

Baseball Team Looks Ahead To Better Success Next Year

"It was a growing, a learning year," said varsity baseball coach Carl Genske as he looked back on Chelsea's disappointing season, his last as teacher and coach. The Bulldogs were banished to the basement with their 1-11 conference record.

"Next year should be brighter, both for playing and weather-wise," predicts the coach. "We should be right up there battling for the top spot." The encouraging forecast is based on the fact that only three of this year's starters will be lost to graduation. Jeff Daniels, John Mann and Craig Alter will be gone.

Chelsea closed its season Wednesday, May 23, playing a game against South Lyon that had been cancelled the day before because of rain. What would have been the final game of the season, last Friday, was scratched because of the unco-operative drizzle.

South Lyon trounced the visitors, 9-0, in a game marked by very few errors. South Lyon collected 12 hits and one error which overpowered Chelsea's two hits and one error.

Perry Johnson started on the mound for the Bulldogs but was replaced by Doug Reed in the fifth inning.

Chelsea's two hits were batted by Jeff Daniels and John Mann. Both were singles.

Although the Bulldogs are out of the running, the Michigan Regional tournament will be played on Chelsea's diamond this Saturday. Games will be played at 10 a.m., 12 noon and 3:30 p.m. The District trophy and 21 medals will be awarded at the conclusion of the final game. Tickets will be sold at the gate. One ticket is good for all three games.

Genske is retiring from teaching this June to go into insurance.

Regional Baseball Tourney Opens Saturday in Chelsea

Chelsea High school will be hosting the best baseball teams in the area, Saturday, when the regional tournament takes place on the Bulldog's home diamond.

Competition will begin at 10 a.m. when Pinckney faces Jackson Northwest. Lumen Christi will vie with Michigan Center at 12:30. The winners will battle it out for the regional championship at the 3:30 p.m. game.

Tickets, which are good for all three games, may be purchased at the gate.

Qualifying rounds for the tournament were played between May 14 and 24. Chelsea was knocked out of the competition by Jackson Northwest, May 26.

Junior High Band Concert Slated Tonight

Beach Middle School 6th, 7th, and 8th graders will be pooling their musical talent tonight (Thursday), in the Beach Middle School Bands Spring Concert. The band program will be held in Beach school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

The 6th grade band will be making its musical debut. The students, who have been playing exactly one year, will play four selections on the light side of the musical spectrum. Their part in the program will have the flavor of a carnival.

The 7th graders will perform marches and songs that will revive sweet reminiscences from the Vaudeville days. "Japanese Fantasy" will add a note of the exotic to the otherwise American fare.

A march will also be included in the 8th graders repertoire. In addition, they will play two compositions especially written for bands before bursting into "Mah-na, Mah-na," a "Sesame Street" favorite.

"It promises to be a good program," says Ronald Harris, who with Warren Mayer, directs the youngsters. "The bands are ready to perform well."

The public is invited to attend this free entertainment, tonight.

WHAT'S MEMORIAL DAY WITHOUT A PARADE? Chelsea's Memorial Day festivities followed their traditional route from the cemetery through town. Chelsea High School Marching Band, the flag girls and majorettes contributed gaiety of sight and sound to the parade. Here they are marching from the cemetery toward Main St. after hearing the speech by David Dreiman.

Awards Given At CHS Spring Sports Banquet

For the third time this year, Chelsea High school athletes and their parents gathered at the high school, Tuesday night, for a sports banquet. The spring sports participants had battled through some of the worst spring weather in anyone's memory.

The trackmen, sporting a second-place standing in the Southeastern Conference, were among the proud in the assembly. Bruce Guster was selected from that group to carry the title of most valuable player. John Storey was cited as the most improved trackman. Tim Lancaster stood out as the only four-year letterman. Three-year award winners were Bruce Guster, Craig Coltre, Jeff Marshall and Lee Ferguson.

Taking two-year varsity awards were Ken Buxton, Karl Gauss, Ishmael Pickelsimer, Don Pierson, Bill Tite, Jeff Van Riper, Steve Worden, Randy Young, Rick Sweeney and Chris Phinney.

First-year award winners were John Storey, Rex Miles, Curt Wilians, Howard Salyer, Dennis Bauer, John Beeman, John Collins, Dave Frame and Kevin Kelly.

JV lettermen are Dave Fletcher, Terry Ellenwood, Tom Hafer, Eric

Prinzign, Mark Burnett, and Bill Rademacher.

The baseball team had a little less to be jubilant about but the awards, going primarily to first-year players, suggested the future would be brighter. Seniors Jeff Daniels and John Mann were the only three-year award winners. Daniels was also the most valuable player. Steve Schanz earned the most improved award.

Mike Nadeau was the only two-year award winner. The remainder of the squad took home first-year varsity awards. They are Craig Alter, Ron Clark, Howard Hasselwardt, Dan Houle, John Houle.

Blaze Damages Repair Shop

It was about a half hour after closing, and all was supposedly secured for the evening, Wednesday, May 23, when fire broke out in the lawn mower service building behind Chelsea Hardware on Main St.

The fire was discovered in its early stages because individuals were still in the neighborhood but the damage was extensive nevertheless.

The alarm was sounded a few minutes after 6 p.m., according to Mac Packard, Assistant, Fire Chief, and the fire department was soon on the scene with 16 men. They had the blaze under control by 6:45.

The work room had contained chain saws, tractors, tillers and parts, all of which were damaged, some beyond repair. Several pieces of equipment were in the shop for repair. "Most is salvagable," said owner Tom Bust. An inventory must be taken before an estimate of the damages can be given.

Bust said they are thinking about rebuilding the work shed but no plans are firm yet. "It was our first fire," said Bust, "and I hope it's our last."

Packard said the fire department laid hoses all the way to the Post Office hydrant and to another on Middle St., a precaution in case the fire ignited other buildings. Luckily, the firefighters were able to contain the blaze.

Only 120 Register For Kindergarten At Roundup

This year's kindergarten roundup for the Chelsea School District, held on May 14, totaled 120 children for next year's kindergarten. This is 50 less than this year's 170 pupils, so there may be many children in the district who haven't yet been registered.

If you have a child who will be five years old on or before December 1, 1973, who hasn't registered, please call the Kindergarten Center, 478-8774, to register him before June 11. Also, if you know of families with children this age, remind them to register if they not done so. After June 11, it will be necessary to call North or South school to register.

It is important to have these children registered soon for an accurate

Advisory Groups Study School Needs

The Citizens Advisory Committee on Education, now well into its second month of existence, is striving to furnish its various reports to the Chelsea Board of Education by August. It is not a simple task.

While not bound to act in accord with the committee's recommendations, the school board will presumably weigh the committee's reports when making related decisions.

The total committee, composed of interested citizens from the community, has been divided up into several sub-committees in order to be more effective in the analysis of the various problems which are expected to confront the Chelsea School District during the next five or ten years.

The sub-committees and their chairmen are as follows: Curriculum Committee, Lloyd Grau and Charles Cox, co-chairmen; Vocational Education Committee, George Palmer, chairman; Facilities and Sites Committee, Robert Daniels, chairman; Finance, Paul Schaible, chairman; and Publicity and Public Relations, James Sprague, chairman.

All sub-committees have met numerous times in an attempt to lay foundations for the tasks they are about to tackle.

The Vocational Education Committee on Tuesday, May 22, visited the Calhoun Area Vocational Center at Battle Creek in order to investigate the operation of an area skill center similar to that planned by Washtenaw County Intermediate School District. The Calhoun Vocational Center serves 11 school districts and has been in operation for approximately two years.

Local citizens taking advantage of this opportunity were George Palmer, Eileen Evans, Edwin Paul, Orville Tompkins, William Freeman, Cal Summers, Jr., J. Hopkins, Don Irwin, Robert Daniels, Larry Christensen and Charles Cameron. The group returned favorably impressed by the facilities.

They were especially interested in inspecting the center because the school board must vote shortly on whether to support the county-wide vocational training center proposed by the Intermediate School District.

Any citizen interested in participating on this committee and its activities should contact George Palmer at 478-8531.

The Facilities and Sites Committee is deeply involved in three

Cast Chosen For Musical

The skeleton of "Fiddler on the Roof," the script, has been clothed in flesh. The breath of life has been breathed into the characters. The cast has been named.

But the play, quivering as it is with the excitement of newly-named actors, will mature into a full-blown production only with the help of many behind-the-scenes volunteers. Persons are still needed to man committees in charge of sets, costumes, make-up, the orchestra and publicity. A meeting is being held today, May 31, at 6:30 in Chelsea High school auditorium for all interested individuals.

After two days of auditions, Jeff Daniels, still relatively fresh from his smashing success as Fagin in this winter's high school production of "Oliver!", walked off with the plum, the role of Tevye. As colorful a role as Fagin, Tevye will require Jeff to switch from thief to father, from a cockney accent to a yiddish lilt. After seeing his professional performance last winter, Jeff's fans are certain he can do it with ease and dash.

The women in this patriarch's life will be played by a number of former leading ladies. Golde will be portrayed by Chris Alber who will return for the summer from Eastern Michigan University. She is a proven crowd-pleaser, having starred in several local productions.

Equally at home on Chelsea's stage is Joan Yocum who will play Tzeitel. She will also choreograph this production as she did the high school's production of "Oliver!" and last summer's "The Sound of Music." Joan is a student in dance at Eastern Michigan University.

Pat Knickerbocker, who played Nancy in "Oliver!", will be Hodel, while Laurie Lancaster who sang the lead in "South Pacific" as a senior at the high school will be Chava. Another "South Pacific" veteran, Sarah Haselschwardt will play Bielke.

The youngest actress to bag one of the principal parts is Sue Leach who will play Schpritzke.

Sue, who appeared in "Oliver!", will be a freshman in high school next year.

Motel, Fyedka and Lazarwolf, young men who come calling at Tevye's home, are played by Keith Pfeifle, Dale Heydauff and Tom Schill. Keith earned fame as the Frenchman in "South Pacific." Dale acquired theatrical experience by appearing in every high school production in his years in high school. He will be a junior in the fall.

The remainder of the large cast will portray mamas, papas, daughters and the men of the Russian village. The rabbi, the fiddler and the matchmaker are all represented.

School Board Candidates Will Appear

The eight candidates competing for the three Chelsea Board of Education positions will introduce themselves to the community, Tuesday, June 5, at the high school. The meeting, which the public is urged to attend, will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

At this time, the new candidates and the two incumbents will give statements and answer questions posed by those attending.

The school board election will be June 11.

Debaters Seek Contributions For Auction

This Saturday, Chelsea High school debaters will be covering the Village and outlying areas, picking up donated items for their auction, June 9.

They are asking for items of any sort that will bring a good price. They will return 50 percent of the proceeds to the donor; the remainder will help pay the way of the nine debaters who want to attend the summer debating clinics at EMU and U. of M.

The money raisers have already collected TVs, a record player, water skis, baby equipment, a electric stove, a dishwasher and dryer. These useful appliances will be on the auction block in front of the McKune Memorial Library a week from this Saturday. This week-end they hope to collect even more items to sell.

Those interested in donating to the cause while making a small profit for themselves may call William Coelius at the high school at 475-1377. He will arrange to have the debaters pick up the donated articles.

SLUGGER John Thornbury sends a hot tire North-South school softball game. John's hit drive through the infield for a single during the helped North school take the championship.

Operation Red Ball Starts Very Slowly

Operation Red Ball got off to far less than a flaming start last Saturday. Both the Chelsea Fire Department and the Chelsea Jaycees are disappointed.

The fire station was open from 1 to 5 p.m. in order to pass out the life-saving red ball stickers, but only a couple of citizens came. The station will be manned the next two Saturdays, June 2 and 9, for the same purpose. Both groups hope for a more representative turnout.

The bright red stickers are to

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I see where the Russians have invented somepun called standing around the corner and telling jokes. This comes to light in a report about juvenile delinquency in Russia. It seems the young folks over there are trying out of school to stand around and talk and some have took to drinking vodka on the school ground.

Ain't it a wonder, Mister Editor, what them Russians come up with. This piece I saw quoted in the interior minister a Mr. Shumlin, as allowing the trouble with the younguns was that their parents was so busy that they had no time with their children. I want to say the breakdown of youth could be traced to "mistakes in education." But this fellar was quick to point out that juvenile delinquency in his country is not a natural result of the social system, like it is in some places he could mention.

There's a chance that Mr. Shumlin is talking about us again. I reckon they claim to have invented their own brand of bored younguns, but its the same old time. We was there first trying to catch up. I won't say I'm delinquent but I will say that for young folks to get into today, misery allus did love company.

I bring up this report from Russia during the session at the country store Saturday night, and the fellars was general agreed that younguns is the same all over. Bug Hogking said he heard, the preacher say the other Sunday that back in Old Testament days ma and pa was jest as worried about the wild ways of the younguns as they are today. He that there seems to be so much more for young folks to get into today, was Bug's words.

General speaking, Mister Editor, country preachers get right down to the rock bottom of problems. The few times I been in a city church I couldn't figger half the time who the good parson was aiming at. It ain't no mistaking the target when a country preacher takes his text. The fellar in the city pulpit may say a few birds, but you can't be assured the country preacher has his eye on the whole covey. If we could get some of his practical words into action, we wouldn't have to blame our troubles on the Russians and vice versa.

Fer instant, our preacher said the other Sunday we was putting on a little drive to get up money to put air conditioning in a h.i.s. He said he knowed the collection was fer his personal comfort, but he allowed the congregation ought to look with favor on the idea, cause where some of us was going we was going to need all the cool air we could get. He didn't call no names, Mister Editor, but he was looking straight at everybody.

That got a few hot under the collar, but it was the best collection we've had in a month of Sundays.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Big Wheel Business

Recent years have seen many Michigan residents turning away from the traditional four-wheeled form of transportation to the two-wheeled form.

The state is not alone, either. Last year, for the first time since the automobile became a factor in the American economy, more bicycles were sold in the United States than automobiles. The count was 13 million bicycles against 10 million automobiles.

In addition, motorcycles and motorbikes have enjoyed a booming popularity in recent years. Their numbers increased by 110 percent from 1967 to 1971.

These developments have raised a new safety problem for the state. The main problem is that when something happens to a person on a cycle of any kind, the rider has very little protection from injury.

A person in an automobile is surrounded by steel and so long as he isn't thrown out, has that protection against trees, fences, other cars or pavement. A cyclist involved in an accident has no such protection.

Thus nationally, for all types of vehicles, 8.2 percent of the accidents result in death or injury. For cyclists, 80 percent of all accidents involve death or physical injury.

The growing problem has been noticed in the office of Secretary of State Richard Austin, who is in charge of registering all motor vehicles in the state.

Austin prompted the Michigan State Safety Commission to sponsor a Cycle Safety Conference in which 60 people from around the state took an in-depth look at the problem.

They concluded Michigan needs better education and training programs, new laws, and improved safety equipment to help the growing numbers of cycle riders.

In the state and within three counties are three million bicycles in the state and than within three years their number should more than double to outnumber the six million registered motor vehicles.

Leave It Alone

The Department of Natural Resources has some advice for anyone who sees a baby wild animal in the woods and thinks about taking the baby home as a pet. The advice is simple—Don't.

Wild animals, it says in an advisory, very seldom make good pets. While that baby raccoon may be cute and submissive while young, it retains its wild instincts and never becomes as trustworthy as a dog or cat. It isn't really interested in pleasing its masters.

As it grows older, some of its more undesirable traits may begin to surface. When the owner decides to get rid of it, a second problem occurs.

Most zoos have more of this kind of animal than they can handle already. And after spending its growing years in a domestic setting, the animal may no longer be able to fend for itself in the wild.

That, the DNR says, is why the legislature made it illegal for a person to take wild animals from the wilderness. It says anybody who finds an abandoned or orphaned wild animal should notify the nearest conservation officer.

It also decided the education problem is a two-way matter.

Not enough of cycle riders know how to operate their cycles safely and properly. At the same time, automobile drivers do not know how to share the highway with cycle people.

Cycle people at the conference recommended a state-wide registration system for bicycles to be implemented by local governments and development of bicycle safety education programs for schools.

They also recommended the establishment of state standards for bicycle paths, something which may be helped by the fact a tiny portion of the state gas tax has been allocated for bicycle paths.

The motorcycle group recommends much more training for inexperienced motorcycle drivers. It is these people who are involved in 70 percent of all motorcycle accidents. It also called for a state-wide education program and inclusion of motorcycle safety education in driver education classes.

Girl Scouts To Renovate Hilltop Cabin

A contract for remodeling Hilltop Cabin, the major building at the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Camp Hilltop in Ann Arbor, was awarded this week to Butcher & Willis, Inc., Ann Arbor contractors, according to Mrs. Louise Galan, of Dexter, Council president.

The renovation will include re-designing the cabin interior, as well as installation of wood paneling, acoustical tile, carpeting, kitchen cabinets and hot water heater. The exteriors of both the cabin and the camp garage will be repainted.

Total cost of the work to be completed by fall will be $10,700.

Funds for the remodeling will come from profits of the 1973 Girl Scout Cookie sale, Mrs. Galan noted.

"The more than 2,000 girls who use Camp Hilltop each year for week-end troop camping, year-round and day-camping in the summer, will now have a far more comfortable and versatile building as their headquarters," Mrs. Galan said. "We are grateful to the purchasers of Girl Scout Cookies for making this possible."

The seven acres of land at Main and Huron River was given to local Girl Scouts for Camp Hilltop in 1946 by Mr. and Mrs. Main and Huron River was given Cone Lighthall. Hilltop Cabin was built two years later with contributions from Rudolph Silverstone, the Earhart Foundation, Mrs. Charles Barclay, Ragnar Arnesen, Mrs. N. J. Prakken and Mrs. F.C. MacKenzie, among others.

The only previous renovation of Camp Hilltop was in 1967 when the cabin was enlarged by the Kiwanis Club of Ann Arbor as a donation to the Girl Scouts.

Greek Festival Scheduled Friday, Saturday in Ann Arbor

In response to the enthusiastic and numerous requests, "Ya'ssoo Ann Arbor, 1973," the Greek Festival and Bake Sale, will be held on Friday, June 1 and Saturday, June 2, at St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox church, 414 N. Main St., Ann Arbor. Facilities have been expanded with the acquisition of an adjoining lot and plans are underway for a bigger and better festival than in previous years.

The sale of home-made Greek pastries will be held Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. until midnight. A variety of Greek pastries will be sold, including Baklava ("Diamond Delights"), Koulorakia (sugar butter cookies), Teropetkia (cheese triangles), Tsourekia (Greek sweet bread), Kourambethes (butter tea cookies), Karithopeta (walnut cake), Paxinatha (zwiebacks), and Loukoumathes (Turkish confectionary).

Free coffee will be served in the outdoor Athenian Coffee Shop.

During the past few weeks, the women of St. Nicholas church have been busy baking a variety of sweets. About 33,000 pastries will have been made for the sale. Each Greek pastry has a chairman who is in charge of producing the best recipe for that particular sweet, and seeing that quality is up to par.

Luncheons and dinners featuring Greek cuisine will be served continuously from 11 a.m. until 1 a.m. The food preparation and service has been taken over by the men of St. Nicholas church, under the chairmanship of Nick Michos and Mike Koutsogiannis. Food service will be in the outdoor canopied Greek "Plaka."

Approximately 1,500 people riding in 59 tractor-drawn hay wagons and two village vehicles, had a most hilarious good time at Chelsea's 125th Anniversary hay ride last Saturday night.

A wagon driven by Calvin Clark, won first prize (20 wooden nickels) in the wagon name contest at Saturday's hay ride. The riders had selected the name "The Straw Ticks" and fastened a placard hearing the name to the back of the wagon box. Two couples riding in the wagon were identified as Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owings.

Sylvan Center City Slickers Brothers of the Brush, driving a team of horses they purchased in Detroit to draw their covered wagon, have announced they plan to "defy" Chelsea police officers by driving into town at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening. It seems the City Slickers were challenged by Chelsea police when they drove around town last and the return visit this week is an "assertion of their legal rights," William Marsh was the driver.

VACANT ACREAGE for those who have always dreamed of building their own home in the country.

73-1003 TWO TEN-ACRE PARCELS approximately 8 miles from Saline. Nice area for building with more land and barn available for those interested in expansion. $16,000 each, terms. Evenings call Bob MyrmeI at 663-0122.

73-1078 10.01 ACRES east of Chelsea in a growing area. This parcel is fairly flat with several choices of good building sites. Located on a quiet country road. $16,400, terms. Evenings call Ed Coy at 426-8295.

73-1079 FIVE ACRES close to the expressway. A charming piece of property. One parcel sold immediately, so hurry, this one won't last. Chelsea schools. $6,400 with terms. Evenings call Bob Parker at (517) 764-2016.

73-0817 FOUR FASCINATING PARCELS in the West Jackson area. Great for the man with imagination and flare. Heavily rolling with a view for miles. 18 acres with barn, $17,500; two 12-acre parcels, $11,000 each; and one 14-acre parcel, $14,000. Terms available. Evenings call Gary Lillie at 769-1634.

72-2635 TEN-ACRE DREAM LAND in Dexter school district in a growing area of nicer homes. Woods and flowing stream to the rear of the property. $20,000 with terms. Owners anxious so bring offers. Evenings call Hank Klose at 483-4652.

73-0549 66.5 ACRES in Dexter school district. Combination of trees and open fields which are now being farmed. Great potential with several possible building sites. $79,800 with terms. Evenings call Ed Coy at 426-8235.

73-0597 MULTIPLE PARCELS in the Dexter school district. Some contain pond sites and the area is heavily wooded. Various sizes available. More information when survey comes in. Lovely building sites. Evenings call Bob MyrmeI at 663-0122.

73-0989 THREE 10-ACRE PARCELS in Tecumseh area. Three 5-acre parcels on same property already sold. Prices range from $1,000 to $1,500 per acre. Evenings call Hank Klose at 483-4652.

73-0006 LIVE IN CLOVER—10 acres of it! We are splitting up a 140-acre farm in the Saline school district. Be the first to choose from this gently rolling farm. Choice parcels immediately available with terms to suit. Evenings call Gary Lillie at 769-1634.

NEW LISTING! Manchester schools. Seven choice 10-acre sites with sandy soil. Lovely views in every direction. Private roads. Land contract terms. Also two 1.37 acre parcels on hicktop, 3.97 acres and 4.60 acres on private roads. Evenings call Bob Parker (517) 764-2016.

MEMBER MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE

MUSIC WITH A MESSAGE: The Celebration Road Show will provide both the music and meaning at the Baccalaureate service for this year's graduating seniors. Led by trumpet-playing Gary Miller, a former youth minister and professional football player, the group will appear at the high school auditorium, at the religious service, 8 p.m., Sunday night.

Unique Musical Group Will Perform at Baccalaureate

The Celebration Road Show, a musical group that defies classification, will provide music and a message at this Sunday's Baccalaureate service at the high school. The service, which is programmed especially for graduating seniors, will take place in the high school auditorium June 3, at 8 p.m.

Although the six musicians play pop tunes such as "I Believe in Music," "I Believe in Love," they do not offer an ordinary rock show. "It's a program to get students to think about their fellow man, discuss human relationships and develop human values," says the leader of the group, the Rev. Gary Miller. "Today's music carries many messages," he points out, "and students love music. Why shouldn't they have fun while learning at the same time?"

Miller and his six-piece band organized in June of 1972. Since then they have not only traveled extensively but have made quite an impression on their home base, Saginaw. They have hit the school district's 40 schools for day-long programs of music, slide presentations and discussions on human relationships. Miller says his fellow musicians all feel that they would much rather do the work they are doing than work in nightclubs.

"It's a blast," he told a Saginaw reporter. "Why just look at the kids' faces. This is satisfaction."

Miller is experienced both with music and people. The former professional football player is an ordained minister, who has served as a youth minister. He plays the trumpet, flugelhorn, and cornet.

Nick Opperman, "of folk music fame," is the source of exciting sounds from the banjo, guitar and larynx. Adding to the jazz flavor are Charlie Hooks on the reed instruments, Don Dybert on the trombone, Milt Shulz on percussion and Craig Hodnett on bass and tuba. The piano and vocal styles of Sandy Stone, a former runner up in the Miss Iowa contest, adds flavors of their own.

Tents Stolen From Owners' Back Yards

Memorial Day week-end was ruined for two would-be campers when they discovered that their tents had been stolen out of their back yards.

Patrick Milliken discovered that his 12 x 12 umbrella style tent had been taken during the night when he awoke Saturday morning. He had left it out Friday evening or air out after winter storage. A neighbor noticed that it was still in the yard at 600 Taylor St. at 2 a.m., but it was gone the next morning.

The green and yellow Sears tent is worth more than $100, making the thieves guilty of grand larceny.

Frank White of 116 N. East St. was robbed of his 10 x 16 large blue and white tent, May 24, between midnight and 7:30 a.m. He had put up his newly purchased tent in the back yard that evening to see if it leaked.

Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck commented that tent stealing is a new phenomena. It is perhaps indicative of the new popularity surrounding camping.

HOW MUCH DID THEY COST? Legendry of the Middle Ages says necklaces of onions were frequently worn by women to insure good health. Ancient Egyptians were said to have taken their oath with their right hand on an onion, indicating it was a symbol of eternity because of its formation of a sphere within a sphere.

Some think that the Sunday morning church service is like a convention—they send only one official delegate.

Spring Sports Banquet...

Perry Johnson, Dave Luhn, Doug Reed, Steve Schanz, John Tandy, Dave Tucker and Kevin Wepp Glenn Alter received a certificate.

Mark Policht, a fourth-year golfer, and Don Conklin, who played the rounds for the third year this spring, were honored for their years on the golf team. Jeff Schmidt was a second-year award winner on the golf team.

Receiving first-year linksman awards were Mike Fouty, Don Shirlilla and Chris Rablitt. JV golfers were Keith Cockerline, Jim Powers, and Victor Steinbach. Roger Policht and Robert Wenk received their freshman numerals.

Sam Vogel's tennis squad was distinguished by having female winners in addition to the men players. Jane Belser, Debbie Bertke and Jim Storey were the third-year award winners and Bill Schaffer, a first-year player, was designated most valuable.

First-year netters were Bill Schaffer, Steve Siebert, Mary Verchereau, Mark Heydlauff, Duane Luick, Dan Hagen, Paul Marshall, Andy Quakenbush and Curt Umstead. JV award winners were Jane Buxton and Mary Linebaugh.

AUTO TRAVELERS

Statistics in recent years indicate that 44 percent of auto travelers are visiting friends or relatives, 22 percent are engaged in entertainment, sight-seeing or other pleasure travel, and 10 percent are seeking outdoor recreation. Business trips and conventions account for about 13 percent of auto traffic.

No, you don't catch butterfly choppers in a net on a warm spring day. Butterfly choppers, cut from the pork loin, are available in many meat markets. It's also easy to "butterfly" sections of the loin at home. Purchase either boneless pork loin or the bone-in meat. (If the bone is present, remove it by running a sharp knife between the bone and the meat.) Cut the loin into slices 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick. Cut each slice almost in two from the fat side, knife parallel to the surface of the meat. Use care to cut only the opposite of the chop so that meat is hinged together. Separate and spread the two sides of pork so that the chop lies fairly flat.

THANK YOU to the Chelsea Fire Department

We wish to thank the Chelsea Fire Department for their promptness and efficiency in putting out the fire in our service shop.

As soon as arrangements can be made we hope to reopen the shop. A clearance sale will be held to dispose of damaged units. Thanks again, Firemen.

be placed in the bedroom windows of small children or invalids so that, in the case of fire, firefighters will know where to start their rescue operations. A red ball is also to be placed in the front door of these homes so that firemen will know there are relatively helpless individuals inside to be accounted for.

While in some communities the stickers were passed out to elementary students through their schools, the Chelsea sponsors decided on a more controlled method of distribution. By giving the stickers to individuals who come Saturday, they are certain the stickers will be properly placed.

The Fire Department will keep a record of all those who pick up stickers during the next two Saturdays so that, in the event of a fire, they will know in advance the number of children or disabled individuals to look for. This will be determined by checking their files while enroute to the scene.

A spokesman for the program stresses that Operation Red Ball is only of use if it is properly used. He urges all adults to see that their children or the invalids in their care are protected by the little red ball.

This program, which is supported nationally by Jaycee chapters, has met with success. It is said to have saved lives by general areas of investigation: 1) the necessity of acquiring additional school sites, 2) the study of the elementary and high school facilities, and 3) a study of the projected school population for the next five- and ten-year periods.

On May 30, this committee once again met with the architectural firm of Manson, Jackson and Kane of Lansing.

The next meeting will be June 4, 7:30 p.m., in the high school library. Any citizen interested may contact Robert Daniels at 475-1132.

The success of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Education is dependent upon the contributions of time and interest of the people of the Chelsea community. VERYL R. FOUTY

In loving memory of my husband, father and grandfather who passed away one year ago today, May 30. God saw you getting weaker, so he did what he thought best. He came and stood beside you, and whispered "Come to Rest." You wished no one last farewell, not even to say goodbye. You had gone before we knew it, and only God knows why. Sadly missed by wife Pearl, children and grandchildren.

THANK YOU

We wish to extend our sincere gratitude to all who remembered us and stood by at the time of the death of John Pielemeyer. We give a special thank you for the floral offerings and to all who gave memorial gifts to Spaulding for Children.

The Pielemeyer Family.

VERYL R. FOUTY

In loving memory of my husband who passed away one year ago today, May 30. I mourn for him in silence. No eyes can see me weep, but many a silent tear is shed, while others are asleep. Sadly Missed by wife Pearl.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★Enjoy Life!

We all have a good deal of hang-ups, worries, and problems in our daily lives. Too many of us, however, let these things get us down and make us feel uneasy. Budgets, bills, competitive society—we always seem to have one or the other on our minds.

Sure, these things are important and we must give them thought, but perhaps our lack of faith forces us to concentrate on these problems of the material world even more. Too many times we forget that God has provided well for us in the past and that He will always take care of us. If we would only go to God more often with our troubles and our problems, we would find them easier to bear.

And if we let God enter our hearts and minds, He will let us know what His will is for our lives. True, by bringing our troubles to God doesn't mean that tomorrow our budgets will balance—but we will be given a new perspective on our lives. That new perspective might help us to realize that we do not really need all the materialistic things we pursue.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

FIRST GRADE—
Room 4
Teacher: Miss DeVries
Reporters: Tami MacDonald and Vickie Smith

Thomas Gerigk and Eddie Mullaly had their picture in the newspaper with Mrs. Smith. The students in this class went to the library and got books. They are making hard cover books of their own.

With Mrs. Thornton, they are learning how baby chicks are born and about their eggs. The class is learning about animals and their young.

Since this week is Michigan Week, they are studying about it.

Room 2
Teacher: Mrs. Thornton
Reporters: Sarah Haselwardt and Denise Geddes

The June birthdays are: Laurie Heller, Lori Patrick, and Chris Dean.

Mrs. Thornton's students are writing stories. They're doing very well. Becky Schlupe wrote a story about "A Bear and his Funny Hair". Tanya Mattoff wrote about "The Funny Friends". Kraig Leach started a story about "A Moose with Long Hair". Kevin Colombo wrote one of his favorite stories in his reading book.

Room 3
Teacher: Mrs. Thodeson
Reporters: Gloria Pearson and Dawn Fowler

Mrs. Thodeson's class has been learning about Michigan. They are trying to spell without the help of their teacher. Jay Marshall brought in a bird's nest to show the class. Dan built a derby car to race around his back yard.

SECOND GRADE—
Room 8
Teacher: Mrs. Hamilton
Reporters: Pam Stephens and Dawn Apilado

Mrs. Hamilton's class has two birthdays this month: Jon Reynolds and Anita Farley.

After the children had read "The Ghost of the Hidden Springs," they drew the house to present the story. They also drew some other scenes. They will make a bulletin board called, "What's in a Spring Garden?"

In English they wrote letters. In math they are studying their multiplication tables. They have a chart, and when they learn 2, 3, 4's and on up they get a star after their name. In science they are studying plants. The class is following the skylab events.

Room 5
Teacher: Mrs. Lopez

We are planning a trip June 7 to the U. M. Botanical Gardens. This will help us learn more about plants grown in other climates. We have been studying plant growth in science class.

Our picnic will be at Pierce Park on Friday, June 8. The lunch will be prepared by the room mothers.

We drew pictures of Michigan, robins, and apple blossoms to make a bulletin board for Michigan Week. We all enjoyed wearing our Michigan Week buttons.

Room 10
Teacher: Mrs. Grinnell
Reporters: Dan McGill and Dana Wright

Vaughn Mills had a birthday on May 21. Mrs. Grinnell's room is celebrating Michigan Week. They have Michigan buttons. They had to do a homework assignment about where they had been in Michigan.

In two weeks they are going to go to the botanical gardens. Next week they are having achievement tests. In Reading they are getting into a new "Wide Horizons" book.

THIRD GRADE—
Teacher: Mrs. Fulks
Reporter: Jamie Atkinson

Our class took a tour of the Beach school on May 22. The 6th graders were our guides, and we stayed there all day.

On May 29 we will be going to the Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village.

In social studies we are studying about Canada and its industry. In English we are studying about adverbs and adjectives.

Deanna Petsch has the mumps and Linda Durgan is in the hospital.

Room 11
Teacher: Mrs. Wahl
Reporters: Mike Minnick and Kenneth Geer

The second grade painted their clay and did paper sculptures. First grade did self portraits. Third grade did crayon etching. Fourth grade did drawing for composition from still life. Fifth grade did drawing volume for composition, shadow, and high lights, and made posters for the ice cream social.

Mrs. Richardson's class is writing biographies on someone they know. They had to write reports on Montana and Washington. They

Thomson Brothers Honored at Sports Award Banquet

Coach George Acker's 1973 tennis squad at Kalamazoo College claimed both the MIAA championship and the GLCA championship this season. Its members were honored collectively and individually, May 24, at the annual sports award banquet.

Tom Thomson, one of this year's tri-captains, was selected for MIAA honors. Mike Thomson, Tom's brother, was named the Most Improved Player on this year's team.

Senior Willard Washburn was selected as the most valuable player for the second consecutive season. He held the number one singles position, and in doubles competition, he combined with junior Steve Thomson, also a Thomson brother, to win eight of ten matches.

The Thomsons are former Chelsea residents. With their brother, Mark, they received varsity letters at the banquet.

The Guardians ?? of Health

D. R. ELWART, D.C.

How many times have you heard, "... a cure is just around the corner, but will never be unless you give till it hurts..." or "... get a check-up or a check..."?? How many times have you heard, "... we don't know what causes your condition but, here, take these pills and see if they work, if they don't we'll try something else"?? DOESN'T IT EVEN MAKE YOU WONDER??

Under our present health (??) system in the United States, we have the MOST medical doctors; the biggest and best research clinics, backed and financed by the government and you the public; we have the MOST scientists; the MOST drugs; the MOST hospitals; the best educated public on medical health care; in fact we have the BEST of everything when it comes to so-called health care... and IF WE DON'T, you can be sure we'll get it. THEREFORE, WE SHOULD BE THE HEALTHIEST NATION IN THE WORLD... BUT WHAT ARE SOME OF THE FACTS??

Countries such as Vietnam and Laos are healthier than us. Infant death rates have increased as the U. S. infant mortality rate has slipped to 14th place among major countries. In the AFRICAN JUNGLES an infant has a better chance of surviving than we do!!!

More than 90 million Americans are afflicted with some chronic disease. In all the nations of the world we are 107th in health!!!

If you're still sick... and you're sick and tired of being sick and tired... it's time to switch to Chiropractic. Chiropractic has survived for more than 77 years NOT because we spend billions on research to find the cure for cancer in the belly of a whale in the Antarctic Ocean; or because we have the most fund drives to support this insane-type research; or because we forced the government to pass laws to allow us to exist... Chiropractic has survived the last 77 years because it GETS RESULTS!!! and results is what counts. People don't want or need big theories... they need to be HEALTHY!!! Many times the medical profession has tried to wipe Chiropractic off the face of the earth... but YOU the PEOPLE... the reason all health professions and so-called health professions exist... FOUGHT to keep Chiropractic... not because we spend billions to promote our image... but because after all else failed you turned to Chiropractic and GOT RESULTS...

50th ANNIVERSARY: Norman and Ruth Perkins, formerly of Chelsea, will be the guests of honor at an open house, June 3, at the home of their daughter, 200 Francisco Rd., Grass Lake. Friends are invited to drop in between 1 and 4 p.m. The Perkins' daughter, Mrs. Roland Roberts and son, Robert Perkins of Minot Air Force Base, N. D., are arranging the event to mark their parents' 50th wedding anniversary. The Perkinses were married June 3, 1923, in Lansing. All their friends, whom they made during the many years Mr. Perkins worked at Federal Screw Works, are invited to attend.

Dance Recital Slated Tuesday At Chelsea High

Mrs. Betty D. Walton of Ann Arbor, will present her students in an evening of dance at Chelsea High school auditorium, Tuesday, June 5 at 7:30 p.m.

This is the third year Mrs. Walton has held classes in the Dexter-Chelsea area and will present youngsters from age 3 on up in tap, ballet and acrobatic dancing.

"It is extremely gratifying," said Mrs. Walton, "to see an overly-shy child blossom into a confident performer in even a year. And of course the recital which displays all of the hard work and practice is a happy time."

"I don't teach one form of dancing alone, in the course of a lesson we cover tap, ballet and acrobatics. The tap teaches exact rhythm, the ballet grace and good posture and really the acrobatics are fun and sort of a reward for work well done," she said.

Mrs. Walton is moving to the Dexter-Chelsea area and will teach again next fall.

Betty Rasmussen Presents Pupils In Piano Recital

Students from the piano class of Betty Rasmussen were presented in a recital on Sunday afternoon, May 27, at St. Paul United Church of Christ. Participating in the program were Linda Stillion, Kirk Stubbs, Bethel Snyder, Jennifer Wellnitz, Thomas Gaunt, Christine Johnson, Keith Stillion, Dawn Krueger, Caroline Lane, Eric Pichlik, Nicolette Cordin, Marcia Prinzing, Douglas Pichlik, Tonja Williamson, Becky Harbaugh, Shelley Wareen, Emily Bonus and Timothy Stubbs.

The recital will be repeated June 2, for residents of the United Methodist Home, with the addition of those students who were unable to take part in the Sunday program because of Memorial Day plans.

Mrs. Rasmussen is a graduate of Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester, and has done graduate study at the University of Washington, with Gene Fiset in Seattle, and E. Robert Schmitz in San Francisco. She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, International Music Sorority, having served as president of the New Orleans Alumni Chapter of the sorority before moving to Michigan.

Mrs. David Charles Aten

Sandra J. Lunsford, David Aten Married in Kalamazoo Church

Sandra Jeanne Lunsford and David Charles Aten spoke marriage vows, May 28, at 1 p.m. in Townsend Park in Cannonburg. One hundred guests were with them to witness the Rev. Art Davis of Westwood Methodist church, Kalamazoo, perform the service.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Randy Lunsford of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Chad Parish of North Lake, and Orville Aten of Jackson.

The bride was crowned with a fresh flower head piece that secured her full-length satrapeau veil. The veil was edged with the same venise lace that encircled her neck and the double flounced hem. Her flowers were daisies, baby roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Attending the bride and bridegroom were Dennis C. Aten, brother of the bridegroom from Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Cary (Ruth) Francis of Grand Rapids. The matron of honor was dressed in an empire style dress of lime green dotted swiss with daisies applied on the skirt. Her bouquet was daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's mother wore a long pale blue and green print dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Parish was dressed in light blue. Her long dress was matched by a full-length coat.

The wedding party and guests attended a reception at the Stagecoach Buffet in Grand Rapids. Miss Sally Visser and Mrs. Becki VanDyke managed the gift table while the sisters of the bride, Misses Penny and Robin Lunsford, passed the guest book.

The couple will vacation in Toronto, Canada, for a week before settling, June 4, in Harbor Springs.

Inverness Women Golfers Begin Summer Activities

Inverness Country Club's Women's Day activities began this spring with a business meeting May 3. The approximately 40 women attending indicated that the membership is growing all the time.

May 10, the women played in several flights with prizes going to the women with low gross and low putt scores for the day.

Taking honors for low gross in the first flight was Betty Farrell. Helen Thomas had low putt in that group. In the second flight, Marge Daniels was low gross and Eileen Brown had the low putt score.

Mary Smith was the winner of both low gross and low putt in the third flight.

Last week's Thursday morning play netted prizes for those women who chipped into the hole. Doris Dirlam, Eleanor Douglas and Jane Priest were the winners.

Kindergarten Pupils Sing for Senior Citizens

Mrs. Mickelson, Mrs. Bower, and Mrs. Packard escorted 67 kindergartners to entertain the Senior Citizens at the Korner House Tuesday afternoon. The children sang songs they had learned during the year and, in appreciation, the senior citizens treated the youngsters to cookies and Kool-Aid.

Friendly Visiting Program Started By Red Cross

The Washitaw county chapter of the American Red Cross is sponsoring a new program called Friendly Visiting. It will provide moral support for the elderly person who is lonely, and perhaps, disabled. Names of elderly people who are in need of this service are received from local public service agencies.

The Friendly Visiting program currently has an urgent need for volunteers to serve as Friendly Visitors. Due to a Project Find program, which was a search to find elderly people who were in need of food stamps, some important needs of the aged were uncovered. The Friendly Visiting program hopes to alleviate some of these needs.

A Friendly Visitor might read to a homebound or sick person, assist them in writing letters, do occasional personal shopping if desired, talk and listen to the elderly person and in other ways, function in the capacity of a friendly family member. The Friendly Visitor will in no way supply professional service. It is not the responsibility of the Friendly Visitor to supply transportation for the client.

There are no age restrictions. The Friendly Visitor must furnish his or her own transportation and be willing to visit with the elderly person approximately once a week.

The Friendly Visiting program will be co-ordinated by Mrs. Sue Ochala from the Red Cross office, 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, 971-5300. If you wish to participate in this program or desire additional information, please contact Mrs. Ochala.

CHILD STUDY CLUB

Tuesday evening, May 22, 39 members of the Chelsea Child Study Club met for their annual spring dinner at the new home of Mrs. Thomas Eisele. A delightful dinner was served by the committee: Mrs. Jerry Waldyke, chairman Mrs. James Finch, Mrs. James Grau, Mrs. Charles Thomas, and Mrs. Thomas Eisele.

Mrs. George L. Staffan, a past president of the club, conducted the installation of officers at the new home of Mrs. John Dunn. Honorary members Mrs. John Alber, Mrs. Richard Kern, and Mrs. Raymond Seitz were welcomed, and Mrs. Paul Schaible was introduced as the new honorary member.

Mrs. Raymond Seitz, Mrs. James Shadoan, Mrs. John Dunn, Mrs. Robert Daniels, Mrs. Paul Mann, and Mrs. Joseph Marzec, entertained with a memorable skit.

Dessert was served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Thomas Donkin, Mrs. Elton Guenther, Mrs. Lynwood Noah, Mrs. Arthur Steinaway and Mrs. John Dunn.

JC Auxiliary Seeks To Help M-D Victim

Teenager Jimmy Kearney of America Fork, U. dreams of marrying, having children and becoming a lawyer, but the chances of his dreams coming true are slight. He is dying of muscular dystrophy. At the age of 17, he has only a few years to live.

Jimmy loves to read so the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary has elected to make his remaining time as full as possible by sending him books, as many as they can. If you have any books you do not want, call 475-7321 (evenings) or 475-1516 (anytime) for book pick up.

Donated books may also be placed in the book boxes located in Chelsea at Polly's and at Wash 'n' Dry Laundromat and at Cavanaugh Lake Store and at Fairbrothers Store on Clear Lake Rd. Jimmy reads anything from science fiction to comic books, and he reads with great rapidity. It is reported that his mother, Mrs. Renne Wood, checks out 14-16 books at a time from the local library. He goes through as many as four books a day, she says.

The auxiliary hopes the community will help this youngster.

DEATHS

Alfred G. Schneider

Painter, Decorator Dies Tuesday After Brief Illness

Alfred G. Schneider, 64, of 2870 Loeffler Rd., Freedom township, died Tuesday, May 29 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after a brief illness.

He was born Sept. 4, 1908 in Freedom township, a son of Jacob and Louisa Loeffler Schneider. He had lived in Freedom township most of his life. On Oct. 2, 1937 he married Freda Bahnmiller. She survives.

Also surviving is a son, Robert, at home, a brother, Herbert Schneider of Manchester, a nephew, three nieces and several cousins.

Mr. Schneider had worked in the area as a painter and decorator for many years. For the last eight years he has been employed by Double-A Products in Manchester. He was a member of Zion Lutheran church of Rogers Corners and had been church custodian for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, June 1, at Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. John Morris officiating. Burial will follow in Zion Lutheran church cemetery. The family suggests that contributions in Mr. Schneider's memory may be made to Zion Lutheran church building fund. Envelopes are available at the Burghardt Funeral Home, where friends may call until 11 a.m. on Friday and from noon until time of service at the church.

Gregory Youth Jailed on Warrant For Illegal Entry

William Erick Bury, a Gregory youth, was arrested May 23 while at the Dairy Queen, by Chelsea Police officer Roger Graves.

Graves recognized the youth and recalled that a warrant had been issued for him in connection with a charge of illegal entry. He confirmed that recollection by notifying Washtenaw County Sheriff's department before making the arrest.

Graves informed Bury of the warrant and asked him to step outside of the establishment. The youth was then conveyed to Washtenaw County Jail.

Three Bicycles Reported Stolen Over Week-end

Bicycle thieves had a heyday, last week-end. Three 10-speed bikes were taken, and only one has been recovered.

Robert L. Rosentreter was robbed of his $184 Iverson 10-speed while spending Saturday night at a friend's house. The bicycle was stolen from the front yard during the night. It was only five months old.

Robert Boyer lost his bicycle Sunday night around 8:30 p.m. He had slipped into Thompson's Pizza to grab a bit, and within a few minutes his orange Huffy racer was gone.

Later that night, Ronald Castleberry's 10-speed Western Flyer was also taken from his yard. Fortunately for Ronald, the bike, which he had for two days, was found the next day. It was partially hidden under leaves across from Pierce Park.

MORTGAGE SALE—Default having been made in the terms and conditions of certain mortgages made by DONALD D. BURNS, a single man, of Washtenaw County, Michigan, Mortgagee, to MICHIGAN BANK NATIONAL ASSOCIATION, a National Banking Association (now known as MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK OF DETROIT), Michigan, Mortgagor, dated the 1st day of May, 1968, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on the 7th day of May 1968, in Liber 1248 of Washtenaw County Records, on page 467, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Fifteen Thousand Seven Hundred Thirty-Eight and 04/100 Dollars ($15,738.04).

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Wednesday, the 13th day of June, 1973, at 10 o'clock a.m., Local Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the western entrance to the Washtenaw County Building in the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, (that being the building where the County of Washtenaw is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at the legal rate of 7% per annum, and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney's fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises, which said premises are described as follows:

The premises situate in the City of Ypsilanti in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit: Apartment Number 1640, College Heights Condominium, according to the Master Deed recorded in Liber 1236, Pages 640 through 660 inclusive, Washtenaw County Records, and designated as Washtenaw County Condominium Subdivision Plan Number Two, together with an undivided 241/100 interest in the common elements described in said Condominium Subdivision Plan as described in Act 229 of the Public Acts of 1959, as amended.

During the six months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed.

ROLAND EDWARD MCGE, Plaintiff, vs.
LILA MAE RICE, Defendant.
File No. 9-11674

Letters to the Editor

Department of Natural Resources
Gene Gazley, Director
Lansing, Michigan
Gentlemen:

I feel compelled to reply to the May 10 position statement of the DNR on the proposed Mill Creek Metro park proposal.

Perhaps the DNR is not aware that David Laidlaw stated at a meeting called by the Mill Creek Research Council, at Chelsea in 1970 and attended by about 200 people, that this park was being planned for the people of Detroit and that we should "build our own parks". You state in the report that HCMA estimates that approximately half the use of Mill Creek Metropark would be by Washtenaw county residents. This appears to be quite a change in position and may have been brought about because the people of Detroit are opposing this park, so a different approach is being used.

I would also like to draw attention to the fact that no mention is made of the huge public Waterloo and Pinckney acreage, which has had little development. The result is that the area is neither virgin and natural, nor attractively man-planned. We firmly believe that if HCMA had spent the amount of time and money studying the Waterloo Area and worked with the DNR that it has spent on Mill Creek, 5,000 acres could well have been developed for intensive day use, including swimming, without being missed from the total acreage. If open space is essential for city dwellers, Waterloo Recreation Area has it.

The report states that intensive development around the park would result. This would result in the loss of additional farm land, besides the 4,900 acres for the park. Michigan is admittedly a "Water Wonderland," with many high quality lakes plus the Great Lakes. Beaches certainly could be established where they are natural without destroying good land.

Neither HCMA nor the DNR refers in any way to the tremendous costs of dealing with the three Detroit Edison lines, the gas line and the Detroit Chicago cable. These costs to the taxpayer appear to be hidden and an "extra" to which they do not refer. HCMA has told Detroit Edison that they would pay the costs. An estimate has been made that it would cost in excess of $1 million to move one line. We firmly believe these facts should be made public, since the taxpayers must pay the bill for HCMA's empire building.

We believe that an Environmental Impact Study by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation can result in only one outcome, since this bureau is for the purpose of recreation and it would be difficult to be impartial. Since this is a five-county project, it seems like poor planning to place the park at the outer edge of these counties to the distinct advantage of Jackson county, Lansing area planners state, "Ohio users. Destroying good land for three months of swimming a year in a state filled with lakes is a wasteful use of our resources."

The deep sympathy expressed by HCMA, the DNR and individual planners for the people who would lose their homes and have their plans destroyed would be touching if it were in action rather than words. The power of condemnation is certainly used if HCMA does not reach agreement. When accomplishments of 10 and even 50 years are obliterated from the face of the earth it surely should be worth more consideration than "fair market value" which could have been had at any time had the owner so desired, and without the destruction of his labors. This is much more than a mere "inconvenience" as is so often stated by those not affected.

E. I. Kuhl.

Breakfast should fulfill one fourth or more of your day's nutritional requirements.

agains LILA MAE RICE, Defendant, in this Court to receive a Judgment of DLVOR against Defendant, LILA MAE RICE.
IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Defendant, LILA MAE RICE, shall answer or take such other action as may be permitted by law on or before June 20, 1973. Failure to comply with this Order will result in a Judgment by Default against such Defendant for the relief demanded in the Complaint filed in this Court.

★ Getting in Touch

The days just don't seem long enough! The weeks and months go by so rapidly. Suddenly it's spring and even more suddenly it will be summer, then fall, winter and spring again — and another year! We're always so busy. In our hectic world it is all too easy for us to put God in the corner of our minds — sometimes a very dark corner. Too many things just seem to get in the way. Unfortunately, this is the situation with many of us. But this situation must change and we must put God back in the center of our lives where He belongs. "We must not continue going our own way down the path of life with God way off in the distance, because the day will come in each of our lives, and we never know at what time, when our lives here on Earth will come to an end. We must get back in touch with God, putting Him in the center of our lives. Our days are short here on Earth, but eternity is a long, long time. Think about it. God will gladly welcome you back.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

★ Billing Errors

A bill that is more or less than you calculated may be due to an error. How do such errors occur? Billing time lag may be one reason. A bill statement may be prepared several days before it is mailed. Any purchase made during this time lag period will not be on the statement. And, any payments on the bill made during this period will not be recorded, either. If time lag isn't the cause, check to make sure you have not made an error. Have you recorded all the charges on the account? Perhaps another member of the family made a charge and forgot to mention it.

Returned checks, for whatever reason, may also cause a billing discrepancy. Stores can make billing errors, too. Incorrect credit code numbers, incorrectly prepared sales slips, sales slip misinterpretation, mathematical errors and undelivered merchandise are all common causes of billing errors.

Modern frozen food packaging containers, the packaging experts note, bring countless products into every town and city minus the skin, bones, scales, feathers, innards, stalks, peels, leaves and other mountains of solid waste that would cause catastrophic local disposal problems.

SPEEDY DE-BUGGERS: Two students from Washtenaw Community College, Leon D. Hieber (left), 19, of 4530 Jackson Rd., and Daniel Hoffenbecker, 21, of 131 E. Middle St., Chelsea, won second place in the Detroit area Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest. Thirty-six teams of student auto mechanics competed to see which two-man team could find and fix identical, deliberately hidden "bugs" in their car in the shortest possible time. With the teammates are instructor Bruce Welch (third from left), and W. J. Donnelly, field operations manager, central area, service, U. S. Automotive Sales and Service.

WCC Auto Mechanics Team 2nd in Trouble Shooting Meet

Four auto mechanic students became this area's top "Road Scholars" May 23 by winning the 1973 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest at Oakland Mall.

The winning high school team was Robert Froberg, 17, and Steve Brown, 18, of Bentley High School. The post-high school classification was won by Edmund Kroll, 19, and William Ikeda, 24, of Macomb County Community College. Second place in this category was won by Leon D. Hieber, 19, of Jackson Rd. and Daniel Hoffenbecker, 21, of Chelsea. They are students at Washtenaw Community College.

The winners earned all-expense trips to Boston, where on June 25, 26, and 27, they will compete with more than 100 other teams from all parts of the U.S. in the National Trouble Shooting Finals. The Boston contest offers scholarships and prizes for the winners and trophies, tools and automobile equipment for their schools valued at more than $90,000. Thirty-six teams competed in the contest. There were two students on each team. In the mechanical phase of the contest, the teams raced to their cars to find and fix several identical malfunctions deliberately hidden in the cars to keep them from starting or from running properly once started. But before they started looking for trouble, the students took a final examination which counted as part of each team's final score. The winning teams received a handsome trophy for their school and individual prizes for themselves. Trouble shooting is sponsored by Plymouth dealers to honor outstanding auto mechanic students and to encourage them to make a career as automobile service technicians.

More than 2,000 high schools and colleges — with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 165,000 students — are participating in about 100 contests throughout the U.S. this spring.

Air Pollution Exported
The newest, and perhaps most unusual, big U. S. export item is air pollution — or at least a major cause of such pollution. The Japanese are manufacturing it into paper for their domestic market. The former source of soot, cinders and smoke, will amount to more than 7,000,000 tons this year exported from West Coast docks, in the form of surplus wood chips made from sawmill and plywood plant waste that once poured into smoking incinerators or was piled as flammable solid waste.

Death Penalty or Legalized Wiretapping?

The question of whether the Michigan Constitution should be amended to allow capital punishment for certain types of murder came before the House of Representatives recently in the form of a motion to discharge the Committee on Constitutional Revision from further consideration of the proposal. That committee had previously defeated a move to put the issue before the entire House, by a vote of 5-2. Before any constitutional amendment may be submitted to the voters, a resolution containing the language of the amendment must be adopted by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature, or petitions containing the signatures of about 300,000 registered voters must be filed with the Secretary of State.

Noticeable popular support appears to be developing in this state favoring imposition of the death penalty. Before we make a decision on this matter, we should consider several factors and not let ourselves be caught up in the hope that this offers a cure-all to the problem of increased crime—especially violent murder—which concerns us all.

Michigan, by statute in 1846, was the first jurisdiction in the English-speaking world to abolish capital punishment. Yet, Michigan has had no greater murder rate than states which did impose the death penalty. Meanwhile, it has been factually demonstrated that where the death penalty existed it was applied selectively, falling far more frequently on members of poor and minority groups. It was exactly for this reason that the United States Supreme Court outlawed capital punishment as it existed in those states.

The most frequently debated point is whether capital punishment has any deterrent value in preventing murder. Both sides can cite statistics they feel are compelling. I have seen nothing that convinces me that there is sufficient deterrent value to capital punishment to overcome the fundamental philosophical and moral questions imposing the death penalty raises. It seems equally probable that deterrence could occur with any punishment—regardless of its severity—so long as it is applied consistently and promptly. It may also be that the potential for "getting away" with a criminal act, even murder, leads to an increase in the number of crimes and in fact negates any deterrent effect the threat of punishment may hold. If a person feels he will not get caught, what deterrent function is served by providing a severe penalty for the act?

Certainly the threat of the death penalty would have no effect on the activities of organized crime. Persons responsible for planning and directing such operations are never actually involved in any aspect of carrying out the crime and are therefore practically immune from prosecution. What threat does the fact that they may lose their lives if convicted hold for them? Yet this kind of criminal activity, routinely involving murder, drug trafficking and other crimes of violence, is the mainstay of organized crime and at best, may lead to the arrest of someone far down the ladder in the organization.

If we are seriously interested in reducing crime, perhaps we should look in another direction for a solution. Until we have some way of tying the organizers and financiers of this type of crime to actual criminal activity such persons will continue to operate their criminal empires with impunity.

The revealing series of articles in the Free Press during mid-April which concerned the operations of that city's major dope dealers, reinforced my belief that we will not be able to get to the roots of this type of criminal activity without an effective wiretapping law. Federal law already provides this authority where a warrant has been secured from a federal judge designating the person from whom the information is sought, the information expected to be secured and limiting the length of time the wiretap may continue in operation. Michigan needs such a law. During the last session of the legislature, I worked for the passage of such legislation in the House of Representatives; however, the bill failed to secure Senate passage.

Legalized wiretapping under court order is entirely different than the illegal activities recently uncovered in the Watergate matter. Obviously that type of surveillance is wrong and must not be condoned. My bill requires a court order and probable cause that a serious crime is being committed. The petition will be a matter of court record. The public should understand the very fundamental difference in court ordered surveillance from that type used at the Watergate.

Instead of rushing into a decision to support capital punishment as a deterrent to crime, let us recognize the major source of criminal activity in this state and, by enacting an effective wiretap law, provide a means to eliminate it. It should be made perfectly clear that court ordered wiretapping is a realistic tool as proven in New York to attach organized crime and the problems of narcotics. The death penalty does not appear to provide that answer.

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Citizenship Seminar

"Tsk! Tsk! What's the world coming to?" That's a common reaction of many people when they read the newspaper, view television, or simply watch the parade of bearded, casually-attired youth pouring out of our schools. "The future of our beloved country in their hands? Horrors!"

If, by the waving of some magic wand, these concerned citizens (for whom the memories of Mohawk haircuts and rolled-up jeans have been erased by time) could be transported to the campus of Ferris State College for a week this summer, their theories about the young people of today would have to be revised.

Before the echoes of jubilant "school's out!" cries have faded, some 200 high school juniors and seniors—some from rural areas, others from the metropolitan scene—will eagerly return to the classroom.

Granted, it's a different "school" and those who attend may be considered "special." But their sponsors—county Farm Bureaus and civic groups throughout the state—prefer to believe that these students are not an exception to the rule, but rather representative of our state's young citizens.

This will be the 10th consecutive year that the Michigan Farm Bureau has sponsored the Young People's Citizenship Seminar, set for June 18-22. The county Farm Bureaus, in co-operation with their local schools, are currently in the process of selecting students to attend the seminar.

Objective of this annual session is to make the students aware of their responsibilities as good citizens. There will be classes on our "American Way of Life," people and governments around the world, and political party activities with platforms, campaigns and elections developed and carried out by the students themselves.

The students, with their quick, alert minds, their concerns about the issues facing our country today, and their determination to use their voting rights wisely, are a source of pride to their sponsors. They are confident that these young people—not the ones who make the sensational headlines—are the leaders of tomorrow.

Instead of clucking their tongues over the "condition" of the youth, Farm Bureau members are providing them an opportunity to prove that the future of our country is in good hands.

4-H Gardening Project Can Help Cut Food Costs

"With the high cost of food these days, growing your own vegetables can save your family money" according to Duncan E. Sanford, Extension 4-H - Youth Agent.

Now is the time to plan the garden. The Co-Operative Extension Service offers a number of bulletins that are designed to help families grow their own vegetables.

"In addition to cutting food cost, home gardening can serve as a means for the family to work together on a common project, and besides it can help with one's physical fitness," Sanford added. Flowers are good supplements to the vegetable garden and they help to beautify the home grounds and neighborhoods.

Nutritionists say that fresh pickled vegetables tend to be more nutritious than ones that have been in storage and in shipping. Many veteran home gardeners say home-grown vegetables are often a labor of love because it gives them a self satisfaction of accomplishment.

Vegetable gardening is a good summer project for kids. If the space is available, kids could grow excess vegetables that can be marketed. This could be another means of beating the high cost of living. Kids often have fun exhibiting their prize vegetables at local fairs or the county 4-H show.

For information on how to start a 4-H gardening project contact the county 4-H office at 663-7511, Ext. 227.

New super Douglas fir trees developed by research ecologists for reforestation of commercial timber lands are five times larger in their first year than trees the same age that sprout from seeds developed haphazardly by nature, according to foresters.

The Safety Valve

Question: It's tough enough to get my kids to ride their bikes safely, but they seem equally confused about which side of the road they're to ride on. What's right? J. M., Livonia.

Answer: That's right. Right is right. Bicycles operated on roadways must be ridden as near to the right side of the road as practicable, exercising due care when passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction. Wherever usable path for bicycles has been provided adjacent to a roadway, bicycle riders shall use such path and shall not use the roadway.

Question: I've seen several cars running around town without a front license plate. Some of them are low slung jobs with no plate brackets and others have substituted a plate that says "USA.1." Can they do this? O. W., Stephenson

Answer: Not legally. Registration (license) plates that have been issued for an automobile shall be attached "thereto, one in the front and the other in the rear." Fastening and placing restrictions are also clearly identified.

And while we're on the subject, remember "it shall be unlawful to attach to any motor vehicle license plate any name plate, insignia or advertising device."

vice-president, treasurer; Susan Cail, president; and Judy Eubanks, past president. They are shown with their flowers after being installed Saturday night.

Jaycees, Auxiliary Hold Joint Installation, Awards Dinner

The Jaycees and their auxiliary held a joint installation and awards program, May 26, at the Hilton Inn in Ann Arbor. Dave Rowe, a Chelsea Jaycee and past president, served as master of ceremonies. The program opened with pledge of allegiance and an invocation by Doug Robeson, followed by dinner.

Walt Brown, administrative executive vice-president of Michigan Jaycees, gave the keynote address. The main challenge given to the Chelsea Jaycees chapter was to actively participate in their own community.

Jaycee Auxiliary President Judy Eubanks gave a brief report on her year and commented that her goals of fostering membership growth and closer friendships were reached. Sandy Brown, Awards Chairman, assisted Judy in presenting awards.

Spokette, first-year member award, was presented to Alberta Colbry. Sparkette awards went to Susan Cail, second year; Joanne Rowe and Judy Eubanks, third year; Sandy Brown, fourth year; Anne Steinaway, seventh year.

Speak Up certificates were presented as follows: First year, Vivian Yarger, Alberta Colbry, Joanne Rowe, Judy Eubanks, Sandy Brown, Diane Loring, Susan Cail, Anne Steinaway, and second-year certificates to Judy Eubanks and Anne Steinaway.

Outstanding Project was the Nutrition Program, the Auxiliary's involvement with the Home Meals of Chelsea Program. Anne Steinaway received the certificate as local chairwoman. Outstanding Chairwoman award was presented to Anne Steinaway for her outstanding programs involving every member.

The Outstanding Committee award was presented to the auxiliary for its total involvement in last June's Youth Horse Show. President Judy Eubanks then introduced Anne Steinaway as this year's Outstanding Jaycette. Sandy Brown received the President's Key Woman Award.

New officers for 1973-74 were installed by Judy and presented with roses. They are: president, Susan Cail; vice-president-treasurer, Alberta Colbry; Secretary, Maureen Lapanowski; and director, Vivian Yarger.

The newly-installed president then promised her support to the auxiliary and Jaycees for the year ahead, stating that her personal goal for the new year was to promote more personal contact between members.

Judy Eubanks was then received into membership of the newly founded R.O.P.P. club by Sandy Brown and Anne Steinaway, and presented a hat to wear. R.O.P.P. stands for Royal Order of Past Presidents.

Following the Auxiliary program were the Jaycee presentations. Mike Eubanks, president of the Chelsea Jaycees, gave a brief annual report. After the remarks, Mike and Art Steinaway presented the awards. The awards brought rounds of applause as Chelsea Jaycees were recognized for the outstanding achievements.

Norm Colbry was selected as the Outstanding Spoke. A spoke award can only be won in a member's first year as a Jaycee. One must be active and participate in most projects. Most importantly, he must return the favor by bringing in a new member.

Dave Martin was awarded the Outstanding Chairman award for his work on the Jaycee Youth Horse Show. Mike Eubanks earned the Presidential Award. The Key Man went to Neil Ernst.

The highlight of each installation ceremony is the announcement of the Outstanding Jaycee of Chelsea. This year Art Steinaway presented the award to Dave Rowe, the immediate past president of the Chelsea Jaycees. Mike Eubanks was presented his past president's plaque and each member of the board received a past officer's pin.

Present Michigan law provides for legal use of studded motor vehicle tires between Nov. 1 of one year and May 1 of the following year. Under legislative consideration are proposals to prohibit the use of studded tires in the state.

SYMBOL OF POWER: With the symbolic act of turning over the gavel to his successor, Mike Eubanks, right, relinquished his position as president of Chelsea Jaycees. Taking up the reins is Dick Cail.

BEGINNING AND AN END: While the new officers of the Chelsea Jaycees were looking forward to a new year, Robert Rilloraza (center) paused at the installation ceremony to talk about his year as Chelsea's International Jaycee. Shown here with Walt Brown, left, and Mike Eubanks, Jaycee president 1972-73, Robert will be returning to his native Manila June 11. His brother is a member of the Manila Jaycees.

HOCKEY CHAMPS: Although they have had some time to thaw out since the wintry day they gained their title, Mrs. Catherine Hightower's fifth grade has not forgotten the happy flush of victory. In the hockey competition between South and North school, South school stickmen were the victors. They are from left in the front, Doug Bowen, Mark Schanz, Scott Dalton, Tom Owens and Mike Brainerd. In the back are Dan Rowe, Todd Wright, Jim Shepherd, Mrs. Hightower, Duane Hafner, Don Schrottenboer, and Jeff Boyer.

Homes Sought for 400 French Summer Exchange Students

For some, the thought of taking in a foreign student for an entire year or even six months is intimidating. The fear of such long term commitment and responsibility eclipses the desire to take advantage of our ever-shrinking world that brings more and more "ambassadors" to this country every year. These persons may find their fears quieted and their desires met by a four-week program offered this summer by International Cultural Exchange.

ICXChange is seeking homes for more than 400 teen-agers from France who have applied to spend July 15 through Aug. 15 in the U. S.

The ICXChange representative in the area who is attempting to find homes for the hopeful visitors is Tom Eisenbeiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser here in Chelsea. His wife, the former Nancy Huelberg, is also from Chelsea. The couple returned to the area last September with their two children after spending several years in Europe. They both are now actively involved in encouraging exchanges between the many cultures they have loved.

ICXChange, a culture exchange program not unlike Youth for Understanding, has been in operation for a year, arranging year-long and six-month "homestay" programs for European and South Americans of junior high and high school age. It prides itself in being, unlike other agencies organized in the '50's, attuned to the needs of today's students.

The agency, which is chartered by the State of Michigan as a non-profit organization, took on this short-term summer program at the request of the Association of Parents of French Catholic Schools. The host families need not be Catholic. ICXChange is an inter-dominion, inter-racial program.

Although there is no school involved in the July-August program, the educational opportunities of such an arrangement are evident. The French students will learn how an American family lives while the American family is learning more about the French.

Tom explains that ICXChange is not limiting itself to families that have children studying French. The agency is more interested in the quality of the family life rather than the size and wealth of a family. Even the age of siblings is relatively unimportant since the relationship between the exchange student and the parents can be most important to a youngster so far from home.

Tom looks for stability and flexibility in the host families he interviews. Exchange students have been happily placed in a variety of family situations: families with small children, no children and even one-parent families.

ICX will accept all the eager French applicants only if there are homes ready for them here. Tom is very critical of organizations that bring foreign students here before finding them homes. Wanting to give both the students and the families ample time to prepare for their experience, Tom made June 5 the deadline for host applications.

Information or applications may be obtained by contacting the ICX offices at 290 Wagner Rd., P. O. Box 1985, Ann Arbor or by calling (313) 761-6286.

Because he expects and hopes the response to be great, Tom has agreed to accept the recommendations for high school counselors as to the suitability of families applying. They will have to fill out an application, but there will not be time to interview them all. For year stays, host families must be interviewed by an ICX representative.

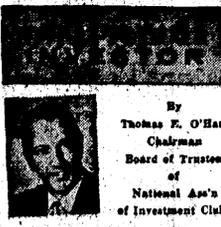

The only expense to the host family is that incurred by having an extra member of the household. The students will have their own spending money and ICX covers them with insurance.

The students are carefully screened and counseled before placed on ICX's plane. They will be traveling with teachers who will be in the area in case they are needed. ICX representatives will also be available to advise host families if need be.

The students, who range from 13 to 18, have all had at least one year of English in school. There is about an equal number of junior high and high school students applying.

"The response to the program was much greater than we expected," said Tom. "We certainly would like to let as many as possible take advantage of this opportunity."

Information about similar exchanges with other countries may be obtained from the ICX offices, too. If four weeks sounds too short a time, contact Tom. He is now arranging the six-month and year-long homestays for fall.

Q. I'm about to make my first investment. Would you please send me a list of stocks selling for between $4 and $7 that will double; thanks!

A. I really wish I could do that but I can't. I will send you a complimentary issue of Better Investing Magazine which contains a model portfolio of stocks. This portfolio is published quarterly and is designed as a beginning portfolio for the investor. Each stock in it is judged to be at a favorable price for purchase and to have reasonable prospects for doubling in value in five years. Of course, there is no guarantee this will happen, but this list of stocks will give you a sensible group of stocks to consider making a selection from.

As a prospective new investor you should make an effort to learn what some of the factors are that make a stock a good investment. Looking for a stock that sells between $4 and $7 may be what fits your pocketbook, but it has nothing to do with the potential investment value of the stock. To start your study, look first at the earnings per share of the stock and relate that to the price at which it is selling. Better than that, write me and get the Manual ($3.00) of the National Association of Investment Clubs and read the basic material there.

Q. Please tell me what you think of the mutual fund described in the enclosed folder. The salesman says I am guaranteed a 10 percent return. Are there other types of bonds like this that I wouldn't have to pay a tax on?

A. The fund you are looking at is apparently so new or so small that I do not find information on it in either of the major services giving fund information. Consequently, I cannot find any record upon which to judge the fund. There are a great many fine funds whose records are readily available, and I'd suggest you consider them before you put a substantial amount of money in one without a record.

There is no fund that I know of that "guarantees" you a 10 percent return. I think you are repeating some of the salesman's "puffery." While you can find funds that have averaged that kind of return and better over a period of several years, they can't guarantee they'll do that any one year or even in the future. The fund is not in any sense a bond, and I don't see anything in the literature that should give you any reason to think it is a tax free. You can buy municipal bonds that are tax free, but unless your income is substantial this feature may not be of great value.

years at all levels. The steps I have taken and the commitments I have made, including issuance of a Code of Ethics, this Board of Ethics, filing my own financial disclosure with the Board, and requiring financial statements from my immediate staff, are all steps I am taking to help assure the public trust that is so necessary for the effective and efficient operation of government.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: You signed a bill which delays the date that the state's new Land Sales Act takes effect. Does that mean we will be forced to go through a big buying season without effective regulations for land sales?

Governor: No, while I did sign legislation which delays the effective date of the state's Land Sales Act from April 1 to Oct. 1, 1973, I also took steps to assure that Michigan consumers would not be forced to go through another buying season without effective rules protecting them against fraud or misrepresentation when purchasing subdivided land.

I authorized the implementation of emergency land sales rules in Michigan which cover procedures for registration, property reports, the national level and civil servments of sale and several other requirements. I emphasize that while emergency rules are now in effect, the land buying public needs to be particularly aware that Michigan's law will not be fully effective until October, making it important to be alert to possible misrepresentation or fraud when purchasing property.

I would encourage anyone having questions or complaints about sales or advertising to contact the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation, Land Sales Division, 1033 S. Washington Ave., Lansing 48926.

Additionally, a "hot line" to that office will be installed shortly to provide toll-free access for Michigan citizens who may have questions or desire information about land sales in Michigan.

Question: I am certain that I was "run through the mill" in getting my car repaired recently, but I have no way to prove it. Why isn't there some kind of protection for people in getting their cars repaired?

Governor: Last week, I sent a special message to the legislature on Consumer Protection in which I made recommendations in a wide range of areas for protecting the consumers of Michigan in purchasing goods and services in our state. In that message, I indicated that I intend to shortly announce the appointment of a Task Force on Automobile Repair to identify appropriate legislative or administrative measures necessary to protect the public from fraud or misrepresentation in auto repair.

Automobile repair service complaints are among the most frequent and most difficult to resolve of all consumer complaints. Fully one-third of all complaints made to the state's Consumer Council last year concerned automobile service and repair.

I believe that the time has come for government to take action in identifying and implementing effective means of insuring that Michigan consumers receive the service they are entitled to expect from automobile repair services.

Question: With Watergate at the national level and civil service problems at the state level, I'm beginning to wonder if you can trust anybody anymore. Are you doing anything to make sure that conflicts of interest and wrongdoing by state officials don't occur in our state anymore?

Governor: I recently announced appointment of a seven-member Board of Ethics to help assure the highest standards of public service in state government. My appointments to that board include a former Michigan Supreme Court justice, a former president of the American Bar Association, a former congressman, two former mayors, a former president of the League of Women Voters of Michigan, and a broadcast executive. I firmly believe that devotion to the public trust is an essential part of the obligation of public service, and I have taken a number of steps in recent weeks to insure the highest standards of conduct among state government employees.

I have often commented on the urgency of building public confidence in government, confidence that has been eroding in recent

CUB SCOUT NEWS

PACK 455 - Last Thursday night Pack 455 held the last meeting of the school year. Meetings will resume in September.

Six boys graduated from the Webelos to Boy Scout troops, having completed a year with the Webelos. They are Bill Blank, Paul Hoffmeyer, Brad Flanigan, Howard Flintoff, Todd Koch and David Waldyke.

Five other boys became Webelos. They are Philip Hoffman, Tim Roy, Mike Stauch, Roland Klink and Billy Reed.

The meeting was opened by Dr. Waldyke, cubmaster, who introduced the Mainhackle Lodge Indian Dancers who put on several dances, one being a round dance which was done with the cubs and parents dancing with the Indians. After the dancing, Cubs received their awards. The Webelos pinned their mothers with the Arrow of Light mothers' pins and received their Arrow of Light badges. They then crossed the bridge into the world of Boy Scouting.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony and closed with the scoutmaster's Sign of Reverence. We will see you in the fall. Todd Koch, scribe.

PACK 415-

Cub Scouts of Den 1, Pack 415 met Thursday, May 24, at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Atkinson. All members were present. We opened the meeting with the flag ceremony. We had a contest to see who could make a candy sucker last longest. We made clatter blocks. John Green's and Glenn Miller's mothers were assistant den mothers.

The theme for Pack 415 at the Scout-O-Rama was WoodKraft. Every Cub Scout of Den 1 took a turn working at our booth. We made souvenirs of thin pieces of wood to give to everyone who stopped and wanted one. We also demonstrated how to have fun with tumbling blocks, also tick-tacks and spool runners. It was cold that day but we all had a lot of fun. Chuck Spencer, scribe.

It takes six quarts of water and two ounces of wood to make one ounce of paper for tissues, books and newspapers, according to leading U. S. papermakers.

Milan Art Fair Slated Next Sunday

The Milan Arts and Crafts Fair will be held Sunday, June 3, from 12 noon till 6 p.m. The event, which features more than 100 art and craft exhibits, is sponsored annually by the Milan Arts and Crafts Club in Milan's Wilson Park. Entries for this year's exhibit include a great variety of art media and craft projects.

Thomas Thierly of Onstead, will judge the art mediums. Currently a teacher at Adrian High school, he is well known as a commercial artist, teacher and juror. Thierly is represented in galleries and museums across the U.S.A. Separate judging and awarding of ribbons will be done in the crafts category by Mrs. Susan Wenger of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Wenger is a teacher of high school art in Milan at present. She is a Fine Arts graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

A children's Art Circle will be provided for 3-7 year olds. Between 1 and 4 p.m. parents may leave their children at the Art Circle for half-hour intervals of supervised art activity.

The naturally shaded area of Wilson Park is just south of Milan's downtown business district. In the event of rain, the Fair will be held in the Milan Middle school on Platt Rd. Signs will be posted in the Milan area to direct out-of-town visitors to the Arts and Crafts Fair.

Open House Will Honor Two Retiring Manchester Teachers

The mood will be brightly colored with memories and gratitude, June 5, when grateful parents and former students take time to thank Miss Ethel Brown and Robert Sortor for their many years of dedicated service in Manchester schools. The two retiring teachers will be honored Tuesday night at an open house at Klager school from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.

Miss Brown, who is retiring after 47 years, is a fourth grade teacher. Sortor is retiring after 24 years of teaching instrumental music.

Miss Brown was born in Bridgewater and graduated from Manchester High school in 1924. After earning a Life Certificate from Michigan State Normal College in 1926 she began teaching in various one-room schools throughout Washenaw county. She did this until 1949 when she earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Armed with her new degree, Miss Brown joined the faculty of the Manchester school system where she has remained.

During her years of teaching she has been an active member of the National Education Association and the Washtenaw Reading Conference, a group that strives to improve reading abilities.

Upon retirement, Miss Brown hopes to continue her hobbies of gardening, sewing and refinishing furniture. She also hopes to do some traveling.

Sortor is also a graduate of Manchester High school, but he was a member of the class of 1925. After graduation, he attended Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin College, for four years and subsequently became a free lance musician in Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Detroit.

He also maintained a teaching studio at this time and gave lessons in piano, clarinet and saxophone.

In 1940, Sortor went into the Army and remained on active duty until 1948 when he went into the reserves, retiring as a Lieutenant Colonel in 1965.

In 1949, the musician returned to his civilian career, taking a Bachelor Degree from Sherwood Music School in Chicago and commencing to teach music in Manchester Public schools. Shortly thereafter, Sortor received his master's degree in Music Education at the University of Michigan.

When Sortor began teaching music in Manchester, he was the only such teacher in the school system. He now shares his duties with two other teachers. He had advocated offering Manchester students a variety of musical experiences, including stringed instrument instruction which is unusual in a school system the size of Manchester's.

Sortor played clarinet in the Ann Arbor Civic Symphony almost from its beginnings until the late 1950's. He was president of that organization for several years.

All friends, former students, and Klager parents are invited to the open house at the school 7:30 to 10, Tuesday.

TEACHER TOPICS

During the past few years they especially thank the many community people of Chelsea have played an important role in the education of our students. They have answered questions, given time for interviews, provided the classes with pamphlets and other written material, and permitted students to gain experience "on the job."

The faculty would like to especially thank the many community people who have given generously of their time and efforts coming to the schools and actually spending one hour to a whole day, teaching and assisting various classes. The teacher who has researched, interviewed, and observed in her field of classroom work is still not as effective as the person who spends his everyday life doing what the teacher is trying to tell about.

For example, how much better a photographer can explain then fundamentals of photography can the teacher; or how much better can the insurance agent students in the way of car advise what's best for students in the way of car and life insurance than can the teacher who is only a policyholder himself; or the farmer explain the principles of early planting; or the dedicated mother who gives that individual attention that is so special to our children, ect.

Students today are crying for relevancy—they want to know how and why it is important to learn certain facts. As teachers we tell, advise, and persuade. As community people, you have shown them why! And as the saying goes—"One picture is worth a thousand words."

We invite any of you and all of you to come and share a part of yourself with the students of Chelsea.

Cub Scout Enrollment Set For Summer

Any boy presently in the second or third grade may join Cub Scouts now and get in on the summer activities. Spring registration will be held Thursday, June 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Bates school for Dexter residents and South school for Chelsea residents.

Boys must be accompanied by their parents. Both registration and Boy's Life magazine will be offered at half the annual fee. In addition, a free major league baseball will be given to each boy joining Cub Scouts and receiving Boy's Life.

Waterloo Area 81st Memorial Day Service Scheduled

Waterloo will hold its 81st annual Memorial Day program this Sunday, June 3, at Waterloo Methodist church. As usual the "old timers" in the Waterloo Band will set the mood. Their music will start at approximately 1:30 p.m. with the program itself commencing at 2 p.m.

Dr. Gorton Riethmiller, President of the Michigan Board of Education and a long-time resident of the area, will be the speaker at the occasion. The Smart Family, musicians from Eaton Rapids, will be the special guests.

The honor guard of the Dexter American Legion Post will preside at the service at Mt. Hope Cemetery, after which the graves of the war dead will be decorated with flowers.

Trees Planted With Gun

One man, using a newly developed gun, can now plant 1,600 forest trees a day, say a major U. S. tree farmers. Only 10 men can plant a 40-acre farm in a day to grow timber for homes, paper and man's other forest-oriented needs. The new trees will mature when today's school children are active adults, some of whom will be planting the next crop of trees.

St. Louis School Notes

Cub Scouting again highlighted the activities at St. Louis school, May 23, with Otis Titus, Dave Bowbeer and Charles Burgess and den mothers Mrs. Mary Ann Burgess, Norma Seyfried and (Aunt) Alice Atkinson, on hand to lead the boys in the meeting.

eral games, the Cub Scout Promise and a flag ceremony with the pledge of allegiance. He closed the meeting with the scout master's sign of reverence.

The boys were served treats of cookies for which they were grateful to Mrs. Mac Packard who supervised them.

Personal Notes

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Gentner at 318 Jackson St. for Memorial Day were Mr. and Mrs. Duane L. Gentner and daughter, Lisa, of Hanover Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Gentner and daughter Tracey, of Ypsilanti and Robert V. Abdon of Chelsea.
