

Exceptionally Good Corn Harvest Nearly Completed

The crop, though, corn is a vegetable.

It looks over on the dinner table when it is on the cob or in the husk.

It makes three feed units to one green stalk of a growing corn. It is able to be able to support the farmer are the "cornucopia of America," or some such.

Five farmers who own three green fields, however, the yellow stuff is a living, and last year a diet's best and it didn't. This year is better, and has made them feel secure.

The main problem last year can be pretty easily traced to one major cause. There was too much rain in the spring, which made it impossible to plant until late in the season. There was too much rain in the summer, which retarded the maturing process of the stalks. There was too much rain in the fall, which hampered harvesting, leaving some farmers with crops still in the fields as late as January.

them even more susceptible to the attacks of rain. Then, in his upright position, the husks hold water, often creating molds inside.

Molds so formed were particularly damaging to the value of the crop. Ron Moore, manager of Honegger's on Dexter-Chelsea Rd., says that most animals will simply refuse feed made of moldy or highly damaged corn. A pregnant sow, for example, fed moldy corn for three days, will abort, he noted.

Last year's corn occasionally had damage as high as 20 percent, Moore recalls, which is impossible to upgrade. The nutritionist at Honegger's accepts damage up to five percent. After that, corn must be combined with wheat or other grains to improve its nutritional value. And of course, while it's upgrading the value of the corn, it's downgrading the value of the other grain.

But on almost all fronts, things have taken a dramatic reversal this season—so dramatic, in fact, that the Standard was hard-pressed to find a farmer harvesting his corn for a picture accompanying to this article. "You'll have a hard time," advised one farmer's wife. "I'd say about 90 percent of the people around here have finished their harvesting."

Again, the weather has been the determining factor in this year's crop. Beginning at the beginning, Carl Kidd, salesman for Washtenaw Crop Service, notes that the first step in a good crop is dependent upon the ground and planting date. Lighter soils, like sand and sandy loam, were ready to plant in May; heavier soils, including heavier types of clays and loam, weren't dry enough until June.

Most of the farms around Chelsea, however, are lighter soils, with the heavier ones concentrated primarily around Ypsilanti and Augusta township, where the yields this fall have been not at all as good as the ones reported here.

Local grower Bob Heller kept his own personal record of the rainfall from April 1 to Nov. 10. "The 28 inches of rainfall I recorded is probably a little bit more than ideal," Heller reports. "But the lighter soils handled it fine. For the heavier soils, it was probably a bit too much."

Relatively dry autumn weather—"there's only been one bad week or so this fall, while the rest has been good," says Bill Ames of the Agriculture Extension Service. "While last year, we had all bad and one good"—has aided in the harvest immensely.

Heller called his crop "an exceptionally good one—in both quality and quantity." He says that he had totaled 13,000 bushels of shell corn when he finished harvesting his 130 acres a week and a half ago.

Ron Moore agrees heartily with Heller's rating of this season's crop. "Last year the moisture level in the corn was higher than 30 percent—this year it's 20 and below. . . . This year corn is going for $2.24 a bushel—better than double what it was at this time last year. It's great—the farmers certainly deserve it."

Even things that were expected to go wrong with this year's crop never really surfaced. Corn borers, for example, were said to be "running high this year," according to Carl Kidd, the Washtenaw Crop service representative. Heller agreed that he had seen quite a few in the summer, but they had done little damage to his crops.

Corn borers primarily become a problem in wet or windy weather, since the damage they perform is not to the kernels themselves, but rather to the cornstalks. By boring holes through them, they weaken the stalks until they can be easily broken by wind or rain storms, when they fall to the ground and the corn tassel is ruined by resting in water. In an autumn of little rain and winds, however, they do not emerge as a destructive factor because the stalks have not been blown or beaten to the ground.

And even last year's failures provided added elements to this year's crop—Kidd notes that the unharvested crops remaining in fields probably acted as a fine weather cover for this year's crops.

The good harvest is reflected at places like Honegger's, which has its dryers running 24 hours a day every day but Sunday. "We take in 10,000 bushels a day," Moore says, "and we could take more than that—there are trucks waiting outside today, and there have been the last couple of days—but 10,000 bush-

ONLY A FEW AREA CORN FIELDS remain unharvested, and out there on the pickers things keep looking pretty good—a lot better, certainly, than last year. Above, George Klink works away on Laurence Noah's land, between Werkner and Stofer Rds., during yet another fall day adequate for harvesting. Area growers report a tremendous improvement in this season's crop over last year, primarily due to the relatively dry spring, summer and fall, which allowed their crops to be planted and harvested on time.

Santa Coming Saturday for First Chelsea Visit

It must be time to start counting the days till Christmas, because Santa Claus will be in town Friday afternoon.

The jolly old elf will make the first of his Chelsea appearances before the BIG one Dec. 25, at the old Buick garage, 116 N. Main, from 1 to 3 p.m. Kids will receive candy and be able to talk to their favorite Christmas personage in person.

Future appearances will be at the same location and time on Dec. 1, 8, and 15.

Basketball Season Opening With Two Games Next Week

Dedication, hard work, and an admission to "think defense" were the items that Jim Allman mentioned in his announcement last week of the freshman basketball team's members, and the same no doubt holds true for the other two squads.

Right now all three are in the midst of daily practices in preparation for a pre-season scrimmage with Tecumseh, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 24. Freshman will take the court at 9 a.m., followed by the junior varsity at 11 a.m. and the varsity at 1 p.m.

First season home game with Columbia Central on Tuesday, Nov. 27, is also rapidly approaching. The action begins that night with the junior varsity at 6:30 p.m.

Co-captains of the varsity squad, coached by Tom Balistrere, are Maiv Guster and Tim Treado, both seniors. Other senior members are John Houle, Rick Miller, and Jeff Sprague. Juniors chosen are Dave Alber, Jack Hackworth, Perry Johnson, Ron Kiel, Joe Muldoon, Randy Musbach, Rick Sweeney, Gary Wonders, and Paul Wood.

Under the direction of Coach Paul Terpstra, the junior varsity team will include Randy Davis, Mark B. . . . Mike Fouty, Randy . . . Steve Ly-eria, Jim Marshall, Bill Rademacher, Howard Salyer, Joel Sprague, Mike Tobin, Dave Watson, and Randy Sweeney.

Coach Jim Tallman's freshman group will field John Adams, Bob

Area Deer Kill Light

Despite pre-season predictions that this year's deer outlook was the best in five years, area conservation officer Robert Like reports that he has seen only "half a dozen deer killed so far at the most."

The reason for the small kill, Like says, is directly attributable to the small number of hunters in the area this year. "I don't know if they all went up north this year or what," he says, "but they're sure not around here."

He continued that on Saturday, the second day of the season, "hunters didn't come out until about 10 a.m., then everyone was gone by 2 p.m. It was amazing, I guess they went home to watch the football game."

Even though a large number of deer are in the woods, Like reports, few are being killed because there are insufficient hunters to substantially move them around.

No doubt the deer are munching away on their large food supply, enjoying the season a great deal more than the few hunters out to get them.

Cartoon Show Slated Friday

Chelsea Recreation Department is having an all-cartoon show on Nov. 23 at 1 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. It should be a big event for all the children in Chelsea with prizes of silver dollars, toys, and a $25 drawing for boys and girls.

Admission is 25 cents for children and adults are admitted free with their children. Tom Balistrere, recreation director, encourages families to come and enjoy the afternoon.

DAVID WOJCICKI, Chelsea Punt, Pass & Kick winner who has progressed since his triumph in Chelsea to trophy-winning performances in Ypsilanti and Dearborn, practices with brother Bob at the Wojcicki home on Taylor St. On Thanksgiving day, David will get a chance to show his stuff again, this time during half-time at the Lions-Redskins game at Tiger Stadium in Detroit, where he will compete in the area competition against others in his age group. The game, which is a sellout, will be televised locally for those interested in reviewing the eight-year-old star's form again. If he is successful Thursday, David will be in line for the district competition scheduled for Dec. 16 and then the final step—the Super Bowl in Houston on Jan. 1.

Thanksgiving Service Set For Wednesday

Children learn in elementary schools that when the Pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving, they were thankful mostly that they were simply alive and well (more or less). They didn't have things like inflation, fuel shortages, and Watergate to worry about, certainly.

Maybe they were luckier then; maybe not. Even if we do have more to worry about these days, we certainly have more to be thankful for.

To add a spirit of community to the annual count-your-blessings day, the Chelsea community Thanksgiving service will be celebrated tonight (Wednesday) at the First United Methodist church, 128 Park St.

The service will steer away from a preaching service format to concentrate on what the Rev. Clive Dickens calls a "family Thanksgiving celebration." Songs of Thanksgiving will be sung, and scripture passages as well as prayers will center on the Thanksgiving theme.

Special musical numbers will be presented by the choir of the First United Methodist church and St. Paul United Church of Christ.

A special thanksgiving offering to be used for some needy cause along the lines of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) will also be collected.

Churches whose congregations are participating in the special holiday service are the First United Methodist church, St. Paul United Church of Christ, First Assembly of God, St. Barnabas Episcopal church, and the Congregational church (United Church of Christ).

Christmas Club Payments Total $110,000

With a ho-ho-ho and a "Merry Christmas" to themselves, Chelsea State Bank customers received their annual Christmas Club payments last week.

This year, $110,000 was stashed away by 493 thinking-ahead Chelseaites who deposited any sum from 50 cents to $20 per week in their special Christmas Club account. And if they were good, regular depositors, the bank paid the last payment for them.

For those presently enduring the last-minute penny pinching and charge accounting that Christmas always brings, maybe this last bit of information from Paul Schauble, vice-president and cashier at Chelsea State Bank, may bring a bit of hope for next year: the Bank is presently opening new accounts for next year's Christmas Club.

Snowmobile Classes Set for Youngsters

All you young snowmobilers out there itching for big snowfalls had better first get the legal aspects out of the way before taking to your favorite winter sport.

Inverness Snowmobile Club warns youngsters from 12 to 16 (not including 16-year-olds) that they must possess a certificate of instruction to be legally able to operate one of the vehicles alone.

Four instruction sessions planned by the club will provide youngsters with the necessary credentials to avoid confrontations with the law. Classes will begin next Thursday, Nov. 29, at 7 p.m. for registration and the first instruction session, and will continue on four successive Thursday evenings for two hours of instruction.

Four local men who attended a snowmobile instruction workshop in Tuson, will conduct the classes. Members of the club note that both the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Department of Natural Resources are expected to be checking the age and certification of young snowmobilers quite closely after Jan. 1, when the certificate is required.

There is no charge for the classes, which will be held in the large group instruction room at Beach Middle school.

Cub Scouts Plan Christmas Tree Sales

After reading in local papers last week that Christmas trees have been added to the ever-growing list of items in short supply, some news from local Cub Scouts should bring a sigh of relief.

Scouts from Packs 415, 445, 435, and 455 will again engage in their annual fund-raising project of selling Christmas trees, beginning Monday, Dec. 3 in Meabon's parking lot on M-52, just south of Old US-12.

While the scouts and their fathers may not be the most capitalistic hard-sell salesmen in the area, they have a little extra-added incentive that helps them along: the profit from the trees is the sole fund-raising event of the year for local packs, and is necessary to support programmed activities for the coming year. Both profits and work will be shared equally by the four groups.

First step in the business venture is on Sunday, Dec. 2, when the boys will assemble at Meabon's parking lot at 1 p.m. with (Continued on page six)

Chelsea School Costs Rank Among Lowest in Entire Area

A lot of the dilemmas that Chelsea School District taxpayers feel about committing themselves to a bonding proposal the size of the $4.8 million issue to be considered Dec. 17 should be at least partially relieved by a simple series of comparisons.

A comparison within the District's history itself is quite enlightening. The present level of millages levied in the district for debt retirement, or school buildings alone, has stood for the past two years at three mills, the lowest level in nearly 20 years.

(A mill is equal to $1 tax levied per $1,000 of assessed valuation of property—assessed valuation equals generally one-half of the current market value.)

The addition of the three mills to this current levy would bring the total millage for debt retirement to six mills, and would double the average $37.50 per year presently paid for school buildings. This would amount to a total cost of $6.25 per month to the taxpayer owning property with a market value of $25,000, which is the estimated average for farm and village households in the district.

Even this doubled figure is not nearly the highest the district has ever been assessed. In 1956, for example, taxpayers were paying 88 mills for the building program passed that year, which included the construction of the high school and additions to North and South Elementary schools, in addition to three and one-half mills to pay for the 1951 building program, which built South Element-tary, and a little over one mill to pay off the 1953 building program, which built North Elementary. The taxpayer that year, then, was shelling out taxes to pay for more than twice the total that millage will reach with the passage of the proposal next month.

In comparison with other school districts in the area, Chelsea stands near the bottom of the heap in terms of cost per year to the average family for school buildings. At present, taxpayers in the Whitmore Lake district,

Youths Plead Guilty to Mail Box Damage

Although postal rates are going up again in January, it's doubtful that three Chelsea youths had that on their minds Sunday night.

In what is not thought to be any kind of social protest, Steve Dorer, Bruce Guster, and Timothy Wade, all 18, rammed Dorer's 1968 Valiant into three mailposts on Sycamore Dr., destroying 17 mailboxes in the process.

A witness called in a description of the car, and Chelsea Police apprehended the trio shortly thereafter.

based on property with a value of $25,000, pay out $39 per year, followed closely by Milan with $37.50. Then comes Dexter ($33.13), Saline ($31.63), Manchester ($30.87), and then Chelsea ($37.50). Only Lincoln trails with $31.10.

The increased millage will move the district into a third-place position behind Whitmore Lake and Milan.

Further, for total levied for both operation and debt retirement, the additional projected three mill increase for buildings will move the local school district from the very bottom to a relative middle position among other area schools. With a total for both operations and debt retirement of 23.20 mills, passage of the millage will move the Chelsea School District into a third place behind Saline and Dexter among a re-a school districts. Cost per month to the taxpayer will increase to a little more than $29 for a household with property valued at $25,000.

COACH TOM BALISTRERE

Balistrere Returns To Coach Basketball

Tom Balistrere, head basketball coach who was lured away from Chelsea five years ago to coach at Albion College, has returned.

He comes back in glory having recently been awarded membership in the Outstanding Secondary Educators of America. As a result of the honor his name has been placed in Who's Who in Teaching, 1972-73, and he is now eligible for a national teaching award.

Balistrere, who will once again coach the Bulldog varsity basketball team, won the recognition for his community service and teaching skills while at Big Spring High school, Newville, Pa. He has coached and taught health courses there for the last few years.

While in Newville, he revamped the community's recreation program and planned parks for the community. The award brought a $500 scholarship to the school.

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., Balistrere was with Chelsea one year before Albion tapped him. Almost immediately he grew dissatisfied with college coaching, missing the relationship a high school coach has with his players. It was then that he took the position with the high school in his home state.

Balistrere was happy to come back to Chelsea, recalling that "it's a nice place to raise kids. I've always enjoyed this community," he says. He will teach physical education and take up duties as assistant baseball coach in addition to coaching the basketball squad.

Balistrere plans to sharpen the team's running game and focus on a pressing defense for the '73-'74 season. Although the season does not officially open until Nov. 27, he has had 40 prospective players out for a three-week program at the high school this summer.

Returning to Chelsea with Balistrere are his wife Charlene, and 2½ year-old Tony.

The Nixon administration has announced that it plans to increase sales of timber in U.S. national forests by 10 percent this year and next. The Secretary of Agriculture said the sales are designed to increase the domestic lumber supply and to help restrain prices.

Drunk Charges Follow Scene At Med. Center

It apparently was a hot time in the old town—and in the Chelsea Medical Center—and eventually in the County Jail—for two area men early last Friday morning.

Chelsea Police arrived at the Medical Center at 2:30 a.m. after receiving a report from the doctor on call that two men were causing some amount of disorder at the center. Officer arrived to find Virgil D. Allen, 38, of Stockbridge, passed out in the doorway to the Medical Clinic. A friend, Chalmer Barker, 38, of Jackson, was hovering nearby, in what officers called a "drunken stupor," but not quite in Allen's state.

Officers assisted in placing Allen on a stretcher, where the staff doctor examined him, since he was complaining of difficulty in breathing. The doctor concluded that nothing was wrong with him that being sober wouldn't have cured.

After taking note of all the symptoms present in the pair, blood shot eyes, slurred speech, staggering gait, and a generally "loud, boisterous, and profane attitude" toward both the officers and the doctor, they were asked not to drive home. Allen called his brother and he and his friend decided to wait in their pickup truck until he arrived.

Half an hour later, however, police spotted the pickup turning from the Medical Center area onto Main. When the vehicle crossed the center line five times before it reached Old US-12, officers decided the situation should be remedied.

Both were arrested—Allen for driving while under the influence of liquor, Barker for drunk and disorderly—and conveyed to Wash-tenaw County Jail. They were arraigned in Dexter, where they pled not guilty to the charges. Bond was set at $100, which neither could post. Their pre-trial examination is set for Jan. 2 in Chelsea.

Gas Company Will Make Rate Refund

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. announced today that it will make a refund of approximately $2.7 million to its customers during November.

Hugh C. Daly, president of the utility, said the refund will average about $125 for customers who heat their homes with gas, and 25 cents for non-heating residential customers. Commercial and industrial customers will also share in the refund. He said the Michigan Public Service Commission has approved the company's proposal to return the money to its customers as a credit on their December bills.

Daly said the refund results from a temporary decrease in the rate of Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., the utility's principal gas supplier. The pipe line increased its rates Nov. 1, 1972 under rules of the Federal Power Commission which provide for refunding if upon final order, the Commission sets lower rates. Michigan Consolidated passed the higher wholesale costs on to its customers at that time, under refund provisions established by the MPSC.

On July 24 the FPC ordered a slight temporary reduction in the pipe line's rates, going back to Nov. 1, generating the refund. The pipe line reduction enabled Michigan Consolidated to immediately reduce its rates about one-half cent per thousand cubic feet. However, the rates went back up to their previous level on Sept. 1 following an order from the FPC to Michigan Wisconsin to alter its rate schedules.

HOWARD HOLMES and University President Robben Fleming discuss progress on the site of the new St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with Project Director Elliott S. Guttman. Holmes is chairman of the current building campaign, President Fleming is honorary chairman.

Howard Holmes Named to Head Hospital Building Fund Drive

President Robben Fleming of the University of Michigan has accepted the role of honorary chairman for the building campaign at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Announced by Sister Mary Yvonne, executive director of the hospital, the official campaign chairmanship will be filled by Howard Holmes, chief executive of Chelsea Milling Co. and long-time participant in St. Joseph's community programs.

"It gives me tremendous satisfaction to welcome President Fleming as St. Joseph's honorary campaign chairman," Holmes said. "This distinguished action by one of the most respected men in the state is a measure of the commitment we all feel toward St. Joseph's future in the community."

Asked to comment, President Fleming responded, "St. Joseph's is everybody's hospital, made so by the co-operative participation of all members of the Ann Arbor community — individuals and groups alike. To my knowledge this is the first time in modern history that this community has been asked to undertake a fund raising effort for its community hospital. We now are privileged to participate in this, a major program of continuing improved health care service undertaken by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and our total community."

Holmes indicated that the campaign would gain momentum during the next few weeks, launching into a public fund drive in 1974. "Mr. Fleming and I are looking forward to this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to develop an exciting new hospital," Holmes said. "St. Joseph has expanded several times on its present 11-acre Ingalls St. location during the past 60 years. There is very little space left at the present hospital, but this development by the Sisters of Mercy on Huron River Dr. will open up countless possibilities. With St. Joseph's lead, we believe this area will become a comprehensive health care center suited to the community's needs for the next half century."

In the last 51 years, the number of farmers, families and hired hands living on American farms has dropped from 32 million to just under 10 million. Today only 1 out of 21 Americans is on a farm. At the same time, the 8.5 million farms averaging 147 acres in 1929 have been combined into 2.7 million averaging 389 acres.

Area conservation officer Bob Like, however, reports that the kill thus far has been extremely small—he reports only having seen "at the most half a dozen killed." Predictions for this season were that it would be the best in five years.

Postal Service Advances Mail Deadlines

Postmaster Richard Schaulces today joined Postmaster General E. T. Kiassen in urging the residents of Chelsea to post their domestic and foreign Christmas mail one to two weeks earlier than the Postal Service originally recommended, so that the every shortage will not interfere with on-time deliveries.

"The urgency of the fuel energy crisis compels us to request a one-week advancement of suggested dates we gave for domestic mail and a two-week advancement for foreign mail," Postmaster Schaulces said.

The new deadline for posting domestic first-class Christmas mail is Dec. 8 rather than Dec. 15, as previously announced. Domestic surface parcels, except those for Alaska and Hawaii, should be mailed by Dec. 3, instead of Dec. 10. To Alaska and Hawaii, mail by Nov. 23 instead of Nov. 30.

Airmail parcels and letters within the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) should be posted no later than Dec. 15, rather than Dec. 21. To Alaska and Hawaii, mail by Dec. 13, rather than Dec. 20.

"The seriousness of the fuel shortage to the Postal Service is underlined," Postmaster Schaulces said, "by the fact that in addition to the fuel consumed by commercial air carriers, we require approximately 350 million gallons of fuel to travel 2.25 billion miles delivering the 90 billion pieces of mail that flow through the system each year. Our requirement for the month of December alone is 45 million gallons."

Postmaster Schaulces said that "public co-operation on meeting these new, advance mail early dates is needed to help us complete all Christmas deliveries."

Lima Township Board Okays Printing of Historic Study Book

Lima Township Board meeting was held Tuesday, Nov. 13, in Lima Township Hall.

Approved at the meeting was the printing of an historic study booklet, called "Living in Lima," which is to be used as a guide for building and modification in the township, in order that such changes might coincide with the rural qualities inherent in the township. The booklet is also expected to aid in site planning.

The Township Board simultaneously received a $200 contribution from Gordon Sutton to boost funds available for printing of the booklet over the target amount. Although only 100 copies will initially be printed, masters will be preserved for future printings of the booklet.

Retaining the services of Allen Dines on a full- or part-time basis, whichever is necessary, for the month of December, was approved. The grant which pays Dines' salary expires at the end of this month, and the board felt it necessary that he continue his work on zoning on at least a part-time hourly basis until he is able to "tie up some loose ends."

Discussion on the tax equalization plan was conducted, although there was no resolution. The township is working with other townships regarding this matter and has paid dues to the County Township Supervisors Association.

A new trailer permit renewal policy, recognizing that some trailer owners have not renewed their permits, was approved. The policy will include a new system of fee and reminder letter.

To rectify a problem in the township with zoning violations, the board approved the taking of court action by the township.

Next meeting will be the regularly-scheduled first Monday of the month, Dec. 3, in Lima Township Hall.

Child Study Club Plans Christmas Make & Bake Sale

All home-made items will be featured at the Chelsea Child Study Club's Make and Bake Christmas Sale on Dec. 1, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Masonic Temple on W. Middle St.

Among the items to be sold are baked goods, cornhusk dolls, needlework, macramé, Christmas ornaments, wall hangings, pine cone wreaths, pajama bags, nut wreaths, and candles.

In addition, Steve Cole will be doing charcoal sketches in person, or from pictures of individuals or animals. Interested persons should call 475-2831 for an appointment.

Members invite the community to come and browse through their displays and enjoy a free cup of coffee. Proceeds are donated to the Home Meal Service and St. Louis school.

Discussion Set On Property Tax Relief

A discussion of the state amendment which gives property tax relief to veterans drawing compensation or pension and to senior citizens will be held at the Korner House on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The discussion is under the joint sponsorship of Chelsea American Legion No. 31 and Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 4076.

For veterans, tax relief depends on the percentage of compensation and the state equalized value of property. There is no limitation of the state equalized value.

For senior citizens, there is no income limitation. The amendment also enables a veteran or senior citizen to obtain a tax refund or credit if he is renting.

Applications for tax relief will be available at this session.

Participating in the discussion will be the staff from the Washtenaw County Veteran's Affairs Office, 4133 Washtenaw Rd., Ann Arbor. Kelly G. Carpenter of Chelsea will be the moderator.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Drain Commission Proposes County-Wide Lakes Association

Washtenaw County Drain Commission announced Tuesday that it has proposed the establishment of a county-wide organization of lake associations.

The organization would work to co-ordinate and aid the efforts of lake associations, governmental agencies, and individuals in dealing with problems found in the lake communities of Washtenaw county.

The Drain Commission will sponsor a meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 26, in room 117 A of the County Building, Ann Arbor. All lake associations, as well as interested individuals, are encouraged to attend.

If you want to live longer, remember the "eat" in death.

Stolen Car Recovered Here Saturday Morning

When a car parked in Robert Shepherd's yard on Old US-12 last Saturday morning, he figured it belonged to some deer hunter and didn't report it.

Later in the day, however, he changed his mind and called Chelsea police. After checking with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, they discovered that the 1964 two-door black Chevrolet had been reported stolen in Jackson. The Department is holding the vehicle to be checked for prints.

SIGNS OF THE FUTURE are these new experimental highway signs, showing distance in both miles and kilometers. The Department of State Highways is installing them on US-27 between Lansing and Grayling and at selected other sites as an early step in an expected nation-wide conversion to the metric system of measurement over the next 10 years. This sign shows the distance from DeWitt to the Clinton county city of St. Johns.

Safety Is First Requirement in Child's Footwear

"Slippery-soled shoes may have been the villain behind your child's last scraped knee," says Helen Fairman, extension home economist.

Extension clothing specialists at Michigan State University suggest that parents sniff the bottoms of their child's new shoes to give better traction on smooth floors and reduce tumbles.

"They also caution parents about purchasing platforms, wedged and high heels for children just because they're in fashion," Mrs. Fairman says. These shoes can be "dangerous for climbing stairs, driving or just walking."

Shoes are designed to protect and help a child's feet to grow and develop—not just for appearance!

Breeding Efficiency Headlines MABC Dairy-Beef Seminars

The means and ways to achieve maximum breeding efficiency is the main thrust of the 1973 MABC Dairy-Beef Seminar, according to Kenneth Baushe, Michigan Animal Breeders Co-operative's general manager.

Keynoters for the seven-location event include Dr. Don Hillman, Dr. Roger Millenberger, Dr. Clinton Meadows, all of MSU; Dr. James Lauderdale of Upjohn Co. will speak on the exciting possibilities of heat synchronization through the prostaglandin research. George Miller, Director of Marketing and Development for Select Sires will be on hand for an update on sires available through MABC. Director of MABC Training Programs, Russel Hanson, will relate the success of the straw for improving herd conception. Herd management, nutrition, records, detection aids are pin point areas for discussion.

The afternoon program will be divided by interest groups into dairy and beef sessions. Ken McDonald, Purdue Extension Staff, will tie into herd handling for improved detection and conception. Dr. Harlan Ritchie, MSU, will discuss the timely topic of "Improving the Mothering Ability in the Mature Herd."

MABC President, Jack Deidel, indicates that the seminar program is the fourth successive year the co-operative has sponsored the seminar meeting to suit the needs of members and other persons interested in cattle breeding.

This year, MSU Home Extension Service will be sponsoring a special feature for the ladies to coincide with the seminar. The ladies are urged to attend.

Dates and locations are as follows: Dec. 3, State Office Building, Escanaba; Dec. 4, Northwood Inn, Cadillac; Dec. 5, Holiday Inn, Gaylord; Dec. 6, Comet Lanes, Grand Rapids; Dec. 7, American Legion Hall, Frankenmuth; Dec. 10, Holiday Inn, Albion; Dec. 11, Elkhart County Building, Goshen, Ind.

IN MEMORIAM
 In memory of our loving father, Frank L. Reed, God knew that he was suffering, that the hills were hard to climb so he closed his weary eyelids and whispered, "Peace be thine." Lord keep your arms around him and in your loving care make up for all he suffered while he was here, God gives us strength to bear it and courage to meet the blow but what it meant to lose him no one will ever know.
 Mr. Robert Reed,
 Mrs. James (Margaret) Schliz,
 Mrs. Ronald (Frances) Ferry,

IN MEMORIAM
 In memory of my dear husband, Frank L. Reed, who passed away two years ago Nov. 23. Days of sadness still come o'er me. Tears in silence often flow for no one sees me weep while others are asleep. I miss you through the days and nights and through the holidays though your chair is empty dear you're still here in many ways. You bid me no good-bye the day God called you home, but part of me went with you, my dear you're not alone. Sadly missed by his loving wife, Ethel.

CARD OF THANKS
 I want to thank each and every one at the Chelsea Community Hospital for their part in caring for me while I was there. You were also very good to me. My family and friends I thank for their cards, flowers, and calls, and especially my daughter, Elsie O'Dell, who did so very much for me. I shall never forget any of you. May God bless each of you.
 Mrs. Harold (Doris) Reilly.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to thank everyone for their wonderful help and kindness that has been given to me since I broke my hip.
 Ruth Schenk.

IN MEMORY
 In memory of son and brother, Larry Julian Polich, Sr., who passed away Thanksgiving Day five years ago.
 Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reilly and brothers and sisters.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to express our appreciation to all for the many thoughtful acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, and floral and memorial tributes at the time of the loss of our loved one. We especially thank Pastor John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tenter, and the women who helped at our home after the service. We are sincerely grateful to all.
 The family of Doug Barth.

Vatican City—The Vatican recently reasserted the infallibility of the Roman Catholic Church, of its teachings and of the Pope in an attempt to answer critics among its own theologians.

DEEP FREEZE?
 Underlying 20 percent of the world's land, permafrost in some places extends only a short distance beneath the surface, but on Alaska's North Slope it reaches depths of 2,000 feet.

TERMITE SPOTTERS
 In the Australian Outback country, travelers can set their course by looking at 12-foot-high mounds of Meridionalis termites which always point north and south.

DWINDLING RESOURCES?
 There has been a lot of talk about the United States exhausting its valued natural resources. There's a good chance—the way things are going—that the first great resource to fold up will be the American taxpayer.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
 by LOUIS BURGHARDT

In our increasingly crowded and discontented world, we Americans have much to be thankful for. True, we too have certain pockets of crowded quarters — and good reason for discontent in many things . . .

BUT — while we have trouble spots and blemishes, it should be noted that NO country has ever been found that did not have them too. Any one with a cents worth of common sense should know, in spite of our problems, the U. S. A. is still a land of liberty and freedom unequalled anywhere in this troubled world. Where else in this world can any one find a better place to prosper through individual resourcefulness? Where else can uncommon people stand together on common ground? Even with the sometimes weird antics of high officials and equally strange, hard to understand behavior of lesser people at lower levels, here in our country? Where else is a government paying cash to, and paying bills for their people in need? (Yes, and even for some not in need!) Where else is a government sponsoring well over 1000 separate agencies for the well being, advancement and protection of its people? The list can go on and on. Endless almost. For all of this should not all of us give special thanks to God on Thanksgiving Day? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

THIRD GRADE—
Teacher: Mrs. Lawver
 The class found out that $11 doesn't mean a lot of money. They learned that the bottom of the page with the bond legs in a steady rhythm. We were relieved to know that this is a normal habit for them.

The class has been viewing different objects under the microscope which they thoroughly enjoy. We are busy learning about capitalization, New York City and finishing our study of plants.

Today, we are substituting our science as gray, sticky caramel, as we are making carrot apples.

Teacher: Mrs. Peet
 We have been writing stories, poems, books and making lists of our favorite words for our creative writing folders. We will keep these folders all year and put all of our writing in them. One of the latest stories that we have written was about things that we are thankful for. Here are some of the papers we wrote:

"I am thankful for our clothes and our food. We are thankful for our state and our school."—by Scott Schanz.

"I am thankful for being born. And to have food. And I am thankful for my mom and dad and for my house. I am thankful for my car and my bed and plants and stores. I am thankful for everything."—by Julie Burkholder.

"I am thankful for people. I am thankful for clothes. I am thankful for paper. I am thankful for trees. I am thankful for animals. I am thankful for the world."—by Kathy Haydock.

"I am thankful that I was born. I am thankful I can go to school. I am thankful that I can read well. I am thankful that I can write well."—by Chris Martin.

"I am glad I was born. I am thankful for my dad because he buys me things. I am glad my whole family was born. I am thankful for Christmas and winter. I am thankful for God."—by Tommy Hill.

Teacher: Miss Sanders
 In Miss Sanders' third grade class we are using encyclopedias and library books to help us make reports. We may choose to write about any subject we want.

We are finding that not everyone is interested in the same things but that many of us are anxious to learn about animals. Todd Guenther has written reports about dogs, cat and gorillas; and Kathleen Morris has made an interesting report about tree frogs. Lots of other good reports have been made.

FOURTH GRADE—
Teacher: Mrs. Schmidt
Reporter: Tobin Boyd
 Cathy Williams, Kirk Hawks and Tobin Boyd had birthdays this month and we enjoyed their treats.

We are learning multiplication and division in mathematics. We are writing about Thanksgiving and the many things we are thankful for.

Janine Hoffman says she is thankful for her pets.

Laurie Volta says she is thankful for the teachers that help us learn.

Paul Haydock says he is thankful for all the food, especially hamburgers.

We are all finished with our plaster wall plaques which we also painted in art class.

Kathleen Ingram is the winner on the spelling chart.

Teacher: Mrs. Hafer

*Thanks for What?***

On Thanksgiving Day, 1973, some cynics may ask: "What do we have to be thankful for?" Inflationary prices that cause a crimp in our budgets? Political leaders who have stretched our faith to the breaking point? An energy shortage that brings the threat of a long, cold winter?

But whether or not they feel they have reason to be thankful, they'll gladly use the day as a break in their labors, to watch the football games on color television in their warm living rooms, and then snatch 40 winks to digest the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

The blessing recited before the meal may be just another tradition, with little thought given to the words, "Thank You for this food!" The golden brown turkey, the fragrant dressing, the pumpkin pie with its whipped cream crown—they all cost more this Thanksgiving.

But the cynics, we believe, are in the minority. Most Americans will be truly grateful for their high standard of living, and the efficient agriculture which which made that Thanksgiving meal possible.

The first New England Thanksgiving was an expression of appreciation for good crops and, long before that, other cultures held celebrations and festivals in thankfulness for bountiful harvests. Small wonder that Thanksgiving is a special day to farmers; they know the true meaning of "gathering in the sheaves." Others, liberated from the land by a productive agriculture, gather in their harvest from the shelves of a supermarket and use the day to give thanks for whatever their blessings might be.

The more perceptive Americans will look beyond the current crisis our country finds itself in this Thanksgiving Day and still find many blessings to count. Most are living better, eating better, enjoying more of the "finer things" in life than ever before. They can even see that today's concerns might be a blessing in disguise.

They remember that it was darkness that stimulated invention of the lamp, fog that produced the compass, and hunger for freedom that brought the Pilgrims to this land. America's troubled times, of which there have been many, have always brought out the best in her citizens.

Has some of the challenge gone out of your life? Does your job still give you the thrill and satisfaction it once did? If not, it may be time to consider putting that back into your life!

There is still one last frontier for the man or woman looking for that fine edge of competition. There is still one rapidly growing and richly rewarding profession for those people that need the thrill of excellence. You may never have considered yourself a sales-oriented person but look into your daily behavior—do you enjoy influencing others, do you have impatience for people who procrastinate, are you able to make decisions and cut through the myriad of red tape and extraneous material to get to the heart of the matter? Are you able to appreciate the other person's point of view and understand his perspective? Do you have a set of principles and values that you live by? Are you firm in your convictions? Do you stay on track? Are you self-disciplined to start and finish your job?

If you can answer "yes" to the majority of these questions, you probably have innate sales ability. National statistics show that 65% of the people in the $26,000 plus income category are in the field of professional sales.

If you have the dynamics for successful selling we can train you to achieve results beyond your present expectations. Education makes the difference between the top producer (the high dollar earner) and the average or mediocre sales producer.

Our formal training program will begin shortly. Come in and investigate your capabilities for success and better earnings. Our selection system will allow you to predict your potential for success in our business. Your inquiries are confidential. Call Pat Davis, 769-8600.

College Aid Applications Now Available

Lansing—Students who would like to enter a private college in the fall of 1974 should apply now for a Michigan Tuition Grant, according to the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Michigan (AICUM).

"Nearly one out of five students who attend independent colleges in Michigan qualify for Michigan Tuition Grants of up to $1,200," AICUM President John L. Gaffney said.

"The Michigan Tuition Grant program, which was established by the Michigan legislature nearly 10 years ago, has helped thousands of Michigan students who might otherwise be unable to attend an independent college of their choice," Gaffney said. The Michigan Department of Education is now accepting applications for Tuition Grants from high school seniors, community college students and others who would like to enroll at one of Michigan's nearly 50 independent colleges in the fall of 1974.

Motorists To Use 4.8 Billion Gallons Of Fuel in State

Lansing—Motorists will use 4.8 billion gallons of gasoline and other motor fuels in Michigan during 1973, the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) estimates.

This would be a 5.5 percent increase over last year, but lower than the national average increase of 6.3 percent.

Nationally, motor fuel consumption is expected to exceed 115 billion gallons in 1973, according to the FHWA estimates. This is nearly 900 gallons of fuel for every registered motor vehicle, excluding motorcycles.

Michigan ranks seventh among the states in consumption, with California's 11.1 billion gallons far ahead of any other state and more than twice Michigan's consumption.

Other states ahead of Michigan in motor fuel use are Texas, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois. The state using the least highway motor fuel also is the largest state, Alaska, which will consume only 119,000 million gallons.

The use of gasoline for farming, aviation, boating and other uses, nationally, is expected to decline slightly to 3.7 billion gallons from its 3.8 billion gallon total for last year.

National Grant Funds MSU Study on Hypertension Problems

Students at Michigan State University's College of Human Medicine are conducting a long term study of hypertension or high blood pressure in conjunction with Lansing's Center for Hypertension Detection and Follow-up.

Nationally, an estimated 23 million individuals have elevated blood pressure, which leads to permanent high blood pressure.

A $355,902 grant from the National Heart and Lung Institute (NHLI) will enable the center to screen a geographic area of the city's west side to locate all pervaded blood pressure, and place them under the care of a physician.

Of 14 hypertension detection centers, Lansing is the smallest urban center participating and the only one in Michigan.
