

THE MONUMENT IN TOWN were decided to be three-four costumes, none of which should ever be encountered by anybody while walking down the street on a normal night. Mary Hoxlan, a witch with a rather horrible green face, took her way into the public eye with her third prize costume. Craig Kallashik appears to be coming a bit unraveled from the mummy costume that won him second prize, but the effect remains the same. In back, joined in mutual fright attempts as the Spookaters are Tracy and Steve Cattell.

LURKING BEHIND EVERY BUSH AND TREE at Halloween are frightful personages like these, but just being typical certainly doesn't reduce their scare factor. In the "most typical of Halloween" category, Karen Koch adorned herself gruesomely enough to win the judges' admiration for second place, while Todd Nagel bedeviled his way into third place with his beady-eyed devil outfit.

MAYBE IT WAS SOGGY WEATHER, but the calendar showed that nevertheless, it was Halloween. And keeping in the spirit of things, costumed youngsters turned out in impressive force for the annual trick or treating and costume judging by the Kiwanis club members. For their rendition of a pumpkin and a cornstalk, Kim and Tobin Boyd shared first place in the competition for costumes "most typical" of Halloween, Little Sally Donkin received third place recognition for her woolly dog costume (center in front), and behind her, Kathy Donkin as an owl received second place in the same category, most original.

Bulldogs Ram 26-8 Drubbing Into Dexter

Manchester Bringing Strong Team Here Friday for Season's Finale

Apparently with little sympathy for their village cousins across the way, the Bulldogs took profitable advantage of nearly every mistake the floundering Dexter Dreadnaughts bumbled into in a 26-8 drubbing last Friday night. Dale Poertner started the unmitigated abuse when he ran back Dexter's opening kickoff for an 88-yard touchdown. Although the extra point attempt was no good, a 6-0 score after 14 seconds of play is certainly nothing to sneer at.

In the second quarter, Poertner again was the villain, as he recovered a Dreadnaught miscue to set up another scoring drive. Chelsea ran 44 yards in seven plays, with a final four-yard pass from Ranoy Guenther to Jeff Marshall scoring the TD and boosting the Bulldog edge to 12-0. Rex Miles kicked the extra point.

After yet another Dexter fumble, recovered by Rick Miller, the local team was again set up for a six-point success. Ron Kiel plunged the final foot to score, and Miles again booted the point after, to put the tally at 20-0. The 23-yard drive consumed seven plays to take the two clubs to half-time, with one certainly in better spirits than the other.

The third quarter was without incident, as Chelsea languished with its commanding lead. In the final period, Dexter

7-Year-Old Struck By Car Friday

A seven-year-old boy who broke away from his mother's hand early Friday morning was struck by an oncoming car on Main St.

According to police reports, Mrs. Beverly Loucks and her son, Tim, of 116 W. Summit St., were a few feet north of the intersection of Main and Summit Sts., when the boy ran into Main St., heading for the E. Summit side.

He was struck by a 1968 Cadillac driven by Anthony R. Kruse, 3220 McKinley, traveling at an estimated 28 miles per hour. Although Kruse attempted to halt his car and put it into a skid in the attempt, he struck Tim after 25 feet of his skid.

Tim was treated at Chelsea Medical Center for injuries and has been released.

Tim Grau 6th In National Meat Judging

Maybe Tim Grau should hire himself and his talents out to grocery shoppers who know next to nothing about cuts of meat. It would help them, for sure, with the expertise Tim has in his background already.

Tim, a 16-year-old junior at Chelsea High school, placed sixth in the National 4-H meat judging contest in Kansas City, Mo., last month. The contest consisted of beef, veal, lamb, and pork carcasses and included oral reason evaluations.

The Michigan team which included Tim and three other 4-Hers from various parts of the state, placed fourth in the overall contest.

Next week, Tim will be traveling to Pennsylvania for competition in the international livestock (Continued on page eight)

Cross Country Team Captures League Title

These cross country guys don't ask for much. "Imagine a coach calling up and asking jovially, 'Can we get out of the obituary pages this week? We won the league meet.' And so they did, and here they are . . . on page one."

Last Wednesday afternoon, Chelsea runners defeated five other Southeastern Conference teams in the league meet, with a low total of 51 points. Trailing the amazing Bulldog runners were South Lyon with 52; Brighton and Saline, tied at 65; Dexter with 102; and Novi with 170.

Prior to this crucial meet, the local team was lodged in a three-way tie with Saline and South Lyon each boasting 4-1 conference records after the completion of the dual meet season. In cross country competition, dual meets count half of the season's final standings, and the final league meet the other half.

Coach Pat Clarke called team depth the key to the victory. "We didn't have anyone place in the top six," Clarke reported, "but our six and seventh men, Phil and Dave Frame, just edged out South Lyon, which gave us the meet."

Placings for Chelsea were Jeff Sprague, in seventh place, with 17:21, his best time at home this season; Jim Storey, eighth, with 17:22; John Storey, ninth, with 17:24, his best at home; Doug Schrotenboer, 12th, with 17:39, his best of the year; Rick Haller, 15th, with 18:09, his best at home; Phil Frame, 19th, with 18:25, his best at home; and Dave Frame, 20th, with 18:31, his best at home.

Final team standings in the SEC were almost identical to the league meet placings: Chelsea count half of the season's final standings, followed by South Lyon and Saline, Brighton and Dexter tied (Continued on page eight)

All-Star Band Concert Slated

Get ready, all you potential all-stars—the Greater Michigan All-Star Band Concert is coming to Chelsea.

This year, two 113-piece bands will be formed of selected high school musicians from all classes of high schools. An impartial high school band directors committee will make final selections. Try-outs for parts, sectionals and full band rehearsal are scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 12.

Sponsored by the Lansing Conservatory of Music, Inc., the All-Star event itself is planned for Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 9 and 10, and will be jointly hosted by Chelsea High School's band and Chelsea Band Boosters.

In other band booster news, the group will hold its monthly meeting tonight, Thursday, Nov. 8, at 3 p.m. in the high school band room, primarily to discuss two items: the All-Star Band concert and establishment of committees for it; and the questionnaire sent to all band parents concerning future band camps. Questionnaires should be brought to the meeting.

Conferences With Teachers Scheduled

What every parent awaits with wary anticipation and every child dreads with ritualistic fervor is almost upon us again.

The name of the creation is "parent-teacher conferences."

In a youngster's eye, the only good to come of the things is probably an afternoon away from school. Parents, however, have been known to hold contrary opinions.

At both North and South Elementary schools and Beach Middle school, students will be dismissed on Thursday, Nov. 15 at 11 a.m. for the day. Teachers will then be able to meet with parents from 12 noon until 6 p.m. for individual 15-minute conferences.

Appointments may be made in advance any time from next Monday through Wednesday by calling the various school offices.

In the high school, the format has been changed a bit to reflect a more varied schedule. Although students will be dismissed at 11 a.m., parents will not meet until (Continued on page three)

Leaf Pick-Up Underway By Village Crews

Chelsea's Department of Public Works urges Chelsea residents to rake all leaves into streets adjacent to their homes to provide easier pick-up. The DPW began collecting leaves on Monday.

Gridders of the Week

DENNIS BALLEW (63) is a sophomore guard who's been putting his 170-pound frame to some good use on the Bulldogs' defensive squad, as his presence means a total of 42 tackles indicates quite well. Presently playing in his first year of varsity football, Dennis last year participated in wrestling and track as well as junior varsity football. He is an active member of Chelsea High school's madrigal choir, which is scheduled for a number of appearances in the area, including a Dec. 20 Christmas show at Hiramwood. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ballew, at 19917 Waterloo Rd., along with his brother, Bart, 13, and sister, Gayla, 6.

RANDY GURNTHER (24) is a sophomore quarterback brought up to varsity for this season who's been tossing some pretty fancy stuff lately—his performance in the "inspired" Bulldog defeat of South Lyon three weeks ago got particular local attention. He has participated actively in basketball and baseball, as well as football, since 7th grade. Outside of high school activities, Randy is a member of the senior youth fellowship at St. Paul United Church of Christ. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Gurnther, at 601 Grant, and has two sisters, Sue, 22, and Jan, 20.

School Board Briefs

Present at the regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday evening were Hasek, Schwardt, Irwin, Daniels, Hodgson, Cameron, Principals Lane, Conklin, William Kane, George Richards, Patrick Wade, Ann Bury, Becky Clemans, Melinda Wicome. Absent was Truste-Schafer.

Meeting was called to order at 7:15 p.m. by President Hasek. The minutes of the meeting of Oct. 15 and Oct. 29 were unanimously approved and presented.

The building program was discussed with William Kane and George Richards of Mansel, Jackson & Kane, Architects. The discussion included "The Proposed Building Facilities and Budget Estimate" and the swimming pool location.

Meetings were scheduled with the architect for Nov. 8 at 8:30 p.m., Nov. 19 at 7 p.m., Nov. 27 at 8 p.m.: All of the meetings will be held in the board room.

It was unanimously decided to accept the report of Oct. 21 of the ad hoc committee for vocational education and establish a permanent citizens advisory committee as recommended in the report.

A proposal for junior high intramural basketball, as presented by Mr. Conklin, was accepted.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:50 p.m.

Capsule Night

(Continued from page one) 7 p.m. Nov. 15 in the high school auditorium. There, they will be "briefed" on the capsule night procedure, by which they follow their child's schedule. Thankfully, classes, which will be 10 minutes in the abbreviated system, will have a relaxing five minutes between.

Once in the classes, the "elder generation" will be instructed in various points about the class, curriculum, and procedures. Teachers are expected to explain text books and their assignment system to give parents a "working idea" of what goes on for so many hours a day in their student's life.

Parents wishing an individual conference with their child's teacher should make such arrangements at a later time, as a line-up of appointment-seekers could hinder the flow of the brief series of presentations.

After the parents' "day," and during scheduled study halls, refreshments will be available to aid in relaxation after such a vigorous return to the high school academic life.

Recreation Basketball

(Continued from page one) $511. Entry fee will be $100. The schedule will consist of 12 games, with championship and individual trophies awarded. All teams are to be registered no later than Dec. 7.

A meeting of all team managers is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the director's home.

A 1974 calendar featuring color photographs of local Girl Scouts will go on sale at the close of the United Fund drives throughout Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe counties. The calendar is the first to be produced and distributed by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Featured on the calendar are members of Chelsea Junior Troop 889, Nancy Heller of 1810 Guenther Rd., and Teresa Hoffman of 112 W. Summit, showing Nancy's pet rabbit to Chelsea United Methodist Home residents Myrna Snow and Mary Lou Haas.

Calendar pictures were taken by photographer David Loehr of Davidson Studios in Ann Arbor who volunteered his time. His contribution was made as a service project of Professional Photographers of Ann Arbor, an organization of portrait and commercial photographers.

Calendars will be sold by 7,000 Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts to finance troop projects. All of the profits (34 cents per calendar) go directly to troops with none coming to the central Council. In the past troops have used calendar profits to buy primitive camping tents, sleeping bags, and outdoor cooking equipment, as well as to finance troop trips and to fund community service projects.

"We felt that our friends and neighbors would like to see what their own Girl Scouts were doing," said Mrs. Louis Galan, president of the Huron Valley Council. "This calendar will allow them to do that."

The decision to sell the Huron Valley Council calendar was made by each troop. A few elected to sell the calendar produced by the national Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. at 50 cents a copy.

Cong. Chamberlain Critical of Interlock Seat Belt System

Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain (R. Mich.) today introduced legislation to prohibit the Department of Transportation from requiring ignition interlock seat belt system on 1974 model cars.

Said Chamberlain, "I have no objection to seat belts. I always use them when I'm on the highway. I do, however, have serious reservations about the new interlock system which requires that seat belts be fastened before the car will start."

Chamberlain said he had planned to buy a new '74 model, but when he learned of the new gadgetry he hurried to get a '73 before the model change.

Pointing out that he feels a buzzer warning system is sufficient to alert drivers to use seat belts, Chamberlain said, "Frankly, I think requiring a person to buckle up a three-point lap and shoulder harness to move a car in the driveway or to move it a few feet so you can park or unload it is a real nuisance."

Chamberlain said he had planned to buy a new '74 model, but when he learned of the new gadgetry he hurried to get a '73 before the model change.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Millard

Question: I have a question about the state's policy on the use of the state's funds in the construction of new school buildings. I am a parent of a child in a school that is in a building that is in a state of disrepair. I am wondering if the state has any plans to provide financial assistance to the local school districts to help them construct new buildings. If so, what are the conditions for receiving such assistance?

Answer: The state's policy on the construction of new school buildings is to provide financial assistance to local school districts. This assistance is provided in the form of state bonds that are used to finance the construction of new school buildings. The state's policy is to provide financial assistance to school districts that are in a state of financial distress. This assistance is provided in the form of state bonds that are used to finance the construction of new school buildings.

Question: More than half a million Michigan public school children were delayed in starting school this fall because of illegal teacher strikes. Some are still out. What are you doing about this?

Answer: We have kept a close watch on the situation. We have had 20 state labor mediators available to help school districts and teachers' organizations resolve their difficulties. Most of them have been working practically around the clock. As a rule, the state hesitates to step in if it appears that progress is being made by the parties involved. As for the legality of these strikes, enforcement must be carried out at the local level. I'm surprised, frankly, that more courts have not issued injunctions to enforce the Hutchinson Act which outlaws strikes by public employees. That law has been on the books about eight years now; in the meantime, the bargaining process has been getting more sophisticated. I think we're going to have to weigh all these factors on a long-term basis and evaluate the whole system once this year's bargaining season is over.

Question: I keep hearing you talk about a more "open" government for Michigan. What do you mean, and what are you doing about it?

Answer: I believe that government can and should be doing a better job of reaching the people it serves—that it should be more sensitive and responsive, and less arrogant and bureaucratic in dealing with the public. In recent months, state government has instituted a number of efforts which I believe help to make government more responsive. The land sales hot-line established by the Department of Licensing and Regulation is one example. The Consumers Conference I have called for this fall is another. Recently, the state's Office of Community Affairs in Detroit announced that it had extended its office hours to 8:00 p.m. during the week, and the Public Service Commission adopted a set of by-laws which guarantee that all of its Regular and Special meetings are open to the public. Finally, following a meeting which I held with the Natural Resources Commission, the DNR announced that it would embark on a program designed to assure greater credibility in its dealings with the public. Among several other things, the DNR has committed itself to the establishment of an environmental hot-line, to holding more public hearings scheduled at times and places which are convenient for the public, and to the expanded use of citizen advisory committees. Obviously, these steps are not the total answer. But they do represent a beginning, and I intend to do all I can to build upon that record in the future.

Successful Deer Hunters May Acquire Fancy Shoulder Patch

It's impossible to carry that deer you'll bag this month around with you to show everyone who would know that yes, you really got a deer this year. A lot more practical would be to bring the deer, or the head of the deer, to Ann Arbor's deer checking station, operated by the wildlife division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and get a "successful deer hunter" shoulder patch.

At the station, which is located at the Washtenaw County SCS-ASCS Office, 611 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, wildlife division representatives will examine the deer for a variety of biological information on each, such as age, sex, township bagged, and other data to assist in management of the animal. After the examination, each proud hunter will receive his successful deer hunter patch, an oval, four-color item measuring 4 1/2 by 3 inches, suitable for framing or placement on even the most discreet hunting or evening apparel. The station's hours, however, are limited to Saturday mornings, Nov. 17 and 24, and Dec. 1, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Exotic Breeds Livestock Auction Slated

Results of Michigan Animal Harvest Opportunity - 73 are featured in the Michigan based Ex-Sale at Michigan Livestock Exchange, Manchester. Kenneth Baushe, MABC-Select Sires general manager, indicates that MABC's Exotic Opportunity Sale is an A.I. industry first. To the best of our knowledge, no other artificial insemination organization has sponsored a sale featuring A.I. sired, exotic cattle. Cattle breeders and investment concerns alike are looking to the exotic breed markets. Chianina, Simmental, and Maine-Anjou are the imported breeds receiving preferential treatment.

Two hundred head of half-blood foundation females and steer club calves will be offered to a national audience of progressive beef enthusiasts. Included in the sale lineup are more than 100 half-blood Simmental and Maine-Anjou offspring sired by Galant, Petunia, Renz, and the Maine Anjou sire Capone. Nearly 70 half-blood Chianina calves by Friggio, Faeno, and Erede, have drawn the praise of Sires' service area of Indiana and Michigan.

According to Robert Brubacher, MABC-Select Sires Beef Specialists, all consignment females will have birth and 205-day weaning weights accompanying them to the stellar attraction. Auctioneer for the Nov. 10 event is Merlin Woodruff of Urbana, O. MABC will host a 7 p.m. hospitality hour the preceding evening at the Sale Headquarters, Ramada Inn-West, Ann Arbor. For catalogs and additional information, contact Michigan Animal Breeders Co-operative, 3655 Forest Rd., East Lansing 48823. The sale starts promptly at 11 a.m. Nov. 10.

Don't delay! Our new low-cost home insulation program can cut gas heating costs up to 17%.

In just a few short weeks, many of our customers around Michigan have taken advantage of a new program to hold down heating bills and help save Natural Gas, too. The program was developed at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is seeking ways to conserve Natural Gas and hold down utility bills by the wise use of energy.

To assist you in the project, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has even prepared a helpful booklet that shows just how to do the job. Secondly, you can call a contractor of your choice and arrange to have the work done. Or call Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. We'll have one of our participating insulation subcontractors install it for you, which can also be easy on your budget. Many houses with up to 1,000 square feet in the ceiling area can be insulated for less than $200. And, there's a payment plan to suit most every customer. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay just 20% down at the time the contract is signed—then simply have the remaining cost included in your gas bill. Pay it off on your next three gas bills with no interest or carrying charges.

The heart of the program is installing ceiling insulation in your home. It's quick. Economical. Easy. In fact, a recent government study found "the most significant opportunity" for homeowners to conserve energy was through "improved insulation of houses," [which] "would benefit the individual homeowner by reducing winter fuel bills, summer air conditioning bills, size and capital cost of heating and cooling equipment, and air pollution." The Michigan Public Service Commission has found that many homeowners could achieve fuel savings of as much as 17% by having six inches of insulation in their attics. Naturally, results for your home may vary due to architectural differences and your heating habits.

To help you realize fuel savings in your home, we've designed an easy home insulation program. Here's how it works. First, you can install the ceiling insulation yourself. It's a simple do-it-yourself project—and the most economical way to put in ceiling insulation. Many customers can accomplish the task for less than $100.

MIXING BUSINESS AND PLEASURE is just what Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Heim, shown above with a costumed "official welcome," did at the 1973 Mobil Dealers Convention in the Las Vegas Convention Center recently. The Chelsea couple joined more than 2,500 other Mobil dealers, their wives, wholesalers, and Mobil corporate executives in a three-day program of business and entertainment. Geared for the opportunities of the next decade, the convention's theme was "New Horizons in Selling," with the main topic discussed one of interest to retailers across the nation, "The Changing Marketplace and What To Do About It." Conventioners were also treated to an entertainment program headlined by Arlene Francis, Larry Wilson, and Ed McFaul. Heim operates Glenn's Mobil Station on M-52.

YOU & YOUR CAR

What Makes Spark Plugs Spark?

If you drive a car powered by an eight cylinder engine, for every mile you drive, a jolt of about 20,000 volts of electric current shocks through your car's spark plug wires and spark plugs 10,000 times every mile. This current creates a spark that jumps across a gap in your car's spark plugs and ignites the fuel inside the cylinders of the engine.

This electricity originates from your car's battery, but in order to boost the relatively docile 12 volts produced by the battery into the considerably high voltage required, it is routed through a transformer or can-shaped ignition coil. The coil consists of a core around which is wrapped two sets of wire windings. In conventional ignition systems, current from the battery flows through the first set of windings, creating a magnetic field.

The current also flows through a switch—called points—which is located inside the distributor. The points are opened and closed by a cam that rotates inside the distributor.

When the points open and the current stops flowing, the magnetic field collapses, creating a current in the second set of wire windings inside the coil. This phenomenon is called induction.

The amount of current created in the second set of wire windings reaches about 20,000 volts. This is accomplished by adding several times more turns of wire in the second set of windings than in the first set. This high energy pulse travels to the distributor via wire, where it is sent in measured doses to the spark plugs at the precise moment to ignite the fuel mixture in the cylinders.

The ignition system in the average V-8 engine delivers 100 million sparks of 20,000-volts in an average year's driving. This

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN—
Teacher: Mrs. Michelson
Reporters:
All Kindergarten Children
Thanksgiving is just two weeks away. We plan to have a feast. We will cook the food ourselves. We studied about long, long ago. Pamela seemed happy on that rainy Halloween day when Mother Goose visited her in the hospital. Her cards and school work were all around. She learned to do tricks with her smiley balloon and enjoyed that treats from her kindergarten friends. We had puppets and marionettes in school and made up shows with them. "Boy on Horseback"—"Coco!" says Raymond about the Marionettes show.

When our pumpkin was cut into a jack-o-lantern, we watched a candle burn in it. We learned some important facts about fire. We'll talk about them with our parents.

Our party was fun! Mrs. Porath and Mrs. Hawks and some other mothers helped with our party in the morning. An old witch (Mrs. Schaffner) Conchita Banana (Mrs. Parker) and an invisible person (Mrs. Cook) brought cider and donuts in the afternoon. Even the Great Pumpkin (Mrs. Colombo) brought treats.

After everyone had painted a Halloween picture, the most interesting were sent to the poster contest. Paula Colombo and Mark Watson received honorable mention for their paintings. Everyone's paintings were good.

Can you make music by tapping glasses that have water in them? We tap many things. The thick and thin hanging triangles make different sounds. It is fun to play the organ. It makes musical sounds.

Many of us are able to read our names, other children's names and some words.

It is time for everyone to think about all the good things we should be thankful for. Tommy says, "I'm thankful for love."

FIRST GRADE—
Teachers: Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Peebles, and Mrs. Stein
Our first grade birthday wishes for November go to the following children: Christopher Baker, Eddie Brosnan, Amy Foster, Joey Gallas, Julie Willan, Chad Hills, Darin Sande, Eric Schaffer, Michael Smith, and Michelle Smith.

We have some famous first grade sayings that should go on record. "I got this just the day after last year." "They were on sale for fathers and dads and mothers, too." "We went to the puppet show on Halloween at the puppet church."

At this time we want to give our appreciation for the interest and co-operation our parents have shown this year. Most of you were here for our Open House. Mrs. Ackley, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Poulter and Mrs. Smith helped in our rooms for our Halloween party and many of you sent refreshments. Mrs. Thomas is giving up her Tuesday mornings to help work with some of our children. Mrs. Ciancio was known as the animal lady last year, bringing animals to the classroom, now she is "the sick fish lady" after donating hours getting our fish tank healthy again.

We are learning to add and subtract in families of five now and our reading has progressed through three more books.

November will be busy working around the Thanksgiving theme. Happy Thanksgiving.

SECOND GRADE
Teacher: Mrs. Hakala
We were pleased to see so many parents at our Open House.

October was such an exciting month. After the Open House, we looked forward to Halloween. Our room mothers, Mrs. Warren Porath and Mrs. Weldon Johnson planned a "real fun party" for us.

After school on Halloween, we all put on our costumes and went Trick and Treating. Steve Cuendet was a cougar, Jenette Rouse a vampire, Amy Finbeiner and Sheila Briggs were black cats, Chris Gallas and Dean DeVoe were skeletons. Kelly Barkley and Eddie Johnson a devil; Kristal Salyer a ghost; Jimmie Heydlauff, Mark Porath, Jackie Schwerin, Scott Cooper were clowns; Danny Darrow a football player; Mary Beth O'Quinn a fairy godmother; Daryl Wetzel a monster in a bathing suit; Blake Akler a headless horseman who had trouble seeing where he was going; Lavonne Kruse a bat; Darren Foster an Indian who lost his feathers; and Sandra Young a fairy who ended up with broken wings.

Jackie Schwerin brought in two pumpkins he had grown in his garden. Lavonne Kruse showed us a seahorse her grandmother had made from sharks' teeth. Sandra Young has a doll made from coconut fibers.

Lavonne Kruse and Mary Beth O'Quinn had October birthdays.

Teacher: Mrs. Walton
We enjoyed our Open House. We showed our mothers and fathers string and paint pictures, riddles about us and lots of Halloween things.

We really liked the marionette show about the humpbacked horse.

Our Halloween party was really fun, with our bean-bag game, pin the nose on the pumpkin, and the treats.

Some of us have missed the bus in the morning.

We like to do science. There are some experiments that are fun.

Ron F. and Linda have a birthday in November.

Ronnie M. brought the teeth he had pulled at the dentist. David brought a big pumpkin. Robby brought in some X-rays of a hunk man, and some animal bones she found. Scott R. brought in gourds, Indian corn and a pumpkin.

We are looking forward to Thanksgiving and a long week-end.

Portage Lake Access Site Will Close

Time to have your boat in for the winter.

The Portage Lake Access site on McGregor Rd. will be closed Thursday, Nov. 15, according to Doug Smith, president of the Portage and Base Lake Property Owners Association. The association works with the State Department of Parks on this project.

On Nov. 10 the lakes will be reduced to the winter levels, which is about one foot below summer levels, notes Smith. The Washtenaw County Drain Commission regulates the dam on the Huron River.

Smith also noted that the leak in the dam, which caused some consternation among lake property owners last month, has been repaired.

Michigan Dept. of Agriculture Marketing Information Specialist

Eggs are a budget bargain when you consider their nutritional value and versatility. They're an excellent source of protein, iron and other vitamins, according to Michigan Department of Agriculture marketing officials.

A tasty egg dish is a meal in itself. Figure cost per serving when preparing eggs and then relish the money you've saved.

The secret to successful egg dishes lies in the cooking. You must treat an egg with respect. Take your time when preparing it, don't rush. If cooked too fast or too long, it becomes tough and tasteless.

Instead of preparing eggs the same old way, try something new. Spike up scrambled eggs by adding chopped meat, cheese, curry powder, mushrooms, tomatoes, onions or herbs. Or serve them with low-cost variety meats like chicken livers, calf brains or sweetbreads.

Enjoy eggs at any meal. Don't think of them just as a breakfast food. You might try Eggs Boulangere, a succulent egg and potato dish for dinner tonight. Peel and thinly slice three large raw potatoes. Sauté them in butter until tender and nicely browned on both sides. Stir gently and season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Butter a shallow baking dish and spread potatoes on the bottom. Sprinkle with one-third cup grated Michigan Cheddar cheese. Break six eggs over the potatoes, leaving some space between each. Add a dash of salt and pepper, drizzle 1/2 cup of cream on top and bake uncovered.

COLONIAL CATTLE

Beef was considered a by-product of cattle by early American colonists who valued the animals more for their ability to work, the milk and hides. With wild game in plentiful supply and cattle scarce, many towns passed ordinances prohibiting the slaughter of oxen before they had passed the useful work age.

Second Section—Pages 9-16

Chelsea, Michigan, Thursday, November 8, 1973

CERTAINLY A BARRELFUL OF LAUGHS were these four cuties, who swept the awards for most comical costumes in the Kiwanis judging. In front—a Snoopy with boots on? Well, sometimes even master masqueraders have to make concessions to exterior forces, and such is the case for Jennifer Rossi's second-place Snoopy costume. Apparently she must have realized that there's nothing less appealing than a wet dog. Mike Steinaway, the round-faced clown, seems to be weathering the storm quite well, however, in the outfit that gave him a third place. And in back, Kelly Barton and Joan Webber as Raggedy Andy and Ann may look pretty destitute, but how can they be after walking off with first prize in such a renowned contest as this?

Letters to the Editor

"Lanewood Dog":
 In response to your letter in a recent issue of The Chelsea Standard, I agree with you! There are many dogs running loose in Lanewood that belong on McKinley St. and vicinity. I have seen these myself and have complained to the authorities several times—to no avail. However, I may add that there are a few "Lanewood Dogs" and their owners that are very ill-mannered. I am talking of the dog on a lease, walks him up and down the sidewalk and en route lets the dog do his business on other people's lawns, shrubs, and lawn extensions. The next time I have to clean up a "Calling Card" from one of these dogs, I shall deposit it in a paper bag, on the owner's doorstep. I have seen this several times, and on one occasion even asked the dog to please keep the dog off the lawn.
 I am also concerned about the dogs being turned loose on the North School playground to do their business. There are at least three every night that a 7 e marched up to these playground and unleashed. Parents, how many times have you cleaned your child's shoes of dog droppings?
 The dogs running loose in Chelsea are getting to be a problem. Not just in Lanewood, but it is a community problem. Some Tuesday or Friday morning take a ride around town and see the garbage cans that are tipped over or the plastic bags torn with garbage all over the ground.
 By the way, I am not the same Lanewood resident who wrote the last letter of complaint but I am just as upset.
 Signed:
 Another Lanewood No. 1 Complainer.

Deer Hunting Prospects 'Best In Five Years'

Mild Winter, Abundant Food Supply Contribute to Larger Deer Herd

All the deer hunters who've been bustling around cleaning their rifles and trying on their long underwear for the past month can take heart—firearms deer hunting seasons opens in a week. And from both state and local reports, prospects for a kill of the wily white-tail couldn't be better. The state's deer range is carrying more deer this fall than in any autumn of the last five years, says David A. Arnold, Department of Natural Resources deer specialist. Arnold cites last year's relatively mild winter and an abundance of readily accessible, nutritious food—particularly acorns—as the major factors contributing to his optimistic pre-season outlook.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held on Tuesday, November 13, 1973 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building to consider the request of William C. Weber for a variance to Section 403 of Ordinance No. 73 (Sub-division Ordinance).

Chelsea Village Planning Commission Walter Brown, Chairman

Local conservation officer Robert Like agrees with Arnold's predictions that this season, which runs from Nov. 15 to Nov. 30, will be "a really good one, with a large amount of hunting." Like reports that most of Washtenaw county is well-populated with deer, and will remain so until January or February when the animals instinctively head areas of the state, those within the county do not tend to concentrate in particular areas.

Novi Wraps Up SEC Title with 8-0 Record

Novi's amazing Wildcats ran their winning streak to 21 games stretching over three seasons last Friday night with a 42-14 pounding of Milan.

In this, the finale of their second straight undefeated and title-winning campaign, Mike Riley took the initiative against the Big Reds and scored four times on runs of 15, two, one, and seven yards.

Greg Kielman managed Milan's only two TDs on a pair of aeri-als of 19 and nine yards.

On the local front, Chelsea's Dale Poertner began Bulldog abuse of the lowly Dreadnaughts as soon as he could, with an 86-yard run-back of Dexter's opening kickoff for a touchdown.

The final tally in the contest was 28-8, with assorted heroic efforts by a more-than-usually varied group of Bulldog players.

The loss put Dexter even further out of reach in the cellar, at 0-8 in the SEC.

A few acrobatics on both sides, and a fine effort by the down-trodden Lincoln Railsplitters made a tight Saline defeat of Lincoln, 7-6, even more exciting than usual.

The Hornets' first period TD on a 31-yard pass from Tim Slespy to Ed Charlton, was aided unintentionally by a Lincoln linebacker who tipped the toss, and more or

Snowmobile Instruction Classes Set

Inverness Snowmobile Club will again provide the instruction necessary to obtain certificates for 12 to 16-year-olds to operate snowmobiles alone, the club has announced.

Instruction sessions will be conducted on three successive Saturday mornings by four members of the club who have been sent to a snowmobile instruction workshop in Tuston. The four are Billy Robertson, Gus Hansen, Merritt Honbaum, and Ralph Brier.

Members stress that it is definitely illegal for 12- to 16-year-olds to operate a snowmobile without certificates, and warn that this year, Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies are expected to be checking quite closely for infractions of regulations.

Exact dates for the classes have not yet been determined. As people register for the instruction, classes will open to accommodate them. Interested parents or youngsters themselves who would like to enroll should call one of the instructors mentioned above.

AVERAGE ICEBERG

The average iceberg that drifts as far south as Newfoundland and the Atlantic shipping lanes has a volume of 5,000,000 cubic feet and weighs 150,000 tons, compared with 50,000,000 cubic feet and 1,500, tons when it was glacier-born three years earlier.

Halloween Costume Awards Announced

They came out of the wood-work last Wednesday night—all kinds of transformations that were spookier, funnier, or just plain more ridiculous than the original youngster—and all of them were after the same prey—Halloween candy.

But some ended up with a little extra added sense of achievement added to their ordinary Halloween activities, as the Kiwanis Club once again awarded prizes to children for their costumed participation in the Halloween parade.

In the most original category, Mary and Mathew Kemp came as help for the injured and aching as a Band-Aid and Bayer aspirin, and limped away with first prize. Kathy Donkin hooted her way into second place as an owl, while Sally Donkin barked up the third award as a dog.

Judged to be most typical of Halloween and representing the produce front were Kim and Tobin Boyd, who took first place as a pumpkin and cornstalk. Karen Koch bewitched the judge's fancy by her witch costume and took home second, while Todd Nagel's Devil was wicked enough to rate him a third award.

Tripping around the village as the spookiest Halloween beggars were Tracy and Steve Cattell, whose "Spookateers" costume was apparently a scary enough adop-

SCISSORRETTES—

Today Carrie Lamp brought treats. Vice president Mary Noah called the meeting to order. We then talked about going to Greenfield Village, and decided to go in February. Then we got our 4-H pins and certificates and worked on our sewing.
