Kindergarten Registration Set for May 9

Next Thursday, May 9, is registration day for all pupils in the Chelsea School District who will enter school for the first time in September, 1974.

Rural parents will meet from 8:30 a.m. to approximately 10 a.m.; town parents will meet from 1:30 p.m. to approximately 3 p.m. in the all-purpose room at South Elementary school.

Parents unable to attend the May 9 meeting are urged to call South school before May 9 or some day as soon as possible after that date to register their children by telephone (475-2913). The school requests that parents do not call to register children on May 9, as that is expected to be a busy day.

Children must be five years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1974 to register for the coming school year. The school must see the child's birth certificate at the meeting, or not later than the opening day of school. This is required by the State of Michigan.

Also no later than the opening day of classes, the school must be provided with a statement from (Continued on page eight)

Bulldog Nine Squeaks Past Dexter, 11-10

Chelsea put a tough one into the win column Tuesday afternoon, edging the Dexter nine, 11-10.

The game saw Chelsea ahead, 11-4 as the two entered the bottom of the seventh inning. Dexter came alive after remaining relatively docile since the first inning to score seven runs—yes, seven—and tie the game at 11-11.

The game was awarded to Chelsea, however, when Bulldog players appealed that a Dreadnaught runner had failed to tag a base.

The runner, who had scored the tying run, was called out to end the game.

Coach Phil Bareis noted briefly, "That's baseball."

Leading hitter for the Bulldogs was Dave Tucker, who clubbed a home run, double, and a single.

Adding two hits each were Todd

Argentina Exchange Student Finds America Thrilling

Since the first day Maria Antonia Kovacevich stepped off an airplane in Michigan, it seems that her life has been one continuously thrilling experience—or maybe she just is one person who has the aura of authenticity being thrilled with life.

At any rate, things began for Chelsea's Argentine foreign exchange student when she discovered snow at Metropolitan Airport on Dec. 29.

"When I left Buenos Aires, it was so hot—we were carrying all my luggage, and it was so hot!" she exclaims, rolling her eyes at the memory of the cold she then encountered. "It is cold in Argentina in the winter, but December is summer, and I was wearing sandals when I got off the plane. My feet were so cold..."

After the snow, there were more surprises to contend with—notably the fact that Americans she met did not speak English the way she did. After studying English since first grade, she found herself replying "oh, yes," and "oh, no" to most questions, and asking "what?" too many times to suit herself.

"I was so tired of saying 'what?' after that first day," she recalls grimly. Now she says, after thinking and speaking English so much, it is hard to revert to Spanish.

In a remarkable, but unintended, imitation of a midwesterner employing a small amount of Spanish accent, she says her name, the way she says it now. The "r" is unextended; the "o's" are flat. Then, with what seems real effort, she says it the way

"we really say it" — the "r" rolled magnificently, the "o's" sounded more like a flat "a". More things than mere accents fascinate her, however. First, there is the American greeting, "hi," which apparently is unheard of in an English language class.

"I came here, and all these people say 'hi.' I think, what is this 'hi'?" And in Argentina, we kiss people—it is a greeting," she continues. "But here— one lady came here, and I kissed her (motioning to her cheek) and she said, 'oh, you are so sweet.' A kiss is like a hello. Sometimes when people come here, I lean forward to get the kiss, but then... they say 'hello.'"

She has found that her preconceptions of America have often been as far away from reality as some of the things her Chelsea schoolmates believe about her country. "People told me before I came here, 'America is great—it has huge highways and two story buses...' but that isn't true. At home I can take a taxi or a bus to get anywhere, where, but here, if you don't have a car, you are not able to go anywhere."

Americans, she says, often express surprise at her appearance. "Some people said they thought I would have dark hair and skin and eyes. But most people in Argentina have dark hair—but not very dark. Everyone in my family has blue eyes."

Mention of her family brings her to some interesting insights about her peers in Chelsea.

"My family and I are—friends," she says, searching for the correct word to explain the relationship.

"We do things together, and have fun, and we are friends," she repeats for emphasis. Some of my friends here are surprised when I tell them that I talk to my father about my problems. If a boyfriend calls, or something good or bad happens, I tell him as I would tell a friend.

"Some here have said, 'You tell your father?'" she continues. "But we tell each other everything. When we have a problem, everyone talks about it together. My parents not long ago thought about leaving Argentina, but we talked about it, and decided not to go."

"I think what is most important about coming to this country is that I have learned to... Appreciate my family. When I was getting ready to come here," she says, "I was so excited that I really didn't think about what was happening. I like America, though."

Maria's six-month stay in Chelsea covers her summer vacation, which stretches from January to mid-March, and the beginning of her school year. Life during that vacation, it seems, is a good one—she and her family travel alternately to the mountains, or to the seashore, or to a summer home, with her father, an engineer who now owns a factory, flying in to be with them on week-ends.

Her mother, she notes, should be currently buying books and (Continued on page three)

Track Team Tops Section in Albion Relays

There's nothing but good news from Chelsea's varsity track team this week—although in both cases the outcome could have been bad.

In Saturday's Albion Relays, Bulldog trackmen repeated as Section III winners with a total of 47 points by edging out Niles Brandywine in the final event of the afternoon.

In Thursday afternoon's encounter with the Novi Wildcats, Chelsea prevailed, 35-28, although the meet featured a Bulldog disqualification and a trio of local runners falling.

Final standings in the Albion relays showed Chelsea on top, followed by Niles Brandywine with 41 1/2 points; Albion, 36 1/2; Jackson Lumen Christi, 31; Royal Oak Shrine, 24; and Battle Creek Harper Creek, 27 1/2.

Chelsea pulled into a tie with Brandywine in the second-to-last event of the relays, when the 440-relay team earned a third. The meet was then decided by the pole vault, which had been continuing for six hours. Don Pierson took first in the crucial event with a 12 ft. vault while the Brandywine vaulter managed only a fifth place.

Coach Bert Kruse termed a number of his players' performances "very gutsy" and noted that "some of these key performances produced the points that won this meet." Balance again played a significant role in the Bulldog finish, as Chelsea scored in 12 of 15 events.

The winning combination of Craig Coltre and Karl Gauss again led the way to victory—Coltre took both the high and low hurdles, placed second in long jump and ran in the third-place 440 relay team. His efforts accounted for some 16% of the team's 47 points.

Gauss earned a second in the 100-yard dash, third in the 220 and ran in the third-place 880-relay team.

Other placers included: 440-yard dash: Howard Salyer, :53.0;

Shot put: 2nd, Ismael Picklesimer, 45 ft., 8 in.;

High jump: 2nd, Rick Sweeney, 5 ft., 10 in.

880-relay: 3rd, Chelsea (Howard Salyer, Dale Poertner, Dennis Bauer and Karl Gauss); 1:36.4.

440-relay: 3rd, Chelsea (Don Pierson, Dale Poertner, Curt Winans, Craig Coltre), :46.8.

Mile relay: 5th, Chelsea (Jeff Marshall, John Tandy, Dennis Bauer, Howard Salyer).

In their league encounter with Novi Thursday, Coach Kruse noted pointedly that "Novi was fortunate to score as many points as they did." Even aided by the disqualification of the Bulldog 440-relay team for two false starts, the failure of two pole vaulters to make opening heights near what they had cleared, and falls by three runners, Novi was unable to make much headway against the Bulldog tide.

"Fortunately," Coach Kruse commented, "these mistakes were made against a weak team, or they could have proven very costly."

Craig Coltre was again the big winner, chalking up three firsts, in low and high hurdles and long jump. In addition, Rick Sweeney took high jump and placed second in both hurdles in his first participation to finish as second highest point-getter.

Chelsea winners and placers were:

Rules Established for Using Tennis Courts

At a meeting last Tuesday to adopt policies and programs for tennis in the Chelsea area, Chelsea Tennis Commission also announced extensive tennis instruction and competition planned for this summer.

A new eight week session of adult tennis instruction, taught by high school physical education teacher Terry Schreiner, will begin June 13. Tennis lessons for children will be offered this summer during the day.

In addition, it was announced, area tennis players will have the opportunity to play weekly in a men's or women's league, which will conclude with Labor Day weekend tournaments, including competition in men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles, and "moonlight" mixed doubles. Further details on these programs will be available at a later date.

Other decisions revolved around procedures and regulations for Chelsea's courts.

Availability for both sets of courts (two at North school and two at Chelsea High school) was specifically defined. At the high school, Chelsea students and varsity tennis players have priority during school hours and until 6 p.m., April 2 through May 20.

At North school courts, varsity tennis players have priority from 4 to 6 p.m. from April 1 through May 20.

Chelsea High school's varsity tennis team has priority on all four local courts when hosting home matches on May 7, 9, 13, and 15.

What are basically behavior regulations established by the Commission are primarily matters of common sense. "To insure that the community's considerable investment" in its tennis program is not abused, restrictions state:

—no bicycles are allowed on the courts.

—participants must wear tennis shoes.

—court area should be kept free of debris; use trash receptacle.

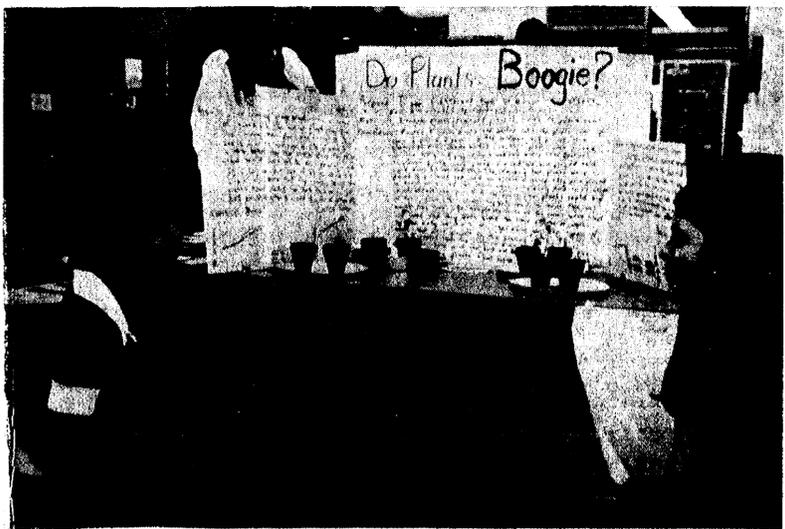

—participants should not adjust, lean, sit on, or jump nets.

—participants should refrain from using abusive language.

—participants should not use the practice board earlier than 7 a.m.

Failure to observe the rules, the Commission stresses, will result in loss of use of the courts.

A system for reserving courts which has reportedly proven "very fair and effective" in various communities was adopted by the Commission to insure that the courts will be available to all residents. (Continued on page six)

"DO PLANTS BOOGIE?" was the captivating question posed by Tom Boylan's experiment entered in Chelsea High school's science fair, held last Thursday evening for earth science and biology students. Inspected here by Jennifer Tandy (left) and Theresa Ottoman, Boylan's experiment explored the effects of playing varying types of music, from classical to hard rock, on the growth of plants. Boylan expected the plants to flourish under classical and perish under hard rock; in actuality, growth varied but little between classical music and more traditional rock and roll. The plants subjected to hard rock (Jimi Hendrix) died, however, which probably confirms a lot of parents' suspicions.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The tellers still had taxes on their minds Saturday night at the county store. Clem Webster said April 15 came and went and in spite of what taxpayers perked ever year, the country kept right on rolling along. Clem said about the only thing that made this year unusual at income tax time was the bed of snakes they plowed up about President Nixon's back taxes.

Clem said it looks like the domino idea of foreign policy is being put to work in the President's case. Ever since they open a file on him, it leads one to three or four more files. If he ain't being billed for state income taxes in Florida, and California where he claimed deductions on his houses as places of "primary residence," some congressional committee is trying to get him to pay for hauling his dogs around on public-owned airplanes.

It's a sight in this world, allowed Clem, that we got $40,000-a-year congressmen with nothing better to do than figger how much it cost extra to carry a 25-pound dog from Washington to California on an airplane that can haul 75 people and 20 ton of freight. Clem said he is for Nixon paying ever cent of income tax he owes, but it's got to where that 1,000-page report on his tax records that sells for $6.50 is a bigger light than that picture show about the devil getting into some little girl.

Actual said Zeke Grubb, people allus is fascinated by what they're afraid of, and fer striking fear deep in the hearts of Americans, you just can't beat taxes and Ol' Beelzebub. Zeke said fer what we pay our congressmen, he'd rather see them working on ways to change the tax laws so the working man in the middle wouldn't be keeping up the rich on one end of the income scale and the pore on the other end. Zeke has saw where Senator Mondale said thousands of people with huge incomes pay the little end of nothing, and that 402 Americans that made $100,000 or more in 1972 paid no income tax at all that year.

Ed Doolittle said where a column writer reported that the 16th Amendment that give the Federal Government the right to tax income was only 31 words. That was in 1913, and since then laws covering collection of taxes runs to more than a million words. And Ed said a good loope-lawyer can do more fer his client today with them million words than the 31 did fer the country.

Back when that Amendment was wrote, Ed allowed, you could take yore gal to the county fair and buy her pink lemonade. All the reward you got and all you expected was to take her home, set in the front porch swing and squeeze yore lemonade. Nowadays, he said, you can charge the lemonade to operating expenses get depreciation on the swing and come out ahead of the game.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Shortage Drastic?

A giant question mark hangs over what's described as Michigan's second largest industry: agriculture.

The problem is fertilizer, its availability and price. Estimates of the shortage—caused because natural gas, itself at a premium, is the main ingredient for nitrogen—vary widely.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, for instance, has projected a 5 percent fertilizer shortfall across the country. But many consider that estimate extremely conservative, including the fertilizer industry, which pegs the national shortage at 15 percent.

Michigan's shortage is bound to be tighter than some other areas, explains John Calkins, chief deputy director for the Michigan Agriculture Department. That's because Michigan is far from the nitrogen fertilizer supply, most of which is in the deep south, close to natural gas sources.

Another reason is increased accreage planned for Michigan this year. About 11 percent more acreage, or half a million acres, are expected to be planted this year than in 1972.

Some of that land was released for planting by the federal acreage reserve program, while another portion has been added by farmers who might see the increase in food prices as an inducement to increase their own farms' output.

Then what is Michigan's situation?

Estimates of the state shortage vary widely too, but they're much higher than what the USDA and fertilizer industry project for the nation.

One survey of state fertilizer dealers, completed by the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, shows the state faces a 51 percent shortage of nitrogen fertilizer.

Another survey, conducted by the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, went directly to some 4,000 farmers to ask their predictions. Finding: Michigan farmers say they are still unsure of 80 percent shortage this summer.

Comments from individual farmers answering the survey are as widely divergent as the various projections by agencies.

One says he expects to plant most crops as usual. But another reports: "If the fertilizer price goes up and the grain price goes down, I won't need any." He's ready to throw in the rake.

How many Michigan farmers will react that way is anybody's guess, of course. But it's safe to assume that higher prices for fertilizer will have some ramifications for the consumer—like higher prices next year.

A recent report that the state had located sources of nitrogen fertilizer "sufficient to cover Michigan's anticipated 1974 farm shortage" may have been misinterpreted by those not in the know.

The announcement did not mean that all is well.

It does mean that farmers who want to pay much higher prices for fertilizer can get it from overseas sources. And those prices are in some cases at least double domestic prices.

Baring the Facts

Some lawmakers are taking it upon themselves to tell the voters what they're worth and how much they're spending of taxpayers' money.

Most recent among those making disclosures are Rep. John R. Otterbacher, D-Grand Rapids, and Rep. Michael A. Dively, R-Tri-Valley City.

For the second year in a row, legislation that would require regular financial reports from many elected and appointed officials—reported his personal assets and liabilities. The lawmaker lists his more than $22,000.

Dively detailed his postage, telephone and travel expenses for the last two years. That information is his public record, but Dively says, "Like a lot of other public information, it is sometimes difficult if not impossible for most people to find."

"Public officials have a responsibility to make it as easy as possible for citizens to find out how their tax money is being spent."

Beach School Horse Lovers Club Sponsors Instruction Clinic

"Horsing around" is definitely not an adequate description of Beach Middle School's Horse Lovers Club this year. Club members, who take their interest seriously, last Saturday sponsored a horse clinic at Botsford in halter, beginning western horsemanship, advanced western horsemanship, and hunt seat equitation.

Such a clinic, it was decided, would be beneficial for instruction in safe horsemanship, familiarizing horses and ponies with new surroundings, and obtaining a glimpse at what would be expected of both horse and rider at a small horse show.

In the first semester of the club, members worked toward horsemanship ribbons by passing a test in the care of horses and turning in projects. Some of the projects were presented at last Friday's Beach school carnival, ranging from displays of parts of a horse and breeds of horses, to a model of a trail horse class. Proceeds from the carnival have been donated to the Chelsea Community Fair horse show.

In addition, activities included field trips to Stoney Ridge Farm and to the farm home of Bill and Julie Tite. At Stoney Ridge, the horse lovers were instructed in the care of horses and hunt seat equitation. The Tites showed the club training methods for a young colt and western horsemanship.

Some of the projects were presented at last Friday's Beach school carnival, ranging from displays of parts of a horse and breeds of horses, to a model of a trail horse class. R. Riemenschneider Attends Classes in U-M Real Estate Training

Robert Riemenschneider of Chelsea was among 60 persons attending Real Estate Institute III held in Ann Arbor, April 15. The Institute is one of a series presented during the year throughout the state by the Real Estate Program of the University of Michigan Extension Service and Graduate School of Business Administration. Courses in the program lead to a certificate in real estate which is approved by the National Association of Realtors and the Michigan Association of Realtors as meeting the academic qualification toward the Graduate, Realtors Institute (GRI) designation. These courses also provide preparation for the licensing examinations for salesmen and brokers administered by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Volunteers Preparing Waterloo Farm Museum for June Opening

Signs of spring at the Jacob Reilly homestead, more familiarly known as the Waterloo Farm Museum, involve some cleaning, polishing, repairing and planning for the opening of the museum June 1. A work session conducted two weeks ago by the building committee for the museum resulted in a painted, scrubbed and polished inside of the museum. The following Saturday, Mrs. Joan Hertzler and 12 Girl Scouts of Ann Arbor spent the entire day in raking and cleaning up trash and debris in the Spring for the Waterloo Area Historical Society also means two educational meetings, the first of which Saturday, May 4 at the Farm Museum at 1:30 p.m., will be for anyone interested in guiding at the Museum this summer.

The second meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Education Building of the Stockbridge Presbyterian church. Restoration, stabilization and care of antiques will be the subject of this meeting. Six table displays — one each for leather including book bindings, harnesses, brass and copper, silver and pewter, iron and tools, painted wooden pieces, and china and glass — will be manned by people who will explain how to care for the items displayed on their particular tables, including polishes and cleaners which have restorative qualities and others which are not advisable for use because of possible injury to metal or other materials.

Historical Society members remind the community that it was only community spirit and enthusiasm that turned this farm homestead about to be razed, into a National Historic Site. There are all kinds of jobs to be done at the museum, — something for everyone.

Anyone interested in helping at the Museum in any capacity should contact Joe Hanna, president of the Historical Society, in Stockbridge.

Deadline Date Nears For Federal Crop Insurance Applications

May 10 is the last day the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. of the USDA will accept applications for insurance on corn and soybeans for the 1974 crop year, according to Donald Oesterle, supervisory fieldman for the State of Michigan.
 Oesterle says, "More farmers in Michigan than ever before are using the All-Risk insurance to protect their larger investments and higher costs."
 All-Risk insurance written by the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., provides a method to replace capital lost as a result of unavoidable crop damage by substituting a small regular premium payment for the uncertainty of risk—risk doesn't change, it just changes victims.
 Oesterle further states, "Any farmer or producer wanting to be in the Federal Crop Insurance should contact his local ASCS office or the FCIC Office for the county—Route 5, Coldwater 49036."

PROTEIN NEEDS
 The recommended daily allowance for protein is 65 grams for an adult man, 55 for an adult woman, 45 for a 10 to 12-year-old boy and 50 for a young girl.

IRON INDICATOR
 Most men need more calories than women. However, if you're female and between the ages of 22 and 35, you need more iron than they do. For the standard woman in this age group, the recommended allowance for iron is 18 milligrams, while calorie intake is at 2,800. Meat is an excellent source of iron. Liver is the richest food source, an average of three and one-half ounces supplying 18.5 milligrams of this important mineral.

For many people, a good-sized car is not just a luxury, it's a necessity.

Now that you have to slow down, you don't have to move down.

Some people need the room and carrying capacity of a full-size car. And if you're one of them, we've got good news for you. Now that the speed limit is down to 55, and you have to slow down, you can get better gas mileage in a car like Chrysler. It means you don't have to move down to a smaller car just for gas economy.

That's the way to go! Know what I mean?

And you don't have to give up the good things you buy a Chrysler for: the room and comfort, the quality and security of a great road car. Come in and let us show you how the '74 Chrysler makes necessity a pleasure.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

FOURTH GRADE—

Room 24
Teacher: Mrs. Huebner
Reporters: Diane Bareis, Charly Clemons and John Allen
Some of the people in our class wrote a story for a creative writing contest. The winners will go to a convention in Dexter. The winners are Diane Bareis and Michelle Hellner.

We have books called, Detecting the Sequence, and it takes a lot of skill to do. It helps us learn the sequence of events in a story. We have a Night Time Readers Chart. It's for people who like to read at night. The people who read 30 nights received a pen for a reward. Those students are: John Allen, Diane Bareis, Shawn Blough, Danya Bohl, Carol Hafner, Sandy Hellmann, Michelle Hellner, Terry McInnis, Cathy Pearson, Howard Whitaker, Tim Whitesell and Peter Worden. Now we have started a new chart.

Room 20
Teacher: Mrs. Laczko
Reporter: Bethel Snyder
We're having a lot of fun in science. We're planting marigolds not just for fun but to experiment with them.

In social studies we're studying Belgium and the Netherlands. Some of us like, and some don't. In math we are using deductive reasoning in figuring out our math problems. Next week we will begin addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of fractional numbers.
In gym we ran the 800.

Room 22
Teacher: Mr. Ticknor
Our class is relearning about safety. It is something that we should always be aware of, but this is not always the case. We are becoming safety conscious. There are many different kinds of safety we hope to cover such as: 1. bike safety; 2. safe walking; 3. electrical safety; 4. climbing safety. This is only a small list of what we are talking about. We want to become aware of safety in everything we do and hope to become truly safety conscious.

AUTO RESEARCH
With the concern about energy and pollution, little publicity has been given to this innovation they are working on in Detroit: a windshield wiper that won't hold parking tickets!

Free Boating Safety Course Starts May 6

U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-19, Ann Arbor, is offering a free boating safety course designed especially for youngsters between the ages of 12 and 16.

"Youngsters in the 12-16 age group are legally permitted to operate a motor boat only after completing the water safety section of the state Department of Natural Resources," according to Mrs. Ara Walker, Vice-Flotilla Commander of Flotilla 12-19.

Mrs. Walker is a certified instructor who has taught this course to more than 1,000 young students during the last five years. She is currently public education officer for the local flotilla.

"Mrs. Walker points out that, 'If youngsters 12-16 have not earned the state registration card awarded upon completion of the course, they must be accompanied by some one over 16 when operating a boat with a motor of five horsepower or more.'"

The free state boating course will consist of three classroom sessions, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on consecutive Mondays—May 16, 13, and 20 in the west cafeteria of Ann Arbor Pioneer High School.

The state of Michigan furnishes the course materials and the registration card awarded after successful completion of the course. The class will cover such topics as: rules of the road, required safety equipment, owner responsibility and liabilities.

Students who are 11 years old must reach their 12th birthday by July 1 in order to take the course. Their state registration cards will be mailed to them upon reaching 12.

Boaters over 16 who are interested in boating safety are also welcome to attend the classes. Further information on the course may be obtained by calling Louise Walker, after 7 p.m. at 434-0052.

Federated Women's Clubs Encourages Voter Participation
Leaders of women's clubs throughout Washtenaw county were guests this week of the 20th Century Club of Manchester.

Morning session of the annual spring meeting of the Washtenaw County Federation of Women's Clubs was highlighted by a discussion of public electorate woes and possible remedies.

The need for responsive action co-operatively undertaken stresses the importance of more active participation in recognized and firmly established group forms such as local clubs and their strengthening agents for influencing public events, the general, state, and county federations, notes Washtenaw Federation President Mrs. Stanton G. Roesch of Manchester.

Mrs. Roesch commented that solutions to these problems may be undertaken by concerted action and cited the Washtenaw Federation as a vehicle.

She reminds members of innovations this year: open-forum format of meetings and the real exchange of ideas which has resulted; the new service of factual civic information via the "Leader Information Letter."

Then Mrs. Roesch challenged the members to spark matching vigor among their membership with lagging club rolls throughout the country. She said of the Federation "That future . . . lies solely with you, the membership, and I so challenge you!"

Afternoon speaker was Mrs. Mary McGregor, director of Girls' Town. Hostess club members were complimented by the purchase by guests of colorful "birds" in straw nests artfully arranged on twigs and branches as favors and centerpieces.

Tennis Rules . . .

The system utilizes a pegboard, mounted at each court, on which the player places his racquet to reserve the court for the next odd or even hour—left side for odd hour play and right side for even hour play.

Playing time will be limited to one hour when others are waiting for courts. In addition:—courts may not be racqueted more than two hours prior to the time wished for play.

—Only one court may be racqueted at a time.
—An individual playing may not re-racquet a court until all persons who have already racqueted courts and are waiting to play have taken possession of their courts, and those waiting to racquet courts have had opportunity to do so.

North school courts, which were expected to open last week, are still without lines. Recreation Council expects them to be finished "very soon," however.

Nancy Irene Kennedy and Douglas were united in marriage Saturday, April 20, at Sharon United Methodist church in a ceremony officiated by the Rev. Michael Peterlin.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. James Ray Flint, all of Manchester.

For the ceremony, the bride appeared in an empire-waisted gown with bodice of lace over satin with long full sleeves and cuffs. The slightly gathered skirt was of satin, covered with chiffon and lace appliques. The train, also of satin, was covered with chiffon with lace appliques.

Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses and white miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Miss Karen Kennedy, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Westfall and Mrs. Gary Blossom, a sister of the bridegroom.

The costumes of the maid of honor and bridesmaids were of the same style as that of the bride, except for short puffed sleeves and braid encircling the empire waist. They were made of dotted Swiss over taffeta in green, blue, pink, and yellow.

Bridesmaids carried similar bouquets of miniature carnations and daisies.

Acting as best man was Richard Kennedy, a brother of the bride. David Jose and Gary Blossom, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as ushers. Robert Hartmann, a nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

A reception followed at Freedom Township Hall. Cutting the wedding cake were Mrs. Ronald Mast and Mrs. Dennis Trinkle; pouring punch and coffee were Miss Carol Clark and Miss Barbara Hinderer; attending the guest book were Miss Cathy Clark and Miss Mary Wahl. All are cousins of the bride. The couple will reside at 6481 M-52, Manchester.

Church Women Join In Fellowship Day

With a theme of "Explore New Paths," Chelsea Church Women United will meet tomorrow, Friday, at the First United Methodist church for the annual observance of May Fellowship Day.

Guest speaker for the program will be Mrs. Ruth Cadwalder, president of Ypsilanti Church Women United and editor of the group's state publication, "The Michigan Church Women." Her topic will be "Women Around the World."

As part of a long tradition of meeting on the first Friday in May for May Fellowship Day, Chelsea Christian women, along with church women across the country, meet to emphasize the creative relationships that are possible among people in every community.

Through this year's observance of May Fellowship Day, church women will seek significant ways of stimulating new careers for women in their local communities, as part of the group's commitment in the 1970s to share in shaping new social patterns that will assure a fuller life for all people.

Encouraging women to enter new vocations to meet personal needs and the needs of society, the group feels, can make possible a new quality of life.

The church women plan specifically to analyze the things that need to be done in their respective communities. They will search for ways to make available community resources which can enhance the special skills and experience of women capable of developing new careers.

Such concern stems from the fact that women often have not held clear objectives when they began to seek employment, the group explains, since most women's motivation involves economic necessity of some form and not always creative fulfillment. As more women turn to employment and become a larger part of the work force, as is currently the case, the need grows for career guidance in a variety of situations.

Attention needs to focus upon, first, the quality of career counseling provided for the young women at the high school level; second, a special kind of support and guidance that should be available to women over 30 years who are re-entering the job market and desire to re-train themselves; and finally, encouragement to further training and education in women working as paraprofessionals as finances and situations permit.

Among women who are locked into unsatisfying jobs that are not challenging to their interests or skills, many have been work as volunteers or taken second jobs to gain the satisfaction lacking in their primary employment, Church Women United notes.

Through this volunteer work, a new brand of volunteer has emerged: the one who transforms her volunteer work into paid employment by turning to formal education for specific training and qualifications in her field. Others become "paid volunteers" receiving a stipend in lieu of salary.

Planning committee for this year's May Fellowship Day includes Annabelle Closson, who planned the worship presentation; Nita Mills, who contacted churches; and Lorrie Rady and Donna Gaunt, who managed lunch, decorations, and physical arrangements.

For the salad buffet planned for the program, participants are asked to bring a salad and their own table service. Fellowship day is scheduled from 12 noon to 2:30 p.m.

Participating churches are First United Methodist church, First

CHS Juniors Chosen in Exchange Plan

Two Chelsea High school juniors, Merry Hoffmeyer and Mary Beth Chandler, have been announced as foreign exchange students for the summer months by Youth for Understanding.

Merry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffmeyer of 146 Orchard, will spend the eight weeks from June 21 to Aug. 22 in Switzerland. As yet, she has received no notification regarding the family with whom she will stay.

Switzerland, Merry reports, was her "first choice" country for placement. She has completed three years of French and German in high school, which some preparation in itself.

At Chelsea High school, she is a member of the high school band, playing French horn, a member of Chelsea's National Honor Society, and a member of the forensics team, in the storytelling category.

Mary Beth Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Chandler of 765 Howard, will journey to Norway. Although she says that her first choice would have been to go to Switzerland, she was told that she needed a further background in languages than she currently possesses.

She will be living with a family whose home is in Asker, but expects that they will spend most of their time along the west coast of the country.

At Chelsea High school, Mary Beth is editor of the annual.

Exchange Student

"I think I will tell them I need a vacation," she says, "but I will have to study." Although now a senior at Chelsea High school (after some trials and tribulations between a Chelsea counseling office and Youth for Understanding), when she returns to her home in suburban Buenos Aires, she will have one and one-half years of school remaining before college.

She thinks now that she might like to study nuclear engineering. "It is so strange, here in America you have so many engineers and few doctors. In Argentina we have so many doctors—none of them can make any money—and few engineers. And here doctors go to college for six years and engineers for four—in Argentina doctors go for four years and engineers for five, six, seven."

She wonders, though, about the length of time involved in nuclear engineering education. "My father says that nuclear engineering is too long for a girl to go to school. I might never work, at all," she says, noting that her mother, who is trained in a profession similar to that of a lawyer that Maria says lacks a corresponding English phrase, has never worked.

"My friends and I never work. I told my father that I had worked once here babysitting, and he was worried—he was afraid that I needed money," she laughs. "But it is so nice to earn your own money."

Other aspects of life in a small town as familiar as baby-sitting seem to rouse delight in her. She reports that people are "so friendly" and recalls an elderly woman whom she helped across a street telling her that she "had a granddaughter just like me."

And at a wedding with her host family, the Russell Sevens of Butternut Ct., she discovered another tiny "difference."

"I said, 'oh, there are two weddings going on here at the same time,'" she remembers. "And someone said, 'no, those are the attendants.' I didn't know what that other man and woman were doing there. We have people to help them dress and such, but no one is standing up with them."

"I like America," she says positively, "but I appreciate my home now, too."

Baseball Win...

Starting pitcher Houle was relieved by Ortring in the seventh but recorded the win.

Friday the Bulldogs will tangle with Saline's Hornets in Saline.

Line score:
Chelsea 002-030-4-11
Dexter 310-000-6-10
Chelsea: Houle, Ortring (7), and Nadeau.
Dexter: Toma, Peters (5), and Darr.

Tag Days To Benefit Scholarship Fund

With all the formality rightly due such an auspicious occasion, village President Harold Pennington has declared tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday to be Tag Days for Chelsea High school's National Honor Society, in conjunction with the Chelsea Scholarship Committee.

Dick McInnis will provide organ music during dinner and a guest speaker is from the Michigan State Historical Society.

Knick's Kicking for U-M

In the annual Blue-White intrasquad game between first and second string members of the University of Michigan football team, Chelsea's Steve Knickerbocker, on the white team, kicked a 44-yard field goal the last play of the game. The Blues prevailed, however, 41-7.

Knickerbocker attended Olivet College his freshman year. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Knickerbocker, 1221 N. Freer Rd.

and education of graduating seniors.

Mrs. June Winans will supervise the venture, assisted by Mrs. Robert German, Captain of Tag Day, National Honor Society president Dave Klemmer.

NHS members will be stationed on the main corners of Chelsea, at the bank corner and at Polly's on Friday from 3 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

WHEREAS, The National Honor Society, in conjunction with the Scholarship Committee, recognizes the need of deserving Chelsea High seniors, and

WHEREAS, The National Honor Society and the Scholarship Committee wish to aid their graduating seniors in their first year of college education,

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, we declare Tag Day in Chelsea this coming Friday, May 3, and Saturday, May 4, and urge all citizens to help us in providing scholarships for our deserving seniors.

TODAY'S THOUGHT by LOUIS BURGHARDT Here is a partial quote from a prayer written by a friend of ours following the death of his mother. It is a true life story - worth reading. "I see life darkly as in a clouded mirror. Yet, if it be Thy will, my vision can be cleared. . . . If life was merely for the result of worldly fame, glory and wealth, it would not be worth the living. It would be an illusion luring the traveler to a goal of self-gratification and a reward of death. Life is the school of experience, which prepares us for the next life, for the spiritual life which lies beyond the barrier of death. . . . Life is the fulfillment of a personal mission assigned to us by Thee, Dear God, and each man has a destiny."

Girls Softball Team Wins Two Tuesday
It was a long wait for opening day for Chelsea's girls varsity softball teams, but the scores that came out of their first games were worth it.
The varsity squad, after their encounter with Manchester was rained out last week, met Grass Lake and Dexter Tuesday night, romping over Grass Lake, 37-22, and edging Dexter 8-6.
The Grass Lake game, termed a "loosely-played ball game," by Coach Ann Schaffner, had all players seeing action.
Leading hitters for Chelsea were Brenda Salyer with five hits, Teresa Breza, Lori Fritz, and Char Steinaway with four; Julie Asmusen and Kathy Kuhl with three; and Lorraine Clark, Marilyn King, and Cindy Van Riper with two. Steinaway's four hits included a pair of home runs, a double and a triple.
Brenda Salyer recorded the win, with relief from Char Steinaway.
In the Dexter contest, Brenda Salyer went all the way, giving up a meager five hits to the Dreadnaught girls.
The big hit of the game was Char Steinaway's home run with two teammates aboard in the fifth inning.
Coach Schaffner noted that Lorraine Clark continued her hot hitting, going 4-for-4, and Teresa Breza played "an excellent game" at shortstop.
League action begins tomorrow, Friday, with a game against Saline at 4 p.m. at South school field.

Beach Girls Track Team Meets Dexter
In a practice meet against Dexter Wylie, Beach Middle school girls track squad earned first place in four events. Coach Pat Clarke noted that the team's performance was somewhat stilted by the fact that only eight of 25 girls in track are 8th graders.
Winners for Beach were:
60-yard dash: 1st, Angie Merkel, :07.9.
440-dash: 1st, Shelley Warren, :17.7.
80-yard run: 1st, Lisa Scott, 2:53.
80-yard: 1st, Beach (Angie Merkel, Shelley Warren, Penny Collinsworth, Carolyn Schardein), 1:59.

A WINNING COMBINATION of Brenda Shadoan and Brad Glazier earned honors in Thursday's regional forensics competition at Pioneer High school in Ann Arbor and will continue to competition in the state meet in Ann Arbor this Saturday. Brenda rated first in women's extemporaneous speaking; Brad placed third in men's oration.

Two Qualify for State Forensics Competition

Two members of Chelsea's forensics squad earned berths in the state forensics meet scheduled for Saturday by virtue of winning performances in last Wednesday's regional meet at Pioneer High school in Ann Arbor.

Brenda Shadoan, a sophomore, earned a first place in women's extemporaneous speaking, "quite an accomplishment for a sophomore," according to forensics coach William Coelius. Brenda, who was also active on the debate team, is participating in her first year of forensics.

Brad Glazier, junior, earned a third place in men's oratory. Last year he was a member of the County Tax Sale Scheduled May 7

Tuesday, May 7, is the date for this year's annual Tax Sale by the county, county officials have announced. At that time, all property covering delinquent taxes spread the third year prior to date of the sale will be offered to the general public.

According to Hilary E. L. Goddard, county treasurer, at a tax sale, the unpaid taxes of the various properties are offered individually and bid competitively by individuals for the amount of taxes and fees. The highest bidder then holds what is called a "lien" on the property. He must offer a bid that covers the cost of the taxes, and charges, and take the smallest unbid interest in the parcel offered. He is then given a Certificate of Purchase against payment of the purchase price.

Any party with equity in the property which was sold may redeem that equity within the following year by paying to the county treasurer the amount adjudged together with interest at one percent per month since the month of sale.

If the tax is not redeemed within one year following the sale, the individual purchaser may obtain a Tax Deed from the Auditor General for that particular year's lien. To have a right to the property, the purchaser must then complete certain rights of possession.

Rights of possession include serving notice to all parties of interest who are on record through the sheriff. Within six months time after the time of filing of the proof of serving this notice with the county clerk, the owner or other party of interest may then still redeem the property by paying to the tax sale purchaser or the county clerk of Washtenaw county, the amount of tax sale bid, plus an additional 50 percent of this amount, and a $5 fee.

If the owner or the interested parties have failed or neglected to redeem such lands within six months, the purchaser may obtain from the county clerk a certified copy of said notice with proof of service. The purchaser must then register these certified papers, and the tax deed with the register of deeds, and he is at that time owner of said land under said purchase.

It is, needless to say, a complicated but cheap way to buy land! A complete list of the entire tax sale properties which will be offered at the May 7 auction was printed in three consecutive issues of The Standard during February. A limited number of those papers are still available at The Standard upon request.

Baseball Team Loses Three Home Games

Phil Bareis, never a man for excuses, says simply, "We just can't win at home."

His Bulldog nine wrestled with this annoying stigma three times this past week and ended up on the short end in each, falling to Milan, 7-4 Friday, and dropping a pair to Ann Arbor St. Thomas Saturday afternoon, 10-2 and 8-4.

"We're doing what the Tigers were doing—giving up a lot of runs in the early innings and then having to pay catch-up ball the rest of the game," the coach reports.

Friday against the Big Reds, Chelsea gave up "too many base hits and errors in the first three innings," according to Coach Bareis, that gave Milan a 6-4 lead at the end of three. Perry Johnson suffered the loss.

John Houle relieved Johnson in the third and earned a rating of "quite a creditable job" from Coach Bareis, as he gave up but one run in the final four innings, but the Milan lead was by then too much for the Bulldogs.

Good for two hits for the local squad was Tres MacCollum.

It was much the same story in the opener of the twin bill with St. Thomas Saturday morning. St. Thomas jumped to a quick 5-0 lead in the second, and Chelsea again was forced to nip at the opposition's heels for the rest of the contest.

Howard Haselschwardt started and received the loss. Todd Ortring took over for Haselschwardt in the second and finished the game.

Big hitter for the Bulldogs was Mike Nadeau, who clubbed a pair of doubles.

The second game of the doubleheader was "I hate to say it—a repeat of the first game," lamented Coach Bareis.

Bill Clark pitched a complete game, but gave up five big runs in the second on only two hits, combined with four walks and a hit batsman.

Although the Chelsea bats were booming to some degree—Bulldogs racked up 10 hits to St. Thomas' seven—the local attack once again was a one-run-an-inning affair.

Four players, Randy Guenther, Todd Ortring, Tres MacCollum, and Paul Wood, were each good for a pair of hits.

The losses put Chelsea's overall record into a nosedive to 5-9. They are 2-3 in the Southeastern Conference.

Canoeing Course To Be Offered Beginning May 2

Both a basic canoeing course and a training course for those wishing to become instructors are being offered in May through the co-operation of the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross, the Ann Arbor Parks Department and the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

The Red Cross instructors' course is open to canoeists 17 years and older who meet swimming qualifications. Sessions will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. on May 2 and 3 and May 6 through May 10, at Argo Park Canoe Livery. There will also be a pool session on Sunday, May 5, from 1 p.m. till 4:30 p.m. at Ypsilanti High school pool.

The basic course is open to anyone who can demonstrate sufficient swimming ability for canoeing. The minimum age is 13. Dates for the basic course are May 3 through 10, with a pool session from 1 to 5 p.m. at Ypsilanti High school on Sunday, May 5, and the other sessions from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Argo Park Canoe Livery at the foot of Longshore Dr., Ann Arbor.

Bursley Bill Asks For State To Pay On Late Refunds

Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor), assistant majority leader and chairman of the Senate Education Committee, has introduced legislation which would require the State of Michigan to pay interest on all tax refunds not paid within 20 days of receiving the income tax return.

The bill, with 12 co-sponsors, states that:

"After the 30 days, interest would be paid to the refund applicant at the rate of 1/2 of 1 percent of the unpaid refund amount for each month or part of a month it remains unpaid." This amounts to a 6 percent annual percent interest rate.

Senator Bursley stated, "When the taxpayer is delinquent the state charges him interest at an annual rate of 6 percent. We are saying that when the state is slow on a refund, it shall pay interest to the taxpayer at the same rate."

"In a sense, the state is borrowing tens or hundreds of millions of interest-free dollars from these funds in high-interest short-term equities while the tax reforms are slowly being processed. Maybe this legislation will step up refunds," Senator Bursley concluded.

Army researchers are working on a process to make waste water from laundries, showers and kitchens reusable. The process frees the polluted water of bacteria and solids, making it safe for non-drinking purposes.

Bible 'Creationism' Program Slated at Immanuel Church

Pastor Marvin L. Lybenow, of the First Baptist church in Wayne, will present a program using twin projectors and screens to teach Bible creationism and to demonstrate the scientific validity of this subject on Saturday, May 4, at 7 p.m. at Immanuel Bible church on E. Summit St.

Through years of effort, Dr. Lybenow has assembled color slides from such sources as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Mt. Wilson, Palomar, and other astronomical observatories, and the world's leading natural history museums. He also uses slides from his own travels, geological field trips and photographic expeditions to museums and scenic points of interest to illustrate the external truth of God's Word in its relationship to the world in which we live.

Among his subjects are "The Grandeur of Creation," which is a dramatic pictorial presentation of Genesis 1, centering on the Biblical six days of creation and the sequence of events in each of those six days.

Then follows "Creation, Evolution, and the Fossils," which compares evolutionary theory with creation concepts as related to the fossil record.

He then progresses to "Stones, Bones, and Crania," which demonstrates fossil evidence for man which supports the concept of special creation rather than evolution.

The "Genesis Flood" is explored graphically, illustrating the history of the early earth from the fall to the flood.

Dr. Lybenow has studied at five Christian colleges and two state universities. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Bob Jones University and a master of theology degree from Dallas Theological Seminary.

Host Families Sought For Exchange Students

"It's a wonderful experience that I wouldn't have missed for anything," is the way Judy Eubanks describes her last-waning year as "mother" to Chelsea High school foreign exchange student Henriette Schroder.

This year Chelsea has four foreign exchange students staying with local families through the Youth for Understanding program—Henriette, staying with Judy and her husband, Mike, Per Gellstrom, living with the Donald Kvarnberg family; Juha Paunonen, staying with the Ronald Harris family; and Maria Antonia Kovacevich, a six-month—December to June—YFU student staying with the E. Russell Severn family.

"A really common error that people who might want foreign students make is that they think they must have a son or daughter the same age as the foreign student," Judy mentions. "This isn't true—I have a three-year-old and a six-year-old, and Henriette is 19."

Judy currently has files concerning exchange students available for possible host families in the Chelsea area. "Anyone interested in hosting a YFU student should come and look at the files—there's absolutely no pressure involved to become part of the program."

While living with their American family, YFU students attend local high schools, take part in school and community activities, and generally become part of the family. Host families are not provided support for their exchange students through the program, as it is stipulated that the family must be able to "take the student into its family." Students receive allowances from their families, and many hold part-time jobs while in this country.

Youth for Understanding, in a recent press release noting the need for host families, says that "host families provide the key to international understanding. The daily living experience encountered by the student through his new family gives him an insight and awareness of the U.S. that is difficult to duplicate."

Families interested in sharing their homes with a high school exchange student from Europe, Central or South America, or the Philippines, should contact, in Dexter, Barb Parker, at 426-4839, or Judy Eubanks in Chelsea at 475-2382.
