Dec. 17 Set For School Bonding Vote

Chelsea School District Board of Education has received notification that its request for approval of Dec. 17 as a bonding election date has been approved by the Washtenaw County Election Scheduling Committee. With approval of the election date, final plans are being made on the proposed building program.

The board, at its meeting of Sept. 17, again met with representatives of Manson, Jackson & Kane, Architects, who presented estimated costs for additions, new buildings and site acquisitions as recommended by the Ad Hoc Citizen Committees. After considerable discussion of the proposed project, the board authorized its secretary to sign the necessary application to the Michigan Department of Education School Bond Loan Division for preliminary approval of a $5,900,000 bond issue as per the revised proposed building facilities and budget estimates of the architects. This action was necessary, at Monday's meeting to allow sufficient time for the Department of Education to process the paperwork to allow for a Dec. 17 election.

Motorcycle Stolen From Parking Lot

A 1972 red Kawasaki 350 cc. motorcycle parked overnight in the Municipal parking lot last Saturday was stolen sometime before 9:30 p.m. Sunday night, Chelsea police say.

The owner of the vehicle, Richard L. Page of Dexter, reports that he had motor trouble with the cycle and parked it against the wall at Park St. at approximately 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Although the cycle was driveable, (Continued on page six)

Dental Cavity Preventive Test Slated

On Oct. 10, 11 and 12, students from the elementary grades of the Chelsea School District will have the opportunity to participate in a study on the prevention of dental decay. This study is being undertaken by faculty members of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, in cooperation with the Chelsea school system.

Chelsea was selected because of (1) the mixture of children drinking from the community water system and those drinking well water, (2) the demonstrated interest in preventive dentistry, (3) the proximity of Chelsea to the University, and (4) the co-operation and support of the area dentists.

Primary objective of this study is to evaluate the effectiveness of a new safe plastic coating to prevent cavities from occurring on the biting surfaces of permanent teeth. Facilities for the project will be provided by the Dental School in the form of two Dental Health Mobile Units. All children, whose parents have given written permission, will be examined for specific teeth suitable for use in this study.

Each child who is selected to participate will have one tooth cleaned and treated with the plastic coating, and a similar tooth on the opposite side of the mouth cleaned but left uncoated. Follow-up examinations of the selected teeth for each child will take place at the schools in six (Continued on page six)

Three Juveniles In Possession Of Marijuana

Three juveniles were taken into custody by Chelsea Police officers Friday night, Sept. 14, when officers noticed a strong smell of marijuana while on a routine patrol of Chelsea High school.

At approximately 8:30 p.m., reports say, the two officers approached the entrance to the Nature Trail on Washington St. There, upon smelling marijuana, they approached three youths who were seated on the edge of steps leading to the trail. One of the boys had in his possession a plastic bag of substance believed to be marijuana and cigarette papers; one of the others possessed a plastic bag containing similar substance and a silver pipe.

The three boys, two of whom were 16 years and one 15, were taken to the Chelsea Police Station, where their parents were notified. They were released to their parents pending verification of the evidence.

GERTRUDE O'DELL

Custodian at School Retires After 25 Years

Long-time custodian for Chelsea public schools, Mrs. Gertrude O'Dell, was honored twice in the past week on the occasion of her retirement.

Mrs. O'Dell, characterized by Principal Sylvester Wojcik of South school as "good for the school in more ways than one," was honored at a surprise school assembly Monday afternoon. Students created and signed cards of appreciation, and only a couple of them let the secret out to Mrs. O'Dell.

Saturday night, Sept. 15, friends and relatives gathered to help celebrate Mrs. O'Dell's entrance into leisure.

She was employed by the school district for 25 years.

Personal Notes

Friends of Mrs. Mary Koch will be pleased to learn that she has moved from California back to Michigan to live with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Leo Vasher at 7251 Gladwin Rd., Harrison, 48625. Mrs. Koch is the sister of Mrs. Charles Bycraft, Sr., of Chelsea and was born in Lima township and lived most of her life in the Chelsea area.

Jayvees Win Opener Over Tecumseh

In a game marred by poor offensive play by both teams, Chelsea's junior varsity Bulldogs defeated Tecumseh, 12-6, in the season opener last Saturday morning. Tecumseh exploded early with a touchdown-scoring return of the opening kick-off, but failed in the extra point attempt. After this initial excitement, both teams settled back to a defensive battle that was characteristic of the rest of the game.

The second quarter saw Chelsea come alive and begin to move the ball, only to have a touchdown called back because a player did not have his mouth guard in his mouth. The story was the same in the third quarter when the Bulldogs offense again began moving, but "stopped themselves with fumbles and penalties," according to Coach Jon Schaffner. Defense, however, held Tecumseh to only six yards in the quarter.

After fumbles by both teams, Mike Kozminski recovered for Chelsea, and the Bulldogs pushed it in to tie the game. Although the extra point attempt was bungled, defense took over and routed Tecumseh to an 18-yard loss for the quarter. Then Mark Dalton grabbed a Tecumseh pass on their 25-yard line and raced into the end zone to score the winning touchdown.

"The difference was Chelsea's defense," says Coach Schaffner, "which held Tecumseh to minus yardage the entire second half." Eric Prinzing led the defensive effort with five tackles, while Tim Reed and Dave Watson each racked up four.

Cross Country Team Dumps Saline, 24-33

Two disappointingly strong opponents bested Chelsea's harriers in their first two cross country meets of the season before the Bulldogs managed to turn the tide by dumping traditionally tough Saline, 24-33, in their third encounter.

The season opened Sept. 11 at the Inverness Country Club, where Lumen Christl, widely considered one of the top squads in Michigan, unmercifully trounced Coach Pat Clarke's charges by a discouraging score of 19-42. Christl's first three runners broke the Inverness course record, with Pat Fitzgerald establishing a new mark of 16:34.

Encouraging performances in the defeat were headed by top returnee Jim Storey, whose 17:43 time earned him fourth place. Jeff Sprague, reported by Coach Clarke to be "improved amazingly over last year," followed closely in fifth place with a 17:48 time.

Other Chelsea placers in the effort were John Storey, 10th place, (18:36); Doug Schrotenboer, 11th (18:49); Bill Rademacher, 12th (19:45); Dave Frame, 13th (19:56).

Undaunted by the defeat, the Bulldogs then were barely edged out by Michigan Center, another top area team, in a 27-30 contest. Jim Storey and Jeff Sprague placed second and third, respectively, followed by John Storey, (6); Doug Schrotenboer (7); and Bill Rademacher (12).

At this point, Coach Clarke declared that he was "very encouraged despite the two losses. Every boy ran his best time of the year and gave a good account of himself. Someone will know who (Continued on page three)

Saline Band Accompanying Grid Team

Saline High school's band will accompany the Hornet football team to Chelsea tomorrow night to appear with the Chelsea High band in the pre-game and half-time shows, says Warren Meyer, director of Chelsea High school band.

Both the Saline band, under the direction of Mac Danforth, and the Chelsea band, will play the National Anthem in the pre-game activity; then at half-time each will perform a separate show. Chelsea's band has an entirely new show planned for this game, with a theme of nostalgia. Meyer is uncertain at this point of Saline's theme, but is positive that, "Both bands will try to outshine each other—it'll be a good show." Game time is 8 p.m.

Scouting Sign-Up Night Slated

School night for scouting is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 25 at 7:30 p.m. at Beach Middle school.

This year the program will be a bit different from previous times, as all boys from all scout ages are invited to join: those from 8 to 10 years will go into a Cub Scout unit and those 11 years and older will be assigned to a troop. Parents are also invited to attend.

Literature and more details will be distributed at the meeting.

Saline Hornets Coming Friday To Open Conference Season

A sparkling Bulldog defensive line and Jeff Marshall's 62-yard touchdown run overcame varied offensive mistakes to carry Chelsea to a hard-fought 6-0 victory over Tecumseh in the season opener last Friday night.

Few scoring attempts occurred during the first half, a defensive struggle which featured the offense sputtering with fumbles and pass interceptions. Tecumseh halfheartedly tried for a field goal from Chelsea's 27-yard line, but was far short of the mark. Chelsea sneaked inside Tecumseh's 30-yard line twice but was unable to generate the needed offensive punch.

As the second half opened, Bulldog defense again held Tecumseh, but the offensive squad cornered some of the action when Chelsea took over the ball on its own 23-yard line. Team captain Jeff Marshall ran for 14 yards behind blocking by John Tandy, Jack Hackworth, and Rex Miles. Quarterback John Houle then tossed to Ishmael Picklesimer for three yards. Then with second and seven, Marshall again went off left tackle, cut back into the middle, picked up a block by Hackworth and outsprung Tecumseh's second-year player for a 62-yard touchdown run which gave the Bulldogs a 6-0 edge. The extra point attempt was wide.

Immediately, however, this lead was jeopardized by a fumble of Tecumseh's punt, which the Indians recovered on Chelsea's 15-yard line. Three plays and a Chelsea offside penalty put Tecumseh at Chelsea's two-yard line with a first down.

The defensive squad bore down at this point and held Tecumseh to only a yard in two plays until a break occurred in the form of the quarterback's fumble back to the three-yard line. With fourth down and three yards to go, Tecumseh tried a wide play but Ron Kiel, Chuck Foytik, and Rick Miller greeted the ball carrier and squelched his scoring effort.

The ball was worked out from Chelsea's own goal line by the running of John Houle and Doug Reed, laying the groundwork for Ron Kiel, who intercepted a screen pass and raced into the end zone for an apparent touchdown, only to be called back for a penalty of too many men on the field. Standouts in the defensive squad, particularly in the first half, were linebacker Dale Poertner, who led the charge at the corner and covered punts. The Indians' wishbone T-triple option offense was contained by Dennis Bauer and Ron Kiel. In the final statistics for the game, Dennis caused one fumble and was credited with 12 tackles, while Ron recorded one interception and five tackles. Effectively holding the Indians' big fullback on line plays were tackles Dave Tucker, Howard Haselchwardt, and Darryl West.

Next encounter for the Bulldogs will be with the Saline Hornets tomorrow night at 8 p.m., the new starting time being because of Daylight Savings Time. Saline romped over Chelsea, 14-3, in their meeting last year.

Mrs. Ramp Retires as Head of Chelsea Social Service Agency

In November, 1968, some creative member of The Standard staff shared the joy of a little boy with the people of Chelsea: "Peter is very happy today—after all, it's Christmas and Santa Claus put a tricycle under the tree for him. . . . Peter wouldn't have been able to have this tricycle if his family had to buy it, since they hardly have enough money to buy food and clothes. It came from the Chelsea Social Service."

For 17 years lots of children have received Christmas presents that weren't quite so well-publicized, but they nonetheless enjoyed a truly merry Christmas from Chelsea Social Services. For that same 17 years, Mrs. Louis Ramp, 8051 Washington, Waterloo, has been director of the non-profit organization which is supported solely by a $2,500 grant from Community Chest and donations of clothing, groceries, and money from townspeople and businesses. At the meeting of the Social Services Board on Sept. 6 she announced her retirement.

Since she has been appointed to the Social Services' Board of Directors, her retirement is hardly a withdrawal from her work, but "The time has come," she says, "for someone with fresh ideas to step into the directorship."

That new person is Mrs. Lee Ormsby, 10220 Trinkle Rd., who Mrs. Ramp characterizes as "one of the very few really qualified young social workers who has come along who is willing to take on a position like this which is actually only a part-time job."

"The question now is one of outreach and funding for Social Services," she continues. "There has been such a proliferation of agencies over the past few years—years ago we were the only private agency in the area equipped to help people. We had a trained social worker, we were aware of community resources, and we had money. Very few agencies of any kind can actually give out money to someone who is temporarily in desperate need."

"Temporarily in desperate need" is the key concern of the agency which functions to relieve crises until the person or family involved can be referred and aided by the appropriate county or state agency. Typical of this is the Christmas toy and canned goods drive, which annually provides community-donated Christmas cheer to families who otherwise (Continued on page three)

AFTER 17 YEARS OF SERVICE, Mrs. Louis Ramp has announced her retirement from the directorship of Chelsea's Social Service Agency. Mrs. Ramp had held her position with the agency since its organization in 1956. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Linda Ormsby.

Attorney Harold Jones Cited for His 50 Years in Practice of Law

Attorney Harold Jones was among some 38 members of the legal profession honored Sept. 13 in Detroit at the 38th annual meeting of the State Bar practice. Jones quite nonchalantly termed the event "quite a big deal."

"It was actually pretty elegant," he admits. "A lot of the men were black-tie, but I was not about to pay Strieter's all that money just to rent one!" In attendance at the honor banquet for 1,500 were United States Senator Lowell Weicker, Jr., of Connecticut, who delivered the major speech; Justice Cavanaugh of the State Supreme Court; and various judges and legal notables from across Michigan.

Jones graduated in 1923 from the University of Michigan College of Law, after doing undergraduate work at Olivet College and the University of Michigan. He points out that his 50-year class reunion was not too long ago: "Fifties, fifties . . . everything's in fifties lately."

Jones was admitted to the Bar in September, 1923, in Detroit, where he practiced for nearly 20 years. In 1942 he accepted a position as executive financial officer of the Central Fibre Products in Chelsea, which some years later was brought under the control of Avis Industries. Until his retirement ment" in 1969 he acted as a house attorney for Avis.

Always an active man in community affairs, Jones presently is treasurer of the Chelsea Social Services Board of Directors, and chairman of the Sylvan Township Planning and Zoning Commission, which he says, "allows me to use a little of my legal training."

"Way back when," he recalls, Jones was one of the organizers of the Chelsea Community Chest. He has also been active with the Friends of the Library and the Washtenaw County Historical Society.

Strong Freshman Grid Team Blanks Saline Tuesday, 36-0

Freshmen football team kicked off its season at Saline Tuesday night and came home with a rousing 36-0 victory.

Chelsea needed less than three minutes to get its first touchdown. They received the opening kickoff and on the sixth play, Don Morrison ran 44 yards on a broken play for a touchdown. The Bulldogs struck again the next time they had the ball, after a strong defense had forced a Saline punt. Chelsea worked the ball to the Saline 30, then Anthony Houle carried on a sweep for the touchdown.

Chelsea struck again in the first quarter when Mike Check dashed 60 yards. Check's run was set up by a fine fake into the line by John Toon. Don Morrison passed to Toon for the extra point and Chelsea led, 20-0, after one quarter.

Some fine defensive work by linebackers Dale Headrick and Rick Davis, and linemen Don Nadeau, John Push, George Menge and Dan Cobb stopped any offensive plans Saline might have had. A blocked punt by Dan Cobb gave Chelsea field position early in the second (Continued on page three)

Then, the story of her first social work "break": "One of the caseworkers from the agency went out to talk to a family, a young man who had been a teacher in North Dakota, and his mother. The two of them showed up at the office a while later, whisked past the guards, who were usually sleeping anyway, and went upstairs, where they shot several of the caseworkers and desk people with a German Luger pistol, and then shot themselves. When the police went to the family's home, they found the caseworker sitting in a chair with her notebook open and the date written at the top of the page, with a bullet through her forehead."

Remark is almost a characterization of herself. It is just that sentiment that prompted the Board of Directors of Social Services to plan a retirement luncheon for Mrs. Ramp yesterday at Weber's in Ann Arbor. Board members and the new director, Mrs. Lee Ormsby, turned out to informally wish Mrs. Ramp well, though they, too are certain she'll still be available to give aid if needed.

we are by the end of the season if the boys keep working."

His optimism proved prophetic two days later, Sept. 13, when the Saline Hornets, by his own admission "a good team with a tremendous tradition in cross country," traveled to Chelsea and were handed their first loss ever in a dual meet in Southeastern Conference competition. Although every Saline runner recorded his best time of the season, the same was true for the Bulldog runners, who finished the race on top, 24-33.

★ Some Comments on Mass Transit Problems . . .

(Part 1 of 2 Parts)

How long has it been since you hopped on a train or rode a bus and left the driving to someone else?

More likely, you use the family car and bravely contend with the heavy traffic to get to work, or do an errand, or seek refuge at a recreation spot.

Michigan has earned international recognition as the automotive capital of the world. We are proud of our outstanding highways and our "clean roads" policy.

Continuing effort to get the facts on all aspects of mass transit in other states and countries. These findings and recommendations have been published and to varying degrees implemented by legislative action.

"Mass Transit" can involve two elements: 1) a fixed rail system involving major expenditures and much lead time, and 2) modernized, efficient bus service capable of early implementation and involving less capital outlay.

quarter. This resulted in a touchdown when Barry Hagen alertly fell on a fumble in the Saline end zone. Morrison passed to Check for the extra point and the score at the half was 28-0.

The second half started much like the first, as Chelsea's defense stopped Saline and the offense moved the ball. John Toon contributed the night's final TD early in the third period on a 52-yard pass from Don Morrison. Mike Check ran for the conversion and the scoring ended with the Bulldogs on top, 36-0.

"It was an excellent team effort for Chelsea," declared Coach Bill Bainton. "The reserves played much of the second and all the able job stopping the Little Hornets and moving the football on offense."

Next week, freshmen play Lincoln at home Tuesday, Sept. 25, 7 p.m.

Cub Scout Pack Starting Fall Schedule Today

Den 5 of Cub Scout Pack 415 will begin its weekly meetings Thursday, Sept. 20. Members will welcome two new Cubs to the den, John Seyfried and Steve Ramsey, and will conduct a farewell ceremony for Roger Graves and Andrew Ahrens who are leaving Den 5 to become Webelos.

Theme for the month is "American Indians" and the Cubs will be busy making Indian costumes and learning Indian dances to perform at the pack meeting next Tuesday. They will be receiving Indian head bands and feathers for each year in scouting.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
 The Spiritual Side
 Let's face it, the civilization we live in is not very spiritual. In our culture we try hard to play down the spiritual aspects of the world we live in. We like things that are physical and materialistic—things we can feel, measure and analyze. And most things that we cannot feel, measure or analyze make us uneasy and quick to describe these things as superstitions or to simply deny their existence.
 But there is the other side of our existence—the spiritual side which is just as real (and perhaps, even more real) as the physical world around us which we perceive through our senses. One of the best ways to reach the spiritual side is through prayer. With prayer we have a direct, personal to person connection with God. For God will help us to reach our true spiritual heights, if only we will let Him.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

CLASSICS FOR SCHOOL

When students go back to class this fall, many of them will be wearing the classic look. For traditional shapes, colors and patterns will dominate fall fashions for both boys and girls.

Trousers will still be a favorite with girls. But the pants are full-legged and cuffed with some high waists and cinched waists—the hot silhouette for the season. Returning this year is the skirt—pleated, short and kicky. Plaids are the rule and many traditional tartans are in bright acrylics and polyesters. Pants and skirts will team up with coordinated tops. The shirt has been revived in plaid and appears under everything. Sweaters will maintain their popularity and any-length-goes-for-girls coats.

Male fashions are somewhat similar. Coordinated classics are mixed and matched and the layered look is still very popular. Pants are still cuffed and flared and the U or V necked sweater over a shirt completes the image.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Lavonette Trimm

The great freezer boom is on. Everybody's buying freezers these days to stock up on food and beat rising prices. Home freezer sales were up 77 percent in the second period of 1973 over the same period 1972. If you're a proud owner of a home freezer or thinking of buying one, here are some tips that may be of value to you.

First of all, your freezer size should be based on the needs and appetites of your family. The average allowance per family is about three cubic feet per person if you schedule a turnover every six months.

Michigan Department of Agriculture officials recommend that you manage your freezer on a seasonal plan geared to your family's needs and preferences. Under no circumstances should you hoard food because this makes for waste and your food bills will be higher in the long run.

The quality of foods you freeze is important. You get out of the freezer just what you put into it. Freezing doesn't improve quality, it only retains it. Foods should be properly wrapped or packed in moisture-proof bags and containers, sealed and labeled for convenience.

Of foremost importance is freezer temperature. Your freezer should be set at zero degrees or lower for best results, according to MDA officials.

Meats, fish, poultry, fruits, and pre-cooked foods are easy to freeze. Vegetables, too, but they require a bit more time and care because they have to be blanched. For a vegetable freezing guide, check a reputable basic cookbook. Even with blanching, the freezing process takes only a third to half as much time as canning.

Finally, when you use frozen foods, allow enough time for proper thawing and cooking and enjoy fresh, nutritious meals all year round.

County GOP Ox Roast Slated Sunday

Plans were finalized this week County Republican ox roast to be held Sept. 23, at German Park located on Pontiac Trail. The Ox Roast committee, headed by Roy Smith, reversed previous plans to conduct bingo games during this year's picnic. The reason for the change was the committee's belief that the games might spoil the Ox Roast's festive and congenial atmosphere.

County Clerk Bob Harrison of Saline will be permanent MC and will introduce as many people as he possibly can as they come through the entrance gate. Both Congressmen Esch and Chamberlain have promised to attend as have many other state and local officials. As in the past there will be games for the kids as well as live entertainment.

The Ox Roast will start at 12 noon and last until 5 p.m. Advance sale tickets are available at reduced prices as well as at the gate. For tickets and other Headquarters, 662-2721.

Teaching parents to recognize when they're losing control of themselves with their children, and developing the parent's ability to love himself and his child will be two of the major themes presented at a workshop for Parents Anonymous next Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29, at St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit.

Professional sponsors for the organization, including medical doctors, psychiatrists, and nurses, will lead small groups in discussions regarding both recognition of the need for help and positive steps to changing a pattern of child abuse.

Informal sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday night with babysitting provided. St. Paul's Cathedral is located at Hancock and Woodward.

For more information, contact the Ann Arbor Chapter of Parents Anonymous at 475-7519.

Celebration Road Show Slated Sunday

When Celebration Road Show arrives at the Chelsea Fairgrounds at 7:30 p.m. Sunday night, the audience will be seeing a musical group whose "music with a message" has roots in individual members' performances with such musical notables as Lionel Hampton, Woody Herman, Duke Ellington, and Count Basie.

Heading the group is the Rev. Gary Miller, a former youth minister from the First Congregational church in Saginaw, who was one of the founders of the New Reformation Band, predecessor to his present group. Of his music and the importance of human values that it stresses, Miller says, "Today's music carries many messages, and students love music. Why shouldn't they have some fun while learning at the same time?"

Speaking for the five area church youth groups who are sponsoring Celebration Road Show's appearance, Mrs. Douglas Schoenberg, who with her husband is a youth counselor for Zion Lutheran church, says, "The performance is an entirely non-profit one, with the intention to promote Key '73, that is, to bring Christ to everyone." Key '73 is a nation-wide effort to "bring our continent to Christ."

Tickets for the show are available in advance at a reduced price from Pastor John Morris of Zion Lutheran church, or at the gate on the evening of the performance. Mrs. Schoenberg stresses that interested people note the new time, 7:30 p.m., which is a change from the original announcement that appeared last week in The Standard.

Blood Needed For Youth's Heart Surgery

Twenty pints of blood seems an incredibly large amount to be needed by one little boy. But in the space of a little more than a year, Ronnie Lanagan has had two relatively rare operations on his heart, and that's how much blood had to be donated to him from the Chelsea Blood Bank.

Ronnie's heart, which was malformed at birth, requires an operation called transposition, which involves switching the main arteries that lead into the heart. The operation, a form of open heart surgery, has only been attempted as a corrective measure for the past four or five years, according to Ronnie's mother, Mrs. Ronald Lanagan.

In addition to the operations within the past year, four-year-old Ronnie had an operation on his heart when he was but a day old. Doctors say that this past week's operation should eliminate any further necessity for operating until, hopefully, Ronnie has entered his teens. His activities then will still be limited by his physical condition, however, even if the operations are successful—no high school sports, and not much strenuous activity for him despite his youthful vigor.

To look at him now, there's no resemblance to the typical "patient" recovering placidly in a hospital bed. Ronnie is active, says the folks on Mott Children's Hospital fifth floor, "almost too active," reports his mother. "They say they can just barely keep him down, even though he's had the operation so recently."

Mrs. Lanagan has been spending almost all of her time with her blond, blue-eyed son since his operation last week. She has not even managed an opportunity to check at the Chelsea Methodist Home, where she is employed, to see if anyone has responded to her request for blood donors to help her replace the remaining 18 pints that she owes to the Chelsea Blood Bank. But a co-worker of Mrs. Lanagan says that many people were simply unable to give. "The Bank wouldn't take their blood, or they had just given recently—a lot of people just couldn't."

But somewhere, a lot of individual people can. Ronnie's operation was possible because the blood was available to him through the Chelsea Blood Bank. Mrs. Lanagan requests that anyone interested in donating blood to replace that used by Ronnie should call the American Red Cross in Ann Arbor at 971-5300. An appointment will be arranged to donate the blood in the Lanagan's name. Someone else's little boy may need it soon.

GONE ARE THE FURNITURE and display rooms at Holland House on Jackson Rd. Fire gutted the furniture store early Sunday morning. The Dexter Fire Department received the call and was the first on the scene. A Detroit man is being held on charges of breaking and entering and investigation of arson.

Fire Destroys Scio Furniture Store Sunday

Eighteen of the 60 firemen who battled the Holland House Furniture Store blaze early Sunday morning were members of the Dexter Fire Department. Fire Chief Keith Hoatlin said, "We received the call at 1:28 a.m. and arrived on the scene at 1:35 a.m."

He added that although the fire was under control at about 6:30 a.m., the local firemen were on the scene until about noon on Sunday.

Unique with its many fully decorated display rooms, Holland House, on Jackson Rd. in Scio township, was gutted by the blaze.

Ray Holland, owner of the store, comments, "Things are so chaotic right now and since many complications seem to be on the horizon, we are not making any decisions as to what we will do."

Held in the Washtenaw county jail is Michael Charles Lawrentz, 32, of Detroit. He was arraigned Tuesday on charges of breaking and entering Holland House, according to Detective Fred Patterson of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

In his statement Lawrentz told detectives that he had accidentally dropped lighter fluid in the manager's office in Holland House, noted Detective Patterson. It is possible that Lawrentz will be charged with arson in connection with the fire, he said.

Lawrentz was apprehended about 3:30 a.m. Sunday on the roof of Jacobson's Department Store in Ann Arbor. In his car police found office equipment from Holland House. He was then arrested on charges of attempted burglary and possession of stolen property. The fire probably started near the front of the building, according to the sheriff's department.

and took cigarettes valued at about $250 and $25 in cash. The safe was opened and papers were scattered about the floor, the culprits no doubt expecting to find money. Entrance was through the basement. A car was parked at the rear of the store where the loot was loaded.

Harper's Garage was entered on Tuesday night and about $250 worth of merchandise and equipment and a small amount of cash was taken. The burglars broke a glass from a side door in an effort to gain entrance, but they could not unlock the door. They finally broke a large pane elsewhere.

The enrollment of St. Mary's School of Music numbers 31. Those students who take 36 lessons and give satisfactory work will be awarded a certificate. The annual musicale will be held at the end of the scholastic year.

The fire chief added, "As a member of the Washtenaw Mutual Aid Fire Service, we have available almost unlimited equipment for a fire such as this."

Stamps Offered By Mail Service

Stamps by mail, a customer service program successfully tested in selected cities nationwide is now being conducted in the Chelsea Post Office. Postmaster Richard Schaefer has announced.

According to Postmaster Schaefer, this new service will permit customers to purchase stamps and stamped envelopes through the mail, using a check or money order.

Leaflets spelling out details of the service will be distributed to area households and small businesses during the next few weeks.

The postmaster noted "This service will be of great benefit to all customers and especially to shut-ins, the infirm and persons whose work schedule precludes trips to the post office. It will enable them to satisfy their postal needs simply, rapidly and inexpensively from their own homes."

A 40-cent fee will be charged to defray the cost of two-way postage, internal processing of checks and other costs associated with this new service.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

The recent tragedy which has befallen two families in this community stabs me to a painful awareness of our own involvement in and responsibility for the circumstances which make possible such tragedies. Rather than "cop-out" on our responsibilities by blaming God, does it not make more sense to ask such questions as:

How can it be that an unguarded railroad crossing is tolerated within the village limits? Are there other items of business on the village agenda that are more important and of greater priority than safe streets within the village?

How can it be that a school district, which recognized the danger by not routing school buses over the Freer Rd. crossing, nevertheless, while providing for the safety of those who are bused, tolerates for other students the clear and present danger of an unguarded crossing within 2,500 feet of Beach School involving a railroad schedule that always brings a train some time between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. on school days?

How can it be that I as a member of this community and as a pastor looked to for spiritual leadership in individual and social concern, having traveled Freer Rd. many times, could be so blissfully ignorant to the time-bomb-like danger that crossing represents?

How can it be that Lori and Nancy are dead and two families involved in deep tragedy? Could it be that we have not yet done our best in this community to protect our children and do what we can to assure their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?

Recognizing and accepting my responsibility I invite the Village Council, the School Board, churches and organizations and the community as a whole to join with me in combining our efforts to secure gates and warning lights at Freer Rd. as the only fitting memorial to Lori and Nancy and as the gift of safety to generations who yet must pass that way. Penn Central is a corporate structure that certainly will not look after or love our children more than we do. Let us care enough for all our children, whether they be living with us or living with God, to care enough to do our best to insure their health and happiness.

The Rev. Clive H. Dickens.

To the Editor:

Since I am usually one of the first people to complain when noticing something wrong, I feel I want to give credit to the Chelsea Village Council and the Department of Public Works for the attractive improvements beside the United States Post Office.

Recognition should also be given to the many families who have made home and yard improvements this summer. Have you noticed?

Sure hope all the citizens have enjoyed seeing these improvements.

I am proud to be a resident of Chelsea. How about you?
Patricia A. Baldwin.

WHO? MX...? IMPORTANT...? Yxs. You are im-

This typewriter works O.K. except for one key. With 46 other keys, you might think this one key would not count for much. But this one key is needed so badly, that whole works is fouled up on account of it.
In your home, your work, your church, your club, you are only one person. But you are a key person. You are just as important as this key on the typewriter. Any time you think differs, you can feel things up just like this one key does.

Guest Speakers Scheduled Sunday at St. Paul Church

A third year theological student will deliver the 10:30 sermon at St. Paul's United Church of Christ this Sunday, Sept. 23, as part of a program concentrating on seminars.

Douglas C. Runnels, candidate for the Master of Divinity degree at the Chicago Theological Seminary of the United Church of Christ, is a graduate of Harvard University who also received his masters and doctorate from the University of Chicago in English literature. Last fall he was accepted as a special two-year candidate for the Master of Divinity degree at the seminary and awarded a President's Prize Fellowship. During the summer of this year he was pastor of the First Congregational Church of Christ in Plymouth, Wis.

After Runnels' sermon, Cyrus V. Giddings, will speak briefly about seminary support for theological education. Giddings is director of CUE, an abbreviation which encompasses the first letters of the three seminaries it represents, the Chicago Theological Seminary in Chicago; the United Theological Seminary in New Brighton, Minn.; and Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Groves, Mo. He has also been director of relationships at the Chicago Theological seminary since 1959.

Young Men Must Still Register for Draft at Age 18

High schools, post offices and other public buildings will be ablaze with multi-colored posters in September to inform young men that (1) they must still register for the draft at age 18, and (2) they must notify their local board of any change of address.

This is all part of a nationwide Selective Service effort to help young men comply with the draft law even though inductions have been halted by Congress.

And it's so much better with a 1974 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic Coupe.

Introducing the Caprice Classic, for people who think driving is something the car should do.

If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the 1974 Caprice Classic.

It's been designed for you to steer, and for it to do most of the rest. Standard power front disc brakes do most of the stopping. Standard variable-ratio power steering does most of the turning.

Standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission does the shifting.

The Caprice Coupe roof line is new and features distinctive new rear windows which surround you with a wide expanse of glass. The grille is changed to add to the richness. The front and rear bumper systems are improved. The rear now retracts, like the front, to help cushion minor impact.

Inside, there's peace and quiet. And everything is available for your convenience. You can order Cruise-Master, for example, that automatically maintains your speed. Or how about a reclining front passenger seat?

The 1974 Caprice Classic. About as effortless to drive as a car can be.

Color-keyed steering wheel.

3-point restraint system.

America, your 1974 Impala is ready.

Introducing the 1974 edition of the Great American Value... Chevrolet Impala, of course.

For 13 straight years, the Impala has been America's favorite car. And before we tell you what's new (and we'll cover that), we'd like to tell you about rooster tails, freezing and baking... ways we make an Impala's life miserable so that it can continue to make your life more enjoyable.

Rooster tails

We make rooster tails by barreling through our own man-made floods. Water, as you know, can play havoc with the undercarriage and brakes. And salt water is worse.

So for 1974, all Impalas have a new corrosion-resistant frame coating. And all come with power front disc brakes that shrug off the effects of water.

The disc brakes also have brand-new wear sensors. They sing out and warn you if the disc linings need replacement. And while we're on the subject of exotic engineering, the front ball joints have built-in wear indicators, too.

Chevelle Malibu Classic Sedan.

Introducing the Chevelle Malibu Classic inside out.

Malibu Classic.
A luxury Chevelle, new this year.
Full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest.
Tasteful fabrics. Cut-pile nylon carpeting. Wood-grain vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels.

Now look at the exterior. Look carefully, so you can sense the character of the car. In the lines. The detail. The stance.
It's as classic outside as it is inside.
Yet, so importantly, it remains mid-size.

It remains all Chevelle, with Chevelle handling and a Chevelle price.
The very new, very luxurious Chevelle Malibu Classic.
Now that you've looked, come and see.

The open road begins Freedom of choice.

Impalas are driven in the middle of Arizona in the dead of summer, when metal gets so hot you can barely touch it. That's one of the reasons Impalas have an acrylic lacquer finish.

Over the years, we've made many improvements to help a Chevrolet's cooling system keep its cool.

The air conditioning system you can add to a '74 Impala, for example, has been refined.

We show no mercy

A car doesn't like extreme cold any better than it does intense heat.

So we also drive Impalas in the frigid climates Eskimo dog teams like.

We drive Impalas on virtually every kind of driving surface including some we hope you never encounter, like "Belgian blocks."

We drive them at high speeds. We stop them in grueling panic stops.

Here's another point to ponder

All cars are designed to be terrific new. The real trick is to design them so they'll go right on being terrific.

And that's the key to Impala's traditionally high resale value. You see, it isn't just something you get out of Impala. It's something we've built in.

Camaro Type LT interior.

Introducing the 1974 Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes.

It only looks quick, sleek and sharp. It was born fresh and now it's matured into the best Camaro ever.

Its stance. Responsive person comfort rare in a car that handles so well.

Plus classic new styling this year. And plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up. New aluminum bumpers are energy-absorbing systems. Steel-belted radial tires are available on the Sport Coupe or the

The Chevelle Laguna Type S-3. Call it Laguna. Call it S-3. Just don't call it ordinary.

Its standard equipment includes: radial-tuned suspension. Special stabilizers. Swivel bucket seats. Power steering. Sport steering wheel. Rally Wheels with steel-belted radial tires. And a whole lot more. (Available only with vinyl roof option until early 1974). Laguna Type S-3. You don't mistake it. You don't ignore it. You enjoy it.

Cheyenne Camper Special.

Chevy Cheyenne. The camper tamer.

Chevy specializes in many things. One is building better pickups for campers, pickups that can carry the load securely and smoothly on or off the road.

The Cheyenne is a super carrier. Strong. Tough. Yet gentle on you and the load at the same time.

And for 1974, our standard front disc brakes are incorporated into complete brake systems computer-matched to the GVW rating of the pickup you order.

Chevy knows its business.

Vega GT Hatchback Coupe.

Introducing the '74 Vega. Everybody loves a winner.

The 1974 Vega GT.

This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year.

Which was a special honor for the GT on top of the other honors Vega's received. (Like Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years.)

The new Vega has a reshaped nose with cooling slots where there used to be a grille. Bigger bumpers. Nicer carpeting. And a number of other modifications mostly made for reasons like security, durability and economy.

We really didn't change our winner. We just improved it some.

You'd think its looks were everything, until you drive it.

One glance can tell you a lot about the 1974 Monte Carlo's elegance. But there's an elegance to the Monte Carlo that you can only know from driving one. Monte Carlo's refined radial-tuned suspension lets you enjoy the advantages of its standard steel-belted radial ply tires. We think you'll appreciate how well it handles and how smoothly it rides. Features like variable-ratio power steering and power front disc brakes are also standard. Because it just wouldn't be a Monte Carlo without them. 1974 Monte Carlo. As elegant mechanically as it is in appearance.

Experience is the best teacher.

To many people, Nova is just about the most sensible car around. Sensible price, sensible size, sensible approach to driving in this day and age. When a car makes so much sense, it would be nonsense to make drastic changes in it every year. So except for its new improved bumper systems, its new combination front seat-and-shoulder belts with ignition interlock system, some new colors and fabrics and things—the 1974 Nova is still essentially the same car it's been for years. We think we've got it down pat. But we're not standing pat.
