ETHNIC COSTUME WINNERS: Diane Haworth (left) and Debbie Wilson were winners in the Chelsea High school Ethnic Costume contest. The contest was part of week-long Bicentennial celebration at the high school. According to Laurie LaZebnik who chaired the program, Monday's events were canceled because of inclement weather forcing the closing of schools. Thursday's activities were canceled because of unusually high absenteeism and apparent lack of interest.

Chelsea Man Wins $10,000 in State Lottery

The Michigan Lottery has finally come through for Chelsea resident Dan Knight and his wife of W. Middle St., winners of a $10,000 instant ticket purchased at the Chelsea Card & Gift Shop. Mrs. Eve Policht, manager of the shop, also noted that an outstanding green ticket dated Oct. 9, 1975 makes its purchaser eligible for a bonus prize of a $5,000 gift certificate toward a new car. Mrs. Policht said that the ticket must match any two of the five three-digit numbers: 221-548-994-193-223.

Persons holding green tickets should check the dates and numbers to determine their eligibility for the cash certificate.

Cost for the evening is 50 cents. All proceeds will go to the junior class for the Junior-Senior prom.

Man's Body Found Near Blind Lake

Area hunters discovered the body of a young man in a small pond near Blind Lake in Lyndon township last Saturday afternoon. Washington Sheriff's police identified the body as that of Stephen Douglas Parks, who was reportedly missing from the University of Michigan campus, where he attended school. Parks had been missing since last mid-December.

A search was conducted for the man by sheriff's police on snowmobiles and on horse-back after the man's car was found in the Blind Lake area, following the filing of a missing person report. A heavy snowfall at the time impeded the search efforts.

Parks died from what police believe to be a self-inflicted gunshot wound. A weapon was found near his body.

Fluoride Tooth Treatment Again Offered

The Jaycee Auxiliary summer topical fluoride program will be held again this year for area children who do not drink from Chelsea's water supply and for certain children who have only recently moved into the community, according to Ginny Wheaton and Jeanne Messing, co-chairmen of the committee.

Most of the children of Chelsea have had the benefit of fluoride.

A REWARDING EXPERIENCE: Spanish and French teacher at Chelsea High school Nancy Gilbreath and her husband, Steve, didn't know they would become American parents to exchange student Harry Prill when they offered him a temporary home. However, when YFU officials told the Gilbreaths they were having a hard time finding a permanent home for Harry, Nancy replied, "Don't look too hard, we are enjoying him." The Gilbreaths and Harry have been together for four months now and everyone agrees it has been a rewarding experience.

'Snow Days' Are New Experience For German Exchange Student

Being an exchange student can be a tough ordeal. One is asked and expected to answer countless rounds of the same questions. One is expected to be courteous, polite, interested and interesting, well-informed about his native land, friendly and to love his new family. In an addition to all that, an exchange student is pressured to conform to all the expectations we Americans have of people from his or her particular country. Not an easy task for anyone.

Nor for the reporter who is expected to ask those questions, get the answers and confirm the stereotypes. From West Berlin comes 17-year-old Harry Prill who easily keeps up with the typical exchange student and kiddingly adds that he "puts up a good front." One would be hard pressed to get typical answers from Harry Prill. He is not your typical shy and retiring foreigner, nor a bouncy and enthusiastic exchange student. He is thoughtful and fun-loving and he is cynical. It is much easier to sit back and enjoy Harry, to listen to his impressions about our country, about Chelsea and the young people than to fire questions in hopes of pat answers.

Tall, long blond hair, often held back with a headband and 15 pounds heavier, though it doesn't show, Harry appears to be well-adjusted to his 28-year-old "mother," Nancy Gilbreath and her husband, Steve, of Ann Arbor. In the United States just 66 days, an illness in his YFU family, the Donalds Foxes, resulted in a request to find Harry a new family. Anxious to be of service, Nancy Gilbreath who has taught Spanish and French at the high school for seven years, and her husband, Steve, offered to serve as a temporary home for Harry. When it became apparent that YFU was having some trouble finding him a new home, Nancy reportedly told YFU officials, "Don't try too hard, we are enjoying him."

Life with the Gilbreaths is probably not to different from life with his own family in Berlin where he is an only child. As with Nancy and Steve, Harry says, "I have no rivals," and laughs.

Of course what makes Harry's American life different is that his so-called parents are only 10 years older than he, that their thoughts and ideas and their methods of parenting might be more liberal than an older family with children and that he commutes daily with Nancy and fellow Chelsea teachers to and from Ann Arbor.

During the week, Harry's life is much like that of any other CHS exchange student. He attends classes, eats lunch in the cafeteria, and mixes with friends. Questioned about his thoughts on the high school and his education, Harry said that the school system, the method of teaching and the method of studying are radically different.

In Germany Harry just completed his 11th grade, so to speak, in the Gymnasium (pronounced with a hard G). When he returns he will find it difficult to get back into the German routine for two more years of studying before he completes our equivalent of high school. Schooling in Germany, he says, is much more difficult. "We have less school," students attend from 8 a.m. to 1:30 or 2:15 p.m. without a break for lunch and "no study halls." After all as Harry put it, why have study hall when nobody studies?

Another difference is the method of learning. In Germany, students are encouraged to seek knowledge from a number of books, one of which may be a text, versus his experience here where student assignments seem limited to just the textbook. "They leave so many of the details out," he said, referring to the texts.

In Germany classes seem to be held more along lines of seminars. Students get into raging discussions about politics, government, literature, etc. What shocked Harry most, was that students here could not identify a prominent European Asian, or Middle Eastern political figure from a photo, where as the German student is well-acquainted with such faces from reading various newspapers and periodicals.

Aside from noticing differences in the school system, Harry like most Germans, has noticed the difference in our domestic beers. "He complains about the beer a lot," laughs Nancy. "And when he is feeling rich he buys Lowenbrau" (which is pronounced more like Leuvenbreu). Beer is one thing he misses and sun is another, (Harry, you just haven't had a taste of our Michigan summers). "I'm not homesick, just sunsick," Harry commented and remarked about "snowdays". Apparently in Berlin, there is some snowfall, though not much and rarely does it linger on the ground. Snowdays were a new phenomenon to Harry.

Like most exchange students, Harry had trouble with the American language when he touched down at Metro Airport and for some time after. In Europe, the natives are taught British English. The pronunciation, the spelling and sometimes the meanings are quite different from Britain's counterpart of "American" as it is so-called by many Europeans. For Harry, being in the United States meant re-learning pronunciation in order to understand and to be understood. "He now speaks with little trace of an English accent," said Mrs. Gilbreath.

Another problem Harry grappled with were words that are spelled the same but have different grammatical functions such as live with a short i and live with a long i. Is Nancy acquiring any German? Oh yes, "the everyday language," she says. And while Nancy and her husband, Steve, pick up German from their foreign friend, Harry is adding Spanish to his vocabulary under the direction of his CHS Spanish teacher, Mrs. Gilbreath. Not wanting Mrs. Gilbreath to appear prejudiced about his abilities, Harry told that he received an A- for the class.

What else about Harry Prill? Well, he loves ping pong and pool, which he and the Gilbreaths play often and he is a real music fan, especially Jethro Tull. He has been to New York, Chicago and to the Detroit Zoo and plans to visit the Ford plant and Greenfield Village in the spring.

"Oh," Harry adds as we depart, "don't forget to put in that I love my family!"

Independent Party Names Candidates

Chelsea's Independent Party Village Caucus was held Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers. Approximately 30 persons were present to place nominations for the village offices to be filled in the March 8 election date.

Candidates are Don Wood for president. Wood is currently a trustee on the council. Also nominated were incumbent Wallace Wood for a two-year term as treasurer, and Judson Goltra, also an incumbent, as assessor.

Nominated for the three two-year openings for trustees were James Schardein, Robert Schaefer and Walter Brown. Each of these men have at one time or another been currently serving on the planning Commission.

Trustees who will remain to complete their two-year terms are David Rowe, Sam Johnson and Richard Borton.

Incumbent Jean Eaton was nominated to the two-year post on the library board as was William Chandler.

The clerk's position, now filled by Thomas Neumeier, is not up for election this year.

Administrator Named For Methodist Home

Irving A. Crisman has been appointed administrator of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, effective Feb. 14.

A licensed nursing home administrator, Crisman has served Boulevard Temple United Methodist Retirement Home in Detroit since November of 1973.

He is a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology and the Lewis Hotel Training School in Washington, D. C. He holds a Bachelor of Commercial Science and a certificate in Nursing Home Administration.

Crisman is a member of the First United Methodist church of Dearborn, the National Health and Welfare Conference, the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association, American Legion Post 278, and the Union Lodge No. 3 F & AM in Detroit.

A native of the Detroit area, Crisman and his wife, Irene, have lived in Dearborn since 1965. They have two children.

Four CHS Matmen Qualify for Regionals

Four Chelsea High school wrestlers will move into regional action at Columbia Central this Saturday after trying for 4th place in District competition last Saturday at Willow Run.

Jim Stahl, Dale Schoenberg, Tim Reed and Dennis Bauer each won their two qualifying matches. Schoenberg, Reed and Bauer won by pins. Stahl won on a referee's decision and a 4-2 decision.

Other Chelsea wrestlers who picked up first round wins were Chuck Young who posted a 7-6 decision, Rick Beeman who managed a fall victory, Nick Keiser who gained a 7-2 decision and Bruce Bennett who rolled for a 3-9 win.

"It was a good effort on our wrestlers' part," said Bulldog coach Richard Bareis. We hope that our four remaining wrestlers will be able to make it to the State meet which will be held at East Kentwood in Grand Rapids," he concluded.

Wrestlers Squeak Past Jackson Northwest, 29-25

Chelsea's grapplers closed out their dual season last week with an exciting 29-25 victory over an exciting Jackson Northwest. The win boosted the Bulldogs' record to 9 and 2. Coach Richard Bareis remarked, "It was a rather typical come-from-behind victory."

Chuck Young started the evening with a 2-2 draw at 101 pounds. At 105 pounds John Bu-lick lost a 5-2 match. At 115 pounds Doug Weitzel got off to an early lead but was pinned late in the third period. Jim Stahl then scored a 4-2 decision at 119 pounds, followed with a default victory by Dale Schoenberg at 129 pounds. At 135 pounds Rick Beeman lost a 12-3, while Rocky Brandel lost a 5-1 decision.

BICENTENNIAL NOTES:

Homecoming Day Planned for Aug. 16

The executive committee appropriately enlisted the support of the Chelsea Area Historical Society to organize, plan, staff and execute "Homecoming Day." This special day will be Monday, Aug. 16.

Marian Sprague, as general chairperson, has an able committee. Its first assignment has been to compile a fairly complete list of names of former residents whom they feel would appreciate being invited back to Chelsea to share Bicentennial Week festivities with former friends and neighbors.

Miriam Klemer will be contacting civic organizations and women's clubs, Marilou Bower, the church organizations. Together with Ben Bower and Pat Christwell, they will put together the list of names provided. Here the Committee asks for community-wide assistance. Please call Marian Sprague at 475-7290, or write her at 3490 Clear Lake Rd., Grass Lake 49240, with your suggestions of names for the list.

The committee will prepare an invitation letter for mailing. The reason the committee is asking for these names so far in advance of the August date, is to insure the letters reaching the invited guests early enough for them to plan their summers to include a trip to Chelsea.

Homecoming Day activities are not finalized, but will probably include a reception in the afternoon to welcome the guests. Mrs. Sprague is also considering a walk-

State Financial Aid For Schools Uncertain

It is clear from the governor's message on financial aid to K-12 school districts that 1978-79 will be difficult for boards of education. However, it is unclear, from previous commitments of the legislature, what the financial impact of the 1976-77 State Aid Act will be on the school district. The State Aid Act will probably be passed near the end of the present school year.

The following excerpts from the Governor's message regarding K-12 financing are not encouraging.

"My 1976-77 recommendation for School Aid provides few expanded programs and no new programs. In terms of total state and local resources, my recommendation provides for an approximate 3.7 percent increase... while admittedly austere, the 3.7 percent growth level cited is comparable to increases in other program areas."

"I am recommending an improvement in basic membership formula of six percent per pupil and the extension of the two-tier equal-yield formula approach to 28 mills."

"The current fiscal circumstances do not allow for any growth in state funding for categorical programs. Thus the recommended levels for such major categoricals as special education, vocational edu-

A Look at Crime
A crime explosion in Michigan? No, says the chief of Michigan's State Police, Col. George L. Halverson.

There only seems to be an explosion if one looks at statistics from 1970 and compares them to 1975. Those statistics indicate an over-all increase of 36 percent from 1970 in the total number of reported offenses for the entire state.

But Halverson says five-year statistics are "of little value;" that percentages mean little "when it comes to understanding and responding to an increase in crime."

Responding to rural crime, which increased dramatically in recent years along with the growth rate of rural areas, points up a need for new law enforcement methods, Halverson says.

"Traditionally, law enforcement has evolved along the lines developed in urban areas," he says—but such methods aren't totally effective in less populated, more spread-out areas of the state.

Take the case of a patrol unit, for example. In an urban area, that one unit can effectively cover a large number of people. But in a rural setting, much of the unit's time is spent getting from place to place, travelling in what Halverson calls "uncritical areas."

The problem of identifying high crime areas and patterns is even more difficult in rural areas, Halverson says, because they are "far less visible when spread out over both time and space, as they are in the rural areas."

One attempt at solving some of these problems is a crime problem information system now being developed in Michigan with the help of a federal grant.

"This effort has been undertaken in an attempt to allow law enforcement to cease being a reactive, 'after the fact' report gatherer, and to start implementing a crime prevention effort that is based on valid information readily available for local use," Halverson says.

But Rep. Dominic J. Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, plans to get the ball rolling in the legislature. And he's also talking about running for governor of Superior if all goes well.

The U.P. has some 322,000 residents, more than Alaska.

Dollars Wait

The money is there—but where are the claimants?

Michigan's Department of Military Affairs reports an estimated 10,000 persons eligible for payments from the Vietnam Era Veterans bonus program have yet to apply for their checks.

Veterans did not have to participate directly in the Vietnam conflict in order to qualify for bonus payments, notes Capt. Michael Rice, director of the bonus section.

Instead, veterans must have been residents of the state for six months prior to entering active military service, must have served at least 180 days active duty between Jan. 1, 1961 and Sept. 1, 1975, and must have been honorably discharged.

To date, the bonus program has paid an estimated $180 million to some 300,000 eligible Michigan Vietnam era veterans.

One Day

The apple of our orchards—Michigan ranks third in the nation in production of that fruit—may soon win official recognition, along with the robin, the trout, the white pine, the greenstone, the Petoskey stone and the apple blossom.

All save the fruit are official state symbols. And Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Deerborn, wants to add the apple to the list.

Such action, she says, "would recognize all that the apple industry has contributed to the State of Michigan over the years. The apple is well deserving of this honor."

U.P. No. 51?

Remember all that talk—some tongue in cheek, some very serious—about Michigan's north country breaking away from the Lower Peninsula to become a state of Superior?

Don't count them out yet.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled recently that it can be done. All the Superior supporters need is to win approval from the legislature, residents of the Upper Peninsula and the Union.

Whether all that will come to pass or not is anybody's guess at the moment.

In the FFA district contests held at Chelsea High school Tuesday, with the old feller that said if he'd known he was going to live this long he'd of took better care of himself.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb announced at the start of the meeting at the country store Saturday night that the Government final has said it flat out, living is hazardous to our health. Zeke told the feller he had read the newspaper installments of a study of the health of Americans, and the word is that we're in pretty good shape but the way we're living is killing us.

The study showed that just about everything we do is bad for us, Zeke reported. Our food is too rich and we eat too much of it. We drink too much and we don't exercise enough, and while we're setting down gitting fat we worry too much. Our bodies are flabby and our nerves are ragged. Zeke went on, and the harder we work to get ahead so we can set and git fat the higher our blood pressure goes. Th only thing that's hurting us worst than failure, Zeke declared, is success.

There was considerable discussion on Zeke's report. General speaking, the feller was disgraced that reading and eating is driving Americans to an early grave. It was Bug Hookum that said it seemed to him that the folks you alius hear crying that money don't buy happiness don't have none, so they ain't in a position to know. After shure, Bug allowed, you can't buy nothing with poverty. It makes a heap of sense, went on Bug, to ruther sit in the shade than work in the sun, and while hard work may not kill you he never had heard of anybody resting to death either.

Clem Webster said it was good of the Government to do all these studies on us, but he said what they fail to take in account is that most of the worry we got comes from Government. There's so many agencies to deal with now, Clem said, until a feller could git a nervous breakdown jest trying to add a bedroom and a bath to his own house on his own land. Clem said he was all for a good night's sleep and all the other healthy habits, but the reasons behind the human condition are as different as people.

For instant, Clem went on, one man's idea of a good, relaxing time is golf, but another man might git so mad playing the game that he's hazardous to his health and everybody's around him. In most cases, you do better letting nature take the lead, because science and Government studies move to fast for the human race, was Clem's words. And Clem said he has noticed that most of what science and Government come up with wind up on the list of things that is hazardous to our health.

Josh Clodhopper sided with Clem. He said he recollected when DDT was going to be the end of the fly, but now the chemicals is more hazardous than the insects. And we need DDT more than ever, Josh allowed, cause two good whams with a fly-swatter agin walls in houses being built now might be hazardous to everybody in em.

Make a lump sum deposit or as many as you like - up to $7500 annually.

You can start your account with a small amount, make additional deposits as often as you like throughout the year and earn 5 1/2% per annum every day your money is on deposit. When your savings reach $1000 or more you can convert them to a 6 year certificate earning an annual interest rate of 7 1/2% which is an effective annual rate of 8.03%. Or if you make an annual lump sum deposit of $1000 or more you can immediately earn our 7 1/2% annual rate and accumulate even more in your tax sheltered retirement account.

The tax shelter can increase your retirement fund substantially.

Funds in a tax sheltered account grow much faster than funds in a non-sheltered savings account.

The chart below provides an example of this difference assuming that you deposit $7500 on the last day of each year. The second column shows how your interest accumulates with the help of our tax sheltered plan. The third shows how your interest accumulates without the help of a tax sheltered plan and the fourth shows the difference.

AT THE END OF	WITH TAX SHELTER	WITHOUT TAX SHELTER	YOUR GAIN WITH TAX SHELTER
10 Years	$117,196	$79,985	$37,211
20 Years	$369,703	$236,063	$133,620
30 Years	$913,748	$556,171	$357,577

The figures in the above chart assume that the total contribution of $7500 is made on the final business day of each year, and that the taxpayer is in the 28% tax bracket. The current annual interest rate used is 7 1/2%.

Thieves' Specialty Is Stealing CB Radios

Citizen's Band radios (CB) are now all the rage. So much so that people have taken to stealing them from parked vehicles!

According to Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck, three CB radios were stolen within a 24-hour period in Chelsea last week. One was reported stolen the previous week, and two were stolen in January.

Reuben Lesser of 14140 Old US-12, reported to Chelsea police at 2:35 a.m. Feb. 10 that a Lafayette CB radio valued at $150 had been taken from his locked vehicle while it was parked in a lot near the Wolverine Bar. Lesser was inside. When he returned to his vehicle, the radio was missing. Police believe entry was gained with the use of a coat hanger.

At 11 a.m. Tuesday, Dr. Jerry Waldyke, 555 Chandler St., and Vincent Boyer of 515 Chandler, told Chelsea police that Realistic 23 channel CB radios were discovered missing from their vehicles. The radios are valued at $150 each. Waldyke told police that his car was parked unlocked in the driveway of his home. He believed the radio to have been taken sometime between 8 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday. Boyer said his vehicle was locked. Entrance is believed gained through the use of a coat hanger.

Chief Meranuck said he wants to encourage area residents with Citizens Band radios to take them in at night. "It may seem difficult," he said, "but actually it is a simple matter of unscrewing two screws and it may prevent a theft. People have got to take precautions, especially when so many have been stolen."

BULLDOG CAGER JEFF SWEET (42) is one basketball player who has absolutely no hesitation in his voice when he says, "I'm glad to be playing with the team. It has been a lot of fun." Jeff, who is in his first year with the varsity cagers, has spent much of the time on the bench, though he says, "It doesn't really bother me." And he adds, he hopes to improve enough by next year in order to see his name on the varsity roster for a second season. It goes without saying that the Bulldogs have had an unusually tough season. Jeff praised his coach, Tom Ballstrene, for "being really patient with us; and with me. I am glad to have played under him." In the fall, Jeff plans to go out for football. Last fall, he ran cross country. When not practicing his shooting, Jeff works part-time for the Staffan Funeral Home, a career he someday hopes to pursue; however, before that he plans to go into the Coast Guard. Jeff is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Sweet of Chelsea and Robert Sweet of Stockbridge.

Varsity Cagers Bombed By Milan, 81-41

When Chelsea High school's varsity basketball coach, Tom Ballstrene, returned to the courts after the half-time interval during last Friday's Milan-Chelsea contest, his stomach probably sank when he noticed the 50-16 score posted in Milan's favor.

The Bulldogs were bombed Friday evening, 81-41, by a team that has won nine of its last 10 games. In their first contest, earlier this season, the Bulldogs met defeat at the hands of the Big Reds with only a six-point margin in the score. Friday evening they were not quite as lucky.

"Milan was hot," commented Ballstrene. "They played as well as we did badly," he continued.

The Bulldogs shot a miserable 23 percent from the floor. In 70 attempts, only 15 were successfully completed. They were killed on the rebounds from the boards as the Milan team nearly doubled Chelsea's efforts.

Ballstrene cautioned against criticism of his team, remarking that his boys were right back on the courts Saturday practicing for their game this Friday with Dexter. "They have a lot of enthusiasm and a continuing desire to improve," Ballstrene said.

High scorers for the Bulldogs were Randy Guenther and Tony Robards, each of whom sunk 15 points. Dean Thompson put in three points, while Pete Feeney, Don Morrison, Randy Sweeny and Jerald Benjamin each contributed two.

This Friday evening, the players will honor their parents with a pregame presentation of corsages to their mothers. After Dexter, the Bulldogs will face Saline before they enter district competition.

Ann Arbor Man Arrested Here on Bench Warrant

An Arbor man was arrested by Chelsea police early Saturday morning on two outstanding warrants. David Brian Simmons of 1212 Arborview was wanted by the Saline police department on a criminal bench warrant and by the Michigan State Police Station 26 on a traffic warrant.

Simmons was arrested when Chelsea officers Browning and Graves on routine patrol observed a 1967 Oldsmobile going north on M-52 with the left front headlight burned out. The officers stopped the Simmons car to issue a ticket for defective equipment. A warrant check was run with Washtenaw county which showed Simmons was wanted on two outstanding warrants.

He was taken to the Washtenaw county jail where he was turned over to the proper deputies. The car was taken to Smith's Service Station.

The case is closed for village police.

Sure, a $50,000 life policy could cost a lot of money...but it doesn't when it's "altogether"! When we say "altogether" we mean Permanent—permanent and term insurance combined to avoid those big premiums, but still deliver the big protection young family men need. It means you could have a $50,000 policy which lets you build up a retirement income at the same time! Yes, Perma-Term's easier on the budget, but please remember that costs go up as you grow older. Woman's Club Group Entertains Methodist Home Residents

Residents of Chelsea United Methodist Home were entertained the afternoon of Feb. 10, when a group of ladies from the Woman's Club of Chelsea made their annual visit to the Home. Under the leadership of their president, Mrs. Janice Glazier, the ladies presented an afternoon "tea," serving fruit punch and scores of plates of home-made cookies.

These ladies contribute their time and efforts to several organizations, from youth to very old age, spreading cheer and goodwill among all who are privileged to meet them.

Lima Center Extension Presents Lesson on Our American Heritage

Lima Center Extension group met Feb. 11 at the Lima Township Hall with Cora Downer and Donna Bradbury as hostesses.

The lesson in the morning was "Our American Heritage," by Nancy Spence and Margaret Sims. Mrs. Spence gave the history of Lima township which was known as Mill Creek settlement. The first land was deeded to William Lemón. Many articles and objects dating back to 1803, such as teapots and silverware, were shown.

A pot-luck lunch at noon was served on a patchwork tablecloth with a centerpiece of kitchen utensils and dishes that had been used in past years. The table was centered with an arrangement of a water pitcher, potato masher and other utensils.

The meal consisted of foods made from recipes passed down from generation to generation of families with different ethnic backgrounds.

In the afternoon meeting Mary Haselschwerdt and Katherine Reddman asked the women to help make wall hangings to be displayed in the Lima Township Hall depicting the history and development of Lima township to 1976.

The group discussed the kind of lessons they would like next year and gave different ideas of what they would like presented to the county program planning meeting to be held in March.

Business Women's Assoc. Chapter Being Formed

A new organization for Chelsea area women is in the process of forming here. With one meeting behind them and another scheduled for Feb. 23, the American Business Women's Association will soon be on its feet. That is if enough working women in Chelsea express interest to form a chapter.

According to Mrs. Letha Brittain, president of Jackson's Apollo chapter, ABWA is neither a club nor a sorority, but an organization, though she says it includes many desirable features of both. Primarily ABWA members say, the organization is an educational association; not only for themselves but for the hundreds of young, middle-aged and older women who benefit from scholarship assistance.

Members enthusiastically say it is a non-sectarian, non-political, non-union organization, formed to meet the needs of the woman in business for an association which would increase her efficiency and ability, her success and happiness. As Mrs. Brittain remarked, "We hope to become better employees and employers."

This first meeting held in Chelsea at the McKune Memorial Library was attended by women representing some of the different businesses and places of employment here such as the Dana Corp., North American Rockwell, the Chelsea Medical Clinic and 14th District Court. One attendant at this meeting remarked that she thought the ABWA "could go in Chelsea."

The Association was founded in 1949 by Hilary A. Bufton, Jr. A pamphlet promoting ABWA reads, Bufton "observed that America was wasting much of its available resources by not fully utilizing the abilities of its women. He believed there was a need for an organization which would establish a common ground for all business women rather than for only those in a specific profession."

The "pioneer chapter," appropriately named "Pioneer Chapter," was installed in Kansas City, Mo., on Nov. 21, 1949. Now in its 27th year, the Association has well over 1,300 chapters, members in all 50 states and Puerto Rico, and a total active membership of more than 83,000. New members and chapters are being added continuously.

Since ABWA's inception, individual chapters have been encouraged to sponsor scholarships for women. The number of chapter sponsored scholarships has grown until, last year alone, chapters invested more than $700,000 locally for scholarships in their communities. In addition, contributions from chapters and others are responsible for the national educational fund of the Association, which provides college and graduate scholarships for qualified women. Scholarships have been awarded to more than 2,000 students in 40 states.

Each chapter meets monthly for educational, social and cultural activities. Many members are in-

Kiss Your Baby Week Set By C-F Association

The Washtenaw County Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, a United Way Agency, asks you to "Kiss Your Baby" with very special attention. If he should have cystic fibrosis, he will really need you to do something about it promptly.

"Kiss Your Baby Week," Feb. 14-21 was designed to help parents recognize cystic fibrosis in their children. One of the signs of C-F, the most serious lung-damaging disease, is a salty taste of the skin. Mothers have often alerted doctors to the possibility of C-F when kissing their babies and tasting salt. If you do taste salt on your baby, see your doctor. Make sure your baby has a test for C-F. Early diagnosis and immediate treatment is vital to your child's life.

Cystic fibrosis occurs about once in 1,500 births—the result of both parents carrying a recessive gene for cystic fibrosis. So far, there's no cure for C-F though early diagnosis and prompt initiation of treatment are helping to lengthen lives. Today, 50 percent of the C-F patients are living beyond 18 years of age.

Additional signs of cystic fibrosis are: recurrent wheezing; persistent coughing with excessive mucus; pneumonia more than once; excessive appetite but poor weight gain; clubbing (enlargement of fingertips); persistent, bulking diarrhea and nasal polyps.

cation, compensatory education, transportation, and municipal overburden remain unchanged."

The governor's growth level of 3.7 percent rather than the 6 percent per pupil increase is $98,656 instead of approximately $160,000 expected increase for 1976-77 in this district. However, the legislature was committed to the percent at the time the single business tax was passed.

The percentage of revenue from 49 percent in 1966-67 to 15.4 percent in 1975-76. In the same 10 years, local millage for operation has increased from 15.47 mills to 24.72 mills. The percentage increase from local sources over this years has increased from 0 percent to 83.5 percent.

At the present time it is not known what the 1976-77 State Aid act will be and what the expected revenue for the district will be.

Until the legislature finalizes the State Aid Act for 1976-77, the board of education reaffirms its position that a renewal of the 13.5 mills at the March 22 election is the appropriate action to take.

Because the human ear cannot shut out harsh noise as the eye does light, the ear is perhaps man's most vulnerable sensory organ, hearing experts declare. Fluoride Tooth Treatment Again Offered dated water during the time that their teeth were developing and will receive no additional benefits from the topical applications of sodium fluoride, Mrs. Wheaton and Mrs. Messing said.

Three- or four-year-olds, pre-schoolers, 2nd graders, 5th graders, and 8th graders who drink from private wells or from non-fluoridated public water systems are eligible for the program as are 8th graders who have lived in Chelsea less than seven years, 5th graders who have lived here less than five years, and 2nd graders and pre-schoolers with less than three years residence in Chelsea.

Parents of eligible children have until March 1 to enroll them in the program. Those interested in having their children receive the topical fluoride but who do not have the necessary registration cards may contact Mrs. Wheaton or Mrs. Messing at 475-7412 or 475-7026.

A fee of $4.75 to cover costs of operating the clinic must be submitted along with the registration card.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic which will be held in the Beach Middle school. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent compared with 60 to 65 percent reduction obtained with fluoridated water.

In addition to providing protection against cavities the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program.

Michigan, which pioneered in the field of topical fluoride applications in 1949, leads the nation in the number of community programs in operation and in children treated. In addition to the program in Chelsea, more than 40,000 children will receive applications in over 200 clinics scattered throughout the state. The state-wide program is supervised by the Dental Division of the Michigan Department of Public Health, which assists local groups in the organization stage, recruits and trains dental and dental hygiene students, provides the fluoride solution, and oversees the program operation through periodic visits to the various clinics by staff dentists.

The 1,207 handicapped employees hired by the Veterans Administration last year constituted 17.5 percent of the total federal handicapped accessions.

Bicentennial Notes

It is time the people of Chelsea worked up their "Bicentennial enthusiasm" and came to the assistance of two of the most active and supportive members of this community, Art and Ann Steinaway, co-chairmen of the Participation Division of the 200th year birthday celebration.

When Art and Ann accepted the bid by the core committee to organize the fun events, beating their heads against a brick wall was not what they had agreed to do. They were to find interested persons who would, for example, assemble the "Brothers of the Brush" and "Chelsea Belles." They hoped to have persons who would have chapters of these two groups set up through various existing groups and have each group choose names, tags, buttons and banners declaring their allegiance and then stage contests between chapters. Kick-off day is April 4, so...

In some instances persons expressed a desire to help, only to change their minds later. The long and short of it is this column should be full of names of committee chairmen, proposed activities and lists of enthusiastic volunteers. However, there is no to no enthusiasm and nearly no volunteers.

Come forward and get on the bandwagon. We need persons to help out the few chairmen the Steinaways have been fortunate to have. Wanda Schiller is taking charge of Special Activities and Gloria Greenleaf is helping with ordering bonnets, certificates and other supplies for the different chapters.

Come forward and get on the bandwagon. They need help! The country will celebrate this event

Janet Grénier, gathered $150.15. They expect to add $40 more.

Marching in Lyndon were Betty Hopkins, Gail Paxton, Candy Bonus, Phyllis Tillman, Karen LaVeigne, Mrs. E. Hughes, Jr., Mrs. Sherry Drew, Mrs. D. Desmythers, Mrs. Robert Allen, Mrs. D. L. Teare, Mrs. B. Parks and Mrs. Cindy Bradbury.

only once. Let it help unite all persons in the Chelsea area. Take another look at your calendar and fit in, helping the Steinaways, and ultimately, the community. Call them to help in any way you can. Chelsea needs their ability, but they can't successfully chair a Participation Committee if there is no one else participating.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Lincoln Railsplitters Drop Two, Tied With Milan in Title Race

Lincoln High school dropped two games last week to their opponents and in doing so lost the number one spot in Southeastern Conference basketball play.

The Railsplitters now share the number one ranking with Milan and are out on guard against the Saline Hornets who have boosted their record to 9 and 2. With most teams having only two remaining games to play, the crowning of the SEC champ is not far off. And it is sure to be a battle between Milan, Lincoln and Saline. Our own Bulldogs, on the other hand saw their first SEC victory last week, only to be blasted off the courts by the strong Milan team 81-41, last Friday evening. The Chelsea cagers now have a record of one and 10 in the league. They have won a total of three games this season.

Novi 72, Lincoln 66—

Neither team played "great" basketball in this SEC upset Friday evening. Lincoln's defeat is attributed to the breakdown of the offensive patterns. The Railsplitters only shot 25 percent from the field, hitting a mere 20 of 80 shots. The Wildcats didn't do too much better with 26 of 68. High scorer for the winning team was Bill Giorgio with 19 points. George Czinski led the 'Splitters with 24 points.

Saline 35, Brighton 29—

Brighton's Bulldogs found that they were able to narrow their defeat margin last Friday evening when they met Saline for the second time this season. They weren't however, able to manage a victory as they went down at the hand of the Hornets; 35-29.

After an earlier 84-55 loss to Saline in January, the Bulldogs worked on a new strategy. A strategy that at least enabled them to lose with dignity. Saline was 14 of 27 from the field and 7 of 10 from the foul line.

High scorer for Saline was Dave Slagenwhite with eight points. Dean Clark for the Bulldogs had eight as well.

Milan 81, Chelsea 41—

A pair of 25-point quarters in the opening two of the game put the Big Reds ahead Friday night. An additional 41 points added to the score in the final two quarters sunk it for the Bulldogs. Milan limited the Bulldogs to just 16 points in the first two quarters of play as they instituted a man-to-man defense. Even Chelsea's star player, Randy Guenther, could only manage to sink 15 points. Tony Richards also put in 15 for the Bulldogs. High scorer for the Big Reds was Kurt Dingman who put in 25 points toward the victory.

Dexter 64, South Lyon 53—

In spite of reports attesting to even play by both teams last Friday evening, Dexter High school was able to grab a victory with an 11-point lead over South Lyon last Friday evening. Leading the Dreadnaughts was Bill Mussio in the double figures with 14 points while Mark Janni and Dave Sing came off the bench for 18 and 15 points, respectively. Leading the Lions was Kevin Baize with 24 points.

State Funds Will Be Allocated If Local School Millage Is Renewed

An article two weeks ago, "School Millage Renewal Vote Set March 22," presented some of the reasons the board is requesting a renewal of the 13.5 mills March 22 rather than requesting an increase. 13.5 mills represents 41 percent of the budget or approximately $1,365,300. The board requests the renewal to continue this 41 percent in the total school program.

There have been many questions raised regarding the effect of the single business tax on school district finances. The business property inventory will be eliminated from the property tax-base upon which the millage is levied for 1976-77. The estimated loss of tax base is approximately 6.74 percent.

However, the basic state aid formula will compensate the district for the loss of revenue because of the tax base loss resulting from the single business tax.

All local districts are guaranteed 6 percent per pupil increases in 1976-77 and 5 percent per pupil increases thereafter in total revenue received from the millage levied provided the 1975 millage is the same or higher for 1976-77.

If the millage is increased, state funding is still provided only to the extent that the millage fails to provide the guaranteed 6 percent or 5 percent increase. If millage increases bring in more than the guaranteed 6 percent or 5 percent, no state funding is due the district.

A 6 percent increase in revenue is approximately $160,000 in this district which is 1.6 mills on the present state equalized valuation of $101,282,762. If a millage increase of 1.6 mills, in addition to the 13.5 mills renewal, were requested and approved by the electors, the revenue from this tax would be $160,000. Therefore, the 6 percent state funding would be forfeited and the local taxpayer would be picking up the tab.

The choice for the local elector is "Would the taxpayer rather approve an increase of 1.6 mills or obtain the same money through the basic state aid formula of 6 percent." The answer is obvious. This is the basic reason the board of education is requesting a renewal of the 13.5 mills rather than requesting an increase.

Bowling Reports

Must Meet Deadlines

Bowlers, have some of you noticed your league standings and bowling scores missing in The Standard lately? If you have, it could be because your league secretary is remiss in turning in scores in time to meet our deadline.

Because bowling scores take extra care in typesetting, we request that all scores be turned in by 5 p.m. the day following that when you and your league bowl. Scores and standings that do not meet that deadline will not be published.

Reports may be dropped in the mail slot at our front door if after regular business hours.

JCs Attend Winter State Board Meet

Five Chelsea Jaycees and their wives attended the Michigan State Jaycee Winter Board meeting in Saginaw over the week-end. Attending the two day affair were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Zink, Mr. and Mrs. William Tudor, Mr. and Mrs. Norm Colby, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheaton and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Messing.

Among the business taken care of, Chelsea Jaycees reconfirmed their stand on welfare reform. According to Jaycee president Mitch Zink, the group wants to see the welfare system reformed, so that those taking advantage of the system will no longer be able to do so. A number of awards were also given.

The affair, attended by some 1,400 persons representing all the state's Jaycee chapters was held in the Saginaw Civic Center.

Wrestler of the Week

JUNIOR BRUCE BENNETT marked his first year on Chelsea's varsity wrestling team with a 17-13 season. Not bad for a junior and especially for someone new to Chelsea and someone who hasn't wrestled since the 9th grade. Bruce says he regrets that, "I wish I had wrestled last year," he remarked. Bruce began his high school wrestling career at Willow Run. He said returning there for district competition brought back a flood of memories. Luckily, he didn't have to wrestle an old friend. This year has been one for gaining experience. Next year, despite the loss of three of the team's top wrestlers Bruce expects Chelsea to have a "good" team. When the wrestling season comes to a close Bruce plans to get a part-time job. "anything," he said. In the fall he will play his second season on Chelsea High school's varsity football team. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bennett.

MARKEITA SATTERTHWAITE

Chairman Named for Girl Scout Cookie Sale

Mrs. Jerry (Marketa) Satterthwaite of 3050 McKinley, has been appointed chairman for the 1976 Girl Scout Cookie sale in Chelsea. The announcement was made Wednesday, Jan. 2 by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Mrs. Satterthwaite, who has headed the cookie sale here in the past, will direct the efforts of 105 Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts in eight troops. The sale runs from Feb. 6 to 15.

Last year under Mrs. Satterthwaite's leadership, Chelsea Girl Scouts sold $2,148 worth of Girl Scout cookies, crackers and tea.

Cookie sale profits provide funds to Girl Scout troops to finance community service and camping projects and to the Huron Valley Council to fund camping scholarships and facilities as well as the basic Scouting program for a growing number of area girls.

Mrs. Satterthwaite currently serves the Huron Valley Council on the board of directors and as press representative.

New School Readiness Program Being Offered

P-R-E-P are the first four letters of the word "preparation," and preparation is what a new program for Chelsea and Manchester pre-schoolers and their parents is all about. The letters stand for Parent Readiness Education Project, because parents must be as much involved as pre-schoolers in the learning experiences that will be going on at Chelsea North and Pleasant Lake schools this year.

This week flyers will be sent home with children in grades K-6, to be returned to the local schools. The flyers request names and birthdates of children in the family born after Dec. 1, 1971. Extra forms are available for neighbors. Parents of pre-school children who do not receive a flyer are invited to get one from the local elementary school or call the PREP teachers, Mrs. Linda Hiatt and Mrs. Linda Buch, at 475-7006.

Parents of four-year-old children will then be contacted and invited to bring their child to the local elementary school. At that time the PREP staff will meet individually with each child to assess the child's learning strengths and weaknesses.

This free service is offered to parents to learn about their child's readiness for school activities. Results will be available to the families upon their request.

For those children who would benefit from further strengthening and developmental activities before kindergarten, and whose parents agree to participate, a small number will be selected and PREP program services will be made available.

Selection of the children and parents who can best benefit and who are interested in this federally-funded program will begin next week.

The program, which entails one morning per week of classroom activities and individually assigned home activities, is designed to make a smoother and more rewarding kindergarten year for the child in the future.

Its 218,000 employees makes the Veterans Administration the third largest federal government employer.

Police Arrest Two Men on Warrants

Chelsea police arrested two different men in two separate incidents early last Wednesday morning on outstanding bench warrants. Both arrests were made when officers Peebles and Dettling were on routine patrol in the village.

Arrested was James Toliver of Ypsilanti and Arnold Vern Rubert of Stockbridge.

Toliver's arrest came after 1 a.m. Wednesday morning when the officers observed a new 1976 Chevy with the new car sticker adhered to the glass, going south on M-52. Suspecting the car might have been a stolen vehicle, the officers made a routine check.

Toliver was driving without a license. Police determined one was never issued to him. A LEIN check was made showing seven outstanding warrants in Toliver's name; a bench warrant from the Ypsilanti police department, two traffic warrants from YPD; two traffic warrants from the Michigan State police in Erie and another two from the State police in Paw Paw.

Toliver was turned over to the Ypsilanti police. The owner and passenger of the car, Walter Venant of Ypsilanti, was released and warned never to allow an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Better than one hour later, police stopped a 1963 Mercury on Main St. because of noise disturbance, believed to be a muffler problem.

Arnold Vern Rubert was one of three passengers in the vehicle. A LEIN check was made. Police discovered he was wanted on a traffic warrant by the Ingham county police. Chelsea police transported Rubert to Stockbridge where he was turned over to Ingham county deputies.

Both cases are closed for village police.

The Chelsea High JV volleyball team lost to Manchester, 10-15, 7-15, on Monday night in a non-league game.

St. Louis School Notes

The month of January and the beginning of February have been busy times for the boys at St. Louis school, according to Fr. Umberto Mellare.

In January five boys traveled to Chicago to participate in the Regional Speed Skating Contest as part of the Special Olympics. Prior to traveling to Chicago, the boys spent many afternoons on the ice pond at the school under the direction of Mr. Kersting, who served as coach for the team. When they arrived in Chicago they were under the direction of Mrs. Brainbridge from Michigan State University. Brainbridge remarked that he was skeptical at first because the boys had practiced only on rough pond ice. Although after a few hours of training on the slick Chicago ice the team was billed as the "strongest team from Michigan." The boys skated for eight gold and two silver medals. Also competing were skaters from five states, including Illinois and Indiana.

A trip to the Shrine Circus, compliments of Alhambra, was on the agenda last week. Traveling to Detroit for the circus was quite a treat for the boys. They especially enjoyed the Centennial Parade.

Later in the week, Alan Conklin, principal of Beach Middle school, invited St. Louis school to share in their Centennial festivities. They viewed a number of Bicentennial Exhibits and also the Michigan Covered Wagon which will join a wagon train from all 50 states arriving in Philadelphia this summer.

On Valentine's Day, candy and paper hearts were distributed at a party given for the boys by psychology students from the University of Michigan. Later the boys treated the staff and teachers at St. Louis school to Valentine goodies.

Looking ahead to Feb. 20 when they will travel to Highpoint for the Run-Dribble and Shooting contest, another Special Olympics event, the boys will meet with basketball players from Highpoint, CMH and Milan. Purpose of this is to prepare the boys for the state Run-Dribble-Shooting to be held in Lansing March 13 and 14. All the Special teams from the state will compete.

Talent, plus over-confidence, can ruin a life's work.

Junior Varsity Cagers Lose to Milan, 62-47

Chelsea's junior varsity basketball team incurred their 5th loss in Southeastern Conference play last Friday evening as they met defeat 62-47, at the hands of Milan's Big Reds.

Coach Paul Terpstra said much of his team's defeat can be attributed to poor foul line shooting. The Bulldogs could only manage nine for 28 or 32 percent from the foul line. They shot 31 percent from the floor. Terpstra added that the J.V. cagers were behind early in the game and weren't able to catch up.

High scorers for the Bulldogs were Rod Sweeney and Chris Smyth who hit in the double figures, each with 14 points. Dave Schroetenboer was the high rebounder with Rod Sweeney. Each snagged 10. Chris Smyth dragged down nine rebounds.

The JV team now holds a seven and five league record. They are eight and eight over-all.

Official Transportation Map Available from Rep. M. Conlin

The new Michigan Official Transportation maps are now being distributed and Representative Michael H. Conlin (R-23rd District) has one for you.

The new maps are free, as always, and Representative Conlin will send you one if you write to him at the State Capitol in Lansing.

In addition to the usual information, the 1976 edition of the state map is full of brief historical facts about Michigan and carries a Bicentennial theme.

For example, the map notes the eight most prominent settlements and communities in Michigan during the Revolutionary period and gives a brief description of America's Transportation Heritage on display at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

The document also designates hospital locations, passenger rail trackage, water ports, airports, bridges and tunnel facilities and their tolls, ferry lines, State Police posts, district offices of the Highways and Transportation Department and an index to cities and villages and their population figures.

It also gives an updated picture of the miles of expressway completed in Michigan and indicates expressway routes that will be completed this year.

Loud and Clear?

The inability to easily locate the direction of sound sources at home, on-the-job, or outdoors may be the warning signal you are suffering from a hearing loss, according to hearing specialists. Individuals noticing this inability should have a hearing test these specialists say.

Place of Residence Asked On Income Tax Return

There's a new block which appears on the 1975 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return 1040 and 1040-

A. It's a place of residence information area. The information requested will be used in the U.S. Bureau of the Census to prepare 1976 population and 1975 per capita income estimates for general revenue sharing purposes.

The problem is, that not every taxpayer is sure of his or her correct place of residence. Because many people live in areas with several levels of local government or in communities served by several post offices or where some jurisdictions have overlapping boundaries; determining a specific place of residence can be difficult and confusing.

To help the taxpayers with this particular block, a phone number, (812) 948-2111 to be called collect will ring members of the Census Bureau staff in Jeffersonville, Ind. The staff in Jeffersonville will answer as many specific place of residence questions as possible.

Obviously, the Census Bureau will not be able to answer every detailed question which might come its way. In such cases, the Jeffersonville office may refer the taxpayers to their local officials for specific answers.

The number may be called between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Eastern Standard time Monday through Friday.

Most Answers In Instructions On Tax Form

Detroit Taxpayers can find answers to most of their tax questions if they take the time to check the instructions found in their tax packages, R. L. Plate, IRS district director for Michigan, said today.

If the tax instructions don't provide the answers, Plate said, the taxpayers should call the IRS on its toll-free telephone assistance line, or visit their local IRS office.

Plate pointed out that the IRS periodically monitors its taxpayer assistance telephone lines to insure that employees are providing quality service.

Taxpayers can also order various extra forms and free IRS publications by mailing in the order blank found in the tax package. The publications focus on a number of familiar tax subjects, charitable contributions, tax benefits for older Americans, alimony payments, medical deductions, the new housing and earned income credits, and others.

Plate also said that taxpayers should carefully read the instructions to determine if they can save time by using the Short Form 1040A.

Qualified instructors will lead the groups, assisting in beginning and intermediate techniques. Staff members of Round River Adventures, Inc., will instruct the two-hour tours.

The sessions will run from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. beginning Saturday, Feb. 14. Registration fee is $2. Skiers must provide their own equipment. A discount daily rate will be offered by Round River Adventures for those people needing equipment for the tour.

What's So Special About Special Education

All of our students are special with special needs. Special education is one way we can provide service and meet many student's needs. Often when Special Education is mentioned, we think of people who look or talk differently; first impressions of students who are in special education programs. Let's take a closer look.

Special Education, in a public school, services many different types of students, with many different problems. Among these are vision impairments, hearing handicaps, speech problems, physical disabilities, learning disabilities, mental and emotional impairments. Some of the areas within special education, such as educable mental impairment, learning disabilities and emotional impairment are often confused. Special Education teachers wish to clarify some of these misconceptions. While these areas cannot be completely separated, it is helpful to look at the differences.

The educable mentally impaired student is often called retarded and considered unable to function in our society. However, his intelligence is only slightly below normal. This student can learn to read, but at a slower pace. He can learn mathematics, but with more practice. He can learn to take care of himself and his family. He can hold a job and live a productive life.

Learning disabled students may be confused with those who are educable mentally impaired because they also learn at a slow pace. However, these students have normal and sometimes high intelligence. Most people learn primarily by seeing, hearing, and remembering. Those who are learning disabled sometimes see things backwards; for example, they might confuse "b" and "d." They may understand what they hear easily. There are those who cannot tell the difference between sounds they hear, such as "m" and "n," yet, may learn very quickly through what they see. Focusing upon what these students "can" do, they are taught academic skills as well as self confidence.

Emotionally impaired students may have any range of intelligence. They are easily distracted by their environment. Often life's circumstances have made it difficult for them to express their feelings and respond with appropriate behavior. These emotionally impaired students may be confused with those who are educable mentally impaired because they also learn at a slow pace. However, these students have normal and sometimes high intelligence. Most people learn primarily by seeing, hearing, and remembering. Those who are learning disabled sometimes see things backwards; for example, they might confuse "b" and "d." They may understand what they hear easily. There are those who cannot tell the difference between sounds they hear, such as "m" and "n," yet, may learn very quickly through what they see. Focusing upon what these students "can" do, they are taught academic skills as well as self confidence.

Almost everyone enjoys some type of music, according to hearing specialists. But they urge that music be listened to at reasonable volume levels, pointing out that highly amplified music can present a hazard to hearing ability.

al problems sometimes interfere with their ability to do school work. Those who are emotionally impaired may be loud and disruptive, or as is often the case, very quiet and withdrawn, and may experience problems in relating to people. They may view themselves as being unimportant and worthless. Students with these problems need to find alternative, acceptable behavior to express their feelings. They need to learn to feel good about themselves. With support, they can overcome their problems and learn to be an asset to society.

To give all of these special students the extra attention they need in school, two types of programs exist in the Chelsea schools; the teacher consultant program and the contained classroom. The teacher consultant program creates a situation where a student, placed in a regular classroom, according to his grade level, goes to the resource room for special help. In the contained classroom students are grouped; spending most of their day together. This is similar to a regular classroom.

What's so special about special special education programs are one way in which these special needs can be met. Another way is for us all to accept "special" people as people.

Facts About Food FOOD ASSOCIATIONS

What'll it be for dinner this evening? I'll bet you have no idea how many different people are trying to help you make up your mind!

For instance, the Beef, Pork or Lamb Council hopes you'll serve a main course of you know what. But the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation suggests chicken. And the Eastern Clam Diggers Association is in there digging too.

Meanwhile, the National Potato Council, The Cranberry Institute, the National Onion Association, and the American Cottage Cheese Institute...just to name a few...have suggestions for side dishes. The Chocolate Milk Foundation suggests you serve their favorite beverage. And I needn't tell you what kind of pie the National Red Cherry Institute would like you to bake!

The point is, there's an association for just about every food imaginable. Including a California Persimmon Growers Association, a Purple Plum Association, and...believe it or not...and International Sausage Casing Association!

How do these organizations try to woo you? Well, partly by supplying home economics classes and such with free recipes and other literature. And partly by providing newspapers with interesting and informative publicity stories. But most spectacularly with national or regional advertising.

Past examples of this were the American Dairy Association's Fall Cheese Festival...the Cling Peach Advisory Board's campaign by the California Raisin Advisory Board pointing out, among other things, that Cleopatra fed raisins to Mark Anthony.

All of which is fine, and in many cases really helps you make more informed choices when you shop. All I hope is that your first choice will be to shop Polly's where we strive for lasting associations.
