

Beautiful Fall Day Greet Saturday's Big Fair Parade

DAVID TRINKLE'S reserve champion steer, which he raised from 625 pounds to 945 pounds since January, takes no heed of all the buying and selling around him. Wolverine Bar purchased the prize-winning steer for $1.40 per pound.

Saturday's fair parade, among the top 10 of anyone's list of things to do at the fair, was probably best typified by Chelsea High school band's rendition of "A Wonderful Day Like Today," as it zipped its way down Main St.

A wonderful day it was—warm and sunny, with a tinge of autumn in the air, with a parade in progress that featured everything from a state senator to a clown walking a dog that wasn't there, and even more.

Among the new participants in the parade this year was the Dexter Vintage Car Club, which has made the scene in Chelsea once before, during Dexter's Sesquicentennial caravan to this village.

Parade-goers were given an opportunity to view the incredibly well-preserved and well-running Rolls Royces, Studebakers and sorted other unidentifiables that were foreign matter to anyone under 25, and sometimes, more than that.

Chelsea's United Methodist Home once again took first place in the adult float division, with its "Bridging the Years" theme that featured king and queen, the Rev. Scott Westerman and Mrs. Ruth Woerner, in acts of giving and receiving with young volunteer workers from the Home. This float made the Home the winner of four consecutive first places.

Second place in the adult judging went to "Sanford and Sons Salvage," sprightly entry that Fire Chief Jim Gaken said was built simply by "a group of individuals from Lima township, including Don Lator and Ralph Trinkle. Third place was taken by Kiwanis Club, which urged Chelseaites to "Sail with Kiwanis." The Firemen's Award went to Mac Tools for its float that featured Queen Kim Young, "In Building Our Nation."

Displaying the devil-may-care tendencies of those not in their final high school year, the junior class of '76 depicted their school days as "Sesame Street," which earned them first prize in the youth division.

Taking second place in the youth division was Chelsea Recreation Council, represented by Tom Balistrere and his band of gypsies from the Earn, Learn, and Play program, who built the group's Winnie the Pooh float as part of their summer's activity.

Touting "Liberty and Justice for All," the Class of '77 earned a third place, while Terrific Tailors 4-H earned the Firemen's Award for their "4-H Is Always Blooming."

New Records Set in Fair Tractor Pull

A four-year-old record, set by Charlie Koenn in the 1970 Chelsea Fair version of the tractor pull when he pulled 368 percent, fell several times over in this year's event. They pulled and they pulled until the final elimination ended at 4:40 a.m. Saturday.

Leading the record setters was Ted Wheeler, who pulled 403 percent with his John Deere to top the 9,001 to 14,000 pound tractor class. Floyd Riethmiller was also tops in his division, for tractors up to 4,000 pounds, when he pulled 403 percent atop his International.

Others going over the old record were Ken McCalla, who pulled 380 percent in his International for second place in the up to 4,000 pound category; Jim Hagman, who piloted his Oliver to first place in the 4,001 to 6,000 category with 399 percent; Victor Mann, who managed 389 percent in his Massey-Ferguson for second place in the 4,001 to 6,000 pound category; Charles Schaible, who took second place in 9,001 to 14,000 in his John Deere with 388 percent; Dave Ruhlig, who placed third in 9,001 to 14,000 with 387 percent from his Allis-Chalmers; David Westhoven, whose 387 percent in his John Deere earned him a fourth place in the 9,001 to 14,000 category; Richard Jedele, who took fifth in 9,001 to 14,000 with 382 percent from his John Deere; and Bob Merz, who pulled 382 percent in his John Deere for sixth place.

Other placers in the various categories included, up to 4,000 pound category; Wayne McCalla, third, with 368 percent from his International; John Weidmayer, who pulled 353 percent with his Ford or fourth place; and Laverne Walz, who took fifth with 351 percent from his tractor.

In the 4,001 to 6,000 pound category; Mark Weidmayer pulled 363 percent with his Farmall tractor for third place; Neil Weidmayer and his Massey-Ferguson took fourth with 354 percent; Duane Kuebler took fifth with his Massey-Ferguson with 353 percent; and Ron Dible pulled 349 percent with his Allis-Chalmers for sixth place.

Ken Hieber and Richard Schaible tied for first place in the 6,001 to 9,000 pound category with identical pulls of 349 percent. Hieber on an Allis-Chalmers and Schaible on a John Deere. Taking third place was Ralph Dible with 347 percent from his Oliver; Jim Schneerle pulled into fourth place with 319 percent from his John Deere; Ray Weidmayer took fifth place with a 314 percent performance from his Massey-Ferguson; and John Bihlmayer, pulling 311 percent, took sixth place atop his International.

Jiffy Mixers Eliminated in State Tourney

Chelsea's Fast Pitch League champions Jiffy Mixes went down to defeat in two quick games in last week-end's state Class D fast-pitch finals in Cadillac.

A home run in the bottom of the seventh made all the difference in the world for Jiffy in the first game. The teams had been deadlocked at 2-2 until Ed Wreckling of Marshall delivered the solo homer in the final inning to defeat ace Jiffy pitcher Dick McCalla.

Jiffy scoring in this first game came on a pair of solo round-trippers by Duke Weiss and McCalla. Jiffy dropped its second game to a Sault Ste. Marie squad, 4-1, with Tom Voelker suffering the loss. Bill Harvey and Cal Poe each delivered two hits for Jiffy's losing cause.

Man Arrested On Tip He Was Out To Kill

Chelsea police Monday arrested local man for carrying a concealed weapon when the subject's wife informed officers that he intended to kill an unknown person and then himself.

Robert Lawrence Barry, 46, of 322 Buchanan St., was arrested early Monday morning near his home by Officers Graves and Peeler Barry that her husband was bled who were told by Mrs. Dar-armed and had left the home to kill "Pat." Her husband had served prison time for murder and would follow through with his threats, Mrs. Barry said.

In Barry's automobile at the time of his arrest were a Germany Madison Import Corp., eight-shot .22 caliber revolver, one Winchester model 190 semi-automatic .22 caliber 16-shot rifle, loaded, and a large amount of ammunition.

Barry was handcuffed and taken to Washtenaw County Jail to await arraignment Tuesday in 14th District Court. He waived examination and was bound over to circuit Court for arraignment of information Sept. 13.

Champ Steer Brings $1.65 lb. At Fair Sale

Steve Grau's grand champion lamb brought a whopping total of $4 per pound from Inverness Inn in last Wednesday evening's livestock sale, and other prices were similarly, if not quite so dramatically, up in this year's sale during the Chelsea Community fair.

Other top prices in the livestock sale were received by Kirk Van Natter, whose reserve champion lamb, weighing 105 pounds, brought $2 per pound from Frisinger Realty, and Steve Grau's champion pen of lambs, weighing a total of 257 pounds, which was purchased by Wolverine Bar for $1.10 per pound. Matt Grau's reserve champion pen weighed 338 pounds and brought 55 cents per pound from Dible Feeds.

Top price in the steer sale was received by Gary Thornton, whose grand champion steer weighing 1,065 pounds brought $1.65 per pound from Schumm's Restaurant. David Trinkle's reserve champion steer weighing 945 pounds brought $1.40 per pound from Wolverine Bar.

In the hog sale, Karen McCalla's grand champion individual hog tipped the scales at 203 pounds and brought $1.60 per pound from Michigan Livestock. Erwin Herrst, whose grand champion pen weighed in at 373 pounds, received 60 cents per pound from Wolverine Bar, while his reserve champion individual, weighing 185 pounds, brought 80 cents per pound from Klink Excavating. Mary Ann McCalla raised the reserve champion pen, weighing a total of 640 pounds, which was purchased by Howell Livestock for 50 cents per pound.

3 Youths Arrested for Window Breaking

Three local youths were taken into custody Saturday by Chelsea police for their parts in a wide-spread breaking of windows and glass that occurred at five locations around the village late last Wednesday and early Thursday morning.

Arrested were a pair of 16-year-old juveniles and William Parker, 17, of 133 Orchard St. Tuesday afternoon Parker appeared in 14th District Court and is scheduled to appear for preliminary examination Sept. 9 on a charge of malicious destruction of property valued at more than $100. Petitions have been signed for the juveniles to appear in Juvenile Court, but no date for appearance has yet been set.

Conviction on the listed charge for Parker carries a maximum sentence of four years in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Targets of the trio's breaking spree were Sprague Buick-Oldsmobile, where a 24-inch by 32-inch window and three plate glass windows, 12 feet by 6 feet were broken, valued totally at more than $900; the buses parked in the parking lot of Chelsea High school, 14 of which received broken windshields, with original damage estimate running to $1,064; A&W Root beer, where a hole one foot high and one foot wide occurred as the result of a beer bottle thrown through a large A&W sign atop a pole, with damage running $200 for the face of the sign and $250 for the casing; Beach Middle school, where a pair of 3 feet by 7 feet plate glass windows were broken; and Palmer Motor Sales, where a rock was tossed through a 108-inch by 104-inch plate glass window, valued at $236.

Officers were led to the three young defendants by the report of witnesses who were present inside Sprague Buick-Oldsmobile at the time of the initial damage to the smaller window of the establishment.

They told officers that a 1973 or 1974 Camaro had left the area of the Sprague dealership immediately after the incident. The vehicle had a burgundy-colored body with a cream colored top, they said.

Although police gave chase to apparently the same suspect vehicle later that evening, they were unable to read the vehicle's license number.

Friday, however, Officer John Detling observed a car fitting the description of the suspect vehicle (Continued on page six)

Rally Day Slated At Waterloo Church

Firemen Called for Blaze at Flint Home

Chelsea Fire Department was called to the home of Chalmers Flint on Ixvey Rd. Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a fire behind the home's fireplace. Fire Chief Jim Gaken said that it was not known how much damage had been done. The blaze appeared to have been caused by a faulty fireplace.

Antique Tractor Pull Draws 18 Entrants

The fascination with antique machines turned out to be more widespread than even Paul Bollinger, one of the local proponents of antique tractor pull, ever expected. A total of 18 entrants showed up for the competition among the oldest, which made it necessary to divide them into two classes, 728-A for heavyweight tractors; and 728-B for heavyweight tractors.

In the lightweight division, Mike Bristle of Munith took first place in his Ford tractor, followed by Bill Yuhass, Milan, in second; Pat Farrell, Dexter, third; Frank Yuhass, Manchester, fourth; and Jim Jedele, Ann Arbor, fifth.

In the heavyweight division, Robert Pyle of Manchester made the top pull in his Farmall tractor, followed by David Curtis of Manchester, second; Don Bollinger, Chelsea, third; Dean Lindemann, Dexter, fourth; and Floyd Riethmiller, Grass Lake, fifth.

Cross Country Team In Rebuilding Year

Although it might be easier all the way around for cross country coach Pat Clarke to loll in memories of last year's Southeastern Conference title-winning season, he is instead concentrating fully on his rebuilding job, a necessary prelude to this season.

His rebuilding job is made considerably easier, Coach Clarke readily admits, by the presence of eight returning lettermen, led by junior captain John Storey.

Storey, an experienced veteran who holds the sophomore record as well as the two-mile school record in track, is, according to Coach Clarke, "the type of runner any coach would like to have—John is very consistent, dedicated, and highly competitive."

Another aid to this year's program is sophomore letterman Rick Haller, who the coach says "has improved tremendously over last year and should have a fine season this year."

Also returning are another pair of sophomores, Morris Johnson and Phil Frame. Both lettermen, Coach Clarke reports, "are starting to blossom into fine varsity runners and should be integral parts of the Bulldog machine." Other squad members who are expected to contribute their fair shares to this year's campaign are juniors Dave Frame and Bill Rademacher and sophomores Mark Kern and Matt Heydlauff. Each of these young men, their mentor states, "have excellent potential and should improve as the season progresses."

Newcomers to the Bulldog cross-country scene who Coach Clarke anticipates will bear watching during the 1974 season are sophomores Jeff Sweet and Dean Thompson, who have been working with the squad and should provide the Bulldogs with some much-needed depth.

From among the new crop of freshmen, Coach Clarke reports that Dave Dawson seems to have tailed down one of the varsity Bucholz, and Mark Shippy are all spots, while Randy Harris, Mark "looking pretty good at this point in the season."

The over-all outlook for the season, Coach Clarke says, is currently that the Bulldog barriers will be "a young, hard-working, determined group who will have to wait for the season to start to see how much rebuilding has been done."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: The fellers was talking about the new president and the new way of doing things in Washington during their session at the country store Saturday night. It was Clem Webster that come up with the idea of sending in Ed Doolittle's name for appointment to any federal agency that spends money, and Cle said that don't leave many out.

Ed had told the fellers three weeks ago that he was strong behind President Ford when he told Congress they ain't no use in asking the people to spend less unless the Government starts to spend less. Ed said he long has been of a mind that they must be research agencies in Washington that don't do nothing but look for new ways to do research, and that the best way to prevent fire is to find the youngun with the matches.

Practical speaking, declared Ed, he didn't know which was the biggest waste, to do some of the research we're doing or to give the money to a foreign country. Both ways, he said, the grants and loans all sink without a trace. Ed had said that since 1946, America has give a total of 135 different countries aid, and this figger includes some that ain't even countries today, and some that weren't countries until they got our money to get started. All told, Ed said, we have give away nearly $159 billion that went thru the alphabet from Afganistan to Zaire. We give millions to places Ed said he ain't never heard of, like $33 million to Botswana and $76 million to Somalia.

If you count space projects, Ed said, we has researched away as much as we've give away. He had saw where we done a $70,000 study of the sweat of aboriginals in Australia, and it took $20,000 to look into the mating calls of frogs in Central America. Another $20,000 went to find out why younguns fall off tricycles, and Rep. Lee Hamilton of Indiana found we had backed a $577,000 project that reaches wimmen how to play with their children. Since the Government can't say ain't to nobody wanting money, they spent $121,000 to find out why folks say "ain't."

Course, broke in Zeke Grubb, the Nixon people took a lot in that didn't go back out. Zeke saw this report where ambassadors to foreign countries had give $1.3 million to Nixon's 1972 campaign. Zeke saw a breakdown by countries, and he said the trouble Ireland is having showed up in the giving. The ambassador to Ireland give just $10,000 to keep his job, while the ambassador to little Luxemburg and France forked over a whopping $300,000 apiece. That's called greasing the wheels of power, was Zeke's words.

Speaking of research, Mister Editor, I saw where a college professor and a casino manager studie why folks gamble. They decided it's because people want to win some money. I hope we didn't spend any more on that one than we did to find out that tricycles turn over easy.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

YOUNG MEN'S FASHIONS

Young men will be taking a fresh, trim selective approach to this year's fashions. For once again, they are returning to the fashion fold. The new, youthful dressed up look is not starched, overdressed or dandyish—it is instead a neater, easy look that goes with any young man's life-style, no matter what the occasion or time of day.

This year, sweaters will trend more towards the classic styles: sleeveless knits with U-necks, V-necks and sweater sets with matching pullovers and cardigans. These sweaters form an important component of the layered look: the popular shortcoat, sweater and shirt combination.

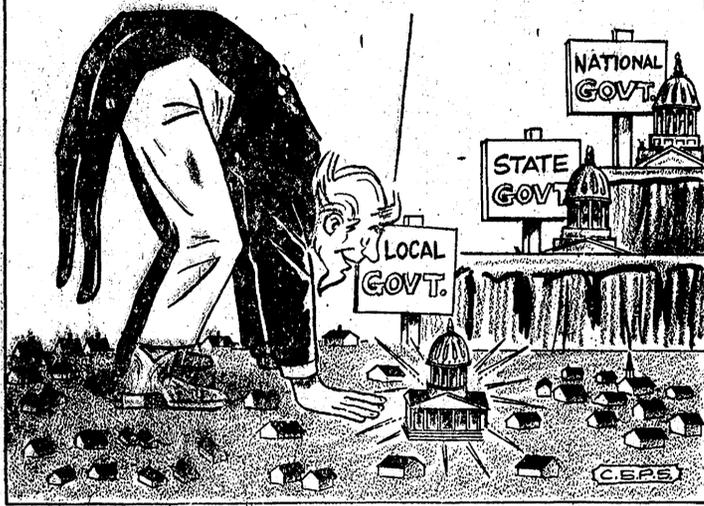

Among the important general elements that make up the fashion picture are: whites, off-whites in combination and pastels that enliven everything from tailored clothing to active sportswear; the continuation of cuffed and pleated baggies are young men's favorites; new pattern and texture mixtures; the increased use of madras, gingham and seersuckers; plus, a fashion revival of bow ties.

SHIFT FROM WEST TO SOUTH

The lush West Coast and Western forests now dominate the timber industry. But in a decade, foresters predict, the South will take the lead with its vast pine forests.

Split end Matt Means, a 1974 senior from Adrian, has the distinction of scoring the first touchdown in Central Michigan University's Perry Shorts Stadium. It happened Nov. 4, 1972, on a 66-yard pass from Gary Bevington, and ignited a 28-21 Homecoming win over Illinois State University.

Suing Made Simple?

The salesperson assures you it's perfect. So you plunk down your money, take home that bicycle or sewing machine or television set—and find it's far from perfect.

But the store won't do anything about making a fair adjustment. What now? Small claims court, if you wish.

If that conjures up visions of high attorney fees or complicated legal maneuvering, think again. Get some help from the Michigan Consumers Council, which recently published a most informative brochure explaining "How to Sue Someone in Small Claims Court."

"In the small claims division (of District Court), you do not need to know anything about the law to bring a suit," the booklet explains. "You state your case in your own words. You do not need a lawyer."

It notes that the maximum collectable in small claims court is $300, and that the decision of a judge in this court cannot be appealed to a higher court.

Then, in simple, easy-to-understand terms, the booklet tells the would-be suer just how to go about filing a claim, preparing for the hearing, testifying at the hearing and collecting his money—if the judge decides in his favor, of course.

"Every consumer should know that small claims courts exist and that they do provide a relatively quick and inexpensive remedy to marketplace complaints," says Ja Hunsucker, acting council director.

If you'd like a copy of the booklet (Education Bulletin 741), send a stamped self-addressed 4 x 9 1/2-inch envelope to the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Bldg., Lansing 48933.

Parks Popularity Up

"Tis a good summer for Michigan's state park system.

The folks who note such things recently came up with figures showing more than 7.6 million picnickers and other "day use" visitors ventured into state parks through July this year. The yearly total of both campers and day-use visitors stood at more than 11.3 million, compared to 10.9 million at the same time last year.

What the Department of Natural Resources terms a "startling increase" involves the number of vehicles turned away from day-use areas. Last year, the figure was 18,131; this year, it's 30,089.

"Almost all daily use vehicle turnaways are in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula," the department says, "while camper turnaways are almost all in the Lower Peninsula."

From Here to the World

Berries to Britain and turkey's too. All told, Michigan may be selling $250 million worth of farm products abroad this year, predicts have already sold or committed at Gov. William Milliken.

"Michigan farmers and growers have already sold or committed at least $50 million of the 1974 farm crop to overseas markets," the governor says. "It's still early in the season," he adds, "and based on the experience of previous years, we can conservatively expect to sell five times that amount."

Last year, overseas sales totaled some $182 million.

Besides blueberries and turkeys, Michigan will export such farm products as cherries, bred heifers and dry navy beans.

"These sales are the result of nearly a decade of hard work and salesmanship by Michigan's representatives in Europe and Asia, and a gradual building of demand and confidence in our ability to deliver high quality products," Milliken says.

How does all this square with notions of shortages caused by drought this season? No conflict, officials say.

"The dire drought hasn't hit Michigan that hard," says one. "And the worst hit crop has been corn. The products we're talking about exporting haven't been severely damaged by lack of rain."

From Reba V. Sensenig, Millersville, Pa.: Living on a farm in Martic Twp., Pa., I remember the spring in the fruit orchard, with its beautiful pink and white blossoms that were so fragrant. The fruit trees we had were sour cherries, plums, pears and many apple trees.

I remember the fun we had making cider and apple butter. We had a bed of straw 5 feet deep to store the apples for winter use.

Christmastime was always a joy in our house. Mother would treat the boys to cookies, popcorn balls, apples and her homemade potato chips and cider. A group of men used to come around singing carols on Christmas Eve. One of them was the Doctor and he would open up his black bag and treat everyone to an orange.

LEADING THE WAY for the rest of the lengthy Chelsea fair parade was Mrs. Fred (Gerry) Klink, who acted as parade marshal. Like the rest of the women featured in the parade, Mrs. Klink received flowers and was hustled around in a fancy car for the afternoon's activities.

SHARON KROFF and her reserve grand champion pony, Tammy, manage winning smiles for the inquiring photographer after receiving the title in Saturday's horse show at the fair.

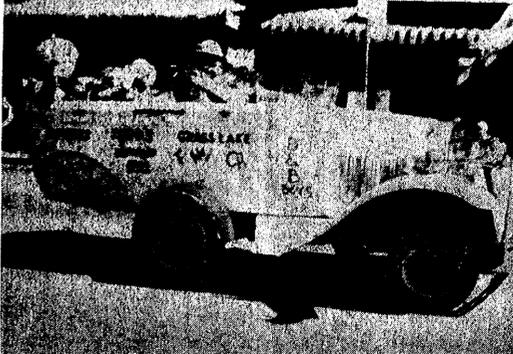

ON HIS WAY TO A RECORD is Ted Wheeler, who topped all entrants and shattered by the largest margin a four-year record when he pulled 408 percent in his John Deere tractor. Wheeler took first place in the 9,001 to 14,000 pound weight class, while Floyd Riehmiller, in the 4,000 pound weight class, also pulled more than 400 percent (403) in his International tractor for first place in his class.

YOUNGEST EXHIBITOR of the Chelsea Community Fair was Steve Keezer, three years old, who here toddles over to see what his exhibit's up to. Steve's entry took seventh place in a field of nine, but his father, Ed, was undaunted for his son: "You gotta start somewhere."

BOY AND HIS LAMB—and what could be cuter? Marty Heller, almost four years old, hugs his lamb, which didn't win any prizes, but seems to be his favorite of the entries anyway. Marty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Heller.

FORD'S BATTERED IDEA, the Grass Lake Funny Car which annually makes the rounds of fairs around the state, cavorted its way through Saturday's fair parade, performing everything short of an absolute somersault for the adoring fans.

Cross Country Team In Rebuilding Year

Complainant Is In Jail After Minor Disturbance

A local man took his complaints directly to the Municipal Building last Friday—and eventually ended up in jail.

Charles Eugend LaRoe, 525 Main St., was reportedly creating a minor disturbance in the Chelsea Police Department when patrolling officers were called in to investigate.

Meeting LaRoe on the corner of Main and Middle Sts., officers questioned him about his activities in the office, only to be greeted with a reportedly disjointed and disorderly argument with officers regarding whether or not they would give him a ride to the expressway or whether he would give them a ride to the expressway or whether he would hitch-hike. In could do neither, LaRoe insisted that he would hitch-hike, whereupon he was taken into police custody for drunk and disorderly.

He was taken to Washtenaw County Jail, where a LEIN check revealed that he was wanted on an outstanding warrant from the Ann Arbor Police Department for drunk and disorderly.

He pled holo contendere to the charge in 14th District Court Tuesday and will be sentenced Oct. 2.

Q. I'm a new bride, trying to furnish and decorate our first home on a limited budget. What economical advice can you give me?

A. Blow your budget on one or two pieces that are the stuff dreams are made of. You may decide on a chest, an oil painting or the perfect sofa. Then having put all your eggs in one or two baskets, let color take over. A combination of color, wits and economy can often produce more satisfying results than a big fat bank account.

Lean heavily on sparkling colors. Use skirted tables and collect baskets for their charm and economy, some can be hung on walls. Paint furniture. Get acquainted with thrift shops, garage sales, auctions. Explore your parents' attic. Discover di-

FOUR GENERATIONS OF STANFORDS made the Labor Day trek across the Mackinac Bridge not only to prove they're real walkers, but also to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. George Stanford, second from left and second from right. The Rev. Stanford, who says that "we always did walk a lot," reports that he and his wife have walked the Bridge in honor of their 50th, and 55th anniversaries, too, along with other times not marked by such auspicious occasions. Pictured above with the anniversary couple are Mrs. Theodore (Sue) Stanford of Washington, D.C., wife of the couple's grandson, Theron J. Stanford, Sue Stanford's son, who is reportedly the only one who needs assistance on the hike across the bridge, and Alonzo Stanford, also of Washington, D.C., the couple's son.

Window Breaking

(Continued from page one) and visited the home of the owners, where he spoke to one of the juveniles later arrested, who is part owner of the vehicle with his father. The juvenile told Officer Detting that Wednesday night he was out with William Parker and the other juvenile, but denied any wrongdoing.

Saturday the second juvenile and his father appeared at the police station to make a statement, in which he said that he and Bill Parker had broken the windows and glass at Sprague Buick-Oldsmobile, Palmer Motor Sales, Chelsea School District buses, Beach Middle School, and A&W Root Beer. The statements of all three of the youths coincide, police reports show, in that Parker and the juvenile passenger threw rocks through the assorted windows, while the driver, the other juvenile, did not active throwing but drove them around town.

WINNIE THE POOH & FRIENDS, including the Earn, Learn, and Play kids and Recreation Director Tom Balistrere—took second place in the judging of floats in Saturday's parade. The Winnie the Pooh was built by the EL'ers during the summer program.

SANFORD AND SON SALVAGE, not your typical float sporting paper flowers and a message for mankind, was the second-place winner in the adult float competition in Saturday's fair parade.

THINK AND DO 4-H entered this whimsical item called "I'm Looking Over a 4-H Clover" for its entry in Saturday's fair parade, an entry that featured young 4-Hers in leprechaun-like hats.

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL were the nobly patriotic sentiments expressed by the Class of '77's float in Saturday's parade, which earned them third place in the float competition. Sophomore class queen Wendy Smith graces the entry just in front of the Statue of Liberty.

KAREN McCALLA stands proudly near the hog that she raised to a weight of 203 pounds, which earned the title of grand champion in last week's livestock exhibition. In the livestock sale, the hog brought $1.60 per pound from Michigan Livestock buyer Bill McCarty, pictured above.

A MOST UNUSUAL DISPLAY from these three ladies from the Chelsea United Methodist Home received the grand champion ribbon for the most unusual display in the arts and crafts category. From left, are Helena Schweitzer, Mary Lou Haas, and Cora Dolan.

SAIL WITH KIWANIS was the course urged by local Kiwanians who created this third-place-winning float for Saturday's competition. Atop the Kiwanis craft is Sue Palmer, Kiwanis entry in the fair queen pageant.

TWO TIME WINNER in the hog sale was Erwin Herrst, pictured above with his grand champion pen, which weighed in at 373 pounds. The hogs were sold to Wolverine Bar for 60 cents per pound.

ARTS AND CRAFT WINNERS display the wares that just might make a name for them in the art world some day. At left, Mike Hardy accepts the grand champion ribbon for his sister, Regina Hardy, for the most detailed and time-consuming exhibit, a pen and ink sketch of a house. Regina also received a blue ribbon in the freestyle sketch category, which proves her time and detail were backed up by talent, too. Sandra Frame, center, was awarded a blue ribbon for her animal collection in the children's class, while David Parks, at right, received a blue ribbon for his shell collection.

Tape Deck Stolen From Van While Awaiting Repairs

An eight-track tape deck was stolen from a van awaiting repairs in Lloyd-Bridges Chevrolet parking lot on Aug. 23, Chelsea police reports say. Gary Montange, owner of the 1967 Chevrolet van from which the tape deck was stolen, told officers last Thursday that the item had been removed from his van sometime during the time it was at the dealership, which was from noon Friday, Aug. 23, to Thursday, Aug. 29. An employee of the dealership who began repairs on the van at 4 p.m. on Aug. 23 said that the tape deck was not in the van when he began working on it. The tape deck, Realistic brand name with stock number 12-1832, is valued at $79.95, Montange told officers. There are no suspects in the case.

RESERVE CHAMPION INDIVIDUAL HOG was raised to its prize-winning stature by Erwin Herrst, pictured above. Erwin's reserve champion individual hog tipped the scales at 185 pounds and sold for 80 cents per pound. It was purchased by Klink Excavating.

CHILLY COCKTAIL. Have you tried consomme on the rocks? For a cooling first-course, mix equal parts of consomme and apple juice and serve over ice cubes. The melting cubes will dilute to desired potency. For another cool starter, chill cans of consomme thoroughly and serve jellied in bowls. Subscribe today to The Standard!

Kiwanis Plans Summer Sale

The Downtown Kiwanis Club of Ann Arbor will hold its one-day summer sale on Saturday, Sept. 7, from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. This event will help people outfit student rooms and apartments and all proceeds will be used on the 89 projects that are sponsored by this service organization.

James Morgan and Stanley White, co-chairmen of the sale, announce that two floors will be used to sell furniture, carpets, appliances, books, housewares, records, cameras, antiques, etc., at the Kiwanis Activity Center, W. Washington and First Sts.

Kiwanians pick up merchandise the year around and their phone number is 665-0450. The larger three-day sale will be held again in February. More than $30,000 was expended on area-wide youth projects during the past fiscal year.

In some areas, it's so bad—they won't accept cash unless you can show them a credit card!

MRS. LUCILLE LAUBENGAYER, 900 N. Main St., Chelsea was presented a portable TV as a door prize at the Chelsea Community Fair by Real Estate One manager Robert Myrnel. Mrs. Laubengayer's guess as to the number of beans in a jar was 2,599. The actual count proved to be 2,600.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT
Some people seem to be endowed with a God given gift of rare and exceptional ability. Achievements seem to come easy for them. The majority of people have to acquire ability through sacrifice, self-discipline, with a look, listen and learn self-analysis - plus hard work.
In dancing, singing, throwing a ball, or something else, ability to do this or that varies in people. Yet, there are certain abilities every normal human being shares in equal amount with everybody else. It is too often an unused ability; to under-promise - and - over-perform. How sad it is that we often see the reverse. All of us also have the ability to get the most out of our endowed or acquired ability, if we would only want to do it. No matter what the endeavor, it is not what we do but how we do it that counts. Regardless of limitations, all of us have abundant ability to use our capacities given to us by God - great or small - and use them for the good of others. Scoffers and skeptics may not believe it, but it is a good way to find the answer to the question of what life is all about. . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1531.

PLENTY OF PROTEIN?
Protein needs are not apt to be met in warm weather unless cold menus are planned as carefully as hot ones, and care is taken to include high quality protein foods such as meat. Our bodies need the same amounts of protein, vitamins and minerals whether it's hot or cold.

LET THE BUYER BEWARE may be a fine slogan sometimes, but not when the purchase is a beauty like Steve Grau's grand champion lamb, which brought a whopping $4 per pound from Inverness Inn in the livestock sale Wednesday. From left are Mathew and Michael Hintzen, representing Inverness, and Steve Grau.

Horse Show Winners Listed

REPEAT WINNER: Kathy Hartman of Milan, who last year showed horses that were named grand champion and reserve champion, repeated in those two categories this year, and added another feather to her cap, the showmanship award. Above, she displays the half-Arabian gelding which was last year's grand champion and took reserve champion honors this year.

A YEAR-OLD, HALF-ARABIAN FILLY won the grand champion honors for Kathy Hartman of Milan this year. Kathy was a repeat winner this year, once again taking grand champion and reserve champion honors for her entries.

GOOD FREEZERS

Almost any type of meat stew, ragout, goulash or casserole combination—beef, lamb, pork or veal—can be frozen. Most vegetables included in these combination dishes freeze well.

Al Senchuk of Alpena was named Central Michigan University's 1974 scholar athlete. An All-Mid-American Conference second baseman, Senchuk was an accounting major and had a 3.23 cumulative grade point average.

CABBAGE

Cabbage has been popular since the days of the ancient Greeks. The vegetable got its modern name, however, from the old French word "caboche," meaning "head."

RADIO TELESCOPES

Astronomers estimate that all the energy received by all the radio telescopes ever built equals only the impact of a few snowflakes on the ground. Yet these metallic eyes stand in the fore-front of astronomy—discoverers of quasars, pulsars, and interstellar molecules.

WE CAN HELP YOU SAVE ON YOUR FOOD BILL!

ALL ABOUT FOOD

F. A. KENNEDY

The next time you pick up a can — any can — think of Napoleon Bonaparte. For he, strange to say, could well be called the father of the canning industry.

No fooling. It is one of history's sidelights that Napoleon, knowing that an army travels on its stomach and wanting better provisions for his hungry troops, offered a prize of twelve thousand francs to anyone who could discover a practical method of preserving food.

That was in 1795, and it wasn't until 1809 that a Parisian confectioner named Francois Appert succeeded in preserving certain foods in glass bottles which had been kept in boiling water for varying lengths of time. Bottles already existed, of course, but it was Appert's discovery that led to the development of cans.

And the curious thing about it was that Appert made his discovery purely by experimenting, was never able to explain his idea, and died without having the faintest idea why it worked.

It worked, of course, because his process stopped the development of food-spoiling bacteria. But bacteriology didn't even exist in Appert's time, and it wasn't until 1860 that Louis Pasteur solved the riddle.

The canning industry has come a long way since then, and most of the progress has been made right here in America. In fact, we Americans are the world's greatest users of cans, and we use far more cans for beverages than for anything else. Annually we drink over twelve billion — cans of beer and nearly six billion cans of soft drinks.

Now then, CAN you find more variety and CAN you find better values at Polly's? You certainly CAN!
