Crisis Center For Youth Being Studied

Initiation of a "hot line" or "crisis center" concept for Chelsea will be the subject of another meeting planned for this Saturday by residents concerned about the youth of the community.

At Sunday's meeting, which was attended by nine people, the large part of the session was taken up by "an exchange of ideas," according to Cheryl Spector, one of the organizers of the meeting.

Mrs. Spector said that those interested in the "hot line" concept expect that the service would be used primarily for referral, and would be originally based at either the Office of Economic Opportunity on Park St. or the Social Service office in the Municipal Building until a separate headquarters could be located.

"The idea would be to eventually expand, with our own building, and to include things like seminars and a general crisis center," said Mrs. Spector of the group's plans.

She says that possibly training for volunteers for the hot line will be through the Washtenaw Community Mental Health Center, with "our people coming back to us and applying what they've learned to the kinds of things we're doing."

At present, Mrs. Spector said, she is uncertain as to the criterion for choosing volunteers, but feels that "it shouldn't be someone who's very far away from being a kid himself." She says that probably workers will be between the ages of 18 and 30.

Saturday's meeting, she said, will be to discuss screening and training of potential volunteers for the project and in general to work out details. Any interested people may attend, she said. The meeting is planned for 1 p.m. Saturday at the Office of Economic Opportunity, 140 Park St.

Chelsea Players Receive Grant for Summer Theatre

Chelsea Players will receive another grant this summer from the Michigan Council for the Arts to continue the community theatrical program begun last summer.

DiAnn L'Roy, organizer of the group, learned Tuesday.

For "operational funds necessary for the continuation of the program," Chelsea Players will be provided with $3,700. Last year a $2,000 grant was provided for the purpose of establishing a "pilot program," Miss L'Roy said.

Continuation of funding through the Council for the Arts assures that Chelsea Players will be able to at least duplicate last summer's schedule of a play in June ("The Fantasticks"), an acting workshop for children, the traditional community musical ("The Music Man"), and an original show at the Chelsea Community Fair.

Miss L'Roy indicated that the grant did not appear to be renewable again, since one of the aims of the Michigan Council for the Arts is to establish community-supported arts programs. "I'm fairly certain that unless we make some major innovation in the program, we would not be able to receive another grant next year," she explained.

She pointed out, however, that Chelsea was one of only 45 programs to receive grants, from a total of 87 applicants. "That really

Legion Post Sponsoring Ice Fishing Derby

A two-day affair of ice fishing, food, and euchre is planned for the week-end of Feb. 8 and 9 when Chelsea's Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 stages its second annual ice fishing derby at Cavanaugh Lake.

Time for the ice fishing derbies stretches from Saturday, Feb. 8 at 7 a.m. to Sunday, Feb. 9 at 4 p.m. At 5 p.m. Sunday, prizes will be awarded in the fishing for first, second, and third places for pike, bluegills, and panfish.

On Saturday, breakfast will be served at the Legion Home from 7 to 11 a.m., and lunch from 12 noon on, with refreshments available all day. A euchre tournament, open to the public, is slated for 7 p.m. Prizes will also be

Senior Citizen Tax Rebates Again Offered

Sylvan Township Supervisor Maurice Hoffman reminds senior citizens that whether they own their own home or rent, they stand to again receive a rebate from the state this year, providing they follow rules set forth for the rebate.

Hoffman reports that Michigan 1040CR forms have already been sent to those who qualified in past years. For those wishing to apply for the first time, forms are available at the Hoffman home at 115 Pierce St.

The formula to figure the amount of rebate, Hoffman says, "is quite complicated and should be made out by either a tax expert or a local attorney."

"In my opinion," Hoffman continues, "most will benefit, especially those with limited incomes."

United Way Elects Officers

New officers and several representatives to the Board of Directors of Chelsea United Way were elected last Wednesday, Jan. 15, at the group's annual meeting in Village Council Chambers.

Officers for the coming year are Earl M. Klemmer, president; Jeanene Riemenschneider, vice-president; Arlene Bareis, treasurer; Sue Wood, secretary; and Ralph Bash, finance chairman.

Members of the complete board of directors are Robert Kozma, Lloyd Grau, Gerald Dresselhouse, Glenn G. Weir, Genevieve Quackenbush, Pam Lewis, Jack Barnes, Brenda Larson, Sharon Hodgson, Norman Farley, Gerald Ringe, Pat Dittmar, Homer Kuhl, Pat Borders, David McLaughlin, and Sandy Brassow.

Wrestlers Suffering From Flu Casualties

A tale of woe has been following Chelsea wrestlers around for the past week, but so far the worst that fate has offered hasn't been too damaging to the Bulldogs.

In last Tuesday's match with a strong Jackson Northwest grappling squad, Bulldogs were stunned by a score of 47-10, one of the most one-sided defeats ever suffered by Chelsea wrestlers.

"With four of our regular starters out of the lineup because of the flu," Coach Richard Bareis commented wearily, "Chelsea was no match for Jackson Northwest."

John Bullock, wrestling at 100 pounds, suffered a pin loss to open the competition, and then Coach Bareis was forced to forfeit the next two weight classes. At 119 pounds, Kevin Kelly lost a superior decision.

In the big match of the evening Mike Agopian and Paul Monoids, both undefeated, hooked up in a 1-1 draw.

At 134 pounds, Dave Clouse was pinned. Mark Pennington then lost a 5-0 decision at 140 pounds. At 147 pounds, Dave Proctor was pinned. In the 155-pound match, Tim Reed won a 2-0 decision.

Eric Prinzing, wrestling at 169 pounds, lost by a pin. Dennis Bauer, in the 185-pound category, avenged an early-season loss by recording a 5-4 win. Kermit Sharp finished up the match by settling for a 5-5 draw at heavyweight.

Saturday's match with previously undefeated Novi, however, was another story. Although the four flu-stricken Bulldogs and Coach Bareis were concerned with the Wildcats' strength, and the team encountered another obstacle when its bus broke down enroute to Novi, Chelsea romped, 33-15.

Novi rushed to a quick 15-0 lead as the Bulldogs dropped three of their first four matches, but the Wildcats could only watch after that, as Chelsea wrestlers rolled up eight straight victories to take the contest.

John Bullock wrestled well going into the second period before falling victim to a pin to begin the action. Novi then received a forfeit at 107 pounds, as the Bulldogs continue to have problems at the low weights.

Jim Stahl, just back from a bout with the flu, came through with a 3-2 win at 114 pounds; then Ken Kelly, at 121 pounds, showed

Rummage Sale Raises $560 for Bangladesh Relief

More than $560 was raised last week-end in the rummage sale sponsored by the young people of Immanuel Bible church to raise funds for starving families in Bangladesh.

A check for the amount is presently being sent to the Rev. Ronald Perrine, who is ministering in that country. Unsold clothing remaining from the sale has been given to Youth Haven Camp in Rives Junction, a camp for underprivileged children, and to a rescue mission.

The project, termed "A big success," was initiated by a local girl, Deborah DeSmither, who was convinced that something could be done to help the desperately hungry.

Project organizers express their thanks to all of the community who both donated and purchased items at the sale.

Chaperones Needed for Band Trips

At the regular Band Boosters meeting last week at Chelsea High school, fruit cake and candy sales were discussed, and members were urged to turn in money from these sales at once.

Chaperones are needed for the ensemble and solo festivals, including the senior high school band trip to Henry Ford Community College Jan. 25; junior high school, Feb. 1; senior high school to band festival March 1; and junior high school band festival, March 8. Those interested in chaperoning should contact Mrs. Warren Mayer at 475-7063.

Band committee reported that its members are contacting various camps. One camp has been visited and another visit is scheduled for this week.

Mrs. Eva Carpenter Wins Jaycee Award

Chelsea Jaycees presented their annual Distinguished Service Award Tuesday night to Mrs. Eva Carpenter at ceremonies at Weber's Inn.

Mrs. Carpenter is the long-time Chelsea area resident who for nearly two years has been calling her way through the Chelsea telephone book in an effort to discover the needs of senior citizens in the area.

Through her survey, Mrs. Carpenter says she has located "eight or ten" people who wish to be called periodically to feel that someone is checking on them, and numerous others who feel the need for a transportation system for senior citizens and the handicapped. She expects to complete her calling in mid-February.

The letter nominating Mrs. Carpenter cited "her continuing service to this community's senior citizens" and called her concern for others "nothing short of amazing." The letter also called her efforts to initiate transportation for the elderly one of the prime forces behind a transportation system currently in the works for Chelsea.

Mrs. Carpenter herself said that receiving the award was "just one of those freak things—you know I only started doing this because I was home alone one week-end, and thought about other people who are alone all the time."

She added, "There's been an awful lot of work done, and I'm glad I was able to do some of it."

Band Students Competing in District Meet

Some 50 Chelsea High school band students will compete in 28 events in Saturday's District 12 solo and ensemble festival at Ford Community College.

District 12 includes Detroit area schools and those westward as far as Chelsea and Manchester. High ratings in the district festival will allow solo and ensemble entries

Cagers Defeat Parma, 63-62, In Final Surge

A Gary Wonders lay-up with 13 seconds remaining in the game and Parma Western leading, 63-62, put Chelsea on top when it counted, and the Bulldogs recorded a 64-63 win over a fall Parma team.

After trailing by seven points at the end of the third quarter, 50-43, Chelsea closed the gap in the fading minutes of the game, and finally took the lead with a minute to go.

The lead see-sawed between the two squads until, with 13 seconds left, Parma was on top. Wonders stole the ball from the team, however, and recorded his lay-up for what was eventually the final score. Although Parma tried to run a play, the ball was again stolen by the Bulldogs, and that

Cagers Bounce Back With Win Over Dexter

Chelsea's Bulldog cagers bounced back with some clout and a press of their own Friday night, victimizing the hapless Dexter Dreadnaughts, 80-55.

Bulldogs, now 8-2 over-all and resting in third place in the South-eastern Conference with a 5-2 league record, jumped to a six-point lead early in the first quarter and finished that period ahead, 20-16.

Big quarter for the Chelseaites, however, was the second, when they outscored their traditional rivals, 24-6, and repeatedly added insult to injury by stealing the ball continually on the press. Score at the half was 44-22.

Big scorers in the second period were Dave Alber with eight points; Rick Sweeney with six; Randy Davis and Randy Guenther with four; and Randy Musbach with two.

Alber and Sweeney continued their hot shooting in the third quarter, assisted by Guenther, who hit for another four.

In the final quarter, Coach Tom Balistrere substituted freely and the Bulldogs rolled home free with another victory.

"The boys bounced back really well after the defeat at Milan," Coach Balistrere said happily Monday. "I think that all of the boys played up to their capabilities, and they displayed a good defensive attitude and hustle, and fine balanced scoring."

Four Bulldogs scored in double figures in the contest—Rick Sweeney, Dave Alber, Randy Guenther, and Gary Wonders.

Sweeney again provided the team with his usual steady game, Coach Balistrere noted, hitting for a big 19 points. "Rick was getting in some short jumps, some nice hooks, and he was going to the basket well," Balistrere said. Sweeney earned seven rebounds.

Dave Alber chalked up another "outstanding game," according to the coach. He was good for a fine evening of 18 points and 10 rebounds and recorded a 100 percent average from the foul line.

Randy Guenther, who has now moved into one of the starting guard positions, played "his finest game of the year," according to the pleased Balistrere. Guenther recorded 14 points, seven rebounds, and three steals, and also managed to hold his man to only three points.

Playmaker Gary Wonders led Bulldogs in assists with five, and also hit for 10 points. "Gary played his usual good floor game and a good defensive game, too," Balistrere commented.

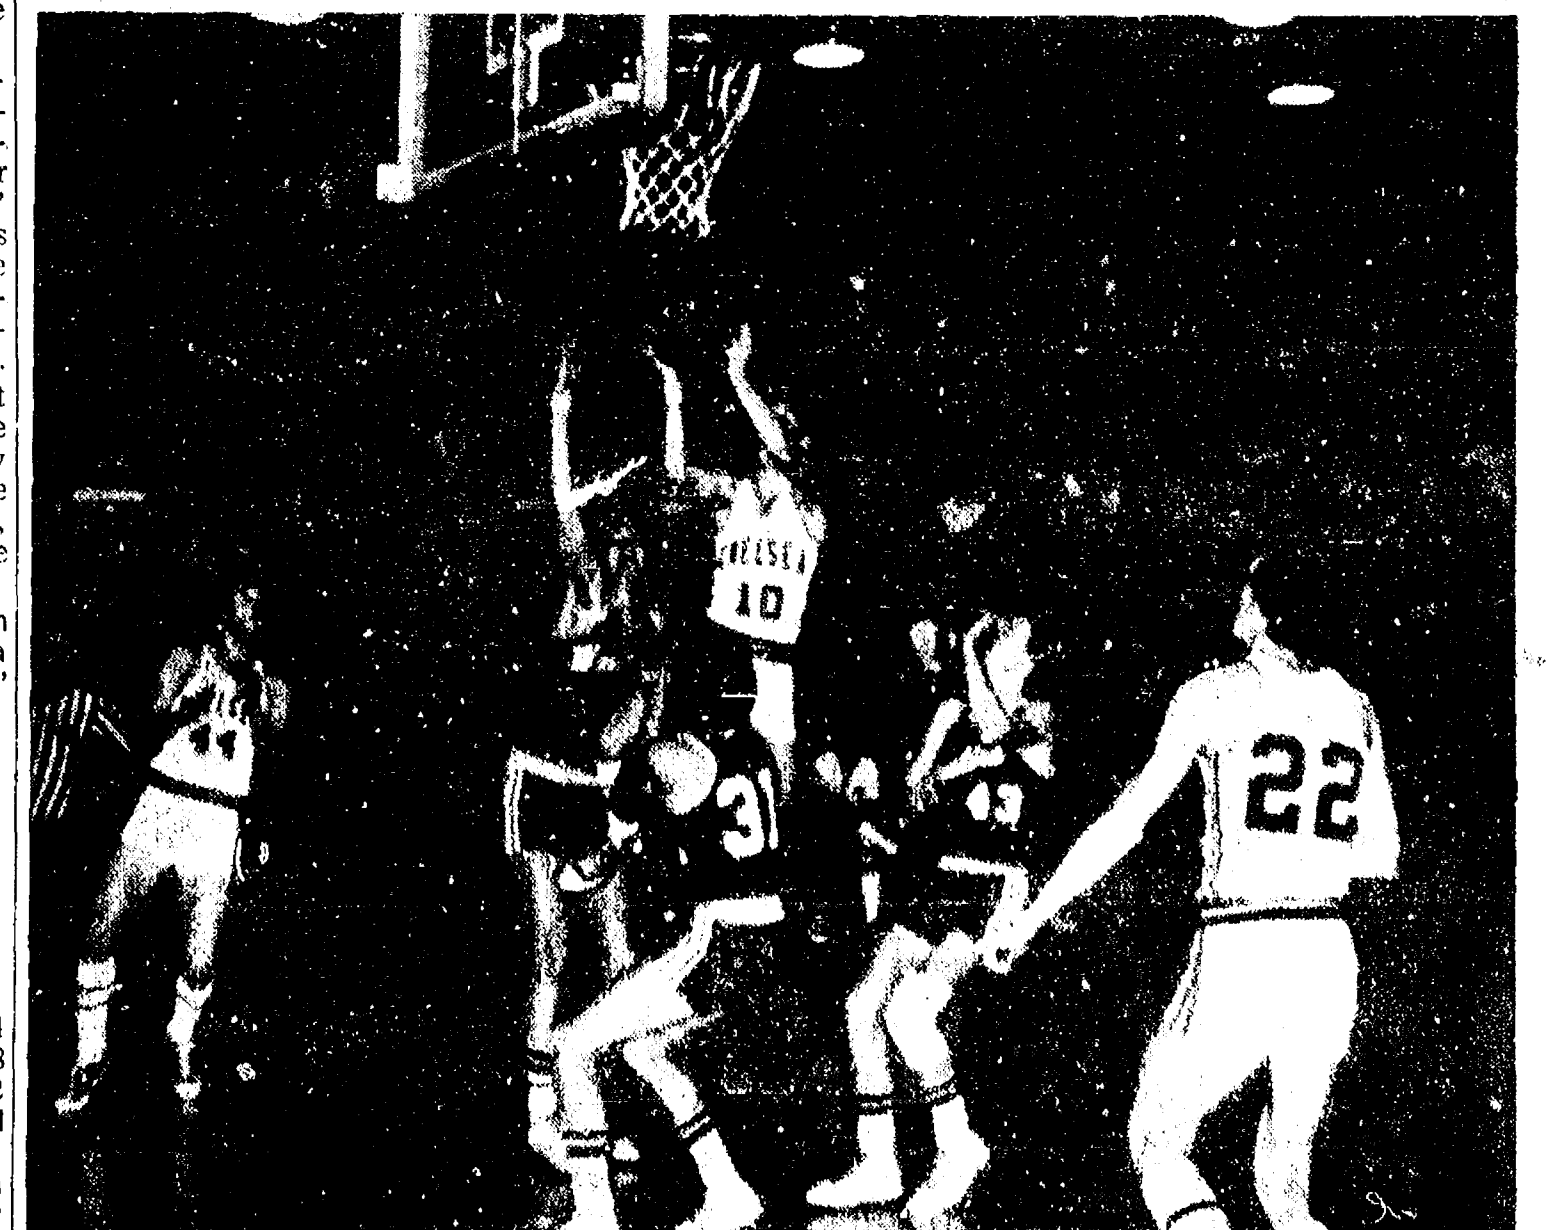

Ron Kiel, who encountered early foul trouble, but managed to score five points and pull down seven rebounds, also "did an excellent job of boxing out Dexter's big man"—6'6" sophomore center Dave Sing.

Randy Davis, who substituted for Kiel, played "another outstanding game," according to Coach Balistrere, including eight points and six rebounds.

Randy Musbach, who replaced Wonders, recorded four points and a pair of assists, and Coach Balistrere (Continued on page eight)

INSPECTING THE EXECUTIVE—the Michigan Executive, Amtrak's newest train which began daily commuter stops in Chelsea Monday morning—are local trains buffs (assumedly) Frederick Weber, village administrator; Dr. Richard Borton, village trustee; Hal Pennington, village president; and Sam Johnson, village trustee.

A MIGHTY LEAP puts Gary Wonders just out of reach of the upstretched arms of Parma Western's 6'7" Scott DeBos in Tuesday night's 64-63 win over Parma.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Some good was found in some ill winds Saturday night during the session at the country store. Ed Doolittle, that nearly allus views with alarm had a collection of clippings that was picked to show silver linings in some clouds. He was joined by Zeke Grubb (that said he favored coating the bill he had to swallow).

High prices, Ed reported, has done wonders for folks that print menus. He saw this piece out of Denver that said a printing house has doubled business just turning out menus with new, higher prices. If menu printing is booming, went on Ed, what do you think the companies are doing that sell them ink pads and stamps they use to stick prices on stuff in the grocery stores? They not only are behind on orders, Ed said, they probable had to hire more people who can make money to buy the food that grocery stores had to hire more people to keeping marking up.

For 20 years, broke in Zeke, the bus lines was crying to everybody that left the driving to em. Now they're running full everwhere. The price of gasoline, Zeke said, and the cutback in money to buy it has brung a 10 per cent jump in bus business in the past year. Six months ago went on Zeke, federal was telling state and state was telling local Government to git more people using food stamps. Now the welfare departments all over the country is putting on new people to handle applications for stamps.

Even Zeke's preacher sees the benefit of tight times. He told Zeke a buddy of his had took a well off church in the city cause the souls of folks that got money is just as precious in the sight of the Lord as them that pay the preacher in fresh meat and canned goods. The preacher is like the old country doctor that told me once that he didn't know why he worried himself sick taking care of pore folks when it weren't no more trouble to cure the rich. Everybody has to mold his own bullet to bite.

Ed got the floor back to report that this feller come by his place last week selling burglar alarms. Ed said he ain't been bothered by a lightning rod salesman in years, and this was his first knowing that all them now is selling burglar alarms. When the economy gits bad, the burglar alarm business gits good. Ed said this feller told him, and since all the neighbors was gitting a alarm Ed wouldn't want to be the only un-protected place around. Ed said he'd take his chances with the lightning, his shotgun and the burglars.

General speaking, Mister Editor, the fellers still has got great confidence in this country, but they don't know where to place it. Ever time around, politicians promise help, when all they want is to help us mark out ballots. I saw where one new elected feller said when he took office, "I've been sworn in, now I'll be sworn at." That's pretty clost and ever time you hear a politician say he's got the answer you learn he forgot the question.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist
If you need some economical dishes to get through the post-holiday pinch, Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture offer the following suggestions.

Prepare pot pies with leftover red meats and poultry. Use cooked, diced or cubed turkey, chicken, beef or pork. Combine with chopped onions, mushrooms, your favorite vegetables (pre-boiled) and seasonings. Place in a pie crust and bake until golden. Make individual pies or a large one to serve in wedges to the entire family.

Hearty winter soups full of tender, tasty vegetables, flavored with bits of meat, herbs and spices will please the palate. Examples are beef gumbo or old-fashioned vegetable chowder served with squares of buttered corn bread. Soups make superb main dishes when meat, cheese or sausage balls are added.

Experiment with new recipes. For example, potato dumplings filled with minced boiled ham, minced salt pork, onion and ground cloves are delicious served with applesauce made from Michigan Flavorbest apples.

Turn again to homemade breads to add the final touch to a so-so dinner. There's nothing like a platter of hot biscuits or muffins to light up the faces of a hungry crowd.

Home-made muffins are easy to prepare. There's no extensive mixing or fixing. Dry ingredients are combined in a bowl, then moistened with milk, eggs and butter. Try adding cheddar cheese, cooked crumbled bacon, chopped apples or nuts for a special treat.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Meaty Question
Eat less meat and help feed the world's hungry. Right? Wrong, says Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. Smith, a Caledonia dairy farmer, says the eat-less-meat idea—advocated by some politicians and social leaders as a way of helping solve world hunger problems—is an emotional response, not one based in fact.

"Their misguided thinking is that if people eat less meat, there will be smaller demand," Smith recounts. "The smaller the demand for meat, the fewer cattle will be put on feed, and the fewer cattle on feed—the more grain available to feed the world's hungry."

What's wrong with that approach? "The fact is that 78 percent of beef animals' diet is composed of materials humans cannot or will not eat," Smith contends.

"The small amount of grain suitable for human consumption that would be saved by eating less meat would have negligible impact on world hunger."

Smith declares also that many of the cattle in this country are raised on land that "cannot grow food for humans." "Here in the United States that's 900 million acres that would be wasted," he says.

The answer, instead, is more food, not less, Smith says. "And that includes protein animals." "Those who make emotional appeals which discourage food production are really doing a disservice to humanity."

Smith recently was re-elected president of the state's largest farm organization, a position he's held since 1954.

Light Problems
Careful of high intensity mercury vapor lights. Under certain conditions, they can give off a potentially harmful ultraviolet emission, says State Health Director Maurice Reizen.

The warning comes in the wake of injuries occurring in Maryland. Those injured had been exposed to ultraviolet light from damaged mercury vapor lamps in school gymnasiums.

This type of lamp may also be found in industry, sports arenas, commercial establishments, warehouses, loading docks and power stations.

Reporting on information from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, Reizen says the potential problem-causing lights have an inner mercury vapor lamp in a bulb surrounded by an outer shield of some sort.

When the outer shield or envelope is broken and the inner lamp still works, there may be exposure to the possibly injurious radiation.

and John Dempsey, outgoing director of the State Department of Management and Budget.

Traffic Deaths Down
The 55-mph speed limit and high gasoline prices may be a pain in the pedal and purse to some Michigan drivers.

But those two factors, along with others, helped keep the state's 1974 traffic death toll below the 2,000 mark for the first time in 11 years, reports the Michigan State Police.

Although that total still is subject to revision because of delayed reports, police now have recorded some 1,848 traffic deaths for 1974. That's down about 16 percent from the 2,213 traffic deaths in 1973.

Credit for the drop goes to the reduced speed limit and increased gas prices, as well as a slower-paced economy and subsequent cut in travel.

Police say traffic law enforcement and an emphasis on traffic safety also helped cut fatality numbers.

They're Students Again
Some of Michigan's top executives will be going to "school" during the first few months of this new year.

In hopes of making state offices run more efficiently—with a resultant savings to taxpayers—the Michigan Department of Civil Service is conducting a comprehensive training program for state executives.

There'll be 18 four-hour seminar sessions and two eight-hour sessions altogether.

Among topics to be discussed are: ethics in state government, racism and its impact on public sector management, and women's awareness and its impact on public management.

University, government and private industry leaders will participate in the sessions. Included among speakers are: Robert L. Green, dean of Michigan State University's College of Urban Development; Daniel Kruger, a professor at MSU's School of Labor and Industrial Relations; Walter Adams, former MSU president;

Chelsea High school band, under the direction of Robert Dunstan, the year next Tuesday, with solo performances by Ralph Dingle, clarinet, and Lawrence Dietle, cornet.

Seventh graders report that their class officers for the next six weeks will be Charles Slane, president; Jane Downer, vice-president; June Vail, secretary; and Shirley Platt, treasurer.

New boys going out for basketball at Chelsea High school for the second semester are Calvin Light, Ray McDaid, Eugene Aldrich, William Rademacher, and Oramel Schiller.

Wrestler of the Week

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK, as chosen by Coach Richard Bareis, is junior Dennis Bauer, who provided a fine performance against Jackson Northwest's Dan Harr in one of the Bulldogs' most lopsided losses ever, 47-10. Bauer defeated Harr, 5-4, in the Tuesday night contest and dominated the match for the most part. At the Dexter Tournament, Harr had pinned the Chelsea grappler in the finals. Bauer now boasts a fine 17-3 record that includes a second-place finish at the Dexter and Howell Tournaments, and third at the Western Tournament.

One Girls Team Undeclared in Beach Intramural Competition

Only Welshans team remained undefeated in girls intramural Wednesday, as Arnett team, for action at Beach Middle school last night sharing a 2-0 record with Welshans, fell to the Miles squad, 10-8.

Welshans' 22-2 victory succeeded in once again victimizing the hapless Lamb squad, winless in three attempts. Miles' victory over Arnett moved the two teams into a three-way tie for second place, with the Enderle squad, which downed Satterthwaite, 8-6.

In overtime, Bassett subdued Burns, 14-12, to put both teams a step up from the bottom with identical 1-2 records.

Leading scorers for the week were Cindy Welshans of the Welshans team with 12 points; Cindy Burns of the Burns team with 10; and Sue Bassett and Candy Schirmacher of the Bassett team with six each.

In boys action, Overpeck and Burg teams both romped to victories that boosted their over-all records to 3-0. Burg downed the Bareis squad, 16-13, which left the losers' record at 1-2, and Overpeck dumped Sabo, 23-10, to con-

Fight Against Gypsy Moth Shows Results

The summer of '74 should go down as a very good year in Michigan's fight against the gypsy moth. Recovery of traps last summer shows a drastic reduction in the insects' population in Michigan.

"Plant industry and protection men in Michigan, experimented with new control methods during the summer and are now comparing their effectiveness," said B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Gypsy moth larvae devour leaves and defoliate millions of acres of forests in other states. The 1974 program in Michigan had two objectives, Ball said, to find infestations of the moth and to prevent reproduction.

Trapping to find infestations this year covered almost the entire state, according to Dean Lovitt, Plant Industry division chief. Only 122 moths were found in nine counties, compared to 15 times that many in 21 counties in 1973.

Experiments to control the moth involved five different techniques. One showed complete success, Lovitt said. In the area where a combination of sex lure and insecticide application was used, no mated females were found and no male moths were captured.

Graduate students at Michigan State University worked on a monitoring system whereby female moths were sterilized, placed in the field and later picked up and tested for presence of male sperm. In this experiment, Lovitt said, only about two percent of the recovered females actually had mated.

Deadlines Told for '74 Crop Disaster Applications

Three critical dates have been established pertaining to the 1974 disaster payment program, according to Mrs. Carolyn Stump of the Washtenaw County ASCS office.

These dates are (1) Jan. 31, 1975 will be the final date for filing an application for low yield payment. This will apply to all producers who anticipate a low yield whether the crop is harvested or not. One requirement is that the crop residue must not have been destroyed. Producers who exceed their allotments substantially, usually will not qualify for low yield payments. (2) Feb. 28, 1975 is the final date for reporting production by those producers who have harvested their crop. (3) April 30, 1975 is the final deadline for producers who have not harvested their crop and have had authorization from the county committee to extend their report of production beyond Feb. 28. For full details on eligibility, contact the local ASCS office.

Dial down now.

Save a cool 3% for every degree permanently dialed back!

Dialing down your thermostat saves money. So if you haven't begun consistently maintaining lower temperatures in your home, you'll want to do so now.

How much can you expect to save? Let's look at a few facts.

1. You can save about 3% for every degree you permanently dial down during the heating season. For example, set your thermostat back five degrees, leave it there, and you'll save about 15%.
2. If you regularly set your thermostat back each night, you can save more than 1% for every degree dialed down for an eight-hour period. For example, set your thermostat back seven degrees and you'll save about 9%. Set it back 10 degrees and save about 12%.
3. Of course, you can save even more by leaving your thermostat down every day and dialing even further down at night.

4. You can save still more Gas and money by dialing down to 55 degrees while you're away from home for vacations or long weekends.

Any time you dial down for more than five hours you save. Just how much you'll save depends on several factors. How many degrees you dial back. How many hours you maintain this lower temperature setting. And the weather. The colder the weather, the greater the savings.

Our Gas is your lowest cost fuel. Use it efficiently and you'll save even more. So if you haven't begun dialing down, do it now. The savings can really add up. Conserve

America's vital supplies of Natural Gas, too.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

FROM MR. WOJCIK—

Our collection of Campbell Soup Co. labels is now completed. We finished with 12,580 labels. I would like to thank Mrs. Larry Koch for counting and bundling the labels together. Also, thanks to all the people that mailed or brought labels to South school, which helped make the count grow.

We will receive the following equipment for our prizes: one listening center, one cassette recorder, and four headphone sets.

READING—

Teacher: Mrs. Maitland

Jay Marshall took the December big bird home for reading 36 books and stories at home. Brian Donovan received the big red bookworm for reading 30 books. They have won for three months. All but one in the reading room has joined the Bookworm Club this year. Each has read at least five books. Ten children have already earned their Mrs. Frosty to place next to Mr. Frosty at home. They have read five books in January.

We will miss seeing the following 3rd graders from Mrs. Richardson's room: Jay Marshall, Brian Donovan, Jay Freeman, Greg Markle, and Darrin Buss. From Mrs. Lopez' 2nd grade we will miss Sheila Lorenzen, Colleen Stubbs from Mrs. White's 2nd grade will leave us, too. They have made so much progress by reading books and studying word cards at home, besides working hard in their classes, that they need not come to the reading room. Thank you parents for your help.

Many of the children are proud of the rows of smiling faces they have on their January calendar. Each face means that he has found on his goal sheet the proper work for the day and started to work within two minutes!

Our avocado seed placed in water in December has grown a long main root and shorter side roots. The children check each day and keep track in their folder. They are watching for the tree to begin shooting upward.

We are learning rhythm time in music. We are making geometric pictures. In science we are working on hair and skin. We are working on geometry in math. We are doing fingerprints too.

In social studies we are studying Stanley's trips across Africa and about the central African continent. Everybody seems to be reading novels and readers.

Teacher: Mr. Ticknor.

Energy! Where did it come from? Where does it come from now? The most important question is: where will it come from in the future? Energy is important to all of us. We are beginning a unit on energy, so that all of us will be able to be more aware of what it means to us.

We are bringing in newspaper articles that deal with energy, and we are finding that energy is involved in almost everything. By the end of the unit we will better understand different kinds of energy and different ways that energy is produced and will be produced in the future. There will be movies and projects and discussions.

Maybe we will come up with the answers to solve the world's energy problems. That might not be possible, but we will have at least gained more knowledge of the problems; then we can decide what each one of us has to do to help.

Brehobs Venture into Low-Moisture Foods

Even the most painfully novice of cooks has probably at some time encountered instructions on a box of "mix" to "just add water."

Norm and Mary Brehob maintain that "just adding water" to low-moisture food may be one of the best food ideas to come along, or at least gain recognition, in a while.

The Brehobs are promoting and selling a line of Shelf Life food, produced by Liberty Foods of Provo, Utah, in the area, and have advertised for the past two weeks in The Standard, calling their product "the best food storage program available."

The small plastic sectioned container of low-moisture products that the Brehobs display doesn't look particularly like the kind of food that generally appears at the dinner table.

There are some shriveled-looking peas and beans, some rather hard-looking apples, a crunchy fruit mix that's pretty tasty, some stewing vegetables that look miniature, and an unidentifiable substance resembling Bacos.

The magic of these foods lies in the process of "reconstitution," according to the Brehobs; which is actually nothing more than adding water.

"I remember when I was a little girl, making a pie from a mix, and the instructions said to 'just add water,'" says Mrs. Brehob. "Basically, these foods are the same thing, which many people are already familiar with. Except that you're paying quite a lot more for them in small packages than you do in the quantities that we're dealing with."

For items like peas and beans, Mrs. Brehob says, reconstitution is a matter of placing in water for 14 minutes and then cooking normally. All of the low-moisture food containers, she reports, carry instructions on reconstitution of the particular item, as well as pertinent recipes.

She reports success with an apple pie from low-moisture apples. "Actually, it seemed that the crust was almost better, because there wasn't so much moisture in the apples to begin with—and a mixed fruit cake, and plain vegetables."

Most intriguing of the entire low-moisture food group, however, is the Baco-like substance in the Brehobs' display: it is a soybean product, called by Liberty Foods "textured vegetable protein (TVP)"—flavored like ham. Liberty Foods' brochure also mentions hamburger, chicken, and beef flavored TVP.

After an introduction to the basics of low-moisture food, the Brehobs make it obvious that the things most notable about the stuff are not that it is simply, for now anyway, something of an oddity.

From a storage standpoint—which the Brehobs rank as their main interest in low-moisture food—the products seem to be on the absolutely "can't miss" list. After the dried food has been processed (without preservatives, by the way) and packed in its sealed containers, the company claims that they can be stored for from 15 to 20 years. After the container has been opened and the lid replaced with a plastic cover, the expected life of a batch of low-moisture food is approximately one year, the Brehobs say.

In emergency situations, they explain, this longevity amounts to a veritable always-on-hand food supply. And, Brehob notes, "In an economy as chaotic as ours presently is—with all the shortages and strikes we've seen—it only makes sense to buy food when you can get it, and when you can afford it."

Storage of a good supply is also made easier by the fact that low-moisture food is 80 percent less in bulk than food normally stored in other ways. And there is also no worry that, in an emergency, power would ruin an entire storehouse of food, as might be possible with frozen food.

Nutritionally, low-moisture food is higher in nutrients than any other food storage program, says Mrs. Brehob, who calls herself "a nut on nutrition." Low-moisture food also has the added advantage of being unsweetened and unsalted, making it usable for diabetic and low-salt diets.

Although the pamphlet made available by Liberty Foods claims that low-moisture foods are cheaper than those preserved in other ways, in fact will reduce cost-per-serving from 84 cents to 40 cents, the Brehobs say that they believe that the company's projected cost is also including a number of other factors, such as baking one's own bread and employing other cost-cutting measures.

"We're not ready to try and sell this on the basis of it costing less," says Norm Brehob, "simply because we haven't proved it to ourselves yet."

"We do know, however, that low-moisture food has at least no more disadvantages than other types of food, and at the same time has advantages that other types of food and food storage do not have."

The low-moisture food programs are designed in units per adult, the Brehobs explain, based on an average caloric intake of some 1,800 calories per day. What is called a two-month unit in the Liberty Foods pamphlet includes a case (six cans) of hamburger TVP and chicken TVP; a case of diced carrots, green garden peas, stew blend, and soup blend; and a case of apple slices, fruit mix, fruit galaxy, dates, and banana slices. Included in the longer-term units (six-month, 12-month, and 18-month are available) are items like eggs, peanut butter, cheddar cheese, milk, and elbow macaroni.

Each can of low-moisture food, the Brehobs explain, contains a varying volume that will be transformed into a much larger volume of reconstituted food: generally the reconstituted food will equal anywhere from two to five times its low-moisture weight.

In addition to the nourishment and storage value of low-moisture foods, the Brehobs say that they look on the food as a virtual steady investment. "In a year," Brehob says, "inflation may actually eat up the interest gained through a savings account. But putting your money in food is—something tangible."

Liberty Foods is a product that the Brehobs admit they feel extremely comfortable selling. "Neither Norm nor I are—by nature—salesmen," Mary Brehob admits. Her husband's lay-off from Chrysler Proving Grounds, however, offered an opportunity for them to cultivate their interest in what they considered a project that fit in with their view of the country, that "the individual is responsible for his own welfare."

The conclusion of a letter the Brehobs are sending to friends and acquaintances in the community reiterates that belief: "As we leave a 'conventional' economic environment further and further behind, your physical and financial survival will increasingly depend upon your having the foresight and conviction to adapt to new concepts of investment like Shelf Life low-moisture food."

Pamphlet Guide Available on Wood For Fireplace

Fireplaces offer a warm and cozy way to banish winter's chill from the house. But, where do you get good firewood for the fireplace? How is it sold, and what safety pointers should you follow when building the fire?

These questions are answered in a publication from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, that gives specific advice on the selection, purchase and use of firewood. A copy of Firewood for Your Fireplace may be obtained for 25 cents from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The booklet includes the following hints:

—Logs are sold in different lengths and thicknesses. What you buy should depend on the size of your fireplace and how long you want to take to start your fire.

Cager of the Week

RANDY DAVIS (42) is a 6'3" senior center presently playing in his first year for the varsity Bulldogs. Davis has consistently earned Coach Tom Balistriere's praise as one of his prime substitutes. When not practicing basketball, Davis lists his major hobby as riding his 650 cc. cycle. After high school graduation, he plans to attend college, although he is undecided as yet about the college or his intended major. He has high hopes for this year's Bulldogs, declaring that "We have a great team and we've got a great coach." Coach Balistriere reports of Davis, "Randy has done an outstanding job as a substitute for us, coming off the bench and helping on several occasions. He has showed us good hustle, and is a fine defensive player." The son of Randy and Bonnie Davis, he has one brother, Greg, and three sisters, Charlette, Darlene, and Sandy.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: I am being harassed by a company over a bill I know I have paid. I keep getting threatening phone calls and letters about the bill and when I talk to the company's representative, they keep saying they'll check into it, but the letters keep coming. I think something should be done about this.

Governor: Something has been done. During the last weeks of the 1974 session of the legislature a bill to regulate collection agencies and to prohibit specific practices was adopted. That legislation was one of my priorities for this year.

I firmly believe that at a time when the costs of living are spiraling upward at an ever-increasing rate, and at a time when people all across this state and nation are finding it more difficult to meet their day-to-day needs, it is vitally important that government do all that it can to assure that consumers receive what they pay for.

The passage of the collection practices bill adds luster to an already impressive consumer protection record during 1974. Enacted this year were:

—the most comprehensive automobile repair law in the nation;

—an act to protect franchise purchasers;

—an act to prohibit discrimination based on sex or marital status in the granting of credit.

Buy logs that will fit when laid across your grate. When you buy wood, ask for a mixture of wood types and diameter sizes.

—Most wood won't burn if freshly cut, so the wood you buy should be reasonably dry or "seasoned." The surest way to have dry wood is to purchase it several months before using it. Splitting logs quickens drying.

—The wood you use determines the fire you get. Softwoods, like pine, spruce, and fir are easy to ignite, and burn rapidly with a hot flame. But, the fire burns out quickly and needs frequent attention and replenishment. These woods are good for a quick warming fire or a short fire to burn out before bedtime. Hardwoods such as ash, beech, birch, maple and oak are best for a long lasting fire. And for an aromatic fire try woods from fruit trees such as apple, cherry and pecan. By mixing the three types of woods you can get an easily ignited, long lasting, aromatic fire.

Firewood for your fireplace is one of 250 selected Federal consumer publications listed in the Winter edition of the Consumer Information Index. The Index, published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

—an act to permit prescription drug product selection

—an act to require auto insurance companies to coordinate health benefits under no-fault insurance

—bills to place public members on 22 regulatory boards

—a consumer bill of rights for utility customers

—and several mobile home bills, including one requiring a one-year warranty on all new mobile homes sold in Michigan.

Much has been done, but much remains to be done in building upon that record. We still need a comprehensive consumer protection act and the elimination of the holder-in-due-course doctrine in things.

I hope that the 78th Legislature takes its cue from the excellent consumer protection record of the 77th, and continues to move Michigan forward toward our goal of assuring fairness in the marketplace.

Question: How much taxpayer's money is used to clean up litter along our state highways each year?

Governor: Last year, $1.25 million of State Highway Department money was budgeted for the cleanup of state highways. Approximately 40 percent—or $500,000—was spent to pick up natural debris, including stones, tree limbs, and animal carcasses which may be a hazard to traffic.

But despite the fact that there are more than 1,000 picnic table sites—each equipped with a litter state highways, $750,000 was spent last year to pick up the trash thoughtlessly tossed out car windows along state roads. And I want to emphasize that that figure does not include money spent by local governments to clean up the 88,000 miles of county roads or the 18,000 city streets in our state.

Question: I'm a senior citizen, and this year I got a refund from the state for property taxes I paid. Can I do the same thing next year?

Governor: Yes. As a matter of fact, many senior citizens who already know their total 1974 income can file for their property and sales tax credits now, rather than waiting. This will guarantee an early receipt of a refund and assist many people in paying their December property tax bills.

All persons who filed an MI-1040CR (property tax credit form) last year have already been sent the appropriate forms in the mail. Credit application forms can also be obtained at banks, post offices, and Department of Treasury branch offices.

I would urge all persons who think they may be eligible for the 1975 rebate to check with the Department of Treasury Branch Office in their community for assistance.

Michigan Leads All States in Billboard Removal Program

Lansing—Nearly 15,000 billboards down; another 7,000 to go. That's the status of Michigan's roadside billboard removal program at the end of 1974, the State Highway Commission reports.

A total of 4,250 billboards were removed from along state highways in 1974. Most were taken down by owners after being declared illegal under a 1972 state law that controls billboards along some 7,000 miles of interstate and primary highways.

In 1972, nearly 30,000 billboards dotted the 7,000 miles of affected highways. Today, approximately 15,000 of them remain, with nearly an equal number having been removed over a two-year period by owners or by maintenance forces of the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

A newly completed inventory shows that 1,176 new billboards have gone up on legal locations since April 1, 1972, effective date of the sign control law.

Of the signs remaining, approximately 7,000 will be purchased by the state for removal. All these are in locations that were legal prior to 1972 but which became non-conforming under the new control law.

The Federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965 authorized appropriation of three federal dollars for every state dollar for a nationwide billboard removal program. Since enactment of its 1972 control law, about $4 million has been spent in Michigan on sign removal.

Removal costs per sign average $3,000, which includes payment for the sign at its depreciated value, payment to the landowner for loss of lease fees and engineering and legal costs.

Michigan, which leads all states in its billboard purchase program, has acquired nearly 1,300 signs in this manner.

More than 8,000 billboards will continue to be legal. To remain in place, each must have a valid permit issued by the state and renewed each year.

Help Offered In Making Your Own Terrarium

If you like to keep your green thumb in practice year round, a terrarium can be your own miniature greenhouse. It's a fun way for children to learn about plants, and terrariums are easy to make and to maintain.

Easy-to-follow instructions are given in a new Johnny Horizon fact sheet called Make Your Own Terrarium. A free copy may be had from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The tips on how to make your own terrarium include advice on: —Container—Use clear glass containers (not green or brown, they obscure the light) that can be sealed to ensure proper moisture for the growing plants.

—Gravel and Charcoal—Cover the bottom of the container with at least one inch of moist gravel in which you've mixed pieces of activated charcoal.

—Soil—For a woody plant, use rich soil taken from where the plants are found. A household plant needs a soil mixture of equal parts of garden soil and sand. If you're planting cactus, you'll need a mostly sandy soil and more sunlight.

—Plants—You can use moss and lichens for ground cover or even gravel of different colors. Then add clover, ferns, native plants, wild flowers and ivy.

—Water—Once you've put the plants in the soil, sprinkle or spray them with tepid water and cover the terrarium with a piece of glass. Remember to keep a moist, but not a soggy atmosphere for your plants. A fine beading of dense fog means too much and you should remove the cover so some water can evaporate. No moisture in sight means not enough water.

—Temperature—The woody terrarium will need to have a cool, room temperature. A house plant one will tolerate house temperature between 60 and 70 degrees.

Make Your Own Terrarium (free) is one of the 250 selected Federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009, and from Federal Information Centers located throughout the country.

The March of Dimes has sponsored a National Committee on Perinatal Health, to upgrade the quality of maternal, fetal, and newborn health services. Members are obstetricians, pediatricians and family practitioners.

Cagers Clobber Dexter...

Isterrre noted that he "hustled and played well."

Sieve Lyerla, subbing for Alber, scored two points and "did a fine job for us," according to Balistrere. Bill Rademacher, Dave Watson, and Rick Robbins also did good work in the final quarter for the team, the coach said. Tom Hafer was sidelined with the flu and did not see action.

"It was team hustle and team effort that did it for us," Coach Balistrere concluded in summarizing the evening's action. "We played the way we did early in the season—we had a good week's practice, stressing the basic fundamentals, and we went back to our game plan of working the ball and hitting the open man."

Coach Balistrere retains the opinion that the season will be decided on Chelsea's court in the final games of the season.

"If we keep up the way we're going, we can go into those games with around a 12-2 record or so."

And the schedule favors us—with those last two games at home," he concludes.

Friday night the Bulldogs will travel to Lincoln, now 3-4 in the SEC and lodged in a fourth-place tie with Novi.

JV Cagers Win, 53-52, Over Rival Dexter in Final Second

Junior Bulldogs won a thriller over Dexter Friday night, 53-52. With seven seconds remaining in the game, Chelsea was down by one point and faced almost-certain defeat, as Dexter had been awarded two foul shots; however, the Dreadnaught player missed both shots.

Don Morrison grabbed the rebound after the errant tosses, and whipped the ball to Dean Thompson at midcourt. Thompson took two dribbles and then shot—from 35 feet—and scored. The basket made in the final second of play yielded the winning score, and victory No. 5 for Chelsea's JV.

Leading scorer for the local team was Anthony Houle, who hit for 21 points, and hero Dean Thompson, who scored 18. Pete Feeney added another eight.

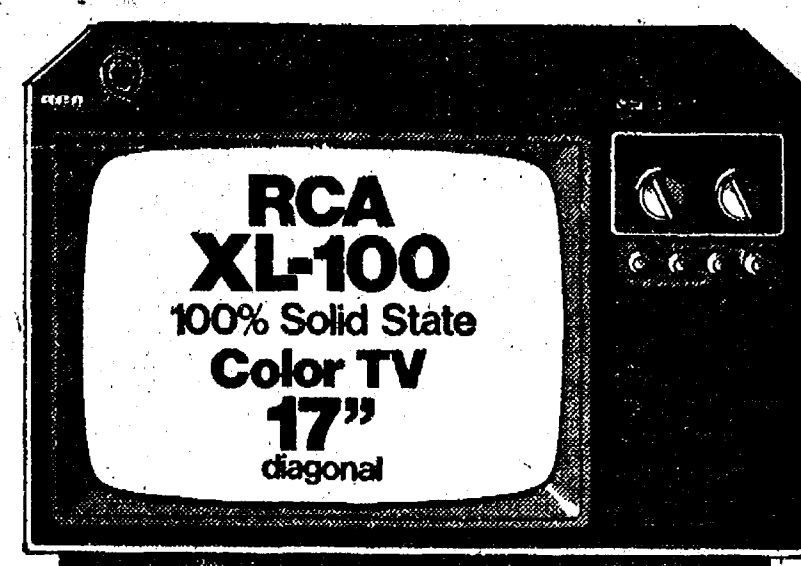

Thompson led rebounders with seven, followed by Don Morrison with six; and Anthony Houle and Tony Robards with five. Houle led the team in steals with three.

Junior Bulldogs now hold an all-even record of 5-5. They will travel to Lincoln for a contest with the Junior Rallsplitters tomorrow night (Friday).

Gas Company Starts Refunds To Customers
Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. today announced it has begun making refunds totaling $8,200,000 to its more than one million customers across the state.
The refunds will appear as credits on the bills of Michigan Consolidated's customers during the months of January, February and May.
Refunds to the average residential heating customer will total about $3.30.
The rebates are being made as a result of Federal Power Commission rulings requiring the company's three major pipeline suppliers to reduce their rates and refund to Michigan Consolidated monies paid for gas deliveries made between January, 1971 and September, 1974. The refunds include the actual money paid under rates which were placed in effect pending a final decision by the FPC, plus the interest collected from the pipeline on the funds.
The refunds are being made under procedures established by the Michigan Public Service Commission to insure that the excess revenue collected by the pipelines is returned to gas consumers.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Milan, Saline, Chelsea Record Wins To Retain League Lead

Southeastern Conference's top two teams, undefeated Milan and Saline, continued their winning ways Friday night, joined this week by third place Chelsea, (5-2), alive and recovering nicely after their big loss last week.

Milan 81, Novi 41—

Like clockwork, Milan again turned out the big points and depended largely on their press to take care of the opposition in their contest with fourth-place Novi, now 3-4 in the SEC.

Novi was within tagging distance of the Big Red for only the first minutes of the game, but then Milan began piling up the points. Leading Big Red scorer was Tony Hernandez, who hit for 20 points, followed by Jim Dutton, who earned 19. All 11 Milan players contributed to the scoring.

Novi was paced by Gary Ford's 11 points.

Saline 102, Lincoln 73— Second-place Saline combined two of the unbeatable—a very tight press and tough, accurate shooting—to swamp Lincoln, 102-73.

Hornets boasted a 34-for-71 night from the floor, good for 45 percent; and a 34-for-41 evening from the foul line, good for 83 percent. Saline roared to a 48-21 half-time lead, and continued in the same vein for the rest of the game.

Big Hornet point men were Scott Fosdick and Tim Slepisky, who were each good for 26 points. Also hitting in double figures were Dan Scott, who had 18 points, and Dave Fosdick, who had 10.

High scorer for the Railsplitters, now 3-4 in the SEC, was George Czinski with 16.

Chelsea 80, Dexter 55— The Bulldogs, who saw more than their own share of turnovers last week in their loss to Milan, managed to force some on Dexter Friday night.

Decisive period was the second, when Chelsea roared to a 44-22 half-time lead, primarily by virtue of outscoring the Dreadnaughts, 24-6 in that quarter.

Four Bulldogs hit in double figures: Rick Sweeney, 19 points; Dave Alber, 18; Randy Guenther, 14; and Gary Wonders, 10.

Top Dreadnaughts scorers were Mark Mast with 14; Dave Sing with 12; Jeff Montibeller with 11; and Mark Waggoner with 10.

Brighton 57, South Lyon 50— South Lyon panted back to within two points of the Bulldogs with less than five minutes remaining in the final quarter, but couldn't manage the final push to record their first victory.

The Lions had led at the half by a nose, 25-24, but Brighton roared into the third quarter, outscoring South Lyon, 16-9, and sealing the Lions' doom for another game.

The victory nudged Brighton a tiny step closer to the upper echelons of the SEC, leaving them only a game out of a fourth-place tie.

Scott Bankdau tallied a big 25 points for the Bulldogs, while Steve Golden assisted with 14. Lions were paced by Ed Hock, good for 19, and Gregg Stephens, good for 12.

Only four contests were on tap for Southeastern Conference teams last Tuesday, night, and all involved non-league opponents. And all, unfortunately for the league's good name, ended in defeat for the SEC squads.

Gabriel Richard 91, Lincoln 73— From the looks of things, Lincoln should just stick with Southeastern Conference foes.

The Railsplitters, currently sporting a passable 3-3 record in the SEC, fell to 3-6 over-all Tuesday night when they were stunned by Gabriel Richard, 91-73.

Victimized totally in the first quarter, the Railsplitters were forced to play catch-up ball throughout.

Top scorer for the squad was Scott Hubbard, who hit for 20 points. Also adding double-figure efforts were Keith Parks, who hit or 12, and Doug Roome and George Czinski, who each scored 10.

Pinckney 62, Dexter 61—

Dexter and Pinckney battled to another close, hard-fought game with another tight result, as the Pirates again came out on top by the minimum of points. In the two squads' last meeting, Pinckney edged the Dreadnaughts by four.

Dexter, like Lincoln, is encountering more problems with non-league opponents than SEC ones, as their over-all record dipped to 2-8, while their conference tally stands at 2-4.

Rob Toth put the Dreadnaughts within striking distance with only seconds remaining in the contest, when a three-point play made it 62-61. Pinckney held on until the finish, however.

Leading Dexter point man was Dave Sing with 20 points, followed by Doug Gross with 14 and Mark Mast with 10.

Pinckney scorers were led by Mike Gramer, who hit for 20 points, Mike Latimer, who had 15, and Gary Witte with 10.

Clarenceville 53, South Lyon 46— The Lions crept to within one point of Clarenceville with only 1:37 remaining in their game, but Clarenceville held out until the finish and added six more points to down South Lyon, now 1-9 on the year.

Although plagued by errors, the Lions managed to continually bounce back until the final minutes of the game.

Lion point men were paced by Ed Hock with 17 points and Greg Stephenson with 15. George Scholes paced Clarenceville with 20 points.

Northville 83, Novi 43—

After roaring to a 3-5 record from an 0-5, Novi encountered the inevitable loss Tuesday night, but somewhat in more emphatic form than they would have liked.

A tall Northville squad rolled to a 49-22 half-time lead that turned into an insurmountable final 40-point beating.

No Wildcat scored in double victories in the embarrassment. Scott Parsons led Novi point production with nine points.

Money Does Sometimes Grow on Trees

By Clark A. Eacker
District Conservationist
U.S. Soil Conservation Service

There is money hidden in farm woodlots throughout Michigan. With rising prices and unemployment perhaps it is time for landowners to go after some of that hidden wealth.

The value of raw wood products harvested from Michigan's forests each year is around $100 million. Individual owners of farm land and recreation land own more than half of the total timber growing stock in the state.

Recent action in Washtenaw county enabled some landowners to get their share of woodland dollars. At the same time owners were able to maintain or improve their woodlots through good cutting practices. Co-operative effort by the Washtenaw Soil Conservation District, the USDA Soil Conservation Service, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources serving that area resulted in the following actions:

They determined that many acres of privately owned hardwoods and planted conifers needed harvesting or thinning cuts to improve growth on remaining trees. Markets for products of such cuts were located in Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Sandusky, and other places. Lists of timber buyers were prepared. Jobbers to do the cutting and hauling were located. Local publicity alerted the landowners to the opportunities for sale of their surplus growing stock. Those interested secured the services of a forester to do a survey of their woods and mark trees that should be cut. Buyers then came in to bid on the marked trees. Jobbers eagerly followed to do the harvesting since there were now enough individual owners of 10 to 75 acres of trees in a locality to make their efforts pay.

Small landowners, who as individuals could not have found a market for their woods products, reaped the hidden wealth. Folks in Washtenaw county sold more than five times as many dollars worth of woods products in 1973 as any other county in southeastern Michigan.

Opportunity for such action still exists. William Fishbeck, chairman of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District, says that there are about 84,000 acres of privately owned woodlots in Washtenaw county in need of harvest or thinning cuttings. Additional information is available from the USDA Agencies SCS and ASCS, and from DNR foresters.

ALL ABOUT FOOD
F. A. KENNEDY

I'm sure there are few people living today who can remember the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. But that Fair has a very special place in history . . . for it was there that the hamburger was born.

It happened when some unknown cook got the idea of putting grilled hamburger patties between two slices of bread, for the convenience of fair-goers who wanted something tasty and nourishing to eat but didn't want to take time to sit down for a meal.

Today the hamburger — served inside a sliced bun rather than between two slices of bread — is the most popular single item of food in America. Nobody really knows how many hamburgers are eaten every year in this country, but it has been estimated that something like thirty percent of all the meat sold here is ground beef. And it would be a safe guess that we will consume well over a billion hamburgers this year . . . including all the millions sold by such chains as White Castle, McDonald's and Burger Chef.

Of course, long before hamburgers existed, hamburger itself existed. And you may already know that it got its name from the German city of Hamburg. But did you know that it actually originated in Russia? It's a fact. Back in medieval times, people in several Russian provinces liked to eat beef raw, finely chopped and seasoned with salt, pepper, and onion juice. German sailors brought the idea back to the port city of Hamburg, where German chefs improved on it by forming the ground beef into little patties and broiling them.

One nice thing about hamburgers, of course, is that there are no dishes to wash. Another is that ground beef itself is still one of today's best food values. Especially at our store. It isn't 1904, but I'm sure you'll agree that Polly's has "fair" prices!
