The Chelsea High school gymnasium is the setting for those with an ear for rock music, while those who prefer music of an older era will find it at the Fairgrounds Service Center.

"Hot Lucy" will play from 8 p.m. to midnight for high school students. Tickets for the dance are available for $1.75 at the door Friday evening.

Tickets for the Fairgrounds dance may be purchased for $4 per person in advance from Tailfeather Creations, the Chelsea Card & Gift Shop or Heydlauff's. Tickets will also be sold at the door. Profits from both dances will go toward the support of the local Bicentennial activities.

Blood Bank Clinic Scheduled May 22

Early Saturday morning, May 22, Red Cross personnel will once again set up equipment for the Chelsea Jaycees and VFW Post 4076 Blood Drive at the Fair Service Center. Volunteers may donate blood between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

According to Bill Pierce of VFW Post 4076 and chairman of this Blood Drive, the Red Cross contacted the Jaycees in March as to the possibility of having another Blood Drive in Chelsea, since the one held in December was so successful. The VFW had expressed interest in the Blood Drive last time and was asked by the Jaycees if they would like to chair this Blood Drive with the assistance and guidance of the Jaycees.

Information received from the Red Cross indicates that more than 40 percent of the nation's blood is collected from volunteers. Here in southeastern Michigan, the 85 hospitals need 900 units of blood every day. Humans can give one pint of blood once every eight weeks, not more than five times a year. Giving blood is virtually painless and takes a minimum amount of time. Average time is less than one-half hour.

Walk-in volunteers are gratefully accepted; however, to insure a minimum amount of time spent donating blood, an appointment should be made. All individuals between 18 and 65 years of age are eligible and are encouraged to donate their blood. "Many things have changed donations in the past few years. If you have doubts, sign up and let the nurses decide whether or not you can donate," said Pierce. He continued, "We are shooting for 175 pints and hope to exceed that."

For information and making appointments call Bill Pierce, 475-2911, or stop by and see him at the Sylvan Hotel on N. Main St.

Historical Society Meeting Canceled

The May 10 meeting of the Chelsea Area Historical Society has been canceled because members are busy with the forthcoming house tour. The group will next meet June 14 at the First Congregational church.

ARBOR DAY: 6th grade science students of Donald Young and William Wescoat at Beach Middle school participated in Arbor Day Celebrations by planting 200 seedlings in the Nature Center on the grounds of the school. According to Young

HONORED GUEST: Tom Ford met with Chelsea Kiwanis Club members and area residents Monday evening to talk on fiscal affairs at the state level, tell a few jokes and speak briefly about his famous brother, Gerald, who has moved to a "government housing project" in Washington, D.C. Pictured with Ford, from left, are Charels Cameron, Ford, Paul Mann, Herman Koenig, Robert Foster and Kiwanis Club president, Julius Blaess. An interesting sidelight: Robert Foster's brother's son, Bob, married Tom Ford's daughter, Julie, three years ago. The couple met while attending Michigan State University.

After returning from spring vacation the Chelsea Netters played back-to-back home matches last Thursday and Friday.

Thursday the Netters lost to Novi, 6-1. Chelsea's one point, was scored by the first doubles team of Doug Beaumont and Dave Pletcher. Jon McCormick at third singles, and Pete Feeney and Bruce Stubbs of second doubles "put forth fine efforts before losing in three matches," said varsity coach Sam Vogel.

On Friday, the tennis team reversed the decision as they defeated Williamston, 4-3. Jon McCormick made a fine comeback after losing the first set to win the next two sets and the match.

Friday's scoring went as follows:

Singles One: John Odin (W) defeated Curt Umstead (C) 6-1, 6-2. Singles Two: John Logan (W) defeated Paul Marshall (C) 6-1, 6-3. Singles Three: Jon McCormick (C) defeated Jeff Hoag (W), 3-6, 6-0, 6-2. Singles Four: Tom Severn (C) defeated Janet Newman (W), 7-5, 7-6.

Bulldog Sluggers Notch 4 Consecutive Conference Victories

Chelsea's varsity baseball team earned its fourth consecutive SEC victory last Friday in Dexter with an exciting come-from-behind 10-9 game. The Bulldogs utilized a six-run seventh inning to overcome a 9-4 deficit, chalking up the decision in their favor.

The Dreadnaughts jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the bottom of the third inning on five hits and three walks by Bulldog pitcher John Adams. Chelsea was able to mark up one run in the fourth inning on hits by Tim Reed and Mike Check, coupled with a Dexter throwing error.

The Chelsea team continued to chip away at Dexter's lead, taking three more runs in the fifth inning, narrowing the scoring gap. The Bulldogs capitalized on walks and defensive lapses to trail only 6-4. However, in the bottom of the sixth the Dreadnaughts added three more runs to make the score 9-4.

In their final turn at bat, Don Nadeau led off for the Bulldogs with a walk. Jim Marshall was hit by a pitch, and after a strike-out, Mike Check walked, to load the bases. At this point pinch-hitting Scott Owings worked the pitcher for a walk, forcing in a run.

Centerfielder John Toon then lashed a double down the first base line, driving in two runs, which made the score 9-7. Another strike-out and senior shortstop Randy Guenther unloaded a double, driving in two runs and tying the game. Senior first baseman Joel Sprague then stroked a double to right centerfield, sending Guenther home with the tie-breaking run. Sophomore Kurt Owings came on in the bottom of the seventh and stopped the Dreadnaughts with only a walk, preserving the 10-9 hard-earned victory.

Saturday the Bulldogs defeated the Irish of Ann Arbor St. Thomas in a doubleheader, 7-1 and 8-5. Chelsea was able to take a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a walk to Check and hits by Guenther, Sprague and Marshall. After the Irish narrowed the margin to 3-1 the Bulldogs exploded for four more runs, including hits by Nadeau and Anthony Houle.

Kurt Owings pitched the entire game, giving up only five hits, but keeping himself in trouble with seven walks. However, according to varsity coach Paul Terpstra, he was tough in the clutch situations and limited St. Thomas to only one run.

Senior co-captain Joel Sprague received his first pitching start of the season and responded with a fine four-hitter as the Bulldogs swept the second half of the doubleheader, 8-5. Sprague limited the Irish to only four hits. However, the Bulldog defense committed two errors and as a result only one of the five runs was earned.

Offensively, the Bulldog attack was led by junior catcher Don Nadeau who had five RBIs, including a grand slam home run in the first inning. Sprague and Check each had two hits for Chelsea. (Continued on page three)

Symphony Is Judged Tops at State Festival

On Saturday, May 1, the Chelsea High school symphony band won top honors at the State Band and Orchestra Festival held at Fenton High school, Fenton.

Entering in Class B, the band was awarded a superior First Division rating. The band earned the opportunity to participate in the State Festival with a First Division Rating at the District Festival in March.

Conductor Myles A. Mazur commented: "It takes a high degree of self-discipline, individual practice, and dedication to reach the level of perfection attained by the symphony band. The band's success at State Festival reflects the great effort put forth by all members of the band." Mazur added, "the kids were really thrilled."

Vaulters Sparkle in Lake Orion Relays

Saturday, May 1, the CHS track team traveled to Lake Orion to take part in a relay meet featuring a mixture of Class A, B and C schools.

The Relays turned out to be a strong mixture as the team ran and performed well but could come up with only six points, all of which came on the excellent performances of the three-man pole vaulting team of Mark Burnett, Matt Heydlauff and Randy Sweeney. The team set a meet and new school record with a combined height of 38'. Mark Burnett led the way with a new school record of 13'2" and was closely followed by Heydlauff's 12'6" and Sweeney's 12'3". All of these were personal bests and the win came after nine hours of vaulting.

"We had a number of 6th place finishes which was good in the 18-team field but unfortunately there were medals for only five places," Kruse commented.

Clarkston won the meet and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook was runner-up.

The 6th place finishes included a 1:34.4 time by the 880-yard relay team of Howard Salyer, Matt Fisher, Greg Reed and Dennis Bauer. The shuttle hurdle team of Dennis Bauer, Randy Sweeney, Greg Reed and Howard Salyer ran :62.4. The distance medley team of Todd Weber, Pat Stevenson, David Dawson and Rick Haller ran 11:25, again 6th; the shot put relay team threw 124'10" for 6th. That team was composed of Mark Smyth, Tim Welshans and Dennis Bauer.

The 440-yd. relay team of Greg Reed, John Collins, Howard Salyer and Dennis Bauer ran a good :46.0 time but finished 7th. Kruse said he was pleased with the performances over-all. Unfortunately, except for the pole vault, the competition was just a bit out of reach," he added.

In forthcoming competition the team will travel to South Lyon Thursday, May 6 and the following week will take on Milan, Tuesday May 11. Dexter is scheduled for Thursday, May 13. Both meets are at home and will start at 4:30 p.m.

May Fellowship Day Scheduled Friday

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster allowed during the session at the country store Saturday night that whoever said that crime don't pay didn't reckon with the white collar boys in the Watergate break-in. Most of em that got off or got out after serving time got well writing books about their version of true confessions, declared Clem, and the crime opened the way for outside people to write books and make movies about the inside they don't know nothing about.

But what set Clem off this last time was where he saw in the papers that Dwight Chapin was being paid at the rate of $45,000 a year while he was serving eight months in the pen for lying to a Watergate grand jury. It came out that Chapin had a deal with a insurance company that called for his pay to keep going. Clem said you can't figger people. Folks used to say a man had to at least look honest to sell used cars, but here we got a case where a company has been paying $45,000 a year in the belief that folks will stand in line to buy insurance from a proven liar.

About all that proves, broke in Zeke Grubb, is that it's human nature to work things to the best advantage we can. Zeke had saw this piece where people are taking advantage of Medicare and food stamp laws everywhere. This one study in New Jersey showed, fer instance, that wheel chairs, hospital beds and other equipment was being rented fer up to six times what they cost to buy outright. A $168 wheel chair was rented for six years for $1,080, and a bed that cost $280 was rented 58 months for $1,600, Zeke said, because the law allows patients that pay 20 percent of the cost to choose between renting and buying, and they'd rather stretch out the payments of their part.

As fer food stamps, Clem went on, it's another case of the honor system. The Government trying to help folks eat better has got the honor, and the folks has got the system. Checks have showed that dogs eat better in families that use food stamps. You can't buy regular dog food with the stamps, so folks buy hamburger and even top-grade beef fer the dogs. Clem passed along one story where this feller using food stamps took one of his good home-cured hams by the grocery store and sold it. He used some of the money from the sale of the ham to pay his share of his month's supply of food stamps. Then he took the stamps to the grocery store, bought his ham back and he had enough cash money left to get a haircut and take in a picture show afore heading home with what he left with. Of course, Clem said, that's just a story.

Bug Hookum said he thought Clem was going to say the feller used his extra cash to buy booze, which would be helping the food situation. Bug had saw where the corn and wheat left from making liquor is being tested fer use as protein filler in sausage and other meats—fer people.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

To Combat Crashes

Death on the highways, as well as injury and property damage related to traffic accidents are the focus of an unusual, comprehensive project in the works in Kalamazoo County.

The program, funded for the first three years with $300,000 in highway safety funds from the U. S. Department of Transportation, aims to unite the efforts of all public and private traffic safety groups in the county.

The project will combine improved emergency medical services with police traffic services, traffic engineering, motorcycle education and programs aimed at the drinking driver.

Federal funds were directed to Kalamazoo county for the special project by Gov. William Milliken's Office of Highway Safety Planning.

The governor says the county was selected because of its "unusually good cooperation between local traffic safety officials and groups."

Milliken says the effort marks "the first major comprehensive attempt in Michigan to take all of the tools and resources available and concentrate them in one geographic area." He also expressed hope that the program would become a model for similar ones throughout the state.

'Save for Winter'

Taking a lesson from the squirrel, who saves nuts for bad winter months, Michigan should save money during good years to help lessen problems during bad years.

So says Rep. Steve Monsma, D-Grand Rapids, who's backing an amendment to the Constitution that would create an economic stabilization fund.

The proposal provides that when the state's unemployment rate is below 5 percent, $150 million must be put into this fund during the following fiscal year. When the unemployment rate goes over 8 percent, $300 million could be taken from the fund. No money would go in or out of the fund when unemployment levels were between 5 percent and 8 percent.

"When the economy is booming, tax revenues soar and state spending goes up, but then when the economy experiences a downturn we are stuck with insufficient revenues to pay for existing programs," Monsma says.

"This proposal is a simple and workable solution to the problems created for government by the roller coaster Michigan economy."

Monsma contends that if the state had been stowing away money during good times over the past 26 years, there would have been an extra $300 million available to the general fund in every year but one in which unemployment was over 8 percent.

She's 'Retiring'

Marilyn Jean Kelly, who's retiring from the state Board of Education after 12 years of service, thinks the current eight-year board term might better be reduced.

Such action, Miss Kelly says, might provoke more interest in running for the board among young people, who tend to be more mobile than older folks and might be put off by an eight-year commitment.

In addition, she thinks those who figure it's too expensive to travel to the Capitol for eight years to participate in board deliberations.

Prospects Brighter

Good news on the housing front, according to Gov. William Milliken. Michigan's Housing Development Authority recently sold $25 million in tax-exempt bonds at an average interest rate of 7.95 percent. A lion's share of the proceeds from that sale will be used to begin building 590 units of housing.

Since December, Milliken notes, the Authority has sold more than $111 million of bonds and bond anticipation notes. He calls that "a welcome indication that the tax-exempt securities market is recovering from the doldrums which have severely curtailed the Authority's ability to finance housing development."

Your one check to the American Cancer Society becomes three separate gifts, supporting ACS efforts in research, education and service toward the control of cancer.

Robert Wirtz Named To Head MCRC Board

The newly elected Mill Creek Research Council Board of Directors met April 23 at the home of Mrs. Frank Messman. Robert Wirtz was chosen as chairman; David Bacon, vice-chairman; Miss Lynda Koch, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Slas, corresponding secretary; and William Chandler, treasurer. Arthur Kuhl and Donald Plumb are retiring this year from the board. Miss Arlys Wiseman, now of Rochester, had resigned earlier. Mrs. Messman, Brett Seaburg, and Duane Bollinger were newly elected at this year's annual meeting.

That meeting was held the evening of March 28 at the Lima Town Hall with chairman Dave Bacon presiding. State representative Michael Conlin reported on legislative happenings regarding the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. A meeting has been held in Detroit called by members of the special legislative committee currently studying HCMA. Also in attendance were Mayor Young and other representatives from Detroit, three HCMA Board of Commissioners members, and representatives of the Michigan United Conservation Club. It appears that Detroit would like HCMA to return to Detroit a portion of the tax monies collected from Detroit for use by Detroit on Belle Isle. But, HCMA wants to continue control of its funds and would like control of Belle Isle. Apparently, Detroit really doesn't want a large HCMA park on the Detroit side of the Detroit River because they do not want to lose the tax base.

Rep. Conlin also discussed possibilities through legislative action of opening up HCMA's operations, both so that there could be provision of public input and to give the operations more public visibility. Donald Robbins, Grass Lake, state Michigan United Conservation Club president, then discussed the varied activities of that organization. These include publication of "Michigan Outdoors," a monthly publication of maps of state lakes, sponsoring outdoor shows, and participation in legislative happenings. He commended the MCRC's approach to the local land use controversy, factual, not emotional. Chairman Bacon reported on his observations of HCMA activities. He also reported on the court action against HCMA by the Ray township, Macomb county, Citizens for Realistic Priorities; action supported by the MCRC. Four counts were disallowed, but, action was continued as a fifth count, HCMA's right to condemn. With regard to action on the Mill Creek proposal, he said that further water level and water quality assessments are being done by HCMA to further augment data in the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Environmental Impact Statement. These samplings will run into the fall of 1976. Results of a survey now being done by the township to learn residents' views of potential use of the Sutton property on the corner of Scio Church and Guenther Rd. were reported by Mrs. Harry Denham. Citizen views are still being sought. Family memberships in the Mill Creek Research Council are $12 for first year membership, $10 thereafter. These are payable to the council treasurer, William Chandler, 765 Howard Rd., Chelsea.

E. Monaghan Retires from Bailiff Post

Ed Monaghan, former Dexter police chief, resigned on April 30, as bailiff for the 14th district court.

Monaghan, who is 62 years old, will be spending "a lot of time" in Frankfurt where he has purchased a charter boat "Pearl." He'll be taking out fishermen to try their luck at the lake trout, coho and salmon, as well as enjoying the fishing himself, he says.

A Dexter policeman for seven, and one-half years, Monaghan was police chief from 1968-1972. He worked for the 14th district court as bailiff for the past two years and four months.

Monaghan and his wife, Pearl, live on Stein Rd.

Track Team Runs Over Novi, 83-48

83-48 in favor of the home team, Chelsea, marked up the Bulldogs second track victory in the Southern Conference Tuesday the Southeastern Conference Tuesday evening as they easily defeated cording to CHS varsity track coach Bert Kruse, the lack of depth in the Wildcat line-up contributed to that team's defeat.
Kruse said that windy conditions prohibited the Bulldogs from chalking up any outstanding times. "We just ran well enough to win," he said of the Tuesday victory.
Howard Salyer took two first places for his team, in the 100-yard dash with a time of :10.6 and in the 180-yard low hurdles at :22.5. The Bulldogs were able to sweep the mile run and take one-two finishes in the 440- and 880-yard runs.

Girls Varsity Softball Team Loses to Manchester, Dexter

Following spring vacation and a rain-out on Tuesday, Chelsea girls varsity softball hosted Manchester Thursday, April 29. After a disastrous 13-run third inning, Chelsea lost, 21-7. "Even though we handed Manchester 18 walks and the game, the girls came back to allow only one run in the last two innings," commented Coach Cindy Bradbury. Sue Heydlauff, Kim Moore and Brenda Salyer shared pitching duties and Cindy Broderick hit two singles in three times at bat.
Last Friday, Chelsea hosted Dexter which has been enjoying a good season thus far. "We gave them a battle for seven innings but came up on the short end of a 19-13 score," Coach Bradbury said. The girls were given a lot of walks but couldn't get the hits to score on them. Dexter hit two key home runs in the late innings to wrap up the game. Brenda Salyer pitched the entire game.
The highlight of the evening was the girls first double play of the season.
"Considering Dexter is one of the better teams in the league, we feel encouraged about the next games," Bradbury concluded.

Girls Track Team Loses First Meet

Chelsea girls track team took its first loss from Brighton last Thursday at Brighton by a score of 68-48.
Coach DiAnn L'Roy commented: "Actually the meet was closer than the score indicates. It was a good meet that would have been better if we had been on top."
One factor contributing to the loss was, "We needed to be ahead coming out of the field events and unfortunately Brighton didn't follow the script and led by 10 points."
Judy Powers set a new school record in the two-mile with 14:13 in her first attempt at this event. Susan Frisbie won both the 100 and 220 dashes. Other first-place finishers were Annette Gaken (79'8") in discus and Angie Merkel (:63.5) in 440-yd. dash.
Chelsea's record is now 3-1 over-all and 0-1 in the conference.

Spring in Michigan Brings Out Morels

For uncounted but large and growing numbers of enthusiasts, spring in Michigan means morels.

Morels are delectable wild mushrooms, fairly easy to find and identify, generally safe to eat.

For the beginning mushroom hunter, the half-dozen species of morels are the safest group among the more than 2,000 kinds of wild mushrooms found in Michigan.

This article will tell you something about morels, as well as something about the delights and dangers of hunting mushrooms. It will not tell you enough about morels or wild mushrooms generally.

The beginning mushroomer is advised to do two things at the outset: (1) make your first several mushroom hunts, whether species, with someone who knows his mushrooms, and (2) equip yourself with a mushroom book.

Like any other recreation, mushroom hunting has its hazards. It's a safe sport for the sensible person. It's a foolhardy pastime for the ignorant or careless.

Finding an expert to conduct you on your first forays after morels is a problem you must solve for yourself. Finding a good book is easier. Best on the market is "The Mushroom Hunter's Field Guide" by Dr. Alexander H. Smith of the University of Michigan. Available at most bookstores, this book provides pictures and descriptions of about 125 of the edible and poisonous species that the amateur collector is most likely to encounter.

About the only other items of equipment needed to collect morels are a hoop-handled basket and a knife. A basket is a much better container for mushrooms than a paper sack; but use a sack in preference to a plastic bag. Morels packed in airtight plastic bags will begin to spoil before you get them home.

No license is required to hunt morels. Ordinary field clothes, including stout walking shoes or boots, complete the basic outfit.

There are basically two groups of mushrooms—the true morels (species of verpa and morchella) and the false morels (species of helvella). As a group, the false morels are dangerous and to be left alone.

Latin names will be used throughout the rest of this article, simply because there is no other way to identify mushrooms accurately.

All species of morchella found in Michigan have one characteristic in common: their caps (heads, tops) are pitted with little hollows, as if holes had been punched part-way into them. The pattern of the pits varies from species to species, but all have the pits.

Verpa and helvella species may be ridged, wrinkled, waved or even quite smooth, but in any case they do not have hole-like pits.

Any other so-called general rule about morels fails its most important test: it is not always true.

May is the best time for morels in Michigan, although they may be found from late April through June. Contrary to common belief, morels are not confined to the northern part of the state; some of the best hunting is in southern Michigan.

Like all wild mushrooms, morels require rather specific conditions of moisture and temperature. Some springs are good for morels, some are poor. A warm spring with plenty of moisture is best. Cold, dry springs can mean almost total failure of the crop.

Morels are where you find them. Some suggestions on where to look for the various species can be given, but be prepared to wear out considerable shoe leather in your quest. Unlike some wild mushrooms morels don't ordinarily grow in large clusters or "fairy rings," but where you find one there probably will be others close by. Don't expect even your best friend to disclose his pet morel ground to you. That kind of secret is passed from father to son.

Don't expect, either, to find morels easily at first. Because they blend into their background of last fall's leaves and dead grass, they are hard to spot, even though you may be looking right at them.

For the beginner it sometimes helps to get down on hands and knees. Seen from that vantage point, any brownish object poking above ground level may be a morel. On the other hand, it may be a stick, tree root, bracken stub or any one of several dozen other things. Your eye for morels will sharpen with practice so don't get discouraged.

Edwin Coy Seeking Commissioner Post

Edwin J. Coy, former Legislative Agent for the Michigan Townships Association in East Lansing has declared his candidacy on the Republican ticket for the County Commissioner in the Second District.

Coy 33, resigned his position with the Michigan Townships Association May 1 because in his words "it simply wasn't working out."

What Coy calls his "political shingle" is the desire to insure that the townships of the Second District which includes those of Dexter, Lyndon, Sylvan, Lima, Sharon, Freedom and Manchester, have equal representation on the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners. Coy says he "doesn't want to make any wild promises" to voters, he simply wants to maintain representation for the western part of Washtenaw county on the Board of Commissioners at all meetings and on all committees.

If elected he will replace Jack "Jay" Bradbury who has served as County Commissioner since 1965. The 63-year-old Bradbury's final two-year term expires Nov. 20, of this year and he has chosen not to run for re-election.

A life-long resident of Lima township, Ed Coy is a Licensed Real Estate Agent formerly formerly with Real Estate One, Chelsea 1973-76, former Lima township supervisor from 1970 to Jan. 1 of this year and owner of a 160-acre dairy farm. He is a 1956 graduate of Dexter High school and a 1959 graduate of Michigan State University where he studied agriculture.

Coy lives with his wife, Fran, and their two children, John, 13, and Todd, 9, at 8825 Trinkle Rd., Dexter.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
Something has been brought to our attention, and we feel that the rest of the community should know about it. Apparently there is a group at the Chelsea High school that is following the fraternity or sorority style of "black-balling" prospective members that they do not feel should be included. This group calls themselves the Chelsea Chapter of the National Honor Society.

We have all believed that the student who works hard to make good grades and is on the honor roll consistently (with a B-plus average for all of his high school years) would automatically become a member of the Honor Society. These grades entitle him to be a member. If these were not good students, they would not have earned the grades. Maybe they are not active in extracurricular activities or do not make it in the athletic department or are maybe just a more quiet-type student, but they are still good students and have earned the right to be eligible for the Honor Society.

Now the Society wants to change this, or has changed this, to limit membership so that not "just anyone" can get in. They have turned down several applicants this past week, with various vague excuses. The present ones became members on basis of their grades, maybe they should start over from scratch, and see how many of them are "chosen".

If they want to form a club and have special rules and requirements, let them do it. But not using the name of National Honor Society. They say they are looking for leadership qualities, these qualities and those of a good student and citizen are not developed only in those that are active socially or more aggressive or more popular.

I hope some other parents might join us in trying to do something about this situation. It is not only for those who were rejected this year, but for the other hard-working students who might be turned down in the future. Let the Honor Society belong to all who have earned honors.
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sweet.

Salem Grove Group Entertains Residents of Methodist Home

Residents of Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home were entertained Sunday afternoon, April 25 by a youth group from Salem Grove United Methodist Church. They were under the leadership of Mrs. Ann Alexander, with Mrs. Thelma Rentschler at the piano, of their Sunday school songs with action; and a larger group of older girls sang many favorite old hymns. The home residents joined in singing the old hymns.

They closed their program by all joining together to offer the closing prayer. Delicious lemonade and homemade cookies served by the Salem Grove ladies who accompanied the children, turned a very dark, rainy Sunday into a bright and memorable day.

Persons with normal hearing ability can gain an insight into the silent world of hard-of-hearing by watching a favorite television program with the sound turned too low to hear, according to hearing specialists. While such an experiment can be interesting for a short while, it soon becomes irritating and even terrifying for most people as they discover they are cut off from communication.

What's Cooking In Michigan

By Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture
Marketing Information Specialist

Convenient processed sausage meats reign in popularity this time of year. Best known of these items are hotdogs, bologna and fresh sausage, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, but there are numerous varieties with flavors ranging from mild to spicy hot.

Processed sausage meats are popular for a number of reasons. They're quick and easy to prepare, economical when compared to other meats, and you can eat them out of hand. Most important, Michigan standards for these products are the highest in the nation.

MDA meat inspection officials say all sausage products manufactured in state-inspected plants must contain a minimum of 12 percent protein and be made of only skeletal meat which is any clean, edible part of striated muscle, except heart muscle. Addition of vegetable extenders and meat by-products is not allowed.

Sausage products made outside under federal regulations are permitted supplements such as vegetable protein and meat by-products like hearts, stomach (tripe), and tongue, to name a few. Also, under federal standards there is no minimum protein requirement.

To tell whether the product you buy meets Michigan standards, read the label. A quick glance at the ingredient list will show contents. This information is also mandatory for all sausage products made outside the state under federal standards. In addition, Michigan law requires all retail outlets selling sausage products which don't meet Michigan standards to display large red and yellow signs listing such products.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 476 successfully completed their semi-annual paper drive Saturday, May 1, with the help of Mr. and Mrs. John Dettling, Otis Titus, Scoutmaster and Mrs. Duane Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C. Burgess, Mrs. T. Vallencourt, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stoner, Ray Worden, and Mrs. Summer Oesterle. Question: Governor, I read recently that you kicked off the petition drive to put on the ballot the issue of banning non-returnable bottles. I support this effort because the litter created by nonreturnables on our streets and highways is deplorable. How can I become actively involved?

Governor: Thank you for expressing interest in and support of the move to ban nonreturnable beverage containers. A ban on nonreturnables makes sense from an environmental point of view. And beyond that, it clearly will result in benefits to each of us. Litter along Michigan highways cost taxpayers $1.8 million per year to clean up, with bottles and cans major factors in this litter.

As you may know, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, recently announced—because of legislative inactivity on the "bottle bill"—that it was initiating a petition drive to put the issue on the general election ballot. I recently had the pleasure of being the first Michigan citizen to sign that petition.

If that petition drive is to be a success, the MUCC must collect 300,000 signatures by June 1. If you are interested in that issue, would suggest that you contact the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and request "bottle bill" petitions. You can address correspondence to: MUCC, P.O. Box 2236, Lansing 48911.

Question: We were victims of the March ice storm and were later hit by the tornado. As a result, we have suffered considerable losses. I just learned our insurance did not cover many of these losses, so I would like to know what I can do to get government assistance?

Governor: Most certainly, but you need to apply for such assistance no later than May 18. The federal disaster declarations allow storm victims to seek help through state and federal agencies for damage which resulted from ice storms throughout Michigan during the period of March 2-7 and tornadoes in Macomb and Oakland counties March 20. The two disasters caused at least $57 million damage in Michigan.

If you were affected by either of these disasters, you should contact the following agencies for assistance:

- Agricultural Assistance: local county USDA offices.
- Internal Revenue Service: call toll-free 1-800-482-9650.
- Small Business Administration: loans for business and individuals: call 313-226-4030.
- Disaster-related Unemployment: go to the nearest or most convenient Michigan Employment Security Commission office.
- Grants for Individuals and Families: go to the nearest or most convenient Michigan Social Services office.
- Public Assistance: contact FDAA Field Office, 1120 May Street, Lansing, phone 517-372-1910, ext. 351; or State Coordinating Officer, Emergency Services Division, Department of State Police, 714 S. Harrison Road, East Lansing, phone 517-373-0617.

Question: Now that winter is over—I hope—what effect did the record snow falls have on our state?

Governor: Michigan has experienced another record winter tourist season. The greatest growth was experienced in western Michigan. Wesley Tebaeu, president of the Western Michigan Tourist Association, has informed me that this was the "shortest and most explosive season ever." Use of the ski slopes and snowmobile trails increased between 10 and 25 percent.

Resorts in all areas of western Michigan reported record attendance—their best season ever, despite the fact that it was relatively short.

And southeast Michigan recorded one of its best years in history, with all resort business up between 15 and 20 percent.

Resorts in the Upper Peninsula generally did very well. Tourism was better in the western portion of the U.P. and about the same in the central portion.

As Michigan's tourist industry grows in size, it grows in importance as an element in our program to balance Michigan's economy. The steady strengthening of this important commercial activity also underscores the need for land use legislation.

We cannot watch the steady erosion of one of our most basic resources and expect a land-based industry to remain healthy.

85 Fairs Scheduled Throughout Mich.

Join in the fun and excitement at Michigan fairs this summer. The season opens July 1 with 85 county, 4-H and agricultural fairs and two state fairs scheduled.

"There's something of interest for everyone," said Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "Animal shows, agricultural, educational and commercial exhibits, family entertainment, prize-winning contests, and midway rides are a major attractions."

"Fairs provide an excellent opportunity for a friendly exchange between consumers and the producers of Michigan's agricultural bounty. There are nearly 50 important crops produced in our state," Ball said.

Michigan's two state fairs are the Upper Peninsula State fair at Escanaba Aug. 17-22 and the Michigan State fair at Detroit Aug. 27-Sept. 6.

Other fair dates and locations, as compiled by MDA's County Fair section, are:

Mrs. Trivilla is a teacher of the "Fascinating Womanhood" course offered in Jackson.

CHS Special Ed Class' Newspaper Wins in Contest

Nancy Porath has received notice that her class' newspaper, a weekly called "The 204 Classroom Enterprise", has won $20 from The New Readers Press of Syracuse, N.Y. The paper is produced, written, edited, and typed completely by the students in her special education class.

Editors of the paper are Kathy Buck and Mary Landwehr. Assistant Editor is Patty Brady, newspaper artist is Glenn Passow and the reporters are Ron Miller, Chris Williams, Steve Lawrence, Kathy Young, Barbara Jedele, Leonard Carlson and John Williams. The paper is put out each Friday.

Reasons given for the award are: "It's fun to read this 20-28 page mimeographed magazine and we think the students had fun writing it. The content covers everything from interviews with students and teachers to recipes, jokes, and TV reviews. Original writing includes a soap opera called "As Your Stomach Turns," garden tips, and reports on the Special Olympics. There are also articles telling how to get married, how to write a check and how to plan nutritious meals. Student art adds a light touch."

The cover of the newspaper, produced by Glenn Passow, also appeared in the News For You paper which is nationally distributed.

The prize of $20 will be used for the Special Olympics. The students voted and decided that was where it is needed the most. Anyone wishing to have a copy of the "204 Classroom Enterprise" is asked to contact Nancy Porath at Chelsea High school.

Former Chelsea Girl, Debra Akin Weds Saturday in Jackson

James M. Kokoczka claimed Debra L. Akin for his bride Saturday afternoon, May 1, at St Stanislaus Catholic church in Jackson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Akin of Munnith and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kokoczka of Jackson. The Rev. Hubert J. Rakowski officiated over the 1 p.m. Nuptial Mass.

For her wedding to Mr. Kokoczka, the bride chose a gown of satrapeau accented with chantilly lace. A lace flounce formed the semi-cathedral length train. A camelot headpiece with matching lace completed the ensemble. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue tinted roses, Stephanotis, and Baby's Breath.

The maid of honor was Miss Gail Bevier of Jackson, a friend of the bride. She wore a long A-Line gown of light-blue tulle, featuring a rounded neckline and flared cape collar. A matching blue picture hat completed her outfit.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carole Dietle of Chelsea, Miss Kristen Larson of Jackson, Mrs. Mary Murawa of Parma, and Mrs. Patricia Kokoczka of Lansing. They were all dressed identically to the maid of honor.

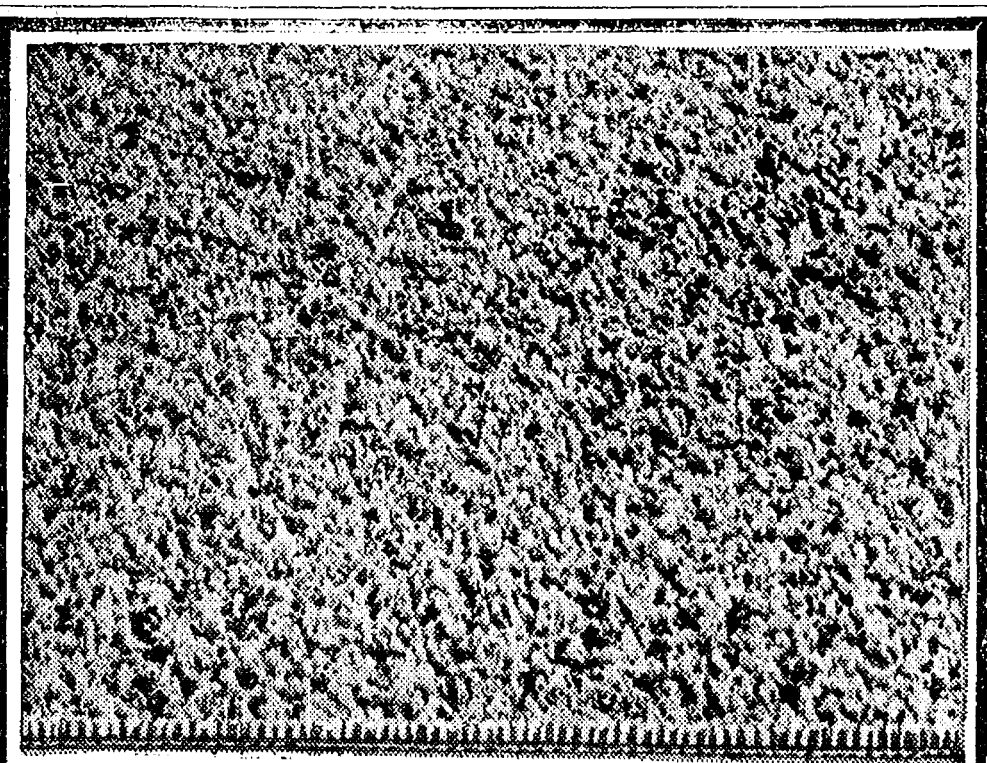

Miss Nicole Richards, of Hanover, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a long dress of blue printed fabric with a front panel of white eyelet lace.

Mrs. Akin chose a long sleeved, U-neck, evening length gown of light pink polyester for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Kokoczka was dressed in a fitted mint green polyester evening length gown with long sheer sleeves.

Robert Markiewicz of Jackson, cousin of the bridegroom, was the bestman.

Ushers included the bridegroom's brothers, John Kokoczka and Christopher Kokoczka, John Konkel, and Matthew Dochoda.

Band Boosters Seek Volunteers For Work Posts

Congratulations to Myles Mazur and our symphony band for their performance at the State Band Festival in Fenton last Saturday. The hard work and dedication put forth by the director and the musicians over the year has paid off well. We (the Chelsea Band and Orchestra Boosters) are proud of you.

The final meeting of the year will be called to order May 13 at 8 p.m. On the agenda will be the election of officers and standing committee reports.

At the last two meetings the Boosters were visited by three candy company representatives. After hearing the sales presentations of the three representatives, the Boosters decided to order next year's candy from the Kathryn Belch Candy Co.

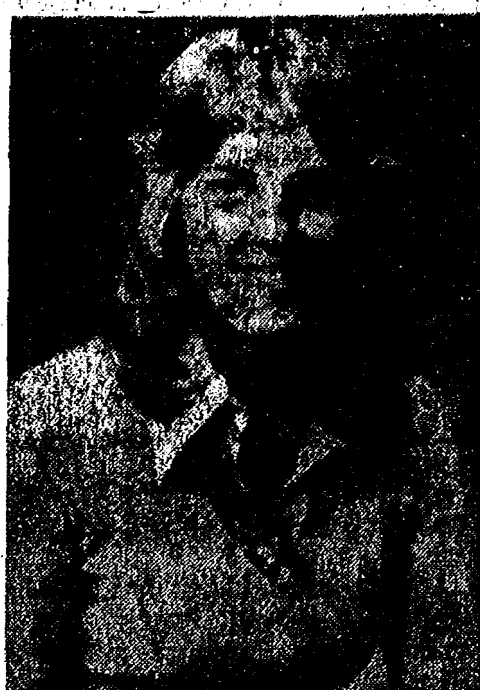

Students are now taking orders for the community calendar which is distributed in the fall. The calendar lists important community and school events as well as personal dates to remember throughout the year. If you are not contacted and would like a calendar you will find a form in this issue of The Standard to fill out and send in.

Sno-cone time is fast approaching. This is a major money-making project for the Boosters but it involves a lot of work and co-operation from all. The Boosters need a volunteer to be chairman this year to see that the booth is set up and manned for the sidewalk sales and the fair. Persons may offer services either as chairman or helper.

The Band and Orchestra Boosters is primarily a money-making organization composed of parents who give of their time and effort to help Chelsea bands and orchestra with financial and moral support.

Mailbox Improvement Week Set May 17-22 By U. S. Postal Service

"Mailbox Improvement Week," a traditional spring observance which contributes to improved security and appearance of the nation's nearly 24 million mailboxes, will be held May 17-22 this year. Postmaster Richard Schaules said today.

Held annually, this event has long served as the starting signal for community efforts to repair, repaint and make other improvements to the nation's approximately 24 million rural and curb-line mailboxes, 1,350 of which are served by the Chelsea post office. "Because more Americans receive their mail today on rural routes than ever before, Mailbox Improvement Week is more important than when first observed generations ago in rural areas and small communities," Postmaster Schaules said.

Postal Service rural carriers serve approximately 13.5 million families along some 32,480 rural routes.

Rural mail service began in 1896. In those days many makeshift receptacles were used as mailboxes. One favorite was a tin can nailed to a tree. Today, manufacturers provide a variety of modern mailbox designs for use with decorative posts in co-operation with the Postal Service.

yd. dash, 4th; Chris Williams, 50-yd. dash, 3rd. The girls 440 relay relays. The first one of Ron Miller, Leonard Carlson, Glenn Passow, and Steve Lawrence took a second to Milan High. The second team was made up of Mike Foster, Terry Bradshaw, John Winans, and Chris Williams and it took a third. As this article went to print none of the field events had been sorted so no results were available.

Gymnastics events were also completed at Eastern but results were not available until late Tuesday due to computer foul-ups.

Swimming was an area of great success for Chelsea. In diving Kathy Buck, Mary Landwehr, Glenn Passow, and John Winans each got first place in their age groups. Patty Brady took second. In the 25-yd. freestyle, Glenn got a first, Kathy Buck a first, John Winans a first and Steve Lawrence got second. In the 25-yd. backstroke, Glenn got another first and Steve Lawrence a third. ## G. McKeighan Home Hit By Fire Tuesday

Chelsea volunteer firefighters have been kept busy in the past week with much more than just the seasonal grass fires. According to Fire Chief Jim Gaken, the volunteers fought two car fires and two house fires in a two day period.

A 4:19 a.m. call Tuesday, April 27 sent the men flying to the home of George McKeighan at 201 Cedar Lake, where a fire in the clothes dryer set the laundry room and a small adjacent room ablaze. Gaken said that severe damage was confined to the two rooms; however, the entire residence suffered from a combination of heat and smoke damage. Mrs. McKeighan and one child were home at the time. Firefighters were able to douse the blaze after an hour and a half.

That evening, at 9:11 p.m., a broken gas line in an automobile belonging to Terrance Gottfreed destroyed the motor of his car. Chelsea volunteers arrived at the Gottfreed home on Peckins Rd. in time to save the rest of the vehicle. Gottfreed told volunteers that the motor was running when the fire ignited.

A call for water by the Dexter Fire Department sent a Chelsea crew to a home on N. Parker Rd. early Wednesday morning, April 28. Gaken reported that the home suffered extensive damage despite the Chelsea assist.

Smoke could be seen from the back of the fire station Wednesday evening when at 9 p.m. firefighters received a call from Willard Gould at 320 N. St. Gould told volunteers that a car he was working on was ablaze. Firefighters were able to put out the flames, but the vehicle was destroyed.

221 S. MAIN ST.: Built in 1860 by Elisha Congdon, this old Victorian home in the Village of Chelsea is best known as McKune Memorial Library. The library is just one of eight stops offered to ticket holders of the "Once Upon A Time" house tour sponsored by the Chelsea Area Historical Society. Tickets for the tour may be purchased that day, May 22, at the library.

ONCE AN APARTMENT BUILDING: This lovely residence, number four on the Chelsea Area Historical Society House Tour, now houses the Richard Borton family. The home was built in 1870 by Charles Kempf, founder of the Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank in 1870. Tickets for the tour may be purchased in advance at Merkel's, Chelsea Drug, Chelsea Card and Gift, and Vogel's.

McKune Memorial Library on Historical Society House Tour

The McKune Memorial Library and the North Lake United Methodist church will be the only sites where persons may purchase tickets for the Chelsea Area Historical Society "Once Upon A Time" house tour on the day of the tour, May 22.

The library is among the eight homes to be featured in the 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. tour which is open to the public at the cost of $3.

McKune Library, a large Victorian house was built by Elisha Congdon in 1860. Through the portals of this new red brick house passed the most eminent people of the area to socialize, ponder and shape the future of Chelsea and Sylvan township. Congdon died in 1867 and the property eventually passed into the hands of Timothy McKune. He used the house as a hotel, and his son, Edward, continued in the same capacity. Edward McKune married Katherine Stefan. Prior to her death, she willed the home to the Chelsea Public Library. The Library Board was pleased to have a permanent building as it had moved four times since its inception in January 1932.

This new Library building opened officially on June 29, 1959. Enduring the ravages of time this handsome house, elegant in its design, has gained stature with many improvements through the years. Today after 113 years it stands strong and durable.

Number four on the tour is the Richard Borton residence at 176 Orchard St. This home was built by Charles Kempf, founder of Kempf Commercial Savings Bank in 1870. At one time in its history this home was used as an apartment building and then converted back to a one-family home. This historical home features painted woodwork, high ceilings and large sunny rooms. The back porch was enclosed for a laundry room and three years ago a fireplace, trimmed with Italian tile, was added to the living room. A large closet at the top of the stairs was taken out and made into a study area. The Bortons have many interesting antiques and primitives, including a Quimper pottery collection and a table which was a gift from China to President Lincoln.

COMMUNICATIONS:

Chair Murray stated that in reference to R-6168 Sang Nam from the Planning Department will be going to the hearing. R-6151 Chair would like a motion from the Board instructing her to send a letter stating the Board of Commissioners supports the communities and endorsing whatever plans is the consensus of those communities.

Comm. Walter spoke to the Board: When a department head makes a request for a piece of equipment or for staff upgrading for an additional employee, how is it handled normally? R-6192 looks like administrative inter-office memos and not things that should be communications to the Board of Commissioners or letters as such and I'm very bothered by them being included in here or is this some sort of way of getting the Clerk's name in the paper a few more times or is this some kind of new thing that the administration has come up with because I do not recall any other department when they request things like a piece of equipment or when they request some personnel changes or budget changes of any sort that they come as communications to the Board to be published in the minutes and everything else, that these are usually administrative details now is this some sort of new policy or what's going on here?

Comm. Walter supported by Comm. Kuebler moved that we strike those referrals (R-6188, R-6189, R-6190, R-6191 and R-6192) from the referrals, that we do not receive those and that we send a fairly terse note to the County Clerk saying that if he is making request of administrative changes, that he address his inter-office memo to the appropriate committee. Motion carried.

Chair Murray reminded the Board that she would like a motion concerning R-6151.

R-6144 Comm. Shultz supported by Comm. Ellis moved that the Board of Commissioners go on record supporting the plan that has been known as 83D for the Facilities Plan for Wastewater Management in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti areas of Washtenaw County. Discussion. Question was called. Carried. Roll call vote: YEAS: 15. Motion carried unanimously.

Comm. Shultz supported by Comm. Fojtik moved that the communications be approved as recommended with the deletion of R-6188, R-6189, R-6190, R-6191 and R-6192.

Comm. Fojtik stated that R-6179 requests that they be notified on who is attending by April 12th. Comm. Fojtik would like to attend. ### Citizen Participation:

John Coyne, an Attorney at the Legal Aid Society spoke to the Board. Several weeks ago representatives of the County Welfare Rights Organization which I represent came to me and complained about the Medicaid cuts on the State level which went into effect on the first of the year. These cuts are services which have been eliminated such as physical therapy, long term institutions such as nursing homes, speech and occupational therapy, dental, vision and hearing services for people 21 and over, psychiatric care lasting longer than 14 days and non prescription drugs. Reason I'm here tonight is to let you know about tomorrow morning in the City parking lot across from Social Services my clients in the Welfare Rights Organization have decided that this is something that the public is just not aware of and they have organized a demonstration to make the people in the County aware of these cuts. Also here to ask for the Board's support in urging the legislature to restore these services and that the Board support the demonstration tomorrow.

R-6145 Comm. Fojtik supported by Comm. Walter moved that this Board send a communication to Governor Milliken and the appropriate people in the Michigan State Legislature requesting that they restore the cuts that were made in Medicaid as of January 1st in the services such as physical therapy, long term institutions such as nursing homes, speech and occupational therapy, dental, vision and hearing services for people 21 and over, psychiatric care lasting longer than 14 days and non prescription drugs. Comm. Shultz moved to amend the motion in that we also indicate our support for the rally tomorrow. This was accepted as a friendly amendment. Roll call vote: YEAS: 15. Motion carried unanimously.

Robert Guenzel, Corporation Counsel spoke to the Board: the State law says that the Board shall meet on the Tuesday following the second Monday in April to begin the Equalization process. The problem is as always the Equalization information will not be there. If you feel it's necessary to meet we could meet and then just adjourn. George Kostishak and I discussed it. Hopefully he can have the material ready either by April 21st or at the Ways & Means Committee meeting on April 28th. I would suggest that you could adjourn until April 21st and pass a resolution requesting that the Clerk give notice that that will be the first Equalization meeting. I don't think anyone in the County would object.

Comm. Walter stated he felt the Commissioners should meet on the 13th if this is a statutory meeting. Then the Commissioners present could adjourn for a lack of a quorum.

Citizen Participation: none.
Comm. Walter supported by Comm. Kuebler moved to adjourn until Tuesday, April 13, 1976 at 9:30 a.m. in Room 117A for the purpose of the Annual meeting to begin the Equalization process. Carried.
Meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

VIEWPOINT

By SENATOR PHILIP A. HART

Recently the Michigan Department of Natural Resources issued a release warning of chemical contamination in parts of western Lake Superior. They announced that lake trout in these areas contain levels of toxic materials, including mercury, DDT and PCBs, which exceed minimum U.S. Food & Drug Administration guidelines for safe consumption. They further warned citizens of the areas against eating the trout more than once a week.

There are today more than 30,000 chemicals in actual commercial production, and every year this list grows by approximately 1,000 new compounds. We know very little about the health and environmental effects of most of these chemicals—for example, only a small percentage have been tested for carcinogenicity (ability to induce cancer) and, with the exception of those chemicals used in food additives, drugs and pesticides, few have been adequately tested for other effects.

While most of the chemicals do not present health dangers, a problem exists in discovering which ones do.

Studies done by the World Health Organization and the National Cancer Institute show that a large and growing share of the diseases that cripple and kill are caused by environmental factors, in the broadest sense. They show that a wide range of disease and death can be caused by chemicals: they can attack the liver, the lungs, the kidneys, the central nervous system; they can cause cancer, infant mortality and genetic damage.

Yet at this time, we simply have no way systematically to review the chemicals which go into our environment. Certain laws like the Occupational Safety and Health Act, Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetics Act, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, and the Clean Air Act provide some protection either from certain kinds of chemicals (pesticides) or certain kinds of activities (manufacturing or emissions). However, there exists a large gap in the regulation of the use of many industrial, commercial and consumer products.

In order to fill this gap many members of Congress and the Administration have been working for five years to pass effective legislation. In 1971 Senator Magnuson and I first introduced the "Toxic Substances Control Act" which would give authority to the Environmental Protection Agency to help protect human health by bringing down to reasonable levels the risks that chemicals pose while preserving their benefits. It would give the EPA the authority to get better information about the health and ecological effects, the distribution, the uses, the kinds and levels of exposure, of both known and new chemicals; help prevent harm to human health and the environment from chemicals before major economic investments are made in them; balance the various costs, risks and benefits involved before deciding whether, or under what conditions, a potentially hazardous chemical should be used.

This legislation was reported out of the Commerce Committee in February and is expected to be passed by the Senate in early spring. Unless lobbying efforts to defeat the bill succeed, the Toxic Substances Control Act will be enacted by this Congress before the year ends.

It may seem that legislation as important for health protection as this would have little trouble getting through Congress. However, arguments have been raised by the chemical industry and a massive lobbying effort has delayed the process.

The industry presents two arguments on why such legislation should not be enacted. They say, first, that such legislation would be redundant—that there are already 27 other laws which cover this area. Secondly, they say that the testing process required would be so costly that it would drive chemical companies out of business.

There are answers to these arguments. Yes, there are laws regulating chemicals from their development through their final use. But only three of those laws require testing, and those cover only pesticides, drugs and food additives. Furthermore, these 27 statutes do not provide adequate authority to regulate use and distribution of the great majority of chemical substances.

As for the second argument, the industry claims that broad screening and pretesting would cost too much. One company has produced an estimate of $2 billion per year. Studies by EPA and the General Accounting Office suggest that the annual cost to the industry would be at most only one tenth of that, about $200 million per year—to an industry with annual sales over $100 billion. And it should be remembered that these costs to the industry are small when compared to the amounts which would be saved in health care, Medicaid costs and other medical expenses and benefits needed because of the adverse effects of toxic chemicals.

Certainly, if the Toxic Substances Act is passed it will mean substantial investments of time and money by the chemical companies.

But the testing of chemicals before they go into production not only would find out which chemicals are likely to be harmful, but also which ones are not. This preventive approach would allow manufacturers and consumers to use the products with more confidence.

Modern society has benefited enormously from chemicals and from the advances in chemical knowledge and technology. But surely we must measure these benefits not only in economic terms, but in terms of health and life as well. We must take into consideration reports such as the one just released on Lake Superior, and we then must set our priorities accordingly.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

MUSIC—
Grades 1 to 5 are giving a Bicentennial Music Program on May 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym. Hope to see you there.

THIRD GRADE—

Teacher: Mr. Smith
Reporters: Steve Kropf, Bill Geddes
There has been a contest to name the snake that Steve Kropf brought in for the class. The winning name is Blaze. Eric Schaffner named him.

Mr. Smith brought in his solar system that he made himself. Its real nice and neat.

Every year at North school there is a Young Authors Contest which Martin Fletcher won, with the story "The Night of the Ghostly Grave Yard"; and Rebecca Lee won second place with the story, "Six Legged Hippopotomus"; and Eric Schaffner won third place; but there wasn't a third place in the third grade. His story was "What a Place". Martin, Rebecca and Eric all did a good job. Martin and Rebecca are going to the Young Authors contest on Saturday, May 11.

Over spring vacation, all the kids in Mr. Smith's class seemed to have a good time. Steve Kropf's snake shed his skin. Mr. Smith brought in a prism for the kids to look at. He explained how the prism breaks up the sunlight and makes pretty colors. Mr. Smith brought in his telescope so his class could look at the sun and moon and other things.

FIFTH GRADE—

Teacher: Mrs. Crouch
Reporters: Shelley Tlrb, Kim O'Quinn

After Christmas Vacation we had a student teacher. Her name was Mrs. Gail Stoll. She stayed with us until April 15. We had a farewell party for her.

On April 8, we went to the Botanical Gardens. We saw all kinds of plants. Then we walked to the U. of M. museum. We saw displays about Indians, endangered animals, a live iguana and many other displays.

Mrs. Stoll's science class had a science fair. We invited the 3rd grade to come and see our projects. We all had fun. We all had to do a report on a state and a mobile or float. Our room is now full of mobiles.

In math, we are starting a new chapter. It is on geometry. In P. E. we have been playing capture the flag. It is really fun the way Mr. Bareis plays it.

In reading, some of us are doing something new. It is called "Skill pacers."

We are glad that we have Mrs. Marie Crouch for a teacher this year.

We might be getting some new books for the library.

And to all you Mothers out there—Happy Mother's Day!

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

double double your money

with compound interest

the one
sure way to build a fortune

One of the most important, but overlooked, features of savings, is the magical effect of compound interest. If money is deposited and the interest it earns never withdrawn, the money grows at an amazing rate. Money in most Ann Arbor Federal Savings certificates doubles every 10 years.

Thus, if a person 40 years old with $25,000 (in savings, coins, cash value insurance, etc.) puts it into a certificate account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings it will grow to $50,000 by age 50. By age 60 it will have grown to $100,000 without adding a penny of his paycheck.

For the person in his mid-fifties, with retirement coming up in ten years, compounding has even greater significance. Say he has actual assets of $100,000. If he converts these into cash, he can have $200,000 in ten years and realize an interest income for life of $10,000 to $15,000 thereafter.

But what about the person starting out, the twenty five year old. By putting $50 a month in a 5% passbook savings account each month and leaving the interest to accumulate and compound, he will have $21,190 by age 45. Then if he transfers the money to a certificate account (and never adds another penny) the money will grow to $87,380 by age 65.

On the other hand if one continues to add to his savings account regularly, it is well within the realm of possibility to accumulate $300,000 or $400,000 or more.

At Ann Arbor Federal Savings your dollars are not subject to market fluctuations, so you are sure when you reach the age at which you want to start using some of your money or earnings it will be there.

the magic of compounding

Deposit	... in 10 years you'll have	... in 20 years you'll have	... in 30 years you'll have
$ 5,000	$ 10,511.74	$ 22,099.34	$ 46,460.51
$ 10,000	$ 21,023.48	$ 44,198.68	$ 92,921.02
$ 25,000	$ 52,558.70	$ 110,496.70	$ 232,302.55
$ 50,000	$ 105,117.40	$ 220,993.40	$ 464,605.10
$100,000	$210,234.80	$441,986.80	$929,210.20

Above figures based on an annual interest rate of 7% compounded quarterly, available in amounts of $1000 or more, 48 month term. Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals.
