Court Bailiff Frank Mead Dies of Gunshot

Son Charged With First Degree Murder in Saturday Shooting

Some Chelseaers with better memories than others recall when Frank Mead acted as town marshal in the early 1940's when Al Mayne was village president in Chelsea days. Chief of Police George Mervank says, "They didn't even have a car."

More recently, the tall soft-spoken Mead was a familiar face around Chelsea's branch of 14th District Court, where he had served as bailiff for Judge Henry Arkison's court since 1969.

Last Saturday morning, Mead, whom co-workers at the court described as "such a peaceful man," died as inconspicuously as he lived in Wayne County General Hospital of a .38 caliber bullet wound to the chest. He had been shot in his home at 5100 Mott Rd. in Union township, Wayne county.

Arrested and charged with first degree (premeditated) murder in the slaying was his 23-year-old son, Michael Mead of Ann Arbor. The younger Mead was arraigned Sunday in 15th District Court in Plymouth and remanded to Wayne County Jail without bond, the standard procedure in cases involving first degree murder. Preliminary examination on the charge is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 3, Michigan State Police officers say.

In addition to his work in Chelsea, the elder Mead was formerly an officer with the Ypsilanti Police Department.

Funeral services were conducted Monday and were attended by numerous officers from the Ypsilanti, Saline and Michigan State Police Departments, in addition to friends and relatives.

THE FACES AT GROVES STORE will change a bit after the first of the year, but the place will remain the same, say present owners John and Doris Perry, left. Examining some of the items in the store that they will take over next week are the new owners, Jo and Bill Spade, who have been trained by the Perrys for the past year in the art and business of running their Chelsea enterprise.

Perrys Turning Groves Store Over to New Owners on Jan. 1

"We'll get a lot lazier," is what John Perry predicts for the life he and his wife, Doris, will lead after this week, their last as owners of the Groves Store on Main St.

It seems almost hard to believe, though. For 14 years, the Perrys have owned and managed a Chelsea 5c to $1 store—the first one, which they bought in January of 1959, in the old bank building that is now the Korner House; the second, their present store, which they purchased from Elmer Schable in 1952.

In those 14 years, they say, they have never taken more than three days away from the store—"and that three days was for a buying trip," recalls Mrs. Perry.

But this time next week things will be different. "I asked my husband this morning if next week we would be rushing around, hurrying to get dressed and go to the store—he says next week he won't even shave any more," Mrs. Perry reports.

As of Jan. 1, new owners of the store will be Bill and Jo Spade, a couple who moved to the Chelsea area this past year and spent that year in a sort of training program with the Perrys. "They hadn't been in retail," Perry explains. "So we decided that we would spend a year here working with them."

The Spades, from Bluffton, town people, although Bluffton Ind., are "basically small—is about twice as big as Chelsea," Perry says. "We met them on one of our buying trips—they worked as factory representatives. I guess we've been preparing for this for about four years."

The emphasis in both of the Perrys when they speak of the new owners and their training program is the assurance that there will not be a change in the store. In fact, one of the Perry's daughters-in-law will continue as a cashier there.

Continuity, they say, is a big factor in the small business that is impossible in large chain stores. "When my husband went in the service," Mrs. Perry remembers, "I had the same girls working for me when he came back as when he left."

"People like things like that," agrees Perry. "They know that when they come in here, they can see the manager."

This personal touch extends to the women who work in the store, who are always eager to wait on the browsing customer. "We don't have girls hanging over everybody's shoulder or anything, but people here like to be waited on," declares Perry. "There's just a difference between small town people and city people."

"City people," he continues, "like to rummage through things. They're used to doing it in the big stores, and they start doing it here. We have to get the girls over there to help them right away—or you know, they can have the counter torn up in a minute, and that makes for even more work for the girls."

New places like Briarwood do, of course, hold some lure for Chelsea folks, Perry admits—"but only temporarily, I'd say. You know, everybody flocks to a few coon in town."

"But our business was up this year—of course, the economy's up, too, so we had to do about six percent more business just to keep up. But people keep coming to a store like this."

He and his wife have all sorts of examples of satisfied customers—Mrs. Perry seems to particularly like the story of a recent one, a man whose mother, a village resident, told her son to stop into the store to see how nice it was. "He ended up buying four presents for his wife—and then explained to me who he was, and why he'd come in,"

Mrs. Perry says. "He said he'd be in again."

The sense of smallness in business that obviously appeals so to the Perrys would also be their plan for government, if it were possible to make the switch.

"We originally were planning to go to Florida right away, after the first of the year," Mrs. Perry says, "and then travel around some and visit our son in Washington. But with this gas shortage . . ."

"Of course, I don't believe there really is a shortage," her husband interjects. "All anybody knows is what the oil companies tell us—so as soon as they get the prices up to where they want them, we'll have all that we want—at least I hope we will. I think the whole thing may be just to get the people's minds off Watergate."

"And that stuff (Watergate)" he continues. "It's something that happened, again, because things were too big—because nobody knows what the other guy is doing. I guess it should be something to think about—that maybe there should be another kind of government. Things have changed a lot, and maybe this just won't work anymore," Perry ponders.

But, at any rate, the small town atmosphere of the Groves Store will be the same, whatever the government does. And the government and gasolene willing, the Perrys will have some time on the road ahead for their retirement.

Financial Experts See Business Letdown at Beginning of New Year

Wrestlers Score Well in Novice Meet

A lot of big, tough Class A wrestlers may have been surprised last week-end by the performance of some local mat men.

Chelsea, in competition with 26 area teams, placed quite satisfactorily last Friday and Saturday in the Ann Arbor Novice Tournament—in fact, the squad was the only Class B school to place in its sophomore division.

The competition, Coach Richard Jareis reports, was "fairly tough. All our boys did good jobs—but in particular the guys who won championships were outstanding. Also the freshmen—basically kids who've never wrestled before this year—put in some fine performances."

In the sophomore division, Dennis Bauer placed first at 167 pounds, while Nick Keiser grabbed a fourth at 112 pounds.

At the freshmen level, Jim Stahl took a first at 98 pounds; Bob Swanberg placed second at 126 pounds as did Leonard Hafner at 132 pounds; Joe Branham came home with a third place at 138 pounds; and Bob Bentley managed a fourth at heavyweight.

Among the 26 schools represented in the tournament were powers like Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Huron, Walled Lake, Trenton, Belleville, and Wayne.

Although 32 members of the Chelsea squad were scheduled to participate in the tournament, due to various unfortunate situations like illness, bad weather, and other complications, Coach Jareis reported, only 22 actually made the trek.

After Readjustments to Energy Crisis, Recovery Should Be Felt

By Babson's Reports, Inc. Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Shortly after publication of our 1973 forecast, a vital change in the ground rules occurred when the Administration suddenly put into effect Phase 3 of its economic game plan. With its inadequacies of food and feed supplies already driving prices upward, this unexpectedly early shift in policy sent many other prices soaring.

In our forecast of a year ago, we warned against succumbing to the outright optimism on 1973 then prevailing, citing inflation as a possible pocket of serious trouble. Despite some problems no one could predict, factory output, retail trade, profits, employment, personal income, and business capital expenditures achieved the lofty results we projected. Except for limitations of productive capacity and transportation, 1973 could have seen larger gains.

Change in Life Style Ahead

The staff of Babson's Reports now detects signs of a period of change in the life style of the nation's populace. For an indefinite time, rising costs along with inadequate supplies of fuel and energy could force alterations in demand and living habits, just as high prices and short supplies of food have forced changes in our diet. Industrial and commercial establishments and even the nation's international posture could be affected. Use of leisure time and consumer shopping habits may be influenced. Even protection of the environment could become less imperative. On the positive side, however, the might of the country's research and technology will be brought to bear most forcefully upon the fuel and energy problems.

Some Letdown for 1974

Even before the energy shortage had reached acute proportions, there were increasing signals that the cyclical rise in economic activity was aging. In 1973 this three-year-old had already encountered production capacity limitations in one industry after another of a nature not easily remedied. Then came the fuel shortage to clinch matters. So, with interest rates at stratospheric levels and credit supplies still stringent, some letdown seems inevitable for 1974. At this juncture, its magnitude is iffy, depending in large measure upon how long and how onerous the curtailment of Mideast oil supplies turns out to be. Even if the spigots were soon turned on again, we would not be likely to escape without some industrial and commercial disruptions, while consumers might tug their purse strings tighter because of impaired employment and income prospects. Thus, an economic setback of wider scope than a "growth recession" seems imminent.

No Doubt About Inflation

Almost as critical to businessmen, consumers, and investors is inflation. 1973 was a traumatic period on this score, inflation virulent and visible along a broad front. In the opinion of the Babson's Reports staff, the only uncertainty is the degree of inflation that will be seen in 1974. It is too much to hope it will be mild in view of the ongoing escalation of fuel costs along with the inevitable hikes in other fields. Also, the second phase of multi-year labor pacts signed in 1973

Cast Chosen For "Mame," Spring Musical

Maybe, as D'Ann L'Roy said a couple of weeks ago, it wasn't necessary to be a superstar to try out for "Mame," the high school's spring musical.

But the production just might turn out to be a superstar performance anyway.

Experience seems to be the byword for the cast of "Mame," scheduled for March 21-23 in the high school gymnasium. Pat Knickerbocker, who landed the choice role of the flamboyant Mame, is the veteran of a number of years before Chelsea footlights, including in her credits small parts in "South Pacific," "The Sound of Music," "Guys and Dolls," and a school production for younger children, "The Clown" ("I was a lion," she recalls). In addition, within the past year and a half, she has graduated to more elaborate roles, including that of Nancy in "Oliver!" and Hodel in "Fiddler on the Roof."

The question of how a high school senior manages to become a lead for three nights of performance at least—a mature woman who

IT'S A MAD SCRAMBLE for the goodies that fall from the pinata at the Spaulding for Children Christmas party last Saturday. As the children rush to gather up the fruits of Christmas from the traditional Mexican item, Warren Spaulding, founder of the adoption group, watches the merriment from a safe distance.

CHRISTMAS TIME at Sylvan Town Hall, under the Bureau of Social Services, included the annual gift distribution, overseen by Mrs. Lee (Linda) Ormsby, new director of the agency (center), aided by Mrs. Floyd Richtmiller, left, and Mrs. Louis Ramp, former director who retired from the position several months ago. Despite a lack of toys from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's department and the large snowfall last week that made rounding up canned goods by tractors and toboggans necessary, "the community came through," Mrs. Ormsby reports.

Community Helps Social Service With Merry Christmas for Needy

Last Saturday may have been cold outside, but a good deal of warmth was generated over at Sylvan Township Hall—and it wasn't the kind that gets turned down during the energy crisis.

Saturday was the day for the annual Bureau of Social Services gift distribution, and the warmth within the old wood-floored town hall that came from giving and providing for others.

Originally, the outlook for Social Services this Christmas was less than bright, as Mrs. Linda Ormsby, director of the agency, discovered only weeks ago that the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department would not provide funds for toys as had been done in the past.

Obviously, this was not an encouraging sign for Mrs. Ormsby's rookie performance as Social Services director. Responsibility for providing toys for some 88 children who without the aid of her agency, would have next to no Christmas is hardly something to be taken lightly.

Darryl West On All-Star Wrestling Meet

Chelsea wrestler Darryl West will be included in an area all-star wrestling squad that will meet the Japanese Cultural Exchange team on Jan. 5 at Ypsilanti High school. Coach Richard Bareis terms West's selection "quite an honor."

West is a second-year man on the Chelsea squad who wrestles at 145 pounds. Tickets for the event, scheduled for 8 p.m., are available from Chelsea wrestlers.

Chelsea Standard Publication Schedule Changed for Holiday

Because of the Tuesday holidays, The Chelsea Standard will be in the mails on Friday, Jan. 4. All advertising copy and as much news copy as possible should be in our hands by noon Monday.

The truth is, Zeke declared, Americans want to believe in their Government, and he said in matters of faith he had found you usual can believe what you want to.

Furthermore, broke in Bug Hooker, they is a heap going on in the world that don't do our faith in our country much good, but he, for one, was thankful that this year, for the first time in many Christmases, we ain't involved in a shooting war. We can leave them world problems for Kissinger and stick to big news like where a U. S. Court of Appeals has cut down on the distance a photographer has to keep from Jackie Kennedy Onassis. Where he was to stay 150 feet away from her, he can now get within 25 feet just in time for holiday pictures.

And this is a good time of year to report where this housewife that has eight younguns has took a job as a deputy sheriff so she can get some peace and quiet. And the idea of saving energy by cutting off liquor making is being hit hard by folks that say they need a dram of that kind of energy to get them through these football games in 10-below weather.

"It's a free style of living" is still an unanswered query for Pat, who admits that the role is "quite a challenge—but I'm really excited about it."

As the young Patrick Dennis who joins Mame and her fast-living friends, local audiences will no doubt recall 10-year-old Pat Powers as the fiddler from "Fiddler on the Roof," described by his leading lady as "just a doll."

Since the action of the play covers a number of years, an older actor is needed to portray the maturing-to-mature Patrick Dennis and those acting shoes are filled by Junior Dale Heydlauff. Dale, who thus far has a perfect appearance record in high school productions since his arrival there, having appeared in every one, was also a member of this summer's production of "Fiddler."

In the behind-the-scenes action, things will be placed in equally capable hands—once again, DiAnn L'Roy will be calling the shots as director, with assistance from Jeanne Thornton, while choreography will shine again under the tutelage of Joan Yocum, local talent and Eastern Michigan University dance major who has created some quality stepping for Chelsea musicals in the past few years.

With 43 cast members, 12 costume changes for Mame, and numerous sets requiring some "really bizarre" furniture, according to Pat Knickerbocker, the play promises to be a sure-fire extravaganza that will necessitate a gang of crew members to bring the production off. Names of committee heads, however, were not available at presstime.

Mame's costumes in particular including some quite elaborate outfits, should provide a bit of original eye-appeal, as they will all be custom-made, with some designed by the leading lady herself.

And numbers like the familiar "Mame," a rouser that needs no further description, "Gooch's Song"—described as "pretty much a show-stopper" by Pat Knickerbocker, and the sadly honest "If You Walked Into My Life" are all ones designed to set toes tapping and audiences humming for days after the performance.

Appearing as the assortment of characters in Patrick and Mame's adventures will be Jodi Daniels, Michelle McClear, Howard Salyer, Dennis Petsch, Glenn Alter, Jim Powers, David Klirk, Skip Foytik, Dennis Bauer, Dave Clemons, Martha Blanchard, Steve Fligg, Perry Johnson, Jenny Lane, Judy Powers, Don Harmon, John Storey, Shawn Spaulding, Matt Diederich, Cindy Turcott, Kathy Treado, Doug Beaumont, Dave Tucker, Polly van Slambrouck, Laura Cordin, Jan Powers, and Nancy Hepburn.

Mame's friends include Jill Barritt, JoAnn LaFontaine, Theresa Ottoman, Nancy Wonders, Lynn Roskowski, Bill Paul, and Keith Cockerline.

The "That's How Young I Feel" dancers include a number of both male and female performers who hold other parts, and also Liz Harselshwardt, Sue Leach, and Carol Warywoda.

March 21... opening night is quite a while away, but the anticipation level in these local superstars is rising already.

It's winter sports time at the Metroparks. Ice skating, hockey, ice fishing, sledding, tobogganing and nature hikes are the key attractions. For details, area residents should contact Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropark near Utica, Kensington Metropark near Milford or Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville.

Social Service Helps

"I was really worried for a while," Mrs. Ormsby admits, but the community really came through for us."

The community did, indeed. The display at Sylvan Town Hall was one worthy in both quality and quantity of a well-stocked Toyland.

For older and athletically-inclined youngsters, games of basketball and football were waiting for a couple of competition-minded hands to put them to action. Familiar games like Candyland and Grab-A-Loop were there on the tables aching for hours of indoor activity.

Younger children could be captivated by the wagon of blocks, maybe to spend hours zooming on the kitchen floor beneath everyone's feet. For the ones just a little older, but still intrigued by the transportation situation, there were miniature dump trucks.

Dolls were waiting to be chosen by the little people, too—dolls with practical-looking clothing for spending hours walking and talking and acting out life with their understanding aid of their young owners. The other kinds of dolls were there, too, the ones too beautifully dressed to join in play, but instead hold places of honor on shelves.

The toys weren't all new, by any means—some were definitely used but in such good condition that the difference was negligible. The real basis for all of them was the same, however—they were gifts from the heart and pocketbooks and households of people and businesses that would get no recognition for their generosity. All that was in the gesture for them was the good feeling, and their own knowledge of contribution.

Some who did receive recognition from Mrs. Ormsby were a number of high school students who took to tractors, snowmobiles and toboggans last Thursday to collect canned foods when school was cancelled in deference to nearly-impassable snow-covered roads.

Thursday was to be the collection day for canned goods for Social Services at the high school, but the snow made prospects for food for baskets look shaky, at best.

But Mike Nadeau and Larry Doll, a couple of high school student council organizers, gathered up some other civic-minded souls and went to reach both the outlying areas of the district and village residents as well. They returned with nine boxes of Christmas canned goods to add to the agency's food baskets.

Accorded their due recognition for their efforts were Gerry Doll, Jon Lewis, Basil Scott, and Doug Craft, who covered the rural areas, and Kathy Treado, Sue Frisbie, Sue Mann, and Kim Dresch, who canvassed the village.

Filling out the food baskets for 38 families that those nine boxes of canned goods began were the dessert touches of Jiffy Mixes and a purchase order for meat from Social Services that may be used at local grocery stores.

All in all, a very merry Christmas for a number of people—and the Bureau of Social Services owes it all to the village of Chelsea itself.

Open Dating Serves As Guide to Freshness

Open dating is the consumer's guide to freshness, says Portia Morris, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University.

"Open dating refers to easily recognizable dates found on many food packages in the grocery store, the specialist explains. In the grocery trade, this date is called a 'pull date.' As a food product comes closer to its pull date, its freshness and storage life decrease.

Cottage cheese marked with today's date and purchased today, for example, shouldn't be stored in the home for more than two or three days.

"Open dating is a voluntary service by manufacturers for consumers, and consumers should make good use of it," Dr. Morris says. "If you find outdated food merchandise in a store, let the store manager know. Often the food products you find on a sale table are close to or beyond their pull dates."

Wayne county's representative on the seven-member Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clincon Metropolitan (Park) Authority is William E. Kreger. He is vice-president of Great Lakes Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and a member of the Board of Panax Corp., which owns several daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan.

SANTA HO-HO-HO'S his way into the Christmas party at the Spaulding for Children home on Waltrous Rd. It appears to be a toss-up who is the leading attention-getter for the afternoon's activities—Santa or Warren Spaulding, founder of the adoption agency, who is as surrounded as Santa is, by members of the Spaulding "family."

November Traffic Death Toll Less

Traffic deaths in Michigan in November provisionally numbered 163, which was 11 or about seven percent less than 174 charged to the same month last year, according to State Police traffic division figures.

The total also was 48 below the average of 211 for November in the five-year period 1968-72. High for the month was 233 in 1968 while the low was 87 in wartime 1942.

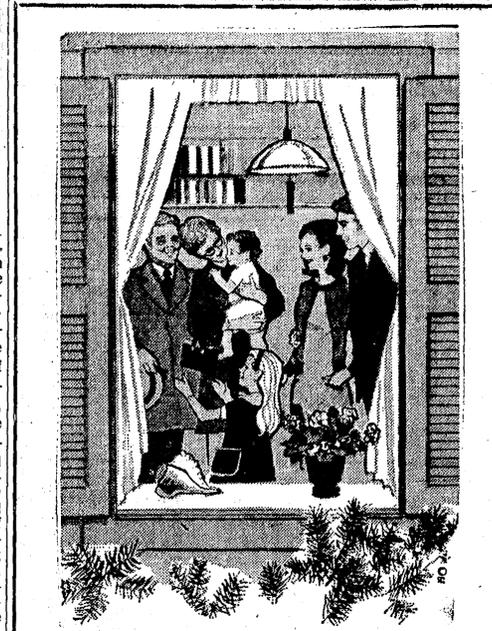

November was the seventh month this year to show a decrease compared with corresponding months last year.

With the November decrease, the accumulated toll for 11 months is 2,075, which is 13 fewer than 2,083 recorded in the same time span last year.

Looking ahead, Michigan's count of road fatalities for December this year will be compared with 170 in that month in 1972. December has an average of 174 in the 1968-72 period.

Delayed death reports will increase somewhat the death counts for November and the accumulated period.

A stronger voice for hospital directors in the Veterans Administration central office is assured by a sweeping reorganization of the VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery.

Less Prosperity

We are not having the average quality of the year's performance of 1973. In these troubled times, the economy is showing signs of a recession. The unemployment rate is rising, and consumer spending is slowing down. This is a cause for concern for the future of the economy.

General National Product

The staff of Babson's Reports has for a 3 percent increase in the Gross National Product (in current dollars) for 1974 as compared with 1973, primarily as a result of higher prices. If the fuel and energy shortages are not ultra-severe in the winter months, early-year economic activity could be bolstered by existing backlogs of unfilled orders. Capital outlays

Industrial Production

If we can escape a protracted recession, industrial production may not suffer too badly, but a decline seems inevitable for part of the year. Key areas have already felt the sudden recession. The automotive industry is particularly hard hit. The expansion of new record crop output in 1974. There should also be some increase in livestock and poultry supplies over the next twelve months. The picture as a whole promises more reasonable food prices, particularly after the 1974 growing season is well under way.

"A Penny Saved Is . . ."

Not Good for Business. Although consumers have been a bulwark against recessions for nearly three decades, they must not be the stopper this time. Spending will be hurt by weakened consumer confidence, soaring living costs, and the burden of installment payments. Now, the high cost of both heating and transportation fuel along with gasoline shortages may limit shopping jaunts. Neighborhood mini-plazas and local retail outlets will benefit from this situation. Since neighborhood shopping tends to be less extravagant than that done in the impulse-buying supermarkets, we foresee a period during which consumers will channel more of their disposable income into savings and debt repayment. Long term, this is healthy and lays the groundwork for the next cyclical upbeat in the economy, but the short-run impact is negative. Less consumer spending will mean reduced inventory buying, with perhaps some backup of goods.

Employment—Personal Income

Aggregate personal income during 1974 will not show the vigor of the past two years. It will be up, but boosted more by transfer payments (social security, unemployment compensation, etc.) than by earned income. Salaries and wages and income of proprietorships and partnerships will average lower than in 1973 because of the slower business pace. Support will come, however, from wage hikes in multi-year union pacts, new agreements, and built-in cost-of-living adjustments. Employment faces reductions in 1974, and the jobless rate could average 6 percent, but may run as high as 7 percent at the topmost point. As in the early years of this decade, unemployment will be difficult to shrink because of the flood of new workers into the labor pool.

Building and Construction

While the nation's housing needs are still enormous, tight and costly money has snuffed out the boom after the high rate of residential starts in 1972 and the first half of 1973. Government figures on building permits issued give no hint of early improvement in this sector which utilizes so much manpower and materials. Resumption of vitality must await a longer spell of anti-recession credit policy than the past six weeks. By late spring of 1974 or sometime during the summer, residential building should bottom out, probably near the 1.1 million annual rate, and thereafter the economy can derive much-needed support from this source. For 1974 as a whole, new residential starts should approximate 1.3 million units. Industrial and commercial

Special Construction

Special construction bolstered overall building activity for a good part of 1973. But high costs, supply shortages, and now the lack of clarity as to consumer spending plans and shopping patterns are likely to cause some hesitancy for non-residential building during the coming year.

Interest Rates, Bond Market

Late in 1973 the monetary authorities at least temporarily relaxed their anti-inflation credit restriction in order to forestall a serious recession due to fuel shortages. Confronted with both inflation and recession, the Federal Reserve may be forced to vary its tactics. For now, the need to protect the economy prevails. So the peak in interest rates may have been seen for this go-round. With an economy-propping monetary policy and business needing less borrowed capital as activity eases, short-term money rates will likely back away from recent peaks but long-term rates, which had risen less than short-term in the past two years, will recede more slowly.

Stock Market Outlook

Two significant 1973 scares for the stock market were (1) the early-year panic over food prices and supplies, and (2) the still-current worries over oil and gasoline shortages with the unhappy consequences for business and employment. The former proved temporary and should not be overly distressing in 1974, but fuel-energy troubles will be harder to resolve. Hence, depending on the Mideast picture, the stock market may face more uneasiness that could carry well into spring. By then, Israeli-Arab peace talks may have made sufficient progress for investors to start thinking in terms of better business some months away. And the market could assume a more hopeful stance.

Now is a practical time for investors to effect portfolio realignments to meet individual goals. Start switching to improve your position whether you are seeking growth or a combination of reasonable income and some inflation protection. These changes can be tied in with tax considerations. With numerous depressed issues in virtually every industry group, go bargain hunting for well-established

Former Convict Will Appear at Youth for Christ

The Rev. John Gimenez, former convict and drug addict, will be the featured speaker at a rally sponsored by Huron Valley Youth for Christ, to held Jan. 5.

Prior to 1962, John Gimenez was a drug addict who had served time in such places as Sing Sing, Auburn, Elmira, Rikers Island and Tombs. Today, John Gimenez is an ordained minister and presently living in Virginia Beach, Va. He is pastor of Rock church which is located in Virginia Beach. The amazing change in the life of John Gimenez is best described in his own words. "God brings His Holy Spirit into lives that are all messed up, and that bursting forth of Him in us is so beautiful and sweet. We struggle so hard for so long to keep our bodies satisfied, and He does it in a few minutes."

Also on the program that night is music by New Jerusalem. The rally will be held at Pioneer High School Auditorium. Following the rally, a coffee house will be held at the high school recreation New Jerusalem, Paul VanValin and Doug Howell.

Admission for the rally is free. Admission is charged for the coffee house following.

Immanuel Church Will Show Slides On Israelite Refuge

Immanuel Bible Church will be having colored slides on prophetic Petra Sunday evening at 7 p.m. with the Rev. Robert Bowden, of Grass Lake Baptist church narrating.

Petra is the place of refuge for the Israelites that are trusting God when the Anti-Christ comes to attack them; and they hide in this city of rock.

Immediately following the evening service refreshments will be served. A cordial welcome awaits all who wish to attend.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
 Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
 Marketing Information Specialist
 "Oh Christmas tree, oh Christmas tree.
 Thou art so green at Christmas-time."
 A real Christmas tree is the natural way to celebrate the Yuletide season and Michigan leads the nation in the production of plantation-grown Christmas trees. The 1972 crop of 4,750,000 trees was valued at more than $26 million, according to marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Stately evergreens are grown on tree farms throughout Michigan contributing to the state's ecology as well as economy. Vast acres of trees create oxygen for fresher air, reduce wind speeds, cool temperatures and prevent soil erosion. They also provide a cover for wildlife and noises are muffled for a scenic, tranquil environment.
 Scotch pine is the most popular variety grown in Michigan. It makes up about 88 percent of total Christmas tree sales. Producers find it relatively easy to grow and, with special measures like shearing, it can be transformed into a well-rounded, shapely beauty to enhance the appearance of any room in your home. White spruce, Douglas fir and balsam fir are other popular varieties.

Michigan growers say it takes from 6 to 10 years before Christmas trees are ready for sale. They are planted and harvested on a rotational basis and special cultural practices are used to provide quality. Most of Michigan's trees are grown on marginal agricultural land poorly suited for food production and they are a renewable natural resource.
 Carloads of Michigan Christmas trees are shipped to other states, and they're in great demand as far away as Florida, Texas and California.

Enrollment in Catholic schools in the Diocese of Lansing is on the increase, according to figures compiled at the start of the 1973-74 school year. Although some schools reported fewer students than last year, an over-all increase was registered, reversing a seven-year downtrend.

The politicians have convinced us that some of them have to be liars.

Peace...

May the spirit of world peace pervade the future. With deep sincerity, we wish you Happy New Year.

Get An Accurate Liquid Measurement

Did you ever think that an optical illusion could make your next baking adventure turn out to be a flop?

Your eyes do play tricks on you when you're measuring liquids in a glass measuring cup, explains the extension foods and nutrition specialists at Michigan State University.

When you're looking down on a full measuring cup, your vision is distorted and what looks like a cup of liquid is actually more than one cup.

Even a little extra liquid can make the difference between a flop and a success.

An accurate measurement is easy to get every time—just set the full cup on the counter and check it at eye level and you have it.

Pudding Tips

If you enjoy the richer taste that a little extra dab of butter gives your pudding, you may also be surprised to find you have a thinner pudding with a silky mouth feel.

Michigan State University foods and nutrition specialists explain that extra butter or fat interferes with the formation of the cornstarch gel which thickens the pudding.

If you didn't add any extra butter, and still ended up with a thin pudding, you may have goofed elsewhere—by adding too little cornstarch, stirring the mixture too much or heating the pudding mixture over too low heat. All or any of these procedures can produce a soupy product.

Christmas Star Visible In Early Evening Sky

This Christmas week Jupiter and Venus will appear close together in the early evening sky, says Michigan State University astronomer, Robert C. Victor.

"We may be reminded of other planet groups which have been suggested to explain the star which guided the Magi," he says. The word star in those days was used to mean nearly any astronomical event of stars and planets, says Victor, of MSU's Abrams Planetarium.

Venus is very bright during December, he says, and may be seen one hour after sunset low in the southwestern sky. Jupiter is close to the upper left of Venus.

SECOND CHANCE?

In life, you never really get a second chance to make that important good first impression.

4-H Clubs

TERRIFIC TAILORS—Terrific Tailors 4-H club met on Saturday, Dec. 15 for their annual Christmas party at Lima Township Hall.

We had Christmas gift exchange Refreshments were served by Annie Merkel and Vickie and Tammy Downer. Decorations were put up by Cheryl Barrels, Alice Juergens, and Sue, Nancy, and Beth Keller.

We had a guest from the 4-H office, Wendy Klvi.

Our next regular meeting is scheduled for Jan. 5.
 Diane Luick, secretary.

From Mrs. Orpha Miller, Hutchinson, Kans.: I remember when we filled the ice house. My father ran a meat market and every winter ice had to be brought from the river 18 miles away. It seems to me it was only half a block long and about as deep. My sister tells me it was only half a block long and she cannot remember how deep.

Just about everyone in our small community helped. My brother and I got to make one round trip each day riding in the wagon. The ice blocks were 4 feet long and however deep the ice had frozen that year. The men either were at the river or driving the load of ice in for the men to pack away in the ice house. I can remember the dank smell of the wet straw the ice was packed with.

The ladies were busy cooking and serving delicious meals. I know not how these people enjoyed the meat my father served as meat was treasured then as now. Nowadays rivers don't freeze that hard in our area. But I am sure several people remember putting the ice up for the meat shop.

Anger is often more harmful than the injury that caused it.

SCHRAMM WILLIAMS: Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Schramm, 5920 Wadley Rd., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Marie, to Patrick Williams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Williams of Stockbridge. The bride-to-be is employed by University Microfilms, her fiancé is a graduate of Stockbridge High school and is employed by Dana Corp. A June wedding is planned.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scherdt and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harook and daughter, Edie, left Friday for snowmobiling at their cabin near Baldwin. They will be joined in the sport at Baldwin with the Scherdt's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scherdt, Jr., and children, of Ypsilanti.

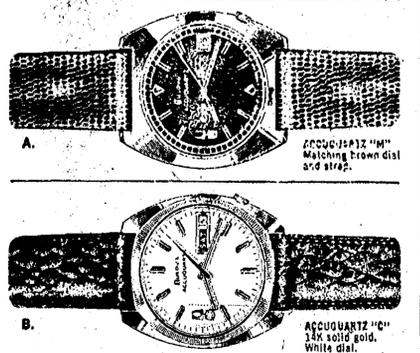

Let this be the prelude to a very magical New Year.

BULOVA ACCUQUARTZ®

you don't have to understand it to love it!

It means you can own a watch of exquisite accuracy, that's light and comfortable and is something other people think is just wonderful. If anyone gets technical, just say its accuracy is controlled by a high precision quartz crystal vibrating at 32,768 cycles per second. Incredible! Come in, we'll show you all the styles. From $200. We'll even explain how it works. (Watch shown actual size.)

Snowmobile Rules Restated By Sheriff

Rules and regulations about pastimes that are supposed to be fun are the sorts of items that normal, red-blooded Americans wholeheartedly and emphatically "forget."

But when Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department staff issuing directives on those same fun activities, it could be time to remember.

'73 Was Good Year Down on the Farm

Nearly everyone, at year's end, takes inventory of the year that was—how well he has met the challenges, weighing victories against failures, and calculating accomplishments, with dreams as a measuring stick.

First, the registration of your vehicle. Sgt. Dexter warns that unless you intend to ride only on your own property or property that is under your personal control only, you MUST have your vehicle registered. Further, the registration must be with the vehicle regardless of who is driving it.

On state land or recreation areas, an accumulation of four inches of snow is necessary before snowmobiling is allowed.

The vehicle itself must be equipped with a tail light and headlight for night operation. Brakes must be able to lock the traction belt or be capable of stopping the machine in a safe distance.

For those less than 12 years old, regulations prohibit crossing streets or roadways. Children under 13 must be accompanied by an adult or legal guardian on a vehicle.

Operation of the vehicles is also restricted from frozen lakes or ponds unless the snowmobile is at a minimum speed required to maintain forward momentum.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Janus was one of the gods in Roman mythology. He was pictured with two faces, one looking ahead, the other backwards.

January first is an ideal time to look back, but it is far more important to look ahead. Worry, regret, disappointment and other negative thoughts of the past can and should be replaced with positive thoughts of hope, faith, trust and confidence as we look ahead.

When Congress attempted to impose mandatory price rollbacks, farmers went to Washington and told their Congressmen that the proposed legislation would be disastrous to agriculture and have a serious impact on our nation's economy.

When the U.S. Department of Labor set forth an "emergency" pesticide re-entry standard, which would have been financially impossible for farmers to meet, cause unemployment of farm workers, and hike food prices, farmers went to the courts and testified at hearings.

You could say it was a good year for farmers. For the first time, they began to realize a reasonable return for their efforts and investment. And consumers began to realize that agriculture's "victories" were also their victories that what happens "down on the farm" affects them, too.

In recent years, the annual U.S. consumption of canned meats averaged about 14.5 pounds per person a record level. During the past 20 years canned meat consumption has gone up more than five pounds per person.

Texas was struck by 2,068 tornadoes from 1953 through 1971, while Rhode Island and the District of Columbia recorded none.

Nov. 29-Dec. 6-13-20-27-Jan. 3-10

As our food producers complete their year-end inventory, they can be proud of how well they met the challenges. Their victories far outweighed their failures, and their accomplishments took them a giant step closer to realizing their dreams.

When consumers reacted negatively to higher food prices, caused by inflation, farmers told them of the huge investment and effort it takes to produce the quantity and quality of food they had come to take for granted, and that no farmer would invest 10 cents to produce something the government said he must sell for a nickel. Result? Consumer understanding and support of the free-market approach farmers advocate.

When Congress attempted to impose mandatory price rollbacks, farmers went to Washington and told their Congressmen that the proposed legislation would be disastrous to agriculture and have a serious impact on our nation's economy. Result? The price rollback provision was defeated.

When the U.S. Department of Labor set forth an "emergency" pesticide re-entry standard, which would have been financially impossible for farmers to meet, cause unemployment of farm workers, and hike food prices, farmers went to the courts and testified at hearings. Result? Proof that no emergency order was needed.

You could say it was a good year for farmers. For the first time, they began to realize a reasonable return for their efforts and investment. And consumers began to realize that agriculture's "victories" were also their victories that what happens "down on the farm" affects them, too.

Heavy Snow Blankets Area For Christmas

The weathermen last week weren't quite as accurate as the Great Horned Owl of the past St. Patrick's Day.

There weren't any hurried ice cream trucks at the Fair Service Center at the high school, or any other commercial activity.

The situation didn't turn into the usual Christmas way station this time, but it still produced some problems that weather can cause the functions of mechanical and bustling markets.

Busch Service on Jackson Rd., for example, was flooded with calls on both Wednesday, when the store staff began its onslaught, through Thursday. Brad Smith describes his business ironically as "pushing" and reports that three trucks were reaching drivers in the area for more than 40 hours. But the trucks, too, encountered their problems. "We got stuck, of course, just like everybody else did."

Chelsea Police, however, reported no accidents due to the snow, probably because few people ventured out once arriving home. Main St. at 6 p.m. Wednesday was silent and deserted, except for a few merchants shoveling their walks in hope of a better day for the Christmas trade when the snow stopped.

Joyously for local students anticipating the Christmas holiday anyway, their vacation was lengthened by two days, when impassable roads on both Thursday and Friday forced the closing of school for those last two anxious days before the scheduled vacation.

For Chelsea Social Services, the snow presented a seemingly major quandary until a group of high school students decided that tractors and toboggans could be put to use. The high school's canned goods drive, which provides food for the agency's Christmas baskets, had been scheduled for Thursday. Undaunted, however, student council members Mike Nadeau and Larry Doll organized two groups of fellow students—one for rural areas and one for the village—and collected nine boxes of canned goods for the drive; another crisis averted.

Neither rain nor snow nor sleet may be the motto of the postal service, but snow like the one last Thursday dampens anyone's resolve to "get the mail through." Rural carriers were unable to deliver last-minute Christmas mail on Thursday, although city mail was delivered. Friday all routes were again relatively back to normal, and all areas received delivery.

And then, as if all this wasn't enough—those lulled into a false sense of security that at least we'd have "a white Christmas" were disappointed—the whole mess was transformed magically on Christmas day into a gray drizzle.

Such, apparently, are the tempests that weather inflicts on mankind and his very human hopes.

Court Hearing Slated Jan. 14 For Holloway

At the request of his attorney, a new examination date was set for Ray F. Holloway, the 24-year-old man who held a Dexter police officer at gunpoint in a Dexter parking lot on Dec. 4.

Holloway's examination was set for Dec. 26, but Judge Henry Arkinson re-set the examination to Jan. 14 in Chelsea District Court.

Holloway is charged with armed robbery and assault with intent to kill and his 18-year-old accomplice is charged with armed robbery in the shoot-out with Dexter police officer Hugh Vaughn.

Vaughn wounded Holloway in a shoot-out behind Hackney Hardware before the two men fled in the police car. Vaughn was not injured.

Holloway, who is on five years probation for breaking and entering, turned himself in to his probation officer and has been held on $100,000 bond.

The juvenile was questioned at his Lakeland home and was released to his parents. His case will be under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

HCMA Director Laidlaw Elected To National Post

David O. Laidlaw, director of the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan (Park) Authority, is the new chairman of the National Council of the National Recreation and Park Association.

The National Council has 125 members representing all the various branches, councils, state associations and other organizations in the National Association. Its function is to co-ordinate and serve as a forum for these organizations and to advise the National Recreation and Park Association Board of Trustees.

The National Recreation and Park Association is a non-profit service and educational organization concerned with improving park and recreation programs throughout the United States with headquarters in Arlington, Va.

Laidlaw was elected to this new post recently. He is also a member of the Michigan Park and Recreation Association, the Michigan Forestry and Park Association, the Michigan Parks Association and the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Council. He is also a member of the State Recreation Advisory Committee composed of 15 members appointed by Gov. William G. Milliken.

The Authority operates nine Metroparks serving the counties of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw.

Car Pools Not New Thing at MSU

Car pooling is nothing new to Michigan State University students.

They have been sharing rides to all parts of the nation for more than eight years, with the aide of the Ride Board posted in the Student Union.

The Ride Board was organized to aid hundreds of students in finding transportation on weekends, during vacations and any other time they might need it.

"The energy crisis hasn't posed any new problems, for students because they have always had transportation problems," said Colleen Hennessy, a member of the Union Board which sponsors the service.

"It was either a car that was too old to make a long trip, no car at all, or too little money to utilize commercial transportation," she explained.

New Washtenaw ASC Community Chairmen Listed

The Washtenaw County ASC Committee for 1974 is chairman, Earl Doletsky; vice-chairman, Lawrence Seim; and member, LeRoy Braun.

Terms of office for county committees are on a three-year basis, with one new member normally being elected each year at a convention of newly elected ASC community committeemen. This year LeRoy Braun was elected to serve on the County Committee for a three-year term. In addition, first and second alternates are elected for one year. The newly elected alternates are 1st alternate, Lloyd Grau and 2nd alternate Simon Girbach.

The ASC farmer - committee system is unique. No other group of citizens has so direct a voice in developing and running government take part in programs administered by the committee first elect community committeemen, who in turn elect county committeemen. While the county committee is in actual charge of administering the programs locally, including expenditures of federal funds, the community committeemen lend operating assistance where needed and are particularly responsible for keeping their neighbors informed about the programs available.

The elected committees are not federal office holders. Congress holds the Department of Agriculture responsible, and the department in turn relies on the judgment and leadership of the locally elected farmers and the county office employees. The county office serves as the headquarters for farmer business connected with program participation.

Major ASC activities in Washtenaw county include the Feed Grain Program, the Wheat Program, the National Wool Program, Price-support Loans, Storage Facility Loans, Dryer Loans, the Crop-Set-aside Public Access Program.

A list of the new community committeemen follows.

Linton-Dexter—L. Duane Noah, chairman; Grover Colby, Jr., vice-chairman; Malcolm J. Reinhardt, member; Orson A. Beeman, Jr., 1st alternate.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. MILLIKEN

Question: Governor Milliken, the energy crisis is going to have greater effect on those of us living in rural areas of northern Michigan, where there is no bus service or mass transit system. My livelihood is dependent upon my own personal means of long distance transportation, so gas rationing won't do and I can't afford to pay a high gas tax. What are you going to do to help keep us from going broke?

Answer: I am currently seeking support from the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission for the development of a special rail and bus service in the northern Michigan area. I have asked the Commission to authorize both an immediate and a long-range program of regional co-operation on energy policy, and to begin a program for supporting energy-efficient public transportation.

State officials have already developed plans that would enable inauguration of special service next year, but these plans depend on getting adequate funding. The northern Michigan area is a vital part of the lifeblood of the state's economy, and we need to do all that we can to assure that citizens in your area are able to move about freely despite the energy crisis. A program like this one can help immensely.

Additionally, emergency legislation for a special $1.7 million state program to expand the public transportation system has already passed the House, and I have strongly urged its speedy passage in the Senate.

Question: Governor, are we going to see any political reform in Michigan in the near future?

Answer: Yes, in the area of campaign disclosure, and I hope in the areas of lobbying and financial disclosure by candidates and officeholders. In October, I proposed a far-reaching and comprehensive package of reforms, and at the head of that list was campaign disclosure. My proposal would require candidates and political action groups to account for 100 percent of all contributions received and expenditures made every year. I firmly believe that the electorate has the right to know who is financing political campaigns in this state and how those funds are spent. With that information, I am confident that the voters can cast wiser votes on election day.

We very nearly passed the campaign disclosure bill, Sen. 1016, in the Senate last week. But on the last day of the session, Democratic Senators blocked final passage. But I want to make it clear that we will see political reform in this state, despite this setback.

Events of recent years convince me that we need to move firmly and quickly to clean up the flaws in our electoral system and to restore our public trust and confidence in our political system.

The reforms I have proposed will serve to move Michigan in that direction.

Property Owners Willing To Lease Lands Again For Snowmobile Use

Yes, snowmobile owners have found a place in the snow with the help of Michigan's new program to lease private lands for winter snowmobile use.

Most property owners who participated in the program last year are happy with its results according to Robert Manning of MSU's Department of Park and Recreation Resources.

Manning surveyed 52 of the 81 landowners who participated in the program during the winter of 1972-73 when it was initiated by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Manning said that 90 percent of the landowners surveyed said they would again be willing to lease their land to the state for the price of $2 an acre.

taxes. Here are some examples of the savings which the average family of four can expect in Michigan communities: Mt. Pleasant—$101; Marquette—$116; Escanaba—$108; and Alma—$110.

REMEMBER—If you are having problems in obtaining fuel oil, first check with fuel oil distributors in your area. If you cannot get help through these sources, my Task Force on Fuel Supply is prepared to help.

The Task Force's "Hot-Line" telephone number is (617) 373-8250, and it is in service 24 hours per day to help people who are in need of assistance in obtaining fuel to heat their homes. I strongly recommend that anyone experiencing problems in obtaining heating fuel contact the Task Force by calling the "Hot-Line" number.

SUMMARY OF 1973 LOCAL EVENTS:

Year-End Review

January . . .

1—Chelsea High school teachers agree to a new contract. The new contract will provide for a 5 percent raise in the base salary of teachers.

2—The Dave Pastor family is held at gun point and robbed while the hands wait for young Dave Pastor to come home with the keys to an Ann Arbor jewelry store.

3—Vernon Satterthwaite of 1873 Jerusalem Rd., an assistant secretary of the Chelsea district board of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, retires.

4—Chelsea High school closed for the winter break. The school will be closed from Dec. 27 to Jan. 1.

5—The annual staff of the Chelsea Merchants Home base was held at the home for the duration of January to protect residents from the influenza that has affected many in Michigan.

6—The executive council of Chelsea Education Association meets to discuss the fact that the school board has approved a new contract for the teachers.

7—A very "unprofessional" crowd gathered in a duplex in Chelsea to discuss the fact that the school board has approved a new contract for the teachers.

8—Mrs. David Wolfgang and Mrs. Kenneth Haist, board members of the Home Hall Fund, receive collection canisters from downtown stores, raising a drive that has collected $1,076.90 for the renovation of the hall.

9—Walt Brown, Chelsea Jaycee and National Director of Region 1, presents charter to the new Cassidy Lake Jaycees chapter.

10—Floyd D. Rowe, 73, dies at Chelsea Medical Center after an extended illness.

11—Officers Gerald Shaw and Jack Dettling come upon a heist in progress at Heydnuff's and quickly apprehend the suspect, Donald Eric, 24.

12—Chelsea school teachers vote overwhelmingly to go on strike at 8:15 Monday morning unless the school board changes its position on contract negotiations.

13—Mary Jan O'Hare and her band of enthusiastic high school helpers begin cleaning and furnishing the old United Methodist church parsonage into a teen center.

14—Chelsea teachers strike.

15—Dr. Michael Pappo receives the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award at the annual banquet.

16—CEA and Chelsea Board of Education negotiators agree on terms for a 1973-74 and 1974-75 contract.

17—The Dave Pastor family is held at gun point and robbed while the hands wait for young Dave Pastor to come home with the keys to an Ann Arbor jewelry store.

18—Vernon Satterthwaite of 1873 Jerusalem Rd., an assistant secretary of the Chelsea district board of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, retires.

WILLIAM J. ENNEN

MRS. JEAN LAWRENCE

Council on Aging Names New RSVP Director, Assistant

The Washtenaw Council on Aging announces the appointment of William J. Ennen, of 2762 Page St., Ann Arbor, as the new director of the RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program), beginning Dec. 1. He succeeds Mrs. Marcy Westerman, who as the first director of the program when it began in June, 1973, had the primary responsibility of getting the project under way throughout Washtenaw county.

Mrs. Westerman will continue in RSVP as a volunteer member of the staff.

Ennen is a native of Ypsilanti. His rich and varied background includes experience with the University of Michigan Housing Division, college teaching in philosophy and theology, as well as experience in counseling, public speaking, retreat work, television, and summer work with American Indians. As a former member of the Jesuit Order, he spent a year in Rome as a translation secretary in the Vatican.

Ennen has an MA degree from the University of Michigan with a specialty in gerontology. He also holds degrees from Loyola and Xavier Universities. Mrs. Jean Lawrence, formerly secretary of the Washtenaw county RSVP program, has been promoted to the position of assistant director of RSVP, effective Nov. 15.

Mrs. Lawrence comes from the Chelsea-Dexter area originally and has had administrative secretarial experience for the Boy Scout Jamboree East.

Chelsea Board of Education decides to move fifth graders to Beach Middle school for the coming year, while moving kindergarten back into North and South elementary schools.

Walt's Clippers, champs from the American League, defeat Ruler Farms in the city slow-pitch championship, 6-3.

Chelsea Community Chest sets a goal of $28,362 for the 1973-74 campaign, an increase of $1,362 over the previous year.

Three professional acts are announced as the headliners for Saturday evening entertainment at the Chelsea Community Fair.

Two backyard carnivals bring in $82.07 to fight muscular dystrophy.

Eight young men, allegedly members of a theft ring that worked the Chelsea area for the past two years, are arraigned in 14th District Court.

The six candidates for Chelsea Fair Queen, Robbie Navin, Jodi Daniels, Sherry Moore, Diane Klemmer, Jennifer Tandy, and Carol Warywoda, are announced.

Jodi Daniels is crowned Chelsea Fair Queen after her rendition of "Honor Hatches the Egg" in the talent competition.

$23,720.40 is laid out for the livestock auction at the Community Fair. Rodney Schneider's 970-pound grand champion steer brings $1,455.

Horses from all over the county participate in the Fair's horse show.

Junior class wins the float competition in the parade in junior division. Chelsea Methodist Home again takes first in adult division.

Arthur Schmunk retires after 20 years with the Chelsea School District.

Nancy Rossbach and Lori Gardner are killed in a grizzly accident.

Chelsea Education Association declines to consider extending the school year until June 15, as resolved by the Chelsea Board of Education.

Chelsea High school seniors take off for Nassau.

HCMA Board Member Named To National Recreation Group

For the first time in history a member of the Huron-Clinton Area Recreation Board has been elected to the Board of Trustees of the National Recreation and Park Association.

He is HCMA Board of Commission member Jesse A. Rutherford, well-known for his recreation service in Michigan. He represents Washtenaw county on the HCMA Board and is recreation director of the City of Ypsilanti and has been a recreation professional since 1944.

Rutherford is the first Black from Michigan to join the 63-member NRPA Board of Trustees, consisting of outstanding individuals from all over the country who formulate policy and are concerned with improving park and recreation programs throughout the United States. He will serve a one-year term starting Oct. 1, 1974 and was elected to this post at the recent National Parks held in Washington, D. C.

JESSE A. RUTHERFORD

responsibilities in several business and professional settings in Ann Arbor and Denver, Colo. She began her association with RSVP in July, 1973 as its first secretary. In addition to initiating and managing all of the office systems, she has also served the program in areas of recruitment, public relations, and as secretary of the Advisory Committee.

Mrs. Susan Ashby is the new secretary of the RSVP.

RSVP has an impressive array of accomplishments to show for its few months of operation. It has succeeded in attracting 53 enthusiastic volunteers, and more are in the process of being trained. Since RSVP volunteers are reimbursed by the Federal Government for actual expenses, volunteer service may become feasible for many retired people of low and marginal incomes. Some are finding satisfaction in using again the skills which they acquired through long years of working experience; others prefer the adventure of training for new roles. Many cite the joy they have experienced in renewing contacts with the working world; others stress the satisfaction of "doing something worthwhile."

Agreements have been reached with 40 different agencies where retired persons may contribute their services—and 19 are actively using RSVP volunteers. The response of the agencies has been favorable and there is a great variety of work from which the volunteers may choose. RSVP recruits the volunteers, sees that they find satisfactory placements and work out the details of their participation.

Among the participating agencies are the public schools, health facilities, day care centers, nutrition projects, services for retarded children, libraries, convalescent centers, recreational facilities, and various social agencies. Individual placements are also made.

We don't have space to tell what each volunteer is doing—but here are a few samples! An 80-year-old film maker and animation artist is now consultant to a University of Michigan class in film-making. A group of retirement home residents, unable to leave their home, have nevertheless volunteered their skills, and have made handcraft objects for retarded children. One volunteer serves the public schools as the "nature lady," others work with art projects, woodcraft, repairs of small motors. Three RSVP women in Dexter have a telephone reassurance program and a visiting program for the homebound. Some read aloud or give book reviews to institutional groups. Some tell stories, or repair books in libraries.

The county-wide availability of RSVP is possible through regular office hours in Chelsea, Dexter, Milan, Manchester, Whitmore Lake, Ypsilanti, Willow Run and Ypsilanti township. If you wish to know when the office in your area is open, call 971-7780.

pillow stuffing, and sizing of the sheets.

Then there's your synthetic carpet, and in the bathroom, the plastic shaving cream cover, the soap dish, toothbrush, hairbrush, vinyl shower curtain, and additives in the shampoo in the plastic tube.

Much of your clothing is probably synthetic and don't forget the items in the kitchen, not to mention parts of your automobile's interior and exterior.

You can't take electricity for granted anymore. So use only what you really need. After 9 p.m. and on weekends is the best time. By reducing daytime use you can help save oil and gas which are in critically short supply.

Wait until after 9 p.m. to start your dishwasher or clothes dryer. Turn out lights when you leave a room. You can think of many more yourself.

If you have questions, call our Energy Conservation Advisor at 237-9161 or your local Edison office.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor:

Dr. Warren raised the question of "so-called 'snow-days' in our School District" last week, and rightly so. He referred to a statement made last spring by the President, Board of Education regarding a "contingency plan" to have school even on days when good judgment said keep the buses off the back roads. Since I was the person who made the statement, I should explain it.

Yes, there was a BUSES ON MAIN ROADS ONLY" plan developed and documented by the School Business Manager immediately following the March 17 heavy snow of last spring. It was the lengthy closing of school that brought the fact to light that there was no alternate plan to keep school open on days that buses could travel and pick up students on main roads. Over the past number of years the decision to close school for a "snow-day" has been based on the weather and condition of the "back roads" as judged by the Bus Supervisor. The decision is "go, or no-go," nothing in between. Thus, the decision to close down a 2 1/2 million dollar operation and lose forever approximately $10,000 per day (paid in salaries for non-performance of the job requirement because these days are not made up) is being made on the conditions of the "back roads" rather than by the executive charged with running the School District whose decision should be based on the weather and the total requirements of educating the students.

There is no official Board of Education policy on closing school due to snow, and none is required. The purpose of any school system is to provide the facilities for maximum "STUDENT LEARNING" to take place. Student learning does not take place when school days are lost!

Why are "snow days" lost? The State Department of Education, which administers the minimum 180-day school year required by State Law, says that snow days do not have to be made up. The CEA contract says that teachers are not required to report at the school for work on a "snow-day," and the Administration does not require the office staff to report for work on a "snow-day."

Towards the end of the last school year your Board of Education (by resolution) suggested that the school year-end date be extended by four days provided there were no additional salary costs. This was designed to give to the students something that had already been paid for at the approximate rate of $10,000 per day for nine "Snow Days" taken for the year, or $90,000 paid for no performance. As we all know, the CEA officers polled their members and returned the verdict of "overwhelmingly rejecting the proposal." All nine snow days were lost, and the students were the losers.

Therefore, to ensure that our students get the greatest benefit of our school facilities, "snow-days" should be held to the very minimum. The school administration has the alternatives. "Snow-day" decisions should be made (and defended if necessary) by the executive charged with operating the 10 million dollar plant with a 2 1/2 million dollar annual budget, for the greatest advantage of the 2,600 students.

As of this date, Dec. 21, we are already "in the hole," by three days and approximately $30,000 because of "snow-days."

William F. Storey.

To the Editor:

Six months ago, I left Chelsea for my destination—Belize, formerly known as British Honduras. On my way, I attended orientation seminars and international training meetings in Washington, D. C., the State Department, Miami, and San Jose, Costa Rica. Finally, on June 20, I arrived in my host country, Belize, to begin my 14-month volunteer 4-H program.

I am here to develop 4-H Youth Programs throughout this third world country, with my home base in the northern district (state) of Orange Walk. While working with schools and youth organizations, more than 2,000 young people have become involved in the Belize 4-H movement. Many people have found 4-H work to be a means to develop the country and its resources. The children are of 10 to 19 years age range, and serving, gardens, livestock, and performing arts are their 4-H projects.

4-H Youth Development is my job, but I am learning much about Belize, her peoples, customs, tropical agriculture, and her resources. Since time and space does not permit me to tell you about Belize, National Geographic magazine published a very informative article, entitled "Belize—The Awakening Nation" in its January, 1970 issue.

With all the differences between my two countries, I now feel at home, and my 4-H work continues to be exciting. I would like to thank again those few people and organizations for their generous

More Women Grad Students Increasing

The number of women going on to graduate school is increasing, especially at Michigan State University.

The university reports that the number of women graduate students rose to 2,771 this fall, up 233 from a year ago. It was the largest annual increase in more than 10 years.

Some of the largest gains in current graduate enrollment were in the university's medical colleges. Human medicine rose from 70 women graduate students last year to 97. Osteopathic medicine increase from 19 to 34.

GOING UP?

The price of almost everything the consumer buys has gone up faster than the cost of food. While food costs have increased 47 percent since 1952, the average worker had enjoyed the pay raises of more than 140 percent. During this same period, the cost of medical care has gone up 123 percent and housing costs 64 percent more.

donations and replies to the letters I sent to each organization and church. Many thanks to the St. Mary's church parish for their support. It shows that some people in Chelsea want to help to make the world a better place to live in. Merry Christmas and all best wishes for the holiday season from Belize.

LET THERE BE PEACE ON EARTH and good-will to all men, as the Twelfth Days of Christmas song was the backdrop for the performance of the annual drama of the Christmas program last Saturday at St. Louis School for Boys. The group, looking Christmas-spiffy in their show robes, presented "Born Free," "Let There Be Peace on Earth," and "O Holy Night."

A CHRISTMAS-SPIRITED GROUP from Mrs. Kimball's class at St. Louis School for Boys formed a rhythm band for the school's Christmas program, including such varied instruments as tambourines, jingle-type bells, wooden sticks, and several other unidentifiables. Leading the group in its performance was Doug Herman, in front, a student teacher at the school.

Christmas Seal Contributions Hit 52% of Goal

Contributions to Christmas Seals, featuring the "Twelve Days of Christmas," totaled $16,029 in Washtenaw county through mid-December, which is approximately 52 percent of the 1973 total.

Walter A. Meier, MD, president of the Michigan Lung Association, formerly the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, said the traditional Christmas Seal campaign statewide has reached $561,800, which is 61 percent of its goal of $917,000.

"We are pleased at the response of Michigan citizens to the traditional Christmas Seal campaign," Dr. Meier said, "but it is important to stress that contributions should be sent in now."

Many people give large donations to Christmas Seals because such donations are tax-deductible and the money is used for important health programs which benefit all ages.

The traditional Christmas Seals feature the red double-barred cross. They are the same traditional Christmas Seals which for more than 66 years have helped tuberculosis victims and those afflicted with respiratory diseases to grow stronger and live longer.

As of this date, Dec. 21, we are already "in the hole," by three days and approximately $30,000 because of "snow-days."
