'Mame' Cast Working Hard For Perfection

That elusive theatrical quality—perfection on opening night—is coming closer to the grasp of the cast of Chelsea High school's production of "Mame," scheduled for March 21-23.

Three nights weekly are presently devoted to practices by cast members, with time particularly emphasizing the main group scenes and the one big one, in which all cast members participate.

Choreographer Joan Yocum has the dual task of not only getting her dancers into shape, but also teaching them the intricate steps and moves that can turn a herd into a chorus line.

The first group song, "It's Today," is performed by eight members of the cast—Jan Powers, Steve Pigg, Cindy Turcott, Howard Salyer, Skip Foytack, Dave Klink, Jenny Lane, and Liz Hasel.

The light-hearted "The Man on the Moon" follows, in which Mame, portrayed by Pat Knickerbocker, contracts stage fright while making her theatrical comeback, but is forced on by her loyal friend Vera Charles (Michelle McClellan). Over-dramatic "moon mads," the female members of the cast, complete the scene.

The ego-building title song, "Mame," that gives Mame the lift she needs, is performed by the entire cast.

Most complex of all the scenes is the "That's How Young I Feel" number, the most practiced one of all. Eight couples—including the "It's Today" couples and also Sue Leach, Dennis Petsch, Nancy Wonders, Doug Beaumont, Nancy Hepburn, Martha Blanchard, Dennis Bauer, and John Storey—round out the dancers for this scene.

Tickets will go on sale March 1 for all performances.

Independents Nominate Slate For Village

Harold Pennington, presently a Village Council trustee and past village president, heads the Independent Party ticket as the nominee for village president for the March 11 village election.

Wallace Wood, incumbent, was nominated for treasurer, and Judson Goltra, incumbent, received the nomination for assessor.

Nominated for trustee positions were two incumbents, Thomas Dmoch and Donald Wood, and Bruce Galbraith.

Robert Merkel and Catherine Wagner were nominated for library board positions.

Townships Dimes March Raises $1,752

Township canvassing results from January's Mothers March for the March of Dimes drive have been tabulated, yielding another big total of more than $1,700 raised for the drive to combat birth defects.

Mrs. Jay Hopkins, general chairman for townships surrounding the Chelsea area, reports the following figures from the areas: Lima township, $524.89; Lyndon township, $210.73; Dexter township, $608; Sylvan township, $382.20. Grand total is $1,725.82.

"I want to thank the four township chairmen—Mrs. Gerald Quackenbush, Lima township; Mrs. Gary Roderick, Lyndon township; Mrs. Al Cordell, Dexter township; and Mrs. Earl Heller, Sylvan township—and all their workers for giving of their time so generously to support the March of Dimes," said Mrs. Hopkins.

Mothers March of the village raised a total of $1,073.

Wrestlers Win Again Over Willow Run

With a 28-15 defeat last Thursday of a "respectable" Willow Run team, Chelsea wrestlers move into the all-important league meet this Saturday at Saline.

Bulldog grapplers need a first or second place in the league meet to win the league title outright. The squad presently boasts a fine 15-1 record in dual meet competition.

"Chelsea, being a fairly young team, will have their work cut out for them Saturday," says Coach Richard Baxley. "It will take a real effort from all involved."

Records for the Bulldog matmen include Jim Stahl, now 14-1; Nick Keiser, 12-5-1; Dale Schoenberg, 9-5; John Beeman, 13-2; Mike Agopian, 27-3; Dale Poertner, 18-6-1; Darryl West, 16-4; Dennis Bauer, 17-5-1; Ken Keiser, 12-9; Rex Miles, 8-5; Tim Reed, 9-5; Don Bollinger, 3-2; and Doug Reed, 8-1-1.

In last Thursday's victory over Willow Run, the Bulldogs, wrestling with "a mixed-up lineup," according to Coach Baxley, looked like they were in trouble until some of the heavier weights came through.

Jim Stahl came up with a last period reversal and managed a 2-1 win. Dale Schoenberg, wrestling his first match at 108 pounds, lost 3-0, to Jim Nailor. At 115 pounds, Nick Keiser lost an 8-0 decision.

In the 122-pound match, Dave Clouse came up with an important 3-2 win. Mike Agopian scored a 6-1 decision to move his record to 27-3. At 132 pounds, Dale Poertner was pinned. John Beeman, moving (Continued on page eight)

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH'S Estey Reed organ, saved from the fire that destroyed the church in 1894, is presently on display in the church fellowship room. Proudly investigating the quality of this part of the church's 125-year heritage are Mrs. Larry Chapman, chairman of the 125th anniversary celebration, and the Rev. Carl Schwarm, pastor of the church.

Congregational Church Marks 125th Birthday

It's doubtful that the 16 charter members of the First Congregational Church of Chelsea ever realized that their names would be in the newspaper 125 years after they founded their church.

Or maybe they had a sense of history, and considered that the place in which they were making their homes, this tiny village, might be something still standing in so many years.

At any rate, those 16—William A. Davis, Lucy Davis, John C. Winans, Mahlon Wines, Ann Wines, Amos W. Davis, Jared Hatch, Moses P. Crowell, Emeline Crowell, Betsey M. Wines, Charles H. Wines, Emily Wines, Abi Spaulding, Polly Hatch, and Abigail BeGole—were the charter members of the First Congregational church, which celebrates its 125th anniversary this Sunday, Feb. 17.

The church as an entity and the church as a structure have changed a good deal from its organization on Feb. 21, 1849. There had been a predecessor to the First Congregational church, one that was none too successful—it was the Presbyterian Church of Sylvan, listing a number of the area's original settlers as its members. It, however, disbanded.

The group who met on that date in 1849 in the Sylvan Center Schoolhouse were some of the same New England Congregationalists who had settled here between 1832 and 1834. For two years after the church's organization, the congregation worshipped in schoolhouses around the community.

In 1852, on the present location of the church on E. Middle St., the First Congregational church was built—the first church building in Chelsea, and from 1852 to 1859, the only church building in Chelsea.

Esthetically, the church reflected the unembellished lives of those who inhabited the area. Bare walls and floors, unshaded windows, low-backed pews—it was not the age of religious leisure, to be sure. With the luxury of heat for the building—a large box stove set in the vestibule—came an obnoxious amount of smoke and general dirt to annoy the worshippers.

From reports it seems that it was a rather oddly-arranged place, with the pulpit in front, the choir on raised stands at back, with the congregation facing the pulpit. When the choir sang, members of the congregation rose and faced the choir, with their backs to the pastor. Eventually the seats were turned around, the pastor joined the choir, and the congregation was seated in the proper direction for the entire sermon.

Some time before 1871, Middle St. was graded, leaving the church a number of feet above ground level. This, coupled with a need for a larger facility, brought more renovations.

Ground surrounding the building was removed, a few more feet excavated beneath the church and—lo and behold! the First Congregational church became the second building in the village to have a basement.

The basement rapidly became a hot property in Chelsea, used as a meeting place for groups, performances of plays, lectures, and generally a catch-all facility. Attendance at events was so great that the village council erected the village's first street lamp outside of the business district in front of the church.

On Feb. 18, 1894, fire totally destroyed the church and the parsonage, which had only recently been completed. At the time of the blaze, a $5,000 addition to the rear of the building was also under construction. Only the Estey Reed organ, now on display in the church Fellowship room, was saved from the disaster.

But disaster did not remain for long. In less than a year after the fire, on Jan. 31, 1895, the Rev. William H. Walker presided at services dedicating the new church and announcing that the church was free of debt. The new building was constructed by John P. Foster, local builder.

Also at this time, ceremonies were conducted marking the raising of the church bell, which bears the inspirational inscription:

I praise the True God,
I announce the Sabbath;
I call the people,
I arouse the indolent.

Cagers Win Two, Challenge Milan Friday

Toughest Part of Schedule at Hand In Confrontations With Milan, Saline

Chelsea's varsity cagers, fresh from Tuesday's night impressive defeat of one-time contender South Lyon, 64-48, will head over for a show-down game that could move the Bulldogs into second place.

Milan, now 9-2 in the South-eastern Conference, defeated Lincoln Tuesday night to remain one game ahead of the amazing Bulldogs, who at one point, after a series of non-conference defeats, looked destined for mediocrity for the season.

Now 8-3 in the SEC, the Bulldogs have won four games in succession.

Tuesday night's contest featured a strong performance by Gary Wonders, who hit for 22 points and recorded "an excellent free-throw percentage," according to Coach Tom Balistrere.

The game, close in the first half with Chelsea leading, 28-24, at intermission, saw "outstanding defensive effort" in the third quarter. The Lions were held to nine points, while the Bulldogs upped their game lead to 10 points.

Other players lauded by Coach Balistrere included Dave Alber, who "played a fine game, and contributed 15 of his 19 points in the second half." Co-captain Tim Treado was praised for a "good job" keeping Lion Ed Segars off the boards. Ron Kiel was praised for his 10 points and 10 rebounds, and Rick Miller was cited for "a fine job on the boards."

Scorers besides Wonders were Alber with 19, Kiel with 10, Miller with nine, and Treado with four.

Leading rebounders were Miller and Alber with 14, Kiel with 10, and Treado with nine.

Coach Balistrere, a man "pleased with the boys as a team," credited the victory to steady play throughout and "fine team defense and unselfish play."

Mark Montange Now 19-3 at Morningside

Mark Montange, former Chelsea wrestler, is presently competing for Morningside College at Sioux City, Ia., and boasts a 19-3 record at 118 pounds.

In last Friday night's action, Chelsea tightened its grasp on third place in the SEC with a 65-50 defeat of Brighton, a squad that has tumbled down to sixth place.

Although Coach Tom Balistrere reports that the local Bulldogs "didn't play particularly well in the first half" and went into intermission with only a 27-26 lead, they came back in the second half with a little trap press that we run."

The press, apparently effective, enabled Chelsea to steal the ball three times and score, to up their lead to seven in the early third quarter, and they continued from there.

Chelsea was paced by junior center Ron Kiel, who hit for 15 points—seven-for-nine from the floor—for a shooting percentage of 79. Kiel also grabbed 14 rebounds. Coach Balistrere called this Kiel's "best game of the season," and rated him "the dominant factor in the game."

Others players cited for their play were senior co-captain Tim Treado, who "always plays the same good game." Rick Sweeney, Coach Balistrere said, "came off the bench and did a great job for us." He also credited his play-makers, Dave Alber and Gary Wonders, with "a job well done."

Individual performances saw Treado lead scorers with 16 points, followed by Kiel with 15; Alber, 10; Wonders and Sweeney, eight; Rick Miller, six; and Paul Wood, two.

Pacing rebounders was Kiel with 14, followed by Treado with 11 and Sweeney with seven.

Coach Balistrere noted after the game that with the toughest part of the team's schedule ahead of them—notably South Lyon, Milan and Saline within the next two weeks—he is pleased with "the total attitude and improved playing spirit of the team, and encouraged by their over-all efforts."

"I'm really impressed with the unselfishness, hustle, and desire of this ball club," Coach Balistrere continued. "And I'm certain that the added stress on defensive fundamentals has helped us a lot."

Tomorrow night (Friday) the Bulldogs will travel to Milan for another important encounter.

Alcohol Treatment Program Started at Chelsea Hospital

"People are always trying to find the 'magic pill'—the thing that will cure everybody," says Carl Asher. "In an alcohol program, it's just a matter of whatever works."

"And if it works for a person, we'll use it," he says. Asher was appointed program therapist for the newly-created alcohol program at Chelsea Community Hospital on Jan. 7 and has been nudged into a small office near the reception desk of the hospital.

Despite the present unassuming quarters, plans for the program seem large, even at this embryonic stage.

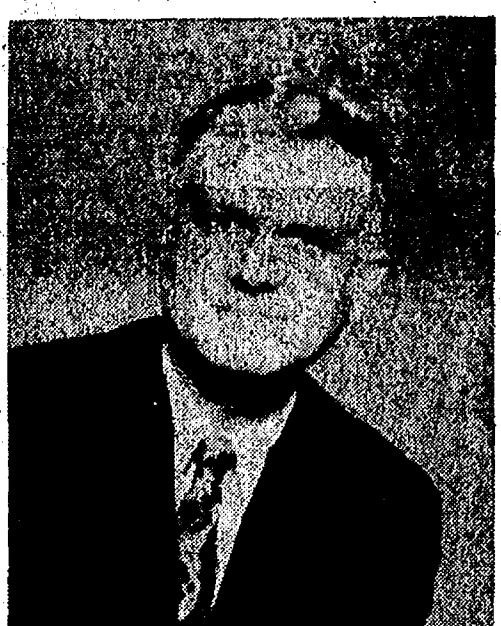

The program is designed to include information and education about alcoholism, medical treatment, and individual and family counseling, for "the individual and family of an individual where use of alcohol is affecting the family."

Both in- and out-patient services are available, Asher says, "for people who have appointments to see me or the ones who just walk in off the street."

"We also hope to act as a referral service, and to obtain community involvement in this program, where appropriate," he says. He mentions, for example, referring an alcohol program patient to Alcoholics Anonymous, if counseling indicates that that type of service would aid the individual most. Possibilities also exist for working with community agencies or companies who recognize a problem in an individual.

"We've come to recognize that the people who have an alcohol problem often have a number of other things wrong, too," he says. "For example, it's not unusual for someone to be admitted to the hospital and to learn that he has some problem with alcohol. Or, in the course of the hospitalization of a wife, to learn that the husband has an alcohol problem."

ter in second and Jackson Parkside in third, and a second place in Agriculture Forum.

THIRD GRADE—
Teacher: Miss Sanders
In Miss Sanders' third grade class, we have been studying the human body. We each chose one organ and found as much information about it as we could. We put all the reports together to make a booklet about the human body. We have started studying geometry so we made a bulletin board called "A Geometric Scene." All of the people, animals, trees and houses are made of geometric shapes. Since we have been studying the great Mississippi river, Melanie Lee said that when her family visits Minneapolis she will try to see the Mississippi.

We have been having math-downs in order to learn our math facts. Sharon Bickelberger was the winner of our last math-down and she got an elephant eraser as a prize.

Becky Foster brought her parakeets into class to visit last week. They seemed to enjoy themselves but they were noisy during math class.

In art class we made puppets. We are going to try and put on some plays with them a little later in the year.

Teacher: Mrs. Peet
We have been doing many interesting things in our room lately. Last week, Michigan Bell sent us some phones that really worked so that we could learn and practice to use the telephone the right way. We took turns making calls and being the operator. We each got a

Good from Bad
All the hullabaloo over Watergate hasn't been all bad. Lt. Gov. James Brickley says he's convinced that "Watergate has had some beneficial side effects."

Speaking before a recent gathering of Michigan Press Association members, the lieutenant governor said:

"I do not believe that we would be witnessing the adoption of very significant campaign reform legislation in our own state and in many states had Watergate not occurred. I have noticed that public officials have displayed more discretion about their own behavior."

Brickley, who has yet to reveal his own political or non-political plans for the future, says he hopes "this surge of adrenaline to upgrade political ethics" is not the usual temporary reaction to public pressure.

The lieutenant governor, sounding much like his boss, Gov. Milliken, added that "it is of utmost importance that government regain its credibility."

Dollars for Dealers
"Turn in pushers," the Michigan State Police newest program for finding drug dealers, appears to be headed for success if sheer number of phone calls is any indication.

Under the plan, rewards of up to $30,000 will be paid to informants who come up with substantial information about major drug traffickers and illegal drug operations. Informants are not required to reveal their identities, but they must provide enough information to at least prosecute the person or persons named in order to collect the reward.

During the first week, the TIP plan was in operation, State Police reported more than 45 phone calls to the toll free number (it's 1-800-292-2277).

The number of prosecutions from those calls remains to be seen, of course, but the police say they feel the program is at this point, "progressing well."

Volunteer
Gov. Milliken, consistently speaking for voluntary action in many areas, such as cutting fuel consumption and driving speed, has now established a Commission for Volunteers in Michigan.

Michigan can become a leader among the states in promoting voluntary action and people involvement," the governor says.

"We can make our commitment match our concern, by counseling the people in, rather than screening them out, of the government."

Milliken says volunteerism can provide a source of manpower, as well as a vehicle for people to participate in government and related activities.

The commission, established by a recent executive order, is charged with identifying problems that can be met through volunteer action as well as assessing the needs of the volunteer movement itself.

The group, yet to be appointed, will aim to stimulate volunteer activity, provide resources and guidance for volunteer programs and offer a channel through which volunteers and volunteer groups can exchange data.

Abortion Still an Issue
Well over a year ago, the U.S. Supreme Court declared that abortions were to be permitted during the first six months of pregnancy. The decision far from settled the issue.

Proposed constitutional amendments seeking to reverse that court decision have been introduced in Congress. And debate on the pros and cons of termination of pregnancy continue.

Michigan is no exception. Just last month, the Michigan Women's Commission, unanimously supported a resolution "reaffirming the right of a woman to choose whether or not she wishes to legally terminate pregnancy in its early stages."

The Commission urged Michigan's congressional delegation to oppose ("refrain from supporting") any proposed amendment aimed at turning the court decision around.

At the same time, Lt. Gov. James Brickley told some 700 persons at a Detroit "pro-life" rally that "the right to life is not only a matter of personal morals, but also deserves protection and recognition by government."

Brickley, a consistent foe of legalized abortion, asked: "Is there anything more basic that we can ask from the government than to protect everybody's life at all times?"

JV Wrestling Tournament Attracts 130

Some 130 wrestlers took part in Chelsea's junior varsity wrestling tournament last Saturday, as Chelsea managed one champion, Mark Pennington at 138 pounds, and a number of other fine performances.

Recording second places were Dale Headrick at 132 pounds, Joe Branham at 145, and Eric Prinzing at 155. Placing fourth were Bill Shoemaker, 105 pounds; George Menge, 145 pounds; and Don Murray, 167 pounds.

Coach Richard Bareis said that, "All in all, it was a fine tournament, and it came off well under the direction of tournament director Pat Clarke." Coach Bareis also noted the assistance of Jim Branham, Mark Ruhl, Charles Waller, and the varsity wrestlers, who provided the manpower to run the tournament.

Hockey Teams Absorbing Their Lumps

Three Chelsea hockey teams in the squirt, pee wee and bantam divisions are presently defending the Chelsea name against all comers in weekly hockey action.

Last Saturday, Chelsea Medical Clinic team, coached by Jerry Ringe and composed of boys nine and ten years old, lost to squirt division opponent Fraser's Pub at Fuller Park in Ann Arbor, 1-0. Goalie Jeff Rudd chalked up 18 saves in the contest.

The team took to the ice Sunday night in Hartland's new Nordic Arena and fell to the Hartland Hustlers, 4-0. In this game, Rudd was good for 20 saves.

Pee Wee division entry 3-D Sales & Service was shut out by Lipons Sport Center at the Nordic Arena in Hartland, 5-0. The team, coached by Phil Boham, has team members 11 and 12 years.

Mayer Maroons, entries in the 13-14-year-old bantam division, lost to a tough Livingston County Hockey Association Redwings squad, 5-1. The Redwings currently are lodged in first place in their league. Harold Vandervort scored the Maroons' only goal late in the third period on a pass from Greg Hastings. Goalie Chris Bennett made 26 saves. The Maroons are also coached by Phil Boham.

Action resumes tonight, Thursday, as the Maroons take on the Redwings again in Hartland.

If God made us in His image and likeness then judging by what we are God must have colds, arthritis in one joint or another, tonsils that quit working and were "useless" anyway at 10, an appendix that almost burst inside Him when He was 22, "normal" everyday headaches accompanied with the usual stiff joints, aches and pains. He probably has an ulcer and is constipated most of the time too—and if He didn't get His shots and vaccinations by now most likely He has smallpox, flu, polio, measles, tetanus, etc. Naturally He never lets anyone cough in His face as He is susceptible to tuberculosis you know. Yes God's house is free of flowers, cats, feathers and other irritants as these things act on His allergies you know. It sure would have been nice if He worked by law and order and as long as these laws were not interfered with—everything was O.K. Then when He made us, all we would have to do is obey His laws. Nothing in excess—Good diet, Exercise, Sleep, and Good nerve supply to carry His message through the body. Poor God, I wonder who He goes to when He's sick?

SEC ROUND-UP:

League Leaders, Saline, Milan, Chelsea All Win Friday Games

The word among the three league-leading Southeastern Conference teams in last Friday's games—Saline, Milan, and Chelsea—was plainly "no mercy." Saline routed last-place Novi, 97-40; Milan romped over one-time contender South Lyon, 84-57; and Chelsea checked in with its seventh victory, 65-50, over Brighton.

Saline 97, Novi 40—In the battle of the two ends of the SEC, undefeated Saline took no chances of looking like anything but a powerhouse over still-winless Novi. Saline needs only two more wins to assure at least a first-place tie in the conference. Dan Scotten led the Hornets with a big 26 points, followed by Tim Slepisky and Scott Foslick with 24 and 10, respectively.

High scorer for the submerged Wildcats was Gary Ford with 10. Milan 84, South Lyon 57—The Big Red turned a big press on South Lyon to push the Lions back to the 500 mark and further into fourth place.

Topping Milah point men was Gary Armstrong with 28 points. Stan Joplin aided the Big Red cause with 22.

Tony Kern hit for 17 to lead the Lions, trailed by Ed Segars with 16.

Chelsea 65, Brighton 50—Chelsea cruised over their brother Bulldogs from across the way to prime themselves for a battle for second place with Milan this week. Led by junior center Ron Kiel, who grabbed 15 rebounds and hit for 15 points, Chelsea hit for a shooting percentage of 42, and edged Brighton on rebounds, 44-29. Leading Chelsea's scorers was co-captain Tim Treado with 16 points.

Lincoln 72, Dexter 64—Lincoln moved past Brighton and Dexter in the SEC standings with its second win in as many weeks. Lincoln, paced by Derek Thomas in the first half, who hit for 18 of his 23 points, and Scott Hubbard in the second half, when he tossed in 10 of his 19. Four Railsplitter players totaled in double figures. Leading the Dexter attack was Al Hosler with 13 and Mark Ayres with 12.

Tuesday night's games, too late for complete coverage, saw Brighton at Novi, Dexter at Saline, Lincoln at Milan, and South Lyon at Chelsea.

DON COOPER

Don Cooper Returns With Travel Film

Chelsea Kiwanis Travel Series will present its fourth program of its "Travel and Adventure Series" on Saturday evening, in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Don Cooper is a lumberjack and a very fascinating person. His hazardous adventures are guaranteed to thrill everyone. His spontaneous humor is a threat to the radio, movie and TV comedians of our time. His photography is of superlative caliber.

Don Cooper was literally born and raised in the logging camps of western Montana, son of the late George R. Cooper, Montana Senator. He has spent eight years in the land of James Oliver Curwood and Robert Service and the "spell of the Yukon" also captured him. After 10 years of logging in Alaska, Coop decided that he had had enough of the hard-boiled north so he and his brother, Dennis, headed into the wilds of Canada.

The film is based on the efforts of Alexander Mackenzie to establish a route to the Pacific Ocean. As a result of his explorations, Mackenzie became the first man to cross the continent north of Mexico. His route traversed such a wild and hazardous part of the world that it was never used.

However, it gave Canada its first valid claim to the West Coast and was of great importance in the subsequent boundary negotiations between the United States and Canada. You will travel the portion of Mackenzie's trip from the western prairies to the sea.

Many surprised people find that agriculture is wide spread in the rolling prairies of Alberta where they grow sugar beets, large fields of wheat and cattle.

Miss Schreiner says that she has gained some 110 signatures of local people in support of the facility and hopes for more.

Merkel's Furniture Store was the meeting place for Modern Mothers Child Study Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 12. Program for the evening was entitled, "Decorating Do's and Don'ts."

Robert Merkel and two of the store's interior decorators, Leola Brennan and Lynn Kendall, were introduced to the club.

Lynn, the main speaker for the evening, answered and dealt with several pre-established questions from club members. She explained some basic rules for picture groupings, period furniture arrangement, window treatments and bathroom carpeting. She stated that when given a choice, carpeting should be selected first, then your furniture, followed by draperies and wall covering.

Lynn also fielded many individual questions from the floor pertaining to specific individualized decorating problems.

Lynn feels the tendency in interior decorating is getting away from the stiff and formal setting. At present, it seems more desirable to create a comfortable atmosphere brought out through the warm earthy colors.

Following discussion, co-hostesses Bonnie Gaiser and Joanne Waller served refreshments to 25 members and 18 guests. Guests included: Monika Bailey, Mary Cook, Jan Pratt, Kay Heller, Elsie Evison, Sue Nagel, Janet Grenier, Dee Dee Ringer, Carol Smith, June Flanagan, Sandra Mayer, Marilyn Damm, Carolyn Sherock, Janet Reinhardt, Phyllis Callison, Nancy Sprague, Ann Fenney and Pat Borden.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIE TIME is here again, and with promoters like these, who could doubt the potential for success? Flanking area cookie chairman Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite and her cookie poster are three members of Troop 442—Susan Satterthwaite, Linda Wilson, and Chris Kvaternberg. Orders are being taken this week and will continue until Feb. 17.

Girl Scouts Now Taking Orders In Their Annual Cookie Sale

Girl Scout cookies come in six varieties for all different sweet tooth cravings and they're sold for a good cause.

Now, what more inspiration could potential buyers need? Probably all anyone will need is a little prompting to order cookies by the youthful salesgirls of Junior Girl Scout Troop Nos. 58, 689, 32, and 442, Cadette Troop No. 98, and Senior Troop No. 47.

Scouts will continue to take orders all this week until Sunday, Feb. 17, and the cookies will be delivered between March 22 and April 8, says Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite, area cookie chairman.

The "good cause" is explained by Mrs. Satterthwaite: "The profits we receive from sale of the cookies are used to assure all Girl Scouts of an opportunity to participate in our camp program."

"Cookie sales pay for everything—financing, upkeep, and maintenance of the facilities—and when you consider that each girl has to be provided with things like tents, lanterns and all the other equipment that goes with camping—well, we're talking about a big project," she says.

The "special" cookie for this year—there's one "new and different" every year—is lemon cream sandwich. The other familiar standbys—shortbread with sugar, thin mints with chocolate coating, and peanut, vanilla and chocolate cream sandwiches—return this year, as always. All the cookies are products of the Burry Division of Quaker Oats.

Anyone interested in ordering some of the Girl Scout goodies who isn't contacted by a Scout may call Mrs. Satterthwaite for information. Remember, hidden within those calories is a good cause.

St. Louis School Notes

Last week the boys enjoyed the circus, despite terrible weather on the day they attended. Father Germano's driving skill got them through, however. The boys' visit to the circus was sponsored by the Alhambra Club in Dearborn.

Chelsea Suburbanette Club has furnished 12 pool sticks for the boys to use.

The boys played basketball one night last week another bad weather night. Frank Sweeney drove the bus that night.

Billy Rosebush celebrated his birthday, complete with ice cream and cake, and Father Umberto and the boys playing the band.

Father Mark Thompson, chaplain at Mercywood Hospital, has donated an English sheepdog to the younger boys. The dog's name is Cookie. The boys are having a lot of fun and a lot of work with their new pet.

Last week-end the boys went home, and returned for a snowmobile party that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweeney had planned for them. Winston Boyer furnished four snowmobiles, Art Karvel furnished one, and the Sweeney family brought their snowmobile. The boys had a good time riding around the school with their parents.

This week the boys are looking forward to Valentine's Day parties.

There may be reason to complain of slow mail service but somehow the bills arrive earlier than they should.

Born Nov. 27, 1879, at Devon, Cornwall, England, she was the daughter of Joseph and Mary Peters Mitchell. She married Thomas Verran on June 1, 1903. He preceded her in death in 1949.

She came to the Methodist Home on June 24, 1966, from Newport. She is survived by two sons, Fred, of Northville and Thomas of Newport, and one daughter, Mrs. Rose Sara of Monroe.

Funeral services and burial were at Rselawn Memorial Cemetery in Newport on Saturday, Feb. 9. Arrangements were by Staffan Funeral Home.

LEONARD FALCONE

Bandsmen Preparing for Competition

Chelsea's high school and middle school bands Wednesday received some high-class coaching in preparation for upcoming appearances in the District 12 solo and ensemble festivals this month.

Professor Leonard Falcone, Michigan State University's conductor of bands emeritus, rehearsed both schools' bands and offered constructive criticism to both band members and their directors, Warren Mayer and Ronald Harris. Prof. Falcone, a distinguished conductor, adjudicator, and clinician, is also considered the most outstanding artist on the euphonium (baritone) in the country. High school band members will perform this Saturday, Feb. 16, in the solo and ensemble festival at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn. Director Mayer reports that some 20 events have been entered by symphony band members, including both individual performances and small group performances. Those entrants judged sufficiently highly will continue in competition in the state festival.

The following Saturday, Feb. 23, Beach Middle school bands will also compete in a solo and ensemble festival at Henry Ford. In preparation for their competition, Beach will hold solo and ensemble night at the school, with Bruce Galbraith and Max Plank acting as adjudicators for the junior high band members. Junior high bands members will enter 41 events from both sym-

Hospital, Methodist Home Agree To Nursing, Medical Care Pact

The completion of a nursing and medical care agreement between Chelsea Community Hospital and the Methodist Home will add 58 more beds to its facility—opening these additional beds for long term care to community residents and/or patients in Chelsea Community Hospital. The new construction will bring the total number of nursing beds in the Methodist home to 120. The Home has another 160 senior citizen residential beds.

up to 141 pounds, won with a quick pin. At 148 pounds, John Tandy scored a very one-sided 8-2 win.

A last-second take-down enabled Darryl West to defeat Lonnie Norris, as Darryl moved up a weight class to get at Norris, who had defeated him earlier this year.

At 170 pounds, Ken Keiser scored a 2-0 win. Tim Reed, wrestling up a weight at 188 pounds, scored a 10-0 decision, rated "superior" by Coach Bareis. At heavyweight, Kermit Sharp won 2-0, to gain his first varsity victory.

"In all, Chelsea wrestlers did a good job of wrestling," Coach Bareis said, but indicated that he felt that not being in school that day hurt the performances.

In junior varsity action, Greg Haller and Bill Shoemaker won decisions, while Mike Foster, Bob Swanberg, Joe Branham, and George Menge lost decisions.

phony and concert bands in their competition in the solo and ensemble festival.

Planned for Thursday, Feb. 28, is a concert night at the high school, featuring both symphony and concert bands of CHS. A similar night for the two junior high bands is scheduled for Thursday, March 7 at Beach Middle school.

Alcohol Program Now Offered

Lest the problem be underestimated, Asher cites national figures that say that one out of eight people who drink at all have some sort of problem. "We also have to get younger all the time—associated with a drinking problem deal with the fact that the age we've had people in here who are in their 20's," he reports.

"But we have to realize that there isn't any magic pill—in this sort of case, we're dealing with a type of personal dynamics. As many different kinds of people as there are, that's how many different approaches there are to an individual's drinking problem," he continues.

Counseling, both individual and family, is hoped to provide the therapist with information necessary to determine what that approach will be, whether it is Alcoholics Anonymous, Antabus (a drug used in treatment of alcoholism), or perhaps some sort of spiritual or religious counseling.

"We're all different," Asher says. "The most important step to me is the decision that they want to change, and then we can work from there."

The program, funded by the State Department of Health, supervised by Washtenaw county with funds under contract from the county, is part of the county's Comprehensive Alcohol Program, and is planned to enlarge eventually into a Substance Abuse program which will include both drug and alcohol-related problems.

Alcohol programs similar to this one, he says, presently exist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, and Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti—but this is the only treatment facility in this part of the county. It's also important that people realize some health insurance programs will pay for this type of treatment."

Asher, most of whose experience with counseling has been in the ministry, has worked with alcoholics for some 25 years. The Chelsea Hospital program, he says, is becoming more concrete and he urges those interested in treatment to call him at the hospital.

"I find this type of work even more rewarding than church work," he adds, "Because you're dealing with one specific need—helping people away from one specific problem."

Stolen Car Recovered

A car belonging to local businessman Robert Foster, stolen Feb. 1 from the municipal parking lot, was recovered late Friday afternoon in the Medical Center construction area.

The car, observed some 200 yards from the south end of Flanders St. on a dirt path leading to the construction area, was reported by Dr. Richard Borton.

There are no suspects in the case.

School Board Briefs

Present at the Feb. 4 Board of Education meeting were President Haselschwardt, Trustees Koenn, Hodgson, Daniels, Irwin and Schaffer, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, and Principals Lane, Conklin, and Wojcik. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. James Haller, Mrs. Alice Steinbach, Lynn Degener, Tony Bowen, Mike Nadeau, and Larry Doll.

Meeting was called to order at 8:15 p.m. by President Haselschwardt. The minutes of the meetings of Jan. 21 and Jan. 29 were accepted as read.

The Board accepted the recommendation of Superintendent Cameron and Principal Lane to grant Greg Haller an exception to the Board graduation policy of attendance during the seventh semester, at the request of his parents.

The board concurred with the recommendation of the administration to grant an unpaid leave of absence to Mrs. Jean Lang.

The board unanimously approved the contract with the Michigan School Board Association for negotiating services for 1974-75, and authorized the secretary to sign the contract.

An additional pond at the Beach School Nature Center was discussed. Business Manager Mills was directed to obtain prices for the digging of an additional pond.

Larry Doll spoke to the board about moving the rock from the old junior high school site to the high school. More information is necessary to arrive at a decision.

The board unanimously approved the request of the Student Council of the high school and the senior class, represented by Mike Nadeau and Larry Doll, to hold a rock concert in the high school auditorium on April 13 or 20, provided that the questions of insurance and security procedures are answered satisfactorily and that the same procedure be used as is used for dances in that high school students may purchase tickets for guests for whom they are to be responsible.

The board unanimously approved the use of the Environmental Education Program of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs for the Chelsea schools, with materials to be provided by the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club.

A discussion was held with Tony Bowen, president of the Chelsea Recreation Council, regarding the proposed capital outlay program for 1974, and the Council's report.

The board unanimously approved a motion that the Recreation Council install a 100 ft. by 100 ft. plastic-lined skating rink on the high school baseball field.

A lengthy discussion of the construction management firms interviewed on Jan. 29 was held. The administration was directed to obtain proposals.

The Board of Education unanimously agreed on March 26 as the date for a special operating millage election, to be held in the large group instruction room of Beach Middle School, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., and to apply to the County Election Committee for approval of that date.

The board unanimously agreed to adopt a resolution urging Gov. Milliken to "act immediately to protect the lives and safety of Michigan's school children through adjustments in the dates of Daylight Saving Time.
