Cancer Society Lists Fund-Raising Events

April is Cancer Crusade Month. And getting ready to top off last year's drive during which $2,300 was raised from the Chelsea area alone, are chairman, Mrs. Marge Daniels, and co-chairman, Mrs. Nancy Dunn.

Based on last year's success, Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Dunn plan to repeat many of the hostessed events such as coffees, wine-tasting parties, and fashion shows, together with some new and unusual ones.

Both women hope to make this year's drive a community-wide event by soliciting funds from sponsored events, as well as through mailers sent to Chelsea residents.

"Research, Education, and Service," is the national theme for 1975, and in tying the national theme to local events, Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Dunn are working with national and local members of the American Cancer Society, to sponsor related events.

"Buy A Mouse For Research," is one of these events. Sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary, the program is designed to instruct children in the first through the sixth grades of the hazards of smoking. Co-chairmen for this are Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Mitchell Zink.

Planned for May 3 is the benefit bridal show, in which "A Kaleidoscope of Chelsea Brides" and their gowns will be featured.

Fifty percent of the Washtenaw County Cancer Crusade's funds are retained locally for use in the county.

Two free services available through this funding are the pap smear test clinic, sponsored at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, and the breast cancer center located in Ann Arbor.

Further, the American Cancer Society, Washtenaw County Unit provides varied services through maintenance of the Cancer Information Office (located at 215 N. Ashley, Ann Arbor).

This year's county campaign opened Friday, March 7 with a stretch and sew Fashion Show at the Marriott Inn in Ann Arbor. Future county events include a tennis tournament and golf tournament.

The first meeting of the local Chelsea chapter will be held Thursday, March 20.

Open House Slated At New Parsonage

Historic North Lake United Methodist church has something new. A new parsonage.

Residing in his new home is the Rev. David Stiles, North Lake's first full-time pastor.

Until June of last year, when the Rev. Stiles was appointed pastor, the North Lake church operated as part of a circuit, (two or more churches served by one minister). However, in response to the growing needs of residents in the North Lake area, the church took steps to leave the circuit, and become a church with its own pastor and parsonage.

Ground for the new parsonage was broken last July. Under the direction of Leon Shutes, the work progressed smoothly, enabling the pastor to move in the home in January.

While the finishing touches are still in progress, the parsonage and the Rev. Stiles will be ready to welcome the community at an open house on Sunday, March 23 at 11 a.m.

The parsonage is located at 1430 Wagon Wheel Ct., off Riker Rd., near the intersection of Riker and North Territorial Rd.

Soloists, Ensembles Going to State Meet

Selected members of the Chelsea High School Band will compete in the Michigan State Solo and Ensemble Festival to be held Saturday, March 22 at Schoolcraft Community College in Livonia.

Students selected to participate in Saturday's festival were those who had received 1 Division ratings for solos and ensemble performances at the District Festival held in February.

Soloists attending will be Duane Luick, trumpet; Kim Longworth, flute; Holly Hoffmeyer, flute; and Kathy Slater, clarinet.

A woodwind duet, composed of Kathy Fairbanks, clarinet; and Kim Longworth, flute, will also be included in the program.

Holly Hoffmeyer and Laura Burns will play a flute duet.

Playing clarinets for a trio selection will be Kathy Slater, Carolyn Schardin, and Anne Schablie.

A quartet of clarinet players, Kathy Fairbanks, Gail Gilbreath, Karen Keiser, and Debbie Hayworth, will play.

Five different instruments will compose a woodwind quintet. Playing will be Laura Burns, flute; Denise Robbins, oboe; Julie Chapman, clarinet; Kathy Burns, french horn; and Lisa Walworth, bassoon.

The students will be playing their selections sometime between 8 a.m. Saturday morning and 3:30 that afternoon.

No Contamination Of Cookies Slated For Chelsea Area

"Don't worry about your mint cookies," said public relations director and this year's cookie chairman for the Girl Scouts, Marketa Satterthwaite.

The cookies ordered for this area haven't even been baked yet.

The Burry Cookie Co., which bakes Girl Scout cookies for the Ohio-Michigan area, has not begun work on the Chelsea orders.

PRINCESS WINIFRED, played by Jodi Daniels, shocks the cast of "Once Upon A Mattress," as she sings "Shy," one of the songs to be heard in this year's Chelsea High School Musical.

The musical will be performed Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, March 20, 21, and 22 at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

'Once Upon A Mattress' Play Opens

Once upon a time there was a prince who desired to marry a princess. A real princess, not some imposter. He sought far and wide, but alas he found fault with each fair maiden. Discouraged, he returned home.

Then . . . late one evening, in the midst of thunder, lightning, and torrents of rain, a young woman appeared at the gates of the castle. Claiming she was a genuine princess, she requested a night's shelter from the prince and his mother.

The queen, highly suspicious that this young lady at her doorstep was not at all what she claimed to be, devised a test to determine if this bedraggled and forlorn creature was indeed a princess.

Knowing that all princesses are highly sensitive, the queen placed a pea on the floor, upon which she placed 20 mattresses.

The princess was then led to her bed chamber where she climbed a ladder to reach the mountainous bed.

Meanwhile, the queen anxiously awaited for the following morning to see if the princess would or would not show the effects of the pea.

The next morning, the young woman awoke after having spent a full night. When the queen beheld all the bruises on the young girl, her suspicions were put to rest.

Sound familiar? It should. For the story is that of Hans Christian Andersen's "The Princess and the Pea." However, Andersen was not altogether truthful with us. And, "Once Upon A Mattress" was written to get at the real story.

It wasn't really a storm on that dark evening so long ago that led Princess Winifred to the castle. The queen's test for royalty was not the fair one she claimed it to be. Why is it then, that the queen does not want her son to marry? Why, was Princess Winifred all wet the night of her arrival? Why is the king mute? What mysterious powers does the wizard have?

To find out what really happened in that kingdom so long ago, come tonight, Friday or Saturday night to the Chelsea High School Auditorium. If you don't, you will never really know the true story. Tickets for all three performances beginning at 8 p.m. are still available. For more information telephone Sue Morrison at 475-7715.

John Storey Going to Norway As YFU Exchange Student

Once again, a Chelsea High School student has been selected to participate in the Youth For Understanding international teenage exchange program.

John Storey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Storey of 216 Jefferson St., will be traveling to Europe along with some 1,600 students from the United States this summer.

His summer will be spent in Oslo, Norway, where he will be hosted by a Norwegian family for July and August.

John's brother, Jim, now a freshman at Michigan State, spent the summer in Norway two years ago. His enthusiasm for the YFU program, and for Norway encouraged brother John to share the same experience.

When Jim returned in the summer of '73, he kept in close touch with his Norwegian family. The two families began two years of letter writing.

Through YFU, the Storeys were able to arrange for John to stay (Continued on page four)

JOHN STOREY, Chelsea High school student, will spend two months in Norway this summer, as a Youth for Understanding Exchange. John will be living with a Norwegian family as part of YFU's cultural exchange program.

Local Girl Scout Wins Cookie Contest

Mrs. Donald Kvarnberg will not be baking much for the next 12 months. Daughter Chris has taken care of that.

Eleven-year old Chris is a Girl Scout with Troop 442. And as we all know well, March, to Girl Scouts, means cookies, and cookies mean competition. What Girl Scout doesn't want to sell the most number of cookies in her troop?

Well . . . Chris got in on the competition, but not to sell those thin mint patties, nor those peanut-butter creamies. Instead, Chris entered in Ann Arbor WAAM's contest to determine just how many boxes of Girl Scout cookies would be sold in advanced sales.

The prize? A box of Girl Scout cookies each week for the next (Continued on page four)

Girl Scouts Set New Cookie Sales Record

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale gives Chelsea Girl Scouts an opportunity to earn money for their troop activities; to help girls participate in special Girl Scout opportunities; to give direct services to girls, and to purchase equipment and property in their behalf.

Your support of this sale contributes 15 cents per item to the local troop and 30 cents per item to the Girl Scout Council. The council profit adds to campsites, equipment and camp buildings available to every Girl Scout, their sister scouts and future scouts opportunities for camping.

"The 1975 advance order has totaled a whopping 8,592 items sold, an increase of 1,248 items over the 1974 sale," according to Marketa Satterthwaite, cookie chairman for the Chelsea area. "Every girl in Chelsea has won an award for selling an average of 55 items, and all but 17 girls have won a jacket patch for selling an average of 75 items per girl." Twenty-eight girls sold more than 100 items each as reported by troop cookie chairmen. Troop No. 58 chairman, Shirley Liebeck reports that Sarah Leisinger sold 143 items and Juanita Bycraft, 100 items. Forensics Team Wins 3rd Title In Brighton Invitational Meet

The Chelsea High School Forensics team took first place for the third year in succession at the Brighton Invitational Forensics Tournament Saturday, March 15 in Brighton. Twenty-one schools participated in Saturday's competition.

Forensics coach, William Coelius, reported that it took a team effort to win Saturday's meet. Coelius said that individual winners would not have given Chelsea the number of points they needed in order to score a decisive victory. And decisive it was, as Chelsea took the lead by 47 points to place first, with a final score of 122 points. Northville placed second in the Invitational with a total score of 75 points. They were closely followed by the Brighton High school team, taking third place with 69 points.

Chelsea winners were as follows. For individual speaking events, Doug Foreman placed third in Serious speaking; Merry Hoffmeyer's children's story landed her a second place in Storytelling; Brad Glazier took first in Men's Oratory; both first and third places were captured, respectively, by Chelsea students, Brenda Shadoan and Kim Brown for Women's Extemporaneous.

The selection, "I Am Not A Crook," was once again well received, taking first place in the Multiple Reading category. Readers were Tom Hafer, Dave Schablie, Joel Sprague, Al Clark, Jim Marshall and John Storey.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

With all that's going on in the world I ain't surprised to see by the papers where this college professor has done some serious research in the rimes that children say when they jump rope. She has collected more than 2,000 of them little songs and sayings, and she has decided that they tell us a heap more than what children say when they play.

Them jump rope rimes, this University of Connecticut teacher says, deal with the problems children face when they're growing up. And she allows that what sounds like innocent noise to most of us actual is young people telling all the trouble they've seen. Mister Editor, to give you some idea how little I know, I didn't think young-uns even jumped rope these days. I thought all they done from the time they could walk was stare at the TV and listen to that racket they call music.

But even if this professor is on to somepun, I have doubts about where her research is going to lead her. There's a chance, though, that she'll find out the children know more about dealing with their problems than we do, and she could do for the country what the monkeys has done for art. I see by the papers where chimps in Portland, Oregon and gorillas in Toronto, Canada are selling all the paintings they can turn out and they're got their zoos offering a hole new line of art. It looks more and more like all you got to do to make somepun popular is not understand it.

The monkeys in Portland have sold $2,000 worth of their paintings, and their keeper said they's got more orders for work than they can fill. Up in Toronto, folks turned out last month for a showing of ape art, and the critics was agreed the paintings are real abstract. I figger that's a word they use when they don't have the foggiest idea what it's about, and to me there is so much abstract going on in the world no wonder it's popular.

Mister Editor, I ain't no Fort Knox on facts, but it looks to me like ape art and jump rope songs ain't all that's gitting more attention than they deserve in this country right now. Fellers drawing down the big money on the speaking tours how is them that can tell us how to run a crooked Government. Them ex-convicts that worked under Nixon is writing books and telling their stories all over the world. I saw by the paper recent where one was in England, and he said the Presidency in America is more like royalty than the British royalty. I reckon he meant our Government is more removed from the people than England's.

Incidental, I see where Willie Hill in Atlanta had to get rid of his collection. He collected garbage, and he had a hole houseful til the garbage collector hauled it off. Wonder if he sees the problems of America in his trash?

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan History Cramped
Picture a skull staring down from the top shelf at other bits and pieces of history and memorabilia in an incredibly cramped little basement. You'll have some idea of how Michigan's history is stored in Lansing.

And there's more. Sen. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, says "a real treasure trove of history" is piled around a warehouse—one that's reportedly decrepit, windy and "virtually exposed to the weather."

Such is the problem facing the keepers of Michigan history.

Those keepers figure a new museum would be the answer to current space problems. But that would cost an estimated $5 million, and in these days of belt-tightening in all quarters, Kildee says "this is hardly an auspicious time to be talking about money for culture."

Thus, the history division of the Department of State is left with a widely scattered base—five different locations—and many questions.

"Our problems are the visible things, like the museum and the warehouse," explains Michael Smith, museum director.

"Beyond that, we have a very good program."

Sentenced on Charge Of Breaking, Entering

Thomas W. Smith, 21, of Dexter was sentenced on March 14 to serve a total of from 2 to 10 years in prison, with credit for 92 days already spent in jail, on two charges of breaking and entering, with intent to commit larceny.

Smith was involved in the break-in at the IGA store in Dexter, according to deputies at the Dexter station, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Meanwhile, there's a move afoot in the House of Representatives to "regulate the taking of aboriginal records and antiquities within the state."

That's an attempt to prevent looting of historical material from sunken vessels in the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair.

The bill, introduced at the behest of the Department of Natural Resources, would basically prohibit removal of historical items and records from sunken ships by unauthorized persons. The DNR says much of this material now is being taken from Michigan and "its historical significance (is being) lost forever" to the state.

Super Potato Ready

Tasty potatoes—without peeling, taking up freezer space or worrying about sprouting—may be in the offing for Michigan consumers. And if they catch on, there may be an added bonus for growers, who'll find a use for some of their less than perfect potatoes.

The innovation, product of NuFoods, Inc., of Edmore, is a sliced diced or shredded potato, vacuum packed and briefly pressure cooked.

There's no storage problem, since these packages of spuds may be tucked away in your cupboard, reportedly for as long as two years. All the homemaker needs to do is take them out of the bag and heat anyway she's of a mind to, in soups, for potato salads, as hash browns or scalloped potatoes.

Many who've tasted the vacuum packed potatoes rave about their quality, noting that they don't lose natural juices and taste, as do some frozen or dehydrated products.

As for economy, listen to Roy Kaschky, executive director of the Michigan Potato Commission.

"With the high cost of growing commodities," he says, "it's almost necessary for the farmer to sell every item he has."

Thus potato growers would have an outlet for products that don't quite meet the U.S. No. 1 standards. Those standards usually reject potatoes for defects that don't really affect the flavor or nutrient content of the product, such as sunburn, size and shape.

President of the recently incorporated Chef Farms, the NuFoods division producing the new potato product, is Millard Brasington, who hopes his potatoes will be on the market this spring.

Tighter and Tighter

"Pull the purse-strings tighter." That's the call from Republican leaders in the House, who want to see strict regulation of members' travels, postage and the like.

Democratic Speaker Bobby Crim of Davison already has announced plans to monitor trips by House members. And House Republican leader Dennis Cawthorne of Manistee says his caucus endorses Crim's call for reports on any travels.

Cawthorne says also that there should be "reasonable limits" on legislative postage bills, a ban on tax-paid district offices for lawmakers and streamlining of the committees, from the present 33 to 17.

Following these lines, House GOP Floor Leader William Bryant of Grosse Pointe, has introduced a resolution aimed at cutting travel and mailing.

He also takes a swipe at public officials who want super cars provided by the state. Bryant says the House should ask the Senate, the judiciary and the executive branch to restrict all expenditures of a similar nature and "automobiles purchased (should) be of modest and not luxury variety."

Reduce Your Current Taxes...

TAX SHELTERED RETIREMENT PLANS

If you derive all or part of your income from self-employment, you can start building for future financial security and at the same time get tax benefits now.

Each year you can deposit 15% of your annual earned income or $7500, whichever is less, in a retirement savings account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. Your deposits earn high interest each year and the interest earned is tax deferred. You can deduct the full amount of your annual deposit from your present income now, while you are in a higher tax bracket. You then pay at a much lower tax rate as you draw from the account after retirement.

FOR EXAMPLE:

Let's use a self-employed married man who is 45 years old, earns $25,000 a year and is in the 25% bracket. He puts $2,500 a year in his retirement account. With the Keogh Plan, the full amount is tax deductible and his tax saving is $625. If he retires at age 65, his life-time tax saving would be $12,500. And at age 65 he would have total cash, with interest figured at the current rate of 5%, of $85,782.35.

If he doesn't use the Keogh plan, he has to pay income tax of $625 on $2500 leaving $1875 for investing in his retirement plan. At age 65 he would have accumulated only $65,649.76.

In addition, Ann Arbor Federal Savings also offers the new Individual Retirement Account for those who now are employed by a company that does not offer a pension plan. Maximum tax deferred yearly deposit allowed is $1500. IRA pension plans can be arranged for an individual or for an entire corporation.

Alaskan Adventure Shown In Kiwanis Travel Series Film

On Sunday evening, March 23, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its fifth program of the "Travel and Adventure Series" at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Nicol Smith, a resident of California, has made an enviable reputation as an explorer of strange, remote, and interesting places. At the age of 17 he paddled down the Danube in a canoe. He has had adventures in such fascinating places as the South Seas, Angel Falls, Hidden Valley of Himis, and the Devil's Island Penal Colony. Also, during World War II he worked for the OSS as a secret agent. "Burma Road," "Bushmaster," and "Golden Doorway to Tibet" are only a few of the books he has written. His articles have appeared in both the "National Geographic" and "Cosmopolitan" magazines. Because of his major interest in travel, in 1936 he gave his first film-lecture. Through much experience he became an excellent artist. His films are concerned primarily with the people of the country, as shown in his amusing narrative.

Alaska! Unspoiled, breathtakingly beautiful and still one of the few places in the world where one can find new adventure!

Author, lecturer, film-maker Nicol Smith takes you there on a 10,600 mile journey by mobile home from Northern California, over the Alcan Highway and return, via rail down the White Pass to Skagway and the Marine Highway, south through the Inside Passage.

On this incredible journey, you will spend five months, from February to July, visiting remote regions of vast land looking in on the arctic, western interior, southwestern interior, south central and southeastern sections.

You will embark on the Leonard Seppala Memorial Sled Dog Race, a distance of more than 1,000 miles from Anchorage to Nome, on the Iditarod Trail.

You will see the fur rendezvous of Anchorage, the ice breakup in Nenana, Circle City and the Yukon, and participate in the Eskimo blanket toss at Point Barrow, as well as ride out with the shrimp boats near Anchorage.

At a game farm in White Horse you'll find moose, wolves, Dall sheep and hawks.

You'll also get a chance to view the southern end of the 789-mile projected pipeline and the Columbia and Worthington Glaciers.

Through Nicol's keen eye and sensitivity to people and places you will see Alaska in a new light. Personal encounters with a curious Russian sect in Nikolavsk (an interesting village carved out of the wilderness near Anchor Point) and a look at McKinley Park with its handsome lodge and splendid wildlife, as well as a visit to a seafood processing plant, are interlaced with visits to the Palmer Research Station where record turnips and cabbages thrive, and where Alaska comes to life through the brush of Fred Machezanz of Pine Ridge.

The thrill of witnessing seven whales taken at the Whale Festival at Point Hope is an unforgettable experience. The visit to this village in the heart of the Eskimo world will etch itself indelibly in your memory.

Nicol Smith is an old hand at pinpointing the unusual. His ride from White Horse to Skagway with his mobile home perched atop a railroad flat car is a new way to see Alaska. But his journey also includes thousands of miles by plane visiting remote regions of this 48th state—as well as many encounters with people ranging from untutored Eskimos in remote outposts, to University of Alaska students and teachers.

If you like people and faraway places, you'll find them in Nicol Smith's film—stunningly photographed, in the beauty of Norway.

Chelsea Students Earn Degrees at Central Michigan

Among 957 students of Central Michigan University who were awarded degrees for work completed at the end of the fall session in December were Chelsea residents David C. Conklin and Karen M. Manzel.

David, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Conklin, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Recreation. David presently serves as director for the Adult Basketball League in Chelsea, and works as a teacher's aid at Forsythe Junior High School in Ann Arbor.

Karen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Manzel, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Education with a minor in Journalism. Karen's degree is being put to use at Chelsea High School, where she is a substitute teacher.

This Central Michigan graduating class, like most, was comprised of students representing CMU's nine bachelor's degree programs, the 60 curricula leading to seven master's degrees and the nine curricula leading to three specialist degrees.

Of the 975 recipients for degrees, 771 students received bachelor's degrees while 177 earned master's degrees and nine completed the requirements for specialist degrees.

Windbreaks Serve Useful Purposes

Windbreaks are a valuable, multipurpose, addition to most landscapes. They provide shelter for houses, wildlife, livestock, farm fields and orchards. In addition, windbreaks help control soil and snow blowing, reduce the drying effects of the hot summer wind on soil and plants, reduce noise from highways and screen off unpleasant views.

In winter, tree windbreaks near your home can reduce fuel heating needs by 15 percent or more. Windbreaks help reduce the speed of freezing, gusting winds to lessen the effect of the wind-chill index.

All windbreaks should be laid out at right angles to the prevailing damaging winds. Windbreaks reduce wind velocity to a practical degree for a distance of 10 times the height of the trees and give some protection as far out as 20 times the height of the trees.

Shrubs are often used in windbreaks to increase density near the ground level and to help trap blowing snow within the windbreak. Windbreaks should be located 100 to 150 feet from homes and driveways to prevent snow from blocking these areas.

Windbreaks are year-round wildlife havens to insect eating birds and many species of wildlife. Windbreaks can also be a wildlife food source. Some varieties of hardwood shrubs can be planted in the windbreak which will produce fruit and berries. These food sources are especially important during late winter and spring when other food sources are gone.

Windbreaks help farmers retain fertile topsoil. Fine soil particles can be easily moved by the wind in open fields. Often the soil that blows from a farm field contains 10 to 20 times as much humus and phosphate as the heavier soil that stays in the field.

For more information and planting advice, contact the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Phone: 761-6721.

Organic, Inorganic Foods Defined In Free Folder

We've all heard or read the terms organic, natural, and health used in relation to food and the way it's grown. It can get confusing when you're not too sure what each really means.

A reprint from Shopper's Guide, the 1974 Yearbook of Agriculture, explains these terms using the definitions proposed for legal use. A free copy of Organic and Inorganic Foods may be obtained by writing Consumer Information, Dept. 7, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The article says:

—Organically grown food means food which hasn't been subjected to pesticides or artificial fertilizers, and which has been grown in soil whose humus content has been increased by the addition of organic matter.

—Organically processed food means organically grown food which in its processing has not been treated with preservatives, hormones, antibiotics or synthetic additives of any kind.

—Foods referred to as natural are those in the same form in which they are harvested. They come from their place of growth to consumers without any man-made alterations or treatments. They are unprocessed.

—Natural foods may or may not be grown organically.

The term health foods is confusing because every food that offers the body something it needs contributes to health. The term is used often by untrained health enthusiasts to refer to foods that are supposed to have some special virtue in preventing or treating a disease, or providing superior health. Food and Drug Administration regulations do not permit such claims to be made on a product label, so these claims are usually made in special articles or pamphlets used to advertise those foods.

Organic foods are likely to cost much more than the same items produced and marketed by regular commercial methods. This is because producing organically grown and processed foods and natural foods doesn't lend itself to the mass production methods used to supply most of our foods. And because they contain no preservatives, they cannot be stored as long as regular foods.

Organic and Inorganic Foods is one of almost 250 selected Federal consumer publications listed in the spring edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 7, Pueblo, Colo. 81009, or at Federal Information Centers throughout the country.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

From church pulpits and classroom podiums recently have come emotional dissertations encouraging fasting and-or meatless meals to help feed the hungry of the world. The well-meaning religious and caring youth respond eagerly. A growing, flat stomach makes their souls feel good, provides audio-visual proof of their concern.

The public's "hot button" lies in issues which stir them emotionally—fear, anger, sympathy, hungry people. Their need to "do something" about a situation makes them fertile ground for misinformation. Cold, hard facts, basic common sense and economics don't "turn them on." The result is often the opposite effect: from what they try to achieve.

Farmers understand and appreciate the desire to become actively involved in solving hunger problems but, as food producers, they're concerned about the misinformation being used in the "humanitarian" efforts. For example, less meat consumption is being urged so that more grain can be shipped to the starving overseas. Grossly exaggerated figures are used, such as "We Americans eat a ton of grain a year through meat."

Over 75 percent of a steer's diet is hay and grasses, grown on two-thirds of our agricultural acreage in the United States. This land is fit only for the production of hay and forage. So even though a minimal amount of grain might trickle through to the hungry nations if Americans ate less meat, the net result would be a loss in food production.

What the world needs now is food—more food—and any effort to discourage its production is really a disservice to humanity.

A group of clergymen and farmers recently met together in Lansing to discuss world food problems. They talked about the need for expanded research, development of new methods and technology in agricultural producing countries, and teaching less agriculturally developed nations to feed their people. They also discussed food distribution problems and the dangers of flooding certain nations with U.S. food and depressing their local agricultural markets.

It was just a small group, but it was a big step toward understanding and co-operation between two important segments of our society. There are no simple answers, but by working together, they can be a part of the solution instead of the problem. Others should follow their example.

From L. Walker, Aberdeen S.D.: My family came in a wagon to that part of South Dakota where I grew up. They turned the sod over with a walking plow. About 1908, the railroad came and people swarmed in; then steam engines which pulled 12-14 inch plows; in two years, everything was turned black. Cattlemen were out.

People were fighting to get land, until 1911 when hot winds burned up the crops. The people who had come with the railroad left as one. I still have one 5-cent trade piece, which says it is "good in trade at Carlyle, South Dakota." The town left with the people. I also have a McKinley campaign pin when he was running for president. I like to think of my early days and the things that happen. Things do happen when one is young; when we get old we cannot get around and make things happen as they once did.

Animal Products Likely To Stay in Diet

East Lansing—Even if world food shortages become extremely critical, meat, milk and other animal products are not likely to be eliminated from menus, says Dr. J.A. Hofer, associate director of the Michigan State University Experiment Station.
"Animals produce foods of the highest quality protein we know—meat, milk and eggs."
"They eat foods humans cannot or will not eat," Dr. Hofer explains, and "they thrive on the grasses that are the only thing that will grow on half of our nation's agricultural land."

Farm Census Returns Pouring In Ahead of Previous Years

More than half of the 4 million 1974 Census of Agriculture report forms mailed to farms and ranches nationwide have already been completed and returned, the Bureau of the Census reports. The Bureau, part of the Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, mailed the forms right after Christmas and this rate of return is well ahead of the rate in 1969 when the farm census was first taken by mail.

Bureau officials say that the quality of the reporting is good. Farmers who have not mailed in their completed forms can save time if they will read the instructions carefully before filling out the form. Particular attention is called to the "skip" questions at the beginning of the sections on crops and the sections on livestock, as well as for many of the individual sections. A check in the "o" box at the head of the crops section, if no crops were raised, or at the head of the livestock section, if there were no livestock or poultry operations, enables the farmer to skip individual questions in that section.

Every farmer's report form is confidential by law. No other government agency can ever obtain or use the report made by any farmer. Only sworn Census Bureau employees who check and process the completed forms ever see them. And sworn census employees are subject to two years imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both for disclosure of information furnished on individual report forms. The U. S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Census and Statistics had this to say about Census Bureau confidentiality: "There has never been a single claim substantiated that the Bureau of the Census has made individual information available outside the Bureau or that the Bureau has ever used any information received other than for authorized purposes."

The only authorized purposes are for statistical totals. Even here, the census law on confidentiality holds. Statistical tables must be published in such a way that no individual, no farm, no business can be identified. For example, suppose there is one large ranch that spreads over most of a county. No data will be published for the county that would make it possible for an informed reader to figure out confidential information about the big ranch.

The same public law that imposes confidentiality on the Census Bureau makes response by farm operators mandatory. The completed forms are to be mailed back in the postpaid, addressed return envelope enclosed with the form. The '74 Farm Census cannot be closed out until every form mailed out is accounted for; thus, the sooner the forms are returned, the sooner results can be made available. Census by mail allows operators to fill out their reports at their convenience and use their farm business records. Estimates are acceptable and should be reported in the absence of records.

CONSUMERS CORNER

Improper appliance use is often the cause of those washer and dryer woes. For maximum efficiency, take care to:

- Sort properly.
- Use proper detergent.
- Load correctly.
- Use hot water for white cottons and linens, warm for most other loads.
- Use proper cycles.
- Clean lint filters after each use.

To save repair costs check the following on your own before calling the serviceman:

- Be sure controls are properly set.
- If washer doesn't fill, faucets may not be turned on.
- Make sure lid is closed or washer won't spin.
- Unbalanced loads often cause vibration and slower spinning.
- Keep drain hose unkninked and free of debris.
- If dryer takes too long to dry, make sure lint trap is clean, check vent, use correct heat settings and don't overload.

The symbol of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority is a representation of a human figure, with a skyscraper on one hand and the forest on the other, signifying the desire of all people, city and country dwellers, to enjoy and preserve for the future the natural surroundings of unusual scenic appeal.

What you put off doing today, you'll probably put off again tomorrow.

Scouts Camp at Bruin Lake

Boy Scout Troop 465 spent last week-end camping at Bruin Lake. Accompanied by their Scoutmasters, Art Steinaway and Jim Bulick, the boys enjoyed the cold weather outing.

A special event of the week-end was the Blue Nose Award. This award is given to boys whose endurance holds up while sleeping some 12 hours at 30 degrees or less. The Big Meadows campsite was chosen for the event.

Of the eight troop members who began the evening together, six held out against the cold. They are Peter Burkhouse, Scott Robertson, Paul Burkhouse, John Bulick, Brian Lewis, and Steve Hegadorn.

True to its symbol, the Authority is preserving for all time the scenic possibilities of the "green belt" surrounding the Metropolitan District in the valleys of the Huron and Clinton Rivers. Recreational facilities are provided at 10 Metroparks stretching in a loop from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie.

The Metropark system serves more than four million residents in the Detroit Metropolitan Area, embracing five counties—Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne. An Enabling Act of the 1939 State Legislature permitted citizens of these five counties to join together as a Metropolitan District and organize an Authority to provide regional parks, parkways and access roads for the public at large. The voters of the five counties approved the creation of the Authority at the General Election of Nov. 5, 1940.

True faith in anything doesn't waver with the shifting winds of fortune.

St. Louis School Notes

Mrs. Robbins reports that the boys enjoyed the Shrine Circus in Detroit, thanks to the generosity of Detroit policemen who provided tickets for the performance.

In a Lion's basketball game, played in Chelsea, the boys were guests of Dana Corp. Just last week, their team, The Roosters, ended a successful season.

The Elhambra club had a dinner for the boys. Games were played and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Frank Sweeny of Chelsea, whose son Ryan attends the St. Louis school invited Mrs. DeYoe's class for lunch at her home. Mrs. Don Pearson hosted Mr. Hausrafp and his class for lunch in her home.

Nancy Oswald, Chelsea's special education teacher, and her class joined the boys at St. Louis for a floor hockey game followed by a spaghetti dinner.

On Saturday, March 15, St. Louis had a St. Patrick's day dance. Gene Jones and his orchestra played. The evening was a great success. All proceeds will go to the new building fund.

Mrs. Robbins of Ireland, and Clair O'Sullivan were honored on St. Patrick's day by the staff and boys of St. Louis. Father Umberto's band played for the corned beef dinner. Both Mrs. Robbins and Clair were presented with gifts. It was a great day for the Irish!

The boys are still enjoying swimming and bowling. They are looking forward to Easter vacation, after which they will move into their new dormitory.

WHAT YOU EAT AFFECTS HOW POISONS WORK

East Lansing—Pathologists at Michigan State University have found that dietary deficiencies may influence the poisonous effects of mercury, cadmium and nitrate—chemicals commonly found in many natural and processed foods. Vitamin C deficiencies increased the susceptibility of guinea pigs to mercury and cadmium poisoning. Rats on low protein diets recovered more slowly from nitrate poisoning than rats on normal or high protein diets.

Ask the Governor

Question: I read that Michigan has a new minimum wage law. How severely affected by inflation is it?

Answer: Yes. Early last month, I signed a bill to raise Michigan's minimum wage to $2 per hour, a bill which I hope will help Michigan workers who are being most severely affected by inflation—those at the minimum wage level.

That bill becomes law next April 1, and provides for several incremental increases in the minimum wage to $2.30 per hour by Jan. 1, 1977, as well as required overtime rates for work in excess of 48 hours a week. That figure will be lowered gradually until it reaches 40 hours by May 1, 1977.

During times of economic trouble, government bears an abiding responsibility to make certain that the families of men and women temporarily unemployed or underemployed as the result of a slow economy are not forced to bear undue hardship.

In addition to the minimum wage bill, legislation was adopted last year to eliminate the waiting week requirement, assuring laid-off workers of benefits during the critical first few weeks of unemployment; and to extend unemployment benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, and increase benefits by an average of 15 percent.

These steps to assist the temporarily unemployed or underemployed should aid dramatically in assisting the families who are most directly affected by the current economic slowdown and—at the same time—will help to hasten our return to a period of economic growth.

Question: You have just been sworn in for a new four-year term. You are starting off at a terrible time in our history; what do you foresee for our country and our state?

Answer: As I said in my inaugural address, what I do see is the hard reality of a life that cannot match the dreams of some but far exceeds the wildest dreams of millions throughout this earth. What this moment demands more than anything else, it seems to me, is a sense of perspective. It is true that the economy is in a sorry state. It is true that millions of people distrust government and politics. It is true that bigotry, racism and streams are still polluted, that inflation is weighing heavily on every American household, that too many people are help-unemployed. All of these things are true. But other things are true as well. In the past four years we have made great strides in securing equal rights for women, blacks and other minorities. We have reduced taxes, improved transportation, increased governmental efficiency. We have clean streams, and we have saved hundreds of others from pollution. We have greater quality and equality in education.

Our home is Michigan, and we are immensely fortunate in that. Yes, we are the automotive capital of the world, and our most famous industry is in a terrible slump. But the factories are there, the workers are there, the streets and highways of the country are still there. Soon I'm convinced sooner than most people realize—that industry will begin to recover. People will buy cars because they will need them and this great industry that has brought so much prosperity to so many Michigan citizens will flourish once again.

Question: Some friends of mine from Arizona are coming to visit this month, and I was wondering where I could get information for them on things to do and places to go in Michigan this winter.

Answer: Michigan has a full schedule of events taking place throughout the state this winter. A partial listing of these events includes "Tip-Up Town" in Houghton Lake on Jan. 18 and 19, the Royal Valley Snow Festival in Buchanan on Jan. 11 and 12, the Thunder Bay 250 snowmobile race in Alpena on Jan. 11, and the International Ski Flying Tournament on Copper Peak—the only ski-flying hill in the Western Hemisphere—in Ironwood Feb. 7 through 9.

The greatest affliction striking children in America is mental illness or its seedling, emotional handicaps, according to the Michigan Society for Mental Health, a member service of the United Way of Michigan. The Society, which is financed through contributions to local United Ways, says nearly 350,000 children and adolescents in Michigan need professional help for mental problems. Of these, says the Society, only about 100,000 are getting that help.

REMEDIAL READING—

Teacher: Mrs. Maitland

The two children who received the prize for reading the most books in February are: Timothy Erskine in second grade who took home the Valentine red bird for 16 books read, and Kay Bauer in the third grade who received the big pink and red bookworm for reading 14 books. Thirteen students received colored flowers with faces for reading at least five books.

Thanks to all the parents who attended the party Feb. 23. They were able to examine the folders and see the progress their child had made since September. A big thanks goes to Mrs. Buss who called parents to help with the lunch, and also to those who provided it. Mrs. Buss also shared with us methods she used at home in helping Darrin, who no longer needs the reading class. Flower name tags and place mats carried out the theme used in the February reading prizes.

St. Patrick's Day is being used for March decorations, stories, poems and prizes. Six have already taken home their March Sprites. The classes are hoping to reach the goal of more Sprites taken home in March than flowers in February. Come on Reading Sprites!!!

Teacher: Mrs. Dye

The 4th grades went to Ann Arbor for a field trip to play the gamelon, an orchestra from the island of Java. They played a Javanese song on the instruments, and each student was able to play two or three instruments. Thanks to the teachers and mothers who helped.

LIBRARY—

Librarian: Mrs. McManis

We are very colorful these days with paper fish hanging from our light fixtures, lots of pretty prints hanging on the walls and a large totem pole in one corner of the room—all brought in by the art teacher, Mrs. Coulam.

With all the new books we get Charlotte's Web remains first choice and the Secret Seven Books running a close second.

The first grades are now choosing books to take out when they come in for story hour. Happy reading all!

THIRD GRADE—

Teacher: Mrs. Holeka

Room 15 says "hello!" With our thoughts on spring, we've been searching for a "bit-o-green" and not just on St. Patrick's Day.

We're desperately trying to learn our multiplication facts by moving our rockets towards the moon. The more facts we learn the closer we get to it. Kurt Eisenbeiser and Glenn Prinzing are the champs so far.

To help conclude our Dinosaur Unit, we made our volcano erupt. It was so exciting to see how high the sparks flew and how the ashes ran over the sides. It looked so real!

In our poetry corner, we've written some cinquains. Everyone's turned out terrific! Here's one we hope will give you thoughts of spring: By Keith Crawford

Room 7

Teacher: Mrs. Verrelli

Reporters: Craig Blough, Daniel Klemer, John Laraway, Kevin Feldkamp, Mike Townsend and Susan Peterson

We have a Blast-Off math board. Everybody has a rocket, and they learn their multiplication tables. Mrs. Parker, Shanga's mother, came in one day and showed us how to spin. Mrs. Verrelli brought in some wool from her sheep, and we all got to feel and smell it. We will be weaving on egg cartons of shoe boxes soon. Dianne De Smyther brought in her weaving loom, and she showed us how to work it.

We are making clay pots in Art, and glazing the pots. Ricky Boham came back from Florida with lots of exciting stories to tell us.

Room 13

Teacher: Mrs. Yager

We are trying to earn points by working quietly at work time. If we get 200 points we get one hour of free time.

Our class is studying about all the states. We each picked one state to write about. We are mailing business letters to our state. We also have to draw large pictures of our state. Some of us are putting together a large map of the United States.

We made two bulletin boards. We called them Winter in Miami and Winter in Michigan. Miami winters are very warm while Michigan is very cold.

March birthdays are: Georgine Evans and Lisa Headrick. Happy Birthday!

FOURTH GRADE—

Room 24

Teacher: Mrs. Clark

Our class took a field trip to the Bell Tower in Ann Arbor and played a Javanese Gamelon. Then we went to the Ann Arbor Museum. We had a lot of fun!

G. Washington's China

At Greenfield Village

Here's a February milestone in America's history. Practically everybody knows that George Washington was born in February, but not many know of two other unique accomplishments of his that occurred in two other Februarys, in 1789 and 1793. In those two years, the electoral college voted unanimously for Washington for President of the United States—the only two times that the vote of that august body has even been unanimous. At the Henry Ford Museum, you and your family can see some table china that the Father of our Country used at Mt. Vernon, along with other important milestones in our country's history. You can preview America's Bicentennial now at Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM

GIL BURSLEY

The major problems confronting all of us are recession in the short run; inflation in the intermediate stage; and population when viewing the long-range.

Each of these problems has impact locally, state-wide, nationally and globally.

Each affects both government and the individual citizen. Immediate steps are needed to minimize the effects of unemployment, to restore confidence and to gain a forward movement for the economy.

I would strongly argue against any state constitutional amendment that would make possible state deficit financing. We would never cease regretting such a step. Its consequences would be uncontrollable.

On the other hand, I recognize that more federal pump priming is needed immediately through tax rebates; increasing the money supply; temporary but productive work programs; and the development of alternate energy sources.

Great caution must be exercised against overkill so that corrective measures don't contribute to a resumptive of galloping inflation. The pendulums of prosperity and poverty always swing further than forecasters have the nerve to predict. A comparison can be made to football where Jimmy the Greek never makes a team more than a 3 to 4 touchdown favorite yet each Saturday we see scores of over 60 points.

Just as Wall Street signaled the recession over six months before it was recognized, so now I believe the same weathervane indicates the latter half of this year will witness a significant gain in the economy.

Remember that the glass is half full rather than half-empty.

Cong. Esch Commends Area Girl Scouts in Fighting Inflation

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council which provides Girl Scout-ing for this area today was commended by U. S. Congressman Marvin Esch for its contribution to President Gerald Ford's WIN (Whip Inflation Now) campaign.

Esch cited the Council for its decision to keep the price of Girl Scout cookies to be sold Feb. 21 to March 9 at last year's level, $1 a family size box.

This action contrasts with the national trend to raise the price to $1.25 a box to cover the rise in the wholesale price, even though the box-weight of some flavors has been reduced by a few ounces. To maintain needed profits to support the operation of the Huron Valley Council and troops as well as camping scholarships for low-income girls, the local scouts will have to sell 350,000 boxes, 25 percent more than a year ago.

The two new products being sold by scouts this year, Sesame Crackers and an English Breakfast blend of Formosan teas, will also cost one dollar a box.

In his commendation which he presented to Mrs. Louis (Jean) Falan, Council President, and Junior Girl Scout, Pam Weber of 2712 Danbury, Ann Arbor, daughter of Cookie Sale chairman, Mrs. Ruth Weber, Esch stated:

"I wish to take this opportunity to commend the members of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council for their initiative in maintaining the 1974 price of Girl Scout Cookies in the face of a 1975 price rise. While other Councils throughout the United States have bowed to a 25 cent increase in price, the Scouts in our area have decided to do their part in fighting inflation by setting the goal of selling 25 percent more cookies than last year at last year's price.

While the chief topic of conversation in Washington and throughout the country has been the state of the economy, our local Girl Scouts have decided to do something besides just talk.

"I am proud to be able to commend them for their determination and drive to not only help themselves and their organization by selling cookies, but to do so in a manner that is an inspiration to us all."

Vietnam Era Veteran Bonus Applications Being Processed

Major General John A. Johnson, Adjutant General of Michigan, announced today that the Vietnam Era Bonus Section is now operational and processing approximately 5,000 applications per week. This number is expected to increase to 10,000 per week as employees gain additional experience.

The first bonus checks were mailed Wednesday, Feb. 28, and by Friday, Feb. 28, bonus checks totaling $1,500,000 were mailed to Michigan veterans.

Each veteran submitting an application will receive a verification card from the Bonus Section with the veteran's claim number. This claim number should be used in any correspondence or contact with the Bonus Section. As of this release, over 280,000 applications have been received. Due to this tremendous response, some claims have not yet been opened and verification cards not sent out. Veterans are assured the Bonus Section is working as rapidly as possible to process their claims and should not be alarmed if a friend has received a verification card before him. Claims are processed in the order received by the Bonus Section.

CPT Michael Rice, director of the Vietnam Era Bonus Section, stated many telephone calls and letters have been received by the Department of Military Affairs concerning submitted applications. A number of these calls and letters have dealt with mistakes on the applications the veteran has discovered after submission. He explained that veterans whose applications are incorrect or incomplete would receive notification as to what the problem is and what the veteran must do to clear up this problem.

The beneficiary application (Form V-2) will not be available for distribution until early spring. Because legal problems are sometimes encountered in determining the beneficiary of a deceased veteran, the development of a satisfactory form and the training of personnel are of the utmost importance. Therefore, distribution of the V-2 Form application is being postponed until both the form and the personnel meet the standard required. The Department of Military Affairs is working closely with the Attorney General's Office to develop this form, Rice said.

To be eligible for the Vietnam Era Bonus, the veteran must have been a resident of Michigan for at least six months before entering military service and must have been on active duty at least 190 days. The Vietnam Era Bonus eligibility period is, Jan. 1, 1961 to Sept. 1, 1973. Combat veterans are entitled to receive a $600 cash bonus, and are defined as a serviceman or woman eligible to wear the Vietnam Service Medal or the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. Those veterans whose active duty service did not entitle them to wear the aforementioned medals are entitled to draw a bonus of $15 for each month of service, up to a maximum of $450.

Clifton W. Heller, a former mayor of Howell, represents Livingston county on the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. Heller has been on the seven-member Metropark Board since 1973.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Americans aren't the only hamburger lovers. Every nationality has its version of the beef patty. During international hamburger and pickle month why not experiment with various versions or create a new one? Your family will love you and you'll love the way it trims your food budget.

Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture suggest when shopping for ground beef specials in area supermarkets you remember there is a difference between meats labeled ground beef and those labeled hamburger. Under Michigan law, ground beef may contain only up to 20 percent fat while hamburger may contain as much as 30 percent fat.

Prepare the traditional four-ounce beef patty and you'll get four servings per pound. To perk up plain burgers, try servings with a variety of tasty toppings like a mixture of blue cheese, sour cream and finely chopped onion; or canned sliced mushrooms sautéed in butter with chopped onion and sweet pickle relish added.

The Greeks use ground beef to make a flattened meatball seasoned with parsley and mint leaves and held together with eggs. In Sweden there's a classic patty made of ground beef, seasoned with salt and pepper, mixed lightly with egg yolk, chopped pickled beets and juice, chopped onion, capers and aromatic biters, and cooked in butter.

For hamburgers au poivre, roll beef patties in freshly cracked black pepper and broil or sauté. Rinse pan with one-third cup of cognac, red wine or worcestersauce and pour over the meat before serving.

Regardless of the recipe origin, serve hamburgers with a variety of delicious pickles. They're a perfect two some and Michigan is first among the states in production of pickling cucumbers.

Bell & Howell Representative Will Visit CHS

"What will I do after high school?" It's a question that many young people find themselves asking this time of year, as graduation draws nearer and nearer. For some students, it is a frightening question that elicits a good deal of confusion and frustration, especially for those young people whose future plans are somewhat vague.

To help lift some of the confusion that arises, a Bell & Howell representative will be at Chelsea High school on Wednesday, April 1 to talk with interested juniors and seniors about their post-graduation plans. The representative will show a film entitled, "What After High School?"

The film will show the wide range of job opportunities offered by Bell & Howell.

A wrap-up session will follow the film, during which seriously interested students will be invited to ask further questions of the representative.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Citizens:

That residences for senior citizens are forthcoming through a present rezoning request as indicated in Letter to the Editor, March 13, is not so stated on the documents submitted to Sylvan township by the petitioner, Michael Papo, M.D.

Facts in evidence for public interpretation are as follows:

1. A letter, dated April 22, 1974, signed Michael Papo, M.D., requesting a parcel of land be rezoned multiple dwelling, and reading "There is a critical need for many of these apartment units to complement the medical complex. It has been increasingly difficult to attract employees and staff if they must commute any distance." The correspondence further states it is the petitioner's intent to fill this need as well as "an indicated local need."

2. A site plan, accompanying the above mentioned letter of the property now being petitioned for rezoning. A statement reads the proposed site plan shows 20 row house units and 240 apartments.

In my opinion, fact 1 clearly indicates open occupancy will prevail. That is, certain criteria, such as age, would not be a pre-requisite for residency.

Fact 2 indicates that with such high density, housing space might well be available to senior citizens electing a life style compatible to a multiple family district.

That the site would be developed aesthetically or otherwise has no bearing whatsoever on public services high density population requires.

Therefore, sorting fact from fiction to arrive at the most truthful analysis of the situation, the scope of my March 6 Letter to the Editor still stands.

Sincerely,
Ethel Pfeifer

Vocational Testing Slated for Seniors

Chelsea High school seniors interested in vocational testing will be invited to participate in a day-long series of tests to be given Thursday, March 27 at Chelsea High.

The tests, designed and distributed by the U. S. Air Force and Marines, serve as a reasonably good device in assisting young men and women discover just what careers they might like to pursue.

Its value is good to those students who are looking toward civilian as well as military careers.

In days like these, with jobs few and far between, young people are choosing careers for which they will receive specific training, according to CHS counselor George Bergman. Vocational testing helps young people in making these choices. They are able to discover more about themselves, due to the partial picture developed about a person by the test.

Students will be tested for interest in four main categories: electronics and electricity, administration, general aptitudes, and mechanical.

Tests within each category will determine a student's ability or interest. These sub-tests are as follows: word knowledge, arithmetic reasoning, tool knowledge, space perception, mechanical comprehension, automotive information, and electronic information.

Counselor Bergman stresses that only seriously interested seniors should consider participating in the vocational testing program.

Fluoride Program Again Being Offered

The topical fluoride program will be held again this summer for area children who do not drink from Chelsea's water supply and for those children who have only recently moved into the community.

According to Jean Jones, chairman of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary's topical fluoride committee, most of the children of Chelsea have had the benefit of fluoridated water during the time that their teeth were developing and will receive no additional benefits from the topical applications of sodium fluoride.

Three- or four-year-old preschoolers, 2nd graders, 5th graders, and 8th graders who drink from private wells or from non-fluoridated public water systems are eligible for the program, as are 8th graders who have lived in Chelsea less than seven years, 5th graders who have lived here less than five years, and 2nd graders and pre-schoolers with less than three years Chelsea residence.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic which will be held in Chelsea High school cafeteria. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. During the three succeeding visits, only the fluoride application is repeated.

This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent compared with 60 to 65 percent reduction obtained through fluoridated water.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, is an important part of the program.

Michigan, which pioneered in the field of topical fluoride applications in 1949, leads the nation in the number of community programs in operation and in children treated.

The state-wide program is supervised by the Dental Division of the Michigan Department of Public Health, which assists local groups in the organization stage, recruits and trains dental and dental hygiene students, provides the fluoride solution, and oversees the program operation through periodic visits to the various clinics by staff dentists.

Parents of eligible children have until April 1 to enroll them in the program. Those interested in having their children receive the topical fluoride but who do not have the necessary registration cards may contact Jean Jones at 475-2822.

A fee of $4.50 to cover costs of operating the clinic must be submitted along with the registration card.

Blue ribbon recipients for construction, Young Miss Division, were Mary Anderson, Diane Bareis, Linda Bristle, Beth Busch, and Radine Cheever. Junior Miss recipients for blue ribbons in construction are Beth Heller, Nancy Heller, Lori Hines, Marie Sullivan, Cheryl Bareis, and Sue Heller.

Second-place red ribbons were awarded to Cathy Doll and Kim O'Quinn for construction.

Construction, however important, is not the only criteria on which the girls are tested.

award points with respect to personal appearance, poise, garment construction, and modeling ability. Two of the selected top 10 models were, Beth Busch and Nancy Heller.

INTERESTED IN SAVING this winter? Who isn't you say. You may be able to save on your fuel bill and be more comfortable at the same time. During the next snowfall make this simple test: Compare the blanket of snow on your roof with that on the other homes in the neighborhood. If the snow is melting off your roof you are losing precious, expensive heat. Insulate now, save heat and keep cooler this summer. Call Heller Electric and Insulating at 475-7978 after 6 p.m. for more information. We can insulate your home or you can do it yourself with our machine. x35tf

PLANNING ON INSULATING this winter? When buying insulation remember to compare quality as well as price. Insulation's effectiveness is in its resistance to heat flow which is measured in "R" value. Cellulose or wood fiber insulation has an "R" value of 4.17 per inch. Compare this to the "R" value of various synthetic solid fiber materials which tend to conduct heat. Mapped Lakes Guide Helpful In Ice Fishing

Don't go ice fishing blind this winter! This advice comes from Bill Gardiner, associate editor of Michigan Out-of-Doors, a monthly magazine published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs for sportsmen of Michigan. It's directed at the army of ice anglers who'll soon be venturing onto the frozen surfaces of the state's numerous lakes and ponds. "When there's ice covering the lake, it's very difficult to know exactly what lies beneath it," Gardiner said. "And you can expect that someone will venture out to a new lake this winter, spend a lot of time putting down a hole with a spud or auger and then discover the water they've selected is not fishable. It's a waste of time and energy and it can be avoided."

Gardiner's solution is rather simple and inexpensive—purchase a copy of "Michigan Mapped Lakes" before the first ice fishing trip. It's a 76-page index to more than 2,500 maps of Michigan's inland lakes. And it's available for only $1 by writing: Mapped Lakes, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, P.O. Box 2235, Lansing 48911.

"Not only will you get the key to obtaining copies of the maps which are available, but the book also contains much other useful information," Gardiner said. As an example, he cited sections dealing with campgrounds in Michigan—both public and private, a list of lakes which have planted trout, a list of boat launch sites and an easy guide to canoeing Michigan's various rivers. "Experienced fishermen are never without a contour map, especially if they're fishing a new lake for the first time or a new location on a lake they've fished before," Gardiner pointed out. "It's as important part of their fishing gear as the bait. It's their eyes to seeing what's below the surface of the ice."

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL
Based in Chicago, the National Safety Council is a non-governmental, non-profit public service organization dedicated to safety education and the development and implementation of accident prevention programs reaching every segment of American life.

THE CEDARVILLE COLLEGE SWORDBEARERS will be presenting a program at North Sharon Bible church on March 22-23. The program is entirely planned, directed and produced by students from Cedarville for the purpose of strengthening Christian teenagers in their individual relationships with Christ. On Saturday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m. the swordbearers will have special music and their program entitled "Quiet Time." On Sunday, March 23 they will have special music in the morning service at 11 a.m. and will be used in the Sunday school hour at 10 and in Junior church. Sunday evening at 6 they will participate in the Youth Hour and at 7 p.m. in the Evening Service. The public is invited. North Sharon Bible church is located at 17999 Washburne Rd., on the corner of Sylvan Rd.

He's only 30 and he just bought a $50,000 life policy.

Sure, a $50,000 life policy could cost a lot of money...but it doesn't when it's "altogether!" When we say "altogether" we mean Perma-Term—permanent and term insurance combined to avoid those big premiums, but still deliver the big protection young family men need. It means you could have a $50,000 policy which lets you build up a retirement income at the same time! Yes, Perma-Term's easier on the budget, but please remember that costs go up as you grow older. So give us a call now—before another birthday gets past you altogether!

FOOD FOR THINKING CHRISTIANS:

The Divine Plan of the Ages

WHY DIE FOR EATING AN APPLE?

It has been the tendency in the Christian world during the past one hundred years to doubt that Adam existed. Little doubt, then, that his death resulting from eating forbidden fruit should also be questioned! Critics of the Genesis account state that the word Adam just means man—man in general, not an individual. However, careful students of Scripture are quick to note that mankind in general cannot have a specific list of descendants! It is written that Adam had a son named Seth, who had a son named Enos, who had a son named Cainan, etc. In Luke 3 we have similar documentation.

Yes, Adam was a man—not a group of men. Adam was the first man. (1 Corinthians 15:45) And his disobedience is not mysteriously hidden in symbolism. All he did wrong was to eat a piece of forbidden fruit. It wasn't, of course, the fruit that was so important. It was the act of disobedience that was so serious.

Man, since Adam, has been learning the result of disobedience to God. It is an important lesson.

Man must learn it. When God establishes his long-promised Kingdom ("Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven"), no disobedience will mar its tranquility. Man will obey because he WANTS to—he will have learned what disobedience means. God permitted evil for a good reason. Things are not out of his control.

If you want to study this subject thoroughly and quickly for yourself, read chapter 7 of The Divine Plan of the Ages. Chapter 7 is entitled, "The Permission of Evil and Its Relation to God's Plan." You will know your Bible better as a result of this study.

Recreation Basketball Teams Beginning Tournament Action

Winding up the last of their games before tournament play begins March 19, the Chelsea Recreation Basketball League, played games which for the most part resulted in decisive victories for the winning teams.

In Wednesday night's action, Chelsea State Bank defeated Heydlauff's, 56-37. Southern Boy ran circles around Rockwell, 60-37. D & D Lanes dumped Dunlavy Farms, but just barely. The score for that game was 59-57.

Thursday night's play resulted in defeat for Dexter Rabble by 3-D Sales, 59-55. Chelsea Lumber handed another defeat to Rockwell, 48-32, and Chelsea State Bank won another game against Mark IV Lounge, 42-37.

St. Patrick's Day may have brought luck to the Irish, but it didn't do much for Heydlauff's as they lost to Pinckney, 70-51.

In other Monday night games, Southern Boy defeated Dunlavy Farms by 10 points, 50-40. D & D Lanes forfeited to Brown Drugs.

Final league game scores are as follows: in the WBA, the Bullets defeated the Lakers, 8-6, for a final game standing of five wins and one loss. The Rockets played the Nicks, who romped over them for another 8-6 game score. In a double-score game, the Hawks topped the Kings with a 16-14 score, while the Suns cremated the Capitols by a whopping 22-12 score.

In the ABA, the Braves nudged the Nets, winning the game 28-22. The Warriors walloped the Pacers for their fifth loss with a 14-10 game score. The Colonels completed their season with another victory; this time over the Squires, 22-18.

The Bulls gained a two-point lead over the Celtics to win the game, 19-17.

Players are reminded that Trophy Day will be held Saturday, March 22 in the Chelsea High School Gym. All participants must be there by 10 a.m.

Pamphlet May Help You Decide To Rent or Buy

At some time in your life, you're likely to face a choice between buying or renting a place to live. And what you decide depends on many things, including: What kind of shelter meets your preferences and needs; how much it's going to cost and how much you can afford to spend each month; and which offers the best investment of your money.

Rent or Buy is a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor that tells you how to analyze the financial costs and benefits of owning a home compared to renting, in combination with a program of regular monthly savings. A copy of Rent or Buy may be obtained for 80 cents from Consumer Information, Dept. 8, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The booklet reminds you to think about your age and family status, the stability of employment of the various members of the family, and the chances of your moving from one location to another. And, ask yourself if you like to putter around the house or yard.

Discussed more fully including worksheets and examples for the reader to follow are:

—The cost—How much can you afford to spend on the kind of shelter you want and need? How different are costs of ownership and rental? Is there any way to compare them? What can you afford to spend?

—The investment aspect—The third part of the decision concerns prudent investment of your money. Would you be better off investing your money in home ownership over a period of time, or saving your down payment money and setting aside an amount each month, putting these funds into savings accounts or stocks and bonds.

The pamphlet is designed to help you analyze these factors, apply them to your own situation, and map out the plan of action that suits your needs.

Rent or Buy is one of almost 250 selected federal consumer publications listed in the spring edition of the Consumer Information Index published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration. A copy of the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 8, Pueblo, Colo. 81009, or at Federal Information Centers located throughout the country.
