

'Earn, Learn, Play' Recreation Program Will Be Instituted

From the name that Recreation Tom Balistrere has given his latest Chelsea Recreation Council program, "Earn, Learn, and Play," it's reasonably obvious what the three parts of the program are.

What isn't quite as obvious are the objectives that underlie such a program. "This new program hopefully will help to instill pride in the community and teach each participant the value of fellowship and co-operation," Director Balistrere explains. "The program affords each child an opportunity for constructive learning and allows each one to become both a leader and a follower by learning the benefits of working together."

Briefly, the program involves participants (and Balistrere anticipates that enrollment may run up to 200) working one hour daily under adult supervision to perform simple and sanitary clean-up jobs both on playgrounds and in the community. Participants will earn $1.25 weekly for their efforts.

Among the duties expected to be covered by this "Earn, Learn and Play" army are the gathering of litter through the community, watering flower planters on Main St., dusting books and performing other small tasks in the library, mowing lawns for shut-ins, assisting at churches, cleaning around school facilities, cleaning at Chelsea parks, painting bleachers and trash cans, planting flowers, raking ball dia-

The program requires that youngsters follow specific regulations set up as guidelines for the program. They must contribute an equal share of time to qualify for weekly wages; they must report to work on time; they must perform assigned tasks within their capabilities. Punctuality and responsibility will be stressed by the six adult team leaders, Balistrere said. "The program offers a way for all to have a great deal of fun while accomplishing a great deal of good for themselves and the community," he emphasized.

In addition to the daily work scheduled from 9 to 10 a.m., the program also includes a daily playground schedule at South school. Arts and crafts hour will be conducted from 10 to 11 a.m., followed by athletic games—football, basketball, baseball, kickball, and the like. On Mondays, story-telling will be scheduled from 1 to 2 p.m., with nature walks following from 2 to 3 p.m. Playground directors are Miss Barbara Wenk and Mrs. Judy Parker.

Fridays, in addition to being part of the schedule, typical picnic food like hot dogs, soda, chips, and pretzels will be the fare for program youngsters, Balistrere says, and a good time will be had by all.

Junior Olympics will be on tap for "Earn, Learn, and Play"ers on July 19, when participants will be competing in softball throw, hurdle races, three-legged races, and all sorts of other feats of unusual skill.

Next special day will be a bike rodeo, featuring various categories of bikes and time trials on the high school track for competitors.

At the final special day, Friday, Aug. 2, "Earn, Learn, and Play" participants will attend a ceremonial campfire program that will include prizes and games and free candy for all.

Awards of merit for co-operation and leadership will be distributed to those children designated by the director.

Director Balistrere is particularly enthusiastic about the community and personal aspects of this new program: in his written description of "Earn, Learn, and Play" he mentions objectives ranging from "instilling pride in the community, teaching fellowship and co-operation" to "showing that each individual has merit and worth regardless of social status," which sound like pretty heavy stuff for a recreation program.

"The entire concept of the 'Earn, Learn, and Play' program is centered around group and individual organization and co-operation, which is so essential to our everyday life," Balistrere noted. "The program in itself is not a new one, and has been a tremendous success since its inception. In 1969 it won the President's Award for the best recreational program in the state of Michigan, when I was director of the boys' program in Albion. I feel the program has tremendous merit and can be adjusted to fit Chelsea Recreation Council's needs."

Registration for "Earn, Learn, and Play" will be conducted at South school Monday, June 24, between 9 and 10 a.m. Fee for the entire program will be $1.25. Those interested in the program but unable to attend registration should contact Tom Balistrere at 475-8511.

Sesquicentennial Celebration Starts Saturday in Dexter

The celebration of several lifetimes will begin this Saturday at 9 a.m. when Dexter's Sesquicentennial officially opens to the tune of church bells ringing, fire whistles blowing, music at Monument Park, color salute by Dexter American Legion Post No. 557, and welcome by general chairman Bruce Waggoner.

Scheduled daily from Saturday, June 22 through Saturday, June 29, are a carnival on Broad St., food, popcorn and concession stands at various locations, rides in horse-drawn vehicles, special store window displays, a special display of photos of homes, churches, and the like at Ann Arbor Bank Trust, and a beer tent at Main and Broad Sts.

Plans to make this Sesquicentennial week one to remember are rampant in the village across the way.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime affair for everyone in the Dexter area and all their friends," says Bruce Waggoner. "We're going to have a good time celebrating our 150th birthday, so don't miss it."

Highlights of the week's activities include:

FAMILY DAY, Saturday, June 22: In addition to the general sounds of celebration already mentioned, Village President Dorothy Hunawill, aided by Ann Arbor mayor pro-tem Robert Henry, will execute a ribbon cutting ceremony at 10:45 a.m. Food ranging from Jaycettes coffee and donuts to lunch and ice cream by St. Andrew's youth group to deep-fried chicken dinner by the American Legion, will all be served at various times at Monument Park. The evening will be capped by the crowning of the Queen and the Coronation Ball at the Legion Home on Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

FESTIVAL OF FAITH, Sunday, June 23: All churches will conduct special services and will be open during the day for visitors. Other special events include an antique street sale on Main St., a canoe race on the Huron River from Hudson Mills to Mast Rd. bridge, and a horseshoe pitching contest. Food specials of the day will be topped by a community picnic and strawberry shortcake and ice cream socials.

HOMECOMING DAY, Monday, June 24: Slides of the 1941 celebration of the Railroad Centennial, shown both in the morning and the afternoon in the Community Room of Ann Arbor Bank Trust, will be a highlight. Old-time box lunches will be sold at noon, and Knights of Columbus will hold a dinner later, both at Monument Park. The evening's activities will be completed to the tunes of Tony's Old-Time String Band, playing for a square dance near the beer tent.

AGRICULTURE DAY, Tuesday, June 25: Special exhibits of new, old, and antique farm machinery, and demonstrations will be among the displays of the day. Farm tours and open houses at three township halls, a tractor

Fire Damages Apartment in K. of C. Hall

An apartment at the back of the Knights of Columbus Hall was badly damaged Tuesday afternoon by a fire of unknown origin, Chelsea Fire Department has reported.

Fireman Arthur Paul reported that the blaze apparently began in a bedroom of the two-bedroom apartment, and spread into the living room. Walls in both rooms were badly blistered and blackened, Paul said, and antique glass owned by the occupants of the apartment was damaged.

Residents of the apartment said that the occupant of the bedroom where the fire began had been away all day, and did not smoke. Firemen theorize that possibly the blaze may have begun from an electric lamp.

Four trucks worked for two hours to completely extinguish the fire. There were no injuries.

Tennis League Play To Start This Week

Tennis league play is set to begin this week for those who have registered for the various leagues, according to Recreation Council instructor Terry Schreiner.

Miss Schreiner says that form letters will be mailed this week to participants, informing them of their league and opponents. Players should play as soon as possible and report their scores to Miss Schreiner at 475-2536.

Although women's and men's singles leagues and mixed doubles leagues have been filled, more players are needed to begin junior leagues for ages 13 through 18.

HISTORY WILL COME ALIVE through some 380 reels of tapes covering historical, political, and you-name-it events stretching through the 17-year period of 1954 through 1971, contributed to the Eastern Michigan University Sound Archives

Rev. Westerman Contributes Valuable Tape Collection to EMU

"They say that a picture is worth a thousand words, but sometimes words can be worth a thousand pictures."

The Rev. W. Scott Westerman is a firm believer in these words of his—and he has made the words of others a full-time hobby.

The Rev. Westerman, a resident of Chelsea United Methodist Home, last month donated his personal collection of 380 reels of tape recording to Eastern Michigan University's Sound Archives Collection.

Included in the 2,400 recordings, divided into 18 categories, are political highlights of the 17-year period covered by the tapes, 1954 to 1971, including the Kennedy-Nixon debates, coverage of all reported space explorations from the earliest flights to the Apollo missions; "athletic achievements of the University of Michigan teams"; church services and sermons; secular music, sacred music, and hymns; and nature sounds.

That's a lot of tape for a man who "just began this to tape my family—my children and grandchildren, of course. And I would tape my sermons on Saturday nights before, delivering them Sunday."

"But actually," he continues, "taping things the way I do began entirely separate from taping my family. Taping history is just a fascinating hobby."

Motivations for recording—when the categories of tape range so freely between politics and nature, and everything in between—certainly changes with the subject.

"Do you realize how important the voice is?" he asks with the firmness of one who does, indeed, realize. "Lincoln giving his Gettysburg address, the Lincoln-Douglas debates, General Lee surrendering to General Grant—those things are lost to us now."

"But listening now to President Nixon giving a speech, the inflections are so important. Those are the kinds of things you can't see, you can't tell when you read the speech in the newspaper. When he becomes intense on a point, the inflections that are, in his voice are so important to the meaning. Those are the things that are all here on tape."

Not only inflections are on the tapes, but completeness. "I haven't edited these tapes—most of them are exactly the way they came over the air, on radio or television, minus commercials, which just take up too much time. The people at Eastern tell me that they're valuable that way, just as they are."

His musical recordings, he says, are designed not only to demonstrate the beauty of the music, but to allow comparison between the styles of various conductors. "I have recorded sometimes three or four different versions of the same composition—in succession—to allow the listener to compare the different interpretations of various conductors. It's fascinating to compare the same work."

The Rev. Westerman, whose degree from the University of Michigan was in music and who was involved in the ministry of music as musical director of various churches for a number of

Dexter Night Caravan Ends In Near Riot

Dexter's final Sesquicentennial caravan to Chelsea last Saturday was designed to be the final spreading of goodwill around neighboring villages prior to the beginning of the village's official celebration.

That's not exactly the way things turned out, as six youths—four from Chelsea, one from Dexter, and one from Hamburg—ended the evening "retained" by Chelsea Police, and not in Dexter's kangaroo court hoosegow, either.

The caravan celebration, which began at approximately 7 p.m. with Dexter cars snaking their ways through town, apparently proceeded for the most part uneventfully until around 11 p.m.

By that time, Chief of Police George Meranuck reported Monday, most of the crowd near the Jaycee beer tent in the Municipal Parking Lot off Middle St. had dispersed, but approximately 500 people, most in 15 to 21 age range, had gathered in Main St., between Middle and Park Sts.

"They were just sitting in the street, drinking beer," Chief Meranuck said. "We sent a guy out with an amplifier, to try and get them out of the streets, but they wouldn't move. So then we tried to go in with the patrol car."

That course of action did not work particularly well, either, the police found. While driving through the crowd, they picked up some disorderly persons, the Chief said, and put them in the back seat of the patrol car. However, "We kept losing them, because people would open the doors and they would get out." Patrol car doors can be unlocked from within, but must be opened from the outside.

Meanwhile, the patrol car and other cars were being pelted with "hundreds of beer cans and bottles" according to Chief Meranuck. One patrol car was dented by the objects thrown, and the plastic covering over the flasher atop one vehicle was damaged.

The windshield of one non-police car was smashed. Also damaged during the course of the evening by unknown persons were 7 ft. by 14 ft. plate glass window at Longworth Plating Co., and an 8 ft. by 7 ft. plate glass window at Dancer's.

Chief Meranuck said that it appeared that the object thrown at Longworth Plating Co. had been directed to the Army recruiting poster in that window. The other window, he said, could have been broken by accident.

During the melee, a bottle tossed at Auxiliary officer Carl Summers broke his glasses and sent him to the hospital. The injury did not require stitches. New officer Larry Yager, who began work for the Chelsea Police Dept. last Monday, was struck in the ribs with a stick or bottle. He suffered only bruises.

Although reports circulated in the community following the disturbance that a number of people had been clubbed by police, Chief Meranuck said Tuesday that "To our knowledge, no participants were injured seriously enough to be sent to the hospital. It's possible some people got bumped around, sure—but every policeman got hit by something that night."

He said that although officers were carrying nightsticks, they were not aware that any had used them during the fracas.

Names of five of the six youths arrested, who range from 18 to 28 years, are being withheld by Chelsea Police pending filing of formal charges. Police expect that they will be charged with disorderly conduct.

The sixth youth, Kenneth Herrest, 20, of Chelsea, will be charged with malicious destruction of property valued at more than $100, Chief Meranuck said Monday. Herrest allegedly kicked in the plaster wall of the Chelsea cell in which he was confined.

"Everything was okay until

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The papers are full of weddings again this June, and news of all these young folks starting their lives together reminds me that the more the old world changes the more the old world changes. We see a lot of new wrinkles in the ceremony, Mister Editor, but the meanings are just as deep as ever.

Actual, I can't see that it matters if they plight their troths with vows made 700 years ago, or if they make promises they wrote themselves. And I wouldn't turn around for the difference between standing in the biggest church in town backed up by the biggest pipe organ, and perching at the top of telephone poles like I saw this lineman and linewoman doing. The important thing is why they're doing it, what they plan to give and what they figure to get out of sharing their life with somebody else.

Usual, the fellows at the country store give their old ladies a hard time when they're out of their hearing, but Saturday night you would of thought the conversation was being taped for playing at the supper table. Everything was sweetness and light on the domestic front, and when Zeke Grubb's preacher stopped by to pick up his pipe tobacco, nobody had to change the subject, or even turn a calendar to the wall.

Clem Webster was the first to brag about his old lady. He said she allus did pritty well with her garden, but this year she even was picking up a few dollars selling stuff she had raised. She had saw where farmers was raising strawberries and letting folks pick their own, so she decided to take a stab at it. She put up a sign inviting folks to pick their own beans and tomatoes and all she done was weigh the vegetables and take in the money. Clem said she got started on a small scale this year, but she's planning to branch out into corn and okra next season.

Practical speaking, went on Clem if his old lady figured the hours she put in that little patch, she probable would of come out cheaper buying can goods. On the other hand, allowed Clem, if the folks that spend a hour picking a gallon of butter beans counted their time at the minimum wage, they'll be giving some cheap labor between the pick-em-yourself price and the store price. But Clem was of a mind that in both cases it was the feeling of doing someone on your own that made the difference.

The fellows was general agreed that valu is in the eyes of the beholder, and Bug Hookum said that goes for everthing from wives and husbands to the President's cussing. Bug said he had saw where a President's preacher had called cussing "emotional drainage that is a good form of release," but that Nixon's Ma would of washed his mouth out.

Zeke's preacher sided with Nixon's Ma, but he allowed that in his line of work he usual sees men on their good behavior. He reminded the fellows that his boss keeps His tape recorder running everywhere all the time.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Relax and enjoy a hot dog. With the new amendment to Michigan's comminuted meat law, you can tell at a glance what's going in to your hot dogs, sausages, bologna and luncheon meats.

An amendment to the Michigan Comminuted Meat Law became effective March 29, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Consumer Protection. It specifies that all retail outlets, restaurants and vendors selling comminuted meat products that do not meet Michigan standards must display a large yellow and red sign listing the name of the manufacturer or distributor and the exact name of the product not up to Michigan standards.

Look for the sign at meat counters, public restaurants, ball parks and on vending machines. If Michigan standards are met, no sign need be displayed to refresh your memory? Michigan's high comminuted meat standards permit the use of only skeletal meat, which is any clean, edible part of animal muscle, including head and cheek meat. No meat by-products are permitted.

Federal standards allow the use of meat by-products such as tripe, melts, stomach, udders, lips, ears, snouts and spleen.

While Michigan's comminuted meat law, enacted in 1952, has always required 12 percent protein in its sausage products, the federal Wholesome Meat Act has no minimum.

Now that you're able to tell what's going into your comminuted meats, you can better decide what you buy and eat. Anyone for Michigan hot dogs for dinner to night?

CONSUMERS' CORNER

New Look For Food Labels

There's a new look on many food labels. And the reason for the new labels is to improve the information and to make it more meaningful to the consumer.

Nutrition labeling is voluntary on most foods. However, if a nutrient is added to any product, or if a nutritional claim is made on the label or in an advertisement, then full nutritional labeling is required.

The new label must follow a standard format and will appear at the right of the main label or name of the food. The information will include the number of calories, amount of protein, carbohydrate and fat.

A listing of seven important minerals and vitamins will also be listed as percentages of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance (RDA). These new allowances replace the outmoded minimum Daily Requirements and are the amounts needed by most persons.

Manufacturers have until December 31, 1974 to be in full compliance with these regulations. Since what you see on the label is what you are paying for, it is the responsibility of the consumer to read labels and make purchases based upon this information.

G.P.'s a Priority

Michigan could use about 1,000 more family physicians. But instead of getting more family doctors, the state is losing them, whether through death or moves to different parts of the country.

Just last year, according to figures from the American Medical Association, the number of family physicians in Michigan dropped by 40. John A. Doherty, executive vice-president of the Michigan Health Council, reports a loss of some 600 general practitioners in this state in the past 10 years. The total number of general practitioners went from 2,275 in 1964 to 1,669 this year.

What's happened? An emphasis on specialization.

Dr. Robert Vitu of Saginaw, president of the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians, spoke of the problem at a recent conference on rural health.

"Back 40 years ago, about 1930, two out of three doctors out in practice were family physicians," he said. "In 1970, less than one out of four doctors are family physicians."

"When World War II came around, and we had a lot of battle casualties that needed specialized surgical care, etc., there was a great deal of emphasis given to specialty training," Vitu said the emphasis was so great that the medical schools got into the business almost exclusively of training specialists.

Now, because of the need, there seems to be some motion in the other direction.

In Michigan today there are seven family practice residency programs, in Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Dearborn, Flint, Midland and Lansing.

Doherty notes, however, that it's "only during the past year that medical schools in Michigan have developed family practice departments." He says there has not been as much exposure to family practice for would-be doctors here as there is in some other states.

And for those who are interested, there are not enough places in Michigan for them to go through family practice residency. (Last year there were 40 family practice residency openings in Michigan, he says. This year there were about 60. By contrast, there were some 1,500 openings in the state of South Carolina.

The best answer to this problem, Doherty says, would be an expansion of the family practice residency programs. But that takes money. Legislation now pending in Lansing would subsidize these programs to the tune of some $750,000, allowing expansion and possibly creation of new programs.

Doherty says he would like to see about 15 programs—double the current number—so nearly all the teaching hospitals would have them.

Such an expansion might improve records like that of the University of Michigan medical school. This month, some 400 MD's were graduated. Of that total, 16 were going into family practice residency, nine of those in Michigan. Young doctors leaving the state represent a dramatic loss in service and cost of education to the people of Michigan.

Off and Running

One of the more colorful members of the Michigan House of Representatives, Democrat William Copeland of Wyandotte, says he'll run for yet another term in office.

Copeland, who's been known to wave a Confederate flag from his back corner seat in the House chamber to win attention of the presiding officer, is now completing 22 years as a state legislator.

For 14 of those years, Copeland has served on the important House Appropriations Committee. That group, along with its Senate counterpart, helps write budget bills for Michigan government spending. Copeland has been chairman of the committee for the past seven years.

In the Senate, Copeland's alter ego, Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, has yet to announce his intentions. Zollar, a Benton Harbor Republican, recently submitted his resignation from the committee in disgust over what he considered attempts to boost spending higher than the state can afford this year. He has utilized the resignation ploy previously to shock his colleagues into what he knows is reasonable action.

So Zollar went back to committee work, but there's talk that he might be considering getting out of the legislature after his current term.

The Army's two Aerial Demonstration Teams are the Golden Knights who do parachute demonstrations at high schools and civic functions, and the Silver Eagles, a precision helicopter team that performs at airfields.

Four flags have flown over Michigan — French, English, Spanish, and United States.

Dr. A. L. Steger was in Ann Arbor Saturday to attend his annual class reunion at the University of Michigan. Following his graduation from the dental college in 1900, Dr. Steger opened a dental office in Chelsea and has practiced here continuously for 40 years.

The Rev. Leroy Lord of Detroit has been chosen as new superintendent of the Methodist Home, to succeed Dr. H. A. Leeson, who has resigned. The Rev. Lord will begin his new duties on July 1. Dr. and Mrs. Leeson will move their home to Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayhew have opened a new restaurant in the A. B. Clark Building, Park St., to be known as the Tower Cafe. The cafe is nearly furnished and presents a very attractive appearance. It will be open 24 hours a day during the summer months and will specialize in steaks and sea foods.

VA OUTPATIENT CLINICS

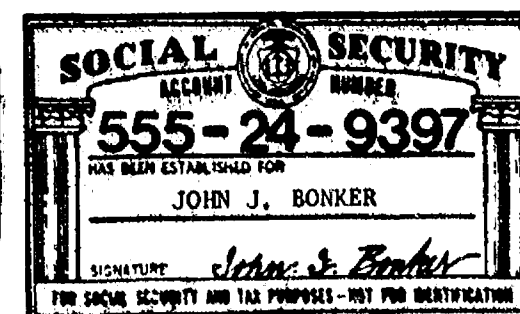

To assure that medical care for veterans continues to be of the highest quality, the VA is following a policy of affiliating its outpatient clinics with medical schools in the manner VA hospitals have been affiliated since World War II. The first such clinic affiliation the Lubbock, Tex., VA clinic and Texas Tech University School of Medicine. Veterans may now be treated for many cases on an outpatient basis instead of being assigned to a hospital bed. New drugs, methods and equipment allow doctors to treat these patients in offices or clinics instead of in the hospital. New VA outpatient clinics will be opened in El Paso, Tenn., Columbus, O., Chattanooga, Tenn., Grand Rapids, Mich., Mobile Ala., and Orlando, Fla., by June 30, 1974, bringing the total number of VA outpatient clinics to 211.

FFA Officers Attend Leadership Camp

Leadership was the theme of a week-end camp excursion this past week-end at Camp Palmer in Fayette, O., for 23 chapters of Future Farmers of America groups of southeastern Michigan. The camp, sponsored by the Michigan Association of Future Farmers of America, and planned and conducted by a group of student officers, was attended by Chelsea chapter's five officers for the coming year: Dave Frame, president; Nelson Bollinger, vice-president; Jerry Huehl, secretary; Doug Welshans, treasurer; and Eric Prinzing, sentinel. Keynote speaker for the event was Dr. Carroll Warmhoff, Director of Agriculture and Natural Resources Education Institute at Michigan State University.

Larry Hopkins Joins in MSU Leader Project

Larry Hopkins, 1972 Chelsea High school graduate and currently a Michigan State University sophomore, was among 32 MSU students who participated this year in Project LEAD, a class sponsored by MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Project LEAD is a leadership development program for sophomores, juniors, and seniors in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, with a stated objective of creating a better understanding of social, political, and economic problems facing society. Issues dealt with by Project LEAD vary each year to remain current. This year, the agenda included drugs, poverty, welfare, environmental topics, criminal justice, political systems, and other current social problems. In addition, students are required to participate in a group project and an individual independent study of an approved topic. During a recent segment of the class, Hopkins and other members met with Lynn Jondahle, house representative for the state of Michigan. Hopkins, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hopkins of 16975 M-52, is majoring in dairy science.

Who pays for living expenses (elsewhere) while they repair your home?
Most policies provide the coverages you expect—fire, lightning, storms, riots, vandalism and the like. They cover the cost of repairs due to these losses. But have you thought about the cost of living elsewhere if your home has to be repaired or rebuilt? It could run into hundreds of dollars. Or, it could be covered in black and white in our Homeowners Policy, so we would pay those extra living expenses! Give us a call. We'll put your home insurance all together in one policy for convenience and saving's sake.

Village Street Repair Work Starts Aug. 15

Resurfacing of eight of the village's streets currently in rather ill repair is set to begin Aug. 15, as approved by Village Council in its June 4 meeting. Set for asphalt resurfacing—"I wouldn't say they're the worst streets in the village, but they are some bad ones that we're able to repair right now," says Village Administrator Frederick Weber—are Park St., from Main to East, Railroad St., from McKinley east to 447 W. Middle and Cleveland, Chandler St., Jackson St. from McKinley to Madison, Grant St. from Lincoln to Summit, and E. Middle from Main to McKinley.

Cost of the total project will be $49,221.51, submitted by Ann Arbor Construction Co. This breaks down to $5,639.34 for Park St.; $7,446.00 for Railroad St.; $19,612.68 for W. Middle and Cleveland; $6,750.54 for Chandler; $1,555.68 for Jackson St.; $3,632.67 for Grant St.; and $4,584.60 for E. Middle. An alternate bid of $10,188.51 was submitted by the paving contractor to the Village Council to install a more expensive surface to E. Middle St. This bid was not solicited by Village Council and was not accepted. Administrator Weber said that the streets will be closed to traffic for varying time periods to allow for the resurfacing. The work is expected to be completed Sept. 30. Carve With Ease To prepare ahead for carving a pork loin roast with ease, have your meat retailer loosen the chine (back) bone by sawing across the rib bones of the roast. When roasting is finished, the back bone can be easily removed by running the carving knife along the edge of the roast before the meat is placed on the platter to be carved. Michigan was the first state to guarantee every child the right to tax-paid high school education.

HAZEL PROCTOR

County Historical Society Elects New Officers

Hazel Proctor was re-elected president of the Washtenaw Historical Society at the group's annual meeting on June 6 for a one-year term. Elected as vice-president is Dave Pollock; secretary, Ethelyn Morton; treasurer, Ray Spokes. Vice-presidents for regions or at-large include Louise Frauman of Clinton, Warren Hale of Milan and Herb Harlett (at-large).

Directors for the Society in the coming year are Peter DeLoof, J. A. Bolt, Klara Reck, Eileen Harmon and Thomas Lacy.

The Society is a county-wide organization involving separate local historical societies working together on county-wide projects. One exciting project, an historical museum, will be used by historians, teachers and students for history projects and research as well as being enjoyed by the public.

Last Saturday the Washtenaw Historical Society had its annual home tour in Manchester and it was attended by 138 people who capped the day with dinner at the Black Sheep Inn.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Dinner Served in Farm Dairy Barn

The cows stared at the 30 pint-sized visitors who had turned part of their dairy barn into a dining room. The youngsters, 5th graders from a metropolitan area school, perched on bales of hay and balanced on their knees, paper plates loaded with sloppy joes, potato chips, relishes and cupcakes. They stared back at the cows, awed by the fact that the hot cocoa they drank was made with milk from those very cows!

Earlier, they had the unforgettable experience of squeezing in cows' warm "faucets" and watching the familiar white liquid come squirting out. For most of them, it was their first opportunity to look beyond the supermarket shelves and discover the wonders of the original source of their food.

This adventure started a week prior to the farm tour (which also included visits to a beef farm and poultry operation), when the class was visited by two bi-overall characters from the past. They carried a three-legged stool and milk pail, and talked of hitching horses to the wagon to go into town for salt to make butter. Later, two attractive, young modern-day farm wives appeared to tell about agriculture today and answer questions from the youngsters—questions like "When you milk by machine, how do you know when the cow is done?"

The farmers of yesterday and today were two farm wives who make up one of 28 teams of the Michigan Farm Bureau Women's Speakers' Bureau. Throughout the state, the women are closing any existing communications gaps between consumers and producers through appearances at civic group meetings and in school classrooms. With slides of their farming operations, statistics, and personal experiences, they effectively tell the story of food production and food prices.

Whether it's a "Bread and Milk" presentation for and adult group with audience participation in a retail farm price comparison or a "Food from Farm to You" journey for youngsters—the women's pride in their profession comes shining through. As these agricultural ambassadors of good will visit urban areas and proclaim, "We're proud to be farmers," there's just no doubt about it!

They can be proud, too, that they provided city youngsters with the unique educational experience of dining in a dairy barn.

15,000,000TH MODEL T

Here's a May milestone in America's history. The 15,000,000th Model T Ford rolled off the company's Highland Park, Michigan assembly line in May of 1927. Henry Ford and his son Edsel took turns driving the milestone car for photographers and cheering workers only one day after the announcement of the discontinuation of the line in favor of the new Model A. At the Henry Ford Museum, you and your family can see the actual 15,000,000th T and compare it with one of the first ever made in 1908, which is also on display. You can preview America's Bicentennial now at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

For several days I have been considering the appropriateness of the action taken by the Village Council, in providing a "beer tent" as an appropriate welcoming response to the visit by the Dexter Sesquicentennial Caravan on Saturday, June 15, in the municipal parking lot. I would like to share with you and your readers the following observations and conclusions:

(1) For several years the State of Michigan has sponsored an Alcohol Safety Education Program. With the exception of the Jaycees and the Village Council, most of us recognize the motto: "If you drink, don't drive!" as one of the chief themes of the Alcohol Safety Program. Many of us, including some who use beverage alcohol, consider this admonition to be a reasonable request for good citizenship, and in the face of rising alcohol-related accidents, deaths and property damage, a timely word of wisdom. How appropriate then is the considered response of a community organization and village government to set up a tavern in the municipal parking lot to entertain several hundred drivers from Dexter who thereafter must drive home again?

(2) For more than a century the Methodist Church has been a landmark resident of the Chelsea community and, hopefully, deserving of some respect. This is acknowledged in the "500 foot law" which provides for the right of a school or church to a formal hearing at which objections to the issuance of a license to serve alcohol within 500 feet of its property must be considered before a license is issued. The Village Council did not extend the courtesy of notification to the church nor was the Liquor Control Commission informed of the proximity to the church property. Traditionally, but with limited success, the Methodist Church has advocated abstinence from alcoholic beverages. The Methodist Church certainly does not expect total agreement with its principles nor does it forcefully impose its principles on those unwilling to subscribe to them.

But the flagrant disrespect for those principles demonstrated in setting up a beer tent in its front yard (municipal parking lot) is tragic revelation of poor community relations and disregard for religious convictions represented in the community. The village was exceeded only by those numerous persons, who having consumed more alcohol than the bladder could cope with, relieved themselves by publicly urinating on adjacent properties, including the church. How appropriate!

(3) For several minutes I stood watching "the good time being had by all," including many under-aged drinkers, and then left the scene in sadness and disgust with the feeling that such a welcoming celebration was neither intelligent, wholesome, nor safe and definitely not in the best interests of the community. Learning later of injuries sustained by a volunteer policeman struck by a thrown beer can and learning of the hours of tax-paid labor required until 3:30 a.m. Sunday morning to clean up the mess... my convictions are reinforced.

(4) Finally, may I suggest that, in the light of the fact that there are already adequate numbers of liquor outlets in Chelsea to satisfy the thirsts of all comers, it would have been much more appropriate and in the interest of good citizenship for the Jaycees to sponsor a coffee and donut wagon which everyone could enjoy; and that the Jaycees and the Village Council might better serve their community by staying out of the liquor business and devoting themselves to more constructive enterprises by which At the least, I would hope that the Village Council, out of respect for the church, not allow the municipal parking lot to be used for future "beer busts" and that organizations sponsoring them be required to provide adequate toilet facilities and pay additional costs of law enforcement and clean-up. There is more cost to drinking alcohol than the price of the container. With deep appreciation for the constructive projects the Jaycees have sponsored in the past, I solicit the thoughtful consideration of your readers.

Clive H. Dickens.

To the Editor:

We want to express our disappointment with the coverage (or lack thereof) of the Memorial Day ceremonies at the cemetery. Perhaps we need to have our glasses checked, but we found little or no coverage in the Standard issued prior to the occasion and approximately the same coverage in the issue following.

We think periodic reflection upon the great heritage this country has provided all Americans and the sacrifices made by many to secure that heritage of freedom and prosperity is necessary if we are to keep what we have. Considering the history of the world and the preciousness of freedom, a failure to recognize the value of our heritage could well result in its loss.

We want to commend the American Legion's organization of this observance, and most particularly the fine remarks offered by Steve Bennett. It was obvious he had prepared well for his brief talk.

For God, family, & country.
Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brethob.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Three times there has been an item published in The Chelsea Standard about me driving away a 1963 Chevrolet. I would like you to write an item in your next paper that I did not drive the car—and I was not driving when Chelsea or Ohio police stopped us the 13 year old boy was! He was the Driver of both times! It is hard enough to live in this town as it is, with out having one's name in the paper over something one did not do I admit I did ride in the car—but I did not! I did not! I bet you never heard about the good things this teenager has done or let say I never read it in the Standard. Like the time my sister and I yelled at two guys with a Bar prying at the Back Door of hilltop plumbing, and several other times at the Sinclair Gas Station. you say why didn't you call the police. Did you ever try getting the Chelsea police we have on several incidents. Even my Dad has scared guys away I want to do right. And I have tried. I used to go to church regular and enjoyed. Doing So one evening I had a problem and asked the preacher to talk with me alone and he did after church and two older ladies felt that the preacher and I were having an affair, and I refused to return to his Church. So I don't go anymore they can have it if this is the way you have to do to be a christian I don't want it. there are alot of good people my age, in Chelsea—we all need a chance and something to do. I read my Bible and I Love the Lord and I don't have to go to church to have my prayer heard.

Motion by Johnson, supported by Galbraith, to adjourn. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Loren Keezer, Village Clerk.

New York to Portland Race Won in 44 Days

Here's a May milestone in America's history. The famous New York-to-Portland automobile race started in May of 1905. A one-cylinder 1904 curved-dash Oldsmobile driven by Dwight B. Huss was the first to arrive at the destination 44 days later. Dubbed "Old Scout," this was the first car to win a transcontinental race competing against another car rather than against time. Its opponent in the race was another Olds of the same vintage named "Old Steady." At the Henry Ford Museum, you and your family may see both of these venerable vehicles along with other important milestones in automotive history. You can preview America's Bicentennial now at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Unruly Few Cause Trouble for Police

people started blocking Main St., Chief Meranuck concluded. "We really wouldn't have cared what else they had wanted to do—but we couldn't have the street blocked off. There was ample space provided (in the Municipal Parking Lot) for everyone." He added that more local people than Dexter people participated in the street-sitting.

Police reported that the group of people was finally dispersed at approximately 1:30 Sunday morning. Seven Chelsea Auxiliary Police officers and 10 Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputies were called to the scene, in addition to the five Chelsea officers on duty during the entire evening.

The incident in Chelsea was the only one of its kind during the series of Dexter caravans.

Lansing Attorney Will Seek Post In Congress

Clifford W. Taylor, 31, is seeking the Republican nomination for the U.S. House of Representatives from the Sixth Congressional District.

A resident of East Lansing, he is an attorney with the Lansing firm of Denfield, Timmer, and Sellye.

Taylor was born in Flint and attended the public schools of that city. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1964 after majoring in history and economics.

He worked his way through George Washington University Law School in Washington, D.C., first as a researcher for the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, and later as a staff aide to Congressman James Harvey of Saginaw. He was awarded his law degree in June, 1967.

Taylor was commissioned a line officer in the U.S. Navy in 1968, serving during the next three years aboard the USS Ruchampkin, an amphibious landing ship, and on the staff of the Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic. He retains his commission, and has taught military law classes to Lansing area Naval Reservists.

In June, 1971, he became an Ingham County assistant prosecuting attorney. He served in that capacity until October, 1972, when he entered private practice.

Taylor is a member of the Executive Committee of the Ingham County Republican Party, and of the District Committee of the Sixth District Republican Party.

He was active in the re-election campaign of Senator Robert Griffin, in 1972, and that same year served as campaign manager for Robert Holmes Bell, who successfully sought the 55th District Court judgeship.

Taylor is married to the former Lucille Stefovich, who is an attorney on the staff of the Republican Caucus in the Michigan House of Representatives. She is also a member of the East Lansing Zoning Board of Appeals, and was recently appointed to the Woman's Task Force of the Michigan Insurance Bureau.

A FAMILIAR FIGURE in Chelsea is the "old prospector" shown above visiting with Bernice Baker and Heloise Duinast at the Dexter caravan festivities in Chelsea Saturday evening. The "old prospector" is really Rolly Spaulding, who served as general chairman of the Chelsea 125th celebration in 1959 and is now reliving some of that excitement by participating in the Dexter Sesquicentennial.

years, delights in the number of works he has recorded from radio, and their high quality. "I have a Dolby noise reduction system," he explains, demonstrating the exceptionally clear sound of one of his symphony tapes. "This machine is absolutely amazing. It will remove all of the distortion and background 'fuzz' present in a tape, and leave only the music, clear as a bell."

The presence of the Rev. Westerman's audio fascination is rampant in his room at the Home. In addition to the Dolby noise reduction system, the room is jammed with a short-wave radio, a television with remote control attached to cassette tape recorder, a stereo system, and a 3-M recorder. An empty space in a corner brings an anecdote: "I began taping with a General Electric that has served me well for a number of years. I sent it to Detroit not long ago to be repaired and they wrote, saying they were sorry, but they had no parts for it. It was too old. But I'm getting a new General Electric machine for that space; I should have it in a few weeks."

The taping that has consumed some 6,500 hours over the past 17 years — including indexing, editing, playback, cataloging, and calibration — continues unabated. Although noting that he has some 150 tapes he will be able to donate soon to Eastern, he admits that the taping sometimes has to be cut in volume: "I haven't recorded everything dealing with Watergate—the Senate hearings, and such—they just take too much time. I would have had to sit here all day to get a complete recording of that. I just have enough to show what's been going on."

Time spent with his short-wave radio has been cut, too. "Before I moved from the old minister's cottage across the way into this room, I had a complete catalogue of all the frequencies on my short-wave. I could get Moscow quite often, Peking sometimes, and Castro making speeches after the Bay of Pigs invasion very easily."

"But when I moved, the catalogue was lost, and I just don't have time to replace it."

He notes that even so, his taping is "more than a full-time" occupation.

"Some of the people here at the Home wonder why I don't do more things around here. But I'm doing something that the others can't do... this is important, and it's the kind of thing that—well, you don't know when to stop."

Without a doubt the Rev. Westerman's "not knowing when to stop" has been a boon to EMU's Sound Archives Collection. The Collection, "a resource and research facility that provides a public depository unique in Michigan" is located in the lower level of the Eastern Michigan University Library, and the Rev. Westerman's tapes are under strict regulation.

"I wrote to President Sponberg (Eastern Michigan University president) and explained to him that I would like to donate my tapes, but I wanted to make certain that there was protection against erasure. He wrote back in 10 days and assured me my request could be honored."

Procedure for listening to the Rev. Westerman's tapes — should you, for example, want to listen to the radio excitement as Woody Hayes began his well-remembered rampage against the line markers at a Michigan-Ohio State football game — involves informing Mrs. Patricia Freedman, director of the Sound Archives, of the tape requested. That tape will be inserted into a magic machine that "can re-record three hours of tape in a matter of minutes," Rev. Westerman says, and the new tape relinquished to the listener in a day or so. That way, he explains, there is no possibility of careless erasure of one of his originals — and losing those words worth a thousand pictures.

pull, a hog-calling contest, and hoop-rolling and tire-rolling contests are also on the agenda. Square dancing continues near the beer tent. This is also the opening night for the Dexter Spectacle, "Behold Our Heritage."

* * * YOUTH DAY, Wednesday, June 26: Youth day will be typified by youthful pastimes like relays, tricycle races, bubble gun-blowing and pie-eating contests, a pet show, a youth parade, a Girl Scout ice cream social, and field events at Dexter High school. Spectacle will continue, as will square dancing, in the evening.

* * * BUSINESS NEIGHBORS DAY, Thursday, June 27: Special sales, demonstrations, tours, and open houses among area businesses will be on the agenda for the day. Also featured in the evening will be a high school band concert at Monument Park, and later, a rock concert-competition among local bands.

* * * CELEBRATION BELLES DAY, Friday, June 28: Yard and garden tours and homemaking demonstrations will be featured during the course of the day, as will a style show at noon in Wyllie cafeteria and a "Bee's Knees Belles" performance near the beer tent in the evening. Red Garter Group, and Wonderland Barbershop Quartet will provide musical treats.

PARADE CELEBRATION DAY DAY, Saturday, June 29: In the final bit of formality accorded the celebration, a capsule (records of the celebration) will be buried on the grounds of the museum on Inverness St. at 10 a.m., followed at 2 p.m. by a parade from Wyllie school to the Legion Home. Finals in tugs of war and horseshoe-pitching will be conducted, as well as the husband-calling contest.

1st BICYCLE IN NEW YORK

Here's a May milestone in America's history. The first bicycle appeared on the streets of New York City in May of 1819. An importation from England, the vehicle was considered such a hazard that a few months later, the city fathers passed a law forbidding "the use of velocipedes in public places and on the sidewalks of the city." At the Henry Ford Museum, you and your family can see an intriguing variety of early bicycles including the unique 10-man Oriten, high wheel ordinaries, tandems and the forerunners of today's modern bicycles, originally called safetys. You can preview America's Bicentennial now at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Eggs, turkey and beef are smart food buys this month. Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say greater supplies and seasonally lower prices make them good choices budget-wise. Nutritionally, they're high in protein, relatively low in calories and ideal for summer menus.

As a guide for buying eggs, MDA marketing officials say, if there is less than a seven cents price spread per dozen eggs between one size and the next smaller size, the larger size is your best buy.

Planning a patio party? Prepare deviled eggs or hard-cooked egg wedges and serve with turkey salad on a lettuce cup. A perfect luncheon dish is poached eggs served on cooked asparagus with strips of crisp bacon.

USDA reports indicate that cold storage holdings for turkey exceeded the three-year average last month by nearly 80 percent or approximately six million birds. As a result, you'll see turkey selling for as low as 58 cents per pound in area supermarkets. You may want to buy two or more turkeys while prices are low. Roast or barbecue one turkey this week and enjoy the others in the next few months. Turkey can be stored for six months at freezer temperatures of zero degrees or lower.

Beef is great for outdoor cooking and a variety of cuts are being featured in retail stores at lower prices than a year ago. Family favorites such as chuck roast and short ribs take on an exciting appeal when barbecued over the coals.

Now's the time to buy retail beef for your home freezer. While the specials are still on, buy several of your favorite cuts. Later when prices are up, you'll delight in your savings.

The federal government just this year joined the ranks of the top 100 advertisers in terms of expenditures. The Army has the biggest and hopefully the most visible piece of all that spending in order to sell the Modern Volunteer Army.

Mrs. Jerry Craft

Vicki Burnett, Jerry Craft Are Wed Saturday at North Sharon Church

Vicki Burnett and Jerry Craft were married Saturday afternoon in North Sharon Bible church in a ceremony conducted by Pastor William Enslen.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Burnett of 109 Grant St., and Mr. and Mrs. James Craft of 17500 Garvey Rd.

The bride wore a white nylon gown with chiffon sleeves and tiny stand-up collar that featured ruffles around the hemline which ran up the back and met in a bow. A mantilla veil completed her outfit.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Eric (Elaine) Sparks, of Manchester, a sister of the bride, wore a coral floor-length empire-waisted gown with off-white lace accenting the bodice.

Miss Lorena Burnett, of 310 Congdon St., a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a blue gown of the same style as that of the maid of honor.

For his best man, the bridegroom chose Timothy Colvia, 11013 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., Pinckney. Acting as groomsmen were Neil Colvan of the same address.

Ushers were Mark Burnett, a brother of the bride, and Paul Brown, of 16455 Winters Rd., Grass Lake.

A reception followed the ceremony in the social center of the church. Assisting were Mrs. Neil Fahrner who cut the cake; Mrs. Jack Collins, aided by Miss Marie Fahrner, who served the punch; and Miss Colleen Collins, who attended the guest book. All are friends of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to eastern Kentucky for one week, the couple will be home at 5554 Dogwood Dr., Jackson.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Chelsea High school who was a member of the school's National Honor Society. She is presently employed by Federal Screw Works.

The bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of Chelsea High school who attended AATI Computer School in Columbus, O. Currently he is employed at Commonwealth Association in Jackson.

Older Adult Group Meets for Final Session Until Sept. 21

For the group's last meeting of the season, Older Adult Group of First United Methodist Church enjoyed a pot-luck at the United Methodist Home June 15, with 30 members present.

Corsages were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlosser for their 50th wedding anniversary. The Rev. Richard Clemans also received a gift for his 25th wedding anniversary.

"Happy Birthday" was sung for Elsie Paul and Ruth Riemen-schneider, and a cake was baked by Mrs. Lyman Adamas.

The Rev. Clemans opened the program with a sing-along, followed by showing pictures explaining United Retirement Homes and the extensive remodeling being done at Boulevard Temple in Detroit, and of the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

Mrs. Bert Pearson thanked the group for remembering her recent illness.

The group's first fall meeting will be held at the Crippen Building Sept. 21.

Food Preservation Workshops Set For Beginners

In a year when interest in home food preservation is expected to reach an all-time high, the Washtenaw Co-operative Extension Service is trying to anticipate the rush.

Eight special workshops, slated in June and July will be held to acquaint beginners with the ABC's of home canning and freezing, pickling and jam and jelly making.

Called "Food for Later" the workshops will feature Linda Meyer and Rene Deter from Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's Consumer Services Division; Dorothy Downer, Detroit Edison Residential Consumer Services Advisor; and Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist.

Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Deter will demonstrate how to make jams and jellies; Mrs. Downer, freezing vegetables, fruits and prepared foods; and Mrs. Fairman, canning fruits and vegetables and making pickles and relishes.

Workshops are scheduled for Thursday, June 13 in the basement of the Calvary Methodist church and Thursday, June 20 at Willow Run High school home economics room. Making jams and jellies will be demonstrated from 10 to 12 noon and freezing from 1 to 3 p.m.

The canning and pickle making workshops are scheduled for July 11 at Willow Run High school and July 18 at Calvary Methodist church. The canning demonstration will be from 10 to 12 noon; pickling from 1 to 3 p.m.

Reservations, limited to 50 at each session, may be made by calling the Extension office at 663-7511 extension 227. There is no admission fee and the workshops are open to all.

Mrs. Fairman stressed that the workshops are geared for beginners who want to learn the hows and whys about food preservation, canning and freezing techniques, safety and equipment. Veteran canners are being discouraged from attending, she said.

The terminology itself can be confusing for the beginners. What is really meant by venting the steam or exhausting the canner? Only a novice can appreciate how puzzling such terms as blanching, cold pack and hot pack, hot water bath and pressure canner can be.

CONSUMERS CORNER

FAT ANALYZER

A fat analyzer is not a chubby psychiatrist, but an instrument designed to aid your butcher.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service has developed a portable device that can quickly and accurately measure fat content in ground beef, just by placing it atop a package of the meat.

Although fat content largely determines ground beef quality, there has never been an easy way for butchers to measure it. And now, laws limiting fat content and requiring accurate labeling have made the amount of fat in ground beef a critical factor.

Some supermarkets use chemical tests as guides. But most butchers have relied on experience to judge the amount of fat.

This new analyzer, accurate to within one percent, will provide them with an easy method. It's hoped that the tester can be adapted to measure fat in other ground meats, such as pork, lamb and chicken.

Ice Cream

Ice cream is made from cream, milk, sugar, flavoring and stabilizers. It must contain at least 10 percent milkfat.

Keep Cool

Commercially frozen unbaked apple, cherry or peach pies usually maintain good quality up to eight months in the home freezer.

Pet Population

America's pet population includes 2 million cats, 26 million caged birds, 32.6 million dogs, and 500 million tropical fish.

Mrs. Forest Williams, Jr.

Janice Schramm, F. Williams, Jr., Married at St. Mary Church

Janice Marie Schramm became the bride of Forest Williams Jr., Friday evening in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Fr. Phillip Dupuis at St. Mary Catholic church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Schramm, 5800 Stoffer Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Williams, of Stockbridge.

Singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "There Is Love" was Mrs. Clara White, of Stockbridge with accompaniment by Russell Beeman of Chelsea.

For the ceremony, the bride chose an empire waist gown of white polyester jersey with A-line skirt and full-length sleeves. Her headpiece, a chantilly lace-edged mantilla, flowed into a cathedral length veil. She carried a triangle cascade of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath, accented with flowing ivy.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Karen Schramm, a sister of the bride. She appeared in a red and white gingham gown with empire waist and A-line skirt and wore a white straw hat with matching red and white ribbon. She carried a lace-laden parasol, filled with white daisies and baby's breath, also accented with red and white gingham ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Nell (Joan) Oldham of Wayne, a sister of the bride; Miss Mary Niehaus of Chelsea; Miss Barbara Duerr of Chelsea; Miss Amy Weddon of Stockbridge; and Miss Roxanne Burton of Grass Lake. All wore dresses and carried parasols identical to that of the maid of honor. Honor attendant for the bridegroom was Darrell Williams of Stockbridge, his brother. Acting as ushers were Carl Williams of Jackson; Hardy Williams of Stockbridge; Joe Williams of Stockbridge; and Ron Williams of Stockbridge, all brothers of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a pink floor-length polyester knit, accented with silver accessories. Her corsage was of minute sweetheart roses, accented with baby's breath and white ribbon.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a light blue print floor-length polyester double knit gown with white accessories. Her corsage was of white sweetheart roses, accented with baby's breath and blue ribbon.

A reception followed the ceremony at the UAW Hall in Chelsea. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Harold (Judy) Williams of Stockbridge and Mrs. Darrell (Janna) Williams of Stockbridge, both sisters-in-law of the bridegroom, who cut the cake; Mrs. Gerald (Becky) Whitaker of Stockbridge and Mrs. George Schramm of Jackson, a cousin of the bride, who attended the guest book.

After a one-week wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside at 115 Mills Ave., Stockbridge.

The bride is a Chelsea High School graduate who attended Jackson Community College and Foote Hospital Nursing school for one and one-half years. She is currently employed at University Microfilms.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Stockbridge High school who attended Jackson Community College for one year. He is now employed by Dana Corp.

Cook-Knight Vows Exchanged

Darlene Joette Cook of Lansing and Christopher Kim Knight of Holt were married Saturday in Central United Methodist church in Lansing. Honor attendants for the couple were Mrs. Connie Smith and Claude Oberlin.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Cook, of Lansing. Her grandmother is Mrs. Marie Cook of North Lake Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Knight of Grand Ledge. The newlyweds will live in Holt.

PERSONALS

Spec. Kim Corser is home on leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Corser, on Roepecke Rd., while awaiting assignment for duty in Germany. He will be leaving July 16 from South Carolina for his new duties. He has been stationed at Ft. Hood, Tex., in a maintenance section of the 1st Cavalry.

Eresten-Mellon Vows Exchanged Saturday at Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy W. Mellon are now at home in Lake Zurich, Ill., after a one-week wedding trip to Niagara Falls. The couple were married Saturday, June 8, at First United Methodist church in a candle-light double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Clive Dickins.

The bride, the former Annette Marie Ereston, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ereston of Harrison, formerly of Chelsea. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Donald Mellon of Park Ridge, Ill., and the late Mr. Mellon.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the traditional wedding march played by Dwight Bolanowski. She wore a gown of deep pink knit with chapel-length train and long sleeves, accented at the bodice with tiny satin balls and pearl flowers. Her waist-length veil was also trimmed with tiny satin balls and secured to a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley, stephanotis, and ivy.

Chosen maid of honor was Jill Schwieger of Ann Arbor. She appeared in a gown of pastel blue with matching picture hat, and carried a bouquet of long-stemmed yellow roses.

Bridesmaids appeared in dresses identical to that of the maid of honor in various pastel colors. Mrs. Vickie Ereston, sister-in-law of the bride, wore lavender; Miss Nancy Mellon, sister of the bridegroom from Park Ridge, Ill., wore yellow; and Miss Barbara Bury of Lansing wore mint green. Bridesmaids also carried bouquets of long-stemmed yellow roses.

Shelley Sweeney of Ypsilanti, a niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and dressed in pink, carrying a basket of flowers in the colors of the bridesmaids' dresses. Acting as best man was Dennis Hill of Lake Zurich, Ill. Ushers were Steve Ereston, a brother of the bride, Hughie Love of Skokie, Ill., and Jim Wakefield of DeKalb, Ill. The bride's father, the bridegroom, best man, and ushers all wore black tux tails and top hats. Their shirts were in colors matching the bridesmaids' dresses.

The mother of the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of jersey knit in deep pink with deep pink sequins on the bodice. She wore a corsage of white roses, miniature carnations and baby's breath.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of chiffon with large double ruffled collar in pastel floral print. She wore a corsage of yellow roses and baby's breath.

A reception followed their ceremony at Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. The buffet supper was followed by music from a local group, Cry Wolf.

The five-tier wedding cake and bridegroom's cake were made and decorated by Sandi Ellenwood and Denise Sweeney, sisters of the bride. The cake was cut by Denise Sweeney, who was assisted by Mrs. Lorraine Ellenwood, who also cut the bridegroom's cake.

Special out-of-town guests who attended were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo D'Andrea of Bradenton, Fla.; Miss Ann Carney of Deerfield, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Malten of Chicago, Ill.; Debby and Scott Carroll, and Rose and Mark Sammont, all from Illinois; and Kevin Earles from Indiana. Other guests attending came from Sterling Heights, Detroit, Taylor, Pontiac, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Dexter, and Chelsea.

Rec. Program Offering New Innovations

Innovations of new programs and re-arrangement of some existing ones are the highlights of this summer's Recreation Council program, according to Director Tom Ballistrere.

The newest of Ballistrere's innovations is called the "Earn, Learn, and Play Program" set to begin Monday, June 24. The program, which covers all facets of recreation for children from ages six through 14, will allow each boy or girl a chance to also earn money. In addition, such skills as swimming, baton, dancing, gymnastics, arts, and crafts, and a number of physical skills pertaining to sports and recreational activities will be taught. The program is designed to allow participants an opportunity to express themselves through organized play.

Another exciting innovation is the Chelsea Players, under the direction of Miss DiAnn L'Roy. "Miss L'Roy's summer theatre workshop will not only be a fine learning experience for those who actively participate," Ballistrere notes, "but will be a fine avenue of enjoyment for the entire Chelsea community as well."

Restructuring of T-ball and Little League has led to the creation of an additional league, Pony League, for youngsters 11 and 12 years old, Ballistrere reports. T-ball will be for seven- and eight-year-olds, and Little League for nine- and ten-year-olds. The program, scheduled to begin Monday, June 24, is under the direction of Jim Ticknor.

Babe Ruth League, directed by Dave Lukasik, for youngsters 13 through 15 years, has been expanded to include a tournament and all-star game, in addition to the 20-game schedule.

Tennis instruction, directed by Miss Terry Schreiner, "is going extremely well," according to Director Ballistrere. Instruction is available for all age groups.

Swimming lessons, directed by Jim Tallman, are ready to also begin on Monday, June 24, with lessons from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and free swim afterwards from 1 to 3 p.m.

Men's softball, both fast-pitch and slow-pitch, is directed by Charles Waller. The leagues are currently entering their third week of competition.

Ballistrere also noted that a Chelsea Recreation high school team has been entered in the Ann Arbor League for boys 16 and older, managed by Wayne Welton.

Improvements have also been made in recreational facilities within the village, Director Ballistrere said. Notably:

—a new field has been installed at both the high school and South school, with scoreboard.

—two new backstops have been erected at the high school field and at South school.

—three new sets of bleachers have been placed at the high school field and at South school.

Library Reading Program Starts Monday

McKune Memorial Library's summer reading program will begin next Monday, June 24, and continue to Wednesday, July 31.

Participants will be expected to read 10 books over this six-week period and will receive a certificate at the end of the program if they have done so.

Vandals Destroy Sesqui Banners

Vandals have ripped down and stolen some $2,000 worth of Sesquicentennial banners from Dexter's business district since Saturday evening, it was reported Tuesday.

Monday night, Sesquicentennial decorators replaced banners that had been initially vandalized, only to find them removed Wednesday morning.

Sesquicentennial planners say that the banners will not be replaced again.

Girls Track Club Scores in Invitational

Four local girls turned in some hot performances Sunday in the Lincoln Park Invitational track meet in competition with some 600 girls from several states and Canada.

The four members of the newly-formed Chelsea Track Club, were Kathy Treado, a member of Chelsea High school's track squad; Angie Merkel and Carolyn Schardein, Beach Middle school track team members; and Judy Franstad, Grass Lake track team member.

Carolyn Schardein placed second in her division in the 220-yard dash with a time of .27.5, her best of the year.

The four runners combined to record a fourth place in the 440-yard relay with a time of .55. They also teamed up to record a 2:04 in the medley relay.

Angie Merkel, as anchor runner in medley relay, recorded a .64 for her quarter-mile leg of the race. This was her first experience running a quarter mile.

The club plans to compete in the Junior Olympics, scheduled for June 29 in Detroit, and any other meets that it can enter.

Anyone interested in joining the club should contact a current member.

Rep. Hal Ziegler Will Be Candidate For Re-Election

State Representative Hal W. Ziegler (R-Jackson) announced today that he will be a candidate for the Michigan State Senate from the 18th District. Ziegler is completing his fourth term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Representative Ziegler is vice chairman of the House Elections Committee and serves on the standing committees on Judiciary, Urban Affairs, and Corporations and Finance.

During his tenure in the House he served two years as Assistant Republican Floor Leader. An attorney, Ziegler served as former Assistant Jackson County Prosecutor and two years as Circuit Court Commissioner. He is a member of the State Bar Association.

Ziegler is a graduate of Jackson High school, Hillsdale College and received his Bachelor of Law Degree from Wayne State University.

The Ziegler family live at 2011 Cascades Dr., Jackson. He served in the U.S. Army and is a member of the Episcopal Church.

The 18th Senatorial District is composed of part of Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Washtenaw counties.

Music Youth International Concert Slated

Music Youth International, a Great Lakes-area People-to-People program that includes four Chelsea area school students among its 110 members, will present its final pre-tour concert Tuesday, July 2, at 7:30 p.m. at Chelsea High school.

The group's five-week tour of Australia will begin July 5. While "down under," Music Youth International will perform in Sydney's new opera house, in Canberra, the national capital, and at Perth's International Society of Music Educators world convention. Several smaller towns will also be included in the tour.

This Chelsea concert will be a benefit for the four Chelsea student members: band members Suzanne Hafer, French horn, and Duane Luick, trumpet, and chorus members Dale Heydauff, tenor, and Steve Schanz, bass. Bruce Galbraith, assistant director of the group, says that the free-will offering taken at the concert will help defray costs involved in the group's lengthy adventure.

Chorus and band of MYI will be featured at this concert as individual units. The evening will conclude with the traditional "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Peter J. Wilhousky.

Proceeding from the concert, dinner will be provided for MYI musicians and their parents. A People-to-People pin will be presented to each participant, and official greetings will be extended by representatives of the national People-to-People organization.

Selected last fall through audition and personal interview, band and chorus members represent 80 different cities and towns in the Great Lakes area. Over the years, members have hailed from Illinois, Ohio, and Canada, as well as Michigan.

In the 10 years since its inception, MYI has appeared on every continent and from coast-to-coast in the United States. Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower, widow of the late president who began the People-to-People program, serves as honorary chairman of MYI's board.

Named to Dean's Honor List at U-M

Three area students were named to the Dean's Honor List for the winter term in the University of Michigan's College of Engineering. The three are John R. Young, 20700 Waldo Rd., Chelsea; Karen Ann McKeachie, 48840 W. Joy Rd., Dexter; and Donald James Frasier, 9886 Bethel Church Rd., Manchester.

CHELSEA JAYCEES held their third annual youth horse show last Sunday, complete with some of the more fun events common to that show: egg and spoon race; boot race, off and on—in addition to the familiar, more serious events. Trophies were awarded to winners in each of the 30 classes, and ribbons were presented to the first six placers in each class.

Jaycee Horse Show Draws 74 Entries

A number of young local riders took first places in Chelsea Jaycees' third annual youth horse show last Sunday at Chelsea Fairgrounds.

Ann O'Hagan, 12, of Chelsea, riding Xerxes, earned a first in working hunter over fences in the junior division and a second in horsemanship over fences, junior division.

Sharon Kropf and Commanche took first in flag race, junior division. Riding Tammy, Sharon earned a first in both pole-bending and cloverleaf, junior division.

Precision Riding Group Invited to Perform at Quarter Horse Show

"Washtenaw Star Riders" under the direction of Jean Botsford and Andrew Ford, appeared in costume at the Jaycee Youth Horse Show Sunday for a dress rehearsal performance for their June 30 entry in the Sheriff's Posse Quarter Horse Show.

The group, which performed during the noon break at the Jaycee show, originated at the Chelsea Community Fair last year as a spur-of-the-moment idea, and resulted in the group performing their precision routine on horseback during the Sunday horse show.

Members of the Mounted Sheriff's Posse were in the audience, liked what they saw, and asked Mrs. Botsford to bring the group to appear at the Quarter Horse Show. The show is scheduled for June 30 at Saline.

Chaperones Needed For Band Camp

Each year Chelsea High school band members make the trek up to Camp Maplehurst, on Torch Lake near Traverse City. More than just a week of fun and sun, says Band Director Warren Mayer, band camp is the kind of experience that "cements the band together."

"It's the kind of thing that—well, sometimes kids who don't go actually have a hard time adjusting to the band in the fall. The group is very cohesive after the camp."

Band Camp, scheduled this year for Aug. 18 through 24, is a week of intensified playing and preparation in marching techniques for the coming year of band performance.

"We prepare one half-time show and one pre-game show at camp. The pre-game show is the basic one that we use for all home games, which is particularly important for us this year since we have five home games," Mayer said.

Band directors Mayer and Ronald Harris conduct the session, putting in hours of work to perfect the band's techniques. "We always strive to make things better," Mayer notes.

In addition to all the work, there's some time for play, too, as the setting of Camp Maplehurst offers a change of pace for all to enjoy. There is swimming, boating, tennis, camp fires, hiking, and similar types of recreation.

"The situation at Band Camp is really a unique one and very conducive to the 'cementing together' of the band, since we're the only group there at this time. We're very lucky in that we don't have to go to camp with other schools," Mayer noted.

The band camp situation is not entirely idyllic, however, at least not at this point. Although some 170 students have signed up for the camp, and applications are still being accepted, only seven community members have volunteered to act as chaperones. Seven more are needed.

Mayer and the couple heading chaperones this year, Mr. and Mrs. Al Dowhal, stress that it is not necessary to be the parent of a band member or even to have children in school in order to qualify. The only qualifications needed are to enjoy working with young people, and the desire to spend a week at Camp Maplehurst, at no charge.

Chaperones are responsible for watching over the young people attending the camp, Mayer said, and help with entertainment and other aspects of camp life. "The people who act as chaperones always feel that they know the young people quite a bit better after a week at camp."

Those interested in becoming chaperones should contact the Dowhals at 428-8110. Chaperones will meet at Beach Middle school on Thursday, July 11, at 8 p.m.

Girls Softball Clinic Planned For Monday

A clinic for potential participants in Chelsea Recreation Council's new girls softball league is scheduled for Monday, June 24, at 1 p.m. at South school.

The clinic, for girls 10 through 15 years, will include the fundamentals of catching, throwing, hitting, and base running, under the direction of Pat Clarke, league director, Recreation Director Tom Balistrere, and team coaches.

Registration fee for the entire softball program will be $1. Games will begin July 1 at Beach Middle school fields. All games will be played at 4 p.m.

Players will be notified by their coaches as to their team assignment, and a team roster will appear in the June 27 issue of The Chelsea Standard.

For further information contact either Pat Clarke at 426-8151, or Tom Balistrere at 475-8511.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

No accomplishment, no condition of order and obedience—in fact no progress in anything—can even be hoped for if discipline is lacking. Our social structure in which we all must live would literally fall apart without it. This is sadly being seen today with a lack of discipline causing a wide spread disintegration of moral values.

A decay of moral values shows a defect in character. When this is seen, it certainly indicates somewhere at sometime a defect in obedience should have been seen—and corrected. What we should have done is now a matter of the past. What we do now is what matters. We believe many will agree now is the time for all of us to keep our eyes open; to discipline desires of questionable, short-sighted, temporary pleasures for ourselves and others and get a better view of eventual worthwhile goals and objectives . . . Olivet Youth Group Coming to Assembly of God

Coming to Chelsea from the First Assembly of God of Olivet is the youth group with their minister of youth, Thomas Amrozowicz, to join together for an afternoon and evening of spiritual activity.
 The group will arrive Saturday afternoon, June 22 and will meet at the First Assembly of God, 14900 Old US-12 E., with young people of the church; then go to the streets of Chelsea to share their living faith with Chelsea residents. Later they will regroup at Pierce Park for a picnic then meet again at the church for an evening of singing and testimonies.
 Sunday, June 23 the youth of the First Assembly of God 14900 Old US-12 E., will host a charismatic group from the Word of God organization, centered at St. Thomas Aquinas, Ann Arbor, who will be in charge of the evening service, beginning at 7 p.m.

Immanuel Plans All-Church Picnic

Immanuel Bible Church Vacation Bible School and All-Church Picnic will be held Saturday afternoon as a highlight after a week of Bible study, and will afford an opportunity to get better acquainted with all those who took part in the week of inspiration and fun.
 The picnic will be held at Hudson Mill Park, Dexter. A bus will be leaving the church at 2 p.m. for those who do not have transportation.
 An exciting time of games, prizes, a balloon ascension, as well as a treat for all who attend, is in the plans. Each person is asked to bring a sack lunch. Special effort is being made to make this a great family outing!

Ask THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: I read that Michigan has a new law to help save people money on car insurance. Can you explain it?

Governor: The law to which you are referring took effect on June 3, and could—in my estimation—save Michigan motorists as much as $100 million a year in auto insurance premiums.

Unique to Michigan, this law eliminates unnecessary premiums on auto insurance by requiring no-fault auto insurers to offer policyholders the opportunity to co-ordinate no-fault benefits with health and accident insurance policies.

Michigan motorists can save as much as 10 percent of their auto insurance premium if they choose to eliminate this overlap.

Automobile insurance companies will automatically notify policyholders of this money-saving option when their policies come up for renewal, but for an immediate reduction, policyholders have to call their agents and ask for elimination of the duplication.

Combining coverage will eliminate extra premiums; it also will eliminate double benefits—meaning that if you choose this approach, you can't collect on both your auto insurance and your health and accident insurance. I think it is extremely important for all motorists to review their insurance and to choose the combination of benefits and price that will best suit their needs.

I understand that State Parks now have a new system for campers where you have to get a reservation before you go to camp. Can you explain it to me?

Governor: The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has instituted a change in the system through which campsites in our state parks are assigned to campers, but it only applies to about half the campsites in our state.

This year, for the first time in history of our state park system, families who plan to stay in our state parks for a period of at least four nights can reserve a campsite prior to their arrival at the park. Previously, campsites in our parks were assigned only on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Only 50 percent of the campsites in each park will be available for reservations, however. This will leave half the sites in each park available to those people who prefer to use the first come, first serve system.

Reservation requests, which may be made either in person or by mail, must be made directly to the park. Application forms are available at any state park; through the Parks Division of the DNR in Lansing, or any DNR field office.

Applications for a reservation must be accompanied by a reservation fee of two dollars plus the total cost of the camp fee for the period desired.

This new system is designed to assure people of a campsite when they arrive at a state park.

Question: We are planning to take a trip through Michigan in July. Is there a place that I can get a listing of special festivals which will be held in Michigan then?

Governor: Yes. The Michigan Tourist Council regularly prints a "Calendar of Travel Events" which is available free of charge to persons requesting it.

Among the many events occurring in Michigan during the summer months which are listed in the "Calendar of Events" for the months of July, August, and September are: The Seaway Festival in Muskegon, July 1 through 8; the Cherry Festival in my home town of Traverse City, July 8 through 13; the Ice Cream Festival in Easton Rapids, Aug. 1 through 3; the Wyoming Rodeo in Wyoming, July 11 through 13; the World Championship AuSable Marathon Canoe race from Grayling to Oscoda, July 26 and 27; and the Chicago to Mackinac Sailboat Race, on July 20.

A complete listing of summer events in our state may be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, 300 S. Capitol, Lansing.
