, Feb. 25, at the High School cafeteria. The affair began with a flag presentation given by all the Cub Scouts of the pack, followed by everyone saying the pledge of allegiance and then singing Cub Scout Welcome Song to the tune of Auld Lang Syne. The invocation was offered by the Rev. Fr. Umberto Mellare.

After a dinner of fried chicken and ham, Tom Hodgson led everyone in a Sing-A-long. He played a magnificent guitar and led the scouts and parents in many, many songs, such as "Puff the Magic Dragon," "Country Roads," and "Joy to the World." After the singing, a 30-minute film was presented entitled "The Name of the Game Is Hockey." It was a very interesting film about how to learn the game.

Awards followed the entertainment: Gerald Ratzlaff, two silver arrows; Todd Sprague, bear patch, gold arrow; David Harrison, bear patch; Anthony Klubuchar, bear patch, gold arrow, two silver arrows; and Jeff Klink, one-year service pin.

Billy Freeman, received his Webelos colors and book, and Charles Spencer was welcomed into the pack and given his bob cat pin and wolf book.

A special recognition was made to Mrs. Diane Bice, chairman of the Blue and Gold Banquet, whose precise organization made the banquet a total success.

Cubmaster Gene Ahrens announced the leaders, den mothers, committee members and chairmen, as follows: Cubmaster, Gene Ahrens, second-year service; den mother for Den No. 1, Alice Atkinson, 11th-year service; new den mother for Den No. 5, Diane Graves; and New Webelos leader, Earl Dreiman.

Others are new treasurer and awards chairman, Fred Miller; publicity chairman, Sandra Ratzlaff, second-year service; committee chairman, Tom Klubuchar; and committee members: Jim Sprague and Diane Bice.

The assistant den mother for Den No. 5 is Mrs. Snyder, and the secretary is Mrs. Judy Miller. Pack 415 committee members

JV Cagers Down Dexter In Final Game

Chelsea Bullpups get the mood for the evening at Dexter, Friday night, when they drowned the Little Dreadnaughts, 79-62. This final confrontation left the Chelsea JV's 9-11 for the season.

The game was determined in the second and third quarters when Chelsea applied the pressure. With 28 points in the second, and 23 in the third, Chelsea's dominance was established.

Dave Alber and Jack Hackworth were the main scoring pislons in the Chelsea machine. Dave led with 20 while Jack put in 18. Gary Wonders with 14, and Randy Musbach with 13, were backed by Paul Wood's 10. This was Randy Musbach's best game of the year with a goodly number of points, and four steals.

The main rebounders for the Bullpups were Paul Wood, with 21, and Dave Alber, who closed the season with a lucky 13.

LANDMARKS AND AWARDS: At Boy Scout Troop 465's Court of Honor, Monday night, the passage of another year was noted with the presentation of service awards. The presentation of special certificates reminded everyone of jobs well-done. Scouts and leaders participating were: front row, from left, Bruce Rabbitt, holding his special

Troop 465 Presents Awards

Lloyd Hafner, who has been an active scout as an adult for the last 10 years, participated with his scouts of Troop 465 at their Court of Honor, Monday night.

The meeting, held at North school to mark the progress of the scouts, started with the presentation of scout awards to Allen Parker, Jeff Rabbitt, Bruce Rabbitt, Kris Steinaway, Brad Smith and Jim Smith.

Bruce Rabbitt became a tenderfoot scout and received a special certificate for being a patrol leader.

Other special certificates were awarded to: Allen Parker, senior patrol leader; Kris Steinaway, assistant patrol leader; Brad Smith, scribe; and Kirk Steinaway, instructor.

Service awards were handed out according to the number of active years in scouting. Receiving one-year pins were Allen Parker, Brad Smith, Bruce Rabbitt and Ship

Stafford. Scott Stafford earned a two-year pin while the Steinaway brothers, Kris and Kirk, earned three- and five-year pins, respectively.

Similar pins were given to adults who had served as scout leaders. Bob Stafford rated a two-year pin; Art Steinaway pinned on a five-year award, and Lloyd Hafner took home a 10-year pin.

JV Cagers Storm Past Parma, 57-56

Chelsea JV's, coached by Parma Western, their non-league rivals, Feb. 27, to win the last home game of the season. Charging from a 10-point handicap at the start of the final period, the Bulls slipped ahead, 57-56. Paul Wood was responsible for the key basket and the two perfect free throws that tipped the balance.

Chelsea began the fight with promise, taking a 14-11 lead in the first quarter. In the second period, however, they managed to connect for a discouraging total of nine points while Parma surged ahead with 17 new points. Parma made 17 more points in the next period, leaving Chelsea behind, 45-35, at half-time. By plunking in 22 in the third quarter, and keeping Parma restricted to 11, Chelsea was able to step ahead just in time.

Dave Alber's 23 points certainly helped the effort. Other scoring among the Bulls was done by Jack Hackworth, 12; Paul Wood, 7; Gary Wonders, 6; Dan Leonard, 6; and Rick Sweeney, 3.

Paul was leader on the boards, with seven rebounds falling under his sway. Dave Alber was next with eight. Rick Sweeney followed up with seven.

This win left the Bulls 8-11 as they approached the final game of the season against Dexter, at Dexter, last Friday.

Fire Department Called When TV Set Blazes

The quiet of Monday night was punctured by fire sirens in Chelsea. The Fire Department was called at approximately 9:30 p.m. by William Wetzel whose television had apparently burst into flames.

The situation was immediately under control and the television was the only item in the Wetzel home at 17 Sycamore that was damaged.

INDEPENDENT PARTY PLATFORM

1. To continue to promote well qualified candidates for public offices.
2. The Independent Party will continue to work for the improvement of the present sewer system. We continue to believe that the improvement of the present system is the responsibility of the residents of the Village but that extension of the system is the responsibility of the developer.
3. The Independent Party is in favor of a cooperative approach to the problems of recreation and supports the Village's participation in the coordinated group effort to draw together all of the local groups and agencies interested in recreation for the Chelsea area residents.
4. The Independent Party is in opposition to the proposed Mill Creek Metropolitan Park as now proposed by Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority. This park offers little, if any, benefits to the local area residents. It will probably cause many problems for the area and added costs to the local taxpayers.
5. The Independent Party is in favor of continued support of the Village Planning Commission. In order to promote orderly growth of Northwestern Washtenaw and Northeastern Jackson Counties, we also support active participation in the Chelsea Area Regional Planning Committee consisting of the surrounding townships and the Village.
