Housewife Eludes Prison Camp Escapee

A Cavanaugh Lake woman escaped from an abductor who intended to force her to drive him to Detroit Tuesday morning when the pair stopped at Foor Mobil on Main St. for gasoline.

Mrs. Benjamin R. Bower, of 16010 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., although aware that her abductor, a 21-year-old Waterloo Corrections Camp escapee, was carrying a knife, said that, "I decided I'd rather have a knife in the shoulder than drive to Detroit with him."

Ralph Fletcher, of Foor Mobil, who "knows Mrs. Bower very well," said that he knew that "something more was wrong than her just being out riding with some one other than her family."

Youngblood waited for the car's gas tank to be filled, paid the attendant with money taken from Mrs. Bower, and drove away. He was apprehended soon afterwards south of Manchester in the Bowers' 1969 Plymouth by officers of the Clinton Post of the Michigan State Police, who had been alerted by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The incident began when Mrs. Bower's husband went downstairs to get ready for work at approximately 5:45 a.m. He found Youngblood on the main floor of the home in his son's clothes.

Youngblood then accompanied Bower back upstairs to awaken Mrs. Bower, and they and the Bowers' 15-year-old son all returned to the main floor. Bower and his son were then tied up with men's ties, Mrs. Bower said.

Although Youngblood was armed with a knife, Mrs. Bower said, he did not threaten the family repeatedly. "We were kind to him, and that sort of softened him down," she said.

Youngblood then told Mrs. Bower that he wanted her to drive him to Detroit in the family car. Since they were on the road, Mrs. Bower told him they needed to stop for gasoline, and at the station managed her escape.

In a telephone interview Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Bower said that she and her husband "are just happy to be alive. We just thank the Lord that we're alive."

In wonder that the Bower home should be the one struck by such an un-rural experience, Mrs. Bower mused, "We just live out here in the country in an old farmhouse. We asked him why he came to our house and he just said that there were lights on, and one door was unlocked."

Still, for all her fear, her reactions were what saved her from, at the least, driving her abductor to Detroit. "She was very cool," says Chief of Police George Meranuck. "Just very rational."

Tuesday afternoon, Youngblood appeared in district court and was charged with armed robbery and kidnapping.

Not to be embarrassed unnecessarily by their Chelsea counterparts, the Dreadnaughts came back tough in the third quarter, chipping away at the Bulldog lead until they were within four points with only a minute and a half remaining in the game.

The Bulldogs, however, responded adequately to Dexter's threatening, and outscored them 11-0 in the time remaining, almost visibly deciding to teach them a lesson.

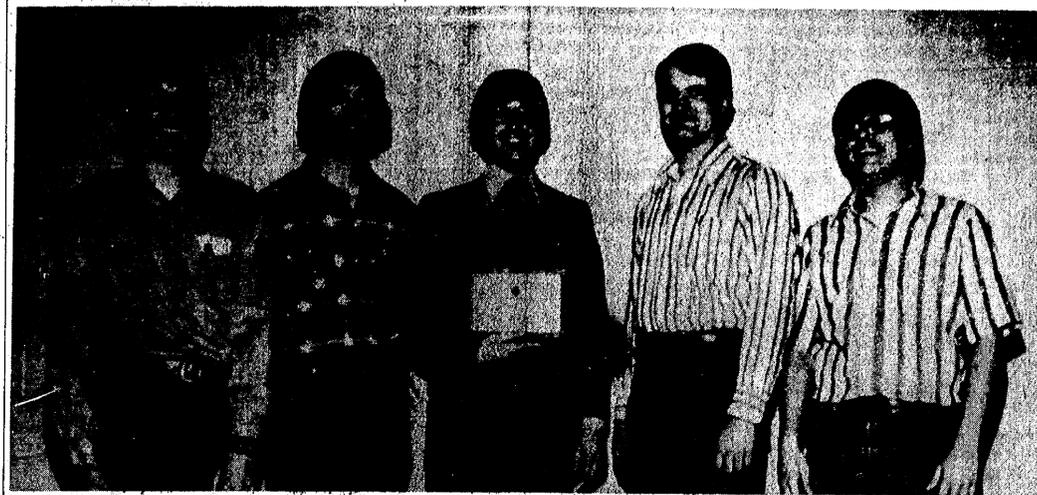

The victory nudged Chelsea's record in the Southeastern Conference up to 4-3, one game behind third-place South Lyon.

Friday night Chelsea will entertain Lincoln's Railsplitters, presently languishing in sixth place in the SEC with an unimpressive 2-5 record.

"The boys are really coming along now," Balistrere says. "The season could be completely turned around in the second half by a good team effort. We're capable of continuing to move," he added emphatically.

In Friday night's action against traditional rival Dexter, Tim Treado went wild to score 29 points. That includes a from-the-floor shooting percentage of 52 percent, plus a perfect seven-for-seven output from the foul line.

"Treado was certainly our big gun," Coach Balistrere said. He went on to praise the Bulldog captain's "all-out effort, fine performance, and team leadership."

Keith Cockerline, took second in the district competition his past week, losing only to Marshall. State competition is scheduled for Feb. 14-16 at Central Michigan University.

Improving Bulldog Cagers Maul Dexter

An "improving" group of Chelsea Bulldogs halted their downhill slide Friday with a 66-51 drubbing of Dexter's Dreadnaughts. The victory gave Chelsea sole possession of fourth place at the end of the first half of the season.

Coach Tom Balistrere, in considering his team's output so far, noted that the Bulldogs have recorded two near-misses in their meetings with the top three teams—they dropped a thriller to undefeated league leader Saline by but three points, then later forced third-place South Lyon into overtime before falling, 71-69.

Only the team's loss to Milan was "really bad," Balistrere said.

"The boys are really coming along now," Balistrere says. "The season could be completely turned around in the second half by a good team effort. We're capable of continuing to move," he added emphatically.

In Friday night's action against traditional rival Dexter, Tim Treado went wild to score 29 points. That includes a from-the-floor shooting percentage of 52 percent, plus a perfect seven-for-seven output from the foul line.

"Treado was certainly our big gun," Coach Balistrere said. He went on to praise the Bulldog captain's "all-out effort, fine performance, and team leadership."

Others who received mention from the coach for their play were co-captain Mary Guster, who scored 10 points; Rick Miller, who scored 11 points and grabbed 12 rebounds; Dave Alber, who scored 13 points; and Ron Kiel, who scored three points and hustled for 10 rebounds.

The Bulldogs led from the beginning, jumping to a 22-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, then upping that to 33-23 by intermission.

Bulldog Cagers Lose Tuesday In Overtime

Chelsea lost another heartbreaking Tuesday night, 59-55, to Parma Western in overtime.

Parma, described by Coach Tom Balistrere as a "really big team"—the starting line-up boasts two players 6'6" and two 6'3"—is presently 8-2 on the season.

Despite such an overwhelming size factor, the game saw-sawed between the two squads for the entire game. With nine seconds remaining to play, Parma led, 53-52.

Dave Alber was fouled and shot one for two free throws to tie the game and force it into overtime.

With one minute to go in the three minute overtime period, Ron Kiel (Continued on page two)

Varsity Debate Team Qualifies For State Tournament at CMU

For only the second time in the history of Chelsea High school debate, Chelsea's squad has qualified for the state debate tournament by placing second in the district competition at Parma Western High school behind Marshall.

Chelsea's final record in the districts was a fine 5-1. Local debaters were defeated only by Marshall, which topped the competitors with a 6-0 showing.

An obviously pleased Coach William Coelius called himself "really proud" of his team and said that they deserved competition in the state tournament after working so hard all season long.

State tournament is scheduled for Feb. 14-16 at Central Michigan University. The top 24 debate squads from across the state will be entered in the tournament.

In previous years, Coach Coelius reported, a further elimination, the regional competition, had been scheduled for debaters after the districts. This competition was removed this year, to allow for direct progression from the district competition to the state tournament.

Members of the state-bound team are Steve Bennett, Brian Smith, Keith Cockerline, and Dale Koch.

Mrs. Duane Weiss, dietician for the Chelsea School District, said that Mrs. Ashley had opened the oven to insert a pan of potatoes when the explosion occurred, burning her and incinerating the front of her uniform.

Mrs. Weiss, who was standing some 15 feet from the oven at the time, said the back of her own hair was singed. No fire resulted from the blast.

Cause of the explosion is unknown and the Fire Department was not called in the incident. The kitchen contains three such gas ovens.

A proposed county wide career center went down to its third defeat in the past five years Tuesday by more than a two to one margin.

To approve the career center, voters would have had to approve two separate proposals, the first regarding the establishment and contracting for the center; the second for the bonding of $7.6 million to finance construction, furnishing, and equipping.

Although the vote was on two proposals, two separate issues were not involved.

On the first proposal, for establishment of the center, Washtenaw county voted 3,810 in favor; 8,389 opposed. The second proposal, for funding, showed a vote of 3,758 in favor; 8,445 opposed.

In Chelsea, the vote was not quite so overwhelmingly opposed. Only 128 voters favored the establishment of the center, while 398 opposed it.

Funding of such a center was even less amenable to the local electorate, however, as it re-elected the second proposal, 403 to 120.

The now-defunct career center would have offered some 40 varied vocational programs to county secondary students, with a curriculum and schedule that would be planned to expand upon county high school programs.

JA Week Will Feature Open House

Back scratchers and wooden plaques? Take your pick. Either one or both are available from Chelsea's two Junior Achievement companies, Yo-Co (which manufactures and markets the back scratchers) and Mini-Corp. (which produces the wooden plaques with customer's name or address cut into the wood.)

In honor of Junior Achievement week, which begins Jan. 28, local Junior Achievers will sponsor an open house on Tuesday, Jan. 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Beach Middle School.

In the southeastern Michigan area, Junior Achievement, a non-profit organization, is supported by 200 of the largest corporations in the metropolitan area.

Such support enables some 7,000 students annually to participate at the 28 business centers located in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties.

Yo-Co is sponsored by the Chelsea Division of Dana Corp.; Mini-Corp. is sponsored by Chelsea's Chrysler Proving Grounds.

Career Ed Center Loses Out at Polls

A proposed county wide career center went down to its third defeat in the past five years Tuesday by more than a two to one margin.

To approve the career center, voters would have had to approve two separate proposals, the first regarding the establishment and contracting for the center; the second for the bonding of $7.6 million to finance construction, furnishing, and equipping.

Robert Daniels Receives JC Service Award

Earns Recognition for Second Time

Robert Daniels, who was honored as Outstanding Young Man of the Year in 1961, has been named the recipient of the Jaycees Distinguished Service Award for 1973.

According to Walter Brown of the Jaycees, "We recognized Bob's involvement in the community 12 years ago, and now we're recognizing that he's still involved."

Daniels, an active member of the Recreation Council, Kiwanis Club, and the Chelsea Board of Education, in addition to his workday existence at Chelsea Lumber Co. was awarded the Distinguished Service Plaque Tuesday evening at Weber's in Ann Arbor by Dr. Michael Papo, who received the award last year.

The Distinguished Service Award annually goes to the person considered to be most deserving of recognition for distinguished service to the community over a period of more than one year. A committee of townspeople—this year, one Jaycee member and two non-members—decides from the list of nominations (submitted by the community) who is most deserving.

The award ceremony was part of the scheduled Bosses' Night for employers of Jaycees, planned annually to thank them "for time off that enables us to do Jaycee work and generally to show our thanks." The evening acted as a kick-off for Jaycee week, which this year celebrates the 50th anniversary of Michigan Jaycees.

Boy Scout Troop Plans Paper Drive

Boy Scout Troop No. 465 will conduct a paper drive on Feb. 9. Money raised by the troop will help to finance a trip to camp.

For pick up of papers, call 475-1867 or 475-1832.

THREE WORTHY CAUSES were the recipients of the financial blessings of the Modern Mothers Child Study Club Tuesday evening, when Sherri Plank, president of the group, distributed three checks, which constituted all of the proceeds of the group's recent cookbook sale. From left are Joe Royal, sponsor of the CHS National Honor Society; Mrs. M. C. Miller, representative from Spaulding for Children; Robert Morkel, representing McKune Memorial Library; Sherri Plank, and Amy Vaught. Spaulding for Children received $10, the first installment of a check for that amount every month for the coming year. McKune Library received $711.80, as did the National Honor Society. Money donated to the NHS will be used toward the Chelsea Scholarship Fund.

Mothers March Is Underway To Help in Birth Defects Fight

Mothers marching doesn't necessarily mean that something's being protested.

People standing on street corners don't always have to be panhandlers.

Both examples just happen to be part of March of Dimes activity this week in Chelsea and surrounding communities, in recognition of January as March of Dimes month.

Organizers of the annual Mothers March say the format for this year, which has the march schedule over a week-long period, is to encourage time-limited people to both donate to and participate in the march.

According to Mrs. Audrey Bongo, Chelsea March of Dimes chairman, a week-long drive is expected to be "more convenient" for fundraising for both workers and potential donors.

It's much easier because some people just can't help out at all when we make it a one-day thing," says Mrs. Bongo. "We think it's a lot better to have a week for Mothers March."

Although the designated march is Jan. 21-23, Mrs. Bongo adds that the canvass for donations will continue until all residential areas in and around the village have been contacted.

Businesses and industries are being solicited for the drive by mail. Replies from these areas are returned to the Chelsea State Bank, whose employees "do a wonderful job for us," according to Mrs. Bongo. Bank employees receive and workers can sort through it and deposit funds into the group's account at Chelsea State Bank.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: They ain't nowhere like the country store, Mister Editor, to get inside facts on the past, present and future. Saturday night, for instance, Ed Doolittle brings up this matter of barns. He said he has noted that houses is bigger than barns these days, and that is a sure sign the wife is the boss of the house.

Ed said he had saw in one of his farm journals where barns as we know em is going the way of the buffalo. They are being replaced by metal buildings that look for the world like them shopping center stores, so he figgers when we run out of someone to eat and we have to plow up all the parking lots to raise food, we can use the stores for storage.

Clem Webster broke in to say he would make a motion that the fellers invite Dr. Abraham Wolfson to our Saturday night sessions. Clem had saw by the papers where Dr. Wolfson is 92 years old, and he has decided he has talked enuff. He said talking was wasting energy, so he limits himself to talking three days a week. Clem was fer inviting him on one of his talking days so he could explain how he stays quiet four days.

Jest imagine, went on Clem, what four no-talking days could do fer saving energy in the country in general, and in Congress in particular. If them Congressmen would use four days to think about what they're going to say the other three, we could have a economical law-making outfit like we used to have when we cut off their pay whuther they were thru or not.

Farthermore, declared Clem, Dr.

Wolfson's plan ought to be welcome at the White House. That is the place where silence is golden these days, was Clem's words, and it looks like the folks there was observing the no-talking days when the tape machines was running.

Incidental Mister Editor, Josh Clodhopper made one of his rare comments at the session Saturday night. He come out strong in favor of President Nixon taking up fishing. He said it looks like tax and talk experts is going into ever angle of his life, but they is a American tradition of long standing that you don't disturb a man's privacy when he is fishing or praying. If the President prays out loud the investigators will want to hear both ends of the tape conversation, Josh said, so the only thing left is fishing and four days of silence.

General speaking, the fellers was agreed with Bug Hookum, that give a report on a decision by a judge in Brooklyn, N.Y. Bug had saw by the paper where the federal judge ruled that prisoners git to read the same newspapers everybody else in the county read. The case come up after officials of the jail said letting the convicts read the papers woul upset em. Bug said let em read about the outside and they'll be glad they're inside.

Yours truly,

tion for March of Dimes and peasaunts, either Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts, as yet undecided, who will accept donations in exchange for their wares. Balloons, buttons, and peanuts will all be available this week-end in the Main St. area. Also planned for this week-end is the WNRS radio auction, to be broadcast from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26, from Briarwood Shopping Mall. The auction, under the auspices of all Washtenaw County March of Dimes groups, will feature items donated by county merchants and bid upon by telephone by the radio audience. A similar auction last year raised $1,900.

Local business that have thus far agreed to donate to the auction are Chelsea Cleaners, Chelsea Drug, Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea Glass Works, Chelsea Hardware, Gambles, Gar-Nett's Flower & Gift Shop, Jiffy Market, Hilltop Plumbing and Bath Shop, and Western Auto. More are expected to be confirmed soon as donors.

Also again this year, March of Dimes boards will be placed in local bars and canisters in area businesses. Last year, the race to fill up the respective boards first became quite a competition between Wolverine Bar and The Pub, with Wolverine eventually edging ahead. A fund-raising dance for the March of Dimes is tentatively planned for early February, Mrs. Bongo says. Further information will be announced at a later date.

PANFRIED PERFECTION

Comparatively thin slices of beef steak often made tender by pounding, scoring or cubing, can be panfried for a speedy and satisfying meal. Especially popular choices for panfrying are cubed steak and thin slices (1/2 inch thick or less) cut from the sirloin tip or round. The steaks are browned on both sides in a small amount of fat. Some cuts will cook in the fat from the meat; others will require additional fat to cover the surface of the frying pan to prevent sticking. Do not cover the meat. Cook at a moderate temperature, turning occasionally, to desired degree of doneness. Season with salt and pepper after browning, if desired. Remove from pan and serve at once.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Energy the Top Issue

For once, the hottest education issue in Michigan isn't money.

This year it's energy, according to John Porter, the state superintendent of public instruction. Porter says that state aid to education consistently, one of the topics most talked and worried about among top educators, isn't even among the major issues facing Michigan education.

"The legislature, by adopting a state aid bill previously that provides for increases in state aid over a three-year period, took a significant step in providing greater financial stability for Michigan school districts—something they have needed for a long time," Porter says.

That's lucky, apparently, because this year there's something else to worry about. Porter says the energy problems will affect education at all levels in the state. "For instance," he notes, "Michigan school districts will pay $5 million more for gasoline for school buses this year than they did last year."

Porter lists four other major issues facing education in 1974, and the impact the anticipated U.S. Supreme Court decision on this issue will have in Michigan's urban areas.

Development of an effective teacher preparation and professional development program to improve the quality of education. —Demonstration of quality education in many Michigan school districts to educators in other districts and to the public.

Cagers Defeated

(Continued from page one) fouled a Parma player attempting a rebound. Parma managed to hit for both the free throws, then got the ball out of bounds and scored again. Although the Bulldogs regained the ball, a last second shot was no good.

Gary Wonders earned particular praise from Coach Balistrere in the contest, as he came off the bench and added "extra scoring punch"—to the tune of leading the Bulldogs with 19 points. Tim Treado scored 13; Rick Miller, eight; Rick Sweeny, six; and Ron Kiel, four.

Leading rebounders were Treado with 18 and Rick Miller with 12. Coach Balistrere noted that Rick Sweeny performed very well in coming off the bench to replace Kiel. Tomorrow night the Bulldogs will meet Lincoln in a league encounter at home.

Reform May Come

If lawmakers refuse to do it, the citizens may.

So says Common Cause, the citizen's lobby group, about election reform legislation in Michigan.

At a recent Lansing news conference, Michigan Common Cause Chairman Al Swerdlow, conjured up the prospect of an initiative petition drive to put the reform question on the ballot.

"We really hope the legislators will live up to their responsibilities and pass meaningful legislation," he says. "But if they won't we will put out the record of each legislator on these matters."

Common Cause seeks laws requiring full disclosure of all campaign contributors, a limit on contributions by individuals, a limit on total spending for each candidate, and creation of an independent commission to enforce the laws.

Several bills dealing with campaign and election reform have been introduced in the Michigan Legislature in recent months and

Chairman Named To Head Girl Scout '74 Cookie Sale

Mrs. Robert McNaughton of 11725 Waltham Dr., Ann Arbor, has been named general chairman of the 1974 Girl Scout Cookie Sale conducted by Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, it was announced today by Mrs. Louis Galan of Dexter.

Mrs. McNaughton will direct the activities of more than 5,700 Girl Scouts in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe counties as they sell cookies which provide more than 50 percent of the Council's camp facilities budget and most of the money used by troops for service projects and activities.

Active in local Girl Scouting since 1972, Mrs. McNaughton currently serves as a Troop Services Director (volunteer supervisor), for Dicken school Girl Scouts, as well as troop leader for Junior Troop No. 190 there. Last year she served as cookie sale area chairperson for the southwest side of Ann Arbor, one of the four Ann Arbor sale territories.

weeks. But there has been little action on any of them.

And More Reform?

If the route to reform is petition drive, there may be problems.

A relatively new state law limits petition drives to 180 days. That means all signatures—roughly 300,000, including extras for a margin of error or unacceptible signatures—must be collected within six months time.

The leader of a petition drive underway right now says that is not enough time unless there's a real "gut issue," such as abortion or state aid to private schools, or a "sophisticated organization and high financing."

The pronouncement comes from Kirby Holmes, the Republican state representative from Utica who is spearheading the capital punishment drive.

"If I cannot easily get 300,000 names in 180 days with this issue, no other single person, or group of people, lacking a sophisticated organization and high financing will get that number of names with any other issue in that short a period of time," Holmes contends.

"One hundred and eighty days is indeed a very short time, most of which must be devoted to organization rather than the petition drive itself."

Holmes says he believes the 180-day law, therefore, "effectively denies the right of initiative, referendum and petition to the people."

He's asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley for an opinion on the constitutionality of the law, and says he may file a class action suit to determine whether constitutional guarantees are in fact denied by the law.

NOW Says "Now"

"We can and should be doing a much better job of following through on commitments to increase the numbers and the position levels of women and minorities" in state government.

That may sound like a radical statement to some—a logical one to others. It was made recently by Gov. Milliken.

The governor voiced that "firm belief" after meeting with a delegation of folks representing the National Organization of Women (NOW). And he promised to appoint an executive office task force to "encourage, assist and assess affirmative action programs in all departments of state government."

Delegates to Area Girl Scout Council Will Be Elected

Election of delegates to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council and talks on opportunities for travel in this country and abroad through Girl Scouts will be featured at the Tuesday, Jan. 29, meeting of the Western Washtenaw Area Association of the Huron Valley Council.

The meeting which is open to all adult and school-age Girl Scouts (age 14 and over) will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 110 E. Madison St., in Manchester, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Conducting the meeting will be Mrs. Hans Skjaerlund of 4600 Strawberry Lake Rd., Dexter, who is chairman of the association.

According to Mrs. Skjaerlund, the meeting will elect seven adults and one girl to be their delegates to the policy-making Council meeting in March. To do this, 30 percent of the troops in western Washtenaw Council must be represented in the voting.

Featured speaker at the Jan. 29 meeting will be Mrs. Wilbur R. DeHart of Ann Arbor, a member of the Wider Opportunities Committee and tours offered by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and available to local Girl Scouts.

Appearing with Mrs. DeHart will be Girl Scouts Miss Barbara Gilson of Ann Arbor, and Miss Gal Simmons of Belleville, who attended Wider Opportunities events in Nashville, Tenn., and Ten Sleep, Wyo. last year. Miss Hilary Fitch, a Girl Guide from Manchester, England, will describe Girl Scouting there.

Wrestlers Head for Title Showdown with Dexter

In a match that may decide the Southeastern Conference wrestling title, undefeated Chelsea will tangle with also-undefeated Dexter tonight in Dexter.

Chelsea, fresh from trouncing Novi last Thursday and a hot performance in the Parma Western Triple Dual meet Saturday, is boasting a perfect 5-0 record in league action and tied with the Dreadnaughts for first place.

Coach Richard Bareis predicts "a really tough meet," citing as particular threats Dexter's two big men, Mike Klapperich, a member of the area all-star team chosen to meet the Japanese Cultural Exchange team, and Don Trinkle.

In wrestling action last week, Chelsea soundly drubbed Novi's Wildcats, 49-6.

The Bulldogs got off to a fast start as Jim Stahl scored a pin.

Nick Keiser recorded a tough 2-0 decision, and Dale Schoenberg was awarded a forfeit.

Novi then managed its only points when Dave Clouse was pinned at 119 pounds. Mike Agopian, Dale Poertner, and Doug Reed then followed with decision wins.

Darryl West then pinned his opponent. At 155 pounds Dennis Bauer had to fight back to gain a 12-9 decision. Tim Reed then recorded an 11-0 win before Ken Keiser and Rex Miles each scored pin victories.

Pinckney Area Man Faces DUIL Charge

A Pinckney man whose weaving car was followed south on M-52 as it wandered from center line to shoulder of the road Saturday was charged with driving under the influence of liquor, Chelsea Police reports say.

Gene L. Taylor, 112 Camelot Dr., Pinckney, pled not guilty before Judge Henry Arkison in 14th District Court Monday morning. His pre-trial examination was set for Feb. 27.

According to reports, Officers McDougall and Detting, while on routine patrol, saw Taylor's 1972 tan Oldsmobile wander off onto the shoulder of southbound M-52 in front of Chelsea Lanes, then pull back onto the road. This and general unsteadiness of the vehicle occurred a number of times, officers reported, until Taylor pulled over at the Shell station on M-52 at Brown.

Taylor reported under questioning by the officers that he had had two drinks at a local bar that afternoon, police said. A breathalyzer test recorded .19. A reading of .10 is considered to be intoxication.

Taylor was charged with driving under the influence of liquor, read his rights, and taken to Washenaw County Jail, where he was able to post bond and was released, police say.

CYCLE HAZARDS
Chicago—The National Safety Council reports that the chances of being killed on a motorcycle are almost four times as great as in an automobile.

JV Cagers Fall To Dexter, 64-57

Two poor scoring outputs in the first and third quarters hindered the comeback attempts of Chelsea's junior varsity cagers, and they fell once again, this time to Dexter, 64-57. The squad has now fallen below .500 with a 5-6 season record.

Randy Sweeney led the team in scoring with 20, while Randy Guenther added 17. Howard Salyer hit for nine points.

Guenther and Salyer dominated the rebounds, with 16 and 7, respectively.

Circuit Court Proceedings

Thomas Lopp, 23, of Cassidy Lake Technical School, stood mute to a charge of escape from prison. Not guilty plea was entered by the court. Pre-trial hearing is set for Jan. 24.

Randy Henson, 20, of Cassidy Lake Technical School stood mute to a charge of escape from prison. Not guilty plea was entered by the court. Pre-trial hearing was set for Jan. 24.

Ronald Edward of Cassidy Lake Technical School was sentenced to serve from 14 months to five years consecutive with his original prison sentence.

Marathon Curbs Use Of Cards
FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Marathon Oil Co. service stations no longer accept bank, travel or entertainment credit cards, a spokesman for the firm said Tuesday.

The spokesman said the change, effective last Friday "does not affect our own credit cards or our agreements with other oil companies."

The action was taken because of the shortage in gasoline supplies and "the cost factor involved" in handling credit sales through travel clubs or entertainment associations.

The firms issuing such credit cards charge Marathon a percentage of the amount of the sale, he said.

Sorry — Because of the Teamster Strike against our supplier, "Allied Foods," all advertised sales will be discontinued until supply gets back to normal.

However, meat, bread, milk, produce, ice cream, and many other trucks are still arriving. We are buying from many different sources and are still able to serve you.

We hope it is a short strike so that we can once again offer you the weekly specials that save you many shopping dollars each week.

We thank you for your business. We ask you for your help, understanding and patience, until after this strike is settled and we can return to the full service that you deserve and enjoy.

Thank you.

Wrestlers of the Week

JOHN TANDY is a senior participating in his second year of varsity wrestling. Tandy, who wrestles at 145 pounds, also plays football for Chelsea. He expects that Bulldog wrestlers will take the conference title this season, as several others have predicted. At present he is undecided about his future after high school. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tandy, he has four sisters, Karen, Nanette, Mary, and Jennifer.

MIKE AGOPIAN is a junior who's been a wrestler since his freshman year. Two weeks ago in the Schoolcraft Invitational Tournament, Mike received a fourth-place individual honor for his performance in Chelsea's 11th place standing. Mike, too, expects that Chelsea will take the conference title and will send "some of our guys" to state competition. He is the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Terns, and lives with them and John, Robin, and Tina Terns.

Varsity Cagers Are Better Than Standings Show

With half this year's basketball season behind them, an "improving" group of Bulldogs are looking to the second half of the season to begin their move upward.

Statistics from the just-finished first half of the season, however, show a team that is anything but a bunch of fourth place patsties.

In scoring, the squad is led by Dave Alber with 173 total points. Included in this are 76 buckets and 31 free throws, a percentage of 42 percent from the floor and 57 percent from the foul line.

Tim Treado follows with 160 points, and in third place is Gary Wonders with 103.

Rebound honors are a tight race between Treado and Ron Klies. Treado has the edge by one with 118. Leading in assists for rebounds is Gary Wonders, with a big total of 22, followed by Alber and Treado with 16.

Brown Drug, Chelsea Lumber Still Winning

Brown Drug and Chelsea Lumber remain undefeated in the third week of Recreation League basketball with perfect 2-0 records.

In Tuesday night's games, Wolverine Prairie Chickens defeated Dana, 41-22; North American Rockwell edged Heydlauff's, 46-42; and Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet trounced the Independents, 55-38.

After a slow start, Wolverine won its first game at the expense of Dana. Dana scored most of its points in the final quarter, showing an offensive output exceeding any so far this year.

High scorer for Dana was Burton with eight, while Henry hit for 11 for Wolverine.

In a very closely-contested game, North American Rockwell handed Heydlauff's its first defeat. The lead changed hands often, with Rockwell getting the final lead in the last few seconds of play.

Patrick of North American Rockwell was good for a big 24 points, while Heydlauff's Tobin scored 10 to lead them.

Lloyd Bridges took an initial lead over the Independents and never relinquished it. This was the Independents' first defeat of the season.

High scorer for Bridges was Tom Steele with 17. The Independents were paced by Randy Brier with nine.

In last Thursday's games, Brown Drug trampled Dana, 65-23. Four Brown Drug players, Whitaker with 19, Wilson with 14, Meyers with 11, and Kennedy with 10, scored in doubled figures. Dana's high scorer was Weiss with nine.

Chelsea Lumber ran away from the Wolverine Prairie Chickens, 45-37. Chelsea Lumber was in command all the way, even though they were pressured in the final quarter.

High scorer for the winners was Houle with 16. Topping Wolverine were Eppen with 16 and Parsons with 12.

Four out of every 10 married women are working outside the home.

Faculty 'Has Beens' Meet in Benefit Game

Basketball past and future is available for the asking at the annual high school-junior high school faculty basketball game this Saturday, Jan. 26, in the Chelsea High gym.

The future comes first, at 7 p.m. when the boys in the biddy basketball program display their skills. The biddy program enables eleventh- and twelfth-grade students to learn the skills of basketball in an organized fashion. They will take the floor again at half-time of the main event.

Basketball past (or maybe only the ghost of) takes the form of the "two teachers' teams. Among the well-preserved specimens playing for the high school will be Jim Tallman, Phil Bareis, Paul Terpstra, John Schaffner, Bill Bainton, Tom Balistrere, Ken Larson, Warren Mayer, Dennis Andarise and Mark Ruhligh.

Standing by to administer encouragement, oxygen, or heart massage to the high school team will be the "old pro," Pat Wade.

The junior high is well-represented by Burt Kruse, Randy Johnson, Charlie Waller, Joe Beard, Tom Neumeier, Lenny Soloman, Jim Hoffmeyer, Jim Tichnor, Rich Bareis, and Ron Harris.

Refereeing are two veterans, Al Conklin and Dick Lapanowski. The high school team is laying its tremendous ONE game winning streak on the line in this contest. Tip-off is at 7:30 p.m.

The game is sponsored by the athletic department with proceeds to be used toward a scholarship for a 1974 graduate. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, with a special deal allowing the entire family in with two parents who buy tickets.

An enjoyable night is planned with entertainment, and laughs for all, and maybe even a little good basketball.

Boy Scouts... TROOP 425

The meeting of Boy Scout Troop 425 started at 7:30. Then we worked on some skill awards. We talked about getting skill awards, and that so many of them would get you out of some work at the camp outs. The meeting ended at 9:00.

An experimental program to test the Florida strain of largemouth bass in Michigan recently struck a snag when 30 pairs of fish imported as brood stock by the Department of Natural Resources were hit with a fungus disease, causing high mortality. It is hoped enough can be saved to get some fry production next spring. Florida largemouths grow much larger than their northern cousins. Whether they can thrive in Michigan's colder waters is the question behind the experiment.

Stockbridge Youth Earns Trip To National 4-H Marketing Meet

REX HANNEWALD

A Stockbridge youth, who raises and sells market lambs, will be a delegate to the 23rd National 4-H Commodity Marketing Symposium in Chicago, Jan. 20-24.
 Rex H. Hannewald, 17, of 14886 M-52, Rt. 2, Stockbridge, was selected for the trip award by the Cooperative Extension Service, which supervises 4-H work.
 The Chicago Board of Trade sponsors the program and the symposium, an annual event bringing together 4-H'ers who have completed outstanding commodity marketing projects. Delegates from 28 states will attend.
 Hannewald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hannewald, is a high school senior and is at present, undecided on a career. He is an eight-year 4-H'er.
 The Jackson County youth lives on a 500-acre farm with his parents and an older sister and has made a study of commodity marketing as it relates to the family's farm operations.
 Last year, the family bought lambs, fattened them and sold them five months later at an increase in price, the youth said. "Usually we take risks on the market rather than contracting on futures," he added.
 This year for the first time the family contracted some of its 1973 corn crop and the price of corn increased sharply. "We are debating whether to buy our contract back and sell at current prices," he said.
 Hannewald said that some of his corn crop is marketed through his feeder lambs.

 The youth said that he learned in his commodity marketing project that growing corn for a profit requires careful management. He learned the importance of crop rotation, how to take soil samples, and the importance of fertilizers.
 Hannewald also learned the different kinds of seed to use in his area and that percent of moisture affects the type of storage needed for shelled corn.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN—
 Teacher: Mrs. Michelson
 Colored snow flakes decorate our windows. Snow flakes have six points but we only made four. It's easier.
 The hills for sliding on our playground are fun. The ride is long, fast, twisting, turning and bumpy. If you went past our school you could see the many snowmen we made. They look like they are guarding the school yard. Two boys from the 4th grade made a snowman for us, too. They are Bobby Pritchard and Eddie Stanley.
 There is a lot to learn about ourselves: We want to get along with people and be happy. We want to be healthy, not sick. We discuss what we should do—eat right, get enough sleep, fresh air, play and exercise to feel good. When you think about it, we are all different and our houses are different, our telephone numbers are different. Some of us know our telephone numbers, and "even other peoples." We are important people.
 Our store is like a regular store. We can weigh things on the scales and somebody is the clerk. (There are many kinds of scales. We weighed ourselves, too, and measured to see how tall we are.)
 Our dinner will be next week. We will make it ourselves. We planned a good meal. Everyone tastes everything even if it is a teeny-tiny bite. Some children are afraid—afraid to try something different.
 We saw the moon in the morning. It is not like the sun at all and you can look right at it. The sun does not really go down, but it looks that way. It is a star, you know.

FIRST GRADE—
 Teachers: Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Peebles and Mrs. Stein
 Our January birthdays in first grade are: Marie Bulick, Ann Cashin, David Ciancio, Melissa Hamilton, Charlie Koenn, Rebecca Lee, John Poulter and Sheri Rowe.
 Mrs. Peebles' room is learning to be extra, very quiet. She has a throat and vocal condition that requires special treatment, part of this being to never raise her voice. The children are learning to respond to attention clues such as a bell, a whistle or a chord on the piano. The children are trying very hard to be good listeners and quiet helpers.
 Mrs. Stein's class will miss their high school student helper, Diane Robbins, as she leaves for a busier last semester. The children want to say "Good-bye Diane, we liked having you help us with math and being so nice in our room."
 A new addition to our program is Miss Nancy Nelson and her dolphin friend, Duso. Nancy is a student teacher from Eastern Michigan University, and working with Miss Pulsipher. Duso is the word which means developing understanding of self and others. The first graders are starting a unit this week called Duso. Every week, Miss Pulsipher's student teacher, Miss Nelson, presents Duso the Dolphin and his underwater friends: Through stories, songs, puppets and pictures, Duso helps the children to become more aware of themselves and others. For example, our lesson for next week is about the importance of being yourself. Other lessons deal with responsibility and working with others. Duso is a fun way of presenting these concepts to young children.
 We have started going to the library and learning the library rules; We can take one book home every third Friday. Our librarian is Mrs. McClear.
 Winter finds everyone working on his winter book. This leads to our investigating changes in family activities and habits, what the animals do and how we can help them and our feelings about this season. Thermometers are being used to learn about what is freezing and not how to simply read a thermometer. By using snow, ice, and various degrees of inside warmth the movements of thermometers are being discovered by children. A new experience has been created by the "time change." The opinion of most of the children is "I don't like coming to school in the dark." Everyone seems to have adjusted to this, however.

SECOND GRADE—
 Teacher: Mrs. Walton
 We have three birthdays this month. Tom, Debbie and Michelle will all be eight years old.
 We are studying about trains. We read some stories, and the names of some cars, and the names of some people who work on trains. We have train pictures in our room. Ron brought his train for us to look at.
 We are sending for more books from the Weekly Reader Book Club.
 We are reading S.R.A. stories and keeping track of how many we read, on a chart. We are also keeping track of who gets a star on their math papers.
 In science we are studying some different sources of light—the sun, electric lights, candles, fires, etc.
 We saw a movie about "Animals in Winter." We like playing in all this snow. We slide on the ice and sometimes get hurt. Some of us go snowmobile riding at home. All of us have been on slides, tobaggons or ice skates.
 Teacher: Mrs. Hakala
 We have been busy taking reading tests. Now, we are enjoying the stories in our new reading books. We are learning all the addition and subtraction facts in mathematics.
 We had fun at our belated Christmas party that was planned by Mrs. Jackie Schwerin and Mrs. Mrs. Fred Barkley.
 Sheila Briggs has a January birthday.

YOU AND YOUR CAR
 By the Automotive Information Council
 ★ Cold No Guarantee Against Overheating . . .
 The glow of a temperature light or a climbing temperature gauge needle on your car's dashboard are warnings that should be heeded. And while the sight of an up-raised hood and billowing steam is a more common sight during the dog days of summer, overheating engines can be a problem even when the mercury falls around the freezing mark.
 An overheated engine can result in more serious problems than an annoying delay. Abnormally high temperatures can destroy the lubricating film on vital engine components and cause excessive wear, scoring, valve burning and even lock-up moving parts. Overheating can also cause hot spots inside the engine which can cause knocking, which, in turn, can result in damaged engine parts.
 Overheating is caused by excessive production of heat and/or insufficient dissipation of heat. Excessive heat generally results from insufficient lubrication, late ignition timing, staining the engine and leaking valves requiring excessive use of fuel to produce enough power to handle the load. Failure to dissipate heat can be caused by a loss of coolant, reduction of effective radiation surface, reduction of cooling air stream, or restriction of coolant circulation.
 Impaired coolant circulation can be caused by the inner layers of hoses cracking and flaking off due to heat. A reduction in the cooling air stream may result from a loose fan belt or a radiator filled with insects and leaves which blocks the intake of air.
 A defective or incorrect radiator cap, or a leak in the cooling system will cause a loss of pressure which lowers the temperature at which the coolant will boil over.
 Other factors that contribute to overheating are a thermostat that doesn't open properly, or a defec-

As her honor attendant, the bride chose Denise Fortner of Chelsea. She wore a floor-length pink knit gown, with bodice in pastel shades. Her bouquet was blue miniature carnations and baby's breath.

The bridegroom chose Dennis McAvoy, a friend, to act as his best man. Jeff and Gregg Brososky, both nephews of the bridegroom acted as ushers.

The mother of the bride appeared in a floor-length black velvet gown, trimmed in white lace. The mother of the bridegroom chose a light orchid floor-length knit dress.

BARBECUED BEEF FOR MANY
A menu built around barbecued beef on buns is a popular choice for chairmen planning church suppers and scout functions. Thrifty pot-roast is an ideal choice for "barbecuing" and serving sandwich-style to a crowd. The meat can be braised to juicy tenderness in a tightly covered pan early in the day before. Then it may be sliced thinly and reheated in a tangy barbecue sauce for service on crusty rolls. The spiced meat in sauce may also be spooned over fluffy rice or buttered noodles.

Jaycee Auxiliary Plans Projects For Coming Year

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary met at the home of Alberta Colby with two guests present.

President Sue Cail reported on a meeting she attended with RSVP and Girl Scout representatives. The group discussed many ways of joint co-operation among the Girl Scouts and Jayceettes.

Bonnie Kraus was recognized as November girl of the month and Alberta Colby was recognized with the same for December.

The Jayceettes approved entering local projects for state judging and will be working hard on award entries.

The Chelsea chapter will host the District 29 Jayceettes spring district meeting on March 20. The committees and basic decisions were approved.

A discussion was held on the "Library on Wheels" which the Auxiliary has approved as a new project. Emphasis will be on delivering available books to shut-ins and to those who cannot get out to the library. Donated books will be catalogued and lists given to those who are interested. Books will then be delivered upon request. Any one wishing to donate books, larger print preferred, please call Maureen Lapanowski at 475-7104.

Another new project is "Adopt a Grandparent." A list of 19 persons was passed around with each member taking a couple of names. These persons are very much alone and have no families. Members will visit them, write to them, and just get to know them and share a little love.

Burns awareness was approved and chairperson Alberta Colby was granted permission to order media materials to put together a local program. It is hoped all parents will become informed of the danger of flammable children's clothing and steps to take to protect children.

Flight is another major new program for the Auxiliary. This year will be the first that the program has been directed by the Auxiliary. They are taking over the annual program which has been established for several years under the direction of Mrs. Albrecht. Meeting was adjourned with a mini-orientation and new membership handbooks being presented.

BIRDS AND BEES?

Care Labeling Offers Many Helps For Homemaker

Knowing the necessary care procedures for the fabric you buy may be one of the most important steps in home sewing, says Berneta Kahabka, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

"Much time and money can be wasted on a finished garment ever," she says. "Permanent care labels are the sewer's guide and helper in avoiding mishaps."

The care instructions or a code number representing a specific set of care instructions should be found on the end of the bolt on which fabric is wrapped. When you buy fabric, the salesperson should give you a care label which has these same directions on it. Miss Kahabka suggests keeping track of the cleaning instructions by sewing the label right into a seam of the garment for a permanent reference.

"Care labeling can also be helpful in choosing lining and interfacing fabrics that require the same care as your outer garment fabric," the specialist explains. "You might also decide that a certain fabric requires care you don't want to bother with even though you like the fabric. And if you follow the care instructions and obtain unsatisfactory results, you have a better basis on which to lodge a complaint."

Care labeling was instituted by the federal government for the consumer's protection: it's up to you to use it for your own benefit in choosing, evaluating and caring for your fashion fabrics, Miss Kahabka points out.

Cavanaugh Lake Home Hit By Fire

A home at Cavanaugh Lake intended as a retirement residence by its Detroit owner was gutted by fire late Wednesday night, Chelsea Fire Chief Jim Gaken says.

Four trucks and 15 men were needed to quell the blaze at 1244 Ridge Rd., Gaken reports. The cement block structure, with brick outside, was totally destroyed inside.

The fire was initially extinguished in the early-morning hours, but rekindled itself at approximately 6:30 a.m. Thursday and firefighters had to return to the scene.

The home was owned by Francis Hanglin of Detroit, who, according to a neighbor, William C. Dittmar, had purchased it two years ago and intended to retire there. A bachelor, Hanglin had spent the past two summers in the home, but was relatively unknown among Cavanaugh Lake residents.

Dittmar reported that Hanglin's visit to the home on the day of the fire was his first in some time. He had retired at the first of the year, Dittmar said, and was planning to move his belongings into the house soon.

Hanglin was watching television when he noticed smoke curling through the room, Dittmar said. He had previously turned the heat up and later had noticed a leak in the roof appeared to be dripping through a light fixture, although it is not known whether this was the cause of the fire.

Before returning to Detroit after the fire, Hanglin told Dittmar that the home was insured and he intends to rebuild it and retire there when it is livable.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1974

Cager of the Week

GARY WONDERS is a junior playing his initial year of varsity basketball for the Bulldogs. Although not always in the starting line-up, Gary surprisingly enough is third highest scorer for Chelsea at midpoint in the season, with 103 points. He anticipates a better showing by the local cagers in the next few weeks of play, he says, "because we're finished playing the non-conference teams and will be playing the teams we should beat. If we play up to our ability, we should win. We're sort of just waiting to break loose." When not practicing basketball, Gary is an avid hockey player and is also president of the high school's Key Club. After high school, he plans to attend college, but is uncertain of which one or what he'll major in. He lives with his mother, Francella Wonders, and has a brother, Gerald, and a sister, Nancy.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

Allowances help introduce children to the world of living on a fixed income. But an allowance given before age five will not have much training value.

When you think your child can begin to assume the responsibility for a little money, that's when you the parents and the child need to plan the allowance together.

First, you must decide what the allowance will be for. Does it cover birthday presents and presents for the family members? Is it to be pay for school supplies or lunches?

Then, get a fair estimate of how much money this will take by having the child keep track of money spent on these items for a few weeks. When the expenses are totaled, add a little more for the child to spend freely.

A youngster won't get any practice spending money and using judgement if every cent is planned in advance. The amount of the allowance needs to undergo changes as the child grows older. And sometimes, even with good management on the part of the child, emergencies will arise.

Let the child know you are willing to discuss problems. Weigh the merits of each case when deciding if the child needs extra money or not. To be successful, an allowance must be regular and in line with a child's activities and abilities.

Think of the goodwill, progress and increase in productivity we've brought about in backward countries through our technological advice and assistance. As a result of our instruction, one little Asian country is practicing crop rotation - Opium one year, hashish the next.

SEC ROUND-UP:

South Lyon Dumps Brighton in Overtime To Remain Contender

South Lyon recorded another overtime thriller to retain third place in the Southeastern Conference, while undefeated Saline and second-place Milan rolled over two lower-level opponents in Friday night's action.

South Lyon 71, Brighton 68—

After a game of trading leads, South Lyon's hot-shooting Tony Kern, stymied by Brighton guards with only seconds remaining in the three-minute overtime period, passed off to Ed Hock, who hit for the deciding basket for the Lions.

Final score, 71-69, was a duplicate of the Lyons' defeat of Chelsea in overtime two weeks ago.

Brighton had led at the end of the first quarter, 19-15, but Lion Craig Stephens came back with five quick baskets to hand the half-time lead to South Lyon, 33-29.

The Bulldogs chipped away at South Lyon's lead, however, tying it with 7:11 remaining to play. After a number of changes of lead, the score stood deadlocked at 67-67 at the end of regulation play.

The lead continued to alternate until Hock's last-second bucket.

Kern led both teams with 33 points. The South Lyon squad ended with a team shooting percentage of 55 percent, or 31 for 56. The Lions also edged Brighton out in rebounds, 46-33.

Saline 71, Lincoln 54—

Saline kept up its winning ways with a 71-54 defeat of lowly Lincoln, in a game that saw four Hornet players score in double figures.

Dennis King led Saline with 19 points, followed by Dan Scotton with 16, Tim Slespky with 14, and Joe Foster with 12.

Milan 94, Novi 34—

Everybody but the waterboy managed to score against Novi Friday night, as Milan piled up a 60-point edge to grind the Wildcats further into the basement.

A total of 13 Big Red players landed themselves in Milan's scoring column, led by Stan Joplin with 17 and Tim McGovern with 16. No Novi player hit in double figures. Milan also held the rebounding edge, 52-17.

Chelsea 66, Dexter 51—
Led by co-captain Tim Treado, Chelsea's Bulldogs finally recorded their first win of the new year with a 66-51 defeat of traditional rival Dexter.

The victory gave Chelsea sole possession of fourth place, as Brighton lost to South Lyon. Dave Alber added 13 points for the Bulldogs, and Rick Miller had 11.

Help Offered Taxpayers at IRS Offices

Ann Arbor — Taxpayers living in the Ann Arbor area may obtain assistance with their 1973 Federal income tax returns Monday through Friday each week at the IRS office here starting Jan. 2, according to local District Director's Representative LeRoy Willis.

Internal Revenue Service personnel will be available to provide Federal income tax information from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Ann Arbor office is located at 3430 Washtenaw.

The IRS will offer expanded telephone service this year to make it more convenient for taxpayers to obtain information and advice. Telephone service will be offered six days a week. IRS offices close at 4 p.m. for in-person assistance. Telephone service, however, will be offered until 5:30 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Assistance phone numbers for Michigan are listed in the instruction booklets mailed to all taxpayers, according to Willis.

Except for telephone assistance, IRS offices are closed on Saturdays. Many taxpayers will be able to use the "short form" 1040A, again this year. The IRS estimates that about 30 million taxpayers will be able to use the half-page form 1040A.

Taxpayers who plan to pay someone to prepare their return are reminded that the law requires the person to sign the form as preparer. The new forms again include a line for the preparer's Social Security or identification number, says Willis.

Taxpayers who pay to have their returns prepared should be careful to select a qualified preparer, he said.

FISHING?
The boss is mad today. It seems his wife asked him, if he remembered all those trout he was fishing for last summer. He said: "yes." And she said: "Well one of them called up here last night and left her number."

COMET TAILS
Comet tails can stretch tens of millions of miles. The longest yet measured extended more than 186 million miles from the Great Comet of 1843; Halley's Comet in 1910 reached out 90 million miles.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

* The Little Red Hen

"Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about and uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, 'If we work together and plant this wheat, we will have some fine bread to eat. Who will help me plant this wheat?'"

"Not I," said the cow. "Not I," said the duck. "Not I," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did.

The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen. "Not I," said the duck. "Out of my classification," said the pig. "I'd lose my seniority," said the cow. "I'd lose my unemployment insurance," said the goose.

Then it came time to bake the bread. "That's overtime for me," said the cow. "I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the duck. "I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the pig. "If I'm the only one helping, that's discrimination," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did. She baked five loaves of fine bread and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some, demanding a share. But the red hen said, "No, I can rest for a while and eat the five loaves myself."

"Excess profits," cried the cow. "Capitalistic leech," screamed the duck. "Company flunk," grunted the pig. "Equal rights," yelled the goose. And they hurriedly painted "Unfair" signs and marched around the little red hen singing, "We shall overcome" and they did.

For when the farmer came, he said, "You must not be greedy, little red hen. Look at the oppressed cow. Look at the disadvantaged duck. Look at the less fortunate goose. You are guilty of making second class citizens of them."

"But . . . but," said the little red hen. "I earned the bread."

"Exactly," said the farmer. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system; anybody in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. You should be happy to have this freedom. In other barnyards, you'd have to give all five loaves to the farmer. Here you give four loaves to your suffering neighbors . . . and they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked, 'I am grateful. I am grateful.'"

But her neighbors wondered why she never baked any more bread.

MANY ALIASES
The beef heel of round has many aliases. Regionally it has been labeled and known as Pike's Peak, Diamond, Denver or Horseshoe Roast. This fanciful labeling has caused considerable shopping confusion. Under the new standard identity system, it's labeled Beef Round, indicating species and primal or wholesale cut, on the first line and Heel of Round on the second.

A Modern Tale of Two Chelseas

Reprinted from The Christian Science Monitor Friday, Jan. 4, 1974 By Peter C. Stuart
London—Chelsea, England, and Chelsea, Mich.—two communities 3,000 miles apart—share a name, a certain village-like serenity, and an international fuel shortage.

But they are finding the taste of the latter as different as Michigan huckleberry pie and English steak-and-kidney pudding.

Chelsea-lites on both sides of the Atlantic are told they face a fuel "crisis." But—speaking as a resident of London's Chelsea who recently visited the Chelsea in his native Michigan—only the Britons suffer anything approaching genuine hardship.

A visit on a midwinter's night illuminates the difference. Literally. Like the comet

Chelsea, Mich., glows like the Comet Kohoutek in the darkened farmland of southern Michigan. Rows of streetlights cast a bluish glimmer on the snow.

Gaily colored Christmas lights—plastic wreaths, lanterns, and the giant tittlers "NOEL" at either end—twinkle along three blocks of Main Street, even at 1 a.m. when the street has been long deserted.

The large show window of Chelsea Hardware, like other stores, is ablaze with light. A red neon sign, one of many, advertises Chelsea Lumber Company to an empty street.

Chelsea, borough of London, by contrast, resembles its blackout days during World War II.

With the Arab oil shortage compounded by a coal miners' slowdown, half Chelsea's streetlights are switched off. Shop windows are dark. Advertising signs are out. Christmas lights, Scrooge-like, are taboo.

A dark alley
Boutique-lined Kinks Road, normally aglitter with neon and tinsel, is reduced to something of a dark alley.

The five-day workweek survives Michigan's fuel shortage undimmed. But in London most factories and offices can burn electricity only three days per week (either Monday through Wednesday, or Thursday through Saturday). Stores can turn on the lights only mornings or afternoons.

The price of gasoline marked on filling-station pumps in both Chelseas reads about the same: 45 cents and 45 pence per gallon of regular grade. But the London price works out to more than one dollar per gallon.

Traffic thins
At that price (and with long queues at many stations), it's no wonder that traffic on the streets of London's Chelsea grows noticeably thinner.

Motorists here have had those Doomsday-looking gasoline rationing books tucked in their pockets in readiness for nearly three weeks. Coupons for their fellow drivers in Chelsea, Mich., are only now being printed in Washington—and may never be issued.

At home, Michiganders can while away the wintry nights in front of their television sets. Londoners "tellies," alas, blink off at 10:30 p.m. to save power.

Heat only one room
Americans in Chelsea, Mich., and elsewhere are asked to lower their central heating to 68 degrees. Their shivering British brethren—only one-third of whom have the luxury of central heating—are urged to heat just one room of their homes.

"Please heat only one room," plead huge newspaper ads. "If you don't, power cuts could soon be blacking out whole areas for hours on end."

The "crisis" contrasts on the two sides of the Atlantic are tinged with irony.

One Michigan housewife, her furnace thermostat turned down a balmy 10 degrees, huddled sacrificially in sweaters.

Residents of London's Chelsea commonly react quite differently: "Things aren't so bad. We had it much worse, you know, during the war . . ."

Who pays for living expenses (elsewhere) while they repair your home?

Most policies provide the coverages you expect—fire, lightning, storms, riots, vandalism and the like. They cover the cost of repairs due to these losses. But have you thought about the cost of living elsewhere if your home has to be repaired or rebuilt? It could run into hundreds of dollars. Or, it could be covered in black and white in our Homeowners Policy, so we would pay those extra living expenses! Give us a call. We'll put your home insurance all together in one policy for convenience and saving's sake.
