Electric Bills Will Jump 30% In November

November electric bills may cause Chelsea consumers to blink twice when they receive them Nov. 10. An increase passed on from Consumer's Power Co., from which Chelsea purchases its electricity will result in a 30 percent hike in electrical rates, according to Village Administrator, Frederick Weber.

The new rate was effective Sept. 22, some seven days before a 30-day rate suspension granted to the Michigan Municipal Rate Payers Association was up. Richard Harvey, Light & Water Dept. office manager, said that the reason for the Sept. 22 effective date was that it coincided with the normal meter reading date. "If we hadn't done it this way, we would have had to generate another billing," for the seven-day period.

Harvey estimated that consumers who use 600 kilowatt hours a month would pay an additional $5.29; up from $19.15 to $24.44. Harvey also said that the fuel costs, noted as a separate rate since Oct. 1974 have been incorporated as a fixed rate into the electric rate. He added however, that should the cost of fuel change, the fixed rate might also change. The village was notified of the increase early in August by Consumer's Power.

Bulldog Grid Machine Rolls Over S. Lyon

Unlike their game with Brighton, Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs were mentally prepared to play to defeat South Lyon last Friday night. And whalloping the Lions, 33-0, is what resulted.

Evidence of the team's mental preparation surfaced on the kickoff. Randy Guenther gathered in the ball on the 13-yard line. While Chelsea's kick-off return team, Eric Prinzing, Jim Marshall, Don Sullivan, Rex Miles and Dave Schaible, set the first wedge, Dennis Bauer, Mark Smyth, Joe Sprague, John Toon and Tim Reed then set the inner wedge behind. Behind the blocks, Guenther went 87 yards for the touchdown. Rex Miles kicked the PAT and Chelsea led after just seconds into the first quarter, 7-0.

Following the Chelsea kickoff, tackles by Sprague, Reed, Leon Brown, Miles and Marshall held the Lions to a gain of one yard, forcing them to punt.

Chelsea took over the ball on their own 28-yard line. The offensive team, behind a rebuilt line of Sprague, Dale Headrick, Marshall, Smyth, Sullivan, Bauer and Dave Watson moved the ball to South Lyon's eight where the drive stalled despite runs by Salyer of 21 and 19 yards.

Chelsea defense again held the South Lyon offense in three plays. Chelsea returned the punt to the 40-yard line with John Toon running for 13 yards. Robards and Salyer took two turns each in running with the ball, with Salyer going the last five yards for the touchdown.

The Bulldogs' next score was the result of the punt return team as sophomore Brown broke through and blocked the punt. Marshall caught the ball and advanced to the Lions' 20-yard line. Here junior fullback Robards went left and through a big hole made by Dale Headrick, Joel Sprague and Mark Smyth, went the distance for the touchdown. Rex Miles' kick was good, bringing the Bulldog lead to 20-0.

Again the defense scored as defensive halfback Salyer stepped in front of a South Lyon pass receiver, intercepting the ball, and behind blocks by Mark Dalton, Bruce Stubbs and Bauer, raced 55 yards for Chelsea's third touchdown in the second quarter. The PAT was good and Chelsea led at the half, 27-0.

In the second half, the Bulldogs played as if the score was 0-0. Coach Phil Bareis played the reserve unit. "They did a very good job of outscoring South Lyon, 6-0," he said.

The scoring drive started on Chelsea's 30-yard line. Quarterback Anthony Houle guided the team 73 yards with John Adams gaining seven yards, John Collins 13 yards, Mike Check, six yards and a pass from Houle to Dave Fletcher went for 11 yards. The final 13 yards was by Houle on a perfect bootleg and blocks by Eric Prinzing and Fletcher.

Blocking for this unit was Bob Burgess, Dale Headrick, John Push, Steve Jones, Don Nadeau, Kevin Kelly and Bruce Bennett.

Chelsea defense in the second half had to play tough on two occasions when the Lions had the ball close to the Bulldog goal line. Once with a first and goal to go from the six, this unit led by Scott Owings, Key tackle, held South Lyon out. The unit included ends Owings, Howard Bush, Bill Esch and Mark Brennan; tackles Dave Schaible, Steve Jones, and John Push; guards George Menge and Bruce Bennett. The secondary of Al Dalton, who led one pass interception, Mark Dalton, Kevin Kelly and Mike Check, the back-ers Mark Smyth and Dale Headrick.

The South Lyon-Chelsea game also marked the return of Jerry Milliken, Chelsea's fine middle-guard who fractured a hand in (Continued on page six)

Recreation Council Film Set Saturday

Walt Kirby, feeling himself a failure in the big city, returns with his wife and his eight-year-old son, Toby, to the California mountain country where he was born. When Toby, intent on exploring his new surroundings, wanders to the edge of the forest, he hears a rifle shot and is the only witness as a rustler attacks a forest ranger while escaping arrest. Toby instinctively flees from the rustler and, as night falls, is deep within the forest. Meanwhile a captured mountain lion whom Toby had seen earlier caged in a trailer, has escaped into the forest as well.

The adventures of the lost boy and hunted beast as they meet and join in a mutual bond of trust and protection will be told Saturday evening, Oct. 18 when the Chelsea Recreation Council presents, "The Cat."

The two-hour film geared for fine family entertainment will be shown at both 2 and 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium. Children under 12 will not be admitted to the 8 p.m. showing unless accompanied by an adult. Admission is 50 cents.

JV Gridders Lose to Fine S. Lyon Team

The JV Bulldogs were defeated, 14-0, last Thursday, by "a fine South Lyon team," according to Bulldog coach Jon Schaffner.

Schaffner reported that South Lyon was "a very big and physical team." He said that several fans mentioned the tremendous hitting in the game.

According to Schaffner, two S. Lyon plays really hurt Chelsea; a blocked punt on the Bulldogs' first punt, allowing the Lions to take over on Chelsea's 30-yard line and drive in to score.

In the third quarter, South Lyon returned a Chelsea punt 70 yards to the Chelsea four-yard line and then pushed it in to score.

The rest of the game was played between the 30-yard line but the Bulldogs never really produced a strong scoring threat.

However, coach Schaffner said Vic Verchereau made a nice come-from-behind touch down saving tackle on their long punt return and also led the team with 17 tackles. Matt McClear followed with 14, Jeff Powell, 13; Jason Lindauer, 8; Rocky Brandel, 7; Todd Headrick, 6; Matt Fisher, 5; Jamie Bollinger, Steve Pennington and Todd Weber, 3 each; Tim Welshans and Dave Schrottemboer, 2 each and Rick Risner, 1. DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Practical all the letters that share their joys and woes at the country store ever week are readers more than lookers and listeners, Mister Editor, which means if they had to take television they'd rather leave it. As it is, they can watch what they want to, which Clem Webster allowed Saturday night ain't much more.

For instant, Clem went on, you can take any of the old and new "situation comedies" and turn off the picture and not miss a thing. All of em happen in one room where all the actors do is talk. Even the police shoot-em-ups spend more time talking things over at coffee break than moving around outdoors. What we've come back to, declared Clem, is radio with pictures. School Talks Go On School buses rang a white bell throughout Michigan, but the legislative clash over teacher contract disputes threatens to continue.
Gov. William Milliken earlier this year vetoed a school strike bill legalizing teacher strikes or up to four weeks.
But there were indications his office was working on an alternative proposal to be submitted to lawmakers returned to Lansing after a summer break.
Now, House Republican Leader Dennis O. Cawthorne of Manistee, who says he'll be a candidate for the GOP nomination of a U.S. Senate seat if he can come up with enough cash to finance his campaign--is offering "a new plan" for setting teacher contract disputes.

It's called "an 'elective' arbitration plan" and would provide school districts with an option of participating in an arbitration system.
If a school board did not vote to participate, teachers in the district would be given the legal right to strike.
A negotiations impasse in a school district belonging to the arbitration system would be followed by a mandatory six-month cooling-off period. During those six months, teachers would work under their old contract while negotiations continued--but any new contract negotiated during that time would be retroactive to the beginning of the school year.
No contract at the end of six months could result in an order for binding arbitration.
"The root problem of teacher strikes will not go away," Cawthorne says. "Although we have had fewer teacher strikes this year than at any time since 1968, the legislature must not bury its head in the sand and assume that conditions will continue to remain stable."

Beware Studded Tires
Studded tires are permitted in Michigan this winter--only if they meet tough regulations dealing with the amount of road wear they may cause.
The Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation warns snow and ice-wary motorists to steer clear of tires equipped with the conventional tungsten carbide studs. They're illegal for use in this state, as of last April 1.
"We are aware of only one type of stud that currently meets Michigan's restriction," says John P. Woodford, department director. "That one type is the so-called 'soft stud' which is made of tungsten carbide fragments in soft metal matrix."

What's Cooking In Michigan
By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture Marketing Information Specialist
Chowders and stews are an American tradition. Prepare the original one-dish dinners using low cost fall vegetables and reap the benefits of harvest time while balancing your budget. Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say carrots, celery, cabbage and potatoes are only a few of the many Michigan vegetables in good supply.
Early American cooks used autumn vegetables to make hearty soup dishes that would serve for several meals. They were often accompanied by a variety of tasty hot breads. In those days a fresh salad was unlikely, since fresh greens and fruits were available only during the growing season. Modern cooks have an advantage because our soup dishes can be accompanied with fresh greens or fruit salads all year round.
An easy to fix chowder is made of diced, cooked potatoes and carrots, simmered in milk and seasoned with chopped onion and bacon. Using milk for the liquid instead of water increases nutritional value. Still another is chopped cooked celery combined with hard-cooked eggs and grated potatoes in a seasoned white sauce. Potatoes are basic ingredients in many chowders because they add that rib-sticking quality.
For a high protein chowder cook thinly sliced potatoes in water seasoned with diced salt pork. Drain potatoes and add to a mixture of hot milk, butter, salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly. Just before serving stir in plenty of sliced hard-cooked eggs.
Economical, less tender cuts of meat like oxtail, stew beef and pig hocks, are popular for soup dishes, too. Seasonings and liquids may vary depending on personal preference. Try tomato juice or sauce, dry sherry or apple cider on occasion for a special touch.

CMU's record fall semester on-campus enrollment of 15,708 consists of nearly all Michigan students and represents all but one of Michigan's 83 counties.
Ninety-eight percent of the University's enrollment comes from the state. Only Keweenaw county, on the extreme upper tip of Michigan, is not represented on the campus.
As is usually the case, the largest concentrations of CMU students come from counties forming a line from Mt. Pleasant to the metropolitan Detroit area. Of the top 10 counties represented at the University, only Kent and Gratiot counties are outside that line.

In comparing notes with some area treasurers, Chelsea Village Treasurer Wallace Wood said yesterday that Chelsea's payment record for this year's taxes is "very good." Only 4.8 percent of taxes remained unpaid.

Oakland county, represented by 1,777 students at CMU, is the leading producer of University students. Second is Wayne county with 1,570.
Isabella county, home of the University, is third with 1,203. Next in order are Saginaw county with 883 students, Genesee county with 730, Midland county with 756, Macomb county with 584, Kent county with 522, Bay county with 423, and Gratiot county with 370.

Sixty-three foreign students are currently attending CMU.

In a story published in The Standard three weeks ago concerning school buses and motorists, the law was incorrectly stated. It should read, "On undivided highways traffic in both directions must stop at least 10 feet from a school bus that has alternating flashing red lights turned on. You must remain stopped until the flashers are turned off or the bus starts. On divided highways, traffic approaching a school bus from the opposite direction does not have to stop." The Standard regrets the error.

ERIC PRINZING (62): While most Chelsea High school football fans are looking cautiously toward the Bulldogs' games with Milan (this Friday) and Saline (Oct. 31), senior guard, Eric Prinzing warns not to overlook Dexter. "They could be tough," he said. A second year veteran with the varsity Bulldogs, Eric is also a member of CHS varsity wrestling and track teams. However, a look at his shoulder, which was dislocated once last year and again this year in the Lincoln game, could mean that wrestling may be out of the picture for 1976. Yet he is optimistic and moves it around insisting that he really has very little trouble with it. The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Prinzing of 421 Chandler St., Eric has two brothers and three sisters.

SENIOR REX MILES (77) is the man with the extra point behind the kick for Chelsea High school's varsity Bulldogs. And he is doing a fine job! And what's nice about it, is that Rex really enjoys kicking that extra point. Even when the pressure is on and the game depends on just what his leg can do. A member of the track team last year, throwing shot put, Miles said a '76 season in track is out for him. Two years ago while helping his coach from Dexter work-out for the wrestling team (Rex is not a wrestler) he broke his wrist. The cartilage did not heal properly, preventing Rex from moving his hand backward. The son of Mr. and Mrs. David Miles of 1108 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Rex has one sister, Laurie who is a freshman at Chelsea High school.

JCs, Auxiliary Will Host Prospective Members

Chelsea Jaycees and the Jaycee Auxiliary will hold an "M" night Tuesday, Oct. 28 for men and women interested in becoming Jaycee or Auxiliary members. To be held at Chelsea Lanes, "M" night will get under way at 7:30 p.m. with two separate meetings given by the Jaycees and the Jaycee Auxiliary. Each meeting will be an illustration of a typical Jaycee or Auxiliary meeting. Functions of the Jaycees and the Auxiliary and their relation to the community will also be discussed. Following the meetings, Walt Brown, past president of the Chelsea Jaycees and Stubby Fryer, past president of the Howell Jaycees; Stacey Henny, Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary past president of South Lyon and Anne Steinaway also an MJA past president, will answer questions and discuss the Jaycee organization at the national, state and local levels. Cocktails and light snacks will be served following both meetings and the question-answer period. President of the Chelsea Jaycees, Mitchell Zink encourages all interested persons ages 18-35 to attend. If interested contact Zink at 475-7912 or Robert Pratt at 475-1351.

Hospital Names Nurse Education Co-ordinator

Mrs. Brubaker's position will encompass continuing education for the nursing staff at the hospital, as required by various agencies, and will include orientation of new nursing personnel to the hospital. Her role will also involve education and counseling of patients with dysfunctions such as diabetes, hypertension, etc. Mrs. Brubaker obtained her BS degree in nursing from Goshen College in Indiana in 1971, where she was graduated with high honors and was the recipient of several scholarships. Her MS degree in nursing was obtained from the University of Michigan in May of 1975. Her research in 1974-75 included a project entitled "A Comparative Survey of Health Beliefs, Attitudes and Behaviors in Relation to Cancer, Heart Disease and Tooth Decay," and was conducted in Chelsea. Mrs. Brubaker is a member of the RHO Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, National Honor Society for nurses, the American Nurses Association, and the Michigan Nurses Association. Standing is Walt Zeeb who assisted in the dramatization of Cameron's retirement years. By the way, Charles Cameron has no intention of retiring, this was just another Kiwanis spoof.

SEC. ROUND-UP:

Lincoln Knocks Unbeaten Milan Out of League Lead in Overtime

Chelsea's Bulldogs couldn't ask for anything more except to defeat Milan this Friday and to defeat Saline which would give them the 1975 SEC conference title. But despite the fact that the Bulldogs have yet to win two vital games, things look pretty good for the team, especially after last Friday evening when Milan's Big Reds suffered their first defeat of the season to Lincoln, 6-0.

Lincoln 6, Milan 0

Milan High school suffered its first defeat of the '75 season Friday night, dropping their tie with the Chelsea Bulldogs for first place in the SEC. Lincoln upset the Big Reds, 6-0, in overtime.

Jim Smith scored a 10-yard run on the first play for the Bulldogs to give them their homecoming win. And despite the fact that Milan outgained Lincoln, 171-131 in total offense, the Big Reds simply could not get it together to mark up some points on the scoreboard. In overtime play on the 'Big Reds had the first chance to score, but Lincoln held them at the six-yard line and forced a field goal attempt which was wide. Lincoln is now 3-1 in the SEC and 3-2 overall. The Big Reds now stand at 4-1 for the season and 3-1 in the conference.

Saline 22, Dexter 0

The Dexter Dreadnaughts fell to their Saline opponents Friday evening, 22-0, in a game that displayed stunning performances by both the Saline offense and defense. Saline gained 252 yards on the ground and 101 in the air while the Dreadnaughts managed 54 rushing and 53 passing.

The first touchdown came on the second play from scrimmage, going 85 yards. Gene Robinson supplied both of the second half touchdowns, scoring on a 35-yard option pitch in the third quarter, then running in from three yards out in the final stanza. Steve Monty padded for both two-point conversions. Carrying the rushing load were Stemm, Robinson, Eric Quist and Dave Courtney.

Brighton 14, Novi 6

Brighton fought back from a 6-0 halftime deficit Friday night to defeat Novi, 14-6. Two sustained drives gave the Bulldogs all their points. Both touchdowns came after 50-yard drives by Tom Babineau, who scored from one yard out in the third quarter to tie the game. Babineau again scored from the one in the final quarter to give his team the victory. Leading the Brighton defense which caused Novi to lose the ball seven times in the second half was Dan Phillon.

Chelsea 33, South Lyon 0

Showing just what mental preparation can do, the Bulldogs traveled to South Lyon last Friday night to defeat the Lions by a whopping 33-0.

Randy Geunther made the first touchdown returning the opening kickoff 87 yards. The Bulldogs added three more touchdowns in the second quarter; two of them completed the winners' scoring on a 13-yard quarterback keeper in the third quarter. Rex Miles kicked three extra points. And with to this game the Chelsea offense proved to be just as strong as the Chelsea defense.

Kiwanis Club To Host Bicentennial Program

Chelsea High school is participating in a national bicentennial program called Bicentennial Youth Debates (BYD). BYD has both high school and college age divisions and is open to any person under 25 years of age who has not yet received a Bachelor's Degree. Sponsored by Chelsea Kiwanians, the event will take place Oct. 27 at 6:45 p.m. at the Chelsea Fair Service Building. First, second and third place cash prizes have been donated and will be presented by the Kiwanis Club. Prizes will be awarded in each speaking category. Winners from this local contest will advance through district, sectional and regional events to a final national conference. Educational awards will be presented to outstanding participants in the Bicentennial Youth Debates.

Purpose of the BYD is to encourage students to examine American history and values through forensic efforts. There will be a winner in both the Extemporaneous Speaking and Persuasive Speaking contests. To date, no one has entered the Lincoln-Douglas Debate. General topic for the Persuasive Speaking contest is "My Country, Right or Wrong?" The national conference will feature discussions between students and national leaders, such as those on the BYD National Advisory Council. Members of the BYD National Council include: Joseph Block, chairman of the board of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation; William F. Buckley, Jr., editor of the National Review; Walter Cronkite, CBS news correspondent; Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice; Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona; Patricia Roberts Harris, former ambassador to Luxembourg; Representative Barbara Jordan of Texas; George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO; U.S. Treasurer Francine Neft; and Dean Rusk, former Secretary of State.

In addition to the competitive aspects of the program, participants will have the opportunity, throughout the year, to visit local civic and community organizations to speak on current topics. Subjects are co-ordinated with the American Issues Forum, ranging from such issues as freedom of the press and control of the economy to the work ethic and use of our natural resources.

Bicentennial Youth Debates is a project of the Speech Communication Association, the largest association of professional speech educators in the nation. BYD is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, an agency created by Congress to support research, education and publications in the humanities.

William Coelius, Chelsea High school Forensic and Debate teacher has been coaching interested Chelsea High school students. For additional information about the program contact Laurie LaZebnik, Chelsea High school Bicentennial chairperson.

Chelsea Kiwanians cordially invite the public to attend the contests.

WO Ronald Peterson On Duty With Marine Base in North Carolina

Marine Chief Warrant Officer Ronald J. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Peterson of 13378 Old US-12, Chelsea, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Base, Cherry Point, N. C. A 1974 graduate of the College of Desert, Palm Desert, Calif., he joined the Marine Corps in June 1962.

A NORWEGIAN BROTHER: 17-year-old John Storey (left) and his family, the William Storeys of 216 Jefferson St., have adopted Ragnar Dahl of Oslo, Norway for the year through the YFU exchange program. John returned in August after having spent the summer with Ragnar's family in Oslo. Both boys are seniors at Chelsea High school.

Norwegian Student Finds Some Trouble with English Language

Tall and blond, 17-year-old Ragnar Dahl of Oslo, Norway, seems to have only one problem in adjusting to life in these United States. And that's the English language. While Ragnar has a good command of English, for someone who has been in the country for less than three months, he says that it does cause him some trouble in his classes at Chelsea High school and perhaps in talking with inquiring reporters who fire questions at him one after another.

Nonetheless, he appears to be very happy with the William Storeys of 216 Jefferson St. and their son, John. For Ragnar, living with the Storey family has not been too much of an adjustment. For John spent last summer with the Dahls in their Oslo home after brother Jim, now a sophomore in college, came home from Oslo and, a summer with the Dahls with great tales.

Talking about his home-town which joins the sea, we learned that Ragnar has one brother, Tobjorn, 19, who spent a year as an exchange student in Montana and a sister, Bente, 22, who is studying dentistry at the university.

Ragnar does not plan to attend the university. Like his father, he will return to work in the forest, learning the art of a lumberjack. He is currently enrolled in the high school's building trades class, a course which can only aid in the pursuit of his career. And he will go to a trade school to learn just how to fell a tree and how to treat different woods.

While Ragnar is an active skier, he noted that his fellow countrymen are not involved in team sports as much as the Americans seem to be. Football is unknown in his country, as is basketball. For him nothing is better than three weeks at Easter in the mountains. Ragnar and his friends, packs on their backs, spend the vacation time cross country skiing from cottage to cottage. A sport in which almost all Norwegians participate, in addition to skating. According to Ragnar they are fans of winter sports.

Ragnar said he hopes to get some skiing in while here. Though he realizes that Michigan is not quite as mountainous as his country, which according to statistics is 70 percent mountains.

Aside from the differences in sports, Ragnar was amazed by the amount of use Americans put to their automobiles. In his country cycling and walking are popular ways of transportation.

A year in the United States, a chance to better his English.

What's Cooking in Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Harvesting of Michigan food crops is nearing completion in most areas, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and marketplaces are filled with the last of this season's bounty.

Cauliflower is one of the fresh fall vegetables you'll find in abundance with Michigan fourth among the states in cauliflower production. It has high food value because of its vitamin C content and other important nutrients.

When shopping for cauliflower, MDA Marketing officials suggest you select firm heads with white or creamy white florets and a bright green jacket of leaves for best quality. One pound serves three people. To maintain its whiteness during cooking, try adding the juice of a half lemon to the cooking water or cook in milk which will also enhance its natural flavor.

Michigan onions are another of the plentiful foods. Latest trend among cooks is to stuff them for appetizers and vegetable dishes. Smaller ones also make attractive garnishes for meat and poultry platters.

Taking advantage of more plentiful foods, you may want to stuff onions with sauerkraut, much of which is made from Michigan-grown cabbage; or a mixture of baked beans and mushrooms. An onion-apple casserole is a timely dish, too, with Michigan apples in abundance.

Here's a Bicentennial consumer tip. Early American cooks prepared spiced beef by sprinkling boneless chuck roast with finely chopped onions, ground cinnamon, allspice and cloves. It was allowed to marinate overnight in cider vinegar and cooked the next day in half of the vinegar mixture and water. Finely chopped carrots and rutabaga were sauteed in butter until light brown and spread over the roast during the last 30 minutes of cooking time.

In recognition of their achievements, 265 4-H members are expected to share $205,000 in educational scholarships arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

Nearly 2½ million youngsters watch Mulligan Stew, the 4-H television series on nutrition.

St. Louis School Notes

Superior General of Italy, Fr. Olympia Giampedraglia, was greeted with an Indian summer when he arrived in Chelsea last week for a seven-day visit at St. Louis School for Boys. According to Fr. Umberto Mellare, Fr. Olympia was delighted with Michigan's autumn colors.

Among the many activities that the Father participated in was a Sunday mass at St. Mary's church. Fr. Olympia con-celebrated the mass with the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis and the priests from St. Louis school. Following the mass, he shook hands with the members of the congregation and had an opportunity to speak his native tongue with Dr. Michael Papo.

A farewell banquet in honor of the Father was held Monday at St. Louis school prior to his departure for Philadelphia, where he will visit the order's second school in the United States for boys. Decorations in the colors of both the Italian and American flags adorned the dining room. The theme of unity was carried out by Fr. Louis, Sister Mary and Mrs. Robbins prepared the feast. Music for the banquet was provided by the St. Louis school band. Among the selections played were "America the Beautiful," "Home, Home on the Range" and "Happy First Day" (to the tune of "Happy Birthday to You"). A trip to Chelsea's Dairy Queen concluded the festivities.

Fire Prevention Week was observed at St. Louis school, thanks to members of Chelsea's volunteer fire department. A Chelsea fire truck and two firemen spent a day at St. Louis school discussing fire prevention, equipment, clothing worn by firemen and safety procedures such as fire drills. Following the lecture and demonstration, each class rode the fire truck. The boys were treated by the fire department with lollipops at the end of the day.

Two classes at St. Louis school traveled to Detroit with their teachers, Mrs. Kimball and Miss Lambarth last week to celebrate the birthday of their classmate, Julian Early, in his family's home. Providing entertainment for the afternoon was a comedian and magician.

An event that will mark its place in the history of St. Louis school, was the playing of the first football game by the St. Louis school boys. Despite their defeat in the last minute of the game by CMH of Ann Arbor, 14-7, the boys rallied their spirits, shook hands with their opponents and joined them for lunch. Trick or Treat for UNICEF Observing 25th Year of Service

This Halloween, millions of American children will take charge of a small but important part of U.S. foreign policy. In a program that has spread across the length and breadth of these 50 states and been commended by six U.S. presidents, little devils, goblins and witches, elves and imps—and perhaps some little angels too—will Trick or Treat for UNICEF for the 25th consecutive year.

The occasion is silver, and gold—the 25th anniversary of a marriage between the United Nations Children's Fund and the traditional Halloween custom of Trick or Treat that has made Oct. 31, by Presidential Proclamation, into a nationwide observance: National UNICEF Day.

Twenty-five Halloweens ago, a Sunday school class in Pennsylvania decided to play tricks on the triple enemies of hunger, disease and ignorance that plague children in less fortunate lands, instead of soaping their neighbors' windows or turning over their garbage pails. They tried to collect not only candies, coins or apples for themselves, but a treat for the whole human race. Although the result seemed small—just $17—appearances were deceptive.

Within three years, the idea had spread to every one of the then 48 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, the Canal Zone and Canada. Within seven years, collections passed the million dollar mark. And since 1968, they have never fallen below $3 million.

"That is history," says Mrs. Paul (Annabelle) Clossen of United Church Women who is directing the hard work and planning which will permit the children of Chelsea to play an active part in what has become a truly national commemoration. "We hope that even more adults and children will participate in National UNICEF Day, 1975."

There are hundreds of millions of reasons for Mrs. Clossen's hard work and persistence. Each one is a child. This gesture by American children and the adults who contribute, stretches across the oceans and the continents and can mean the difference between a child's hope and a child's despair, blindness or sight, life or death. Whatever you give, even if it seems only a little, can mean that much more help for children—the world's most valuable resource and its best hope for the future," as the late President Kennedy once said. It can also mean that much more goodwill and peace in the world, hope and friendship in the years ahead.

Because of inflation, UNICEF's now paying from 20 percent to 100 percent more than last year for most of the items it supplies, but a little still goes a long way.

A high-dose Vitamin A capsule costs just one cent, and three are enough to protect a toddler against nutritionally-caused blindness for an entire year. 27 cents buys a clinical thermometer for a village health center.

One dollar can deliver enough high-protein food to feed three hungry malnourished children for a month. Five dollars can stock a pond with baby fish to supply protein to a rural village.

"We count more than ever this year on increased support and understanding from adults," Mrs. Clossen says. "The children seem to understand just naturally." Chelsea will be sponsoring a "Youth Walkathon" for UNICEF on Sunday, Oct. 26, at 1 p.m. and an elementary grades "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF on Saturday, Oct. 25 from 2 to 3 p.m.

CSA Elections To Name Administering Board

Nine persons will be elected within the next month to represent the poor of Washtenaw county on the Administering Board for the Washtenaw County Community Services Agency, (CSA, formerly known as the Washtenaw County OEO).

Elections will take place in Willow Run, Ypsilanti Southside, Ann Arbor and Western Out-county. The County Board of Commissioners, in the capacity of the CSA Governing Board, designated the areas in which the elections will be held and the number of representatives of each area. Three representatives will be elected for Ann Arbor, three for Ypsilanti

Southside, two for Willow Run and one for Western Out-county. The nine representatives of the poor will make up one-third of the CSA administering board. The other two-thirds of the board is divided between representatives of private agencies and elected public officials.

To qualify for election as a representative of the poor, a person must live in the geographic area of the election. Nominating petitions will be available at local Neighborhood Action Centers in each of the four areas. There will also be nominations from the floor at the time of the election. The advisory boards of each of the Neighborhood Action Centers are making the physical arrangements for the election meetings, with the assistance of the CSA administering and governing boards.

Western out-county election will be at 140 Park St., Chelsea, on Oct. 20 at 1 p.m., at Chelsea Neighborhood Action Center, 140 Park St., Chelsea.

Over 1,600 delegates are expected to attend the 54th National A-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

Frosh Grid Team Downs South Lyon

The Bulldog freshmen eyed their record at 2-2 Tuesday, Oct. 7, by defeating the Lions of South Lyon, 20-8.

Chelsea jumped off to a 12-0 half-time lead then added another score in the third period to hold on for the win.

The Bulldogs took the opening kick-off and headed for their initial points 12 plays later. The big plays in the drive were a 12-yard fourth down scamper by Jesse Colburn and a 41-yard TD pass from Colburn to Jeff Eibler.

The Bulldogs scored again early in the second quarter when Greg Reed went 27 yards around end, breaking several tackles on his way to the touchdown. Chelsea stopped the ensuing Lion drive on the 13 and ran out the clock to lead, 12-0 at the half.

The final score came midway in the third period after a very poor South Lyon punt. Joe Verway scored from three yards out and Greg Reed passed to Jeff Eibler for the conversion. After that, the attack turned to South Lyon. The Lions scored late in the third period after a 43-yard pass put the ball on the five. A sweep covered the final five yards, then got the extra points.

Chelsea opened the fourth quarter with Tom Bareis blocking a South Lyon punt, but the drive stalled on the 12. Al Augustine stopped one Lion thrust by recovering a fumble, and late in the period Chuck Young stopped another with a recovery on the 10-yard line. From there, the Bulldogs ran out the final minutes.

Chelsea's leading runner was Joe Verway with 86 yards in 24 carries. Jesse Colburn and Al Augustine each intercepted a pass, and Greg Reed and Scott Powers each had 10 tackles to lead the team effort on defense.

South Lyon ran well, but the Bulldog defense was tough when it had to be, and came up with the big play when they needed it to keep the Lions contained.

SCOTT OWINGS (50): His first year with the varsity Bulldogs, junior Scott Owings plays defensive and split end for the team. Last year Scott played with the junior varsity team. Football is his fall sport and in spring it's baseball. Playing JV last year, Scott would like to see his name on the CHS varsity roster in April. Aside from sports, he is an active member on the yearbook staff and dabbles in photography. Any predictions about the Milan game? "It will be close, but I think we can beat them." The 5'11" 160 pounder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owings of 1222 Meadow Lane. He has one brother, Jamie, 10, and a sister, Lee Ann, 13.

DALE HEADRICK (54): Junior Dale Headrick is a guard in his first year with CHS varsity Bulldogs. Last year he played JV, and before that freshman. "I played 7th and 8th grade football, too," he added. Dale says he thinks the Bulldogs will pull off the SEC title but does not want to see the team get "over-confident." Confidence is one thing, but too much of it . . . Aside from his interest in football, which Dale readily admits is his favorite sport, he plays baseball and like his teammate, Scott Owings, would like to play varsity ball in the spring. Dale has three brothers and four sisters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Parker of 121 W. Summit and Robert F. Headrick of Cavanaugh Lake.

D. Morris Named To Head Michigan Livestock Exchange

In a special meeting of the board of directors of the Michigan Livestock Exchange, David Morris, a Grand Ledge cattleman, was named president of the state's largest livestock marketing agency.

Morris, who previously served as the organization's vice-president, has been an active livestock industry leader for many years. He is currently serving as president of the Michigan Cattle Feeders Association and is a member of the State Co-operative Extension Council. His previous leadership positions include past president of the Michigan Agricultural Conference and a member of the Michigan Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

The announcement came following Milton "Milt" Brown's resignation as president and member of the board of directors. In announcing his resignation, Brown said, "I have arrived at this decision after much thought and deliberation. It has been both a pleasure and a privilege to serve the Michigan Livestock Exchange and its members. Therefore, there is considerable regret in reaching this decision. I will continue to support the activities of the Michigan Livestock Exchange in all ways possible."

Following the special board meeting, Morris announced the election of Norris Young of Buchanan as vice-president and the appointment of Phillip Roberts of Breckinridge to fill the vacancy on the board of directors.

Young, a southwest Michigan cattleman, has served as a member of the Exchange board of directors for the past 12 years. He farms 1,000 acres and finishes about 700 head of cattle a year. He also produces hogs and markets them through the Exchange.

Newly appointed to the board, Phillip Roberts farms about 900 acres near the Gratiot county community of Breckinridge and finishes 1,000 cattle each year. Roberts also serves as a member of the Gratiot County Farm Bureau board of directors and is active in the Michigan Cattle Feeders Association.

ALL ABOUT FOOD

F.A. KENNEDY

Now and then somebody comes up with a good idea that's too good... like the man who invented a glue so sticky you couldn't get the lid off the jar. Or the man who dreamed up the no-deposit, no-return soft drink bottle. It seemed like a great idea at first. And even though they make the beverages cost a bit more, most of us gladly pay the difference, rather than have to lug them back to the supermarket. We simply use 'em and toss 'em.

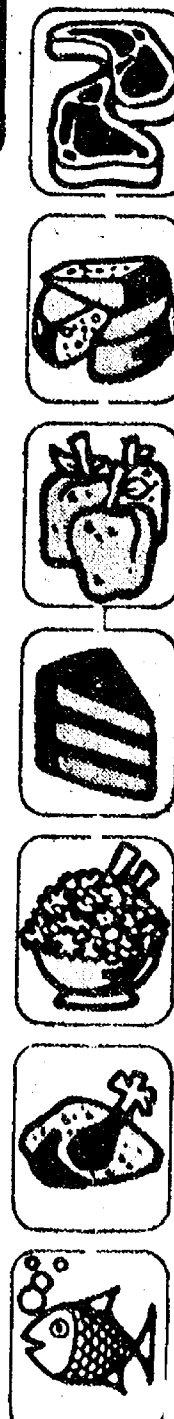

And therein lies the problem... the every-growing roadside blight caused by no-return bottles. One leader of the soft drink industry has tried to sell the public back on the old-fashioned bottles. Their slogan: "Wouldn't you rather borrow our bottle than buy it?"

The advantage of the old-fashioned bottle, of course, is that it makes anywhere from five to fifteen round trips before getting tossed, lost or broken. The new bottle, on the other hand, is strictly on a one-way ticket to the city dump... or worse.

Today, solid waste management is a problem, but bottles and cans are considered a problem far out of proportion to their role in it. An analysis by the Council on Environmental Quality indicates that if all beverage packaging were banned, it would decrease the municipal waste of any city by less than 1%.

Anyway, you're still the boss. So, just in case you don't want to go back to round-trip bottles, one firm is experimenting... in New England... with plastic bottles that you can burn without creating fumes... or even flush down your garbage disposal! And, just in case that doesn't suit you, they're also working on a glass-crushing machine.

Today we're drinking more soft drinks than any other beverage. So at Polly's we don't care which container you choose, as long as you're... RETURNABLE!
