Grounds Flooded

The 1975 Chelsea Community Fair ended with a rainstorm, one day early, preventing all the fanfare and delight that goes along with the Saturday fair parade, Queen's Day, the horse show and the pony pulling contest.

Despite the cancellations, parade lovers turned out in rain gear, in cars and under the shelter of shopkeeper's awnings to see what remained of the 1975 Fair parade.

Arriving at the fairgrounds, those who dared to venture out were met with massive pools of water and a lot of mud. Fair board president Paul Frisinger wasn't smiling, but he remarked that "we did as well in four days this year as we did in five last year." Frisinger reported that there were record crowds on the grounds daily and that the grandstands were filled for every event. "Even the 500 extra seats did not take care of the crowds," he said. Fair secretary, Ruth Leach, said that people were bringing in extra bleachers for the demolition derby held Thursday evening. "I don't know where they got them, but there were still people standing."

Earl Heller, executive vice-president, estimated that this year's crowd had increased by 15 percent.

However, everyone agreed that Saturday was always a big day for the fair, especially for the amusements.

And while no one cared to speculate on the losses, they cheered themselves saying they were no where as bad off as the state fair.

"We had to take on added expenses for the weather," Mrs. Leach said. The Fair Board brought in nine loads of gravel and wood chips for teated stalls where livestock were to be displayed.

The fair was open Sunday and Monday. Exhibitors were released Saturday; however, some chose to remain. The Ingalls Amusement Co. offered their games and rides both days.

Tractor Pull Rained Out Friday Night

18 entries in the heavyweight division of the tractor pull were rained out Friday evening, as a torrent of rain hit the Chelsea fairgrounds at 10 p.m., preventing any further competition. Aside from the disappointment of those who remained to pull, this is the first time the ever-popular event has ended earlier than the wee hours of the next morning.

In the heavyweight division, those tractors up to 9,000 pounds, Ted Wheeler and David Ruhlig tied for first place, pulling 200 percent of their weight; Harold Haussler took third; Roger Ottoman, fourth and John Bihlmeyer, fifth.

Tractors weighing 6,000 to 9,000 pounds placed Paul Zahn in first place followed by Dale Gensley, second, Harold Haussler, third; Mark Weidmeyer, fourth and Ralph Diable, fifth.

Winners whose tractors weighed from 4,001 to 6,000 pounds were first place Vick Manny; second place, Jim Hartman; Neil Weidmeyer, third place; Harry Huehl fourth and Dan Schaible, fifth.

In the lightweight class John Weidmeyer took first place, followed by Floyd Riethmiller in second; Steve Kuebler, third; Richard Ganshom, fourth, and Ken McCalla, fifth.

You're Right - It Has Been A Wet August

August, usually considered to be one of the most beautiful summer months; lots of sunshine, little rain and moderate temperatures has proved the exception this year in every way, but especially with respect to the amount of rainfall received in the Chelsea area.

According to Melvin Leach, Chelsea Wastewater Treatment Superintendent, the area's total rainfall for the month was 9 1/4 inches. Leach said that Chelsea's average for August is 2 1/2 inches. "Quite a jump," he added.

While he is not certain that this August's rainfall has set an all-time record, the only time Leach remembers a great deal of rain in the 15 years he has been with the department was in August of 1967. "There may have been more then," he remarked.

For fairgoers and the curious, the amount of rain that fell in the area from 10 o'clock Friday evening through Sunday morning at 8 o'clock was 5 1/2 inches; "by far more than we've had for (that kind of time period) since 1940," Leach declared.

Rec Council Director Quits Position

Tom Balistrere, Director of the Chelsea Recreation Council and the summer "Earn, Learn, and Play" program, has submitted a letter of resignation to the council. According to Dave Lukasiak, vice-president of the Recreation Council, Balistrere's reasons for leaving the post were cited as "personal" and "wanting to spend more time with (his) family."

The Rec Council met last night (Wednesday) to act on Balistrere's letter. If accepted his resignation will be effective tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 5. When asked if she thought his resignation would be accepted by the council, President Ann Schaffner, said she would not like to speak for the entire council. However, Lukasiak said he expected the resignation to be accepted.

Balistrere has been director of the council for two years.

Teachers, Board Reach Tentative Work Agreement

Chelsea schools started on time, despite the fact that ratification on a new teacher's contract is not scheduled until next week.

Chelsea's 135 teachers and the Board of Education reached a tentative agreement Saturday evening on a one-year contract. The contract calls for an experience increment in addition to a five percent increase at the bottom of the salary schedule. The percentage will move up as the teacher moves up in the salary schedule.

Chelsea teachers with a master's degree and 10 year's experience will receive a pay increase of $753 under the new contract.

FIRST PLACE in the Adult Division of the Fair Parade went to Ralph Trinkle, Don Laler and Ethel and Erwin Haist for their entry "Beverly Hillbillies." The group who call themselves the Lima Center Group were just putting the finishing touches on their float last Saturday as the judges were inspecting it. Pictured here is the second half of the prize winning float. The pick-up truck pulling the float was also decorated with chickens, goat, calves and pigs.

Abbreviated Fair Parade Held Saturday Despite Downpour

"Rain, rain go away, come again some other day." The verse, while trite, was probably silently chanted in the heads of numerous fairgoers, exhibitors and parade marchers Saturday while waiting for the heavens to clear and the sun to shine in order that they might get on with the day that usually proves to be the climax of the Chelsea Community Fair.

While dressed in foul weather gear, hoping for the rain to subside, Chief Jim Gaken, at the Chelsea Fire Hall, remarked, "this is the first time this has happened since we took over the parade in 1966." Gaken added that it had rained once before. "We made a decision to hold the parade up for an hour. We were lucky and the weather cleared."

Last Saturday, the fire department, and for that matter anyone else who planned a day at the fair were not so lucky. It seemed nothing would stop the rain, and nothing did.

However, the float makers were determined to march. They simply covered their floats in plastic bags and sheets in an effort to preserve them for the judging, and transported them to the Chelsea Fire Hall where they and their floats, along with the Chelsea High school marching band, the Fire Department personnel, the Dexter Vintage Vehicle Club, among numerous observers, took shelter.

The floats were slowly uncovered, paper-napkin flowers were fluffed, pretty girls, young boys and girls and older folks, somewhat daunted by the weather boarded their floats for the judging.

Champ Steer Brings $1.35 lb. At Fair Auction

While far from the "whopping" $4.00 per pound paid for his Grand Champion Lamb last year at the 1974 Chelsea Community Fair, Steve Grau still took the Grand Champion title for his 118-pound animal and sold it to Michigan Livestock for $1.80 a pound.

Other prices paid for animals during Wednesday evening's livestock sale would be considered "low" to the shopper's eye and probably a good buy to the buyer's.

Matt Grau's Reserve Champion Lamb sold to Robert Thornton for $1.50 per pound; while Kirk Van Natter sold his champion pen, total of 328 pounds to McCalla Feeds for 60 cents per pound. The reserve champion pen, owned by Matt Grau sold for 75 cents a pound to G. E. Wacker; total weight of the pen was 208 pounds.

The top hog price was paid to Doug Welshans for his reserve champion of 225 pounds. Welshans sold the animal to Klink Excavating for $1.05 a pound. The Grand Champion individual hog brought $1 per pound and was sold to Washenaw Crop Service; weight, 213 pounds.

After months of inactivity, the Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department was called to put out two fires in the past week.

Chief Jim Gaken reported that the department, together with the Grass Lake Fire Department, was called to the Clear Lake Mobile Home Park, 1500 Clear Lake Rd., Aug. 27 where a trailer belonging to Lloyd Eddy was aflame. According to Gaken, the fire erupted in the kitchen and spread to other living areas in the trailer. The home was completely destroyed. Gaken added that the flames engulfed a trailer belonging to Eddy's neighbor, Ernie Carpenter. The Carpenter trailer suffered extensive damage and is for all purposes "destroyed," he said.

Late Saturday evening, Aug. 30 the department was called to 19080 Ivy Rd., where a barn on property belonging to Doug Liebeck was (Continued on page six)

Bicentennial Commission Planning Celebrations

"The national American Revolution Bicentennial slated for celebration next year has been creating waves around our country for the past few months," said Rolly Spaulding when discussing the Western Washtenaw County Bicentennial Commission's plans for the area celebration to be held in '76. Spaulding continued, "We Chelsea folks have been thinking and planning along the lines of what can we do, what part can we play locally."

Because the celebration is a national program efforts are being made to filter it down through the states to the local governmental bodies and into the homes of everyone. And as Spaulding remarked, "It makes sense to start a 'good neighbor policy' that would co-ordinate all our many activities and projects with our surrounding villages and cities." All of which adds up to the reason a Western Washtenaw County Bicentennial Commission was formed. The commission consists of 17 townships which encompass the four towns of Saline, Manchester, Chelsea and Dexter.

Following many hours of meetings and planning an "America '76" celebration will become an actuality.

To date, the WWCBC is incorporated under the co-chairmanships of Leonard Kitchen, Dexter attorney (a Chelseaite via purchase of the George Frisinger farm south of Chelsea) and Spaulding whose claim to fame stems from Chelsea's 125th celebration in 1959.

The four towns have formed steering committees appointed by members to the central commission. The group has signed a contract with the Rogers Co. of Fostoria, O. which in the past has assisted with celebrations in Chelsea, Saline and Dexter's highly successful sesquicentennial.

Four individual area celebrations will take place through out the bicentennial year, each reflecting the village or town's image, but with an eye toward over-all co-ordination of the festivities by the joint central commission.

The Rogers Co. will provide an in-resident full-time professional for a period of 13 weeks who will work together with other producers and co-ordinators for several weeks (Continued on page six)

Antique Tractor Pull Draws Many Entries

Oldies, but goodies. Antique tractors that can still pull their weight and then some. While not antique, a number of drivers and their tractors of pre-1940 vintage showed up on the Chelsea grounds Thursday morning for the second annual antique tractor pull. Such a success with 18 entries in 1974 that Paul Bollinger, tractor and superintendent of the pull, decided to hold it again.

In the lightweight division Kirk Brady of Dearborn took first place; Robert Yuhasz of Manchester, second; Rosemary Klink of Manchester took third, Tim John of Manchester, fourth; Chelseaite, Albert Hatley took fifth place.

Among the heavyweight vehicles Robert Pyle of Manchester took first, Don Bollinger of Chelsea, second; Floyd Riethmiller of Grass Lake, third; Don Murray of Milan, fourth; and Paul Wenk of Chelsea, fifth.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Capital punishment - which Michigan abolished more than 125 years ago - may be back in the news when lawmakers return to Lansing this fall.

Rep. Richard Fessler, R-Union Lake, has introduced a resolution that would, if approved by a two-thirds margin in both House and Senate, put the question of restoring the death penalty in Michigan on the ballot next year.

The penalty would be applied only in cases of first-degree murder.

Social Security, SSI Checks May Now Be Sent Directly for Deposit

People who live in Michigan and 11 other states in the South and Middle West are getting a special opportunity to have their monthly social security and supplemental security income checks deposited directly in their checking or savings accounts, according to Robert A. Kehoe, social security district manager in Ann Arbor.

The direct deposit program is entirely voluntary, Kehoe said. "People who want their social security and supplemental security income checks to continue coming to their homes shouldn't do anything. Their checks will keep on coming as in the past."

But people who want their checks mailed to a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association or similar institution (a Federal deposit authorization form) he said.

Direct deposit information is being mailed with checks that will be delivered in September to people who get monthly social security or Supplemental security income payments. The direct deposit authorization form SF-1199 is available at savings and loan associations, banks, credit unions, and similar organizations.

"Completion of the form does not permit withdrawals from your account by anyone other than people you authorize," Kehoe said.

People whose checks are already being mailed to a financial institution should also make direct deposit arrangements with the SF-1199 form. The direct deposit program will help prevent loss and theft of social security and supplemental security income checks and will eliminate standing in line to cash or deposit them, according to Kehoe.

The direct deposit option is also being offered to people getting social security and supplemental security income checks in Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Wisconsin.

The option has already been offered in Georgia, Florida, and 23 states west of the Mississippi River. "This program will be extended to the other states later this year," Kehoe said.

Why should bike paths cost so much? Most of the projects involve work on road shoulders; addition of lanes and other features to make biking easier alongside the highway traffic.

The paths are built on both sides of the highway so cyclists can travel with auto traffic as the law requires, rather than in the opposite direction.

Completed bike path projects are to be found in Berrien, Hillsdale, Iosco, Kalamazoo, Livingston and Ottawa counties.

Still under construction are others in Hillsdale; Calhoun and Kalamazoo; Wayne, Oakland and Macomb; Washtenaw; Grand Traverse; Benzie; Ionia; and Kent counties.

In the planning stages are projects in Delta; Ingham; Kalamazoo and Van Buren; Kent; Marquette; Menominee; Mecosta; Muskegon; Oakland; Ottawa; and Roscommon counties.

Helping the little guy get a share in the huge business of the state is the aim of a new task force, recently appointed by Gov. William Milliken.

The Task Force on Small Business Participation in State Purchasing will review state law and existing rules and regulations to see what changes need to be made to open up the system to smaller entrepreneurs.

"Although the state has in the past attempted to provide Michigan businesses with the opportunity to sell their commodities and services to state departments, small businesses have had difficulty in obtaining much state business," Milliken says.

Minority businesses historically have had even greater difficulty getting into the mainstream of our American business enterprise system, Milliken reports.

"In view of this fact," he says, "and the fact that most minority businesses are small, special emphasis and assistance must be given to them. We can and must improve the opportunity of all small businesses to obtain a greater share of the state's business."

Packard was contacted by the React Mobil Patrol Search and Rescue, Inc., of Lansing, to use his truck to collect donations for the Muscular Dystrophy Campaign.

As guests of the React group Mrs. Packard and her granddaughter, Colleen Collins, accompanied Mac.

For this event, the group was escorted through Lansing by a mobile unit to the VFW Post #132. There donations were accepted for rides and turned into the fund.

Mrs. Packard reported that those who were watching the telethon Monday, on Channel 6, may have tuned in on the truck and heard Mac's voice.

During the 24 hours, music and entertainment was donated by various groups. Aside from the collection of checks, plants and puppies were auctioned off and a man shaved his beard for $31.

The Telethon ended with $13.8 million in pledges, the largest sum ever for such an event. A total of $16.1 million was pledged in 1974, of which 99.6 percent was actually received. This was Lewis' 10th annual Labor Day telethon. He has been chairman of the Muscular Dystrophy Association for the past 25 years.

Mrs. Packard remarked, "all proved to be a most exciting 24 hours and many people never went to sleep."

Fire Truck Runs Shuttle to Fair

Mac Packard's "Red Wagon" express in the form of his 1939 Dodge fire truck was termed a "success" by its owner Saturday, following five days of shuttling children and adults to and from the 1975 Chelsea Community Fair.

According to Packard, about 500 persons used his service daily between the hours of 12 noon and 5 p.m.

The driving was left in the able hands of Vern Welch, Bob Smith, Jim Centelli, Winston Boyer, Vern Hafner and Jack Collins. The men made a total of 42 trips from Chelsea Drug to the fair and back. Driver Hafner made a sign board for the top of the truck to advertise the shuttle.

Contributing further to the success of the community fair project were Glen's Mobil, the Chelsea Fire Department, Cal Clark and Don Baldwin. The Chelsea police department reserved two parking spaces for the vehicle.

As for Packard, he was often seen enjoying the ride along with the kids . . . on the rear step of his truck.

GOING TO THE FAIR: Ma and Pa Kettle, all members of the Duaine Bollinger and Paul Koch families, rode in the Chelsea fair parade Saturday all the way to the fairgrounds. It appears Ma and Pa Kettle, like many other float makers were determined to make it to the grounds in spite of cloudy skies and a drenching rain. The float took third place in the Adult division.

CHS FRESHMAN CLASS members chose to ride in the Chelsea Fair parade Saturday without the benefit of protection. Their float, based on McDonald's jingle "We Are the Ones," took fourth place in the Youth Division.

In the Fire Hall Saturday afternoon. In the Youth Division, the seniors, whose theme, "Bicentennial Stars and Stripes Forever," took first place. The float, a waving bicentennial flag, was decked with female members of the senior class in complementary gowns of red, white and blue with white shawls draping over their shoulders. They carried small groups of flowers entwined with red, white and blue ribbons effectively carrying out their theme. Members of the class screamed with delight upon learning of the first-place award. The group plans to enter their float in the Saline Fair to be held this week.

In second place was the Junior class float. Their "You Can Bet on Us," featured a number of gambling themes . . . all winning ones. Even the dice were turned to win. "Into the Future Is the Class of '78" and "Follow the Yellow Brick Road," was the couplet them given to the sophomore class float. Done in a rainbow of paper napkin pastel flowers, the float featured a "Dorothy" complete with shiny patent red shoes.

Members of the freshman class did a take-off on McDonald's restaurant. The theme, "We Are the Ones," and "McFreshman" won them the fourth place award in the youth division.

Two other floats, a bicentennial tractor and cake built by 13-year-old Mark Lesser and the Earn,

Learn and Play entry "We Had a Whale of a Time in Earn, Learn, and Play" were entered in the Youth Division. ELP staffer Holly Porter remarked that her kids were so disappointed when their float designed and built during the program was destroyed earlier in the summer by vandals that they wanted to build it again. "We did it in a matter of days," she said.

In the adult division, a float consisting of a beat-up pick-up with numerous coats of paint, and a trailer pulling a small wooden house, constructed by a group that call themselves "Lima Center Group" took first place. The group Ralph Trinkle, Don Laler, and Ethel and Irwin Haist completed their float with two calves, some chickens, small pigs and a goat atop the hood of the pick-up.

In second place was the Methodist Home entry, "Memory Lane." The verse, "I am Not Afraid of Tomorrow, for I Have Seen Yesterday and I Love Today," was represented by two home residents, four children and a baby-doll. This is the first year in four that the Home has not taken first place for its efforts.

Third-place award went to the Duaine Bollinger and Gary Koch family for their entry, "Ma and Pa Kettle Got the to the Chelsea Fair." One of the family members said it was the first time they entered the parade. "We had a lot more we wanted to do, but we couldn't get it here with the rain."

In fourth place was the Chelsea Kiwanis Club entry, "Touch A Life." The float constructed entirely of paper flowers and chicken wire featured a well-sculptured hand; sitting in the palm was Chelsea Fair Queen and Kiwanis Club candidate, Brenda Shadoan.

Following the judging, crews worked quickly to cover their floats. Groups concurred and those with the floats decided they wanted to march despite the torrents of rain falling outside.

Floats covered, the 1975 Chelsea Fair Parade stepped off at 1:45 p.m. accompanied by whomever dared brave the weather.

Among the marchers was Mac Packard and his red fire engine full of family and friends decked out as clowns. The group handed out candy and gum to wet children along the route to the Fairgrounds. Others marching were members of the fire department, the 5th Michigan Regimental Band and the Dexter-Vintage Vehicle Club.

One of the pleasures of life for many folks is a huge bowl of white, buttery popcorn, still warm from its session on the stove, nicely salted and crisp. Michigan grows popcorn all over the state with an average yield of 2,100 pounds to the acre. We produced 7,980,000 pounds in 1974 from 3,800 acres. In cash terms, the popcorn crop was valued at $567,000 and we ranked ninth among the 50 states.

GRAND CHAMPION HOBBY: Byron Smith's wood sculptured praying hands, a project he began while on vacation in Minneapolis, Minn., to learn the art of wood sculpturing, took the Grand Champion Award in the adult hobby division at the Chelsea Community Fair last week. Smith not only sculptured the hands, but carved the frame they are mounted on as well.

AN OLD HAND: Paula Beaudoin was a winner of three ribbons in the children's hobby division at the Chelsea Community Fair. Paula, a 4-H member, holds several awards attesting to her talents in ceramics and painting. Pictured here, the young lady displays her prize-winning works.

HE WORKS WITH GLASS: John Carpenter received two ribbons in the senior citizen hobby division at the Chelsea Community Fair. Pictured here, Carpenter displays some of his work. He creates lamps from bottles, vases and plant holders. The two ribbons were for first and second place.

POSTCARDS, POSTCARDS AND MORE POSTCARDS: A postcard collection begun in grade 4,000, includes postcards from all over the United States and several from foreign countries. Fair last week. The collection, numbering some 6,000, includes postcards from all over the United States and several from foreign countries.

Hobbies Section Special Winners

The Chelsea Methodist Home again captured the Grand Champion ribbon at the 1975 Chelsea Community Fair in the senior citizen division with their fine collection display.

Going to school has paid off for talented Byron Smith, senior vice-commander of VFW Post 4076, who received the coveted adult Grand Champion ribbon for his sensitive hand carving. Readers may recall the article in last week's Standard concerning Smith's wood-carving course in Minneapolis.

Tim Whitesall, Jr.'s painting of Abraham Lincoln won the Grand Champion ribbon in the children's division. Tim is particularly proud because the picture will be a birthday present for his grandfather. The Rev. John R. Morris' impressive postcard display features cards from every city and state in the U.S., plus those from several foreign countries. Pastor Morris began his hobby in grade school and, although Morris did not volunteer his age, the collection is awesome.

John Carpenter, senior winner of both a first and second place, does fantastic things with a glass cutter. Some of his items displayed included lamps made from bottles, cleverly fashioned vases and plant holders.

Paula Beaudoin, winner of three ribbons in the children's division is an old hand at winning. Paula, a 4-H member, has several 4-H awards to prove her talent in ceramics and painting.

Fourteen-year-old Dan Blough whose beautifully finished checkerboard, won him the Grand Cham-pio ribbon in the youth division is also a consistent 4-H winner which includes two purple ribbons and several honor-group awards which are special ribbons given to those whom the judges feel merit an extra award. Last year at the Chelsea Fair, Dan took a blue ribbon for a fine bull model.

Kenneth Bucholz, blue ribbon winner in the adult model section, displayed his special talent and technique in the beautiful model plane which received much attention from fair visitors.

Beverly Yelsik and Virginia Albrecht, superintendents of the hobbies section, remarked that the exhibitors should be particularly proud of their entries because competition was very close in some divisions. The judges, all professionals, had some difficult decisions to make.

Michigan was the world's largest peppermint oil producer until 1940 when a fungus destroyed most of the crop. Today, little peppermint is grown but spearmint, which was grown on 3,600 acres, produced 101,000 pounds of oil in 1974. Value of the spearmint oil produced was $1,111,000. Michigan ranked fifth in the country in spearmint oil production. Chief counties growing this crop are Clinton, Calhoun, Eaton, Ingham and Shiawassee.

Michigan housewives are famous for their luscious peach pies and cobbler, and well they might be with supplies of this fruit so handy. In 1974 our industrious Michigan farmers sold 70 million pounds of peaches valued at $8,190,000. This placed us fifth among peach producing states. Major counties for this fruit lie in the orchard areas along the Lake Michigan side of the state—Berrien, Van Buren, Oceana, Allegan and Kent.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home with a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

Join in the celebration of National Better-Breakfast month and get your family off to a smashing good start every day. Serve nourishing, enjoyable foods, taking advantage of those that are seasonably plentiful and economical.

USDA has a record wheat crop forecast for 1975 at 1.783 billion bushels. So, in addition to cereals, breads are plentiful, and sandwiches make quick nourishing morning treats, too. Use leftover meats like cold ham or meat loaf, cheeses and sandwich spreads with a variety of enriched breads. You may want to substitute a hard-boiled egg for the sandwich on occasion. Cook it the night before or, better yet, cook several and store them in the refrigerator to have on hand for snack foods. An egg is a complete protein food in itself and a real bargain cent-wise.

CURBING FREER RD. was a just a little more than a one day job thanks to a new slip-form machine which eliminates laying the forms, pouring the cement, removing the forms and continuing the same process. This small machine pictured in the foreground does the entire job. Cement drops into the form and is set as the machine moves slowly down the road. According to village administrator, Fritz Weber the job is expected to be finished this week if good weather continues. Weber added that the village will have to do some work in the area before the paving is done. As far as the sidewalks, "We hope they are in before winter," he remarked. The curb is being constructed by Ann Arbor Construction Co.

Largest commercial onion crops in Michigan were grown in Newago, Ottawa and Allegan counties in 1974 with a total of 2,139,000 pounds valued at $11,310,000. This was 15 percent less than in 1973, both years notorious for bad weather for farmers. Still, we ranked fifth in the nation among onion producing states and were busy shipping the crop to many parts of the U. S. and overseas to various European countries.

BICENTENNIAL STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER: A rear view of the Senior Class, first prize float in the Youth division, was captured by The Standard photographer as it made its way to the Chelsea Fairgrounds last Saturday.

FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE PICK-UP PULL: First evening was well received. Pictured here is one of the pick-ups in action at the Chelsea Community Fair this year, the four-wheel drive pull held on the grounds Wednesday.

4-Wheel Drive Pull Started This Year

One of the "firsts" at this year's Chelsea Community Fair was the Four-Wheel Drive Pick-up pull held Wednesday evening in the arena. The pull was one of five pulls slated for each day during the fair. A total of 68 vehicles were entered in the event which was comprised of four weight classes:

For the first four-wheel pick up pull, the grandstands were filled, and according to those who attended, there was standing room only. The pull, unlike the tractor, tri-cycle and pony pulls is based on time, not on percentage of weight pulled. In the Class 1050 division, 3,250 pounds and under, Steve Oliver of Adrian placed first with a time of 6:75. He drove a CJ5 Jeep. In second place was Fred Young of Adrian who pulled in 7 seconds; third place went to Jeff Foster of Jackson for a time of 7.5 seconds. Fourth place to Jerry William of Grass Lake, 7:25.

Winners in Class 1051, 4,250 pounds and under, were Bill Smith of Dearborn Heights, 6; Chris Walbrook of Grass Lake, 6.5; John Hergert of Jonesville, 7; and Ron Mueller of Clinton, 11. In the 5,250 pound and under class first place went to Terry Wilburn of Belleville, 5.6; second to Gary Cue of Clinton, 5.8; third to Wayne Suttles of Belleville, 6; and fourth to Greg Haskovich of Jackson, 6. Jerry Donahue of Wayne took first in the 6,250 pound and under division. Second, Ron Maciejewski of Romulus, 6; third, Larry Moore of Adrian, 6.5; and Curt Alden of Chelsea, 6.5. Bob Black of Romulus received first place for his time of 5.25 in the Open class. Second place went to Ron Maciejewski, also of Romulus, 5.50; third, Jerry Dona-

Bicentennial...

(Continued from page one) during the peak celebration period in each of the four areas. Spaulding said, "We are all aware of the tremendous amount of interest and participation that a celebration of this type creates and this is just the festival part of the celebration."

The National Bicentennial theme actually combines, aside from the festival, two other equally and perhaps more important themes; that of Heritage and Horizons. Local general chairpersons are currently being recruited. The chart of organizations, consisting of seven divisions and 65 committees is completely blank; local headquarters are non-existent and preliminary plans have all barely gotten off the ground. As Spaulding says, "it's a time for action!" Spaulding and Dick Harvey, the acting chairman of the Chelsea Bicentennial committee said "We will have a very successful Bicentennial Celebration and observation throughout the coming year of 1976."

AMAZING EXHIBITION: Considering the conditions John Gurtner of Fremont, Ind., had to work under five days prior to the opening of the Chelsea Fair, it is amazing that this pair, a sheep and hog, responded to Gurtner's commands. Ruth Leach, fair secretary, says that the pair of Duroc hogs pictured in The Standard two weeks ago, became ill prior to the fair and had to be put to sleep. Gurtner, like all showmen, insisted that the show must go on. He got busy and trained a new hog and sheep to pull this small wagon for four days at the Chelsea Fair. Pictured with the pair is their trainer.

PAUL ZAHN of Chelsea displays a proud smile holding his trophy and Grand Champion blue ribbon for his first place in the light-heavyweight division of the tractor pull held Friday evening on the Chelsea fairgrounds. Zahn drove a 1961 830 Case. His tractor pulled 220 percent of its weight to win the award.

HORSESHOE PITCHERS: The first horseshoe pitching contest was held this year at the Chelsea Community Fair sponsored jointly by pitching enthusiasts Jim Daniels and Fred Petsch. The pair said the contest was so well received, with a total of 30 entries, that they hope to make it an annual event. Winners of the contest are pictured from left, first-place team, Stan Swarthout of Milan and Silas Grant of Ann Arbor; second-place team, Curt and John Day of Manchester. Not pictured were third-place team, Larry McGee and Don Wheeler of Manchester and fourth-place team, Jim Romine and Rodney Abdon of Dexter. It's no wonder that Swarthout won; he is rated as one of the 10 best pitchers in the state; his wife, Jean, has won and holds the World Champion Class B title and is state champ for 1971, '72 and '74. She says she hopes to retain this year's title. Together, the couple have 79 trophies. This one makes 80!

Harriers Looking for Good 1975 Season

Area Students Earn Degrees at Central Michigan

Three Chelsea students and one Dexter student received degrees in graduating ceremonies in May at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant. Commencement was held in the University's Shorts Stadium. Commencement speaker was Rater Johnson, former Gold Medal Winner in the Olympic Games.

From Dexter was Sharon L. Heydlauff of Dexter-Chelsea Rd., bachelor of science in education with a speech major.

From Chelsea were Eileen Bristle, bachelor of science in education, physical education major, who graduated magna cum laude; Marcia Kelly, bachelor of arts in home economics; Terry Ann Kelly, bachelor of science, who graduated cum laude.

Jaycee Auxiliary Gives Fire Extinguisher

A 2 1/2-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher was given away by the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary at their Red Ball booth at the Chelsea Community Fair last week-end. Winner of the extinguisher is Randy Gerkar of Dexter.

As the 1975 cross country season draws near the Chelsea Harriers are looking forward with "guarded optimism" toward it. The optimism is there because Head Coach Pat Clarke, will welcome back six veteran lettermen.

Heading the list of returnees is last year's most valuable runner, senior John Storey. Returning along with Storey are senior captain Bill Rademacher, juniors Rick Haller, Phil Frame, Morris Johnson, and Dean Thompson. Add to this base experienced JV runners from last year like junior Jeff Sweet and sophomore Mark Buchholz and "you have a very solid team," said Clarke.

According to Coach Clarke, the team appears solid, but how good they become depends upon their willingness to work and sacrifice toward their goals. So far in three weeks of practice Clarke reports that he has been fairly well pleased with the effort and attitude of the squad.

Newcomers who might add to the team strength before the season is over include sophomore Jerry Benjamin, freshmen Chris Minick,

Scott Beyer, Joe Marentette and Brian Herrick. Clarke said these runners have a great attitude and are willing to work. "They only need some competition for seasoning and some time to grow running-wise," he added. "So much for why the team is optimistic!"

This fall the Bulldogs face one of their toughest schedules ever. The two league teams that finished head of them in '74, S. Lyon and Brighton return with their entire teams intact from last year, in addition, Saline again appears strong and Dexter will be greatly improved. Clarke remarked "that gives us quite a challenge ahead."

In the non-league schedule such powers as Cascades co-champions Michigan Center and Jackson Northwest, third place state finisher Lumen Christi, and always strong Tecumseh stand ready to give the local runners a run for their lives.

"Taking all this into account we have the term 'guarded optimism.' The schedule is tough and demanding. If the Bulldogs are up to the challenge and they appear to be at this point then this indeed could be a good year for the local harriers," he summarized.

SEC Preview For Season

Reward Offered for Identity of Driver In Hit, Run Incident

Phil McDaniel of 797 Glazier Rd., has offered a reward for the identification of a vehicle which hit his van Saturday morning while parked in the lot next to the Chelsea Fire Hall.

McDaniels said his 1972 blue Ford window van suffered damage on the right side sometime Saturday morning.

The hit and run incident was reported to Village police. No action has been taken.

Michigan has more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of streams.

THE WINNER of Thursday evening's Demolition Derby held on the Chelsea Fairgrounds is the black wagon, number 8. The car, from Belleville, held up well, considering all the crashing hits it suffered during the Thursday evening bash.

CRASH, BANG, BOOM: Working hard to eliminate the other drivers, these crash-helmeted men bang and crash into each other all in the spirit of Thursday evening's Demolition Derby held on the Chelsea Fairgrounds. The event was so packed with spectators that the addition of 500 extra grandstand seats could not take care of the derby enthusiasts. Pictured here is Earl Pratt No. 15 being put out of action as two of the last three cars gang up on him.

School Bus Rules Published

The transportation of pupils is a matter which involves many factors but the "safety" of all pupils is more important than any other factor. The drivers of Chelsea buses have attended safety meetings in the state and are fully informed about safe procedures and regulations in connection with bus transportation. They are extremely anxious to avoid accidents and to make the service satisfactory for all concerned. The drivers have an important part to play in the program but equally important is that of the pupils riding on the buses. Each pupil should be interested in the safety of himself and of the other members of the groups and the complete co-operation of all is necessary. The following list of items is given so that all may understand the problems and the procedures to be followed in the buses.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our beloved son and dearest brother, Mark Jeffrey Scott, who died one year ago Sept. 7, 1974. We live in memories garden, dear, with happy days we've known. And each thing you touched along the way is now a hallowed spot. Your gentle face and friendly smile with sadness we recall. You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all. You are not forgotten, loved one, nor will you ever be, as long as life and memory last we will remember thee. We miss you now, our loving smile, your gentle face. No one in this world can ever take your place. We can never erase the sadness or edit out the tears without your being here. So sadly missed by:

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Scientists probe the unknown to determine the possibilities and probabilities with constant experimentation. Discoveries are made. Proof is established. The unknown becomes the known.

For some strange reason, some people say science and religion oppose each other. True, some scientists are agnostics and atheists. But through the years, most of the world's greatest scientists have realized knowledge of the nature of the physical universe is limited. They know a Higher Power, a more Knowledgeable Power exists. They know piece-meal bits of knowledge are released ONLY through the graciousness of a Higher Power than man. They realize life is a paradox. They realize humility makes man great. Charity makes a man rich in character. Forgiveness gives him magnanimity of spirit. Absence of envy and greed keeps his soul in order. These are only a few of the realities that prove a Higher Power exists; a Power that controls the limitations of science. . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Wanted Girl Scout Leaders
Assistant Leaders Wanted, Too.
Why be a Girl Scout Leader? Because you care about girls, and girls care about you. You want to share good things with them.
If you are a Leader, what do you do? You work with girls—little girls and big girls. You show them the many things you know. They learn from you, and you learn from them.
You have ideas. The girls have ideas. You make plans, and the girls make plans. The plans turn into action. You work on projects. You go places and see things. You have troop meetings and meetings with other Leaders. You make friends. And you receive help whenever you need it.
Thousands of men and women have brightened their lives as well as the lives of others by becoming Girl Scout Leaders. Be a Leader, and make some girls happy. It will make you happy, too.
About the Girl Scout Movement
The Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. It is open to all girls 7 through 17 who subscribe to its ideals as expressed in the Girl Scout Promise and Law. Founded in 1912 and incorporated in Washington, D.C., in 1915, it was chartered by the Congress of the United States in 1950. Girl Scouts is a growing organization. But in order to continue to grow, it needs Leaders—like YOU!
If you can spare the time, you can become a Girl Scout Leader or an Assistant Leader. Helpers are also needed. To find out more, just mail the coupon below.

No trouble lady, that's just part of our service!

PEEKING OUT: The only thing visible through the downpouring rain on the Chelsea Kiwanis Club float in the parade was their Queen candidate and 1975 Chelsea Fair Queen, Brenda Shaddon. The float, which depicted a well-sculptured hand and a white and black hand shaking was completely covered to preserve its paper-flower freshness. The Kiwanis entry, "Touch A Life," received fourth place in the adult division judging.

KEEP IT COVERED: A member of the sophomore class makes haste to keep their paper-flowered float covered and dry during Saturday's fair parade. The float, "Follow the Yellow Brick Road," and "Into the Future is the Class of '78" took third place in the Youth Division.

As far away as Jackson and Detroit who came only to find conditions unsuitable for their participation.
A thank you to all of the other participants: antique cars, industrial equipment, farm machinery, horses and riders, the Michigan 8th Regiment Band, and the Parade Marshal. Also clowns who braved the elements.
A final thank you to all of the people who took the time to view the parade. With the weather as it was it is a very heartwarming sight to see such community spirit. Yours Truly.
Parade Chairmen, James Gaken, Chief, Art Paul, Captain.
To the Editor:
I am seeking men and officers who served aboard the mighty aircraft carrier, the USS TICONDEROGA, particularly those of WW-2, while there is time left. Every man who ever served on this fine ship is entitled to join our group. We will be having our next annual reunion this coming May at Ticonderoga, N.Y.
If interested, and for more details, write me, giving your rank, the division, and year(s) on board.

Rich families spend less for food and transportation than poorer families. Families with after-tax income of $5-6,000 spend 24.7 percent for food, 16.5 percent for transportation. Families with after-tax income of $15,000 spend 19.2 percent for food, 14.1 percent for transportation. Housing takes almost 30 percent of income, regardless of take-home pay, however.

Can't You Count?
The late Albert Einstein was an amateur violinist. Once, at Princeton, he was visited by Jascha Heifetz, George Piatagorski and Arthur Rubinstein. They suggested that Einstein join them in a little chamber music. He quickly produced his violin and the group began a delicate Mozart quartet. After a few moments, Rubinstein looked up in annoyance. "My dear Dr. Einstein," he demanded, "what is wrong with you? Can't you count?"
Never underestimate your own ability; others will do it for you.

Club secretaries are urged to contact The Standard office, 300 N. Main St., or phone 475-1371, to give advance notice of meetings and to report follow-up news accounts of their organizations.

BAHA'I SCRIPTURES.

With more than 6.6 million hens averaging 233 eggs per hen per year, Michigan produced 1.5 billion eggs in 1973 at a value of $64 million. Both number of hens and annual production of eggs has remained steady from 1972 to 1973 but the market price has increased as any consumer knows. Michigan ranks 17th among the states in egg production.

The Vanishing American

Today's dairy farmer milks cows on the edge of a chasm. Standing on one foot. In a high wind. From his precarious vantage point, he sees increasing costs of such production necessities as seed, feed, fuel and fertilizers; and he sees a farm income declining by comparison.

About half of the U. S. dairy farmers in business five years ago no longer are. In Michigan, the nation's sixth-ranking dairy state, the number of dairy farmers has dropped from about 14,000 a decade ago to 7,700 last year. The number is expected to be 4,500 by 1980.

Today's dairy farmer knows he cannot stand alone. He knows he needs an ally. And for 5,400 of the state's 7,700 dairy farmers, that ally is MMPA, a milk marketing cooperative owned and controlled by those it serves.

MMPA, through a variety of service and marketing programs, pledges itself to work for the betterment of its dairy farmer members. MMPA works for a fair return on dairy farmers' investments and works to maintain stability in the complex arena of milk marketing.

Some of MMPA's programs also benefit consumers. The Association encourages high milk production which, combined with sound and positive marketing practices, assures ample milk for Michigan consumers. MMPA also promotes good dairy herd management practices among its members to assure that milk sent to market under the MMPA banner is of highest possible quality.

Dairy farming is the first-ranking segment of the state's No. 2 industry: Agriculture.

And we at MMPA are dedicated to the belief that the Vanishing American is important and to the belief that this great natural resource—the dairy farming industry—is worth preserving.

Michigan Milk Producers Association

HUNGRY HOG: Karen McCalla's Grand Champion individual hog is oblivious to the fact that he is being photographed. All he is interested in is eating. The 213-pound animal brought Karen $1 per pound. The buyer was Robert Kushmaul of Washienaw Crop Service. Karen is pictured at right with Kushmaul.

THIS PAIR OF LAMBS weighing a total of 208 pounds brought 75 cents a pound for their owner, Matt Grau. Grau's pen also won the reserve champion award at the Chelsea Community Fair last week. Pictured is a representative for the buyer, G. E. Wacker, Grau and a loyal friend.

SEC Preview for '75

them a very experienced seasoned team in '75.

Brighton: The Brighton Bulldogs fought South Lyon tooth and nail last year only to lose by a mere two points in the league meet. This year the Bulldogs, like the Lions, return everyone from last year's team that finished with an 11-2 record. Leading the list of returnees is the defending league champion Tim Proulx. Proulx is fast developing into one of the finest distance runners in SEC history as seen by looking at his spring times of 4:29 in the mile, 9:45 in the 2 mile and 2:03 in the half mile. Along with Proulx the Bulldogs return senior Paul Mason, juniors Drake Vader, Gary Fredovich, and sophomore Sean Hurley. The Bulldogs must be favored to give South Lyon all they want in '75.

Saline: The Hornets appear dangerous in '75. Returning top league runners like juniors Doug Fett and Don Miller give the Hornets two deadly stingers to start the season. To go with this add veterans like seniors Steve Smith and Rock Wagner give the team a solid nucleus. The Hornets, however, need to find some team depth if they are to be a competitive factor in '75.

Dexter: For the Dreadnaughts the problem is depth; their lack of it. Last year the Dreadnaughts had three good runners, but nothing behind them. The three seniors Bruce Vall and Jeff Toma and sophomore Gary Greenfield will return. If the Dreadnaughts could find a few more solid runners they might surprise a few teams this season.

Navit: The Wildcats lost quite a few of their top senior runners; however, they should be rebuilding this year.

Milan, Lincoln: While both of these schools expressed interest in fielding cross country teams for the '75 season there is not as yet anything definite.

Take a trip to Michigan's cabbage patches and you'll find 5,000 acres of commercial fields producing in 1974 an $2.2 million pound crop valued at $3,431,000. These large, solid heads, firm and crisp, are primarily grown commercially in Monroe, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Kent, Ottawa, Bay and Saginaw counties.

Among Lake Michigan's beautiful orchards, we find Michigan's major pear crop grown in Allegan, Berrien, Oceana and Van Buren counties. These farmers grow mainly the Bartlett pear and most of the crop goes to canneries. Up by 11 percent in 1974, the 10,500 ton crop was valued at $1.7 million to place Michigan fifth among the states.

Painting this weekend?

This is the label to look for. It's around the paint that washes, washes and washes

It's Dutch Boy's remarkable Nalplex. The latex flat wall paint that's not only just washable, it's odorless. Quick-drying. And covers in just one coat. More important, Nalplex doesn't change color. Which means your walls stay looking fresh and bright. Which is what you want. Right?

You will remember the quality of Dutch Boy paints long after the price is forgotten.
