Council Rams Through Freer Rd. Projects

Despite protests by numerous residents of Freer Rd. to the construction of the curb, gutter and sidewalks on the west side of Freer Rd., the project is expected to begin some time next week.

In a heated discussion at Tuesday night's Village Council meeting, residents objected to the council's decision, adamantly saying that the sidewalk will not serve any purpose, it will only encourage traffic and speeding problems, already existent on Freer Rd., and that they were concerned about the cost. The group asked that the council reconsider their decision.

After further discussion during which residents accused the council of refusing to compromise and not giving "on your (their) side," Trustee Dave Rowe moved to reconsider the request; he was seconded by Trustee Wood.

Discussion followed. Residents expressed their grievances, the trustees replied. Trustee Johnson felt that the curb and gutter were necessary to maintain the road. He added that the sidewalks should be put in as provisions for travel, without having to use the road or yards and that the entire question was really one of "safety."

Richard Borton, while stating that he would not reiterate the feelings of the other councilmen, added that "Stockbridge and Manchester don't have sidewalks and look cruddy." At that point, Borton was accused of voting yes on the proposal because it was a matter of "status."

Tom Dimoch felt that the proposal was good "for the total community." Rowe said that the council should change their mind on the issue of constructing sidewalk. "It's time for all forms of government, not just at the local level, to stop legislating for the public when the public doesn't want it."

Rowe moved to delete construction of the sidewalk in the proposal. His motion was seconded. Council voted three ways and two ayes to delete the sidewalk from the proposal. Certification of the assessment rolls followed.

Fair Still Needs More Baby Animals

Though the response for animals for the Baby Animal Display at the Chelsea Community Fair has been great—more are needed, according to Dave Nicewicz, Ag teacher at Chelsea High School. Still needed, are rabbits, chickens, ducks, dairy calves and pigs, also puppies and kittens, and a raccoon.

These animals will get lots of T.L.C. (Tender Loving Care).

Those who have animals that children might enjoy are urged to contact Nicewicz at 475-1788.

The Fair Board is also asking anyone interested in participating in the Demolition Derby to pick up an application blank at Wolverine Bar, Frisinger Realty, from Earl Heller or you may call Ruth Leach at 475-7329. The Derby will be held Thursday evening, Aug. 28.

Exhibitors may pick up Exhibit or Numbers at the Fair office this Friday or Saturday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. or the office will be open Aug. 18 through 22 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and on Thursday, Aug. 21 and Friday, Aug. 22, 6 to 9 p.m.

The Fair starts Tuesday, Aug. 26 and runs through Saturday, Aug. 30.

Cross Country Team Practice Starts Monday

Attention Harriers! All candidates for the 1975 Chelsea High school cross country team are to report ready for practice Monday, Aug. 11 at 7:30 a.m. at the high school track.

Coach Pat Clarke reminds candidates that they must have a current physical and be dressed to run.

Any boy or girl, freshman or senior is eligible to try out for the squad.

Wayne Stahl Breaks Neck in Swim Accident

Wayne Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Stahl of 9437 Lakeview Dr., Pinckney, is listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, following a diving accident Sunday which broke his neck.

The 24-year-old Stahl was diving off a raft at Portage Lake when the accident occurred. He dove into five feet of water. According to his mother, he took a racing dive off the raft, his hand hit bottom first then his head, snapping his neck back and breaking it.

He was removed from the lake by two friends with whom he was swimming. An ambulance was called to transport him to the hospital.

Mrs. Stahl said that her son's condition has improved since Sunday evening. He is scheduled for surgery tomorrow (Friday) at St. Joseph's.

Chelsea Teams Eliminated in Tournament

Last week-end Chelsea teams were knocked out of the Class D Fast-Pitch tournament as each of the three remaining contenders were defeated.

Bennett Installation was defeated by Musio's Tile, and Jiffy Mixes was beaten by league rival Ann Arbor Centerless. Thus, Centerless advanced into the last four teams of the tournament, but that was as far as they could go as they were defeated by Don's Body Shop.

The tournament ended Sunday when Musio's Tile defeated Don's to become the district winner.

Reds Capture Girls Softball Championship

Monday, Aug. 4 the Reds defeated the Mets, 15-8, in girls softball action to claim the girls softball championship. The Reds were led to victory by Veronica Satterthwaite who had four hits, including two triples. Sue Satterthwaite also had four hits; two of which were doubles. Tammy Downer threw in four additional hits to complete the Reds' attack.

The Reds were coached by Markeita Satterthwaite who was assisted by Mrs. Bucholz and her son, Mark.

The Reds finished the season 7-4, while the Mets final standing is 6-5.

According to Pat Clarke who directed this year's girls softball program, more than 100 girls participated. Clarke added that the program is growing each year.

Girls Basketball Practice Sessions Start Aug. 18

Chelsea High school girls basketball practice will be held daily from 8-10 a.m. beginning Aug. 18. Interested players must have a current physical to be turned in at the first practice. Girls are to come dressed for practice.

Girls who cannot begin practice at this time, who have questions or who would like to be managers, may call Miss Turner at 769-7812 or Mrs. Bradbury at 475-2568.

Meal Service Needs Volunteer Drivers

Home Meal Service of Chelsea is in need of drivers to deliver meals to the disabled and to those unable to prepare their own meals in the Chelsea area.

The service especially needs two drivers for Thursday and one driver for Friday.

Persons who are interested in driving permanently or temporarily should call Mrs. James Hoffmeyer at 475-8014 or Mary Ann Merkel at 475-8621.

CHARLES LANCASTER doing what he knows best. Owner and head pharmacist of Chelsea Drug for 27 years, Charles Lancaster is slowly fading out of the picture . . . at least in terms of man hours on the job. Lancaster will continue to serve as vice-president to the Board of Directors. Chelsea Drug incorporated earlier this year.

Charles Lancaster Retiring As Owner of Chelsea Drug

The familiar face behind the counter filling prescriptions for Chelseaites for 27 years won't be there too much longer. Charles M. Lancaster is retiring. Or should we say retired . . . for it was formal last May. However, Lancaster has been around Chelsea Drug quite regularly since then. Seems he can't get it out of his blood. Who could after 27 years in one place?

So Lancaster has chosen to do it slowly. Following his formal retirement in May, he simply began to work fewer hours. And now in his last week on the schedule, he maintains that he will still be around to "fill in."

And to perform his duties as vice-president of the Board, Chelsea Drugs is incorporated.

Other board members are president, Daniel Murphy, better known as "Murphy" and Dale Schumann, secretary and treasurer.

Fast-Pitch Standings Still Not Determined

The 1975 adult softball season comes to an end this week with only the Fast-Pitch League as yet undecided.

Walt's Barber Shop has the Class A Slow-Pitch safely locked away, while Bollinger Sanitation has finally taken control of the Class B League as they have continued to win while Federal Screw Works has dropped their last four games.

The Fast-Pitch League race has been tight all season with at least four teams usually in contention. At the end of last week, 3-D Sales who was only a game out, broke a three-way tie for first as they defeated Bennett Installation. However, this still left Jiffy Mixes and Ann Arbor Centerless tied without the prospect of the two teams meeting except if a play-off should be required at the end of the season.

Monday night, the tie was broken as Jiffy fell victim to Thompson's Pizza who has been playing the spoiler during the last half of the season. This leaves Ann Arbor Centerless alone in first place with Taking over is Dan Murphy a familiar face. Almost as familiar as Lancaster's, though Lancaster has one year up on him. According to Murphy and to Lancaster who nods in agreement . . . Dan Murphy began with the drugstore at the ripe age of 13. "He took me into the business," remarked "Murphy."

Lancaster received his degree in pharmacy from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, in Missouri. He later operated a store in Illinois. World War II came and he was whisked off into the submarine corps of the Navy. Following the war, he came to Michigan, where he worked for Cummings for three years. It was there that he met his wife, the former Helen Grabowski of Chelsea. They were married in 1947 and moved to Chelsea where Lancaster bought Chelsea Drug from Vincent Burg in 1948. He has been there ever since. Remodeling the place three times, he eventually took out the Italian marble-topped soda fountain that was a popular stop-off for many a Chelseaite. One party remarked that "they made the best chocolate sodas around." Lancaster nodded and said; "a lot of people were mad at me over that."

However, according to Lancaster, the growing store needed space and there was nowhere to go.

In the beginning, Lancaster told that his wife, Helen, helped him out in his new business. The two worked side by side sometimes as many as 16 hours a day, until Helen stayed home to rear the four little Lancasters.

Lancaster has served as president of the Kiwanis Club, Fair Board, the Chamber of Commerce and the Washtenaw County Pharmaceutical Association. He has served as secretary to the school board and has been a member of the church council at St. Paul's. But not all at once!

While he may not be in his most recognizable niche behind bottles of liquid, tablets and capsules . . . Lancaster is sure to be seen around town. Even if it is just to take a leisurely stroll up and down Main St.

He is now serving at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Ft. Lesley J. McNair.

A 1950 graduate of Chelsea High school, the colonel received his BA degree in 1954 from Michigan State University and was commissioned upon completion of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He earned his MS degree in personnel administration in 1968 at the George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Colonel Toney's wife, Carolyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Carl Bates of 2700 Parker Rd.

Sidewalk Art Festival, Sale Starts Friday

Some 58 booths of arts, crafts, store goods and good things to eat will grace Chelsea's Main St. tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday as the Village's third annual Sidewalk Festival gets underway.

Hours for the Sidewalk Festival are Friday, 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

According to Karen Johnson, who has been co-ordinating the event along with Eve Policht and David Streiter, the booths will feature such things as crewel smocks, patchwork pillows, sterling and stone jewelry, glass blowing, oil painting, silk-screen t-shirts, ceramics, wood-burnings and much, much more. Merchants will also get into the act, selling many of their items at special sidewalk sale prices.

"Neilo Craig," the clown will be on the streets from 1 to 4 p.m., Aug. 8 and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Aug. 9 to delight children and adults alike with juggling demonstrations and fire-eating acts. "Neilo Craig" will also be giving away free balloons.

The Sidewalk Festival is sponsored by the Chelsea Retail Merchants Association.

All-Star Game Friday To Close Out Action in Adult Softball Season

The adult softball program will end this Friday with two All-Star games. The first game, beginning at 6:30, will feature an All-Star team from the Class A Slow-Pitch League against an All-Star team from the Class B Slow-Pitch League.

The second game will pit the Fast-Pitch League winners against an All-Star team selected from the rest of the league. This game is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m. Both games will be played on the lighted diamond behind the high school.

The Class B Slow-Pitch League All-Star team will be made up of pitchers Gary Packard (Bollinger Sanitation) and Tom Kueny (Wolverine Bar), catchers Rick Fletcher (Federal Screw Works) and John Brown (Fortune Industries), first base, Curt Braden (Wolverine Bar), second base, Steve Graflund (Bollinger Sanitation), third base, Dave Carpenter (Federal Screw Works), shortstop, Bill Risner (Federal Screw Works), left field, Chip Wilans 3-D Sales, center field, Larry Shively (Bollinger Sanitation), right field, John Riefel (Wolverine Bar), rover, Dan Elfe (Norm's Body Shop). The team will be managed by James Ladley, manager of the Norm's Body Shop team.

Other players named to the All-Star team are infielders Rufus Erwin and Dan Pasquantonio (Norm's Body Shop), Jon Schaffner (Bollinger Sanitation), and outfielders Bascom Brown and Ken Barksdale (Fortune Industries), Dick Lapanski (3-D Sales), Jeff Emmert (Norm's Body Shop).

The Class A Slow-Pitch team is dominated by the fine players from Walt's Barber Shop, led by Gary Cornish who managed to pitch a five-inning perfect game, a feat in Slow-Pitch which is almost impossible. Along with Cornish from Walt's team is Bob Vogel as catcher, Gary Olson at shortstop, Dan Wilson at first base, and Chris Collier in the outfield. Completing the team is Bill Westcott at second base, Ron Manor at third (Ann Arbor Eagles), Ed Schwartenberger, outfield, Dick McClean (Rulea Farm), and Lee Manor, outfield (Ann Arbor Eagles). Others who were selected for the team are Curt Farley, Art Farley, and Charlie Schmunk from IPSCO, Tom Winans from Ganjai Oil, Dave Lukasak and Ron Sweeney from Vil-Motors, Ken McCalla and Keith Hum from McCalla's Feeds, and Tim Colvia from Rulea Farm. Managing the team is Walt Prater from Walt's Barber Shop.

BEST-MATCHED TEAM: Donald J. Beeman and his pair of Belgians won the trophy for the Best-Matched Lightweight Team at the National Horse Pulling Contest held in Jona last Saturday. Beeman and his team were among 30 teams competing in the pull. The teams came from Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri. Pictured with his father holding the three-foot-high trophy is Rick Beeman; next to Rick, the workers, Fred and Tom, and Beeman. Remarking that he has worked with his horses for years entering pulling competition . . . he never expected to win anything. The trophy, he said, "sits on the mantle with a clock my great-grandfather put there years ago."

PUNCHING OUT FOR THE LAST TIME: George Atkinson punched out for the last time last Friday afternoon at the Chelsea Post Office where he was employed as custodian for 18 years, since August of 1957. Atkinson came to Chelsea from Detroit in 1938. He was a Cub Scout den daddy in the area for 40 years, (his wife was a den mother), a member of the Knights of Columbus for 20 years and received the highest degree in Knighthood, the 10 Degree Knight 10 years ago. Asked what he plans to do with retirement, Atkinson replied "My wife has it all planned out for me."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

We had a right good session at the country store Saturday night. After the fellers had worked up a sweat covering the situation world-wide, they got down to a discussion of how you, just can't find a yes-or-no issue to talk about. It was Bug Hookum that said we live in a yes-but and no-but world where everything is right and wrong for the same reasons.

For instant, Bug said, he got tired of hearing all the yes-buts about why President Ford would or would not be seen with that Russian writer with a name longer than Mississippi. While the President was kicking soccer balls on the White House lawn with that feller from South America and swatting tennis balls with top-ranking players, he was saying he "didn't have anything of substance" to say to the Russian visiting this country. Yes, he did write against communism and, yes, we're against it to, but we don't want to make the Russians angry. No, we're not afraid of 'em, but after all we had our spacemen up there shaking hands with their jist like across the Elbe River in World War II, and we don't want to hurt the spirit of such an occasion.

Boost for Northeast?
 Less than optimistic: That's been the outlook for shipping on the Saginaw River waterway, the stretch of water extending 22 miles from the city of Saginaw to Bay City.

From seven million short tons shipped in 1965 to an average of 4.3 million short tons now. Projections are for a drop to 1.2 million short tons by 1990 if the current trend continues.

A sharp turnaround from that pessimistic program could result by extending the shipping season from the present eight months to 12 months, according to a report prepared for the state Commerce Department.

The study, carried out by Saginaw Valley State College, suggests that the shipping season extension would not only dramatically reverse the decline in tonnage, but would also create more than 280 new jobs in Saginaw, Bay and Midland county areas.

"The advent of new technology and interest, which helped make possible the first 12-month shipping season in the Great Lakes last winter, now makes the possibility of a year-round operation on the Saginaw River entirely possible," says Norton L. Berman, director of the Chamber Department's Office of Economic Expansion.

"There is no question that this development would bring many economic gains to the entire Thumb and Northeast Michigan area," he says.

Economic benefits of some $40 million could be realized through the shipping season extension, the report says.

That $40 million includes:

- $15 million in new cargo shipments to be generated in five years if 12-month shipping were possible.
- $23 million in savings to businesses who could divert traffic from higher cost modes of transportation.

—$3 million in reduced inventory and interest costs.

The report notes also that such an extension could result in attracting new firms to the tri-city area and a reduction in welfare payments and unemployment compensation necessary because of winter layoffs.

Plugging A Loophole
 Carrying concealed firearms is legal, right?

Not completely, according to Rep. Monte Gerald, D-Madison Heights. He says a loophole in current law makes it legal to carry concealed firearms such as rifles and sawed-off shotguns — as long as they're more than 36 inches long.

"Present law doesn't protect anyone from a crook who is innovative enough to buy a shotgun and saw it off to 30 and one-quarter inches," Gerald says. He contends also that many concealed weapons offenders are let off with nominal fines or, through plea bargaining, get off with minimal sentences.

Thus, the lawmaker proposes making any concealed firearm illegal — closing the loophole — and guaranteeing sentencing to convicted offenders.

Gerald says his bill has the support of the Michigan Sheriff's Association, the Michigan State Police, the Fraternal Order of Police and the Department of Natural Resources.

In addition, Gerald says the National Rifle Association does not oppose the measure.

Area Building Permits Decline Sharply in 1974

Residential building permits in Southeast Michigan continued to decline during 1974, compared to previous years. The number of authorized housing units for which permits were issued in 1974 was 22,238; a decline of 37.6 percent from 1973. Figures in all residential categories reflected this decline, and are probably the lowest total recorded by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), in more than 20 years.

In Washtenaw county, the total number of permits issued was 1,844; 740 of those were a detached single family unit, 136 were two-family unit dwellings and 1,068 were multi-family units dwellings.

The Lottery Bureau says the claim centers are authorized to accept: prize claims for $25 and special bonus prizes in the 50-cent "green" game; and claims for $25 winners in the $1 Triple Play daily game.

All prize claims are sent to Lansing for ticket validation and mailing of checks.

Claim centers that also are licensed ticket agents may participate in the lottery's instant payment program. That means that participating agents are authorized to make immediate cash payments of $25 winners — if their tickets are not more than 30 days old.

Anyone qualifying for the $1 Triple Play "gold" game prizes must take his prize claims to a regional office — in Oak Park, and Marquette — or to Lansing for immediate payment.

12 residential building permits were issued during 1974 in Dexter. There was one demolition, three permits for single family units and 10 for multi-family units.

In Dexter township, a total of 34 residential building permits were issued. 29 were issued for detached single family units and five for multi-family units.

18 residential building permits were issued for Manchester. However, in the township of Manchester, a total of 12 permits were issued, one for multi-family units. Scio township issued 28 permits.

Area Building Permits Decline Sharply in 1974

Residential building permits in Southeast Michigan continued to decline during 1974, compared to previous years. The number of authorized housing units for which permits were issued in 1974 was 22,238; a decline of 37.6 percent from 1973. Figures in all residential categories reflected this decline, and are probably the lowest total recorded by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), in more than 20 years.

In Washtenaw county, the total number of permits issued was 1,844; 740 of those were a detached single family unit, 136 were two-family unit dwellings and 1,068 were multi-family units dwellings.

The Lottery Bureau says the claim centers are authorized to accept: prize claims for $25 and special bonus prizes in the 50-cent "green" game; and claims for $25 winners in the $1 Triple Play daily game.

All prize claims are sent to Lansing for ticket validation and mailing of checks.

Claim centers that also are licensed ticket agents may participate in the lottery's instant payment program. That means that participating agents are authorized to make immediate cash payments of $25 winners — if their tickets are not more than 30 days old.

Anyone qualifying for the $1 Triple Play "gold" game prizes must take his prize claims to a regional office — in Oak Park, and Marquette — or to Lansing for immediate payment.

12 residential building permits were issued during 1974 in Dexter. There was one demolition, three permits for single family units and 10 for multi-family units.

In Dexter township, a total of 34 residential building permits were issued. 29 were issued for detached single family units and five for multi-family units.

18 residential building permits were issued for Manchester. However, in the township of Manchester, a total of 12 permits were issued, one for multi-family units. Scio township issued 28 permits.

WHAT ARE YOUR CHANCES for recovery under Chiropractic Care?

All statistics used in this chart are based upon studies reported by the Chiropractic Research Foundation of the National Chiropractic Association, the Committee on Research of the International Chiropractors Association, and Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation. These reports represent the results obtained under chiropractic care for a large variety of chronic conditions. The vast majority of these cases had also been previously diagnosed and treated by practitioners other than Chiropractors.

JOHN L. BARKLEY

Earns FAA Award for Distinguished Service

The Federal Aviation Administration's Great Lakes Regional Director, John M. Cyrocki, presented the agency's Award for Distinguished Service Monday, July 28 to two Jackson area residents for their heroic rescue efforts.

Allan A. Vasaris of Brooklyn, and John L. Barkley of Jackson, received their awards during a banquet in their honor beginning at 7 p.m. at Win Schuler's Restaurant, 6020 Ann Arbor Rd., Jackson.

Vasaris and Barkley were on assignment from Commonwealth Associates of Jackson, doing field surveying for the Platte River Power Authority near Greeley, Colo., when they observed a light aircraft strike a powerline and crash. Rushing to the wreckage, the two men found the pilot dazed and semi-conscious, and the airframe electrically charged by the broken powerline which was entangled in the aircraft landing gear. With fuel dripping, attempts to extinguish the spreading fire were futile. Disregarding their personal safety and while receiving electrical shocks the two men dragged the pilot to safety shortly before the aircraft was consumed by fire.

"The Federal Aviation Administration is proud to recognize these two men for their life-saving quick response and courageous action for the cause of aviation safety," noted Cyrocki, himself a Jackson native.

The Award for Distinguished Service is one of the FAA's highest honors. Barkley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Barkley of 520 McKinley. John is a 1964 graduate of Chelsea High school. Mr. and Mrs. Barkley attended the Awards Banquet.

Lee Max Hoppe Granted License As Registered Professional Engineer in State of North Carolina

Lee Max Hoppe, son of Mrs. Derrell Kniss of Grass Lake, and the late Max Hoppe, has been licensed by the State of North Carolina, as a professional engineer. Hoppe is a Development Engineer with Ingersoll-Rand Co. which he joined in 1966. He has held positions in Production and Inventory Control and Field Service Engineering with the company in Painted Post, N.Y., and Phillipsburg, N.J., before moving to North Carolina.

Hoppe was employed by Dana Corp. here while attending Jackson Community College and the University of Michigan, from which he graduated in 1965. He is a 1962 graduate of Chelsea High school.

He resides with his wife, Rose and family at 6259 Blue Bonnet Lane, Winston-Salem, N.C.

PHONING INSTRUCTIONS: Pat Wade, one of five instructors in Chelsea's new driver's education program, speaks through a black telephone-radio transmitter to his class. The backpack and antenna hold a radio which transmits Wade's one-way message to his drivers as they try out their skills on the driving range. This method of instruction allows the student driver to receive instruction, yet make decisions on his own. The instructor is able to observe his debutante drivers, later to correct or commend their technique.

Driver Training Students Receive Instruction from Radio Operator

"Okay Susan, you can pull out now." A young woman in a green Chevy Nova slowly backs out of an angle parking space and proceeds between two white lines. "Okay Dave, okay Cathy you can come now."

You too, Tim. Okay Cindy. You will drive as you wish, practice everything you have learned; parallel parking, turns, angle and straight parking, stopping, left and right turns. You will be driving for half an hour, just as if you were driving in town."

The voice is that of Pat Wade as he speaks through a black telephone receiver to five students in the Chelsea Driver's Ed course. Wade is one of five driver's education instructors involved in a new and unique (for Chelsea) program to teach young adults how to drive.

Wade stands in the parking lot a pack on his back, an antenna protruding from a steel colored box containing a radio that transmits a one-way message to his students, via a radio in the car. Five vehicles, a truck, a sedan, a sport coupe, different models, different sizes, driven by different drivers proceed around the marked driving range on the CHS parking lot. Students progress around the course, some more cautiously than others. They park, they stop, make turns. Suddenly four of them arrive at the marked intersection, the corner of Main and Middle (all the streets on the course correspond to names of those in the village). The drivers pause, recalling what is the proper maneuver learned for this particular situation. Decisions made, they proceed correctly.

"Hey Mr. Wade, can I drive with the radio on?"

"No, Tim. I think you should concentrate on what you are doing."

The instructor observes his students, speaking to them through the black instrument when necessary. Otherwise he lets them make their own decisions. If they go too fast, he tells them to slow down. If they appear to be in a tough situation, he gives them time to work it out. If they cannot, he intervenes, helping them to recall what they have learned.

Range experience is just one-third of the total program designed to educate young people to become aware, cautious and considerate drivers. As Wade explained, the principal objective of the course is to instill good driving attitudes. For example, emphasis is placed on staying away from drugs and alcohol, things which impair one's driving ability.

The other two-thirds of the program are broken into classroom experience and actual on-the-road experience.

During the four-week session, of which there are two, students spend six hours daily participating in the classroom, on the road, on the range. Of the total program, 30 hours are spent in the classroom, eight hours behind the wheel and five hours on the range.

The classroom experience allows explanation and discussion. Such things as the pre-driving experience, driving maneuvers, inside car procedure and what happens on the road and the range are discussed. Students are also exposed to mechanical aspects of an automobile. A textbook is the main tool for information. And it is from this book that much of the classroom discussion is based.

Prior to actual road experience, the students try-out simple maneuvers on the range. They begin with the very basics, backward and forward movement, proper turning and steering techniques and parking. The instructor controls his students by phone, communicating to them what to do and how to do it. He also observes their techniques.

On the road, the students meet other drivers. They get practice in rural, city and freeway driving and are even taken to Ann Arbor to get some experience driving in heavy traffic and among unco-operative pedestrians.

At the completion of the four weeks, students who have successfully completed the program receive certificates attesting to the fact. Those who are 16 years of age may take their driver's license test. Those who are not, are permitted to drive with a licensed parent or guardian over 18 years of age.

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of drivers education in Chelsea, is the combination of all three elements, but especially the solo driving on the range. Students learn to make their own decisions, as the instructor

America's veteran population, according to Veterans Administration statistics, includes 13.6 million veterans of World War II, 7.5 million of the Vietnam-era, 5.9 million of the Korean Conflict, 984,000 of World War I and 1,000 of the Spanish-American War. There also are three million Post-Korean veterans with service between Jan. 31, 1955 and Aug. 4, 1964.

Self deception, unawareness and vanity are a few of the major reasons hearing handicapped persons sometimes refuse to seek the assistance available to help alleviate their hearing loss problem, hearing specialists point out.

Stockbridge Summer Fest Slated Saturday

Stockbridge prepares for its second annual Summer Fest, a day and evening of Bavarian activities. The event is Saturday, Aug. 9 on the village square.

The day will feature German food, beverages, street dancing, a five-mile marathon and a piano concert by an internationally known pianist.

Activities will start at 9 a.m. when nearly 50 arts and crafts booths open on the square. Visitors may purchase such items as ceramics, jewelry, decoupage knitted articles, paintings, baked goods, woodcraft and refreshments.

At 10 a.m. the Bicentennial flag will be raised in a ceremony that will feature the Stockbridge Bicentennial Chorus. The chorus was formed earlier this spring and will be a part of the Bicentennial celebration activities in the Stockbridge area.

At about the same time food stands featuring knockwurst, bratwurst and sauerkraut, and the German beer concession will be open to the public.

The five-mile marathon, named the Bob Oakley Run, starts at 3 p.m. Prizes including trophies, medals and T-shirts will be awarded to winners in a number of age groups.

At 3:30 p.m. Zola M. Shaulis, concert pianist, will perform at Stockbridge High school. Her program will consist primarily of music by German composers. Tickets for this event may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Activities move into high gear later in the evening when a German band from Detroit starts playing for street dancing.

Also appearing Saturday night will be a group of young Bavarian folk dancers from German Park Ann Arbor. They will be doing authentic German schupplatter to the accompaniment of Toni Jaryls and her accordion.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS:

Something He Had To Say

Stevensville—When the seniors at Lakeshore High school had tryouts to choose three commencement speakers the seventh to try out was Bill Yore, a mentally retarded and physically impaired 18-year-old senior. His mother and teacher had both tried to discourage him but he worked for weeks on his speech. He had been in special education programs all of his life but he had a message he felt impelled to impart. And it is one all persons teaching special education programs, as well as parents, employers—all of us need to hear. He hesitated, lost his place, stuttered, but he went on. No senior in the assembly moved.

"Mr. Reilly, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen and members of the graduating class of 1974. I want to take this opportunity to convey appreciation to you for allowing me to express my feelings this evening.

"Tonight represents a dream come true for my parents, friends and relatives. Tonight also represents the attainment of a goal for many interested and concerned teachers, counselors, and staff. Tonight also represents the downfall of a diagnosis that was made over fifteen years ago. Let me explain.

"In 1958, a four-year-old boy was taken to the University Hospital at Ann Arbor for neurological examinations. After many hours of examinations, tests, X-rays, and waiting, a verdict and sentence was handed down by the university doctors. The parents were informed that their son was mentally handicapped and the best place for him was in an institution. Your son, at best, may someday be able to sell papers on a street corner—the doctors informed the stunned couple. On the convictions of these parents, through the efforts of devoted teachers and the legislation of interested taxpayers like yourselves, this would-be resident of Coldwater's Home for the Mentally Handicapped was placed in our local school systems.

"This boy was loved and cared for not only at home but also at school. Sure, there were hard and rough times. It isn't easy competing with other kids, even when you are normal much less handicapped. But, the love and the patience was there for nineteen long years. And, tonight I am proud to stand here and say that I am that boy—almost condemned to an institution. True, I am not an 'A' student. But neither am I a dropout. I may never go to college but I won't be on the welfare rolls, either. I may never be a great man in this world, but I will be a man in what ever way I am able to do it.

"For tonight, I say thanks to my parents who prayed and worked so hard. I say thanks to you, my instructors and the staff, of Lakeshore High who had the patience and dedication to see me through. I say thanks to this audience for your work, your dollars, and your concern in providing me with an opportunity for an education. And, to you, my classmates, I also say thanks. I will always remember our years together and I hope that you will also.

"Remember me as you search for a place in life, for there will be youngsters needing your help as you select a vocation in life. Remember me as you become paying members of our communities because there will be children needing your financial support. And, remember me and others like me in your prayers because in some cases there are not always parents, teachers, friends, and classmates like I have had at Lakeshore High School. Thank you."

The senior class of Lakeshore High School, 1974, stood in unison to give one of their classmates a standing ovation. He was their top choice for commencement speaker. A tribute? Yes. But even more—a message to all of us.

Get Warehouse Receipt for Stored Grain

To protect the value of their grain, farmers are urged to deal with licensed elevator operators who are bonded and to obtain official warehouse receipts for grain stored.

This is the message from B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "Official warehouse receipts are required by the Michigan Farm Produce Storage Act if the farmers are to be protected by state law," Ball said. "Such 'warehouse receipts' would be honored first should an elevator fail to pay or go bankrupt.

"Some warehouses," the director added, "offer 'price later agreements,' which are not covered by the Farm Produce Storage Act. These agreements provide for the sale price and payment between owner and elevator to be determined at a later date. Often," he said, "at the time the owner delivers the grain to the warehouse, there is no agreement to a certain price, although the title to the grain becomes the property of the warehouse at the signing of the agreement."

The Farm Produce Storage Act stipulates that if an elevator fails or becomes insolvent, stocks on hand are used to satisfy warehouse receipts before any other claims are settled. Michigan farmers can protect themselves by making certain they obtain official warehouse receipts.

Anyone Can Garden In Small Containers

Eliminate that barren look around your home or apartment with a container garden, suggests Will Carlson, Extension horticulturist at Michigan State University.

"Both vegetables and flowers may be grown in containers," he points out. "Even the apartment dweller can have colorful flowers and fresh produce."

As an example of what you can do, he says, you can grow four stalked tomato plants in a 2x2x2 foot box that may easily yield 25 pounds of fruit each during the growing season.

Vegetables suited to container gardening include peppers, parsley and other herbs, cabbage, lettuce and tomatoes. Flower favorites for containers include pansies, petunias, French marigolds, wax begonias, coleus, impatiens and geraniums.

"Though a simple clay pot on the patio may come to mind when you think of container gardening, window boxes, hanging baskets, ornamental urns and strawberry pots are other variations on the container theme."

A massive "outreach" program using newspapers, radio-TV, direct mail and personal visits to encourage 7.5 million Vietnam-era veterans to use their veteran benefits is conducted by the Veterans Administration.

A GARDEN OF EARTHLY DELIGHTS: Kathy Glehn, recreational director of the Chelsea Methodist Home, and resident Otto Buege admire Mr. Buege's crop of flowers on the Home grounds. According to Miss Glenn, Mr. Buege does most of the work caring for the beds and takes great pride in it all.

Mrs. Donald Messner

Cynthia Minix, Donald Messner Wed Saturday at Church of Christ

Cynthia Minix and Donald Messner exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 26 at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea Church of Christ. The Rev. John Hamilton officiated.

The former Miss Minix is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnel Minix of 405 Railroad St. Mr. Messner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Messner of 115 Wilkinson St.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white satin and tulle. She wore a long veil trimmed in tulle lace like that on the gown, and carried a bouquet of white mixed carnations, pink roses and baby's breath.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Terry Jones of 6051 Sibley Rd.

Miss Sharen Minix and Miss Marlene Minix, cousins of the bride, and Penny Wood, a close friend of the bride, served as bridesmaids. All the girls were dressed in blue gowns, trimmed with white lace. They carried bouquets of daisies, roses, carnations and baby's breath.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Minix chose a floor-length light green gown of polyester and nylon. Mrs. Messner wore a yellow floor-length gown also in polyester. Both mothers pinned corsages of white carnations and roses to their gowns.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Tom Hepburn. Ushers were Steve Smith, Gary Wonders and Kurt Winans.

A reception followed the ceremony at the UAW Hall. Following a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will make their home at 119 1/2 Wilkinson St.

Burg Reunion

The seventh annual reunion of the Burg family was held Sunday, Aug. 3 at the Donald Doll farm. 110 family members attended the pot-luck picnic luncheon. Members of the family came from Florida, Cleveland, O., Adrian, Jackson, Highland Park, Royal Oak, Berkeley, Ann Arbor, Dexter and Chelsea. Swimming was enjoyed by all in the family pond.

Inverness Ladies Play in Mixer

Ladies of Inverness Golf Club played in a mixer on July 31. Threesomes were drawn from a hat. The winners of this event for low gross and low putts were Ruth Cook, Eleanor Reynolds and Eleanor Douglas.

Hostesses for the day were Faye Schroeter and Harriet Schleede.

On Aug. 7 the ladies will entertain the women from Ann Arbor Country Club for a round of golf, luncheon and cards.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Marketing Information Specialist
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture

Consumers seeking services of pest exterminators should make sure they are licensed by the State of Michigan. Plant Industry Officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say certain pesticides, insecticides and fungicides can cause immediate danger to the user and concentrated chemical residues can act adversely on some birds, other wildlife species, plants and shrubs if not properly handled.

A licensed pest control operator is aware of approved chemicals, laws governing their uses, and proper methods of application. As an additional safeguard, he must be bonded and insured.

More than 34,000 products made from more than 900 chemical compounds are currently registered by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency for use on farms, lawns, gardens, commercial establishments and homes, according to MDA Plant Industry staff.

Pesticides are valuable to farmers because they protect the crops and livestock from insects and disease; prevent premature dropping of fruit, and stimulate uniform plant maturity so mechanical harvesting is better utilized. For others, pesticides retard the growth of fungi in asphalt, paint, and jet fuel, and are used in products to sanitize, disinfect and sterilize. As a result of pesticides our general environment is cleaner and safer. Our forests and parks are protected and our food supply is more abundant.

All pesticides must be registered and, when used as directed, be effective against pests listed on the label. Commercial applicators must pass written examinations administered by Plant Industry officials, demonstrating competence in use and handling of pesticides, before a license is issued.

Pamphlet Tells Secrets of Using Herbs, Spices

One of the easiest—and most inexpensive—ways to make a plain meal fancy is to season it with herbs and spices. If you know how to store and use them, herbs and spices can enhance the natural flavor of almost all foods—and all meals.

You can learn the basics of seasoning with herbs and spices in a fact sheet from the Department of Agriculture. Seasoning with Herbs and Spices is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 43, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The fact sheet suggests that when you buy spices and herbs, you buy in small amounts—they lose pungency and flavor fairly rapidly in storage. To keep flavor loss at a minimum, herbs and spices should be stored in a cool, dry place in air-tight containers. That way, they will retain flavor and color for around six months. Whole spices, though, keep almost indefinitely.

Whole spices taste best in slow cooked dishes, so that long simmering can release their full flavor and aroma. But the flavor of ground spices is released immediately—they may be added about 15 minutes before the end of the cooking period. Crumble whole or leaf herbs just before you use them to let out more flavor.

If you're not following a recipe, start out with 1/4 teaspoon of spice per pound of meat or pint of sauce and increase as desired. When using red pepper or garlic powder, begin with only 1/4 of a teaspoon.

Among the 39 spices and herbs listed in the fact sheet are:

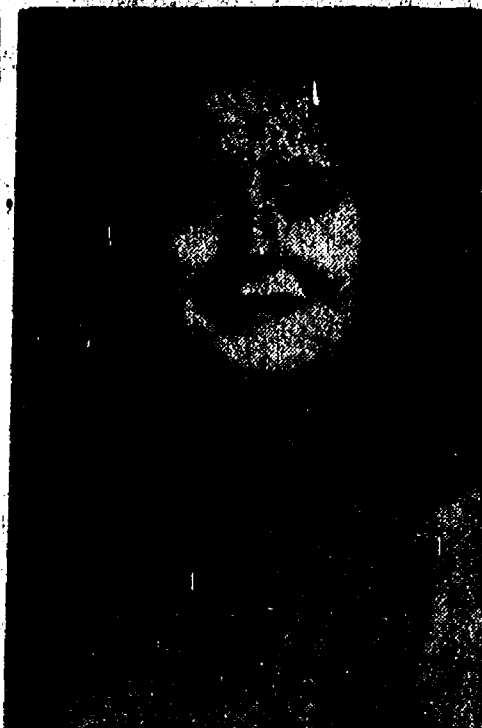

—Allspice: Used in pot roast, fish, eggs, pickles, sweet-potatoes, squash, and fruit.

—Dill Seed: Good for pickles, pickled beets, salads, sauerkraut, green beans, stews, fish, chicken, breads, and eggs.

—Mace: Delicious in baked products, fruits, meatloaf, fish, poultry, chowder, vegetables, jellies, and pickles.

—Tarragon: Try in sour cream sauces, casseroles, marinades, pot roasts, veal, lamb, poultry, fish and egg dishes.

Seasoning with Herbs and Spices (free) is one of almost 250 selected Federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009, and at Federal Information Centers located throughout the country.

COLLINS-MORSE: Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins of 144 Dewey St., have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Dennis Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Morse of 19195 Oakridge Dr. The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school and currently a student at Prestons Beauty Academy. Mr. Morse is a 1968 graduate of Clarenceville High school in Livonia. Both are employed by the Chelsea Community Hospital. A Nov. 29 wedding is planned by the couple.

Two Chelsea Girls on WMU Honors List

Among 300 scholars named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo for the recently concluded 7 1/2-week spring session are Gena L. Shoemaker and Laurel A. Prinzing. Dr. The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school and currently a student at Prestons Beauty Academy. Mr. Morse is a 1968 graduate of Clarenceville High school in Livonia. Both are employed by the Chelsea Community Hospital. A Nov. 29 wedding is planned by the couple.

Because class sessions in the 7 1/2-week spring session are twice as long as in the 15-week fall and winter semesters, only seven hours of class work are required for the spring Dean's List. A WMU student usually carries half the number of classes in his spring session as he would in the longer fall and winter semesters. Gena is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. ## Learning Evaluation Clinic Seeks Volunteers for Testing

A Learning Evaluation Clinic operated by the Combined Program in Education and Psychology at the University of Michigan will be held at the University from September of this year to April 1976.

The clinic provides diagnostic assessment information regarding special strengths or needs of individual children. Assessment is made of the child's intellectual ability to think, to comprehend and solve problems. The results are shared in a subsequent interview with the child's parents; they include: how the child worked during the testing, the patterns of performance which emerged, and what the child can, and in some cases, cannot do.

The program is available to parents with children and to students of all ages. It is helpful to parents who may have questions about high levels of exceptionality in their children or about special learning problems. Other parents want information about learning potential of their pre-school children. Older students may wish to refer themselves for an assessment as part of their own desire for personal understanding and growth.

Following the initial evaluation session an interview may be scheduled with the parents or with the student for a discussion of the results. All results will be thoroughly discussed and the material is kept in strict confidence.

Personnel in the clinic are associated with the graduate training program in School Psychology under the auspices of the Combined Education Program in Education and Psychology at the University.

Dr. Calvin O. Dyer, Professor of Education and Director of School Psychology Training said that the children see it as game playing, older children enjoy it and adults (those 16 years and

Consumer Booklet Has Helpful Data On Pots, Pans

Good pots and pans are an asset in any kitchen. And, it's your family's size and eating habits that will determine the pots and pans you need for successful cooking. Considering the wide variety available, you'd be wise to do some comparison shopping before you buy.

The General Services Administration has a booklet containing information to help you find cookware and ovenware that is safe, long lasting, easy to use, and a good value for your money. For a copy of Pots and Pans send 35 cents to Consumer Information, Dept. 20, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Included in the booklet is the advice to be sure:

- The pot or pan is easy and safe to carry and pour from, and
- balanced so it will sit on a level surface without tipping whether full or empty; made of material that spreads heat evenly and quickly to food; easy to clean inside and out; and not likely to chip, crack, or warp in everyday use or to bend, dent, or break if dropped.

Under the Dome

BY REPRESENTATIVE MIKE CONLIN

Two weeks ago this column discussed the political and campaign reform legislation being considered in Lansing. The bill passed the House of Representatives and must also be passed by the Senate before the Governor can sign it into law. This is an update on the status and content of that legislation.

As I said before, one of the kindest statements that can be made about the political and campaign reform legislation being debated in Lansing is that it is well-intentioned. The worse that can be said is that not even those who wrote it really understand the bill. As one of the most comprehensive and controversial reform proposals in the country, it is clearly a response to the public outrage over abuses in the Watergate scandal.

Supporters of House Bill 5250 proclaim that Michigan is taking a giant step forward toward national leadership in political reform. Opponents of the bill warn that Michigan faces political chaos if the bill becomes law.

The 71-page bill covers five main areas: creation of an independent Political Ethics Commission; public financing for gubernatorial campaigns; regulation of and spending limitations; and conflict of interest regulations for public officials.

The campaign contribution limits for individuals are set at: Governor and other state-wide offices, $1,700; State Senator, $450; State Representative, $250. Groups could contribute up to 10 times these amounts per election. The limits for expenditures by candidate committees are: Governor, $1,000,000; State Senator, $30,000; State Representative, $15,000. Other state-wide elective offices are limited to sums in between these amounts.

Probably the most overlooked sections of the bill are those which deal with filing requirements. The number and nature of these are such that they could discourage qualified people from running for public office. Sadly, it is almost as if one must start from the basic assumption that all elected officials are inherently corrupt and must be rigidly supervised.

Practically everyone in public life will have to file a financial disclosure statement. If you plan to run for any public office, if you want to be appointed to any public commission, or if you hold a public position, you will have to file a financial disclosure statement. These are the individuals at the county and local level for which a statement is required.

At the county level: a chief administrative officer; sheriff or under-sheriff; prosecuting attorney or chief assistant; clerk; drain commissioner; or their deputies; road commissioner; county commissioner; commissioner of public works, or deputy commissioner.

At the local level: City mayor, clerk, manager or council member; a member of the planning commission, zoning commission, or board of review; township trustee, clerk, treasurer, supervisor, or constable; village president or council member; school superintendent or school board member. This got to be so ridiculous that I offered an amendment during debate to add "dogcatchers" to this list of public officials required to file financial disclosure statements. All of these people must file the following information for themselves and for members of their immediate family:

The name, address, and kind of business of a person from whom income during the previous year, together with the nature of services rendered; a description of all real property, the fair market value of which exceeds $1,000 in which you held a direct or indirect financial interest, together with the name of the person to whom you sold that property if it was sold during the year;

The name and address of each creditor to whom you or your family member owed more than $1,000, together with the original amount, a month outstanding, terms of repayment, etc.; (this does not apply to retail installment or to loans from financial institutions and close relatives).

The name, address and occupation of any person from whom you received a gift of more than $100 value, together with the circumstances of same; (campaign contributions and gifts from close relatives excluded). Any business associations you have;

And finally, this same information as it applies to any business in which you or your immediate family was a partner or held more than 10 percent equity.

Many of the restrictions and limitations imposed by this bill will work largely in favor of incumbents. H.B. 5250 would be better titled "The Incumbent Preservation Act of 1975". There is an urgent need in government for new ideas and fresh approaches to cope with today's problems. It would indeed be tragic if the chief effect of current reform legislation was to discourage new faces from entering public life. There may yet be time to reform the reform bill.

Letters on this or any other subject should be addressed to Representative Mike Conlin, State Capitol, Lansing, 48901.

August Is Fair Month in Michigan

When it's August in Michigan, it's "Hi Ho, Come to the Fair" time. The Calendar of Travel Events lists 46 in all, opening with the Ionia Free Fair, Ionia, Aug. 1-10 and climaxing with the grand 'n glorious Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Aug. 22-Sept. 1, according to the Michigan Travel Commission.

Some of the major fairs coming up are the Western Michigan Fair, Ludington, Aug. 12-16; Upper peninsula State Fair, Escanaba, Aug. 12-17; Northwestern Michigan Fair, Traverse City, Aug. 23-30; and the Eastern Michigan Fair, Imlay City, Aug. 25-Sept. 1. The complete Fair Calendar is included in the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events.

If you aren't a fair fan, don't despair because there are more than 60 other fun things happening during the month's 31 days. Among them, of course, are Detroit's week-end Ethnic Festivals on the riverfront west of Cobo Hall. The August schedule begins with the Ukrainians, Aug. 1-3; followed by the Polish, Aug. 8-10; the Scandinavian Festival, Aug. 15-17; Armenian Festival, Aug. 22-24; with the International Festival moving in for the finale, Aug. 29-Sept. 1. The citizens of Greenville extend a robust "Velkommen" to the 11th annual Danish Festival, scheduled are the Fairy Tale Parade, a Danish Tavern and Smorgasbord, strolling bands, canoe races and a variety of other festive fare for all the family.

Those looking for a little nostalgia will find more than one spot to head for. Leading the list is the Old Time Summer Festival at Greenfield Village, Dearborn which continues through Aug. 31, complete with Doc Bryson's Medicine Show, Lincoln-Douglas debates and trips aboard the paddle-wheel steamboat, Suwanee. On the shores of Little Traverse Bay at Harbor Springs, Drum and Bugle Competition will be the order of the day Aug. 2 in Ottawa Stadium. Gladwin county will be recalling some memories Aug. 3-9 as they celebrate their 100th birthday at Gladwin. The same holds true for Roscommon county as they celebrate their centennial year Aug. 8-9 at Houghton Lake.

On the sports front, the 1975 AAU National Senior Outdoor Synchronized Swimming Championships will be held at Michigan State University Aug. 1-7. More than 500 competitors from the United States as well as guests from several foreign countries will be participating in this highly competitive girls' athletic sport of water gymnastics. Aug. 2-10 the action moves from the pool to the net and the National Boys 16-18 Tennis Championship at Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo.

Something very special will be happening for some very special people when Central Michigan University plays host to the International Special Olympics Aug. 7-9 at Mt. Pleasant. The games are "international" because the participants will represent all 50 of our United States, the District of Columbia and several foreign countries. They are "special" because the 3,000 athletes competing are mentally retarded.

Still on the sports scene, the Midwestern Council of Sports Car Clubs have races scheduled for Aug. 9-10 at Grattan International Speedway, Grattan. On the same dates, another group of enthusiasts will be "teeing up" for the northern Michigan Open Golf Tournament at the Cheboygan Golf and Country Club, Cheboygan. There will be still another type of competition Aug. 17 as paddlers put forth their best in the Pere Marquette River Canoe Race from Scottville to Ludington. And, Aug. 30-31 it's the Eastern National Drag Boat Races at Holloway Reservoir Regional Park near Flint.

August has its share of annual Michigan favorites too, such as: Upper Peninsula Championship Rodeo, Iron River and the Top of Michigan Aquathon on the Cheboygan River, Cheboygan both set for Aug. 2-3. Then there's the Paul Bunyon Festival, Oscoda, Aug. 15-18; Ausable River Longboat Regatta from Grayling to Stephan Bridge, Aug. 17; the Magic Get Together, Colon, Aug. 20-23; Melon Festival, Howell, Aug. 22-24; Venetian Parade, Grand Haven, Aug. 23; and the Michigan Peach Festival at Romeo, Aug. 29-Sept. 1. In the area of arts, crafts, and antiques, the Tawas Bay Waterfront Arts and Crafts Festival sets up shop Aug. 2-3 at Tawas City. You can browse the Bargain Basement Arts and Crafts Fair, Aug. 8-9, at Grand Haven and look over the offerings of the Art and Sculpture Festival, Aug. 15-17, on Mackinac Island.

Junk or jewel? It all depends on how you feel about the remnants of years gone by, commonly referred to as antiques. For those who are attracted by such things as pie safes, "thunder mugs," cherry platters and Cupie dolls there's the Antiques Market, Aug. 10, in the Springfield-Oaks County Park Building, Davisburg and an Antique Show at the Community Center, Grand Haven, Aug. 14-16.

Michigan has it all together when it comes to the things that make a vacation a relaxing, enjoyable and memorable occasion. Whether it's a fair, an art show, a sunset stroll along one of our Great Lakes beaches or waiting for feisty panfish to tug at your line, it's all here along with history and music, fresh air and green forests. Try a little Michigan in August, for the sheer pleasure of it.

For a complete listing of what's happening in Michigan, in August, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events to the Michigan Travel Commission, 300 South Capitol Avenue, Lansing 48913.

AUGUST, 1975:

200 Years Ago This Month

By Professor Robert E. Brown
Department of History
Michigan State University

August of 1775, like July, was relatively quiet as far as military activity was concerned, but enough occurred in other ways to indicate that Britishers and Americans had not settled their differences.

The Battle of Lexington and Concord in April, the taking of Fort Ticonderoga by Ethan Allen and his Green Mountain Boys in May and the Battle of Bunker Hill in June provided little evidence that the Americans intended to submit to England as King George III intended.

So the King rejected the "Olive Branch" petition of the Continental Congress as a document drafted by an illegal, distasteful body. On Aug. 23 he issued a proclamation branding Americans as rebels and all persons who aided them as traitors.

On Aug. 27 he followed this with an embargo on shipments of war stores to the colonies, an act that came months too late. In effect, however, George III had authorized a British Declaration of American Independence with his proclamation of rebellion.

Meanwhile, the American army under Washington had the British army bottled up in Boston. If the British were not willing to risk an open battle with the Americans after Bunker Hill, neither was the American army ready for another effort to dislodge the British.

In Virginia, Governor Dunmore, now aboard a British man-of-war for safety, continued his depredations along the coasts and rivers, with Virginians under Patrick Henry bending every effort to thwart his actions.

Dunmore claimed that he could reduce Virginia "to perfect submission" with a few hundred well-armed troops. He did receive a small reinforcement, but the officers expressed surprise that the Governor had not enlisted a large number of Loyalists as expected.

In contrast, the Virginia revolutionary convention was able to raise some 3,500 troops and voted 300,000 pounds to support them.

During August, wishful thinking and lack of rapid communications no doubt contributed to the many rumors that flew thick and fast. From London came one that an American army of 50,000, after saving all the women and children, had burned Boston.

Then came news that General Gage had surrendered at Boston and that his officers dispaired of success. Britishers also heard that a vast Spanish armada was headed either for the colonies or for Ireland, and that France was preparing to join the Americans.

On the other side, Americans were told that London rejoiced over Lexington and Concord, that a huge mob surrounded Parliament demanding repeal of all anti-American acts, that friends in England had hissed the proclamation of rebellion and that Lord Mayor North had fed to France and government was in the hands of America's friends, Edmund Burke and John Wilkes. It was a heady fare, but where did truth end and fiction begin?

Not all was war or rumors of war, however, as civilians contributed their share to ongoing events. Virginians gave loyalist Anthony Warwick "a fashionable suit of tar and feathers, being the most popular badge of distinction for men of his complexion," then placed him on his horse and chased him out of town through a shower of rotten eggs.

There was even a hint of women's liberation in what was mostly a man's world. Sarah Hallam, abandoned wife of actor Lewis Hallam, demonstrated her independence by opening a dancing school for girls in Williamsburg. And on being lost in the woods and coming upon some friendly Indians, the Englishman Nicholas Cresswell reported in his Journal for Aug. 26, that he was seduced (not too reluctantly) by a pretty Indian girl.

If Aug. 31, 1775, was so uneventful that indentured servant-tutor John Harrower did not bother to make an entry in his Journal, it was nevertheless the last August that Americans would experience as citizens of the British Empire.

USDA Conservation Program Covers Soil, Water Practices

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced a 1975 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) designed to encourage the application of enduring soil and water conservation practices on the nation's farms. It will be funded at the $180 million level authorized by Congress. This amount includes funds to fully finance the long-term agreements signed under the 1974 Rural Environmental Conservation Program, currently projected at about $33,750,000.

The 1975 program will offer both annual and long-term conservation agreements with farmers. It will share with farmers from 50 to 75 percent of the cost of carrying out approved soil, water and woodland conservation practices. Under long-term agreements, cost-sharing will be scheduled over a period of from three to 10 years. The agreements will be based on conservation farm plans approved by local Soil Conservation Districts.

The program will be administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service through its farmer-elected committee system. The Soil Conservation Service will provide planning and technical assistance on servicing of practices and long-term agreements. Contracts involving woodlands also will get technical aid from the Forest Service. The Extension Service will assist with educational support. All three agencies provide program development and policy overview assistance through County, State, and National Program Development Groups. Local Soil Conservation Districts also provide important support through assistance with long-term agreements and program development.

Details of specific practices, all designed to protect soil, water and woodland resources on a permanent basis, will be announced later.

Army Team Wins European Conference Chuting Competition

The U.S. Army's four-man world champion parachute team, the Golden Knights, won over Czechoslovakia and France to win the European Conference Parachuting Competition recently in Schaffen, Belgium.

Staff Sergeant Chuck Collingwood, 1973 National Parachuting Champion, took over-all individual honors in his second international competition this year. Next was Sergeant Jack Brake, the 1974 National Parachuting Champion.

According to local Army representative Sgt. Jones, the American team will compete later this year in the first European Cup Championships in Porto Roz, Yugoslavia.

Because the first step toward obtaining help for a hearing impairment usually is to have a hearing test, each community should insure each citizen has the opportunity to obtain a convenient, economical annual hearing test, according to hearing specialists.

State Aid Payments Mailed To Schools

Representative Mike Conlin (R-Jackson) received word that Aug. 1 state aid payments to local school districts have been mailed and will soon be received.

Payments are made to the districts for state aid and Title I and III of the Elementary Secondary Education Act of 1965 and the Vocational Education Act of 1963. Payments are mailed six times a year.

Chelsea School district will receive $46,850 in state aid. Dexter Community School District will receive $33,630 in state aid and $9,522 in Title I funds.

Grass Lake Community schools in Jackson county will receive $77,430 in state aid and $5,499 in Title I funds.

Manchester Public School District will receive $49,480 in state aid and $5,499 in Title I funds.

Manchester Public School district will receive $49,480 in state aid and $5,499 in Title I funds. The Saline Area School District will receive $43,160 in state aid. Whitmore Lake Public School District will receive $65,260 in state aid and $17,591 in Title I funds.

Actual and potential beneficiaries of Veterans Administration benefits include 29.4 million living veterans, their 66 million family members, and four million survivors of deceased veterans—nearly half the population of the United States.

Legislative Tid-Bits

Governor Milliken has signed a measure to allow senior citizens, widows and disabled homeowners to defer summer property taxes until Feb. 15. The delay is intended to allow the persons covered to use their income tax refunds for the property tax payments.

The measure (HB 4293, PA 168, immediate effect) affects senior citizens, paraplegics, quadriplegics, some servicemen and veterans and widows of the blind with an income of less than $10,000.

The use of Social Services money for abortions was outlawed except in cases when a mother's life is in danger through an amendment tacked on to the Social Services budget 79-21 in the House. I voted for the amendment. A cap was also placed on the amount of money appropriated for general assistance funds in the 1975-76 fiscal year during debate on the $1,796.1 million budget ($933.9 million in state funds).

double your money

with compound interest

the one
sure way to build a fortune

One of the most important, but overlooked, features of savings, is the magical effect of compound interest. If money is deposited and the interest it earns never withdrawn, the money grows at an amazing rate. Money in most Ann Arbor Federal Savings certificates doubles every 10 years.

Thus, if a person 40 years old with $25,000 (in savings, coins, cash value insurance, etc.) puts it into a certificate account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings it will grow to $50,000 by age 50. By age 60 it will have grown to $100,000 without adding a penny of his paycheck.

For the person in his mid-fifties, with retirement coming up in ten years, compounding has even greater significance. Say he has actual assets of $100,000. If he converts these into cash, he can have $200,000 in ten years and realize an interest income for life of $10,000 to $15,000 thereafter.

But what about the person starting out, the twenty five year old. By putting $50 a month in a 5% passbook savings account each month and leaving the interest to accumulate and compound, he will have $21,190 by age 45. Then if he transfers the money to a certificate account (and never adds another penny) the money will grow to $87,380 by age 65.

On the other hand if one continues to add to his savings account regularly, it is well within the realm of possibility to accumulate $300,000 or $400,000 or more.

At Ann Arbor Federal Savings your dollars are not subject to market fluctuations, so you are sure when you reach the age at which you want to start using some of your money or earnings it will be there.

the magic of compounding

| Deposit   | ... in 10 years you'll have | ... in 20 years you'll have | ... in 30 years you'll have |
|-----------|-----------------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------------|
| $ 5,000  | $ 10,511.74                | $ 22,099.34                | $ 46,460.51                |

Above figures based on an annual interest rate of 7 1/2% compounded quarterly, available in amounts of $1000 or more, 48 month term. Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals.

Free Pamphlet Answers Many Questions About Cancer

Every year, cancer strikes thousands of people. It can affect anyone, any time—even you. But if you understand the symptoms of cancer and how to get prompt treatment for them, modern science assures you an excellent chance of recovery.

A publication of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare tells you about "Cancer: What to Know and What to Do About It." The booklet is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 39, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

First of all, you should know that many kinds of cancer can be easily diagnosed in a regular check-up. So don't neglect that yearly physical. With early discovery and early treatment, the chances for survival are very good. You should also be aware of possible signs of cancer:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in a mole or wart.

If your symptoms last longer than two weeks, go to your doctor and find out if it means cancer. Don't wait for the symptoms to become painful. Pain is NOT an early cancer sign.

In addition to looking for symptoms and getting a yearly check-up, you can boost your chances against cancer by avoiding those habits which are known to lead to cancer—cigarette smoking and excessive exposure to sunlight.

One other thing you should know: Beware of quick treatments such as diets and other means. They are useless and can seriously endanger your life by postponing effective treatment. Modern surgery, radiation therapy and drug treatment, singly or in combination, are effective against different types of cancer. With these treatments and improved methods of detection, your chances of winning the battle against cancer are very good. So don't be afraid of finding that you have cancer; your chance of survival will be much greater if you face, and treat, the problem. "Cancer: What to Know and What to Do About It" (free) is one of almost 250 selected Federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Consumers Files for Sharp Rate Increase

Consumers Power Co., from which Chelsea along with 11 municipalities and some rural electric co-operatives and investor owned utilities purchase their wholesale electricity, has filed with the Federal Power Commission "for what can only be termed an extreme increase in their wholesale power rates," according to S. Don Potter, executive secretary of the Michigan Municipal Rate Payers Assoc.

According to Village Administrator Frederick Weber, the increase could range anywhere from 32.9 percent to 44.1 percent based on a one-year period, comparable to the amount of electricity used by the village from September, 1974 to August, 1975. Weber added, that a growth factor must be figured in, thereby modifying the rate. In terms of dollars, the cost would be from $146,553 to $168,465 for the 12-month period.

The rate increase is scheduled to be effective Aug. 30, 1975.

While the Federal Power Commission has not yet approved such an increase, members of the Michigan Municipal Rate Payers Assoc. (of which Chelsea and other municipalities who purchase electricity from Consumers Power belong) have scheduled a meeting for Friday, Aug. 9 in Lansing to decide upon a course of action. Weber said that should the increase be approved, the association will file for a delay of the effective date. Such a request could extend the time for the rate increase rate by a maximum of five months.

How the rate increase will effect individual consumers has not yet been determined. However, more information is expected to be available next week.

In the report filed by Consumers Power to the Federal Power Commission, the company states "the rate increase is being filed because the earnings of the company from its wholesale electric service have

The Rev. Carl Asher, Pastor
10:30 a.m.—Worship service.

A Veterans' Administration budget of $16.4 billion for fiscal year 1976 is the largest in history and double that of 1970.

Any measure that will encourage consumers to purchase more products, thereby reducing overstocked inventories and circulating money, will provide a welcome boost to the state economy.

Question: My cousin and I have been arguing over the amount of cable used to hold up Mackinac Bridge, I say at least 3,000 miles of cable (greater than the width of the Continental United States), and he says it couldn't be any more than 800 miles. What do you say?

Governor: The Mackinac Bridge is certainly the most beautiful suspension bridge in the world. It was the longest for a long time, too.

The wire in the main cables supporting the bridge's suspension totals 42,000 miles in length and weighs 11,840 tons.

Supported by 33 marine foundations which rest on bedrock, the bridge is five miles long, including approaches. The bridge's main towers are 552 feet above water, and its two huge tower foundations are more than 200 feet below water.

From 1884, when the people of Michigan first proposed bridging the Straits, until Nov. 1, 1957, "Mighty Mac" was known as the "bridge that couldn't be built."

On that eventful day Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas were permanently tied together.

Tourist Assoc. Offers Guide to Boating, Fishing
Some of the best boating, fishing, camping and canoeing in Michigan exists in the close-to-home Southeast Michigan area.

With this thought in mind, the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association has recently published a directory to these activities and is making it available free of charge to the inquiring public.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: Governor Milliken, with gasoline prices high and still going up, I have resorted to riding my bike many places. Occasionally, I even ride my bike to work because I need the exercise and enjoy the fresh air. However, when traffic gets heavy, it gets a bit dangerous for me to compete with an automobile on the street. What's being done to give us bike riders protection on the streets?

Governor: The Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, as well as some counties and local governments, have bike path programs underway. Most of the state projects involve shoulder work, addition of lanes and other features to accommodate bicyclists on existing highways. These are built on both sides of the highway so bicyclists can travel with auto traffic as the law requires, rather than against it.

Thus far, the state has 16 hard-surface paths for non-motorized traffic along state highways which are either open or under construction in the following counties: Berrien, Hillsdale, Iosco, Livingston, Ottawa, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Hillsdale, Washtenaw, Grand Traverse, Benzie, Ionia, Kent, Wayne, Oakland and Macomb. There are also 11 more paths planned for construction in Delta, Ingham, Kent, Marquette, Menominee, Mecosta, Muskegon, Oakland, Ottawa, Roscommon, Kalamazoo and Van Buren.

It is evident that Michigan's two-year-old bikeway program is moving along at a good pace. It will make travel safer and more pleasant for many of Michigan's more than three million bicycle owners.

Question: I heard that you supported the bill to repeal the Fair Trade Practices Act. I thought you were a friend of the small businessman. How could you be, when you supported repeal of an act that protected small businesses?

Governor: The fair trade practices laws were enacted during the Great Depression to benefit small businesses—in danger of extinction because they could not compete with larger firms which could offer lower retail prices to the buying public.

The laws, it was argued then, would not only save the small stores, but also spur competition and thus help keep prices down.

With today's inflationary situation, the fair trade laws have had the effect of promoting direct price manipulation among manufacturers who would set prices with distributors after being assured that the same prices had been set by their rivals.

In addition, the fair trade laws had the effect of suppressing competition in retailing and denying the consumer the lower prices. The system also tended to deprive the mass distributor of his principal appeal—low cost.

The repeal of the fair trade laws and a return to pricing according to supply and demand will not by itself guarantee lower prices, but it will prohibit the maintenance of artificially high prices, and it will encourage price competition between retailers of the same product.

Any measure that will encourage consumers to purchase more products, thereby reducing overstocked inventories and circulating money, will provide a welcome boost to the state economy.

Saline Country Week Festivities Start Tonight

It's coming! Saline's Country Week is almost here, and with it a week of festivities. Set aside Thursday evening, Aug. 7 from 5 to 8 for fun and food. The Saline Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring an ice cream social with hot dogs, cole slaw, German potato salad, baked beans, and all the trimmings.

After the family is full of all the goodies, get prepared for some old-fashioned country games sponsored by the Saline Jaycees. Join in on a greased pig chase, spike driving contest, tug of war, or horseshoes.

Then get your dancing shoes on, and dance or just listen to the country band which starts at 8 p.m. So get ready and head for Curtiss Park in Saline on Aug. 7 for the fun.

VFW Post Entertains Vets at All-Day Picnic

A different kind of picnic was planned and carried out by chairman Bill Pierce and Stan Montagne of VFW Post 4076 on July 30.

The farmland belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Stan Montagne on Ivy Rd. was the happy scene for 35 veteran patients from the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor. The patients, their two doctors, six nurses and aides arrived by bus at the Montagne farm Wednesday morning for an all-day picnic.

Fred Bentz of the VFW 423 of Ann Arbor and State Chairman of Ann Arbor VA Hospital went grocery shopping with the men on Monday and Tuesday to prepare picnic foods such as potato salad, relishes, macaroni salad, hamburgers, hot dogs, chips, etc. Soon the grills were readied and the cooking began.

Games of baseball, croquet and badminton were played. Others just enjoyed the open air and walks in the woods. Six patients were very happy with fishing in the pond on the land. They caught a total of 80 fish.

Following the picnic, the bus returned to take its passengers back to Ann Arbor. Each man was given a Bicentennial button as a memento of the day and a Canteen Booklet of tickets, which is used in place of money at the Hospital. The men thanked Bill Pierce and the Montagnes for the day.

The picnic outing was part of a therapy program to enable patients to resume their place in society following their experiences of war.

The local Post covered all expenses incurred, using proceeds from the sale of the Buddy Poppies here in May.

Four members of Post 423, Mrs. Ruth Otto, State Auxiliary Representative and seven members from Post 4076 including Mrs. Mary Kniss, participated in planning the event.

Steven Bennett Has Been Awarded Two Scholarships

Steven Bennett, a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school, has been notified by Western Michigan University where he is enrolled in Paper Science and Engineering, that he was awarded two academic scholarships. Bennett was awarded a Department of Education Competitive tuition scholarship for the amount of tuition from the Department of Paper Science and Engineering. Both scholarships are renewable depending on the students academic grades. Bennett also received a scholarship from the Chelsea Scholarship committee.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bennett of 8215 Beeman Rd. The academic scholarship program is administered by WMC Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships which is under the direction of Dr. Edward W. Harkenrider. The program rewards academic excellence and helps alleviate the financial needs of students and their families.

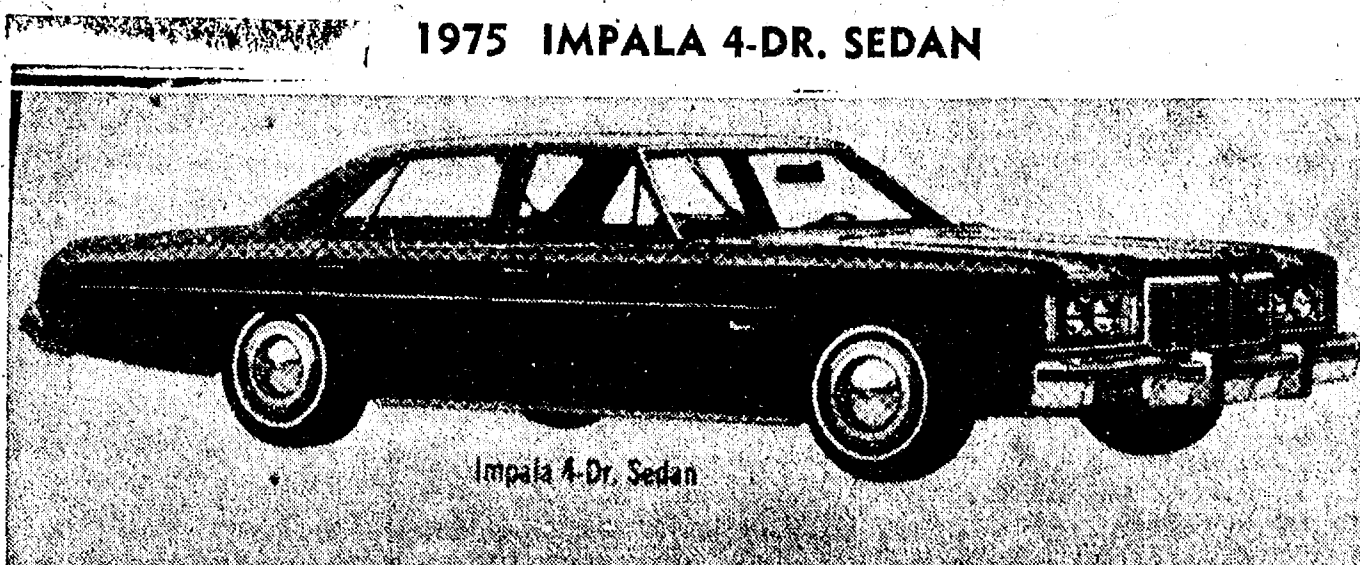

On Aug. 27, 1976, some 10,000 American soldiers were soundly defeated by 22,000 British and German troops in the Battle of Long Island, N. Y. American losses totaled 1,400.
