PENTECOST SUNDAY will be a day to remember for these 16 young people who were taken into full membership at St. Paul United Church of Christ on that day. The ceremony climaxed nine months of study and projects. Appearing with the group are Truene Amelgh, church organist (on left in dark robe), the Rev. Warner Siebert on right and Mrs. Toby Butcher next to the pastor. The confirmands are Cynthia Behnke, Michael Bowen, Howard Bush, Michael Check, Sharon Donovan, Karin Eisemann, Larry Guenther, Ernest Hadley, Donald Hall, Kirk Heard, Cheryl Koch, Rene Papo, Michael Schanz, Delany Seitz, Steven Smyth and Mary Spencer.

Class of 16 Young People Confirmed at St. Paul Church

St. Paul United Church of Christ has confirmed 16 of its young people into full membership in the church. The ceremony, which is an extension and affirmation of baptism, occurred on Pentecost Sunday, June 10, at a 10:30 Communion service.

The confirmands, who had completed a program of preparation that began in September, were: Cynthia Behnke, Michael Bowen, Howard Bush, Michael Check, Sharon Donovan, Karin Eisemann, Larry Guenther, Ernest Hadley, Donald Hall, Kirk Heard, Cheryl Koch, Rene Papo, Michael Schanz, Delany Seitz, Steven Smyth and Mary Spencer.

Included in preparation for confirmation is study of world religions, the Bible, God, Jesus Christ, the Church, and the individual's place in God's scheme of things. There is strong emphasis placed on avoiding alcohol, drugs and tobacco.

These young people participated in field trips and many other activities, as well as preparing their successful community project, the Trashathon. They planned many of their own activities, including a retreat to Tecumseh Woods with the confirmation class of Bethel United Church of Christ in Manchester.

As the year drew to a close, the youngsters selected projects to show their spiritual development. Hymns were written, surveys made, pictures taken, a model of the church constructed, and a complete illustration of a Passover service made. Pastor Warner Siebert says several fine papers were written about individual spiritual development. The week before confirmation, May 31, the young people met with members of the Church Council, the Spiritual Life and Christian Education Departments to share their faith. Afterwards, they attended a reception in their honor prepared by the Women's Fellowship with Pat Robbins leading the group.

The many weeks of confirmation training would not be possible without the co-operation of parents and church staff. Truene Amelgh, church organist, Beverly and John Yelsik, Toby Butcher, and of course, the Rev. Warner Siebert were particularly active in the program.

Blood Clinic Planned By Chelsea Scout

"It takes 21 merit badges and a community service project," says Bob Blank, speaking of the requirements needed to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout.

Acquiring the merit badges is easy, says the 14-year-old who already has earned 19, but the project, which will test his leadership abilities while he contributes to the community, offers a real challenge.

Bob has wholeheartedly tackled that challenge by deciding to arrange a Bloodmobile visit in Chelsea this summer. The ever-increasing need for blood during the summer season, when vacationers forget to give, and clogged highways take their toll, was a large factor in Bob's decision.

He has arranged to have the American Red Cross Bloodmobile stationed here at the Fairgrounds Building, Aug. 18, from 1 to 7 p.m. It is his hope that this appeal will be established annually in addition to the winter drive.

It is Bob's responsibility to recruit individuals to man the facility as well as to recruit donors. He has already contacted local industries who have pledged their full support.

Sign-up sheets will be placed in major industries and in strategic locations around the community as of June 17. Those interested in scheduling an appointment may contact Bob at 475-1687.

After conferring with the Washtenaw Chapter of the American Red Cross, Bob has decided to set 100 to 125 pints as the goal of his project. He will be asking his fellow scouts in Troops 476 and 425 to help in the cause.

Bob, who began scouting 2½ years ago, joined Troop 476 when he and his family moved to Chelsea last January. Before coming to Michigan, the Blank family lived in Rochester, N. Y. Bob, a son of Robert E. Blank, will be entering the 9th grade in the fall. He hopes that many Chelsea citizens will give the gift of life.

School Board Briefs

At Monday night's Chelsea Board of Education meeting, five board members, Storey, Schafer, Irwin, Hopkins and Haseischa were present. Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principals Lane, Conklin, Wojcik and Benedict, Assistant Principal Lapanowski and Attorney Flinoff also attended.

A major portion of the meeting was devoted to a report on the reading program by Principals Benedict and Wojcik and representatives of elementary school teachers.

After hearing the report, the board approved the purchase of supplemental readers, workbooks and phonetics books for 1973-74 at a cost not to exceed $2.60 per student. These books will replace the Ad-Venture experimental reading program that was used this year.

The Board signed a contract with James C. Ticknor who will be a teacher at South Elementary school during 1973-74. Contracts with all current teaching staff members were also signed.

The board accepted a gift of $2,000 cash plus labor from the Kiwanis Club to be applied to the construction of bleachers at the high school field. The board hopes to have the bleachers completed by fall.

The board approved a refund worth $2,294.69 from the Washtenaw County treasurer for 1971 taxes paid on property that was over-assessed. The assessment was appealed and the refund granted.

The board directed the business manager to apply for ESEA Title I funds for 1973-74. Under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title I, Chelsea has been granted funds in the last years to pay for a remedial reading teacher.

Arson Possible In Murphy Garage Fire

Aroused from her late-night reading by voices, perhaps those of arsonists, Mrs. Daniel Murphy discovered a fire in the converted barn at the rear of the family property at 116 East St., Tuesday morning. "Flames were already over the roof," she recalled.

Within three minutes of her call, Chelsea firemen began battling the blaze that gutted a portion of the interior of the structure. The family car, a freezer, three bicycles and a riding mower were the larger items lost. The total damage done by the blaze which firemen fought from 1:40 a.m. until nearly 3:30. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

The fire began underneath an enclosed stairway leading up to a basketball court on the second floor. Mrs. Murphy said that they had recently installed a new floor and roof and new wiring in the barn.

She is convinced arson is involved, not only because she heard voices but because the gar-

Youth Faces Local Charge of Check Forgery

Michael Patrick Geoghegan, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oestlander of Ann Arbor, was arrested by Sergeant Lenard McDougall and officer Gerry Ringe June 18, after returning to the scene of the crime, Chelsea State Bank.

Geoghegan is being charged with fraudulently uttering and publishing. In a period of three days last week, he allegedly cashed four checks totalling $1,550, all forged with Patrice Dittmar's signature.

Three of the Chelsea State Bank checks, made out to Geoghegan for $250, $300 and $800, and drawn on Mrs. Dittmar's account, were cashed at Chelsea State Bank where Geoghegan opened a savings account, June 13. Being employed by Mrs. Dittmar at the time, Geoghegan had already cashed three legitimate checks signed by Mrs. Dittmar in payment for painting her house.

The fourth forged check, worth $200, was cashed at a local business establishment when Geoghegan made a $75 purchase.

According to police reports, the alleged forgery was discovered June 15, when Mrs. Dittmar found that four blank checks from a new book of checks were missing from her home. She immediately reported the loss to Paul Mann, president of Chelsea State Bank, who ascertained that the checks had already been cashed. The police were then brought into the case.

Mrs. Dittmar told police that Geoghegan must have taken the checks from her home while he was painting her house. She had hired the unemployed youth around May 31, on the recommendation of the acquaintance that had introduced her to him.

She had paid Geoghegan by check for his work on May 31, on June 3 and again on June 13. The last time she saw him was June 14, when she drove him to her home for more painting.

While Geoghegan worked at the home, Mrs. Dittmar was often working at her business. She told police she left the house unlocked so that the youth could have access to refreshments.

The suspect was apprehended Saturday, after he returned to Chelsea State Bank to withdraw money from his savings account. Bank vice-president Richard Kern refused to allow the withdrawal and called the police.

Geoghegan fled in a Yellow Cab before police arrived but Sergeant McDougall and Ringe overtook the cab on I-94 at Zeeb Rd. They then arrested the youth for forgery and uttering and publishing.

Geoghegan was taken Saturday night to Judge Robert V. Fink's court where bond was set at $500. $125 was found on the youth when he entered Washtenaw County Jail.

Monday, he waived an examination in 14th District Court. Judge Arkison set bond at $3,000 and set a trial date for June 22 in Circuit Court.

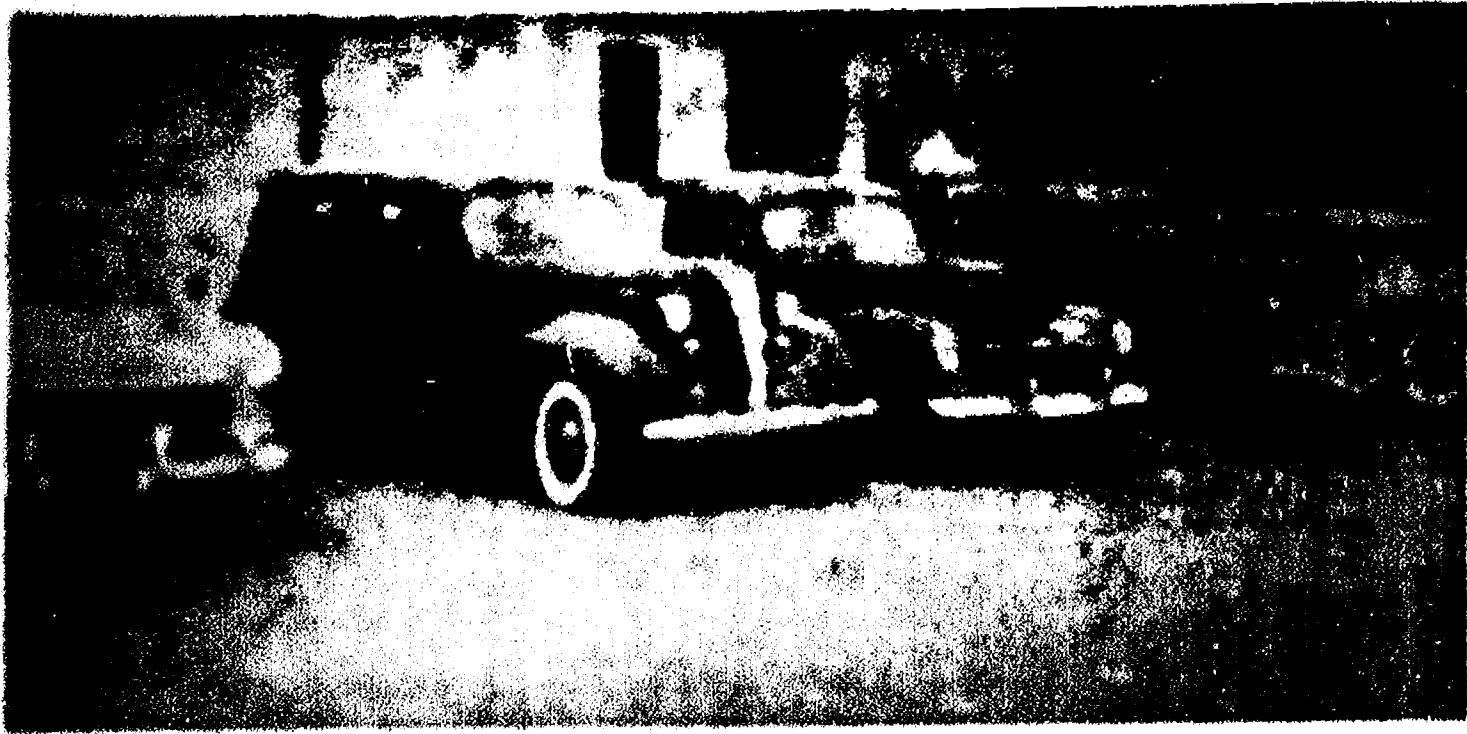

None of Mrs. Dittmar's money has been returned to her as of yet.

SHELLEY BAIZE of 140 Island Lake Rd., graduated with high distinction, June 10, from Ferris State College in Big Rapids. Her over-all grade point average was 3.67, which she maintained while earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Office Administration. A 1969 graduate of Chelsea High school, she has been nominated to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and is a recipient of a Phi Gamma Nu Scholarship Key.

Waterloo 4-H Club Members Win in Citizenship Contest

Terry Bassett and Beverly Bott are two local winners in the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course competition. They both are members of Waterloo 4-H club and graduated this June from Chelsea High school.

Terry's Short Course essay was based on conservation. She worked at Pinckney Recreation Area and attended meetings of the Boy Scouts Explorer for Careers program in order to learn more about careers in conservation.

Beverly researched and wrote a paper on Wounded Knee for her project. This is the first year the short course program incorporated subjects other than citizenship.

The girls are among eight representatives from Jackson county, all of whom won a trip to Washington, D.C., by appearing before an awards committee for an interview and question session.

They will fly to Washington July 1 with other representatives from Michigan. Their week-long stay in the nation's capital will be shared with 4-Hers from all over the country at the National 4-H Center.

Terry and Beverly have already attended orientation meetings which have begun to prepare them for a busy week of planned tours and talks and a visit to a theater to see "Godspell." Much of the trip is financed by area 4-H contributions.

Bicycle Stolen For Second Time
Ronald Castleberry of 130 East St. was again the victim of a bicycle thief, Friday afternoon. Ron, who lost his bike May 27, when he left the 10-speed Western Flyer unlocked in his yard, was lucky the first time. The brand new bike was found the next day partially hidden under leaves in the lot across from Pierce Park. This time, the blue bike which has a yellow bike flag on the rear, was taken from 151 Van Buren while Ron made a short visit to a friend. The bike is less than three weeks old. A blue and chrome girl's bike registered in the name of Elizabeth Pfeiffer, was found this week by Thomas Eder of E. Middle St., who reported that the bike had been parked at South school for at least a month. New super Douglas fir trees developed by research ecologists for reforestation of commercial timber lands are five times larger in their first year than trees the same age that sprout from seeds developed haphazardly by nature, according to foresters.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Information Specialist

Dairy month is special to Michigan because milk is the single largest source of income for our state's farmers. In recent years Michigan cows have set a trend with an increasing volume of milk per cow. Last year 427,000 Michigan cows averaged 11,523 pounds of milk each, to place the state sixth nationally in milk production.

The Dairy division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture is responsible for safeguarding our milk supplies. Trained dairy inspectors make certain that Michigan milk is produced, pasteurized, and handled under strict sanitary control. They check manufacturing and culturing practices used by plants in making dairy products. Soft-serve desert stands, which are open during the spring and summer, are inspected to enforce good sanitary practices.

In the production of other dairy products, Michigan ranks fifth among the states in creamed cottage cheese, sixth in butter, and seventh in ice cream.

Dairy month is an ideal time to get acquainted with a variety of dairy products. Products like Michigan dairy sour cream, yogurt, and non-fat dry milk just might become staples in your kitchen if given a chance. Try using them in cooking and baking. You'll like the results.

To help you get started in your new experiments in cooking, the American Dairy Association has printed several brochures describing various dairy products, their nutritional value, and recipes for meal planning. You may obtain copies of these brochures by writing to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Information and Education, Lewis Cass Bldg., Lansing 48913. Please indicate the product of interest to you.

Transcendental Meditation Lecture Offered at Library

Ever since the Beatles and Mia Farrow journeyed to India a few years ago to learn the techniques of transcendental meditation from Maharishi Meesh Yogi, transcendental meditation or TM, as the initiated call it, has enjoyed increasing popularity.

Indeed, according to Ellen Graham, writer for the Wall Street Journal, TM has supplanted Zen, Yoga and group therapy as America's latest method of coping with urban anxiety.

According to the International Meditation Society, one of several organizations peddling the technique under the Maharishi's guiding light, more than 150,000 Americans have started meditating. An average of 5,000 are said to have been initiated each month since the Maharishi began to hold regular teacher training sessions in 1968.

There are now 2,400 qualified teachers in this country, one of which will be in Chelsea this evening, June 14, offering a free international meditation society lecture. The program will begin at 7:30 in McKune Memorial Library.

What began as proselytizing on college campuses has expanded to include people of all ages in all walks of life. Now housewives, businessmen, scientists, pilots, physicians and musicians are said to be among the adherents to TM.

Defined as a "method of allowing the mind to be drawn automatically to the most refined level of thinking," TM is billed as a completely natural and effortless means of "expanding awareness" and "developing creative intelligence."

Those who practice the technique testify that it improves their clarity of perception, makes them less vulnerable to stress and general equips them to better cope with today's "rat race."

The morning and evening periods of deep relaxation are refreshing, they say, and allow them to remain alert and well with less sleep.

To get these amazing results, say meditators, merely take a course with one of the Maharishi's many trained initiators. The teaching procedures are highly standardized and reportedly foolproof.

Beginning with two introductory lectures, the course proceeds with an hour of individual instruction in which the new-comer is assigned his mantra, a soft meaningless sound. He polishes his technique in discussion groups with other initiates during the next three days, and then he is on his own.

Although advocates cannot say how the technique works, they stress that it does work, even if the initiate doesn't believe it will. Experienced meditators talk of

Assault Case Bound Over to Circuit Court

James Kosinski appeared in 14th District Court, Monday, on a charge of assault with intent to murder, a charge pressed by his step-son, Bobby Dean Akers.

The charge was reduced to assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder, and examination was waived. The case was bound over to Circuit Court where Kosinski will appear July 20.

His bond was set at $5,000. He had been held without bond until the District Court appearance.

Akers was treated June 10 at Chelsea Medical Center for bruises and lacerations on his head and shoulder where he said Kosinski had hit him with the barrel of a pump shotgun.

Water Garden Enough for Deep Soaking

East Lansing-Waternig is essential to growing vegetables successfully, but many home gardeners are unsure about the proper way to do the job. Sprinkling a garden seems easy, but how much water should you use? And how should the job be done? Michigan State University horticulturist J. Lee Taylor says that it's better to water your garden thoroughly about once a week during dry periods than it is to water it lightly more often. "Add enough water to thoroughly moisten the soil to a depth of at least six inches," Taylor suggests. Light waterings don't supply enough moisture for the roots to develop deeply.

Present Michigan law provides for legal use of studded motor vehicle tires between Nov. 1 of one year and May 1 of the following year. Under legislative consideration are proposals to prohibit the use of studded tires in the state.

Youth Action Day Slated at MSU Campus

East Lansing—More than 9,000 young people from across the state will be involved in Michigan State University's 4-H Youth Action Day this Saturday, June 23.

According to Duncan E. Sanford, Washington county extension 4-H youth agent, the event, which is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., will feature demonstrations, workshops, live performances and "action exhibits."

"We hope to show the public what kinds of activities are available through the 4-H program," says Sanford. "More than 100 different youth interest areas will be represented."

Included will be continuous demonstrations of dog care and training, pinning insects, making puppets, first aid techniques, modeling, generating electricity, sewing, personal appearance, photography, shooting sports and fly ball casting.

Activities designed to involve the public include sending up weather balloons, arranging flowers, milking a cow, and using computers. There will be several other opportunities for the public to actually "do something," says Sanford.

In addition to the 4-H exhibits and demonstrations, General Motors will present a live science show entitled "Preview of Progress."

The event will be held rain or shine in MSU's Spartan Stadium courts to keep it that way.

When you talk about the little pig that went to market, consider Michigan's 283 million pounds of pork. Michigan is 17th among the states with production centered in Cass, Lenawee, St. Joseph and Branch counties.

Proper Caring For Cut Flowers Adds Enjoyment

East Lansing—Those bouquets of flowers you've been loving in from your garden add a lot of beauty and color to your home, and the longer they last the more enjoyment they provide.

William H. Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist, has some tips on how to keep your cut flowers looking good longer.

—Cut the flowers in the early morning or late evening when they are crisp. Use a sharp knife or shears.

—Put the flowers into a bucket of warm water right after you cut them, and leave them there for about two hours before arranging them.

—If you can't arrange your flowers for a while, cover the bucket with plastic and put it in the lower half of your refrigerator.

—Wash vases or containers before you put flowers in them.

—You may want to add a commercial flower preservative to the water. If you'd like to make your own, mix one 12-ounce bottle of 7-Up, 12 ounces of water and 1/2 teaspoon of bleach.

—Don't place your arrangement in drafts or near radiators, direct sun or electric lights.

—Move the flowers to a cool spot at night to keep them looking fresh.

If you have a friend or relative suffering from a unilateral hearing loss, he also may be a victim of serious psychological side effects as a result of his hearing impairment, hearing specialists point out. Such an individual constantly needs special understanding and treatment.

Heat Blow-Ups Rupture Roads

Lansing—Hundreds of heat-induced pavement blow-ups have occurred already this summer on state highways, the Department of State Highways reports.

Temperatures of 90 degrees or more in much of lower Michigan caused concrete to expand, buckling numerous pavement joints.

"This is a common occurrence, especially in the summer's first hot spell," said Joseph F. Oravec, the Highway Department's engineer of maintenance. "The first hot spell usually buckles the extra weak joints."

Oravec said highway maintenance make emergency repairs of a temporary nature as soon as possible with permanent repairs scheduled later according to the number required in any particular area.

The record for heat-induced pavement blow-ups occurred in June, 1971, with 1,387 for that month.

The highway department cautioned motorists to be alert to pavement blow-ups during hot weather. Sudden rupture of pavement sometimes causes chunks of concrete into the driving surface.

The Department has developed a new technique for making permanent blow-up repairs which lessens the time for blocked traffic lanes from as much as a week to just a few hours.

Formerly, the old pavement had to be sawed and jack-hammered out, and fresh concrete poured, taking several days for drying and setting. The new technique involves pre-cast slabs of concrete lowered by crane into the ruptured area, after it has been cleaned out.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMER

When Sarah C. Anders, Fleetwood, Pa., was a small child, she lived on a one-acre farm. Dad worked as a stone mason, beside truck farming. Once a week on Saturday evenings we got all dressed up and went into our little town. Mom took her basket of eggs and went to the grocery store, and Dad went into the home and had himself a beer or two, but never more. When Mom and we children came out of the grocery store, Dad was always waiting for us at the old Model T Ford. Mom would trade her eggs for most of our groceries. If we had done all our chores for the week we were given a nickel and could buy a box of animal crackers. Mom always bought soda crackers and a bucket of peanut butter. Later, we'd use the buck-ets to pick berries with for Mom's homemade jelly and jam.

When we got home, Mom would make a big pitcher of lemonade in the summer and hot cocoa in the winter and we would have our weekly treat of peanut butter crackers and a drink of lemonade or cocoa. We were content back then, and more than proud of the few things we had.

TRANSPLANT BULBS If only a few of your hyacinths or tulips came up this year, the bulbs may need thinning and transplanting, say MSU horticulturists.

Dig them up in the summer after the bulb coat turns from yellow to light brown. This will give them time to cure before they're replanted in the fall.

Michigan is the largest tart cherry producer in the nation, growing 79 percent of the U.S. crop.

Strawberry Time Is Here

East Lansing—Strawberry-picking time is here, and Michigan State University horticulturist Joseph Hull has a few hints for pickers.

"Pick berries early in the morning when they are cool," he advises. "Not all the berries ripen at the same time. Pick only those berries that are red and leave berries showing white until the next harvest."

"Harvesting every other day is the customary practice," Hull continues, "but fruit ripens more rapidly during hot weather and it may become necessary to pick every day."

He recommends removing any berries that have been damaged by insects or disease. This will reduce the incidence of fruit rot.

If you're picking the fruit for freezing Hull suggests waiting until the berries are fully mature before picking. Berries should be refrigerated soon after harvest for maximum keeping.

PINCH' MUMS FOR BEAUTY

"Pinching" mums now will result in bushier plants with more flowers this fall, according to MSU horticulturists. You can remove the top half inch of each shoot by pinching it between your thumb and forefinger and breaking it off.

Michigan regained its first-place standing in cucumber production in 1972. Almost 100,000 tons were harvested from 26,000 acres. Value of pickling cucumbers was 18,391,000.

Among the 50 states, Michigan ranks third in production of apples, celery, asparagus, blueberries and wine.

Society Plans Tour Of Historic Churches

For its annual outing, the Washington Historical Society has chosen a tour of historic churches. The tour will be followed by a chicken dinner served by church members of the Bethel United Church of Christ in Freedom Township. Churches to be toured represent some of the earliest buildings constructed in the county and are now some of the oldest standing structures in the county. The tour on Saturday, June 23, will be made by chartered bus. The bus will leave the Kempf House, located at 321 St. Division, Ann Arbor, at 12:30 p.m. The group will convene at Bethel church, the last church on the tour, for the dinner and meeting. Tickets for the tour and dinner are $5 per person.
