Winter Named Director of Rec. Program

JIM WINTER

VFW Post Elects Officers For Next Year

At a regular business meeting held April 14, the following officers were elected to VFW Post 4076, Commander for June 1976-June 1977: Bryon Smith; senior vice-commander, James Barnes; junior vice-commander, Kermit Sharp. Elected quartermaster, Laurance Boyer; post advocate, Mac Packard; chaplain, William Pierce; surgeon, Tom Collingsworth; three year trustee, Gary Kent; adjutant, Warren Wadhams.

Elected as delegates to the Sixth District were Ken Platt, Frank White, Kermit Sharp, James Barnes, Mac Packard, Fremont (Continued on page three)

Chelsea Recreation Council has named James A. Winter as Summer Recreation Director. Winter, 23, worked closely with Tom Balistreri in last summer's Earn, Learn and Play program and has worked most recently with Holly Porter who served as the fall, winter and spring director for the Rec. council.

Winter says his position as director is to act as a liaison between the council and program directors. He will work with the different program directors, assisting them if need be, but primarily his job will be to work out kinks between directors, their programs and the council.

A teacher at Chelsea High school, Winter graduated from Western Michigan University in 1974. He and his wife, Dawn, moved to Chelsea two years ago. Dawn, who is employed part-time with Chelsea Drug, is studying pharmacy at the University of Michigan. The couple live on Flanders St.

Talking about the variety of recreation programs that will be offered in Chelsea this summer, Jim said, most programs will run basically as they did last year, with the exception of the youth program. Because of growth problems, the Earn, Learn and Play program will be replaced with the Playground program. "Essentially," Winter said, "the only difference will be that the earn part of the program will be omitted. The kids' attention spans were too short for some of the work tasks and supervision because of the unusually large number of participants was becoming increasingly difficult."

Pat Clarke will be directing the Playground program. Clarke's program which will be detailed in The Standard at a later date, (Continued on page seven)

Kindergarten Round-Up Set For April 29

Registration for all pupils in the Chelsea School District, who will enter school for the first time in September 1976, is scheduled for Thursday, April 29 at South school in the cafeteria.

Both rural and town parents are asked to come from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at which time there will be a short period for comments from the school staff. Since there is nothing planned for the children, please do not bring them.

Parents who cannot attend this evening meeting, may register their children from 1 to 3 p.m. in the South school cafeteria, April 29.

To be eligible for kindergarten this September, children must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1976. Parents should bring a legal birth certificate to Round-up. Health forms will be issued at this time.

It is essential that all children be enrolled at this time to help kindergarten planning. Please call either elementary school if you are unable to attend either registration session.

Bicentennial Dances Slated For May 7

Two dances will be held in Chelsea Saturday night, May 7 to kick-off local Bicentennial Celebrations.

According to Norma Jean Smith, chairman of the dances, high school students and those with an ear for rock music may dance to the tunes of "Hot Lucy" Saturday night from 8 p.m. to midnight in the Chelsea High school gymnasium. Tickets for the dance are available at the door only for $1.75 per person.

For those who prefer softer tunes, "The Researchers" will provide music for dancing for the 18 and over crowd at the Fair Service Center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are to be purchased in advance at $4 per person from Heydlauff's, Tailfeather Creations or the Chelsea Card & Gift Shop. Beer and refreshments are included in the price.

Profits from both dances will go toward the support of local Bicentennial activities.

Bicentennial Liberty Belles Get Underway

Miss Liberty Belles of Chelsea are finally underway. Last week the girls decided to hold meetings every Monday. Rules were discussed and it was decided that they would be voted upon at the next meeting.

Buttons and certificates will be given out on Monday, April 26. They cost $1 and girls must obtain them for membership. The April 26 meeting will be held at the home of Donna Eeles, 17240 Garvey Rd., at 8 p.m.

All girls interested in the Belles Bicentennial groups are encouraged to attend.

Driver Ed Applications Now Available

Chelsea High school will offer driver education to area students beginning Monday, June 14. Any student born on or before Dec. 31, 1960 is eligible to take this course at no cost.

Older students will attend the first session which runs through July 10. Classes will not be held on July 5. Younger students will start on July 12 and finish Aug. 6. Adjustments in scheduling will be attempted where conflicts with vacations, camp commitments, etc., exist.

Students will be assigned to class running from 7 to 10 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each of the 20 days. Each class period consists of 1½ hours of classroom work as well as range and on-the-street driving experience. The final class period will be devoted to license bureau testing.

Applications for this course must be filled out and signed by parents. Birth certificates are not necessary to enroll, but must be available when obtaining the first license.

Thinclads Lose to Lincoln, 88-44, Bounce Back Over Stockbridge

The big dual meet between Lincoln and Chelsea held last Thursday on the opponent's track turned out to be "no contest," according to Bulldog track coach Bert Kruse.

Kruse told that the Railsplitters displayed power in every event except the mile and two mile. The Lincoln team swept to an 88-44 victory over the Bulldogs.

"We had hoped to come out of the field events either even or ahead," commented Kruse, but instead, Lincoln had built up a 30-15 lead. From that point on, sweeps in both hurdle races (the Railsplitters taking all three places) and one-two finishes in the 880-yard run and 440-yard dash put Chelsea away. Lincoln also took first places in two events the Bulldogs were sure they could win: the discus and shot put.

"Lincoln was fired up for the meet and we weren't," Kruse said, adding that even if the Chelsea team had been "sky high" they could not have touched Lincoln Thursday. "They (Lincoln) ran a very excellent meet."

The only bright spots for the Bulldogs were one-two finishes in both the mile and two mile runs. David Dawson, who has practiced only one week, and John Storey finished first and second in the mile while Rich Haller and Phil Frame did the same thing in the two-mile contest.

Mark Burnett won the pole vault and the mile relay team of Russ Weiner, Mark Burnett, John Storey and Pat Stevenson gave a gutsy performance to win that event.

Tuesday of this week the Chelsea track team managed to bounce back into the winner's seat by defeating Stockbridge on the home track, 92-41.

The meet allowed the Bulldogs to experiment and move people around, said coach Kruse. "This way," according to Kruse, "we can get a better idea of what we want to do in relays and other meets coming up."

The Stockbridge team, fielded some good individuals, but apparently the team lacked the depth it needed to win. "They had too many weak events to be a serious challenge to us," Kruse said.

In Tuesday's meet, the Bulldogs did not display any real outstanding performances, but did show some over-all improvement.

Winners and Chelsea placers in both meets are as follows.

Open House At High School Set Wednesday

An Open House to meet teachers, see the facilities and get an idea of the rigors of a teen-ager's day at school will be held Wednesday, April 28 at Chelsea High school. All parents and other interested school district residents are invited to attend.

A general meeting will be held in the auditorium at 6:30 p.m. where maps and schedules may be picked up. The schedule will be your child's report card.

Parents will run through a mini-schedule with first hour starting at 7 p.m. Each class period will last 10 minutes with five minutes passing time between classes. Teachers will explain what is being done and let guests know how and when to contact them if they have questions, concerning their child or the students.

Coffee will be available in the cafeteria so guests may spend a leisurely "study hall."

Chelsea School Board encourages residents to make a point to see the special facilities such as the media center and new vocational rooms. The buildings will remain open until 9 p.m. Guests are invited to casually tour the building, until that time.

Walk-A-Thon Will Benefit Dimes Fund

Washtenaw County Chapter of the March of Dimes invites all Chelsea area residents to participate in its fourth annual Walk-A-Thon. The Walk-A-Thon will be held this Sunday, April 25 at Huron High school in Ann Arbor beginning at 9 a.m.

Purpose of the walk is to help in the fight against birth defects and to aid those children already afflicted. All funds raised from the walk will go to the March of Dimes program.

The walk is open to all persons, however, youth under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult. Those under 18 must have permission from a parent or guardian to walk the 16-mile course.

The course will begin and end at Huron High school with checkpoints along the way. Each person walking all or part of the course gets others, be it parents, friends, relatives, neighbors or businesses to sponsor him at a monetary rate per mile. Sponsors may contribute any amount per mile from 10 cents up. As walkers pass through checkpoints along the route, they will have their route card stamped. When the walk is over, the walker show his route card to his sponsor.

In Chelsea, Chelsea Drug will sponsor the first 20 walkers who make a request with them. Gambles will sponsor the first 10 and Sam's Barber Shop will sponsor the first five. Sponsor sheets and complete information on the walk may be picked up at Merkels' or Chelsea Drug.

Drug Use Seminar Slated for Parents

A seminar for parents on "Drug Use" on May 6, 7:30 to 10 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Chelsea, will be the first step in a constructive approach to alcohol abuse among teens.

Local concern grown out of contact and observation of teens by community leaders. Teen deaths in autos, admission to hospital and emergency treatment for alcohol overdose, a growing use of both alcohol and other drugs, a growing number of teen-age alcoholics, and use of alcoholic beverages by school-age young people, provide evidence for concern.

According to a Summary Reports published by the State Office of Substance Abuse Services in March of 1975, 72 percent of the youth in Michigan between 13-17 years of age have used alcohol sometime in their life, with 56 percent having used it within the year and 12 percent using alcohol regularly.

The 18-year-old law makes alcohol beverages much more accessible to younger teens. Many still have 18-year-old friends and some 18-year-olds are still in high school or associating with the younger age (Continued on page two)

CHS Baseball Team Slugs Out 4th Victory

Chelsea High school's varsity baseball team chalked up their fourth consecutive victory and their second, league triumph last Thursday when they defeated the Novi Wildcats, 5-0.

The Bulldogs jumped off to an early 1-0 lead in the first inning on a long home run by senior shortstop Randy Guenther. In the third inning Joel Sprague and Don Nadeau led with walks. After two strike-outs, Anthony Houle delivered a key double to left field and he came in to score the third run of the inning on aggressive base-running by the designated hitter, junior Scott Owings. Owings had knocked the ball loose from the first baseman on a close play at first.

The scoring was closed out in the fifth inning when Mike Check opened the frame with a single, moved to second on a walk to Sprague and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Catcher Don Nadeau then lofted a long sacrifice fly to score Check with Chelsea's fifth and final run.

The final statistics showed that Chelsea had five runs, five hits and one error.

John Adams, junior left-hander, turned in his second strong pitching performance of the young season. He handcuffed the Wildcats on only four hits, all singles. He walked only three and fanned six enroute to the victory. Adams has yet to yield a earned run this season in 14 innings pitching against at Manchester and Novi.

This Saturday the Bulldogs will travel to Stockbridge to take on the Panthers in a doubleheader beginning at 11 a.m. Next Tuesday, Chelsea returns to Southeastern Conference Action by hosting Milan's Big Reds in a single game beginning at 4:30 p.m.

A WORK DAY was held Saturday, April 10 residents of the Home all joined in the day-long at the Chelsea United Methodist Home to clean up and improve the grounds surrounding the Home. Volunteers, professional landscapers and

Shrubbery Trimmed, Planted At Methodist Home Work Day

Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home sponsored an outdoor work day, Saturday, April 10. More than 20 volunteers, residents, and maintenance staff joined forces to make improvements on the grounds. Starting early Saturday morning, the workers pulled out overgrown shrubbery, transplanted trees, put in new plantings, and trimmed and beautified the grounds. The administrative staff entered into the spirit of the work day, helping outdoors and providing coffee and a sit-down lunch.

The work day grew from discussions at an Agency Committee meeting regarding the condition and appearance of the Home's grounds. The Rev. Clare Tosch, member of the Chelsea Agency Committee, felt the landscaping could be completed at a lower cost by the use of more volunteer labor. He contacted Kenneth Wanty, a landscape architect from the University of Michigan, and a member of Marble Memorial United Methodist church. Wanty was responsible for landscape planning, purchase of shrubbery, and placement of materials.

LeRoy Piehtkoski, Midwest Tree Transplanting and Supply Co. gave the retirement home plantings and the use of his equipment at far below cost. Impressed by the enthusiasm of the volunteer workers, he couldn't remember when he saw a group of volunteers who were such hard workers, never stopping until the work was completed. Originally, Piehtkoski had planned to work just in the morning, but seeing the enthusiasm and dedication of the volunteers rearranged his afternoon commitments and remained the rest of the day.

Working that day was the Rev. Marvin McCallum with several volunteers from Chelsea First United Methodist church. Also taking part under the leadership of the Rev. Clare Tosch, was a large group from Marble Memorial United Methodist church in Milan.

Plantings at the facility included Japanese yews, Colorado blue spruce, and Scotch pine. Plans for additional improvements and the next phase of landscaping has begun with another planting and work day scheduled for next year.

Bulldog Sluggers of the Week

DON MORRISON: Junior pitcher Don Morrison is early in his second season with Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs. So far Don has pitched two games out of four the Bulldogs have played. And he says his earned run average is 1.27. His batting average really hasn't had time to be tested. Talking about the team's Monday loss to Grass Lake, Morrison said the Bulldogs were not only without five of their senior starters, but that the Grass Lake team sported a fine pitcher. However, Morrison predicts "good chances (for the Bulldogs) to win" this Saturday when they meet Stockbridge. "We will still be missing all our seniors," Morrison said. "It will take a good effort to win." When asked if he had any comments about the team, he replied, "I'm having a lot of fun playing this year. It's enjoyable." Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Morrison of 13577 Riker Rd.

SCOTT OWINGS: Junior outfielder and sometimes catcher Scott Owings knows that when he steps up to bat before pitcher Kurt Owings, he is stepping up to more than just a fellow player, but a cousin. As far as batting, Scott says he is still working on it. Scott who is with the varsity team for his first season, says he enjoys his outfield responsibilities, in fact he prefers them to catching, perhaps because as he says "I haven't caught that much." This week has been a relatively rough one for the Bulldogs as many of their senior players are out of town on vacation. And Scott for one misses them. "The seniors make a lot of difference, in the way we play." However once they return Scott thinks his team "should do pretty well." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owings of 1222 Meadow Lane.

Western Washtenaw Bicentennial Activities Extend All Summer

Beginning on July 2 and continuing through July 10, all of the activities of the Western Washtenaw Bicentennial Commission will be scheduled for Dexter. The merchants will have sidewalk sales to drum up interest and the Fourth of July will be celebrated with a large parade on Main St. and a giant fireworks display.

During the week an old time Colonial Fair will be staged under canvas, featuring all types of Colonial Enterprises that were popular among the people of the Colonial period.

Entitled "Century Vista" this Colonial Fair will consist of many displays and activities popular in Colonial Days. These displays will be run by knowledgeable persons and spectators will be given an opportunity to participate in the actual craft being displayed.

A few of the early crafts being displayed will be candle dipping, assembling stained glass pieces, pulling taffy, making articles from ceramics and caning chairs. Also at the "Century Vista," which will take place under a large circus-type tent provided for the occasion, there will be old time entertainment including a player piano and barbershop singing. This will be the major highlight of the Dexter activity, but there will be events to keep all age groups busy the entire week of the celebration.

Manchester, also located in the Western Washtenaw county area, will begin their celebration with a "Colonial Happening" on April 24 and 25 at the Manchester Middle school, featuring all the old fashioned crafts and activities. From all indications the entire town is participating in the great event. Tickets are being sold by the women of the community who are vying for the honor of becoming the First Lady of Manchester. This honor will be bestowed on the lady selling the most tickets to all Manchester activities. Manchester will also have a week of activities scheduled July 24-31.

A real fun activity of the entire Western Washtenaw area will be a rocking chair marathon. Each community will have a group of rocking chair enthusiasts participating in their own community but all starting at the same time and competing with the other rockers from the other communities. There will be approximately 100 competitors in this marathon. The rules state that all those participating must keep rocking at all times except for the seven minutes allowed every two hours for the necessary relief.

Saline will be the third community in this area to celebrate the Bicentennial. Highlighting their activities, which begin July 29 and continue through Aug. 7, will be a gigantic Independence pyrotechnic display, telling the story of the American Independence through the medium of pyrotechnics. This is being staged by the Ohio Fireworks and Display Company of Bellaire, O. This company has developed a technique of firing set pieces that will tell the story of the beginning of our country in fiery detail, to the atomic bomb and the launching of the astronauts.

Narrators will keep the audience informed and many citizens of the Saline community will present living tableaux depicting the heroes that figured in the development of our country. This will be one of a few such presentations, in this manner, throughout the State of Michigan and the mid-west.

Chelsea will round out the Bicentennial activity in Western Washtenaw county, Aug. 14-21, with a gigantic historical pageant-spectacular, relating the story of the growth and development of our country, on a stage as big as a football field, with a cast of more than 300 local singers, dancers and actors.

This summer Western Washtenaw county will really be celebrating the nation's Bicentennial. They are hoping the rest of the Michigan and Ohio area will come and join in the festivities. This is surely to be one of the largest undertakings of its kind in the State of Michigan and in fact, in the entire United States.

For a complete list of activities, call or write Western Washtenaw County Bicentennial Headquarters, 8123 Main St., Dexter 48130, phone (313) 426-3959.

EGG HUNT: What's Easter without one? Children of Modern Mothers Child Study Club members enjoyed an egg hunt last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Peter (Carol) Flintoft. Those

Community Services Agency Receives Funds from State

Washtenaw County Community Services Agency (WCCSA) reports that it has just received notice from the State of Michigan, Department of Labor-Bureau of Community Services (MDOL-BCS), that it has been awarded a state grant which will bring $19,380 additional dollars to the agency for inclusion in the 1976 Emergency Services program.

The agreement entered into by WCCSA and MDOL-BCS will have the effect of increasing the Emergency Services program from $25,000 to nearly $50,000.

The application for the State P. A. No. 239 grant observed that:

"The problems of unemployment and recession have affected Washtenaw county, forcing the poor deeper into poverty and creating a cadre of the situationally poor. The nationally recognized high cost of living in Washtenaw County... is an even heavier burden for the poor."

The grant application concluded as follows: "Those who are forced to face genuine financial emergencies which seriously jeopardize the health and welfare of themselves and their families, should have access to immediate financial assistance."

Commenting upon the new monies received for the State, Lynn Stephens, executive director of WCCSA, said: "We are very grateful to MDOL-BCS for these new funds. We will now be in a position to operate the Emergency Services program throughout 1976 without having to curtail operations, as we did last year. We are also thankful that the County Commissioners did not cut our FY 76 Emergency Services Appropriation, for, if they had done so, we would not have been able to secure those new monies from the state."

The monies Director Stephens referred to were the $25,000 appropriated by the commissioners for the current fiscal year, a substantial portion of which was used as local match in securing the state grant.

The Emergency Services program has been operated by CSA since 1972 and has provided funds for Washtenaw county residents who face a sudden crisis in meeting basic needs in such areas as housing, utility payments, clothing, food and energy, and medical costs. The new grant is expected to allow the agency to meet the Emergency Services needs of an additional 190 clients between now and June 30. Persons who have exhausted alternative avenues of help, and who are still in a financial crisis, should contact the CSA Neighborhood Action Center in this area for assistance: Dexter-Chelsea Neighborhood Action Center, Riverside Cabin, 8140 Main St., Dexter, phone 426-8195.

Another Bike Reported Stolen

A fourth bike was reported stolen to Chelsea police last week, following the recent warning by Police Chief George Merriam to residents concerning the protection of two-wheeled vehicles.

In an unusual set of circumstances Mary Boylan told Chelsea police last Sunday that her three speed Schwinn with a fresh coat of black paint has been removed from behind her home at 245 Park St. Miss Boylan said that she had "painted all Saturday refurbishing and painting her bike to give it a just like new" look. The wet bike was left out overnight on the family property to dry. The next morning, it was discovered missing.

The case will remain open pending further investigation and recovery of the bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Anderson

Molly Drake, Standard Reporter, Is Now Mrs. John Anderson

Molly Gertrude Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stephens Drake of Grosse Pointe Farms, and John Albert Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernor Anderson of Grosse Pointe Farms, were married Saturday morning, March 20 in Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe Farms. The 11 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert McGregor, rector of Christ Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by both her parents, chose an empire-fashioned gown of ivory guilana Jersey. Pearls trimmed the high neckline. She wore a matching headpiece trimmed with pearls and Belgium lace taken from the wedding gown of a close friend. Her cascade bouquet of ivory roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy completed her costume.

Constance M. Drake and Beverly A. Anderson, sisters of the bride and bridegroom were the bride's only attendants. They wore floor-length gowns of sea green guilana Jersey fashioned with high soft-falling turtle-necks. Each carried a spring bouquet of apricot sweet heart roses, narcissus, baby's breath and English ivy.

The bridegroom's father served as his best man. Ushers were Dennis A. Velje of Grosse Pointe Farms and Berry L. Rubin of Ann Arbor.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for the wedding party, relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Attending the wedding from out of the city in addition to the bridegroom's parents and sister, were the bridegroom's grandfather, Albert V. Anderson and his aunt, Mrs. Ruth A. Macleay of Dubuque, Ia., the bride's college roommate, Mrs. Richard Ryan of Pottsville, Pa., Miss Josephine Dodd of Charleston, W. Va., Miss Elaine Majestic of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Watson of Marion, Ind., uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Loretta McCormick of Albany, Ind., an aunt.

The former Miss Drake is a graduate of Bradford College, Bradford, Mass., and the University of Michigan. She is employed as a reporter with The Chelsea Standard.

Mr. Anderson attended Eastern Michigan University and is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is employed with the Jervis B. Webb Co., as director of communications.

The couple honeymooned in Toronto, returning to Ann Arbor where they make their home.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Planning your garden early is a good way to get rid of the winter blues and get a jump on spring. Home vegetable gardening has peaked in popularity in the last two years with thrifty consumers trying to cut food bills and provide garden-fresh produce for their families.

To avoid the spring rush, Michigan Department of Agriculture officials suggest you order your seed catalogs immediately and your seed shortly thereafter. MDA's Plant Industry division enforces the Michigan Seed Law and the Federal Seed Act which requires specific, truthful information to be on all agricultural and vegetable seed sold in Michigan and interstate. Information includes the variety of seed, purity, percent of germination and date of germination testing. The name and address of the seller must also appear on the label.

Spot checks are made by Plant Industry Division inspectors on all seed marketed in Michigan. Packages of seed are picked up periodically at retail outlets by inspectors and sent to MDA's Laboratory division for testing to confirm the accuracy of the label.

Seed experts say a key item to look for on the label is the date of germination testing. To meet federal-state requirements, germination tests must be made within 11 months.

To stretch seed supplies you should order only those you really need, selecting vegetables you and your family enjoy. If you have only a small area, concentrate on crops that are especially productive like snap beans, tomatoes and peppers.

HUNGER PROGRAM STUDIED: Acting as a "Peace Corps Volunteer," Warren McArthur assists June Warren (left) and daughter Marcia (center) attain food to ward off starvation in last Thursday's program at the United Methodist church. The banquet, entitled "Hunger on Space Ship Earth" was designed to help the participants understand problems involved in world-wide food distribution.

Methodist Church Groups Join in Study of World Hunger Situation

Last Thursday, April 15, 50 members of Chelsea's United Methodist church participated in a special banquet designed to give the participants a better understanding of the complexities of the world hunger situation. An attempt to make this a realistic experience took the form of a game in which the participants were divided into three groups (or worlds) representing the three main divisions of wealth in the world.

Members of the first world (three people), representing the industrial and developed nations of our planet, were given the means to purchase 40 percent of the food being served. Another 17 persons, representing the second world of the developing nations, was also given the means to purchase 40 percent of the food. The remaining 20 percent of the food was left for the largest group, 30 people, representing the underdeveloped nations who are living on the brink of starvation.

The dilemma of how to deal with the inequities of this food distribution took many forms with a concerted effort by those with greater wealth to share that wealth. However, the emotions of greed, hostility, frustration, humiliation and pity were still experienced by nations with less wealth than ours.

The goal of the program was not to come up with answers to the world hunger situation, but merely to provide a better understanding of the complexity of the problem.

The program was sponsored by the Committee on Social Concerns which is led by Judy McArthur. Chairpersons for this event were the Rev. Marvin McCallum and Ann Zuehlke for program with Joanne Weber and Ruby West organizing the meal.

Area Extension Service Offering Homemaker's 'College Day'

A day of classes and activities designed particularly for homemakers in Washtenaw, Monroe and Lenawee counties has been scheduled by the Co-operative Extension Service.

This year's College Day will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 29 in the Extension Science Building at the Washtenaw Community College.

Planned by the Washtenaw County Extension Homemaker's Council, the event is open to all interested persons, including husbands for children 1 1/2 through kindergarten age.

A program, map and registration blank may be secured by contacting the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service at 973-9510. Those wishing child care should indicate this need when they call.

Activities will include two assemblies and a choice of two of the 13 classes to be offered. Focus of this year's College Day is current issues pertaining to women. However, a variety of other topics are included to meet a wide range of interests and needs.

The morning assembly "Legislation Affecting Women in Michigan" will be presented by Jean King, an Ann Arbor attorney.

During the afternoon assembly Rhonda Revere, assistant dean of the University of Michigan Law School will discuss "The ERA... What are Its Ramifications?"

During the class "Women's Legal Rights and Family Law" Judith Judge, an Ann Arbor attorney will discuss the current status of women's major legal consumer protection, and education. She will also discuss family law relevant to women—including property settlement, divorce, and child custody.

What's Cooking In Michigan

Planning your garden early is a good way to get rid of the winter blues and get a jump on spring. Home vegetable gardening has peaked in popularity in the last two years with thrifty consumers trying to cut food bills and provide garden-fresh produce for their families.

To avoid the spring rush, Michigan Department of Agriculture officials suggest you order your seed catalogs immediately and your seed shortly thereafter. MDA's Plant Industry division enforces the Michigan Seed Law and the Federal Seed Act which requires specific, truthful information to be on all agricultural and vegetable seed sold in Michigan and interstate. Information includes the variety of seed, purity, percent of germination and date of germination testing. The name and address of the seller must also appear on the label.

Spot checks are made by Plant Industry Division inspectors on all seed marketed in Michigan. Packages of seed are picked up periodically at retail outlets by inspectors and sent to MDA's Laboratory division for testing to confirm the accuracy of the label.

Seed experts say a key item to look for on the label is the date of germination testing. To meet federal-state requirements, germination tests must be made within 11 months.

To stretch seed supplies you should order only those you really need, selecting vegetables you and your family enjoy. If you have only a small area, concentrate on crops that are especially productive like snap beans, tomatoes and peppers.

Methodist Church Groups Join in Study of World Hunger Situation

Last Thursday, April 15, 50 members of Chelsea's United Methodist church participated in a special banquet designed to give the participants a better understanding of the complexities of the world hunger situation. An attempt to make this a realistic experience took the form of a game in which the participants were divided into three groups (or worlds) representing the three main divisions of wealth in the world.

Members of the first world (three people), representing the industrial and developed nations of our planet, were given the means to purchase 40 percent of the food being served. Another 17 persons, representing the second world of the developing nations, was also given the means to purchase 40 percent of the food. The remaining 20 percent of the food was left for the largest group, 30 people, representing the underdeveloped nations who are living on the brink of starvation.

The dilemma of how to deal with the inequities of this food distribution took many forms with a concerted effort by those with greater wealth to share that wealth. However, the emotions of greed, hostility, frustration, humiliation and pity were still experienced by nations with less wealth than ours.

The goal of the program was not to come up with answers to the world hunger situation, but merely to provide a better understanding of the complexity of the problem.

The program was sponsored by the Committee on Social Concerns which is led by Judy McArthur. Chairpersons for this event were the Rev. Marvin McCallum and Ann Zuehlke for program with Joanne Weber and Ruby West organizing the meal.

Homemaker's 'College Day'

A day of classes and activities designed particularly for homemakers in Washtenaw, Monroe and Lenawee counties has been scheduled by the Co-operative Extension Service.

This year's College Day will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 29 in the Extension Science Building at the Washtenaw Community College.

Planned by the Washtenaw County Extension Homemaker's Council, the event is open to all interested persons, including husbands for children 1 1/2 through kindergarten age.

A program, map and registration blank may be secured by contacting the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service at 973-9510. Those wishing child care should indicate this need when they call.

Activities will include two assemblies and a choice of two of the 13 classes to be offered. Focus of this year's College Day is current issues pertaining to women. However, a variety of other topics are included to meet a wide range of interests and needs.

The morning assembly "Legislation Affecting Women in Michigan" will be presented by Jean King, an Ann Arbor attorney.

During the afternoon assembly Rhonda Revere, assistant dean of the University of Michigan Law School will discuss "The ERA... What are Its Ramifications?"

Planning your garden early is a good way to get rid of the winter blues and get a jump on spring. Home vegetable gardening has peaked in popularity in the last two years with thrifty consumers trying to cut food bills and provide garden-fresh produce for their families.

To avoid the spring rush, Michigan Department of Agriculture officials suggest you order your seed catalogs immediately and your seed shortly thereafter. MDA's Plant Industry division enforces the Michigan Seed Law and the Federal Seed Act which requires specific, truthful information to be on all agricultural

Backyard Beekeepers Urged To Attend Organization Meeting
An organizational meeting for "backyard" beekeepers will be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 28 in the Liberty Room of the main branch of Ann Arbor Federal Savings and Loan (Division & Liberty, Ann Arbor). Purpose of the meeting will be to explore the needs of the person keeping a small number of colonies and whether an organization can be helpful in meeting those needs.
Some of the services an association might be able to offer are access to books and other information sources, access to a place to manufacture or assemble woodwork, co-operative use of extracting equipment, and the sharing of experiences and innovations.
All those in Washtenaw county who are interested, whether keeping bees now or not, are encouraged to come to the meeting. If unable to attend, please write or call Carol Conkey at 1692 Miller, Ann Arbor 48103 (663-3919) with your ideas.

Frosh Baseball Team Opens Season With Win

Chelsea High school's freshman baseball team opened its season on a winning note last Thursday by defeating Novi, 9-6.
The Chelsea team started slow as Novi scored four runs in the first half of the first inning but came back to get three of their own as Steve Hegadorn smacked a three-run homer to center.
In the third inning Roger Moore singled, stole second, stole third and scored on an overthrow. Then, with a man on second, Mike Eisele singled home another run. The score was tied, 5-5, in the fifth when Chelsea sent eight men to the plate and scored two more runs with key hits from Eisele and Matt Feeney. The finishing touch was added when Alan Augustine tripled home a run and then Mike Machecky singled him home to make the final 9-6. In all, Chelsea had 10 hits and eight stolen bases.
Alan Augustine and Jesse Colburn combined to pitch a strong game after getting through the first inning. Colburn struck out four in the last two innings of the game. Matt Feeney also turned in an excellent defensive performance at second base.
The freshmen's next game is today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. against Saline at the high school field.

Inserting ordinary absorbent cotton into the ear canals does little to protect the user from possible serious effects of exposure to sound levels, according to hearing specialists. They point out that ear plugs made of soft rubber or similar materials usually offer far greater protection when properly fitted.

Bulldog Sluggers' Bats Quieted By Grass Lake

With many of its key players vacationing, Chelsea's varsity baseball team suffered the first loss of the season Monday afternoon at the hands of Grass Lake, 8-2.

Grass Lake struck quickly in the first inning on a two-run home run by pitcher Jim Herendeen. They had two more in the third and fifth innings off sophomore left hander Kurt Owings to insure a victory. "However," says Bulldog coach Paul Terpstra, "only three of the six runs were earned runs as the Bulldogs were guilty of three costly errors."

Grass Lake then added two more runs in the sixth inning against reliever Don Morrison. Again, Terpstra said only one of the two runs was earned as the Bulldogs committed their fourth error of the game.

Despite the Bulldogs' efforts, senior fastballer Jim Herendeen mowed down the Bulldogs through the first six innings. In fact, the only hit was an infield single by shortstop Anthony Houle. However, in the seventh inning, Chelsea was finally able to break through. Houle was hit by a pitch, and Don Nadeau netted a long ground rule double to left field. Then with one out, Don Morrison lashed a hard single to center, scoring Houle and Nadeau had the only two runs of the day for the Bulldogs.

Final statistics showed Grass Lake with eight runs, nine hits and two errors, while Chelsea had two runs, three hits and four misuses. Herendeen fanned 15 Bulldogs in a very strong pitching performance.

Saturday the Bulldogs will travel to Stockbridge to take on the Panthers in a doubleheader beginning at 11 a.m.

Merit patches will be given two weeks after the walk to those who have collected and returned sponsor pledges. A drawing for additional prizes will be held May 15.

Honorary Walk-A-Thon chairman for the '76 walk is Johnny Orr, head basketball coach at the University of Michigan.

Committee Named To Oversee Plan For Railroads

Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District) has been named to a special joint legislative committee to oversee implementation of a railroad plan in Michigan.

The State Department of Highways and Transportation has been designated by a recently-enacted law with the authority to undertake the reorganization of the Michigan railroad system.

The law gives the Michigan Highway Commission broad powers to provide financial aid for continued operation and maintenance of railroads under the Federal Rail Reorganization Act. It also gives it the power to purchase rail property needed for continuation of rail service.

"Members of this special House-Senate committee are charged with seeing that the Highway Department carries out the law according to the intent of the legislature," Conlin said.

"Too often, lawmakers, on both the state and federal level, simply pass laws, but don't bother to follow them up and see that they are administered the way the legislators intended them to be. Setting up a committee such as this is a way of keeping a handle on the bureaucrats."

Conlin was named to the committee because, in his short time in the legislature, he has become recognized as a leader in the area of transportation. He brings with him broad background in the transportation field.

He served as assistant to the secretary of transportation in Washington, D.C., and as executive assistant to the chairman of the Board of Incorporators of AM-TRAK in Washington.

Canoe Races Scheduled May 1-2 on Huron River

The fourth annual RSCK (Raw Strength and Courage Kayakers) Mother's Day Canoe and Kayak Race will be held this year on the week-end of May 1-2. Slalom races will be held on Saturday May 1 at Delhi Metro Park on the Huron River between Ann Arbor and Dexter. Starting time is 11 a.m. (Registration between 8 and 10 a.m.)

Downriver races will be held Sunday, May 2. There will be essentially two different races: The first starts at Mast Rd., near Dexter and is 4.7 miles long, ending below Delhi Rapids. Many different classes of boats, from open canoes to wildwater (closed) kayaks will compete. This race starts at 11 a.m. (Boats will be started at intervals.)

The second race is for the "Unlimited Canoe class" and is open to both amateur and professional racers in any type of two-person canoe. For this race there will be an exciting mass start from Hudson Mills Park at 1 p.m. (registration at Delhi Metro Park from 8:30 to 10:30). The finish will be below Delhi Rapids, a total of 8.5 miles.

Kayaking and river slaloms are a rapidly growing sport. The races, held twice yearly on the Huron River at Delhi Rapids, are the only river slaloms held in Michigan. They are both sponsored by the Ann Arbor based Raw Strength and Courage Kayakers Club. The fact that Delhi Rapids on the Huron is practically the only rapids in southern Michigan contributes greatly to the uniqueness of the slalom races to Michigan. The Delhi site is also quite suitable to spectator viewing as the banks are fairly open.

It takes much skill and practice in order to do well at kayak slalom. The slalom is therefore broken up into novice and expert classes in order to give the beginning kayaker a fair chance. For those who wish to practice the course, the slalom at Delhi Rapids will be set up at 10 a.m. Friday, May 30.

A slalom race is quite a colorful event. As many as 30 gates are hung over a rapids. Each gate consists of two poles: one green and white, the other red and white striped. The canoeist or kayaker must pass between these poles with the red to the left without touching either pole. Naturally the gates are placed in a difficult, but not impossible, sequence.

For more information or registration forms call or write: Bill Black, 1402 Henry St., Ann Arbor 48104, phone 994-4064.

Girls Varsity Softballers Still Looking for Win

The Chelsea girls varsity softball team suffered two defeats last week to dash their hopes for a strong beginning this season.

On Tuesday, April 13, the girls played a home game against Lincoln and lost, 27-6. Many factors contributed to the defeat, including inexperience and 14 errors. The game was close in the third inning when Chelsea trailed, 8-6. Critical mistakes then took their toll.

Sue Heydlauff struck out two batters in four innings of play and Brenda Salyer and Kim Moore finished out the pitching duties. Freshman, Cindy Broderick hit a three-run homer in the third inning to close the gap for a while.

Bicentennial 500 Slated For Brigade Chapters

The first of many mandatory events for the various chapters of the "Brothers of the Brigade" is now in the planning stages.

To be known as the "Bicentennial 500" this event will actually involve three separate contests, the first being a drag race of 50 yards on straight track; the second will be the "500" race which will entail one lap around the high school athletic track.

Requirements for entry in the two events have not as yet been completed; however, it has been determined that each entrant race a tricycle. Entrants may make seat and handle bar adjustments and may custom paint their vehicles, but they cannot alter the front drive wheel.

The grand finale of the "Bicentennial 500" will be a cream pie eating contest. Entrants must supply two nine-inch cream filled pies topped with whipped cream. Pies will be eaten without the aid of utensils or hands.

All three events will be held at the high school athletic field. The date will be set once the May 1 deadline for organizing "Brothers of the Brigade" chapters has passed.

The "Bicentennial 500" is for all chapters. Each chapter must enter

The American Revolution began with the battle of Lexington on April 19, 1775 and ended exactly eight years later on April 19, 1783. At Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, visitors can relive this critical period in our country's history. There's a folding bed and a camp chest that were used in the field by General Washington as he led the patriots to victory. There's a silver coffee pot made by Paul Revere, one of the revolutionary activists, and an outstanding collection of coins and paper money.

Chelsea Cycle Team 6th in Detroit Race

Chelsea residents Charles Belser and Mark Fuhrmann placed sixth in the lightweight team riding in the Musketeer Motorcycle Club Hair Scramble race held Easter Sunday outside of Detroit. The pair finished the four-hour endurance race on a five-mile oval course of diverse terrain on a Carabela 175 Marquise bike.

Belser, who owns and operates Competition Accessories in Chelsea, said he is especially proud of their sixth place because "very few entrants in a Hair Scramble race ever finish." Of the 250 persons who entered competition together Sunday afternoon, only 80 completed the race.

For Belser and his teammate, it was pretty close. He finished the last two miles of the race going 10 miles an hour on a bike with a flat rear tire. Belser told that he blew the tire on the final lap of the race. Otherwise, he predicted he would have done far better than sixth place.

In team racing which Belser says he "likes best" because he "wants to enjoy the ride without torturing himself," partners take turns riding, which apparently is legitimate.

Belser and his partner dress in leather jackets, gloves, helmets and a sturdy pair of jeans for their thrills on motorbikes. Despite the danger involved for them apparently, the thrills outweigh the danger involved in touring over hills, wooden bridges, gravel paths and streams at high speeds. Stamp collecting can't be everybody's hobby... for Belser, his is racing.

Special Ed Class Ready For County Olympics

On April 30, the Washtenaw County Special Olympics will be held at Eastern Michigan University. The Special Olympics provides mentally handicapped children the opportunity to compete, a chance to "do the very best you can" and then maybe even better. It helps children, many of whom are in wheelchairs, learn to coordinate mind and body. It gives them a chance to experience success and to get involved in athletics. Any retarded person over the age of 8 is eligible to compete with others of his age and ability in a sport of his choosing.

Some of the events the 3,000 students at the state meet competed in last year were softball throw, 440-yard relay, swimming races, diving, tumbling, balance beam, floor exercise, volleyball, basketball, floor hockey, horseback riding, figure skating, speed skating, and all track and field events. This year frisbee accuracy, distance and a relay have been added. Medals are awarded to those who place first, second, and third. There are also wheelchair slalom races and bowling.

During Special Olympics activities strong bonds of friendship develop between coaches, volunteers and athletes, often contributing to the progress made by a mentally handicapped student. One special athlete who had been diagnosed as incapable of speech, shouted for joy as she ran the 50-yard dash. Parents who have been involved in the Olympics note the enriching and rewarding experience it is. Nancy Porath, Chelsea High school teacher and coach, noted it is hard to keep a dry eye when watching the determination of some of the athletes.

Chelsea High school special olympians have been training hard for months. The Special Olympics is a year-round training program that encourages physical fitness and good health. They swim once a week at High Point, a special school next to the Intermediate School District site in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Porath emphasizes water safety and learning to swim. Olympic racing comes naturally along with this. Five of the Chelsea students are even trying one meter diving in the Olympics this year. The brave students are John Winans, Kathy Buck, Mary Landwehr, Glenn Possow, and Patty Brady. In swimming events Chelsea is entering Steve Lawrence.

The gymnasts from Chelsea put in many after-school hours practicing and going to Ann Arbor to watch the Pioneer teams and University of Michigan gymnasts. Many new things were learned and incorporated into the gymnastic routines of Kathy Buck, Barbara Jedele, Patty Brady, Kathy Young, and Mary Landwehr. The coach never had to push these girls for they were always willing to give that extra effort necessary to be a winner.

Working hard in track from Chelsea are Ron Miller and Leonard Carlson who are both in the Pentathlon. Chris Williams is training for the 50-yard dash, softball throw, and frisbee accuracy.

Chelsea athletes who do well in the county meet will then go on to the regional meet at U. of M. on May 13 and 15. Following the county meet Nancy Porath and her team wait to see if any of them made the state meet which is held at Mt. Pleasant on June 3-5. "Last year we were fortunate enough to have three," she remarked.

All in all, it is the skill, the commitment, and the perseverance of the athletes that keeps the Special Olympic program going. "Here in Chelsea we are certainly working for another good season," Mrs. Porath concluded.

Possible Historic Sites Ordinance Is Discussed

Chelsea Area Historical Society welcomed Village Council President, Don Wood, as their guest speaker April 12. Wood's subject was the establishment of historic sites within a local unit of government.

His information comes from the 1972 test case Hall vs. The Village of Franklin, which was decided in favor of establishment of such districts. The Historic Preservation Ordinance is lawful under State A.P.L. 169, and all state historically preserved areas use this ordinance for guidance.

There are many safeguards built into these guidelines, preserving the rights of the individual, while still preserving a local mark which has aesthetic, historic, cultural, economic or architectural value. For example, an historically designated site could be used for any purpose as long as the exterior was not altered. In comparison, a village zoning ordinance dictates the uses of the site, not its appearance.

An Historic Preservation Ordinance is very specific in its rules for establishing an Historic Commission. The Commission must have seven members, among them must be members of the local governing body, an architect, as well as citizens at large, and members of an organization such as the Historic Society. It has no power to act on its own, but makes written recommendations to the Village Council (or other governing body) regarding specific buildings or landmarks.

Wood, as an interested resident as well as Council President, is anxious to see a local Historic Preservation Ordinance discussed in the council, and adopted in order to avoid the loss of Chelsea's historically significant structures because there is no local law protecting such buildings. His discussion before the Historical Society was comprehensive and he generated unanimous support from the members and guests present.

Stockbridge Man Stopped Here, Found Wanted in Ingham Co.

A Stockbridge man was arrested here last Thursday when Chelsea officer John Detting stopped the car in which he was a passenger for excessive noise and discovered he was wanted on an outstanding traffic warrant from the Ingham County Sheriff's Department.

Howard Earl Ashmore, Jr., showed Officer Detting his driver's license when Detting stopped the 1971 Chevrolet at M-52 and Werner Rd. after it had turned off Buchanan St. onto northbound Main, squealing its tires. Detting made a routine check on all the licenses; Ashmore's license showed he was wanted on an outstanding traffic warrant.

He was taken to the Chelsea police station where he posted a $25 bond. Ashmore will appear in 55th District Court today (Thursday) on the charges.

Persons who must continually turn their heads to one side when trying to hear a speaker may be hearing loss victims.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Between the Farm and Your Table . . .

With all the flap, both pro and con, on grain sales to Russia, haven't you often wondered what really happens to food prices between the place it is grown and the place it is eaten?

Let's take a look at the "Big Three" of the more than 500 or so U. S. agricultural products sold overseas—corn, wheat, soybeans. They account for almost 70 percent of the total value of all foreign exports. The most common criticism of the exports is the price of these farm products is being driven up and thereby increases the cost of food for consumers here at home.

So, just what is the true relationship between the two?

Following the recent announcement of sales of wheat and corn to Russia, future prices of the "Big Three" rose about a dollar a bushel. When all three of these crops rise $1 each a bushel, it means that consumer food expenditures are expected to increase by 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 percent.

However, since food accounts for less than 20 percent of consumers' buying costs, the increase amounts to less than one percent in overall living expenditures. This $1 a bushel increase in income to the farmer, which represents less than a one percent hike in consumer living costs, can spell the difference between a year of profit or loss on the farm.

Also, increases in crop prices have to be in effect for some time, usually three months or more, before they have any effect on the retail price of food. In some instances, as much as a lag of a year might elapse before changes in grain prices show up at the retail level.

Let's take the price of bread for example: In mid-1972, the farmer received 2.6 cents out of the price of a one-pound loaf of bread for the wheat that went into it. In mid-1975, the farmer received 3.6 cents of the bread's price for his wheat.

Hence—in three years, the farmer was getting only a penny more for the wheat. But—in the same time, the overall price of a loaf of bread, to the consumer, went up 10.9 cents.

Thus, those between the farmer and the consumer received 10 times more of an increase than the grower of the wheat.

Persons with unallayed hearing losses frequently suffer serious psychological side effects and require special understanding from family members, friends and working associates, according to hearing specialists.

Follow THIS Boy to paint headquarters!

You will remember the quality of Dutch Boy paints long after the price is forgotten.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

FROM THE PRINCIPAL:

South school held an Open House on Thursday, April 8. This was the first opportunity for the parents to visit our new facilities. New rooms are: art, music, speech, learning disabilities, cafeteria, and three regular classrooms.

About 1,400 parents, teachers, and students attended the Open House. We are grateful to the people for showing such a great interest in their children's educational progress.

On April 7 the District Spelling Bee was held at Ypsilanti. Jeff Koepele represented South school in the contest. He did an excellent job, coming in 7th out of about 20 spellers throughout the county.

KINDERGARTEN:

Teacher: Mrs. Van Blaricum

Spring is really pretty this year. Even though we have umbrellas up on our calendar, we haven't had to use them much. The weather helped make our Spring Party a success. The Easter bunny hid eggs for us and we each found one. They fit right in our baskets which we had made for the eggs which we dyed. Our party was lots of fun, and we thank Mrs. Muncer and all the mothers who helped. Oh, thanks also to the Easter Rabbit!

We are almost finished with our "About Me" books. We have learned much about ourselves and most of us are ready to go on to first grade work. But, until next September we have much work to do.

After our Spring Vacation we are going to be talking about animals, pets—wild, farm and others. We will try to finish the alphabet books, and review our numbers and ABC's some more. Our work continues until June!

We forgot to list the March Birthdays: March: Jean Buss, Diane Bruck, Jeff Hackworth, and Jill Penhallegon. April Birthdays: Sallie Donkin, Bruce Dresselhouse, and Kevan Flanagan.

Teacher: Mrs. Bower

We were so happy to see so many mothers and dads come to visit our Open House. We all made big paper dolls of ourselves to decorate the room. Some were sitting in chairs and others hanging from a clothes line.

Some of the birthdays we have had lately were for Steve Worley, Jenny Borton, and Melissa Morley. Brant Snyder brought his turtle to visit school. It was about as big as a 25 cent piece. We hope he lives to be as big as a 50 cent piece.

We have almost finished with our books, and we will take them home soon.

Dexter Township Board OKs Subdivision Plans

Those present at the April 8 meeting of the Dexter Township Board included, in addition to the township board, approximately 60 members of the North Lake Protective Association and 15 other residents.

The board considered a request for tentative approval of the preliminary plat of Stone Hedge Subdivision proposed by Jim Fahey. The proposed subdivision consists of 15 lots on the north side of North Lake.

A presentation was made which indicated the proposed plans for the subdivision and the fact that the plat conforms to the Dexter Township Zoning Ordinance.

The North Lake Protective Association then expressed their concerns for the quality of North Lake and the impact of the proposed subdivision on the lake.

Fahey stated that he would restrict lake access to the 15 proposed lots.

The North Lake Protective Association also had concerns about proposed filling on the lake shore and who is actually responsible for the protection of the lakes.

Fahey stated he would withdraw his request to build a seawall and the township board indicated it would consider a subdivision control ordinance to deal with environmental problems.

After a lengthy discussion, the township board decided to give tentative approval to the preliminary plat. The approval was based on the fact that the proposed subdivision met the requirements of the zoning ordinance, and that other agencies such as the DNR and the Health Department must be consulted prior to final approval. The plat must come before the board twice more before it is finalized.

In other action the board approved the proposed budget of $128,000.

Approved the Farm Land Agreement of James and Marilyn Poulter and decided to continue support of the three area libraries—Chelsea, Dexter and Pinckney.

School Social Workers Handle Many Problems

School Social Work programs respond to many student needs. In a history class, the teacher becomes concerned that one of the students is withdrawn and non-productive; day after day, in a 6th grade, another student becomes abusive when asked to read aloud; down the hall a 1st grade student comes in two hours after school has started, clothes rumpled, hair unbrushed, just as it has been for the past two weeks; and in physics a bright female student just stops coming to class; a 10th grader is on probation for running away two weeks ago.

Similar situations happen each day in our area schools, situations which hinder, if not destroy, the learning process and render the educational experience useless. When such situations do occur it is possible that through a system of referral and a staff review the students, teachers, and the parents involved will come in contact with the School Social Worker.

For the past 33 years, the Michigan Department of Education has recognized the need for a mental health service in the schools. In 1943 the Youth Guidance Committee was approved by former Governor Kelly. As a result, the visiting teacher program was established and was in operation until 1967. At that time the program name was changed to School Social Work Services.

In attempting to handle a problem situation, the school social worker may choose to operate on one of four possible levels. At the primary level, the worker may see the student individually and or in a group with other students who experience similar problems. Group and individual contacts most often are for one hour per week, however, shorter sessions several times a week will often be helpful.

A secondary level most often consists of those people who are important to the student and who, therefore, have an effect on his or her behavior. Conferences with the parents, the referring teacher and other teachers, are scheduled not only to gather information about the problem, but also to implement changes which would benefit the student. Often the student's behavior will improve when minor changes are introduced to and carried out by the teachers and the parents. In addition, the strain of the student's behavior may be difficult for the parent or teacher to cope with for any length of time. Contact with the social worker can also provide a release for their tensions which may in turn reduce some of the student's problems.

The third level consists of the school system within which the student must operate. The social worker confers with the principal, guidance counselors, school nurse, psychologist, and special education teachers to see if curriculum changes are indicated which can make the school's program requirements and the school system itself, more responsive to the needs of the students.

A fourth level incorporates the community in which the student lives and the resources which may or may not be found there. It is important for the school social worker to be aware of the resources currently available which may help the student. If a need exists for a community resource the school social worker may become involved with the community residents to establish such a resource. When the student and the family would be better served, referrals are made to mental health agencies, outside the school.

In addition to the mental health function, the social worker helps administer mandatory special education programs legislated in 1971. As part of the Educational Planning and Placement Committee the social worker helps to develop and implement effective education programs for those students who are learning disabled, mentally impaired, and emotionally impaired. Referrals to the school social worker are made by teachers, principals, parents, counselors, ministers, physicians, nurses, and other

Petitions Seek Ban on Non-Returnable Bottles

The first citizen to sign a petition calling for a vote on banning non-returnable bottles and cans in Michigan is Gov. William G. Milliken.

In a brief ceremony in his office, the Governor affixed his signature to a petition circulated by Thomas L. Washington, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, which is conducting the petition drive.

"I believe you will have the support of hundreds of thousands of people of this state," Gov. Milliken told Washington.

He said a ban on throw-away containers would be in the best interests of Michigan from the standpoint of natural beauty, energy conservation and—in the long run—employment.

MUCC, the state's largest conservation organization, has set a goal of 300,000 petition signatures by June 1 in hopes of having the "bottle bill" question placed on the ballot for the Nov. 2 election. If voters approve the proposal, a deposit would be required on soft drink and beer containers and "pull tabs" on cans would be prohibited.

Washington said passage of the measure would reduce litter, save energy now being consumed in the manufacture of disposable containers and spare taxpayers millions of dollars in roadside clean-up costs.

He urged citizens interested in the "bottle bill crusade" to request petitions from MUCC, Box 2235, Lansing 48911, telephone (517) 371-1041.

Veterans Council Asks Saving Floats for Parade

The Washtenaw County Council of Veterans will hold their Annual Veterans Day Parade at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 11, and invites all organizations, civic, active military and veterans to join the parade in honoring our veterans.

Parade chairman, Gerald G. Miller said, "An all-out effort is being made this year to not only demonstrate our gratitude to all veterans who so often assured the peace and freedom we enjoy, but also celebrate the bicentennial birthday of our country."

"Peace and Freedom in the Spirit of '76" is the theme of this year's parade. School bands, beauty queens, baton twirlers, cheerleaders, flag bearers, costumes, floats and armed forces mobile displays will all be combined with the veteran units to make a great affair.

Those organizations participating in Bicentennial activities, Memorial Day and July 4th parades are requested to consider holding over their floats, costumes, etc., for the Nov. 11 parade.

Questions for information and co-ordination should be directed to Miller at 971-8600 or 663-5141.

Jimmy Dorsey Dance, Show Set in Jackson

It was announced today by the NATAM Productions, of Bowling Green, O., producers of the Jimmy Dorsey Big Band Dance and Show coming to Jackson on Sunday, May 2, that plans have been completed and finalizing program requirements for the Jimmy Dorsey Show of '76.

Arrangements have been completed with tickets and reservations being made available to the public at all fire stations in Jackson. Michigan Center Jaycees will be handling the concessions. During the pageant and talent search portion of the Dorsey Show being held in the afternoon, persons who plan to attend this portion of the program are asked to bring a toy to donate to the U. S. Marines "Toys for Tots" campaign. The pageant and talent search portion of the program is free to the public, courtesy the Jackson "Action Sponsors" affiliated with the show.

Tickets are now on sale at numerous places and the public is encouraged to register in hopes of winning one of the more than 70 free guest tickets that will be given away on April 26 by the Action Sponsors involved.

Fred Janke, Mayor of Jackson will be the special guest judge at the Parade of Queens and Talent Search along with four other judging personnel.

A banquet will be held in Jackson for the queens, talent winners and guests prior to the evening's dance and show.

It was further announced that any girl wishing to compete in the Parade of Queens pageant, is requested to call the director, 784-2739 Jackson for information and application. No sponsorship is required. April 20 is the deadline.

For ticket and table reservations, call Jackson Sports Arena, 783-2664.

More than 20 million Americans have arthritis, a disease which strikes one in four families and, for some unknown reason, twice as many women as men. The Michigan Arthritis Foundation, a United Way of Michigan member service, is fighting the disease through patient care, research and professional and public education.
