Lynette Villemure Is Homecoming Queen

Led by the high school's junior class, designated winner of spirit week activities, Chelsea's homecoming came to a spirited conclusion last Friday night with the Bulldogs' defeat of Brighton and the crowning of Queen Lynette Villemure.

Warm weather and clear evening skies proved to be a propitious omen for the homecoming celebration. Friday night, when Chelsea racked up its highest point total of the season to defeat another set of Bulldogs, 24-6. Paced by touchdowns by Ron Kiel, and some hot kicking by Ishmael Picklesimer, the local team pushed its record to 3-1-1 for the season.

Half-time activities began with the marching band's rendition of the theme from "Summer of '42" which was played at U-M's band day several weeks ago. Flag-bearers and majorettes were introduced to the jammed fans in the new bleachers, and then the program was turned over to master of ceremonies Jim Storey.

Storey announced the junior class as the winner of spirit week competition to large scale shrieks of ecstasy from junior members of the audience. The junior's recognition came as points were totaled for each class in its participation in scheduled spirit week activities. The winning class received points for winning the tug-of-war Wednesday night, for winning the pep rallies on both Thursday and Friday, and for participation

Crowning the queen proved to be a ceremony worthy of Bert Parks and his Miss America contest. (Continued on page five)

New Administrator Named To Head Methodist Home

Paul S. Closson, who served briefly as assistant administrator of the Chelsea United Methodist Home during the autumn of 1967, will replace V. O. Johnson as administrator of the retirement community on Nov. 1.

Closson comes to this area with 16 years of experience in working with the elderly. Immediately after his graduation from Albion College in 1957, he went to work at the Bloomfield Geriatric Hospital in Bloomfield Hills, where he says that he "really got interested in working with older people. The more I worked with them, the more I could recognize their needs. They're a very neglected group in our society."

Possibly this interest may have stemmed in part from his father's concern for the aged. He was a Methodist minister whose vocation prompted his family's many moves, "all over the state." His father also served on the board of directors of a Methodist Home in the 1940's.

After seven years at the Bloomfield Hospital, he became an assistant executive director of the Presbyterian Village in Detroit, where he was employed for three years until his appointment to the administratorship of the Boulevard Temple United Methodist Home in Detroit. Boulevard Temple is a sister of the Chelsea one, described as "the ideal retirement residence for those who prefer the city. It is minutes away from Detroit's finest shops, theatres, and restaurants."

Both are members of Retirement Homes of the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Inc., which means that, although Closson reports he is "marginally familiar" with the exact system of operations of the Home here, he will be aware of the normal policies and procedures that originate with the Board of Directors of the two homes.

The speedy change between old and new administrators, however, may cause some personal complications for the Closson family. Closson's wife, Annabelle, a registered nurse, is employed at the Mercy School of Nursing as an instructor, and her departure in the midst of the school term might cause problems. There is also the obvious ordeal encountered when children change school systems during a school year, which must be considered, in terms of Leah Closson, 11, and Mike Closson, 9. These two factors combine to make the new administrator uncertain as to when his family will join him in Chelsea. It might be as late as January, he fears.

At the Methodist Home, however, Closson anticipates that things "will go on much as they have under Johnson." He agrees, though, with Johnson in noting that "We all have our own style—I'm sure that some things may be altered, but my intention is to continue the fine programs as they are presently being run."

The soft-spoken, Texas-born Johnson came to the Chelsea United Methodist Home in March of 1969 as a replacement for the Rev. John Fall. His administrator position in Chelsea was the first for him in "the great north country" and he admits that he and his wife, Sybil, harbored some wariness about their new assignment. Bulldogs Put Together Win Over Brighton

Although Friday afternoon's drizzling gloom seemed to portend a soggy evening encounter for the Homecoming game, the weatherman managed to switch things around in Chelsea's favor by game-time, when the sky stayed clear, and the temperature stayed warm. With this aid from the weatherman taking care of their personal comfort, the local Bulldogs took care of the visiting Bulldogs from Brighton all by themselves, 24-6.

Chelsea took the opening kickoff and marched 61 yards in six plays to score. Halfback John Houle ran the ball three times in that drive for gains of 16, 11, and 13 yards, successively, while Ron Kiel ran once for four yards and co-captain Jeff Marshall rounded it out by galloping the last 17 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was kicked by Ishmael Picklesimer, the first of three such efforts, to put the score at 7-0.

The local Bulldogs continued to look good when a fine Brighton return of the kickoff was held by the defense. Brighton was eventually forced to punt at this point.

Here, Chelsea's offense "really clicked," according to Coach Phil Bareis, as the Bulldogs scored from their 33-yard line on a play that began with quarterback Chuck Foytik pitching the ball back to John Houle. Houle ran a right behind the blocking of Rex Miles, Dennis Bauer, Keith Vasas, Howard Hasselward, and Dave Tucker, then halted and arched "a perfect pass" to split end Paul Wood. Wood easily outran Brighton's secondary for a 67-yard TD play. The extra point was good and the evening looked promising with a 14-0 score at the end of the first quarter.

Major Bond Issue Provides for Expansion at All Four Schools

A reduced millage figure that is $1.1 million less than the tentative amount originally announced for the Dec. 17 millage vote was given final approval by the Chelsea Board of Education Monday night.

The new request is $4.8 million, nearly a 20 percent decrease from the $5.9 million figure proposed by the board Sept. 10 after its meeting with the architects for the building program, Manson, Jackson & Kane, Inc., Architects, of Lansing.

Included in the program as the architects begin their work on schematic drawings, work which was also authorized at Monday's meeting, are projects concerning North Elementary school, South Elementary school, Beach Middle school, Chelsea High school, the district's bus garage, and site development and purchase.

A total budget of $956,600 will be allocated to North Elementary. Construction will provide new instructional space for kindergarten, general classrooms, and special education and for what is termed "auxiliary spaces," which covers an instructional media center, an arts and crafts area, a special project area, a staff office, storage, and several other special needs.

Slated for remodeling at North are various classrooms and walkways which are to be enclosed; the administrative area, which is to be enlarged; and the clinic-health area, which needs simple remodeling. Further, $50,000 is earmarked for site development, to include improvements to the bus drive and parking areas, playground equipment, and the hard surface play area.

In the process of slashing their original millage request, the board members found it necessary to combine two separate "auxiliary spaces" into the catch-all "special projects" section. These were the combined vocational and industrial area, and the science area, originally set to receive $40,560 each. Under the decreased millage, however, the two will exist as one with a budget total of $40,560. At South Elementary, a tentative allocation of $40,560 for vocational and industrial area was again lopped off, as was $14,196 intended for a remedial reading area. In the place of those two auxiliary spaces, the library will become, again, a special projects center. Other improvements and additions at South are largely similar to those at North, as new classrooms and special education facilities will be constructed, auxiliary spaces of the already mentioned types will be provided, and remodeling and site improvement are also planned, at a smaller scale, since the budget for South is approximately one-third less than North at $608,000. Beach Middle school's major acquisition through the millage will be the construction of a swimming pool, to run $550,000 of $736,000, the school's total allocation to be received with passage of the millage. Chelsea High school is the major recipient of the fruits of a successful millage election, as its allocation will be $1,937,000. Nearly 24,000 additional square feet of classroom space is to be constructed, including areas for 10 general classrooms, arts and crafts, vocational laboratories, electronics, drafting, science, and business. In auxiliary space construction, expansion of offices, kitchen storage, library facilities, and general lockers and storage is planned. Remodeling plans are also included for home economics, metal shop, and graphic arts areas, in addition to locker, cafeteria and office alterations. However, the original building plans for the high school suffered considerably from the budget ax, as 16 additional classrooms were originally planned, with 5,000 square feet more than in the plan accepted Monday. Further, the amount spent on construction in (Continued on page three)

Auto Stolen From Chevy Dealer Garage

A Cassidy Lake Training school walkway may have walked right into Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet late Tuesday night and rode off with a 1977 Chevrolet Caprice, Chelsea Police say.

Rottie Spaulding, an employee of the dealership, reports that the car, which was to be repaired in the morning, was gone from the garage when he reported to work Wednesday morning. When other employees and John Dawson, a salesman who had locked the building the night before, arrived, Spaulding questioned them about the car's whereabouts. After learning no information from them, he telephoned the vehicle's owner, who assumed that the car was still in the garage, and reported the theft.

Apparently the thief entered the building through a rear window which was found unlocked. Later reports from the afternoon shift said that the building's garage doors were found open the evening before and closed at 11:40 p.m. Police investigators (Continued on page three)

THREE TROPHIES for Punt, Pass & Kick first places in the eight-year-old category have already come home with David Wojcicki. David is shown above with his father, Sylvester Wojcicki, and Lyle Christwell of Palmer Ford, which sponsored the local competition. The PP&K star has won at Ypsilanti and Dearborn, in addition to the local field, and will compete Nov. 22 at Tiger Stadium in the area eliminations.

David Wojcicki Wins District PP&K 8-Year-Old Competition

Next stop for David Wojcicki is Tiger Stadium. David, eight years old, once again punted, passed and kicked his way past other contestants in his age group in the latest phase of the nation-wide PP&K competition last Saturday at district finals in Dearborn. David's winning streak began here in Chelsea at the local competition sponsored by Palmer Motor Sales Oct. 1 at Jerry Niehaus Field. He then again came up a winner at Ypsilanti before his appearance in Dearborn. But the Nov. 22 competition at the Lions' game in Tiger Stadium sounds like quite a big deal to David, although he assures the press that he's not nervous—"not yet!" The rambling barn of a stadium that houses the Lions isn't completely strange to him, since he has attended games there, so the novelty factor shouldn't be a disadvantage to him; likewise, he doesn't seem to be over-confi-

Girl Reports Attempted Abduction

Friday afternoon's attempted abduction of a young school girl by an as yet unidentified man has prompted Chelsea police to urge parents to impress upon their children the importance of avoiding confrontations with strangers when walking alone.

"People get into the idea that because this is a small town, things won't happen to their kids," Officer Roger Graves said Monday. "It just isn't always true. They should still be careful."

Police reports say that the seven-year-old girl involved in this case was walking west on Railroad St., in the area of the Rockwell Standard parking lot, when a man in a dirty yellow shirt and blue pants emerged from a late model dark green car that was parked along the road.

The victim reported that her abductor clamped one hand over her mouth and with the other pulled her by the back of the neck into his automobile, asking her, "Why don't you have your mother drive you to school?"

At this point, another car pulled behind the abductor's, which was blocking the road, and the girl was released. The man, whom the girl described as six feet tall and of medium build, with balding short dark hair, sped off in his car.

The girl says that her attempted abductor smelled strongly of alcohol and may have been intoxicated. When notified, police checked local bars but could locate no one of the description provided. The girl is certain that she could identify the man if seen again.

Although at the time of the incident the driver of the second car which precipitated her release only asked the girl if she knew the man, she appeared later at the Police Station to confirm his part in her story. He described the man as "in his late 30's or 40's, with moderately long hair," but says he could not identify him on sight. Police are presently investigating a possible license plate number provided by the driver of the second car.

SPRITELY MRS. LILLIE MERRELL reads over a book of her late husband's poetry in preparation for an exhibition of his work planned for the Heritage Room of the Methodist Home Friday and Saturday. The Rev. Lloyd Frank Merrell, formerly a resident of the Home, wrote and published poetry for nearly 50 years. Mrs. Merrell has worked two years since his death organizing and collecting his work.

Poet's Works To Be Shown

Lloyd Frank Merrell's mother once said that before her son was born, she had an intuition that he would be a missionary. "And he was—in two ways," says his wife, Mrs. Lillie Merrell, a resident of the Chelsea United Methodist Home. "He became a minister, and his writings have been published and read all over the country and in England and France. He has reached people all over the world." The late Rev. Merrell's poetry will be exhibited tomorrow and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Home's Heritage Room, as a culmination of two years' work by his widow, who has collected and organized his writings since his death. Mrs. Merrell, who says her husband's writing is typified by profound feelings of "compassion, brotherhood, and peace," admits that she has never even attempted to write poetry herself. "But for him, poetry just flowed," she recalls. Somewhere back in Evanston, Ill., where the Rev. Merrell lived (Continued on page three)

Poetry of the Late Rev. Lloyd Merrell To Be Exhibited at Methodist Home

(Continued from page one) when a high school student, was a teacher who encouraged the young Merrell in the poetic aspirations that were to continue until his death.

His first published poem came in 1912, when "The Emancipation of the Black Man" was published on the front page of the Northwestern Christian Advocate and declared in essence that "truth will work its way."

By this time, at age 25, he was well on his way to becoming a Methodist minister, like his father and grandfather before him. His first church assignment in Placemont brought him and his wife to Michigan from their native Illinois, and they stayed for 45 years.

Over the years the Rev. and Mrs. Merrell lived at various locations across Michigan, but none which was so rewarding poetically as Bayport, where the poet-minister encountered Delmore Taylor, a teller of tales and spinner of yarns who was hired by a local fishing company to regale fishermen with stories while they were working.

But the publication of such a book, rollicking off-rhymes and all, was not in the heretofore established Merrell mood of poetry. By 1949, the date of publication of "Tales of Tall Taylor," the Rev. Merrell had already been widely recognized in 1936 for his use of a new device, which contained "half the syllables of the cinquain, which itself is a variation of the Japanese tanka poetry."

in what he termed a "search for a medium of expression for a mood," that was and is somewhat akin to hyku poetry in its concern with a single complete thought, expressed in a very small number of words.

Warm vested orioles light their orange flare. One particularly admiring fellow poet, Gloria Martin, named her poetry magazine in honor of the Rev. Merrell's innovative form, "Glowing Lanterns."

His second published book was "Healing Sympathy," said to "out-Walt Walt Whitman in the title work." The title work, indeed, with its opening: I am my nearest, my best, my own infinite companion, I am creation and created, I am a swelling orchestra of love.

is certainly reminiscent of Whitman's "Sing of Myself." Other poems in the work, although country-ish and homey, speak of the Rev. Merrell's intense religious feeling: I never knew what living was Till Jesus came to me.

Later works of the Rev. Merrell became increasingly more polished and less likely to utilize off-rhymes and Paul Bunyan-esque characters. The very reviewer's comment on "Flowering Dust" is sufficient to realize that this is not another Bayport story teller: "It is an epic of man's endeavor to explore the meaning and reap the joy of life." In "Sublimated Drives," the Rev. Merrell says, "Man smother the rule of love with organized ritual and labels it religion."

Patently love awaits in dungeons the post has some harsh words for other institutions, too. In "Welding of Nations," he says of a government "of, by, and for the people."

And coils new tyranny. By this time the Rev. Merrell had retired from active ministry, and after "Healing Sympathy" came the waning years of his life, when he was ill a great deal. In 1962, however, while still in good health, he was the winner of a hyku poetry contest run by a Japanese airline and advertised locally on television.

During his illness he still wrote while living in the Home, although he encountered increasing difficulties. He managed to produce his final work, however, "Daughter of the Stardawn," which was published posthumously last year.

Shortly before his death, he wrote his last poem, a work about death, which adequately and feelingly expresses his great trust in his religion: Trust in God, despairing heart, Death's dread coming cannot part.

orders for the books and then had literally skipped town before publication. Mrs. Merrell did her part to reveal the man by writing to friends active in poetry societies in Chicago (where the firm was based) and Iowa, telling them that "this is a storm warning," and detailing her encounter with him. At present, she says, the publisher is being investigated by postal authorities and has been sued by at least one family.

The Rev. Merrell's final work is even more polished than earlier ones. A sinnet sequence based on a love theme, it has been called "sustained ecstasy... an ecstasy justifying the superlative."

Since his death, the Rev. Merrell has been accorded more honors. Although listed previously in publications like the International Who's Who of Poetry and the Dictionary of International Biography, his widow displays a copy of the Phoenix Fires, a publication of American Mosaic Poets, in which her husband's poem, "Universal Overture" is featured as the opening work. The publication was prompted by a desire to display the works of American poets, so that "all states of the nation might be represented by the poetry and biography of contemporary poets."

Monday Mrs. Merrell was still working avidly to organize her husband's works, reporting, "I thought I had everything together, and then I found another box of things. So much of it was just thrown together when we moved from the apartment."

Tomorrow, though, she will proudly display the poetic work of a prolific and creative man. All of the Rev. Merrell's books, plus clippings and poetry magazines and information will be available, as will be Mrs. Merrell, a wealth of information in herself. Just ask her: she has some interesting stories to tell.

'Uncle Phil' Returning to Local Church
 Uncle Phil does not use the everyday techniques to reach his assembled congregation. His methods are neither fire and brimstone oratory nor thoughtful sermonizing. Instead, he appears with "pals" named Seymour, Samson, and Gomez. Puppets, too, are part of his theological presentations. "Uncle Phil" is the Rev. Phil Appenzeller, an ordained minister of the Assemblies of God, who will present four special children's services at the First Assembly of God, beginning Oct. 28. The Rev. Appenzeller has been working with children since 1962, utilizing ventriloquism in addition to chalk talks, music, object lessons, teaching of sign language, memory work, and nightly surprises to reach the level of children. The Rev. Appenzeller has also pastored churches across Michigan and served as director for day care centers. He also frequently speaks at school assemblies on bus safety. The special children's services are planned for 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the church, located at 14900 Old US-12.

Guest Pastor Will Speak at Sharon Church

Fisk, associate pastor of the church, at a soul-winning clinic at North Sharon Bible church on Oct. 22 and 23. The church, one of the world's largest, was responsible for more than 12,000 conversions to Christ in 1972, with Pastor Fisk personally leading more than 200 people per year in their conversions. The meetings are scheduled for 7 p.m. on Oct. 22 and 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Oct. 23, with no admission charge. North Sharon Bible church is located at Sylvan and Washburne Rds., between Chelsea, Manchester, and Grass Lake. For further information call Pastor Bill Ensten at 428-7222 or (517) 522-4063.

Marathon Basketball Benefit Set
 A full 24 hours of (hopefully) hard-hitting basketball is on tap for avid sports fans, beginning next Friday night, when the National Honor Society takes on grueling squads of teachers, student teachers, FFA members, and Key Club members.
 Motivation for the marathon affair, which will begin after the football game Friday, Oct. 26, at 9:30 p.m., and stretch with never a dull moment to 10 p.m. Saturday, is the raising of funds for the Chelsea Scholarship Committee, which provided $5,300 for scholarships last year.
 NHS members will be soliciting pledges from area industries and organizations for their effort, to be paid when the day of basketball is finished. Dave Klemmer, president of the honor society, hopes for a large turnout of spectators for the event, which is free although donations will be accepted.

★ Not Enough Hours?
 "There are not enough hours in the day; not enough days in the week; I'm always rushing." How often we hear complaints about lack of time. Yet each minute and each day is fresh and new, waiting for us to use it to our advantage. Each new moment can provide a lesson in pacing our lives in order to truly live and appreciate life.
 Lack of understanding of the principles of pacing is a major reason for rushing and bustling. Once we realize there is a time and a place for everything, the principles seem clearer. There is a time for work, a time for prayer, and a time to appreciate the joys of the creations of God. When was the last time you felt the rustle of the wind and wondered where it's been and where it's going? When was the last time you paused to smell a flower, or stood in awe watching the sun rise? When was the last time you renewed your soul in appreciation of God's creation? Pacing and appreciation can add so much to each day. Why not use your days more wisely?

Junior Varsity Gridders Down Brighton, 19-0
 Chelsea's junior varsity Bulldogs blanked a big Brighton team, 19-0, last Thursday night to bring their season record to 3-2.
 Fumbles by both teams dominated the action in the first quarter, when Chelsea moved the ball only to lose it twice to Brighton. However, Mike Kozminski and John Collins recovered Brighton fumbles to keep things fairly even.
 In the second quarter Dave Pletcher began Chelsea's scoring with a one-yard run to put the tally at 6-0. Don Sullivan also recovered a Brighton fumble in this period.
 The Bulldogs returned after half time to immediately move the ball to Brighton's 18-yard line on a 54-yard kickoff return by Dave Pletcher. This attempt faltered, however, when Chelsea fumbled at the one-yard line on a third down play.
 Later in the quarter, however, John Collins scored on a three-yard run to make the score 12-0.
 In the final quarter, Dave Pletcher danced into the end zone for his second touchdown on the evening, again on a one-yard run, to make it 18-0. Jim Marshall kicked the extra point to finish the scoring at 19-0.
 Defensively, Chelsea was led once again by Jerry Milliken with 14 tackles; Mike Kozminski with 12; Kevin Kelley with 10; Dave Watson with nine; Mark Burnett and Dave Pletcher with eight each; Jim Boyer with seven; and Jim Marshall and John Collins with six each.
 Coach Jon Schaffner concluded, "Dave Pletcher and Dave Watson both gained more than 100 yards offensively, as the offensive line did an excellent job of blocking the larger Brighton players. Chelsea will have to eliminate some of the fumbles, though, to defeat a good South Lyon junior varsity tonight."
 Game time is 7 p.m. at Jerry Niehaus field.

CDH&DSOAA Plans Pre-Deer Season Bust
 The Loyal Order of Confirmed of America Amalgamated has planned its annual meeting for Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Rod and Gun club.
 The club was organized 22 years ago by a number of Chelsea businessmen who decided that a full evening was necessary and should be devoted to the telling of their experiences and various methods of getting their big buck.
 The first meeting was held in Vincent Burg's recreation room, with nearly 100 persons present. All deer hunters are invited to attend and tell their secrets for stalking the big whitetail. Any exaggeration or careless use of the truth is acceptable. Program and lunch will be furnished.

BULLDOG AGAINST BULLDOG: An unidentified Chelsea ball carrier is brought down by a Brighton Bulldog in the homecoming game last Friday night. Chelsea defeated Brighton, 24-6, chalking up their highest point total of the season on a "perfect" night for football, as the skies cleared and rain stopped in time for both the game and half-time festivities.

Frosh Grid Team Loses To South Lyon
 Chelsea's freshman gridders gave their finest effort of the season Tuesday but dropped a close game to South Lyon, 22-12.
 South Lyon got on the board first after a long pass put them inside the one-yard line. It took them only three plays to earn the touchdown.
 Chelsea came back in the second quarter and ground out a long drive with Mike Check and Dave Hendricks gaining most of the yards and Rick Davis picking up some key first downs on quarterback sneaks. Check carried the final yards to tie the game, 6-6, at the half.
 The Lions scored early in the third quarter to make it 14-6, but Chelsea roared back. A pass from Pete Feeney to John Rutherford covered 50 yards for the Little Bulldogs' second TD. The extra point attempt failed, however, and Chelsea was down, 14-12.
 South Lyon scored in the fourth period to make it 22-12, and threatened again. Strong defense from Mark Smyth, Scott Owings, Dan Cobb, George Menge, John Push and Dale Headrick held them four downs inside the five.
 Chelsea threatened again late in the game but with less than a minute left, Pete Feeney dropped a pass from John Toon on fourth down, ending the threat.
 Chelsea's pass defense was vastly improved, allowing only one long completion and forcing the Lions to stay on the ground. Several mistakes, including a lost fumble and an interception, set up South Lyon scores. However, the Bulldogs hit hard and put together a strong game on both offense and defense. South Lyon is 5-0 for the season, the third undefeated team Chelsea has played in succession.
 Next Wednesday the freshmen play at Tecumseh at 4 p.m., then finish the season at home Oct. 30 against Dexter, who they will play for the first time.

Sunny Fall Weather Greets JC Annual Chicken Barbecue

For what else would the weather turn sunny with only a tinge of fall chill in the air? For what else would the price of chicken decrease? Apparently even the weatherman and the economy are watching out for the Jaycees these days, as their annual chicken barbecue Sunday met with only particularly "good luck" turns in both areas.

Although in past years the group has been able to provide up to 3,000 of the finger lickin' good stuff for hungry Chelseaites, the zooming price of the birds forced Jaycee members in their early preparations to cut down the number of dinners planned. They made a point of advertising only locally to attract, hopefully, only the local crowd.

As the date grew nearer, however, chicken prices fortunately dropped sufficiently to allow for 1,500 chicken halves to be available for hearty consumption. Thankfully, other familiar aspects remained the same. For the barbecue at M-52 and Old US-12, the Jaycees constructed a 60-ft. barbecue pit for chef Jim Caken to prepare the feast, a task he has enjoyed for many years. Hank Ortring prepared the "outstanding" cole slaw dressing, which has been a tradition for him for at least 15 years.

And in the good tradition of the barbecue, everyone went home stuffed.

Present at the meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education on Monday, Oct. 15, were President Haselschwardt, Irwin, Schaefer, Koenig, Daniels, and Hodgson; Superintendent Cameron, and Business Manager Mills.

Meeting was called to order by President Haselschwardt at 8:15 p.m. Minutes of the Oct. 1 meeting were approved as read.

School Board Briefs

President Haselschwardt called a special board meeting for 8 p.m. on Oct. 20 in the board room of the high school administration building to adopt a formal bonding election resolution.

Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Trustee Daniels and Secretary Schaefer reported on the Michigan Association of School Administrators - Michigan Association of School Boards conference held in Detroit Oct. 2-3.

Extended discussion was held regarding the shortage of gasoline as it relates to field trips for students. The board directed the administration to reinstate all field trips and to supplement the fuel supply to the best of its ability to transport the pupils.

The board sanctioned the seeking of a grant for Chelsea Recreation Council for the creation of a Chelsea Players Theater workshop.

Secretary of the board was authorized to sign a revised application to the Michigan School Bond Loan Fund in the amount of $1,800,000. Manson, Jackson & Kane, Inc., Architects, of Lansing were authorized to proceed with schematic drawings for the proposed building program.

The board met in executive session from 11:08 to 11:18 p.m. The board unanimously voted to retain the Michigan School Board Negotiating Service and Mr. Joseph Lynch as negotiator for the Board of Education.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:25 p.m.

CARVE WITH EASE
To prepare ahead for carving a pork loin roast with ease, have the meat retailer loosen the chine (back) bone by sawing across the rib bones of the roast. When roasting is finished, the back bone can be easily removed by running the carving knife along the edge of the roast before the meat is placed on the platter to be carved.

Terrariums are this year's plant "fashion." They can be made in many kinds of containers, including bottles, fish bowls and glass casseroles.

Festive Homecoming Program

Styrene Storey individually introduced each candidate and asked her a particular question which she responded to in a brief address to the assembled multitude, who often had to strain to hear a rather poorly equipped amplification system.

Asking dramatically for "the envelope, please," Storey was handed an oversized home-made portfolio-like monstrosity, of which she stressed, "even I don't know what's inside this." After a little fumbling with the contents, he announced senior Lynette Villemure as the 1973 Homecoming queen. She was crowned and received a bouquet of red roses, while other candidates received single red roses for their part in representing their respective classes.

Coach Clarke cited Morris Johnson's 15th place with a time of 18:59 and Mark Kern's 19th with 19:38 as other good performances of the meet. "It was a fairly good meet," he reported.

Annual staff and a planner of the Senior Recinder, a booklet to be handed out Class Night that will feature pictures solely of seniors.

Lynette, who anticipated that seniors would fall to win spirit week, noted of the competition: "The juniors really deserved it—they worked hard on everything. But you know how seniors are—they always say they're going to win but never do."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew G. Villemure of 334 Washington, Lynette has three sisters and one brother, Duwana, 16; Gathy, 2; Patrice, 10; and Matt, 8.

The other candidate from the senior class was Henrietta Schroedder, foreign exchange student from Sweden who is staying this year with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Eubanks.

Bulldog Harriers Lose to S. Lyon

Lack of team depth contributed to Chelsea harriers' defeat at the hands of South Lyon, 26-30, last Thursday, Coach Pat Clarke says. Jim Storey again led Chelsea runners with a 17:11 time for first place; Jeff Sprague turned in a 17:25 for fourth; John Storey hit fifth with 17:31; Doug Schrotenboer, ninth, with 18:38; and Rick Haller, 11th, with 18:40.

Coach Clarke cited Morris Johnson's 15th place with a time of 18:59 and Mark Kern's 19th with 19:38 as other good performances of the meet. "It was a fairly good meet," he reported.

Now, An official program that can cut heating costs up to 17% and conserve Natural Gas.

If you're like most people, holding down heating bills is an idea that hits you right where you live. And, chances are, you'd like to help save Natural Gas, too. Especially during this time of energy shortages. Now there's an official program that supports both of these objectives. It was developed at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is seeking ways to conserve Natural Gas and hold down utility bills by the wise use of energy.

The heart of the program is simply this: Installing ceiling insulation in your home. It's quick. Economical. Easy. A recent White House study found that "the most significant opportunity" for homeowners to conserve energy was through "improved insulation of houses." "Such improved insulation," the government said, "would benefit the individual homeowner by reducing winter fuel bills, summer air conditioning bills, size and capital cost of heating and cooling equipment, and air pollution."

The Michigan Public Service Commission agrees with this conclusion. It has supported a study prepared by Michigan Consolidated Gas Company which found that Michigan homeowners can achieve fuel savings of as much as 17% by adding six inches of insulation to their attics. Naturally, results for your home may vary due to architectural differences and your heating habits.

To help you realize fuel savings in your home, we've designed an easy home insulation program. Here's how it works. First, you can install the ceiling insulation yourself. It's a simple do-it-yourself project—and the most economical way to put in ceiling insulation and hold down your heating bills. Many customers can accomplish the task for less than $100. Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has even prepared a helpful booklet that shows you just how to do the job. Secondly, you can call a contractor of your choice and arrange to have the work done. Or call Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. We'll have one of our participating insulation subcontractors install it for you.

Our insulation program is easy on your budget, too. Many houses with up to 1,000 square feet in the ceiling area can be insulated for less than $200. And, there's a payment plan to suit most every customer. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay just 20% down at the time the contract is signed—then simply have the remaining cost included in your gas bill. Pay it off on your next three gas bills with no interest or carrying charges. Finally, you can pay for the job over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.

Whichever you choose, you'll be taking an important step toward holding down your heating bills. And cutting down on the use of Natural Gas. Why not plan on doing it now. Contact us today for additional details. And if you're a do-it-yourselfer, ask for our free booklet.

V.O. Johnsons Leaving Chelsea

 upon their arrival, but this was not long after "Sybil and I have made life long friends here, friends we have to leave and will never forget," Johnson says. "We feel there is no friendlier place in the world than Chelsea."

Johnson came to this area from Oklahoma Methodist Manor in Tulsa, where he had been assistant administrator and business manager for five years. Prior to that position, he served as business administrator of Austin Avenue Methodist church in Waco, Tex., from 1962 to 1964, and Trinity Methodist church, El Paso, Tex., from 1956 to 1962.

When he assumed his office in 1969, Johnson said that he would attempt to expand the crafts program and investigate adding more active games to the program. He seems to have done just that, upon examination of the Home's agenda of entertainment, arts and crafts, current events, Bible and prayer study, field trips, and color tours. He declares his motivation to have been "I never wanted anyone to complain that there was 'nothing to do' at this home. I would rather have it the way it is, which has been described by some residents as "too much to do." During their four-year stay here, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have contributed enormously of their time to community residents. For three years prior to this, together they have taught the high school Sunday school class in their home. Frequently the number of persons to visit their residence would number up to 1,000 annually, as they entertained Home employees at Christmas, conducted prayer and study groups, and hosted meetings of volunteers for the home meal service program and other volunteer organizations. Their annual open house for members of the retirement community, held last month, has always been a gathering particularly well-attended by home residents.

In addition, Mrs. Johnson is a member of the board of directors of the home meal service program, and has aided in the various programs and activities conducted by the Home.

Johnson, himself, has proved to be an avid "community man." Recently he was selected to serve as head of the ad hoc citizen's advisory committee which advised the Chelsea Board of Education as to needed changes and additions required to relieve crowded conditions in both the school. As a member of the Kiwanis Club, he served one term on the board of directors.

In his chosen professional area, he is a member of the Washtenaw County Council on Aging, the Michigan Society of Gerontology, the Michigan Non-profit Homes Association, and the National Association of Health and Welfare Ministries of the United Methodist Church.

Johnson's new appointment as administrator of Lanson Methodist Manor in Carlisle, N. M., will move him and his wife considerably closer to their two sons, the Rev. Donald T. Johnson, a minister of the B. C. Clark Memorial United Methodist church in Oklahoma City, Okla., and John Ron Johnson, a purchasing agent for Navarro Memorial Hospital in Corsicana, Tex. The Johnsons' grandson, Tom Hubert, who finished high school in Chelsea while living with them, is also living in Corsicana.

Lanson Methodist Manor is an agency of the New Mexico Conference of the New Mexico United Methodist Church, an organization equivalent to Michigan's Detroit Annual Conference that controls the Chelsea and Boulevard Temple homes. The facility there is a smaller operation consisting of 85 apartments and 25 nursing beds.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

THIRD GRADE—

Room 15
 Teacher: Mr. Dykstra
 Lisa Hurd, Dee Hammel and Kim Williams made a Numbers Are Fun bulletin board with a number line. Randyln Larson, Cammie Copperrnoll and Stephanie Harvey made an In Olden Days bulletin board with pioneer life. Out entire class is starting cursive writing!

Teacher: Miss Haley
 Miss Haley's third grade class starts their day with a little humor—A Riddle A Day! We also have built a homonym word worm, and every day we must feed him homonyms, or he will die! He's half way around our room now. In arithmetic we are working hard on subtraction problems. The children drill each other on flashcards. After drills, Miss Haley chooses teams, and we go through the cards real fast!

At the start of each month the children decorate their new journals for that month. After a 10-minute writing session each child stands and reads what they have written. How much we third graders have to say! Lately we have had many stories about the new pups at home. (Sound like your house?)

In social studies we are covering the United States today, and also the United States as the Indians saw it. We are working on committee reports and also picture writing stories and poetry books. Miss Haley strongly believes in combining our art work with sentence writing. This year we are learning (at last) to write in cursive.

Room 13

Teacher: Mrs. Yager
 Reporters: Kristin Thomas and Jamie Owings

Mrs. Yager's third grade class is off to a good start this year. We are reading Charlotte's Web, and Mrs. Yager put up a bulletin board of the web. Everybody drew a picture of some of the things in the story and put them in the web.

We are reading books and putting the titles on a book worm. It is already quite long. Some of the books we read are: Oliver, Little Runner, Happiness is a Sad Song, Tony's Birds, Animal Doctors and Flip.

In social studies we have been studying New York City. We learned how clothes are made, and we brought in different types of material. Now we're busy designing our own piece of material. Last week two girls from the high school talked to us about ESP. We even took an ESP test. They did not bring our tests back yet. We wonder if any of us have ESP.

Ken Nadeau had his birthday in September. Our October birthdays are: Kristin Thomas, Lynette Meplyans and Stan Guljas.

FOURTH GRADE—

Room 24

Reporters: Douglas Inglis, Terry Lucas and Terry McInnis

Our class has learned about the ear. We learned that it is made up of many different parts. When sound enters the outer ear, it first passes along the auditory canal and causes the eardrum to vibrate which in turn vibrates three tiny bones, the hammer, anvil, and stirrup (they're the tiniest bones in the body!). Next, the cochlea is very important in sending the message of the sound to the brain along the auditory nerve. We also learned that in the inner ear the semi-circular canals help keep our balance.

We are reading a class book called Sounder. It is exciting! We are learning new words as we listen to the story. Some of the words are ajar, stern, constricted, perkish, remote, and famish. These words are written on a special chart in our room.

For something a little extra in math, Mrs. Huebner is teaching us the binary system. The key to remember is the place value of the numbers is in multiples of two. There are many games we can play using the binary system, and we enjoy it very much.

Room 20

Teacher: Mr. Lacz

Hi! We are learning about the bones in our body and about the cells and how long they last. In science we used a microscope.

Room 22

Teacher: Mr. Ticknor

Mr. Ticknor's class is beginning an ecology and anti-pollution unit. We are making posters to remind us about these things. They will be placed in the hall by our room.

FUEL AND FOOD

The fuel shortage has become crucial to food production in the United States. Petroleum products are needed for trucking livestock and crops from farm to market to processor to food store and are essential to the operation of today's heavily mechanized farms. Not only can a fuel shortage hamper production and marketing of food products, increased prices for fuel are reflected in the cost of food in the retail stores.

RAMON B. LAKE

Retires from Army Service

Ramon B. Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson C. Goltra of 508 Arthur St., has retired from the United States Army with a rank of sergeant first class E-7. He and his wife are presently making their home in El Paso, Tex.

Lake attended Flint Central High School before transferring to Phoenix Union High School in 1949. He also attended Michigan State University prior to being drafted in February, 1953.

In his years of service, Lake has seen duty in Frankfort and Nurnberg, Germany; Osan, Korea; and in the Vietnamese war in the Binh Khe District. He has participated in an intensive course in Vietnamese language, been trained by Army Intelligence, and taught a photography class at various points in his military career. Service within the United States has ranged all over the country, from Oklahoma to Maryland to California, and numerous points in between.

While in the service, he has received the Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Vietnam Service Medal with two bronze stars, Bronze Star Medal, Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Bronze Star, and Meritorious Service Medal.

4-H Clubs

FREER ACRES
 On Thursday, Oct. 11, the Freer Acres 4-H club had its first meeting of the year.

Election of officers was held at this time. New officers are: Holly Hoffmeyer, president; Shelley Warren, treasurer; and Kathy Burns, secretary.

At the next meeting Oct. 18, group members will make corn-husk dolls. They will also be selecting items for their spring projects.

Mrs. Donald Lee Erskine

Judith A. Blaess, Donald Erskine Wed Friday at St. Paul Church

Judith Allayne Blaess and Donald Lee Erskine were married Friday night in a candlelight ceremony at St. Paul United Church of Christ. The Rev. Warner H. Siebert presided over the ceremony, which was attended by 135 guests.

For her wedding, the bride wore an empire-waisted gown of ivory silk organza, with bodice trimmed in Venice lace and chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil was topped by a Juliet cap trimmed with matching Venice lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, accented with miniature roses and baby's breath and ivory streamers.

Her maid of honor, Miss Connie Salyer of Ann Arbor, wore a pine green velvet empire-waisted dress, trimmed at the neck and cuffs in ivory lace. Her headpiece was composed of green ribbons trimmed with ivory lace. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Timothy Whitesall of Chelsea, sister of the bride, and Mrs. William R. Prather, of Glendale, Calif., also a sister of the bride, carried colonial nosegays of yellow carnations and yellow daisy mums, accented with Abbey roses and orange baby's breath, and enhanced by ivory satin streamers.

The bride's mother appeared in a floor-length silver and turquoise gown, accented by silver accessories. Her corsage was of turquoise-tinted carnations, accented with silver. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor-length gold gown with brown accessories. She chose a corsage of natural cymbidium accented with gold.

The bridegroom chose Ronald Erskine, his brother, to be his best man. Seating the guests were Timothy Whitesall of Chelsea and Michael Erskine of Chelsea. Steven Whitesall, the bride's nephew, acted as ringbearer.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted their guests in the church fellowship hall. Punch was poured by Miss Denise Bycraft, and the cake was served by Miss Bonnie Powers. Mrs. Ronald Erskine attended the guest book.

The couple traveled to northern Michigan for their wedding trip, and will reside at 243 Harrison when they return. The bride is an employee of Chelsea Medical Center; the bridegroom of Federal Screw Works.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Blaess, 1020 N. Fletcher Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Erskine, 102 E. Summit St.

Hawaiian Theme Prevails At Open House

The very idea of changing the United Methodist Home into an Hawaiian festival for a day is preposterous. Resident women in grass skirts? Men in large straw hats?

So preposterous, in fact, that Hawaii was, indeed the theme of the retirement community's open house Sunday. Fifty hosts and hostesses attired in traditional garb of the islands, including grass skirts and straw hats, roamed all the areas of the Home welcoming more than 600 guests.

Open to the public were the Heritage Room, garden apartments, the arts and crafts shop, nursing facilities, the dining room, and lounges, all decorated festively with palm trees, fish, and fish nets, for the occasion.

A roving ukelele player, Mrs. Ruth Woome, mingled among guests in her Hawaiian costume and entertained them with native songs.

Refreshments were also coordinated to the general theme, as guests were served — you guessed it — Hawaiian punch, pineapple cubes, grapes, cherries, and assorted cookies. Costumed hostesses Mrs. Mary Ester Reed and Mrs. Eva Ruskin served.

Sponsoring the day of Hawaii was the Retirement Homes Friends group, a state-wide auxiliary of persons who assist in activities at two United Methodist homes. The Chelsea Home's representative in that group is Mrs. Eva Ruskin, and a local woman, Mrs. William (Jean) Storey, is also a member.

INFORMAL CLOSING?

Next time you close a letter with "Sincerely yours," be thankful for the age of informality. Here's how letters to the queen were signed back in 1843: "I remain, With the profoundest veneration, Madam, Your Majesty's most faithful subject, and dutiful servant." And with a quill pen, yet.

The guy who agrees with everything you say is either an idiot or getting ready to sell you something.

REYNOLDS-ABDON: Karen Lynn Reynolds and Alan Lee Abdon have announced their engagement, with a May 4 wedding planned. The bride-to-be is a 1971 graduate of Chelsea High school and a December, 1972 graduate of Freed-Hardeman College. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High in 1969 and is employed by Rockwell International. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Reynolds of 6495 Wexler Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Abdon, 3255 N. Lima Center Rd.

Mrs. Lulu Sweeny Honored On 50 Years in Rebekah Lodge

Fall flowers furnished by Mrs. Velma Wolfe decorated the tables used for the family pot-luck supper held at the Rebekah Hall in honor of Mrs. Lulu Sweeny's 50 years in Rebekahs Thursday, Oct. 11.

Sixty-five members and guests sat down to a bountiful meal planned by Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Nina Lehmann, Ida Nixon, Loyadell Keezer, and Donna Feldkamp. The dessert cake was decorated by Mrs. Gloria Keezer.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Sweeny, the grandchildren, Mrs. Sweeny's twin sister, Mrs. Ora Smith from Morenci; Mrs. Mabel Keezer, another sister, and cousins Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Pritchard from Dexter.

A program was given, with Mrs. Nina Lehmann in charge, who wrote a song pertaining to Mrs. Sweeny, played on the piano and sung by all, to the tune of "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Mrs. Wolfe wrote a poem in honor of Mrs. Sweeny's many activities in Lodge, and Mrs. Mary Ann Colter and Donna Feldkamp sang a song to "Hello, Dolly." Mrs. Loyadell Keezer read a poem in Mrs. Sweeny's honor. Mrs. Packard also wrote and read the history of the Rebekahs dating back to 1918, when Mrs. Rhea Alexander, the only charter member left, helped form the local lodge.

A group of five members presented a skit, "Tea Party Sewing Circle," with Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Sibley and Mrs. Hale participating.

A pin with Mrs. Sweeny's initials was given to her by the past Noble Grand president, Mrs. Marian Pickell, and Mrs. Helen Harris, now Noble Grand of Rebekahs, presented her with a candle and dishholder from the lodge.

Mrs. Gladys Brittenwischer and Mrs. Elsie Hinz, who have been Rebekahs for 53 years, were present and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Munro were also able to attend. Mrs. Sweeny is returning to Florida today. Mr. Sweeny did not come up this trip. Reminiscing finished the program and evening.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In reference to the letter published last week concerning the United Way professional campaign, I would only like to say that the professional division was organized and grouped only for convenience sake in collecting, and no reference was ever made of the relation of one profession to another.

We regret the unintentional omission of the name of one of the professional groups in the article printed on Sept. 27, and we hope that this profession will accept our apologies on behalf of the United Way Campaign.

Diane Warren, Professional chairman.

To the Editor:

I'm writing to the people of Lanewood subdivision who own dogs.

Every Tuesday and Friday mornings it gets pretty disgusting looking outside and finding your garbage strewn all over the lawn. People who let their dogs out at midnight and let them roam around are penalizing the people who would rather put their cans out at night instead of early in the morning.

If you people want to let your dogs out at midnight, tie them up! Don't you think it's only fair to the other people who don't let their dogs run free? Think about it!

A disgruntled Lanewood Family!

FIRST AND LAST

The first submarine to sink a warship was the Confederate sub, "Hunley," which rammed a torpedo into the "U.S.S. Housatonic" in Charleston Harbor in 1864. But the "Hunley" was converted steam propelled by seven men turning hand cranks — also was sunk by the explosion.

TOP NOVICE DEBATER from the debate team's tournament last week was Brad Glazier, who received this trophy for outshining 156 others in the novice category. Sharon Schiller tied for eighth in the novice competition. The novice team of which Sharon and Brad are members was the only debate squad to bring home a winning score, 5-3.

B. Glazier Wins Top Honors In Novice Debate Tourney

Although all three teams of varsity, junior varsity and novice debaters recorded less than enthralling performances in the first tournament of fall competition at Pioneer High school, novice squadman Brad Glazier was awarded a trophy as the top novice debater from a field of 156 competitors.

Glazier's novice squad, composed of Terry Galbraith and Sharon Schiller as affirmative debaters and Brenda Shadon, Kurt Allshouse and himself as negative, was the only group that finished with a winning score, 5-3. Sharon Schiller also tied for eighth in the voting for top novice debater.

Speaking to a resolution that: "The Federal Government should establish a program to employ all employable United States citizens living in poverty," the two varsity teams ended with identical 1-3 records. The two squads, Brian Smith teamed with Steve Bennett, and Keith Cockerline with Dale Koch, alternate affirmative and negative positions to force them to argue both sides of the resolution.

For the junior varsity, which is formed by debaters with one year's experience, affirmative debaters are Mary Beth Chandler, Howard Salyer, and Randy Muspack, while negatives are Mike Kozminski and Paul Marshall. They brought home a 3-5 performance.

Recreation Council Briefs

At the regular Recreation Council meeting Oct. 10 DiAnn L'Roy presented a report of a successful musical play last summer. She is hoping to expand the scope of activities in the future.

A strike by heavy equipment operators has delayed the asphalt and fencing of the new tennis courts. The village has completed their portion of the work.

Additional work is being done to the ball fields at South school. Recreation director Balistriere will co-ordinate efforts of various workers and agencies in this project. Additional sites for ball fields are still needed, as programs are being curtailed due to a shortage of facilities.

Recreation Council meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month. Area residents are invited to attend. Please contact a member for the monthly location.

Local Girls Are Runners-Up

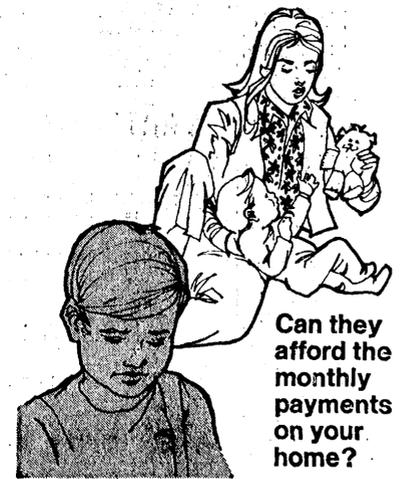

In Farm Bureau Queen Contest

Cindy Bradbury decided to run for Washtenaw County Farm Bureau queen because "I decided that more married ladies should try for it." Gridders of the Week

MARK PENNINGTON (80) is a junior and who stands 5'10" and weighs in at 149. Although this is his first year of varsity football, Mark has played on teams since 8th grade, and has participated in wrestling and baseball since 9th grade. In addition to his sports activities, he is treasurer for the Key Club, which is the high school community service organization responsible for local acts like last year's painting of the parking lot. Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pennington of 409 S. Madison, has two sisters and three brothers: Julie, 14; Steve, 12; Meg, 11; Tim, 9; and Dan, 7.

BOB CLIFTON (20) is playing his second year of varsity football, but only his first year for Chelsea. He came here less than three months ago from Brownsburg, Ind., but thinks Chelsea is "a great place." Besides playing football, his basketball and baseball activities go back to Little League days. Outside of athletics, he enjoys music and was drummer for a jazz band in Indiana. He hopes to go to college and major in either art or music, and admits that an athletic scholarship "would be really nice." Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Clifton, Jr., and has a sister, Dana, 14, and two brothers, Billy, 13, and Mark, 10.

UNICEF Funds Campaign Will Be Conducted Oct. 28

When young shining faces appear at the doors of Chelsea households on Oct. 28, they won't be Halloween beggars unable to wait until trick-or-treat day. They will be soliciting contributions for UNICEF, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, which is devoted solely to the welfare of children in developing countries.

"A few pennies just does so much," says Mrs. Ronald Borders, this year's drive chairman. She noted that funds collected aid in vaccination and other health care of children in young nations.

This year's donation total is expected to increase from last year, when Mrs. Borders recalls that supply problems hindered the collection procedures. "We didn't have any canisters for the children to take out collecting, and I finally ended up making some myself," she remembers. "But this year we're well-supplied. Now all we need are children who will collect."

Canvassing in this drive, of course, differs a bit from the large-scale organization of the United Way campaign, which has the manpower to cover the village street by street. The UNICEF drive, however, depends upon the volunteer efforts of children, and while that may be a strength it can also cause problems. "We may have a number of children who want to canvass, and three of them live on the same street and canvass there. Then we may have no one canvassing for six blocks," Mrs. Borders explains.

To help alleviate this problem, Mrs. Borders reports that she hopes to provide local businesses with canisters to reach those residents who are not contacted by canvassers.

Potential canvassers are primarily encouraged in their Sunday school classes to participate in the drive by members of Church Women United, sponsors of the drive. Although youngsters from age six to high school may canvass, Mrs. Borders expects once again that this year, younger children primarily will be the ones to work. "The younger ones seem to really enjoy it. But we would appreciate more participation, particularly by older high school students."

Canisters for the drive, which is planned for only 2 to 3 p.m. on Oct. 28, may be obtained from area churches. After canvassing, the containers should be returned to the First United Methodist church basement social center, where treats will be available for hungry collectors.

Aiding Mrs. Borders in her organizing efforts are Mrs. Basil Greenleaf, who is arranging distribution of the canisters; Mrs. Duane Landwehr and Mrs. David Monroe, who will be accepting contributions at the church; and Mrs. Thomas Eisele, who will be contributing refreshments for the canvassers at the church.

Children in the Catholic Diocese of Lansing are sorting and packing nine million packets of vegetable and flower seeds to send to the needy around the world. The seeds were donated by the Burpee Seed Co., Clinton, Ia., and are being distributed in a project under the direction of Operation Bootstrap in Lansing.

Just outside the top 10 was Mark Kern with 19:41.

In addition to Jim Storey, Kern, Lauhon, Phil Frame, Schrotenboer, Haller, John Storey, and Sprague also recorded their best times on the home grounds.

Last Saturday's performance, however, was not nearly so encouraging, when the Bulldog runners finished in ninth place in a field of 18 teams in Class 4 competition at the Albion Invitational.

Finishing in first place in that meet was Jackson Lumen Christi with 42 points compared to Chelsea's 237. Said Coach Pat Clarke, "We ran against them earlier, and I told you they were good." The Jackson squad took first, fourth, sixth, ninth, eleventh, and thirteenth places.

Clarke reported, however, that Jeff Sprague turned in a fine time and Rick Haller recorded his best. Placings for Chelsea among the 100-plus runners competing were Jim Storey, 19th, with 16:58; Jeff Sprague, 24th, with 17:07; Rick Haller, 58th, with 18:17; Doug Schrotenboer, 67th, with 18:36; Bill Rademacher, 69th, with 18:42; and Morris Johnson, 70th, with 18:48.
