Chelsea Public Schools will continue to serve lunch to all students in the district at the same price line as last year, despite the fact that the cost of food has increased by as much as 50 percent in some cases.

The school board, which meets tomorrow night, will consider a report from the food service committee, which has recommended that the price of lunch be kept at 35 cents per day for all students.

The committee has also recommended that the price of lunch be kept at 35 cents per day for all students, even though the cost of food has increased by as much as 50 percent in some cases.

Students in the Type A lunch program are served lunch at 35 cents per day, while students in the Type B lunch program are served lunch at 25 cents per day. The Type A lunch program is available to all students in the district, while the Type B lunch program is available to students who are unable to pay for lunch.

THE DAILY CHALLENGE of most preparation confronts Mrs. Duane Weiss, Chelsea school district food service manager, as she works on her weekly menus. Mrs. Weiss says that the present cost of a Type A hot lunch in Chelsea, which has remained at 35 cents since the program began in 1959, may be nearly impossible to maintain considering current food prices, shortages, and cutbacks in government food subsidies to lunch programs.

No Decision Reached Yet on Amount of School Bond Issue

Additional research is needed before determining the final amount of the bond proposal scheduled for a vote Dec. 17, the Chelsea Board of Education decided Monday night, Sept. 24, at a special meeting.

The meeting was called last week to discuss the tentative $3,900,000 figure with the architects, Manson, Jackson & Kane, Inc., the citizens ad hoc committee, and other interested citizens.

The district met with the full board to discuss item by item the proposed building program to insure that the required additions to the educational program would be developed as conceived.

Several concrete suggestions came from the board regarding means of trimming the budget without inflicting damage upon the program. A final decision on the amount of the bond proposal is expected at the regularly scheduled meeting next Monday, Oct. 1.

PSC Agrees To Inspect Fatal Crossing

The Freer Rd. crossing of the Penn Central railroad tracks at the northeast village limits, scene of a car-train collision three weeks ago which ended in the death of two Chelsea school girls, will be inspected under the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 28, at 10 a.m.

The inspection is at the request of the Village Council and was prompted by the presentation of the Rev. Clive Dickens, pastor of the First United Methodist church, at the Council meeting Sept. 18. Lori Gardner, 12, stepdaughter of the Rev. Dickens, and Nancy Rossbach, 14, were killed in the crash.

The same crossing was the site of a previous inspection, conducted March 1, to evaluate a recommendation for crossing gates. Since the accident Sept. 6, the Rev. Dickens has appeared at the school board meeting Sept. 17 and the council meeting, in addition to submitting a personal plea in the "Letters to the Editor" column of The Standard to the citizens of Chelsea to aid him in his attempts to have safety improvements made at the crossing.

He requests that all interested citizens attend the inspection to demonstrate their strong support for improvements at Freer Rd.

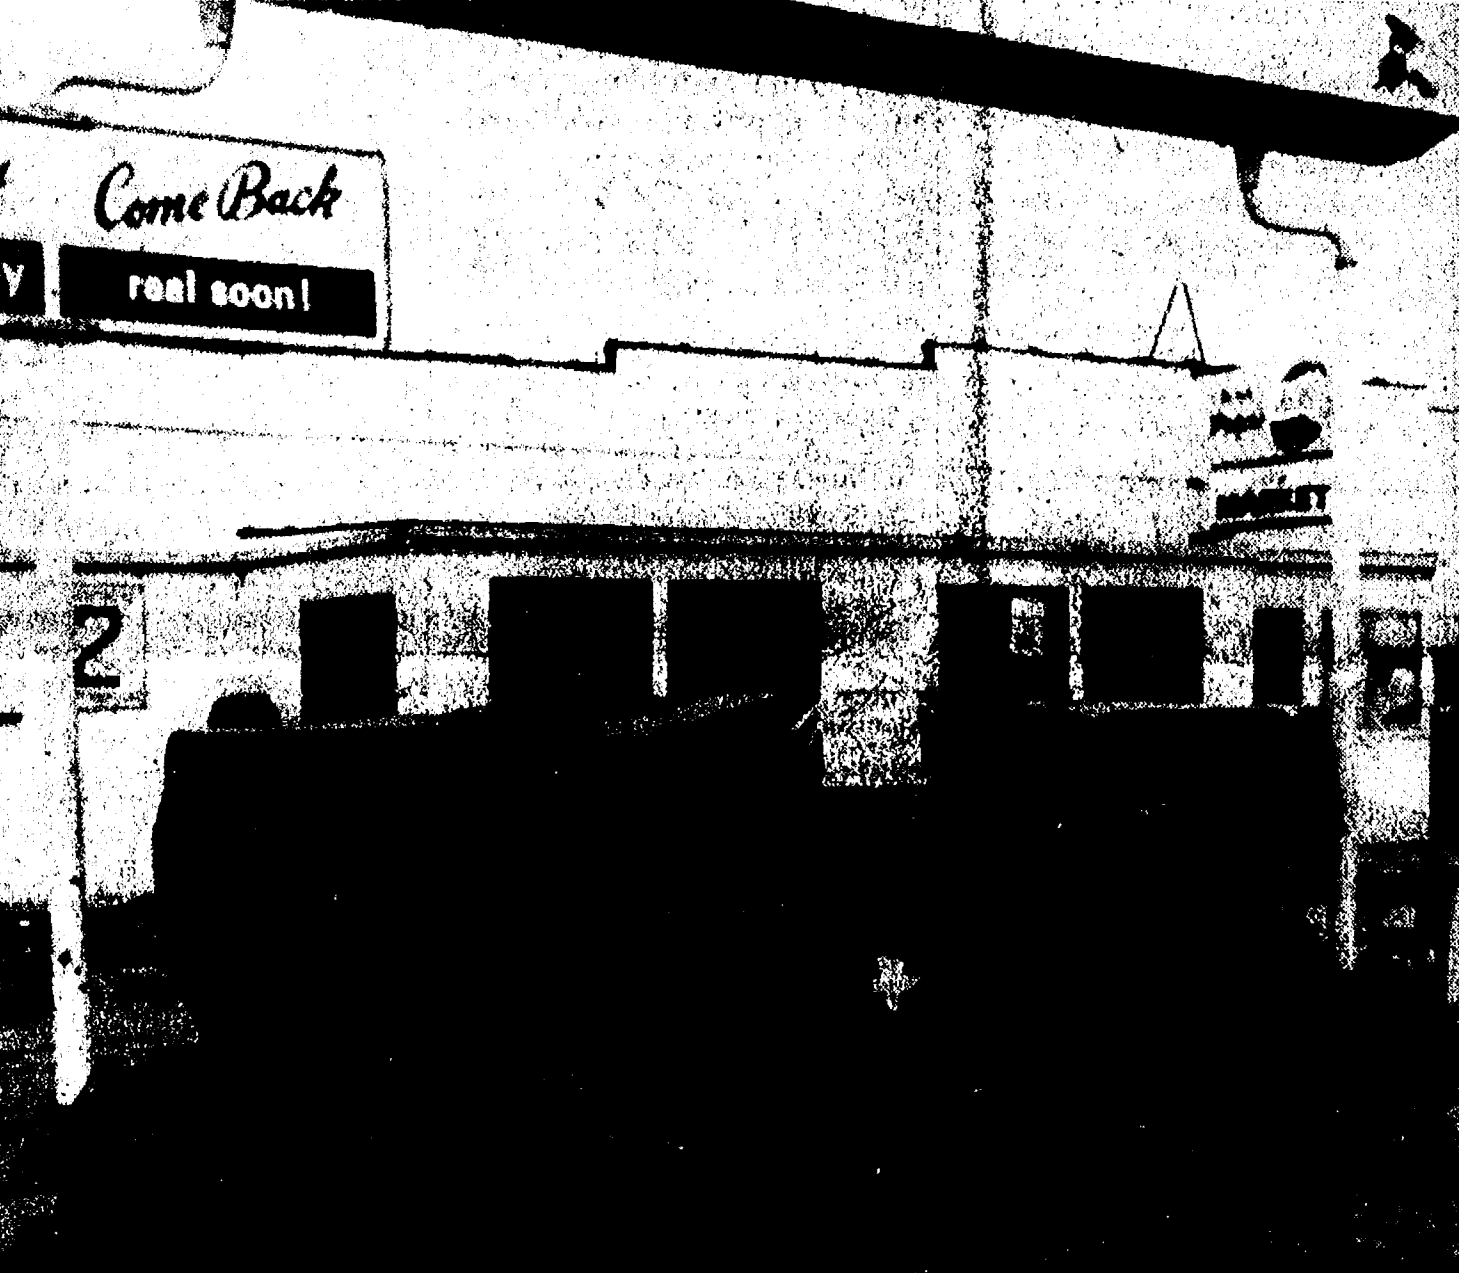

Although rail movements consist of 12 moves each way, daily, including two commuter passenger trains at speed of 60 miles per hour over a crossing within the village limits and within two-tenths of a mile from Beach Middle school, railroad safety inspector, Donald W. Pierce states: "It is this inspector's opinion that in view of the limited amount of vehicular traffic, the absence of school bus crossings, and adequate sight distances of an approaching train provided in the four quadrants, that consideration of installation of automatic protection at the subject crossing be held in abeyance pending an increase in vehicular traffic or road improvements requiring a review of the crossing aspects. It is therefore recommended that this file be returned to the file-cabinet pending further correspondence. It is further recommended that installation of automatic protection be held in abeyance as long as the present visibility is maintained or other conditions warrant consideration."

The Rev. Dickens maintains, however, that: "The question is not whether visibility is good but rather can tragedies occur which crossing gates might prevent."

In addition to soliciting community support at this inspection, the Rev. Dickens is also preparing petitions to be sent to the governor, state representatives, and the Michigan Public Service Commission.

If the Rev. Dickens' efforts are successful, the Michigan Public Service Commission will issue an order requiring the compliance of Penn Central Railroad, Washtenaw County Road Commission and the Village of Chelsea.

The Rev. Dickens called adequate provisions for the community for the safety of all its children "an issue of prime responsibility for this community."

CURRENT VICTIMS OF THE GAS SHORT-AGE are the Marathon pumps at Gene Shoemaker's Jiffy Market. Shoemaker reports that he went over his allocation for the month of September and simply ran out of gas. Although the sign at left urges customers to "Come back real soon!" pumps will be funeral-draped and empty until at least next Monday, Oct. 1.

Service Stations Find Gas Supplies More Difficult To Maintain

As service station owners in various parts of the country plan personal "fishing trips" that will effectively eliminate their station's open hours, the attitude in Chelsea area stations is typified by Ralph Fletcher of Four Mobil: "All I know is I don't get the gas."

Such a void of adequate information from which to form even hopes of better times afflicts nearly all stations now. Within the past two weeks, renewed hardships have hit two area stations, Gallup-Silkworth's Pump & Pantry and Jiffy Market's Marathon pumps.

Gallup-Silkworth ran an advertisement in last week's issue of The Standard, announcing the necessity "due to the gas shortage" to cut back to 10-hour service daily and none at all on Sunday. Ron Bush, manager of the station says, however, that although the revised hours will certainly be effective through the end of September, he expects things may be slightly better next month, when his allocation is up by 5,000 gallons.

Events at Jiffy Market's pumps were decidedly more dramatic this past week, when Gene Shoemaker abruptly reported that he had gone over his monthly allocation and was "out of gas," for the rest of this month at least. He assumes that he will be able to re-open his pumps soon.

Other area dealers, too, seem simply to be rolling with every new turn the shortage takes. Ralph Fletcher reports that Mobil sends him "a lot of statistics that don't mean a thing to me. They said this is going to continue until the first of the year, and that's all I know." Fletcher altered his hours in June to 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, with no Sunday service. He has no idea when he'll be able to return to his former hours.

Jim Kalish's Union 76 station, however, foresees "no further cuts in service." Although the station's hours are presently 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily and closed Sunday, Kalish states almost optimistically that he sees "no problem" in the immediate future.

Marathon dealer Bill Sprentall, on the other hand, notes gloomily that he was entirely out of diesel fuel this past month, and is scheduled to receive only 80 percent of his normal gasoline allocation for next month. Although admitting that the months following Labor Day are always slow ones for his station, Sprentall has found it necessary to close on Saturdays, formerly one of his big days of the week because of football game traffic. His station is one of the few to open on Sunday, however.

Sprentall took a slightly wounded jab at the Ckeker station nearby, which he says "can still get all it wants from Marathon, but I can't." Earl Marshall of Ckeker, however, reports that the driver of the supply truck which came in Monday night informed him that some cutback may come even for Ckeker, although "not as yet."

United Way Workers Ready for Campaign To Meet Higher Goal

Final official preparations for the canvassing drive beginning Oct. 1 of Chelsea United Way (new name for Chelsea Community Chest), were conducted at the organization's monthly meeting last Wednesday evening, Sept. 19. The name change was made to enable the local organization to coincide with the recent change in name by the state group.

After the meeting, canvassers and chairmen attended the campaign's only training session. William Herbst, area director for the United Way of Michigan, presented a film on soliciting and informally answered questions regarding procedures of canvassing.

James Hoffmeyer, secretary of Chelsea United Way, reminded potential contributors that the drive supports a number of organizations, both those in the area and those dependent upon the state United Way. Hoffmeyer says, "The idea behind the United Way is that we're canvassing once instead of 12 times a year. We're asking that people give as a total amount what they would give if asked every month."

A goal of $28,362, an increase of $1,362 from last year, has been set for this year's drive, which will continue until Oct. 15.

Largest recipient of the drive will again be the Chelsea Recreation Council, slated to add $7,400 to its budget, which each year provides for various seasonal team activities; arts and crafts, knitting, sewing, and karate classes; and the active improvement of recreational facilities in Chelsea.

The United Way of Michigan will receive $4,487 from Chelsea's branch of the fund, an increase of $37 from its request of last year. This affiliation with the state agency therefore makes it necessary for Chelsea residents only to contribute at home. United Way aids in the support of various state health agencies, including those dealing with arthritis, leukemia, epilepsy, hemophilia, diabetes, heart disease, multiple sclerosis, mental health, and cerebral palsy. Leader dogs, for the blind and the Michigan Association for Retarded Children are also beneficiaries.

Community organization and planning agencies, such as the Michigan League for Human Services and the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency, and specialized service agencies like the United Service Organizations are all enriched financially by contributions to United Way.

Locally, other large beneficiaries of the drive will be Chelsea Social Services, Boy Scouts of America—Portage Trails Council, the Salvation Army, Catholic Social Service of Washtenaw County, and Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Area townspeople who will be canvassing in particular areas have been announced. General residential chairman for the village is Mrs. Donald Kvarnberg. In the northwest section, Judy Poisson captain, and Nancy Nix. Northeast section, Mrs. Ralph Erskine, captain; Mrs. Donald Wood; Mrs. J. R. Seltz; Mrs. Ronald Erskine; Mrs. Dave Adams.

Southwest section canvassers will be Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Ralph Owings, co-captains; Mrs. Weldon Harbaugh, Mrs. Bud Hafner, Mrs. James Gaken, Mrs. Ja Hammel, Mrs. Michael Mulaly, Mrs. Theodore Fox, Mrs. Harold Dresch, Mrs. Arnold Fahrner, Mrs. David Winans, Mrs. Ronald Borders, Mrs. James Kalish, Mrs. Dale Messing, Mrs. Lloyd Schneider, Mrs. Merle Barr, Sr., Mrs. William Snyder, Mrs. Warren Mayer, Mrs. Kenneth McDowell, Mrs. Edwin Vaughn, Mrs. James Settle, Mrs. Robert Bowers.

Bulldogs Fail To Score in Saline Contest

In a typically hard-hitting game with a typical result, Chelsea and Saline played to a scoreless tie last Friday night. A tie vote among the league's athletic directors prohibits Southeastern Conference teams from continuing play to a tie-breaking score.

Although Chelsea outgained Saline in total offense, 184 yards to 110 yards, the Bulldogs saw but two real scoring chances, interestingly enough in the opening and final drives of the game.

When the game opened, Chelsea drove to Saline's 25-yard line where the drive stalled. Ishmael Picklesimer attempted a 41-yard field goal, but the ball fell just short of the crossbar.

Starting at the six-yard line for the second drive, Jeff Marshall, Ishmael Picklesimer, Doug Reed, Dale Poertner and quarterback John Houle moved the ball to Saline's nine-yard line, aided particularly by the longest run of the night, a 25-yard effort by Dale Poertner. The last pass of the game, however, fell just short of the end zone.

Others cited by Coach Bareis for their offensive efforts were Howard Haselschwardt, Terry Elwood, Dennis Bauer, Paul Wood, Jack Hackworth, Rex Miles and Dave Tucker.

Defensive play was led by John Beeman with a pass interception and Ron Kiel with a fumble recovery. Rodger Stewart, Darryl West and Howard Haselschwardt each were credited with five tackles and four assists. Coach Bareis projects for tomorrow night's game against Lincoln that, "Chelsea will be out to improve that offensive punch and still try to keep that hard-hitting defense ready to play."

The Bulldogs will travel to the home of the Railsplitters with a 1-0-1 record.

Four Days Left To Register For PP&K

There are just four days remaining for youngsters in Chelsea to register for the local Punt, Pass & Kick competition.

Palmer Ford, sponsors of the popular youth activity in this area, said that registrations would be taken through Monday, Oct. 1. The Chelsea PP&K competition is scheduled Oct. 1 at 7 p.m. on the Chelsea High school football field. "Although time is growing short, any youngster 8 through 13 years of age may still compete," said George Palmer. "All a contestant need do is come into our showroom, accompanied by a parent or guardian, and fill out the PP&K registration form. There is no entry fee or charge of any kind, and that goes for all six (Continued on page six)

Bureaucrats Spotlited
A basic political truism repeated time after time in the last few years is that people in general have grown distrustful of government in general.

John Hochrein Promoted By Gas Company

M. W. Lacy, general manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Ann Arbor District, today announced promotions of four executives.

The most visible elements of government are the elected office holders, who must go to the people to get their job in the first place and then return every so often to ask for another term for the job.

But government isn't just elected politicians. In Michigan, for example, state government is more than 50,000 full-time employees of the state who work in various departments drawing up and administering all the state programs. One who has a problem in state government almost always ends up talking to a state employee who was never elected to his job.

These are the people known somewhat derogatorily as "bureaucrats" who really make state government run, or not run; and much of the credit or blame which government receives really belongs to these people.

Michigan has thousands of state employees who are dedicated to doing a good job for the public. But it also has some who have become less than model employees. These are the people who often give government a bad name because they aren't patient enough with a citizen who doesn't understand, or because they don't know the answer to a problem, or because they just don't care.

Gov. William G. Milliken is trying to make restoration of confidence in government one of his priority items and has been since he became governor. His latest step in this field is an attempt to shake the lethargic sections of the bureaucracy back to life.

Catalyst for the governor's drive is the unlikely question of whether to allow the hunting of antlerless female deer in the Upper Peninsula.

Most residents of the U. P. vehemently oppose the hunting of deer. It's an emotional issue with them, not just a minor matter which can go either way and not bother them.

In July, the Natural Resources Commission, acting in accordance with recommendations from the Department of Natural Resources staff, approved an antlerless deer season with a quota of 3,350 in the eastern Upper Peninsula for this fall.

The season was approved because it is felt there is not an adequate food supply in the U. P. for this winter to handle the size of herd which would result from a complete ban on hunting deer. A shortage of food would lead to widespread starvation of deer.

Residents of the U. P. don't buy that. They don't believe the DNR figures which say it's beneficial to hunt deer. They think things would be a lot better without any hunting of them.

And in late July, just before the legislature recessed, U. P.

lawmakers rushed through both houses and to the governor a bill to overrule the commission and forbid antlerless deer hunting in the U. P.

Milliken vetoed the bill because he believes DNR officials know what they are doing.

But he didn't stop there. He decided to use the DNR as the first part of a program to make the bureaucracy more responsive to the public. He also believes the greatest governmental program in the world isn't much good if the public won't buy it. DNR's problem, he indicated, is that it hasn't tried hard enough to sell its program to U. P. residents.

The governor called DNR Director A. Gene Gazlay in for a meeting and a few days later Gazlay announced a 15-point program to improve his department's relations with the public.

"We are not talking about a slick hard sell public relations program," Milliken said. "We're talking about a program under which the state will emphasize the importance of explaining — rather than imposing — policies that are implemented only after citizen views have been solicited and thoroughly considered."

That is the nub of the problem. When a person works in a state agency and has the power to enforce laws or policies, it sometimes can be easy to forget that he is really employed by the people he is regulating.

What Milliken is trying to emphasize for the bureaucrats who need it is that they work FOR the people. And it's always a good idea to try to get along with the people you work for.

The good old days are often referred to with a sigh of nostalgia perhaps, or a yearning for the "simpler ways of life." But how many of us really remember the old days in Chelsea? Gottlieb Sager, for one, can tell you how it was. Sager was born June 4, 1884 and has lived in Chelsea since the time he could walk.

George E. Halst, 1185 S. Fletcher, was 91 years old Saturday, Sept. 20, and to celebrate the occasion he was honored at a family dinner that day and another on Sunday.

Many friends here are grieved to hear of the death of U. S. Army Corpsman Third Class Scott P. Smith, 22, of Northville, formerly a Chelsea resident. He was a casualty of the Vietnam war.

Many of the 1969 graduates of Chelsea High School are beginning their freshman year at college this fall. Donna Worgess will be studying art at Central Michigan University while Ronald Wengren will be studying biology at Oakland University. Gary Ellenwood will be a student at Northwestern Michigan College where he will study to be a game warden. Jim Boylan is majoring in math or science at Kalamazoo College.

The victims of hurricane Camille, which in August brought disaster over much of the deep south, will benefit from the donations of Chelsea citizens. The local Community Chest voted Wednesday to give $200.

If the bond issue to be voted on at the election to be held Oct. 12 is approved, the building could be completed and ready for the opening of school in September.

The lowered corridor roof-line would give light in each classroom from two sides of the room. A clear strip of glass 30 inches in width and extending all around the outside wall would afford unobstructed vision. Cost of the building is estimated at $300,000 in addition to the $50,000 deemed necessary for the equipment and for alteration of the present school building. The amount would be raised on a 10-year plan.

United Way Workers Ready for Campaign To Meet Higher Goal

United Way workers in the Chelsea area are ready to begin their annual campaign to meet a higher goal. The campaign is being led by Mrs. Robert Musick, who is the chairman of the United Way committee. She is assisted by Mrs. Charles Koenn, who is the secretary. The committee is made up of many other women who are interested in helping the needy. They will be working to raise money for the United Way, which is a national organization that helps people in need. The campaign will be going on for several weeks, and the workers are hoping to raise a lot of money. They will be using many different methods to raise money, including door-to-door canvassing, holding fund-raising events, and selling United Way products. The workers are very dedicated and are committed to meeting their goal. They are hoping that everyone in the Chelsea area will help them by donating to the United Way. The workers are very grateful for the support they have received from the community. They are looking forward to a successful campaign.

Mrs. Robert Musick, Mrs. Charles Koenn, Mrs. David Wolfgang, Mrs. Veretta Whitaker, Mrs. Harriet Wahr, Mrs. Ruth Heim, and Mrs. Albert Forner. Aiding Mrs. Samuel Coomes, chairman for the North Lake area bordered on the south by Dexter-Chelsea Rd., on the west by Work-per Rd., and on the west and east by the Chelsea school district, are Mrs. Peggy Hamilton, Mrs. Nancy Thame, Mrs. Josh Rabbitt, Mrs. Pauline Porath, Mrs. Agnes Hosler, Mrs. Gayle Cordell, Mrs. Bobbie Borowski, Mrs. Shirley Roskowski, Mrs. Ann Steinaway, Mrs. Linda Ritter, and Mrs. VI Smith.

Assisting Mrs. Charles Koenn in the area bordered on the north by Cavanaugh Lake Rd., on the east by M-52, and on the south and west as far as the Chelsea school district will be Mrs. Charles Koenn, Mrs. Lois Schaub, Mrs. Veretta Whitaker, Mrs. Harriet Wahr, Mrs. Ruth Heim, and Mrs. Albert Forner.

Aiding Mrs. Samuel Coomes, chairman for the North Lake area bordered on the south by Dexter-Chelsea Rd., on the west by Work-per Rd., and on the west and east by the Chelsea school district, are Mrs. Peggy Hamilton, Mrs. Nancy Thame, Mrs. Josh Rabbitt, Mrs. Pauline Porath, Mrs. Agnes Hosler, Mrs. Gayle Cordell, Mrs. Bobbie Borowski, Mrs. Shirley Roskowski, Mrs. Ann Steinaway, Mrs. Linda Ritter, and Mrs. VI Smith.

Michigan Assessment Test Being Administered This Week

A change in the procedure of administering the Michigan assessment test is being made this week. The test is being administered in a new format, and the results will be used to evaluate the students' progress. The test is being administered in a new format, and the results will be used to evaluate the students' progress. The test is being administered in a new format, and the results will be used to evaluate the students' progress.

we will get feedback by mid-November, which should help us to diagnose the needs of the students and take steps to correct any problems which they may be encountering. Finally, the statistical reporting system seems to have been geared to appeal to teachers and their individual planning rather than to statisticians. This year, reports Principal Sylvester Wojcik of South Elementary school, "Individual results for each child will enable teachers to spot the individual weaknesses of their class members."

The test, actually a battery of three tests in reading, writing, and arithmetic, is being taken by 4th and 5th graders in Chelsea public schools this week. In the four years previous to this, the test has been administered several factors or combined to make statistical or comparative use of results by local educators nearly impossible. Initially, says Principal Alan R. Conklin of Beach Middle school, changes in the format of the test from year to year made comparison among different years' test results a matter of "comparing apples to oranges." This year's format concentrates more on conceptual understanding than on the rote reference kind of things that were previously used.

A second problem encountered was simply in the timing of the administration of the tests. Before this year, tests were scheduled for January, which meant that the end of the school year was at hand before any results were received by the school, certainly far too late for changes in corrective curricula.

Previously, the results were published in percentages, which, according to Principal Conklin, showed only that "We were in the 80th percentile, maybe, and someone else was in the 90th. So what?" A section formerly included to determine the socio-economic status of participants, which was found objectionable by the Chelsea School Board, has been made optional. The problem with this section, declared Principal Conklin, was that "It asked some pretty personal things, which tended to make the children, particularly 4th graders, think that something was wrong with them if their family didn't have two or three cars, when actually there wasn't."

More than 400 students at North and South Elementary schools and Beach Middle school are participating in this week's testing. Make-up tests for those missing any or all of the sections will be conducted next week.

MORE TWIN FRUIT: Record numbers of pictures of Siamese twin-like fruit have appeared in The Standard within the past three weeks. Joseph Wencel and Pete Kratz, Wencel's foster son, display this giant tomato, formed by two separate stems that joined together, which they picked last week. The yellow tomato is the non-acid variety and measured a whopping 19 inches in circumference.

Golf Team Wins 3 for Good Start

The Chelsea High school golf team is off to a good start this fall as the Bulldogs have downed their first three opponents.

On Sept. 18 the team traveled to Tecumseh and won a close match, 183 to 184. Low score for Chelsea was Mike Fouty with a 43. Mark Policht and Dan Shirilla had 45s.

Thursday, Sept. 20 the team went to Saline and came away with a fine team score of 162. Saline shot a 175. Roger Policht was medalist with a 38, Mike Fouty followed with a 39, Jeff Policht had 42, Dan Shirilla, 43, and Chris Rabbitt, 44.

Tuesday, Sept. 25, Grass Lake came to Inverness and the Bulldogs were again impressive in the first home match. Final score was Chelsea, 169, Grass Lake, 195. Mike Fouty took medalist honors with 39, Chris Rabbitt, 40; Dan Shirilla, 44; and Roger Policht, 46.

The team is a young group without seniors. However, juniors Chris Rabbitt and Victor Steinbach have been playing good golf. Sophomores Mike Fouty, Dan Shirilla, and Roger Policht are impressive and getting better. Freshmen Jeff Policht and Ed Clemes are showing consistency and should along with the upperclassmen form a solid nucleus for the future. Other team members who continue to practice and show future promise are juniors Keith Cockerline and Dan Barnes, sophomores Rob Wenk and Mike Tobin, and freshmen Mark Houle and Neal Cockerline.

Chelsea will play Saline in a return match on Sept. 26 at Inverness and then travel to Pinckney Monday, Oct. 1 to play in the Pinckney Invitational.

Soule now travels extensively from his office in Washington to discuss the problems and the remedies that have been suggested. His mother, Mrs. Dorothy H. Soule, is an active member of the Chelsea Woman's Club.

A LAST DITCH EFFORT by Dale Poertner, above, proved to be in vain as Chelsea and Saline played to a scoreless tie last Friday night. Poertner's 25-yard run in this drive was the longest of the game.

SIX SALINE GRIDDERS gather around a downed Bulldog player in the course of last Friday night's game, which ended in a scoreless tie. In the typically hard-hitting contest, played at least part of the time in a drizzle, Chelsea outgained the Hornets offensively 184 yards to 110.

JV Gridders Edged, 14-12, By Saline

Saline's pass for extra points in the second quarter made the difference in a 14-12 defeat of Chelsea's junior varsity Bulldogs last Saturday morning.

Although outgained offensively by the Hornets, 210 yards to 109, the game was a relatively even one. Chelsea scored early in the first quarter on a 30-yard pass play from Dave Watson to Dave Fletcher, giving the Bulldogs a 6-0 lead.

Chris Alber Has Lead Role In EMU 'Cabaret' Production

When the houselights go down at Eastern Michigan University's Quirk Theater and the seedy master of ceremonies of the Kit Kat Klub in pre-war Nazi Germany announces, "Ladies and gentlemen, I present to you—that international sensation—Fraulein Sally Bowles!" the subject of his praise will be none other than Chelsea's own Chris Alber.

Chris, who appeared as Golde two months ago in the community musical production of "Fiddler on the Roof," admits that the lead role of Sally in "Cabaret," made famous by Liza Minnelli in the Academy Award-winning film last year, is a difficult one. "We spent the first two and one-half weeks of rehearsals trying to figure out my role." The play is scheduled for Oct. 11-14 and 17-20 at 8 p.m. at the theater on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

A graduate of Chelsea High School and proven crowd-pleaser in local productions of "Bye, Bye Birdie," "Music Man," "Carousel," and "The Sound of Music," Chris has majored in political science at Eastern, with a music minor, but characterizes her major as "something to fall back on, if my real interest, which is musical theater, doesn't come through." She hopes to attend the University of Cincinnati after graduation from Eastern in April and to graduate work in musical theater.

"Cabaret," sponsored by the EMU department of drama, is the first major production on Eastern's campus in which Chris has participated, although she appeared this summer in Gilbert & Sullivan's "The Mikado," a presentation of the opera workshop in which she was enrolled. She has also been an active member of the University choir and madrigal singers while in college.

In addition, a $225 scholarship from the Faculty Women's Club at Eastern recently honored Chris for her academic achievements. The annual scholarship is presented to women who are full-time seniors on the basis of a B or better scholastic average and faculty recommendations. Chris, one of three selected for the award from 34 applicants, has a 3.92 over-all grade point average.

Career Night Slated Oct. 9

In previous years, Mrs. Cassidy noted, the format for the presentations was to hold career night and college night on alternating years. This is the first time the two have been combined. Attendance in the past has been "encouraging," she said, and she particularly extended the invitation to parents of high school students: "Parents frequently ask questions that their children will not, notably about finances."

A similar evening is planned at Dexter High School on Tuesday, Oct. 16.

levels of competition, up to and including the National Finals." The Ford Dealer pointed out that trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place in the local competition in each of the six age groups. Increasing the youngster's chances of winning one of the 18 trophies is the fact that each contestant competes only against others of the same age. And since there is no body contact, an entrant's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place-kick for distance with accuracy.

"Winners can continue on up through the Zone, District, Area and Division contests to the National Finals," the Ford Dealer said. "It's possible that one or more of our local winners could wind up in the finals, which will be held at the Super Bowl Game in Houston on Jan. 13."

"Registering for PP&K right now in our dealership could mean all that for some youngster or youngsters here in Chelsea, but they should register right now," the dealer concluded.

When contestants register, each entrant gets a free PP&K Tips Book. It contains helpful pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In the 1973 edition are suggestions from NFL stars Jerrel Wilson, Norm Sneed and Chester Marcol, plus Head Coach's Don Shula and Dan Devine. Complete PP&K rules and suggested conditioning exercises for contestants are also included.

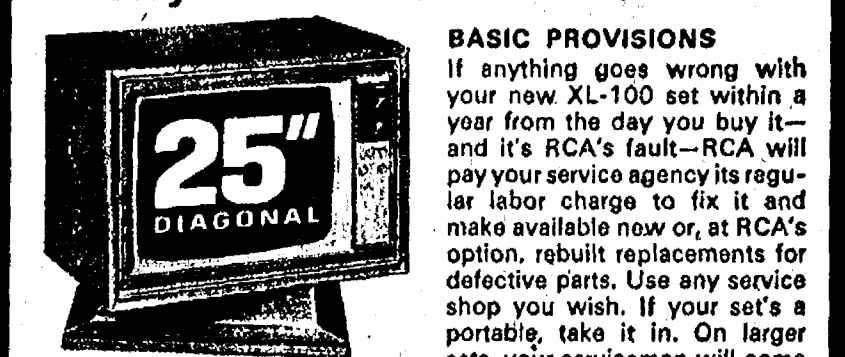

This is the 13th anniversary year for PP&K. From its inception, the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League. In that time more than 9,350,000 youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it the largest and fastest growing activity of its kind in America.

Two Named Semi-Finalists in Merit Scholarship Competition

JENNIFER LANE

DAVID KLEMMER

Two Chelsea High school seniors, Jennifer Lane and David Klemmer, were among 15,000 students named nation-wide as semi-finalists in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship competition. They will compete for some 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring.

The pair were among the highest scorers in Michigan on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test - National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Semifinalists, who represent approximately one-half of one percent of the graduating high school seniors in the country, must receive the endorsement of their respective high schools and confirm their high scores on the qualifying test by earning high scores on a second examination to become finalists.

Jennifer Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lane, 650 N. Main, says of the qualifying test, administered last October, "I expected it to be super-hard, and it was just about as hard as I expected."

Jennifer is presently undecided between attending Michigan State University or Western Michigan University, but is certain that she plans to major in political science, and eventually join the foreign service.

At Chelsea High school, she is active as majorette, cheerleader, member of the National Honor Society, and central treasurer for the high school.

David Klemmer, who plans to attend the University of Michigan to major in engineering or bio-engineering, has been featured in The Standard in the not-too-distant past when he was one of 20 Michigan high school students selected to attend a week-long program on "The Role of Chemistry and Engineering in Forest Resources, Pulp, Paper, and the Environment," at Western Michigan University.

David's participation in the program, "an intensive learning experience" which offered college course counseling, laboratory experiences, field trips and lectures, was a direct result of his scientific orientation. In both, his sophomore and junior years at Chelsea High school, he entered exhibits of lasers and holography, which can be roughly defined as three-dimensional laser photography, in the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair. His second and first place in two years of entering entitled him to attend the International Science Fairs in New Orleans and San Diego, where he received three international awards for the same exhibits. David intends to enter the Fair again this year.

In high school David serves as president of the CHS National Honor Society and plays drums in the Marching Band. He also teaches several drum students at Al Nalli Music.

The Klemmers, of 634 Flanders, moved to this area from Pennsylvania two and one-half years ago, after David's freshman year in high school.

Frosh Grid Team Loses to Lincoln, 44-8

Chelsea's freshmen football team had a near replay of their rout of Saline but this time were on the wrong side as Lincoln defeated them, 44-8, Tuesday.

Chelsea received the kick but Mike Check's lost fumble on the third play was an omen of things to come. Lincoln turned Chelsea miscues into points, including a 75-yard interception return. A short punt deep in Chelsea territory also set up Rallsplitter touchdowns. The Bulldogs never mounted a consistent attack in the first half and trailed, 28-0, at half-time.

The offense moved better in the second half, finally scoring in the fourth quarter after a 40-yard scamper by Mike Check on a block by Don Nadeau put them on the ten. Two plays later, Check covered that last 10 for the TD. Don Morrison connected with John Rutherford for the extra points.

The defense, however, still could not hold Lincoln's size and their powerful runners. Lincoln added two TD's in the second half, one on a short run, the other on a reverse and got two more points on a safety when a poor snap forced the Chelsea punter out of the end zone for a safety.

The freshmen have a chance to regroup and lick their wounds before trying to establish their true identity Wednesday, Oct. 5 at Jackson Northwest.

Stereo Players, Tapes Stolen From Vehicles

Two thefts within the past week of tapes and a stereo tape player from parked cars have prompted Chief of Police George Meranuck to urge drivers not only to lock their cars when valuables are within, but also to write their names or other identifying information on tapes and tape players left in cars.

Chief Meranuck reports that on Sept. 21, some time between 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., an eight-track stereo tape player was stolen from a 1968 Ford Galaxy 500 owned by Mrs. Wilma Fitzpatrick, 1185 Park Rd., Munnith.

The tape player was valued at $45 when purchased in June, Mrs. Fitzpatrick said, and was black in color with silver trim. Mrs. Fitzpatrick noted that there was a scratch approximately one inch long on the silver. Also, the tape was one eight-track tape, and a pair of Polaroid Kodak sunglasses, each valued at $6. The car was parked in the employee parking lot at the Chelsea Medical Center, where she is employed, and showed no signs of forced entry.

A similar incident occurred two days later, Sept. 23, when Rick Erskine, 111 W. Middle, returned to his 1973 Ford pickup to find that 30 to 35 country and western eight-track tapes, valued at between $150 and $175 total, had been stolen from the dash of his truck. The thief apparently forced a vent window and then unlocked a door, police said. The vehicle was parked across Main St. from The Pub at the time of the theft.

Pleads Guilty to D & D Charge

Charles E. LaRoe, 303 Railroad St., pled guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly in 14th District Court Monday and was sentenced to 60 days in Washtenaw County Jail.

A complaint by Daniel Murphy of Chelsea Drug that LaRoe was creating a disturbance in the parking lot behind his drugstore by asking pedestrians for money and then cursing them when refused, brought officers Graves and Detling to the scene. When located by the two, LaRoe was in Heydlauff's parking lot and attempted, with staggering gait to elude them, officers reported.

LaRoe was then placed under arrest and taken to the Chelsea Police Station. He was later conveyed to the Washtenaw County Jail, where he spent three days prior to his arraignment Sept. 24.

★ Some Comments on Mass Transit Problems ...

(Part 2 of 2 Parts)
The United States celebrates its 200th birthday in 1976.

Michigan has asked to be designated the "transportation state" for the bicentennial of the American Revolution. This designation applies to far more than the family automobile; it applies as well to other modes of travel.

Earlier this year, the gasoline tax was increased two cents per gallon. Every cent of the gasoline tax is earmarked for the state's transportation needs.

For the first time, 0.5 cents per gallon of the gasoline tax increase was earmarked for a general transportation fund within the motor vehicle highway fund for the purpose of public transportation.

The 0.5 cents per gallon of gasoline won't put Michigan on the map as the over-all transportation state we should be, but it is a step in the right direction.

The remaining 1.5 cents of the 2 cent increase goes to the Department of State Highways for improvements, planning, and maintenance. It has long been one of my recommendations that this department in name and in fact become the Department of State Highways and Transportation. A bill to accomplish this has passed the Senate and is now in the House, where it awaits committee action.

In the meantime, the Bureau of Urban and Public Transportation has been created within the Department of State Highways.

The Public Transportation Council has recommended and approved, along with the Michigan State Highway Commission, a General Transportation Fund Program for 1973-74. Copies of the report are available through the Department.

Generally, the funds are allocated on the basis of one-third local or state and two-thirds federal funding.

Capital grants were recommended for Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Marquette, Muskegon and the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA).

Demonstration grants envisioned include extension of transit management services, rural transportation for low-income and senior citizens, preliminary design for a new automated transit system, a railroad needs study, a feasibility study of bus-car pool served lanes for the Jeffries Freeway, Michigan DART Service, AMTRAK, a Detroit computer rail project, and restoration of public transportation in Bay County.

Michigan DART, or Dial-A-Ride Transportation is the program concept designed to provide basic transportation services in small cities throughout the state. Basically, a DART system involves the customer telephoning the transit service to make arrangements for pick up and delivery to destination.

DART has been tested in more than 25 communities in the nation and was successfully implemented in Michigan with the co-operation of the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority in September 1971 for a one-year demonstration period.

The primary advantages of DART include reduction of costs since service is provided on the basis of demand, tailor-made service for the consumer with no waiting for regular bus schedules, door-to-door service which reduces total trip times and eliminates transfer problems, different types of service for different periods of time, and lower cost buses.

The Bureau of Public Transportation plans to extend the DART concept to communities located outside the jurisdiction of metropolitan and municipal transportation authorities which have a population in excess of 9,000. Adrian is one such eligible community.

Meanwhile, every city is urged to study its needs for mass transportation and to plan today for tomorrow—not for the sake of nostalgia, but for the wellbeing of all who travel.

Let me make a final point. We should always strive to avoid duplicatory services. A County-wide transportation authority could operate service between cities such as Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. It could consolidate and operate all school transportation on a contractual arrangement with the various school boards.

All of these possibilities should be constantly reappraised in the interests of maximizing return on the citizen's dollar.

The matter will be looked into by officers and a report given at the next meeting. At the Sept. 17 meeting it was decided that meetings will be held the third Monday, every other month. County Soil Survey Job Completed

Washtenaw county's first soil survey since 1930 was marked at a "last acre ceremony" last Thursday, Sept. 20, at Whippoorwill Farms on Sharon Hollow Rd. in Manchester township.

The Whippoorwill Farms site pinpointed the final mapped acre of the 458,000 acres of the survey. County Commissioner Jay L. Bradbury of Lima Township performed the final boring, which yielded Spinks Loamy Sand.

Fieldwork for the survey began in February, 1968, a joint effort of the Washtenaw county Board of Commissioners, the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State University and the United States Conservation Service. A report from this survey is expected to be available either next spring or next summer, with a final published report scheduled in three to four years.

The survey is expected to aid detail analysis in the planning of industrial sites, the location of roads, and the determination of areas best suited for agriculture—in other words, it will establish good effective land use planning.

Broiling Tip

Steaks, chops or meat patties at least an inch thick are best for broiling, so are cured ham slices half an inch thick. Thinner pieces of meat usually are more satisfactory when pan broiled or pan fried.

U-M Band Day Slated Saturday

Chelsea High school marching band will join 147 marching bands from across the state at the University of Michigan's annual Band Day this Saturday at Michigan Stadium, Ann Arbor, when the Wolverines meet Navy.

All majorettes will participate in the pre-game show, and then the bands will crowd onto the field to perform several musical numbers together, including the fanfare from "Verdi's Requiem," "Let My People Go," "1812 Overture," the theme from "Summer of '42," and the stirring finale, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

At home last week at Friday night's football game, several innovations were on hand to entertain the half-time audience. Pat Salyer was featured as the Bulldog dancer, cavorting to the tune of "You Ain't Nothin' But a Bulldog, Winning All the Time," an alteration of that old Elvis Presley hit in keeping with the band's theme for the night of nostalgia. The Bulldog head which she wore, made of papier mache and built by Gena Shoemaker, will need some repair for its next appearance, since the rain at half-time damaged it slightly. Announcer for this year is Mike Nadeau.

I'VE HEARD EVERYTHING NOW That new house I bought has six rooms and 1 and 1/4 bathrooms. That fractional bathroom is really something else: it has a sink, a bowl, a tub—but no pipes! ... And the furnishings! Wall-to-wall carpeting, air-conditioning and back-to-the-wall payments!
