July 4th Fireworks, Ice Cream Social Set

Thanks to the Herbert J. McKune Post 31 of the American Legion, Chelsea residents will once again fill their tummies with a homecooked meal followed by an ice cream social; then settle down to digest it all while watching fireworks light up the sky on the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

The festivities will begin at 5 p.m. when chefs Jim Knott and Bill Geddes will serve plates heaping with baked beans, hotdogs, barbecues and cole slaw. Ice cream and cake will top off the meal. Chelsea Community Fairboard has donated the Fair Service Center to the Legion for the community activity.

A traditional fireworks display will follow the meal, beginning at dark. Contributing to the purchase of the fireworks were the American Legion, Chelsea Kiwanis Club and the VFW. Loren Keizer will be in charge of the fireworks.

Racquet Club Plans Hit Deed Restriction

Plans for the building of a facility to be known as the Chelsea Racquet Club have run into an obstacle that may postpone construction of the facility for another year or kill the idea for construction in the Chelsea area altogether.

According to Dr. Dick Dijkman, who heads the organization that wants to build this facility in Chelsea, a restriction limiting the 12-acre parcel located on the northwest corner of Lima township behind St. Paul United Church of Christ to agricultural and residential purposes must be lifted in order for construction to begin and the facility to be complete for the 1975-76 indoor season.

Dijkman knew of the deed restriction on the property and on June 15 met with the Council members of St. Paul's church to discuss the possibilities of lifting the restriction. Peter Flintoft, president of the St. Paul Church Council, informed Dijkman that only the congregation can vote to lift such a restriction. A resolution was made to call for their vote on July 13.

JC Rummage Sale Slated Saturday

Area residents will have a chance to bid for a sailboat, antique sewing machine, numerous television sets, electrical appliances and a myriad of other articles, when Loren Fletcher, auctioneer, in behalf of the Chelsea Jaycees, steps to his podium to kick off the annual Jaycee rummage sale.

The sale is scheduled for this Saturday at the Chelsea fairgrounds. The auction will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until every item has been sold.

Proceeds from the sale are turned back into the community through Jaycee sponsored projects.

Friends of Players Organize To Support Local Theatre

"Friend." I. a. one who seeks the society or welfare of another whom he holds in affection, respect or esteem.

"The Chelsea Players." I. a. a community organization whose goal is to promote a quality dramatics program in the form of both productions and workshops in Chelsea. 2. a. a group that functions because of citizen support.

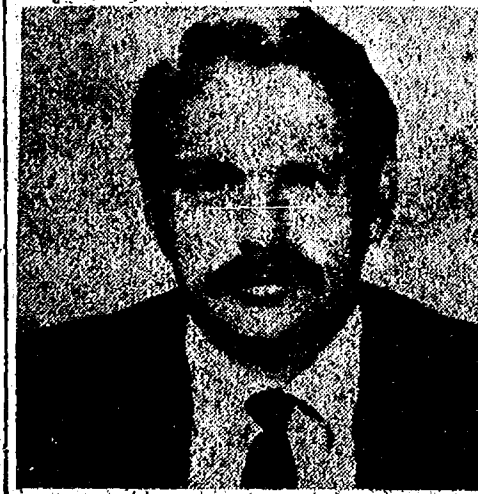

"Friends of the Chelsea Players." I. a. a group or groups of individual who seeks to support, to promote and to encourage an organization known as the Chelsea Players through contributing to its welfare because of respect, esteem and pride held in its productions and community related activities.

The Chelsea Players are currently in their third season, thanks to citizen support through ticket sales, private and group donations and to the Michigan Council for the Arts which has provided the Players with financial grants for two consecutive summers; to stimulate and kick-off a fine arts program in Chelsea, hopefully to be continued and expanded through community support.

For him, there are more reasons for returning to the Chelsea Players than just to hear the home-town fans applaud.

Jeff said, "In Chelsea we have a good thing... just as good as anywhere in the state."

Jeff said that he had other opportunities for spending his summer with amateur theatre groups, but coming home was more valuable. He likes working under DiAnn and in addition to his own parts in the plays, he enjoys inspiring young children to enter the theatre world.

Close Race Developing in Softball Play

For the first time in a number of years, Walt's Barber Shop is not in first place in the Slow-Pitch League. The combination of a vastly improved McCalla Feeds Team and two rained out games has put McCalla's in first; though Walt's has yet to lose a league game.

McCalla's, which features a well balanced attack of singles and speed, rather than the traditional type of slow-pitch power team, has quietly taken over first place under manager Dick McCalla (The Famous Fast-Pitch Pitcher) and Captain Howard McCalla. When asked for the names of outstanding ball players on the team, McCalla responded that it has not been any individual or even a small group of individuals but rather another year's experience and good team work that has kept them undefeated.

The Class A Slow-Pitch League appears to be developing into an extremely tight race this year. Walt's is still undefeated in league play, and Village Motors, IPSCO, and the Eagles are close behind with only one loss. Rulea Farm which has only a 1-2 record is still the only team that defeated Walt's in the tournament. It appears that any one of these six teams has an excellent chance to finish the season in first place.

The Fast-Pitch week seems to have centered around the two Jiffy Mixes games on Monday and Friday. On Monday Jiffy Mix was upset by Bennet. Installation, which Jiffy had defeated twice in the pre-season tournament, Bennet played a nearly perfect ball game to stop Jiffy's string of victories, 4-2. The winning pitcher was Tom O'Haver for Bennet, while Justice Marshall took the loss for Jiffy.

Friday's game then matched Jiffy against the only team to have defeated Bennet Installation, Ann Arbor Centerless. Ann Arbor Centerless is a new team in the league this year, made up primarily of the old Westgate Auto Team that has been chasing Jiffy Mixes for a good number of years.

Ann Arbor Centerless took an early three-run lead as Jiffy's pitcher, Dick McCalla, was very wild in the first innings; however, Jiffy fought back as McCalla became stronger as the game progressed, recording 14 strike-outs during the game.

Jiffy's hitting attack was led by Len Kozma and Charlie Koenn both going two for two at the plate. The biggest hit of the night

Another Window Smashed

Window breaking in the form of vandalism, has become a weekly occurrence in Chelsea.

This is the third consecutive week that broken windows have been reported to village police.

Frank Renton, manager of Ann Arbor Federal Savings, 1135 S. Main, reported to Chelsea police Monday morning that a "Thermo Glass" window located at the rear of the building had been broken. Renton believes the window was broken by a three-inch piece of asphalt.

The breaking occurred sometime between the evening of June 20 and 8 a.m. June 23 when it was reported to village police.

The value of the window has not been determined. According to Renton, the bank is insured for vandalism.

There are no suspects, and the case remains open.

Couple Die Tuesday in Cycle Crash

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

To Gamble or Not?

Dice in Detroit, roulette in Roscommon, crap tables in Cadillac, slot machines in Saginaw... Unlikely you say? Perhaps.

But a special House committee is moving full tilt on a "feasibility study" of a limited number casino gambling operations in Michigan.

Rep. Casmer Ogonowski, D-Detroit, chairs the committee which has held public hearings and sent out some 600 questionnaires about gambling to city and county officials, law officers, tourist-related organizations and others who might be interested in the idea.

Early returns on the questionnaires, Ogonowski reports, indicate a two-to-one response in favor of a limited number of such operations in Michigan.

Backers of the idea figure legalized gambling on a limited basis could draw convention and other tourist business to the state, and pull dollars into the Michigan treasury. Casino gambling also could add jobs in a state hit by unemployment.

Opponents of legalized gambling among them the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems—question the advisability of adding a new activity to those gambling operations already sanctioned by the state. They include the state lottery, betting at pari-mutuel windows at four horse tracks, and state-licensed bingo games.

"If lawmakers want to decriminize gambling (remove criminal penalties), that is one thing," says the Council on Alcohol Problems. But "legalizing the business of gambling," is quite another thing, it says.

Malpractice Moves

Slowly, and with deliberate diagnosis, a legislative package aimed at giving Michigan "the healthiest medico-legal climate of any state in the nation" is winding its way into state law.

Gov. William Milliken, who proposed the 18-bill package earlier this year, recently signed two portions of the program into law.

One new law would require professional societies of osteopathic physicians to report any information about "disciplinary action against a member to the Board of Osteopathic Registration and Examination. The second requires professional societies of medical doctors to make similar reports to the Medical Practice Board.

"These bills are designed to increase information to the state licensing boards — allowing for closer scrutiny of doctors," Milliken says.

"They form an important part of (the) package," he adds, and could—along with other parts of the program, help avert in Michigan any doctor strikes and work stoppages such as have occurred in other parts of the country.

Related bills already in the law books are those setting up a malpractice insurance fund and requiring insurers to provide information to the state insurance commissioner.

Field Crowded

It's early yet to begin worrying about who you'll vote for when Michigan's bearded, Democratic Sen. Philip Hart, moves back from Washington.

But word of his impending retirement, at the end of his current term, is bringing candidates from under cover.

The list of "maybes" at this point seems endless, but among those most apparent is Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley. He says flatly that he is "definitely considering the possibility of running."

A note to the Lansing press corps at the Capitol says that U-M Regent Deane Baker, will be making himself available to the media.

Congressman Don Riegle, the Flint Democrat who used to be a Republican, also speaks candidly about an interest in the seat.

And this is just the warm-up.

Fair Season Starts

Vacationing closer to home this summer because you can't afford to trek hundreds of miles from Michigan? Take in a county fair.

There'll be 82 county, 4-H agricultural fairs—as well as two state fairs—in the state this year. And Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball notes that at least one of those events will be just a short distance from home for every one of Michigan's nine million residents.

The Upper Peninsula State Fair is slated for Aug. 12-17 this year, while the Michigan State Fair in Detroit runs Aug. 22-Sept. 1. Smaller county fairs get into full swing during July, generally lasting about five days each.

Stockbridge Baseball Star Going to EMU

Bob Vitzthum, an outstanding pitcher-outfielder for Stockbridge High school, has indicated he plans to enroll at Eastern Michigan University this fall.

The 6-1, 175-pound Vitzthum earned all-Ingham County League honors for three years, including his junior year when he batted .470 and was 8-1 on the mound. Vitzthum, a left-hander, is expected to be used primarily as an outfielder at EMU.

Eastern Michigan won the Mid-American Conference and NCAA Mid-East Regional baseball championships this past season. The Hurons tied for fifth in the eight-team College World Series at Omaha, Neb.

CHS Class of '45 Gets Together for 30-Year Reunion

Thirty years ago, 39 seniors graduated from Chelsea High school. Saturday June 21, 17 alumni from the class of 1945 gathered at the home of Veryl Steinaway in Ann Arbor for a pot-luck dinner.

A surprise birthday cake was presented to Ruth Ann Kalmbach, celebrating her June 21st birthday. According to a former classmate, the group kidded Ruth Ann that she could fool others about her age, but not them.

Letters were read from some of the classmates who could not attend the gathering.

The evening was spent reminiscing about the "good ole days."

Area Students Graduate at Ferris

David C. Bust, David G. Heydlauff and Dean P. Otto were among 2,891 graduates awarded degrees and certificates from Ferris State College during the 1974-75 academic year.

Students completing their programs of study during the summer, fall, winter and spring quarters were eligible to participate in the traditional Commencement Exercises held Saturday, May 24 in Big Rapids.

David C. Bust received a BS in pharmacy; David G. Heydlauff, a BS in surveying, with distinction, and Dean P. Otto, an AAS in surveying-topographical drafting and a BS in surveying.

Honorary degrees were awarded during the exercises to Lowell W. Perry recently sworn in as chairman of the U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission, who was the commencement speaker; and Ethel Taylor Pierce, a Ferris alumna who is president of the Massachusetts Board of Pharmacy.

Chris Marzec Named To Office in Ferris Student Organization

Students in the Automotive and Heavy Equipment Technology program at Ferris State College now have a chance to join a new interest-related organization on campus.

The club, named the Automotive and Heavy Equipment Technology Service Organization, provides services to AHT students in internship positions, business contacts, and job openings. It also informs two year automotive students of the various four year degrees available at Ferris and on other campuses.

One of the first official acts of the club was the election of officers. Jim Outman, from Leonidas was elected president. Kim Moyer, from Buchanan is serving as vice-president, with Al Rietenberg, from Detroit as treasurer and Chris Marzec, from Chelsea as secretary. Officers, plus 15 other active members of the organization, work in conjunction with William Lackey and Warner Forsyth, faculty advisors, and the administration to provide a better program for future students enrolling in Automotive and Heavy Equipment Technology at Ferris.

Chris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Marzec of 1137 N. Freer Rd.

Drunk Driving Charge Filed

John C. Fitzsimmons of 13950 North Lake Rd., was arrested on charges of driving while under the influence early in the morning of June 17 by village police officers.

According to police reports, Officers Dettling, Peebles and Griffin were on routine patrol when they observed a 1969 Buick on E. Middle St., traveling toward Main St. The vehicle was proceeding into the opposite lane of travel, almost striking the curb on the east-bound lane of Middle St. The vehicle then stopped in the middle of the street at the intersection of Main and Middle, then proceeded left on to southbound Main where it stopped at the curb with the patrol car behind it.

The defendant was advised he was under arrest and transported to the Washtenaw County Jail to await the posting of a $100 bond.

Fitzsimmons will appear on June 30 in 14th District Court on the charge.

of his involvement in the program. "Teaching is the easiest way to learn. You stand on the other side and see another view."

Michelle McClear, another participant in the productions and workshops said that she found the Chelsea program a rewarding one "because of the community." When asked if she would have had the same opportunity to work in a similar program in another area, would she have accepted such an offer? her answer was a resounding "No. In Chelsea I know people, the familiar surroundings make it more congenial."

Jeff and Michelle are just two of the numerous young and not so very young people involved in the Players program. Interest among the participants is strong; watching them work together leads to this conclusion. In 1974, the Chelsea Players operated on a budget of approximately $12,500.

This year, because of rising costs, they expect their financial needs to be somewhat greater. Their total program for the '75 season includes two stage productions, the Children's Workshops and a tent show at the Chelsea Fair.

NEW POSTAL VANS for Chelsea arrived last week beginning service to the area June 12. The 1/2-ton American Motors Jeeps are equipped with right hand drive enabling postmen easy access to the curbs. According to Postmaster Richard Schaules, Chelsea's postmen spent an afternoon in Ann Arbor acclimating themselves

Eugene Ramp Edits Book On Behavior Analysis

Eugene Ramp has edited another book on behavior analysis. His second, entitled "Behavior Analysis: Areas of Research and Application," is a thorough, comprehensive guide to specific techniques of behavior analysis.

Ramp's specialty. Born in Stockbridge in 1942, Ramp is the son of Mrs. Irma Ramp and the late August Ramp. He was schooled in Chelsea, graduating from Chelsea High in 1960. Ramp pursued a career in psychology, attending Western Michigan University and receiving both his BA and MA degrees in the field.

In 1969, Ramp began work as a graduate research assistant with Don Bushnell, Jr., in the Department of Human Development at the University of Kansas. His responsibilities included applied behavioral research and teaching, writing and reviewing technical literature.

In 1972 he was awarded his doctorate degree from the University's Department of Psychology, with a specialization in developmental and child psychology.

From 1969-1974, he served as Director of the Behavior Analysis Follow Through Program, a program which represents a long-term effort begun by the federal government in 1968 to determine the relative effectiveness of a variety of educational programs in providing quality education for poor children in kindergarten through grade three.

Very recently, Ramp's work was reviewed in the April 27 issue of the Kansas City Star. An article entitled "How Inner-City Children Achieve With A New Plan," illustrates the work Ramp and his colleagues at the University of Kansas have done to promote their behavior analysis program called "Follow Through."

According to Ramp, this program "gives quick rewards for small success and learning rates improve."

Currently he serves as director, University of Kansas Support and Development Center for Follow Through, spending his time between the University and the U.S. Office of Education in Washington, D.C.

He is a member of the board of directors, Foundation of Creative Education and a member of the New York State Advisory Council for the Follow Through Technical Assistance Program. Other memberships include the American Psychological Association and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This second book is edited by Ramp along with his colleague, George Semb.

Although presbycusis - hearing loss due to aging - is frequently experienced by people 55 or older, everyone is susceptible to hearing loss. To help safeguard your hearing ability, everyone should have an annual hearing test, they add.

Farm Census Reports Due By June 30

Letters appealing to 34,000 Michigan farmers to return completed report forms for the 1974 Census of Agriculture are being mailed by the Bureau of the Census. In January, 133,000 forms were mailed to Michigan farmers and residents associated with agriculture and so far, 74 percent have been mailed back or otherwise accounted for.

Bureau officials say this is the last in the planned series of follow-up letters, as collection of census data is scheduled to be closed out June 30. In addition, telephone calls are being made to selected farmers who have not yet returned the forms in order to obtain information about their 1974 agricultural operations.

Everyone who received a form should return it, even those not actively engaged in farming, such as landlords or those no longer farming. That information can be noted on the form which should be mailed back in the envelope provided.

Response to the census is mandatory by law. By the same law, all information about individual farms is confidential and can be used only for statistical purposes.

Look at Gardening As Fun in the Sun

If you put a dollar value on the time and effort you spend working in your vegetable garden, there's no way it can be a money-saving venture, say Michigan State University horticulturists. Labor costs alone will drive the cost of your home-grown produce higher than the cost of store-bought vegetables.

But if you look at those hours in the garden as a relaxing way to unwind a bit and get back to nature and if you consider the produce as a sort of fringe benefit, you're likely to feel that you've saved some money and had a good time doing it.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

Government Halts Creation

Can you imagine the hassles God would have encountered if existence when He began creation? An unknown author (probably a farmer frustrated in his efforts to till the earth) God created, let his imagination soar and came up with this report from the "Daily Heavenly News."

In the beginning, God created heaven and earth. He was slapped with a class action lawsuit by the Heavenly Protection Agency (HEPA) for failure to file an environmental impact statement with the agency. God was granted a temporary permit for the heavenly portion of the project, but was issued a cease and desist order on the earthly part pending further investigation.

After filing his construction permit application, God appeared before the HEPA council to answer questions. When asked why he started the project in the first place, God said he needed a place to put Man on. One member of the HEPA council, a woman, asked if he was being a male chauvinist. God said no, he wasn't, because he would make a woman from the man's rib . . . but that was worse, the woman said.

God said he would make a light to shine over the earth and explained that the light would come from a huge ball of fire. The council gave provisional approval assuming (1) there would be no smog or smoke from the ball of fire; (2) a separate burning permit would be required; and (3) since continuous light would be wasteful of energy, it should be dark half of the time.

God agreed and said he would make firmament amidst the waters. One ecologically radical council member accused Him of double talk and the council tabled action until God would get a firmament permit from the Anglican Bureau of Land Management, rezoning approval from the Earth Council and an earth excavating permit from the County Council.

When everything finally appeared in order, God said he wanted to complete the project in six days. He was told this was completely out of the question. HEPA would require a minimum of 180 days to review the application, an outside firm would have to be hired (paid for by God) to study it for "omissions," and then there would be a public hearing . . . easily taking 10 to 12 months before the final permit could be granted.

And God said, "To Hell with it."

The reason some people know so little is that they don't want to know anything.

Holiday Host Families Sought For Foreign Students from U-M

Twenty-four foreign students and scholars need homes in the Chelsea area for the July 4th week-end.

An International Week-end, planned by the Chelsea Church Women United and the First United Methodist church for the July 4th week-end, is not going as expected for the ladies involved. According to Pat Borders, only 14 families have made reservations to take a foreign student or scholar into their homes for the three-day week-end.

The women had hoped to have the Chelsea Community open their homes to the 38 foreigners and still hope that homes may be found for the remaining 24.

The church women believe that this home visit, part of the program of the Ecumenical Campus Center at the University of Michigan, will give the foreign student and scholar an opportunity to understand and experience American family living. "A first-hand chance to know us as real people," they emphasize. It is also an opportunity for participants to learn about their visitor's culture and country, and an exchange time for language and ideas.

The week-end will begin on Thursday, July 3 when a 6:30 p.m. pot-luck supper will be held at the United Methodist church to meet all the students. Following the supper, each family will take their student home. On Sunday afternoon the students will return to the church at 4 p.m. where a bus will take them back to the U. of M. campus.

Families who feel they would be interested in taking a student or scholar for the three-day week-end may contact Annabelle Closson or any of the key women of Church Women United: Mrs. Harold Rady, Mrs. Merle Leach, Mrs. Tom Ballstrene, Mrs. Daniel Ramsey, Mrs. Norman Hinderer, Mrs. Tom Eisele or Mrs. Robert Thornton.

GRADUATE: Tammy Lynn Greenleaf, daughter of Edwin Greenleaf of 633 S. Main and Shirley Greenleaf of Brandon, Fla., was among the largest high school graduating class in the State of Florida, when she and 820 classmates graduated from Brandon Senior High school, Brandon, Fla. Commencement exercises were held Friday evening, June 6 at the school's Mc Lane Stadium. Tammy was a member of the Hospitality Club for three years and a band member for four years. She plans to attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall, majoring in elementary education.

"At the fairs consumers and producers of Michigan's agricultural bounty meet and observe progress through agricultural, educational and commercial exhibits. The fairs also offer family entertainment."

Ann Arbor Summer Symphony Opens Concert Season Tonight

The second season of the Ann Arbor Summer Symphony will open on Thursday, June 26, with an 8:30 p.m. concert in Hill Auditorium. There is no admission charge for the concert, which will be conducted by Gabriel Villarsurda, and will include Berlioz's "Roman Carnival" overture, Symphony No. 36, the "Linz" of W. A. Mozart, Bach's "Little" Fugue in G, and "Leonore Overture No. 3."

The Summer Symphony has also scheduled concerts on Monday, July 7, at 9 p.m. in the center court of Briarwood Center, and again in Hill Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. on July 24. The concert at Briarwood is one of the rare appearances of a full symphony orchestra in a shopping center, and perhaps is the first time in Michigan that a symphony orchestra of more than 100 members has performed in a shopping center.

The Ann Arbor Summer Symphony was organized last year by several members of the Ann Arbor Symphony to provide a continuation of orchestral music participation by Ann Arbor area residents during the summer months.

Even with the rain, we took in over $200 at the gate," commented Mrs. Charles Trinkle. She added that the Lima Liberty Belles and Brush-Kateers, who sponsored the event, were very pleased and appreciative of everyone who joined in. She said the band is already hired for next year's big Barn Dance.

Crop Insurance Final Reporting Date Is June 30

Area farmers who are Federal Crop Insurance Corp. policyholders are reminded that the final date for reporting their acres of crops for insurance purposes is June 30. Any crops that are reported after this date and suffered previous damage could result in no insurance coverage, explains Albert Dalton, Jr., director of the Contract Service Center, Indianapolis, Ind.

In the five states serviced out of the Indianapolis Center, Federal Crop Insurance Corp. has approximately 22,000 spring crop contracts with farmers, protecting their crops against all natural hazards from planting until harvest.

Applications for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county office on or before July 1, 1975. Any interested producer who can meet these requirements should contact the county office before the final date for filing an application.

Albert J. Cook was a Michigan State University zoologist who would be called an entomologist today. He discovered that kerosene could be emulsified with soap, providing a cheap, effective way to destroy insects without hurting plants. He also pioneered American use of insecticides containing carbolic acid, carbon bisulfide and Paris green. Cook conducted this research in the 1870s.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larreggie Tribian

Cheese is perfect for summer meals, easily prepared with no heat, no fuss. It's versatile, flavorful and one of the most nutritious of foods, rich in protein and calcium.

If you're confused by the many kinds of cheeses, you're not alone. Consumers are constantly asking about the difference in varieties. Dairy officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say cheese falls into six categories. There's natural cheese, process cheese, processed cheese food, processed cheese spread, coldpack or club cheese, and coldpack cheese food.

Natural cheese is made by separating milk solids from milk with a bacterial culture. Then the curd is separated from the whey and aged various ways to produce over 400 natural cheese varieties. MDA dairy officials say it takes 10 pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese.

Process cheese is a blend of fresh and aged natural cheeses. The natural cheeses are shredded, mixed and pasteurized so ripening stops and flavor and texture tend to be uniform. Process cheese may also contain other foods and have smoked flavoring added. It's milder in flavor and spreadable.

Cheese food is much the same as process cheese but it contains less cheese and has nonfat dry milk or whey solids and water added. There's more moisture and a lower milkfat content than in process cheese.

Most spreadable of all the cheeses, as the name implies, is cheese spread. It's processed like cheese food but has a higher moisture and lower milkfat content. Other foods for flavorings may be added to season it.

Coldpack or club cheese is made by grinding fresh and aged natural cheeses and mixing without heating into a smooth spreadable product. Coldpack cheese food includes other dairy ingredients as in process cheese food. Sweetening agents, foods and flavorings may also be added.

East Lansing based scientists have been conducting research almost since the beginning of Michigan State University in 1855 when it was known as the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan. They didn't wait for the founding of the Agricultural Experiment Station. These early investigators made significant contributions to what was called "the pursuit of scientific agriculture."

Theatre Workshop Enrollment Open

Only two days remain for youngsters interested in registering for the Chelsea Player's Theatre Workshop.

This is the second summer the program has been offered. Included in the workshop are beginning and advanced acting classes. Instruction in the elements of stage and more advanced aspects of the stage will be given by Jeff Daniels and Michelle Clear. Joan Yocum will teach dancing and a class in set construction will be taught by Keith Pfeifle. All four took part in the recent production of "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown."

An addition is being made to the program this year in the form of a clowning class taught by Neil Cicklerline. Neil has spent two summers touring with a circus, learning his trade. Recently he has done some professional work in the field.

Youngsters will be divided into three groups. Each group will participate in a children's play written specifically with the groups talent in mind by the work shop instructors.

The first two weeks of classes will be devoted to classes and play rehearsals and the final week exclusively to rehearsals.

Classes will begin Wednesday, July 9. Enrollment is restricted to youngsters between the 4th and 8th grades. Only 48 openings remain.

To enroll, contact DiAnn L'Roy between 10 and 3 p.m. at the Chelsea High School auditorium.

Michigan Makes It Happen in July

Every season is filled with months of happy things to do in Michigan. But . . . when the season is summer and the calendar turns to July, there's almost more things happening than one month can hold, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Almost everyday in almost every place you happen to be or be headed for—in Michigan, chances are, you'll find a fair or festival in full swing. On the ethnic scene, Detroit's riverfront program for July leads-off with the Far Eastern Festival July 4-6. Next comes the Captive Nations July 11-13, the Afro-American Festival July 18-20 and the India Festival July 25-27. The annual Greek Festival in Detroit's Greektown is set for July 4-7, and Polish Festival Days will be July 31-August 2 at Bronson.

If strawberry shortcake is your dish, mark July 3-5 on your calendar and Manistee on your map for the National Strawberry Festival. More tasty treats and over 100 events are scheduled for the National Cherry Festival, July 7-12, at Traverse City. This year marks the 49th edition of the Festival which celebrates Michigan's status as the world's number one producer of red tart cherries. Included in the festivities will be three major parades—frog and turtle races, Water Ski Show, tennis tournament, a potpourri of children's events, band concerts and the Cherry Lane Little Shops where visitors will find an extraordinary variety of cherry products.

Still on the food front, the Sebewaing Sugar Festival and (we're not kidding) the Sauerkraut Festival at Bridgeport are both set for July 11-13. Fireworks, polka bands, country western show, a big parade and free sauerkraut are some of the highlights planned at Bridgeport. Then you can "desert" the month at Eaton Rapids' Ice Cream Festival, July 31-Aug. 2.

If your taste in events runs more to the "out-of-the-ordinary" variety, July is generously seasoned. Come July 4-6, there's the Horse-Shoe Pitching Meet in Putnam Park, Nashville and also the International Frisbee Tournament, being held this year at Cliff's Ridge Ski Area, Marquette. One of the traditional skills of childhood inspires the World Stone Skipping Championship, July 5, on Mackinac Island. On July 6, racing is the word with the 100 Mile Enduro Motorcycle Races at Gladwin and the National Drag Boat Association Race at Holloway Reservoir Regional Park near Flint. Then there's the Antique Gasoline Engine Show, July 12-13, at Charlton Park, Hastings; the Harborside Flea Market in East Park, Charlotte, N.C., July 14-15; The Potomac Bowmen Archery Tournament, July 19-20, in County Center Recreation Park, Kalamazoo; the Girls Little League Baseball State Tournament, July 27 at Cheboygan; and the Thornapple Folk Music Revival, July 26-27, Charlton Park, Hastings.

In the "annual favorite" category, there's also a lot to offer. The Blue Water Festival at Port Huron, July 7-13, is one of them and always includes a variety of activities for all age groups. There's a little bit of nostalgia and a lot of "top-notch" entertainment aboard the Chesaning Showboat July 14-19 and the Lowell Showboat July 21-26. This year, the first annual Showboat Art Fair will make its debut when the boat docks at Lowell. Some 200 Michigan artists are expected to participate. Incidentally, this year's Lowell Showboat headliners will be "The New Four Freshmen" and John Gary. One of show businesses favorite performers, Donald O'Connor will have the star spotlight on the Chesaning Showboat.

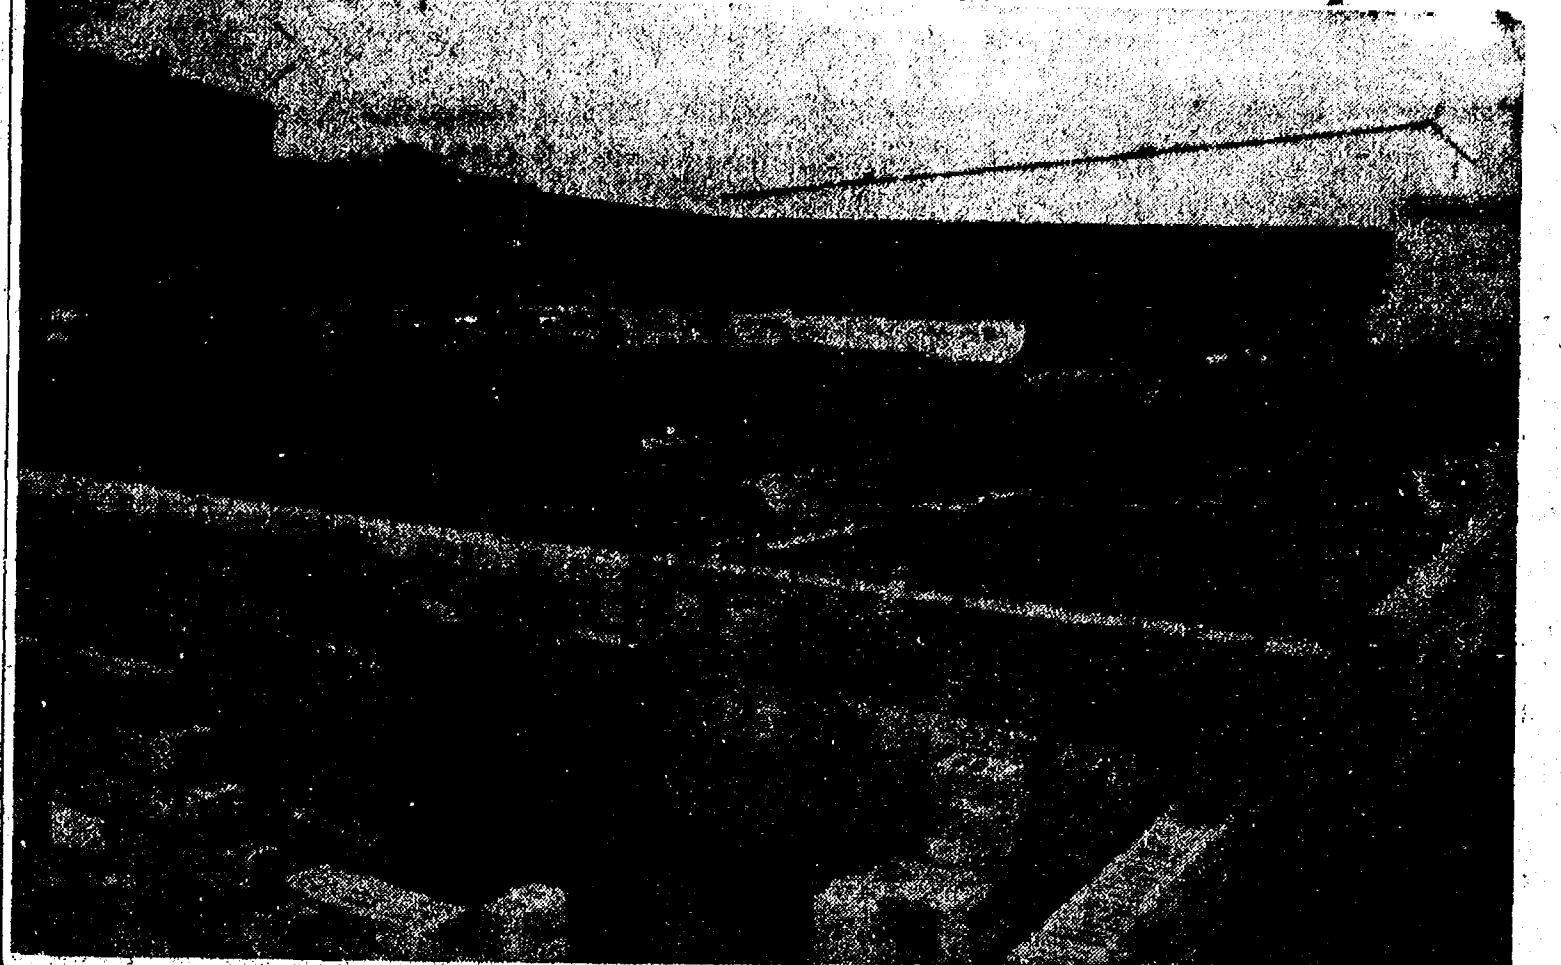

Speaking of water craft, a fair size contingent of fresh water sailors will be manning their tillers and hoisting sail July 19 at Port Huron for the annual race to Mackinac Island. Inland, July 25-26, the competition will be in "paddle power" among canoeists in the International Canoe Race down the AuSable River from Grayling to Oscoda. Then, July 26-Aug. 3, the gentlemen of the nation's oldest uniformed service will be in full dress to pipe you aboard Coast Guard Festival at Grand Haven. The festival program includes open house aboard Coast Guard and Navy ships, a Festival of Stars, crafts fair, dance, exhibits, carnival and much, much more.

You're apt to have a strong urge to throw your head back and yodel if you stop at Gaylord July 15-19 and join the festivities of the 11th annual Alpenfest. There will be polkas, pie eating and pipe smoking contests plus a wide variety of family oriented fun things to enjoy.

If arts and crafts or antiques are your "thing," July is loaded with shows. To give you a small sampling, the Dancing Hippopotamus Arts and Crafts Festival is scheduled for July 3-6, near Ocklawaha; an Antique Show and Sale at Elk Rapids and an Arts and Crafts Show at Clare July 4-5; the (Continued on page 14)

School Building Progress Report

SWIMMING ALL YEAR AROUND will be made possible once the pool, now under construction at the Beach Middle school is complete. The 42' by 104' pool will sport a four foot wide mobile bulkhead which will allow the pool to be divided into a 25-yard or 25-meter pool. The bulkhead will also allow for a 42' by 30' shallow area for children's swimming. There will be seating for 600 spectators, and locker and shower facilities for 200 men and women. At present, the foundations, footing and pouring of walls for the pool, and part of the exterior masonry walls have been finished. School officials say they hope the pool will be complete in January or February of next year.

TWO NEW ROOMS FOR SCIENCE are under construction at Chelsea High school. The two rooms, a lab and a lecture facility, will complete the science building, where there are presently four existing science labs.

TEN NEW CLASSROOMS at CHS will be housed within this structure now under construction on the high school grounds. The building will house a new instructional materials center, better known as a Media Center (library) and a business education room. The new Media Center will allow for an increase of at least 5,000 volumes to the library, a mechanical room, conference room, work office and audio-visual storage room. According to Fred Mills, Chelsea School District business manager, this new building will allow the high school to revert to the seven period 55 minutes per class day with five minutes for passing. During the past school year, the students operated on a nine period day with 43½ minutes per class. Mills says they are pushing to have the building completed by September. The masonry is 90 percent complete and the erected steel structure 80 percent complete. Mechanical and electrical installation are proceeding.

Friends of Library Begin Campaign for Memberships

The 1975 membership drive of the Friends of McKune Memorial Library is now in progress. Contributions received from this annual campaign go toward improving and beautifying the local library.

According to Miriam Klemmer, president of the Friends Association, some of the Friends' past years projects have been landscaping the front lawn, purchasing new furnishings and carpeting for the upstairs club room, in addition to carpeting the children's wing and stairway.

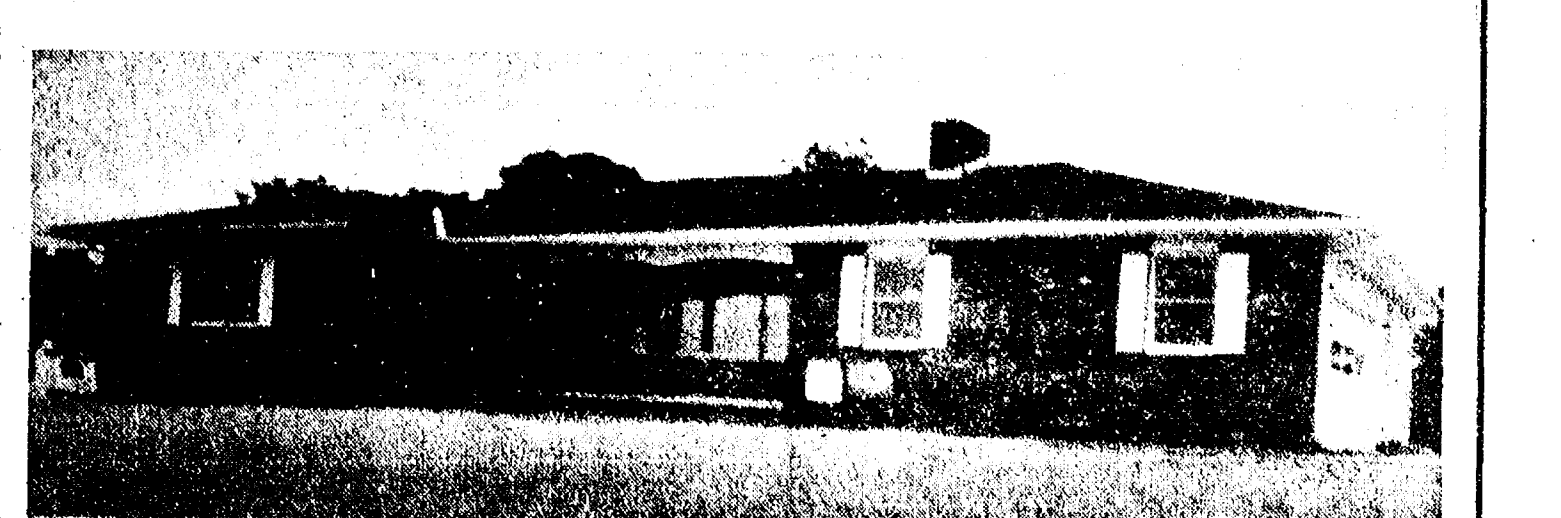

A sizeable portion of last year's contributions, which amounted to $787, will be used to remodel the Historical Room.

Mrs. Klemmer extends an invitation to the community to visit the library at any time to see the improvements which have been made possible by contributions received from the annual drives conducted by the Friends of the Library.

The ability to hear, like life itself, is a God given gift which once lost or destroyed cannot be regained, hearing specialists note.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm

Piled high atop a mound of vanilla ice cream, topped with luscious dairy whipped cream, or eaten fresh from the vine, Michigan strawberries are a delicious treat.

The state is fourth nationally in the production of plump, red berries, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. In 1974 about 17.7 million pounds were grown on 3,300 acres of farmland. Valued at more than $5.5 million, most of the crop went to the fresh market.

While Michigan strawberries are a delight to behold, growing and harvesting them commercially is not an easy task. They are one of the few remaining crops in the state that require hand labor. With rising labor costs, production is slowly diminishing but, to prevent the loss of strawberries as a major commercial crop, researchers are working to develop a mechanical harvester.

Meanwhile most of the berries are harvested by migrant workers who are skilled at pinching off the stem just above the fruit without mashing or bruising it. Many growers, too, are turning their strawberry fields into pick-your-own operations and inviting the public to pick what they need at minimum cost.

Strawberry plants are grown on acres of sandy soil, with commercial production centered in Alpena, Breckenridge, Houghton, Leelanau, Manistee and Van Buren counties. Acreage is covered by pipe irrigation to reduce the danger of losing plants because of frost or drought.

The irrigation process works this way. If there is danger of frost, a fine mist is sprayed over the plants to prevent blossom injury. As the water freezes, it releases small quantities of heat that keep the blossoms from freezing. If additional moisture is needed, the irrigation equipment will create artificial rain, and on very hot days, it cools the fields to keep the berries firm and in good condition.

From Mrs. Cecil Newcomb, Windsor, Nova Scotia, Canada: I remember my first trip to town, thirty miles away. I was sixteen. Father sent me to borrow a horse and buggy, nearly two miles away. I walked home to tell him we could have the outfit, then walked with mother and father to get it.

We drove twelve miles to the boat and two hours later arrived in town. My most vivid memory of the boat ride is the stares of other passengers at my greatly oversized ankles. I had stepped in a wasp nest the day before and both ankles were swollen so even I was not normally a freak of nature.

I remember the imposing store fronts, the wax figures in clothing stores and the big metal horse in the harness shop. We sat at a counter in a drug store and were served foaming glasses of ice cream soda. I had some difficulty with mine until it was pointed out to me that I was supposed to use a straw to drink through. I felt it was a childish thing to do, but I did it.

Crossing the river on the way back a sail swung around and someone shouted, "Look out for the boom", which was dangerously close to my head. A strange woman joked, "It would be wood against wood." I forgave her years later.

A GREAT GENERATION

This is a wonderful generation to belong to. Everything that's wrong is the fault of the generation before us and will have to be corrected by the generation which comes after us.

Phone Ahead For Space in Campgrounds

A tight budget shouldn't prohibit fun-filled vacations at Michigan's resort areas when families stay at privately operated campgrounds this summer, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Private parks offer a wide range of attractions and services for campers who like roughing it as well as ones who like their comforts. And most are within one gas tankful of the state's major metropolitan areas," stated Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Parks listed in Auto Club's 1975 private campground guide offer 22,113 sites and nightly rates from $1 at Little Fawn near Scottville to $7.50 at Northport's Timber Shores. Most prices are $4 to $5 nightly, but may not include electricity.

"If you're without camping equipment, 51 of the 338 private parks Auto Club lists rent trailers on a daily or weekly basis. In most cases, you need only supply linens. The rest is furnished," Ratke added.

In addition, he said, "235 offer trailer storage, 213 have at-site water, 123 have sewage hookups for recreational vehicles and 273 let you leave a site for the season. None of these services are available at state and federal sites."

Most take reservations and either have pool or lake swimming, with several offering both. Coho Bend near Manistee is an example.

It offers four trailers sleeping four to six persons and renting for $15 and $18 per day or $85 and $90 per week. Linens aren't supplied.

Coho Bend also has 60 campsites with electricity and water as well as many rustic spaces. You can lease one of 22 from April 1 to December for $295, although all these are already taken," Ratke said.

A one-acre pond with sand bottom and beach is available. Anglers can rent boats with motors on the Manistee River for $15 per day, or motorless craft for $6 per day. Dock rental is $5 per week if you trailer your own.

A group pavilion, sanitary disposal station and a store also are on park grounds. Reservations are accepted.

"In all, about 70,000 spaces now are open to campers. These include more than 17,500 in 239 state park and forest campgrounds, about 2,300 in 106 national park and forest campgrounds and some 8,200 in about 100 county, township and city sites," Ratke estimated.

See for yourself how our top-rated Darts stand up against the competition offered by our major competitors.	According to test results published in EPA's Buyers Guide, Dart 6's got better gas mileage in both city and highway driving than the most popular 6's offered by major competitors. The Ford and GM products listed below attained identical mileage and are ranked alphabetically.	Dart is the runaway leader in trunk capacity for both two-door and four-door models.	According to recent Automotive Market Reports, one-year-old two-door Darts are worth more and have a higher percentage of resale on original sticker price than comparable models of the compacts listed below.	According to Automotive Industries' Roominess Index, Dart two-door hardtops and four-door sedans are tops in interior roominess.	For twelve full months.

St. Louis School Notes

The boys at St. Louis school have returned home for the summer, however, many of them will return for the school's summer program which will begin the first of July and continue through the end of the month. The summer program is designed to give the boys an hour a day in light academics, instruction in arts and crafts, swimming, group sports and recreational activities and field trips.

Prior to the closing of the school year, the boys were very busy winding up Special Olympics preparation and planning and taking trips to Toronto, and Niagara Falls for the older boys, and to Sault Ste. Marie for the younger boys. Both trips were sponsored and financed by the Parent's Organization at St. Louis school.

Father Umberto Mellare, principal, reported proudly that the boys received first prize, a plaque, for their parade at the Regional Special Olympics competition. Other competitors were special olympians from Monroe, Livingston and Washtenaw counties.

According to Father Mellare, the boys were awarded the plaque by Mrs. Sue Wilson, Regional Director of the Special Olympics. Mrs. Wilson announced to a crowd of more than 2,000 persons, that the St. Louis School of Chelsea was number one among the parade groups.

In competition at the state level, the boys from St. Louis returned to Chelsea with four gold medals, five silver medals and three bronze medals. Eight special olympians qualified for the state affair, gathering the 12 medals among themselves.

John McCarten received a gold medal for his work on the balance beam; Anthony Osebold was awarded a gold medal in tumbling. Receiving two medals, one gold or the 50-yard dash and another silver medal for his performance in tumbling, was Robert Sweet. Another multiple recipient was John Maccarato who took a gold medal in bowling and a silver medal in the 50-yard freestyle. Helsealte David Nelson, took three silver medals; one in the 5-yard freestyle, another in the 5-yard backstroke and a third in the balance beam. Ricky Hill was awarded a bronze medal for his fine work in the standing broad jump. David Balogh received two bronze medals, one in bowling and the second in the balance beam. Father Mellare, who has been principal at St. Louis School for seven years, said, he hopes that some of the boys will have the opportunity to go to the International Special Olympics competition, however, the committee has not yet notified the school.

A. Lincoln Articles At Greenfield Village

Here's a February milestone in America's history. Almost every schoolboy and schoolgirl learns that Abraham Lincoln was born in February, 1809. But, not many are aware of another milestone in Lincoln's life that was passed 52 years later, in February of 1861. In that month, he made the trip from his home in Springfield, Ill., to Washington, D. C., in preparation for his inauguration on March 4th as the 16th President of the United States. At the Henry Ford Museum, you and your family can see a number of things that were used by Abraham Lincoln, along with other important milestones in our country's history. You can preview America's Bicentennial Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

HCMA Board Elects Officers For Next Year

The Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan (Park) Authority has announced officers for 1975-76.

Chairman—William E. Kreger (Wayne county) who has served since 1964. Kreger is the president of Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Port Huron and resides in Wayne county.

Vice Chairman—Jesse A. Rutherford (Washtenaw county), who has served since 1971.

Treasurer—Clifton W. Heller (Livingston county), who has served since 1973.

These officers were re-elected for a one-year term ending in June of 1976 (and previously served one year from June of 1974).

Rutherford retired as recreation director for the City of Ypsilanti in 1974 and he is a member of the Board of Trustees of the National Recreation and Park Association, with headquarters in Arlington, Va. He has been a resident of Ypsilanti since 1944.

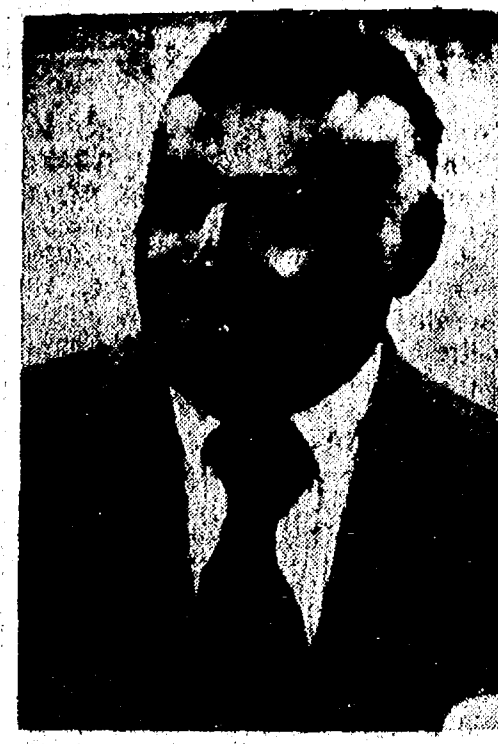

Heller is the owner of Heller's Flowers in Howell, and six times served as the Mayor of the City of Howell. He has been active in civic, community and county affairs since 1940, when he first became a resident of Livingston county.

The Authority has 10 Metroparks serving the citizens of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne, including Kensington Metropark near Brighton, Hudson Mills, Dexter-Huron and DeWitt Metroparks northwest of Ann Arbor and Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!

Austin, Tex.—Mrs. Albert L. Herrera, 40, after the birth of her 20th child, said, "I think this is enough... but if the good Lord gives me more, I will receive them gladly." All have been single births.

The faults of the younger generation stem from the faults of the older generation.

MEATS SUITED TO OUTDOOR COOKING

There are many cuts of meat suited to outdoor cooking and summer menus. Any meat cuts suitable for broiling, pan-broiling, pan-frying or roasting can be successfully cooked over the coals. But no matter what meat cut you use, your success with outdoor cooking lies in the proper use of equipment and cooking procedures.

Steaks and chops can be cooked on the grill, but they should be at least three-quarters to an inch thick for best results and to prevent drying out.

You should use a shielded or covered rotisserie to cook a roast. Allow about three-quarters to a pound per person for bone cuts. Boneless cuts require from one-third to three-quarters of a pound per person.

Cooking time for a large boneless rib roast may be 3 1/2 to 5 hours. A meat thermometer is the best guide to determine the doneness of roasts.

Low to moderate temperatures should be used for cooking meats outdoors. Coals should glow rather than flame. The amount of heat and the cooking rate can be controlled by adjusting the distance of the rotisserie or grill from the coals. Wind can also affect the heat.

U-M PUBLICATIONS, RADIO, TV

Four campus publications receive wide distribution: the Michigan Daily, a student newspaper; the University Record, published by the University and available to the entire campus community; the UM News, a bimonthly, noninstructional-staff newspaper; and Michigan TODAY, a quarterly newspaper distributed to Michigan Alumni. The University operates FM radio stations WUOM (91.7) and WCBN (student-managed) in Ann Arbor, WVGR (104.1) in Grand Rapids, and a Television Center which produces program for national distribution.

When athletics become more important than studies, the tail is running away with the dog.

Once again, the leadership in the legislature is working to delay the 1974 Campaign Control Act, the most comprehensive campaign reform bill on the books in Michigan. This act was previously delayed from going into effect April 1, 1975 and now the Democrats who control the legislature are trying to delay the new effective date from July 1 to Sept. 1, 1975.

Christmas Trees Get Their Shape in Summer

Those beautifully shaped Christmas trees you buy every autumn don't get that way without a lot of help.

"Pruning, shaping and shearing are what make our Christmas trees attractive, and practically all such trees sold in Michigan come from plantations where this is done," explains Dr. Melvin Koelling, Extension Service forester at Michigan State University.

Koelling says shearing of Michigan Christmas trees is conducted annually from June 20 to July 20. During this period, the tips of all outer branches are cut back to develop the desired taper and to increase foliage density.

"Most trees are sheared so that their base is about two-thirds of their height," says Koelling. "The terminal leader at the top of the tree is also cut back to the desired length, which is usually 10-12 inches. In addition, all lateral branches should and must be built on the basis that if you have nothing to hide you should have no problem disclosing who contributes to your campaign.

The current efforts of the Common Cause political reform group are considerably weaker than the act which is already on the books. What a joke it would be if the Democratic leadership in Lansing can convince the public to approve postponing the strong Campaign Control Act of 1974 until the weaker version of the Common Cause reform package is completed.

Again the only real losers would be the voters and the taxpayers who take it in the neck everytime anyway.

branches below the terminal whorl should be cut back 3-5 inches shorter than the terminal branch."

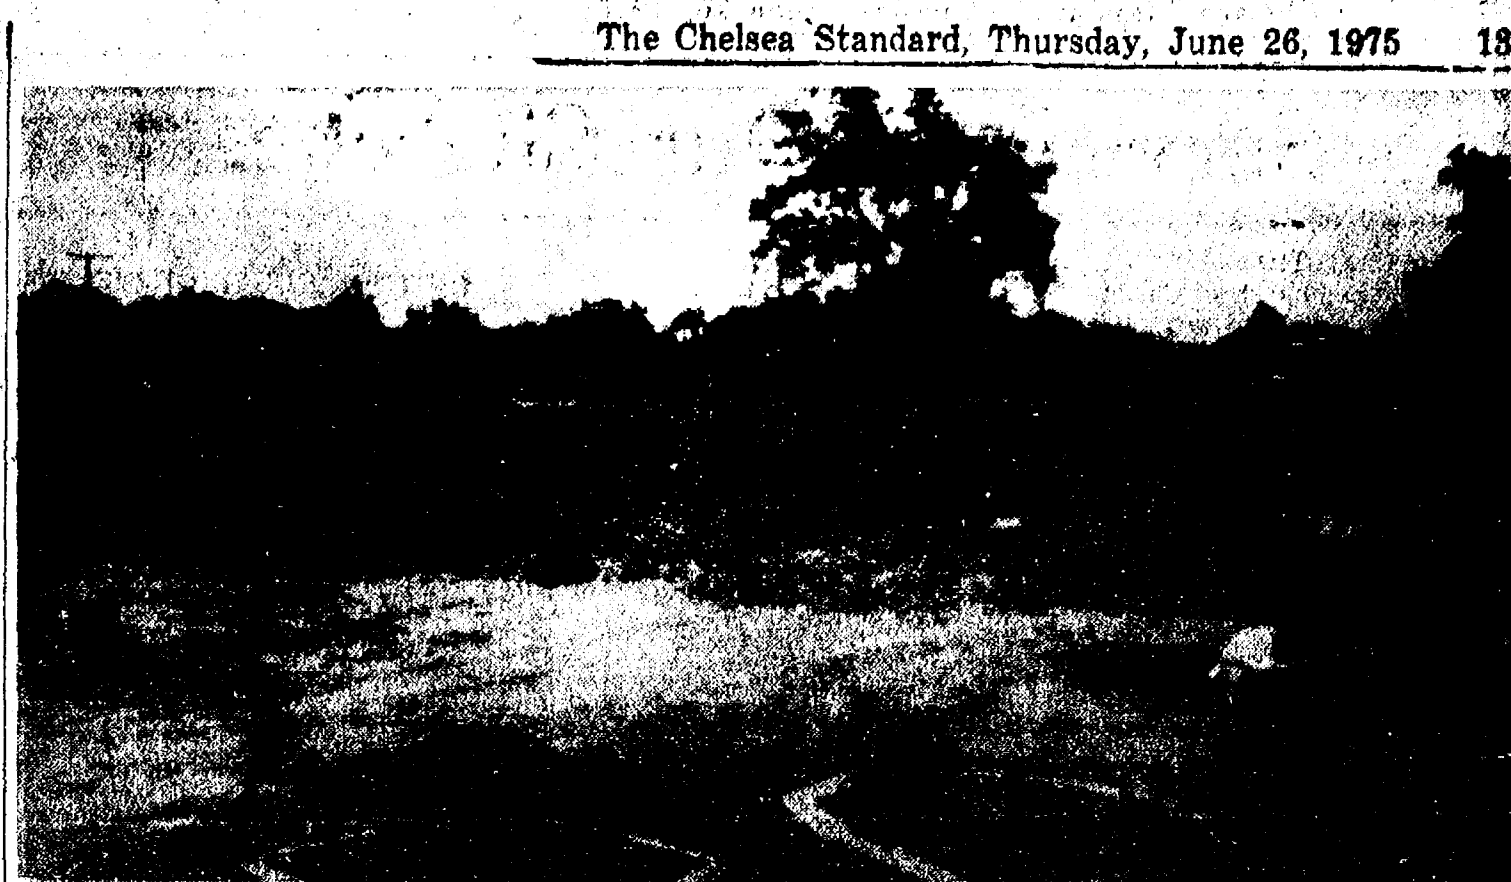

The MSU forester advises tree growers to remove the lowest whorl of branches from the tree during the first shearing, which occurs when the tree is three years old. This will permit the development of a branch-free base that will fit easily into a tree stand.

Once shearing is begun, it should be continued annually until the tree is sold at the age of 8 or 10 years, says Koelling. Homeowners with trees on their property can follow the same procedure as commercial growers.

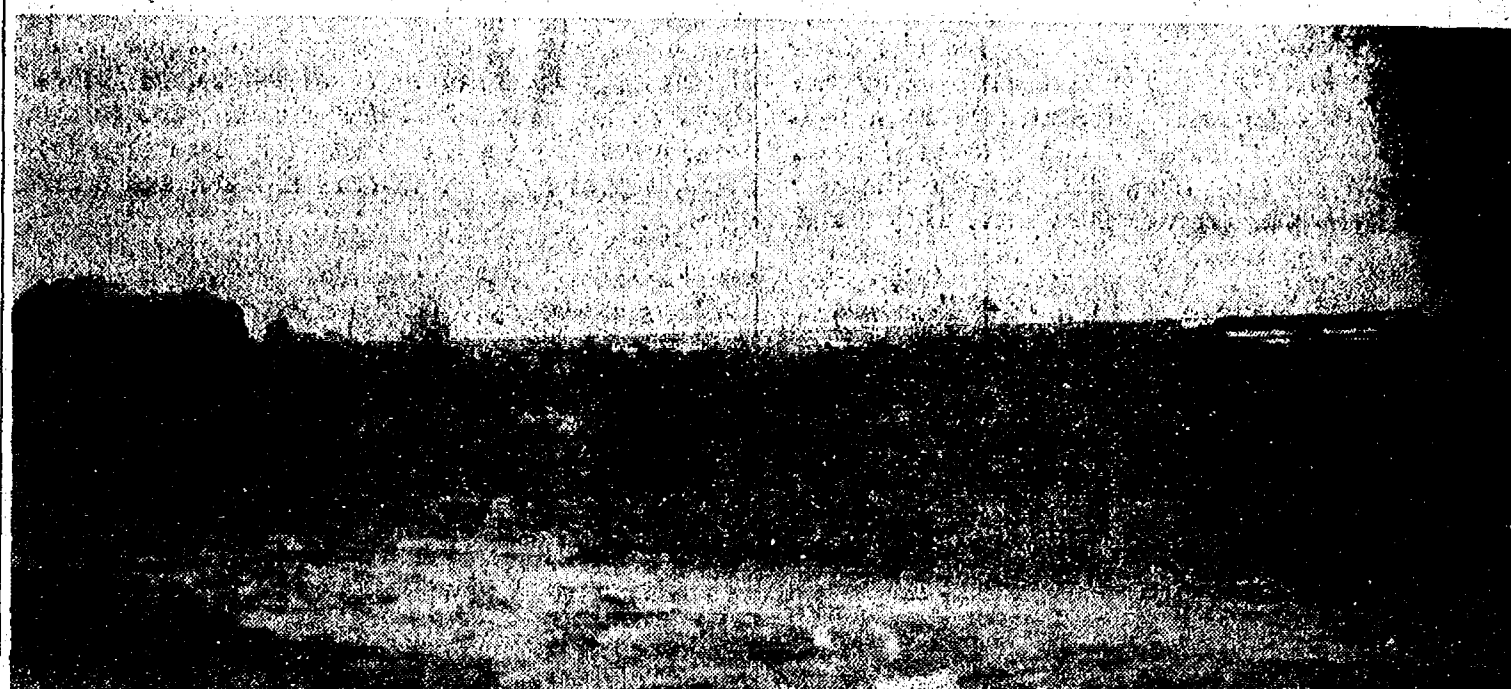

BAKING POWDER POWERS

Face powder may help incanting a man but it takes baking powder to keep him.

You have to do a lot of reading and some thinking to discover the truth about most anything.

MORE CLASSROOMS and an Instructional Materials Center may be seen in this photograph of North school. The Media Center is to the far left of the photo; the building with the narrow oblong windows. Adjacent to that building on the right, is a building now under construction which will house more classrooms.

WEST SIDE OF NORTH SCHOOL: The photographed section of this building will house three new classrooms and a large music room. The music room will be soundproofed and also have a dividing partition that will allow it to become two rooms.

double double your money

with compound interest

the one
sure way to build a fortune

One of the most important, but overlooked, features of savings, is the magical effect of compound interest. If money is deposited and the interest it earns never withdrawn, the money grows at an amazing rate. Money in most Ann Arbor Federal Savings certificates doubles every 10 years.

Thus, if a person 40 years old with $25,000 (in savings, coins, cash value insurance, etc.) puts it into a certificate account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings it will grow to $50,000 by age 50. By age 60 it will have grown to $100,000 without adding a penny of his paycheck.

For the person in his mid-fifties, with retirement coming up in ten years, compounding has even greater significance. Say he has actual assets of $100,000. If he converts these into cash, he can have $200,000 in ten years and realize an interest income for life of $10,000 to $15,000 thereafter.

But what about the person starting out, the twenty five year old. By putting $50 a month in a 5 1/2% passbook savings account each month and leaving the interest to accumulate and compound, he will have $21,190 by age 45. Then if he transfers the money to a certificate account (and never adds another penny) the money will grow to $87,380 by age 65.

On the other hand if one continues to add to his savings account regularly, it is well within the realm of possibility to accumulate $300,000 or $400,000 or more.

At Ann Arbor Federal Savings your dollars are not subject to market fluctuations, so you are sure when you reach the age at which you want to start using some of your money or earnings it will be there.

CONSCIENCE WINS

Lafayette, Ind.—After 35 years, a former student sent $50 and a letter confessing a theft committed in 1931. The university president said the letter stated the theft made the sender feel unworthy of taking communion.

SOUTH SIDE OF NORTH ELEMENTARY: area is now under construction. This area is adjacent to this side of North school, an outside storage adjacent to existing classrooms (far left).

CENTENNIAL FARM: Standing before their home built in 1853 on land now declared by the Secretary of State Richard Austin to be a centennial farm are Mildred and Chester Notten. The couple have lived on the property all their married lives. Chester was born here. They stand before the original walls constructed in 1853. . . . Notten says they are made of stucco, 10 inches thick. In his hands, he holds a testimonial to the farm ownership by one family for more than 100 years, signed by Gov. William Milliken and other officials.

Chester Notten Home Receives Centennial Farm Designation

The Notten farm, owned by Chester G. and Mabel M. (Kalmbach) Notten of 14902 Reimen Rd., has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Division of Michigan History.

The farm, located in Grass Lake township, Jackson county has been in the possession of the family since 1836. It was originally purchased July 5, 1836 by Ehlert Notten, a relative of the present owners. However, its present owner, Chester, tells the story with a few changes.

According to him, the story begins with his grandfather's twin brother, who came to the United States and settled in New York. He joined the militia and was sent to Florida to fight Indians. "They didn't fight Indians," Chester recalled from family stories, "but he was given 40 acres of land in Michigan." Chester then pointed across the dirt road to a marsh about 150 yards away. Apparently Chester's grandfather's brother wasn't too anxious to move to Michigan and "take up" residence on the 40 acres, so when brother John (Chester's grandfather) came to this country, he was offered and accepted the parcel.

Arriving in Michigan John discovered that the 40 acres was all marsh and purchased 200 acres under a land grant signed by President Andrew Jackson.

According to Notten, the first building on the property was a log cabin, which is no longer standing. Today there are two homes: one built in 1853 by Chester's grandfather and the other built by Chester years later.

Chester was born in the same house that he and his wife now live in.

The home has been added to since its original construction in 1853. Chester pointed out the older section of the whitewashed home, a 10-inch thick stucco wall.

Chester has been farming on the land for 70 years. And today he still farms some of it with assistance from his son, Henry, of Michigan Center.

Chester and his wife, Mildred, were married in 1925. They have lived on the property all their married lives and explained that the 240-acre farm was divided among Chester and another relative, Albert Notten. The section designated by the Secretary of State, Richard H. Austin as a Centennial farm, covers 135 acres of land, much of it wooded.

Aside from their son, Henry, the Nottens have a daughter, Mildred (Notten) Davis, of Bowling Green, Ky. The pair pointed to a tree on the front of the property, "that one there is a Kentucky coffee tree. It doesn't do too well here."

The green and gold sign that marks the farm, stipulates that, "a Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more."

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History and the large metal markers are provided by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power.

Since the program was first inaugurated in 1948, there are more than 3,000 Michigan farms certified as Centennial Farms.

For this purpose, the Michigan History Division considers a farm to be either 10 or more acres having estimated farm product sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres having estimated sales of at least $250 yearly. A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

Applications for Centennial Farm recognition are obtainable from: Centennial Farm Program, Division of Michigan History, Michigan Department of State, Lansing 48918.
