Rec. Council Elects Officers

At their Sept. 3 meeting, the Chelsea Recreation Council elected new officers for the 1975-76 year. President of the council is Ann Schaffner; vice-president, Dennis Mull; secretary, Pat Whitesall, and treasurer, Bob Ward. New members on the council this year are Norman Eismann, Dennis Mull, Carol Kvamberg and Marion May. In other council action, the council accepted with regret the resignation of Tom Balistrere who has served the village as recreation director for the past two years. President Schaffner said that a lengthy discussion concerning the future direction of recreation in Chelsea and the need for a full-time director to serve the community's recreational needs followed. Mrs. Schaffner has been directed by the group to actively seek applicants for this part-time position. Until such time as a director is employed, Mrs. Schaffner will serve as acting director for the fall.

School Board Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Sept. 8, present were Hasel-schwardt, Daniels, Hodgson, Irvin, Tobin, Schafer, Supt. Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principals Lane and Benedict. Several guests attended the meeting. The meeting was called to order by President Haselschwardt at 8 p.m. The minutes of the meeting of Aug. 18 were approved as read. Bids were opened on interest to be paid on $700,000 tax anticipation notes. The board accepted the bid of the Michigan National Bank of Flint for 4.97 percent interest. The Mosher Agreement with the CEA was ratified as negotiated by James Green, the board negotiator. The board granted approval for the use of a school bus for the Chelsea High School Club Hockey team which is now part of the recreation program. A discussion was held with some parents of North Elementary school kindergartners regarding building and completion of the building.

Rec. Council Accepts Director's Resignation

In a meeting held Wednesday evening, Sept. 3, the Chelsea Recreation Council accepted "with regret" the resignation of their director, Tom Balistrere. The council expressed their sincere appreciation for the leadership Balistrere has provided during his two years as director. President of the Council, Ann Schaffner said, "He and his wife have given us a lot of time and energy toward the task of providing an enjoyable recreation program for our community." During Balistrere's tenure, a year-round recreation program was established, including offerings for fall, winter, spring and summer seasons. The growth in participation among area residents reflects much of Balistrere's enthusiasm for the job. According to Mrs. Schaffner, participants in the program prior to Balistrere's appointment numbered 1,004. The number rose to 2,273 in 1974 and to 3,914 in 1975. Aside from increasing the number of participants in Chelsea's Recreation program, Balistrere has initiated a number of programs and events designed to encourage and stimulate community interest. Balistrere brought the Voorheis

Bros. Circus to Chelsea last spring; an event which was responsible for attracting some 3,500 spectators to the Chelsea High school gymnasium. Family movies and cartoons have also been widely received. Balistrere began and directed Chelsea's "Earn and Learn and Play" program which just completed its second summer with a registration of 354 youngsters. Chelsea's Veteran's Park enjoyed a complete renovation this summer, thanks to Balistrere who designed and supervised the project, and to the Village Council who could not help but catch on to Balistrere's enthusiasm. The Council provided funds for the project and CETA provided the labor. The "natural" park once "a deserted area has become a center of activity for Chelsea," Mrs. Schaffner remarks. She continued, "The people in the Chelsea community have demonstrated their interest in recreational activities and it is my hope that in the not too distant future a full-time director may be provided to further expand the scope of activities now available." At this time, Mrs. Schaffner said that a full-time director is "not economically feasible." However, (Continued on page three)

United Way Campaign Kick-off Set

Chelsea United Way will hold their 1975 kick-off campaign meeting, Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Village Council chambers. According to Pam Lewis, the meeting is extremely important. "We are asking all solicitors and chairmen to be present," she said. Chairman of the 1975 campaign, Marjorie Robbins, will hold a training session for solicitors and chairmen that evening. "Mrs. Robbins is very enthusiastic about this year's campaign," Mrs. Lewis said, "and is hopeful that this will be the best campaign ever." Chelsea's United Way campaign will officially open Monday, Sept. 29 and run through Oct. 10.

Wallace Wood Named Bicentennial Chairman

Wallace Wood has been named general chairman for the Chelsea Bicentennial celebration. As general chairman he will work closely with the Rogers Co. of Fostoria, O., which has been hired to coordinate the celebration for Western Washtenaw County. According to Rolly Spaulding, a member of the Western Washtenaw Bicentennial Commission, Wood will begin working with the company next week; however, there will not be any public action for several months. Much of the work will be in the preliminary planning stages. Wood, who is the State Farm Insurance Agent in Chelsea, was in charge of Caravans for Chelsea's 125th celebration held in 1959. The Rogers Co. worked closely with Chelsea in coordinating that celebration as well.

High School Sports Tickets Now Available

The leaves are beginning to show just the slightest twinges of orange and yellow, the days are cooler and evenings no longer stretch on till 10 p.m. It's the sign of fall and with fall, the football season. Athletic director and varsity football coach at Chelsea High school, Phil Bareis reports that a number of people have asked him about football game tickets, where and when they may be purchased and for how much. For avid sports fans an all-sports pass, may be purchased for $15. The pass entitles the bearer to attend all fall, winter and spring sports events. A fall season pass, admitting the bearer to all home football games, girls basketball and cross country (which Bareis said is free) may be purchased for $7.50. Individual ticket prices are as follows. Varsity football games: adults and students, $1.50 at the gate. Pre-game tickets may be purchased at Beach Middle school or the high school for $1. First graders through 6th graders may purchase football game tickets at the gate for $1. Girls' varsity basketball and JV and freshman football game tickets may be purchased for $1. adults and 50 cents for students. (Continued on page 3)

Historical Society Seeks Items of Early History

Chelsea Area Historical Society resumed their regular monthly meetings, Monday, Sept. 8 at the Congregational church. After the business meeting where the treasurer's report revealed a bank balance of $1,143, there was discussion regarding the society's involvement in the Bicentennial celebration.

Fall Adult Rec. Classes Start Sept. 29

A complete list of scheduling, classes and course descriptions for the Recreation Council's fall adult classes will be published in next week's issue of The Standard. According to acting director, Ann Schaffner, there are a number of new and exciting offerings this fall. Mrs. Schaffner said that all classes will begin the week of Sept. 29 and run for either eight or 10 weeks. Registration for all classes may be done by phone or at the first class meeting. However, because some classes might be canceled if not enough interest is shown Mrs. Schaffner suggests pre-registering to avoid disappointments. Mrs. McAllister's ideas were so all-inclusive, Harold Dreher suggested she incorporate them into a textbook to be utilized by other such groups. Dreher also suggested that Chelsea people might enjoy attending the Second Annual Auction sponsored by the Shiawassee County Historical Society. This event will take place at 1 p.m., Sept. 14 at the Getman Farm, located at 1675 N. M-52 in Owosso. In the discussion following Mrs. McAllister's talk, members tried to recall names of well known local people, especially from previous years, and events surrounding their lives. Mrs. Virginia Allshouse would like to hear from anyone in the area who might remember names, or those who might have items of historical significance to the area they might wish to loan or donate, for display. The next Historical Society meeting will be at 8 p.m., Oct. 13 in the downstairs meeting room of the First Congregational church. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Cross Country Team Loses to Mich. Center

In their first Cross Country meet of the season, Chelsea's Varsity Bulldogs lost, 20-35, to Michigan Center, a team their coach, Pat Clarke stressed as "tough." Clarke added that if the Bulldogs had beaten Michigan Center so early in the season they would almost have the conference title in the bag. However, Clarke was not making predictions, just stating the relative strength of the Michigan Center team. First-place Michigan Center runner John Lusk ran in a time of 16:33. "Seven seconds off the course record," Clarke said. Chelsea placers are as follows. In a lifetime best, Phil Frame, a third-year cross country veteran, came in fourth with a time of 17:11, John Storey, sixth, 17:22; Rick Haller, seventh, 17:24; Morris Johnson, eighth, 17:27; Carl Cherry, 10th, 17:36; and 12th place Dean Thompson with a time of 17:46. Clarke remarked that times in the seventeens were very good for his team, "Right now I've got them where I want them."

In the junior varsity meet against Michigan Center, the Bulldogs won, 17-19, over Michigan Center. First place went to Scott Beyer, 18:38; third place, Chris Minnick, 19:10; and fifth place Marentette, 19:57. Both teams meet Tecumseh to day (Thursday). The next home meet is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 16 with Jackson Lumen Christi.

Golf Team Breaks Even in First Games

"I've got some good news and some bad news," as the old cliché goes. "The good news," said Pat Wade, varsity golf coach, is that the team defeated Brighton on their home course Tuesday evening, 177-180. The bad news is that they lost to Lincoln in the dual meet, 171-177. Medalist for the game was Roger Policht who shot a 43 for the nine holes. Other top scores were Mike Fouty, 44; Dan Shirilla, 45 and Jeff Policht, 45. Coach Wade said seniors Mike Fouty, Dan Shirilla, Roger Policht and Dan Harmon, along with junior Jeff Policht, will compose the nucleus of this year's team. Promising new sophomores are Bruce Rabbitt, Brian Lewis and Joe Ewald. The golf team will play St. Thomas Wednesday (too late to get results for Thursday's publication). (Continued on page six)

M. Zink Will Head Jaycees

Newly-elected president of the Chelsea Jaycees is Mitchell Zink. Zink will fill the remainder of a term left vacant by Jerry Krauss. Krauss, who was elected to the position last May, is moving with his family to Bottinuw, N. D., where he will manage one of a chain of restaurants known as "The Country Kitchen Restaurant." Krauss was a Chelsea Jaycee for three years and intends to join the Jaycees in Bottinuw. The Krausses have two children, Jerry Lynn and Sandy. Zink who will serve some nine months as president has been a Chelsea Jaycee for seven years. He has served the group twice as vice-president, once for internal affairs and once for external affairs; and three times as director. Zink said that he looks forward to working with the Jaycees as their president. The Krausses have two children,

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It looks like ever time a feller gets settled down to enjoy the show he wakes up to find out they turned the film around and started running it backwards when he went out for popcorn. The feller at the country store Saturday night was talking about how the only thing certain is change, but Clem Webster said he never thought that went so far as to change sweet to sour and black to white ever few year.

What got the fellers started on change was this piece Clem had read where a Government economic expert said farmers ought not to get any more technical advice and equipment cause we have reached the place where the more farmers and ranchers produce the less they get paid for it. Clem said it use to be that the Department of Agriculture measured success by how much ever acre produced and how quick the meat was ready for market, but according to this economic egghead success has spoiled the deal. Clem said he was going to wait till this situation settles, cause the last he heard we still was trying to raise all the food we could, and farmers was being ask to draw their land out of the soil banks and cash in on the demand for food. Now along comes another expert to say the more we produce the less we'll make.

Josh Clodhopper, that seldom is moved to speak at our sessions, got the floor to allow that situation reminded him of the two fellers selling watermelons. They were buying em $9 a dozen, trucking em all over the country and selling em 75 cent apiece. Ever time they sold a load and counted their money they found they didn't have anything left for expenses, not to mention profit. They studied their situation, and they final figured out the answer was to expand their operation, so they bought a bigger truck.

Talking about gitting things backwards, Ed Doolittle reported where this scylogist said we hurt a child's development by making him do chores at home. When you force him to feed the chickens, this expert claimed, you keep him from doing somethin better with his time that would let him explore himself. Ed said this don't do much for the old wife's tale about idle hands being the Devil's workshop, but he said it tells him a heap about all the younguns running around today that has lost their selves and don't know where to look.

And there was the case raised by Zeke Grubb where the post office is charging more for mailing less. He had saw where a newspaper had put a football supplement in all copies sold local, but had left it out of the papers that went in the mail. The post office ruled the papers it got were not full issues, so they charged a extra $500 for the supplements they didn't handle. With that kind of figuring the mails ought to show a profit, said Zeke.

Along that line, Mister Editor, I would rather include Russia out of meetings like Helsinki. We may not gain nothing without Russia, but we don't lose near as much. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

So great is the variety of Michigan foods that Michigan comes closer to setting the family table completely—breakfast, lunch and dinner—than any other state.

Danger in Bottles
Poison—the stuff with a skull and crossbones on the label. Right? Not always. Even aspirin, taken by mistake and in sufficient doses, can cause accidental poisoning to a child. And it's estimated that some 500,000 children across the United States are victims of accidental poisoning in a year.

"Keep it out of sight and out of reach—even if it has a 'safety cap,'" recommends the National Planning Council for National Poison Week, in a pamphlet distributed by the Michigan Pharmaceutical Association.

The pamphlet, called "Locked Up Poisons—Prevent Tragedy," offers several suggestions for protecting your child against accidental poisoning.

"Never call medicine 'candy' " is one recommendation that hits home.

When your child is fussy, and doesn't want to take medicine, it's maybe tempting to entice him or her with the "reward" of "candy" medicine disguised with orange or chocolate flavoring.

But calling medicine candy is dangerous. "When left alone, they (children) may locate the bottle and eat or drink its contents," the council warns.

Other suggestions for your child's good health include these:

—Never leave a bottle of aspirin or other pills out of place. Return it to a safe place immediately after using.

—Never place kerosene, antifreeze, paints or solvents in cups, glasses, milk or soft-drink bottles or other utensils customarily used for food or drinks.

—Pour contents down drain or toilet, and rinse container before discarding. Do not put container with its contents into refuse can.

—Cleaning fluids, detergents, lye soap powders, insecticides and other everyday household products should be stored away from food and medications. Death could be the result of a mistaken identity.

Aiming at Mosquitoes
If you own horses, beware of Eastern equine encephalomyelitis (EEE).

The state Agriculture Department is advising vaccinations against the disease in the wake of two reported cases in the southwestern part of the state. Both horses involved died.

One of the cases was confirmed by Agriculture Department laboratory tests as being EEE, a disease spread by insects such as mosquitoes.

"Symptoms in horses include drooliness, unco-ordination, depression and a loss of appetite," says Dr. John Quinn, chief of the department's animal health division. Once the disease is confirmed, he adds, vaccinations won't help.

Meanwhile, the Public Health Department says it will push for mosquito control laws in Michigan. That word follows reports of two apparent outbreaks of mosquito-borne disease, St. Louis Encephalitis in Mississippi and Western Equine Encephalitis in the Red Department Director Maurice Reizen says the proposed Michigan law would create mosquito abatement districts and provide financing for such projects.

"There is no doubt that the legislation is needed so that future efforts at mosquito abatement in Michigan can be effective," Reizen says, "and, at the same time, properly controlled to prevent inadvertent damage to the environment."

As an example, Reizen points to a program in the Bay-Saginaw-Midland area. That program involved a study which officials hope may result in the establishment of a mosquito control district.

Energy Study Okayed

How and when do industrial customers use electricity?

Could that use be changed somewhat to spread peak electricity demand more evenly throughout the day? Might that result in a lower cost for all electricity customers?

Answers to those questions are the expected aim of a study getting underway these days, under a federal demonstration grant awarded by the Michigan Public Service Commission. Detroit Edison Co. will provide technical assistance for the study.

The commission explains the situation this way:

Industrial customers use about 50 percent of Edison's total electric production and 36 percent of its peak demand generating requirements.

If customers' use could be spread out more, then peak generating capacity would be lessened. And that could mean a reduction in the cost of producing electricity.

Home Canning of Tomatoes Needs Extra Precautions

Those plump and juicy tomatoes you harvested from your garden could make tasty eating this winter if you decide to can them. But nowadays you need to be especially careful when canning tomatoes. Some of the newer varieties of tomatoes have less acid than those you're used to. And weak acidity may permit the growth of highly toxic organisms which can cause botulism.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has a pamphlet that outlines safe canning procedures. For a free copy of Home Canning Safety write: Consumer Information, Dept. 51, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The publication advises that since both climate and soil affect the problem, you may want to talk with people in your own community who are knowledgeable about home canning, including your local home extension agent.

Other pointers include: —Don't take short cuts or experiment in home canning. Use only tested, currently approved methods. —Use only jars, cans and lids made especially for home canning. Never use ordinary jars such as mayonnaise or coffee jars.

Home Canning Safety (free) is one of almost 250 selected Federal consumer publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. The Index is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration. Free copies are available from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Col. 81009.

'Fulfilled Woman' Seminar Expanded With Another Class

An additional class for "The Fulfilled Woman" seminar has been scheduled because of the enthusiastic response to the program.

Class on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., as well as a morning class on Thursdays from 9 to 11 a.m., will be held. Held at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor, the evening class will begin Oct. 21, run through Dec. 9 and will resume Jan. 6, ending Jan. 27.

At the same location, the morning class begins on Oct. 16 and also ends in January.

This course is an in-depth scriptural study for women and attempts to speak to the needs that all women face. Although it is especially geared to the needs of married women, unmarrieds are also welcome. Topics for both courses include the search for fulfillment, liking ourselves, understanding men, what every man wants in a woman, building love, building communication, fulfilling sex, satisfying motherhood, the creative homemaker, the woman you always wanted to be, the happy woman and the liberated woman.

Anyone in the Dexter area who would like to car-pool to these sessions, please call Mrs. Rita Denoyer, or 971-3095 or 761-9320.

PRUNE-PLUMS CROP IS HEFTY

You may not hear much about the prune-plum crop in Michigan but it is a fairly hefty one, though they were the only major fruit crop in the state to decline in 1974, suffering from poor spring pollination conditions. We went from second place in '73 to 3rd place in '74 production of this crop. At a 12,000 ton weight, the prune-plums valued up at $2,100,000.

Reports of Area Club Activities Always Welcome

With the fall season nearly upon the community, many of the organizations which traditionally suspend meetings during the heat of summer, will be holding their regular meetings and special activities once again.

The Standard welcomes notices of club meetings and group activities, and is happy to include such information in the Community Calendar. Club secretaries are urged to contact The Standard office, 300 N. Main St., or phone 475-1371, to give advance notice of meetings and to report follow-up news accounts of their organizations.

"The Place To Go for Brands You Know"

New Program of Training Starting for Girl Scout Leaders

A major new program of training for Girl Scout volunteers is being launched this month by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, it was announced today by Mrs. Jean (Louis) Galan of Dexter, council president. The program includes two courses, one for the troop leader and assistant troop leader, and one for the volunteer supervisor, known as the troop services director. Both courses will include pre-class investigation, two-day courses, and follow-up sessions a month and six months after course completion. The courses which are designed in a college format, are free.

The course content is based on the concept of measurable objectives, in which volunteers (and in the case of troop leaders, Girl Scouts themselves) set their own goals which can be defined in objective terms. Training sessions equip volunteers to meet these goals.

Fundamental to both courses will be training in interpersonal skills, learning theory, planning and organization of work, performance maintenance, communication methods, girl-adult partnership in planning, research techniques, and utilization of resources.

The course design prepared by the national office of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. in New York, differs from former training programs in its emphasis on modern management methods and on individual girl and adult development, according to Mrs. Galan.

"The principles taught in these courses are not only related to Girl Scouting, but applicable to virtually any group or professional activity," Mrs. Galan said. "The course content should stand the volunteer in good stead throughout the rest of her life, whenever she works with others."

Co-ordinating the program is Helen Danley, training director of the Huron Valley Council. Working with Mrs. Danley to prepare materials and lead courses are volunteer trainers including: Ms. Maggie Applegate, Ms. Teri Julien, Mrs. Louis (Eileen) Pepplet, all of Westland; Ms. Martha Bentley and Mrs. Gene (Jean) Bosche of Plymouth; Mrs. Donna Goldman, Mrs. Larry (Nancy) Krohn, Ms. Joyce Smith, and Ms. Claudia Stallings, of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Jon (Pat) Levos and Mrs. Jerry (Gail) Slusser, of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Larry (Sally) Nitzel and Mrs. Gilbert (April) Terry of Wayne; Mrs. Harley (Jean) Savage and Mrs. Roscoe (Darbi) Stuber, of Howell; Mrs. Franklin (Marilyn) Short of Saline; Ms. Sue Strohkirsch of Gladwin; and Mr. William Schliet of Linden.

The fall schedule includes both daytime and evening classes. Daytime "Job of the Leader" classes will begin in Westland Sept. 24; Saline, Sept. 26; Romulus, Oct. 7; Plymouth, Oct. 20; Howell, Oct. 14; and Ann Arbor, Nov. 6. Evening classes will begin in Westland, Oct. 6; Saline, Oct. 2; Ypsilanti, Oct. 8; Romulus, Oct. 2; and Ann Arbor, Oct. 8.

The course "Job of the Troop Services Director" will be held in Ypsilanti during the day starting Oct. 7.

Persons wishing to register for the courses or get further information, may call the Huron Valley Council offices in Ypsilanti at 433-2370.

RON BOLLET

Dana Names New Chelsea Plant Manager

Henry Dehr, operations manager of Dana Corporation's Service Parts Group (Churubusco, Ind.), announced the appointment of Ron Bollet to plant manager of the Chelsea plant.

Ron's most recent assignment was plant manager of the Hillsdale plant in Hillsdale. His previous experience includes area manager of Diversified Products for the Spicer Clutch Division (Auburn, Ind.), and manufacturing experience at the Marion plant (Marion, Ind.).

Ron and his wife Dotty will be moving to the Chelsea area in the near future.

Highway accidents continue to kill Americans year after year just as if no one cared.

Ben Basile, president of Dana Corporation's Perfect Circle Division (General Offices in Richmond, Ind.), has named John (Jack) H. Reed, manufacturing manager of the Division's Piston, Controls, Camshaft and Sleeve Operations. The Reeds will be relocating to Richmond.

Jack, his wife Diane, and sons Doug, Tim and Greg, have been residents of the Chelsea area since 1972 when Jack was named plant manager of the Power Equipment Division's Chelsea plant.

Jack began with Dana Corp. in 1956 as a laboratory assistant in Dana's Toledo office. In 1962 he was promoted to the position of technical supervisor of the laboratory. In 1966 he was named plant metallurgist. He became division superintendent in 1968.

Jack is a member of the American Society of Metals and was on the board of directors of the Inverness Country Club and Park Lawn Beach Subdivision.

CHARLES CLAUSON

C. Clauson Named Superintendent of Hillsdale Plant

Henry Dehr, operations manager of Dana Corporation's Service Parts Group (Churubusco, Ind.), announced the appointment of Charles Clauson to plant superintendent responsible for all functions of Dana's Hillsdale plant. The Hillsdale plant manufactures hydraulic components for the mobile equipment industry.

Chuck has been with Dana's Chelsea plant since 1959, working as a sales engineer, scheduling supervisor, sales operations manager, O.E.M. sales manager, production control manager, sales and planning manager and was most recently assembly plant superintendent.

Chuck is a past president of the Ann Arbor Jaycees, district director for Michigan Jaycees, recipient of "Outstanding Young Man" award in 1959 and district chairman of international relations in 1960.

Currently residing in Dexter, Chuck, his wife Linda, and family will be moving to the Hillsdale area.

Alert Chelsea Officer Arrests Wanted Trio

Chelsea police officer Robert Browning, assisted by the Manchester police Department and Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies, arrested three men Sunday evening about one-half mile south of Grass Lake Rd. following notification by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department that the men were wanted on charges of armed robbery, abduction and felonious assault.

According to police reports, Officer Browning had just received a BOL (be on the lookout) for a 1970 white Mercury convertible containing three white males from the WCD when he observed a vehicle of the same description westbound on I-94 and turning onto M-52.

Browning called for an assist and arrested Michael Koerner of Westland, Michael Tibbets of Detroit and Howard Tibbets of Detroit with the assistance of Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies and the Manchester police department on the above charge. The subjects were turned over to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Justice is the goal, and not necessarily the product, of our nation's courts.

Michigan Ski Jump Champion Performs Because 'It's Fun'

"He's got the legs," remarked the mother of nine-year-old Marty Steinhauser, Michigan's Junior Boys Water Ski Jump Champion.

Marty, who was first on water skis at the age of five, took the title this summer, his second in competition, with a 72-foot jump. "It's not the form," Mrs. Steinhauser said, "but how far you go off the end of the jump to the point where your heel hits the water."

The slender, dark-haired youth is almost oblivious to his title and to the fact that he is rather accomplished for a young man of nine. For Marty, it is apparent that he is not in the sport for the glory of winning and glittering trophies, but simply because it's fun. "Once it is no longer fun, I don't want him to do it," his mother reiterated.

Marty lies sprawled out on the living room floor of the Steinhausers' Sugar Loaf Lake cottage. The overcast day, left the lake very peaceful. No one except the fisherman, ventured out to swim, ski, or sail. However, Marty found that the next best thing to do was to watch some home movies of skiing on a small movie projector and screen the Steinhausers purchased so that Marty might see just how he looks on skis. Among two brothers and a couple of neighborhood friends, the group is as attentive to the skiing film as they might be to a mystery movie on TV.

Meanwhile Mrs. Steinhauser related how what started as a family leisure activity turned into a consuming, but she stresses "enjoyable," summer activity for the family.

Six years ago when the family from Wayne, Phillip, 15, Chris, 12, Marty, 9, David, 8, and Matthew now 6, purchased their small white and green shuttered cottage on the lake, they discovered that a major pastime for summer residents was boating. "We tried sailing first," Mrs. Steinhauser laughed. "We weren't really sailors and finally gave up on the idea of becoming 'old salts' when a tornado hit the area firmly wedging their sailboat between two trees on the property."

The next summer they bought an 80 horsepower Evinrude, skis and jackets... then all seven of them proceeded to try their water legs.

A neighbor, Lee Brown, noticed the family of seven on skis and Lee, an avid skier himself, began to work with the boys, but especially Marty. When asked who taught him how to ski, the answer was Lee Brown. "How did you learn to jump?" "Lee Brown." "Who taught you to slalom, Marty?" "Lee Brown." Then Marty curved his toes upward showing how to ski barefoot. "Who taught you that?" "Lee Brown." And the family nods their heads in agreement. It was Lee Brown who coached and worked and played with Marty. It was Lee Brown who encouraged Marty to enter his first tournament in Lansing. And it is most likely Lee Brown who has made Marty the skier that he is today. The Steinhausers readily admit that when they first started skiing that no one in the family knew the first thing about it.

Marty, who is ranked among the junior boys (one is ranked according to age) took third place for jumping in the first tournament he ever entered. For a family that knew their son was good, but had no one to compare him to, the third place came unexpectedly. The entire family enjoyed the tournaments so much and Marty loved the skiing so much that they continued to go throughout the entire summer.

As they became more familiar with the circuits and realized that Marty was genuinely interested and that son, Phillip, displayed some talent in the sport, they decided to purchase a 215 horsepower Correctcraft, a boat like those used at tournaments, so that the boys might work under almost ideal conditions. More skis were purchased and Phillip and Marty began tricking, slalom and jumping all the more. Both boys have spent a week for two consecutive summers at Florida champion Liz Allan's training camp.

For Marty, tricking just is not that much fun. He is excellent in the slalom events, though has yet to win a trophy and of course his jumping has taken him all over the state of Michigan.

Despite the clouds, Marty volunteered to show how it was done. Phillip driving explained every slight maneuver one needs to perfect in order to jump.

In competition, skiers are driven by professionals, who are expert at keeping the Correctcrafts at a steady speed and who know how to lead the jumper over the ramp. All this we are told is very important. And Phillip, who does most of the driving for Marty on Sugar Loaf Lake, cannot say enough about his admiration for the pro drivers. He explained that Marty skis at 28 miles an hour. The mileage set up according to one's division. He jumps from a five-foot ramp and his title-winning jump is 72 feet. However, some junior boys, but not in the state of Michigan, can jump up to 106 feet. A length that has pretty much deterred Marty from entering any wide regional, out-state and national competition. Yet the 72-foot jump is just one foot away from Masters rating. A rating young Marty is sure to achieve next summer.

Suited up in a special swimsuit, gloves, a life jacket and crash helmet, Marty took five jumps in our 15 minutes on the lake. Only once did Phillip remark that his brother faltered. Returning to the dock, the entire family goes their way; however, Mrs. Steinhauser and Marty sat around to talk some more. Marty talks about skiing, but not so much about himself. His mother talks about the family aspect of the sport. Her mother bakes cookies for the kids to take to the meets which last from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. week-ends June through August. "Skiers and their families are very honest. It is definitely a family thing," Mrs. Steinhauser said. The entire family packs up and accompanies Marty and Phillip to their meets. She says they all enjoy it so much that they stick around to watch the other skiers.

From the enthusiasm she and her sons and her husband emulate, one can easily see that skiing for the Steinhausers is not just in terms of their champion. No one is left out. No one is jealous of Marty's success. They all seem to be very proud to share in Marty's success.

Glory and trophies really have nothing to do with the Steinhausers' love of skiing. Perhaps a statement by Mrs. Steinhauser when a neighbor told her just how proud they were of Marty, exemplifies the feeling the family has. "We just didn't think it was that big of a deal. For us it is just fun and something we can all do together."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Whether we realize it or not, all of us influence children in one way or another. The manner in which we influence them often explains their behavior. For example, children who encounter excessive criticism invariably are quick to condemn in later life. Children who see and sense reasonable tolerance learn to be patient. Ridicule often results in shyness. Encouragement exudes confidence. Praise develops appreciation.

These and other causes and effects indicate the need for constant thought in how influence is exerted by parents, teachers and friends; in fact by all who contact children in any way. Influence in action is louder than any voice. In some cases the church has been required to try to repair the damage done elsewhere. It is a monumental task which sometimes can not be done. All of us carry the weight of influence whether we like it or not.

When we think of it, doesn't common sense dictate the use of discretion in behavior and expression — to influence properly? Could this be the failure that causes disorder, disrespect, confusion and weird behavior seen too often these days? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

Rural, City Folks Meet at State Fair

East is East and West is West—and sometimes—if you really work at it—the two can meet. That happened recently at the Michigan State Fair where farmers and big-city consumers met for some good, old-fashioned, eyeball-to-eyeball communication.

That doesn't happen much anymore. The days of direct farmer to consumer exchanges have all but faded from our American scene, with a sophisticated, efficient maze of marketing channels separating the two. Gone, too, are the days when most everyone either came from the farm, was related to or knew somebody on the farm, and therefore had some first-hand knowledge of the origin of their food.

Reminding the city consumer that it is the farm, and not the supermarket, that is the original source of his food, was one of the goals of a group of farmers who came to Detroit to share their story. Building bridges of understanding between rural and urban people was another of their objectives.

It was almost a miniature farm that moved into the State Fair to illustrate the complexities of agriculture, but the people involved were for real. The farmer who displayed the tiny toy tractor with the staggering price tag attached actually paid that amount for the one back on the farm. He didn't fit the image some of the urbanites had of a farmer; he wasn't wearing bib overalls or a straw hat and he didn't have manure on his shoes.

To see and hear about a dairy cow's daily diet is one thing. But to actually touch and smell the hay, the silage and the protein supplements was a new experience for most of the city folks. The amount of input it takes to produce the milk they buy at the supermarket was a revelation to many of them.

When the city consumers learned that their state could provide a "meal in a mitten"—a complete banquet prepared with food produced within its own borders—they shared the farmers' pride.

One of the big surprises for city people was discovering that farmers are consumers, too, and buy most of their groceries from the supermarket. So they found a common ground in discussing how to get the most out of their food dollars.

Throughout the state this summer, this kind of communication took place at numerous county fairs. They have become an American tradition. The rides on the midway may get bigger and faster, the big-name entertainment more entertaining, but hopefully agriculture will continue to be the main attraction.

MICHIGAN PORK CROP

You can do many things with cuts of pork from a month's watering, pineapple-topped ham, to a succulent pork roast with its crispy outer covering. You can barbecue pork chops either indoors or out, and you can't beat crisp bacon or tasty sausages at breakfast time to start the day. Largest pork producing counties in Michigan are Branch, Cass, Lenawee, and St. Joseph which account for much of our 253 million pounds of pork on the market. With this $100 million crop, we placed 17th among the states in the nation.

Estimated Income Tax Installment Due Sept. 15

Detroit—Taxpayers who filed estimated tax on their 1975 income must pay the third quarter installment by Sept. 15.

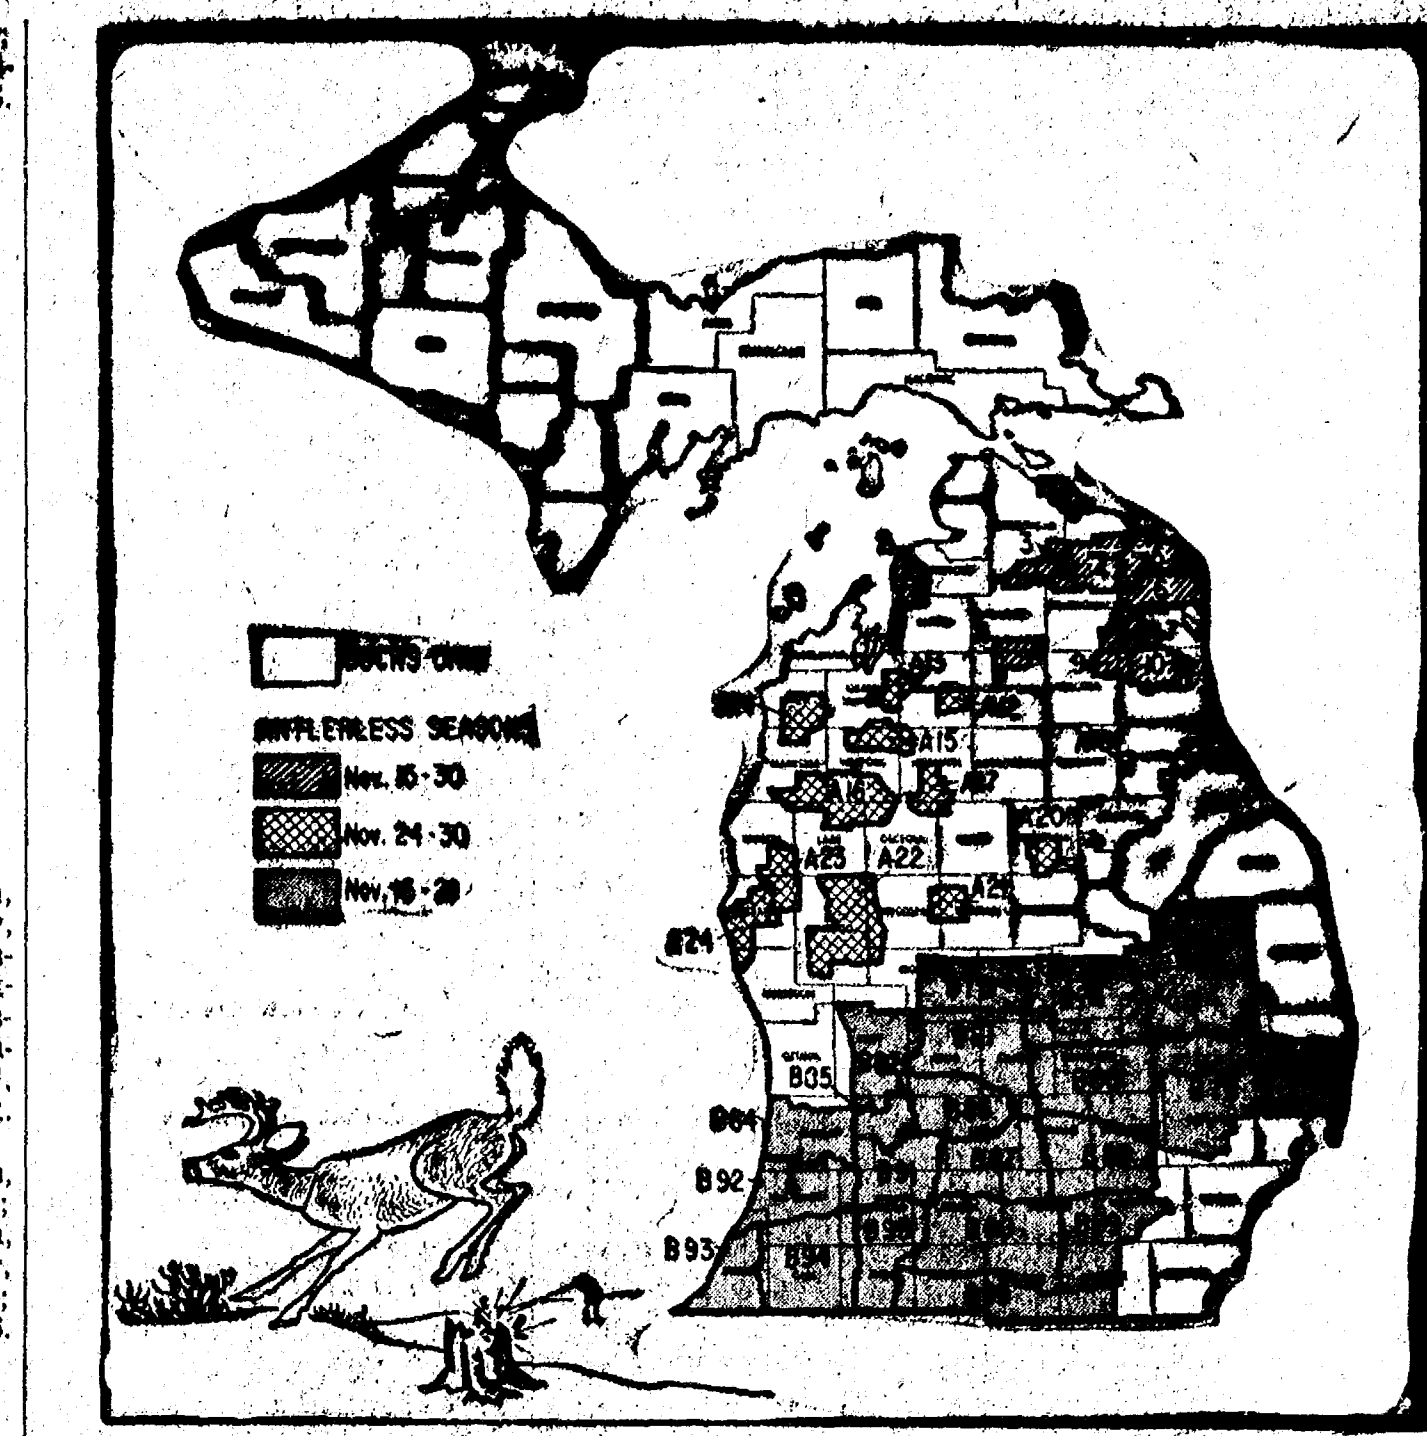

"The provision in the law for taxpayers to pay estimated tax in four equal installments means that 3/4 of the tax should be paid by Monday, Sept. 15. Taxpayers should file declaration-voucher No. 3 from the Form 1040-ES package," R. L. Plate, IRS district director, said.

"Taxpayers whose anticipated income during 1975 has changed may have to file an amended declaration. There is space in the estimated tax package to compute an amended estimate," Plate said.

For more detailed information, see Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," available free at all IRS offices.

CALL ME, MIKE!

When Dr. A. Michael Ramsey, the Archbishop of Canterbury, was in New York a photographer, trying to get his attention for a picture, couldn't think of how to address him. In desperation he called, "Er-uh, Archie, would you please turn your head this way?" His Grace turned his head and with his usual affability replied, "My name, sir, is not Archie. It's Mike."

DEER HUNTING FORM for '75: During Michigan's 1975 deer hunting season Nov. 15-30, there will be, in effect, three different antlerless hunting periods. The collective take of antlerless deer in all areas is expected to be 11,363 with bucks-only hunting in the Upper Peninsula. Of 61,910 permits to be issued, the Department of Natural Resources predicts 49,290 hunters will go after antlerless deer in the various management areas. Hunters are reminded that midnight, Oct. 1, is the deadline to postmark applications for permits to hunt antlerless deer in these areas. Sportsmen will receive application forms at local license dealers when they buy their 1975 firearm deer license. Instructions for filling out these forms are also available at local license dealers.

ENERGY SENSE:

Is Anybody Listening?

By Frank G. Zarb
Federal Energy Administrator

Is anybody listening when we say that last year American consumers paid almost $26 billion for imported oil—approximately eight times what we spent five years ago—or that we will spend some $32 billion for imports in 1977 unless an effective national energy policy is established?

Was anyone listening when no less an authority than the Shah of Iran not long ago predicted an increase in world oil prices this year?

Administration's proposed windfall profits tax would rebate much of the oil companies excess revenues to American consumers.

The question of decontrol is not whether prices will rise, but when. If controls are maintained by Congress, domestic production will decline and rising demand will be satisfied by imported oil.

The more we use imported oil, the price of which cannot be controlled by the U.S. government, the more we will pay. In effect, the oil producing countries will decontrol our prices for us, and they will not offer to return any of it to the American consumer.

Basically, the question of decontrolling oil prices means a few pennies more at the pump now in return for a stable economy and a secure nation, or a few more pennies in the purse, temporarily, while the threat of oil embargoes grows more serious.

A recent Harris Poll indicates that 54 percent of the country favors deregulation of oil prices. If it will increase domestic supplies, The American public has been listening.

I only hope the Congress has also heard.

Letter to the Editor

Everyone has been saying that the Chelsea Community Fair is the greatest thing that came to Chelsea. Well, I think it is also. But I think that since the community and the fair are getting larger every year, that we should do something about getting a new banner to announce the fair, because the old banner is really old and dilapidated. It doesn't look very good to passers-by.

I am sure I speak for a lot of citizens of Chelsea.

Concerned Citizen.

Dear Editor,

In these times of "Watergate" and seeming lack of moral values, a recent incident was indeed a boost to our family's morale.

We had the misfortune of losing a package in the downtown area. This was returned by some kind gentleman, to Dancer's where it had been purchased.

We don't know who he is but appreciate his kindness and want to thank him.

Gratefully,
Mrs. C. W. Wood.

Herald the last few weeks of summer with delectable purple plum crunch or pear crisp. With the abundance of fresh Michigan fruits in season you can treat your family and friends to luscious desserts at low prices.

September is peak season for the state's outstanding crop of Stanley prune-plums. This year's production is estimated at 15,500 tons, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Half of the crop will go to the fresh market; the other half goes to processors to stock grocery shelves with canned plums for you'll like the juicy, sweet taste and pleasing aroma of the blue-black Stanley plum with its firm, greenish-yellow flesh. Prepare plum crunch in minutes and bake in the oven right alongside your main dish. It's great with ice cream or dairy whipped cream.

Michigan Bartlett pears make a delightful pear crisp and plentiful supplies will continue through October. Fruit crisps in general are quicker and easier to prepare than conventional pies because there's no need to roll the pie crust. You merely sprinkle the topping over the fruit and bake, leaving ample time to enjoy those last minute summer activities.

Bartlett pears are harvested and shipped to market in the firm ripe stage. When fully ripe they're pale to rich yellow in color with sweet, juicy, fine grained white flesh. Most versatile, they can be baked, broiled, glazed, fried or eaten fresh. Remember to tuck a couple in the children's lunch boxes, too, for tasty midday and after school snacks.

Girl Scouts Need More Adult Leaders

Chelsea Girl Scouts will be doing their familiar brown or green uniforms soon as several troops resume their weekly meetings. Ready to start are Brownie Troops 145, 84, 169 and 247; Junior Troops 58, 82, and 689, and Senior Troop 47. Leaders are contacting their troop members with information on days, times, and places for meetings.

Still needed are lots of caring adults willing to share their time, talents, and lots of fun with girls from ages 6 to 17. "Girl Scouting is where girls and adults work together in partnership, enjoying one another and growing as individuals," said Troop Services Director Sandy Schmunk. "It is a place for exploring and learning—choosing traditional paths or taking off in a completely new direction. It is a program with diversity, and many different kinds of adults are needed—mothers, fathers, grandparents, young men and women," she continued.

Brownie Troops 676 and 719, Junior Troops 442 and 729, and Cadette Troop 88 are still in search of leaders and assistant leaders. Adults (and high school students) who would like to help on a smaller basis as resource people are always welcome. People with skills in hiking, horseback riding, outdoor cooking, camping, arts and crafts, games, songs, and service project ideas are especially needed. "And you don't have to be an expert!" Mrs. Schmunk emphasized.

Anyone who would like to find out more about Girl Scouting and how they might become a part of it should contact Mrs. Sandy Schmunk, Troop Services Director, 475-9175, or Mrs. Pat Stirling, Brownie Co-ordinator, 475-1112.

A special note to Girl Scout (or ex-Girl Scout) parents: There will be a uniform and handbook exchange on Saturday, Oct. 4 between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. in the Social Center of the United Methodist church, 124 Park St. Parents who want to bring in used uniforms and handbooks to sell should contact Mrs. Linda Catell, 475-8488.

August Traffic Death Toll Shows Decline

Traffic accidents in Michigan during August caused 187 deaths which were nine more than in the same month last year, according to provisional figures of the State Police traffic division.

The toll was 17 less than the month's average of 204 in the last five years, 1970-74. High August count was 254 in 1969 while the low was recorded as 67 in wartime 1943.

The August total included 21 of the 22 deaths charged to traffic accidents this Labor Day weekend. Last year the holiday period toll was 25.

The month's fatalities brought the accumulated count for the first eight months this year to 1,108 which was 46 or about four percent less than 1,154 in the corresponding period last year.

So far this year four months have shown decreases while four have increases in comparison with corresponding months last year.

Figuring in the lowered death counts this year and for some months last year as well have been the slower-paced economy, the lower speed limit, some decrease in travel due to gas price and inflationary concerns, and the on-going programs of safety promotion and speed law enforcement.

Delayed deaths charged back to August will increase somewhat the death tolls for August and the accumulated period.

Three Chelsea Students Complete Orientation,

Keith Cockerline, Brian D. Smith and Anne E. Treado were among the second half of approximately 2,800 students who entered Western Michigan University for the first time this fall semester to receptly complete their summer orientation in Kalamazoo.

The new students visited the campus for three days in groups of about 180 each to meet their faculty advisors, register for classes, take a battery of tests and become familiar with Western and its campus. Headed by Norman Russell, director of orientation and assistant to the WMU vice-president for student services, 40 student leaders assisted the new students.

Most of Michigan's prune-plum crop is grown in Barrien, Grand Traverse, Oceana and Leelanau counties.

ABOUT

F.A. KENNEDY

Back in the "good old days" chicken was strictly a Sunday dinner treat. And sometimes it wasn't really such a treat at that. Often it was tough and skinny.

Well, you don't get chicken like that any more. Thanks to scientific breeding . . . plus the fact that chicken nutrition has probably been given more study than human nutrition . . . today's chicken is tastier, more tender and nutritious than ever before.

Moreover, thanks to modern American mass production methods, chicken today costs just about half what it did twenty years ago. Even if you are a farmer, you can actually buy a chicken today at your supermarket more cheaply than you could raise it yourself!

In fact, chicken today costs less than hamburger. And it is eaten just about as often, thanks largely to the fact that today's supermarket offers it in such convenient forms. Even special packages of "drumsticks" . . . ready to cook and enjoy.

What made all this possible is that mass production has come to the chicken coop. Indeed, today's chicken coop is a lot more chicken than coop. It may be several stories high and house several hundred thousand chickens.

Not at all incidentally, there are just a lot more chickens in this country than there are people. Well over 425 million, if you please. And they produce something like 55 billion eggs every year.

We have a fine selection of chicken at Polly's. And the cost? Why, it's just "chicken feed!"
