Most Townships Adjust Budgets For Higher Costs

Annual meetings for townships were held last Saturday and the main theme that ran through most of them—as through similar meetings across the country—was "increases."

Dexter Hikes Budget

Up $36,000 from last year, the Dexter township budget of $101,840 was approved at the Dexter township annual meeting on March 30.

Road work will get $18,000 more than last year and $3,000 more will be spent for police protection. Salary hikes include an increase in the supervisor's pay from $6,000 to $10,000, if he also does the assessing. If he does not do the assessing during this fiscal year, his salary will be raised from a base of $4,000 to $5,000.

The clerk and treasurer also received a $500 annual increase, from $3,500 to $4,000.

Sylvan Raises Clerk

In Sylvan township, a total of eight residents of the township other than the board turned out for the meeting and approved an increase in the operational millage for the township to one-half mill. The former rate was one-quarter mill.

A budget of $92,489.05 was adopted for the year, an increase of more than $7,500 over last year's budget. Major expenditures are to be to the Washtenaw County Road Commission, $35,679.05, and the Sanitary Landfill, which was increased from $2,000 to $5,000. An additional $6,000 was allocated for printing due to the zoning ordinance which will go into effect this year.

Daniel Murphy, township clerk, will receive a salary increase from $5,000 to $6,000. He was the only township official to receive a pay raise.

In addition, Sylvan township residents decided that a voting machine for absentee ballots will be purchased this year.

Freedom Lowers Budget

A lowered 1974-75 budget for Freedom township, based on decreasing expenditures for the coming year, was approved Saturday. The budget for 1974-75 is $42,850, in contrast to last year's $44,500. Receiving salary increases were clerk Rena Girbach, whose pay was raised from $2,400 to $3,000, and treasurer Walter A. Hieber, who received an increase from $2,700 to $3,000. Both received $200 expense accounts.

Supervisor David J. Meinhardt received no salary increase, but was allocated a $1,200 expense account.

Lima Reduces Budget

At the March 30 annual meeting, Lima township residents approved an $81,037.17 budget for 1974-75. Last year it was $84,500.

Salary hikes included a $300 increase for the supervisor. He will pay was raised from $3,300 to $3,500, and the treasurer from $3,250 to $3,450. Trustees will receive $750 instead of $700.

A one-mill tax levy for township operating expense was also renewed.

Lyndon Budgets for New Zoning Inspector

In Lyndon township, the 1974-75 budget was increased to $49,790, an increase of some $13,000 over the 1973-74 budget.

$4,200 of the increased budget will pay for using the Chelsea landfill and $1,700 will go toward the printing of the new township zoning ordinance.

Other expenditures include a $500 salary and $150 mileage expense to the new position of zoning inspector; an increase of $100 to the cemetery association; and an additional $4,000 for road work.

Unchanged were township officials' pay rates and the tax levy of 1.16 mills.

Budget increases and pay hikes marked the meetings on March 30 in Dexter, Lima, Webster and Scio townships.

Sharon Salaries Raised

Sharon township's budget for the coming year was increased by some $3,000, and township officials received pay hikes in Saturday's meeting.

For 1974-75, the supervisor will receive $5,200, up from $3,600; the clerk and treasurer will receive $3,500, up from $2,600; and the zoning inspector will receive $800 plus expenses and mileage.

In addition, the township voted to purchase another voting machine.

Recreation Classes Nearly Ready To Start

Since it's not possible to enroll in all four of the new Recreation Council courses — primarily because they meet the same nights — the time is ripe for a decision.

Beginning within the next two weeks will be three new courses — introduction to computer, beginning and intermediate tennis, co-ed adult volleyball — and a chess tournament.

Chuck Kelly's computer course will begin Tuesday, April 16, at 7 p.m. in room 24 of the high school science building. In its six two-hour sessions, the course is expected to progress past introduction to simulation games, using programs, and the writing of simple programs.

For those more interested in their athletic development, Terry Schreiner, high school physical education teacher, will instruct beginning and intermediate tennis, beginning April 9 and continuing to May 30 at Beach Middle school. Beginners will attend from 6:30 to 8 p.m.; intermediates from 8 to 9 p.m. An intermediate is defined as a player who knows forehand, backhand and service.

Both recreational and competitive volleyball will be taught by Larry Christensen in his eight-week adult co-ed volleyball course. At the first session, Ann Arbor YMCA will conduct a demonstration. Course begins Tuesday, April 9 at 7:30 p.m. at Beach (Continued on page four)

Kindergarten Enrollment Dates Set

Sessions to acquaint next year's kindergartners with the school which they will be attending in September will be conducted at North and South Elementary schools on April 17 and 18, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Parents are asked that children with last names beginning with letters A-K attend on Wednesday, April 17, and those with last names beginning with letters L-Z come Thursday, April 18. Families with children attending North or South school should take their pre-kindergarten to that school.

Parents who are uncertain which school their child will attend may attend a session at either school. Children who will enter kindergarten in September, 1974, must be five years old by Dec. 1, 1974.

Questions should be directed to North Elementary school at 475-2527, or South Elementary school, 475-2913. Information about registration and enrollment will be published at a later date.

Bareis, Judy Bareis (in front) and Radine Cheever. Not present for photo were blue ribbon winners Sue Heller, Beth Heller, Nancy Heller, and Lori Hines. All were entered in the young miss category of competition.

gory; Alice Juergens, who earned a blue ribbon in senior miss category; and Diane Luick, who was awarded a blue ribbon in the junior miss category.

School Millage Election Set For May 15

May 15 has been approved by the Washtenaw County Election Committee as the date for another operational millage election for the Chelsea School District.

The Board of Education's first proposal for operational millage submitted to Chelsea voters was for 14.98 mills. That was defeated by more than a 2-to-1 margin in last Tuesday's election.

After expressing its concern over the March 26 election, the Board of Education made an immediate review of current expenditures in an effort to discover any possible means to economize during the remainder of the present school year.

In addition, the board has taken steps to re-assess the proposed 1974-75 school budget to determine a level of spending that will allow the millage request to be reduced to a point that will gain voter support and yet will adversely affect the present school program as little as possible.

Results of this study should be available for evaluation for the April 15 Board of Education meeting.

School Board Briefs

Present at the Board of Education meeting on Monday, April 1, were Trustees Daniels, Hodgson, Schaefer, Stirling, Koenn, and Irwin, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, and Principal Conklin. Guests in attendance were Keith Cockerline, Steve Bennett, Kurt Allhouse, John Eisenbeiser, and attorney Peter Flintoft.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 p.m. by Secretary Schaefer. Minutes of the March 18 and March 26 meetings were approved as read.

Attorney Flintoft discussed the grievance No. 2M, regarding agency shop. A hearing on the grievance was scheduled for May 6.

A discussion of the credit awarded for participation in debate was held and will be discussed at the April 15 meeting.

The board retained the firm of Curtis, Bailey, Exelby & Spósito, certified public accountants, of Ann Arbor, as auditors for the 1973-74 year.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

Rec. Softball Leagues Being Organized

Track Team in Top 25 at Huron Relays

Chelsea's 1974 track season opened last Friday with little pre-season fanfare but a commendable performance in the 20th annual Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan's Bowen Fieldhouse.

Competing against 80 schools from both Michigan and Ohio, the 15-man Bulldog squad landed in the top 25 with 10 points.

Rick Sweeny led the point getters, finishing in a third-place tie in high jump with a jump of 6 ft. 1/2 in. Don Pierson tied for fifth in pole vault with 12 ft. 3 in., and Craig Coltre took eighth place in long jump with a 20-ft. jump.

Tomorrow (Friday) the squad will travel to East Lansing's Jenison Fieldhouse for the indoor Spartan Relays. The 10-dual meet outdoor schedule will be launched next Thursday, April 11, with a home encounter against Saline at 4 p.m.

Coach Bert Kruse notes of this year's schedule that the state meet and the season in general are two weeks longer this year, due to a state decision to move the final meet back. Coach Kruse predicts that "this should be beneficial to track in general, as it spreads the meets out and moves the season into warmer weather, which should bring about better performances."

Presently 32 athletes are working out in preparation for the upcoming season, 15 of whom are returning lettermen. Once again, the squad is basically young—five seniors, seven juniors, 11 sophomores, and nine freshmen—but with "a strong core of experienced veterans," says Coach Kruse.

"At this point we are quite optimistic about our chances for the upcoming season," Kruse reports. "The Southeastern Conference, at this early date, shapes up to be a two-team race between South Lyon and Chelsea, with South Lyon getting a slight nod because of an abundance of good middle distance men. Dexter seems to be the best of the rest, with most other teams being young and inexperienced. We also feel we will give a strong

Chelsea Area 4-H Clubs Garner Many Awards at County Show

Chelsea 4-H clubs romped home with a veritable rainbow of ribbons earned in last week-end's 4-H Spring Achievement county-wide theme of which was "Fashion—4-H Style."

Ranked among the top 10 models in the junior miss category was Shelley Warren, a member of Freer Acres 4-H club. In the modeling segment, the girls are rated on looks, grooming, and their personality and poise while on stage, which is a test in itself since the audience attending at Saline High school was around 500 during some parts of the program.

Among the girls who were chosen as the top 30 models from local 4-H groups were Mary Lynn Noah, Alicia Noah, and Sandy Shadoan from Scissorettes; Holly Hoffmeyer from Freer Acres 4-H club; and Elizabeth Bush and Beth Heller from Terrific Tailors.

Other local 4-Hers receiving special awards were Tracy Cattell, who earned a Faber award for young miss clothing, and Diane Ottomano, also the recipient of a Faber award, for junior miss knitting.

Woodcraft winners of the Fingert award were Bruce Young and Think and Do 4-H club, in the apprentice group, and Danny Blough, in the craftsman group.

Girls chosen top young miss models on Friday night, from which the top 10 models were chosen Saturday night, were Sandra Shadoan, Beth Heller, Linda Hamilton, Amy Eisenbeiser, and Elizabeth Bush.

Topping the 4-H groups in compilation of the special purple honor was the Terrific Tailors club, which boasted five purple ribbon winners, Cindy Bareis, Elizabeth Bush, Beth Heller, Nancy Heller, and Sue Heller.

Penn Central Collects Tickets for Blocked Crossings

In the never-ending saga of Chelsea residents versus the Iron Horse, Penn Central Railroad received two tickets from the Chelsea Police Department this past week for blocking a crossing more than five minutes—and substantially more than five minutes it was, too.

Last Tuesday evening, crossings at Hayes, Main, East, Freer and McKinley St. were blocked from 5:25 p.m. to 5:47 p.m.—a big total of 22 minutes.

The longevity record for the week, however, occurred early Sunday morning, when Hayes, Main, East and McKinley crossings were blocked for 23 minutes, from 7:58 a.m. to 8:21 a.m.

Sam Brown is currently recuperating from open-heart surgery at Methodist Hospital, Houston, Tex. 77025.

KICKING OFF THE CANCER CRUSADE was the occasion for this coffee meeting at the home of Mrs. Sumner Osterle on Monday. Coffees like this one, and also teas, wine-tasting parties, a tennis tournament, pool parties, barbecues, and garage sales are planned until July to aid in the

Cancer Crusade Committee Plans Fund-Raising Activities

Activities varying from fashion shows to informal coffees to wine tasting parties to a tennis tournament are on the agenda for the coming four months as part of the 1974 Cancer Crusade's "Save a Life" program.

Kick-off event for this year's Crusade was a coffee hosted by Mrs. Sumner Osterle and Mrs. Harold Dresch on April 1. Schedule for the four-month campaign was decided at a luncheon for the general hostesses two weeks ago, to include, in addition to activities already mentioned, bridge, make-up session for teens, bake sales, garage sales and a tag day.

Mallies will be sent out to the community this month, with solicitations to be returned to Chelsea State Bank and deposited into the Cancer Crusade account.

Fifty percent of the Washtenaw County Cancer Crusade's funds are retained locally for use in the county.

Two free services available to county residents through this funding are the pap smear test clinic sponsored each Tuesday morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor and the breast cancer center located in Ann Arbor on Washington and First Sts.

This latest method for early detection of breast cancer involves a combination of methods ranging from careful clinical examination to thermography, a heat pattern image of the breast, and X-ray techniques such as mammography and xeroradiography.

Further, the American Cancer Society, Washtenaw County Unit, provides varied services through maintenance of the Cancer Information Office (located at 215 N. Ashley, Ann Arbor). This service, with daily hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., answers telephone questions, provides dressings, loan closet items, and educational material, and keeps informational, memorial, and appointment information.

Items available to cancer patients include dressings of various sizes, available free regardless of income; loan closet items, also free (including beds and mattresses, side-rails, Hoyer lift, trapeze, wheelchairs and walkers, bedside tables and bedstools, bed pans, urinals, emesis basins, sheets, pillow cases, suction pumps, Jobst pumps, and other small items), colostomy bags (only when finan-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The farm journals is saying that more folks than ever afore is tending gardens this spring. Groceries costing what they are and are going to, it makes a heap of sense to grow what we can to eat. But the more sense a home garden patch makes and the more it looks like folks actual might cut down on their food cost with em, the more worried I git about the Government gitting into gardening.

For shore, Mister Editor, if some economic egghead in Washington stops to think that a tomato raised at home and eat at home is a tomato not under price controls and USDA inspection, he is going to demand some fast action for the good of the country. That "tomato" is outside the normal food chain, it don't get picked by the labor force under NLRB guidelines, it ain't hauled nowhere in a truck, it don't add nothing to the economy with a wholesale-retail markup and nobody rings it up in the sales tax column of the checkout cash register. That is a bootleg tomato, and if everybody was to start raising and eating their own tomatoes, what would come of the established tomato industry?

In order to be shore of keeping what the economists might call a marketable stability in the vegetable supply and demand balance, the Government that is in charge of looking out for the country can't let folks go around growing and eating non-taxpaid tomatoes. If we let the tomato growers get away with bypassing the cash register, the potato and bean growers will follow the bad example, and the next thing you know folks will get the idea they can raise their own meat and eggs. If we don't act quick, these home gardens will have the hole food processing and marketing industry in a uproar.

I figger the first step will be a press conference where somebody in a high place in Government will swear that the Administration is going to avoid licensing farmers. But while the problem is being attacked from other angles, such as rationing garden seed and fertilizer and setting up no-weekend plowing regulations, a supply of farming licenses is being printed up just in case. Provided that people with gardens will voluntarily follow suggestions again canning and freezing what they grow, the market probably can catch up in the fall and winter what it loses in the growing seasons. To help folks do this of their own will, the USDA will have to put on 3,000 new inspectors to control the sale of jars and freezer bags, and to make shore nobody has more than two days supply of home-grown food on hand at any time.

Final, Mister Editor, the country will come around to the thinking that it don't make no more sense for a doctor to farm than for a farmer to do surgery, so holding farming tests and issuing licenses to farm is the only way to protect our food supply.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Maple syrup making is a grand old tradition in Michigan. The state ranks fourth nationally in total production, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Sugarbushes are scattered over much of the state with heaviest concentrations in lower Michigan. Many sugarbush operators welcome visitors and it's not too late to get in on the fun. The season doesn't end officially until the end of April when two fun-filled festivals are held, at Vermontville and Shepherd.

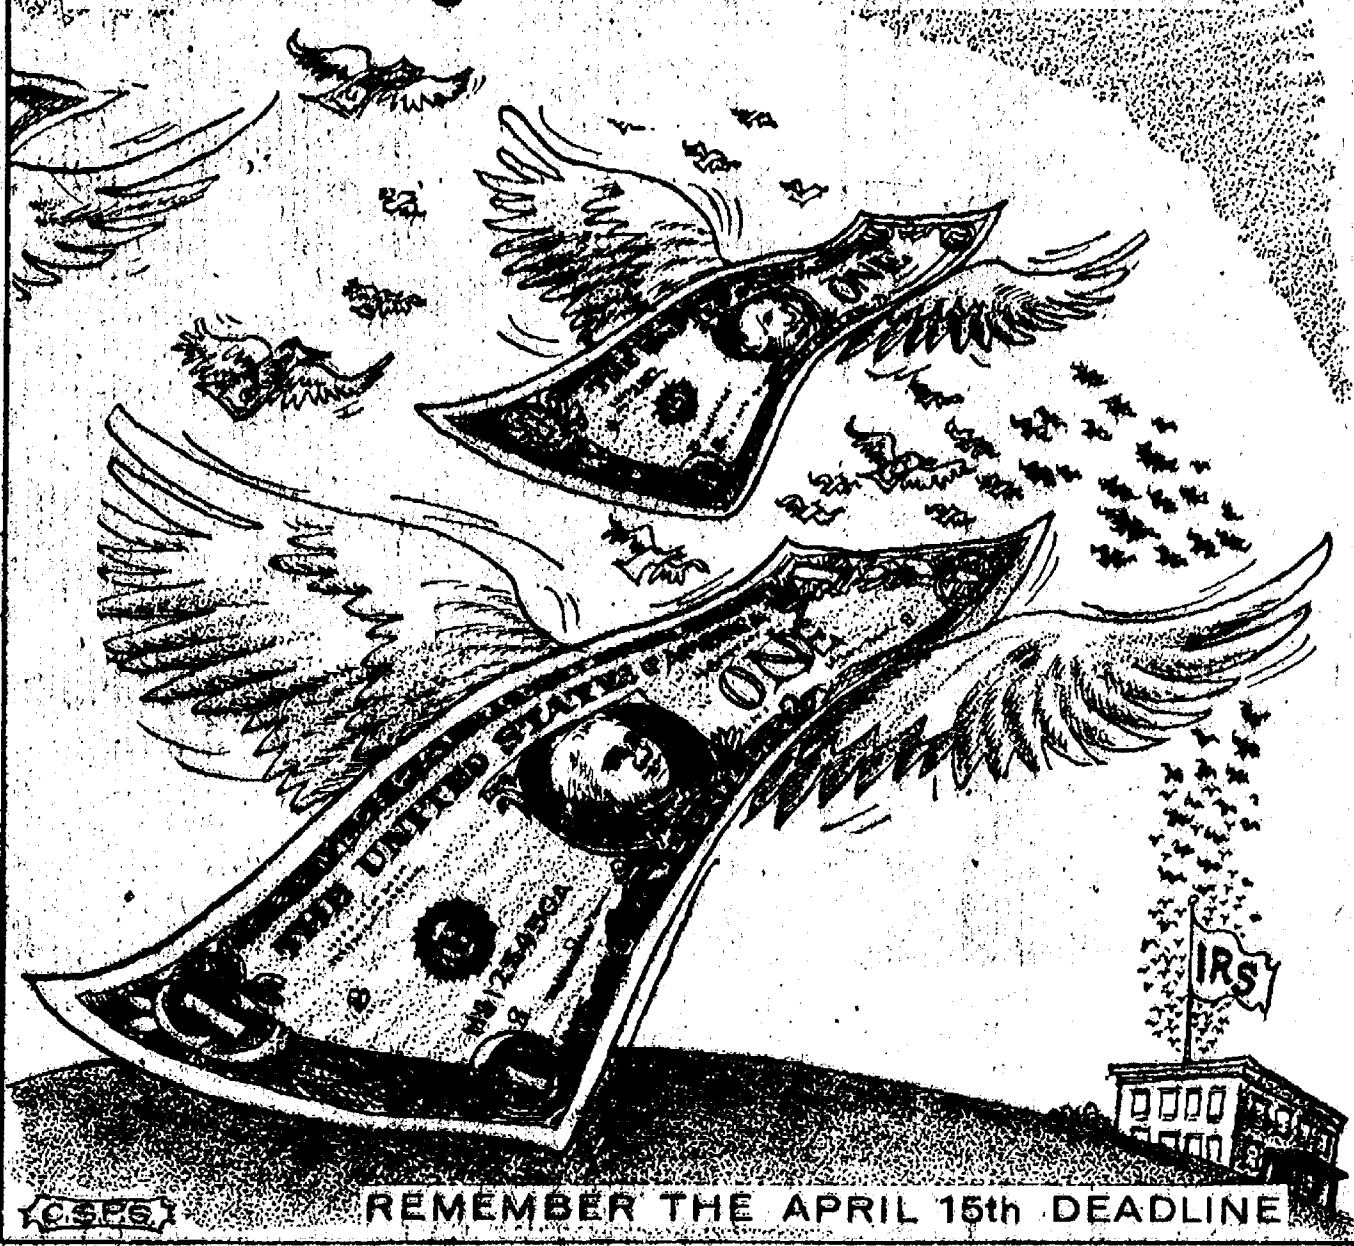

Michigan produced only 66,000 gallons of the sticky sweet last year, about 20 percent less than in 1972 and the smallest quantity since 1967. MDA officials said unreasonably warm weather reduced the amount of sap normally flowing through the trees and many operations closed early.

Some Michigan maple syrup producers now use a modern tubing hose system with a vacuum pump to collect sap. The sap flows through clear plastic hoses connected to taps driven into the trees. Inside the sugarhouse, a vacuum pump is used to draw the sap from the hose.

Collecting sap in buckets is most common in Michigan. The sugarbush owner drills a hole into the tree and inserts a metal spile which allows the sap to flow into the bucket. Sap is gathered from each bucket, usually by hand, and deposited in a gathering tank. After collecting, the sap is emptied into a storage tank located near the sugarhouse.

MDA experts say one maple tree will produce an average of 21 gallons of sap annually and it takes about 40 gallons to produce one gallon of maple syrup. Only pure boiled down sap weighing at least 11 pounds per gallon may bear the maple syrup label.

Annual Migration of the Buck!...

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Home Offices at Work

Every so often there comes a huge legislative flap about whether lawmakers should have offices in their home districts—paid for by the state.

At least three members of the House of Representatives are going their own way with the idea, setting up home offices at their own expense, or with the help of constituent donations and volunteer help.

Rep. John Otterbacher, D-Grand Rapids, just opened his home office, saying he'd run it "on a wing and a prayer, entirely dependent on donations for survival." But, he adds, "I believe the potential services the office can provide warrant the financial risk involved."

Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, also has an office in his home district, as does Rep. Harold Wolpe, D-Kalamazoo.

Wolpe already has issued an "annual report" on goings-on at his home office last year. In a preface to that report, he says there was no indication of what to expect when he first opened the office.

"We could not be certain, if a full-time local district office were opened, that people would avail themselves of the services provided or that people would indeed take advantage of new opportunities to become involved in the governmental process," Wolpe says.

"Nor did we know whether the financing could be obtained from local constituents to sustain such an operation."

An "incredible success story" is how Wolpe describes his first year with a home office. "Whether measured by constituent services provided or by citizen participation generated, the office has proved itself."

But, he warns that money is a problem.

"We must do better in the new year if the 46th district office is to survive," Wolpe says. More than $11,000 was contributed by constituents, he reports, and Wolpe and his wife added more than $1,500 to the office pot from their own finances.

Syrup Time's A-Coming
It's sugar bush season in Michigan. What with the alternate warm and cold hours and days of the early spring, the sap is running, and sugar men working.

The tiny lower Michigan communities of Vermontville and Shepherd already are making plans for their annual maple syrup festivals, to be held the weekend of April 26-28 in both places this year.

What's a syrup festival? Pancakes and sausage—and plenty of maple syrup, of course. Also rides and cotton candy and a carnival-county fair atmosphere. It's fun for all involved.

The hard work of making the syrup and maple candy comes first.

though, and that's what's under way now. The syrup makers tap their trees and wait for the sap to run. Then it's rushed to a boiling down process, which yields about one gallon of syrup for every 40 gallons of sap.

Michigan's average syrup production totals some 85,000-90,000 gallons a year. But 1973 was somewhat of a disaster for the industry. Only about 66,000 gallons were produced because of very warm weather early in the year.

Sound like a lot of syrup, anyway? Not really, when you consider that in an average year, about 45,000 gallons of the wonderful pancake sweetener is imported from other syrup producing areas, such as New England, Ontario and Wisconsin.

Parole Board to "School"
Michigan's parole board figures it should know as much as possible about how to do its job. So the five members went through a specially designed 20-hour training program to increase its skills in interviewing and decision-making.

Tell the Buyers
When is an egg still fresh? Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, thinks stores should tell their consumers the answer to that question. So he's introduced legislation calling for perishable foods to be stamped with a recommended date of sale or use. Under the bill, the food items could not be sold after the date stamped on the product.

Besides eggs, Bullard says the bill would cover fresh packaged meat, fish and poultry; prepackaged prepared foods which require refrigeration; dairy and dairy-type products; and prepackaged, fully or partially prepared baked goods which have a moisture content exceeding 18 percent.

"This type of open dating disclosure not only protects and pleases consumers, but also reduces retailers' overhead costs by preventing losses due to spoilage of unsold products," Bullard says.

Similar legislation already is in Dade County (Miami) Florida. In addition some 60 retail store chains, with about 15,000 outlets, also have adopted some type of voluntary open dating system.

Townships Find Higher Costs...

Webster Budget Higher

The Webster township budget also increased. Residents approved a budget of $58,072 in revenues with $52,460 in expenses. Last year's revenues were $43,333 with $38,700 in expenditures.

Mrs. Margaret Mynning, treasurer, received a salary increase from $3,600 to $4,000 and Mrs. Wanda Baldus, clerk, from $3,500 to $3,900.

Scio Budget Jumps

The Scio township meeting held in Wylie Middle school occasioned some heated debate among the 80 persons in attendance. The result was approval of the 1974-75 budget with anticipated expenditures of $227,021 and expected revenues of $227,021. Last year's budget was $215,187.89 with only $183,337.38 being spent. The remainder was placed into the public improvement fund.

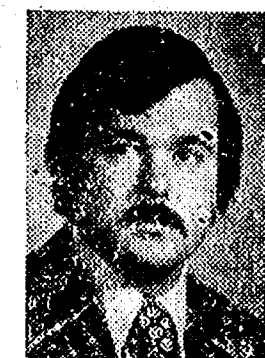

Additional revenue this year is attributed to the hike in the township's assessed valuation and a one-mill tax levy approved last year. Real and personal property tax is also up.

Increased expenditures include operation of the new township hall now under construction, additional consulting and planning fees for a proposed sanitary sewer line in the township, increased pay for office help, assessing, and printing booklets for the new township zoning ordinance.

The salary of George Smith, clerk, was increased from $10,000 to $12,000. Treasurer Evelyn Navarre's pay was raised from $9,000 to $10,000. All other township salaries remained the same.

Also at the meeting the sale of the old Delhi school on W. Delhi Rd., was approved. However, it will not be sold until the township hall is ready as a voting precinct.

showing in the relay meets and Regional."

As with last year's team, field event men will be depended upon heavily to "come through." Shot put is expected to be stronger, with returning conference champion Ishmael Picklesimer, a junior; sophomore Rex Miles and freshman Mark Smyth. High jump will be manned by junior Rick Sweeney and freshman Randy Sweeney. Long jumpers will be headed by senior Craig Coltre, senior Chuck Foytik in his first year out for the squad, and sophomores Dennis Bauer and Howard Salyer. Don Pierson, a junior, returns to lead the pole vaulters; other hopefuls are Mark Burnett and John Collins and Randy Sweeney.

In running events, Coach Kruse notes that "the sprinters are strong" and will be led by junior Karl Gauss, who will compete in 100- and 220-yard dashes, plus one of the relays.

Other sprinters who will run one of the dashes plus compete in the relays are Ishmael Picklesimer, Dennis Bauer, senior Dale Poertner (who lettered as a sophomore but did not run last year), senior Chuck Foytik, sophomores Kevin Kelly and John Collins, and freshman David Hendricks.

Hurdles will be in the hands of four-year veteran Craig Coltre, backed up by Curt Winans in the lows and Jeff Marshall and Rick Sweeney in the high hurdles.

Middle distances, 440 and 880 runs, will find experience on the one hand and inexperience on the other. Howard Salyer and Jeff Marshall lend experience in the 440, with backing from Mark Burnett, junior Dan Foytik, and freshman Bill Esch. Inexperience, however, shows in the 880, where Coach Kruse reports hope that sophomore David Frame and freshman Phil Frame and Morris Johnson "will develop quickly."

Other runners who will be tried in both sprints and middle distances are sophomores Gerry Milliken and Rob Winans, and freshmen

Dan Cobb, Mark Smyth, and Jim Greene.

Distance runs, mile and two mile, "appear to be much stronger this year," according to Coach Kruse. Senior John Tandy reportedly has looked impressive in the mile, although this is his first season on the squad. He will be backed by sophomore Bill Rademacher and Eric Prinzing. Phil Frame will also be alternating between the 880 and distances and has shown "some good potential."

Federated Women's Clubs Will Meet In Manchester

A program featuring a primary interest of clubwomen, The Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs' "Girlstown" will be a feature of the Washtenaw Federation of Women's Clubs annual Spring all-day meeting at the Manchester Methodist church, Monday, April 15.

Hostesses for the event will be members of the Twentieth Century Club of Manchester. Program chairman will be Mrs. W. H. Winkelhauser of Ann Arbor. Members may make their individual reservations by April 9, with Mrs. Theodore Tapping or Mrs. Robert Swartz of Manchester.

Trends of interest within the nearly 30 clubs participating will be reflected in the annual reports to be given by member club presidents.

A survey of southeastern Michigan clubs of the Michigan Federation indicates that one programing project, "The Emerging Woman," has been treated with notable disinterest, while work with bicycle safety and youth and teenage programs as well as crime prevention and safety increasingly engage the clubwomen's attention.

Bicycle safety "rodeos" were undertaken in Brooklyn (Jackson county) and Howellville in this area. A junior women's club in Rochester has initiated a teenagers' employment service as one of their crime prevention and law observance projects. This augments the "justice assistance for juveniles" projects being introduced to this area by the State Federation.

In keeping with the developing interest by Washtenaw County Federation members in current events, the WCF's second information newsletter will be introduced for program use at this meeting. Newsletter this time is a scan of public finance with emphasis on upcoming spending proposals and income and outgo.

Members of the WCF understand budgets and are turning their financial ken toward the basics of public budgeting.

On Carnival, she placed first in adult hunter under saddle.

Deanna Johnson, riding The Judge, took second in junior working hunter and fourth in bareback horsemanship.

Michelle Blanchard on Speaker the Streaker took a pair of seconds, in green-working hunter and green hunter under saddle, and a fourth in junior hunter under saddle.

Kate Donkin, riding Bittersweet, earned a second place in junior jumper and a fifth in bareback horsemanship over fences.

Mrs. Cecilia Proulx received a second in adult horsemanship.

Susan Beall placed first in intermediate horsemanship I.

Millie Shearer placed sixth in intermediate horsemanship I.

Tom Donkin took a first place in beginning horsemanship.

SHAPE UP FOR SUMMER

Do you need to shape up for summer fun and fashion by slimming down? Generous amounts of protein as provided by meat are important in weight reduction meals. A minimum of 7 ounces cooked lean meat daily is recommended by nutrition authorities.

The Deseret Ranch, owned by the Mormon Church, sprawls east of St. Cloud, Fla., across some 300,000 acres, making it one of the largest cattle spreads in the state.

AN OFFICIAL RIBBON-CUTTING CEREMONY opened the 37th Annual City Tournament of the Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association at Chelsea Lanes Saturday. Village president Hal Pennington does the scissor honors while bowlers associated with the 600 Club, which opened tournament action, look on. From left are Fran Cullin, sergeant-at-arms of the 600 Club, Jane Koch, 600 Club treasurer; Mary Mitchell, secretary of the Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association and secretary-treasurer of the City Tournament, and Ruth Towler, president of the 600 club.

HAL PENNINGTON wasn't in the running for any trophies Saturday at Chelsea Lanes, since the tournament is the Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association Tournament, but he was a good sport about his official duties and showed off his bowling form for the assembled competitors.

Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association Tourney Underway

A pair of firsts were recorded at Chelsea Lanes Saturday with the opening of the City Tournament of the Ann Arbor Women's Bowling Association—one by Hal Pennington and one by the Waterloo Garage bowling squad.

Village President Pennington left his mark on the hearts of the members of the Association by doing the traditional "cut-the-ribbon" ceremony to open the first day of competition for this 37th annual tournament, only it wasn't traditional for the Association, according to secretary Mary Mitchell: "This is the first time in all the years of this tournament that we've ever had an opening ribbon-cutting ceremony."

It was then left to Ed Greenleaf of Chelsea Lanes to roll out the first ball to open 600 Club competition, which began the tourney.

After these local celebrants did their part, it was only appropriate that Chelsea's own Waterloo Garage should land in first place at the end of the first encounters, on top of the team handicap standings with a 2,276 actual plus a 693-pin spot for a 2,969.

Other leaders in the tournament at this point are Marjory Maton and Joanne Jennette of Belleville, holding down the doubles actual lead with 1,088 and carrying over a 162-spot for the handicap lead as well at 1,250.

Leading both singles (with a 610 actual combined with 105 spot for a 715 total) and all events (at 1,891) is Pat Kibiske of Ypsilanti.

Actual lead in singles is held down by Shirley Moorman of Ann Arbor. Margory Maton's 1,583 leads the all-events actual.

Entered in this year's tournament, which was termed a "record tournament" by secretary Mary Mitchell, are 216 teams, 406 doubles, 812 singles, and 743 all-events. The tournament will continue through May 5 at Chelsea Lanes.

A grand total of $9,855 in prize money will be awarded this year, up from $7,988 last year. That breaks down to $3,240 for teams, $2,436 for doubles, $2,436 for singles, and $743 for all-events.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Newspaper and magazine ads, radio and TV commercials unceasingly stress the sales message — "For your convenience" — in acquainting you with all sorts of products and services. The assurance of convenience is seen everywhere, heard everywhere. It is constantly implied your convenience comes first, last and always. It has reached a point in our every day living that conveniences are an absolute must. They supposedly represent progress. Inconveniences are intolerable. They supposedly represent old patterns. The passion for convenience reflects an ever growing desire in self interest.

Perhaps we are being spoiled in the process. . . . Life was never intended to be an endless road of convenience. . . . Inconveniences do occur. . . . Sunday worship in church, for example, is not and should not be a matter of convenience. In a physical sense, church attendance can and does cause inconvenience at times. In a spiritual sense, neither convenience or inconvenience matter in an individual response to God's presence. . . . BURG-HARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

Gard of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS
Words cannot adequately express our deep appreciation for the sympathy expressed in such thoughtful ways by our kind friends, relatives and neighbors during our recent bereavement—for beautiful flowers, cards, contributions, messages and for the many acts of kindness and helpfulness. Special thanks for Pastor William Keller of Our Saviour Lutheran church for his comforting words. These expressions of sympathy and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.
The Family of Mary Eva Layher.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my relatives and friends for their visits, cards, gifts, and flowers while I was in the Chelsea Community Hospital; also the employees of Associated Spring Corp. of Ann Arbor, and Theford Corp. of Dexter; also the Women of Zion and Pastor John Morris, for their visits and prayers.
Mrs. Ruth Bristle.

THANK YOU

I wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has been so kind to me during my recent illness. First, my family, who have borne the brunt of the extra care and concern. Second, to my many friends who prayed so faithfully for me and those who sent gifts, flowers, cards and called and visited me at the hospital. Thanks to those too, who helped my family with gifts of food and assistance. To the women of Zion, the Lyndon Township Board and the Chelsea Community Hospital. A special thank you to Pastor
Morris who was always there when I needed him with God's words of comfort and faith.
To the entire staff at Chelsea Community Hospital thank you for your care, and to anyone I may have inadvertently missed, a truly grateful and sincere "thank you."
Doris M. Fuhrmann

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Alfred Titus, our beloved brother and uncle, who passed away one year ago today. Your memory will always remain in our hearts.
Sadly missed by his sister, Ethel Reed, and his nieces and nephews.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all of our relatives, neighbors, and friends for the many kind things they did for us during our recent loss. A special thanks to the Rev.
Dickens for his comforting words.
All of these kindnesses will be long remembered. May God bless you all.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
As I read my remarks—written in aftermath and without the perspective of time—printed in The Chelsea Standard on March 28 I realize that inferences might be drawn from the letter that I did not intend.

It has never been my intention to hurt in any way the friends, acquaintances or relatives of any of the persons whose lives were so tragically altered by the accident.

If my words have injured then it is my hope that these words may ease that injury.

Sincerely,
Max Plank.

Arbor's Pioneer High school on a still-undecided date.
